Leaders vow more jobs, energy action

By FRANK CORMIER

RAMBOUILLET, France (AP) — Leaders of the world's six major industrial nations including President Ford today ended three-day talks with a promise of more jobs, lower prices and greater economic security for their people.

A declaration in the names of the leaders of the United States, West Germany, Italy, France, Britain and Japan said: The industrial democracies have decided to resolve the high rate of unemployment, continuing inflation and the grave problems of energy.

The leaders, who met at a 14th century chateau 28 miles southwest of Paris, said they had set out to identify the problems besetting their countries and to chart the course they must follow in the future toward prosperity.

On the shared goal to end the world recession, the six national leaders said: "We will not allow the recovery to fail. We will not accept a new upsurge of inflation."

The six defined their most urgent task as being the achievement of "stable and durable growth which will re-establish business and consumer confidence" and cut back employment with its waste of human resources.

On the key issue of wildly fluctuating exchange rates that threatened the collapse of the world money system the declaration made these points:

— Monetary authorities, presumably meaning central banks, will act to counter disorder in the money markets caused by speculation and other factors.

— The conference as a whole hailed the apparent conciliation of American and French views on the need for stability and on ways of achieving it.

William E. Simon, U.S. secretary of the Treasury, told reporters however "no agreement of any kind on fixed exchange systems or controls" had been reached. He added: "There was a recognition of the existing symptoms of floating exchange rates — and the freedom of individual countries to adopt flexible exchange rates within the general international guidelines."

It was plain Simon was trying to stress that no "zones or bands" of fluctuations had been agreed and that the U.S. dollar will remain free to float as it has been doing for years.

Ford, meantime, issued a statement of his own hailing the outcome of the talks as "successful in all respects" and saluting the "new spirit" of Rambouillet.

"Perhaps our most important accomplishment over the past several days has been our recognition that the objective of sustained and stable economic growth will be facilitated

FBI says major crimes up 18 per cent in '74

By MARGARET GENTRY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criminals killed more than 20,000 people and stole property worth $2.6 billion as crime in the United States increased 18 per cent last year, the FBI said today in its final 1974 report on crime.

Thieves made off with loot valued at more than the Justice Department's annual budget and more than twice what it takes to run the city of Chicago for a year.

Teen-agers were arrested for nearly one-third of the 19 million crimes reported to police, although persons from 16 to 17 account for only 18 per cent of the nation's population.

About half of all those arrested for burglaries, motor vehicle thefts and larcenies were teen-agers, the report said.

Firearms were used in 68 per cent of all murders, 44 per cent of the robberies and 25 per cent of the serious assaults, the report said.

The grim statistics emerged from the FBI's annual report and analysis of the number of offenses and arrests reported to virtually all state and local law enforcement agencies. The FBI and other experts say many more crimes are never reported to police.

The FBI earlier had estimated there were 17 per cent more crimes committed in 1974 than a year earlier. The final report showed the increase actually was 18 per cent.

The crime rate is the number of offenses per 100,000 citizens.

There were 4,821 crimes per 100,000 citizens in 1974, the report said.

Increases were recorded for all sections of the country and for all seven crime categories measured — murder, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny and vehicle theft.

The violent crimes of murder, rape and assault account for hardly more than a halfmillion of all reported offenses.

The far more numerous cases of robbery, burglary, larceny and vehicle theft cost the nation an estimated $2.6 billion. The report said police recovered loot valued at $821 million, about 31 per cent of the total.

The statistics showed a marked increase in the number of teen-agers arrested for murder as well as for robbing and stealing. Ten per cent of the 16,000 persons charged with homicide were under 18.

During the past five years, the report said, "there was a 51 per cent increase in the number of persons under 18 years of age arrested for murder."

Zoo director reports progress on problems

By DEBBIE PIERCE

Cole Park Zoo is a less than adequate facility for a city comparable in size and economic status to Midland, but progress has been made toward solving its problems and further help could be on the way.

Zoo Director Bob Cooper said some $18,000 was spent during the 1974-75 fiscal year to bring the zoo up to minimum standards for humaneness. This effort was the first progressive move toward a better zoo and resulted in several new cages and plumbing at the facility, he said. New fencing and achieving division status within the City Parks and Recreation Department, rather than being "just another park," were also big improvements, Cooper said.

"We're very fortunate in that most of our animals are healthy," the director said. "At the start of this fiscal year, we had 59 animals representing 21 species. Nineteen were born, producing a 25 per cent birth rate, and 11 died, or an 8.5 per cent death rate. The animal death rate is considerably low because the average rate is about 20 per cent. A total of 130 different animals have lived at the zoo."

Cooper said all zoos are fun to visit, appeal to everyone and don't require a person to be wealthy to be admitted. But a good zoo has programs in a variety of areas, he added.

"Good zoos provide a painless educational process," he said. "They're also important for conservation, since many animals are becoming extinct and zoos are often the best places for them. And usually it's not practical for someone to go to Africa all the time to do animal research, so zoos are good places to study animals' habits, life span, behavior and other characteristics. Modern zoos are well set-up and designed, often with the idea of open fencing and natural background, besides being self-supporting."

Catholic bishops map fight on abortions

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's Roman Catholic bishops were told today that "the will of God and the law of reason" demands an unrelenting fight against abortion.

"We know well that we are today witnessing a growing, frightening callousness toward the sanctity of unborn human life," Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin told the National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

The address by Archbishop Bernardin, president of the conference, opened a four-day annual meeting attended by 250 bishops, the overseers of the 48.5 million American Catholics.

The bishops were presented with a plan for a concerted attack on legalized abortion and mercy killing, aiming eventually for a constitutional amendment to bar the practice in America.

"We do not seek to impose our moral teaching on American society," said the introduction of the plan. "But as citizens of this nation we find it entirely appropriate to ask that the government and the law be faithful to its own principle — that the right to life is an inalienable right given to everyone by the Creator."

Archbishop Bernardin, who is from Cincinnati, spoke in a similar vein. "It is essential that we continue to express and act upon our commitment to the defense of all human rights, particularly those most threatened in our society and our world today," he said.

"In this connection we must and will affirm in season and out our

Expert sees fluctuating food prices

By DON KENDALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although food prices have slowed from their rapid climb of the past two years, consumers can expect them to gyrate widely for many years because of weather and Soviet Union grain imports, an Agriculture Department economist said today.

