EIGHT HOURS LATE THE FUNERAL TRAIN BROUGHT PARTY BACK TO CAPITOL—CEREMONIES TODAY

Remains Will Be Taken To Father's Home In Marion For Interment Friday Buried As Private Citizen

By the United Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The funeral train carrying the body of the late President, Warren G. Harding, arrived in Washington at 10:22 o'clock tonight, and Mrs. Harding left the train immediately and proceeded to the Whitehouse in a limousine accompanied by Secretary Christian. She entered the mansion on his arm a few moments later. There was much delay in removing the body of President Harding through a window of the observation car. A cañon drawn by white sorrell horses with black trappings carried the casket between a row of soldiers from all branches of the service. Tons of flowers were piled on the train as it sped through the country on its sorrowful trip, followed the remains of the president in huge flower wagons. President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft and members of the cabinet met the train. The wives of the senators did not accompany Harding's widow to the Whitehouse, as per request. The cortege went to the new Willard Hotel, the temporary whitehouse, where crowds jammed the streets to see the casket carrying the late chief executive.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—The city of Washington awoke to one of the saddest dawns in its history, when the day dawned when the mortal shell of President Harding will be borne through the streets to the Whitehouse in preparation for the funeral which will be held in Marion, Ohio, Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. While the train that bears the President's remains will likely not arrive here till late tonight, crowds are beginning to gather, and the business houses are making all preparations for the arrival of the remains, and they will be closed and draped in black. Government business is at a complete standstill.

A military escort will meet the train and escort the body to the White house where it will rest in the East room. School children are gathering wild flowers in great quantities, which they will scatter along Pennsylvania Avenue.

Train Five Hours Late in Ohio
The Harding Special train is five hours late as it rushes through the state of Ohio, but it is expected that it will reach Washington about five o'clock this afternoon, eastern time. The train's delay is a serious annoyance to Mrs. Harding who had hoped to arrive in Washington in full day light. A large flaming cross of golden rod with the letters "K K K" across it was put on the train at Chicago among the funeral wreaths. Attached was a card which read "Grand Dragon, Realm of Illinois."

Body Will Be Surrendered to Mrs. Harding
The body of President Harding will be surrendered to Mrs. Harding after the State ceremonies Wednesday. President Coolidge after a conference with Senator Lodge issued a statement declaring that in compliance with the wishes of Mrs. Harding, the official groups who will go to Marion for interment ceremonies would terminate only as guests of town. The statement said that the official ceremonies would terminate when Harding's body reached the train on Wednesday. "Participation and representatives will be entirely on a basis of guests of the town of Marion, and they will not participate in any way officially, in the ceremonies. The late President's wife does not desire any military, fraternal, civic or official participations in the Marion ceremonies; it being her wish that her husband be interred as "most distinguished representative of Marion."

It is reported that he is resting easier now, with a temperature lower than it has been since taking ill last Saturday.

BATTLE FLEET WILL BE AT THE AMERICAN LEGION CON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. (United Press.) A battle fleet of the United States Navy will participate in a spectacular naval show to be held during the convention of the American Legion here from October 1 to 10.

Announcement from Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt that a large fleet will be detached to San Francisco for the convention gives assurance that the navy will have more prominence than it has received at any previous national gathering of the veterans' organization.

Included in the fleet will be nine battleships, thirty-eight destroyers and a number of armored cruisers, tenders, hospital ships and other auxiliary craft.

Personnel attached to the vessels will number 900 commissioned officers; 10 warrant officers and 16,000 enlisted men.

Naval authorities of a number of countries allied with the United States in the World War have been asked to send vessels.

THE TECH COLLEGE MAY BE LOCATED TODAY—WIN OR LOSE LUBBOCK WILL CONTINUE TO BUILD A CITY

"The Locating Board has agreed to hold a series of meetings in Ft. Worth at the Texas Hotel starting Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock in an effort to definitely decide upon the location of the Texas Technological College before they break up and go to their several homes."

That is the substance of a message given out at Memphis, Texas early Monday and carried by all of the state papers in Tuesday morning's edition. To say that West Texas is hanging on that message is to put it mildly. There has been no decision made or results of an election, appointment or verdict to be rendered that more vitally interests more folks or has been of greater importance to the state as a whole in many years than the definite location of the Tech College.

If the Locating Board is able to get together this morning in the privacy of a council room in the Texas Hotel—a great civic institution itself that is entitled to the full admiration of every man in Texas—and after discussing the various town visited, check up their impressions against the facts and figures contained in the briefs and the terms of the bill and definitely announce their decision as to the location of the college sometime during the day or night they will have completed a difficult job with great credit to themselves, to Texas and satisfaction to West Texas. A Definite Decision Without Compromise.

It is hoped through West Texas and especially by the towns most vitally concerned that the board will announce a definite decision and in the most definite terms and a location that fulfills the full terms of the bill creating the college and that without smack of compromise or swapping favors. And it is that kind of decision that the people of West Texas are looking for—on they have confidence in the Locating Board such as has no other board or commission created in Texas as ever had before.

It is freely predicted that the board will act with the greatest dispatch and that their decision will be handed down before the close of the day—possibly even before noon of today.

Great Problems Presented to Contending Towns
Regardless of where the college is located—whether Lubbock gets it or whether it goes to some of the other towns of West Texas—some serious problems are presented to all of the towns concerned upon the definite announcements of the college location. And this is not referring to the moral responsibilities that go with the college. It is the dollars and cents problems that will attend the location of the school.

In order to bring the problem right down home with every day facts and basing our argument upon

The party was on its way to the mountains of New Mexico for a vacation trip when the accident occurred.

TIMBER WOLVES THREATEN HOMES AND LIVESTOCK

COLUMBUS, Mo., Aug. 7. (United Press.) Citizens of Cameron, Missouri, are alarmed into armed bands today to keep vigil through the night following a widespread attack made last night by huge packs of hungry timber wolves upon livestock in this vicinity. It is feared that the wolves may invade the city and attack women and children, and the citizens have started into the country in an effort to scatter the packs, and break up their attacks on livestock.

