Sterling Gets Exploration, Extension

Exploration has been planned for Sterling County, and an extension was completed in a Sterling field.

Shelly Oil Co. has filed application to re-enter and plug back to 7,100 feet from tests of an unidentified zone at No. 2 E. R. Foster, former Fossilman oil producer, which has been reclassified as a Fossilman gas pay opener in the WAM, South field.

It was completed from the gas pay in April, 1970, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 8.5 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 8,598-8,628 feet. Completion information from the oil pay was not available.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,960 feet from east lines of section 5, block 7, H&TC survey, 14 miles southwest of Sterling City.

Extender Finals

Stoltz, Wagner & Brown of Midland completed No. 7-3 Hildebrand as a 1 1/2-mile northwest extension to Canyon gas production in the Conger field of Sterling.

It gauged a calculated, absolute open flow of 7.8 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 22,796-1, through perforations at 7,461-7,826 feet. The section had been acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 60,000 gallons and 60,000 pounds. Gravity of the distillate is 64.6 degrees.

Location is 1,320 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block 21, H&TC survey, 10 miles southwest of Sterling City.

Confirmer Finals In Concho Sector

The Paint Rock, South (Goen line) field of Concho County gained its second well and a 1/2-mile south extension with completion of J. H. Purvis, Midland, No. 2 John Lloyd, eight miles southeast of Paint Rock.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 3.115 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, producing through perforations at 3,512-3,524 feet, which had been acidized with 7,000 gallons.

Well site is 533 feet from south and 2,173 feet from east lines of section 295, block 72, T&NO survey.

The discovery, Purvis No. 1 John Lloyd was completed July 18, 1974, for 3.05 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 3,470-3,496 feet.

Devonian Strike Seen For Terrell

Hytech Energy Corp., Midland, No. 1 Frank Rashup Jr., Terrell County re-entry operation, 11 miles south of Sheffield and three miles south of the Allison (Pennsylvanian detrital) gas field, flowed gas at the rate of 1 to 2 million cubic feet per day, from the Devonian.

Flow was through a 12-64-inch choke and perforations at 11,143-11,212 feet, which had been acidized with 14,000 gallons. It flowed three to 16 barrels of water per hour along with the gas, during the test conducted for an unreported time.

Changes Urged In Primary Bill

More Government Millions Keep Penn Central Running

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Penn Central Railroad, its bank account empty, received an emergency $15.3 million from the federal government today to pay its employees this week and keep vital freight service rolling.

America's biggest railroad, operating in 14 Eastern and Midwestern states, the District of Columbia and two Canadian provinces, faced a possible shutdown because it did not have cash to meet $16.4 million in bills due Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The bills include some payroll checks.

The railroad's three court-appointed trustees disclosed that the U.S. Department of Transportation had agreed to advance the necessary funds pending congressional approval for more than $100 million the Penn Central said it needs to keep running for another year.

A Penn Central spokesman said the transportation department approved the emergency arrangements under the Regional Rail Reorganization Act. "This will enable the railroad to meet its payroll," the trustees said.

Penn Central went into federal bankruptcy court in mid-1970 when the two-year merger of the two biggest railroads in the East — the Pennsylvania and New York Central — went sour. Since then it has been losing money at the rate of more than $500,000 daily while serving a vital industrial area that produces almost half the nation's goods.

Syrian Leader Spells Out Harsh Peace Treaty Terms

By The Associated Press

The president of Syria says his government will sign a peace treaty if the Jewish state gives up all the territory it captured in the 1967 war and agrees to a Palestinian state made up of the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

It was his strongest statement yet on the possibility of an agreement with Israel.

"This is not propaganda. We mean it — seriously and explicitly," President Hafez Assad told Newsweek magazine.

Israel, however, has repeatedly rejected those two demands.

The Egyptian magazine Rose

al Youssef reported that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko he expected to get an agreement next month for another Israeli troop withdrawal in both the Sinai Desert and the Golan Heights front with Syria. The report said Kissinger and Gromyko agreed to call the Geneva peace conference back into session in April if the withdrawal agreement was reached.

The Israeli Foreign Ministry said it had not been informed of any such Soviet-American agreement, and newsmen accompanying Kissinger on his recent visit to the Middle East reported no indications of Israeli willingness to give up any more Golan Heights territory.

Falastin As-Thawra, a Beirut magazine that reflects the views of the Palestine Liberation Organization, claimed a U.S.-Egyptian deal in the offing would provide for the internationalization of East Jerusalem, where the holy places are located, in exchange for the next Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai.

Cairo Meet Opens

The Arab Boycott of Israel organization opened a 10-day meeting in Cairo to review requests from 60 firms to be removed from the blacklist. The boycott includes Ford Motor Co. and Coca Cola as well as a number of personalities sympathetic to Israeli causes.

The Israeli military command reported that an army patrol clashed with a band of guerrillas on the Lebanese border Saturday night and killed one of the Arabs. It was the first border incident reported since Feb. 1.

Cuevas Jury Being Picked

HOUSTON (AP) — With the state seeking the death penalty, jury selection began today in the trial of Ignacio Cuevas, the lone inmate survivor in the Huntsville prison escape attempt last year which left four persons dead.

The first group of veniremen included eight men and four women. District Court Judge Milton Love has said he will be surprised if a jury can be selected in less than a month.

Offshore Ownership Arguments Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration's plans to open the Atlantic to oil exploration are at stake before the Supreme Court on a suit to affirm federal ownership of offshore areas.

Arguments were scheduled to be heard today by the court. The Ford administration has appealed for a quick ruling because the suit is blocking plans to lease 3.5 million acres of the Middle Atlantic to oil companies.

The Interior Department has agreed to delay its leasing program until the suit is settled. The agreement already has forced the department to withdraw one invitation for oil companies to recommend areas for leasing, a preliminary step in the program.

The Justice Department filed the suit in 1969 after Maine announced plans to lease 3.3 million acres of Atlantic mineral rights more than three miles offshore. The suit named all of the Atlantic Coast states as defendants, but Florida was severed because its case involves complicated boundary questions.

Maine's plans conflicted with the 1953 Submerged Lands Act, which gives the states title only to the first three miles of ad-

Court Rejects Federal Retirement Law Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today rejected a challenge to the constitutionality of legislation calling for mandatory retirement of federal employees at age 70.

The court upheld without comment a decision of a three-judge federal court here dismissing a suit to have the retirement law declared unconstitutional.

Justices Thurgood Marshall and William O. Douglas, who are recuperating from illnesses, took no part in the decision. A court spokesman said Marshall might return to the bench later in the week.

The act was challenged by Martin O. Weisbrod, assistant counsel for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development in Chicago, who was involuntarily retired on March 1, 1973, at the age of 70.

Weisbrod has continued to work for the department as a "re-employed annuitant" on a year-to-year basis, but has lost about $800 annually in salary increases.

In other action today, the court: —Suspended former White House counsel John W. Dean III from the practice of law before the Supreme Court.

—Agreed to decide whether a defendant convicted on the basis of perjured testimony can collect damages from the prosecutor.

—Let stand a lower-court ruling that complaints about the right of criminal defendants to a speedy trial must be considered on a case-by-case basis.

—Let stand a lower-court ruling that the chemicals DDT and dieldrin should be considered food additives when found naturally in fish.

Meany Urges Oil Nationalization

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Blaming the energy crisis on efforts by the giant oil companies to "fatten the profits," the AFL-CIO says Congress should take steps toward nationalizing the industry.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, which ends its winter meeting here today, called for legislation that would transfer into government hands the authority for importing oil. The proposal would require the oil companies to sell their marketing operations and holdings in other energy sources, such as coal and natural gas.

Although the council stopped short of advocating outright nationalization, AFL-CIO President George Meany said, "so be it," when asked if his organization's proposals amounted to that.