"The events of the last few years emphasize what we have tended to forget, that a major source of price instability is natural disaster — droughts, floods, too much rain, early frosts, insects and diseases," said Kenneth R. Farrell, deputy administrator of USDA's economic research service.

Retail food prices, which rose 4.5 per cent in 1972, soared 14.5 per cent in each of the following two years.

Department experts, including Farrell today, said these will average about 9 per cent for all of 1975 and slow down further to an annual rate of 4 to 5 per cent in the first half of next year.

Troops, customs men search British liner

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)

— About 100 troops, police and customs men searched the Queen Elizabeth 2 today while police questioned 42 persons rounded up after discovery of a 400-pound cache of explosives near the dock where the liner is berthed.

The police refused to comment on newspaper speculation linking the explosives to the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

"There are soldiers all over the ship," said a workman who came ashore from the closely guarded QE2. "They are searching the public rooms and cabins and seem to think that an explosive device may be on board."

"Some of them have dogs which they say have been trained to sniff out explosives."

Other crewmen said the police used explosives to blow open locked trunks and cases.

The 65,863-ton Cunard liner has been at the Southampton docks for the past three weeks undergoing her annual refit. She is scheduled to sail

Thursday for New York to begin five months of Caribbean cruises.

The search began late Sunday night some hours after the announcement that police had discovered the stock of explosives in a store in a 15-story apartment house overlooking the docks.

Midlander held in wife's death

A 38-year-old Midland man was arrested Sunday evening at his residence for allegedly shooting his wife, who died four hours later in a Midland hospital, police said.

Sammie Henry Lang, 2800 N. Lamesa Road, has been charged with murder. Bond is to be set later.

Long allegedly shot his wife, Mary Helen Lang, also 38, one time in the chest with a .410 gauge shotgun, police said.

Justice of the Peace Robert H. Pine ordered an autopsy on Mrs. Lang, police said.

revision of the training program for future priests.

The bishops at the four-day meeting will discuss reports on women, the black community and problems in international justice, including the arms race.

Archbishop Bernardin, 47, was presiding over his first conference since his election last year. He has spoken for the need to continue to study the conflict within the church over prohibitions against married priests and the ordination of women. But he has said he sees no way currently to resolve the issues.

The program being considered by the bishops says: "We commit ourselves to the establishment of a system of law that will provide legal protection of human life from conception to natural death. We feel morally impelled to pursue whatever course of action is required."

It calls for a mobilization of all Catholic groups, priests as well as lay people, to work for a change in what the authors called a danger to the value of human life brought by the 1973 Supreme Court decision that made abortions legal in the early stages of pregnancy.

"Although these decisions deal primarily with abortion laws, implicitly they touch also on euthanasia," the plan said.

It urges meetings with non-Catholics, a public relations effort with leaders in business, government and the professions and especially efforts with the judicial and legislative segments.

'Time to withdraw'

Adoption by the United Nations General Assembly of a resolution declaring Zionism a form of racism is termed by many persons as a gross act of folly. It really seems to be an expression of a desire for self-destruction.

Carlton Beal of Midland is among those who think the "desire" should be fulfilled promptly.

In a telegram addressed to President Gerald Ford, Beal said: "This nation has had its fill of the United Nations. Our out of ratio financial support over many decades plus other countries using the UN as a means to undermine the freedom and liberty of the peoples in this republic means that it is time to withdraw further support.

"It is time for us to pull the rug and invite them out of USA before more crime is imported into this country. As Kissinger said, UN is now a one way morality that clearly undermines its original objectives as an instrument of conciliation."

This nation's position was expressed positively by U. S. Ambassador Daniel P. Moynihan, as follows:

"The United States rises to declare before the General Assembly of the United Nations, and before the world, that it does not acknowledge, it will not abide by, it will never acquiesce in this infamous act."

And this is the way it is, insofar as the United States of America is concerned.

A Growing Industry

The Texas Tourist Council has come up with some interesting information on the growth of the visitor industry in Texas during the last 10 years.

One very good indicator, it is said, is the three per cent lodging tax assessed by the state. In the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1965, the state collected $4,231,282. In this fiscal year, the state collected $12,315,377 from that same three per cent, which is almost three times as much.

This certainly is a sizable increase, even for the Lone Star State of Texas.

The Country Parson

"I'm pretty sure some of our problems are the result of giving more attention to science than to people."

It shows without a doubt the economic importance of the visitor industry to the state. And Wonderful West Texas, with its innumerable tourist attractions over its broad expanse of territory, shares in the tourist dollars spend in Texas.

Every effort should be made to support the state's tourism program as a means of making a good business even better.

LEAA's costly self-analysis

By JACK ANDERSON with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — The helter-skelter Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA), which is supposed to promote law and order, has spent about $20 million looking at itself in the mirror.

The money has gone for reports — annual reports, special reports thick reports, thin reports, reports with plain covers, reports with fancy covers. Here are a few of them:—Despite a bureaucracy of some 730 workers, LEAA apparently can not produce its own annual report without outside help. Four of the agency's seven annual reports have been prepared by a private Washington editor, Joe Foote, at a total cost of $99,330. LEAA officials assured us that they will write the next report themselves.

— Loyola University in Los Angeles was awarded a $293,700 grant "to assess the need" for a looseleaf encyclopedia on law enforcement. No less than 20 "experts" worked on the assessment. For all that money, the taxpayers wound up with a two-volume report which is now gathering dust on an LEAA bookshelf. Said LEAA's own experts of the encyclopedia, "there was no demonstrated need for such a work and, therefore, no reason why such a project should receive further support from LEAA."

— LEAA is even supporting research in Canada about American crime problems. University of Toronto Professor Walter Berns, an American, is working on a book "of interest to a general audience" tentatively entitled "Crime and Capital Punishment." The taxpayers are footing the $67,822 bill for the research, and Berns will get the royalties, if any.

— At Washington's American University, meanwhile, LEAA is helping former D.C. Police Chief Jerry Wilson write his professional memoirs. A generous $163,828 has been set aside for a two-year research project analyzing the past ten years of D.C. crime control efforts. Wilson will be paid $48,465.

— LEAA spent $17,481.32 for the work of Press Intelligence Services, Inc., a Washington news clipping service. The firm sends LEAA copies of national press stories of interest to the agency. The service costs about $500 a month.

— Another $32,477 went to Nolan and White Visual Communications of Arlington, Va., to finance the art work and design the format for the six-

THE ENERGY SHORTAGE: It is an old, old, continuing problem

By FRANK MACOMBER Copley News Service

Since the dawn of time, man has faced and eventually solved one energy crisis after another.

