

TRACTOR FARMING IN BAILEY COUNTY BECOMES MORE POPULAR WHILE HORSE AND MULE SLIP FROM FIELDS OF USE

That Bailey county farmers are rapidly changing from horse and mule farming to that of the tractor type is clearly evident from the number of tractors now being operated in this political subdivision. An estimate based largely upon statistics furnished by implement dealers indicates there are now at least 200 tractors being operated by the agriculturists of Bailey county, the most of them having been purchased during the past two years.

Statistics furnished by the Bailey county tax assessor indicate that horses and mules in this county are gradually diminishing in numbers. Clearly the horse and mule has become a relic of the past, when the rest of the world trotted along at about the same pace. The chugging, purring tractor has superseded the equine that once proudly pranced in his master's barnyard.

"The world do move" and the progressive farmers of this section are keeping pace with the movement. They have long ago learned that an idle horse in the barnyard is about as profitable as an idle farm hand sleeping in the hay mow; that horses must be fed daily whether they work or not, and while the tractor is idle it is costing nothing to care for it.

But perhaps the biggest reason for substituting the tractor is to be found in the demand for larger and more rapid results in farming activities. It means greater volume of production per man, and consequently a better chance of larger net income. This, in turn, gives a greater purchasing power to the tractor farmer, and further results in developing larger areas of unutilized land, adding material wealth to the community, county and state.

Practically all horse drawn farming implements used in this section require four horse teams, the tractor will easily handle implements of the same and even larger size and more economically. Indeed, it is surprising in the uninitiated how many farmers in this section are using five and six row cultivators, while the disc harrows often run to nine and ten feet in length. Conclusive experiments made by farmers using both horses and tractors are invariably in favor of the tractor as producing more work and doing it more economically, as well as more rapidly and a greater variety of it.

The day of the horse in Bailey county has not yet entirely gone. There will be horses and mules used for many years yet to come. But practically every farmer who is able to do so is stepping into the tractor type of farming as rapidly as he can.

He was greatly impressed with the development that had transpired here since he moved away, remarking that he had not "burned the bridges behind him," and might be moving back some day. While here he paid his respects to the Journal renewing his subscription.

T. A. Miller and Wayne Eskridge, of Newport, last Tuesday purchased 80 acres each of fine valley land in the shallow water belt through R. L. Brown local realtor. They plan starting immediate improvement of their recently purchased farm land, and hope to be ready to move on their places by the first of December. Their purchases here followed an extensive investigation of several sections in West Texas, and they were well convinced of the superior merits of the Bailey county land before they left Muleshoe.

She Rejoices Over Wonder Relief From Indigestion—Happy To Endorse New Medicine.

MRS. ALMA WEBSTER

"I had stomach trouble for a year and a half," said Mrs. Alma Webster, 5017 Avenue R., Galveston. "Each meal brought pain for my food was not properly digested. Gas formed after every meal at times making me very ill. There were many things I did not dare eat because of the condition of my stomach."

"I kept reading in the papers about Konjola and what it was doing for so many people that I began the treatment. Konjola has so improved my condition that I have not had a sleep nor dizzy spell since I began taking the medicine. I can eat anything I wish without fear of subsequent misery. I am improved in general health and am happy to endorse this medicine because of what it has done for me."

Others do not have long to wait after taking Konjola before relief comes. However, a six to eight bottle treatment is suggested for the average case. Konjola is sold in Muleshoe, Texas at Collins Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

MOTTOES

Under the glass top of the desk of an interesting New Yorker I saw a bit of white paper with these words.

"The dog barks, but the caravan passes on."

Taken in connection with the man's character and career, the sentence is revealing.

He has been barked at plenty, but he has proceeded. He has done his work, built a great enterprise, created employment for thousands of people. The barking long since became faint and very far behind.

The First National Bank of New York is presided over by a white whiskered gentleman of more than eighty, named George F. Baker. When his name gets into the newspapers it is usually because some stock in which he is known to hold a large interest has advanced a hundred points in a week and added several million dollars to his fortune.

A friend of mine visited the bank on business, and came back with this sentence:

"The vision to see them; the courage to buy them; the patience to hold them."

Whether it came from Mr. Baker or not, it is his philosophy, and the secret of his fortune.

In Boston there is another old man, perhaps the most unselfish human being I have ever known. His whole life has been devoted to service to the city's poor, and the look in his eyes is a benediction. I asked him once whether he is worried about the future. "You give away all you earn," I said. "What will you live on when you are old to work?"