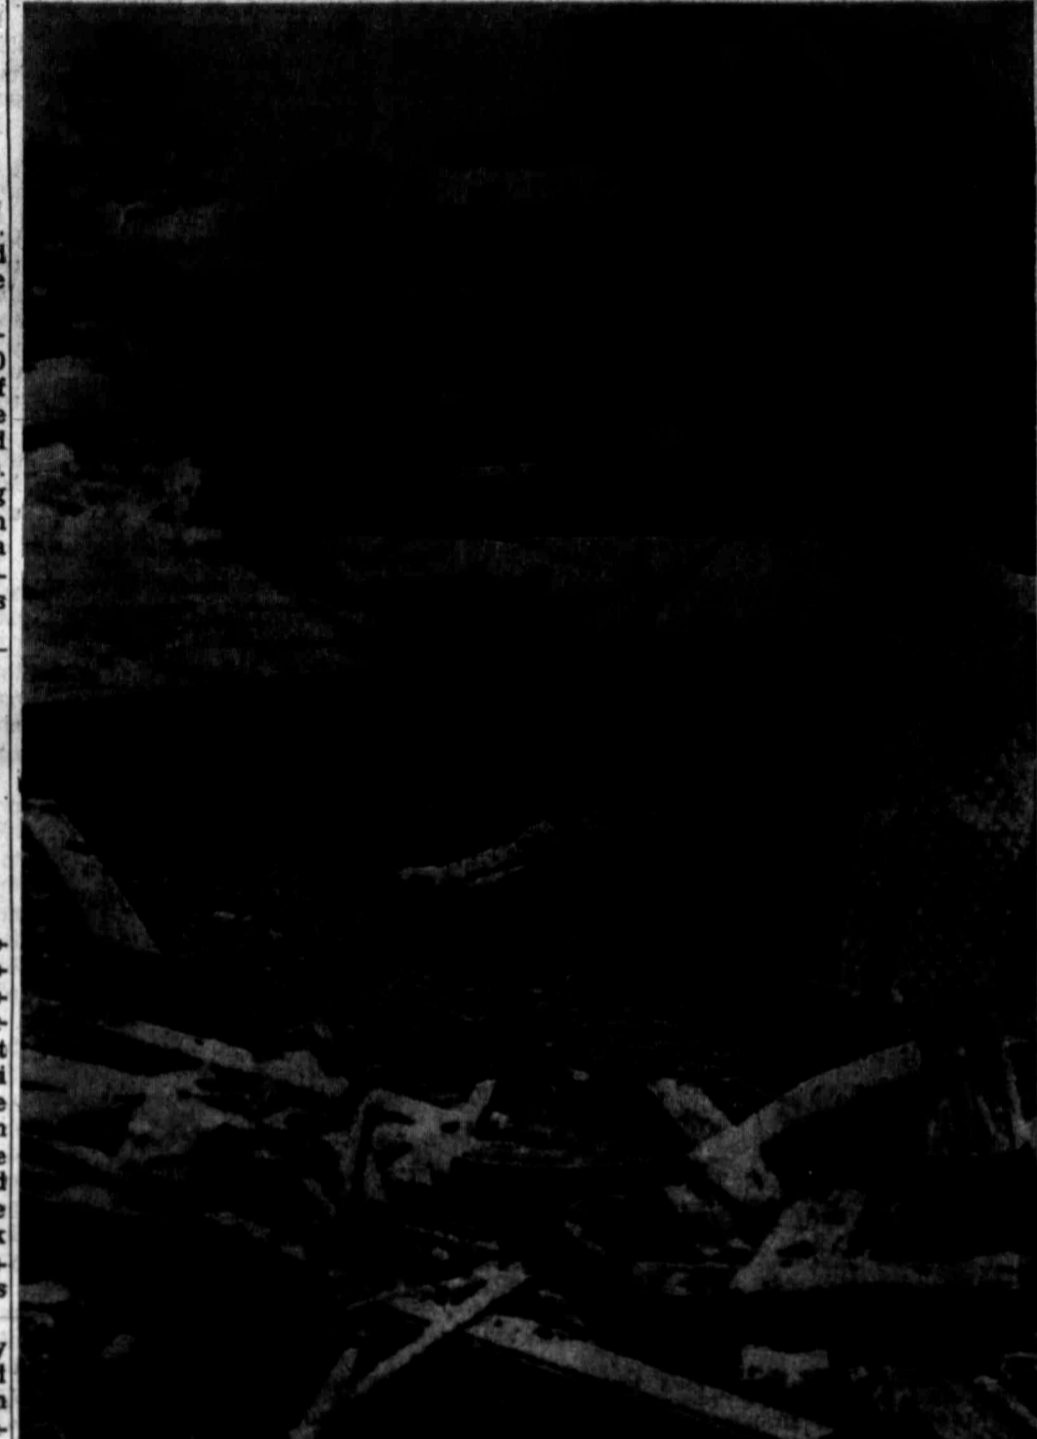

"I don't think this is the worst thing that could happen," Meany said. "If the oil companies keep behaving the way they are — conducting their business in complete disregard of the interest of the American people — I think nationalization is inevitable some day."

Union leaders said they believed that the energy crisis was "a result of policy decisions made by the oil companies to squeeze the consumers, force them to pay higher prices and fatten the profits of the oil companies."

The long lines for gasoline and shortages of heating oil suffered a year ago during the Arab oil embargo "pales into insignificance compared to what looms ahead unless immediate and drastic action is taken," the executive council said.

Among measures proposed by the council was legislation that would: —Prohibit a single company from owning competing sources

Senate Panels Polishing Own Alternative Energy Programs

By JIM LUTHER

WASHINGTON (AP) — While attention is focused on President Ford's battle with Congress over oil tariffs, two Senate committees are nearing approval of their own substitutes for the President's energy program.

As Congress awaits Ford's promised veto of a bill suspending the President's $3-a-barrel oil tariff, the Senate Interior Committee plans to approve early this week a gasoline rationing bill. The measure would give the President standby authority, with congressional consent, to impose gasoline rationing or take other emergency conservation measures during any future fuel shortage.

Meanwhile, the Senate Commerce Committee is considering two other bills that are expected to be a part of the energy program being drawn up by a Senate-House Democratic task force.

One bill would require that automobiles and household appliances bear labels describing in simple terms their energy efficiency. This would give the consumer help in making energy-efficient purchases.

The second bill being considered by the Commerce Committee would set ceiling prices on "new" natural gas but allow the price to be increased periodically in response to inflation. The Ford administration is urging an end to all price controls on natural gas.

The Senate-House panel working on the Democratic energy program is headed by Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and Rep. James C. Wright, D-Tex.

The joint panel plans to meet again Tuesday to coordinate the House and Senate efforts.

The final Democratic energy plan is expected to reject Ford's contention that consumption of imported oil should be cut two million barrels a day, or 28 per cent, by the end of 1977.

Ford proposes to reach the goal by raising the price of

Winter Starts Relaxing Stranglehold On Texas

Snow and ice relaxed a travel-throttling grip on Texas today although a few flakes fluttered down in some sections of the state for a third straight day.

This time there were only scattered patches of light snow in early morning along the east side of the Texas Panhandle and into parts of North Central and Southwest Texas — nothing like the five- to six-inch coverlets dumped around Amarillo in the Panhandle and downstate around Dallas as snow enveloped about the northwest two-thirds of the state earlier.

Midland Follows Pattern
Midland, too, reflected the statewide warming trend with an anticipated high this afternoon in the low 60s and a maximum in the middle 70s predicted for Tuesday. The Sunday high mark was 45.

The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal reported the overnight low as 33, and said tonight's minimum should again fall in the middle 30s.

All Roads Now Open

Although drifts as tall as seven feet kept U.S. 70-62 closed part of Sunday near Floydada and many other routes bore a treacherous glaze for hours, state patrolmen reported all routes were open and only occasional patches of ice remained this morning.

Except for clouds where the light snow persisted, skies were generally clear and warming weather was promised throughout the state. Sharp north winds which reinforced the chill Sunday abated.

Temperatures near dawn sag-

Funeral Took Fun Out Of Anniversary

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who was a pallbearer at his first wife's funeral on his second wife's 14th anniversary?

That's what my husband did. He had only two children by his first wife, and seven by me.

I was plenty ticked off about this. Don't you think he could have shown his respect by just sending flowers?

I'd like your opinion.

ANNIVERSARY RUINED
DEAR RUINED: It was unfortunate that your wedding anniversary and your husband's first wife's funeral fell on the same day, but I think it's to your husband's credit that he was asked to be a pallbearer, and that he accepted.

You'll have other anniversaries, hopefully, but his first wife can be buried only once.

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote asking whether one should wear panties UNDER pantyhose or OVER them, and you replied that pantyhose served as both panties and hosiery, so with rightly laundering panties were not necessary at all.