A look back at history indicates some civilizations handled the problem more adroitly than Americans are coping with it today.

The New York City Museum of Natural History says the first "energy" shortage came during the Paleolithic times, the second period of the Stone Age.

In those times man hunted down and killed huge herds of mammals until they became virtually extinct. So man was confronted with a shortage of the fuel which gave his body energy.

The result: he developed agriculture.

Thousands of years later the ancient Romans based their economy on manual labor. When the population dropped sharply in the 4th Century, A.D., Rome encountered a manpower shortage.

Result: the Romans developed water power to supplant the energy manpower had been contributing.

Then 10 more centuries passed, until man's reliance on timber to fulfill energy demands drove up the price of firewood eight times between the end of the 16th and the middle of the 17th centuries.

By 1653 the shortage reached crisis proportions in England, forcing the government to impose stiff conservation measures.

Result: coal began to replace wood as fuel.

More recently, industrial nations have satisfied their huge energy hunger with fossil fuels such as oil, gas and coal. Now they're becoming increasingly tough to find and more costly to produce.

Liquid fuels account for about three-fourths of the energy consumed in the United States. During the 1960s, this nation used about the same amount of electricity that was required in all the preceding 184 years to keep America moving.

If that doesn't jolt you, a special House committee on energy resources has projected that beginning in the year 2020 "U.S. electricity demand annually will be more than 100 times the total electrical energy used until 1980."

Result: the age-old struggle for energy has resumed, prompting the United States and many foreign governments to speed development of various energy substitutes.

However, 18 months after the U.S. energy program was launched it still appears to be on the pad, so to speak. That is, Congress and the White House still are infighting over what course the program should take; ecologists still are trying to keep the oilmen out of the rich offshore drilling sites; environmentalists still are going to court to prevent construction of new nuclear energy plants, even in the ocean, and the operation of existing ones.

President Ford recently laid in Congress' lap a $100 billion energy development program covering the waterfront—the atom, the sun, increased oil exploration on land and offshore and a whole family of other processes for pulling fuel out of the earth, such as oil shale—along with coal gasification and a search to tap new sources of natural gas.

A Congress dominated by Democrats has held scattered hearings on a variety of legislative proposals to develop new energy sources. But the President's blueprint for the next 10 years still lies virtually untouched on House and Senate committee desks.

Congressional leaders claim that's because many of their own proposals parallel those of the President and already are being considered.

But the White House insists Mr. Ford's program must be considered as a unit, a "package," if it is to help solve the nation's energy problems by 1985 or 1990.

The only certainty about the energy program at this point is that it will be a political issue in the 1976 presidential election year.

INSIDE REPORT:

Bush Backfire Brings review of political realities

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The wholly predictable storm over President Ford's nomination of former Republican national chairman George Bush to head the CIA has forced the White House into a dangerously overdue calculation of political realities, with withdrawal of the nomination now a possibility.

The political realities, apparently never considered by the President or the very few top aides privy to his secret plans to replace Central Intelligence director William Colby with Bush, boil down to this essential: to avoid possible refusal of the strongly Democratic Senate to confirm Bush, he or President Ford must absolutely rule out any possibility of Bush winding up as Mr. Ford's vice presidential running-mate.

Such a condition has now reached the stage of gospel inside the Democratic Senate establishment, and particularly with Democrats on the Senate Armed Services Committee. Although Sen. John Stennis, conservative chairman of the committee, has said nothing at all, intimates of the highly influential Mississippian fully agree that all vice-presidential doors must be closed to Bush to avoid an inflammatory confirmation battle.

Failure of the President to consider this aspect of his appointment of Bush, a highly regarded and extremely popular politician, was further exacerbated during Mr. Ford's appearance on "Meet the Press" recently. Instead of seeking to calm the rolled waters when asked if he should not eliminate both Bush and

Evans Novak

Secretary of Defense-designate Donald Rumsfeld from all consideration for second place on the 1976 Republican ticket, Mr. Ford bristled. "I don't think people with talent ought to be excluded from any further public service," he replied coolly.

Thus, the President's gravely mistaken reading of the political impact of the Sunday morning massacre continues in his failure to perceive that, to the controlling Democrats on Capitol Hill (and many Republicans as well), the director of CIA must be above political suspicion.

But some presidential aides are more keenly tuned in to congressional frequencies. It is no accident that even though Bush's nomination has been formally sent to the Senate for confirmation hearings, no hearings are now scheduled for several weeks at best — and possibly not until next year.

That raises the question of a deliberate stall, based on the President's suddenly expressed desire to keep Bush at his present post in Peking at least until Mr. Ford's China trip. If, as presently assumed,

Mr. Ford goes to China within the next month, Bush would not be available for his confirmation hearing until well into December.

With Congress eyeing either Dec. 12 or Dec. 19 for the start of the Christmas recess, it now looks doubtful that Bush could be confirmed before next year. By then, with far deeper understanding of the anti-Bush sentiment, the President could make another mid-course correction, giving Bush a different post which would keep him available for a possible vice-presidential nomination next summer (the job Mr. Ford came within a whisker of giving Bush instead of Nelson Rockefeller last year) and naming someone else to succeed Colby.

Precisely that probability was instantly perceived by Capitol Hill operatives when Mr. Ford summoned Colby back to the White House last week and asked him to stay at the CIA until a successor had been confirmed by the Senate. Earlier, when Colby left Mr. Ford's Oval Office on the morning of Sunday, Nov. 2, he was preparing to pack out of the CIA instantly.

Still one of Washington's darker mysteries is why the President chose to put the long-suffering Bush through such a wringer without understanding the political realities. White House aides normally involved with CIA affairs, including the congressional probes, knew nothing of Colby's sudden sacking or his replacement by Bush until too late.

Indeed, on top of the CIA's long misery in the grip of congressional investigations and press exposes, the Bush nomination is regarded by some intelligence experts as another grave morale deflator. They reason that any identified politician, no matter how resolved to be politically pure, would aggravate the CIA's credibility gap. Instead of an identified politician like Bush — former member of the House, twice-defeated Senate nominee from Texas and vice-presidential aspirant — what is needed, they feel, is a respected non-politician, perhaps from business or the academic world.

