DEMOCRATIC TAX PLAN PASSES

FIRST EFFECT OF BILL APPROVED WOULD BE FLAT REDUCTION ON ALL INCOME TAXES PAID LAST YEAR

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A tax bill that would reduce the nation's levy $490,000,000 next year was adopted today by the senate. The first effect of the bill if approved by the president would be a flat 25 per cent reduction on income taxes paid this year on 1923 incomes.

AIRMEN FACED BY WORST PART OF FLIGHT

CARDOVA, Alaska, May 10.—Three United States aviators stood on the threshold of this hemisphere tonight awaiting "flying weather" for the long hop to Paramashiru in the Kurile Islands, the most hazardous flight of their attempt to encircle the world by air.

Under the direction of Lt. Lowell H. Smith the three flying officers and the mechanics were at work until late tonight tuning up their planes so that as little hazard as possible will attend their attempt to cross 800 miles of open pacific ocean to their next port of call.

The "polishing up" process is expected to be completed by Monday night, according to word received here and early Tuesday morning the "engines" hope to take the air, leaving the soil of the United States for the second time since their flight began.

They will not glimpse another American possession until they roar into the air of New England from snowy Greenland some time next summer. From the Kurile Islands, their route lies southward through Japan by way of Tokio, where a great welcome awaits them; thence to the continent of Asia and along its southern coast working, gradually, tirelessly westward.

Meanwhile the resources of the army air service were being thrown into the search for Maj. Fredk. Martin their missing commander, unseen since his plane, the Seattle, passed over Port Miller en route from Chignik toward Dutch Harbor. That was early in the afternoon of April 30. His fate and that of his mechanic Staff Sergeant Harvey is but a matter for conjecture.

The search will be placed in the hands of Lt. Harley Tonkin, assistant air officer of the 91st division now en route by air plane from San Francisco to Seattle there to embark for Chignik next Monday on the revenue cutter Bear.

Lt. Tonkin will bring with him a C. N. J. type plane ideally adapted for the slow cruising and sustained flight which will be necessary in locating into every canyon of the forbidden country where Martin might have fallen or landed his plane.

PALESTINE, Texas, May 10.—Robert Lee Kelly, seven year-old negro boy was held by local authorities tonight on charges of killing a two-year-old negro girl.

According to officers, the negro boy shot and killed the baby while she was sleeping. He is said to have used a double barreled shotgun.

MOB ATTEMPTS HALT RUM DESTRUCTION

CHICAGO, May 10.—A crowd of 500 men and women of Thornton, Illinois, a suburb south of here, mobbed 20 federal dry agents late today in an effort to prevent the destruction of liquor seized in a raid on a roadhouse. The agents, using their guns as clubs, beat the crowd back and then while half of the little force stood guard with drawn revolvers, the others poured a large quantity of whiskey, wine, and beer into the street.

SPECIAL TRAIN LEAVES HERE MON. 9 P. M.

The special train which will run from Lubbock to the sixth annual Chamber of Commerce convention at Brownwood will leave the Santa Fe station here at 9 o'clock Monday night, May 12, according to an announcement made at the local offices late Saturday night, and will arrive in Brownwood about 4 a. m.

The train running from this place will be composed of four pullman coaches and a baggage car. A fifth pullman coach will be picked up at Post.

Pullman cars will be ready for entrance at 8 o'clock, and those wishing to enter at this time may do so. A warning that no one be tardy in arrival has also been issued.

It is pointed out that there will be plenty of room in the baggage car for any extra luggage that anyone wants to carry.

Those who have not yet secured their tickets and drawn for berths are urged to do so at their earliest convenience Monday, not waiting until they get ready to go that night to fix up these necessary details.

Thus much trouble and worry can be avoided. The trip will be in charge of a steering committee with H. T. Kimbro as chairman. Other members of the committee are: W. B. Atkins, R. W. Blair, W. S. Posey and Edgar Inmon. This committee will have complete charge of the train and its occupants both going and coming and at the convention.

Miss Kathryn Atkins, Duchess, and Miss Mary Alice Johnson, Maid of Honor from this city, will ride the special train. Also the Duchess and Maid of Honor from Littlefield will go with the Lubbock delegation.

At Brownwood the delegation will be met at the station by the Lorenzo band, who will accompany it in its initial march through the city. Beyond this there is no set program of entertainment arranged, but the bunch will then be turned loose to mix individually as each person sees fit.

Seven more reservations are for sale, according to Secretary Davis, and if anyone else wishes to go, they are urged to attend to the matter early Monday, for when these are gone, there is no possible chance for any more to be accommodated.

The train will leave Brownwood on the return trip as soon as the convention is disbanded Thursday, and will arrive home at about 8 or 7 o'clock Friday morning, depending entirely on the time the return trip is started, which it is thought will be at 10 or 11 o'clock Thursday night.

GRAND JURY RETURNS 10 INDICTMENTS IN LAMB COUNTY LITTLEFIELD, Texas, May 10.—The grand jury has just adjourned they returned ten indictments, five felonies and five misdemeanors. That is the largest number of indictments ever returned by a grand jury in Lamb County. Several cases are being tried. Heretofore district court has held only from one to three days. With the increase of population the business of the court also increases.

DAMAGE SUIT IS FILED ON SCOTT

DALLAS, Texas, May 10.—Faced with charges of failing to stop after he had figured in an automobile crash here, Winfield Scott, Jr., youthful Fort Worth millionaire, left here on the Texas Special tonight for St. Louis. When he left Dallas, Scott and his party had tickets for New York City.

Local police who want Scott in connection with a complaint filed here today by W. C. Witt, who charges the young capitalist wrecked his automobile following a quarrel over a woman, wired officers at St. Louis to arrest him when he reached St. Louis.

Scott's train is scheduled to arrive in St. Louis at 11:25 Sunday morning. The crash was said to have culminated a quarrel between Witt and Scott over a woman, aftermath of a dancing party at Stoneleigh Court, exclusive apartment hotel.

Witt in his complaint charges that after defending his girl companion from alleged improper advances made by the young capitalist, Scott deliberately crashed into his machine as they drove away from the hotel.

The young millionaire was made defendant in a $200,000 breach of marriage suit brought against him nearly a year ago by his Kansas City wife, Gertrude Lane Scott.

Mrs. Scott in her suit, charged her rich husband with cruelty and infidelity. Besides the damages for alleged violation of their marital contract, she demanded $1,250 monthly alimony pending disposition of a divorce suit filed by Scott shortly after a whirlwind courtship and marriage in Kansas City.

HOPE STILL HELD FOR MISSING FLYERS

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Though ten days have passed since Major Frederick L. Martin commander of the American round-the-world flight and his mechanic, Sergeant Alva Harvey disappeared in a blinding snow storm west of Chignik, Alaska, air service officers, have by no means given up hope that they will be eventually found by searching parties.

Coast guard officials who have long experience with the Alaskan and Behring Straits have told them that it common for persons to be missing for weeks among the barren islands of the Aleutian group and yet be found well and safe.

FRENCHMAN NEARING JAPAN IN WORLD FLIGHT

CALCUTTA, India, May 10.—After a perilous journey through a haze of terrible heat, Lt. Pelletier d'Oisy, French aviator reached Bangkok on his eastward flight to Japan tonight. He had flown from Rangoon in approximately five hours and now is far ahead of British and Portuguese fliers who also have set the noses of their planes towards the land of the rising sun.

Curation Asks Justice Office AUSTIN, May 10.—C. M. Curation, chief justice of the supreme court who is serving the unexpired term of Judge Nelson Phillips, who resigned in November, 1921, has applied to the democratic executive committee, to have his name placed on the primary ballot for nomination for a full term.

NEW MACHINERY FOR THE AVALANCHE ON ROAD TO LUBBOCK The big new Duplex press for the Avalanche Publishing company was shipped out of Battle Creek Michigan this week. This press will enable the management to give Lubbock a better newspaper from every standpoint.

Another Lynotype Machine has also been ordered and will be installed within 30 days. New equipment like the above, together with new type faces, etc., has been added, gradually, ever since the disastrous fire experienced by the plant last May.

SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT IS UPHELD

TOPEKA, Kan., May 10.—Search and seizure without warrant was upheld by the Kansas Supreme court in two decisions today. The court held officers in search of liquor can invade private residences without search warrants. This converted a decision of the United States supreme court.

