

THE LUBBOCK AVALANCHE

VOLUME XIX

LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1918

NUMBER 17

CLOSING CONTINUES ANOTHER WEEK

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION PUBLISHED LAST WEEK REMAINS IN FORCE AND EFFECT TILL SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2ND

SCHOOLS REMAIN CLOSED; GATHERINGS PROHIBITED

Situation is at Critical Point and Authorities Believe it Unwise to Lift the Restrictions Yet. Epidemic is Still Raging, but Physicians Believe Conditions Are Improved.

Mayor Parks is authority for the statement that the proclamation issued by him last week will remain in full force and effect for another week, from Saturday unless lifted by later proclamation. The order issued by him last week expires Saturday but physicians and authorities believe it would be unwise to lift the ban at that time, and the mayor has proclaimed accordingly.

There are quite a number of cases of influenza in town, some of them very severe, but fortunately to date, there has been only the one death reported from this cause, which was reported last week. A number of Lubbock citizens and former citizens of this place have died from the disease, but all except the one died in other places. It is the general belief among the health officers that the disease is very well under control just now, but it will take another ten days or possibly more to clear the town of the epidemic, with the greatest precautions exercised, so under these conditions it behooves the people of this city to cooperate with the authorities in holding the disease down as much as possible.

There will be no school sooner than than November the 4th, and no church services will be held in any of the churches next Sunday or between now and the 2nd of November. No lodge meeting or picture shows and the pool hall must remain closed during that time.

Lubbock is indeed very fortunate in not having had more serious cases than she has had and it is largely due to the carefulness of the people and the forethought of the authorities and health officers that this can be said.

Let us all adhere strictly to the rules laid down in the proclamation and the following suggestions and we may be able to help in stamping out this disease, which is proving fatal in many places:

Rules for Those at work
Walk to work if possible.
Avoid the person who coughs or sneezes.
Wash your hands before eating.
Make full use of all available sunshine.
Do not use a common towel. It spreads disease.
Should you cough or sneeze cover nose and mouth with a handkerchief.
Keep out of crowded places. Walk in the open air rather than go to a crowded place of amusement.
Sleep is necessary for well-being—avoid overexertion. Eat good clean food.
Keep away from houses where there are cases of influenza.
If sick, no matter how slightly, see a physician.
If you have had the influenza, stay in bed until the doctor says you can safely get up.

Rules for Those at Home
Keep out of the sick room unless your attendance is necessary.
Don't handle articles coming from the sick room until they are boiled.

EDITOR AND FAMILY VISITS IN MITCHELL

The Avalanche Editor and family visited in Mitchell County four days since the last issue of the Avalanche was published. We arrived there Friday evening and Saturday evening it began raining and continued at intervals to rain until Tuesday morning. Coming along on top of a good shower the week before, old Mitchell is pretty well soaked once more and farmers will get busy and many will plant wheat, rye or barley for pasture. The range conditions in that section are anything but favorable. The past summer has been very dry and no crops have been raised in the greater portion of that county, though in the northeast part of the county over a small area considerable crops were raised and cotton was coming in at a rapid rate from that section to the gin at Colorado and Lorraine. The heavy rains extended as far up this way as Post, and we were compelled to leave our car in the garage at Justiceburg on account of the heavy slick roads. We pulled mud and water from Snyder to that place, but the red mud hills and numerous culverts offered too many opportunities to dump the whole Avalanche brood into the ditch so we took advantage of the first chance to get a railroad ticket over the Santa Fe the balance of the way home, and arrived Wednesday morning, safe and sound. The fine rains over a large portion of the west has put new life and brighter hopes into the people and they are planning now for a big crop next year, and here is hoping that they will not be disappointed.

Turkey will accept the peace, based on the principles of "right and justice," as laid down by President Wilson, which the new Turkish Government approves. Grand Vizier Tewfik Pasha is quoted in a Constantinople dispatch as having stated this in Parliament.

Miss Emma Dorn, sister of Mrs. Jas. L. Dow, is visiting at the editor's home this week.

Allow no visitors, and do not go visiting.
Call a doctor for all inmates who show signs of beginning sickness.
The usual symptoms are: Inflamed and watery eyes, discharging nose, a headache, headache, muscular pain and fever.
Keep away from crowded places, such as movies, theatres, street cars.
See to it that your children are kept warm and dry both day and night.
Have sufficient fire in the home to dispense the dampness.
Open your windows at night, if cool weather prevails, add extra bed clothing.
Suggestions to those who are nursing the sick.
Keep clean. Isolate your patients.
When in attendance upon patients wear a mask which will cover both the nose and mouth. When the mask is once in place do not handle it.
Change the mask every two hours. Owing to the scarcity of gauze, boil for one-half hour and rinse, then use the gauze again.
Wash your hands each time you come in contact with the patient. Use bichloride of mercury, 1-1000, or Liqueur Cresol compound, 1-100, for hand disinfection.
Obtain at least seven hours' sleep in each twenty-four hours. Eat plenty of good, clean food.
Walk in the fresh air daily.
Sleep with your windows open.
Insist that the patient cough, sneeze or expectorate into cloths that may be disinfected or burned.
Boil all dishes.
Keep patients warm.
Rules for Everyone to Follow
If you feel a sudden chill, followed by muscular pain, headache, backache, unusual tiredness and fever, go to bed at once and send for a doctor.
See that there is enough bed clothing to keep you warm.
Open all windows in your bedroom and keep them open at all times, except in rainy weather.
Take medicine to open the bowels freely.
Take some nourishing food, such as milk, egg-and-milk or broth every four hours.
Stay in bed until a physician tells you that it is safe to get up.
Allow no one else to sleep in the same room.
Protect others by sneezing and coughing into handkerchiefs or cloths which should be boiled or burned.
Insist that whoever gives you water or food or enters the sickroom for any other purpose shall wear a gauze mask, which may be obtained from the Red Cross or may be made at home of four to six folds of gauze and which should cover the nose and mouth and be tied behind the head.
Remember that these masks must be kept clean, must be put on outside the sickroom, must not be handled after they are tied on and must be boiled thirty minutes and thoroughly dried every time they are taken off.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr. who will Hold Conference here Nov. 6

BISHOP JAMES CANNON, JR.

The following tribute to Bishop Cannon serves as a splendid introduction to this splendid Christian gentleman to the people of this community. He will conduct the coming session of the Northwest Texas Conference, which meets here November 6th.

With the assembling of the Northwest Texas Conference in Lubbock there will be brought together for a few days as fine a body of men as may be found anywhere. From the sturdy, efficient, aspiring circuit riders to the silver-tongued pulpit orator of "First Church," the eager, young beginner, to the white-bearded superannuate, the raw recruit to the seasoned veteran in Zion's war, they are an earnest, unselfish body of men serving in the greatest cause that ever engaged the minds and hearts of men.

Among the number will be distinguished visitors both lay and clerical, representing the various great lines of Christian activities. Great questions will come up for consideration, great addresses will be delivered by men who deliver the goods in the actual work, as well as from the platform.

But above all that number there will be one man, the observed of all observers, the center of all interest, in whose hands the control and direction of the work will be held, as in those of no others. Others represent some special cause, he presides over the destinies of all. On his will, piety, judgment, skill and genius for leadership depend in greatest measure the future of the church in this section for another year, with its consequent influence upon the entire church throughout the world.

That man is Bishop James Cannon, Jr.

A Virginian of Virginians is he, the product of the best culture of all that implies in inheritance, and en-

J. M. BROOKS REPORTED KILLED IN FRANCE

Again the sting of the war is keenly felt in Lubbock. J. M. Brooks, son of A. L. Brooks of this city was reported among the killed in action during the past week. The exact date of the fatality is not known, but possibly several weeks ago judging from the length of time usually required to report deaths in this way. Mr. Brooks was a splendid young man and joined the ranks from Crosby county, having been associated with the telephone company in Crosbyton for a number of years before the United States entered the world conflict. He with others has paid the extreme sacrifice that our country might be free. We at home should buy more war savings stamps that the war may be brought to a hasty, triumphant end. The sooner the guns of the enemy are silenced the sooner our boys will get back and the more of them that will survive.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Baker returned Friday of last week from Taylor county where they were called by the illness and death of Mrs. Baker's father.—Crosbyton Review.

Get your house in order to entertain your guests who will attend the Annual Conference beginning November 6th. The biggest meeting ever held in Lubbock. Do your part toward entertaining these guests.

Mrs. C. L. Lloyd, of El Reno, Oklahoma, is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charlie Ward, for a few weeks.

Busy men are usually so happy that they have no time to realize it.

To this is added the best of the great Universities of the Nation can give in mental poise and training. Astute, alert, sincere, profound, brave, and determined, equally skillful in council or battle, out of her six millions of membership, Southern Methodism has chosen this man as one of the few, worthy the highest place in power and leadership.

With eagle sweep of vision he surveys the wide fields of the church's warfare, with tireless patience to every little detail, he prepares her for the contest. A big brother in a mighty brotherhood, a great soldier in a great soldiery, a mighty man among men of might.

For years the Rev. James Cannon, Jr. has been a leader in the religious and civil life of his state and the nation. To him more than to any other man is to be attributed Virginia's place in the Prohibition states of this Union. He is the man chosen by the National Anti-Saloon League and President Wilson to visit our armies in France last spring and report upon and advise and assist in the moral welfare of our men on the firing lines. Chairman of the National Anti-Saloon League, Chairman of the Commission for the Southern Methodist church, on Temperance and Social Service, editor of the Church paper for his state, President of the Blackstone College for Girls, he filled all positions at one time with efficiency and great skill, and at the General Conference of the church in May was elected Bishop.

When you meet him, you will meet one of the nation's first citizens and great men. The kind who lead her to victory and that she delights to honor.

Brethren Bishop James Cannon, Jr.—Contributed.

CURTIS RATLIFF DIED AT ARLINGTON SCHOOL

Curtis Ratliff, elder son of Mrs. J. W. Talley, of White Deer, died at Arlington school from a relapse of the Spanish influenza, and was buried in the Lubbock Cemetery by the side of his father, Tuesday afternoon. The deepest sympathy of the people of this community go out to the bereaved family as death steals into the circle and takes away one of the most promising young men of the community in which he resides. For many years this family resided in Lubbock and near by and deceased was born and raised in this community. He was a faithful good son and was highly respected by all.

CLAUD GREEN'S REMAINS BURIED HERE SUNDAY

The remains of Claud Green, who died in Nashville, Tennessee, arrived in Lubbock Saturday and were laid to rest in the Lubbock Cemetery last Sunday with Woodman of the World honors. A large crowd attended the funeral.

