OIL ACTIVITIES IN BRIDGEPORT VICINITY

Actual drilling on the Bridgeport Oil & Gas Company's well No. 1, was started yesterday and the work will be prosecuted as rapidly as possible.

The company has been "making haste slowly" in getting ready for drilling, as everything had to be in first-class shape and of the very best material. The machinery is all modern and the work from start to finish will be done in the best way to secure satisfactory and permanent results.

The work will be watched with much interest by people here and elsewhere, as it is the confident belief of expert geologists that an abundance of all will be found here—Bridgeport Index.

This is to be the winter of Germany's discontent.

Girls! Make this cheap beauty lotion to clear and whiten your skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

AN INTERESTING VISIT TO ESTACADO SUNDAY SEPT. 22

Report of the Estacado visit, briefly mentioned in last week's issue of the Avalanche.

In the course of human events, we all have experiences, long to be remembered. Such was the visit of some of us early settlers of Estacado, with other old-timers, made to that place after an absence of about a quarter of a century. The trip was made on Sunday of last week. Our outfit consisted of six automobiles, loaded with the following named parties, with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ferguson of Pueblo, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dockum, of Colorado Springs as real guests. Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wheelock, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Walker, Mrs. Yancy Lee, Mrs. G. M. Boles and Anna Lee Simpson, together with several children of different families.

We left Lubbock about 10 A. M., intending to reach Estacado for church services, but on account of some delays, we failed to arrive in time. We gathered at the tabernacle that had been erected for revival meetings, and there found an ideal place for preparing and eating our dinner. The benches were still there, and we arranged a table out of them by turning their fronts together. A fire was built outside of the tabernacle, and our coffee was made in a two gallon coffee pot. Many of us who were not in the habit of using coffee for dinner, now indulged in drinking this delicious beverage, seasoned with cream and sugar as desired. Judging from the bountiful feast, it would seem that the war was over, and no longer need of Hooverizing.

From this point of view, we looked over the townsite, but only a few of the old landmarks were to be seen. The land, upon which many houses stood twenty-five years ago, is now in cultivation, or left out as commons. We could see Charley Holmes' place that has been remodeled, the early domicile of W. C. Dockum, still standing in a cluster of trees, the one time residence of Dr. Hunt, and the old hotel, called "The Llano House," which was built by Geo. M. Hunt, some thirty-two years ago; and after dinner was over, we started out in our six autos, and soon pulled up in front of this old building. The folks living there, seemed to wonder what was up, and others across the street appeared to be waiting for developments of this demonstration. We were permitted to go around and thru this old hotel, which may truly be classed as a dilapidated relic of by-gone years. The comb of the roof is swagging, the siding coming off, the floors are bulged, while the adobes, placed there so many years ago, as an inside lining of the walls, remain intact. One of the most interesting things, especially for the children, is a thirty year old bullet hole in the ceiling, made by a shot from a pistol, in the hands of a reckless American. This house is also interesting to C. E. Hunt, as his birthplace, as is the Doctor Hunt place, where his wife was born. A kodak picture was taken of each of these premises. On our rounds we met Bunch Fullingim and family, and Mrs. Steve Ellis.

Before starting on our return to Lubbock, we visited the cemetery, where several members of the old Quaker colony were buried. Among them we see the grave of Paris Cox, founder of Estacado. Mrs. W. C. Dockum, mother of C. A. Dockum, and by her side his little sister. Here J. C. Ferguson buried a little girl, and Isaiah Cox a child, whose death was caused by the bite of a rattlesnake. Another grave that especially attracted the notice of the writer, was that of J. W. Bryan, who was killed by a neighbor several years ago. I met him at the Green Igo Ranch, only a short time before his death. As I looked upon his tomb, and that of the homicide, these words came into my mind. "Who can look upon the grave, even of an enemy, and not feel a compunctious throb that he had ever warred with the poor handful of earth that lies mouldering before him."

We leave these silent sleepers to rest beneath the sod and the twink-

NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM ACUFF SCHOOL

This being such a busy time of the year, school was suspended last Friday, for a few weeks in order that the children may help gather the crops.

Everyone is trying to do as much as they can so they will be able to help when Uncle Sam asks of us. Jeff and Arthur Martin were absent all the week to help gather the feed.

Those absent part of the week were as follows: Curtis Grimes, Lucile and S. E. Nolley, Rebecca, Mildred and Alice Proctor, Effie Richmond, Lucian and Kenneth Moore.

Louise Rush and Lois Evitt were absent one day on account of sickness.

Examinations for the first month are over. Most all of the students made excellent grades. We carried reports home of which we and our teachers are very proud.

So many are, and will be disappointed very much because school being suspended causes the delay of our program and box supper, until some future time.

The school was visited last Friday afternoon by Mrs. Lizzie Evitt. She was present on Wednesday afternoon to help with the program.

The school enjoyed a nice spelling contest Friday afternoon.

Everyone have been learning their pledges, and don't forget them while not going to school for we are honoring our flag and praising our boys "over yonder" along with our other school work.

A soldier of the American army writes to his church folk in an Ohio town that when the American boys do their work in a Hun town the survivors gather up the fragments of their relatives and others and place them in a common grave, inscribing on the stone above it "Rest in pieces".

American fighters in France evidently do not approve of the skip stop plan. They prefer not to stop at all.

Having voted and registered, the intelligent and patriotic citizen is now all set for the liberty loan drive.

All dollars are subject to mobilization for the next liberty loan.

RED-CROSS ITEMS

The American Red Cross will have expended $70,000,000 for war relief in France by the end of the present year, says a report made public by the Red Cross War Council. Up to July 1, 1918, the expenditures totaled $36,613,682, of which $21,160,632 was for work among refugees, reclaiming devastated areas, aid for civilians and funds to fight tuberculosis. The demands for the concluding six months call for $34,582,527, which already has been appropriated. The report contains a detailed statement regarding expenditures and is fourth on the use of the Red Cross War Fund.