Not all experts agree. One former CIA official wants the CIA placed under political leadership capable of working closely with Congress. But even that distinctly minority position rebels against any presidential scenario that looks to the CIA as possible stepping-stone to the vice-presidential nomination.

LITTER LIES: The beer and soft drink lobbies recently circulated a costly propaganda folder as part of their multi-million dollar campaign to demonstrate that Oregon's anti-litter law is a dismal flop.

But our own do-it-yourself survey, which cost us absolutely nothing, shows the Oregon statute requiring deposits on bottles and cans is a roaring success.

Along a four-mile stretch of well-traveled highway in Oregon, we counted one throwaway. Beside one-mile stretches in neighboring Washington and in Kansas, we counted, respectively, 14 and 17 discarded bottles and cans.

Schools slate performances

Mark Folger and Danny Chick Midland High School play, are among cast members of opening Wednesday night.

Quality entertainment is on tap at Midland's two high schools this week.

The Midland High drama department will offer three performances of a dramatic stage work, "Indians," while the art, drama, art and music departments of Lee High are combining efforts in a production of the acclaimed musical "Carousel" which will be given a pair of performances.

The MHS play will open at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in the school auditorium, repeating on Thursday and Friday nights. "Carousel" will have its initial performance in the LHS auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday, followed by another presentation at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Performances of both productions will be open to the public. Tickets for the MHS play are being sold by drama students and may be purchased at the doors before performance nightly. Admission to the pair of "Carousel" performances will be $2.50 for adults, with tickets to be available at the doors each evening.

"Indians," directed by MHS drama director James Buchanan, has come to be regarded as a major theatrical work following its premiere in London in the late 1960s. The play went on to garner the prestigious New York

Drama Critics' Circle Award.

Buchanan said his production will open with a seven-minute film conceived and produced by drama students. The film presents a pictorial view of the Indian way of life and tells of the Indians' feelings. The play itself revolves around the ideological conflict between white man and Indian during the early years of this nation.

"Carousel," the Lee High production, dates from the "Golden Years" of American musicals, the 1940s and '50s, and is still a popular vehicle primarily as a result of its memorable songs including "If I Loved You," "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "What's the Use of Wonderin'" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

"Carousel" is the first all-school musical production at LHS since "My Fair Lady" was staged there in late 1973.

"Carousel" is based on a play, "Lilom," by Ferenc Molnar, first produced in Hungary and later given several American productions as a straight play. The first American production in the 1920s starred Eva Le Gallienne and Joseph Schildkraut, and a later version starred Ingrid Bergman and Burgess Meredith.

Following the success of "Oklahoma!" in 1943, Rodgers and Hammerstein turned to the Molnar play, translating it into the American idiom and changing the locale from Central Europe to New England.

The musical tells the story of carousel barker Billy Bigelow and his love for the beautiful young Julie Jordan. Although tragedy and unhappiness stalk the pair, the story ends on a happy note.

Bill Moore and Julie Miller are cast as the young sweethearts, and other roles are assigned to Nita Simpson, Kathy Cox, Brian Berry, Craig Graham, Debbie Brotherton, James Bates, Don Steele, Robbin Barron, John Mabee, Susan Lowery, Kelly Prude, Kelly Parker, John Murphree, Greg McCabe and Kelly Westerman. Still other parts in the musical are being filled by Allen White, John Mabee, Eric Fryar, Krissy Hall, Holly Davis, Randy Brotherton, Delanna Fryar, Pat Brotherton, Laura Lynn Griffin, Carrie Hall, Jimmy Brotherton, Matt Davis. Backing the performers are singers and dancers.

Horace Griffin, LHS drama instructor, is directing the production, with choral direction provided by Doug Browne, LHS choral director. The sets for the musical are designed by Herb Cooper and choreography is provided by Liz Anding. Both are LHS faculty members. The orchestra will be conducted by Ike Nail and Browne. Kelly Hewitt is stage-managing the production.

CITY OF MIDLAND (November 18, 1975)

ALPINE — The 64th annual traveling exhibit of the Texas Fine Arts Association is on display in the Sul Ross State University Art Gallery here. It will hang through Nov. 20.

The show consists of 18 paintings in various media, created by artists throughout the nation. The exhibit was assembled by Dr. Lamar Dodd, art department chairman at the University of Georgia. According to Dr. Roy Dodson, faculty member of the Sul Ross fine arts department, viewers "will find some of the paintings highly dramatic, others bewildering and even amusing."

A ballot box in the Sul Ross gallery enables visitors to the exhibit to "vote" for their favorite painting, Dr. Dodson said. The show is open to the public between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?

"Thy Word Is Truth" (John 17:17) by Wayne Best

Does the church where you worship belong to Jesus Christ? Does it wear his name? Does it consciously follow his will? It should. If the church is really the church, it should belong to Christ, wear his name, and follow his will in the New Testament. Why? Because the church is his. It is not a human organization that can change its bylaws at a convention. The church is Christ's body. He is its head.

Jesus said, "On this rock I will build my church." He left no doubt as to whom the church belonged. The early Christians were well aware of the identity of the church. Phrases like "all the churches of Christ greet you" are found in their writings.

Today, human denominations should be left aside for membership in Christ's church. Jesus didn't die so that many conflicting denominations could spring up. His will is that there is only one church, his church. Are you a member of his church?

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

"They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself."

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

ABA panel submits evaluations on 12 suggested court nominees

By W. DALE NELSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — A lawyer's committee screening potential Supreme Court nominees says it will focus on professional qualifications, judicial temperament and integrity. Later, when he makes the selection, President Ford is likely to take political and other factors into account.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi received the first report Sunday from the American Bar Association's committee on some of the suggested nominees to replace Justice William O. Douglas, who retired last week because of ill health. The administration asked the ABA to evaluate about 12 persons for the job.

Warren Christopher of Los Angeles, chairman of the panel, said the report to Levi was made by telephone, was very tentative and covered about half of the persons on the list. He said he expected the committee to be meeting "on and off for the next several days."

After the committee's evaluations are finished, Ford will submit his choice to the Senate for confirmation.

The choice is not limited to the list before the ABA committee, administration officials say. Here are sketches of some potential nominees, some reportedly on the list submitted to the ABA by the administration.

ARLIN ADAMS
A judge of the 3rd U.S. Circuit

Court of Appeals in Philadelphia. Adams, at 54, is within the "middle-aged" range Ford has mentioned and nine years younger than the average age of the current justices. He has been a judge six years. He is Jewish, and there has not been a Jew on the court since Abe Fortas resigned in 1969.