J. E. and Joe Henderson returned Thursday morning from Ocala, where they went to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Claude Burrus, who died Monday, at Denton from influenza.

In most cities the flu situation is greatly improved and it is hoped that within a week the country will be practically clear of the malady.

The ban is on in Lubbock for another week from Saturday. By that time the flu will have flown, we hope.

LUBBOCK COUNTY "OVER THE TOP"

WITH A MARGIN OF FORTY-ONE THOUSAND AND FIFTY DOLLARS IN THE FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

THE TOTAL AMOUNT OF BONDS BOUGHT $191,850.00

The Sales Committee is Very Grateful to the Loyal Citizenship of This County for the Liberal Support of the Issue. Lubbock County is Standing by the Government.

"Over the Top!" Lubbock County went over in grand shape in the drive for the Fourth Liberty Loan. Our quota was $150,800 and we never stopped till $191,850 worth of Uncle Sam's paper had been purchased by a large number of purchasers. Many of our citizens went down into their pockets and took a fifty or a hundred dollar loan certificate, in order to help the boys over in France to put the German army to rout.

The following figures were given us by the chairman of the Sales Committee. Purchased through the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock, $40,150; Lubbock State Bank, $52,650; Security State Bank and Trust Company, $17,200; Farmers National Bank, $4,600; Abernathy, $2,350; Slaton Banks, $31,100; Santa Fe Railway Company, $43,650; Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Co., $150.

Lubbock County has done her full duty in the purchase, but we are away behind our quota in War Savings Stamps and it behooves us to get busy and buy liberally the remaining months of this year so that we will buy our quota of these stamps. It is just as important that we buy these small bonds at the larger ones and it will help the cause just as much. Many have subscribed to the purchasing of these stamps who have not yet paid anything. You should make your pledge good and show your Uncle that you are not only behind him in promises, but you are making good these promises.

The following is a statement from the Chairman of the various departments of the sales force for the Fourth Liberty Loan Drive:

A Word From The Committeemen
The Fourth Liberty Loan campaign is over and the result in this county is most gratifying to the whole people. The campaign was handled in a way that has been entirely satisfactory to all concerned, and we desire to thank the people for the generous and patriotic way in which they responded to the call of the several committees that had this work in hand.

The work of the committees has been a pleasure in more ways than one, since the people as a rule were so responsive in the call to duty. The oversubscription in the county was large considering the conditions prevailing and should be a matter of pride to every citizen.

Not only should it be a matter of pride that we have met the issue so nobly, as a call from the Government but also from the fact that the men of our country who are in the field and the training camps will realize when they learn what this country has done, that we are, as a people, standing solidly behind them in the sacrifices they are making. And especially gratifying to them will it be when they know that the peace propaganda that was put out during the campaign, evidently with a purpose of weakening the sale of bonds, has utterly failed in its purpose, and our people rose bravely to the task set before them.

J. H. Moore, County Chairman.
Roscoe Wilson, Chairman Sales Committee.
R. A. Baldwin, Sub-Chairman of Sales Committee.
C. E. Parks, Chairman Judgment Committee.
Jno. F. Turner, Chairman Publicity Committee.
W. F. Schenck, Chairman Speakers Committee.
J. E. Vickers, Chairman Four Minute Speakers Committee.
Mrs. F. V. Brown, Chairman Women's Committee.
Mrs. Lee Green, Sub-Chairman of Women's Committee.

FOR THE COMMITTEES

STATEMENT FROM METHODIST ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

The committee having in charge the securing of homes for the delegates to the Methodist Conference to be held Nov. 6, desires to call the attention of the people of the town to the fact that the situation is such, on account of the influenza epidemic, that it has not been advisable to make a canvass of the town. But the necessity of securing homes comes with full force to us. We must provide these homes in a manner that will be creditable to our town. May we depend upon you to call us by phone and let us know how many you can care for.

A canvass of the town will very likely be made next week to secure homes, and we trust Lubbock people will show us their appreciation of the situation by helping us in every possible way to provide the necessary homes. This gathering means much to Lubbock.

The Committee.

Referring to the above statement the Avalanche is anxious that the people of this city rally to the support of the committee. A very difficult condition has existed here for several weeks, that has made the work of securing homes for the delegates to this meeting a very arduous task, and for that reason the entire populace of our city should cooperate in the entertainment of these guests, regardless of church or creed. Phone any member of the committee if you have not already been approached and promised entertainment for one or more, what you can do and it will be appreciated. The date of the conference is getting close at hand, and we want to be ready for everyone that will come.

MISS FARWELL TO INSTRUCT CLASS AT PLAINVIEW

Just as soon as the epidemic will permit the Elementary Hygiene, Home Care of Sick, Nurses Aid class will begin. The text books have been here for six weeks. The headquarters have recommended Miss Farwell of Lubbock as instructor, but she is now pressed into service there as a nurse, and cannot get away until the epidemic is past.—Plainview News.

Misses Margaret Huff and Pearl Webb went to Dallas Wednesday, where Miss Webb will teach music. Miss Webb is from Hale Center and has been visiting Miss Huff.

Mr. Hamilton left Saturday for Tucson, Arizona, where he is called to the bedside of Mrs. Hamilton, who is very low.

An enormous crowd of angry German citizens assembled before the Reichstag building Friday and demanded the abdication of Kaiser Wilhelm and the formation of a Republic says a special from Zurich.

MRS. FAVERMAN DIED IN CLOVIS-THURSDAY

Mrs. Pearl Faverman, wife of Mr. M. Faverman, manager of the C. H. Grollman store here, died yesterday from pneumonia superceded by Spanish influenza. Mrs. Faverman was 30 years old and died on the twelfth anniversary of her wedding day, Oct. 23. She leaves besides her husband, two daughters, one 8 years old and the other eleven, and a sister who is expected to arrive today from Norfolk, Va., who will not know until she arrives that her sister has died while she was on the way here. Mrs. Faverman is a cousin of C. H. Grollman who with his wife are just recovering from influenza, and she grew up to womanhood in Norfolk, Va., where she married Mr. Faverman. Mrs. Faverman was one of these kind hearted women who are loved by everybody and leaves many friends at her old home and here to mourn her loss. The remains will be taken to Norfolk for interment accompanied by Mr. Faverman, her sister, and the two children.—Clovis Journal.

HAPPENINGS IN RALLS FOR THE PAST WEEK

Ralls Banner.

The buildings which have been under construction in Ralls for the past few months are now almost complete. In fact the First State Bank is now occupying the building on the corner that was built especially for it, and the barber shop and offices in the same building are now being put in shape for occupancy. The exemption board has been in the new building for the past two or three weeks. The opera house, one of the most beautiful buildings to be found in this part of the state, is now almost completed and will be ready to open in the course of only a few weeks. Things are now at a standstill pending the arrival of the seats. The spacious building occupying the lot formerly occupied by the Masonic building, is also near completion. The carpenters are now doing the finishing work. We understand that Bird and Dean will occupy this building.

Miss Lenora Cannon, of Dawson, who had come here for the purpose of teaching music at the Emma school died Sunday. She was ill when she arrived here and gradually grew worse, taking the influenza which soon developed into a case of pneumonia that proved fatal to her. Her parents were wired for and her father arrived Sunday. The remains were shipped back to Dawson for burial Tuesday.

A telegram was received here yesterday stating that John Anglin had died at Camp Travis, the cause leading to his death being Spanish influenza. He was in the last call of drafted men from Crosby County. The funeral will take place here Saturday the 19th.

Mrs. Goggans was operated on in the Lubbock Sanitarium on Saturday and we understand that the operation was entirely successful.

The Ralls high School, under the stewardship of Prof. Wester and his corps of splendid teachers, is progressing nicely, and now promises to be one of the most successful terms in its history.

The Banner is sorry to learn that Mrs. James E. Buck, wife of Editor Buck of the Crosbyton Review, was taken seriously ill with appendicitis last week and was operated on at the Lubbock sanitarium. We understand that she is doing nicely.

Mrs. T. R. Butler was operated on at a Lubbock sanitarium last week for appendicitis and a complication of other diseases. We understand that she is doing nicely at this writing.

Tom Ponzena was here Sunday from Lubbock. He was employed during the summer on the new brick buildings that have been recently constructed here.

The ex-German liners in use as transports are doing their bit toward the destruction of the Hindenburg line.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS FROM THE SLATONITE

Miss Millie Halsey, County demonstration agent and Mrs. Dora Barnes, district agent from A. and M. College, were in Slaton last Friday in interest of the rally day for the boys and girls clubs of the county. Mrs. Barnes has her offices for the Panhandle at Clarendon.

Bill Guinn left a Porto Rico sweet potato at the Slatonite office Monday as an average sample of his crop this year, three miles south of town. The potato weighed nearly 2 pounds and was a fine one. The Porto Rico is said to contain much more sugar than any other variety of sweet potato. Bill reports having raised a good crop this year on the farm.

Dr. J. Q. Burton died at his home in Slaton Monday morning about 8 o'clock. The funeral was held from the home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, and interment was made in the Slaton cemetery. Elder Liff Sanders of Lubbock, pastor of the Church of Christ, conducted the funeral services.

A. K. Schooler and his family returned Saturday from their trip to central Texas, where they had spent several weeks visiting relatives and traveling in their car.

R. B. Haynes, editor of the Tahoka News, and his wife and the Mesdames Weaver, Maddux and White of Tahoka, drove up to Slaton last Thursday noon to visit the War Relic train during its stop in this city.

Mrs. Claud V. Hall was in Houston last week attending the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star. The spread of influenza became so great in Houston that all public gatherings were suspended and the session of the Grand Chapter terminated ahead of its schedule.

Rev. H. D. Heath of Plainview, state evangelist for the Panhandle District of the Baptist Church, delivered a very fine sermon at the first Baptist Church of Slaton last Sunday morning.

FELIX JONES CASE SET FOR TRIAL OCTOBER 28

For the trial of Felix Jones October 28th, a special venire of 250 men has been drawn. The trial was fixed after a writ of habeas corpus was sued out in favor of Jones. M. T. Lively, District Attorney, explained that he could be ready for the trial as quickly as for the habeas corpus. Judge Robert B. Seay, then fixed the date in the Criminal District Court.

The trial of the man who was charged by indictment in June of last year with the murder of Miss Florence Brown is expected to continue for at least ten days. More than 300 witnesses are to be called. The defense expects 200. The prosecution will have many witnesses from other States. They will volunteer to come.

tion will have many witnesses from other States. They will volunteer to come.

The murder of Florence Brown has been a mystery since the morning of July 28th, 1913. She was found in a field street real estate office with her throat slashed. She was a stenographer. The Grand Jurors spent much time on the case, but it was not until last year that an indictment was returned.