In a written opinion the Kansas jurist said they were convinced the higher court edict is only applicable to federal cases. The first decision reaffirmed the conviction of Dr. E. T. Johnson, Parsons, Kansas, physician sentenced to six months for possession and transportation of liquor.

Johnson had appealed from the lower court, declaring officers searched his handbag without warrant and in violation of his constitutional rights. A second decision reversed the district court of Phillips county and held that officers were within their rights in searching the home of John Johnson during Johnson's absence.

CRISIS NEAR IN JAP MUDDLE IS BELIEF

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A real crisis involving America's future relations with Japan and possibly the status of Secretary of State Hughes in President Coolidge's cabinet is developing over the Japanese immigration problem, observers believed tonight. The controversy over the exclusion clause again Japanese is the first real cloud that has arisen on the horizon of Hughes' stewardship of the foreign relation of the nation, it was pointed out.

House officials close to President Coolidge tonight generally were inclined to take the attitude that "finis" had been written across the president's efforts to change the exclusion measure before it leaves congress.

The senate and house conferees today swiftly agreed on July 1, next, as the date for applying exclusion against Japanese following the rejection in the house yesterday of Mr. Coolidge's compromise plan to extend the date to March 1, 1925.

KEELING ACTION TEXT BOOK CASE UNDECIDED

AUSTIN, May 10.—Attorney General Keeling is still undecided as to what action he will take under the decision of the supreme court in the Texas Book case. The court held that the attorney general was the only person who can legally bring suit attacking the validity of the text book contracts.

OKLAHOMA Official Burned. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 10.—Miss Catherine Van Leuven, assistant attorney general, Oklahoma, was reported out of danger tonight by her physician. Miss Van Leuven was burned about the upper part of the body when her clothing ignited from an open gas fire.

SEN. MAYFIELD TO TAKE STAND IN OWN BEHALF

SAYS WON'T ALLOW TESTIMONY OFFERED TO GO UNCHALLENGED

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Senator Earle B. Mayfield, democrat, of Texas, will take the stand to refute the testimony given by witnesses before the senate committee investigating his election, he announced today. Aroused by statement of R. L. Henry, of Houston, and Erwin J. Clark, Mayfield said:

"I cannot allow Henry's testimony to stand unchallenged. I am also going to answer that given by Mike McNamara."

Henry told the committee that the Texas Klan had "double-crossed" him in the first Texas primary in favor of Mayfield had pleaded with him to withdraw as Klan candidate and had admitted the expenditure of large campaign funds. McNamara said Mayfield had told him of spending $80,000.

Mayfield will not take the stand until all witnesses against him have been heard. The committee today subpoenaed J. E. McQuinn, said to be cashier of the Imperial Palace of the Klan at Atlanta, Ga., to appear and bring with him the accounts of the organization. The subpoena was issued at the request of counsel for George E. Paddy, Mayfield's contestant who said they expected that the Klan was a heavy contributor to Mayfield's campaign fund. Curious Washington whose capacity for unending sensations was almost overstrained by the winter's scandal investigations, is showing renewed vitality with the opening of the hearing in the Mayfield-Paddy case.

Hundreds of spectators who have faithfully followed the progress of internal revenue and Muscle Shoals controversies are deserting these probes by scores in favor of the newest sensation. The attraction in this case is the daily return of "alleged inside information" about the Ku Klux Klan.

FIRE DESTROYS SMALL TOWN IN OKLA.

QUAY, Okla., May 10.—Practically all of the business section here was in ashes tonight as the result of fire which swept the town today. A dozen business buildings and several frame structures were gutted by the blaze of undetermined origin, starting in an upper floor of a vacant building. Estimates of property damage range from $25,000 to $40,000.

O. W. Proctor of Altus, Okla., arrived in Lubbock this week and will spend some time visiting and prospecting.

THE FISHERMAN Said I, "Been fishing?" "Yes" said he. And showed his string of fish to me. "The most of them are rather small. Good for the pan but that is all. Here's one that's fairly big and here is the best I've caught this year. But nothing on the string would weigh as much as those that got away." Said I, "You lost them?" "Yes," said he. "The big ones were too much for me. I had them fairly hooked and then somehow they got away again. One was a beauty! Thrice I thought for sure I had that fellow caught; At last said I, a prize is mine. Then with a jerk he snapped my line."

Said I, "You've had good sport," Said he: "That's so, but still it seems to me I should have done much better though. For all the chances that I had. Of course this string is not so bad. You maybe think it fine, but say I know how many got away." Thought I, are we not fishers all. Stringing our catches great and small; Home bound at night with little deers Which serve the countless little needs, Chered by the love of those who wait And think our tiny conquests great, But saying what all anglers say: The largest ones got away!

THE PASSING DAY

By WILL H. MAYES, Department of Journalism, University of Texas

In his life time politicians said many mean things about Charles F. Murphy, New York Tammany leader, who died recently. At his death New York honored him as it has seldom honored any of its greatest men. People from all walks of life, the rich and poor, politicians of all parties, statesmen and anarchists, Americans and foreigners, joined in what was perhaps the most extraordinary demonstration ever accorded a citizen. In the heat of political discussion and business strife people are often unkind and unjust, and death is the only thing that brings them to a recognition of real worth.

An unusual man died last week in Austin. He devoted his life, with entire unselfishness, to city improvement and beautification. He early bought a beautiful tract of land, now known as Hyde Park, and laid it off into city blocks and lots. He built the first street railway in the city. Nine miles of Austin's streets were built at his own expense, and most of these streets were maintained by him without cost to the city until his death. He kept his city blocks that were unsold as clean as any lawn in Austin, mowing them regularly. He planted and cultivated shade trees along every street and kept the addition a real park in appearance. While he sold lots as they came in demand, and sold them at reasonable prices, selling property seemed to be secondary with him to keeping them improved. He was a civic leader, but he worked quietly and never pushed himself to the front. An unusual man, a most useful man was M. M. Shippe.

Mrs. Louella Styles Vincent, who died in Dallas recently, was a leader of the right kind among Texas women. The daughter of a newspaper man, and the widow of a newspaper man, she always had the highest ideals for literature and for journalism. She wrote much in her life, both prose and poetry, and there was not a line in all she wrote that was not inspiring and elevating. She loved the South and its people and delighted to express that love in her writing. She had faith in people and yearned to be of help to them. She was rich only in good works and has bequeathed that riches to posterity. The influence of such a life can not be estimated.

The July primaries are some time off, but there are candidates galore going up and down the State, and in loud tones and with frantic gestures they are warning the people of the disasters sure to overtake Texas if they are not elected to office. These candidates are attracting crowds that might be more profitable engaged. It is hard to estimate the economic loss to the State from the campaigns that come every two years. The newspapers are already wasting tons of white paper in telling their readers what the candidates are saying and it may about all be boiled down to mere nothing. Two months in advance of the primaries the people have quit reading or caring that they say. Most of those who go to hear them speak, do so largely through curiosity and pretty much as they would attend a street carnival. The candidates themselves are about the only persons who seem excited, but they are trying mighty hard to excite the dear people.

The people who drink liquors are more responsible for violations of prohibition laws than are those who make and sell the stuff. The traffic would stop at once if there were no buyers at fancy prices among respectable people. When buyers are punished as accessories, and punishments are made so heavy that the business of manufacturing and selling will be unprofitable, and moth buyers and sellers risk penitentiary sentences, liquor manufacturing will become almost a lost art.

The well-to-do that think it smart or an evidence of their superiority to purchase and drink liquor clandestinely, are themselves to blame when their boys and girls become drunkards. It is but natural for youth to imitate age and try to go it one better. When we consider the bad examples set for young people it is surprising that they are as exemplary as they are. They would not be but for the fact that they know more than their parents—they are better educated. From constant observation of several thousand young persons in school I am convinced that at least the college boys and girls of Texas as a class, in both morals and ideals, are a credit to and an improvement on the homes from which they come.

BANDITS ESCAPE WITH MAIL SACKS CONTAINING $35,000

CHICAGO, May 10.—A house-to-house search of Chicago's underworld was on tonight in the hunt for three bandits who early today escaped with four sacks of registered mail, containing $35,000 from the rear of the Indiana Harbor, Ind., postoffice. A. E. Germer, postoffice inspector, believes the men who some time ago staged the $100,000 bank robbery at Harvey, Illinois, engineered today's affair. Harry Pierson, truck driver, and four postal clerks were about to carry the mail into the Indiana Harbor postoffice, when the three men drove up, drew revolvers, selected the registered mail sacks from the pile and drove off toward Chicago.

