Pecos Gains Wolfcamp Oil Strike

Wood & Locker, Inc., Midland, No. 1 McDonald, Pecos County re-entry operation, eight miles southeast of Glrvin, has been completed as a Wolfcamp oil discovery.

The 24-hour pumping potential was for 48 barrels of 36.8-gravity oil and 45.6 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio measuring 771-1.

Production was through perforations at 4,736-4,825 feet, which had been fractured with 20,000 gallons and 18,000 pounds.

Operator set 4 1/2-inch casing at 5,004 feet, total depth, and plugged back to 4,919 feet. Ground elevation is 2,473 feet.

Prior to completion, operator also tested through perforations at 4,837-4,825 feet, which had been acidized with 2,500 gallons and fractured with 40,000 gallons and 50,000 pounds, and through Leonard perforations at 4,219-4,335 feet, which had been acidized with 2,750 gallons.

The well originally was drilled by British American Oil Producing Co., and plugged and abandoned Nov. 24, 1951, at 5,004 feet.

Location is 660 feet from most northerly north line and from most westerly west line of section 4, block F, TCRR survey.

Increased Jobless Benefits Keeping Incomes Advancing

WASHINGTON (AP) — An increased flow of unemployment benefits last month helped keep Americans' collective incomes rising despite the recession, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said a $1.8-billion increase in unemployment benefits during January balanced off an identical decline in total wages and salaries for workers in private industry.

Thus, higher government payrolls and a $2.2-billion jump in veterans benefits were able to push total personal income up by $2.6 billion to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1,193.6 billion.

The figures indicated that, despite evidence the current recession is the worst since World War II, unemployment benefits are providing the economy and individuals with a substantial cushion.

But the two-tenths of a percent monthly increase in personal income, which works out to an annual rate of 2.4 percent, still lags far behind the inflation rate of about 12 percent.

Since November, when personal income dropped for the first time in 10 months, unemployment benefits have increased at a $1.8-billion a month rate.

Commerce said all wage and salary disbursements dropped $900 million in January, a slowing of December's $1.2-billion decline.

Government wages and salaries increased by $900 million, all of it on state and local government payrolls.

Commerce said the major decline was a $4.4-billion drop in the size of payrolls in manufacturing industries.

Chrysler Omits Quarter Dividend

DETROIT (AP) — A financially shaken Chrysler Corp. today omitted its quarterly dividend, the first time it has taken that action in 37 years and only the third time in its 49-year history.

The dividend would have been payable to shareholders of record on Feb. 28. The action was taken by the auto maker's board of directors in New York.

Chairman Lynn Townsend said the dividend was omitted because of record losses in 1974. The firm posted a $73-million loss in the fourth quarter and finished $63 million in the red for the year.

Late Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford told a group of Democratic senators today he will use federal power to increase gasoline prices more than those for heating oil if his energy program survives congressional challenges.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's tax lawyer and a Chicago appraiser were indicted on criminal charges today in connection with the preparation of the former president's tax returns for the years 1969 through 1972.

Kissinger Heading Home

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and President Valery Giscard d'Estaing conferred for more than an hour over breakfast today before Kissinger headed home to Washington.

Kissinger told newsmen he reported on "the prospects of the steps toward peace in the Middle East," and they discussed preparations for the conference between the oil-exporting and oil-consuming nations.

Asked if the United States would attend the preparatory meeting for the conference, Kissinger replied: "I think good progress has been made in that direction."

France wants to hold the preparatory meeting in Paris late in March. The United States has insisted that the consumer nations agree on a united stand before going into any meeting with the producers, and intensive negotiations have been taking place in the International Energy Agency to try to reach agreement on a program.

Windup a 10-day swing around the Middle East and Western Europe, Kissinger flew to Paris on Tuesday afternoon after lunch in Zurich, Switzerland, with Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi of Iran.

The shah, who entertained Giscard at lunch on Monday, assured Kissinger that Iran will continue to sell oil to Israel despite its support for the Arab cause.

The shah said if Israel returns the Abu Rudeis oil fields to Egypt, as part of the new agreement Kissinger hopes to negotiate, Iran will make up Israel's oil deficiency.

Iran was Israel's chief supplier of oil before it captured the oil fields from the Sinai in the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. The Israelis now pump about 90,000 barrels a day from Abu Rudeis, enough for about 55 per cent of their needs, and Iran supplies the rest.

"We have never really boycotted any country," the shah told newsmen accompanying Kissinger. "We think that politics and commerce are separate."

"Once the tankers are loaded, we don't mind where they go," he added.

Residents said there were several explosions in the city more than an hour after sunrise and steady firing was reported through the morning on the twisting, mountain road to Massawa, Ethiopia's seaport on the Red Sea.

The rebels were also concentrating rocket and machine-gun fire on the airport, to which the government is ferrying reinforcements, residents said.

Fighting erupted again in Asmara Tuesday night when bands of about two dozen heavily armed men simultaneously attacked five military installations in various parts of the city about two hours after the nightly curfew cleared the streets of civilians.

Residents said the guerrillas and the army traded heavy fire for more than eight hours. They said the shooting in the city tapered off before dawn.

Some observers thought the attacks might signal a new phase in the National Eritrean Liberation Front's war to free Eritrea, the country's northernmost province, from Ethiopian rule. But another source said he didn't think it was "any great offensive. It's a continuing effort to keep the troops off balance, using minimum force. These are probing attacks."

Groups of three or four guerrillas were seen in the street outside the United States Consulate, and the neighboring Ethiopian navy headquarters came under fire.

There was no report of casualties, but none of the approximately 100 Americans remaining in Asmara was believed injured.

Shooting also occurred at the airport, an artillery center, a camp for troop reinforcements in Addis Ababa and the 2nd Army Division headquarters, the latter a former U.S. Army base where a few Americans still maintain military communications facilities.

Hundreds of police and national guardsmen are being flown daily to Asmara to reinforce the 20,000 troops already in the province. The guerrillas are reported to have more than 7,000 men around the city.

The Arab-financed insurgents stepped up their 13-year independence campaign three weeks ago with large-scale attacks on Asmara and other points in Eritrea. On Tuesday, a spokesman in Beirut rejected a cease-fire and said the guerrillas would soon proclaim Eritrea an independent republic.

In Addis Ababa, the ruling military junta staged a demonstration to drum up opposition to the guerrillas. The junta's first vice chairman, Maj. Mengistu Nhaile Mariam, told a crowd of 10,000 the army "will not give up a pinch of earth," and "the guerrillas have not and will not get out of control."

Democrats Breakfast With Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic senators came from a White House breakfast with President Ford today saying they were hopeful that a compromise agreement could be reached, possibly within two weeks, on an energy-economic program.

Before the session, Congress and Ford appeared at the brink of confrontation over energy policy, with each side refusing to back down.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, a member of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee working on a comprehensive Democratic economic program, told reporters he expected negotiations between the President and Congress sometime this week and hoped they would reach agreement "very speedily."

Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., predicted a "united program" would emerge within two weeks.

After Talmadge and McClellan met with reporters, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said Ford's apparent willingness to discuss a compromise "met with universal approval" of House and Senate members who are writing the Democratic alternative to the President's program.

The White House breakfast was attended by 11 Democratic senators from the South. It was the fourth such meeting in three days as part of Ford's stepped up effort to gain support.

Guerrillas Continue Battle In Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Eritrean guerrillas continued to battle government troops today outside Asmara after the heaviest fighting inside the besieged provincial capital in eight days.

Residents said there were several explosions in the city more than an hour after sunrise and steady firing was reported through the morning on the twisting, mountain road to Massawa, Ethiopia's seaport on the Red Sea.

The rebels were also concentrating rocket and machine-gun fire on the airport, to which the government is ferrying reinforcements, residents said.

Fighting erupted again in Asmara Tuesday night when bands of about two dozen heavily armed men simultaneously attacked five military installations in various parts of the city about two hours after the nightly curfew cleared the streets of civilians.

Residents said the guerrillas and the army traded heavy fire for more than eight hours. They said the shooting in the city tapered off before dawn.

Some observers thought the attacks might signal a new phase in the National Eritrean Liberation Front's war to free Eritrea, the country's northernmost province, from Ethiopian rule. But another source said he didn't think it was "any great offensive. It's a continuing effort to keep the troops off balance, using minimum force. These are probing attacks."

Midland College Facing Fund Loss Of $419,147 Over Next Two Years

By LUANNA CROW

Midland College President Al G. Langford Tuesday night urged trustees to appear before state legislators next month in an effort to deflect a $419,147, or 15.9 per cent, decrease in funding over a two-year period.

Langford, chairman of the Needed Legislation Committee for the Texas Public Community-Junior College Association, presented his report on the legislative financial outlook during the regular board of trustees meeting in the college's board room.