For answer he pulled a slip of paper out of his pocketbook, and passed it over to me.

"Trust in the Lord and do good. So shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed."

That, he said, is a promissory note from the Owner of the Universe. On that promise he has lived for seventy years, and he has confidence that it will continue to be good.

Each of these three men has continued in the world a long time, and paid a price for experience. Each is quite different from the others. Yet, from their three mottoes one might evolve something in the way of a philosophy.

"If you are going to do anything you must expect criticism, but it's better to be a doer than a critic. The doer moves the critic stands still, and is passed by."

"You must believe in something—in yourself, in the country, in God. You must have courage to back that belief with your money and your life and patience to wait for fulfillment."

"This is old stuff, you say. And I answer that everything important is old stuff. Love is old. Building a home is old stuff. Becoming a father is old stuff."

But all old things are thrillingly new as each man discovers them for himself.

Change Society Name

The Union Missionary society met Monday with Mrs. Parker with eight members present. A very interesting lesson was discussed from our Bible study.

During a business session of the society it was decided to take our play "A Southern Cinderella," to Y. L. community Friday night, Sept. 19. It was also decided to change the name of our society to "Home Missionary Society." On our next meeting day our president will fill out names of those present and put names in a capsule for members to draw and it is urged that all old members as well as new ones be present.

Don't forget that first Monday in October is the day we elect new officers and urge you all to be present on that day. We meet next week with Mrs. Fenton in our regular business and social, with Mrs. M. S. Parker and Mrs. C. C. Stovall as hostesses.

HT FOR THE WEEK
I say unto you that even one of these—Matt. 6:23.

FOR BETTER TIMES
The weather, the chief topic of conversation around Muleshoe come about since Wall street went down. We read a lot on the subject, of it can be set down as the ing to point the way to better times.

of the South Plains country is the "hard times" area, yet the such conditions elsewhere is less felt here. But at all times are frequently as much a condition as a physical one.

I ago this statement ap-ther fellow can pay his. Buy er you can afford and pay cash it as far as you can. This will put y into circulation, and are the everyone in the community

uld do if they want to make condiions better, or if they want to keep n from growing worse.

IT'S FALL BUSINESS TIME
ope this year may not be quite up par, but there will be more money circulation within the coming 60 days than the average citizen now expects, and fall and winter buying will be begun. Folks must have numerous articles of wearing-apparel for the coming seasons, and most of them will have the money to pay them.

It is now up to the Muleshoe business men to make known to the buying public what may be had at their stores.
The stores in other and nearby larger towns are already bidding for the business of this section, and, as the seasons advance, they will be bidding for their advertising matter is ing prepared and some of it ing over the county. Unless conducted by local appeal nothing else may be expected, but that thousands of dollars that should remain in this town will go elsewhere for purchases.

There is more business in Muleshoe today than there ever was before, but it is being operated on somewhat of a different basis—something of a cafeteria plan. It is a case of help yourself, and the business man who now sits around waiting for "table service" is going to be doomed to disappointment.
It is the fellow who goes out after business that gets the returns. The waiters and waiters are now on their way to "fill" its the doers who get results.
The business man, no matter his line, claims there is no business, is not going to get any business. It is the man who is constantly up on his toes striving for business that gets it.

GET A PAY ROLL
With the inestimable assets surrounding Muleshoe there is no reason why within the coming months there should not be a good payroll establishment here in Muleshoe. It is now a notable fact that the industries are treck-ing toward the small town. With an electric service as may be obtaining in any large city, with an abundant supply of gas ready for service within a few months, with an installation of pure water lying only a few miles underground, with the necessary facilities, and other favorable conditions, Muleshoe should not be bidding for industries to establish themselves in our midst.

The citizens who are now taking the lead in securing such industries in this town are to be commended. Right now there is an opening for a canning factory, a peanut factory, a broom factory, a cheese factory or creamery; there are are openings here for other lines of business not competitive with those already represented here—all of which could be started off on a money-making basis.
A steady pay roll occasioned by the establishment of various industries here would stabilize the business as well as increase it, and be much aid in further development of the town as well as the surrounding country.

TRAMP SALESMEN
This newspaper is always a strong advocate for the partitioning of home industries, yet every few days some traveling salesman or street faker is discovered within our city limits vending his wares and taking the money from us forever.

Far better would it be for our people to patronize home dealers whose advertisements may be found in their local newspaper, and who are always ready and willing to make anything perfectly satisfactory to their customers.

Hard times in some families around Muleshoe were unknown until someone wanted a better car than their neighbors.

