Spur Sends Crowell Over $500.

The people of Spur and Dickens County have again scored their fine spirit and zealous cooperation in a momentous crisis. Last Week news reached this city that Crowell, a town about the size of Spur not very far from Vernon, had been visited by a twisting tornado where several deaths and many injured and where the property damage, estimated as high as 90 per cent had occurred.

Saturday morning an emergency meeting was called of the Executive Committee of the American Red Cross Chapter of Dickens County, of the President and Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and of the Ministers' Alliance. A resolution was at once passed to solicit aid from all sources. C. V. Allen who was the prime enthusiast and leader of this movement was appointed Chairman of an Emergency Disaster Committee representing all groups present. With him were appointed Olen Arthur, Rev. John C. Ramsay and Ned Hogan as a Committee with power to act.

The special Committee met following the general meeting and appointed Olen Arthur Chairman of a Committee on the raising of money, and to serve with him were S. E. Boothe, S. A. Lawrence. Mr. Allen agreed to receive all donated furniture and Roy Stovall gave the use of his building now used by the Boy Scouts for the assembling of the furniture. The Boy Scouts under Cecil Fox and Willie McComb agreed to deliver handbills the Dickens County Times gave.

Gifts are at this time still flowing in. If you want to have a part in this worthy endeavor kindly communicate with either C. V. Allen at 14 or with Olen Arthur at the Post Office at once. A large truck will leave Spur for Crowell sometime Thursday. To noon Tuesday around an estimated value of $100 in furniture and $456.00 in cash all the way from ten cents to twenty-five dollars from over 400 people have been received. Sincere appreciation is expressed to all who have contributed. The list is too long to enumerate.

Spur School was selected for Area 1 over 96 other schools as a school of outstanding merit in project program.

Boys who had patterns made of projects were: Billy Joe McCombs, Bob Farrell, who gets his American Farmer Degree this year; Marvin Blair, who gets his lone star Farm Degree this year.

Pictures were made of the boys as they were working on their projects.

Are You Guilty?

Trust local officers, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to ferret out any real fifth column work, and thus save your friend and your neighbor the embarrassment, and the humiliation of being falsely accused, and at the same time you may save your own reputation and business in the future.

In a community in the East idle rumors concerning the patriotism of local people became so rampant, and so ridiculous, that the people of the town determined to stop such practices. They declared an all day campaign against "IDLE RUMORS."

Many of their citizens volunteered to dress up in costumes bearing large signs to indicate that they were "RUMOR MONGERS" or "IDLE GOSSIPERS." At the same time they placed large imitation ears on their heads. These citizens paraded the streets of their town all day and poked their large ears into every conversation held on the streets of their town, and then drew off to one side and would engage in what apparently was a full fledged gossip bee. That night the citizens of the town built a large bon fire on the square, and in all due solemnity hung a dummy called "IDLE RUMOR and GOSSIP" went on a decline in that town. We need such a celebration here.

Home Demonstration Agent

Miss Fae Bass, the Home Demonstration Agent for Dickens County who has furnished the practical home recipes which have been published in the Times the past weeks. Miss Bass came on the Field March 3, and since that time has sponsored the organization of several Home Demonstration Clubs and Girls 4-H Clubs, and a great number of Homemakers in the county have started new projects to improve their homes.

Miss Bass has gained the confidence of the ladies in the county, and their cooperation largely influences the fine success that is favoring the work. It seems that the Homemakers in the county are going places at this time and that should mean a lot to the men who have homes.

Gruben Appliance Store Takes On New Merchandise

The Gruben Radio and Appliance Store have secured the contract to handle the products of the Sherwin-Williams Company of Texas. This new line of merchandise will include a complete line of paints, varnishes, wax, shellacs and other products made by the Sherwin-Williams Company of Texas.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Gruben gave a dinner at the Spur Inn and invited all of the painters, paper hanger and carpenters to be present. Among those invited were: J. R. Laine, Tom Dillshaw, R. H. Wright, L. T. Dillshaw, Joe Lee, W. H. Suddeth, J. A. Marsh, W. L. Eubanks, H. J. Murray, and other guests.