POSTAL RECEIPTS AT LITTLEFIELD SHOW BIG INCREASE

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, May 10.—The report of Postmaster W. J. Wade, for the first quarter of 1924 showed total receipts of $1,350.67. This is an increase of 65 per cent over the same period last year. This is the most concrete evidence of the development and increased population of this community.

BUREAU JOB WAS THANKLESS BURNS SAYS

WASHINGTON, May 10.—"I've done many thankless tasks but this government job is the worst of the lot; I'm through," Wm. J. Burns, retired director of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice declared in an interview with the United Press tonight. "You're damned if you do and damned if you don't in my game," the noted detective who has brought 34 years of manhandling to an end with his resignation from the government service and retirement from active work, said.

"This is what you get," he said, poking a pile of newspapers containing critical editorials, "congratulating" him on his resignation. "Do your job and catch hell. The better you do it, the more you catch."

"A detective's job is to catch criminals," Burns continued. "When you catch a criminal you step on some one's toes. Naturally you make an enemy, the bigger they are, the louder they squeak, and the harder they hit back."

"I've been after the crooks for 34 years, and I have got more enemies than a dog has fleas. I'm used to the criticism and the attacks but I've tried to be a useful member of society but can't say that I love it any more than when I was a green kid in the treasury secret service."

Burns is no longer a "green kid" although he doesn't look the sixty years, he admits, his crisp curly hair is flecked with gray and his tooth brush moustache is almost white. But his Irish-blue eyes still hold a youthful look.

"I have noticed that my detractors do not dare to specify when they knock me," he said. "I have been investigated thousands of times but they have not been able by hook or crook, to get a dishonest act on me. If they did it would be placarded over the country."

Burns recalled the criticisms directed against his appointment by former attorney general Daugherty. This he laid to his enemies—enemies made in the celebrated Oregon Land fraud cases, the San Francisco graft prosecution, and the famous McNamara case, following the blowing up of Los Angeles Times when 21 persons were killed.

The attorney general has advised that his department stands ready to render all assistance "within its power" to enforce the act of June 14, 1923, regulating private banks. This act forbids the organization of private banks after that date.

POISON CANDY IS SENT TO GOVT. OFFICIAL ASS'T.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 10.—Authorities here tonight were seeking the donor of a box of poisoned candy to Miss Anna Hays, secretary to H. B. McKnight, assistant internal revenue collector. The candy, chocolate coated cherries, each containing a corrosive mercury tablet, was delivered to the girl by a messenger boy during the afternoon. The candy contained enough poison to wipe out a small army, investigators said. The nature of the gift was discovered when a piece dropped upon the floor. Police have no clues.

MOTHERS' DAY

This whole nation will unite in a tribute to mothers on Sunday May 11. Flags will be displayed on all public buildings, and a flower of any kind worn in the button hole, or on the breast, will serve as an expression of loving memory. But if the "best mother" be alive her happiness may be materially increased by writing a letter, or at least sending an appropriate card.

In all the history of the world mothers have been held in high repute. Poets have sung and great men have honored their mothers always, but the last word has not been said, and never will be expressed, for this ancient and honorable ideal.

Few finer pictures are presented in the Book of Books than those which portray the Mother spirit. Its love and solicitude shine like a halo above the basket hidden in the rushes on the banks of the Nile. Its prayerful guidance instills in the boy Samuel such a consciousness of the presence of God; that the quiet hours of the night are filled with His Voice. Its deep-rooted faith in the power of God reaches out to the prophet Elisha and restores life to a son departed. And in the fine etching of the Epistles the mother of Timothy is revealed, laying the foundation for a life of power by a careful training in the Scriptures.

Often we under-estimate what mothers do because it is done so quietly. Yet it must be that he who writes the Book of Life makes many entries of mothers' work for the betterment of the world. Her all-conquering love for her children, her implicit faith in God, her patience that is confident of results—these are qualities which we recall with grateful appreciation.

To idealize the motherhood of America by "Mothers' Day", and to recognize the fact that the most sweetly magnificent thing in life is a noble Christian mother is the most beautiful spiritual idea in the world to-day. No thought could be more beautiful than that which prompts every man, woman and child to pay tribute to those dear ones to whom we owe so much.

Down thru the ages some things survive. Some things forever are kept alive—
In the heart and the soul and the mind and will,
The mother love is living still.
The mother love thro'out the land,
Has helped men to live and to understand,
What it means to live and to see in life,
The things worth while in this world of strife.
And the great deed accomplished by women and men,

Oft a mothers love has inspired them,
And the good they have done will live again,
In the children who come after them.
And we, the children, bow our head,
As we think of our mother living or dead,
And a prayer is sent to God above,
To preserve the great power of mother love.

THE SALE OF MUSCLE SHOALS.

It looks now as if Henry Ford will not get Muscle Shoals at the price proposed, in spite of his shrewd measures to please the democrats and then to please the republicans, which resulted in the vote of the House in favor of his bid. "Here are 50 Teapot Domes jammed into one," is the cry of some of the opponents of the measure, and there are indications that they have impressed the country. Dismissing the charge that President Coolidge offered Mr. Ford Muscle Shoals in return for his support, support which was emphatically announced some time since, on the ground that "the administration does not control this congress and could not 'deliver' anything if it tried," and admitting that Mr. Ford "got administration approval of his bid" only "in the sense that Secretary Weeks' critical attitude charged into at least a benevolent neutrality," the Springfield Republican nevertheless expresses disapproval now widely shared as follows:

"The objections which were urged long ago with great force by such critics as Senator Norris of Nebraska seem too strong to be overcome by any possible considerations. To let Mr. Ford have for $5,000,000 what has already cost the government $80,000,000; to scrap the Federal water power act for his special benefit; to grant him and his heirs for 100 years a water power which is not exceeded in value probably by any water power in North America except Niagara—this at no distant period would impress posterity as a legislative betrayal fully as wicked as it was fantastic."

PLENTY TO INVESTIGATE

It is noticeably the fashion in some quarters to criticize the methods of the investigating committees at Washington, to avoid mention of the corruption uncovered, and even to intimate that there is nothing of importance that calls for investigation. For example, Nathaniel E. Elsborg, retiring president of the National Republican Club of New York City, at a recent dinner in his honor went so far as to say: "Some of the men who have been doing the so-called investigating in Washington are worse enemies of the Republic than those who have sinned against its laws." In other words, Senator Walsh of "so-called" investigation fame is a worse enemy of the country than Fall and Senator Wheeler is a worse "enemy" than Daugherty. Would it be possible for even "politics" to go further in deliberate perversion of the truth?

One of the most pointed answers to this sort of thing is to be found in a recent speech of Senator Glass, who said: "It was a Senate investigation that sent Fall to Three Rivers a disgraced man and self-confessed felon. It was a Senate investigation that revealed the utter incapacity and indifference to public obligation of Denby, compelled by force of public opinion to quit the Cabinet. It was a Senate investigation that confirmed the popular conviction of Daugherty's unfitness by revealing an official situation and personal contacts that shocked the nation and compelled his dismissal. It was a Senate investigation that disclosed the appalling condition of the Veteran's Bureau, with its frauds upon the government, its immoral orgies, its wicked neglect of sick and disabled soldiers of the world war. It was a Senate investigation that disclosed the criminal and fraudulent and sordid nature of the oil leases which caused Congress, by sanction of the president himself, to direct recovery of the public domain and the prosecution of the criminals."

THE OLD WAR PENSION VETO.

In his veto of the increased pensions of Civil War veterans, President Coolidge is consistent as well as courageous, for he has repeatedly declared that reduced taxation is necessary and therefore large new expenditures must be avoided wherever possible. Although the war for Secession ended 59 years ago, the Union soldier pension bill, instead of gradually decreasing, has already increased until it amounts to more than a quarter of a billion dollars annually. The annual payments are now no less than the huge sum of $263,000,000, and the additional $58,000,000 for the first year of the vetoed bill would raise the amount to $321,000,000.