Abby, please rush this into print: A few years ago, my elderly mother was introduced to pantyhose, and she loved them. Within a few months, she developed a dreadful vaginal infection which spread into her bladder, and she was hospitalized in agony.

There seemed to be no medication that could combat the particular bacillus that invaded her system. The several doctors who attended her (and did eventually cure her) all told me that they'd been seeing much too much of similar infections, although mostly among younger women.

They concluded that there must be something in the dye of the pantyhose that caused the infection, so they now urge

Get A Bucket-Of Love-For The Bride

Dear Heloise: I love to give "different" things at wedding showers. A bucket loaded with cleaning supplies; a dish drainer piled high with dish soap, cleanser, scrubber, towels and dish cloths and sponges; things for the desk—pens, paper, stamps, envelopes, stapler...metal file for bills and records. His and Hers beauty kits—toothpaste, shaving cream, after-shave lotion, scented powder, bubble bath, emery boards, etc.

Kitchen gadgets (just look in your kitchen drawer) packed in a vegetable bin; or what about all those wrapping things — foil, plastic wrap, plastic bags, paper plates, napkins, paper towels.

Sometimes I type up several pages of my favorite recipes and put them in one of those colored folders with the pockets and the little tabs. In the pockets I put "cents-off" coupons on new products and recipes cut from women's magazines. Then to go with this book, I pack a box of some of the spices called for in the recipes — cinnamon, vanilla, baking powder, soda, salt, pepper, etc.

I guess I make getting shower gifts fun for me and I like to wrap them in fun ways.

Tiny Himalayan Realm Crowns New King

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Seated cross-legged on his dynastic throne under a canopy of nine golden cobras, Nepal's young absolute monarch received the plumed crown of his Himalayan kingdom in a Hindu ritual.

over a tiny inner courtyard of the carved-wood royal palace. "For the welfare of the people, I am ready to be the king," 29-year-old Birendra Bir Bikram Shah Deva responded. "I will be popular like the raindrop. I will be friendly like the sun."

At present, the Senate is at an impasse with the filibuster controversy delaying action on an emergency measure to keep Northeast railroads running. A new effort to pass that measure was scheduled today.

warya Rajya Laxmi Devi Shah sat beside her Harvard-educated husband on the throne draped with skins of a bull, a wildcat, a leopard, a lion and a tiger.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, the Illinois Republican and former camera manufacturer, moved about the courtyard in his morning suit taking movies of the ceremony.

Filibuster Fight, Tax Cut On Menu

But Democrats, who contend this would worsen inflation and recession, are putting far more emphasis on battling unemployment than on reducing U.S. reliance on foreign oil.

In the House, energy bills have not moved past the hearing stage, mainly because the House Ways and Means Committee has been preoccupied with an emergency anti-recession tax cut.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A closer than ever before last Thursday to making it easier to limit debate, plan a new effort, possibly Tuesday. They hope to House on a $21.2 billion tax cut to pep up the economy head this week's congressional agenda.

Senate liberals, who came two-thirds, to cut off debate.

At present, the Senate is at an impasse with the filibuster controversy delaying action on an emergency measure to keep Northeast railroads running. A new effort to pass that measure was scheduled today.

Possible House action on the tax bill, meanwhile, hinges on Tuesday's caucus of the 290 House Democrats on a move to permit a vote on possible repeal of the 22 per cent oil depletion allowance.

Rep. William J. Green, D-Pa., is leading the drive to add the depletion repeal to the package of tax cuts and rebates aimed at stimulating the sagging economy.

Democratic leaders fear the repeal attempt would jeopardize the entire tax reduction bill. If the caucus backs Green, House leaders may delay floor action in an effort to work out a compromise.

Both houses, meanwhile, were awaiting President Ford's veto of the measure that would suspend for 90 days his authority to raise oil import tariffs, a central feature in the President's energy program.

With the House considered likely to override the crucial vote on overriding the veto is expected in the Senate which voted 66 to 28 for the suspension. GOP leaders say they have an even chance of picking up the extra votes they need.

Two-thirds votes in both chambers are required to override a veto.

Coast Guard Hunts Disabled U.S. Ship

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Coast Guard rescuers are searching for a 72-foot American fishing vessel reported disabled and drifting in the Gulf of Mexico off Texas shores, a spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the Coast Guard was notified last night by radio that the Westland, owned by Celestino Garza of Port Isabel, Tex., had wrapped a net around its propeller and was adrift.

Since the ship was almost due south of the Texas-Mexico border, the Mexican Navy was asked to help but were unable to locate the ship, the Coast Guard said.

The cutter Point Noll and a Coast Guard airplane have been dispatched to locate and aid the Westland, said the spokesman. The vessel was last reported about two miles offshore and in danger of drifting aground.

Alcoholism Rate In Military 3 Times That In Rest Of U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The alcoholism rate in the military is about three times that in the rest of the nation, says White House physician William Lukash.

Dr. Lukash told newsmen Sunday at the California Medical Association convention that one contributing factor is that military men are often away from home for long periods.

The White House physician said he thought doctors should be taught more about alcoholism. Only about 20 per cent of Alcoholics Anonymous members were referred to the organization by physicians, he said.

Alcoholism authorities at the convention agreed that medical treatment of alcoholics is frequently deficient.

Dr. Francis Mackey, director of St. Jude's Hospital in Fullerton, Calif., said an alcoholism treatment program should be in English and Dutch.

Mackey said recent studies indicated only about half of hospitalized alcoholics were so identified on their medical records.

Dr. Charles Becker, a San Francisco physician, said some doctors had admitted to him that while they knew their patients were alcoholics, they did nothing about it because they felt the alcoholism was untreatable.

Head Start Called 'Partnership'

By LUANNA CROW — "Head Start should be viewed as a partnership of the staff and the parents, with the parents as the senior partner," said Earl Richardson in his address this morning to the opening session of the West Texas regional Head Start conference here.

Richardson, a parental involvement specialist from the Office of Childhood Development of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was speaking to an estimated 150 parents and educators attending through Head Start.

As today's keynote speaker, the Dallas resident described the parent's involvement as the key to success in a child's educational development.

intervention disappear after the program ends" without the help and support of the parents, he said. "We're just spinning our wheels."

Explaining his office's underlying philosophy is that the degree of parental involvement dictates the success or failure of any program, Richardson said. "In terms of parental involvement is one of the solving the problems of the components of the Head Start program."

"The parent will be with the child longer than anyone else," he said. "The child is just passing through Head Start."

Defining the aims of the project, he explained, "Head Start means what is says — you put a person out in front of parental involvement the same into the homes know how to equalize the gap between the 'haves' and the 'haves-nots.'"

"While we don't propose to assess the needs, and then develop a program based on those needs."

A former teacher in the Dallas Independent School District and former director of the Dallas County Community Action Head Start Program, Richardson said the direction of Head Start programs should be toward meeting the needs of families and assisting them with young children.

He said he doesn't see "enough programs geared in this area."

The speaker asserted that administrators and staff need to be assured "the people going into the homes know how to do it. If you fail to get in each community is developed, the front door, you lose a family and you lose a child."

Addressing the parents in the audience, Richardson, regional project manager for the Education, for Parenthood program, said, "As parents, we're going to have to improve ourselves in coming out for this Head Start experience."

"The worst feeling in the world is to want to help your child and find yourself handicapped and unable to do so."

He advised parents to "stay in there and try to learn as much as you can" in order to aid the children "who are the future leaders of this country."

U.S. Relief Team Evacuated From Besieged Cambodian City

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — A U.S. voluntary relief agency today pulled its 19-man helicopter team, including an American, out of the besieged naval base town of Neak Luong under heavy rebel fire. It was the first such evacuation of the Cambodian war.

At the same time, rebel gunners fired 23 rockets into the Phnom Penh airfield and nearby market, wounding five persons and damaging a U.S. plane. Four more rockets landed in downtown Phnom Penh, wounding four other persons.

Communist-led insurgents, meanwhile, cut Phnom Penh's link with the province capital of Kompong-Speu, 30 miles to the west, temporarily halting traffic. Military sources said government forces at Peam Raing Læu, 35 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, were under heavy attack, and that two government companies abandoned the island of Koh Chang Raun, opposite the Neak Luong naval base, and "very likely" suffered heavy casualties.