J. L. Crow, of Lubbock, Company Representative, was present and explained something of the merits of the Sherwin-Williams Products, and stated the main object is to give service and quality.

Due to the needs of the country in the present war Mr. Gruben gave up his radio business to assist the government. He went to Lubbock and offered to volunteer into the service of his country, but on account of his eyes he was deferred for the present.

Mr. Gruben feels that by taking on this new line of merchandise, he may be able to serve the people in a commendable way at least until he should be called into the service. He is expecting the arrival of the new line of paints, varnishes, stains, wax and shellacs within a few days. He says he expects to let the people know about these fine products of the Sherwin-Williams Company in a broad way as he feels they are as good as can be secured on the market anywhere.

Reports About Soil Moisture at the Experiment Station

Soil moisture determinations were made on 13 areas, three locations to the area, to a depth of six feet at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Spur, Texas on April 20 of this year. There was an average of 4.60 inches of available water (that which plants may recover from the soil) stored in the upper three feet of soil, and 2.14 inches of available water in the lower three feet, or a total of 6.74 inches stored in the upper six feet of soil. This compares with 4.57 inches of water stored in the upper three feet of soil in April, 1933, and with 4.38 inches in April, 1937, in which the average yield of lint cotton per acre for Dickens County was 260 pounds and 235 pounds, respectively. These were the highest average yields of lint for any year, with the exception of 314 pounds of lint in 1941, for the period 1930 to 1941, inclusive, in which experiments were conducted.

In 1941, there was an average of 3.60 inches of available water in the upper three feet on April 20, but between then and planting time, May 12, there was a total of 7.31 inches of rainfall, which increased the average to approximately 4.24 inches of available water stored in the upper three feet of soil. Also, of the total of 42.87 inches of rainfall for 1941, 15.46 inches fell during the months of May, June, July and August, which was well above the 31-year average of 9.70 inches, or the rainfall of 8.69 inches in 1933 and 11.84 inches in 1937, for the same period of months.

With 2.14 inches of available water stored in the lower three feet this year, there is sufficient moisture for cotton roots to extend to a depth of six feet or more. This will favorably influence the amount of shedding leaves and bolls during the dry, hot summer months, as shedding is directly proportional to the extent of the root system.

Spur Chamber of Commerce Asks Additional Acreage

In cooperation with a movement which had been started by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Spur Chamber of Commerce has sent a resolution, a copy of which is published below, to the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., to allot the unplanted cotton acreages of other sections to West Texas farming section. This is very commendable of the local Chamber of Commerce and shows the interest the organization has in supplying certain needs, and the interest in West Texas Farmers, of whom local farmers are part, in having an opportunity to supply these needed products.

The following is the resolution: Spur, Texas

May 2nd, 1942
The Directors of the Spur Chamber of Commerce, Spur, Texas, in a called session on the 2nd day of May A. D. 1942, passed the following resolution as a request to the Honorable Secretary of Agriculture, Claude Wickard, in regard to the Cotton Allotment plan for 1942.

WHEREAS during this time of war emergency cotton and cotton seed products are seriously needed, and

WHEREAS West Texas soil and climate are favorably adapted for the growing of cotton of the type needed, and

WHEREAS West Texas planting season is later than other sections and cotton planted as late as July can produce a bountiful crop and possessing adequate facilities for processing cotton seed thus avoiding long transportation hauls of the raw products.

THEREFORE, BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED THAT WE, humbly petition the Honorable Secretary of Agriculture to assign unplanted allotment of other cotton raising sections as of June 1st, 1942 to the West Texas Farming Area.

SPUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
By A. C. HULL
President

Attest:
O. C. Arthur, Secretary.

WHY HAVE MOTHER'S DAY

Many people seem to be puzzled as to why we observe Mother's Day. As the younger people of today grow older the impression of the importance of Mother's Day will become more vivid to them.