ROBERT H. BORK
Solicitor general, he is the government's lawyer-in the Supreme Court. Both Justice Thurgood Marshall and retired Justice Stanley Reed came to the court from that position. Bork is 48 and a conservative. He fired the first Watergate prosecutor, Archibald Cox, which could be a liability.

ALFRED N. GOODWIN
A judge of the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Goodwin is 52, a Republican from Portland, Ore., and has been a state or federal judge since 1955.

ROBERT P. GRIFFIN
The assistant Republican leader in the Senate, Griffin would give the court its first justice with a senatorial background since Justice Hugo L. Black retired in 1971. None of the present justices has held partisan elective office.

CARLA HILLS
Secretary of housing and urban development, Mrs. Hills would be the first woman justice at a time when feminist groups and First Lady Betty Ford are pushing for such an appointment.

She is from California, which would preserve the geographical balance that has existed, since Douglas was from Washington state.

SHIRLEY HUFSTEDLER
A judge of the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Mrs. Hufstедler, 50, has been a state or federal court judge since 1961. She is a Democrat and might be more liberal than Ford would like, although he has said he doesn't think the ideological stance of a justice can be predicted in advance.

EDWARD M. LEVI
The attorney general, at 64, is one of the older people to be mentioned for the vacancy. He is Jewish. His appointment, like that of Griffin, would mean that four of the nine justices would be from the Midwest. He was born in Chicago and is a former University of Chicago president.

VINCENT L. MCKUSICK
A Portland, Maine, attorney, McKusick, 54, is a Republican and was a clerk to the late Justice Felix Frankfurter. His appointment would reinstate a tradition, not followed in recent years, of having a New Englander on the court.

DALLIN OAKS
President of Brigham Young University, Oaks, like Douglas, is a former law school professor. At 43, he would be the youngest nominee since Douglas was named at age 40. A Mormon, he would probably be the first of that faith on the court. He would be the second current justice from the Mountain states, joining Byron R. White of Colorado.

PAUL RONEY
A judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, Roney is highly regarded among his fellow judges. He is from St. Petersburg, Fla., and would be the second justice from the South, joining Lewis F. Powell Jr. of Virginia.

JOHN PAUL STEVENS
A judge of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals since 1970, Stevens is a former Supreme Court law clerk and served in 1951 as associate counsel of a House judiciary subcommittee. He is 55 years old and from Chicago.

J. CLIFFORD WALLACE
A judge of the 9th Circuit, Wallace is from San Diego, Calif., and his appointment would preserve the West Coast representation on the court.

WILLIAM H. WEBSTER
A judge of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Webster, 51, has been a federal judge since 1971. He is from St. Louis, is a former federal prosecutor and a past president of the Association of Missouri Republicans.

CHARLES E. WIGGINS
Fourth-ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, Wiggins is a former House colleague of Ford who says he is "primarily a lawyer rather than a legislator or politician." Wiggins, 47, was a staunch supporter of President Richard M. Nixon during House impeachment proceedings. This could court against him.

GRAMMER-MURPHEY

Ruling expected today on Moore competence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sara Jane Moore's attorney says he will probably seek a trial delay if she is ruled mentally competent to stand trial now, Miss Moore may eventually be brought to trial, said her attorney, James Hewitt, the chief U.S. public defender here. Hewitt said charges against a person held to be incompetent are considered to be pending while the defendant undergoes treatment. How long the charges can be held in abeyance is unclear, he said.

Hewitt said if U.S. District Court Judge Samuel Conti finds Miss Moore incompetent, the next step would be to decide the circumstances of commitment, including periodic review of her mental state.

Hewitt said that even if Miss Moore is found competent, he probably would seek to delay her scheduled Dec. 15 trial date because of a recent appellate court ruling that opened the door to such a delay.

The U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled on Wednesday that Conti and other federal judges need not include time spent in psychiatric examinations as part of the 90-day requirement of the new federal Speedy Trial Act. Miss Moore underwent about 50 days of testing at a federal facility in San Diego.

The law, which went into effect a week after the assassination attempt, requires that a federal prisoner be brought to trial or freed from custody within 90 days of arraignment.

Teen-age writing skill dips

DENVER (AP) — A study released today indicates American teenagers are losing their ability to communicate clearly through written English.

Compared with students tested in 1970, students 13 and 17 years old tested last year wrote a greater number of incoherent paragraphs and wrote in a shorter, "primer-like" style, said a report from the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP).

But 9-year-olds tested in similar fashion wrote better in 1974 than their counterparts four years earlier, the NAEP said.

Females wrote better essays than males at all three ages, the study found.

The NAEP is a project of the Education Commission of the States, an organization to which 45 states belong. Based in Denver, it conducts periodic tests in various subject fields to measure the relative skills of students from year to year. It is funded by the National Center for Education Statistics, a federal agency.

In a survey of writing skills taken first in 1970 and repeated in 1974, the NAEP tested 80,000 students in three age groups — 9-year-olds, 13-year-olds and 17-year-olds who were still in school. The test involved writing essays to answer questions.

The survey showed the writing of 17-year-olds declined in quality between the two assessments. The 1974 students showed an increase in awkwardness and run-on sentences and a tendency to write as they would speak, the report said.

Writing performance for the 13-year-olds also declined. On the average, the NAEP found the 1974 essays shorter, less sophisticated in expression and more awkwardly written than the 1970 essays.

Only the papers from the 9-year-olds showed an improvement, with the proportion of good writers rising in 1974, the report said.

Only a few 9-year-olds in either year wrote fully developed paragraphs, the report said.

The NAEP offered no explanation for the decline in writing skills, but did offer some recommendations for them. It suggested that remedial writing laboratories be made available to all students; that more writing be required in schools, and that educators recognize teaching grammar is not teaching writing.

Columnist Crume dies of cancer

DALLAS (AP) — Paul from the University of World War II. Crume, whose widely read "Big D" column was a fixture on the front page of the Dallas Morning News for nearly a quarter century, is dead from cancer at age 63.

Although Crume had been ill for months, he continued to write his column until four days before his death Sunday. His last column, published Thursday, was on the topic of death.

His columns were marked by a sense of humanity and humor. His final column read in part: "The question of the constitutionality of dying raises some interesting questions about human law."

"We have searched the Constitution diligently and can find in it no constitutional right to be born. We are talking here about the U.S. Constitution; nobody can find anything in the Texas constitution."