BELGIAN CABINET DISCUSSED REPARATION DEADLOCK TUESDAY

BRUSSELS, Aug. 7.—The Belgian cabinet in an important session Tuesday discussed the reparation deadlock, and may suggest the following solution: Germany to pay France and Belgium only for material damages committed in war time; England to reduce debts owed here by the allies; Germany to pay England equivalent of England's debt to America; Belgium to take initiative in calling an inter-allied conference on those lines.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—The League of Nation disarmament committee Tuesday passed to the first reading the project for general mutual guarantee project among league powers. It will be submitted to the league assembly in September for its approval.

BOARD TO DELIBERATE CLAIMS AT FORT WORTH WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Special to Avalanche. QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 7.—Following a conference held at Memphis just before their departure for this city, the locating board of the Texas Tech College, through its secretary, W. R. Nabours, gave out Monday morning a formal statement that the first conference to be held over the matter of definitely locating the new institution will be held in the Texas Hotel at Fort Worth Wednesday morning.

The board did not say in so many words that at this conference the lucky town would be named, but the general indication is that the town which is to have the college will be designated before this meeting, or this series of meetings, is final over.

Through Mr. Nabours the board made it clear that, while deliberating, they did not care to see any delegations from any of the contending cities. They will not consider any supplementary data or briefs after Tuesday, it was also said.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 7.—Hot weather in Texas gave the cotton market strength today and it closed steady to firm at an advance of more than five dollars a bale, for all positions in the option markets. The spot situation also displayed firmness and ruled generally steady at an advance of from 75 to 115 points. Fort Worth spots advanced 110 points, equivalent to $5 a bale.

Quite a few took advantage of the surge and realized profits, but ample takers for all offerings were found and kept the market steady. There seems to be considerable uncertainty over the outlook in North and West Texas because of the hot, dry winds and lack of moisture.

Reports of scattered and unsettled weather were received from South Texas where the crop is practically made, but in North Texas the winds are playing havoc with growing crops.

Messages received here from New York houses with Fort Worth correspondents were to buy at recession, if any. The technical position of cotton is generally strong, despite the fact that the English markets were closed.

The talent seemed to take an optimistic view of the turn of European affairs and news since Saturday.

While the demand for spot cotton is a bit draggy, the spot dealers do not seem to be uneasy because of the shortage of the visible supply and the ultimate need for stocks. A continuation of existing weather conditions will make a big difference in the demand for cotton.

COTTON DETERIORATES IN JOHNSON COUNTY

CLEBURNE, Aug. 7.—According to W. H. Goldsmith, one of Johnson County's leading cotton growers, within the last three weeks the cotton crop has so deteriorated in the county that on an average there will be but a fourth of a bale to the acre, or a total of about 35,000 to 40,000 bales.

The hot, dry weather has cut the crop prospects.

RESUME DRIVE IN ALLEGED OIL FRAUD

FORT WORTH, Aug. 7.—Resumption of the government's drive on alleged fraudulent oil stock promoters was put under way when federal District Attorney Henry Zweifel, issued warrants on complaints against James E. Pope and Y. E. Hildreth. Pope, is at the head of the Petroleum Investment Company and J. E. Pope Oil Land Trust Company. Hildreth is trustee of the Mexia-Worsham Oil and Lease Syndicate. Zweifel alleges that they made fraudulent representations in the sale of oil stocks and to have realized between a quarter and a half million dollars from the transactions.

Stephens Auto Agency Established By Lon Mullican

Lon Mullican, well known Lubbock man, and who recently took a contract to sell Stephens cars in this territory, is having a very neat showroom arranged in the Lubbock Buick Company building. Mr. Mullican is entering the automobile business here at a very favorable season, and his success is assured. He has been supplied with the Stephens cars for several days and has already made a known that there is an agency established here. We are of the opinion that great attention is being given to the larger cars, and in selecting the Stephens has displayed a great deal of good judgment, as there are several of these cars in this territory that have given splendid service. Lubbock is fortunate to have Mr. Mullican listed among her automobile dealers.

Tremendous Slaughter Game Birds In England Is Reported

LONDON, Aug. 7 (United Press)—"Johanne get your gun" was the watchword in all sporting British households tonight and tomorrow everybody possessing a gun and game license (as well as many not in possession thereof) will start out to murder grouse with a whole-hearted enthusiasm.

"The Glorious Twelfth," or "The Festival of St. Grouse," does not depend on favorable weather conditions, and with the lifting of the eight month's legal immunity for grouse and red game, all over the midland, northern and Scottish moors sportsmen and sportswomen will be out with dog and gun, determined to bag as many grouse as possible before the lid goes on again December 11.

Grouse shooting in Britain is almost a sacred society rite, as well as a popular sport, and everybody who is anybody entertains house-parties at fashionable "shooting-boxes" on carefully preserved moors. From all the London and southeast termini special trains start tonight for the north, packed with men and women armed with guns and packets of cartridges, although naturally the real sporting enthusiasts arrived in "grouse-land" today.

British society will be "on the moors" for the next three or four months, for partridge shooting starts September 1, and pheasants may be slaughtered any time after October 1. King George and the royal family were early at work, and the monarch will shoot over his own Sandringham, Norfolk and Scottish estates.

Grouse, partridge and pheasant shooting is not a cheap sport, for the birds have to be carefully preserved and reared on specially kept estates. Naturally, for anybody to shoot birds on another person's land is poaching, but humble sportsmen can safely not birds flying over a public highway.

The birds are driven from cover by gamekeepers and dogs and are only shot while on the wing, hence the wise grouse or pheasant tries to remain on the ground as long as possible. Millions of birds are shot by aristocratic sportsmen and their guests during the season, but large sums are expended through their preservation for the annual four month's slaughter.

"It's a fine day, let's go out and kill something," will be the society motto for several months, although the birds will get "an easy" period towards the end of October, when fox-hunting begins.

Marks And Prices Racing In Germany Prices Are Soaring

BERLIN (By mail to United Press).—Life in Germany today is just one increase in prices and wages after another.

