LUBBOCK TO HAVE COUNTY FAIR

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DETERMINES IN THAT DIRECTION AT A MEETING LAST WEEK

WILL SEND AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT TO OTHER FAIRS

Farmers Should Co-Operate With the Committee in Getting Together a Magnificent Display of all Kinds of Farm, Orchard and Garden Produce

In the Chamber of Commerce column this week will be found an article relative to a county fair in this county, and it is a magnificent move. It means a great deal for the town and the country surrounding Lubbock. It means stimulation to the agricultural interests of this section of the country, and will place Lubbock before the people in a most favorable light. Every farmer, gardener and producer of any farm, garden or orchard product in this county should enter into the work in a most enthusiastic manner. It will mean much to you.

In connection with this we reproduce an article from the Texas Bankers Record on the making of a county fair, which we deem helpful in the beginning of ours. While there are features there in that we believe should be eliminated, still as a whole it is good and it might be well for us to read it over carefully:

HOW TO OPERATE A SUCCESSFUL ONE

(Bankers everywhere in Texas are interested in county fairs—events at least once a year to bring all the farming citizens to town. Brenham is noted for her festival; this year to be held Oct. 7, 8, 9 and 10. No better authority is there on the subject of successfully operating a county fair than C. L. Wilkins, cashier of the First National Bank, Brenham. Below are extracts from a letter written by Mr. Wilkins to Jo Wilmeth of Ballinger, upon the latter inquiring about the management of the Brenham Fair, and county fairs in general. Read it, Mr. Texas Banker and organize a fair in your community.—The Editor.)

Let it be understood that the fair is a permanent institution in the beginning. We had our merchants and business men take stock and no one took more than $100, and this capital gave the ready cash to begin operations upon. We took the premium lists of other county fairs and of the Dallas Fair, and endeavored to reach a medium between the two consistent with our prospective means and adjusted to meet the local conditions. Then we sent the young men of the city out every night to the rural school houses, where they held meetings with the farmers and made their speeches urging them to co-operate by making exhibits, and getting them enthused with the idea that the County Fair was to be their institution for the exchange of ideas, their clearing house, and a common place for them to come annually to know what the man from one end of the county was doing and how he was doing his work, and then to exhibit the best his year's labor had given him from the soil in competition with his fellow farmer's efforts, and the winner to take the prize that was based on what it actually cost to make the exhibit. The farmers, like the city men, have some people among them who always insist that if they win a prize they will not get the money, and your campaign must be based upon the fact that you have the prize money posted, the first year, to instill the required confidence of the farmer into the future of the fair.

DALLAS SETS THE EXAMPLE
The fair has been a paying investment, and the farmer is sufficiently shrewd to know this as he notes the crowds and the general receipts as a whole. You must therefore do as we have done, and we gained our idea from the example set by the great Dallas Fair—we make no dividends for the stockholders, but put every penny back into permanent improvements on the permanent fair grounds and into the next fair. As soon as the farmer understands that the fair is not for individual gain he is a firm friend of the institution, and it will come to him as an annual event, not only for himself, but for his family, as well as his entire neighborhood. He is perfectly willing for you town people to run it and do the work, if you are not making dividends for yourself by the operation, and he will lend his aid toward this end and become a better believer in the virtues of the city business man, and this is the goal, or one of them, toward which you must always work with the farmer to insure his patronage and his aid in the general upbuilding of the community.

The great work of the fair is its competition among the farmers, and when this is accomplished you will find better land tilling, deeper plowing, better seed selection, in short, complete support of a demonstration agent, and when you gain this point you will find your farmers with surplus cash that needs investing, and if you have gained his confidence through the original fair you will be able to enlist his cash and his earnings in financing factories and other industries that are needed for the general prosperity of any community.

Do you know that this county has for years spent on the local market a little more than $200,000 for horses and mules to be used on our county farms? A little competition in the live stock department among the farmers who were breeding colts has caused this year the largest crop of colts in the history of this county, and above all the sentiment is growing. As I see the situation now, in the course of a few years, as these colts grow into maturity, and the farmer begins to sell off his surplus live stock, instead of the constant drain from the county of this $200,000, now sent to the Missouri and the Kansas mule grower by the Texas farmer, will remain in our community. When we have obtained this end we are going to give the entire credit to the demonstration agent and the county fair.

FAIRS STIMULATE INTEREST
Before the county fair the farmers were intent upon crops only. The hog industry was dead. A little competition among the few remaining growers spread to the adjacent farms and now the hog industry is gaining as much importance as is the cotton industry. We have allowed the farmers to pay a bit too much for their meat, and have it shipped in here from the great pork producing centers in the Middle Western States for the upbuilding and enriching of that section, rather than our own county. Within another year the supply of packing house products annually consumed in this county will be reduced by 50 per cent. The same is true of the cattle industry, and fresh beef had gotten so high here that it was almost at a prohibitive price.

Just here I want to tell you that the poultry end of the fair is as great a success as is the other end, for the old "Junk-hill" rooster is giving way to a standard bred chicken that is more prolific, better layers, weigh more when sold and cost less time and money for their upkeep. One farmer told me a few weeks ago that until the county fair he usually had around seventy-five hens. He learned out there why he only got about three dozen eggs per day—for an enterprising farmer from the west end of the county had shown him that hens with spurs and scales on their legs did not lay. He caught up thirty of this class and sold them in April, and still he got the same number of eggs, which indicated to him that he was feeding thirty non-producing hens. He learned this from a fellow farmer, and it made a greater impression upon him than had he been told this by any man from town. Since our poultry industry has taken such strides, our farmers are now stocking up with bronze turkeys that weigh fifteen pounds on the market, as against the average of nine pounds by the common turkeys, and the labor and the cost of their raising is no more. It is these numerous little economies in the farmer's life that the business men of the city must teach him in a practical way that means the future growth of the farmer into the business life of our state, and which is a condition that must obtain before our farmers can compare in wealth and prosperity, and like wise our own city institutions grow with him, when matched with the farmer of the older states. There is nothing that reaches him as does his fair, where he is the main character before the public eye. And do you know, it is not mistreating him or his confidence to lead him out this way, but rather is it that process giving him what he needs to make his life a success rather than giving him what he asks for or wants.

THERE MUST BE A RACE TRACK
If you contemplate a county fair, secure a plot of ground large enough for a race track and build on it. Let the country boy run his horses against the horses of other country boys rather than against the circuit horses until you have established a permanent interest, and then he will take care of the circuit horse. There is sufficient of the "sport" in every one of us to cause us to "bet" a dollar on any race that is ever run, and this is the interest that makes the fair a success.

Do not overlook the fact that the things that are in his everyday life will grow dull and commonplace if he has no other attractions than those offered by the farmers. Have your merchants buy exhibit space in your exhibit hall, and place their wares and products on exhibition. Our furniture men, agricultural implement dealers, etc., all have spaces of 500 and 600 square feet, and they keep men out there to take orders, and these sales and their profits are far in excess of the cost of making the exhibit, even if it is not considered by the slow merchant as an advertising feature.

FURNISH MIDWAY ATTRACTIONS
Do not fail to give them a "Midway" for the balloon man, the snake charmer, ballet dancers, etc., with the live spieters are needed to furnish the life and the excitement to keep us all awake for three or four days. Get a good band and furnish the public with good, wholesome music and concerts in the grounds all the time, and the fair will be a success from its inauguration. In a few years you will find that there is an era of better feeling and more money, and you will then appreciate, as we do now, the county fair's value to you.

I want to say in conclusion that you must have your business men look ahead of the first year, look for the indirect returns, if they make a success of the fair. Do not count the returns from the sales to visitors to the city as results of the fair as individual investments. You will attract some outside people the first year, and your merchants, some of them at least, will tell you that the hotels and cafes are the only ones that profit by the fair. You realize, as do all broad-minded business men, that it is the indirect return that counts, hence, when that class of business men hold back, let them alone, and they will soon come to you.—Texas Bankers Record.

Mrs. A. W. Craig and little Miss Blanche Crosser, who visited at the home of Mrs. B. M. Johnson, near Hale Center, last week, returned home Thursday.