Much of the evidence against Felix Jones was produced by the late Captain William McDonald, United States Marshal and former State Ranger. Private detectives have been on the case recently.

Jones said on being brought here from El Paso, that an alibi will be his defense. He has retained Oscar Calvert as local counsel. Other attorneys will come from El Paso.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whiter and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB

Sweet Corn Chow-Chow

- 3 Pecks sweet red peppers.
- 1 Cup grated horseradish.
- 5 Tablespoonsful of Salt.
- 4 Ounces mustard seed.
- 1/2 Tablespoonful black pepper.
- 3 Teaspoonfuls Cinnamon
- 1 Gallon vinegar (should be 6 per cent acetic acid)
- 1/2 Peck of onions.
- 3 Cupfuls of sugar.
- 3 Ounces of Celery seed, crushed.
- 1 Teaspoonful of Cloves.
- 1 Teaspoonful of Allspice.
- 2 Teaspoonfuls ground Ginger.

Chop onions and peppers fine, mix all ingredients, and cook over a slow fire for three hours. This quantity will fill fifteen pint jars. The flavor may be made still better by adding tobacco to suit the taste.

Tobasco Sauce

- 4 dozen red Tobasco or chili peppers.
- 1/2 Cupful spiced vinegar.

1 Clove or garlic (onion may be used if preferred.)
Boil the finely chopped peppers and garlic until tender, drain, rub through a sieve, add the spiced vinegar until paste is of a creamy consistency. Put into sterilized bottles and seal.

Green Tomato Mincemeat

- 1 Peck green tomatoes.
- 2 Pounds brown sugar.
- 2 Pounds raisins.
- 1 Pound beef suet.
- 1/2 Cupful vinegar.
- 2 Tablespoonfuls salt.
- 2 Tablespoonfuls ground cinnamon.
- 1 Tablespoonful ground cloves.
- 1 Tablespoonful grated nutmeg.
- 2 Cupfuls chopped apples.

Slice tomatoes or put through a food chopper, allow to drain, cover with cold water, place over fire and boil five minutes. Drain well, add suet, vinegar and chopped fruits with seasoning. Return to fire and simmer about forty-five minutes.

Dixie Relish

- 1 Quart cabbage, chopped.
- 1 Pint white onions, chopped.
- 1 Pint sweet red peppers, chopped.
- 1 Pint sweet green peppers, chopped.
- 5 Tablespoonful salt.
- 4 Tablespoonfuls mustard seed, crushed.
- 1/2 Cupfuls Sugar.

Soak the pepper in brine, one cupful of salt to one gallon of water, for twenty-four hours. Freshen in clear, cold water for one or two hours. Drain well, remove seeds and coarse white sections. Chop separately, and measure the chopped cabbage, peppers and onions before mixing. Add spices, sugar and vinegar. Let this stand over night in a crock jar or an enamelled vessel. Pack in small sterilized jars.

When ready to pack drain the vinegar off relish in order that the jar may be well packed. Pack the relish in jars, pressing it carefully, then pour over it the vinegar, which was drained off. Paddle the jar thoroughly in order to get every bubble out and let the vinegar displace all air spaces. Garnish each jar with strips of red pepper. Process in water that is simmering for thirty minutes (for quarts) seal.

Pepper Relish

- 1 Dozen sweet green peppers.
- 1 Dozen sweet red peppers.
- 3 Large onions, chopped fine.

Cover with boiling water and let stand ten minutes, drain, cover with water again and let come to a boil, and add three tablespoonful of salt, two pints of vinegar and two cups of granulated sugar. Cook for fifteen minutes and pack in sterilized jars.

FORTY YEARS A DRUGGIST

PERUNA

Read this from Mr. L. A. Richardson of Marine, Illinois:

"I have been engaged in the retail drug business here for the past forty years. During this time I have seen many patent medicines come into use, flourish for one or two years and then gradually disappear. There are very few of these remedies that possess enough real merit to insure them long life. Peruna has always been a good seller with us, with a marked increase from year to year. The change in the formula some years ago, by the addition of the slightly laxative properties, has made it a reliable remedy for constipation and for colds. If taken hourly in tablespoonful doses by adults it will break up the worst cold in two or three days' time. I take pleasure in giving my brother druggists to recommend it for these two ailments."

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD

Terry county had raised but a little over $10,000.00 on its quota until Wednesday when Judge Price received a telegram from Gov. Hoops, of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, who said that he expected Terry County to go over the top with out any excuses. Accordingly all places of business were closed early in the afternoon Wednesday and every available man and boy worked the entire county in the interest of liberty bonds and while most of them taken were of small denominations such as $50 and $100 the farmers responded almost to a man and old Terry went safely over.

Theo Smith went back to Lubbock this week to have his nose examined by a specialist, who cut a bone out of it last week.

Homer Ingle one of our genial barbers, went to Lubbock Tuesday to pay his brother a visit, who is now on the Avalanche force, as he has not seen him for some time.

Mr. Parmer of Rotan, bought a car of cattle this week and shipped them Tuesday to Fort Worth. Ray Brownfield shipped six cars of mixed stuff to Kansas City.

Judge W. R. Spencer, of the 7th Judicial District, together with the District Attorney, G. E. Lockhart, and Court Reporter C. H. Smith passed through Sunday to hold court at Plains. They returned here Monday afternoon in order to take the train for Lubbock, Tuesday morning. The Judge informed us that there was no cases on the docket to speak of, and the grand jury seemed to think that there was no bills to return, as the people of Yoakum are so good this year, besides there was lots of influenza present and no doctor, and the people were busy gathering crops and the judge said he just voted the same way, and made it unanimous.

The commissioners court ordered another windmill erected on the southwest corner of the square recently, and the Cicero Smith Lumber Company got the contract and are erecting a fourteen foot Dampster mill on a thirty-eight foot tower. A. M. McBurnett, Bob Orchard and Mr. Eastman are erecting it. We understand that the commissioners a little later will erect a permanent concrete water tank of large capacity, at some point near the half way ground of the two mills, in which all water will be turned.

Bill Cook left Tuesday morning for Lubbock, to enter the Lubbock Sanitarium, where he will undergo treatment for heart trouble.

Among those who shipped Thursday were C. K. Johnson, two cars of cattle to Kansas City. Will Mathis shipped two cars and B. Tidwell one car to Fort Worth. C. A. Wade shipped a car of horses to Brownwood.

Mumford Smith and Virgil Humphries, went to Lubbock Tuesday on business.

Bert McWhirter, of Lubbock, loaded a car of cattle at Seagraves last Friday for the fat stock market.

It is time for the Sick Man of Europe to take his medicine, and the Allies are seeing that he does it.

N. M. CONFERENCE ADOPTS CLARENDON COLLEGE

Greve's Tasteless Chili Tonic restores vitality and energy by purifying and enriching the blood. You can soon feel its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect. Price 60c.

Last week Dr. G. S. Slover, president of Clarendon College returned from Roswell, N. M., where he attended the annual session of the New Mexico Conference. While there he presented the advantages of Clarendon College as their most accessible denominational school and by resolution the conference adopted it as their own school in so far as patronage is concerned. Before the N. M. Conference may assume a proprietary interest in the school the officials indicate their willingness for the interest to be transferred. The Northwest Texas Conference who now owns the college, will meet at Lubbock, at which time the matter will be presented for their consideration and it is predicted by those who know the sentiment and usage of the body that in the course of a year or two the N. M. Conference will be joint owner of the local school and her financial resources will be greatly enhanced thereby. The significant part of the recent action at Roswell, however, is that the whole state of New Mexico is added as a regular field from which to draw students for Clarendon College.—Clarendon News.

RED CROSS ITEMS

Besides the productive work of making supplies for the soldiers and sailors, and other additional features which will be constantly moved into the regular program, the Junior Red Cross will focus each on some special activity. The detailed program for each month will be made public in advance. In December our Junior Christmas Bazaar will be held, the exact date and place will be announced later. In the following weeks, previous to this event, teachers and pupils should be planning and making articles which will be salable, cards, novelties of various sorts, small pieces of furniture, toys, pickles, preserves, jam, etc., are among things asked for. Bags are easily made and the bazaar will have a large booth devoted to them. You can make them out of scraps from mother's piece bag silks, cretonnes, or remnants of your last party dress. Little flowers made of silk ribbon rolled up or gathered, and cross stitch designs, make effective trimming. Any sort of bag you want to make will be acceptable. Bags to carry knitting, fancy work, shange, shopping, bags to hold shoes or night gowns or your pretty gresses when you tavel; handkerchief bags, shoe bags. You can use up a whole piece bag making different kinds. There will also be a doll booth. We wish to have one of every sort of doll imaginable. Soldiers, indians, brownies, cupies, Dinahs, Sambos, Red Cross nurses, baby dolls, and a multitude of others. We have a large amount of supplies on hand which can be used for stuffing dolls as it is not needed now for pillows so do not stuff your dolls with cotton. Senior Red Cross members are urged to give the Juniors their loyal support in making a success of the bazaar. You may help us by giving articles or by furnishing materials to the children for them to work up. The money made, will be turned into the regular Red Cross funds, as the Juniors no longer keep their funds separate from those of the Seniors.

The work of the Junior Red Cross in many cases the only opportunity the children have for definite patriotic service both individually and as a school. The teacher grudgingly permits the work to be done or if the school authorities insist that this work must be done after school hours, inevitably the idea must be formed in the child's mind that patriotic service is not a necessary and desirable part of daily life, but an extra duty to be grudgingly performed after the real values of life are secured.

Let us tie up the idea of patriotism which we wish to plant in the hearts of the children with the most attractive things in their experience, and let us give to their patriotic endeavor, the same prominence that we hope patriotic service will always maintain in their lives.

The Juniors are urged to collect fruit pits and nut shells, from which carbon can be made to protect our soldiers against poison gas. Peach stones, apricot, prune, plum, olive date and cherry pits. Shells of brazil nuts, hickory nuts, walnuts, and butternuts are all needed. Send them to your Red Cross Headquarters as soon as possible.

Mrs. Ed. Twitty will have charge of the Junior Conservation work. We regretted very much to lose her from our sewing committee and welcome her back to our ranks. She will start at once a campaign for the conservation of tin foil. Boxes marked Junior Red Cross will be put in prominent places and in every school room so that pieces of the foil may be dropped in them. Save the tin foil from chewing gum and chocolate and also that from cigars and cigarettes. The government is greatly in need of tin and every loyal citizen can help to procure it. Save the collapsible tubes in which you get tooth paste, salve, liniment and paints, they can be used in producing tin. Tin foil should not be rolled up before placing in the Red Cross boxes, please leave it in smooth sheets.