"Since a man has no constitutional right to be born or to die, his whole life appears to be unconstitutional."

A native of Alpena Pass, Ark., Crume moved with his family to Parmer County, Tex., near the New Mexico border. Working his way through, he graduated club instead of overruffing, and he had to do it quickly and casually. South foolishly assumed that West couldn't have the queen of trumps because he hadn't overruffed. Hence South led a spade to dummy's ace and returned a trump with the intention of finessing.

End of Hand
That was the end of the hand. South had to lose a trump, a club and two spades. Down one.

No regular reader of this column would fall into West's trap. When West fails to overruff the diamond, South should lead a low trump. No matter which opponent has the queen of hearts, South can reach dummy once with a trump and gain with the ace of spades. The first time he ruffs another diamond and the second time he cashes the last diamond.

Note, however, that South couldn't misplay the hand if West overruffed the first diamond ruff. West's only hope was to give South a good chance to go wrong.

DAILY QUESTION
Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S-QJ74; H-3; D-Q1072; C-K875. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs. The hand is too strong for a raise to two spades but not quite strong enough for a forcing jump to three spades. Pinpoint your strength by showing a side suit first and raising spades later.

Plunkett silences boos, but Cowboys still win

HOUSTON OILER Mack Alston (82) can't quite reach this pass in game against Miami Sunday as Dolphins' Charlie Babb defends.

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — A strange thing happened to quarterback Jim Plunkett of the New England Patriots as he returned from the injury ranks. Quarterback Roger Staubach of the Dallas Cowboys received the cheers and Plunkett got boos from the hometown crowd in a National Football League duel between the former Heisman Trophy winners Sunday before 61,000 fans at Schaefer Stadium.

Plunkett won the battle yardage-wise, but Staubach won the war as the Cowboys hung on to edge the Patriots 34-31 and keep alive their playoff hopes in the National Conference East.

STAUACH, a one-time AllAmerican at Navy, passed for three touchdowns, hitting on 10 of 14 attempts for 190 yards without an interception. Plunkett, rusty after two left shoulder separations since Sept. 7, also threw for three TDs, gaining 284 yards on 12 completions in 30 attempts.

The Patriots' former AllAmerican was booed heavily. The boos continued by fans enchanted with the play of rookie Steve Grogan of Kansas State the last three weeks. At the end, though, Plunkett's critics were silenced as he threw two touchdown passes to Darryl Stingley in the final five minutes to make the game close.

"Jim Plunkett is a first-class quarterback, one of the very best," Staubach said. "He did a good job with a lot of pressure on him. Every quarterback in the league has gone through the same thing. He just has to let it roll off his back."

"It hurts your feelings somewhat," Plunkett said. "Yes, it meant more pressure. You know if you make mistakes more boos will come. But who am I going to get angry at—60,000 people? Maybe it wasn't 60,000, but it sounded like it. I just did the best I could."

Grogan said he was personally embarrassed by the boos directed at Plunkett.

"I THOUGHT Jim played a heck of a game because they (Cowboys) were able to tee off on him at times," Grogan said. "Those boos, though... I felt like digging a hole and hiding or something. It's nice to know people are behind you, but..."

Vikings make it 9-0, Cards win in overtime

Any football coach worth his whistle knows that the only place the game pays off is in the won-loss column. So what if it wasn't neat? It's whether you win or lose, not how you play the game that counts.

That's why Minnesota didn't worry about six fumbles, two interceptions and 50 yards in penalties. What counts is that the Vikings beat New Orleans 20-7 Sunday, extending their National Football League winning streak to nine consecutive games.

And St. Louis doesn't care that its tying touchdown with eight seconds left against Washington needed a huddle by the officials before it was approved. Seven points, and that TD forced the overtime that saw the Cardinals kyo the Redskins 20-17 on Jim Bakken's 37-yard field goal. The game's nine turnovers? So what?

Vikings 20, Saints 7
"We made an awful lot of mistakes," noticed Minnesota Coach Bud Grant. "I don't know why, I don't think it was the caliber of the opposition."

The 2-7 Saints didn't turn the ball over once but couldn't take advantage of Minnesota's sloppy play.

Despite his two interceptions, Fran Tarkenton pitched three touchdown passes to keep the Vikings' winning streak going.

Cardinals 20, Redskins 17
Jim Hart's second TD pass of the game to Mel Gray with eight seconds left tied the game and then Bakken's sure foot won it after seven minutes of overtime for St. Louis. The victory moved the Cards into first place in the NFC East, one game ahead of Washington and Dallas.

Gray caught the tying TD at the goal line and then was stripped of the ball by cornerback Pat Fischer. At first, the play was ruled incomplete but after a lengthy huddle, the officials reversed themselves and allowed the touchdown.

Colts 52, Jets 19
Bert Jones hurled three touchdown passes including a club record 90-yarder to Roger Carr, leading Baltimore to its romp over New York. Jones passed for 277 yards before leaving the game with a rib injury.

Oilers 20, Dolphins 19
Coleman broke five tackles and went seven yards for Houston's winning TD against Miami. Bubba Smith blocked two extra point attempts by the Dolphins' Garo Yepremian, setting the stage for Coleman's winning score.

Steelers 28, Chiefs 3
Pittsburgh won its seventh straight game and took the AFC Central lead for the first time this season by one-half game over Cincinnati, which plays tonight.

Rams 16, Falcons 7
James Harris passed for 242 yards, 151 to Ron Jessie, as Los Angeles defeated Atlanta. Jessie accounted for the game's only TD on a nine-yard pass from Harris after Tom Dempsey had kicked three field goals for LA.

Raiders 38, Browns 17
Ken Stabler hurried four touchdown passes, leading Oakland past winless Cleveland.

Eagles 13, Giants 10
Beaten three times on field goals in the final seconds, Philadelphia turned the tables, knocking off the Giants on a 30-yarder by Horst Muhlmann with 28 seconds left to play.

The victory halted a fivegame Eagle losing streak.

49ers 31, Bears 3
Del Williams ran for 106 yards and Steve Spurrier passed for 124 more as San Francisco whipped Chicago.

Lions 13, Packers 10
Erol Mann kicked a 23-yard field goal with 13 seconds left, giving Detroit its victory over Green Bay. Joe Reed's 48-yard pass to Ray Jarvis with 54 seconds left set up the winner.

"I never worry about how we win, as long as we win, baby," said Lions Coach Rick Forzano.