Explaining the Legislative Budget Board (LBB) is recommending a statewide reduction of requested college funds by 20 per cent for academic programs and 13 per cent for vocational programs, Midland College's top administrator said the junior college association is asking all boards of trustees to make the Austin trip.

They are being asked to appear before both the House Appropriations Committee and the Senate Finance Committee on March 19.

"We have some real problems in Austin," Langford said. "For academic programs, Midland College, through the junior college association, is requesting $1,564,484 for 1976 and 1977, compared to LBB's recommendation of $1,284,797. The recommendation would mean a funding decrease of $279,687, or 17.8 per cent."

Midland College's two-year occupational program request totals $1,071,935. The LBB, however, is recommending only $932,475, a reduction of $139,460 or 13 per cent.

Trustee President Reagan Legg issued a plea for community support in convincing legislators of the college's financial needs.

He said the money "has got to come from somewhere" — if not the state, then from the local tax base. "We haven't built this college with a surplus of funds."

Regarding the financial picture this year, Legg said, "I just hope we can make it through this year with the emergency funds." He referred to the state's emergency fund. (See FUNDS Page 6A)

Chill Spreads In Texas

Freezing weather reached deeper into Texas this morning, chilling most of the west and north portions, as skies cleared in the wake of the latest cold front. Clouds lingered only in the south central section.

Forecasts called for the frigid air to start moving on toward the east and for the weather to remain generally fair over the state.

Temperatures this morning plunged to 12 degrees above zero at Perryton in the Texas Panhandle, where about 4 inches of snow remained on the ground from Sunday and Monday.

Among other cold spots were Amarillo 19, Abilene, Childress, Dalhart and Wichita Falls 26, Lubbock 27, El Paso and Waco 29, Dallas-Fort Worth and Tyler 30, and Longview and Texarkana 32. At the same time the reading was 57 at Brownsville on the south tip of the state.

Tuesday afternoon's top marks went as high as 73 at Beaumont-Port Arthur on the Upper Texas Coast and McAllen in the Lower Rio (See WEATHER Page 6A)

Boiler Market Decline Forecast

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The American Boiler Manufacturers Association forecasts a decline in the domestic market for boilers to the utility, industrial and commercial industries for 1975.

"It appears that a substantial number of boilers, scheduled to be ordered in 1975, were in fact purchased last year for a variety of reasons. When electric power demands did not come up to expectation, this buying volume dropped off sharply and a number of units purchased earlier were canceled or deferred. This has had a significant negative impact on our 1975 forecast," said William H. Jackson, ABMA president.

The forecasts, announced at ABMA's mid-winter meeting here, indicate electric utilities this year will order fewer steam generating systems, down 48 per cent from 1974.

PLANNING 'CHRISTMAS IN APRIL' PROJECT — Vic Rogers, Bobby Trimble and Roosevelt Campbell, from left, map initial plans for upcoming "Christmas in April 1975" project.

'Christmas In April 1975' Set

"Christmas in April 1975" will happen on April 26, Richard H. Schmidt, executive director of the Human Relations Council of Midland, announced today.

The 1975 project is being coordinated by the council.

"Christmas in April" is a community project in which individuals, civic and service organizations and churches select and repair sub-standard dwellings.

Vic Rogers, publicity chairman, explained that homes selected must have defects which cause discomfort or pose health hazards to the occupants. Recipients must own their homes, must be living at poverty level, and must be unable to furnish the money, materials or help necessary to effect repairs.

Work in the project is done by volunteers from churches, civic and service clubs, business firms and individuals.

All funds for the project are donated by interested persons and groups of the community. The money is used to purchase materials or, when necessary, to contract work. Some organizations, however, furnish their own materials.

This is Midland's third "Christmas" program. The others were staged in October 1973 and April 1974. The initial programs resulted in the repair of 47 homes at a cost totaling $7,600, plus funds furnished directly by organizations.

Bobby Trimble is coordinator of construction for the 1975 project. Mrs. Marguerite Verver is serving as steering committee secretary.

Honorary members of the board for 1975 include Dr. Viola Coleman, physician; Jack Steele, vice president of the First National Bank; Bobbie Holt, city councilman; Romeo Canales, principal of DeZavala School; the Rev. Bill Cathey, president; Midland Ministerial Association and pastor of Fanning Terrace Baptist Church.

Harold Wallace, chief of police; William Franklin, vice president of The Midland National Bank; the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand, president of Midland Association of Churches and pastor of St. Mark's United Methodist Church.

Schmidt said that "Christmas" project funds presently are deleted, and that money must be raised for the coming program through public appeal.

Contributions, he said, may be directed in care of the Human Relations Council, 2101 W. Wall St., Suite 5, Midland 79701.

Applications for assistance, submitted by eligible individuals or someone in their behalf, may be telephoned or mailed to the council office before Mar. 21.

Organization or individuals wishing to participate or desiring additional information also should contact the Human Relations Council.

Rotarians To Mark 70th Anniversary

The Midland Downtown Rotary Club Thursday noon will mark the 70th anniversary of the founding of Rotary International, joining 16,100 Rotary clubs in 151 countries in observing the occasion.

Members of the Midland West Rotary Club and the Altrusa Club of Midland will be special guests at the Thursday meeting in the American Legion Hall.

John Young is president of the Downtown club and Jimmie Rhoads heads the West unit. Mr. John J. Carter is the Altrusa president.

Midland County Judge Barbara Culyer, a member of Altrusa, will be the luncheon speaker, Ted Pearce, program chairman, said.

Rotary, the first service club for business and professional men, was organized by Paul Harris, a Chicago lawyer, on Feb. 23, 1905. His idea for a club was proposed to three other men. Six months later the club had 21 members. In 1910, there were 16 Rotary clubs and approximately 1,500 Rotarians. That same year the first club outside the United States was formed in Winnipeg, Canada.

Today, there are more than 750,000 business and professional men around the world who wear the Rotary emblem. They are involved in service projects at every level.

The Rotary Foundation, wholly supported by contributions from individual Rotarians and others, sponsors an extensive program of educational awards for overseas study by college students, technicians, and teachers of the handicapped.

The Midland Downtown Rotary Club was chartered in April 1928. It now has approximately 125 members.

Handly Attends Bicentennial Program

Mr. Claude Handly, Greyhound agent in Midland, Texas, has just returned from seeing Greyhound's special Bicentennial program in Dallas, Texas.

Featured in the one-day presentation were Greyhound's new commercials featuring Fred MacMurray, special new music written especially for Greyhound and plans for Greyhound's new Bicentennial marketing programs.

Mr. Handly said, "We're really geared up for our country's 200th birthday. We expect more Americans will want to see their country up close and the bus is the best way to do it. Programs like our special unlimited ride Ameripass, Bicentennial tours and other activities will keep Greyhound in touch with America."

Mr. Handly also pointed out that travel by bus helps save energy because buses are more energy efficient than private automobiles or any other form of public transportation.

Debate Continues On Fairness And Practicality Of Income Taxes

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal income tax was once ruled unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court. Unfortunately, that was in 1894 and doesn't help today's taxpayers. Taxing the income of citizens and corporations is perfectly constitutional today as outlined in the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution, enacted in 1913. But, the fairness and practicality of the tax has been debated by American economists, historians, legislators and citizens since the mid-1800s, according to researchers for The World Book Encyclopedia.

Income taxes have been a part of American life since the Colonial period in New England. One of the first income taxes was called a "faculty tax." It was levied to equalize the tax burden of landholders and nonlandholders. Each man's estate was assessed and he was taxed accordingly.

The colonists were vehemently opposed to this tax, thinking they received too little in return. Payment tended to be a "hit-or-miss" affair since the payment of any tax was often a hardship for the colonists. Tax evasion seemed the rule, not the exception.

The first official income tax imposed by the U.S. government after the Revolution, which itself was prompted in part by tax disputes, was not collected until 1862. Congress passed the individual tax law to help the Union government pay for the cost of the Civil War.

The tax ended in 1872, but in the 20 years following, 66 separate bills were introduced to establish a peacetime federal income tax of one sort or another.

Finally, in 1894, Congress passed another income tax law patterned after the Civil War tax legislation. Although the Supreme Court had declared this legislation unconstitutional in 1895, the new tax proposal was declared unconstitutional in 1894.

The Court decision was based on a statement in the Constitution requiring that any tax levied directly on individuals must be levied in proportion to a state's population, according to World Book researchers. In other words, people in more populated states had to pay more than those from states with fewer people. Finding it difficult to levy an income tax that was constitutional, legislators began to talk about amending the Constitution as a way to eliminate the problem.

Thus, in 1913, the Sixteenth Amendment gave Congress the authority "... to lay and collect taxes on incomes from whatever sources derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census for enumeration."

While the income tax laws have changed many times since 1913, so have the tax rates, the amount of the taxes being collected. In the 1974 fiscal year, the Internal Revenue Service budgeted for an equitable and fair manner to tax citizens seems to have exceeded $1.5 billion.