Neak Luong is 30 miles southeast of Phnom Penh. There are about 30,000 refugees crowded into the base and supplies have to be airdropped in because the rebels have blockaded the Mekong River, cutting off vital resupply convoys, since Jan. 30. Refugees are being helicoptered out daily.

An American with the Catholic Relief Services' Refugee Relief Agency, whose work is paid for by U.S. economic aid funds, said he took the decision to evacuate his team from Neak Luong after the base started taking heavy fire from captured U.S. 105mm artillery stationed on a key island position across the river.

He said the helicopter evacuation team was barely off the ground with the last of three loads of refugees when a 105mm round landed just below the chopper, owned and run under U.S. government contract by Air America.

The U.S. airlift of supplies from Thailand continued. Diplomatic sources said nearly 900 tons of ammunition, a record amount, was hauled into Pochentong in 24 hours. They said the airlift may soon be expanded to include rice and gasoline. Officials estimated earlier that the city had a 50-day rice supply and gasoline for three months.

Fewer Expect Decline

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Although most Americans still believe the economy will get worse in the next six months, the proportion who feel so has declined sharply since last November, according to the Gallup Poll.

In the latest Gallup survey, 56 per cent said the economic situation in the United States would get worse in the next six months, while 30 per cent predicted it would get better. Ten per cent said the situation would remain the same, while 4 per cent had no opinion.

Last November, 71 per cent predicted a turn for the worse while 16 per cent said the economic picture would brighten. In that survey, 10 per cent said things would remain the same, while 3 per cent had no opinion.

Nixon Makes Appealing Talk At Weekend Party

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — "I'm telling you, he had people in tears," entertainer Bob Hope said after former President Richard M. Nixon talked at a weekend party about how important his friends are to him now.

The gathering, at the estate of Walter H. Annenberg, former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, was Nixon's first social appearance away from his seaside villa at San Clemente since undergoing phlebitis surgery last October.

"He didn't talk about the past but said how important friends were to him," Hope related Sunday.

"He said friends are very important when you're at the top but even more so at a time like this."

"People in Tears" "I'm telling you, he had people in tears."

Hope and Nixon are longtime friends. Others at the Saturday night dinner included Frank Sinatra, former Gov. and Mrs. Ronald Reagan and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Firestone.

Hope said it was the first time he had met with Nixon since a meeting almost two years ago at Camp David. "Although I talked to him three times on the phone: One time he called me after I had sent him my book 'The Last Christmas Show.'"

"I asked him to play golf with me and he said he would be ready in a couple of months."

Speaks 10 Minutes Hope said Nixon talked for about 10 minutes.

Nixon, who resigned under pressure last August in the wake of Watergate, is reportedly still recovering from the phlebitis surgery.

He and his wife, Pat, were expected to be back at their San Clemente home today after spending five days at Annenberg's estate.

McKinney police Sgt. Bert Huddleston said the bus passengers were Mexican citizens who had been visiting Chicago.

33 Suffer Minor Hurts In Pileup

McKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — Thirty-three persons—including 29 bus passengers—involved in a four-vehicle pileup Sunday were dismissed after being treated at a hospital for minor injuries, police reported.

Investigating officers said two chartered Greyhound buses and two cars were southbound on snowy U.S. 75 when the first bus slid into a car and a pileup followed. Both buses were en route to Mexico City from Chicago.

McKinney police Sgt. Bert Huddleston said the bus passengers were Mexican citizens who had been visiting Chicago.

Pieman Real Simple Simon

DALLAS (AP) — It snows here too seldom, police deduced, for some people to know how to cope.

Cruising patrolmen found the front window in a pie shop smashed before dawn Sunday, and the back door stood open.

At that point still falling snow had left the better part of a five-inch cover — and in it were footprints leading to a residence close by. Police followed the trail, arrested an 18-year-old youth inside and recovered 26 fried cherry pies.

Officers said the six jumped into a waiting car with Mexican license plates and sped off. The car was found later abandoned across the border in Mexico.

Sheriff Gus Krausse said the escape was the result of negligence on the part of jail guards. He ordered an investigation and said the results would be turned over to a grand jury.

One prisoner was released from his maximum security cell after asking to use the telephone. The prisoner overpowered the guard. After taking the guard's keys, the first prisoner freed the others, Krausse said.

Sheinwold On Bridge Laws Of Motion Apply To Bridge

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD When an apple dropped on his head, Sir Isaac Newton discovered that a moving object keeps going until something stops it. The same principle applies to bridge.

There is obviously no nourishment in clubs and no second trick in hearts. If West has a high trump, he will get it no matter how East defends.

For these reasons East must return a spade at the second trick. With a good partner, East can return a low spade. East should lead the queen of spades if his partner is the fearful type who holds on to a king with a clutch of iron.

Thus the defenders get a spade, a heart and a trump, defeating the contract. And now you know how Newton's First Law of Motion will make a better bridge player of you.

DAILY QUESTION Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S-6 5 3 H-7 D- K Q J 10 6 4 2 C-10 6. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. You should have 10 points in high cards for this response, but you are willing to deceive your partner for a short time. You expect to rebid a minimum in diamonds as often as necessary to convince your partner that you have good diamonds but nothing else of value.

West led the deuce of hearts, and East won with the queen. Nothing dropped on East's head, so he kept going in the same direction by leading the ace of hearts.

South ruffed and led a high trump to drive out the ace. Regardless of the return, South could draw trumps and get rid of two low spades on dummy's clubs.

Time To Stop It was obvious that West had Mineral Rights Bill Introduced Austin Bureau AUSTIN — Mineral estate owners who don't sell their rights or allow production or file a paper at the county courthouse every 10 years would forfeit their mineral rights except for royalty, under a bill filed by Rep. E. L. Short of Tahoka.

Short said he was trying to correct the situation that develops when a person sells a piece of land and retains a portion of the mineral rights, and then disappears. The other mineral owners can't contract to have the land drilled without his signature.

The proposed would allow a surface owner to go to court to have the mineral rights declared as his, except for the royalty, after 10 years of inactivity.

Four Survive Cavern Ordeal; Three Drown In Another Cave

By CHRIS J. HARPER Associated Press Writer Four Illinois men survived a 27-hour ordeal in a flooded Indiana cave by eating candy bars, chewing gum and telling some dirty jokes.

But three other persons died in another cavern after heavy rains caused streams to overflow, flooding several caves this weekend near Bloomington, Ind., officials said Sunday.

The young spelunkers or cave explorers, drowned Saturday, officials said. The victims were identified as Terry Yoken, 19; Kim Aldridge, 19, and Marsha Bott, 18, all of Indianapolis.

Rescuers discovered their bodies and the four stranded explorers Sunday afternoon after an extensive search.

"We were awfully scared, but we never lost sight of the fact we were eventually going to get out of there. The worst was the cold water and the darkness," Robert Bondurant, 32, of rural Robinson said in a telephone interview.

A novice cave explorer, Randall Masterson, 25, of Newton said the men talked about their survival, their families and "told dirty jokes to occupy time."

Bondurant and another experienced spelunker, Paul Homan, 37, of Robinson, had persuaded Masterson and Gene Strain, 40, to join a four-hour exploration of the cave. Bondurant is a high school biology teacher and the three other men work for a special education project.

"This is my first and my last time!" exclaimed Strain, who said the men heard rushing water after they reached the midway point of the four-mile cave.

"We thought we better get out of here quickly," Strain recalled in a telephone interview. "But by the time we got back the water was chest deep."

Strain said two men attempted to wade through the water but were repelled. The group found a high ridge and huddled next to each other to keep warm with only three candles bars and a pack of chewing gum to eat during the ordeal, Strain said.

"I was lucky to get out of this one," Homan said in a telephone interview. "I'm just happy to make it."

Officials said the men were treated for exposure at a local hospital.

Handgun Legislation

Gun owners once again are alerted to the big push now being made in Congress to outlaw handguns in America.

The gun control advocates won't quit, and it appears they have gained some congressional support.

Recently, you will recall, the Committee on Handgun Control attempted to gain its goal by petitioning the Consumer Products Safety Commission to ban all manufacture and sale of handgun ammunition under the premise that it was a "hazardous substance."