LEGISLATIVE ECHOES

A Few Hints as to What is Going on in the Special Session of Texas Representatives

Senator J. C. McNealus, Dallas, declared that he would introduce a resolution to call a Constitutional Convention in Texas.

Former Senator W. O. Murrey, Wilson County, has been appointed business manager of the State Penitentiaries, by Gov. Colquitt. His salary is set at $3,000 per year.

Representative Williams of McLennan and Senator Darwin, both have blue sky law bills to introduce as soon as the Governor submits the subject.

The House has rushed the Judiciary Appropriation Bill to the Senate, the final passage being 113 to 3. The bill carries more than $1,000,000 a year in appropriations.

The Administration Bill, by Kirby, has been reported unfavorably, while the Kennedy-Bill, relating to the same subject, has met with approval. The Kennedy Bill provides that the winning candidate for Senator must get a majority of votes cast, and his expenses shall not exceed $5,000.

The resolution by Westbrook to allow the members of the Senate to work in shirt sleeves was lost by a vote of 18 to 3.

Speaker Terrell is in favor of an appropriation that will provide for at least $150,000 to build a new home for the blind at Austin.

According to the Fort Worth Record, Governor Colquitt will be a candidate for U. S. Senator, to succeed Culberson, in the event he retires. It is also reported that J. W. Bailey will be a candidate for Governor, opposing Lane and Hanger who have already announced.

Representative Jordan, McLennan, is considering a resolution for an investigation of the Magnolia Oil suit, in which a compromise of $500,000 was accepted by the State. The original penalties asked were $103,000,000.

Governor Colquitt has entered a bill providing that the $500,000 Magnolia fine will be used to retire 3 per cent refunding bonds issued in 1910.

Senator Lattimore, Tarrant, wants the Governor to submit the liquor question, so that a bill may be considered prohibiting social clubs from dispensing liquor.

Mrs. J. E. Sims of Clovis, N. M., mother of Mrs. J. E. Garrison arrived in our city Wednesday afternoon, and left Friday to visit two sons in Dallas from there she will go to Denison her old home place, then to Honey Grove and Paris before her return to Lubbock again.

County Judge Pink L. Parish, of Crosbyton came over Wednesday and left the same afternoon for Austin, where he goes to look after business matters and to regulate the speed of the Texas Legislature in special session at this time.

LUBBOCK COUNTY AND ELSEWHERE

THERE ARE NOT MANY PLACES THAT CAN SHOW BETTER CONDITIONS THAN THE LUBBOCK COUNTRY

BUSINESS NOT SO GOOD IN OTHER COMMUNITIES

Few Towns Show Building Activity as Does Lubbock, and Our Farmers Are More Prosperous and Improvements More Numerous Than Other Parts of West Texas

"Come to Lubbock", is not an idle expression of the Avalanche, but it is deep founded in as much as it is an invitation to the people to break away from the old rut and get into the highway of progress. Come to the country where the soil is productive and where the prairies are covered with a solid coat of the most luxuriant grasses that domestic animals ever wrapped their tongues around.

The Avalanche man had a little business to look after in some of the counties off the plains last week, and while away we were not sleeping all the time. We were taking notice of things and conditions and general surroundings and although probably no one saw us with our note book and pencil, still our thinking tank was being well filled.

We found business in the towns visited anything but brisk, and the volume of business done by the majority of the merchants and business firms would not compare in any way favorably with that of our merchants, in fact we were surprised to note the difference when we returned home—our people are going some compared with those in other places. Practically no improvements were noticed being made in the cities, in one place supposed to be about the same size of Lubbock, but our senior by more than a score of years, we were told that only one new residence had been built within the last twelve months and no business houses. Vacant houses were much in evidence and the people were discouraged. We do not write this to knock that country for we are not even going to publish where it was, but it is simply an unfortunate condition that the people as a whole cannot help, but it goes to show that though we sometimes complain, at the conditions here—we are in clover green, comparatively speaking.

The farmer is equally as badly engulfed—no crops for three years hence no improvements going on about the farms. Good rains however last week will make for them a bumper crop with few exceptions. We find that our farmers are in much better condition as is evidenced by the number of nice country residences that have been built this year, and the great number of new barns and silos that dot the country, and the immense amount of new farm machinery and other farm necessities that our business men send out.

Lubbock country is in the swim. We have no right to complain and we are very ungrateful if we let one murmur slip from our lips. We have one of the most pleasant climates, and the best all round country that the human race ever fell heir to, and we should wear a smile that is the offspring of contentment. Wear a "Come to Lubbock" badge in the shape of a smile and you will be in the proper class.

Spikes-Beard
At the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Spikes, Wednesday evening July 23, Mr. Earnest Beard and Miss Carrie May Spikes were united in marriage.

Miss Spikes is a Lubbock raised girl, and has a host of friends who join us in wishing for her a happy married life.

Mr. Beard is not so well known but is recommended to the public as a straight forward young man and he is to be congratulated upon his good choice as to his life companion.

Crops Looking Well

H. M. Bainer and J. L. Pope, of the Santa Fe, drove through the city Thursday afternoon on their way to Lubbock. They say that the crops are looking fine where they have been properly farmed. They are looking after the co-operators of the Santa Fe.—Randall County News.

Several petitions are being circulated in Taylor county asking the Commissioner's Court to order an election to permit the voters of the county to decide whether pool halls shall be permitted to do business in that county.—Sweetwater Reporter.

C. I. and T. J. Bedford were here Tuesday from Bronco, transacting business with our people.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Gough, of Crosbyton were over Saturday and were guests at the Howard Hotel.

Jno. P. Marrs, attorney of Post, was here Monday looking after business matters.

Mrs. F. E. Abney was registered at the Howard Hotel Friday of last week.

John McCrummen returned last Saturday from a visit to Cherokee county.

Rufe O'Keefe, of Plainview was here the first of the week, looking after business matters.

Information was received here this week that Mrs. H. N. Stone, who is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stone, at Seminole, is quite ill. She was sick last week, but had recovered sufficiently to be about, but was taken severely ill again Monday.

Four hundred thousand dollars is set aside for the erection and maintenance in York, Pa., of a home for aged and unmarried women of Pennsylvania under the will of Miss Anna L. Gardner, which was recently probated. Miss Gardner was the last of three unmarried sisters who lived in New York.

T. F. Lokey, who has been spending the past two weeks in Fort Worth and other places in that part of the state, returned home Saturday. He reports crop conditions in some sections very promising, but places will make almost a complete failure. The Lubbock country looks good to Mr. Lokey.

Without the assistance of the press the work of development is severely handicapped. Every time you stuff off your work from the Avalanche you hurt the town just that much.

Commercial visiting is a great stimulant to business. Our business men should visit their customers as much as possible. Trades excursions are not bad things for trade getters after all.

Every great city has at least one great paper. Lubbock has hers—the Avalanche. Come to Lubbock.

Miss Willie Burgess returned from Canyon Wednesday afternoon, where she had been attending the Summer Normal.

Noah Bell was here Saturday from Brownfield.

W. B. Patterson was here from Amarillo last Tuesday.

TOLERATION OF FILTH
Cleanliness means more than washing the hands and face and body. It means the keeping of one's surroundings free from influences which must taint the air we breathe, our food and our drink. Epidemics are not to be prevented without such cleanliness.

What a vast number of fatal ills, even at this day, when the virtue of cleanliness is more widely recognized than ever before, is due to toleration of filth.

Thousands on thousands of dwellers on farms, or in small villages in this country, permit dangerous nuisances about their premises—such as neglected vaults under the sleeping rooms, cellars unventilated and containing decaying vegetables and fruits, sink drains emptying close by doorways, stables too near the houses, or wells within filtering distance of stables.

The people who tolerate these nuisances only too often have to pay the penalty in typhoid and other fevers, diphtheria and filthy diseases of other kinds. In many country districts which should be almost perfectly healthy, fevers are shockingly prevalent, and generally they are traceable to domestic nuisances of this kind.