Will Official Cat Return?

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The governor's mansion has a cat. It belongs to no one in particular. It has served the mansion for several years and under at least two different governors.

The question is whether the unnamed cat will find its way back to Santa Fe from outgoing Gov. Bruce King's ranch near Stanley, about 40 miles southeast of Santa Fe.

The cat once belonged to Gov. David F. Cargo. When he left office Jan. 1, 1971, he took it with him to Namba.

The cat found its way back the nearly 15 miles to Santa Fe and joined the Kings. Cargo was a Republican, King a Democrat.

When King left office Jan. 1, 1975, he took the aging cat with him.

Will the cat adjust to ranch life? Or will it come back to the mansion occupied by Democrat Jerry Apodaca and his family?

Painting Of Month Won By Mrs. Crays

The Tuesday Painters of the Midland Palette Club met recently in the Palette Club Art Center, 604 N. Colorado St., for its regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Reginald C. Keyes, president, presided.

Painting of the Month was won by Mrs. Ralph Crays, with "Blue Daisies," a mixed media (oil and acrylics) painting which is on display in the lobby of The Midland National Bank.

Recommendations for changes in bylaws were read by Mrs. J. W. Wilson. These were voted on and approved.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. E. L. Steward, chairman, Mrs. G. A. Schofield and Mrs. Robert L. Hannifin was elected.

Mrs. I. W. Hynd presented an interesting program on painting in relation to photography, using slides for illustration.

"We only see what we want to see, whereas the camera covers all. Using a photograph, an artist begins to plan her painting in order to make a good composition; what to include and what to omit and where to place objects."

"If a colored photo is used, one might change the color and always use different values. Picasso used distorted lenses to make things disappear. Often if painting a lady, he would dress her differently from what she was," said Mrs. Hynd.

New members present were Mr. and Mrs. James Swalla. Twenty-four members attended. Hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Ivy and Mrs. L. G. Robertson.

HINTS FROM Heloise

A Handy Rap Session On Kitchen Garbage

Dear Heloise: My daughter and I are using a two-pound coffee can for a garbage container. We use a bread wrapper for a liner. (Both free, I notice! — H.)

We put the wrapper inside the can, fitting the bottom of the can and turn the top of the wrapper over the edge of the coffee can.

When ready to dispose of the garbage, we just pull up the wrapper and tie a knot or use a twistem to fasten it tight. Replace with another bread wrapper and it's ready to use again.

Mrs. A. O. Bales

Oh, you beautiful doll! You're great. Kisses to you. You could even pretty up the container with some adhesive-backed paper. Be sure to put a plastic coffee can lid on the bottom of the can to protect the sink from rust.

I just love all of you folks for the goodies you think of and share with us. There's no lack of communication here, is there?

Dear Heloise: I wonder how many other sleepy mothers have poured milk into a disposable bottle shell without putting in the plastic liner first?

Dear Heloise: I save the plastic bags my newspaper comes in when it is rainy. They are just right for putting shoes in before I pack my suitcase. No dirt on my clothes.

They could be used for storage too. The bags are long enough to get a good handhold if you just want to carry an extra pair of shoes somewhere.

Rachel Wagner

Dear Heloise: Miles separate us from grown children and we enjoy their phone calls and letters. I am sure many people live in these circumstances these days.

The tendency is not to write for awhile after sharing news by phone and so several weeks can go by without those precious letters that all can read and that can be savored over and over.

One of our daughters now sits down and chats with us by letter before she makes the phone call. That's having your cake and eating it, too.

Ella Baker

Dear Heloise: My hint is for people who like to try unusual recipes that often come in paperback books. Instead of propping them open on the counter with cans, bottles, bricks, etc., try the snap-pants hangers made to hang pants by the cuffs.

Keeps the book open and can be hung at eye level.

Vera McCoy

Dear Heloise: When you don't know what to do with leftover hamburger buns and hot dog buns, try spreading them with garlic butter and then placing them under the broiler until golden brown.

Yummy! An easy and tasty treat!

Hearings Held On Proposed Rape Law

AUSTIN (AP) — "Let's say your wife, while you are up here, is raped by a burglar or kidnaped off the street and raped," a red-faced prosecutor told a group of legislators.

A suspect is arrested and brought to trial, continued the narrative by Asst. Dist. Atty. Allen Stillely of Houston.

"The defense lawyer can go on and on about how she had sex three years ago with her fiancé. Is that germane?"

Stillely urged passage of a bill, sponsored by three female legislators, that would rule out, in most cases, interrogation of a rape victim on the witness stand about her past sexual experiences.

Testimony was at a joint hearing by the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee and the Senate Subcommittee on Criminal Matters. The legislation is sponsored by Reps. Kay Bailey, R-Houston, and Sarah Weddington, D - Austin, and Sen. Betty Andujar, R-Fort Worth.

County were examined at the county hospital for rape, but only 20 cases went to trial, resulting in 10 convictions.

"Throughout the process you have the victims dropping out because of the great ordeal they suffer in telling what happened to them," Stillely said.

He defended the increased statute of limitations on rape cases, disagreeing with Dist. Atty. Tom Hanna of Beaumont who said it was unnecessary.

When a man accused of being the "Montrose Rapist" was arrested, he confessed to a large number of rapes—including some that had been reported—but could not be tried for them because they had occurred more than a year previously, Stillely said.

Hanna, president of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association, endorsed the bill and its "attempt to do away with the victim becoming the accused."

Several lawyer-members of the House committee attacked the measure in their questioning of Hanna.

Rep. Jim Mattox, D-Dallas, objected to a definition of consent that included voluntary sexual intercourse "in no way induced by fraud, threat or force."

"Supposed a guy says, 'I'm in love with you, and he is not in love with her, and she submits to intercourse, and after the intercourse, he says, 'I don't love you,' and she says, 'You raped.' Would that be rape under the statute?" Mattox asked.

Hanna replied that there are other elements of rape included in the measure.

The bill would permit a rape conviction on the uncorroborated testimony of the victim.

"There is only one person that knows if he is guilty," and that is God, said Rep. Smith Gilley, D-Greenville.

Rep. Joe Spurlock, D-Fort Worth, objected that a jury could not be told if a rape victim happened also to be a prostitute.

"You have a man and a woman, who have entered into a contract for the hire of her body, and at some time before penetration, she changes her mind... I am asking whether the fact that she is a known prostitute is material under the circumstances," Spurlock said.

"Quite probably it would be admissible... But it could not be admitted unless there have been prior acts of prostitution with the defendant," Hanna replied.

BROOKS TRIAL FOR MURDER— Jury Selection Continues

HOUSTON (AP) — Jury selection enters its third day today in the trial of David Owen Brooks, charged with four of 27 slayings in the Houston mass murders case, and the presiding judge said the process is "right on schedule."

Defense and prosecution lawyers selected seven prospective jurors Tuesday, bringing to 12 the number of the preliminary panel.

Dist. Judge William M. Hatfield said a total of 32 jury candidates will be selected. Lawyers for the state and the defense will then get 10 strikes each to arrive at the trial jury of 12.

Defense lawyer Jim Skelton said during his interrogation of the jurors Tuesday that Brooks would not testify and that the defense may not present any evidence.

"I'll tell you ahead of time that David Brooks will not testify," Skelton said. "As a matter of fact, we may not put on any evidence at all."

The lawyer said at another point that "the tough part of the case" will be to determine the exact nature of Brooks' involvement.

The issue, he said, involves the "law of principals" which states that a person must perform some overt act in a crime to be considered an equal participant. Mere knowledge or presence, he said, is not enough.

Skelton carefully illustrated

this point with each juror he questioned.

Brooks is charged in four slayings, but is on trial only in the death of William M. Lawrence, a 15-year-old Houston youth.

Police found the body of Lawrence and 26 other young men in graves in the Houston area.

They allegedly were all killed in a murder spree by a sex-torture ring allegedly headed by Dean Corll.

Corll was shot to death on Aug. 8, 1973 during a sex-torture and paint-sniffing party.

Another man, Elmer Wayne Henley, admitted killing Corll. The death was later ruled justifiable homicide. During investigation of the slaying, police discovered covered the mass murders.

Henley was convicted on six counts of murder last year and sentenced to a total of 594 years in prison.

Lawrence was one of the six for which Henley was convicted. No defense evidence was presented in Henley's San Antonio trial.

A TI lawyer testified Tuesday before a TAC hearing examiner that TI's route structure in Texas would be threatened if Bledsoe were granted a certificate.

Arthur Trolie, a Texicana lawyer, said his company applied to the TAC last Friday for permission to operate flights on the same routes requested by Bledsoe.

Scott Bledsoe, company president, said his firm would fly a ten-passenger plane between the three cities.

There has been no round-trip air service between Austin and Corpus Christi for two years.