Every day the paper market-roller lays out more than he did the day before for exactly the same article. A young German eats exactly the same kind of breakfast every morning at the same little table in a Friedrichstrasse cafe. Each morning he orders coffee, bread and butter and two soft-boiled eggs.

"And every morning I dig just a little deeper into my supply of marks," he declared. "The prices are not increased once a week—they are increased every day and sometimes, waiters have told me, they are even increased a second time before nightfall, if the slump in the mark is especially great."

A lady prices an article in a store and returns the next day to buy it only to find it marked up all the way from 10 to 100 per cent.

Wages are not increased so rapidly as prices, but new wage scales are inaugurated about every two weeks and in many factories—especially American-owned—wages are on a goldmark basis. Attempts are being made by unions to spread the system all over Germany.

The rapid deterioration in the mark makes the game of lending rather risky. A typical incident—a friend borrowed 500,000 marks from an American recently when the marks were worth $25. If he pays back the half million marks now, the American will be able to buy only about $2 or $3 worth of stuff with his marks. If he demands an equivalent for his $25 in marks, he would be reimbursed with 7,500,000 marks. Many interesting court cases have resulted from such incidents, some courts deciding a mark is a mark and must be recognized as such, while other courts have decided the devaluation must be taken into consideration.

NEED HARVEST HANDS IN CANADA'S WHEAT BELT

By the United Press. WINNEPEG, Man., Aug. 7.—Prospects of a serious shortage of harvest hands in Western Canada in view of the bumper wheat crop which promises to be the greatest in history, have caused government officials in the three prairie provinces to send out a call for 52,000 extra workers.

will need 30,000, Manitoba 12,000; Alberta 10,000. The workers will be recruited from the eastern provinces—British Columbia and the United States. Manitoba's wheat harvest, according to the present outlook began August 7. Alberta's about Aug. 10, and Saskatchewan's about the 15th.

"BILL" TALKS TO THE LADIES

Tells Why He Should Be Kept In Lubbock.

Copyright, 1923, F. W. Mozart. "Bill" Dollar, Lubbock's best citizen, is continuing his journey of education through the stores and to the workers of this city, showing the power for good that is contained in a dollar "Bill" that works in Lubbock for Lubbock. Every merchant or wage earner who has received "Bill" Dollar has had some good from him.

The local merchants, the local merchants is unquestionably justified in feeling exactly as you must feel in such instances as those cited above. "Years ago it was the custom to produce right in the home community the things required for home use. But as Lubbock grew, bringing greater wealth and greater comforts to your household, it became necessary for other householders to establish stores where they could buy conveniently and economically.

U. S. Asked To Send Speaker On Opium Traffic To L. Of N.

GENEVA. (By mail to the United Press.) When the fourth annual assembly of the League of Nations which convenes at Geneva, September 3, takes up the question of the control of the opium, morphine and cocaine traffic one of the surprises may be an address before the assembly, for the first time of a representative of the United States. During the past year the United States has not only consented to co-operate with the league in its world-wide campaign against the harmful drugs traffic, but it has actually assumed the leadership. To maintain this leadership, however, it is generally conceded that it will be necessary for the United States to have a representative present at the fourth assembly.

Uncle Sam Is to Start Night Airmail Service; Planes, Guided by Powerful Beacons, to Cross Continent 28 Hours

By the United Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The American transcontinental air mail service will soon be seen streaking through the darkened skies of night, its pathway blazed by powerful beacons of light.
 After having worked steadily on plans for more than a year, the Postoffice Department intends to inaugurate the night air mail service about the middle of the present month. Air mail experts and aviation specialists have been experimenting in all phases of night flying and are confident of success.
 In the opinion of Postmaster General New continuous and regular transcontinental air mail service "will be a milestone in the history of aviation and an epic in the progress of transportation, and will put the air mail service on the basis of an independent postal service."

The Night Schedule
 Under the proposed schedule for the service after night flying has been inaugurated, air mail will leave New York City shortly before noon, go to Cleveland; then to Bryan, O., and then to Chicago, arriving there at sundown. From Chicago, another pilot will take the mail and fly about 1,000 miles, one third of the trip across the continent, in the dead of night.
 Leaving Chicago, this pilot will turn southwest to Iowa City, thence go to Omaha, on to North Platte and into Cheyenne at dawn. A relief pilot then will start from Cheyenne and head for Rawlins, Wyoming, thence to Rock, Wyoming, then Southwest to Salt Lake City, and from there will proceed straight for the Pacific Coast, passing over Elko and Reno, Nevada, and landing in San Francisco, as the street lamps begin to glow.

Thus will be marked another great stage in the development of the post, life-blood of a nation. From the slow stage coach, fighting its way over dangerous cliff roads and against Indian bands, to the modern railroad, considered at first the last word in the speed of science, mail will now be transported across the continent in 28 hours when the night flying of the air mail begins.

Giant Lighting Plan.
 Equipped with beacons of 600,000-candlepower, the five regular landing fields from Chicago to Cheyenne will create an artificial aurora borealis, visible for 50 miles from its source under good atmospheric conditions, to guide the pioneers of the air mail. These giant beacons will swing around the tops of towers and will make three revolutions every minute. The lights will be operated only when a plane is expected.

Besides the powerful beacons at the five regular stations, emergency landing fields have been located and lighted every 25 miles along the route. These smaller beacons will be visible for 30 miles. Each plane of the night air mail service will be equipped with bright searchlights for forced landings.

When the clouds are low and heavy and the pilot is forced to fly at a low altitude, flashing signals, similar to traffic guards on city streets, but whose lights will be directed towards the skies, will be located every three miles along the air mail route. On a clear night a pilot 7,000 feet up will see a narrow line of light stretching along the miles over the level prairies.

 "There goes the air mail," will cry descendants of the American pioneers who first hailed the stage coach mail and then the steaming, glistering locomotive.
 "No transportation," said Director Egge of the air mail service of the postoffice department to the United Press, "is successful unless it can be operated day and night and through wind, rain, snow or sleet."