If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper. Don't grunt, growl or grumble. Say a good word for him and let it go at that. Don't be a knocker. Your turn will come. No one man is the show. If you see that the town is moving along nicely, feel good about it. Help things along, shove a little. Try to get some of the benefit yourself. Don't stand around like a chilly old cadaver. Don't waste our time feeling sore because some fellow has a little more sand and sense than you have. Do a little hustling yourself. Don't be a knocker.

There is a postoffice ruling which imposes a fine of $500 or a year's imprisonment on anyone who through carelessness or otherwise takes mail from the postoffice not belonging to him and fails to return it immediately. This applies to newspapers as well as letters. To say it's the postmaster's fault cuts no figure under the ruling. Better look over your mail before leaving the office.

The study of hospitality should be the first lesson of the commercial secretary for in no other way can you create such a good impression as through appropriate entertainment. All of Lubbock should join hands with our secretary of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in bidding all good people welcome to our city.

Cities are man made, therefore when you educate the man you lay the cornerstone of a great municipality. Lubbock is looking after her educational interests nicely by having splendid schools and the co-operation of the patrons should be with the teachers.

The city and the farm man have so much in common that they should go hand in hand toward the goal of higher achievements. Mr. Farmer, come, be with us on Trades Day, get better acquainted.

The progressive city is destined to be the hotbed of commercial activity. This is the reason Miss Lubbock has so many callers. She is a warm number, when it comes to trading.

Publicity is the producer of prosperity. The successful business man advertises and a town to succeed must be advertised—tell about Lubbock.

The "C. Q. D." signal is given as a sign of distress at sea. Patronizing home industries will forestall this signal at home.

Our citizens should take pride in their homes. The word "home" next to that of "mother" is the most precious word in human tongue. What a refuge the home is when darkness gathers. How glad one is to get a glimpse of home when time and space have separated him from it only for a period. There seems to be a rivalry here in an effort to make "our home" look a little neater and thus be the more inviting to the occupants than all others. Such rivalry is certainly pardonable.

Have Your Way Brother

Mr. Hub Guinn of Lubbock county, came in last week to visit his mother, Mrs. R. H. Guinn and other relatives. Hub has only been here one week, but is looking much better even in that short time, and a few more weeks of this delightful climate will make him look and feel like a different man. If Hub could only—but if we dare to tell the truth that old jealous Avalanche will jump right straddle of our innocent and unsophisticated neck.—Rusk Press Journal.

Mr. Guinn has not expressed a desire to return to Rusk to live and he is a man that we consider open enough in his convictions to express himself on any question. But Lawdy Lawdy Journal in the name of the Governor of the State of Texas and the Penitentiary Reform don't never accuse us of being jealous. You would have to have something better than we before we could be jealous and you "haint" got it!

BY MRS. D. ROBINSON

(Delayed)

Honoring her guest, Miss Josephine Slade, of Amarillo, Miss Eddie Mae Phillips entertained a number of the younger set Tuesday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Hopkins. In the delightful game of Rook, Miss Alice Bledsoe won high score. Punch was served throughout the evening. Those present were Misses Slade, of Amarillo, Bruce Dixon, of Cleburne, Bernice Kimbro, Bernice Wolffarth, Fannie B. Carter, Ahee Bledsoe and Messrs. Scott Bledsoe and Waite Norris.

One of the most enjoyed parties given lately was the lawn party given by Mrs. V. E. Seitz and Mrs. W. H. Bledsoe, July 12. As the guests arrived they were ushered into Mrs. Bledsoe's spacious living room where delicious punch was served. When all had been served the guests found their places at the tables arranged on the lawn and the exciting game of "42" was begun. Enthusiasm ran high until a late hour when refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Messrs and Mesdames Cate, Sowder, Ed Robinson, Jim Robinson, D. Robinson, Kimbro, McWhorter, Taylor, Thomas, Wilson, Priest, Summers, Herbert Seitz, Norton, Carter, Hutchinson, Misses Rouse, Dixon, Phillips, Slade, Waterbury, Von Rosenberg, Mrs. Magruder and Messrs. Vernon Seitz, Lester and Klett.

The Merry Bidders entertained their husbands and a number of guests at Mrs. Schenck's handsome home July 11th. Graceful bowls of sweet peas and nasturtiums added their fragrance and vivid beauty to this charming affair. Sixteen games of "22" were played, Mrs.

Wright, Miss Rouse, Jim Robinson and Mr. Slaton all winning 13. Ice cream and cake was served before the game and punch was a refreshing diversion the entire evening. Misses Bernice Kimbro and Fannie B. Carter assisted the hostess. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Wright, Ed Robinson, Posey, McWhorter, Johnson, Fain, Title of Mt. Vernon, Thomas, Davidson, Benson, Kimbro, Robbins, Taylor, Downing, Jim Robinson, Cogby, Rush, Smith, Cate, S. O'Neal, C. L. Adams, McGee, Adkins, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Thomas, Misses Hall, Rouse, Abney, Wilkinson, Messrs. Royalty, Schenck, Rankin, C. Wright, Rutherford of Mt. Vernon.

Another splendid barn dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Boles, July 19th at their home, the Peerless Hereford ranch. The guests began to arrive shortly before sun down and were served to a fine supper of beef, bread, coffee, etc, under the spreading arms of magnificent trees. In the pens nearby Mr. Boles had a number of his thoroughbred cattle, to the delight of the crowd of westerners, who all like beautiful cattle. At 9:00 o'clock dancing began in the barn where a good floor, good music and a jolly crowd all made for one the very best of times. The hall was decorated with Peerless Hereford banners and our National flag. In the early morning hours the strains of "Home Sweet Home" were played and the guests departed with many thanks to their host and hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Boles are famous for their hospitality and the memory of this pleasure will be one of the dearest of memories by all who attended this delightful dance.

Mrs. R. A. Sowder entertained the bridge players at their regular Tuesday meeting. The usual number of interesting games were played. Mrs. S. P. Robbins winning high score. After the games their hostess served delicious sandwiches and refreshing ice tea to Mesdames Robbins, Merrill, Moody, Boerner, Thomas, Peebler, Brown, Slaton, Posey, Priest, Summers, Fain, McWhorter, Rush, Smith and Miss Waterbury.

This will be the most important water station on the line. The track has been laid to a point 7 miles northwest from here.

A. W. Discher, who has managed the A. G. McAdams Lumber Company yard since its installation in this place, has been transferred to Wylie, Texas. C. D. Hensley, who has been associated with the yard at Lubbock, is now in charge of this yard.

There is little use to call in a physician when you are sick if you do not expect him to use the very best of drugs. His treatment cannot have the desired effect if the medicine that he prescribes is not capable of doing the work that he expects of it, and your getting well will depend largely upon the drugs that he gives you. It is important then that you have the very best. Our prescription department is stocked with only that kind that does the work expected by the physician.

The Ross Ensilage Cutter

If you have a silo you should also have an ensilage cutter, or you can make good money by owning and operating one for the public. The Ross Cutter is highly recommended. You have read the more detailed description of it in previous ads, but we want you to call and let us explain every part of the machine. It is on exhibition in our store.

NO. 40 WITH BLOWER AND TRAVELING FEED TABLE

The knife on fly wheel type of Ross Silo Filling Machines with Blower have made a home for themselves with all their users. This is due to the fact that they possess the required strength and features to enable them to accomplish the work of filling silos in a way that brings comment from all. Realizing the fact that users of this class of goods expect more and more each year in the line of quality and quantity of work, we have added, for 1913, important features as described in the following, namely: Four sided reversible steel cutting plate, positive tension to the feeding rolls, special knife adjustment, self-aligning and adjustable main shaft bearings and roller shaft bearings, extra bearings for main shaft, special balanced main frame, etc.

We ask buyers to read the description of this line of Ross Machines very carefully and make any comparison they care to, and the result will be "I want a Ross."

We claim large capacity, excessive strength, simplicity and modern construction, ease in feeding, light running and in general, the BEST Ensilage Cutter on the market today of this type.