As the story of Mother's Day is, that were lived in the City of Philadelphia, "The City of Brotherly Love," a young lady by the name of Miss Anna Jarvis. It seems that Miss Jarvis held her mother in very high esteem, making her a daily companion. Eventually death took her mother away and her life was left sad and vacant because she had lost her best friend on earth, her closest companion in life.

In the year 1907 Miss Jarvis and some of her friends dedicated the Second Sunday in May to the memory of her mother. They went to church on that Sunday, wrote letters to other mothers and close friends and did other things that would have pleased any worthwhile mother.

The dedication of that day was so impressive that the entire city of Philadelphia adopted the occasion in 1908, and the second Sunday of May that year was observed by everybody in the city as Mother's Day. Appropriate services were conducted in the various churches in the city, and people attended divine services in memory of their mothers. Those who were away from their mothers sent presents and wrote letters to them, and other ceremonies and deeds were carried out.

Congress made it a national holiday by special act in 1913. The Act of Congress dedicated the day to the memory of the best mother in the world—"Your Mother." It is up to you to observe to the pleasure of Your Mother. If you can do anything to make her happy, that should be your pleasure, and it is your privilege. Any mother likes to know that her son, or daughter, is living the right kind of life—that they are living to show appreciation for the blessings of life they enjoy. It should be the privilege of any son or daughter to exemplify that type of life, and then you are carrying through on what should be a cherished duty.

Next Sunday is Mother's Day all over the United States. If you attend church services, it should please your mother. People are expected to wear a red rose in respect to their mother if she is living. If she has passed to the great beyond, then you should wear a white rose, or some kind of white flower. Give your mother a present of appreciation if she is living. If your mother has passed away, there is possibility some other mother in the community who would appreciate your remembering her, possibly she has bestowed motherly kindness upon you in former years, possibly she has a son or daughter who is away from her, and your remembering her will help her to enjoy the day more.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON
May 1, 1942

TO THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS:
This week a new campaign for the sale of War Bonds and Savings Stamps is under way throughout the Nation. It is the War Bond Quota Campaign.

It is urgently necessary that you double the rate at which you are now buying War Bonds and Stamps. This will mean the sale direct to individual Americans of War Bonds and Stamps to the amount of not less than one billion dollars every month.

One billion dollars a month is the National quota. It is equal to one-tenth the combined income of all Americans.

This money is needed to buy the tools of war for your fighting forces. It will not pay for all of them. Our war expenditures now are at the rate of about FOUR BILLIONS a month, and they are growing daily. But a billion dollars a month direct from the people will make all-out production possible. Without it we cannot do our best; without it we cannot put forth our full effort.

It is desperately needed for another reason. We can't fight a war and at the same time live and spend as usual. There are not enough goods to go around — the things we buy with money. If we go on spending at the 1941 scale, we'll be robbing the fighting man to add to our own comfort or pleasure. We'll be driving up the cost of living for all of us. We'll be imposing dire hardships on our neighbors.

What is asked of you is ten per cent of your earnings — a tithe for Liberty. It is not a tax; it is not even a contribution; it is a loan at interest, for your use and protection later.

Your Government asks you to cut down your expenditures, TO SAVE — your boys on the firing line in the training camps, through your Government, ask you to save so that they may have what they need to win YOUR WAR for you — America asks you to save; TO SAVE TO WIN THE WAR; to buy War Bonds and Stamps up to not less than ten per cent of your income.

Is Liberty worth it? Is Democracy worth it? Is America worth it? I think I know your answer.

Sincerely,
Samuel H. Hays
SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

The above letter was sent to this newspaper by Secretary Morgenthau in Washington. We publish it in the interest of the War Bond Quota Campaign and earnestly recommend that all our readers do their share in the tremendous job ahead of financing the War effort.

Many People Taking Course In Metal

The school of instruction in metal work which has been in progress the past five weeks, is bringing fine results and those who are taking the course feel that they are getting some very practical information. One half of the ten weeks course was closed last Friday night and a number of men have been able to secure enough hours to complete the required 120 hours for the entire school.