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION IS HELD INVALID.

Austin, October 23.—The Court of Criminal Appeals in a majority opinion held the State-wide Prohibition Law unconstitutional. The opinion is by Judge Morrow, who holds that this law is in conflict with the local option feature of the Constitution.

Judge Prendergast dissented in the opinion.

The written opinion delivered by the Court, declaring that the state-wide prohibition law is in conflict with Section 20, Article 16 of the local option law says in part:

"The local option prohibition law provides that it shall continue in force until such time as qualified voters therein, may at a legal election held for the purpose, by a majority vote decide otherwise. The law in question puts no limitation upon the time it shall continue in force, and affords the voters in the locality no option to discontinue it. In these respects the people of the locality are deprived of the right which, according to the construction of the Constitution the Legislature has no right or power to deprive them. Such right, giving effect to the decision mentioned, could be exercised only in the event that the law in question should be construed as repealing the local option prohibition existing in the various localities in which it has been adopted, and this, it has been repeatedly declared is beyond the power of the Legislature."

Ruling on Meyer Case

The case involving today's decision on the constitutionality of the state-wide prohibition law is that of F. Meyer, of San Antonio, who was arrested in Bexar County on a charge of selling intoxicants after the law went into effect. The case was never tried in District Court as Meyer came to the Court of Appeals with a writ of habeas corpus and was allowed bond by this Court. On July 19, 1918, the case was submitted on brief and oral argument to the Court of Criminal Appeals. Since that time it has been under the advisement of the Court.

To Ask Rehearing

Attorney General Looney stated today that a motion for rehearing in the state-wide prohibition case would be filed before the Court of Criminal Appeals. "Until that is acted upon the whole matter will remain as it is, I presume," he concluded.

News from Austin that the state-wide prohibition act has been held unconstitutional by the Criminal Court of Appeals created very little surprise in Fort Worth and apparently caused no interest for the reason that the city is not affected one way or the other by the court decision.

With the zone law, which prohibits the sale of liquor within ten miles of a military camp, still in effect, the status of Fort Worth as regards saloons remains the same as it has been since April 15.

There are many towns and a few counties in the Southern part of Texas where now it will be possible to engage legally in the sale of liquor. Bartlett, Taylor and Granger are among the number.

Larger Cities Not Affected.

However, all of the larger cities are confronted with the same conditions that apply to Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Dallas, Wichita Falls, Galveston and Austin all have army training camps or aviation fields within the city limits or within a ten mile radius and come under the operation of the zone law.

Also there are some towns and counties in the State that are under the local option law. Amarillo is in this class. The declaration of the court will have no bearing on the liquor question in such places.

It was stated by the county attorney's office that the high court's action would not in any way effect local conditions, the only change being that the state-wide law declared a nullity, the zone statute would automatically become effective.

Former wholesale liquor dealers and retailers as well, though they were confident that the law would be held invalid, did not display any marked enthusiasm when told of the court's decision.

May Stop Federal Trials

Just what effect the placing of Texas back in the "wet" column will have on cases that have been filed in the Federal Court for violation of the Reed amendment—which makes it unlawful to ship liquor from a wet to a dry state—has not yet been decided and probably will not be until passed on by the courts.

Among many lawyers there is the opinion that such prosecutions cannot be maintained now that the law on which the charges were predicated has been repudiated by the courts.

There are a large number of such cases pending in the Federal Court and which are due to come to trial at the November term. In most instances the defendants are charged with transporting liquor from Monroe, La., and Kansas City, Mo.

To Increase Bootlegging

Federal authorities see more work mapped out for them with the change brought about. They believe that with liquor being sold in many Texas towns more of it will be brought to Fort Worth, it not being unlawful to transport it within the state outside of the zone limits surrounding military camps.

Heretofore, bootlegging has been held down to a minimum, not many of the illicit characters caring to take a chance at being arrested for violation of the Reed amendment and prosecuted in the Federal Court.

Now it will be possible to bring liquor within ten miles of a military camp without fear of molestation at the hands of officers. With this condition it is the opinion of the authorities that much more will be smuggled in.

Liquor can also be brought in for personal use without taking such a long chance of being taken into custody as was the case with the state-wide act working.

OUR RURAL SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Life and Inventions of Thos. Edison

Thomas A. Edison was born in Milan, Ohio, February 11th 1847. He said that there was not anything at Milan to keep a boy busy that wished to do something great. His mother was a great teacher and she wished her son to have knowledge. And his mind ran that way, for the small things that he did, were always complete and not done by the halves.

While quite small Edison went to the barn and began setting on some goose eggs. He got the idea that he could hatch goslings as well as the mother goose.

He attended a regular school but two months, but his father would hire him to read good books, and at the age of ten he was reading books like "Gibsons History of Rome" and Sears "History of England."

At the age of twelve he was obliged to go out in the world to make a living for himself. He became an experimenter in acids, and every time he left his room he would paste the sign "Poison" on his door, so that the chemicals would not be bothered.

He now located at Port Huron, while here he printed a paper. The size of the paper was twelve by eight teen inches and named "Paul Pry."

One day as a train was coming in Edison discovered a child on the track so he ran to the rescue and saved the child's life. The father of the child was so overjoyed with Edison's brave deed that he told Edison he would give him the opportunity to learn electricity.

Again Edison was asked to make a speech, but he forgot the time and someone told him of his appointment, so he went in his work clothes to speak to the large congregation.

After this speech he went to New York. Here he walked the streets for several days before he found any work.

Finally one day he walked into an office and their instrument was not working so Edison offered to fix it, but the men only laughed at first, at last they consented. The machine was soon in working order and Edison told them that he could send two messages at once over the same wire, but instead of two he sent four.

He then moved to Menlo Park and built a large laboratory, where he invented the talking machine, the phonograph and electric lights.

Edison has invented the submarine and the submarine destroyer. They will get the Kaisers submarines. EDGAR RUSS

Clifford D. Bond
Some Where in France.
Sept. 28th, 1918

Dear Home Folks:—

I will try and drop you all a few lines and let you know that I am all right. I know that you all have been reading about the big drives, of course you think I have been wounded or something has happened to me but I am all o. k. and tipping the scales the other day at 162 1/2, so you see I am holding my own. I have been very busy for some time going on details with horses. I have seen all of this country that I care about seeing. I guess I will see a lot more before the war is over.

I have heard that we were going back to a base hospital. I hope we will, I would like to stay in no place a few days.

I have been very busy for the past few days scratching as I have got a good case of the itch and I am afraid to look to see whether I have got any of the gray backs or not. for the last 2 days and nights and are still roaring. I must say that the boys are giving it to the Germans as they send over about 50 shells for every one the Germans get over to them.

I like to have forgot the most important part of the news. It rains every night and nearly every day and everything is as wet as it can be. I have never received any mail and I sure would like to hear from home and hear what is going on over there. I must close for this time, answer soon and a long letter.

Items of Interest to Farmers Gathered From Various Sources

Proper Farm Management Pays
The successful farmer is often called the "luck farmer." Luck however can not bring permanent success. Some farmers are better managers than others, and the difference between success and failure may be expressed managerial ability. The successful and unsuccessful farmer may be found in the same community, often on adjoining land, having the same seasons, similar soil and marketing conditions.

Upon investigation it will be found that success comes not because of practicing a well-worked-out plan of diversification and carefully following correct cultural principles.

One of the duties of the County Agent is to encourage proper farm management and to secure demonstrators and advise them in cultivating their plot according to approved methods. The demonstrator must keep a complete record of results obtained, so that conclusions may be reached regarding proper crops and the best cultural methods for that section, thereby determining safe cultural practices for individual communities. The fact that the yields of these demonstrators, when they carefully following instructions are superior to those in the same neighborhood where unrecognized cultural methods are practiced, is sufficient proof that successful farming is not necessarily lucky farming. The thousands of farmers in Texas who have farmed according to approved principles during the past few years have proven by results that proper farm management is a paying proposition and increases yields, as well as the selling value of the land.

Mr. John H. Erickson, County Agent in Hunt County, reporting to the Extension service of the A. and M. College, gives results that should prove interesting to everyone concerned with agricultural problems, and while there are many similar cases in the Texas work, yet these are reported in that thorough manner characteristic of Mr. Erickson, and may therefore be reported in presentable style. He says:

While inspecting the most successful farms in the country I find that the record kept by Mr. Ellard, manager of the Singer farm, shows that the entire crop of oats averaged 80 bushels an acre, 4000 bushels of which have been sold to the Nicholson seed house of Dallas, Texas, at $2.00 a bushel, bringing $8,000.00. Proper preparation made the yield possible, while quality sold them. Mr. Ellard also sold 1500 bushels of wheat at $2.13 a bushel, f. o. b. Singer farm. The records show that the wheat averaged 34 bushels to the acre. More than $11,000.00 worth of wheat was sold while a large quantity was kept for use on the farm.

In addition to the farm crops, several car loads of hogs, cattle, sheep and goats are produced on this farm.

Mr. Ellard stated that the grain already sold would take care of all expense in connection with the farm operations.

The Barrow farm offers another splendid example of what good farm management and energy will accomplish. Barrow Bros. operate some 2,000 acres of high class farm land and produce practically everything consumed on the farm. Cattle, hogs, sheep and goats are profitably grown and several thousand gallons of cane syrup are produced each season. In cooperation with the County Agent, Mr. Barrow is growing large quantities of improved planting seed. Thirty hives of bees supply the farm with honey and the surplus is sold locally.

Mr. John W. Kirkpatrick, another successful County Agent, in Nueces County, in reporting to the Extension Service gives further evidence of the advantage of correct farm management and the value of a wide-awake County Agent. After enumerating a number of important results obtained in his territory he says:

I found an excellent proof of the value of thick seeding of milo maize on the farm of Mr. Frank London, my experience on his farm has been very interesting. Mr. London's father and two brothers have felt all along that they could not learn much from the demonstrator, while Mr. Frank London himself has been a very close student of the methods advocated by the demonstrator. In the preparation of land last fall he prepared his 100 acres according to my instructions and his father and brothers followed his plan. This spring he asked advice regarding planting milo maize. I advised him to plant a seed every two inches in order to have a stalk every two inches and thus prevent suckers. This suggestion called forth considerable comment on the part of the father and two brothers, and some good natured jesting. However, Mr. Frank London made up his mind to try a part of his crop according to my suggestions and planted eight acres in this manner and eight according to the old method of planting maize. The crop tells its own story now. The thick seeding produced a great many more heads, better forage and the crop is all even and ready for harvest, while the maize which suckered has one ripe head and from one to four suckers, coarse stalks, and those heads on the suckers just past blooming, which makes a very uneven crop. This demonstration has convinced the father and two brothers that it pays to thick-seed maize, some years at least.