"The night flights of the postal planes cannot wait upon the will of the elements, but must take conditions as they find them. Almost one-third of the day flying is made thru rain, hail or fog, and it is probable that the night flyer will have to bear the same conditions."
 Operation of the day air mail service during the fiscal year 1923 was 98.73 per cent perfect, the highest efficiency attained since the establishment of the service. During that period the air mail covered 1,589,389 miles.

SOCIETY

Missionary Society
 Our regular monthly business meeting of the society was held in the usual place and at the regular hour Monday. The usual order of business was carried out, after singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" as an opening song.
 After hearing reports from officers and committees we took up new business. The booth at the fair was discussed, and committees will be appointed later.

The subject of a loan closet under the direction of the federal auxiliaries of the city, was thoroughly discussed. It was decided to take our part of contributing to the loan closet from the local fund. A committee was appointed to see after this work. It was moved and carried to place the Missionary Voice and Christian Worker in the Public Library. Mrs. Mormon reported shoes and other things bought for a family amounting to something over $8.00. The books on Japan to be used in our September study were ordered by a number of ladies.
 It was decided by the Woman's Missionary Council in session, at Mobile, Ala., April, 1923, that a memorial to Miss Belle H. Bennett shall be established which shall be an enduring monument perpetuating her life and service already incarnate in the Sacred Bible and Training School. This memorial shall in some way bear her name and become the fulfillment of her inspired vision for a greater school for Christian workers.

 "Verily I say unto you, whosoever the gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her."

WEST TEXAS GINNERS CHANGED DATE OF MEETING
 ABILENE, Aug. 7.—Postponement of the annual convention of the West Texas Ginnners' Association until Saturday of this week, was decided at a meeting of local ginnners held at the Dunningin Gin Monday morning. The date of the convention was originally set for Friday of this week, but on account of the burial of the late President Warren G. Harding it was voted that the convention would be held Saturday instead.

 Ginnners in this section are being communicated with by long distance telephone and the postponement of the convention announced. All papers in this part of the state were requested to make an announcement of the fact that the convention will be held Saturday, August 11, instead of Friday, Aug. 10.

That the meeting of the West Texas Ginnners this year promises to be the best in the history of the association is expected on every hand. Elaborate preparations have been made for the entertainment of the visitors, and it is expected that there will be between 200 and 300 ginnners and oil men present. Sessions of the convention will be held at the West Texas Fair Park, and visitors will assemble at the Grace Hotel at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and go to the park.

Oakland—Expedition between three and four years ago. A film amateur in a small way, he got a movie camera because he asked his father for it, though the real professional picture-taking was to be done by Hollywood experts.
 The latter, however, "made a stop motion backwards" or in plain English, withdrew on account of the African trekking hardships. Sidney found himself sole cinematographer, grew to manhood and man-sie competency on the sudden job. Ceasingly experimenting he conquered the difficulties of climate and "static" and all other troubles until he was able to produce clear, beautiful well composed pictures. The boy's confidence in the elder Snow's unerring rifle enabled him to expose film in the most hazardous situations where the "movie lot" photographer would have quit and "beat it". The strapping Sidney gained 66

pounds weight, grew a beard, went out a novice and returned a highly skilled professional. He loved the work, and thrived on it. At the age of 23 his fame as cinematographer is securely established.
 "Someone asked him recently if he would take the trip to Africa again," "Sure," he replied. "I certainly would if Dad held the rifle, for you know he never misses."

WOMAN HAS AUTHORITY TO SIGN PRESIDENT'S NAME

SAVED SICK SPELLS
 Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Known Its Usefulness Over 30 Years.

Neples, Texas.—"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. E. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out from here on Route 3.
 "I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it.
 "I began to take Black-Draught and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble.
 "I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."
 Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.
 This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs. Be sure to get the genuine, Theodor's.

GOV. DAVIS SUFFERING RAILROAD COMMISSION TO HOLD MEETING AT LORAIN IS BETTER

LORAIN, Texas, Aug. 7.—The Railroad Commission has set date for the hearing of the case between the T. & P. road and the City of Lorain as August 15th, and instead of having the hearing at Austin it has been decided to meet at Lorain. Mr. W. A. Nabours of the Commission will be present, and also the officials of the road so that the citizens of the town can go before him and present their claim. The request asked for that have not been granted are an additional waiting room for negroes at the station and the enlarging of the cotton loading platform. These are improvements that have been needed for some time and that should be granted, by the railroad company and we believe that when the Mr. Nabours comes here the 15th and hears the case on the ground that he will readily see the merits of the case and ask that the desired changes be made at once.

BATTLE FLEET WILL BE AT THE AMERICAN LEGATION CON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7. (United Press.) A battle fleet of the United States Navy will participate in a spectacular naval show to be held during the convention of the American Legion here from October 10 to 14. Announcement from Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt that a large fleet will be detailed to San Francisco for the convention gives assurance that the navy will have more prominence than it has received at any previous national gathering of the veterans' organization. Included in the fleet will be nine battleships, thirty-eight destroyers and a number of armored cruisers, tenders, hospital ships and other auxiliary craft. Personal attached to the vessels will number 300 commissioned officers, 10,000 warrant officers and 16,000 enlisted men. Naval authorities of a number of countries allied with the United States in the World War have been asked to send vessels.

THE TECH COLLEGE MAY BE LOCATED TODAY—WIN OR LOSE LUBBOCK WILL CONTINUE TO BUILD A CITY

"The Locating Board has agreed to hold a series of meetings in Ft. Worth at the Texas Hotel starting Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock in an effort to definitely decide upon the location of the Texas Technological College before they break up and go to their several homes."

That is the substance of a message given out at Memphis, Texas early Monday and carried by all of the state papers in Tuesday morning's edition. To say that West Texas is hanging on that message is to put it mildly. There has been no decision made or results of an election, appointment or verdict to be rendered that more vitally interests more folks or has been of greater importance to the state as a whole in many years than the definite location of the Tech College.