The course to be complete requires 120 hours of instruction or more, and up to the present a number of men had completed the full 75 hours given the first half. Gene Roberts is conducting the work and he is doing a fine job of it, giving the very practical things in the work.

Some of the work consists of making knives, chisels building up plow shares, doing forge work, rebuilding tractors, doing welding with electric arc and acetylene torch, cutting metal with torch, sharpening lister points and many other practical things most people need to know.

Among those who have done enough work the first half of the term to get their needed 120 hours or more are: J. C. Moore, 75 hours; Weldon Hall, 75 hours; Albert Baillio, 69 hours; C. L. Hisey, 75 hours; Jack Blackwell, 66 hours; Lloyd Green, 66 hours; O. H. Christensen, 75 hours; Lee Parker, 57 hours; Leon Casey, 66 hours; Ben Loe, 69 hours; R. C. McNeill, 72 hours; Floyd Owens, 57 hours; Elbert Garner, 58 hours; Gusie Meadors, 60 hours; John Albin 60 hours; George Smith, 75 hours; Howard Thomas, 54 hours; Wilson Hagins 66 hours.

The second half of the term began Monday of this week and will consist of 75 hours of instruction.

THIS IS THE STORY OF CARBOLOY

How a Most Strategic Material of the War—Invented in Germany—Was Made Available to the United Nations

More Precious Than Diamonds in War Production ... Carboloy is an American trademark for cemented tungsten-carbide, an alloy second only to diamonds in hardness, more precious than diamonds as a vital material in America's war program. It is used for the tips of cutting tools, and for wear-resistant dies. Carboloy is used in small quantities; it is difficult to make and difficult to use—but it has never been scarce in modern times. There is no scarcity now.

Invented in Germany—Krupp Protected by U. S. Patents ... Cemented carbide was invented in Germany—it belonged to Krupp of Germany, and this made all the rest of the world Krupp's customer. In this country, Krupp was protected by patent grants from the United States.

General Electric Creates Independent Production ... The General Electric Company two years before this had begun research on tungsten-carbide and foresaw its importance in industrial production. For immediate use in its own plants and for easier availability to others, General Electric undertook the long and arduous negotiations for the American rights. Limited rights were obtained in 1928, with Krupp continuing to export the material to its United States customers—a business which languished, however, as General Electric painstakingly developed its own Carboloy technique. This paved the way for General Electric to make the United States entirely independent of Germany for its cemented tungsten-carbide supply as early as 1936.

American Tool Costs Half That of German ... From the start, two totally different businesses were involved. Krupp originally exported cemented carbides in chunks—and was unsuccessful. General Electric—and its subsidiary, Carboloy Co., Inc.—found it necessary to develop a complete engineering and manufacturing service, making various types of Carboloy equipped tools, training men in their use, and offering to its customers a specialized and successful production technique. For purposes of fair comparison, a typical German cemented carbide tool in 1928 cost $22.26 in the United States, while a comparable American Carboloy tool cost $11.11.

Loss to General Electric for Many Years—Art Taught to Industry ... In times of peace—and 1928 was such a time—the measure of success of industrial adventure is to be found in profit to the adventurer. By such a measure, Carboloy could not be called successful. Initial expenses were great. For a time the Company lost at the rate of $1000 a day, and once had an operating deficit of more than a million dollars. One of the major contributing reasons was the continuing high cost of development, standardization, and training. In 1936-37 alone, training courses were given to 10,000 men in industry. Moreover, six major price reductions were made in the face of operating losses, until the standard tool blank had been reduced in price 90 per cent.

Faith and Perseverance ... Depression was still another reason—labor-saving tools could not be sold to industry or labor at any price. But General Electric, with determination that now seems providential, kept on—increasing its capacity, granting new licenses, condoning instances of unlicensed production, staying ahead of its market.