Broncos 27, Chargers 17
Steve Ramsey passed for a pair of touchdowns as Denver extended winless San Diego's losing streak to nine games.

Oilers' Coleman makes like Csonka

HOUSTON (AP) — Miami would have expected such a spectacular gravity and physics-defying run from Larry Csonka.

But here in the final 1:11 of the game was 5-10, 195-pound Ronnie Coleman gouging through almost half of the Dolphin defense to give Houston a throbbing 20-19 National Football League victory.

Coleman's determined run bore the same brute force and second and third effort that became a trademark for Csonka, Miami's former fullback.

The seven-yard run capped a frenzied 89-yard Houston drive after the Dolphins had pulled to a 19-13 lead with 12:08 to play in the game.

No less than five Dolphins, including Mike Kolen, Vern Den Herder, Randy Crowder and a couple of unidentified flying bodies, had a chance to stop Coleman on his run.

Kolen hit Coleman and slid off. Crowder tried to grab Coleman from behind. "I guess I'd have been better off if I'd taken a shot at him but I tried to pull him back," Crowder said.

Den Herder tried to hit him low. "I was down low," Den Herder said, "and he just sort of stretched out and went over."

Coleman's determined run was made possible three plays earlier when a pass by Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini was apparently intercepted by Charlie Babb.

But an official ruled a Miami player guilty of holding in the end zone and awarded Houston a first down at the Miami seven.

Houston's victory sets up another American Football Conference Central Division showdown next Monday night between the Oilers, 7-2, and the defending Super Bowl Champion Pittsburgh Steelers, who defeated the Oilers 24-17 in Pittsburgh Nov. 9.

The rest of Sunday's game was just as frantic as the final minutes.

Houston took a 6-0 lead on field goals of 43 and 25 yards by Skip Butler and Miami tied it at halftime with a 26-yard pass from Bob Griese to tight end Jim Mandich. Houston defensive end Bubba Smith blocked the first of two extra point attempts to force a 6-6 halftime deadlock.

TWO MINUTES later the officials signaled six points, enabling Jim Bakken to kick the tying conversion and later re-enter to kick the game's winning points.

"I didn't think it was a tough call," maintained St. Louis Coach Don Coryell, who earlier had watched his error-beset team squander numerous opportunities and fall behind by 14-3.

Alabama ducks Big Eight foes

By The Associated Press
As usual, Alabama is in the forefront of the postseason bowl spotlight. And as a result of the Crimson Tide's decision to play in the Sugar Bowl against Penn State, either Nebraska or Oklahoma will be shut out of the five major bowls.

The surprising beneficiary of all the weekend's wheeling and dealing, which saw 20 of the 22 major berths unexpectedly filled, could be the newest of them all, the five-year-old Fiesta Bowl, which might have a Top Ten match-up of unbeaten and eighth-ranked Arizona State—provided the Sun Devils defeat Arizona for the Western Athletic Conference title—against the loser of Saturday's Big Eight Conference showdown between second-ranked Nebraska and No. 6 Oklahoma.

The Alabama-Penn State Sugar Bowl pairing was reported by The Associated Press Sunday night and was to be officially announced in New Orleans at noon today. With one game left for both teams, fifth-ranked Alabama has a 9-1 record following a 27-6 triumph over Southern Mississippi, to 8-2 for 11th-ranked Penn State, idle over the weekend.

The only vacant bowl berths are one in the Tangerine Bowl against 16th-ranked Miami of Ohio and another in the Peach Bowl against North Carolina State. With some pairings still to be announced officially, The AP has come up with the following bowl line-up:
—Rose Bowl: Big Ten champion (Ohio State or Michigan) vs.

Pacific-8 champion (UCLA, California or Stanford).
—Orange Bowl: Nebraska-Oklahoma winner vs. Ohio State-Michigan loser.
—Sugar Bowl: Alabama vs. Penn State.
—Cotton Bowl: Southwest Conference champion (Texas A&M, Texas or Arkansas) vs. Georgia.
—Gator Bowl: Florida vs. Maryland.
—Liberty Bowl: Southern California vs. Arkansas, if the Razorbacks don't win the Southwest Conference title and thereby go to the Cotton Bowl, or Texas A&M.
—Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl: Colorado vs. Texas A&M or Texas.
—Fiesta Bowl: Western Athletic Conference champion (Arizona State or Arizona) vs. Nebraska-Oklahoma loser.
—Sun Bowl: Pitt vs. Kansas-Missouri winner.
—Tangerine Bowl: Miami of Ohio vs. opponent to be selected.
—Peach Bowl: North Carolina State vs. opponent to be selected.

The rash of bowl invitations and the cries from the powerful Big Eight Conference that Alabama is ducking a match with a Big Eight opponent overshadowed a weekend in which nine of the Top Ten teams posted victories while the other, ninth-ranked Notre Dame, dropped out of the bowl picture by losing to Pitt 34-20 as Tony Dorsett romped for 303 yards and scored twice.

After Saturday's 52-0 rout of Iowa State, Nebraska Coach Tom Osborne told Sugar Bowl executive secretary John Barr, "Tell that son of a buck (Bear Bryant) not to duck us."

BATTLE SCENE

Day of the buckaroos

JESSE HATFIELD brought up the subject of Breckenridge football in the press box before Friday night's Midland Midland Lee game, recalling how the Buckaroos were once the most feared team in the state.

The Bucks didn't impress anybody with their numbers, but under coaches Joe Kerbel and Emory Bellard, they were as tough as leather.

That reminded Hal Battle, of the Midland Schools system, of the time when John Conley, now Texas Tech assistant athletic director, first came to Texas out of Kansas to coach Snyder. Hal was an assistant on the Tiger staff at the time.

were going out to El Paso to play somebody while Abilene, the power of AAAA football, was getting ready to play AAA Breckenridge.

"One of the other coaches asked me how I thought it was going to come out and I said 'Abilene will probably be pretty high for the game, so Breckenridge shouldn't beat them anymore than 33-7.'"

HAL WENT ON, "The other coach looked surprised and said, 'You really think it will be that close?'"

"Conley was listening and suddenly it dawned on him. 'Say, you're not talking about that little school we have on the schedule, are you?'"

was keyed even higher than Hal anticipated and lost only 33-13.

Chuck Moser, the Abilene coach at the time, happened to be in the press box to look over some Midland and Lee prospects for the Texas Aggies Friday.

