Discoveries In Sterling, Pecos Final

Discoveries have been completed in two West Texas counties.

Joe H. Warren of Dallas has completed No. 1 Nelle Gray as a basal Clearfork discovery in Pecos County, seven miles east of Imperial.

It gauged a daily flowing potential of 188.5 barrels of 37-gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 373-1. Production was through a 20-64-inch choke, and perforations at 3,830-3,856 feet, natural.

It was drilled to 4,100 feet, and plugged back to 4,050 feet, in 4 1/2-inch casing seated at 4,067 feet.

Well site is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 34, block 9, H&GN survey.

Sterling Strike
C&K Petroleum, Inc., Midland, filed No. 1-26 Glass as an unidentified Pennsylvanian oil discovery in Sterling, 16 miles southwest of Sterling City.

It was finished to flow 44.32 barrels of oil daily, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 10,672-1. Gravity of the oil was not available.

Production was through an 18-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,904-7,946 feet, which had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

Total depth is 8,377 feet, and 3 1/2-inch casing is seated at 8,361 feet.

Well site is 1,320 feet from north and west lines of section 26, block 32, T-5-S, T&P survey, 1 1/4 mile southwest of the two-well Big Salute (Canyon) oil field.

Runnels Ope- Reports Potential

H&R Oils, Inc., and Walsh & Trant, Dallas, completed No. 1 Walter Adams as an upper Gardner sand discovery in Runnels County, one mile southeast of the Britley multizone field.

It had a 24-hour flowing potential of 60 barrels of 42-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1,100-1, through a 12-64-inch choke and perforations at 4,310-4,318 feet.

Drilled to 4,480 feet, it has 4 1/2-inch casing seated at 4,450 feet, and is plugged back to 4,403 feet.

The following tops were picked under ground elevation of 1,910 feet: Home Creek lime, 3,150; Palo Pinto lime, 3,675; Morris sand, 3,925; upper Capps lime, 4,110; Gardner lime, 4,260; upper Gardner sand, 4,315 and Gray sand, 4,460 feet.

It spots 467 feet from north and east lines of section 323, block 64, H&TC survey, four miles northeast of Winters.

Location Staked
Leroy Sumruld, Lovington, N.M., filed application to drill No. 2 Adams as a 3/4-mile northwest outpost to the current lone well and recent re-opener of the Jim Adams (Fry sand) oil pool in Runnels.

It is 3,673 feet from north and 810 feet from east lines of C. D. Skidmore survey 13. Scheduled depth is 4,400 feet.

ADDRESSES PANEL— Kissinger Says More War Aid Should Be OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told Congress today it should grant President Ford's request for aid to South Vietnam instead of trying to determine what went wrong in Southeast Asia.

"Many will argue that we have done more than enough for the government and the people of South Vietnam," Kissinger told the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"I do not agree with that proposition, however, nor do I believe that to review endlessly the wisdom of our original involvement serves a useful purpose now."

As Kissinger made his statement, three members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told reporters any additional military aid for South Vietnam might be tied directly to arrangements for evacuation of Americans.

One, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said nothing has been decided about aid, but added in reply to a question: "I favor only what is needed to bring people out, particularly the Americans."

Kissinger acknowledged that more aid will not "insure the survival" of South Vietnam, but he added: "We can, alone, by our inaction, assure its demise."

PROJECT TIMED FOR '76—This sketch of a proposed 40-foot tall triangular clock tower highlighted in a memorial plaza represents the Midland County Commissioners' Court project for the 1976 Bicentennial. The proposal was presented Monday by Midland architect Frank Welch.

Courthouse Plaza Concept Okayed

By ED TODD
Midland County commissioners Monday approved an architect's concept that may develop into a landmark, as it serves the commissioners' idea of a 1976 Bicentennial project.

The concept is a proposed memorial plaza highlighted by a 40-foot tall, three-sided clock tower at the southeast corner of the Midland County Courthouse.

"The tower is going to be a landmark," said Midland architect Frank Welch who presented a sketch of the proposal to the commissioners. "You know, it's going to be something to look at" for 100-plus years, he said.

Estimated cost of the commissioners' conceived project, Welch said, is $25,000, including $15,000 for the obelisk tower.

Each of the tower's three sides will be six feet wide, Welch said, and the untapered structure will face the 11-story Midland Hilton to be completed in April 1976.

Lighted clocks will be encased near the topmost height of the triangular tower, which is to be made of pre-cast concrete.

Welch proposes for native trees to form an outline about the northwest sides of the 48-square foot plaza.

"The native tree for this part of the country—not the mesquite tree—is the soapberry," Welch said. "I've heard them called chinaberry trees," he said.

Welch, who called himself "kind of a tree nut," said the "hardy, sturdy" soapberry turns to "bright, brilliant yellow" in late autumn.

Commissioner John Thomas termed the tree a "desert willow."

The trees would shade the proposed brick bench running along the two courtyard sides of the plaza.

In other action, the commissioners:

Rebels Spotted
Sydney Schanberg of the New York Times, one of the six Americans known to have remained in Phnom Penh, said he drove through the Pochentong market and saw the rebels, but they made no effort to stop him.

Schanberg said the government defense lines were within three miles of downtown Phnom Penh at some points. But field reports indicated a lull in fighting on the city's fronts, punctuated by rocket fire.

Six rebel rockets reportedly fell on a textile mill inside the western sector of the capital, raising a cloud of black smoke visible from afar. Refugees continued to stream into the capital from the northwest, and they reported heavy rocket fire there.

Fighting Continues In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Fighting with machine guns and grenades continued for the third day today in Beirut streets between Palestinian guerrillas and a conservative political party's private army.

Most businesses, schools and government offices remained closed. The usually hectic traffic slowed to a trickle.

Sniping and hit-and-run bombings took several more casualties this morning, bringing to about 80 the number of Palestinians, militiamen and bystanders reported killed.

More than 100 persons were reported wounded, according to the warring parties and police.

Most of the fighting was occurring in five suburbs where Palestinian guerrillas were trying to dislodge snipers from rooftops and balconies, Palestinian sources said.

A pharmacy owned by Pierre Gemayel, the leader of the conservative Phalangist party, was damaged by a rocket grenade during the night and a bomb blew up the home of another Phalangist leader, police sources reported.

Premier Rashid Solh still refused to order the 15,000-man Lebanese army into action despite the threat of two Socialist members of his cabinet to resign if the army was not ordered into the streets.

The cabinet authorized use of the army, but the premier relied on the security police, underlining the limited power at his disposal to deal with the combatants.

The violence grew out of tensions caused by the presence of 240,000 Palestinian refugees in this half-Christian-half Moslem nation. About 12,000 of the refugees are in trained guerrilla units.