It has been our observation that the quietest event in most any Muleshoe home is Dad's birthday.

"I've always felt sorry for Adam and Eve," says Rev. Joiner. "They are the only two people I ever heard of who didn't have a chance to talk about the good old days."

There are several married men in Muleshoe who would feel terribly crushed if they knew the kind of husbands their wives thought they were getting.
We suspect there are also a few cases where the rule would work the other way.

We are willing to bet our bottom dime that some of these Muleshoe folks who are always pinning for the good old days never pulled the belicord over an old lop-eared mule up and down the cotton rows for 50 cents a day.

Cecil Tate, who has always been noted as a close observer, raises the question as to why some women would rather find out secrets for themselves than to be told.

A certain Muleshoe citizen who has a penchant for absent mindedness, and who is also a little touchy about having his name in print, was given a letter to read by his wife the other day.
He noted it was dated October

"What's the idea of dating this letter two weeks ahead of time," asked the hubby. "I'm giving it to you to mail," she replied, without cracking a smile.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK
By Edson R. Waite
THAT newspaper advertising is the only worth while kind to get quick action and the greatest returns for your investment.

THAT the amount of business done by any concern depends largely upon the amount of advertising they do.
THAT business competition is back and it is back strong, and the merchant, manufacturer or jobber who expects to get ahead nowadays has got to fight for business and fight hard.

THAT any business that expects new business must ADVERTISE.
THAT any concern that expects to keep the business it now has must keep advertising.

THAT publicity is all powerful—newspaper advertising is best.
THAT advertising has power—the business that advertises leads; the non-advertiser only trails along in a rut all the time.

THAT stores that are ready at all times to meet the demand for durability, quality and reliability let the people know! THEY ADVERTISE!
Stores should be well lighted; it adds much to their attractiveness.

The soft, lulling glow of the well lighted stores gives a restful, enchanting feeling to the buyers.

Permanency
Everything looks permanent and easily lost.—Ralph Waldo

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND
It takes as much patriotism to live for one's country as to die for it.
A traitor to the flag is one who sacrifices the common weal to his personal weal.
Patriotism for our country may easily descend to late-riotism toward other countries.
They who forget to honor their protectors soon have no honor worth protecting.
Patriotism is as a sort of religion with good men, and a pious palaver in the mouths of scoundrels.
Patriots are the lighted torches who illuminate the pathways of liberty.

35,000 Is On Buildings Amarillo Fair

Sept. 16—Nearly $35,000 spent within the past year for buildings and improvements at Fair Grounds, Pres. J. Hawk of the Fair association. Of this amount, $25,000 was put to 40-foot extension buildings and the other $10,000 was for the many Fair buildings which plan to be bigger than ever this fall.

offered by the Fair during the big week of Sep. 22 to 27. This week the Fort Worth and Denver, Santa Fe and Rock Island railroads all announced special reduced rates during Fair week. Some of these rates are as low as one and one-fifth the regular fare for a round trip. From a humble beginning as "just another fair," the great Tri-State exposition, under Mr. Hawk's capable direction has grown until it is second and a close second at that—only to the State Fair of Texas. Every official, every department head and everyone connected in any way with the fair promises that the 1939 event will surpass any previous Tri-State Fair.

BAPTIST REVIVAL DEFERRED TO BEGIN SUNDAY MORNING

Early Sowing of Fall Grain Crop Is Urged By Extension Service Expert

By A. E. MILLER, Agronomist, Extension Service A. and M. College of Texas.

Do not neglect to sow a small grain crop this fall. Oats, barley, rye and wheat are valuable for winter pasture and cover crops over a large part of Texas, and will go a long way in reducing the feed bill, particularly when the drought ruined the feed crop. Every farmer who has any livestock should sow one of these crops for grazing purposes, if he lives in a section where small grains will grow, and even in case no livestock is to be grazed, these crops will serve the very useful purpose of cover crops to keep the land from washing away and to take up and hold the available plant food, especially nitrogen which might otherwise be leached out.

Should Sow Grain Early
For grazing purposes, the grain should be sown early, preferably by the middle of September, since the experience of farmers is very conclusive that the early sown grain is the most profitable, as it furnishes a good deal more grazing than late-sown crops. Small grain pasture, when planted early will be the means of saving a good many dollars in food.

sorghum rows with a small grain drill, or the seed may be broadcast and then covered with a fine tooth onerow cultivator, harrow or some other form of scratcher or plow. For grazing purposes, at least 75 to 90 pounds of small grain seed should be sown per acre. Thick seeding furnishes more grazing than thin seeding. It is still better to add 15 or 20 lbs. of hairy vetch seed (inoculated) per acre.