Prior to 1920 all the survivors of a war ending nearly 60 years ago who had suffered no sort of injury were receiving a pension of $30 a month but in that year the amount was increased to $50 a month. Veterans who had received some injury were receiving larger pensions running up to a maximum of $72 a month to any veteran requiring personal attendance. At the same time soldiers' homes offered a refuge to all veterans without families. The bill the president has vetoed increased the pensions of veterans who had no injury and suffered only from the ordinary infirmities of age from $50 to $72, with increase also to their widows. The inconsistency of such prodigality with the call for economy and tax reduction is obvious.

It seems to be expected that this veto will be followed by a veto of the soldiers' bonus bill, and consistency calls for it, but greater courage will be required because the voting strength and influence of the old war pensioners are now small in comparison with that of the World War veterans.

INDUSTRIALISM'S HERITAGE

As yet we hardly realize the vast change that has been wrought by the development of modern industrialism, a change not only dictating the employments but effecting the character or capacity of great masses of men. Two years ago the British government made arrangements to employ $15,000,000 annually to assist British emigrants to settle in Australia, New Zealand and Canada, these dominions at the same time making provisions for the reception of the new settlers. It was confidently expected that 50,000 assisted emigrants would go to Australia annually, 17,000 to Canada and 10,000 to New Zealand. But up to last October only 23,470 of the assisted had left for Australia, 4,503 to New Zealand and 3,851 to Canada, in spite of the fact that Great Britain's unemployed amounted to nearly two million, and contrary to the precedent of the heavy emigration from Great Britain after the Napoleonic wars a hundred years ago.

In explanation it is suggested that Great Britain has become so highly industrialized that her present population no longer supplies the old adventurous type of settler stock. "The yeoman, the farmer and the farm labor of initiative have almost disappeared; and the mill hand and the factory operative who have taken their place know instinctively that they are unfitted to wrestle with frontier life." Has not a similar change been going on in America in consequence of the development and ever-extending influence of industrialism? Surely something of the sort is indicated in the news that our farmers are moving to town at the rate of more than a million annually and by the Department of Agriculture's showing that "nearly a quarter" of the farms in the United States have been abandoned "in the last three years."

Little Avalanches

Third party leaders are asserting that their candidate for vice-president this year is going to be as big a national figure as their presidential nominee. A ticket now quietly being mentioned is LaFollette and Stone, the latter being Warren S. Stone, the able grand chief of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Mr. Stone is a native of Iowa and was 64 years old last February.

The broadest attempt yet made in the middle west to put co-operative marketing on a sound financial basis is just now being rounded out by the Illinois Agricultural Association, which proposes the formation of a corporation to give a business, accounting and auditing service to the 1500 to 2,000 co-operative marketing efforts in Illinois.

BETTER HOMES WEEK OPENED BY PRES.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—President Coolidge in a radio speech broadcast from the white house tonight opened the "better homes" week which he praised as a movement that "should make firm the high ideals which characterized our nation."

"The American home is the source of our national well being" the president said. "In it, our high traditions of service and integrity are fostered. From the true home there emerges respect for the rights of others as the result of high cooperation for worthy ends. Though sharing its common enterprises, and common sacrifices the child develops that sturdiness of character which distinguishes the manhood and womanhood of our land."

"In recent years the remarkable development of our material resources of human invention and of human opportunity have turned the attention of many from the home to other fields of endeavor and engrossing interest. It has been necessary to recall public attention to the homeless its influences and its finer values be impaired. I have therefore been well pleased to note the founding of the movement for better homes in America under the inspiring leadership of Mrs. William Brown, Melony, and have been happy to serve as chairman of its advisory council. The reorganization of its institutions and programs of development, I have followed with interest, realizing the significance to the nation of a widespread movement to strengthen and improve the home."

"Thus at the opening of better homes week, I am glad to call attention to the demonstrations planned by the better homes commission in hundreds of American cities and villages and to commend as a national service the cooperation of the women's clubs and commercial associations and of the pulpit and of the press."

LITTLEFIELD MEETS LOCAL AMATEURS HERE TO-DAY

EXHIBITION FORMALLY USHERS IN SEASON ON LOCAL GROUNDS; GAME BE CALLED 3 O'CLOCK MERRILL PARK

Following their disappointment, when, for different reasons the Tahoka-Lubbock game was called off last Thursday, the local amateur squad is champing at the bits for an opportunity to work off some of their surplus energy, and this afternoon at the Merrill park will see the first exhibition of the season on the local grounds in the realm of the national pastime.

And these same lads who are now so anxious to be off will probably bump up against a nine that will give them all the exercise they have been waiting all week for. Littlefield will be here with bells on, and will formally usher in the season locally. These lads, unlike the locals, have already played several games this season, and are more or less worked out into condition. Anyway they are coming with an organized aggregation of amateur ball players, and will put up a battle for supremacy.

Owing to the fact that Skipper Allen has been out of the city for the past two or three days chasing down some new equipment for his "beanery," the local hopefuls have been a little slack in their daily workout, but some of them at least have worked up to the point that they can overlook a few sore joints, and are ready for the opening announcement of the exhibition. Some doubt was expressed last night as to whether the skipper would be able to make the return trip from Fort Worth in time for the affray, but this was allayed, when in the early part of the night he leisurely hooked up to the curb in the "Hub" city, and expressed himself in complete readiness.

Terry says he just about has the "Soupbone" worked out, and although he may not be able to finish the affair, it is believed now that he will be the starter for the locals. He has a world of stuff when he becomes warmed up to the situation, and is in condition. The remainder of the line-up probably will go about as they did at Tahoka.

It is expected that Littlefield will work Herby Miller on the mound. He is the lad who one time made a stab at the Hubber squad but more of his own accord than anything else, failed to make the grade. He also worked against Lubbock at Tahoka, and scratched out a win. Therefore, they are after him again.

The game will be called this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Merrill park, former home of the Hubbers.

Putting "some snap" into Hot Weather

Under a boiling sun it's sometimes hard to step around briskly, shoulders back and energy to spare.

That's when the wisdom of wearing Griffin Clothes appears. Not only because they make you feel cooler, though they do that.

They also make you look like the upstanding fellow you really are, no matter how wilting the weather. For the fine Griffin tailoring that showed up so well when the suit was new holds that same snappy look right through the dog days.

We have lots of lightweight models in good-looking patterns, built on purpose for the days when the thermometer makes the front pages of the newspapers.

PITTSBURG IN GRIP OF MOTORMAN'S STRIKE

PITTSBURG, May 10.—Pittsburg tonight was in the grip of a street car strike, which has seriously affected business, made traffic conditions chaotic, and indirectly caused injuries to more than fifty persons.

Not a trolley car wheel has turned here since midnight Friday when 3,200 motormen and conductors walked out because officials of the Pittsburg Railroad refused to grant them a wage increase.

Both sides of the controversy tonight issued statements defending their stand.

Strikebreakers began arriving and an effort will be made to restore trolley service Monday morning.

As the result of a traffic jam in the new liberty tunnel a tube for pedestrian and vehicular traffic which connects the streets and downtown Pittsburg, forty persons were overcome by carbon monoxide gas.

Motormen caught in the tunnel failed to turn off their engines and deadly fumes pervaded the air. Those overcome were rescued by firemen, policemen and a rescue crew from the bureau of mines. One hundred other persons staggered from the tube, ill from the gas.

Rev. W. K. Johnson, left Saturday for Lovington, N. M. where he will spend Sunday.

GERMAN OFFERS PROTEST IN EXCLUSION FROM GAMES

BERLIN (By Mail to the United Press).—"At Madgeburg many an Olympic champion will have to prove what his victory at Paris was worth in comparison to the ability of German swimmers," Hans Luber, Olympic champion in fancy diving at Stockholm 1912, says, referring to the German contests where many Olympic swimmers are expected.

Luber, complaining bitterly over the exclusion of German swimmers from the Paris games this summer, attributed this to the fear of British, French and Belgian swimmers.

"Although we did not expect to get the same warm reception as the German cyclist Wittig, we desired to be accepted with decency, be treated decently, and valued according to our capacity," Luber declared.

Luber's complaint is chiefly directed against the British. Last summer, he claims, at the Gothenborg contests the English representative promised the Germans that the ax would be buried between the two nations. Until a few weeks ago, Luber says, everything seemed to run smoothly. Thereafter, however, the Swimming Association of Great Britain began backing water.