The spark came Sunday during the dedication of a new Maronite Christian church attended by Gemayel and militiamen of his party.

The Phalangists, who claim 65,000 adherents, say they were fired on by the Palestinians. Palestinian leaders said Phalangists ambushed a busload of 22 Palestinian civilians driving past the church.

State Senators Set Vote On Constitution

AUSTIN (AP) — In one of the textbooks, Texas senators scheduled a final, historical legislative vote today on Texas' proposed new constitution.

No hangups were expected in submitting to the people the complete revision of Texas' 99-year-old constitution, which has been amended 218 times.

The statewide vote is set for Nov. 4.

Monday the Senate tentatively approved, 20-6, a multi-million dollar program to combat alcoholism.

Sen. Bob Gammage, D-Houston, said alcoholism costs Texas $1.25 billion a year in accidents, loss of time on the job, welfare, medical care and alcohol-related crimes.

His bill authorizes the Texas Commission on Alcoholism to establish a "comprehensive program for treatment of alcoholics by area or region."

For citizen interest, however, nothing could match Monday's house committee hearing on a proposal to rescind Texas' ratification of the federal Equal Rights Amendment.

WOMEN PLUCKING WAY THROUGH 50,000 BUSHELS

One By One, They Sort Soybeans By Hand

BURLINGTON, Iowa (AP) — One by one, bean after bean, six women are sorting through an estimated 7.5 billion soybeans to pick the bad ones from the good ones.

"I've got some reservations that this is the feasible way to do it," says Charles Wayne. "We've got a problem."

The Burlington women are plucking their way through 50,000 bushels of beans in search of 50 bushels that had been sprayed with fungicide.

Wayne is an official of the Garnac Grain Co., which owns the beans stored here at the Wayne Elevator.

He said Monday about 50 bushels of contaminated beans had been treated with two fungicides, captan and molybdenum, which are harmful to human health: The treated beans were to be used as seed for this year's planting.

But the seed beans were inadvertently mixed into a barge-load of good soybeans in this Mississippi River town. The beans were then sorted in the elevator last July.

Fifty bushels of contaminated beans in a bin of 50,000 bushels means the women are looking for one bad bean in every 1,000.

How does Wayne know the women are shuffling 7.5 billion beans around? "It's not too difficult to weigh a few ounces, count the number of beans, and expand that into how many would be in 50,000 bushels," he explained.

The beans are moved over a slanted board where the women poke through them, looking for the telltale green coat on the bad beans.

"I tried picking for a half hour," said Wayne. "It isn't very stimulating work in an intellectual way.

"The women are being paid $2.60 an hour. They take some rest breaks, or chatter away. "But I don't know when they'll get done this way. There's an awful lot of beans there, and I don't think this is the final solution, especially in an era of mechanization."

Wayne said that it takes three to seven days to pick out 400 bushels of clean beans, depending on how many bad beans are discovered.

Soybeans are currently worth $5.80 a bushel, making those being checked worth about $290,000.

The company also had to pay $500 a day to hold the barge for 30 days before it was unloaded.

"Then there is the interest to be paid on the beans, plus storage costs," Wayne said. "I would say it will cost us $50,000 to $100,000 to clean the beans, and that may be on the low side."

He said male elevator employees originally started picking the beans last winter, but the women took over a few days ago.

BRAC and four other unions have refused to go along with a three-year contract accepted earlier by seven other railway unions.

The pact provides wage and benefit increases totaling 41 percent over three years. Dennis has said his members need more to offset inflation.

Sources said another issue standing in the way of a settlement is BRAC's demand for guarantees against layoffs.

Let's Regain Top Spot

Midlander Carlton Beal calls attention to a Washington, D.C., news release pointing out that the Soviet Union last year relieved the United States of its historic position as the world's leading oil producer.

There are those who, over the years, said this couldn't be done... but it could and has happened, as of now. It isn't a very pleasant matter on which to reflect.

The news dispatch reveals that Russian oil fields last year produced 458.2 million metric tons of oil and condensates, achieving an average production rate of 9.16 million barrels a day.

This marked the first time that the United States failed to lead the world in oil production.

U.S. experts in government and industry said, however, that they were not surprised. They point out that 90 per cent of the increase is produced in new fields in western Siberia.

Thus, the Soviets have been busy in searching for and finding new fields which now are paying off for them. This tremendous search undoubtedly was taking place in the 1960s at the time when government-regulated oil prices in the United States made it unprofitable.

NICK THIMMESCH—

The Feuding Henries -- Kissinger, Jackson

WASHINGTON — A private letter demanding major reassessment of U.S. policy toward Iran because of the Shah's new agreement with Iraq marks another escalation in the bitter feud between Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and Sen. Henry Jackson.

Jackson's letter, hand-delivered to the State Department March 22, berated Iran for "precipitous" policy shifts in settling a smoldering dispute with Iraq's radical regime over a river boundary.

That letter was delivered before Jackson charged Kissinger made "secret agreements" with South Vietnam to achieve the Paris ceasefire agreement.

Jackson's target in Iran is the huge nuclear reactor deal between Washington and Tehran. Jackson wants that deal reopened because, he charges, the Shah's foreign policy shows a lack of "reliability and continuity."

"Such transactions as the transfer of a sizeable nuclear power production capability, with its plutonium byproduct, need to be assessed in light of disturbing evidence that...Iran is capable of policy shifts so precipitous as to border on the quixotic," Jackson wrote Kissinger.

The Iran-Iraq agreement, stunning to explore extensively for new oil fields. This has made the difference.

Total Soviet oil production, it is said, has increased steadily through the 1970s, while U.S. production has declined year-by-year from a 1970 peak of 9.64 million barrels a day.

But this isn't all. The Soviet planners, realizing the resulting advantage, have set a production goal of 9.78 million barrels a day this year.

Soviet Union production, it is believed, will keep right on increasing for the next five years. U.S. officials predict that beyond 1980, there are indications the Soviet Union may have a difficult time maintaining the trend unless it can replace outmoded exploration and production equipment with modern machinery from the west.

But how in the world can anyone believe that the Russians cannot and will not be able to replace their outmoded equipment? They can and will get the most modern oil field equipment from several Western nations, including the United States.

The article quotes an unidentified American oilman as saying that the Russians have little modern technology. This perhaps is true, but the Soviets also are doing something about this. They have had groups of their oil people in Midland and elsewhere in the United States on various occasions during the last several years, studying and observing how the Americans do it.

So it isn't likely that the Soviets will have any real difficulty in obtaining both equipment and technology.

It could be that the United States may one of these days find itself swapping American equipment and technology for Russian crude oil.