If the Locating Board is able to get together this morning in the privacy of a council room in the Texas Hotel—a great civic institution itself that is entitled to the full admiration of every man in Texas—and after discussing the various town visited, check-up their impressions against the facts and figures contained in the briefs and the terms of the bill and definitely announce their decision as to the location of the college, some time during the day or night they will have completed a difficult job with great credit to themselves, to Texas and satisfaction to West Texas. A definite decision without compromise.

It is hoped that West Texas and especially by the towns most vitally concerned that the board will announce a definite decision and in the most definite terms and a location that fulfills the full terms of the bill creating the college and that without smeaok of compromise or swapping favors. And it is that kind of decision that the people of West Texas are looking for—for they have confidence in the Locating Board such as has no other board or commission created in Texas as ever had before.

It is freely predicted that the board will act with the greatest dispatch and that their decision will be handed down before the close of the day—possibly even before noon of today. Great Problems Presented to Contending Towns. Regardless of where the college is located—whether Lubbock gets it or whether it goes to some of the other towns of West Texas—some serious problems are presented to all of the towns concerned upon the definite announcements of the college location. And this is not referring to the moral responsibilities that go with the college. It is the dollars and cents problems that will attend the location of the school. In order to bring the problem right down home with every day facts and busing our argument upon

Remains Will Be Taken To Father's Home In Marion For Interment Friday Buried As Private Citizen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The funeral train carrying the body of the late President, Warren G. Harding, arrived in Washington at 10:22 o'clock tonight, and Mrs. Harding left the train immediately and preceded to the Whitehouse in a limousine accompanied by Secretary Christian. She entered the mansion on his arm a few moments later. There was much delay in removing the body of President Harding through a window of the observation car. A caisson drawn by white sorrell horses with black trappings carried the casket between a row of soldiers from all branches of the service. Tons of flowers were piled on the train as it sped through the country on its sorrowful trip, followed the remains of the president in huge flower wagons. President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft and members of the cabinet met the train. The wives of the senators did not accompany Harding's widow to the Whitehouse, as per request. The Cortège went to the new Willard Hotel, the temporary whitehouse, where crowds jammed the streets to see the casket carrying the late chief executive.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—The city of Washington awoke to one of the saddest dawns in its history, when the day dawned when the mortal shell of President Harding will be borne through the streets to the Whitehouse in preparation for the funeral which will be held in Marion, Ohio, Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. While the train that bears the President's remains will likely not arrive here till late tonight, crowds are beginning to gather, and the business houses are making all preparations for the arrival of the remains, and they will be closed and draped in black. Government business is at a complete standstill.

A military escort will meet the train and escort the body to the White house where it will rest in the East room. School children are gathering wild flowers in great quantities, which they will scatter along Pennsylvania Avenue.

Train Five Hours Late in Ohio
The Harding Special train is five hours late as it rushes through the state of Ohio, but it is expected that it will reach Washington about five o'clock this afternoon, eastern time. The train's delay is a serious annoyance to Mrs. Harding who had hoped to arrive in Washington in full day light. A large flaming cross of golden rods with the letters "K K K" across it was put on the train at Chicago among the funeral wreaths. Attached was a card which read "Grand Dragon, Realm of Illinois".

Body Will Be Surrendered To Mrs. Harding
The body of President Harding will be surrendered to Mrs. Harding after the State ceremonies Wednesday. President Coolidge after a conference with Senator Lodge issued a statement declaring that in compliance with the wishes of Mrs. Harding, the official groups who will go to Marion for interment ceremonies would terminate only as guests of town. The statement said that the official ceremonies would terminate when Harding's body reaches the town on Wednesday. "Participation and representatives will be entirely on a basis of guests of the town of Marion, and they will not participate in any way official in the ceremonies. The late President's wife does not desire any military, fraternal, civic or official participations in the Marion ceremonies, it being her wish that her husband be interred as 'most distinguished representative of Marion'."

Texas Honored
Included in the honorary pallbearers is Representatives John Garner of Texas, and in the special Senate committee to represent that body at Marion are Senator Shepard of Texas, and Jones of New Mexico. Due to the expected late arrival of the train minor changes in the arrangements of the funeral may necessarily have to be made.

Train Eight Hours Late At Pittsburgh, Pa.
The Harding Special was reported eight hours late in arriving at Pittsburgh, Pa., arriving at 2:44 this afternoon. At this rate the train will not reach Washington till almost midnight Tuesday whereas it should have been there by five o'clock.

100,000 Expected at Marion at Harding's Funeral.

MARION, O., Aug. 7.—Upward to 100,000 people are expected to fill this city to the point of overflowing Friday when the last rites will be accorded the late President Harding. To handle the anticipated throng, orders have been issued from here by State Adm. Gen. Henderson for the mobilization of 3,000 soldiers of the United States reserve forces of Ohio. Hundreds of persons motored to Marion Sunday, and early in the afternoon Company D of Marion was mobilized, the men being stationed at points of Harding interests after souvenir hunters became so numerous that such a move was deemed advisable to prevent destruction of property. No one will be permitted near the home of Dr. George T. Harding, Sr., where the funeral of the late Chief Executive will be held, the Harding homestead in Mount Vernon avenue, the "front porch" house, or the Harding burial grounds. It is the hope of Drs. Sawyer and Harding that Mrs. Harding will consent to have the body of the President taken directly to the Marion County Courthouse when it arrives here Thursday to lie in State from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Then it would be removed to the home of the late President's father, where according to tentative arrangements, funeral services will be held Friday morning. The funeral cortège on its way to the cemetery will pass the Marion Star office, the newspaper which President Harding recently disposed of, and thru the two main streets of the city, which will be

JOHNSON'S SPEECH OPENS FIGHT FOR C. O. P. NOMINATION

Whatever different interpretations may be put upon the various utterances in the speech of Senator Hiram Johnson at New York, July 25, there is not likely to be any disagreement over the view that it was an anti-administration speech from start to finish.

He took direct issue with President Harding on the executive's World Court proposal, which was to have been expected.

He accuses Secretaries Hughes and Hoover of having recanted their views on the League of Nations and says they would not otherwise be in the Cabinet.

He directly accused the Harding administration of responsibility for the popular discontent when he said: "Of course, there is discontent. It arises not from dissatisfaction with popular government, but with the lack of it."