WILL LaFOLLETTE NAME THE NEXT PRESIDENT?

By United Press
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—While the people of the country are puzzling their brains to decide who is to be the next President of the United States, there is a likelihood the question could be answered right now by one man—Senator La Follette.

La Follette is in a strategic position, such as no man has experienced in history. The political sharks here recognize the fact. They know he could not be elected to the presidency this year, but they are really convinced he can stop the election of Calvin Coolidge and block the election of any man the Democratic party may put into the running.

North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin are absolutely sizzling with third party sentiment. The wheat growers and the industrial workers of Central Northwestern States are in rebellious mood. The situation is so acute that a third party ticket is more than likely. Once it is launched, the odds are all in favor of the election being thrown into the House of Representatives, and if this happens then La Follette will be able to name the man who is to live in the White House.

LaFollette's Strength
Those who watch the trend of national politics here do not believe LaFollette is sufficiently unwise to allow himself to be led into heading a third party ticket, but these same men are quite agreed that he is more than likely to engineer such a movement into being. All eyes, of course, are turned to the Republican Convention, however, because La Follette has stated he is willing to run on an independent progressive ticket in the event Coolidge is nominated by the Republicans. The sweeping victory of La Follette over Coolidge in his home state indicates the ease with which the Senator could gather in the electoral votes of at least six or seven states in the fall election.

Whether La Follette runs himself or engineers a third party ticket with someone else at the head of it, the platform of the progressive element, as indicated by the Senator, is already written. Here are its salient features:

- Destruction of the economic and political power of monopoly.
 - Recovery of the Navy's oil reserves and prosecution of every person connected with the oil scandal against whom serious charges have been made.
 - Public ownership of railroads.
 - Public ownership of waterpower.
 - Recovery of hundreds of millions of dollars stolen through war contracts.
 - Action to collect the $10,000,000,000 owed to the United States by foreign powers.
 - A constitutional amendment providing that Congress may re-enact a statute over judicial veto.
 - Reduction in freight rates on agricultural products.
 - Abolition of the injunction in labor disputes.
 - Legalizing of the right of farmers and industrial workers to organize, bargain collectively and conduct co-operative enterprises.
 - Adjusted compensation for veterans of the World War.
 - Direct nomination and election of President.
 - Initiative and Referendum.
 - Popular referendum on the question of war, except in case of invasion.
 - Denunciation of the Mellon tax plan and revision of the Treaty of Versailles.
- This simple fact should be carried clearly in mind. If the election is thrown into the House, the Wisconsin vote would be necessary to elect a Republican President. Without the Wisconsin vote there would be a tie, and there is no doubt the Wisconsin vote in the House would obey the mandate of LaFollette.

LONDON CLAIMS TO SET FASHION FOR MEN'S CLOTHES

LONDON (By Mail to the United Press)—Men as they will be dressed in 1924!

At no time has the control of London over men's fashions in dress been more definitely established, and at no other time is that control likely to be of more importance than this spring, declared one of London's leading Savile Row clothes builders.

It is almost certain that the number of men from all over the world who will visit London this year in connection with the British Empire Exhibition will be greater than ever before, and practically every one of them, London tailors hope, will make an attempt, more or less complete, to bring himself in line with the latest London standard of the well-dressed man.

"Although New York has developed a line of its own in men's styles, most Americans have settled back definitely into an adherence to the Savile Row standards," London style experts say.

"Men from the Dominions have always followed the English fashions. When our visitors come to replenish their wardrobes in London they will find lots of changes.

"For one thing, they will find patent shoes are now very fashionable for day wear as well as evening dress.

"In the matter of collars there has been a definite change. The white linen double collar has again been established as almost the only 'real' collar.

"Soft collars to match shirts have almost disappeared for town wear with smartly dressed men, although still worn in the country. The reason given for this being that the soft collar failed to maintain its appearance of smartness after an hour or two.

"Regarding head-gear: the light fawn soft hat, with band to match with slightly wider well-rolled brim has taken the place of the grey hat with the black band.

"In lounge suits, the gradual tendency is towards brighter colors, noticeable since the war, but the colors will be mostly blues and browns, with a few "freak" shades of purple or red or green.

"A fashion that has been growing for a year or so is the double-breasted jacket, and many of the fashionable suits are being made in this style. The waistline will be still definitely accentuated."

JAPAN WENT HUNGRY AS THE FISH DEALERS STRUCK

By FRANK H. HEDGES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
TOKYO (By Mail to United Press)—For three days Tokyo has been without fish. For three days Japanese husband coming home at night has been confronted with a tasteless meal. For three days the housewives of Tokyo except those few who have learned to cook in the foreign style and whose husbands like foreign food, have been distracted.

Many centuries ago Buddha decreed that none of his followers should eat meat, and Buddhist Japan is still faithful to the command. Where no meat is eaten, fish naturally takes the place of importance on the menu, and a Japanese banquet will consist of course after course of fish prepared in a multitude of ways, from raw fish as an hors d'oeuvre to fish soup and fish omelet.

Sate in the port cities and the capital, where many foreigners live and where most of the Japanese who have been abroad congregate, it is virtually impossible to procure meat in Japan.

And so, a strike of the wholesale fish dealers of Tokyo is a serious affair. The strike came about because the Municipal Council decided to charge rental on the stalls in the municipal fish market. For many years the main fish market has been located near Nihombashi, one of the most important financial and commercial sections of the capital. Bankers and others had tried time after time, and each time unsuccessfully, to have the market removed to some other location, for the odors that wafted from it were not always such as to aid big business deals.

The earthquake and subsequent fires of last September presented a golden opportunity, for the whole Nihombashi was swept by the flames and lay a barren waste. The Municipal Council hastily erected a new fish market in another section of the city, and thither the dealers in fish—raw, fresh and dried—went.

They had suffered loss from the earthquake and no charge was made for rental of stalls. But the Municipal Council finally decided it was overlooking a good source of revenue, and announced that rent would be charged.

A riot followed. The fish dealers proceeded en masse to a restaurant owned by the Municipal Councillor most active in levying the charge, and stormed his place of business. Eleven were arrested. The rest declared a strike and for three days refused to sell fish to man, woman or child.

Delegations from coastal cities where fishing is the main industry, came to Tokyo and pleaded in vain with the dealers to lift the boycott. In addition to the rental charge and the removal of the market, they had a further grievance in the great number of restaurants that have sprang up since the earthquake where foreign style food, consisting more of meat than of fish, is served.

Again the Alaska Railroad aids in following up these legends, the Chickaloon coal spur extending far into the east, affording transportation to within 30 odd miles of the placer country.

Prospectors are outfitting for a conquest of the head of the Knik, Matanuska and unnamed creeks radiating from these streams.

One Hanged in San Quentin.
SAN QUENTIN, Calif., May 9.—Gallows of the California prison here claimed their oldest victim Friday, Mariano Casarez, 69, hanging at 10:26 a. m. for the murder of Mike Forasero in Imperial county, California, in January 1923.

Miss Woody Light, expression teacher in the Littlefield High school, was here Friday shopping.

Another legendary rich placer lies back of Mount St. Elias, near the Alaskan-Canadian border. This mine was alleged to have been discovered by a cook in the employ of the International Boundary Commission, some 30 miles from the camp nearest Mount St. Elias. Several men have endeavored to penetrate the region from the Copper River side, all claiming to have discovered the old markings of a trail, but in turn to have been balked by impassable barriers of age-old glaciers serrated by treacherous crevasses and roaring glacial streams. An effort will be made by prospectors this spring to reach the boundary—survey and pick up the old camp, in an endeavor to trace the locality from which the camp cook is alleged to have taken $15,000 with pan in one season. After squandering his money in Seattle, the cook passed away without revealing the source of his gold.

And still others are endeavoring to trace men who come and go in a season—who slip silently away in the night to some known rich spot, and there extract several thousand dollars in dust, returning south with the goose. These men of mystery are found in every settlement. They are taciturn and uncommunicative. They disappear as suddenly as they came and the great Alaskan wilderness swallows them up until the snow begins to fall when they cash in enough dust to get them outside.

HUNTING LOST MINES BY THE PULLMAN ROUTE

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, (By Mail to United Press)—Since the days of King Solomon, the romance of lost mines has engrossed mankind, and few mineral-producing centres have not from time to time nourished legends of fabulous deposits of gold, silver and copper.