General Pershing has designated the American Red Cross as the only relief society authorized to undertake the work of locating and administering to the American wounded in hospitals in France. This order followed receipt of applications from militarized civilians asking such permission. The order is designated to centralize activities of relief organizations overseas.

When a troop train was wrecked at Marshfield, Mo., last week, resulting in death to more than ten soldiers and injury to 50 others, Red Cross workers were among the first on the scene to give first aid. These workers accompanied the injured to Springfield, Mo., and no expense was spared in making the injured soldiers comfortable.

The War Industries Board has requested the American Red Cross to create a 5000 ton reserve of platinum and tin to prevent what threatens to be a serious shortage of the metals. Red Cross workers as a result are redoubling efforts to collect tin foil and pewter articles. Tin cans, which have only a small amount of tin, will not be collected. A shortage of platinum would cripple American industries.

The American Red Cross for the Southwestern Division (Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas) is seeking 600 nurses' aids for service here and abroad. These going abroad will work among the refugees. It is hoped to train in this division 50 women a month for the next twelve months. Women wishing to become nurses' aids should get in touch with a Red Cross Chapter.

Belgians with large families will be cared for in a model city being built by the American Red Cross, near here. Four-room cottages, modern conveniences, rent $6 a month, will be offered families in which there are four small children. The Red Cross also will provide for the heads of the families.

HOW THE TRADE TEST EXAMINATION PROCEEDS

Auto man, truck man, repair man, bluff, Typist man, every man, now must prove his stuff.

When our Uncle Samuel became so enraged at the doings of the Huns that he felt himself forced to exterminate them, he invoked the assistance of the selective draft because he wanted each to be placed where he could "lay on" with the greatest effect. There were a thousand and one things to be done before the Stars and Stripes could float over the palace at Berlin, and to expedite the expedition Uncle decided to select the specialists instead of shutting his eyes and picking out a random individual for each particular duty. "Speed" has been the watchword from the start yet there has been added "but not at the expense of certainty," to complete the fighting slogan.

From the very first, men called in the draft were sorted and each placed at the work for which a cursory examination showed him to be best adapted. Gradually the sorting process has been improved until now it is reaching the perfection point at Camp Travis. The last piece of improved machinery installed at this great receiving camp has been patented under the name of "Trade Test Board."

This is just exactly what its name implies. When the recruit starts punching the clock at this mammoth soldier factory he is quizzed at length concerning his civil life with a view of finding in just what department he will be of greatest service. Not infrequently a recruit, who, before being summoned to the colors was accustomed to earn a livelihood by piloting a grocery flivver, informs the board that he is a truck driver. And just as frequently one who has spent a few months studying the "Hunt and Pick" system of typewriting records himself as a typist; or the youngster who once fastened a few loose nuts on a rattling Ford declares himself to be an auto-mechanic. Uncle Sam was fooled some times by such when he was badly in need of some one who could deliver the goods. Now he has added the trade test board to his plant and its function is to find out by actual experiment whether the recruit is what he pretends to be.

On August 27 there came to Camp Travis by order of the War Department, representatives of the committee of classification of the Army Trade Test Board. They had long been identified with this service and two sergeants had recently completed a course of instruction in the same work. In ten days they had installed the trade test board here and the officers went on the next camp leaving the local work in the hands of the two sergeants and their assistants. And since their coming, hundreds of recruits have been run through the plant, the efficient being sifted from the inefficient.

At present the schedule calls for tests in some three score and ten subjects; soon it is expected to embrace one hundred. While its scope is large it is centering its efforts right now on truck and auto drivers, auto mechanics, typists and electricians. At the factory, located in what once was used as a mess hall for the workmen who built Camp Travis, the machinery is grinding daily.

As the recruit enters the door he is registered and given a score card upon which his record is to be entered as he passes through the mill. Assigned to one of thirty-five booths he faces a questioner across a table in an oral examination. Prepared questions are asked and the system is so nearly perfect that a mere novice can prove or disprove an expert. If the subject shows a fair knowledge of his trade during the oral examination, he is passed into the performance room. If he is registered as an auto mechanic he is given an engine, or piece of and engine to put together and take apart. If he is supposed to be an electrician, he is provided with a framework representing a room and with wire and tools and given instructions to wire the model. It he claims to be a typist he is shown a seat at a typewriter and told to copy some 500 words as rapidly and accurately as possible. If he is rated as a truck driver or as a chauffeur, he is whisked out to a testing ground where he is given a truck or car and an opportunity to show what he can do. Grades are made and classification regulated according to the quality of the work.

Anyone who can successfully negotiate the truck and auto course is well worthy his intended job. Uncle Sam is just as particular that his trucks and autos have careful handling as he is that his mules and horses are not abused. And throughout the tests an observer watches carefully to see that the engine is not raced, that it is kept running evenly and that the gears are not ground while the candidate is being tried out under conditions that he will be called upon to face in Army service.

The first thing he is asked to do is to start his engine without racing and get under way without stalling. Next he must climb a low grade, taking care to prevent a jerky advance. A good climb encourages the driver to believe that he can pass the third test which consists of guiding the mammoth truck through an S-shaped lane of stakes. To touch a stake punches a hole in his score. If he stops to prevent this disaster, his record suffers. But blessed is he who can negotiate this lane without touching a stake or hesitating. When he reaches the end of the lane and heaves a sigh of relief, he is expected to retrace his steps by backing through. Done with the snaky trail he is sent at a steep incline with instructions to stop his truck half way up, with a certain mark on his truck opposite a certain mark on a board representing a curb. The candidate is supposed to hold the truck with the breaks and throw his gear into neutral. In starting from this position again he is supposed not to let his truck slip back more than a scant twelve inches. From the hesitation point he goes into a "blind street." There he is supposed to turn around without stalling his engine and without backing more than once, while to touch the curb starts the score-keeper subtracting from the total possible number of points.

