Miss Kate Elkin has been visiting Miss Lizzie Elkin for several days.

The pleasant face of I. A.
Boys peeped in at our door last Friday.

Plain envelopes, tablets and pencils for sale at the post office.

Turnips and turnip greens and get all you want—free.

W. S. Elkin, the rustler of Grovesville, is off to Canyon after his winter supply of coal. He looks ahead.

Harvesting is the order of the day. Everybody seems to be in a rush to get their big crops in before frost.

The young folks enjoyed a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hart last Friday night.

Quite a crowd was out to church last Sunday, but, as usual, we were disappointed by the non-appearance of the preacher.

J. C. Bowles left for Canyon last Saturday. He says he is going to have a fire for his wife to warm by when winter comes.

I do wonder what the gin company at Lubbock thinks about the grist mill and feed crusher? If other counties do Lubbock's grinding, she is going to lose some trade.

Will and the Professor have gone to the Strip again.
Gee whiz! but don't they like to go there? I wonder if anything else is going to happen. It's Strip in their work, Strip in their eating and Strip in their dreams.

By the john-browns, if Lubbock does not get out of the bog hole, Grovesville will get the railroad and grist mill, too; then you'll be in a fix. But I've dun tole yer t'opin yer eyes an' see wat yer gwine git up ferninst!

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for the post offices out in the country to get phone connection with Lubbock. If we needed a doctor we could get one in half the time.
Then, if we needed anything from the store, we could just phone the merchant to send it out on the stage. (then fool them by not paying for it).

SHADY.

House Flies and Typhoid.

Of all the pests there are none so common, so numerous and so diseasespreading as the houseflies. People have become so accustomed to this little enemy that little is ever thought concerning the injury done so silently. The housefly causes as many funeral processions as any other one cause in the land. Sometimes the housefly is looked upon as an innocent scavenger, a blessing rather than a curse, but the mistake concerning the good that the housefly does is that its habits and offences are not known. Out of a possible 100 cases of typhoid fever the common housefly can claim 60 per cent as his own work.

The fly is fond of all putridness and places where germs abide there also is the housefly found, for the germ of any and all diseases is the accompaniment of filth and decay. The favorite resort and food of the fly is found about stables. A stable near a dwelling is as filthy arrangement as a human could bring about him, for there will be the housefly hatchery and back and forth from kitchen to barn the flies daily go, now on the food for the table, now on the refuse of the stable. The typhoid germ breeds and thrives in various excrement, especially about outhouses.
One uncared for outhouse near a kitchen is a death trap for the family of human beings that eat in the dining room. The fly enters the kitchen with typhoid germs clinging to its feet and soon these germs are deposited here and there in the food on the dining table or in the kitchen. The germ finds lodgement in the system of some member of the family and typhoid is the result—perhaps death.
An epidemic of the disease often follows a single case because the excreta was not cared for, left where the flies could become loaded with germs, return to the house and inoculate food and water wherever they settled.
Decaying fruit is not, by any means, exempt from typhoid germs.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1905.

Could not some one be induced to put in a telephone exchange at this place? It would be quite a convenience, as well as a paying investment.

We suggest that the gin be started up within the next few weeks and see if it is in good repair. If not, then it can be repaired before the ginning season begins.

Our Grovesville correspondent calls the attention of our merchants to the fact that we need a grist mill in this town. He is correct when he states that if the people are compelled to go elsewhere to mill, that Lubbock will lose trade.
This proposition should be given due consideration.

Don't the trustees think that it would be to the interest of all concerned to have the well at the school house repaired and a small windmill erected over it? If the trustees were bothered by school children coming to their places after water, they would attend to this at once.

Richard Walsh, manager of the J A ranch, reports a rather costly experiment at killing loco on the ranch, says the Clarendon Banner-Stockman. He was trying a concoction advertised extensively as a sure cure for Johnson grass and weeds, using the stuff around the ranch headquarters for the extermination of these pests.
He obtained good results, and it occurred to him that if it would kill weeds it would have a like effect on loco. Accordingly it was tried on a patch of that weed and the effect was beautiful.
The loco disappeared like magic. The cattle in the pasture found the spot, however, and there was something very much to their liking in the stuff for they ate up the dirt all around where the mixture was applied. The result was the death of five head of cattle.
Needless to say the experiment was immediately called off. Mr. Walsh says he was emboldened to try the experiment by the fact that the stuff was advertised to be armless in its effect on man or beast.

The Greatest Yet.

The West Texas Fair to be held at Abilene, September 26 to 30, is a West Texas proposition and all people of this section are cordially invited to co-operate with the people of Abilene to make it a great success.

The indications are now that it is going to be very much the best entertainment of the kind ever seen in our part of the state.

Nearly every county in the West will be represented in the agricultural and live stock departments, and that will mean a great big advertisement along the proper lines of the resources of this part of Texas.

Lovers of fast horses have a rich, rare treat in store, as about forty of the best horses in the South and West are booked to be on hand, and the directors promise that every race shall be clean and honest.

The 27th will be farmers and labor union day, speeches on the ground will be made by distinguished officers of the State Farmers Union and some of the strongest Labor Union leaders in the state.

The 28th will be Abilene day, when Senator Bailey and all the candidates for governor will be expected to make talks.

The 29th will be fraternal order day and many noted orators will be present.

The general admission fee will be only 25c, and the railroads have announced special rates to and from Abilene.

Exhibits Wanted.

The Avalanche wishes to get a selection of farm products to be placed on exhibition at the Dallas Fair. We would be glad that any and all who have nice samples will bring them in by the 20th of October, and we will ship them to Dallas free of expense to you. We wish samples of the following:

Six ears best corn, June and other kinds.
Best wheat, ½ bushel.
Best oats, ½ bushel.
Best onions, ½ bushel.
Best sweet and Irish potatoes, ½ bushel each.
Exhibit of fruit, all kinds.
Exhibit of best beets.
Exhibits of maize, kaffir corn, sorghum, cotton, broom corn, etc.

Would be glad to have the names of parties who expect to furnish samples. Varieties that are quick to perish, we would suggest that you bring them about Oct. 18 or 19th.