When his (the Common Citizen's) problems, which means not only his happiness, but the happiness and very life of his loved ones, are shunned by those in power, in no uncertain fashion he voices his discontent and distrust.

He freely criticizes both England and France—the political significance of which is obvious, and makes a grand gesture to the women voters.

SUMMER OCCUPATION FOR CHILDREN

Children are a big problem for many parents during vacation time. Those who can go to summer camps and work off their exuberance on outdoor sports and woodcraft are highly favored.

Every child old enough to have some regular task. If take any responsibility ought to be put upon him.

It is a great boon to these idle youngsters where playgrounds are conducted in an organized way, and formed into groups for their various sports.

LITTLE AVALANCHES

One trouble with the country at this time is too many orators and too few lunatic asylums.

A lawn marked "Keep off the grass" is considered by the boys as a specially favored place on which to play old two cat.

Now if the girls will give the same attention to adorning the insides of their heads that they give to decorating the outsides of their skirts, all will be well.

And if the boys will exercise as much muscle on some useful job as they do in running bases, the supply of staple merchandise will be ample.

Story telling to children is a new educational method, and story telling by children is frequently heard when it comes to accounting for the loss of the doughnut supply.

TEXAS TECH MAY BE LOCATED TODAY

real worth for some time yet to come.

An example of this can be cited. It is reported that recently a tract of land was purchased adjoining the A. & M. College of Texas—a 60 year old institution and the largest in the South.

Artificial stimulation of price elevations that results in inflated values unduly over and above the real, fundamentally sound basic values of the land or the goods in question cannot help but result in a slump that will paralyze business.

More True of the Business Situation: The eyes of Texas are upon Lubbock already.

These will range, all the way from more peanut roasters to regular department stores.

Yet not until September will a single cent be spent in Lubbock as a result of the location of the college—except for the land itself and even then only the wages of the workmen for at least another year.

very little more for many years. It takes time for families to pick up and move to a school town.

For Lubbock to lose her head and start to opening up new business houses, running up real estate values and generally going on a spending spree will be to invite disaster.

To the average man it will not add a dollar to his salary, or a cent to his bank account.

So win or lose—let's set tight—keep our heads and continue to build a city worthy of the name "Lubbock, the Hub of the Plains."

In Case Lubbock Does Not Get The College

That is a question that is not pleasant to think about much less discuss but the fact remains that with 37 towns in West Texas contending for the college and about 33 of them as thoroughly convinced as we that they have a good chance to get it.

Some towns are counting upon the location of that college so strongly that the failure to secure it is going to cast them into the very depths of molly grubbs, of despair, of even depressing property values and population. But these towns are not entitled to live anyway.

That is the spirit that has built West Texas in the face of ridicule, of unfair criticism, false propaganda, petty thieving politics on the part of narrow minded East Texas politicians, and even physical handicaps of drought, lack of wood, and an over-abundance of vast distances.

Win or Lose—Keep Your Head. So to sum the whole thing up in a few words—win or lose—Lubbock must keep her head.

So to sum the whole thing up in a few words—win or lose—Lubbock must keep her head. Her individual citizen must consider facts with a sane, common sense consideration of all sides and maintain her business relations, her property values upon a level, even running keel that will mean permanent and dependable prosperity with natural, normal, substantial growth.

We are of the opinion that greater attention is being given to the larger cars, and in selecting the Stephens he has displayed a great deal of good judgment, as there are several of those cars in the territory that have given splendid service. Tremendous Slaughter Game Birds In England Is Reported

LONDON, Aug. 7 (United Press).—"Johnnie get your gun" was the watchword in all sporting British households tonight and tomorrow, everybody possessing a gun and game license (as well as many not in possession thereof) will start out to murder grouse with a whole-hearted enthusiasm.

"The Glorious Twelfth," or "The Festival of St. Grouse," does not depend on favorable weather conditions, and with the lifting of the eight month's legal immunity for grouse and red game, all over the midland, northern and Scottish moors sportsmen and sportswomen will be out with dog and gun, determined to bag as many grouse as possible before the lid goes on again December 11.

Grouse shooting in Britain is almost a sacred society rite, as well as a popular sport, and everybody who is anybody entertains house parties at fashionable "shooting boxes" on carefully preserved moors. From all the London and southeast termini special trains start tonight for the north, packed with men and women armed with guns and packets of cartridges, although naturally the real sporting enthusiasts arrived in "grouse-land" today.

British society will be "on the moors" for the next three or four months, for partridge shooting starts September 1, and pheasants may be slaughtered any time after October 1. King George and the royal family were early at work, and the monarch will shoot over his own Sandringham, Norfolk and Scottish estates.

Grouse, partridge and pheasant shooting is not a cheap sport, for the birds have to be carefully preserved and cared on specially kept estates. Naturally, for anybody to shoot birds on another person's land is poaching, but humble sportsmen can safely put birds flying over a public highway.

The birds are driven from cover by gamekeepers and dogs and are only shot while on the wing, hence the wise grouse or pheasant tries to remain on the ground as long as possible. Millions of birds are shot by aristocratic sportsmen and their guests during the season, but large sums are expended through their preservation for the annual four month's slaughter.

"It's a fine day, let's go out and kill something," will be the society motto for several months, although the birds will get "an easy" period towards the end of October, when fox-hunting begins.

Marks And Prices Racing In Germany Prices Are Soaring

BERLIN (By mail to United Press).—Life in Germany today is just one increase in prices and wages after another.

Every day the poor mark tiler pays out more than he did the day before for exactly the same article. A young German eats exactly the same kind of breakfast every morning at the same little table in a Friedrichstrasse cafe. Each morning he orders coffee, bread and butter and two soft-boiled eggs.

"And every morning I dig just a little deeper into my supply of marks," he declared. "The price

are not increased once a week—they are increased every day and sometimes, waiters have told me they are even increased a second time before nightfall. If the slump in the mark is especially great, it is necessary for the construction of the filtration plant. The amount called for in the bond election, is in accordance with the estimates of G. A. Duren, consulting engineer from Dallas, who has planned and supervised numerous similar projects. Before his plans are finally accepted, however, the City Commission will submit the plans to John B. Hawley, the engineer who planned Lake Trammell, as an added guarantee of their correctness.