The automobile course for chauffeurs is similar to that for truck drivers, except the turns in the lanes are sharper and the other hazards greater. A novice soon stubs his toe on either. It takes a really efficient driver to pass.

As it is with these trades, so is it to be at Camp Travis with all others for which Uncle Sam needs men in this war.

Preparatory to a comprehensive course in boxing which is planned for the Eighteenth Division in particular and to all the soldiers in Camp Travis in general, the camp athletic authorities have made Henry A. (Texas) Tate assistant boxing instructor to Johnnie Coulon. Tate is known throughout the southwest not only for puerile abilities which rank him among the nations' best heavyweights, but also as an all round athletic. Before his first season in the majors was closed he quit baseball to become a professional wrestler.

Army authorities have found that blows, parries and footwork of boxing is very similar to the actions in the use of the bayonet. They find the soldier picks up these movements in boxing more readily than he does with the bayonet and consequently boxing is being enthusiastically encouraged in all camps. In Camp Travis boxing always has flourished, but now a special effort is to be made to increase the efficiency of the work here.

Lubbock County Boys at Camp Travis Happy. The men who came from Lubbock County are as happy as men can be during their first few weeks of army life. Of course they do not feel good now as they are not through with inculcations yet. Almost all of the boys have already had military kitchen police duty, and really they are making first class "Police" in this particular way. Each of them feels that he is soon to be a much more useful husband that he could possibly have been had he not come to the army. There is so much necessary sweeping in the army, and then they wash and do lots of things that will be helpful on the return home. Some of the men who feel like this are: Douglas B. Jarvis, Elmer Rush, Charlie Cox, John Jackson and Ebert O. Jordan.

Commissioner Talley was up the first of the week looking after business matters.

CARD OF THANKS

We are taking this method of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to those friends and neighbors whose tender words of sympathy and comfort have lightened our burden of sorrow. We especially desire to thank the Odd Fellows for their loving and gentle administrations which have made easier our submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well and has removed from our midst a dear husband, father and brother. Your tribute of floral offerings will ever remain a treasured memory. May God's richest blessing rest upon each one of you.

NORTHWEST TEXAS ANNUAL CONFERENCE AT LUBBOCK

The Northwest Texas Annual Conference, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, will convene at Lubbock on October 30th, and continue in session several days.

Several hundred ministers and delegates will attend the conference. This will be by far the largest delegation Lubbock has ever had the honor of entertaining, but this hustling little city never does things by halves and all who attend we are sure will be well taken care of for her citizenship is made of generous, free-hearted western people.—Lynn County News.

In deed we hope to have ample entertainment for everyone who will come. The conference date has been changed a week and is now November 6th. It will be a great meeting for Lubbock.

NOT GUILTY WAS VERDICT SIDNEY JOHNSON CASE

Baird, Texas, Sept. 27.—The Jury in the case of Sidney Johnson, charged with the murder of Ed Sims at Snyder in December, 1916, which has been on trial in Judge Joe Burkett's court, was brought to a close Tuesday evening at 6:10 o'clock when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case reached the jury at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, and the jury announced that a verdict had been reached at 4:30 o'clock, but on account of Judge Burkett being in the country the court did not assemble until 6:10 p. m. when the verdict was read and the defendant discharged.

The Sims relatives left here Thursday morning for their homes and were accompanied by the sheriff and his deputy from Scurry county. The Johnson family left Friday morning and were accompanied by a number of Texas Rangers. Every precaution was taken to keep down further trouble.

HOW TO AVOID THE SPANISH INFLUENZA

Safeguards against Spanish influenza—and other respiratory diseases are urged on the American people by the surgeon general of the army to prevent spread of the epidemic said to have been introduced into America from German U-boats. The surgeon general's admonitions follow:

Avoid needless crowding—influenza is a crowd disease.

Smother your coughs and sneezes, as others do not want the germs that you would throw away.

Your nose, not your mouth, was made to breathe through—get the habit.

Remember the three "C's"—clean mouth, clean skin and clean clothes. Try to keep cool when you walk and warm when you ride and sleep.

Open the windows—always at night: at the office when practicable.

Don't let the waste products of digestion accumulate—drink a glass or two of water on getting up.

Don't use a napkin, towel, spoon, fork, knife or glass that has been used by another person and not washed.

Avoid tight clothes, tight shoes and tight gloves—seek to make nature your prisoner.

When the air is pure, breathe all of it you can; breathe deeply.

MRS. W. D. BENSON'S MOTHER DIED SUNDAY

Sunday evening at about seven thirty, Mrs. Fannie Jane Brakebill, mother of Mrs. W. D. Benson, died at the home of Mrs. Benson. Deceased was born April 8, 1846 and died September 29. She was a few months over 72 years of age and had been an invalid for a number of years.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. A. Collins, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at the residence of Mrs. Benson, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and her remains were laid to rest in the Lubbock Cemetery.

ASKED TO LIMIT USE OF SUGAR

Must Use No More Than Two Pounds Per Person a Month if the Present Meagre Allied Sugar Ration Is Maintained.

Stocks Will Be Short Until Beginning of New Year—Ration May Be Enlarged Then.

Two pounds of sugar a month—half a pound a week—that is the sugar ration the U. S. Food Administration has asked every American to observe until January 1, 1919, in order to make sure there shall be enough for our Army and Navy, for the Allied armies and for the civilians of those nations.

By New Year's the world sugar situation will be relieved somewhat by the new crop. Cuban sugar of this year's crop will be arriving in this country.