Like all other gold countries, Alaska has its quota of legendary rich spots lost through accident or death of the discoverer.

Such a mine is today luring prospectors to Montana Creek, on the Alaska Railroad, where it is reputed a rich placer was discovered in 1910 by A. Schneider, who passed away in a Seattle hospital while drawing a map purporting to show the spot on the creek where he secured several thousand dollars in nuggets and dust.

The map fell into the hands of an old-timer known as "Edwards the Fidler," who, armed with the tracing, returned to Alaska and sought the eldorado. Edwards dropped the map into a stream and its indelible lines blurred, obliterating tracings. Since then dozens of men have labored along the creek, sinking dozens of holes to bedrock, but as yet no one has discovered the pay streak.

The latest to undertake the work of unearthing the treasure are E. Johnson and K. Hedlund, prospecting partners of twenty-six years in Alaska. With an outfit they are journeying to the creek and will prospect for the streak of yellow metal supposed to have been found by Schneider.

This time it will be necessary, as it was with Schneider, to rush by dog team several hundred miles over almost trackless mountains and along treacherous streams. The Alaska Railroad crosses Montana

Creek and the modern gold-hunter travels on a Pullman to the scene of his diggings, or within a few miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson and little daughter, Doyle, were here Friday from their ranch twelve miles east of Lubbock.

Mrs. W. B. Hilton, underwent an operation at a local sanitarium Wednesday. She is reported to be doing fine.

M. Patterson, of Lawn, was in Lubbock Saturday, on his way home after visiting for some time in different sections of the Plains.

KUYKENDALL SHOWS NEW MODEL CHEVROLET

Automobile dealers throughout the country are reporting, it is said, an amazingly strong demand among motorists this spring for color in cars, and special or sport equipment. To meet this demand quickly, the Chevrolet Motor Company has added to its standard line of cars a new model—the Touring De Luxe—which Kuykendall Chevrolet Co., is now displaying in their showrooms on Main street.

Referring to this addition to the line, Mr. Kuykendall of the Kuykendall Chevrolet Co., says: "The new Chevrolet Touring De Luxe is not only a smart looking car but the manufacturers have put really startling values into it. At its price it cannot be compared with anything approaching it in engineering quality, finish, special equipment and appearance."

"The chassis is identical with that of the powerful, economical standard Chevrolet Touring. The body is hand finished by Fisher in gray-blue, with cardinal triple striping, the steel disc wheels being given the same color treatment. It has special gray top lining to harmonize with the finish, and ornamental door handles. The upholstery is in gray-blue whale grain Fabrikoid. Additional special equipment includes full nickeled radiator shell, nickeled bumpers front and rear, plate glass windshield wings, motometer and nickeled cap with bars, cowl lamps, rubber-covered running boards with aluminum guard plates, and steering wheel with lock and nickeled arms."

"The effect of the special finish and equipment is to give this car long lines, and the beauty and snap of a high-priced custom-made automobile, but with a much greater eventual trade-in value because it is a standard Chevrolet."

A beautiful twin-bed bedroom suite will be sold for $1.00 next trades day—make your dollar purchase now, at the Leader Store. 166-tf

OLD RECORDS MOVED UNDER HUGE GUARD

CHICAGO, May 9.—Untold episodes in the life of Abraham Lincoln secrets involving persons of international fame—long since dead—the wiles and statecraft of politics, kings, presidents and nations—all constituting an intimate and undisclosed history of the United States and many European countries for the past 74 years, rolled through Chicago streets in truck loads Friday.

The Pinkerton National Detective Agency was moving from the headquarters which it had occupied back in 1850, when it was founded by Allan Pinkerton. Out from dusty recesses covered with the dust of years came archives which contained secrets known only to the first Pinkerton, his son and his grandson, who now is in charge of the agency and a few trusted aides. The late Wm. A. Pinkerton often remarked that "if the documents containing these secrets ever found their way into unscrupulous hands, General Hell would result."

Guards armed with shotguns conveyed the files containing the dangerous records from the old offices to the trucks and accompanied the vehicular transfer of secrets of state to their new quarters. There were three armed guards on each truck.

Allan Pinkerton, Jr., grandson of the first head of his agency, whose health has been bad since he was gassed while serving in the secret service branch of the American army during the world war, had entrusted supervision of the moving to W. L. Webster.

"This file case was one of the most valued in the collection of the late William Pinkerton," Webster said, pointing to an old cabinet. "In there you will find the real story of how Allan Pinkerton spirited Abraham Lincoln from his home at Springfield to his inauguration at Washington. It is a fact that there were two plots to assassinate him and Pinkerton had been fortunate enough to find out all about them. He had learned that certain persons had boasted that the rail splitter from Illinois never would take the oath of office as chief magistrate of the United States.

"So Pinkerton disseminated information that Lincoln would go to Washington on a certain train. The people who wanted to kill Lincoln boarded the train and searched for him. But Lincoln, guarded by Pinkerton, slipped into Washington by another route, wholly unannoyed."

Turning to another file, Webster said it contained the record of how Pinkerton fought the Jesse James gang and how the depredations of the famous James boys finally were curbed.

Transferred to the new quarters, the records were filed away in vaults. And they will remain there undisturbed, for the Pinkertons do not intend that the secrets written into hundreds of documents ever shall be seen by eyes for which they were not intended.

CLEVELAND ASKS CONVENTION IN 1928

By United Press
CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 10.—Cleveland already has begun planning to bring the 1928 Republican convention to the fifth city, according to James J. E. Jappe, secretary of the Cleveland Convention Committee.

Cleveland is going to provide so well for the comfort and entertainment of the delegates and visitors to the Republican convention here in June that they will want to come back, Jappe said.

The strategic position of Cleveland makes it a fine convention city, Jappe pointed out. More than one-half of the population of the United States lives within 500 miles of this city. Seven railroads from the East, West and South, meeting here, make it a great railroad center. Big lake steamers connect the city by water routes with all the important ports on the Great Lakes.

Cleveland itself is admirably laid out for a convention city, Jappe said. Imagine the dot on the map for Cleveland as the business district—about a square mile. Within this "dot" is the Public Auditorium, where the convention will be held, most of the hotels and theatres and principal business houses, extending out in a radius of eight miles are the residential districts.

Cleveland has nineteen hotels, a dozen theatres and a score or more movie theatres, twenty parks, a Museum of Art, Museum of Natural History and a Zoological Garden.

Cleveland's finest bathing beach is located at Edgewater Park, which has 6,000 feet lake frontage. Luna Park and Euclid Beach Park, compare favorably with Coney Island in their attractions.

The Cleveland American League ball team will be playing at home all during the convention. On June 10, the opening day of the convention, by a coincidence, the Washington Senators will be the opponents of the Indians. Boston Boston opens a four-day series on June 11 and the New York Yankees on June 15.

Mrs. Nettie M. Clapp, former Ohio State Representative, is the only woman on the G. O. P. convention committee of fourteen. She is chairman of the Woman's Committee.

"Our aim will be to find out what the visiting women want and then see that they get it," Mrs. Clapp told the United Press.

"Hundreds of daily hostesses will take care of all the hotels, so that no matter where the women may be there will be someone looking after their comfort and entertainment," she said.

SPOONERS DEMAND THEIR RIGHTS AT TOWN OF HOUSTON

By United Press
HOUSTON, Texas, May 10.—The city parks in Houston belong as much to the spooners as to anyone else, and spooners are going to have their rights, was the dramatic declaration made to the city council at a recent session by Fire Commissioner Allie Anderson, a member of the municipal light commission.

The declaration of Anderson came as a result of the "city fathers' attempts to practice economy in the city's light bills by turning out all illumination in the city parks after midnight, and followed the aversion of Mayor Holcombe that unless officers cleared the parks of those romantically inclined it might have its bad effects.

It is said the council was able to move to the next order of business when the laughter subsided.

RANCH IS DREAM OF HOUSTON DETECTIVE

HOUSTON, Texas, May 10.—"So I took the $50,000 and started a cat ranch," concluded Tice Wilkins, city detective, one night recently.

Tice, who with his partner George Payton, while stalking Houston Heights districts which has been recently the scene of several hold-ups, revealed his plans, saying, "I've got it all figured out—how to get rich."