It's never very nice to drop into second place, is it? But we don't have to stay there!

Untie The Knots

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — In secret testimony before the Rockefeller Commission, Watergate burglar Frank Sturgis has confessed that he was involved in several CIA assassination plots.

But he emphatically has denied charges that he was in Dallas on the day President Kennedy was shot or that he had anything to do with the Kennedy assassination.

Sturgis offered to take a lie detector test if the commission had any doubt that he was telling the truth. No polygraph test, however, was administered.

Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt, who also was called before the commission to answer the same charges, delivered similar denials that he was linked in any way to the tragic events in Dallas.

Questioned for two days by senior counsel Robert Olsen, Sturgis described assassination plots in Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Haiti and Panama. He had participated in the plotting against leaders, both high and low, in all these countries, he testified.

The conspirators included persons he knew to be connected with the CIA, he said. His own role had been limited to helping "set up" assassination attempts. He had never taken part in any actual murders, he swore.

All the assassination plots, he explained, had been aimed against foreign leaders, none against American citizens. Most of the attempts had failed, he said, although he was involved in the advance work that led to the successful assassination of Dictator Trujillo in the Dominican Republic.

Sturgis described Cuba as the "hub" of assassination schemes. He personally had participated in plots, he said, against several Cuban leaders from Fidel Castro on down. Sturgis had been one of Castro's commanders after the takeover of Havana. During this period, Sturgis claimed, he had reported to a CIA contact in the U.S. embassy.

The special commission, headed by Vice President Rockefeller, is examining "evidence" which allegedly links Sturgis and Hunt to the Kennedy assassination. The chief exhibit is a picture of two vagrants, resembling Sturgis and Hunt, who were picked up in Dallas after the assassination.

Upon close examination, the picture of the man who is supposed to be Sturgis does not resemble him in some important details. The relative height of the two men in the picture also doesn't correspond to the actual height of Sturgis and Hunt.

Nevertheless, Counsel cross-examined Sturgis closely about the Kennedy assassination. Had Sturgis ever been in Dallas, Olsen asked. Yes, Sturgis acknowledged, several times.

Had he been there on the day of the assassination, asked Olsen. No, said Sturgis, he had spent the day at his home in Miami. As witnesses, his wife, nephew and mother-in-law could place him in Miami on that day, he testified.

Had he gone to Dallas on the day before or after the assassination, Olsen demanded. Sturgis replied with a flat "No."

Had he ever visited the assassination

Ninh province, issued a new directive April 3, to instruct Communist troops how to exploit their sudden success. The COSVN resolution stressed that Saigon regime officials be clearly identified by the time North Vietnamese troops enter abandoned villages, then ordered that cadres "induce the masses to kill" officials of the government of Vietnam (GVN).

That could take the form of "people's courts" delivering death sentences. But another course could be soldiers killing officials and blaming their deaths on others. This was outlined in unusually explicit terms in another Communist directive, issued last month, aimed at leaders of the Cao Dai religious sect.

A footnote: The April 4 COSVN resolution directed Communist forces to take advantage of the enemy's collapse to achieve "total victory" in 1975, the first authoritative timetable from Hanoi.

REAGAN AT THE RNC The notion that the Republican National Committee staff will support President Ford for the Republican nomination, while professing neutrality, was jolted with the arrival there last week of a trusted political operative for Ronald Reagan.

Paul Russo, a Reagan aide since 1971, has quietly joined the National Committee's finance division. That not only gives Reagan a finger in the party's national fund-raising pie but shows his overall party influence.

Political Parties: Misleading Titles

WASHINGTON (KFS) — Around the world, there are many, many political parties with highly misleading names. Australia's Liberal Party is actually conservative; France's Radicals are quite sedate; Scandinavian Centre Party voters are pretty far left, and so forth.

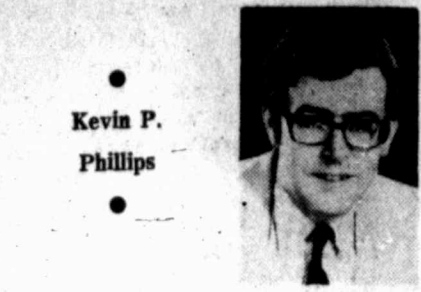

Now, alas, the U.S. Democratic Party is bucking hard to be admitted to that dubious list. The name "Democratic," you will remember, is a creature of Andrew Jackson's era.

But Andrew Jackson believed in the American people, and he wanted a name that would demonstrate that faith. Unfortunately, the circa 1975 Democratic Party is doing its level (or should we say "elitist") best to make that honorable name into a political lie.

No sooner was the ink dry on national polls showing rank-and-file Democratic preference for the wrong presidential candidate than party leaders decided the people cannot be trusted. The 1976 presidential primaries must be weeded out, aborted, or stultified so that the "Democratic" Convention can be kept in trustworthiness hands.

And so it goes. I have accumulated various reports of this inglorious task. They would bring tears to the eyes of Democrats like Andrew Jackson, William Jennings Bryan, Al Smith and Harry Truman.

In Michigan, party leaders are mulling a primary repealer to block another

George Wallace victory. In New Mexico, the legislature has voted to abolish the primary and revert to the old system of giving party conventions control of delegate selection.

The North Carolina legislature is considering a similar proposal, and the Democratic Party's liberal state leadership is urging a like course in Tennessee. In Florida, U.S. Sen. Richard Stone — who, as secretary of State, handled 1972 primary procedures — predicts that the legislature will move the March primary to May in order "to let the race shape up more clearly before our people vote."

A May Florida primary, of course, would deny George Wallace the impetus of an early, strong victory.

Some Maryland Democrats also are contemplating a primary repealer — for the second time. Back in 1968, Maryland Democrats scotched their primary because Wallace had done so well in 1964 (45 per cent). They scheduled a primary again in 1972, but Wallace won it in a landslide. Now fear of the people may be blossoming anew for 1976.

In New Hampshire, where the primary is sacrosanct, Democratic leaders have taken another tack. They have circulated a proposal for an "issueless" primary in which specific or divisive subjects would be avoided. Issues would be put forward only in broad, general terms. All of the Democratic presidential hopefuls have reportedly agreed, save for George Wallace.

But it would be incorrect to give the idea that primary repealer tactics are aimed solely at George Wallace. They are not. They are also aimed at the stirring political ambitions of Southern and big-city black communities.

This June, black Georgia State Sen. Julian Bond is expected to announce a presidential candidacy designed to give black voters a rallying point in various primaries so that they may make their weight felt in the 1976 convention. However, if many state primary laws are repealed, then party establishment-controlled conventions may be counted on to select a much less assertive breed of black delegate.