Every available sugar source will be drawn on by the Food Administration during the next winter months to maintain sufficient stocks here to keep up our national sugar supply. During October the first American beet sugar will arrive in the markets. By the middle of November some of our Louisiana cane crop will be available. All of this sugar and more may be needed to keep this nation supplied on a reduced ration and to safeguard the Allied sugar ration from still further reduction. In Europe the present ration is already reduced to a minimum.

Our Situation. The situation which the United States faces in its efforts to maintain a fair distribution of sugar to the Allied world is as follows:

Sugar supplies throughout the country, in homes, stores, factories and bakeries are at a low ebb. We must make increased sugar shipments to the Allies.

Production of American beet and Louisiana cane crops have been disappointing.

Porto Rico crops have been curtailed.

Immense sugar stocks in Java cannot be reached on account of the shipping shortage; ships are needed for troop movements and munitions.

Army and Navy sugar requirements have increased as well as those from the Allies.

Most industries using sugar have had their allotment reduced by one-half; some will receive no sugar.

Households should make every effort to preserve the fruit crop without sugar, or with small amounts of sugar. Later, when the sugar supply is larger, the canned fruit may be sweetened as it is used.

CAMP TRAVIS WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

On Tuesday morning of this week five negroes who had a part in the Houston riots of 1917, were hanged fulfilling the orders of the courtmartial which had tried them. Rev. F. H. Kane, the Catholic clergyman who had received them into that faith, was the only civilian present, and the only soldiers other than officers who were present were the guards of the condemned men. The hanging took place at Fort Sam Houston. The gallows were built after dark, and were torn down immediately after the hanging, so that no morbid curiosity-seekers should find the spot.

With the arrival here of Brig. Gen. Robert H. Estes, training work at Camp Travis has begun with a vim. Last Saturday 306 commissioned officers at the camp received promotions, 23 captains being raised to majors, 115 first lieutenants being promoted to captains, while 168 second lieutenants were raised in rank. During the last week many new officers from other camps were brought here by transfer, and were assigned to the 18th Division.

While interest in baseball has died out somewhat, there is no lack of interest in football, and teams are being organized in Camp Stanley, Camp Travis, Kelley Field and Brooks Field among the organizations in these places. At Camp Travis, Physical Director Venne of "Y" 31 is planning the organization of an Indian team, having as material to draw on a number of former Carlisle Indian School stars, as well as those from Haskell Indian Institute, Haskell, Okla., and Chillico, Okla. A large number of Indians who have played in the squads of these various colleges are now in the recruit camps.

TO KAISER BILL

Here is to Kaiser Bill, William or Will, We will learn him of a country, that he will dread, We will humble his nation and its Kaiser kill, For the American boys are after his Head.

He may charge Italy, France and England as toys, And make light of their ships and all of their guns, But listen to the cheers of the American boys, As old Glory wipes out the last of the Huns.

The Star Spangled Banner, will echo the world, And the prophets Millennium, will then begin, When our National flag, shall be unfurled, And our boys shall march through old Berlin.

The world will honor this Nation of ours, Not for the army, but for their peace we raised, The Germans will cease, forever their jowers, And Woodrow Wilson, will forever be praised. —Dr. M. T. Council, Crosbyton, Tex

Trial has begun of three men accused of being deserters from the 90th Division, which trained at Camp Travis and which is now in France.

The men were arrested in the north-eastern part of Texas after State Ranger Dudley White had been killed, in July. An unusual question of jurisdiction had arisen in the case of the three, the army holding that the men were responsible to courtmartial, while the state contended that the courtmartial would mean a delay. The men accused are Sam Williams, Clay Williams and Dan Evans, and after Adjutant General Harley of the state government had gone to Washington and presented the record in person to Attorney General Gregory and Secretary of War, Baker, it was ordered that the courtmartial proceed.

To further comply with the government's request for the conservation of manpower, the authorities at Kelly Field have taken men operators from the telephone switchboards, replacing them with girls.

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

No rubbing! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezeone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezeone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezeone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezeone have him order it for you.

Let us mend your auto top and sew your old casings. We save you money and give satisfaction. Moore Brothers. 14-1.

Under the Tents at Camp Travis

According to Colonel Little, the Spanish Influenza is different from the usual known type of Influenza in the virulence of the factors. Climatic conditions have much to do with the status of the disease. It is notable that camps and cantonments of the United States West of the Mississippi River have been singularly free of Influenza in any form whatever.

There is no reason for worry, as to the health of the soldiers in the cantonment at Camp Travis, unless very unexpected outbreaks of the Influenza appear. This is deemed unlikely because of the preventative steps already taken and the general health conditions existing.

Given the name, as Brig. George H. Estes said in making the announcement, "because the Germans will gain their knowledge of its qualities through bitter contact," the new Eighteenth Division now forming at Camp Travis is to be known as the "Cactus Division."

Following the initial review of the embryonic division by the new commander Saturday, September 21, the work of unifying the various component parts and welding the whole into overseas shape is progressing rapidly. Saturday's review was but the first step in the program of making this new division the equal of its predecessor, the Ninetieth Division, which is already taking part in the conflict across the Atlantic. The review will be followed by a series of battalion parades to take place each afternoon. A different regiment will be represented each day of the week.

While much remain to be done toward organization of the groups, these already have assumed training form and are beginning to give promise of what they will be when time comes for departure. General Estes, one of the youngest Brigadier Generals in the Army, is one of the men selected by the War Department to take up the training of new divisions in the cantonments of the United States.

While much remain to be done toward organization of the groups, these already have assumed training form and are beginning to give promise of what they will be when time comes for departure. General Estes, one of the youngest Brigadier Generals in the Army, is one of the men selected by the War Department to take up the training of new divisions in the cantonments of the United States.