"First I'll get me a little lake in the swamps, buy me some candles and then catch a pair of frogs in the bayou. Each frog lays 283,451 eggs at one time, and by protecting them from snakes and ducks I'll be able to raise at least 200,000 croakers. I'll use the candle to draw the bugs thus saving me feed. With frog legs selling at 25 cents a pair, the venture will net $50,000, without any large investment on my part."

"Then I'll take the heads and bodies and feed them to all the cats I can attract to my frog ranch. Cat furs bring $1 each and I could realize approximately $250 off each batch. Now I'll sell some stock in my project to a few of my friends. You can have $5,000 in it George," said Tice.

FARM RELIEF AT THIS SESSION CERTAIN

By United Press
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Farm relief legislation at this session of congress was guaranteed today by the decision of the house and senate leaders to give the McNary-Haugen bill full consideration in both houses before adjournment.

Agreement which was rendered after repeated demands of farm bloc members that the bill be given a place on the program provides that the measure will be the next bill to be taken up by each house.

The decision to consider the bill was not regarded as insuring its passage in anything like its present form. As it provides for a $200,000,000 drain on the treasury to advance the capital needed to put the marketing corporation it templates in operation. Advocates of the bill assert that this will eventually be returned, but the feeling was general that so large an appropriation might not be agreed to.

LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 11, 1924

FULL LEASED WIRE UNITED NEWS

Early Days on The Plains

By J. J. DILLARD

The convening of district court recently at Lubbock, brings to my mind the first district court held in Lubbock county after its organization, on March 10, 1891.

The first court was opened Monday, June 22, 1921, with Judge W. R. McGee presiding, W. L. Henderson, district attorney, and Geo. C. Wolfarth as district clerk, and W. M. Lay, sheriff.

The first grand jury was composed of the following citizens: G. W. Singer, J. F. O'Harrow, E. H. Estes, John Kennedy, Henry Crump, Wm. Tubbs, M. A. Wood, W. S. (Billy) Clark, A. J. (Albert) Clark, W. P. (Walter) Nelson, Isham Tubbs and Frank E. Wheelock.

G. W. Singer was elected foreman. This grand jury, you will notice, was empaneled almost thirty three years ago, and there resides in the county at this time, the following men of that jury, viz: Albert Clark, Bill Clark, Isham Tubbs, Walter Nelson and Frank Wheelock. M. A. (Bud) Wood resides in northwestern New Mexico and E. H. Estes lives at Odessa, Texas. Uncle Billy Tubbs died recently. Henry Crump, John O'Harrow, and John Kennedy left the county many years ago and the writer does not know where they live at this time.

Geo. W. Singer, was perhaps the first man to establish his home permanently in Lubbock county, in 1887, operating a store for several years, but shortly after the organization of the county he was a candidate for the office of county commissioner and the town, then was composed of progressive citizens which reputation, it has always been noted, and the question was being agitated to have the commissioners court drill a well on the public square and erect a windmill elevated tank and water tank for the public. Two candidates from precinct number one asked to be elected, both had the same platform, and that was to make the well, but the question that disturbed the voters most, was its location. The two candidates were merchants. One owned and operated a business on the west side of the court square, the other operated a business on the north side of the court house.

The question which brought forth much argument was the well's location. Those who had property on the west side of the square wanted the well on the west side of the court house. Those who had property on the north side wanted the well on the north side. The election day finally arrived, and each adherent rallied to the candidate of his choice, and when the ballots were counted it was found that J. D. Caldwell, pioneer merchant on the west side, had won and Geo. W. Singer who operated a store on the north side had gone down in defeat. The issue between the candidates themselves, was that the one who owned the business on the west side would have the well drilled on west side, and if Singer was elected he would have it located on north side, and thus get more business than his competitor.

Singer had resided in the county for some four or five years, when he asked for the office of commissioner, having lived in the about two years longer than Caldwell, and he felt that his claims were stronger and he had been a booster all the years of his residence on the "ballies." But he was mistaken, thus he felt much humiliated, and broken down in heart and spirit at the voters' non-appreciation of his efforts. He shortly thereafter disposed of his property in Lubbock and moved back to Kansas, where he died, partially from the effects of the disappointment and his defeat in his race for commissioner, believing that politics creates strange friends, who often, when they cast their vote are ingrates, selfish, unappreciative and deceptive. Thus he died of grief after enduring many hardships for the benefit of Lubbock and the last act of ingratitude to this pioneer, was to change the name of one of the principal streets of Lubbock from north and south Singer to Avenue H.

The postoffice, Lubbock was established in 1887, as previously stated and located some two and one half miles northwest of Lubbock and Geo. W. Singer was the postmaster. Singer, continued to operate his store and attend to the duties of postmaster until his business was moved to Lubbock. The following information might be interesting to old-timers as well as others who now reside in the county. Collections, from sales of stamps, envelopes, postal cards, etc., for the year, 1887, amounted to $4.93; for the year 1888, $4.95. For the year 1889, $4.72; from January, 1890 to December, 3, 1890, the sales amounted to $15.94. At this date Frank E. Wheelock succeeded G. W. Singer as postmaster, and the agitation of the organization of the county was attracting new people to this section.

The postal receipts from December 18, 1889 to January 1, 1891, were $39.04, and for the year 1891, which was the year the county was organized, increased to the enormous sum of $97.36, which was almost equalled the amount for all the time since its establishment. Now the business from January, 1923 to January, 1924, was approximately $41,000.

The first child born in Lubbock was Maud Burns, now the wife of Rich McCrummen. Her father and mother (Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Burns, reside in Lubbock. Mrs. Maud McCrummen was born in 1887 on the I. O. A. Ranch, in the southeastern part of the county.

The first deaths to occur in the county after its organization, were two small children, one being a son of a citizen, who is supposed to now live in Amarillo. This child was known as Frank Lubbock Cobb. The other belonged to an attorney by name of Hendricks. They were buried near the northwest corner of the original town section, perhaps on block number one, all signs of these two graves have been obliterated for a number of years, and they would be difficult to locate at this time.

The first two buried in the present cemetery, was an infant of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mallard, who at this time are residents of Lubbock. The second to be buried was a cowboy from the Nun Ranch in Terry county. His name was Billy Comstock.

Probably the first known person to die in Lubbock county was a sheep-herder in 1884, who was working for Zack T. Williams, on the Yellow House Canyon, a few miles northwest of the present site of Slaton. He failed to bring in his sheep and when Williams found him, he had been dead for twenty four hours or longer, but his faithful dog was standing guard over the lifeless body of his master, thus keeping the ravenous wolves from devouring his body. The act of the faithfulness of this, the most appreciated of the dumb animals, almost proves conclusively to my mind, that he is more appreciative of his benefactor than man, and I wish to close this article with Senator Vest's eulogy of the dog:

"The best human friend a man has in the world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolutely unselfish friend that a man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deceives him, the one that never proves ungrateful and treacherous, is his dog.

"A man's dog stands by him in prosperity, in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground where the wintry wind blows and the snow drifts fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer. He will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert, he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces, he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying, to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies, and when the last scene of all comes and when death takes the master in its embrace and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by the graveside may the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even in death.

What a contrast with man and dog and I am reminded:

"The wretch, whom gratitude once fails to bind, To truth or honor, let him lay no claim, But stand confessed the brute disguised in man, And when we would, with utmost detestation, Single some monster from the traitor herd, 'Tis but to say ingratitude is his crime."

COST OF PAVING BE PREPARED SOON

Hawley Q. Roberts, consulting engineers for the city of Lubbock, are working out foot rates on the cost of paving along all the streets and avenues that are to be paved, and will within a few days have this work completed and can give property owners the exact cost to them of the paving that will be put down near their property.

The rates for each section of the streets that are to be paved will be given publication, and for twenty days after the publication has been made property owners will have the opportunity to go before the city commission to present any claims for changes they may see fit.

The paving certificates will be issued in six equal installments, the first of which will be due thirty days after paving has been completed, and the remaining five installments will be payable in equal annual sums, and will bear eight per cent interest.

The city of Lubbock will pay one fourth of all the cost as proposed, and the remaining three fourths will be paid by the property owners, in the above mentioned installments.

MANY EXPECTED AT WORLD MEETING

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ROME, May 10.—Over 40 states are expected to be represented here May 15, when the International Emigration Conference, summoned by Premier Mussolini of Italy, is scheduled to assemble. The conference will make an effort to place on an international basis the entire problem of emigration and immigration.