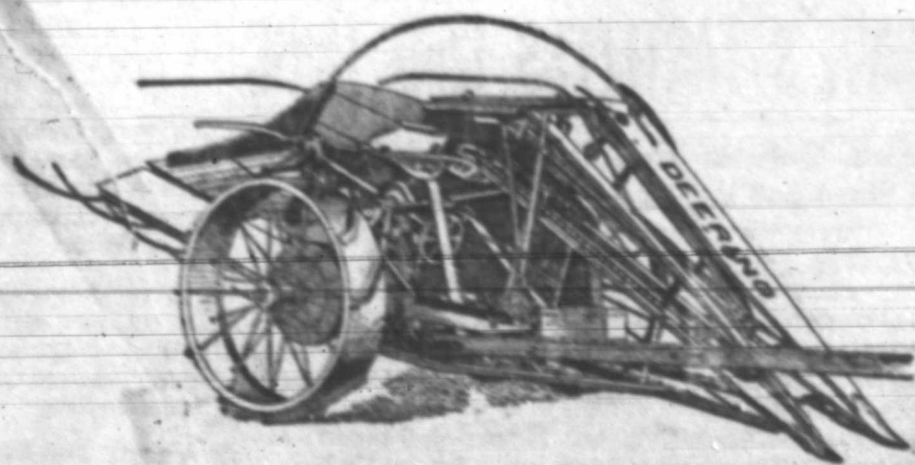

We are desirous of proving to the users of ensilage cutters that the Ross No. 40 machine is in a class by itself. We do not ask or want settlement until we prove the correctness of every claim made by us for the Ross Machines.

Special Claims for the Ross No. 40 Silo Filling Machine

When comparing this line of Ross machines, don't forget the following: Simple in construction, equipped with every feature of importance, strongly built, require less power per ton of capacity than all others. Capacity guaranteed to be larger than others operated by same amount of power. Positive feeding device with reverse mechanism. Extra heavy reinforced steel blower casing, indestructible Blowing and Cutting apparatus. Four sided steel cutting plate. Detachable traveling feed table with extra side feed table. STEEL MAIN FRAME instead of cast iron frame, self-aligning bearings, heavy main shafts, leather covered pulleys, combination toothed and fluted feed rollers with comb bar. Furnished with two or four knives as ordered. Patented shredder blades can be furnished and above all we guarantee these machines to be free from defects.

The Deering Row Binder

I am also selling the Deering Row Binder which is recognized by those who know to be among the very best on the market.

Deering Ideal Row Binder.

With the Deering Ideal Row Binder, the corn, maize or kafir can be bound like a sheaf of wheat, while it is in a horizontal position. This machine is built on the principle which has made the grain binder so successful. Inasmuch as stalks are not elevated in a vertical position, the power which would be required for this purpose on similar machines is reversed on the Ideal for cutting and binding. This binder operates in a highly successful manner, in all conditions of the crop. The construction and position of the gather boards are such that it is possible to get down under the stalks and bring them up in position for cutting.

Distribution of Power

There is an absence of chain belting on the Ideal Row Binder, the power being distributed from the main enclosed gears on the main wheel directly to the knife, the gatherer chains, and the binding mechanism. The main gear is encased in a solid cast frame which is attached to the main wheel.

If you are in the market for a row binder this year we want to have an opportunity of showing you the Deering. We know this machine will give satisfaction, and we want to sell you one.

FEDERAL GAME LAW

Texas Sportsmen Are Affected by the New Game Law Recently Enacted

The Austin Statesman says: "It may be of interest to the general public, certainly to men who love field sports, to know that the last session of Congress enacted a Federal game law. The law divides the various states of the union into zones. Texas is included in Zone No. 2. This is the zone in which migratory birds pass all, or a portion, of the winter. This law will supersede in effect the state game laws. That is to say, wherever there is a conflict between the laws of a state and this federal act the latter will control. Under the new federal law the open season for ducks and geese is limited to a period from Oct. 1 to Jan. 16. This will give geese and ducks half of January, February and March protection, where heretofore there has been no closing season as to these birds. Quails heretofore unprotected are under this act subject to the hunters' marksmanship between Sept. 1 and Dec. 1. Woodcocks are protected all of the year—except during the month of December. As this bird visits portions of Texas not earlier than January, he is practically immune from the Texas gunmen. The season is closed as to snipe and plover except between Sept. 1 and Dec. 15. Plover annually pass through Texas before Sept. 1 and do not make their return visit until in March. Hence, that bird is perpetually protected so far as Texas is concerned, under this law. Certain snipe pass through Texas in October and do not return until February. Hence there will be only a little October shooting of snipe. Until Sept. 1, 1918, the following birds are absolutely protected: Bandtailed pigeons, little brown cranes, whooping cranes, sandhill cranes, swans, curlew and all shore birds. A large number of birds may not be shot at all, such as bobolinks, catbirds, chickadees, cuckoos, flycatchers, grosbeaks, humming birds, kinglets, martins, meadowlarks, night hawks (including bullbats), nuthatches, orioles, robins, shrikes, swallows, vireos, warblers, waxwings, whippoorwills, woodpeckers, wrens and all perching birds which feed entirely or chiefly on insects.

The act also prohibits the shooting of doves. No spring shooting is allowed under this act nor is night shooting permitted. Meadowlarks, commonly known as field larks in this state, are protected. It is contended that they eat insects, and therefore are a protection to the farmer. In many sections of this state farmers have found them a nuisance along about corn planting time.

It will appear upon casual consideration that this federal act will relieve the legislature of Texas from passing any laws relating to the protection of birds. This act will, unquestionably, as it is intended to do, help the farmer, it makes a big gap in the state rights doctrine. Thus, gradually federal jurisdiction is extended from time to time, and will be until the several states will bear to the federal government about the same relations that the respective counties bear to the states."

They Like Lubbock

Misses Ora and Covett Gilliland of Bowie, Texas, who have been visiting their brother Edgar Gilliland, here the past three weeks, left Wednesday morning for Estelina, Texas, where they will visit a sister for a few days and will then return to their home. They are delighted with Lubbock, and say they expect to return some day and make this place their home. They have some town property here and they are well pleased with the appearance of everything. They were greatly surprised at the growth of the town since they were here three years ago.

Mrs. E. V. Melton, of Shreveport, La., and her daughter, Mrs. Behn Cook, of Marshall, Texas, arrived in Lubbock Tuesday en route to Crosbyton, where they will visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Alexander. Mrs. Melton is Mrs. Alexander's mother and Mrs. Cook is her sister.

George M. Hill was here the first of the week from Plainview. He is now doing special write up work, and is making a number of the south plains towns in pursuit of this work.

Silos in Terry

Recently seven stock farmers residing near Brownfield purchased as many silos, each being over 300 tons capacity, and received the shipment together. They are now being erected under the direction of a special foreman, each owner, with his crew, going around with the others.

Many other farmers are contemplating smaller silos for the present crop, which now seems to be abundant, and it is expected that for the next year every ranch of any size will have one or more.

MISSIONARY AUXILIARY NOTES

Let us have a large attendance at our business session the 2nd Monday in August so that we may take some action on our new Home Mission work at Laredo.

THE OPPOSITE BANK
"We are now having a practical demonstration of the oneness of mission work. For thirty years the Laredo Seminary at Laredo, Texas, has been under our Foreign Mission Board, owned and supported by it. A recent ruling of the Board of Missions places all the work done within the borders of the U. S. as Home Mission work and all outside, as Foreign Mission work. Thus this great school for Mexicans on the banks of the Rio Grande while still the property of the Foreign Department, must now be run by the Home Department. If it were on the opposite bank of the river—200 yards further on—or Mexican soil, it would be Foreign Missions though reaching the very same children it now reaches while it is called Home Missions. May this not demonstrate to us the folly of our almost childish weakness of contending for our own pet phrase as to the kind of missions we will do? May this not show us conclusively that the work of missions is the work of redeeming souls that sit in darkness, no matter what human department they happen to fall under? May this not remind us of the patience and long suffering of our Lord and Master, who bears with us in our petty contentions to have our own way, our own will, our pet method? Our once foreign work now becomes our home work. And so it is all around the world merely a matter of going or sending—no matter where—just so His lost little ones may be found. Let us thank God our foolish human differences are fading away and we are standing in the unity of strength and numbers for the redemption of a lost world no matter on which "side of the river" they may be found.