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce recently adopted a resolution opposing the handgun control proposal. Many individuals and groups have expressed their opposition.

Now, however, it's back to Congress. Scores of bills on gun control have been introduced and sent to subcommittee.

A report from Washington says that gun control advocates, boasting that the public supports their view, are pressuring Congress to outlaw handguns except for police, military and security personnel.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., said a few days ago that they are reintroducing bills which would prohibit ordinary citizens from owning or possessing pistols.

Citizens, under the Hart-Bingham bill, would have six months to sell their handguns to the government, after which a five-year prison sentence and a $5,000 fine would be possible on conviction of unauthorized possession.

The bill, according to news reports, will not effect shotguns, rifles, antique collectors' pistols or handguns held by target shooting clubs.

But it does take handguns from law-abiding citizens who, under the American system, always have had the right and privilege of having and owning firearms. And just how many members of Congress actually believe that criminals and criminally-inclined persons will turn in their handguns to Uncle Sam? None, if they will be honest about it.

This violates the rights of law-abiding citizens, placing them even more at the mercy of criminals. It's about time that the general public should demand that some of the rights of law-abiding citizens be upheld.

And just what does Congress propose to do about taking hammers, ice picks, butcher knives and other items frequently used by murderers as lethal weapons out of the hands of citizens generally? Handguns, seemingly, are the only things in which the gun control advocates are interested.

This is one of the big subjects of debate in Congress today, and there apparently will be no let-up in the pressure applied by the handgun control groups and individuals, who see a chance of gaining victory this session.

This means, of course, that owners of guns and other interested persons also must step-up their efforts if they are to be successful in protecting the individual's right to have and own guns.

PAN AMERICAN REPORT—

Violence, Disorder Flare In Lima, Peru

By CARLOS VIEJO Copley News Service

LIMA, Peru — How long can a revolution divided against itself, as in Peru, endure? That is the question that Peruvians and others are asking in the wake of the violence, looting and disorders that wracked Lima in early February.

At least 86 persons were killed. What ostensibly triggered the troubles was the Peruvian army attack on striking members of the Guardia Civil, the police.

In addition to an increase in the $140-a-month pay, police reportedly were asking that the army treat them better. There have been incidents when army men allegedly beat police who sought to make them observe civilian law.

When striking police took over a Lima police substation and defied orders to surrender and return to work, the army shot its way into the building. Police all but disappeared from the streets and for two days, Feb. 5-6, mobs roamed downtown Lima, looting and setting fire to stores and public buildings, before the army and nonstriking police could restore order.

While much of the property damage could reasonably be blamed on looters, the attacks on government institutions made it clear that the government itself was the target of some mobs.

Gen. Juan Velasco, who has been the one and only president of the Peruvian military dictatorship since October, 1968, uncharacteristically withheld his comment almost two weeks, until Feb. 17. Then he went on radio and tv to charge that "counterrevolutionary groups tried to unleash a subversive plot intended to overthrow the government of the armed forces."

AT ELECTION TIME—

Newspapers Credited With Political Clout

By FRANK MACOMBER Copley News Service

The nation's newspapers pack a potent political wallop and may be among the most underrated forces in campaign politics.

Recent studies by the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research (ISR), for example, show that Richard Nixon — sometimes described as the archenemy of the press — gained valuable aid in his quest for the office of president through newspaper editorial endorsements.

John P. Robinson, ISR study director and University of Michigan journalism professor, questions the assumption that since this is the "age of television" people's voting decisions would be most altered by the constant hammering of political messages via tv coverage of political campaigning or advertising.

The ISR studies are based on a national sampling of about 1,500 Americans, 21 years of age or older. Reviewing election studies over a 20-year span, Robinson says he has found that newspaper endorsements consistently are linked to presidential voting trends.

For instance, he discovered that newspaper support had a significant bearing on the votes cast for Nixon in both the 1968 and 1972 presidential elections. Indeed, in 1968, newspaper support may have given Nixon the winning edge over Hubert Humphrey, Robinson says.

In surveys of newspaper endorsements by the trade magazine Editor and Publisher, Nixon was the overwhelming favorite of the nation's newspapers in the last two presidential campaigns. Eight of every 10 newspapers endorsed him in 1968, nine out of 10 in 1972.

In the 1972 presidential election, Robinson says he found that both independents and Democrats voted according to which candidate was endorsed by the newspaper they read most often. Independents exposed to pro-McGovern newspapers were almost twice as likely to vote for the South Dakota Democratic senator (50 per cent) as independent voters who mostly read pro-Nixon newspapers (26 per cent), according to Robinson.

Almost the same margin (25 per cent) separated the Democrats; 71 per cent of those who read pro-McGovern newspapers voted for their party's choice, compared to only 46 per cent of those who read pro-Nixon papers.

The votes of Republicans, says Robinson, did not appear to have been influenced by newspaper endorsements.

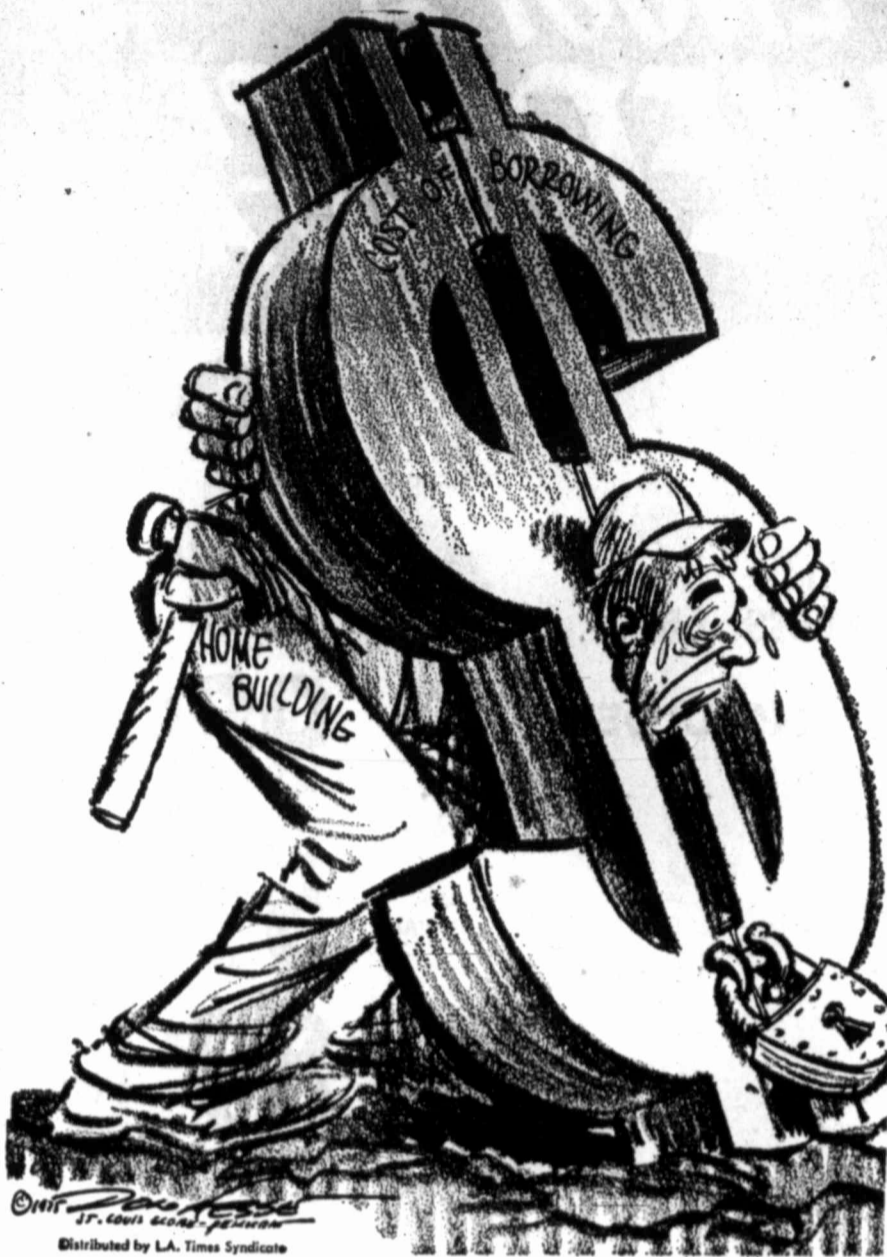

Given this evidence, it seems that the overwhelming support for Nixon in America's newspapers — 10 times as many people read pro-Nixon papers as read pro-McGovern ones — cut deeply into the McGovern vote.