Perhaps the Democratic legislatures in Lansing, Annapolis, Nashville, Raleigh and Tallahassee can be persuaded to keep their presidential primaries intact. If not, they ought to have the decency to simultaneously cancel their Jefferson-Jackson day dinners.

Paris Energy Meeting Drags On In Futile Impasse

By MURRAY SEEGAR
Los Angeles Times

PARIS — An international economic meeting assembled with considerable fanfare a week ago by the French government has apparently reached agreement only on one issue — no one wants to take the responsibility for ending it. Despite long hours of intense talk in formal sessions and even longer informal encounters, the 10 participants have been unable to agree on a title for their gathering, a time and place to meet again, a list of guests to be invited to a later session and, most important, what they would talk about in another conference.

Originally, the gathering was titled, the "Preparatory Meeting For The International Conference on Energy and Related Economic Problems." This was later amended to the more neutral "Preparatory Meeting to the Conference Proposed by the President of France."

The president, Valery Giscard d'Estaing, invited the 10 delegations to gather in Paris to plan a meeting of selected nations to discuss world economic issues in an atmosphere more efficient than the unyielding mechanism of the United Nations and other broadly based international bodies.

Although it is a highly industrialized nation which has suffered an economic slowdown and inflation following the sharp rise in world oil prices 18 months ago, France has expressed sympathy for demands from the underdeveloped countries to create a "new world Some of the major oil exporting countries, especially Algeria and Venezuela, have allied themselves with the poorer nations in order to assume political and economic leadership in the underdeveloped world.

Besides there two oil producers, the French invited Iran and Saudi Arabia, two other members of the Organization of Oil Exporting Countries (OPEC). Brazil, India and Zaire for the underdeveloped world, and the European Common Market, the United States and Japan for the major oil consuming nations.

On the first day, the different delegations stated their hopes for the planning meeting and clearly delineated the different points of view that were still in force a week later.

The bloc of seven oil producing and developing countries is seeking to hold a conference in which the questions of trade in many raw materials besides petroleum would get equal priority with energy issues. It also wants to discuss ways to speed its economic development.

On the other side, the industrial countries say they are willing to discuss the economic ripple effects of higher oil prices and their connection with trade in other raw materials.

The major stumbling block has been establishing the priority of energy — the industrial world puts it first and the non-industrial world ranks it far lower.

The Americans came to the conference with little enthusiasm. They said they were willing to talk to oil producers about the effects of sharply increased prices since there was no other functioning international forum for such a meeting.

To broaden the agenda too widely, however, an American spokesman said, would duplicate the efforts of several other international agencies and make it unlikely that any specific improvements in economic relations could be obtained.

Giscard returned from a visit to Algeria over the weekend with what French officials described as a "compromise" proposal for the agenda. The common market delegation, Japan and the United States dismissed the proposal as little better than previous offers.

Late last week, a frustrated American representative said the entire delegation would go home on Saturday because the conference had reached an "impasse."

Now, the Americans have decided they should not take the responsibility for breaking up the meeting. Such a move would only irritate feelings among the less-developed nations and with France, which considers the conference a major foreign policy initiative, at a time when American prestige is at a low point.

Neither move has been made yet, however, and one informed source said the French foreign ministry had reserved the use of the Government's Center for International Conferences for a second week.

Martin Wildcat Shows Oil On Drillstem Test

BTA Oil Producers, Midland, No. 5 7402 JV-S Mustang, Martin County 12,200-foot wildcat, 1/2 mile southeast of Dean oil production in the Lacaff multipay field, was drilling ahead below 10,865 feet in shale, after taking a drillstem test in the Wolfcamp.

Tool was open 1 1/2 hour on the test taken from 9,825-9,915 feet, on which gas, volume too small to measure, surfaced in 12 minutes.

Recovery was 480 feet of free oil, gravity not reported, and 30 feet of oil- and gas-cut drilling fluid.

Flowing pressure was 127-211 pounds; one-hour initial and two-hour final shut-in pressures were 4,976 and 5,082 pounds, respectively.

J. Cleo Thompson, Dallas, plans to drill No. 7-AA J. R. Bailey Estate, a 9,000-foot prospect in Crockett County, 12 miles east of Ozona.

Location is 1,320 feet from north and west lines of section 7, block EF, GC&SF survey, 1 1/4 mile southeast of production in the Crockett portion of the Ozona, Northeast (7,520 Canyon) field. It also is seven miles north of the depleted Addie (Ellenburger) field.

Tool was open an unreported time on the test taken from 12,775-12,960 feet. Recovery was 60 feet of free oil and 510 feet of drilling fluid. The sample chamber contained 220 cubic centimeters of oil and 1,006 cubic centimeters of drilling fluid.

Dog Better Than Bullets

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Police Constable Jan De Plessis fired six shots at three suspected car thieves fleeing on foot near Amanzimtoti but not a single bullet hit the target.

Then along came dog catcher S. W. Brettell and his dog, Bruno. Bruno tracked one of the men down and Brettell arrested the suspect. The red-faced police are still looking for the other two.

Thunderstorms Pour More Heavy Rains Into Alabama And Georgia

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms lingered over the Southeast today after pouring more heavy rains into Alabama and Georgia and spawning scattered tornadoes.

Forecasters looked for the rains to diminish along the south Atlantic Coast but continue in the Florida Peninsula.

Five twisters churned out of thunderstorms Monday in southern Georgia and northern Florida. Trees and power lines were torn down and homes and businesses were damaged in a 10-block section of Brunswick, Ga. Another funnel cloud dipped into the Pensacola, Fla., area, but damage was slight. No injuries were reported in any of the tornadoes.

AMA Sponsors Own Health Plan

(c) 1975, The Washington Post
WASHINGTON — The American Medical Association has abandoned its traditional opposition to compulsory National Health Insurance and will sponsor legislation that would force employers to provide coverage for their workers.

The bill, which resembles the Nixon administration's 1974 Comprehensive Health Insurance Plan, will be introduced later this week. But United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock predicted little chance of passage for any health insurance bill this year.

Up to 5 inches of rain swamped isolated spots in south-central Alabama through Monday night. Nearly 3 inches drenched Montgomery and Mobile as well as Macon, Ga. Columbus, Ga., mopped up after 4 inches in 24 hours.

Rivers and streams were on the rise again for the second time in less than a week, but the National Weather Service said no severe flooding was expected.

Farther west, workers continued opening the gates of the huge Bonnet Carré spillway above New Orleans. Their aim was to divert some of the waters of the swollen lower Mississippi River across marshlands, around the city and into Lake Pontchartrain.