Following the initial review of the embryonic division by the new commander Saturday, September 21, the work of unifying the various component parts and welding the whole into overseas shape is progressing rapidly. Saturday's review was but the first step in the program of making this new division the equal of its predecessor, the Ninetieth Division, which is already taking part in the conflict across the Atlantic. The review will be followed by a series of battalion parades to take place each afternoon. A different regiment will be represented each day of the week.

RED CROSS PHARMACY

COME AND SEE THE GUNS CAPTURED BY OUR BOYS AT CHATEAU THIERRY

FRENCH "SEVENTY-FIVE," AERIAL TORPEDO, DEPTH BOMB AND OTHER WAR TROPHIES MAKE UP INTERESTING EXHIBIT.

BLOOD-STAINED AND BULLET-RIDDLED UNIFORM OF HUN KILLED BY AMERICAN SOLDIER WILL SHOW YOU HOW OUR BOYS ARE TAKING CARE OF YOUR INTERESTS AT HOME—GAS MASKS USED BY OUR BOYS AS PROTECTION AGAINST THE DEADLY MUSTARD GAS.

Perhaps no other battle waged in the great World War will ever be as deeply impressed in the minds and hearts of the American people as that one fought at Chateau Thierry, when the American soldier covered himself with glory fighting fearlessly—courageously, as Americans always fight. Here the counter-attack of the American forces turned the tide of war in favor of the allies and since that time our forces have steadily pushed their line forward.

Your boy may have been with the American forces that started that never-to-be-forgotten repulse of the German shock troops on the spot that has been the scene of many a titanic struggle since the time of the ancients. Maybe it was your neighbor's boy or some other boy from your home town. He may have been one of the group who captured a machine gun crew of the enemy troops.

At any rate it will not be difficult for you to visualize the activities of your home town boys in that great American victory when you inspect the captured by the Marines in that engagement, which is attracting more attention than any other object on the Liberty Loan War Relic Train, making a tour of the Eleventh Federal Reserve District in connection with the Fourth Liberty Loan Campaign. Second in interest is the big gun used first at Verdun, where it "gave the German the surprise of his life," as a returned war veteran puts it. It bears the marks of camouflage as it was used in that terrific drive of the Hun, which the French armies met and held at that famous spot which will go down in history as one of the world's great battlegrounds. It was at Verdun that the vision of the "White Comrade" spurred the tired and war-worn soldiers of France on to fiercer resistance against the foe, and where with their backs to the wall they fulfilled their vow, "They shall not pass."

Another object of particular interest at this time is

The Depth Bomb, Which is Included in This Exhibit.

This bomb is playing an important part in the transportation of United States troops overseas. It is carried on the torpedo boat destroyers which act as convoys to the troop ships, and are used in warfare against the German submarine. This weapon has been responsible for the sinking of more than one submarine which has attempted to frustrate the moving of United States troops.

Aircraft has become an important factor in modern warfare. Some of the most splendid and daring exploits of young Americans who are defending the principles upon which this nation was founded have been made possible by means of the aeroplane. Can you picture a heavy battle plane, equipped with a Lewis machine gun and carrying several aerial torpedoes, each weighing as much as 250 pounds, and a crew of five or six men? The Lewis machine gun which is used to a great extent in aerial warfare is among the interesting features of the war relic train, as is the aerial torpedo.

Captured German Rifles, Grenade Throwers and a Grantewerfer show the material which the Hun uses when he launches his conquest for world domination.

A Chauchat auto rifle machine gun, along with its magazine, ammunition carrier and other accoutrement of the French infantryman displays the sort of firearms used by the "Blue Devils."

Uniform Worn by Boche Bears Evidence of good marksmanship of American doughboy. This uniform, blood-stained and showing the wicked slit of a bayonet thrust, will be exhibited along with the field equipment of the German soldier. These objects will be shown in conjunction with the outfit of the United States soldier, and will give a comprehensive comparison of the two, showing the superiority of the American fighting man, in the matter of equipment as well as a fighter.

That "an army fights on its stomach" is fully recognized when an inspection is made of the methods by which the soldier carries his rations. Food and ammunition are the two greatest factors toward the successful outcome of a military expedition. And these, or a portion of these, the soldier carries with him as he moves from position to position along the new line of battle.

There are other exhibits on the train that appeal to the patriotism of all American citizens. Every man, woman and child should make it a point to see these war relics. The week before the trains were made up in Dallas hundreds of people visited the building in which the objects were being assembled, and viewed the trophies. The Minnenwerfer gun was placed on display outside the headquarters of the Dallas Liberty Loan Committee and had about it a group of interested spectators every hour of the day. The greatest enthusiasm is being manifested throughout the district regarding the visit of the War Relic train. An efficient corps of speakers and attendants accompany the train which will be made up of four cars. There are two flat cars, carrying the large gun, trench mortar, etc., an automobile car to show the smaller relics and a sleeping car for the speakers and attendants.

This train will be in Lubbock October 10th from 3:30 to 4:15 p. m.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

The Rules of Reason are not Complicated.

Trouble comes only when reason has to grapple with man's delusions, prompted by plausibility.

To The Avalanche:
Some years ago I read of rather a strong case. A young man took a horse without consent of owner, with no intent of doing wrong.

While still in his teens, he left a good home and became a tramp. With a romantic idea to reach a certain place far away, at a certain time.

After several days travel, he was foot-sore and wearied. One evening about twilight he lost hope of reaching the point on time, and started to a house near by to get lodging and something to eat.

When near the house he spied a stall horse, a bridle and saddle hanging on a peg. With no thought of wrong, but aglow with hopes of carrying out his romantic idea, he bridled, saddled, mounted and rides away. Of course, next morning the horse was missed and a party had seen a tramp near the stable late last evening. Officers were put on the trail and by hard riding and relay of horses, the young man was caught with the goods.

He was tried by proper methods and convicted.

His people employed a lawyer to defend him. The defense was, former good character, and his statements that he meant no wrong, but was overwhelmed crazed by delusion.