Robinson concedes, however, that a great many other factors may have been at work to create the record Nixon landslide vote of 1972 — such elements as the voter's party identification, interest in the campaign, pre-election vote intentions, age, education, region, city size, etc.

However, after analyzing 12 of these possible factors, Robinson remains convinced that the clout of newspaper endorsements on voters' choices of presidential candidates was a governing influence.

In 1972, the ability of the country's newspapers to convince voters may have

'Help!'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — As part of our Watch on Waste series, we have written column after column about the millions that the armed services have squandered on worthless weaponry.

Staggering amounts have been lavished on military hardware that should never have been purchased. Often the Pentagon has contracted for new equipment without waiting to find out whether it works.

In a recent report, for instance, we told how the Army had purchased a prize truck before it had passed its field tests. Called the Gama Goat, it was supposed to move, goat-like, over rugged terrain. But the Army turned out to be the goat; the truck virtually shook apart when it left the smooth pavement.

Then there was the GOER, an amphibious Army truck, which was supposed to be able to cross rivers and lakes. But on water, the GOER was a GONER; it had a disconcerting habit of sinking.

Now we have discovered still another Army truck, which probably will wind up on the junk heap. This one — called the Heavy Equipment Transporter or, in the abbreviated language of Army logistics, the HET — has cost the taxpayers close to $30 million.

The HET came out of a joint German-American military agreement to develop a heavy duty transporter. Both sides were supposed to produce their own prototype and then get together to decide which was best.

The Germans signed up their two most experienced manufacturers, Krupp and Faun, to design the German model. The U.S. Army turned to Chrysler, which has had limited experience with heavy equipment.

The field tests, held in 1968, were easily won by the Germans. The German model was so superior, in fact, that the U.S. observers recommended its immediate purchase.

But this embarrassed the big brass at the Army Materiel Command, who had backed the Chrysler venture. They simply ignored the tests, abrogated the agreement with the Germans and awarded a contract to Chrysler for 200 of the semi-trailers that had just been proven inferior.

Jack Anderson

The brass hats, having refused to acknowledge that the Germans had produced a better cargo carrier, also couldn't admit there was anything wrong with the Chrysler prototype. What happened over the next six years, therefore, was a comedy of errors.

The Chrysler model kept breaking down and the brass hats kept refusing to admit the design was faulty. They backed up their bad judgment, of course, with more and more of the taxpayers' money.

Four years after the contract was awarded, the HET was still failing. The motor didn't meet minimum requirements; the electrical and power steering systems were unreliable; the brakes and transmission lacked durability; and the noise level in the cab was dangerous to human ears.

Our reporter, Ed Tropeano, has interviewed several people who have been closely connected with the project. They say the HET hasn't passed a single test.

Even the Army auditors found the HET to be in sad shape and recommended improvements. Yet the brass hats, rather than admit their own bad judgement, rejected these recommendations, too. It won't be long now before the great semi-trailers will be delivered to the Army. There is no reason to believe they will perform any better than the faulty test models. This will mean $30 million down the drain.

Footnote: The Army's official comment is that the HET is performing satisfactorily. A spokesman told us the previous testing was "successful" because it had led to "type classification" of the vehicle.

INSIDE REPORT—

The 'Ford Must Go' Meeting Reviewed

WASHINGTON — The increasing possibility that Ronald Reagan, vigorously backed by conservatives, will challenge President Ford for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination was inadvertently enhanced by the unfortunate timing of two White House decisions.

Within days of a recent conservative conference at Washington's Mayflower hotel, the White House let it be known.

First, that two close aides of Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, James Cannon and Richard Dunham, would become top staffers of the Domestic Council in the White House — in effect a cession by Mr. Ford of that territory to his vice president.

Second, that Carla A. Hills, now Assistant Attorney General for civil rights, would be nominated as secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

These two events, seemingly unrelated to 1976 presidential politics, helped harden the consensus of the conservative conference: with Mr. Ford beyond redemption in their view, influential conservatives are now thinking less of forming a new party and more of seeking the Republican nomination with an increasingly available Reagan even if the incumbent President seeks a full term.

Appointing the Rockefeller aides gave the conservatives more evidence to justify their Ford-must-go theme. Since Rockefeller is indelibly, if irrationally, the devil incarnate to the Republican right, handing domestic policymaking to the vice president puts the President in league with evil. The corridors at the Mayflower were buzzing over this outrage.

The nomination of Mrs. Hills, in contrast, went virtually unnoticed by the conservative meeting. But Reagan noticed. He views Mrs. Hills, a Los Angeles lawyer, as a liberal Republican. While still serving as governor of California last year, he quietly protested then President Nixon's nomination of her to the Justice Department. As an ex-governor today, he was not pleased that Mr. Ford failed to consult him on naming her to the cabinet.

According to Reagan's inner circle, the appointment of Mrs. Hills further accelerated his interest, which has been rising since he left office six weeks ago, in seeking the presidential nomination — against Mr. Ford, if necessary.

The catalyst moving both the conservatives and Reagan toward a point of no-return is Mr. Ford's $52 billion budget deficit. Thus, the nominations of Mrs. Hills and the Rockefeller aides merely confirmed and solidified a trend.

The mood of the Republican right was typified at the conference by the frigid reception given Clarke Reed, the veteran and tenaciously conservative Republican state chairman of Mississippi, on his two-pronged mission: to stop third-party talk and stir up support for President Ford.

Actually, about two-thirds of the 500 conservatives at the conference favored forming a new conservative party. But the remaining one-third, opposing it, had the power. Reed was supported by Sen. James Buckley of New York, Rep. Philip Crane of Illinois and Robert Bauman of Maryland and Reagan himself in his Saturday night address.

But Reed was all alone when he urged conservatives to say something good about Mr. Ford. There was stony silence when Reed begged them to back the President in fighting a liberal Democratic Congress and particularly to praise his efforts for strong national defense.

Reed, accustomed to leading the party's conservatives, was ill-prepared for his reception last weekend. In the lobby of the Mayflower, a Florida woman who has been a longtime conservative activist asked Reed: "When you gonna git some backbone, Clarke Reed?" When the conference ended, Reed commented sadly: "Now I know why Whittaker Chambers wouldn't call himself a conservative."

Although many conservatives attending the conference were cause-oriented zealots (anti-egalitarianism, anti-abortion, etc.) on the right fringe, the meeting cannot be dismissed as a convention of crazies. Besides several members of Congress, the conference was attended by Republican party officers from California, Texas, Washington state, Maine and perhaps other states.

In fact, despite disastrous performances by conservative candidates in the 1974 election, the right has been quietly gaining since then in taking control of the party machinery. Most recent was the coup two weeks ago at the California Republican state convention by right-wing insurgents who defeated the slate, conservative itself, selected by the Republican establishment.

President Ford has no easy response to this phenomenon. He obviously has no intention of reversing careful decisions, such as the nomination of Mrs. Hills and the Rockefeller aides, which probably would not appease the right anyway. All he can do is hope against hope that the economy is revived more quickly than forecasters believe, putting him in the normal invulnerable position within his party of past incumbent Presidents.

the economy. He intends to hold up tax reforms, however, until emergency tax relief is passed. To tie the two measures together, he has warned privately, would dangerously delay the economic stimulation. . . Democratic leaders believe the economy needs a stronger shot in the arm, in the form of a tax relief, than the President is asking. Ullman is saying privately that the tax rebate should be at least $4 billion greater than the President has requested.

Three Persons Die In Bridge Collapse

SILOAM, N. C. (AP) — The midsection of a 300-foot-long steel span bridge collapsed, killing at least three persons when their vehicles plunged about 30 feet into the Yadkin River, police said.

The 3-year-old daughter of one of the victims was missing and 10 persons were injured, authorities said.

Two of the dead were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Atkinson who heard cries for help after the Siloam Road Bridge near their home collapsed about 10 p.m. Sunday night, according to State Trooper Ed Dew. When they went to investigate, the thick fog obscured the broken section and their car plunged into the river, Dew said.