The rapid deterioration in the mark, makes the game of lending rather risky. A typical incident—a friend borrowed 500,000 marks from an American recently when the marks were worth $25. If he pays back the half million marks now, the American will be able to buy only about $2 or $3 worth of stuff with his marks. If he demands an equivalent for his $25 in marks, he would be reimbursed with 7,500,000 marks. Many interesting court cases have resulted from such incidents—some courts deciding a mark is a mark and must be recognized as such, while other courts have decided the devaluation must be taken into consideration.

SWEETWATER TO VOTE ON FILTRATION BONDS.

SWEETWATER, Aug. 7.—On Wednesday of this week voters of this city will have an opportunity to vote on a proposition for the installation of a filtration plant.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. and will be in charge of Louis Foltz at the City Hall.

The proposition calls for the issuance of $35,000 in bonds, or so much of that amount as may be necessary for the construction of the filtration plant. The amount called for in the bond election, is in accordance with the estimates of G. A. Duren, consulting engineer from Dallas, who has planned and supervised numerous similar projects. Before his plans are finally accepted, however, the City Commission will submit the plans to John B. Hawley, the engineer who planned Lake Trammell, as an added guarantee of their correctness.

NEED HARVEST HANDS IN CANADA'S WHEAT BELT

By the United Press.
WINNEPEG, Man., Aug. 7.—Prospects of a serious shortage of harvest hands in Western Canada in view of the bumper wheat crop which promises to be the greatest in history, have caused government officials in the three prairie provinces to send out a call for 52,000 extra workers.

Of the army of harvest hands required, it was stated at a meeting of officials here, Saskatchewan will need 30,000, Manitoba 12,000, Alberta 10,000. The workers will be recruited from the eastern provinces, British Columbia and the United States. Manitoba's wheat harvest, according to the present outlook began August 7, Alberta's about Aug. 10, and Saskatchewan's about the 15th.

Crop experts confine their predictions of the biggest harvest in nineteen years. Some estimates place the yield of wheat at 500,000,000 bushels.

Conditions in the fruit belt of British Columbia are extremely good according to the provincial horticulturalist. Yields of all fruits, present estimates indicate, will exceed by a considerable margin the output of last year.

"BILL" TALKS TO THE LADIES

Tells Why He Should Be Kept in Lubbock

Copyright, 1923, F. W. Mozart.
"Bill" Dollar, Lubbock's best citizen, is continuing his journey of education through the stores and to the workers of this city, showing the power for good that is contained in a dollar "Bill" that works in Lubbock for Lubbock. Every merchant or wage-earner who has received "Bill" Dollar has had some good from him.

The merchant who received him in exchange for goods took his legitimate profit and then he was passed on to some other merchant that the procedure might be continued. Multiplied by thousands of his brothers, this formidable array of "Bills" are circulating in Lubbock that may all prosper and build a bigger and better city.

"Bill" was feeling in fine fettle after having visited many firms in our city in two days, and as he lay soliloquizing in a comfortable cash register for the night he expressed himself as follows:

"I have been thinking of the ladies today and the great part that they play in the purchase of goods for their family consumption. Naturally they want to get as much for their money as they can, but if their father or husband makes the money in Lubbock, it is a civic duty to spend their money here.

"What a calamity it would be if the breadwinner came home some night and say, 'Well mother, the boss has let me go because he can hire a cheaper man from St. Louis or Chicago, so I'll have to hunt some other work.'

"All of the hopes for the future would be blasted because the boss went buying in some other city when the goods at home were better than those that were coming from some other city. The boss would be a very poor citizen if he were to indulge in any such unfair practices.

"Suppose that your husband is a physician who has located in Lubbock to give his skill and knowledge to the needs of our people, and contributed through taxation to the building and support of the municipal enterprises—if your neighbor needed a doctor, how would you feel if your husband was ignored and one was brought from a distant city?

"If your husband is a dentist would you like the people of Lubbock to ignore him and go elsewhere for treatment?

"If your husband is a lawyer, a mechanic or skilled in any other trade or profession, isn't it perfectly natural for you to expect his services to be sought, engaged and paid for in Lubbock?

"No matter what your husband's business or profession or interests may be, you expect the support of Lubbock people. This is natural and it is right. If you buy your goods from a mail-order house, ignoring

GENEVA, (By mail to the United Press).—When the fourth annual assembly of the League of Nations which convenes at Geneva, September 3, takes up the question of the control of the opium, morphine and cocaine traffic one of the surprises may be an address before the assembly, for the first time of a representative of the United States.

During the past year the United States has not only consented to co-operate with the league in its world-wide campaign against the harmful drugs traffic, but it has actually assumed the leadership. To maintain this leadership, however, it is generally conceded that it will be necessary for the United States to have a representative present at the fourth assembly.

While this would create an entirely new precedent for the League, namely, the right of a government which is not a member of the league to have a speaker present on the floor of the assembly, League's declare their willingness to establish such a precedent.

The question has also been unofficially broached to the American government and it is generally believed that a spokesman will be named.

This program, after being adopted by the league's advisory commission, was recommended by the latter to the league council for approval. The council merely decided to circulate it to all the members of the league, they to send to the September assembly delegation fully instructed.

Unless the United States has a speaker present at the assembly, both to present and defend the American program, she will be in the embarrassing position either of having to leave this defense to some other country like England, or take the risk of defeat at the hands of such countries as India and Holland, which are not keen about limiting the production of poppies and coca leaves.

Uncle Sam Is to Start Night Airmail Service; Planes, Guided by Powerful Beacons, to Cross Continent 28 Hours

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The American transcontinental air mail service will soon be seen streaking through the darkened skies of night, its pathway blazed by powerful beacons of light.

After having worked steadily on plans for more than a year, the Postoffice Department intends to inaugurate the night air mail service about the middle of the present month. Air mail experts and aviation specialists have been experimenting in all phases of night flying and are confident of success.