Taking in consideration the general appearance of the young man, and proof of former good character, and his statement, the heart of the judge was touched and he said, "young man my sympathies are with you, but you are guilty of a wrong against the law that must be strictly construed. The act of taking the horse is proof of an unlawful intent. Plausible excuses, former good character, and romantic delusions are no defense for the wrong you have committed. Nothing in this case could excuse, except positive proof of insanity. Law is based upon reason and permits no right to do wrong." Man as a rule in the main, is not bad. Delusions prompted by plausibility is his worst enemy. They murder reason. Plausibility tempts by offer of a cute reward for self.

It was delusion prompted by plausibility that cursed the fall of Adam. The reward offered Adam was indeed great. By the act of disobedience, he was to be God's equal, but when called to account, conscious of guilt, he whined, and tried to acquire himself, by laying all the blame upon the woman. Adam was the originator of that role that still lives. "One wrong calls for another wrong."

During the last week there has been much speculation as to whether this camp was to number among its Y. M. C. A. athletic workers Jim Thorpe, the noted Indian athlete. Thorpe, who owes his initial interest in sports to A. M. Venne, physical director at "Y" 31, while the latter was athletic instructor at Carlisle Indian School, had written to Mr. Venne about joining up with the Army "Y", and negotiations are under way.

Items of Interest to Farmers Gathered From Various Sources

Sheep for Farms.
M. W. Cole, Sheep Specialist, Extension Service A. & M. of Texas.

A great task has been set for the sheep and wool industry of the United States. Every soldier in our army requires the wool from twenty sheep to clothe and equip him for one year. At the present time there are approximately 50,000,000 sheep of shearing age in the United States, and considering that all of the wool from these sheep should be used for military purposes, they would furnish equipment for 2 1/2 million men. Now the war program is 5 million men. Where is the wool to come from to supply the civilians? We cannot supply our needs from imports because the wool from other countries is required for the armies of our allies. To state the matter briefly, this country is facing a great wool shortage. We must have more wool and meat and it must be produced at home.

The range sheep industry in the United States is on the decline, and the farm sheep industry is on the increase and must continue to increase until it takes the place of the decreased range sheep industry. Texas and some of the Southeastern states should rank high in the sheep industry in the future. A large part of the farming sections of these states are well adapted to sheep raising and large amounts of land that could be made profitable through sheep are lying idle. In East Texas especially there are many small pastures and many large tracts of land which should be stocked with sheep.

At present prices of wool and mutton the annual income from a good grade ewe should get from eight to fifteen dollars, if reasonable care is given. If properly handled the cost of keeping such a ewe during the year should not be more than three to five dollars.

In the range sections of Texas the drouth has again become acute and stock of all classes must be moved to market or to new pastures. Good breeding ewes can be purchased at prices ranging from $10 to $18. With an annual income of $8 to $15 on an original investment of $10 to 18 and an expense of $3 to $5 per head, what industry will make better returns? These ewes must not go to slaughter. They should be saved to back up our army. The opportunity for men of the farming sections of Texas and many other states to start sheep raising with good high grade ewes purchased at a reasonable price is at hand and should be grasped.

Any one desiring to purchase such ewes, or nannies, or any one having such stock for sale, should communicate with the county agent or the Extension Service of the A. and M. College for information and help.

Save Vegetable Seed

Indications are that the commercial crops of vegetable seed will be ample for the needs next spring, except in the case of a few kinds. Large orders, however, for American vegetable seed have been placed by the Allies, so that there is still need for every gardener to save as many seeds as possible from his own garden. Cabbage, lettuce, spinach and radish seed are especially scarce, and should be saved this fall, even if they are not of the best quality. Left-over seed from this spring's plantings should be carefully preserved and used another year.

It is easy for the gardener to save seed of many kinds of vegetables for his own use, and the fad of getting seed grown in some other section must be discarded now, says J. T. Rosa, Jr., of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. Tomatoes, egg plant and peppers should be selected from productive healthy plants, and the fruit ripened in a cool, dry place, after which the seed may be removed. Tomato seed is removed easily by pulping well ripened fruits in water, and allowing the pulp to rise to the surface. The seed sink to the bottom. Cucumber and melon seed of all kinds are also handled this way.

A LETTER FROM ROGER A. BURGESS

August, Ga., Sept. 2—Dear Mr. Dow:—My subscription has expired, and I am enclosing a dollar bill to you to extend my time for whatever period that will pay for. Mail service is poor in the army, but sure do not want to miss any copies of the Avalanche.

On September 2 twenty-four of us Camp Travis men were transferred to the Ordnance Training school here at Camp Hancock. Yanks from the far northeast, abound here. Camp Travis has this skinned a mile.

On September 23, I was transferred to the headquarters of Ordnance training camp, where I hope I shall be for some time, though one can never tell about this indefinite army game. Just five days ago I was in a company which has left for overseas. Think I shall like my work here of giving trade tests to those enlisted men who claim a trade, to see how proficient they are. This is something like giving examinations in school, except that the questions all come from Washington.

Sincerely,
ROGER A. BURGESS, Headquarters Supply Co., O. T. C. Camp Hancock, Georgia.

A TRIP TO OKLAHOMA IN AN AUTOMOBILE

To say we are glad to be back in Lubbock is putting it mildly. We listened to the call of the wild and left on the morning of June 16, for our initial camping trip via auto. About twelve miles out of town we sped through the first closed gate, fortunately no damage was done. We proceeded through Idalou, Lorenzo, Ralls and noon found us a few miles this side of the little town of Cone, where we ate our first open air meal. Driving on to Floydada, a decidedly steep hill down Blanco Canyon, for once diverted our attention from the trees to the speedometer. From Floydada to the road down the cap rock we traveled over miles of extremely good roads. That leading down the cap rock is very rough and deep canyons stretched beneath us on either side. After reaching the lower altitude, the air seemed heavier till even the little boys noticed it.