Mr. London considers the eight acres which were thick seeded as being worth $200.00 more than the crop on the eight acres adjoining which was allowed to sucker.

Talk to your County Agent about your farm problems or write to the Extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas.

"WE WILL MAKE RIGHT THAT WHICH IS NOT RIGHT"

Letter from Kirby Scudder at Camp Lee, Va.

Camp Lee, Virginia Sept., 16th, 1918.

Dear Home Folks:—

I should have written sooner but have not had a chance. I have been on the job all the time and like it fine. Had a good trip and felt fine after the first day. Came over lots of pretty country, but as far as being good it is not so good as the Plains of Texas. I came this route you can follow it on the map and see where it is: Fort Worth, Dallas, Texarkana, Hope, Arkansas, (this is a beautiful place) Little Rock, saw the State Capitol, Memphis, Tenn., crossed the corner of Mississippi, into Alabama by Huntsville. Here the Red Cross met the train and gave us cigarets, gum and a lot of little things then we took up a collection from the train and got better than $10.00 and gave to them. Now believe me, no one knows how that little thing was appreciated and the feeling that the crowd of rough fellows has for the people of that city. Every one of those boys will remember that little act fifty years from now if they pass through Huntsville Alabama. I bet there was a thousand American flags waved to us and at nearly every place they run out with a flag there is a service flag in the window with one or two or three stars in it. That told the tale of why they waved the flags more than the others.

Back into Tennessee at Chattanooga, ran through the foot of the Lookout mountain in a tunnel a mile long, saw lookout mountain and all of those old battle fields. Around Chattanooga was the most beautiful scenery I have ever seen. It is built right into the mountains. Ran around in the city three hours. Am going back and stop there as I go home. Then to Bristol. It was after night there, then on to Roanoke, Va. (also very pretty) then to Lynchburg Va. Now talk about dreams of places, that city is a dream. It is on the St. James river which has the fine tobacco crops on both sides in the valley and hillside farms of corn running around the mountain instead of up it. The town is a manufacturing town, has four big shoe factories. The main track of the Norfolk and Western (which we were on) is right square over the river but it paved until you can't tell it. About 50 yards from the river, which is a very swift one the stream comes out from under the pavement and all on the banks are those shoe factories, 6 and 8 stories high. There are the biggest springs running out of the mountain right in the city and on to the river in gutters that I ever saw. One of the paved streets is so steep that cars can't pull it in high. There are lots of little things that I could tell but haven't time.

I have not got to be out since I got here. Arrived at 3:00 p. m. and at 5:30 the boss asked me if I would go on the job as watchman so I did and watched all night until 7:00 a. m. the first thing when I got here. Went to bed at one the next day and slept until four and went back on the job at 5:30. It was just a week ago tonight exactly 2:30 a. m. when I left Lubbock. I am laying off on the job just long enough to write you. I guess you think my job soft in one way. I do not have one lick of work (real work) to do but it is the kind of job no one would have if it was not soft. Wouldnt you like to see me strutting around wearing a police man's badge and "billy"? That is what I have now. This is a job that tires a fellow's nerves believe me. I wish I could talk to you and tell you some funny things that have happened. It is too much to try to write. I have had some experiences that were entirely new to me. For instance, the other night I went out on my beat and got away down in the material yard where it is as dark as the "dickens" and was walking along slinging my "bill" and feeling important (and scared to death too) when all at once I heard a voice, "I guess it was but it sounded like a bolt of lightning (and had the same effect) said: "Halt!" Well you bet I halted quick. It came from behind me and I whirled around to receive my share of lead made for the Germans. I stood there for an hour(?) but no lead or orders either and I was afraid to look around. Finally the order came "Advance and be Recognized" Well I did (because I was afraid not to) and he said: "Halt!" He did not have to say it the second time but I thought he might have been more kind about it for I know he heard both my knees and the "bill" club playing "Home Sweet Home" to rag time. The real tune started when I turned around and saw that bayonet reflecting from lights a mile away—you see that further in the dark than you can see the soldier. The order then came "Who Goes

There?" I intended to say "Watchman" but don't know for he called "Corporal of the Guard". I says "Oh!" Guard house and court martial for mine. They came up and saw my badge and said "Pass on" I felt just like I had just "passed in." I was recovering rapidly (on my way back to camp) when the same thing night, I am gone. I did not know there were any of those Military Policemen on the job and hadn't been before but I am nervous yet. Now you may think that's funny but let me tell you if you ever get 2000 miles from home and are out in a dark railroad yard, not scared but nervous, knowing that I was watching and in the very place where thieves and robbers were supposed to be and see bayonets, soldiers, guard houses and court martial looking him right in the face you will have your nerve wire slightly vibrated. I guess I have been held up 50 times since but it is all fun now. I held two soldiers up last night myself.

I am getting $5 per night or $35 per week, or $150.00 per month. It beats $18.00 per week doesn't it? The whole thing has been like a dream to me. Take last night there was something else on a different line happened. The Chief of Police ordered us to watch and arrest any "crap shooters" we found and I was watching the negro barracks, and they were all addressing loved and one big black ugly fellow got ready and right before the crowd he knelt down at the side of his bed and said his prayers. After being around the rough burly, barly crowd a whole week this black creature was the first to show or remind a man that there was something that meant more than money and a good time.

I saw a sight yesterday that was past all imagination. There were 1500 crippled soldiers passed through direct from France. There were eyes, hands, legs, ears, noses, scars of every shape that told the tale. Think of it! Here there are tonight 80,000 of these soldiers within two miles of me training themselves and working to get to come back in such condition. These boys were just as strong and fine looking as these just a few months ago. I tell you it will make a person's blood boil. I wish I was over there. I would like to see the person that could see that sight and keep the tears back. You people there don't realize we are at war. There are or will be when we get these 1400 barracks done, 1000,000 soldiers training within a radius of 50 miles of here.

Well back again. I am on the job 13 1/2 hours but as for work do not do it. There are 100 after the job. I am going to quit it soon as I am just holding it down to find something else. I would not take $1000 for this weeks experience. If any one wants to know about the working conditions tell them to just imagine as big things and as much demand for men as they possibly can and then double it and they have it. As to wages it is just the same. As they worked yesterday (Sunday and common laborers got $3.00 and carpenters $15.00, and all in proportion. There are lots of things here that are sights to me and I am sure would be to you. Climate, scenery and all is so different. Right now the dew is dripping off the houses so fast it is just like rain. My hat and clothes are as wet as if I had been out in a rain.

4:00 o'clock a. m. Just made my rounds, met a soldier and had a talk etc. 10,000 were shipped from this camp Friday and more ready to go. He told me they had a German spy here that had been ordered shot but the act had been postponed. They are expecting orders at any time. All the main cities of the eastern states are guarded by military policemen. Take for instance, if something went wrong here there would be 80,000 armed men on duty in fifteen minutes. Great old nation we have. 7:15 a. m. Just off the job. The head guy sent me word to come to see him at 2:00 p. m. That means no sleep today, and I guess that also means change jobs. I gave him my recommendations and he told me they looked good to him and would call me in a few days. That also means about $175.00 per month I hope. Another train load of men are coming in tomorrow. Can use three of them.

I can't write for looking and listening. I am in sight of enough right now to make a man dream and to give him enough to think of for a life time. My, if you could take one look. The sun is just coming up good and the vapor (that never was so perfect as it is here) is just clearing away. You can hear about 1,000 hammers all striking as fast as you can count and each one producing a different tone. There is a big ditching machine just at the front and you can look out and see fifty of these big two story barracks all going up like magic. There are about twenty five men on each building.

Just outside of my window are, I would judge, at least 2000 soldiers on dress parade in every military formation imaginable. The field will cover 250 acres all as smooth as a tennis court and as clean. Then on looking out of the next window you can see 1000 soldiers in their blue, work suits, with their knap-sacks on their backs, off for a hike. All are stepping at a pretty pace. Looking then over the main camp you can see thousands and thousands all lined up before their barracks at inspection. Farther away you see the St. James river, flowing itself between two mountains. The back of this is a high wall of trees, tall and green. This vapor is the most perfect blue, just like the sky had fallen on the ground and was hanging on the tree tops and tinting the whole scene. The combination of colors is most beautiful, the blue suits, and that blue and then the red rays of sunshine is absolutely exquisite. While I was writing this I heard a buzzing sound and went to see, and the thing that it took to cap the scene was two of the most beautiful airplanes were lighting in the grounds where the soldiers were marching. They were painted dark steel gray and had some emblem on them but I could not make it out.

Imagine all this and think what it means bearing in mind that just in the background in what is now woods, there are three of the main battle-fields of the Civil War. Right where the history of this country was made. War has made all this, every bit of it. Part of it is history but this is the present. It is no wonder our people want to live and die in the old country back here. You can't see it. I wish you could. Talk about keeping the tears back, I'll bet you would!

Well I must quit as it is now 4:00 and no sleep yet. Could write a week then not be through.

Your son and brother,

KIRBY

PLENTY TO DO AND EVERYBODY DOING IT

Every man for himself and devil take the loneliest, is apparently, the philosophy of Uncle Sam's soldier boys in the great military camps where they are undergoing intensive training for the real thing "over there." Here is a typical scene in an army Y. M. C. A. building an hour or two before the formal entertainment begins. On the stage one of the boys in khaki is leading an informal "sing song." About two score of the fellows are up there with him, and it must be a pretty good song, for it can be seen that about half the crowd in the building is facing the music. But this doesn't disturb the nine or ten checker games, seen in the foreground, in the least, nor does it get the rest of the fellows who are grabbing a few minutes in which to write to the folks at home. The man in the extreme right front of the picture has received a newspaper from "the little old town back there," while the boy seen standing in the very center of the picture plainly admits himself to be either on a "point" or on a "pose"—it's nobody's business which. The Y. M. C. A. huts are the soldiers' clubs, churches, homes and whatever else they want to make them. The principal cantonments of the country contain from ten to twenty large "Y" buildings, to say nothing of the huts overseas and outposts on the Mexican border.

The telegraphic instructions urge Mr. Travis to visit every town in each of the twenty counties which compose the Abilene district; and to meet with the members of each community labor board and enrollment officer in order to make the transfer among all non-essential industries and enlist men for war work.

This "combing process" will effect all men between the ages of 18 and 46 not called to the colors, engaged in labor considered non-essential. It virtually means the drafting of labor for government enterprises under the direction of community labor boards, backed by the authority of the Local Exemption Boards and the Council of Defense.