Aussie, American Group Sweep Music Awards

LOS ANGELES (AP) — female vocalist in the country Blonde Olivia Newton-John and pop-rock fields during the rocking Gladys Knight and the nationally telecast show Tuesday night. Her "I Honestly Love You" was selected the "American Music Awards" best single in the pop-rock category.

Miss Newton-John, the Australian-born singer, was presented awards as the favorite in the country music category.

Miss Knight and the Pips, a family who have been singing together for decades but recently, dominated the soul music awards. They were chosen the best soul group and their "Midnight Train to Georgia" was adjudged the best single and their "Imagination" the best album. They were also selected as the favorite pop-rock group.

Forty thousand ballots for the contest were sent to homes across the nation randomly selected by a New York marketing firm. Recipients voted for their favorite male and female vocalists, their favorite group and their favorite single and album in the pop-rock, country, soul and soul music categories.

Charlie Rich won three awards, being picked as the best country music male vocalist, the singer of the best country music single, "The Most Beautiful Girl in the World," and the vocalist with the best pop-rock album, "Behind Closed Doors."

John Denver was chosen the favorite male vocalist in the pop-rock category and Stevie Wonder won the award in the soul category. Diana Ross won the female vocalist award for soul music.

After a Ford dinner Tuesday night for 13 liberal Republican senators, Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., said: "I think everyone assumes he's going to lose" the Senate vote on the House-passed bill to delay oil tariff increases.

To win time to write their own energy program, Democrats say they must postpone Ford's $3-per-barrel tariff on foreign oil for 90 days.

With the tariff delay a foregone conclusion, both sides were cautious about predicting how Ford's promised veto of the measure will fare.

A two-thirds majority will be required in both houses to override the veto, and that margin is conceded in the House.

In the Senate, Republican Leader Hugh Scott called it a toss-up. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said it would be close, and Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., predicted Ford's veto will be sustained because of strong GOP support.

If all 99 senators are present, an override would require 66 votes. Democrats have 61 seats, the Republicans 38, and one New Hampshire seat is vacant because of an election dispute.

As debate on the tariff delay opened Tuesday, Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., called the delaying measure "a cavalier and irresponsible way to deal with a legitimate crisis of national security which is daily growing worse, not better."

Ford is imposing the tax as a first step toward reducing U.S. consumption of foreign oil by two million barrels a day, or about 28 per cent, over the next three years. In seeking that goal, the President concluded that continued heavy reliance on imports threatens the national security.

FDR's Aide Dies At 88

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Raymond Moley, an architect of the New Deal and leader of the Franklin D. Roosevelt's "brain trust," is dead at 88.

Moley died Tuesday after a long illness which began with a heart attack while on a trip to the New York last year. He had been working on his memoirs until he entered a hospital Saturday.

Dr. Edelin Returns To Work Today

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Kenneth C. Edelin, sentenced to one year's probation on a manslaughter conviction in the death of a fetus after a legal abortion, returns to work at Boston City Hospital today.

Suffolk Superior Court Judge James P. McGuire stayed execution of the sentence Tuesday pending the outcome of an appeal filed later in the day by the doctor's attorney, William P. Homans.

Edelin could have received a maximum 20-year sentence in the case.

The hospital immediately invited him to return to his job today as head of outpatient obstetrical and gynecological care, and Edelin accepted.

The executive committee of the hospital's medical and dental staff issued a statement saying, "We strongly reaffirm his continued staff appointment as a physician to pursue the practice of medicine."

Edelin, 36, has not worked at the hospital since his indictment last April in the death of a fetus he aborted there in a legal operation on Oct. 3, 1973.

However, he has continued to see private patients.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that Edelin chose a jury trial after commissioning a $10,000 poll which showed that 85 per cent of Suffolk County's prospective jurors favor abortion in some circumstances.

But Homans said later he thought he might have had better luck if the case had been tried before a single judge.

Police, Fire Chiefs To Receive MC's First Honorary Degrees

MIDLAND (AP) — Police and fire chiefs will receive the first honorary degrees from Midland College on Tuesday night in their regular board meeting on the Midland College campus.

Wallace is slated to receive an honorary associate degree in law enforcement at May 10 commencement, with Little receiving his honorary associate degree in fire protection technology.

In addition to approving the two degrees, trustees also voted final acceptance of the campus sprinkler system with a penalty to the contractor, Tex-Line, Inc., of $2,800 for a delay in completion.

Other business included employment of Mrs. Ellou Moseley, who has been teaching part-time at the college, to replace Dr. Margaret Hatcher, who resigned recently from the English Department.

Robert Hollman, college government instructor, was granted a developmental leave request to complete his doctorate degree, and trustees approved both the release of bonds and the tax-office error and correction list.

In a progress report on the new campus construction, college President A. G. Langford told trustees the interior of the Learning Resource Center, or of June. Early July is the completion target for the physical plant.

Probe Continues Into Bell's Reasons For Rate Hike Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — State attorneys probe deeper today in southwestern Bell Telephone's reasons for proposing a $45 million increase in intrastate long distance rates in Texas.

Two of Atty. Gen. John Hill's assistants were scheduled to resume reading excerpts from seven depositions taken Feb. 17 from Bell officials in Dallas.

Bell attorneys indicated Tuesday the firm will cite "double-digit inflation" as justification for the proposed rate hike, which is set for March 1.

And Hill and his assistants hinted that "effective rate of inflation"—reducing the rate through economies and greater production—will be their answer.

Hill seeks a temporary injunction in state district court to block the proposed increase. It is the first time in Texas history that the telephone company has been called upon in court to justify rate charges for intrastate calls. Texas is the only state without statewide regulation of such rates.

Tuesday's testimony dealt mostly with accounting procedures used in rate-making.

Pat Loconto, a telephone rate expert with a Dallas accounting firm, fenced for three hours with Bell attorney Will Sears of Houston.

Sears stressed the importance of dividends to stockholders of Bell's parent company, American Telephone & Telegraph.

"If AT&T cut its dividends, it would affect the economy of the entire nation, wouldn't it?" Sears asked.

"It would certainly affect the stockholders involved," Loconto responded.

College Administrators Voted Pay Increases

Ten members of Midland College's administrative staff Tuesday evening were granting salary hikes, averaging 10 per cent each, by the school's board of trustees.

Couple Married In India, Texas Ceremonies

SHERMAN — Janet Braun, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Richard A. Braun, formerly of Midland, and Shrikant Malkar were married in a Hindu ceremony in Kolhapur, India, and were married again recently in the First Presbyterian Church of Sherman.

The bridegroom is the son of Sona Balkrishna-Malkar of Kolhapur and the late Mr. Malkar. The couple was married twice to please both families. The actual ceremony in India lasted an hour and a half, while the American ceremony was completed in 30 minutes. Various portions of the wedding included visits to the temple, a family game night and a pageant of dancers and singers depicting the Hindu marriage mythologies.

The bride is a graduate of Austin College and received a master of social work degree from Wayne State University in Detroit, Mich. She is employed by Children's Hospital in Detroit. Malkar is a graduate of Walchand College of Engineering and received a master of engineering degree at the University of Detroit. He is employed by United Engineering in Warren, Mich. He came to the United States four years ago to study.

VISUAL SCREENING — The Midland City Council Parent-Teacher Association and Downtown Lions Club are sponsoring a pre-school vision screening project to be conducted by volunteers during March. Mrs. Travis Smith of Abilene, right, volunteer co-ordinator for the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, recently instructed a training course in pre-school vision screening at West Elementary School. She is shown during a session with, from the left, Christie Hamlin, Ben Lefferts and Mrs. T. L. Witt, local project chairman. Those attending the course learned how to screen pre-school children to determine if they should seek professional help for visual defects. Last year, 665 children were screened and 17 were referred for professional examination.

REALTORS' PARTY—The Midland Board of Realtors had a valentine dinner and dance Friday in the Petroleum Club of Midland. Pictured are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bohannon, left, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carr.

More Thoughts On 'Touchy Problem'

DEAR ABBY: "Touchy Problem" asked whether she should ask her friend about her severely brain-damaged child who was in an institution. Your reply: "Be kind. Don't bring up anything that might make your friend uncomfortable."

Well, maybe if you were on the other side of the fence you could understand the situation better.

We have a retarded daughter, but we never mention her, for fear of making our friends uncomfortable. However, when people ask about her, we are delighted, and will talk as long as they care to listen.

Please print this letter, and thousands of parents will thank you for coming out of the Dark Ages, and spreading a little sunshine for the families of the handicapped.

DEAR ABBY: I am a Protestant who has been married to a Catholic for six months. It seems that my husband considers sex (normal sex, that is) a mortal sin.

He goes to confession once a week and tells the priest everything that happens in our bedroom, and I do mean EVERYTHING!

He tells me that the priest says that I am a source of sin to him!

All this is affecting our marriage. I feel that there are three of us in bed every night — my husband, myself and the priest.

I am beginning to avoid my husband in all physical contacts as I do not wish to be considered a source of sin to anyone. I am a very decent person.