A LINEN SHOWER

We are now ready for this linen shower (or cotton) for this Mission School just beginning housekeeping under a new administration. If we do not supply these things this way they will have to be bought out of our funds. By this kind of united effort we can save a cash output when it is so needed elsewhere. The replenishing must be done quickly to be ready for the opening of school. What Auxiliary will respond first? Write Dr. J. M. Skinner, Laredo, Texas. Tell him your Auxiliary will send a box or barrel, when and what will be in it. If you send now you will have time to send by freight and thus it will cost so little.

AN EMPTY PANTRY ALSO

What a lovely and helpful thing it would be to ship canned or preserved fruits and vegetables also; Such a little thing for an Auxiliary, and yet such a help to the Mission. "Many hands make light work."

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

State Health Officer Issues Bulletin to Counties Suggests Modified Quarantine of Patient

Dr. Ralph Steiner, State Health Officer, has mailed to all County and City Health Officers rules for isolating infantile paralysis and preventing its spread. The disease has been epidemic in several States and has appeared sporadically in Texas. Dr. Steiner's rules recommended for the control of acute poliomyelitis are as follows:

1. Isolation of the patient and screening to keep out insects. Domestic animals should be excluded from the house.
2. Disinfection or destruction of all discharges, especially the sputum and nasal secretions and excretions from the intestines. Nurse and physician should observe the precautions regarding hands and clothing as in a case of scarlet fever.
3. A modified quarantine should be observed. Other children in the family should certainly be excluded from school. The breadwinner may be allowed to work. Three weeks should be the minimum period of isolation and quarantine.
4. When the disease is present in a community, public gatherings where children attend should be suspended.
5. Members of the family and those exposed should use a spray and spray, consisting of 1 part of hydrogen peroxid.

As soon as practicable after the recovery of the patient, the house should be disinfected with formaldehyde.
The attention of physicians should be directed to the fact that abortive cases are often associated with typical cases, and the same precautions should be observed with such cases.

8. Acute poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) has been reported by the State Board of Health to be a reportable disease. This means that all cases must be reported by physicians to the Health Officer and by the Health Officer to the secretary of the State Board of Health.

9. Since the disease is infectious prior to the onset of paralysis, suspected cases should be reported and quarantined until the exact nature of the case is known.

NEGRO HELD FOR MURDER

Authorities Release Husband of Murdered Woman, and Other Suspects Except Trusty

Angleton, July 16.—After full investigation of all facts in connection with the outrage and murder of Mrs. J. M. Seitz of Post City last Wednesday night, Sheriff Wright has released the slain woman's husband and all other persons detained by him except Jim Duffee, the negro convict trusty, who was alone at the Masterson home all last Wednesday and Wednesday night in the absence of the family and which home was nearest to the place where the body was found.

BELIEVES MYSTERY SOLVED
"I will not file a formal charge of murder against Duffee," said Sheriff Wright, "but I have communicated with Judge Styles and he will lose no time in convening a special term of the district court here for his possible indictment and trial."
"We are convinced that we have solved this murder and stand ready to lay our case against Duffee before the courts. We will give no outline of that case pending action, which will be taken by Judge Style at the earliest moment possible. He will fix the time for the special court term."

FIND TRACE OF LOST SHOES
Officials today admitted that an analysis of the ashes taken from the stove in the home of Judge Ewing Masterson disclosed a full set of metal tacks, such as would be used in making women's shoes and further that the ashes are partly those of burned material such as shoes are made of. Stains taken from the floor of the home and also an adjoining servant house occupied by Duffee and believed to be made by human blood, have also been analyzed but with what result is not stated.

The stiletto-like knife discovered last week in the home of a negro friend of Duffee has also been subjected to microscopical tests but the result is not given out.

After much discussion the rules and regulations of the commission were adopted and the board was authorized to proceed with the work of prevention and eradication as deemed advisable. A number of our local cattlemen attended the meeting.

Church Notes

[We will be glad to make any announcements of Church Service, Programs, etc., in this column free of charge, where no revenue is received from the services.—Editor.]

Evangelist J. A. McCarty of the church of Christ arrived last week and began preaching his series of sermons Friday evening. The meeting had been in progress all week and had received a number into the church. He is doing some splendid preaching and new members are being added to the local congregation. Services will continue through Sunday and probably longer.

MISSIONARY AUXILIARY NOTES
Splendid! Splendid! Splendid!!! What? The attendance, interest and program at the devotional meeting.

Next Monday we will have our Bible Study Lesson, beginning with II Samuel 12th chapter and extends to II Kings.

At the great Missionary Conference in North Carolina a free will offering of $151,200 was made.

"Was this great gift of money the climax? No! Was this great gift of money the greatest expression of Christian love? No! Come look at the last vision of this great conference. Will it ever fade from the minds of those who saw it? I think not. There in the background was the motto, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." In the front of the choir loft stood a life-size picture of John Wesley with one hand stretched out and the other folded to his breast holding the Holy Bible while over his head were the words "The World is My Parish." At his feet stood that prince among men Bishop Hendrix, and six missionaries on their knees; a doctor, a printer, a builder, a preacher and teachers to receive consecration. With the hand of consecration of the man of God on their heads and that vast audience in fervent prayer, he said, "I send you forth in the name of the Master to darkest Africa and to the greatest cannibal tribe in the world." While standing in this position the congregation joined with the choir leader in the chorus, "Speed Away."

One by one each out-going missionary gave his experience and told of his desire to go. One said, "We may fall on the field and never be permitted to see you again but if we do don't let the work in Africa stop." Then one by one came seven volunteers out of the audience and offered themselves to the board of Missions to take the place of those

if they fall on the field, or to go and assist them if they are wanted. As we saw it, it was the world's greatest tableau. Back of all was the Master's command, "Go ye into all the world," while the world's greatest preacher stood with outstretched hand saying, "The world is my parish." Six young men and women on their knees praying to go, the church turning loose a stream of money unequalled in her history, to make it possible for them to go, while the voice of Bishop, father, mother, sister, brother, and friend said "Speed away," we were made to feel that the ideal had become the real, and that God was truly in the midst of His people.

The thousands of laymen and preachers turned homeward to ever be broader and more liberal. We today are scattering from ocean to ocean, but the closing scene of the first assembly of Junaluska, where the church responded to the challenge of every heathen field in prayer if not in men, lives and shall ever live." Publicity Supt.

Evangelist Lewis of Oklahoma is doing some faithful preaching at the tabernacle under the management of the Nazarene church at this place, and is being heard by attentive congregations.

CHANGES WROUGHT BY TIME

During the Course of Centuries Many Words Have Been Modified to Suit the Generation Using Them.

In the "Romance of Words," a publication by an English author much space is devoted to "aphesis," which means a gradual or unintentional loss of an unaccented vowel at the beginning of a word. This kind of word shrinkage is more common than one might suppose. Sometimes the middle syllable of a word will be slurred to the point of extinction. From Mary Magdalen, tearful and penitent, comes the word mandarin, now generally used to designate the lachrymose stage of drunkenness. Sacristan is contracted into sexton; the old French word paralytic becomes palsy, hydropic becomes dropy, and the word procurator becomes proctor in English. Bethlehem hospital for lunatics, established in London, came to be telescoped into bedlam, much as Cholimondelky came to be Chumley and Marjoribanka, Marshbanks. Peel is for appeal, mend for amend, lone for alone, fender, whether before a fireplace or outside a ship, is for defender, fence for defense, taint for attaint. The word peach, commonly regarded as English thief slang, goes back to the time of Shakespeare and is related to impence, though used to indicate informing against an accomplice. Sir John Falstaff in act 2, scene 2, in the first part of "Henry IV," says: "If I be taken, I'll reach for

You Don't Yawn When Sleepy.