From now on the road showed the effects of the heaviest rain in years and in some places were impassable. We passed through Quitaque and pitched our tent and prepared to enjoy our supper, which included fried rabbit, our appetites were equal to any thing.

Our bed is a device that fastens to the running board of the car and is made of a strong set of springs covered with khaki, with only two braces that touch the ground and makes a bed quite safe and comfortable. The kiddies sleeping on the cushions in the car.

Before going to bed however, we heard a sound that gave us a faint idea of what we might expect on a camping trip; a snake about 5 feet long and which sounded exactly like a rattler was making a visit to late comers but with flashlight and gun we soon put an end to his advance, but sleep took its flight from at least two of our crowd for there were five of us and there might have been five snakes on a hunting trip likewise. Cattle and screech owls made other curious expeditions in our vicinity during the night. We were more than glad to get breakfast over and be on our way after friend husband avenged our sleepless night by shooting into an innocent family of prairie dogs and scaring them into a Hun dance over their dead and trying to make their get-away. This was really the last cool night we spent until we returned to Lubbock. We reached Turkey without incident and decided that the cream would taste very good but found the town to be without ice.

Several miles out of Turkey, we experienced an optical illusion, which immediately decided us to turn back a short distance. A head there loomed on our vision a hill that resembled a telegraph pole in straight up and down lines and about half a mile high, we couldn't imagine what a plain traveled road was doing there and to our intense surprise the further we advanced the road leveled out till there was no hill at all. Hereafter any hills in the distance were beneath our consideration. We reached Esteline and crossed the bridge over Prairie Dog Creek and passed through Newlin before stopping for dinner we drove some cattle out of their shade near a little country church with a cemetery in the background. The boys lost no time in entering to count the gravestones, but their was a hornet's nest near the first grave and their flight back was a matter of seconds.

Whirlwinds have a very shiftless way or disregarding time and their route and our second cup of coffee became so much mud and small plates full of rabbit were soon following its course upward fortunately we had eaten plenty to satisfy our appetites. We then traveled on until we came to a place where several roads branched off and it led us to a high rock which was beyond doubt the end of that road and returned over the track that others had taken.

We were in no hurry to leave the uneven country around us until we were well supplied with all the rabbit meat we could eat. We finally reached a large stream and the bridge had been destroyed by a washout. We were informed that a family in a car had gone down the embankment before they saw their danger and were all badly hurt. We were convinced that another crossing must be effected near if we were to reach Hollis, Okla., that night, so we proceeded through a pasture to a place that all but the driver admitted to be safer to walk, and we argued that the less weight in the car, the better the chances were to get out of the said bed in the creek. Friend husband accused us of letting him get killed all by himself and for one breathless minute we thought his fears well founded but our trusty Dodge with emergency power, carried him safely over the top. Several persons watching from the rocks above, were convinced that the car would never reach the top. It was several minutes before we could steady our shaking limbs and we proceeded to the other crossing to get a good view of the powerful bridge that had been swept from one side of the creek. We covered the distance to Hollis in short time. All the way from the cap rock the roads were the roughest imaginable and crews looked fairly good until we reached the Okla.oma line. Men women and children at work with cultivators and hoes were in evidence everywhere but the absence of young men was noted. We reached the Ozark Trail just before entering Hollis. Forty miles a hour was slow time for us and one can imagine how we appreciated this highway after moving so slowly over the roughest of roads. If this Highway is ever paved it will be the most important and valuable development for the Plains country.

We ate supper and stayed in Hollis that night instead of being in close proximity of snakes, coyotes and other inhabitants of the prairie. After breakfast next morning we traveled through Duke, Gould and Altus which is a very prosperous looking city, with paved streets and handsome structures built with a view to civic beauty as well as convenience. We came on to Red River and stuck hard and fast in the sand. A boy was waiting with his team for just such predicaments to pull all cars across the river which is full of slick sand. The bridge had been destroyed here also, almost a month before and no men were available to finish the new one. We arrived in Snyder in time for dinner. Husband's relatives were all there to greet us and old friends almost forgotten, these fifteen years, made us rejoice in their affectionate welcome.

Snyder is a town that is in the track of cyclones and they seem to take pleasure in destroying many houses about every other year; in all parts evidence of some damage is shown in the numerous repairs. Storm caves are far more important than dwellings. When Snyder was in its infancy one of these storms killed one fourth of its inhabitants. A fire whistle such as Lubbock has is used more as a warning during stormy nights than for fires. Lubbock has this advantage. It has no use for storm caves.

Out on the farm, where husband's brother, John is trying to wrest a living from 600 acres of the best land in Southwestern Oklahoma, the lack of rain and the hot scorching winds have played havoc with his hopes of a good crop of anything, even the cotton has been damaged by severe hail storms. Oklahoma people have the erroneous idea that all these hot winds are blowing off the plains of West Texas. Large crops of feed stuff, corn as high as a man's head, look as though a hot fire had scorched it. It makes outdoor work difficult and Brother John decided to try our ability out in the cotton patch and as my skin was already done to a nice brown, I informed him that I had brought a pair of overalls and was ready to do my part, but he made it quite plain to me that he did not desire to have any lady out in his cotton patch who would don men's attire, so my little ruse succeeded and I had the pleasure of staying in the house. We had been here a few days when Brother John came running to the house and told us that an aeroplane was coming straight over our heads and it was flying so low we could get a good view of it and the motor sounded very close. It was then we determined to visit Fort Sill, near Lawton. We could hear the boom of cannon every morning from that direction.

We had bidden good-bye to a nephew who went from Frederick to train at Camp Cody and is now in Camp Dix in New Jersey ready to sail without returning home. The mother is heart-broken.