Before any children are conceived, do you think I should continue in this marriage?

PUZZLED

ask me: "What happened to your legs?" Don't ask me: "What happened to your arms?" Don't ask me: "What happened to your face?" Don't ask me anything!

And I mean YOU! Don't think: "She doesn't mean me." I'm asking only because I'm concerned.

No, you're not. You're just being nosy. You're an insensitive clod if you question me after reading this. And I'm telling you you're a clod the next time you bother me.

Just leave me alone. Leave us all alone! The next time you see a handicapped person, just keep your mouth shut!

Thank you for printing this. Abby, I hope this stops some strangers from harassing us. Please, no name or location. Sign me.

A MOTHER WHO KNOWS

DEAR MOTHER: Another mother who views the situation from your side of the fence wrote with the perfect solution:

DEAR ABBY: Two of our four sons are in the residential facility for retarded children. When friends ask me how my two normal children are, and fall to mention the two who are retarded, I assume that THEY are uncomfortable with the subject, so as a kindness to THEM I don't mention the retarded boys. But oh, how I appreciate those who ask about all four boys!

I think the best way for friends to handle the situation is to ask, "How are ALL your children?" Then take their cue from the response.

Two-Year Suspension From School For Incurable Student Suggested By TSTA Official At Hearing

AUSTIN (AP) — A two-year suspension from school might be a form of rehabilitation for an "incurable" pupil, the executive secretary of the Texas Teachers Association suggested Tuesday.

Calie Smith testified before the House Public Education Committee in favor of a bill lengthening maximum suspensions from the rest of a school term to two full years.

The measure was referred after hearing to a three-member subcommittee for more study.

Included in the bill are provisions that deny education to pupils who are suspended for two years.

Present law limits suspensions to the end of a school term, but Smith said it was unclear whether term meant semester or the full school year.

John Duncan of the Texas Civil Liberties Union opposed the bill, saying it potentially could cause a pupil's suspension for two years for wearing his hair too long to suit local authorities.

Ennis schools he said, define as incorrigible a pupil's refusal to abide by a dress code that prohibits hair that sticks out more than 1 1/2 inches from his head.

That, he said, was specifically intended to keep black students from wearing Afros, a hairstyle of one of the committee members, former school trustee Wilhelmina Delco, and Duncan immediately declared: "It would under the Ennis dress code."

Duncan said that since the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled that education is a property right that can only be denied after due process, "each long-term suspension is a potential federal court suit."

American Officials Predict Thaw In U.S.-Cuba Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Congress has quietly lifted prohibitions on aid to some American officials see a slow but accelerating thaw in United States relations with the island nation.

The State Department's public position is that the relationship has not changed but officials tell a different story privately.

The most recent sign of thaw was last week's decision by the State Department to relax restrictions on travel for Cuba's diplomats at the United Nations. The distance Cuban delegates are permitted to travel outside New York City was increased from 25 to 250 miles.

Also, there were other developments over the past few months: Three Americans convicted on drug charges were released from jail in Cuba, but officials said the move was expected because the prison terms of the three had expired.

The second development involved a Treasury Department decision to permit a Canadian subsidiary of Litton Industries to trade with Cuba despite federal statutes that ban such trade. Officials say the decision was intended not as a gesture to Cuba, but to Canada, which had insisted that the proposed transaction be allowed to take place.

A major obstacle in the way of a more normal relationship between Washington and Havana is the Organization of American States embargo, now down in its 11th year. One senior official expressing hope for early OAS action on the issue, here.

"fat pain," asserting it is doing good for American relations.

The same official said Prime Minister Fidel Castro has toned down his rhetoric considerably in recent months, a fact which he said "has not gone unnoticed here."

Aggies Down Baylor, Up Mark To 8-1

By The Associated Press
Texas Tech and Arkansas, the last challengers to Texas A&M's supremacy in the Southwest Conference basketball title chase, meet Saturday to see which team will continue the challenge.

The Aggies, 8-1 in the league after a 62-55 victory over Baylor Tuesday night, apparently have a breather at home against last-place Rice on regional television Saturday afternoon.

But the only breathing at Lubbock's Coliseum Saturday night will be of the heavy variety as the Red Raiders and Razorbacks, both now 7-2 in the conference, fight to stay in contention.

Tech Edges SMU
Both teams hung in the race Tuesday night as Tech edged Southern Methodist 60-57 in Dallas and Arkansas crushed Texas Christian 81-57. The only other game saw Texas topple Rice 66-62.

"I'd have to say I'm pleased with our over-all performance because it's always tough to win in Waco," said A&M Coach Shelby Metcalf of the victory over Baylor. "Barry (Davis) picked us up in the first half. He's a take-charge type guy."

The Aggies were trailing 30-16 late in the first half before Davis scored the last nine points in the period to narrow their halftime deficit to 36-34. Davis finished with 17 points.

and teammate Sonny Parker had 118.

Arkansas, fifth nationally in field goal percentage, shot 61.6 per cent from the floor in the rout of TCU. Ricky Medlock led the Razorbacks' attack with 20 points, followed by Kent Allison with 14, while the Thomas Bledsoe of the Horned Frogs hit 25 points.

Out For Season
Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton said center Darryl Sautsberry injured a knee in the game and may be out for rest of the season.

Texas Tech apparently had a safe seven-point lead over SMU with 3:54 left over SMU, but star center Rick Bullock missed two one-and-one free throw opportunities and allowed the Mustangs to pull within one point with possession of the ball in the final minute.

However, Bullock was fouled again after a missed shot and he hit two charity tosses to clinch the Red Raiders' victory.

"I was glad to get it back, really glad," said Bullock of the third chance at the line. He tied for scoring honors at 18 with teammate William Johnson.

Texas, which lost its first five conference games, now has a four-game winning streak. Dan Krueger, hero of three recent one-point victories, had 26 points for the Longhorns and Charles Daniels of Rice added 27.

Smith On Prowl For Net Revenge

PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—"I have a little score to settle with Solomon," Stan Smith said with a sly grin after his first round victory in the World Championship Tennis Classic.

Smith, from Sea Pines, S.C., easily mowed down first round opponent Lee Merry of Los Angeles 6-3, 6-1 Tuesday.

That set up his second round match tonight against Harold Solomon of Silver Springs, Md., who pulled off a stunning comeback to get past Gerald Battwick of Great Britain 2-6, 6-3, 6-3 in the first round.

Solomon, unseeded, upset Smith, the No. 8 seed here, in the finals of the World Championship of Tennis Red Group tournament last week at Toronto.

After going down one set and 0-4 in the second, Solomon won seven straight games to ignite his comeback. He was ahead 4-0 in the final set and then was bothered by leg cramps.

"When I got so far behind, I just tried to hit to the ball to Battwick's forehand," Smith said. "He wasn't making any mistakes early. He finally made some mistakes and I caught up."

Although he beat Smith last week, Solomon sees an advantage for the 1973 WCT champion tonight.

"The courts here are extremely fast," Solomon said. "That should help Smith's big serve."

"I'm progressing every week," said Smith of the current WCT campaign. "The big thing is I'm eager to play where I wasn't last year."

"I'm not at my peak yet, but then I want to have something to look forward to later on."

In other first round matches Tuesday, No. 7 seed Tom Gorman of Seattle was upset by Erik van Dillen of San Mateo, Calif., 6-4, 6-7, 6-3.

Vijay Amritraj of India beat Graham Sulwell of Great Britain 3-6, 6-3, 6-3; Cliff Drysdale of Austin, Tex., beat Fort Worth's Kenny McMillan 6-2, 6-2 and Anand Amritraj of India beat Mark Shires of Los Angeles 6-3, 7-5.

The only first round action remaining is tonight's match between No. 1 seed Marty Riessen and Tom Edliessen of Los Angeles. Riessen competed in the Superstars competition finals in Florida.

Abilene won that one, 51-50, over Midland Lee and it kept the Bulldogs' post-season playoff hopes alive. # PROVIDENCE UPSET— Pan Am Wins 21st, 97-78

By The Associated Press
A little Lemon-aid has really pepped up the Pan American basketball team.

Coach Abe Lemons helped Oklahoma City University rise to national prominence and now he's doing the same thing for the school with the continental name in southern Texas.

The Broncos have galloped out of nowhere into the national rankings under the ebullient Lemons, currently claiming the No. 19 place among the country's best teams.

And they looked every bit that good while running over Southern Mississippi 97-78 Tuesday night.

"Pan American has a real good team," said Jeep Clark, the Southern Mississippi coach. "They've got good shooters and they're a lot quicker than I thought they were."

Lemons is never satisfied, even with a 19-point victory. Maybe that's why his team has a 21-2 record this year.

"We weren't sharp," he said. "We were outrebounded in the first half."