A good, wide, open-mouthed yawn is a splendid thing for the whole body says a hygienist. A yawn is nature's signal for rest. Some people think they yawn only because they are sleepy. But this is not so. You yawn because you are tired. You may be sleepy also, but that is not the real cause of your yawning. You yawn because you are tired, and you yawn because you are tired. When ever you feel like yawning, just yawn. Don't try to suppress it. And, if you are where you can stretch at the same time that you yawn, just stretch and yawn. This is nature's way of stretching and relaxing the muscles. Indeed, if you are very tired but do not feel like yawning, there is nothing else that will rest you so quickly as to sit on a straight-backed chair, and lifting the feet from the floor, push them out in front of you as far as possible, stretching the arms, putting the head back, opening the mouth wide, and making yourself yawn. Those tense nerves will relax, the contracted muscles will stretch and the whole body will be rested.

IN SIMPLE SELF-PROTECTION

Evolution of "Washer-men" Made Necessary by Uncompromising Attitude of the Laundry People.

The shirtband buttonhole is the real reason why the Y. M. C. A. of Philadelphia is encouraged to start a course of instruction for men in the art of washing clothes. It better might be said that it is the back shirtband buttonhole that is responsible for the introduction into the classroom of the tub, the bluing bottle, the starch box and the ironing board.

There is one washerwoman for every 200 of this country's inhabitants, and there is a laundry for every 1,000 thereof. Neither woman nor laundry ever has been able to learn that a man has to slip a collar button through the rear hole of the shirtband. The washerwoman thinks that a man pins his collar on, and that if he doesn't he should be forced to. The laundry knows all about the buttonhole, but it is at outs with it, and seeks malevolently to destroy its identity.

An inside band to protect the male neck from chafing against the base of the back button is sewed on shirts by all self-respecting shirtmakers. For years it has been the unbreakable habit of washerwomen and laundries to starch this band into close boardlike union with the band back of it. It takes a knife to effect the divorce, and it is not complete until several unstitched buttonholes have been made by the bluing of it. The shirt that comes back once from the wash is done for after the first surgical operation. The washerwomen and the laundries can save their jobs and discourage the higher education of males if they will spare their starch and save the shirts.

at each step the man takes the skins slide down the slope and are kept moving. The man treads for hours and hours before any pile appears. When it begins to rise the skins are rolled and the treading begins again. This is continued until the skins are as supple as chamois and the pile has become so high that the fur has that soft depth and beautiful rich gloss which we see on Fifth avenue.

"I always thought a sable was a pretty creature, with fluffy fur like a kitten, didn't you?"

Considerate Sailor. The paying teller of one of the Cleveland banks says that on a certain day last month a jolly tar, arm in arm with his friend John Barleycorn, came rolling up to the window.

"How's business mate?" began the seaman sprawling both arms on the glass ledge.

"Fair," replied the paying teller indignantly. "Only fair, but we hope it will pick up before long. By the way, what can I do for you?"

"Well, you see it's like this," said the tar, pulling out a check for $30, made payable to bearer. "Here's a check as calls for a lot o' money. But I ain't goin' to be hard on you if business ain't good. No, sir! That's not my style. You just give me $10 down and send me the other $20 some time when things are looking up!"

MADE IT MATTER OF RECORD

Mark Twain Bound to Satisfy His Better Half That He Had Obeyed Her Injunction.

Samuel L. Clemens immensely admired Grover Cleveland, also his young wife, and his visits to Washington were not infrequent. Mrs. Clemens was not always able to accompany him, and he has told us how once (it was his first visit after the president's marriage) she put a little note in the pocket of his evening waistcoat, which he would be sure to find when dressing, warning him about his department. Being presented to Mrs. Cleveland, he handed her a card on which he had written, "He didn't," and asked her to sign her name below those words. Mrs. Cleveland protested that she couldn't sign it unless she knew what it was, he hadn't done, but he insisted, and she promised to sign it if he would tell her immediately afterward all about it. She signed, and he handed her Mrs. Clemens' note, which was very brief. It said:

"Don't wear your arctics in the White House."

Mrs. Cleveland summoned a messenger and had the card she had signed mailed at once to Mrs. Clemens at Hartford—Albert Bigelow Paine, in Harper's Magazine.

Half-Done Work

There is an old story of a miser who had hidden his great treasure under a large boulder. The secret was discovered by two blacksmiths, each of whom determined to secure the wealth, and set about preparing crowbars to pry up the rock. The one was in such haste that he did his work carelessly, and though he was first on the spot his poor tool snapped, and he could not accomplish his purpose. While he hastened back to his shop to repair the damage the second smith, who had made ready more carefully, came with his strong bar and carried off the treasure. Half-done work defeats its own ends, and the success for which one is not ready is not ready for him.

 Saturday of last week a team on the Bartley farm, in the Edith neighborhood a few miles from Tahoka ran away and Newman, the 11 year old son of J. I. Bartley, jumped from the wagon and landed on his hands breaking both arms at the wrist and bruising his face and body considerably. Dr. Callaway of Tahoka was called and went out in his car arriving about noon. He set the little fellows' arms and apparently there is no internal hurt, although the boy was badly bruised.

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JULY, 24, 1913

The golden rule in modern times has often been construed to read "patronize home merchants."

The Avalanche is in receipt of the Gorman Progress this week and note that A. W. Calahan, formerly of Tulia is the editor.

Every community in the world has the same unalienable rights and the most important of these are prosperity, development and civic attractiveness.

It is said that the ship of progress does not wait for any one, then let us all be up and on the way; fill the old ship of progress full in Lubbock.

Nice shade trees are a convenience and pleasure that any one can enjoy in Lubbock and it makes a great improvement in any place. Plant more trees.

Its time for us to begin planning for that agricultural exhibit at the State Fair this fall. Do it now. Don't wait till the last week before the fair opens to begin, but have our plans thoroughly laid before hand and be ready to act.

You can talk of development all you want to, but if there is not some evidence thereof by actual development work going on its pretty hard to convince some people that there is any thing to your spiel. Everybody can see for themselves in Lubbock—there is always something doing here. Come to Lubbock.

William A. Hanger of Fort Worth has come to the front with an article stating that his hat is in the ring for Governor of Texas, 1914, and he will stand on a platform of development and progress. The platform part sounds good, but we want to know more about the man that proposes to stand on it.

The old saying that "murder will out" seems to hold true to this day. In the case of murder of Mrs. J. M. Seitz at Angleton recently the murderer evidently thought all traces of his identity had been wiped out, but it has developed that the guilty party, a beastly negro, has been found and his guilt seems to be established from the teeth marks on the dead lady's body where her murderer fastened his teeth on her. One tooth was missing from the brutes mouth which fit to a T the impressions on the body.

Miss Julia Roberson, of Brenham, who has been visiting at the home of her friend, Mrs. Joe Penney, the past week, left Tuesday morning for Lockney where she will visit relatives for a few weeks.

Mrs. Pierce and son, Lawrence, of Richland, Texas, sister and nephew of Lee McCravy, of Yoakum county, came in Tuesday and were taken out to the McCravy ranch the same day.

How to Build Up or Tear Down This Community

By J. O. LEWIS

The Home Merchant Has Earned Support.

WHY are communities, towns and cities? Have you ever asked yourself this question? Did you think they just happened, or had you ever thought that there was a special need for them? In the beginning of time—as far back as history takes us—we had that MEN HAVE Banded themselves together for many and obvious reasons, chief among which are the benefits to be gained from organized society as a social, intellectual, spiritual and commercial center. Collectively we are strong, forceful and aggressive and possess power and means to attain a growth which will give to us and our progeny opportunities for better living—to develop our moral, spiritual and intellectual life, the things for which we were created.

THEREFORE THE SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS OF EVERY CITIZEN OF ANY COMMUNITY LIES IN THE INTEREST HE TAKES IN THAT COMMUNITY AND THE GOOD WORK HE CAN DO TO ASSIST IN ITS UPBUILDING.

Now, then, if we are to succeed as individuals and as a community we must not only strive for our own personal success and welfare, BUT MUST GIVE OF OUR WORK AND SUBSTANCE UNSELFISHLY TO HELP THE OTHERS.