Production Multiplied Forty-five Times in Four Years ... Cemented tungsten-carbide could easily have been a source of weakness here, as it was in England, had it not been for General Electric's policy of continued expansion. In 1939, the production of the Carboloy Company was less than 20,000 lbs.; in 1940, it was 55,000 lbs.; in 1941, it was 163,000—and in December came Pearl Harbor. Now, in 1942, the Company's production is going at a rate that is 45 times that of only four years ago.

Britain Dependent upon Us ... By contrast, British companies, which had been content to continue as customers of Krupp, found themselves cut off from the vital material when Poland was invaded. But the General Electric Company was able to supply substantial quantities to British industry immediately and since then has continuously filled British orders. It has, in like manner, filled Canada's requirements since 1936. It is currently supplying Canada, Russia, and other United Nations. All this in addition to supplying the greatly expanded needs of American industry.

An Inspirational Story of American Industry ... Thus, the story of Carboloy does not end in "too little and too late." Like many previously untold stories of American industry, it continues, a sturdy and inspiring example of public service born of private enterprise, and characterized by hard work, ingenuity, investment, research, risk, and courage—a familiar pattern on this side of the Atlantic. General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

Womans War Clothes

After trimming men's clothes for economy's sake, and without raising a squawk, the War Production board after much hesitancy, struck out with surprising boldness and told women how they must cut their clothes for the duration. The cut is expected to save 100,000,000 yards of fabric a year.

The rules are mostly "Noes": No cuffs; no balloon sleeves; no wool coat linings; no pocket flaps; no belt wider than two inches; no hems of more than two inches; no hoods, shawls, capes, scarfs, petticoats, over-skirts or aprons made with dresses. There is a maximum length of skirt, but no minimum. Women making their own clothes at home are not regulated. The restrictions will not apply to this year's spring and summer clothes.

The object of the Government officials is to conserve fabric with as little hardship as possible to the industry, and with a minimum of displeasure to the consumer. Besides the matter of material, there will also be a pinch in such accessories as zippers, pins, hooks and eyes.

As for stockings, there is another problem. From silk to nylon to rayon to cotton, such has been the evolution in the industry. "One more conversion and we are done for," declared a big manufacturer.

Right now production of hosiery has been cut from 65 to 70 per cent of normal—and employment in like proportion. It depends mostly on rayon yarns, of which is allotted 17 per cent of the nation's production. War needs first met, and then four percent are reserved for export, as for cotton, only the scarce long staple variety is suitable, for the machinery requires a fine, strong thread. English lisle yarn of the proper quality has been imported, but in small quantities. Nylon was taken over by the government for parachutes, and for tent ropes—replacing manila hemp.

But hosiery makers, with the aid of chemists, have developed a new sheer in the rayon stocking which makes it look almost as good as silk. It may mean much for the rayon industry after the war.

"Our Stupidity May Lose This War"

Says Penarr Macfadden

To win this war: Mechanical units estimated cost . . . $100,000,000,000.

To build manpower among the general public—first requirement of the war game—Mr. Kelly requests $1,000,000. One thousandth part of 1 percent. There is universal agreement that a toughening-up process is necessary to prepare our people to withstand the ravages of war. Our President was appalled when he learned that nearly 50 percent of our young men, in the flower of their adolescence, were rejected by our army physicians. They were unfit, and there has been no noticeable inquiry as to the cause of this disgraceful record. The sports program which Mr. Kelly has in charge represents the only official effort to find a remedy.

Germany's wartime achievements are due, first of all, to manpower; second, to the mechanical units of modern warfare. General Bullard, the first assistant of General Pershing in the First World War, endorses that viewpoint. Germany started out to dominate the world and until the Russians stopped the onrush of Hitler's legions, they were making an astonishing record—due to manpower back of the machines, please note.

We are spending billions of dollars for mass production. The above estimate is probably less than the ultimate total expenditure will be for these mechanical units, tanks, airplanes, cannon, machine guns, ammunition—while the manpower has been left to take care of itself, outside of the training in army camps.