While the diversion eased the strain on the levee at New Orleans, fishermen expressed concern that the surge of fresh water would threaten the salt-water oysters and shrimp and their livelihood.

The river level stood at 18 feet — five feet below the top of the levee — before the Army Corp. of Engineers began opening the 350 gates on the spillway Monday.

Showers ranged out of the Southeast into the Middle Atlantic states and the Great Lakes region. Another pocket of showers sprinkled a broad area from the northern and central Pacific Coast to the northern Plains.

Snow and the expectation of gusty winds with drifting brought travel advisories for mountain areas of central and southern California.

Clear skies were confined to the southern Plateau, the southern Plains and New England.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 23° at Concord, N.H., to 80° at Miami, Fla.

Congress Moves To Keep Idled From Losing Homes

(c) 1975, The Washington Post
WASHINGTON — For the first time since the depths of the great depression more than 40 years ago, Congress is moving to protect the unemployed from loss of their homes through mortgage foreclosure.

By a vote of 321 to 21, the House Monday passed a bill providing for government loans of

Agreement Signals End Of Long Strike At Gulf Refinery

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Representatives of Gulf Oil Corp.'s refinery here and striking union members were meeting today to iron out a back-to-work agreement and end a 98-day strike.

A union spokesman said work may be resumed as early as Wednesday.

Members of the Oil, Chemical & Atomic Workers union (OCAW) and the International Association of Machinists ratified Monday a new contract, which had been held up for 2½ months because of disputes over local issues and changes in the pension plan.

A group of 160 office workers had yet to ratify the contract, the spokesman said, but was expected to vote today.

The spokesman said the union reluctantly accepted Gulf's proposal to combine a voluntary contribution pension plan with a company-financed proposal. The contract also includes a provision which allows a union safety committee to investigate major accidents at the Port Arthur plant.

The strike idled about 2,800 workers.

Pope Receives U.S. Astronaut

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has received American astronaut Eugene Cernan and his wife in a private audience.

A Vatican source said the Pope spoke mostly about space flights during a 15 minute meeting with the couple on Monday.

up to $250 a month for as long as two years to help unemployed homeowners pay their mortgages and prevent loss of the homes for failure to pay. A similar bill is expected to win approval of a Senate committee Wednesday.

To be eligible for the aid, a homeowner must be out of work or underemployed because of the recession, the house must be his principal residence and he must be at least two months behind in his mortgage payments, and the lender must have informed him of an intention to foreclose.

The bill provides that the loan from the Department of Housing and Urban Development be repaid at interest of not more than 8 per cent after the homeowner has paid off his mortgage.

A total of $500 million is authorized for the aid program. Sponsors of the bill estimated this could help 300,000 families.

Japanese To Visit

TOKYO (AP) — Government officials say Prime Minister Takeo Miki will meet with President Ford in Washington in early August. No other details were given at the Monday announcement.

Oscar-Winning Actor Fredric March Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fredric March, the magnetic actor renowned for his film portrayal of a returning World War II GI adjusting to peacetime America in "The Best Years of Our Lives," is dead at 77.

Equipped with physical charm and intelligence, March earned two Oscars during a 40-year career on the stage and screen.

Death came Monday at Mt. Sinai Hospital, where he had been treated on and off for more than a year and was most recently admitted April 5. His agent said he died of cancer.

On the stage in Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey into Night," March portrayed a man alternately loving and miserly who achieved material success at a tragic price to himself and his family.

But March was more than a big box office success. He also was considered one of the country's finest actors, winning Academy Awards for "The Best Years of Our Lives" and the horror film, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

He shared his personal and professional life with actress Florence Eldridge, whom he married in 1927 and who survives. She costarred with him and they spent hours poring over scripts and discussing acting technique. They lived in semiretirement, in Beverly Hills and on a 40-acre farm in New Milford, Conn.

In his early film days, the tall, dark-haired March was often cast as a debonair leading man, but took a startlingly different tack in 1932 with "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

The son of a Racine, Wis., manufacturer, March graduated from high school at 16. Though his ambition was to become a banker, he went to war and became one of the youngest lieutenants in the U.S. Army in World War I.

Aged Songwriter Gershwin Injured

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After breaking several ribs in a fall at his Beverly Hills home last Friday, songwriter Ira Gershwin is recovering satisfactorily from surgery to stop internal bleeding, according to a hospital spokesman.

Gershwin, brother of the late composer George Gershwin, has written songs for films since 1931. He is 78.

Oscar-Winning Actor Fredric March Dead

Fredric March

An interest in dramatics and oratory in college overtook March after he was stricken with appendicitis. While convalescing, the idea of acting grew on him and he forsook the teller's counter for the stage.

His first role on Broadway was in a mob scene for the David Belasco production of "Deburau."

While playing the lead in a Los Angeles production of "The Royal Family," March became intrigued with the new talking pictures and decided to give them a try. His first talkie was "The Dummy."

After a decade in Hollywood, he returned intermittently to the stage, appearing in such Broadway hits as "The Skin of Our Teeth," "A Bell for Adano," "An Enemy of the People" and "Autumn Garden."

Among his best known films were "Jealousy," "Smilin' Through," "Death Takes a Holiday," "The Affairs of Celina," "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," "Les Miserables," "Anna Karenina," "Anthony Adverse," "Susan and God" and "Tomorrow the World."

Cross-Examination Next For Connally In Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — For-Williams said. The government charges that Connally took $5,000 from Jake Jacobsen on May 14, 1971. "Is that true or false?" Williams asked.

Williams said. "That is absolutely false," Connally replied firmly. The government also charges that Connally took a second $5,000 from Jacobsen on Sept. 24, 1971.

Williams asked again. "That is absolutely false," said Connally. "Did Connally give Jacobsen $10,000 in cover-up cash in a cigar box on Oct. 29, 1973, as Jacobsen alleges?" Williams asked.

Williams asked. "That's false, I did not do such thing," Connally said. On Nov. 25, 1973, did Connally give Jacobsen another $10,000 in cover-up cash as Jacobsen says? Williams asked.

Williams asked. "That is absolutely false, I did not do such thing," Connally repeated. Connally amplified on the details he sketched out in the first 2½ hours of his direct testimony on Monday. He said he does not even recall meeting Jacobsen on the day Jacobsen paid him $5,000 payoff.

Williams asked. "If they did meet, Connally said it was in the presence of a number of Treasury Department staff members and not alone," Connally said. He also said he was confident that the GOP will win a student senate seat. The hamster up with more of a profit, named Stripes, was run from the dinner. Expenses have under the slogan "The only been cut substantially from the candidate honest enough to ad-unprecedented 41 per cent of last year's gross receipts."

Williams asked. "Did you at any time go out of your office and go down the corridor and come back with a cigar box in your hand?" asked Williams.