The third victim was identified as Mrs. Judy Brown Needham, 28, of Pinnacle.

Police said she was in a pickup truck on the bridge with her husband and two daughters when the span gave way. Her husband and one of her daughters were rescued, but their 3-year-old daughter was missing.

Police said they believed that seven cars plunged into the river but could not determine how many were on the bridge when it collapsed.

At least 10 persons were hospitalized in satisfactory condition, police said.

Weekend Twisters Spell Death For Six In South

By The Associated Press

At least six persons were killed and thousands of homes destroyed as a series of weekend tornadoes swept through the South and Oklahoma.

Authorities said one person died at Tuscaloosa, Ala., where a tornado struck early Sunday afternoon. At least 50 persons were injured and hundreds more left homeless, officials said.

Two other twisters touched down in Mississippi, causing extensive property damage in some areas. Heavy winds caused damage to several homes in Mt. Juliet, Tenn., and Burlington, N.C.

In Arkansas, law enforcement agencies and private assistance groups spent Sunday searching for more victims of the series of tornadoes that cut across that state Saturday. So far, the storms have claimed at least one life.

A Red Cross spokesman estimated that 175 homes were totally or substantially destroyed. Electric company officials said more than 200 homes were without electrical power Sunday.

Saturday's combination of tornadoes and heavy snow in central and western Oklahoma resulted in four deaths.

Damage was estimated at $6 to $8 million in Duncan alone, where 17 mobile homes were destroyed and 3,900 houses were either demolished or heavily damaged, authorities said.

The eastern section of Oklahoma was not hit hard by the twisters but did receive from 3 to 12 inches of snow.

While warm temperatures are expected to melt most of the snow in Oklahoma, heavy snow warnings continued for much of Missouri, eastern Iowa, Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

Temperatures early today ranged from 3 degrees at Watertown, S.D., to 78 at Key West, Fla.

Midland Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr., who received the honor last year, congratulates Sivalis.

Chief Justice Raps Congress For Failure In Court Funding

CHICAGO (AP) — Chief Justice Warren E. Burger has assailed Congress for approving legislation that calls for speeding federal trials without providing enough money to meet the new law's requirements.

"If we are not given the tools to meet the demands of the Speedy Trial Act... we may well be confronted with a crisis, particularly in the larger districts," Burger said Sunday in his fifth State of the Judiciary message at the mid-year convention of the American Bar Association.

Burger estimated that $10 million, or twice the amount of the U.S. Supreme Court's annual budget, may be needed for additional equipment and personnel to meet the requirements of the act.

The law, which was approved in December and takes effect in July, provides that trials of all federal criminal defendants must begin within 100 days of the indictment. Under the current law, criminal cases must be disposed within 180 days after the indictment.

The act stipulates that the transition will be made in stages over the next four years. Although Burger said he agreed with the law's intentions, he charged that Congress failed to adequately investigate the proposal's impact on the federal judicial system.

The chief justice said that the act only posed another burden on the federal court system, already strapped with an increased workload because of a rising crime rate and lack of personnel.

During the past decade, federal, civil and criminal cases have increased 45 per cent in the courts, he said. Federal appeals also have risen substantially — from one-third of all persons convicted in 1964 to three-fourths in 1974.

Burger called upon the ABA to lend its prestige behind a fight in Congress for pay increases for federal judges, who haven't received a pay hike for almost six years.

Burger also called for an immediate 20 per cent increase in federal judicial salaries and annual cost-of-living hikes after the pay reaches parity with wages of career federal personnel.

Federal judges earn between $40,000 and $82,500 a year.

Percy Foreman Hired By Three Charged At Lamesa

LAMESA — Houston defense attorney Percy Foreman appeared at an examining hearing in Justice Court here today representing three men charged with possession of 1,600 pounds of marijuana seized Jan. 17 at Lamesa Municipal Airport.

James William Caldwell of Richardson, and Barry Bill Phillips of Duncanville and Jay C. Emerson of Dallas are charged with possession of marijuana. A fourth man, Jackie Eugene Hinson of Dallas, is charged with both possession of marijuana and attempted bribery.

Hinson is being represented by Dallas attorney Charles L. Caperton.

Caldwell, Emerson and Phillips were released on $25,000 bond each. Hinson was released on $50,000 bond.

The examining hearing will determine if there is sufficient evidence for the case to be presented to a grand jury.

Expert Group Pictures Texas Economic Outlook As Glowing

HOUSTON (AP)—Despite gloomy projections for the national economy, one group of experts has given the Texas financial outlook a clean bill of health.

Steady gains in the areas of population, sales, construction, personal income, manufacturing and capital expenditures have placed Texas in the top 10 — and often in the top five — economically promising states, according to a report released by the Economics Division of Texas Commerce Bancshares.

Here are the categories, and how Texas ranks:

Retail sales: Third, with $31.4 billion in sales in 1974, behind California and New York.

Construction contracts: Second, with $6.59 billion in contracts, behind California.

Personal income: Sixth, with a 216.8 per cent increase over 1960, behind California, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Value added by manufacture: Seventh, with $16.8 billion during 1974, triple the output 15 years ago.

Capital expenditures: Third, with $2.2 billion, behind Pennsylvania and California.

Bank deposits: Fifth, with $30 billion, behind New York and California.

Unemployment rate: Eighth lowest behind Kansas, Iowa, Virginia, Colorado, Nebraska, South Dakota and Tennessee; lowest among predominantly industrial states.

Value of mineral production: First, with $12.7 billion.

The economists also have favorable projections for the Texas economy. They predict personal income will make the most dramatic gains with a jump from $59 billion last year to $111 billion by 1980. Total value added by manufacture is expected to grow to $24.8 billion by 1980; retail sales are projected to hit $56.7 billion, agricultural revenues up to $12.4 billion and mineral production up to $19.6 billion.

Postal Boss Shrugs Off Carrier Strike Threats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's new postmaster general says he will go ahead with a controversial delivery system if it makes service more efficient, despite a strike threat by letter carriers.

"If it would result in the elimination of a number of jobs but maintain good postal service for the American public, then I think we'd have an obligation to implement it," Benjamin F. Bailar said in an interview.

The controversy concerns the Letter Carrier Route Evaluation System, developed to measure individual carriers' performance so that more efficient routes can be established.

The basis of the system is a computerized study of every carrier's route to measure the number of letters delivered, miles traveled and other logistics, including the number of dogs on the route. The system was tried last year in Kokomo, Ind., where the number of carriers was reduced from 25 to 23 as a result. The same system is now in effect in Portland, Ore., and thus far has led to the addition of one carrier there.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?
"Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)
by Bryan Bost

Those noble Bereans! Why were some of the citizens of this city in ancient Greece called noble? Acts 17:11 tells why: "Now these Jews were more noble than those in Thessalonica, for they received the word with all eagerness, examining the scriptures daily to see if these things were so." Their nobility came from their attitude toward the Bible.

The Bereans would not accept what Paul or anyone else said without checking in their Bibles to see if the preaching corresponded to the written word of God. It was not that they were especially skeptical of Paul (indeed, they eagerly listened to his preaching), just that they realized that the Bible is the final authority.

Nobility such as the Bereans had should be ours as well. The idea is to be sure that what we believe and what we do is in accordance with God's will. Not just because someone tells us it is right, but because the Bible tells us so.

TALL CITY RIVALS BATTLE IN OHS FIELDHOUSE
Rebels, Bulldogs In Cage Playoff Tuesday

By BOB DILLON
Three teams are left in the running for the District 5-4A basketball championship and a shot in the Class AAAA state playoffs against either Richland or Wichita Falls Rider in bi-district play.
Midland and Midland Lee have a crack at the crown along with fast-finishing Abilene as playoff games are set for Tuesday and Friday.
The Bulldogs and Rebels face each other at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Odessa High Fieldhouse in Odessa with the winner taking on Abilene at 7:30 p.m. Friday

In Snyder. Lee and Midland shared the first half title in 5-4A with 6-1 marks while Abilene went 7-0 to win the second half outright. The Eagles have won eight straight since Lee beat them in the first half of the race and the Warbirds nipped Lee, 51-50, in Abilene last Tuesday.
While the three rivals are left in the race, a pretty fair team in Odessa Permian, is on the sidelines watching, after racking up a 28-6 season mark and was 5-2 in both halves for a 10-4 overall loop reading, but those four losses hurt the Panthers' chances.