Mr. Kelly, who has been in charge of the activities in the world of sports and who was supposed to encourage efforts of every kind to harden the muscles of the American people, has asked for a million dollars—about one-thousandth part of 1 per cent that will be spent for wartime mechanical and other requirements. And throughout the country there are editorial comments and official criticism referring to boondoggling, humorous cartoons poking fun at the very idea of spending money for such foolish purposes.

What this country needs at this time more than anything else, is intelligence. When such activity in the perilous emergency which we will soon have to face is called "foolishness," it is the product of fat-headed reasoning. The toughening process that official leaders and writers everywhere highly endorse, comes entirely from activities which use the muscles.

The rugged strength of our pioneer ancestors was due to the hard work out in the open, and we should be thankful that there are still occupations in which superior physical vigor is developed from hard work. However, the activities of most of our workers of today are partly, or entirely sedentary.

Unless we can make our leaders legislative and editorial, realize that we must obtain, through encouragement of games and sports of every character, training that will bring the muscles of the body into active use—unless they can be awakened to the tragic need of urging the people everywhere to interest themselves actively every day of their lives in muscular activity, either in the form of work or active play, we will probably lose the war.

The present lazy, indifferent, non-chalant attitude of our people towards the needs of the physical body must be changed. Mechanical units alone will not win! We must have the men. Manpower is Germany's mighty force. Their people have been in training for two decades. We should begin to train now—all our people—the activities that use the body in play or work.

To the Mothers of Dickens County

The greatest heroine in the world is a loving mother. There is no one in all the world who can take your place in mothers heart, who can depict the tragedies that have been enacted in the hearts of American mothers, who have suffered untold tortures from neglect, indifference, and lack of appreciation? Whatever else you are forced to neglect, take no chances of giving your mother pain by neglecting her and thus making yourself miserable in the future. No man worthy of the name ever neglects his mother. Truly great men have always reverence and tenderly cared for their mother. Rise up and call her blessed, make her heart happy with your thoughtful devotion and love; make glad again the days of the best mother that ever lived—your mother,

MOTHER'S DAY

SUNDAY, MAY 10TH

The very name "MOTHER," is sacred to us, some one has well said. We think "Mother," "Home," and "Heaven" are the three sweetest words in our language.

We pause when we speak the name "MOTHER." Our store of words is far too small to express our ideas of the important part "MOTHERS" have had in purifying this old world. We realize our own nation has stood thus far because of the great mothers who have lived, loved and sacrificed.

No love can be satisfactorily explained, much less a MOTHER'S LOVE, and if there is greater, it's God's for sinful man.

MOTHER, you have always had a great responsibility, and it's just as great now. We men have looked to you to hold the standards of living pure, high and noble. May your sons and daughters remember the beauty of your character and follow your examples as you have followed the ideals of your mother.

Your mission in the world was so great that God called upon a woman to give Him His Son, and your mission now is just as great as it was two thousand years ago.

You hold in your hands the destiny of men and nations, and because you do, we have faith in the future and courage to go forward.

Your friends,

BRYANT-LINK CO.

Looking Ahead

We think primarily of oil as something which lubricates machinery and fuels engines. We think primarily of coal as a source of energy for industry and as a heating agent.

But these two natural resources are capable of other jobs as well—jobs which have mightily important to this nation in wartime and peacetime alike.

The oil industry will supply the basic ingredient for the manufacture of artificial rubber. Now that we have lost our supply of natural rubber, the synthetic product must be developed with maximum speed. The oil industry, therefore, is going to have a great deal to do with keeping our military machine running—and, in time, in supplying rubber for civilian use. The oil industry likewise is the producer of toluene, which is the basis of TNT. So the bombs which blast our enemies have their start in the oil industry's wells and refining plants and laboratories.

From coal, we obtain one of the miracles of this age—plastics. There are plastics which are stronger than metal. There are plastics which are flexible and easily handled. There are plastics which are suitable for airplanes, motor cars, and a thousand and one other things. And plastics are essential to the war effort.

Oil and coal represent the development of American natural resources at their best. These industries are always looking ahead, in search of new processes, new worlds to conquer. They will play a major part in winning the war. And they will play a leading part in the peacetime world of the future.