Plans are being formulated by District Organizer P. M. Travis, assisted by examiner, W. H. War Time Sweeteners

AMERICA has several excellent war time sweeteners that will be used largely during the shortage in the sugar supply. They are maple sugar, syrups, honey and molasses and may be used in preparing desserts and other dishes requiring sweetening. When a cup of syrup or honey is used to replace a cup of sugar the liquid in the recipes should be decreased one-fourth. One-third of a cupful of sugar is equivalent to one-third of a cup of honey, about one-half cup of syrup and about one-half cup of corn sugar. One-fourth of a cup of sugar is equal to about one-half cup of syrup or one-third cup of corn sugar. One tablespoon of sugar is equal to one tablespoon of honey, about one and one-half tablespoons of syrup and one and one-third tablespoons of corn sugar. Sugar may be saved by the use of raisins, dates, figs, dried pears and fruit pastes used on the breakfast cereals. Fruit marmalades, butters and jellies should be used to take the place of the ordinary sweetening at a meal and not as accessories to it. Fruits may be preserved without sugar. It may be added when sugar is more plentiful. Preserving demands this year a thin syrup instead of a heavy syrup. If sugar is used one-half of the amount may be replaced by another sweetener. Drying is a means of preserving (without sugar) apples, cherries, strawberries and black caps. When ready to use they may have added the needed sugar in the form of a syrup. When sugar is more plentiful fruit juices may be made into jellies or may be used as fruit juices with or without sugar, as beverages, fruit gelatins and frozen desserts. Fresh fruits supply the place of sugar in the diet. They should be used freely. Desserts where sugar is scarce may be made of gelatins, junkets, custards, puddings and cakes.

HAS A BIG JOB

G. S. Bilheimer.

G. S. Bilheimer of Denver, Colo., has been appointed Southern department campaign director for the next big drive for funds to continue the war work being done by the Red Triangle forces in the army camps of the United States and overseas, army Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the War Camp Community Service, the Salvation Army, the National Catholic War Council, the American Library Association and the Jewish Welfare Board.

Mr. Bilheimer is one of the foremost men in the Y. M. C. A. movement. He is a member of the international committee of the organization, a member of the National War Work Council and a master organizer and executive. He successfully directed the last army Y. M. C. A. drive for the Southern department, comprised of Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arizona and New Mexico, and was unanimously chosen for the larger responsibility of the approaching campaign, during which the country will be called upon to support the Y. M. C. A. and other important war work agencies.

Mr. Bilheimer will be located at Dallas during the campaign period. He will have an able corps of assistants and specialists on his staff to carry out the various activities connected with a campaign of the magnitude of the forthcoming financial drive.

Mr. Bilheimer was chosen to direct the entire United War Work campaign for funds to finance the work of the seven war work agencies because of his successful experience and his unusual ability. His selection came direct from the New York headquarters of the consolidated campaign with the solid approval of the people of the six Southwestern states who are under his leadership, to furnish their part of the $170,000,000 which the nation will be called on to contribute between November 11 and 18.

The friends of the family will be sorry to learn that Franklin, the 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dixon, died at their home in El Paso on October 12th. This family formerly lived in Lubbock.

Prudence is merely well trained common sense.

No. 124. THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock county, Texas, GREETING: You are hereby commanded to cite all persons interested in the welfare of June Cannon, a minor to appear at the next regular term of the County Court, of Lubbock county, Texas, to be held at the Court House of said county in the city of Lubbock on the second Monday in October, 1918, the same being the 14th day of October, 1918, and contest, if they see proper to do so, the application of June Cannon, which has been filed in said court, for the guardianship of the person and estate of said Minor.

You will serve this citation by posting copies thereof, for not less than ten days before the first day of the term of court, at which the application is to be acted upon, one of which copies shall be posted at the courthouse and two other copies at two other public places in the county not in the same city or town; and also by publishing a copy of said notice, once each week for not less than ten days before the first day of the term of court at which the application is to be acted upon; in a newspaper of general circulation, in Lubbock county, Texas, which said newspaper has been regularly published in Lubbock county, Texas for more than one year prior to this date.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness: Sam T. Davis, Clerk, County Court, Lubbock Co., Texas. Given under my hand and seal of (SEAL) Sam T. Davis, Clerk Texas.

Mrs. J. T. Hicks, wife of Rev. J. T. Hicks is in the sanitarium this week. She has been quite sick for a week or more and her condition is not as favorable as her relatives and friends would like, but it is hoped that she will soon regain her health.

Strictly speaking, there now seems to be but one essential industry, and that is the war.

A Workman is Known by His Tools

A journeyman carpenter is never satisfied with inferior tools. Good tools not only last long but are cheaper in the end. A satisfactory saw, a chisel that will hold an edge, a hammer with a proper balance and bits that bore almost without pressure make work a pleasure.

We carry a large assortment of the very best tools to be had. Hand saws, rip saws, compass saws, framing squares, try squares, mitre squares, saw clamps, saw sets, hatchets, hand axes, chisels, screw drivers, planes, scrapers, Yankee drills, levels, files and other tools.

We can suit you in pattern, quality and price. We are headquarters for all kinds of hardware, tools, implements, Eclipse windmills, pipe and well supplies. Don't fail to see us when in need of hardware of any kind.

J. R. Sowell was in to see us Wednesday from his home near Grovesville. He brought in a bale of cotton Tuesday and the weather was so bad that he did not go back home till Wednesday afternoon. He will make about seven bales of cotton off of twenty-one acres. He told us he had sold his land consisting of 320 acres at Grovesville and bought 400 acres in Castro county, and will move there about the first of the year.

THE WEEKS BATCH OF CENTER NEWS ITEMS

Most all the farmers are pretty well up with their crop gathering and are now beginning to stack. All are very anxious to get their stock into the fields so that they may get the benefit of what few stalks there are left.

We are very glad to say that the people of our community are fortunate enough to escape the influenza so far. While there have been some few cases, none of them have been serious.

Several of our leading officers were absent at Sunday School but there were others there who did a good part by taking their places and we thank them very much for doing so.

Miss Bettie Fuchs, of Abernathy, is visiting relatives here this week.

R. H. Haney and family spent Sunday with N. A. Myers and family. They report a very pleasant visit and a splendid dinner which was most important of all.

Madge Abney spent last Wednesday with relatives in the Bodger Lake Community.

Mr. Nelson and wife left for Brown field last week where they will spend a short time with their daughter.

B. F. Struve and wife were in Abernathy Monday.

Eugene Emery was seen over in this part of his pasture the other day rounding up his cattle. He reports that he and W. D. Haney, Sr., had sold their calves at $30.00 each.

Misses Rosa Mae and Goldie Jones who have been attending school at Canyon spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones. They say that Canyon is a grand old place and they enjoy their work very much, but still old Lubbock county looks good to them.

Every one is greatly cheered to hear the late war news but hope the next will be better still.

Our school has been suspended for two weeks on account of the influenza.

A. W. Jones was seen hauling cake from Abernathy Tuesday.

Earl Bowley who has been working in Kansas the past summer has returned home. He is now ill, it is not known yet whether he has the "flu" or not. We are very glad to have him with us once more.

Mrs. W. D. Haney and son and Miss Grace Horner spent Monday night and Tuesday and also Tuesday night with the former's brother-in-law, R. H. Haney.

Mr. Chas Goeth has been hauling lumber from Abernathy to build a shelter for his sheep.

All the farmers are wearing smiles over the nice little showers we have been having this week. They seem to think it will go ahead and rain and put a good underground season for next crop.

LYNN COUNTY NEWS CLIPS OF THE PAST WEEK

Lynn County's magnificent new court house has one of the most up-to-date water systems in this part of the county. A large pressure tank has been installed in a neat brick building on the court house lawn, and both water and air are pumped into this tank which in turn forces the water to the upper story of the building. There is an unlimited supply of water in the well which is housed in the same building and a neat little engine does the work that insures a bountiful supply at all times. County Judge, C. H. Cain, was the architect on the job and it showed careful thought had been given the matter in laying out the plans of the water works system. Tohoka can well boast of the most modern and fully equipped court house of any town of its size on the south plains.

The many friends and acquaintances will be pained to learn of the death of Joe L. Stokes, son of Mf. and Mrs. J. E. Stokes, who died at his home here last night with pneumonia. No man in Lynn county had more friends than did Joe Stokes, and he will be sadly missed in Tohoka and elsewhere where he was well known. Mr. Stokes always had a cheering word and a broad smile for every one with whom he came in contact.

He was born in Washington county Texas, July 22, 1888, being 30 years, 2 months and 27 days of age at the time of his death. The News extends its sincerest sympathy to the bereaved ones in the loss of their loved one and points them to the God above all who doeth all things well. Funeral services will be held at the cemetery this afternoon at 4:30 p. m. A full account of his life will appear in these columns next week.

District attorney, G. E. Lockhart, made a trip to Lubbock Friday, returning Saturday. Mr. Lockhart went up to investigate the shooting, an account of which appears in another column of this issue.

The body of Lew G. Barron, of Warren, N.M., was shipped here on the South bound Santa Fe, from Camp Dix, New Jersey, last Friday, October 11th., and was received by the local Red Cross society.

CARD OF THANKS

With sad hearts, full of gratitude, we wish to express our great appreciation for the many kind words and expressions of sympathy shown us during the death of our beloved Claud. They have certainly helped to lift, from our bleeding hearts the burdens of sorrow. We want to especially thank you for the many beautiful floral offerings and letters of condolence. Most richly rewarded by our Heavenly Father, and as you go down the "Valley" one by one may you be surrounded by helping hands and loving friends in our prayer.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

HIGHEST QUALITY HIGHEST AWARDS

MRS. SARAH ELIZABETH BURTON RICHMOND

Mrs. Richmond was born November 24th, 1860, in Arkansas and died at Dallas, Texas, October 17th, 1918. While but an infant our sister's parents came to Titus county, Texas at which place she grew to womanhood April 4th, 1882 she was happily married to S. A. Richmond who survives her. They are the parents of two children, Mrs. J. W. Anderson, of Lubbock and Mrs. W. O. Tubbs of Dallas. At the tender age of thirteen years, sister Richmond became a Christian and united with the Baptist church at Spring Hill in Titus county and from that time forward has been a most active and useful Christian worker. Her residence of more than eighteen years in Lubbock is a faithful record of true service that will never fade from the memory of all who have known her. Loyalty to Jesus might be denominated as the leading trait of her character. To serve him in all that she did seemed to be her highest purpose. That she had her faults and made mistakes as the wisest and best people do is not denied but that her aim was ever pure and sincere no one would question and this day if all who have been benefitted by her sacrificial life could be present the writer believes every one would join in proclaiming her one of the noblest of women among the many good women of Lubbock. Her steady and sustained devotion to what she believed right was another virtue in her useful life. She was patient and forbearing towards the erring but firm to testify for the right and stand ever for what she believed was right. Her family and her church were first and then she was among the very best of neighbors and a friend to the lonely and needy. Liberal almost to a fault she opened her hand bountifully to every cause that she felt to be worthy and seemed happiest when most at work among the sick and dependent. It is a special delight of her pastor this day to call earnest attention to her long and constant attendance upon the worship of her church and upon occasion when no services were being held in her own church she was found where others were worshipping. Few of us perhaps have ever waked up well to the tremendous importance of faithful attendance at worship. Her soul was fed regularly and often at the place of worship. She was among the first to arrive at the church and the last to leave.