The survivor between Lee,
MHS and Abilene, will battle either Richland or Rider in bi-district play. Both won their respective zones in District 6-4A are currently in a best-of-three playoff with Rider holding a 1-0 edge following Saturday night's 48-47 victory in Wichita Falls. The second game is set for Birdville Gym Tuesday and if a third game is necessary, will return to the Rider Gym Thursday.
Lee has a sparkling 28-3 record on the year while Abilene is 23-7 and Midland 21-10 going into the three-way playoff.

With the regular 5-4A schedule out of the way, San Angelo's Arnold McDowell, wrapped up the scoring crown by winding up with 287 points in 14 games for an average of 20.5 per game.
Midland's Michael Cobb winds up the No. 2 scorer in the loop with 247 points and an average of 17.6. Cooper's Reggie Lefall scored 229 points for 16.4 and Lee's Brett Blackwell along with Odessa Permian's James Hunter with 223 for a 15.9 mean. Next comes Donnie Roberts of Midland with 214 and a 15.3

average.
Junior Miller, Ron Farish and Gary Parson of Lee also wind up in the double figures in loop play with averages of 13.7, 11.6 and 10.3, respectively. Bobby Chinn of Midland, just flushed out of the double digits with a 9.7 average and the difference came in the 71-56 loss to Lee Friday in which the 6-3 senior only managed two points after scoring 30 against the Rebels in the first meeting of the two Tall City rivals.
Lee has three players in the double figures on the year in Blackwell, Miller and Farish.

Blackwell has 512 points on the season for a 16.6 average and the 6-0 senior sharp-shooter has 1,194 in three years to rank as the No. 3 scorer in Lee's history behind Mike Frizzell and Randy Prince. Next comes Miller, a 6-5 junior, with 425 points and a 14.2 average and 6-2 senior Ron Farish with 404 and a 13.0 mean. Jeffrey Jackson, 6-5 senior, is just out of the double figures on the year with 278 points and a 9.0
average.
Midland's top point producers are 6-5 seniors Cobb and Roberts. Cobb has tallied 487 points for a 16.2 average and Roberts owns a 14.7 average with 456 points. Chinn is also just under the twin-scoring figures with 309 points and a 9.9 average.

Tickets for the Lee-Midland battle went on sale at noon today at the Memorial Stadium Ticket Office until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.
Athletic Director Thurman (Tugboat) Jones states that the doors will open in the 3,000-seat OHS Fieldhouse Tuesday at 6:15 p.m.

SWC RACE—
Red Raiders Stay In Title Picture

By The Associated Press
"Just one at a time" has been Texas Tech's comeback motto since it lost two of its first three Southwest Conference basketball games this year, and that credo is applicable now more than ever.
The Red Raiders have won seven games in a row since their 1-2 start, and they now are the last challengers to Texas
A&M's league-leading 9-1 mark.
Since the Aggies host Tech
Tuesday night at G. Rollie White Coliseum, the "one at a time" theory takes on more meaning. One more victory for the Red Raiders would leave the two teams in a tie for the lead, while another triumph for the Aggies would give them a two-game margin with but three games left on the schedule.

"We've just been playing them one at a time," said Tech Coach Gerald Myers. "The next one is a big one, but we're going to approach it as just another game."
Tech stayed in the race Saturday night with a 63-55 victory over Arkansas, which threw the Razorbacks two games behind at 7.3. The Red Raiders got 23 points from star center Rick Bullock and held the Razorbacks, one of the top teams in the nation in field goal percentage, to less than 37 percent from the floor.
"We knew we had to have a great defensive game, because Arkansas is such a great offensive team," said Myers. "Bullock and (William) Johnson did a good job on the boards."
Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton said one reason for Tech's dominance inside was the Razorbacks' loss last week of center Darryl Sausberry to injury.
"It was evident we missed Sausberry," said Sutton. "We didn't do a good job inside against Bullock and this was our worst shooting night of the season."

Aeros Post Win

By The Associated Press
"It was like a midget game," said Houston goalie Wayne Rutledge. "Wherever the puck was, six guys were there. It was a scrambling game all night."
Rutledge stopped 27 shots
Sunday night in the Aeros' 5-1
World Hockey Association victory over Toronto and came away underwhelmed.
"Toronto looked tired," Rutledge said. "Of course, they played Saturday night and then had to travel. But their problem is they like to play offense, but not defense."

Pat FitzSimons captures LA crown
... thinks things over in Sunday play

IN LA OPEN GOLF TOURNEY—
FitzSimons Winner

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I do." If you miss it, they say, thought if I shot 65 I would win," said Jack Nicklaus. "I didn't know how this young boy would react."
Nicklaus shot his 65, but he didn't win.
That's because the reaction of the young boy, Pat Fitz-Simons, was a clinching string of 14 consecutive pars—a hard-won string put together in the face of growing pressure—that secured his first professional triumph in Sunday's final round of the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.
FitzSimons was staked to a six-shot lead by his course-record 64 in Saturday's third round and clinched it with a gritty, steady, one-under-par 70 over the last 18 holes of the demanding, 7,028-yard Riviera Country Club course.
He won by a comfortable four strokes with a 275 total. The big lead starting the final round was the difference.
"With a six-stroke lead, you want to stroke yourself the victory, but you can't do that,"
the curly-haired, 24-year-old FitzSimons said.
"It's like looking at a three-putt for six hours. If you make it, people say, 'Well, that's what he's supposed to do at 282, Irwin with a closing 67, Weiskopf with a 68. Tom Watson, Billy Casper, Jim Dent and Jerry McGee were at 283.

Casper shot a last round 69,
McGee and Dent 70, Watson 71.
Johnny Miller never got in the chase. He had a triple-bogey seven on his second hole and finished with a 74-287. And he headed home to Napa, Calif.
for an extended break. "I may take off a couple of weeks. I may take off a month. I don't know yet," he said.
Lee Trevino had a 74-292 and Arnold Palmer put together a 69, his best round of the tournament, for a 290 total.
FitzSimons won a combined total of less than $27,000 in his first two seasons on the tour and last year had to drop out of action for a couple of months when his money ran out.
He collected $30,000 from the total purse of $150,000 in this tournament, but said it was a secondary consideration.
"You may not believe it, but the money really is secondary," he said. "I just wanted to do well, to look good in front of that big gallery."
He did.
He birdied the first hole, a par five, with two putts. He bogeyed the third from a bunker, then flew a two wood shot only two feet from the cup for birdie on the fourth.
With no one making a move, he just needed to hold on. And he met that challenge with 14 straight pars, though they didn't come easy.
He had to one-putt three holes in a row at one time. He had to make a 10-footer on the 12th. He holed a 20-foot putt for par five on the 17th.
"I can't believe it," he said.
"That's what guys always

Alcott Captures
Orange LPGA
Golfing Crown

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Rookie golfer Amy Alcott's birthday present was one day late, but there were no complaints from the winner of the Orange Blossom Golf Tournament.
Miss Alcott, who became 19 years old Saturday, sank a pressure 15-foot birdie putt on the last hole Sunday to win the Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament with a one-under-par 71 and a 207 total.
She won $5,000 for her one-stroke victory over Sandra Post.
Miss Post, who earlier sank a birdie putt on the 18th hole to the Miss Alcott, shot a 69 Sunday for a 206 total and $3,850 in second place money.
"I thought I would win it when I sank the birdie on 18," Miss Post said. "But I'm happy for Amy because I know what a first tour win means to a golfer."
Miss Alcott, of Santa Monica, Calif., who was awarded her LPGA playing card only five weeks ago, said she was unaware of the pressure on the last hole.
"I didn't know I needed a birdie when I was on the tee at 18, and I'm glad," she said.
Judy Kimball was third on the 6,126-yard course at the Pasadena Country Club with a 213 total, good for $2,850. In fourth place was Pat Bradley with a 214 and $2,350.
Miss Alcott played with veterans Jane Blalock and Sally Little and said that she benefited from her partners' experience.
Miss Little completed the tourney in a fifth-place tie with Suzie McAllister at 215 and $1,730.50 each. Miss Blalock was in contention earlier in the tournament, but finished seventh with an even-par 216 and $1,400.
Defending champion Kathy Whitworth finished with a 222 and won $205.