Everything we do to help in the upbuilding and advancement of our city we do just that much toward our own personal success. No man can live and prosper unto himself alone. FOR WE ARE INTERDEPENDENT, and, realizing this, if we as citizens will all unite and pull together for the common good we will prosper as a city and consequently as individuals.

Well paved streets and sidewalks, good sewerage system, thoroughly enforced sanitary laws, well regulated and energetic police force, competent fire fighting equipment and rigid building regulations are economic necessities and therefore they more largely affect us as a community than as individuals. But beyond this and underlying it all and upon which rests the foundation of the whole is THE SUCCESS OF THE BUSINESS MAN. This man makes an investment; goes into some kind of business—to manufacture or sell goods—puts his money at stake, employs labor and begins his work to build better. THIS MAN IS THE CORNERSTONE OF THE COMMUNITY—the man you should rally around and support.

THE SUCCESS OF A TOWN DEPENDS ON THE SUCCESS OF ITS BUSINESS MEN, WHILE THE SUCCESS OF THE BUSINESS MEN DEPENDS ON SUPPORT THEY RECEIVE FROM THE PEOPLE AT LARGE, EACH BEING, HOWEVER, DEPENDENT ONE ON THE OTHER.

No merchant can succeed without the patronage of the public. He is absolutely and entirely dependent on the custom of each and every individual who has a penny to spend, the little mite of each, taken in the aggregate, making the volume on which he runs his business. The merchant, having plenty of competition, must, in order to get the people's patronage, figure his prices close and offer to them the very best inducements possible.

The merchant pays large rentals, taxes, privilege licenses, insurance, besides employing many clerks and assistants, in order to maintain and conduct his business in such a manner as to meet your approval, and to succeed let me emphasize it again—HE MUST HAVE YOUR PATRONAGE TO MAKE HIS BUSINESS PAY.

This community has some fine stores—every kind—and conducted by as fine a set of men as you will find anywhere on the face of the globe—liberal, big hearted, progressive men. No better retail stores, no better wholesale or jobbing houses, no better banks, no better mills, no better schools, no better churches, no better municipal or public utilities, can be found anywhere than right here in your home town, all—absolutely all—made possible only by and through the co-operation and generous giving of the business men.

But, my good friends, with all of these extraordinary accomplishments, there are some things being done today which are STUMBLING BLOCKS IN THE PATH OF OUR GREATER GROWTH and further development—differences, if you please, which we must reconcile and overcome if we are to continue to grow and prosper.

NO CHEAP CATTLE EXPECTED

Official of Swift Packing Company Does Not Look for Any Decline of Price of Cattle

There is not much apprehension among cattlemen that there is going to be much of a reduction in the price of cattle, even with the tariff revised along the lines that appear to have been agreed upon by both branches of the United States congress. In commenting on the cattle outlook, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, one of the leading republican papers of the country, said:

It is the consensus of opinion among packing houses and commission men that the beef prices are here to stay, and the only condition likely to lower prices is for farmers of the corn-producing states to go back into the business of breeding and feeding cattle. Chances of competition from foreign countries in the cattle market are considered remote. Summing up the prospect of an invasion from other countries an official of the Swift Packing Company said:

Canada has no beef cattle headed this way. There is an excellent reason for it—beef cattle bring more in Canada right now than they do in the United States. The best of beef cattle are bred over there and any surplus goes to England. Much has been said about the droves of cattle to be expected from Mexico if the duty is removed. Investigation shows Mexico's much talked-of cattle surplus has been shrinking steadily since the revolt against Diaz. Anything in the way of a surplus no doubt would be shipped over the border if the duty were removed, but the supply would soon be exhausted. Those Mexicans are all alike. They'll give you anything they've got, but they seldom have anything. The beef supply of Australia is much over-estimated. Several dry years have reduced the supply and the herds are not big enough to make much difference, because the Australian cattlemen is more provident than the Mexican and will not sell unless he gets a good price. Beef from that country will be shipped to San Francisco and will not have much effect on other markets. It is from Argentina that the big shipments are expected, but until stockmen in that country eradicate the foot and mouth disease now prevalent in their herds, cattle from that country will not be allowed to land in ports of the United States and the carcasses of these cattle will be barred from the markets of this country until adequate inspection, such as native-bred cattle are subjected to, is established and enforced.

William Cassell, head buyer for Morris and Company, said he could not see where the cattle market is likely to be affected by tariff legislation. "We will be moving along about the same gait," he said, "no matter what congress does. Cattle are high and scarce here and the same conditions exists in other countries. I can't see that it will make much difference if the bars are let down for there are not many cattle on the outside trying to break in."

General Manager E. F. Bisbee of the National Stock Yards said he thinks the tariff changes, whatever they may be, will not make much difference in receipts or prices. "Beef is scarce in this country, because we have eaten it," he said, "and the only way is to resume breeding and feeding cattle. The grain reduces the fertility of the farm, while stock raising increases it. With the present high prices, plenty of profit is to be made in raising good cattle."

Reduced to figures, the supply of cattle in this country was 72,534,000 head six years ago, and it is now 56,572,000. During that period the population has increased 12,000,000. In 1907 there were nine head of cattle for each man, woman and child in the United States. Now there is only .6 of one head per capita, with excellent prospects of this ratio being soon reduced to about one head of cattle for each two persons. Statisticians also show that the United States is sending little dressed beef abroad, compared to the supply from Argentina. During 1912 England bought 684,000 pounds of American dressed beef while from Argentina 739,000,000 pounds were purchased. Packing house men say the proposed tariff changes will have little effect on the hog and sheep supply at this market. In anticipation of free wool sheep are being marketed freely.

NORRIS WON'T FACE TRIAL

Judge Buck Dismisses Case Against Baptist Pastor on Motion of Prosecution

Declaring that material witnesses were permanently out of the state, and that it was not probable they could be returned, and that the state could not adduce sufficient testimony from available witnesses, the county attorney last Wednesday presented a motion to Judge Buck in the Forty-eighth district court, asking the case charging arson against Rev. J. Frank Norris be dismissed. The case was continued Monday previous on motion of the county attorney on account of the absence of material witnesses and the motion presented Wednesday and the action of Judge Buck in dismissing the case finally disposes of it.

The pastor was in the court house on other business shortly after the case was dismissed and expressed no surprise when informed by Assistant County Attorney James C. Wilson of the action taken.

Last Friday was pay day on the Santa Fe construction line and the town was swarming with Mexican laborers who came in to cash their pay checks.

From Our Exchanges

LYNN COUNTY

Lynn County News:

A petition with 69 names will be presented to the commissioners' court at their next meeting, the second Monday in August, asking for an election to be held to determine whether Tahoka shall continue to have a pool hall or not.

Friday morning of last week Geo. Small, Sr., finished cutting nineteen acres of oats on his farm two and a half miles east of Tahoka, and those who have seen this crop say it will thrash from 40 to 50 bushels to the acre.

G. W. Small, Sr., who has been over much of the state says this crop is as good as he has seen anywhere.

TERRY COUNTY

Messrs. Ames, Phillips, and others of Lubbock, were here Tuesday in the interest of the Texas Portable Silo. While it is rather late in the season, we understand that several contracts will likely be made in Terry county.

Russell Jones came in Monday from Lubbock, where he went to see his sister, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. He reports her on the road to rapid recovery.

We understand that Noah Bell will likely buy one of the Ames silos. Noah believes in so combining stock raising and farming that he will get more profit on same amount of labor expended. He figures right, too.

YOAKUM COUNTY

Yoakum County News:

Little J. M. Marcey, son of Mr. John Marcey, the mail contractor, was pretty badly hurt for a while Tuesday morning by jumping off an automobile which was being driven at the rate of about 12 or 15 miles an hour. He complained of being hurt about the head, if he had fallen in a different way he would have more than likely been seriously hurt, but is now alright.

Tom Ivey sold to a gentleman named Al Poppin, whose residence we did not learn, 1500 three-year old steers this week.

Messrs. Geo. E. Tiernan and John Scudday of Brownfield, received about 600 steer yearlings last Thursday week which they purchased of J. M. Yates of Glen Park neighborhood recently.