Tells How to Treat Seed
If a grain or hay crop is desired the oat and barley seed should be sprayed with a formaldehyde solution at the rate of one pint of formaldehyde to 5 gallons of water to prevent smut. This amount will be sufficient to treat 40 bushels of seed. The seed should be sprayed with a solution and shoveled over two or three times, then placed in a pile and covered with a wagon sheet for several hours. On account of the small amount of the solution, the seed will be ready to plant after they have been treated, without drying.

For wheat smut the copper carbonate treatment is used. This method consists in placing the wheat in a tight container which should be so arranged that it can be revolved on its axis. From 2 to 3 ounces of powdered copper carbonate per bushel should be sprinkled on the seed and the container then thoroughly revolved so that every seed will be covered with the powder.

There were 25 Freshmen present.—Freshman Reporter.

Time to Be Young

Our sense is partially atrophied from disuse, but it is still alive, at least in old people, who alone, as a class, have the time to be young. One needs only to be old enough in order to be as young as one will.—Henry Adams.

Uses Tail as Anchor

The sea-horse differs from all other fish in having a tail that can be twined around stems and used to anchor the fish to a certain spot.

PARENT-TEACHERS WILL HOLD MEETING EVERY TWO WEEKS

KIWANIS CLUB WOULD BACK CANNING FACTORY PROJECT

Sterling C. Evans, district manager of the Extension Department, A. & M. college was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis club held Wednesday noon. He spoke in unstinted praise of the virtues of Bailey county land, and of the untold wealth yet to be realized from the irrigation section. He also commended to the citizens Mr. Reynolds, the county farm agent, who begins his work here this week.

E. R. Hart discussed the trip to Portales last Tuesday and urged upon the citizenry active steps toward securing a canning factory here. Other visitors speaking were Neal Rocky, Theo. Collins Sheriff Douglass and W. R. Koen.

LANDLORD HIRELINGS QUICKLY GAIN A COMPETENCE IN THIS LAND OF PEACE AND PLENTY

Frequent crop failures, paying high taxes on high priced land, and living amid malaria and miasma cannot well help being attracted to a country of health and abundance where land is highly productive and is still cheap. It is not reasonable to think that anyone would persist in remaining a hireling to some landlord when, in this country after a few years of earnest labor and frugal living, he may own land, be his own boss and become looked upon as a gentleman of means and influence.

There are plenty of people out here who, back east had their "noses to the grindstone," but now are owners of a fine body of land, ranging from 160 to 640 acres. They are gradually getting nicely improved. They have nice, sleek stock, big stacks of feed, good teams, a tractor or two and, a bank account. They don't have to crop on the shares anymore. They don't need the landlord to stake them for the season's grub. They don't have to give chattel mortgages and waive homestead rights. No, none of these! They are today men-of-means, their every pulse quickened with ambition, their every energy fired with determination, their very soul thrilled with the sense of real living.

Muleshoe and Bailey county have plenty of this kind of people in their territory. There is yet room for more—and they are coming, coming every day. There is still more land here to be acquired, but it is not going to last long. It's a case of first come, first served.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PROGRAM

The meeting of the Epworth League next Sunday will be of a special missionary nature; also, pledge night. Miss Myrtis Burkhead is leader.

"Last Year's Record," Miss Opal Jean Haney.

"Spiritualizing Our Gifts," Miss Beth Mardis.

All young people are extended an invitation to attend.

UNLOAD PHONE MATERIAL

Material is this week being unloaded here by the State Telephone Co., for the construction of a new toll line from Muleshoe to Earth, also three rural lines running out from this place. Construction is to begin at once.

The completion of these new lines will be a great convenience to the business interests of the people in the newly served sections.

NUTTY NATURAL HISTORY
 BY HUGH HUTTON

THE GUATEMALAN GOOT

DUE to the prohibition of malted milks in Yucatan, the export dairy business of Guatemala would have failed if some enterprising Guat had not thought of domesticating the wild goot. The goots, being intensely angered at anything purple, were put in a field of purple cows. Having a peanut head, the goot rushes at the cow and butts. When the cows have had enough, the field hands drive out the goots and collect the peanut butter, which is bottled and shipped in large quantities to this country.

As we said before, the head is a peanut, as is the body. The feet are also peanuts, after having been shucked and split. The tail and horn are cloves, the neck and legs tooth-picks, and popcorn too young to be popped do for the ears.