Some less than four years ago I first came to know her as the pastor and again and again have I wondered how she could give such unstinted time to her religious duties. She seemed never to tire and often appeared as if almost impatient that there was no more to do.

Her home life was happy and beautiful and seemed to move without jar or discord in any way. Her husband and children were devoted to her and she to them. For some months she had not seen one of her children and it was while on a visit to this daughter that her summons came from her Master to come home where parents and children who love our Lord will one sweet day meet to part no more.

Not only her family but her church and all the people of Lubbock are bereaved in the passing of this great Christian woman. This bereaved ones have just begun to feel their loss and for many a sad day and wakeful night they will recall the dear one who waits where parting and tears are all unknown. Our church will miss her presence, her work and her influence among us. Her place in the church, Sabbath school and prayer service is vacant and keenly will we miss her there.

When sickness, need and death invade the homes of our people or bereaved ones need comfort of strangers need a welcome her faithfulness and constant example should inspire us to nobler efforts in the work that made her life rich, full and happy. May the blessings of our Father come down on those stricken ones as the dew and healing as the sunshine. May our lives be tenderer, nobler, richer because we knew her and may every blessing attend all the way the pilgrimage of this lonely stricken husband and life companion and the children, grand children and all the relatives and friends.

HOT BROTH FOR "BUDDIE"

Hot broth is always welcomed by our men "over there," but when it is served by a "regular American woman" it is doubly welcome. Photo above was taken at a French field hospital "somewhere in France," and shows two Y. M. C. A. canteen girls serving the convalescents. "Something to warm you up a bit, buddy," heard at the outer edge of a tent is sure to bring instant response from the inside of the tent. The American Red Cross nurses, Salvation Army lassies and Y. M. C. A. canteen girls hold themselves in readiness for any and every kind of service. "Buddie" is glad to see them, whatever their mission, for, being Americans, it is good just to feast one's eyes on them.

VOTE IN THE NOVEMBER ELECTION

All democrats in Texas are urged to vote in the November election. Texas is the banner democratic state in the Union and we are under sacred obligations to all mankind. The Texas democracy is directly responsible for President Wilson being in the White House today. At the Baltimore convention it was the superb leadership of the Texas delegation that put Hon. Woodrow Wilson over the top and made him the democratic nominee for President of the United States.

Two years from now the Texas democracy will have another chance to perform an everlasting service to this country and to the other nations of the world, and our ability to serve will be measured by our loyalty to the principles of democracy. Furthermore we owe to our young Gov. W. P. Hobby the unanimous endorsement of the people of Texas for his matchless stand in favor of good government when the interest of the people of the state and nation were hanging in the balance.

Let no loyal democrat be a slacker in this hour of world crisis, but vote Tuesday November 5th, 1918.

Rheumatism Relief -- 25c.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), Are Helping Thousands Who Tried Expensive Things Without Result. It's Guaranteed.

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste. Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons, cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days—must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the system. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now take the real test. You'll get results this time. Just try it. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT FOR FREE TEXT-BOOKS.

At the last regular session of the Legislature a constitutional amendment was submitted to be voted on at the November election, proposing an Amendment to Article VII, Section 3, of the State Constitution providing for a maximum limit of thirty five cent tax on $100 for the maintenance of the public schools of Texas and providing for free text books. In the House, 103 members voted for the submission of the amendment and only 23 members were opposed to it; in the Senate the vote stood 23 to 4 in favor of submission.

The State Democratic Convention at Waco, September 4, 1918, inserted the following plank in the Democratic platform: "In view of the fact that a constitutional amendment providing for free textbooks in the public schools of Texas is to be voted on at the general election in November and believing that free textbooks are an essential element of any complete free school system, we strongly urge upon the Democrats of Texas the importance of this amendment to the end that it be adopted as a part of our fundamental law."

The world has stressed in a most direct and conspicuous manner the value of popular education. Men and women have been aligned for service according to the extent of their training. This fact has been illustrated in the training camps everywhere. Even mechanics have not been able to secure grades beyond that of a private unless they possessed, at least, the full equivalent of an elementary school training. But while the war is stressing the direct value of education; the lesson will be learned and its application will bring still greater returns in time of peace.

While Texas may be proud of her achievements in many ways, it remains a fact that she ranks notoriously low with regard to her common schools. The length of term, the training of teachers and school attendance rank far below the average of other states. This statement may be verified by reference to the annual reports of the United States Commissioner of Education.

But even where the school term meets reasonable standards and teachers are qualified to do their work, many children do not attend, unless obliged to do so, because of the lack of books. In cities and towns as well as in rural schools much time is absolutely wasted, even after children are forced in by the compulsory school law, because the pupils do not have sufficient books. The constitutional amendment, if adopted, will assist in extending the term and, above all, will provide for all the tools needed for work.

But why have the State furnish books? The State has pledged in its constitution to provide free schools to all children for a minimum term of six months each year. We have a State school system and not a county or district school system. The State realizes that it must be responsible for all of the people of the State. If the people in one part of the State are ignorant, the other parts of the State will suffer. If people in all parts of the State are enlightened the welfare of the entire State is enhanced. The State does assist in furnishing school buildings, equipment and instruction and why should it defeat its own ends by refusing to complete the school machinery? Bright pupils with plenty of good books will learn much even when the teaching is poor. We submit that it is not a good proposition for the State to spend millions of dollars annually on a State school system and fail to provide books which are the essential basis of instruction.

Except in a few localities parents have individually been required to furnish text-books for their children. As a result of this policy many parents have been financially strained. The burden becomes more and more oppressive when such misfortunes as family sickness, fires and the loss of crops by overflows, freezes and drought are encountered. We cannot excuse the children of tenant farmers from of East Texas fail, when the cotton and corn of the river valleys are destroyed by floods, or when continuous drought in West Texas leaves the people without food. The children according to a wise law must go to school. And while giving due credit to good teaching outside of books, we believe that much valuable time is lost by pupils who are not adequately supplied with text-books. If it is wise to use the wealth of the State to assist in providing school buildings, equipment and teachers, it is certainly good economy to supply the essential books for the children.

As men and women deeply interested in the social, economic and intellectual welfare of the State, we earnestly solicit your vote and support for the amendment changing Article VII, Section 3, of the school law.

"My Corns Peel Clean Off With 'Gets-It'" of the world's magic and only genuine corn-peeler "Gets-It." Then, and then only, will you be sure that your corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel it right off gloriously easy with your fingers. Take no chances of continued pain and soreness—why use greasy, irritating salves, plasters that shift and press into the "quick," razors and "diggers" that make corns bleed and also grow faster? Use painless, easy, always sure "Gets-It." There's only one like it in the world—that's "Gets-It." Millions have tried and O. K'd it for years. It never fails. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

THE ARMY MAN'S BANK

A banking hour in a Y. M. C. A. building of a Southern department camp. The army "Y" is the soldier's financial agent; it takes his savings and deposits them for him in a local city bank; it sells him Thrift stamps; it issues him express money orders, and in certain cases keeps money and valuables for him temporarily in the building. One "Y" man in each building is authorized to act as the agent of the express company to issue money orders to the soldiers. The banking service and the Thrift stamp sales encourage the army man to save his money, and this is made more possible by the free comforts, conveniences and entertainments offered by the Y. M. C. A.

AVALANCHE OPERATOR ENTERTAINING DAUGHTER

R. B. Ingle, the Avalanche linotype operator was called to the bedside of his little son at Palestine last Thursday, who was reported sick. Since being down there a fine baby girl has made its appearance in the family and of course he has been delayed in returning to his post of duty on the Avalanche force, and he still remains in Palestine to entertain the new arrival, and so the Avalanche has been working under a great strain this week again, and will be slightly delayed again, but here we are, and if you have any idea at all that you can get out a better paper than this one under the same conditions we want to give you an opportunity to take a fall out of it. If this editor has no gray hairs in his top-knot now he will have soon if Uncle Sam don't soon get through with our operator over in France and let him return to his old job, but this is part of our contribution to winning the war, and the boys over there are doing such a good job of licking the kaiser that we are willing to undergo a few more hardships and inconveniences in order that they may do a first class job of mopping up on the whole kaiser connection.

C. L. Fry, of Canadian, visited his family here last week. He came from Ft. Worth where he had been to attend the funeral of his brother, D. M. Fry, who died of pneumonia in the Santa Fe hospital at Clovis, N. M. C. L. Fry has a position as a special agent with the Santa Fe.

HOW MANY SOLDIERS SPEND THEIR MONEY

Dallas News
How does an American soldier at the front spend his money and how can he find anything to buy in the war zone when the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross are with him to furnish all the little luxuries he may want to do him after he has made his allotment and bought his war risk insurance? Dallas relatives of boys "over there" have, no doubt, pondered over these questions and have many times speculated as to how much of a soldier's pay is left at the end of the month. A recent letter from William Odee of Company M, 359th Infantry, to H. B. Martin of 4127 Live Oak street, will serve to set at ease all minds concerned, for he states that at least 50 per cent of an American soldier's money is used to purchase fruit.

"Most of our money," Mr. Odee writes, "goes to the small wagon merchants who go from one village to another with their wares. Some have a small department store on wheels but most of them handle various things to eat, chiefly nuts and grapes. I figure that 50 per cent of each soldier's money is spent for fruit. Every thing is very expensive here. One franc—worth 18 cts.—here will buy no more than a nickel in the United States. Still our pay generally lasts through the month, as it is only a few days in each month when we are located where we can spend anything. Most of our time is spent in or near the trenches and the balance is taken up in traveling."

Mr. Odee wrote his letter, dated September 4th, while lying on the ground under a shelter tent, using the back of a tin eating kit for a desk he said. "I borrowed a fountain pen from a chum," he continues, "and it is all right but I can't say much for French ink. This stationery is the best that I could buy in a French town of several thousand population. The stationery referred to is tinged with gray, rough-grained and with the lines ruled on informing squares."