Later we visited Fredrick and were told that a former Lubbock man resided on a nearby farm and we were anxious to find him. We proceeded to the place indicated and found our former Sheriff, Mr. Ross, swearing out complaints against his cotton because it didn't promise him the expected half a bale to the acre. He and his wife, formerly Mrs. Graham, were undoubtedly glad to see us and receive news from Lubbock. They are looking forward to the day in the future when they will return to Lubbock. Mr. Ross is one of the bad boys of Frederick.

We spent two months visiting relatives near Snyder and was ready to visit Fort Sill when word was received from Lubbock that the shoe shop was closed for lack of business, so we decided the only thing to do was to return at once and we were ready to start next morning and there were to be no more rough roads and we stuck to the O. T. like a brother. The trail took us through that part of Texas called the shinnery and here crops were all that could be desired for the land had plenty of moisture and it was beginning to rain before we stopped at Wellington for the night. Next morning we traveled on in haste to Clarendon and it was here we remembered that an old friend, Mr. Warren, had been an Editor for several years and we spied his office, just opposite us and a quick turn of the steering wheel took the front wheels of the car upon a twenty inch curb and we heard a shouted invitation to come in, car and all, but willing hands pushed the car off the walk before we could accept.

Amarillo, Canyon City and Plainview were our next stops and the prosperous looking country and cool refreshing winds reminded us that we were nearing home and the distance to Lubbock was soon covered.

We are at home again and our welcome back has been sincere. Our kiddies are back in school and we are living a normal life once more. As to another trip to a sure-enough drought stricken country we will say never again!

Paris, August 5th.---"The Americans covered themselves with glory... The fighting is said to have been the bitterest of the whole war, the Prussian Guards asking no quarter and being bayoneted or clubbed to death as they stood by their machine guns."

This is not ancient history, or the story of some people you have never seen or know, nothing of. It is the record of our boys--maybe your own boy.

It is not a question of "How much can I afford to lend to support these boys?"

The question is "If I give up everything in life but the barest necessities, will I, even then, be worthy of them"?

At least lend as they fight--fearlessly--courageously. Let nothing matter but victory.

The program which was rendered at the school house Friday night was very much enjoyed by everyone. After the program the Social Center was reorganized. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. J. C. Bowles; Vice President, Mrs. O. E. Sears; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss V. V. Stringer.

Work on the new school house is progressing slowly but surely. The plaster and more sand have arrived. All is ready now for the bricklayers. Messrs. Taylor and Dane were out Monday looking over the job.

Many children are picking cotton who should be in school. Poor attendance is responsible for much poor work done in the rural schools. But it seems that it is impossible for some farmers, especially those who raise cotton, to get along without the assistance of their children.

We hope that the day is not far distant when child labor on the farm during school time will be looked upon with as much disfavor as child labor in the mines or factories. Both prevent the proper intellectual development of the child, and both are equally reprehensible.

Cheer up! Cheer up! you pessimist—Be thankful that you're here, For you yourself would not exist If all were perfect here!

Such intense patriotism seemingly existed that one speaker voiced the sentiments of the entire council when he declared that he would rather see all our people in the U. S. men and women give up their lives and our fair lands dug up and thrown into the sea than for Germany to win this war and place our people under the German yoke.

The organizations represented in the council were:

The Y. W. C. A.
The Y. M. C. A.
The National Library Association.
The Knights of Columbus.
The Jewish Welfare Boys.
The Salvation Army and the Camp Community Service.

examination of 1100 boys; so his knowledge of the dry goods business has been in good stead for him. He will be sent to France at once.

The family will remain in Lubbock for the present. GERMANY IS TRADING INVALIDS FOR HUSKIES

Petrograd, August 10.—Via Vladivostok. Intent only upon further looting helpless Russia, Germany is exchanging inviolated tubercular prisoners for sound strong German prisoners held in Russia. Germany returns prisoners who are a drain on the economic resources of Russia and takes in return Germans capable of strenuous fighting on the west front.

"Germany has a committee here choosing their own men to be exchanged," says a Young Women's Christian Association secretary in charge of the Blue Triangle Club. "They choose only the most fit and will not let the Russian exercise a like privilege. The condition of the returned Russian soldier is alarming. They are skeletons, physical wrecks. Over seventy per cent are in the last stages of tuberculosis."

"The poor fellows are stunned by changed conditions in Russia. They are filled with utter scorn for those responsible for Russia not doing her part, and they want to go back and fight. So after all, Germany, missing the spirit, seems to be defeating her own purpose by returning the fiery spirited wrecks who are setting the souls of Russia against the oppressor."

And when, from their inspiration, Russian girls up her loins and returns to the fight, Germany will, perhaps, finally realize that those she sent home to spread disease and death stirred the soul of the country to throw off the oppressor."

THE WOMEN CLERKS ARE LEARNING TO DRILL

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—Women drilling in the parks make even war-time Washington stop and stare. Twice a week the girls, work in the government offices, with an army officer in charge drill on the Eclipse. Long lines of motor cars begin to park earlier in their afternoon than their occupants may view the drill.

All of the hay-foot-straw-footers are members of the Business Women's Council, a Blue Triangle League which has three thousand members in the government offices. The remainder of the 45,000 girl employees of the United States are provided with other forms of recreation by the War Work Council of the Young Woman's Christian Association.

Hikes and tramps are in order when the girls, accompanied by association attaches, get an abundance of out door exercise which contributes mightily to keep them in fit condition for the work which they are doing for winning of the war. In addition to these forms of recreation, they may utilize the Blue Triangle Country Club, a gift of the War Work Council for the express use of this class of women employees in the city of Washington.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the appetite, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Calomel Users! Listen To Me!
I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone
Your druggist gives back your money if it doesn't liven your liver and bowels and straighten you up without making you sick.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate. Children and grown-folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless. Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.