Rebels Upset Abilene Takes Over Second Half 5-4A Lead

By BOB DILLON
R-T Sports Writer
ABILENE — Midland Lee, trailing by five points with 30 seconds left in the game, almost pulled out a wild District 5-4A victory Tuesday night before an overflow crowd in Eagle Gymnasium, but Abilene held on to take a 51-50 victory to clinch a tie for the second half championship.

The victory by Coach James Boynton's Warbirds was a big one, but it doesn't settle anything with one game left in the regular season. Should Lee beat Midland and Abilene stub its toe Friday against Cooper, the Rebs and Eagles would share the second half title and Lee would move into the Class AAAA state playoffs since it tied for the first half crown. Of course, if Abilene wins and Lee wins Friday, then the Eagles are the second half champions and will sit back and watch Lee and Midland, first half winners, face each other in a playoff and then take on that winner between the two Tuli City rivals, for a spot in the playoffs.

The victory by the Eagles gives the Key City five a 22-7 season mark and breaks a two-year losing string to the Rebels on their home floor, but it gives Abilene a 12-2 mark at home against Coach Paul Stueckler's team in 14 years.

Gary Parson played an outstanding game for Lee, scoring 16 points and was superb on defense with five steals, but the quick 6-0 senior only had one other teammate in the double figures — Brett Blackwell, who would up with 11. Andre Hickman, 6-6 junior, also dumped in 16 points while 6-8 junior center Darrell Baxter added 10 more to the Eagle attack.

Abilene started off red hot and Lee ice cold as the Eagles took an 18-12 first period lead, mainly on the shooting of Hickman and Earl Swinger. The score was tied four different times before Swinger broke an 8-8 score with a short jumper with 5:01 left in the opening period. Hickman hit a pair of 15-footers while Little and Baxter followed with baskets to open up the lead to 18-8 with 1:20 left with Baxter's coming on a tip-in. Ron Farish sank a pair of free throws for the Rebels and Miller hit a 20-foot shot with four seconds left to cut the lead to 18-12.

Lee Rallies
Lee got back into the game after Hickman hit a 12-footer to make it 20-12 with 6:58 left in the second period. Parson hit and free throw and then Farish, Jackson, Parson and Blackwell, hit consecutive baskets for a 21-20 Lee lead with 1:48 left. In a three-minute span in the first and second periods, Lee outscored Abilene, 13-2, to get back into the game.

Swinger hit a bucket for Abilene for a 22-21 edge with 1:22 left in the period and Jackson matched that basket to give the lead back to Lee, 23-22, but Steve Thomas hit a basket at the buzzer to send the teams to the dressing room at halftime with Abilene on top, 24-23.

The third period was nip-and-tuck and the Rebels took the lead, 29-28, on Blackwell's 20-footer with 3:56 left. Hickman hit a pair of 15-foot shots and scored on a tip-in, to give Abilene a 34-29 lead.

Parson stole the ball and scored for Lee to cut the advantage to 34-31 and Blackwell banked in one from 15 feet out to make it 34-33, but Hickman scored with 58 seconds and Mills Little pumped in a 20-foot shot at the buzzer to give Abilene a 36-33 edge going into the final period.

Eddie Forkerway hit a basket at the offset of the quarter for a 40-33 lead, but the Rebels stormed back to take a 41-40 lead on a pair of free throws by Parson, a bucket by Farish, two charity tosses by Blackwell (Continued On Page 3C)

Lamesa Finishes 30-0

Tors Rip Snyder To Complete Perfect Season

By TERRY WILLIAMSON, R-T Sports Writer

SNYDER — Coach O. W. Folliis' Lamesa Golden Tornadoes continued their history-making cage match here Tuesday night at the Scurry County Coliseum before 1,800 fans with a big 70-53 victory over the Snyder Tigers to become the first squad in Tor annals to finish regular season play with an unblemished mark.

The victory lifted the Wind Machine to a perfect 30-0 record, a school mark the previous Tor winning streak record was 27 wins, but no Tor team has ever managed to gohit a jumper for a 44-25 lead in the third period and a 19 early pace set by the Tors and managed only 30 per cent from the field while Lamesa was firing at a 54 per cent clip.

A slugging spree erupted between the two rivals with 5:40 left in the third period. Snyder's Welton Cobb and Lamesa's Eddie Spencer came down from a rebound attempt swinging and it took a better part of a minute to calm the two combatants down. At one point, Cobb stepped in the face of Meeks, who was laying on the floor, and Spencer got into a sparring match with Chester Cobb. No injuries resulted, but Welton and Eddie were ejected from the game after the ugly affair was stopped.

Lamesa probably lost on the exchange because Snyder then employed a full court press that gave the Tors a lot of trouble without quarterback Spencer on the floor. Chester Cobb and Carter then ignited a Snyder rally and narrowed the Tor lead to 58-51 with 2:21 left in the game.

Vaszauskas, however, scored 11 points in the final period to keep the Tigers locked in their losing den.

It has been a big year for the Tors. First, the Wind Machine gave Folliis his 700th career victory earlier in the season, and now they own the school record for wins in a year.

The Tors now have one other goal in sight. Lamesa can become the first AAA school in state playoff history to win three state championships. Several schools, including Lamesa, have won two titles. Lamesa can accomplish that goal with four more victories in the playoffs.

Fergy's Pact Close To $200,000

By The Associated Press

Johnny Bench has made the biggest catch of his baseball career — $175,000.

That's what the All-Star catcher reportedly signed for Tuesday with the Cincinnati Reds, a spectacular figure that makes him the top money-maker in club history.

"We met only three times and we were never far apart," said Bench after signing his 1975 contract with one of the strongest throwing arms in baseball.

No actual figure was revealed by either the player or team officials. But Bench called the contract "tremendous" and indicated he had taken the lead over teammate Pete Rose as the most expensive player in Cincinnati history. Rose makes about $160,000 a season.

Bench, a two-time Most Valuable Player in the National League, topped the league in runs batted in last season with 129. He had 33 home runs and 280 batting average.

Despite the size of the contract, Bench didn't get the fattest pitch Tuesday in a day of re-signings. Ferguson Jenkins did.

With those two powerhouse names making news, the National League's Most Valuable Player of 1974 had to take a back seat with his contract. Steve Garvey signed for "only" $90,000 with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Garvey, the first baseman who led the Dodgers into last year's World Series against the Oakland A's, Garvey batted .312 in 1974, led the Dodgers in RBI with 111, hits with 200 and doubles with 32.

Bench, Jenkins and Garvey highlighted a busy day for baseball players — who either were signing or fighting for their contracts in arbitration.

Pitchers Mike Caldwell, Ron Bryant and Randy Moffitt signed with the San Francisco Giants while the Cleveland Indians signed pitcher Tom Hillgendorf for the 1975 season.

Meanwhile, arbitration contests took place in both San Francisco and Chicago without much apparent headway.

25-game winner last year, agreed to a new contract worth nearly $200,000 for 1975.

The veteran pitcher was seeking an escalating contract worth $205,000 the first year, but settled for about $175,000 in cash, plus the use of a car and a rent-free house, said his lawyer, Larry Sazant.

Jenkins, who tied for the American League lead in victories last season, led in complete games with 29 and was tied for second in starts with 41 and in shutouts with six.

Andrews Tumbles Kermit

KERMIT—The Andrews Mustangs ended the 1975 cage season here Tuesday night with a 71-64 win over the Kermit Yellow Jackets in the District 2-AAA finale for both teams.

Andrews ends the season with a 15-18 record and a 3-3 mark in second half action. Kermit ends with a 14-16 and 2-4 record.

K. B. Benson led the Mustangs with 22 points and Wade Cox had 21 points for the Yellow Jackets.

Andrews won the regional AAA cage title last year after upsetting Lamesa in the playoffs, but lost to Crosby in the semifinals of the state tournament. Andrews will not have a chance at defending their crown this year since Odessa Ector won the 2-AAA crown.

Hogan Park Men Slate Tournament

Players can enter on as many as three teams, it was noted by Tournament Director Charles Dishman.

Permian is now 4-2 in loop play. High for San Angelo was Arnold McDowell and Alfred Fields with 20 and 16 points, respectively.

Girls Basketball (?)

Why can't we have girls basketball as a major sport in Midland's two high schools?
This was a question directed recently to the editor by a Reporter-Telegram reader.

Midland and Lee high schools do exceptionally well in district, regional and state competition. There is every reason to believe that girls basketball would fare equally as well.

HEMISPHERE REPORT—

Panama Still Can't Forget Year Of '64

By WILLIAM GIANDONI
Copley News Service
Panamanian-U.S. relations are still being poisoned by distorted versions of the tragic events of 1964 when more than a score of persons, including four U.S. soldiers, lost their lives in clashes along the Canal Zone border.