Williams asked. "No sir, I did not," Connally replied. "Did you give Mr. Jacobsen any money on that occasion?" Williams asked.

Williams asked. "I did not," Connally replied. Connally is charged with accepting two $5,000 payments in return for his efforts in persuading the Nixon administration to raise milk prices.

Williams asked. "What really happened, Connally testified, is that Jacobsen twice offered him the use of a $10,000 cash fund to make political donations, and that he refused both times.

Williams asked. "He said the first time was during lunch at the Madison Hotel June 25, 1971. He said he turned Jacobsen down on grounds that as a Democrat in President Richard M. Nixon's Republican administration, it would be awkward for him to donate money to either party.

Williams asked. "Connally said Jacobsen's second offer came in August 1972, when Connally had left the government and was heading for a fund-raising committee. He said this time he refused because the source of the money, Associates Producers, Inc., had received some unfavorable publicity about its earlier donations to Nixon, and because it had problems with the Internal Revenue Service and the anti-trust division of the Justice Department.

Voice Of America Restricts Vietnam Evacuation Calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government's Voice of America broadcasts are omitting mention of congressional calls for an immediate evacuation of Americans from South Vietnam because of concern for the safety of U.S. citizens there, a spokesman says.

The VOA has been carrying reports of official action by Congress and the Ford administration regarding the crisis in Southeast Asia, Andrew Farkiewicz, of the VOA's parent agency, the U.S. Information Agency, said Monday night.

But he said "because of the sensitive, fast-moving, fluid situation in Saigon right now, because of the concern for the safety of the lives of Americans there," the VOA was not mentioning calls by individual members of Congress and other public figures for an immediate pullout.

He implied that the government was seeking to avoid panic on the part of the South Vietnamese and possible reprisals against Americans.

City Council Considering Four Past Candidates For Kent Post

Members of the Midland City Council today said they are considering four past city council candidates in their search for a replacement for Jim Kent who Saturday resigned from the council.

Kent, who was re-elected only this month to a two-year term as the Place 2 councilman, resigned citing personal and business reasons.

Larry Melzer, who lost to Carroll Thomas in a close race April 1 for the Place 3 council seat, revealed Monday that he would like to be considered as a replacement for Kent.

Several council members then said they felt all recent candidates for the council should be considered. The three unsuccessful candidates in the 1974 election were contacted by The Reporter-Telegram.

Mrs. Pat Griffith, who polled 360 votes in the 1974 race, said a new business operation located in Denver, Colo. will require most of her time. She said it would be impossible for her to serve effectively at this time.

Warren Faller, a Realtor who tallied 538 votes in the 1974 race, said he had heard of Kent's resignation but had not given the possibility of being asked to fill the vacancy any thought. He said, "I would have to consider it if asked. It would need to be considered in light of existing circumstances, which have changed considerably since I ran for the council." Raymond E. Howard, a Midland oilman and engineer, said business activity would not allow him to serve on the council at this time. He said, "I would not be interested in taking the post, but would second the motion to approve Melzer for the job."

City councilmen are expected to appointment a successor to Kent during a May session.

Kidnapers Free Sicilian Abducted Seven Months Ago

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Kidnapers today released Francesco Madonia, the 29-year-old nephew of one of Sicily's richest men, after seven months of captivity. Police sources said a huge ransom was paid in installments, but the sum was not disclosed.

Madonia was released the day after kidnapers freed Gianni Bulgari of the international jewelry empire for a reported world record ransom of $15 million.

Madonia's rich uncle is Giuseppe Garda, one of Palermo's biggest builders and landowners. Sources said Garda paid the bulk of the ransom after selling some of his properties.

Madonia was one of 42 persons kidnaped last year. Sixteen have been abducted this year.

ROCKETS DEFUSED—

Celtics Breeze

BOSTON (AP) — John Havlicek, the Boston Celtics' elder statesman, felt "rejuvenated" and his teammates must have felt the same in making a whipping boy of the upstart Houston Rockets.

The Rockets, fresh from eliminating the New York Knicks in an opening-round upset, hoped they'd catch the Celtics stale after an eight-day layoff since the end of the regular season.

The Celtics, led by Havlicek, quickly dispelled any such ideas and after a sluggish start rolled to a 123-106 victory over Houston Monday night in the opening game of their best-of-seven Eastern Division semifinal in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

In Monday's other semifinal opener, the Golden State Warriors pounded the Seattle SuperSonics 123-96.

Havlicek, appearing in play-offs for the 13th year in winding up his 13th year with the Celtics, scored 30 points, grabbed five rebounds and had nine assists. With 3,211 points in 138 playoff games, he trails only Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Wilt Chamberlain among the all-time scoring leaders in NBA post-season play.

"We were rejuvenated," the 35-year-old Havlicek said. "Guys like (Don) Nelson, (Paul) Silas and myself welcomed the layoff because of our age. I think others like Dave Cowens also came back fresher even though we practice hard."

Asked if he thought he could play 40 minutes in every game if the Celtics go on to retain the NBA championship, Havlicek said:

"Certainly. Playing 40 minutes at this stage doesn't bother me. However, I hate to see halftime come because then I have to restart the motor all over."

The Celtics had trouble getting going in the opening minutes against the Rockets. However, they broke out of a 10-10 tie with the help of three field goals by Havlicek and were in front to stay.

Diablos Beat M-Cubs

Eddie Feigner Faces Midland All-Stars Tonight

By TED BATTLES

Donnie Moore, the one-time Lubbock Monterey pitcher who hurled Ranger Junior College to a national championship a couple of years ago, will try to get the Midland Cubs even at 5:00 tonight in the series windup against the El Paso Diablos.

The game will follow the 6:30 softball game which will feature The King and His Court against a team of Midland Softball Assn. All-Stars. Eddie Feigner, the famed pitching wizard, whose curve is reputed to break a foot and half, is the King, of course, and his three teammates form the court.

Together they have taken on the world and usually won. Won, that's something the Midland Cubs didn't do Monday night. El Paso spoiled an otherwise strong pitching job by 6-4, 205-pound Mike Krukow by coming up with three runs in the fourth inning for a 5-3 victory.

Krukow went seven innings and struck out nine while giving up six hits. Unhappily, four of those hits came in the fourth.

The Diablos rally, which gave them a 2-1 edge in the series, broke up a 1-1 tie with first baseman Larry Rush singling before he got to college, so he has a lot of ground to make up."

Midland got Krukow back in the game in the sixth when a walk and Aaron Randall's triple off the left field fence and Cliff Hall's grounder to the right side produced two runs. But lefty Chuck Gibbon put out the fire.