"There is a splendid opportunity for a live stationary dealer in almost any French town where the Yankee boys are billeted, but stores of any kind are mighty few in small French towns. For instance the last town we were in boasted of about twenty sales shops, and I believe nineteen of them were wine mills. The other was a druggist."

Mr. Odee states that the people at home do not know how busy a soldier really is when he is close to the front. "Take the last few days with me," he says, "One day we hiked all day, some twelve miles to a railroad. That night we pitched tents in the woods. The next day we rode on a train to a railroad. Then we hiked almost all night to a small town and were billeted there only one day, which we spent in sleeping. That night was taken up entirely by a long hike to another village nearer the front. Again we slept all day and that day we slept in the woods and that night a long hike took us to our destination, the front. We spent seven days in the trenches during a comparatively quiet period.

Describes the Fighting
"The artillery and airplanes did most of the fighting. We in the infantry kept busy fighting trench rats and insects. Also we had quite a battle with the weather, for in this section it rains almost every day and gets uncomfortably cold at night. I am sure the weather will be our worst enemy, should we remain in this sector. The hardships are many, but it is all very interesting and for a good cause. All are anxious to go over the top and end the whole business and start home at the earliest possible date."

"This thing of being in a strange country, 8,000 miles from home and sleeping in wet trenches with shells burning all around us 24 hours each day, hardly appeals to a peaceful office worker. Still, recent reports from all the sectors are very encouraging, and if we continue pushing Fritz back as they have been doing for the past few weeks we all intend to help eat those big Christmas dinners around the family table."

"It is so good of the home folks to write so often, but unfortunately I get probably one out of five letters—ters-eyver-chaoin-etaoin-etao the first mail in over one month. We write at every opportunity, but the occasions are few and far between, and will be more so from now on, as we are on the go so much and seldom in a place where we can mail letters."

"I had a very pleasant time in London on the Fourth of July, and saw some great sights. As a matter of fact, all I have done in the service is to have unusual experiences and see one interesting thing after another. I will tell everything in person. When I return home and I feel and certainly hope that the time is in the near future."

"It is so good of you to offer to send me the News and anything I may need, but several of the boys in my company subscribe for it and I read theirs when they are received. In regard to other items, it is against orders to send anything to the A. E."

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called frezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says frezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of frezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have frezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.

out to the British lines and meet their friends. Then came the rhythmic tramp of infantry, which gradually died away. The Germans had departed from Lille.

At dawn a British aviator flying over the city beheld a most amazing sight. The streets were thronged with civilians who were frantically waving handkerchiefs and shawls. Not a soldier could be seen. The aviator quickly turned and carried the news back to the British lines. Patrols advanced immediately and entered the city.

The Germans on leaving Lille did not set fire to the buildings in the city or cause any explosions.

Many of the names in the casualty lists may be foreign, but the possessors of them are certainly true-hearted Americans.

Unless we hold an order from an officer of the rank of Colonel or higher and that is too much red tape.

SOLDIERS' REVERIES
By Geo. M. Hunt, Lubbock, Texas

Our boys who leave their native land, To fight beyond the sea; Will meet their fate without a sigh, What ever that may be.

But there is still one cheerful thought, For them to keep in mind; They'll be remembered in the prayers Of loved ones left behind.

One thinks of his New Hampshire home, Among the sylvan hills; About the sparkling mountain stream And of the placid rills.

Another of the Texas Plains, And of the parting day; With those he loves and mingled, with, Before he went away.

And one, in fancy views again, His home in Tennessee; Where he has gathered luscious fruit, From some old apple tree.

The boy who left his Utah home, For service over there; Will think about his boyhood years, And of his mother's care.

One thinks about his happy home, Mid Colorado scenes; Of quiet streams and mountain lakes, Among the ever greens.

But all look forward to the day, When battle strife shall cease; And thru their victory in arms, Will catch the dawn of peace.

TOUCH OF DRAMATIC IN CAPTURE OF LILLE

British Headquarters in Flanders, Oct. 17th.—British drums were beating through the streets of Lille this morning, while British patrols advanced past of the city in contact with the retreating Germans.

The evacuation of Lille and the British entry into the city was one of the most dramatic events of the war.

At four o'clock this morning the German commandant at Lille ordered all the inhabitants of Lille to assemble as promptly as possible. As they hurried through the gloom of the streets they observed the garrison marching out. They were told to go

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

THE ESPIONAGE ACT

AN ACT To amend section three title one, of the Act entitled, "An Act to punish acts of interference with the foreign relations, the neutrality, and the foreign commerce of the United States, to punish espionage, and better to enforce the criminal laws of the United States and for other purposes," approved June fifteenth, nineteen hundred and seventeen, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section three of title one of the Act entitled "An Act to punish acts of interference with the foreign relations, the neutrality, and foreign commerce of the United States, to punish espionage, and better to enforce the criminal laws of the United States, and for other purposes," approved June fifteenth, nineteen hundred and seventeen, be, and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"SEC. 3. Whoever, when the United States is at war, shall willfully make or convey false reports or false statements with intent to interfere with the operation or success of the military or naval forces of the United States, or to promote the success of its enemies, or shall willfully make or convey false reports or false statements, or say or do anything except by way of bona fide and not disloyal advice to an investor or investors, with intent to obstruct the sale by the United States of bonds or other securities of the United States or the making of loans by or to the United States, and whoever, when the United States is at war, shall willfully cause or attempt to cause, or incite, or attempt to incite, insubordination, disloyalty, mutiny or refusal of duty, in the military or naval forces of the United States, or shall willfully obstruct or attempt to obstruct the recruiting or enlistment service of the United States, and whoever, when the United States is at war, shall willfully utter, print, write or publish any disloyal, profane, scurrilous, or abusive language about the form of government of the United States, or the Constitution of the United States, or the military or naval forces of the United States, or the flag of the United States, or the uniform of the Army or Navy of the United States, or any language intended to bring the form of government of the United States, or the Constitution of the United States, or the military or naval forces of the United States, or the flag of the United States, or the uniform of the Army or Navy of the United States into contempt, scorn, contumely, or disrepute, or shall willfully utter, print, write, or publish any language intended to incite, provoke or encourage resistance to the United States, or to promote the cause of its enemies, or shall willfully display the flag of any foreign enemy, or shall willfully by utterance, or writing, printing, publication, or language spoken, urge, incite or advocate any curtailment of production in this country of any thing or things, product or products, necessary or essential to the prosecution of the war in which the United States may be engaged, with intent by such curtailment to cripple or hinder the United States in the prosecution of the war, and whoever shall willfully advocate, teach, defend or suggest the doing of any of the acts or things in this section enumerated, and whoever shall, by word or act support the cause of any country with which the United States is at war or by word or act oppose the cause of the United States therein, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000.00 or imprisonment of not more than twenty years or both. Provided, That the employee or official of the United States Government who commits any disloyal act or utters any unpatriotic or disloyal language, or who in an abusive or violent manner criticizes the Army or Navy or the flag of the United States shall be at once dismissed from the service. Any such employee shall be dismissed by the head of the department in which the employee may be engaged, and any such official shall be dismissed by the authority having power to appoint a successor to the dismissed official."

SEC. 2. That section one of Title XII and all other provisions of the Act entitled "An act to punish acts of interference with the foreign relations, the neutrality, and the foreign commerce of the United States to punish espionage, and better to enforce the criminal laws of the United States, and for other purposes," approved June fifteenth nineteen hundred and seventeen, which apply to section three of Title I thereof shall apply with equal force and effect to said section three as amended.

Title XII of the said act of June fifteenth, nineteen hundred and seventeen, be, and the same is hereby, amended by adding thereto the following section:

"SEC. 4. When the United States is at war, the Postmaster General may, upon evidence satisfactory to him that any person or concern is using the mails in violation of any of the provisions of this Act instruct the postmaster at any post-office at which mail is received addressed to such person or concern to return to the post master at the office at which they were originally mailed all letters or other matter so addressed, with the words 'Mail to this address undeliverable under Espionage Act' plainly written or stamped upon the outside thereof, and all such letters or other matter so returned to the senders thereof under such postmasters shall be by them returned to the senders thereof under such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe."

Rheumatism Arrested

If you suffer with lame muscles or stiffened joints look out for impurities in the blood, because each attack gets more acute and stubborn. To arrest rheumatism you must improve your general health and purify your blood; the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is Nature's great blood-maker while it also strengthens the organs to expel the impurities. Scott's is helping thousands who could not find other relief.

Your attention is called to the ad of the Plains Poultry and Hide Co., in this issue. This firm have moved to the McDonald barn and are asking your patronage. Read their ad.

PREPARED!

Conley's is one Lubbock store thoroughly and absolutely prepared to supply your every want in Dry Goods and Clothing. Months ago, when no one could see the appalling heights to which dry goods prices would soar, the owner of this business began to prepare for this day of scarcity and high price by placing orders for desirable merchandise. Not one order was placed but that by the date of the delivery of the merchandise there had come an advance in price of from 25 per cent to 50 per cent. This advance in every instance we now give to our customers. Being satisfied with our NORMAL percentage of profit, based on actual cost of the merchandise, and not on the present high market—incidentally the owner of this business believes that unless the Government intervenes that present high prices will soon seem ridiculously low compared with the prices that will prevail by Jan. 1st. If you need the merchandise we say buy and buy to cover your needs and not one penny more. With the present trend and the prospects of many cotton and woolen fabrics being absolutely exhausted, soon a hoarder of clothing will be classed with the hoarders of food.

Again we say, buy only for present use. Do not put yourself in position to be classed as a slacker. While this store has the deserved reputation of carrying the highest grade of merchandise, such lines as Edwin Clapp Shoes, Packard Shoes Queen Quality Shoes, Hart-Shaffner and Marx Clothing, Sperling Dresses, etc., we wish our customers to know that while all of our lines are dependable and only from the manufacturers of an established reputation, that in addition to the high priced lines, we also carry thousands of dollars of merchandise selected especially for its worth and reasonable price. Not every customer desires to pay $35 or $50 for a dress. The bulk of our Ready to Wear is at a reasonable price and always whether the price be $15 or $50, we guarantee 100 cents on the dollar in value.

Ready-To-Wear

We Announce the First Reductions in Ladies' Ready-to-Wear. Realizing That in This Department the Merchandise Must be Sold in Season, we Announce the Following Reductions:

Coat Suits

Naturally it is here that we name the lowest prices. And remember, we guarantee our styles not to change during the duration of the war.