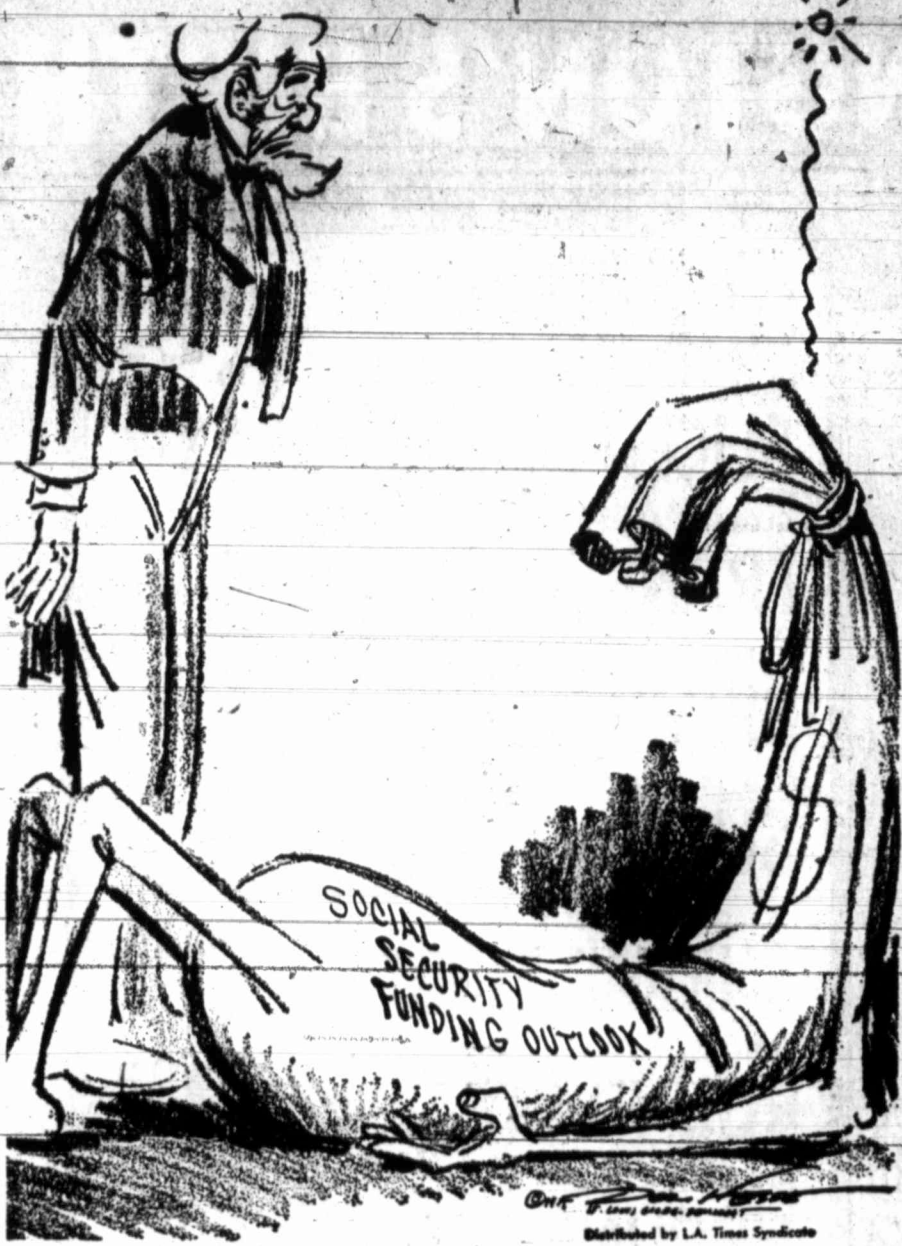

They forget that only a few days earlier, an estimated 40,000 persons packed into the Plaza Santa Ana to listen to opposition—presidential candidate, former President Arnulfo Arias, launch his campaign.

the young Panamanians did overturn garbage cans and break some windows and streelights.
But there was no gunfire. Neither the students from Panama, nor those in the zone, nor the Canal Zone police used firearms then.

Panamanians, either snipers or those defending themselves and their property against looters and arsonists.
Only four of the victims were determined to have suffered wounds inflicted by weapons of the caliber used by the Canal Zone police or the U.S. Army.

At first the zone police used their sidearms in an effort to scare the demonstrators back, shooting at the pavement or over heads.
But, about 7:45 p.m. a student, Ascanio Arosemena, was shot and fatally wounded.

These are facts established in the investigation of the tragic events that was made by the International Commission of Jurists (ICJ); at the request of Panama, not the United States.
The report the group published suggests that most of the persons killed then in Panama were probably shot by

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON
With LES WHITTEN
WASHINGTON — The Central Intelligence Agency has had an undercover relationship with both narcotics and customs agents.

We recently reported, for example, that federal narcotics agents maintained secret, rigged apartments for the CIA in San Francisco and New York City during the early 1960s.
We now have dug deeper into the CIA narcotics connection. Here are our findings:

Several years ago, the CIA trained 13 narcotics agents at its superserect counterespionage school. Most of these agents are still working for the Drug Enforcement Agency.
We have the names of 64 former CIA employees who now work for the DEA. About half are assigned to the Intelligence Unit at DEA's Washington headquarters.

Jack Anderson
"I've spent most of my life rigging elections," Lodge added. A former senator, he was Richard Nixon's running mate on the 1960 Republican presidential ticket.

The minutes later describe Porter as responding: "I just thought General Lansdale should stay close to General Thang on the issue of elections."
Lodge shot back: "I want General Lansdale to stay close to Thang on the subject of pacification, which I think is a great deal more important."

Deputy Ambassador William Porter noted that Maj. Gen. Edward Lansdale, the pacification chief, and Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang, the South Vietnamese pacification minister, were working together to keep the elections honest.
This triggered a surprising response from Ambassador Lodge. "You've got a gentleman in the White House right now who has spent most of his life rigging elections," snorted Lodge, referring to the late President Lyndon Johnson.

Chat With Connally Attracts Attention

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — President Ford's unscheduled chat with John B. Connally in Houston resulted from mindlessness at the White House which failed to consider either political damage to the President or interference with federal prosecution of Connally.

Contrary to claims by Connally's friends and implications by the President himself, the meeting was not a conscious effort by Mr. Ford to pick the former Treasury Secretary's brain on energy-economic problems.
That Mr. Ford should end up playing this role shows that his White House, though much tighter than earlier, is still a pretty slack ship.

There seems to have been no protracted debate in the White House. The political aides determined that Connally, innocent until proven guilty, should be treated as a former cabinet member and friend of Mr. Ford.
Connally, in Canada on business, rushed back to Houston. But he was late arriving on the 17th floor of the Shamrock Hilton Hotel, toward the end of Mr. Ford's 70-minute meeting with the Texas politicians.

Age Of Women In Political Offices

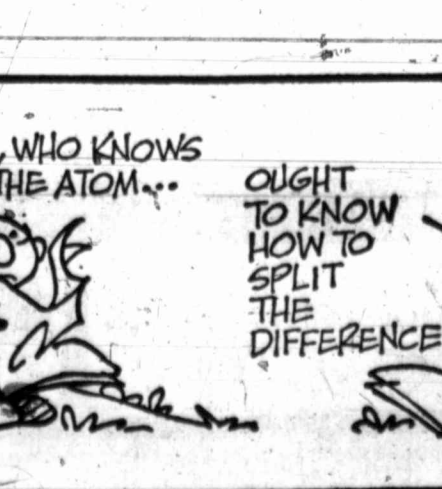

WASHINGTON (KFS) — Margaret Thatcher's extraordinary selection as leader of Britain's Conservative Party may tell us more about changing "Sexual Politics" than Kate Millet's book by that name.
British has had notable queens — Boadicea, Elizabeth Tudor and Victoria — but Mrs. Thatcher is the first self-made woman to rise to the top rung of British politics.

For all that the new Tory leader dismisses the women's movement, one must count her victory among the evidence that it is beginning to bear political fruit.
There are also new signs here in the U.S. Almost simultaneously with the upheaval in Britain, radical Congresswoman Bella Abzug announced that she will run in New York's 1976 Democratic Senate primary.

Alas, British Gallup polls don't bode well for Mrs. Thatcher. Conservatives may lose votes in Welch, Scottish and working-class neighborhoods by offering a woman for Prime Minister.
The U.S. is probably not ready for a woman President. But below the national level, the trend is favorable. Consider this analysis in the January 1975 California Journal:

WALLACE AND WALLER COMMENT — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace tells newsmen in Washington Tuesday night, "I'm alive and well and will be, I hope, in 1976." Mississippi Gov. William L. Waller, left, speaking earlier Tuesday in Washington on the possibility of Wallace running for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976 said, "I personally feel right now that his candidacy is remote." (AP Wirephoto.)