El Paso tucked it away when Carlos Lopez, a real flyer, tripled with two out in the eighth and then tried to steal home on Krukow's windup. The throw beat the runner, but trickled to a good pitcher and has out of catcher Ed Putman's glove. Once he puts glove it altogether he'll be something.

Tom Whiteley went the first 5-13 innings for the win and allowed only four hits. Three came in the third when Putman led off with a single and was thrown out at second when a hit and run backfired. Julio Gonzalez and Al Montreuil then hit doubles to tie it at 1-1.

El Paso Manager Jim Williams summoned John Verhoeven from the bullpen and the strategy paid off when Wayne grounded to third for the force at second.

You know, he never pitched with two out in the ninth, Edwards brought Wayne Tyrone, sidelined by a torn thigh muscle, in to pinch hit. "He's too valuable to risk, but I needed the long ball," Doc explained.

Rothan To Pitch For El Paso

CUB BRIEFS—Bill Rothan, a righthander from Cincinnati who was 14-7 for Salinas last season, will pitch for the El Paso Diablos tonight in the 7-4 series finale.

El Paso third baseman Paul Dade has got to be wondering what it takes to shake the Texas League. Dade, 24, from Seattle, Wash., played for El Paso two years ago and last year batted .298 with 53 RBI for Salt Lake City in the AAA Pacific Coast League, yet he was sent back to the "TL" this spring.

"I'm not worrying about it," says Paul, who was the California Angels No. 1 draft choice in 1970. "I'm just going out and bust my butt playing."

Eddie Feigner... magician with a softball

Eddie Feigner Can Be Frightening Experience

We feel sorry for the Midland Softball Assn. All-Stars. The only softball played in Midland these days is the Slow Pitch variety and there's nothing make-believe about what Midland's finest will be seeing, or not seeing, when they face Eddie Feigner tonight at Cubs Stadium. In fact, if you think about it a little bit, it's almost frightening.

Bob Feller's fast ball was clocked at 96.8 m.p.h. One-time New York Yankee reliever Ryne Duren was timed at 98.4 m.p.h. Feigner whistled his fast one by the meter at 104 m.p.h.

What's frightening about it, Eddie is even closer to the batter when he turns it loose.

Before we scare everybody off, facing Feigner isn't as bad as facing Duren. At least, he can see. When Duren came out of the bullpen, unless they pointed him toward the plate, he was liable to wind up and throw it in the opposing team's dugout.

You can imagine the batter's feeling, when the Yankee catcher made his target and yelled, "Fire it in here, Ryne, baby," and then in an aside to the batter, "Hope you don't mind the chatter. It's the only way he can tell where I am."

Feigner goes Duren one up, however. At one point during the game, he'll don a blindfold as a handicap... the question is whether it's a handicap to Eddie or the quaking batter.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

Theorists who claim that pitching is 60 to 80 per cent of the game, just talk about it. Eddie does something about it. He takes the field with just three players, a shortstop, first baseman and catcher and defying the opposition to make him a liar.

Feigner's act is to softball what the Harlem Globetrotters are to basketball and beginning to rival the latter in longevity.

Eddie began back in 1946 as a lad in his early 20s. Maybe the King and His Court's won-lost record isn't as good as the Trotters, who lost a game a couple of years ago, but 4,470-729 going into this season isn't bad, especially when you are playing with half as many guys as the opposition.

They talk about Chicago White Sox knuckleballer Wilbur Wood being a rubber-arm for pitching every other day. Let's see him match Feigner's endurance mark... 57 games in 41 days and he won them all.

NUGGETS EXPEL UTAH— San Antonio Fights Back

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — "I'm going to savor this," said an ecstatic Denver Coach Larry Brown. "We're fortunate to be in the second round."

Brown was savoring the Monday night's 115-113 Nuggets victory over the Utah Stars in the American Basketball Association's Western Division play-off. It landed Denver in the upcoming series against an opponent still to be decided.

The victory capped the best-of-seven series at 4-2 and ended a frustrating season for the Stars.

Brown, who earlier in the day was named ABA Coach of the Year, says he doesn't want to think about his team's next opponent, either San Antonio or Indiana. "I'm just thankful to win," he said.

San Antonio took another step toward a possible upset Monday night by cutting Indiana's lead to 3-2 after trailing 3-0 in the other West Division series. Their 123-117 triumph over the Pacers gives them a chance at becoming the first ABA team ever to trail 3-0 and come back to win a playoff series.

Montefusco Has New Outlook On Hill Life

Baseball

Pitcher Tom Underwood was understandably elated after pitching the Phillies to a 2-0, five-hit victory over St. Louis Sunday. When he made his major league debut last August, "I gave up six runs and got only one out," he grinned.

"I feel I can win 20 this season," said San Francisco pitcher John Montefusco after blanking Atlanta, 5-0, Sunday. What a difference a year makes. Last year, big John thanked Midland Cub manager Walt Dixon for a few nice words about him that appeared in print after he had been blasted in his Texas League debut with the Amarillo Giants.

"I still believe in 'em," says Texas Manager Billy Martin, despite the Rangers' slow getaway this spring. "They're the best team in the league. I'm not a front-runner."

He adds, "With things going like they are now, you've got to have patience."

Basketball

Slick Watts' furious play after entering the game as a sub sparked Seattle to a 100-93 NBA playoff victory over Detroit Sunday. Coach Bill Russell said, "I played the odds and Slick made me look awfully good." Slick's version: "I just got myself as angry as I could." How did he do that?

"Actually, I looked around my house before the game and saw there wasn't enough furniture. And I knew the first-round playoff money just wasn't going to be enough."

Gary Walters, assistant basketball coach at Princeton, was named head coach at Dartmouth... Larry Cunningham, 6-9 center from St. Louis, Mo., has signed a national letter of intent with West Texas State.

Football

Former pro football executive Rommie Loudd, under a court order not to leave Massachusetts, has been named in a Florida arrest warrant for failing to appear at his Orlando trial... Loudd, 42, former managing general partner for the defunct Florida Blazers, surrendered in Boston March 11 on a federal narcotics charge.

Following his release from a commitment to play in the NFL, quarterback Craig Morton signed a three-year contract, reportedly worth from $300,000 to 400,000, with the NFL New York Giants... Former U. Michigan star Billie Taylor pleaded guilty Friday in federal court to a charge of armed bank robbery in Barberton, O.

Ivy League football coaches got together Monday and made another pitch to increase the schedule from nine to 10 games, "as a legitimate source of income."

General

The Supreme Court declined to consider a challenge to a rule that colleges may not give athletic scholarships to freshmen who failed to make a C average in high school. The court let stand a decision of the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago upholding the eligibility rule of the NCAA.