In the opinion of Postmaster General Newcomb, the regular transcontinental air mail service will be a milestone in the history of aviation and an epic in the progress of transportation, and will put the air mail service on the basis of an independent postal service.

The Night Schedule

Under the proposed schedule for the service after night flying has been inaugurated, air mail will leave New York City shortly before noon, go to Cleveland; then to Bryan, O., and then to Chicago, arriving there at sundown. From Chicago, another pilot will take the mail and fly about 1,000 miles, one-third of the trip across the continent, in the dead of night.

Leaving Chicago, this pilot will turn southwest to Iowa City, thence go to Omaha, on to North Platte and into Cheyenne at dawn. A relief pilot then will start from Cheyenne and head for Rawlins, Wyoming, thence to Rock, Wyoming, then Southwest to Salt Lake City, and from there will proceed straight for the Pacific Coast, passing over Elko and Reno, Nevada, and landing in San Francisco as the street lamps begin to glow.

Thus will be marked another great stage in the development of the post, life-blood of a nation. From the slow stage coach, fighting its way over dangerous cliff roads and against Indian bands, to the modern railroad, considered at first the last word in the speed of science, mail will now be transported across the continent in 28 hours when the night flying of the air mail begins.

Giant Lighting Plan.

Equipped with beacons of 600,000 candlepower, the five regular landing fields from Chicago to Cheyenne will create an arctic aurora borealis, visible for 50 miles from its source under good atmospheric conditions, to guide the pioneers of the air mail. These giant beacons will swing around the tops of towers and will make three revolutions every minute. The lights will be operated only when a plane is expected.

Besides the powerful beacons at the five regular stations, emergency landing fields have been located and lighted every 25 miles along the route. These smaller beacons will be visible for 30 miles. Each plane of the night air mail service will be equipped with bright searchlights for forced landings.

When the clouds are low and heavy and the pilot is forced to fly at a low altitude, flashing signals, similar to traffic guards on city streets, but whose lights will be directed towards the skies, will be located every three miles along the air mail route. On a clear night a pilot 7,000 feet up will see a narrow line of light stretching along the miles over the level prairies.

There goes the air mail, will cry descendants of the American pioneers who first hailed the stagecoach mail and then the steaming, glistening locomotive.

"No transportation," said Director Edge of the air mail service of the postoffice department to the United Press, "is successful unless it can be operated day and night and through wind, rain, snow or sleet."

"The night flights of the postal planes cannot wait upon the will of the elements, but must take conditions as they find them. Almost one-third of the day flying is made through rain, hail or fog, and it is probable that the night flyer will have to bear the same conditions."

Operation of the day air mail service during the fiscal year 1923 was 96.73 per cent perfect, the highest efficiency attained since the establishment of the service. During that period the air mail covered 1,589,389 miles.

SOCIETY

Missionary Society

Our regular monthly business meeting of the society was held in the usual place and at the regular hour Monday. The usual order of business was carried out, after singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" as an opening song.

After hearing reports from officers and committees we took up new business. The booth at the fair was discussed and committees will be appointed later.

The subject of a loan closet under the direction of the federated auxiliaries of the city, was thoroughly discussed. It was decided to take our part of contributing to the loan closet from the local fund. A committee was appointed to see after this work. It was moved and carried to place the Missionary Voice and Christian Worker in the Public Library. Mrs. Mormon reported shoes and other things bought for a family, amounting to something over $9.00. The books on Japan to be used in our September study were ordered by a number of ladies.

It was decided by the Woman's Missionary Council in session at Mobile, Ala., April, 1923. Last a memorial to Miss Belle H. Bennett shall be established which shall be an enduring monument perpetuating her life and service already incarnate in the Sacred Bible and Training School. This memorial shall in some way bear her name and become the fulfillment of her inspired vision for a greater school for Christian workers.

Verily I say unto you, whosoever the gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her."

WEST TEXAS GINNERS CHANGED DATE OF MEETING

ABILENE, Aug. 7.—Postponement of the annual convention of the West Texas Ginners' Association until Saturday of this week, was decided at a meeting of local ginners held at the Dunnagin Gin Monday morning. The date of the convention was originally set for Friday of this week, but on account of the burial of the late President Warren G. Harding it was voted that the convention would be held Saturday instead.

Ginners in this section are being communicated with by long distance telephone and the postponement of the convention announced. All papers in this part of the state were requested to make an announcement of the fact that the convention will be held Saturday, August 11, instead of Friday, Aug. 10.

That the meeting of the West Texas Ginners this year promises to be the best in the history of the association is expected on every hand. Elaborate preparations have been made for the entertainment of the visitors, and it is expected that there will be between 200 and 300 ginners and oil men present. Sessions of the convention will be held at the West Texas Fair Park, and visitors will assemble at the Grace Hotel at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and go to the park.

Oakland Expedition between three and four years ago. A film amateur in a small way, he got a movie camera because he asked his father for it, though the real professional picture-taking was to be done by Hollywood experts.

The latter, however, made a stop-motion backwards, or in plain English, withdrew on account of the African trekking hardships. Sidney found himself sole cinematographer, grew to manhood and man-sie competency on the sudden job. Ceasingly experimenting he conquered the difficulties of climate and "static" and all other troubles until he was able to produce clear, beautiful well composed pictures. The boy's confidence in the elder Snow's unerring rifle enabled him to expose film in the most hazardous situations, where the "movie lot" photographer would have quailed and "beat it". The stripling Sidney gained 65

pounds weight, grew a beard, went out a novice and returned a highly skilled professional. He loved the work, and thrived on it. At the age of 23 his fame as cinematographer is securely established.

Someone asked him recently if he would take the trip to Africa again. "Sure," he replied. "I certainly would if Dad held the rifle, for you know he never misses."

SAVED SICK SPELLS

Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Known Its Usefulness Over 30 Years.

Napies, Texas.—"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out from here on Route 3.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny and my folks gave me a liver regulator. This Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it.

"I began to use Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble."

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommended Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This reliable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs. Be sure to get the genuine, Theford's.