After the Breckenridge loss, Abilene went on to win the state AAAA title without a serious challenge after beating Midland in the district showdown, added two more state titles, rolled up more than 50 straight games without a defeat and was headed for a fourth state title when Tugboat Jones' Highland Park team finally upset them with a penetration-decided tie in a state playoff game.

That gives you some idea of the respect with the Buckaroos were held in those days...

IN CHATTING with Conley the next day at Tech, the subject of Tech's artificial Jones Stadium football surface came up.

"They told us when they put it down, it would last 10 years before we'd have to replace it. It has been down five years now and I think we may have to replace it after two more years."

If it were replaced now, the new rug would cost in the neighborhood of $200,000, but with today's spiraling prices, no one can guess what it will cost in two years. Installation of the foundation and turf five years ago was $400,000.

Cancer alerts coming

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is planning to issue public "toxic alerts" when its animal tests disclose possible cancer-causing properties in widely used chemical compounds.

Based on the same principle as the familiar pollution alerts, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare says it will caution regulatory agencies, industry, labor unions and the public when a chemical is found to produce cancer in rodents.

The National Cancer Institute has targeted about 450 highly suspicious compounds for two-year studies. The chemicals are fed orally to 100 rats and 100 mice, evenly divided between males and females, for 18 months. The animals are observed for another six months before they are sacrificed for microscopic tissue examination.

The first four compounds for which preliminary testing has been completed showed evidence of being carcinogenic, according to the institute. All four are widely used and all have the potential of showing up in human food supplies.

They are the pesticides chlordane and heptachlor, now in the process of being banned by the Environmental Protection Agency; trichloroethylene, once used to make decaffeinated coffee; and ethylene dibromide, used for a number of purposes including agricultural fumigation and drug manufacture.

Umberto Saffiotti, an associate director of the cancer institute, sent a series of memos recently to the HEW toxicology committee advising it of the preliminary findings in the four chemicals.

In the case of chlordane and heptachlor, he wrote, the preliminary results are that both compounds will show carcinogenic activity in mice.

"Both of these materials have significant commercial production and are used massively as pesticides," Saffiotti said.

He is releasing preliminary findings in advance, he said, so appropriate agencies may be made aware of our concerns with this matter.

The institute tests suggested that ethylene dibromide and trichloroethylene have a "strong carcinogenic activity both in rats and in mice," primarily in stomach tumors, two other memos said. The United States produces about 350 million pounds of ethylene dibromide annually for use as an agricultural fumigant, a solvent, a lead scavenger in motor fuels and as an intermediate in the production of dyes and pharmaceuticals.

The Saffiotti memo emphasized that the information at this point "represents only a statement of concern and that no definite conclusions as to the carcinogenicity" of the chemicals can be reached until all of the test data has been evaluated.

Teamsters hold coming-out party for Tony Pro

The Los Angeles Times
NEW YORK—The men in the blue velvet dinner jackets waited by the front door of the Hotel Americana, shifting from foot-to-foot under the chandeliers, patting their iron-gray hair and straightening their ties in front of the gold-flecked mirrors.

From time to time, they would step forward to greet men who came through the doors—older men with white hair and dark suits and the air of assurance that bespeaks power—gained by some combination of caution and boldness, wit and wise alliance—in one of the toughest organizations in the nation, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. They had come Sunday night from all over the country. Frank E. Fitzsimmons, president of the union, had arrived, as had at least half of the union's 15 international vice presidents, including M. E. (Andy) Anderson of Los Angeles, head of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

But most of the 1,600 guests arriving for the $100-a-plate dinner had come from across the river in New Jersey, because the lavish affair was being held as a testimonial to long-time Jersey Teamster boss Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano.

It had to be regarded as Tony Pro's coming-out party. Provenzano, who is one of the men who has been under investigation in connection with the disappearance of former Teamster president James R. Hoffa, has been barred from participating in union activities for the last five years, the result of a conviction on charges of extorting money from a trucking company in return for labor peace.

Before he went to prison, Provenzano, who likes to refer to himself as "just a truck driver," reigned supreme among East Coast Teamsters, having been president of one of the largest locals in the country, Local 560 in Union City, N.N., as well as the 100,000-member Joint Council of New Jersey. At the time, Provenzano was earning $100,000 a year—$50,000 of which was bestowed upon him in 1962 in a vote taken with 98 per cent of the union membership absent. His tenure as head of the New Jersey Teamsters was marked by violence. It was an era when workers were beaten, their homes shotgunned in the night and when minor union officials from rival factions disappeared, much as Jimmy Hoffa did, never to be heard from again.

Provenzano served 4 1/2 years of a seven-year sentence in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.—where one of his fellow inmates was Hoffa, who was long regarded as Provenzano's mentor in the union—and was paroled on Nov. 19, 1970, on the condition that he stay out of union affairs for five years.

As the ban on his activities neared an end, sources within the union began leaking information last week that Provenzano was about to be appointed to the prestigious position of organizer for the international union, a job with an estimated $35,000-a-year salary, an unlimited expense account and a most favored relationship with Fitzsimmons. The testimonial dinner Sunday night was widely regarded as a prelude to that appointment. The men in the blue jackets directed the arriving guests to a large hall on the hotel's lower level and stood sternly at the doors, fingering their ties, a watchful tension evident in their faces. Inside, the guests—whose dress ranged from the denim leisure suits of New Jersey shop stewards to the tuxedos worn by the lieutenants of the union's vice presidents—were crowded around two bars and a vast table laden with hors d'oeuvres.

Some men came with wives or women friends, but the women, for the most part, sat at tables around the room. The men talked among themselves, the greeting friends from around the country, or talking to fellow Teamsters with whom they preceded the dinner. The men in Hoboken or Bayonne or Jersey City also among the crowd were executives, some of the biggest trucking firms, who purchased blocks of tickets for the event—"in the interest of good labor relations," as one of them put it.

"Yes, you might say it's sort of a command performance," said the vice president of one transportation company, who asked not to be identified. "Every trucking outfit in New Jersey has someone with the high command of the union, including Provenzano and Fitzsimmons stayed away from the cocktail party hostility. Nevertheless, when the lights dimmed in the hall and an announcement was made instructing the guests to move to the ballroom upstairs for dinner, a reporter was allowed to enter—an opportunity that provided a sobering and sometimes awesome glimpse of Teamsters celebrating the gathering and was the way Teamsters like to regard with extreme think of themselves.