Earnest Erects Silo

Colorado, July 26.—The silo has made its appearance in Mitchell county. Judge C. H. Earnest has just completed the erection of one on his farms east of Colorado of 190 tons capacity, and everything is in readiness to commence the work of filling it next week.

Inasmuch as it is the first silo erected in this part of the country, or at least in this county, it is attracting quite a lot of attention among farmers and stockmen.

Feed crops, though not ideal, are the best for several years. Cotton, generally speaking, is very fine, especially the later planting. The early planting is showing to some extent the effect of hot weather and hot winds of the past week. A rain within ten days would produce more cotton than could be well gathered.

Brownfield to Entertain

The people of Brownfield are preparing to entertain all who will come and partake of their hospitalities on the 8th of August, in their Woodmen-Old Soldiers celebration. The Lubbock Cowboy Band is to figure largely in the entertainment for the day, and in a letter from the committee to the management of the band accepting the proposition of the band to play the engagement, they extend to all of Lubbock a hearty invitation to attend. The Brownfield people are broad-minded liberal and know how to entertain, and we are confident that everyone who attends will not regret it.

L. B. Nevils was up from the Lynn county ranch Tuesday.

Mr. Parish, of Paducah, was here this week.

Luke J. Caraway, brother of

J. K. Caraway of this city visited here the first of the week. This is his third visit to the Plains and says he likes the country better each time he comes. He thinks there is a great future to this great country. His home is in Weatherford, Parker county, and stated that the prospects for a good crop in that section was very gloomy. Hot winds had damaged the crops very extensively. He left Tuesday afternoon for Sweetwater and will visit with a daughter twenty miles south of that point after which he will return home.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Widdel, on last Monday morning, a fine boy.

R. B. Shaw was down from his ranch near Abernathy Monday.

To Colonize "C" Ranch

The deeds transferring the famous "C" ranch to O. W. Kerr have been received by the county officials of Midland county and recorded there. Mr. Kerr will begin soon the colonization of the ranch on a large scale. This is a big undertaking and promises much benefit in opening up the South Plains.

Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Stapleton, of Dimmitt, stopped over Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lowrey in this city, resuming their journey to Tahoka Monday where they will visit with relatives.

Homer Greenhill went up to Plainview Tuesday to spend a few days at the home of his uncle, H. Burt.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall Robinson visited relatives here Sunday and Monday.

Do You Want a McCormick Row Binder?

We have just received a full car of these machines and you can see them any day by calling at our store. Farmers of experience want row binder satisfaction and the McCormick is built for just such farmers. If you own a McCormick binder you are fortified against the danger of the loss of a part of your crop. You do not need to worry about securing extra help or paying high wages. You are sure of having your corn safely harvested within the limited time in which the work must be done to get the full value from it.

The McCormick corn binder is extremely simple in construction, light in weight and compact. Two horses will handle the machine in all conditions of corn. This machine straddles only one row, which is a decided advantage in opening up a field, as there is only one bent row to cut.

The McCormick binder is so constructed that the bundles are bound while in a vertical position. The corn is cut and moved along in a position upright to the binding attachment. Not only is it easier to bind the corn in this position, but it requires less power, and insures evenly butted bundles which are easier to handle.

Another feature that adds greatly to the satisfactory work of the McCormick binder and assures positive elevation of all the stalks, is the spring-rod feature. This spring-rod is so connected that it holds the stalks against the chain until the corn gets to a point where the packers are sure to get hold of the stalks, thus insuring positive elevation of all the corn.

MCCORMICK CORN BINDER HAS A WIDE RANGE OF ADJUSTMENT

—WILL HANDLE CORN UNDER ALL CONDITIONS

The McCormick corn binder has an extremely wide range of adjustment. As a result, it will cut short as well as tall corn, and corn that is down, tangled and lodged. This adjustment for different lengths of corn can be made from the driver's seat. It is not necessary for the driver to stop the machine and dismount to make the adjustment. This is a decided advantage, because frequently the operator finds both tall and short corn in the same field, and with the McCormick binder he can make immediate adjustment to meet the varied field conditions.

CUTTING APPARATUS

It is a well known fact that corn is exceedingly difficult to cut by a direct stroke of the sickle, owing to the extreme toughness of the exterior portion of the stalk. The cutting mechanism on the McCormick corn binder consists of a reciprocating and two stationary knives. The position and form of the stationary knives, being curved outwardly from the rear, cause them to cut the stalks with a gradual drawing stroke as the machine is drawn forward. The reciprocating knife completes the operation and also cuts all weeds, vines, and green undergrowth between the hills in the row. This precludes any possibility of the machine choking, and at the same time a field presents a clean, neat appearance. Don't fail to see the machine before making your purchase.

BIRTHDAY CHAIR
Mrs. Ritchie has added quite an interesting feature to her class of little fellows in the Methodist Sunday School. She has a gilded chair which she permits each of her pupils to occupy when they bring their birthday offering. The little fellows are taking quite an interest in this feature and it is not only stimulating the attendance but is also increasing the birthday offering of the school.

Miss Ethel Smilie, of Rosebud, Texas, was the guest of honor at a "42" party given by Mrs. L. B. Wright Friday morning. Miss Smilie wore a white hand-embroidered lingerie, with "sash" of pink, and with her sweet charms and gracious manner won the hearts of all, and was indeed a picture of girlish loveliness. The guests began to arrive a little before nine o'clock. The rooms were decorated with ferns and bowls of sweetpeas and nasturtiums, the beautifully gowned young ladies, and bright beaming countenances, enhanced by the freshness of the morning breeze, gave vent to the pleasure of the occasion, and had a tendency to drive all dull care away and make the affair one long to be remembered. Ten games were played, in which Miss Lottie Boles won high. After which delicious refreshments were served, consisting of fruit salad, wafers, nabiscoes and ice ten. Mrs. Wright was assisted in the entertaining by Mesdames Cate and Schenck. Those who accepted of Mrs. Wright's hospitality were: Misses Smilie, Wilkinson, Ellis, Wheelock, Wilson, Rouse, Dees, May and Vera Murfee, Abney, Barclay, Hall, Moore, O'Neal, Waterbury, Clark, Hooker, Von Rosenberg, Rucker, Boles, Jordan, McLarry, Settle and Wright, and Mesdames Cate and Schenck.

Burford Family Poisoned
Late Friday evening a phone message came to town summoning Dr. M. C. Overton to the home of L. O. Burford northeast of town. Three members of the family, Walter, Mrs. Keith Davis and Mrs. Orley Rush, being violently ill. After the physician arrived it was learned that they were suffering from poison caused from eating ice cream, which they had made from condensed milk. It is not known whether the poison was caused by the milk or whether it was from the freezer, but those affected were very sick people for a short time. They are all recovered now however, and seemingly not much the worse of the experience.

Will Locate in Lubbock
Mr. Whiteley and family of Austin arrived here last week, and have been stopping at the Neil boarding house. They have decided to make Lubbock their home in the future, and have secured the John Dean place in the west part of town. Mr. Whiteley is contemplating entering business of some kind here in the very near future, and will likely carry a good big stock of goods, though he has not fully determined what line he will put in yet.

C. W. Jones, Texico was registered at the Howard Hotel Saturday.

Big Sale of Steers

Mr. Al Popham of Amarillo purchased recently from Mr. R. D. Benson of Fort Worth, Texas, 122 3 and 4-year-old steers, at $45.00 per head, f. o. b. Lubbock and these steers are now passing through the Amarillo stock yards to White Deer, Texas, from which point they will move out on the Popham ranch. These are selected steers from the Benson ranches, situated in the Lubbock country, and constitute one of the large recent trades in this line. Mr. Popham is one of the pioneer cattlemen of the Panhandle, and is always active in the handling and dealing in cattle, and at present there are indications that we are on the eve of quite a revival in cattle trading generally. - Amarillo Daily News.

Mrs. W. A. Carlisle is reported dangerously ill at her home west of town, and we understand her relatives are very uneasy on account of her present condition.

Mrs. Wm. L. Baugh and children are visiting relatives in Brown county this week.