Wallace Says Health Won't Be Problem If He Decides To Run For Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace says his health won't be a problem if he decides to run for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination. "I'm as strong as anybody except I can't walk," the partially paralyzed Wallace told reporters as he arrived here in his wheelchair Tuesday to attend the midwinter National Governors Conference. The issue of Wallace's health was raised earlier in the day by a fellow southern governor, Democrat William L. Waller of Mississippi, who questioned whether Wallace was capable of the physical effort required for a presidential bid and predicted the Alabama governor would find it more difficult than in the past to get southern support. "I personally feel right now that his candidacy is remote," Waller told a news conference. "At the present time, he is not perceived to be a viable, potential candidate." Waller, the only governor to attend Wallace's third term inauguration last month, said his comment was based on his perception of Wallace's physical state. "I am always in close contact with the governor and I can tell you that he's stronger than ever and his health is good. He showed that when he stumped the entire state of Alabama to get re-elected," Allen added. "Southern officials never did offer Wallace much support."

Governor Says Some States May Ask Congress To Override Cuts In Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Governor Ford administration officials and congressional leaders. Lucey's comments Tuesday followed similar findings by a preconference survey by the Associated Press which showed most governors opposed to Ford's economic program and little support for his energy policies. Among those critical of Ford's economic proposals were Republican governors William G. Milliken of Michigan and Christopher S. Bond of Missouri and almost all Democrats. The conference also is scheduled to consider a resolution requesting that states be freed of a requirement to match federal highway funds recently released by Ford. Conference Chairman Calvin L. Rampton, D-Utah, said unless the matching requirement is waived many states will be unable to take advantage of the $2 billion in impounded federal highway funds released last week by Ford and a like amount made available by a court order.

Sissy Says Suit Fulfilled Purpose

DALLAS (AP) — Former gubernatorial candidate Frances Farenthold says a suit she filed against a fund-raising committee for Gov. Dolph Briscoe and settled out of court fulfilled its "primary purpose." She said the suit "accomplished its primary purpose of emphasizing to all candidates, past and future, the importance of strict compliance with the Texas Election Code." The suit, filed by Mrs. Farenthold against the Dinner Committee which sponsored an Oct. 30, 1973, Face of Texas Appreciation Night for the governor and his wife, was dismissed here Tuesday in a settlement for an undisclosed amount of money. The Dallas settlement, according to the committee, paved the way for settlement of a $2.5 million suit filed in Austin against Gov. Briscoe by Mrs. Farenthold alleging the governor violated the political contributions law.

Judge Dismisses Montoya Motions

AUSTIN (AP) — A March 18 trial date for Rep. Greg Montoya, D-Elisa, has been reaffirmed by State District Court Judge Mace B. Thurman after he denied two defense motions to dismiss the indictment. Montoya is charged with using state funds to pay five of his employees. The motions at a pre-trial hearing Tuesday were based on grounds that Montoya should be tried in El Paso, not Austin, and that members of the grand jury commission selected themselves to serve on the grand jury. After the hearing, Rep. Matt Garcia, one of Montoya's lawyers, said he planned to go to the Lower Rio Grande Valley to talk to some of the witnesses in the case before the trial. "At the present time, I am unable to say if I will or will not ask for a legislative continuance in this case," said Garcia, D-San Antonio. "It all depends on the legislative work-

The committee said in its statement that it had done "everything humanly possible to provide full and accurate information about the dinner, that it complied with the letter and the spirit of the law and that it did nothing wrong which would authorize any recovery by Mrs. Farenthold."

Lucey said Ford's budget proposals for fiscal 1976 will cost his state $153 million in federal support for state-administered programs and that most other states are reporting a similar crunch. Lucey, a Democrat, indicated that many states may ask Congress to override the administration's proposed budget cuts of $17 billion. "I'm sure that a lot of that will be restored by the Congress," Lucey said. ### Agency Spends Day Sorting Alternate Energy Proposals

By GINNY PITT
 Associated Press Writer
 Proposals for using everything from pig manure to the rays of the sun to provide fuel were advanced about a year ago while the country was in the middle of the worst effects of the Arab oil embargo.

But today you still need gasoline to operate your car, and you still need electricity, natural gas or oil to heat your home.

With few exceptions, most of the projects proposed a year ago are still on the drawing boards and won't be practical for decades to come.

Spokesman Ben McCarty of the newly created Federal Energy Research and Development Administration - ERDA - says the agency's staff is "swamped with unsolicited proposals" for obtaining new fuel supplies.

"These people are working 14 to 18 hours a day trying to sort out those proposals that have potential and those that don't," McCarty said. "We accept proposals from anybody. But at this point, it's more than likely that any unsolicited idea submitted will have already been looked at and discarded."

Document Every Step
 "It's a long, long process," says McCarty of developing new sources of energy. "Working with scientists can be very frustrating at times. They want to document every step, conduct tests for safety precautions and check out every little angle. But history has proven that they are right to do it this way."

One of the few alternate fuel projects announced last year that is currently in operation is a garbage-to-steam plant in Nashville, Tenn.

Nashville Thermal Transfer Corp. said in January 1974 that it had begun construction on a plant that would use solid waste to generate steam for heating and cooling 27 downtown buildings.

The firm's general manager, Carl Avers, says the $16.5-million plant has been operating for several months now and has been so successful that 13 additional buildings have contracted for heating and cooling exclusively by garbage-to-steam.

Initial studies showed the Nashville Thermal system is "15 to 25 per cent less expensive than using conventional fuel to provide steam, and we suspect it is far more expensive than that now," Avers said.

McCarty said of all the projects currently being developed, the use of solar energy for heating and cooling is the most likely to be immediately applicable on a national level.

Alternate Energy
 "We have the know-how to provide alternate energy sources. The problem is expense. Our research efforts now are primarily aimed at reducing costs," he says. "If a homeowner has $50,000 or $60,000 to spend, we could install a solar heating and cooling system right now. It is already gaining in industrial and commercial uses, but we don't foresee widespread home use of solar energy much before the 1980s."

Dr. Alfred J. Eggars of the National Science Foundation said a project using the rays of the sun to heat and cool school buildings in Baltimore; Boston; Osseo, Minn.; and Warrenton, Va., has been so successful that a school building in Atlanta is scheduled to be added soon to the experimental program.

The project, announced last March, has been under way for Varmint Calling Has Artesia Club

ARTESIA, N.M. (AP) - In this southeastern New Mexico community, they have a varmint calling championship.

The Artesia Varmint Callers and Gun Club Assn.'s rules permit special hunting arrangements for coyotes, bobcats and foxes.

In 1974, Keith Riley and his partner, Phil Stell, both of Carlsbad, collected 11 coyotes and a fox.

about 11 months, Eggars said. He said the solar systems have been "performing at least equal to the projected savings in terms of fossil fuels," and maintenance costs have been lower.

Data gathered from the program will be used in research to determine feasibility of using solar energy to heat and cool other buildings.

Eggars echoed ERDA comments about the length of time involved in developing alternate energy sources.

"What you save in fossil fuel systems has to compensate for the initial cost" of new systems, he said. It is a matter of "the economic competitiveness of these systems in comparison with other systems."

Several other projects announced during the past 18 months have failed to materialize or are still in the research stages.

For example, Electromotion, Inc., of Bedford, Mass., which developed an electric-powered automobile that could be operated at about half the cost of a gasoline-powered vehicle, has gone out of business.

Oregon State microbiologist Arthur Anderson says his experiments with converting pig, cow and horse manure into methane gas are continuing and have not yet led to any commercial application.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's wind-power program that called for designing small windmills to be placed on private homes for generating energy is now considered a low-priority project.

Mixing Breeds No Racial Incidents

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - There have been no racial incidents since Africans were allowed to mix with whites in public parks, libraries, museums, the art gallery and zoo a year ago, according to city officials.

Francois Oberholzer, chairman of the city council's management committee, said: "We have had about two dozen complaints from whites in protest against the city's measures to give the blacks a better deal - but they represent a very small percentage of the city's white population."

Oberholzer released figures recently showing that since the "whites only" signs were removed a total of 12,984 Africans have used the city's nine reference libraries while 4,462 joined lending libraries.

West opened the seven of spades, and East's king won. East returned the jack of spades, and South had to take the ace. West followed suit with the eight of spades, "concealing" the five.

South fell for this routine hocus-pocus. He assumed that West had led his fourth-best spade and that West had no spade lower than the seven. If this were so, the spades would be divided 4-4, and the opponents could take only three spade tricks.

Relying on this assumption, South led a club to the ace and then finessed with the jack of clubs. West won with the queen of clubs and rattled off enough spades to defeat the contract.

Important Clue
 South missed an important clue in counting the spades: East returned the jack of spades at the second trick. If the spades were 4-4, East's original holding would have been K-J-5-4 and he would return the four of spades rather than the jack.

If South expects a 5-3 break in spades he cannot afford to lose a finesse in hearts or clubs. His best chance is to lead out the ace and king of clubs, intending to try the heart finesse if the queen of clubs fails to drop. The fortunate club drop gives declarer nine safe tricks without a finesse.