Golf

Gene Sarazen, 73, who won the first Masters, scored a hole-in-one Monday at Marco Island, Fla., and enabled him to shoot an even par 72.

Boxing

Former middleweight boxer Joey DeJohn, 48, now a race track groom, was arraigned Monday in Syracuse Police Court on a charge of second-degree assault in the beating of a Syracuse man. DeJohn struck James Sardella, 28, in a fight over a woman. Sardella was kayaked, suffered fractured ribs, jaw injuries and lost two teeth.

Walton Leg Goes In Cast

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — ankle during a practice game. The trials and tribulations of a physician said Walton's leg has been placed in a cast for at least two weeks.

Hours earlier, the manager of the 6-foot-11 center, who spent much of his rookie season in the National Basketball As-Blazers "deplore Bill Walton's situation on the bench with in-statement calling for rejection of the U.S. government."

JUST SEND IN YOUR NAME AND BUY A BOOK— Hey, Wanna Be An All-American?

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — you read one publication's pick Elmer Shotwell could be another of this year's All-American American sports hero, well Shotwell's right there, identified, a natural leader, a top fied to his coach as a great student, president of the Letter-player and great person man's Club.

Phil Miller, basketball coach at Wainwright High School is an imaginary character, al here, invented Shotwell earlier this year to prove that any one—in fact, no one—could be a high school All-American. Miller sent in the legendary Shotwell's statistics to a Cambridge, Mass., firm, "High School All-Americans," that solicits prep players of All-American caliber.

The firm also sends the "All-American" an order form for an $18.95 book it sells, listing the players.

Miller made Shotwell a 6-foot guard who averaged 27 points and 12.8 rebounds a game and led Gladden Corner High School to the pinnacle of Hooper basketball, personally gaining All-Wea Creek Conference and Class C All-State honors.

Shotwell was also deemed president of the Gladden Corner Letterman's Club, and cited for various other school and civic achievements—all imaginary.

"I got suspicious of this company's offer when they asked me to nominate up to four of my players as high school All-Americans," Miller said. "That sounded kind of weird to me. Nobody has four All-Americans."

"I had an idea it was just one of these deals where they want to sell you a book. My daughter was named on one of these things, the Society of Distinguished American High School Students or something last year. They just wanted to sell her a book with her name in it."

"Sure enough, Miller said he got back a letter from a man who identified himself as editor of "High School All-Americans."

"They said Shotwell had been accepted after a committee had carefully screened his background," Miller said. "They wanted him to buy this book, and they implied it would be sent to all the college recruiters."

"They told him he was one of a select group of less than one per cent of all the nation's athletes to be selected."

Miller said any check would have shown not only Shotwell to be a fake, but also the "Wea Creek Conference" and even "Class C" to be frauds because there are no classes in Indiana prep basketball. Gladden Corner High School existed "about 60 years ago," he said.

Toros Down San Diego

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Toros sent rookie Lou Nistico to check San Diego star Andre Lacroix and the rookie came up with a three-point bonus in World Hockey Association playoff action Monday night.

Nistico and linemates Gavin Kirk and Tom Martin accounted for three goals in the Toros' 5-2 victory over the Mariners while Lacroix managed only one assist in the whole game.

The Midland Cubs will vouch for that. Dade is 5-for-10 in the current series and had done a good job defensively at third.

Ron Jackson, who played at EP with Dade two years ago, is the current third baseman at Salt Lake, but if Dade keeps hitting, Ron may have a visitor.

Despite his seventh inning rhabarub with umpire Stan Babicz, Man a g e r Doc Edwards gives Babicz and his partner Bob Galbreath high marks as umpires. "Like us (the Cubs), they are young, this is their first year in the TL, and they're learning, but they are good and have a good future ahead of them."

Pack, Rebels See Action

By BOB DILLON
Midland Lee and Midland open the second half of the District 5-4A baseball race today after seeing Saturday action called off due to wind and cold.

The Rebel-Odesa game was called off along with the Midland-Odesa Permian game Saturday and the two games will be made up at 4 p.m. Thursday.

In games today, the Bulldogs entertain the Big Spring Steers, 3-1 victors over Abilene Saturday, while Lee takes on San Angelo in San Angelo. The Bobcats polished off Abilene Cooper, 2-1, Saturday to put the Cougars in a hole. Cooper tied Lee and Permian for the first half crown with 6-1 marks.

Lee continues to have a lineup loaded with top hitters, Bobby Stevens is leading the loop with a .560 average. The big Rebel senior plays first and pitches and most likely will get the nod today to face the Bobcats on the mound Javier Torres. Lee outfielder is next along with Robbie Porter of the Rebs with .545 averages while Rusty Laughlin of Lee, is the No. five hitter in the loop.

Midland's top hitter is catcher Terry Copeland with a .433 average.

Youth Battling Rare Nervous Disease Going To Clown Convention

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (AP)—As a clown, his name is Happy, and 16-year-old Rob Wandschneider is still smiling despite his battle against the rare nerve disease which killed baseball's Lou Gehrig in 1941. And now Rob, a victim of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, is getting ready for a dream trip to the Clowns of America national convention in Denver this week. Rob has been a member of Cousin Otto's Clown Alley No. 22 for the past two years, appearing in parades and celebrations, entertaining at hospitals and nursing homes. His fellow clowns, his classmates at Lake Geneva's Badger High School and members of the community joined to collect almost $1,000 for the Denver trip he starts Wednesday. "I'm excited about it, all right," said Rob. "I just want to make people happy, and I can learn a lot of things from the other clowns." "He's wanted to be a clown all his life," says his mother, Laura Wandschneider. Gene Lee of Whitewater, a former professional circus clown who is the Cousin Otto of Clown Alley No. 22, says Rob had the makings of an excellent clown until he was stricken last October. It started when Rob tripped and fell while at school, injuring his shoulder, head and neck. "It seemed to be only a muscle trauma," said his mother. "Then we thought it might have been a shoulder separation. But he just didn't get better." In January, doctors made the positive diagnosis — Rob had Lou Gehrig's disease, which involves degeneration and hardening of the spinal cord. The cause isn't known, and there is no known cure. Speech now comes with difficulty for Rob. He hasn't been able to walk since his birthday, Feb. 9. But while a patient at Madison General Hospital, Rob entertained other youngsters there. "He was probably sicker than anyone else on the floor, though you'd never know by his spirits or his smile," his mother said. "He'd say, 'I've got a disease of smiling. Would you like some?'" Back at home, Rob is still trying to bring a smile into the lives of others, including Denise Johnson, a 4-year-old neighbor girl stricken with cerebral palsy. She visits him almost every day.