According to delegates the question as a result of their restrictive measures enacted since war, especially by the United States and the South American republics, has become one of the most important economic ones facing the entire world. Although the conference is intended to be purely a technical one, far-seeing delegates declare that it will be impossible to keep the political and diplomatic aspect from bobbing up.

It is regarded certain, for example that Japan will not overlook any opportunity during the conference to assert her claims for racial equality and to secure rulings and decisions against all emigration lines that have been drawn against her.

Japan to Be Active
While any such rulings or decisions which the conference may take will in no sense of the word be binding on any state, and will be merely in the nature of recommendations for the various states to adopt, nevertheless it is conceded that Japan will be in a position to secure more favorable action before a conference of experts where only the technical side of the problem is to be considered than before an international conference where the political and diplomatic aspect of the problem is to be settled.

That virtually all of the nations of the world have recognized the seriousness of the emigration problem as an international economic factor is indicated by the number of nations that accepted Mussolini's invitation to attend the conference.

The United States, Argentina, Brazil and other nations who were the first to enact restrictive immigration measures, thereby precipitating the international crisis on the subject, were amongst the first to accept Mussolini's invitation.

Since then all of the nations that are more interested in the getting rid of their surplus population than in the question of receiving the latter have adhered to the conference.

As the result of preliminary conferences Italy will enter the conference with the solid support of Austria, Hungary, Serbia, Poland, Bulgaria, Slovakia and, in fact, all of the Central European States whose emigration problem, while not being as serious as that of Italy, is nevertheless, analogous.

Under the program that has been arranged for the conference absolutely no question will be dealt with which would come ordinarily purely under the domestic legislation of any state.

International Basis
Instead, an effort will be made to take up only the international aspect of the problem and find some basis whereby the emigration and the immigration interests of all the countries represented can be harmonized.

An effort will be made to put the whole problem on an international basis that will render it possible for those countries that have emigrants to place to meet the needs of those countries that are in the market for certain classes of immigrants.

To attain this end the conference hopes to arrive at certain recommendations which may later be embodied in an international agreement to be drawn up and signed at an international emigration conference summoned for that purpose, or at least in individual conventions between various states, the latter all being made as uniform as possible.

The conference is expected to last at least a month.

HOTELMEN IN GERMANY GROW WISER AND THEIR PRICES COME DOWN
By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, May 10.—German hotel men, now anxious to have foreign guests, looked with alarm at the recent severe fall of the French franc.

The reason for this lies in the fact that not only are foreigners attracted to Paris and the Riviera by the favorable rate of exchange, but Germans themselves are over-running Parisian and Riviera hosteleries, to the detriment of the home tourist traffic.

Germans back from France report with something akin to amazement that they are well-treated in the French metropolis and the Riviera resorts. Furthermore, they report that compared to German prices the prices of France, Italy and England are moderate.

The result is that the German hotel and resort men are nearly in a panic. Their prices are exorbitant when compared with foreign prices and hitherto Germany has scarcely entertained guests in a manner which made them yearn to return.

The hotel men, however, are beginning to see the error of their ways, and, are doing their utmost to woo foreign trade. Furthermore, there is no longer the systematic and vicious anti-foreigner campaign which existed at the height of the inflation period. As a result the foreigner can now travel in safety and comfort, without insults and slurs, as a rule. Sometimes he still gets a bad deal from some super-excited nationalist, but all in all the spirit in Germany has undergone a change for the better with the introduction of a stable currency. Many hotels have made liberal price reductions in the past few months, so that it is now possible in some places to stay a night or two without possessing the wealth of a Rockefeller.

As for such mundane things as food and drink, Germany now supplies high qualities in both. Delicacies such as have been unknown since the war are now coming in. In this category fall grapefruit, caviar, French and Belgian poultry and vegetables. Incidentally, there is a veritable flood of French goods at the present time—perfumes, champagnes, silks and the like—all bought with substantial German marks and sent across the border with little or no duty.

DRUGGIST SAW SNAKES IN THE WATER AT FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 9.—R. B. Cameron, local druggist, literally saw snakes when he turned on the water faucet in the rear of his pharmacy.

A live snake, five inches long, slipped through the spigot into the water. With the aid of other druggists, Cameron captured the snake and put it in a bottle. It lived nine hours.

Mr. Savage, of Ralls, was in Lubbock on business Saturday.

WOMEN TO HEAR SECRETS OF WORLD'S 1924 DISCONTENT

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, May 10.—What is the cause of the country's industrial discontent? What is the cause of the industrial discontent throughout the world?

These questions will be answered here on June 13, when Whiting Williams will speak on a great International Relations Day Program that is to climax the seventh biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will open June 2.

Whiting Williams is the man who put on overalls to find out what is at the root of the "ruckus" between labor and capital. Leaving the position as personal director and vice-president of the Hydraulic Steel Company he donned the working man's clothes to learn the working man's ways.

His findings have been sensationally interesting. He has but recently returned from France, Germany and Italy, where during the past summer he worked as a day laborer with the German coal diggers in the Ruhr Basin. During the summer of 1920, all unknown to his employers and associates, he worked in the mines, the steel plants and the shipyards of Great Britain. He spent the summer of 1921 as a common laborer amid grime in Germany, France and Belgium.

Williams is an Ohioan. He received his A. B. degree from Oberlin in 1899. He attended the University of Berlin in 1900 and the University of Chicago in 1901. From 1904 to 1910 he was assistant to the president of Oberlin College. Later he became executive secretary for the Cleveland Welfare Association. At the time he entered his new field he was personnel director and vice president of the Hydraulic Steel Company.

$600,000 IN THREE MONTHS FROM GAMBLERS

RIO DE JANEIRO (By Mail to United Press)—That Rio de Janeiro is running a close second to Monte Carlo was illustrated when Augusto Luratti departed for Europe a few days ago after cleaning up $600,000 in less than three months in the Casino of the luxurious Copacabana Palace Hotel on Rio's fashionable seaside drive, the Avenida Atlantico.

Luratti held a joint concession on the Copacabana Palace Casino, which, since its inauguration a few months ago, has been crowded every night with wealthy Americans and Argentines, who have whiled away many an hour and hundreds of thousands of dollars over the wheel and card tables.

After cleaning up what he considered enough, Luratti severed all connections with the Casino and announced he would establish a silk hosiery factory in Rio after returning from Europe.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY IS A TRIBUTE TO WORLDS MOST FAMOUS NURSE AND WILL BE OBSERVED HERE

National Hospital Day is placed on May 12th as a tribute to Florence Nightingale, who died in 1910 at ninety years of age. She is the world's most famous nurse. In early childhood she delighted in bandaging her dolls. While still a child she attended wounded animals and early resolved to devote her life to the relief of the suffering. Refusing a high social career, she prepared herself for nursing in the best schools of the world available at that time.

The Lubbock Sanitarium is arranging to celebrate National Hospital Day and the public is urged to visit the sanitarium on that day. The management of the institution is especially desirous that people who have recently moved to Lubbock and have not had an opportunity to visit the sanitarium, do so tomorrow so that they may see just what the Lubbock Sanitarium has to offer in equipment and facilities.

For several years the Lubbock Sanitarium has had a training school for nurses that has ranked with the very best in the state and this year they have a graduating class of eight nurses. The graduating exercises will be held on Friday, May 30th.

ENGLAND HAS AN ACTIVE VOLCANO

LONDON (United Press)—England at last has an active volcano. And Londoners and others are cheerfully paying 1 shilling 6 pence to witness it in eruption.

The volcano is one of the exhibits of the New Zealand section of the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley Park, and is an extraordinarily faithful reproduction of the Rotorua Volcano in that Dominion.

Three or four eruptions daily delight spectators, and there are continuous pools of boiling mud, clouds of steam and a geyser hissing never-ending columns into the air.

Demonstrations are given how on can cook food in the boiling pools, boil eggs for breakfast and wash clothes without having to pay a gas bill.

BURIAL INSURANCE IS POPULAR IN GERMANY

BERLIN (By Mail to United Press)—Life insurance companies, promising to bury their customers, are doing a land-office business with middle-class and working Germans.

Fear that their bodies might be used for dissection in German medical institutions, or be sold as skeletons to America is causing this great demand for "life insurance" or perhaps in this case more correctly "death insurance."

MEN CHARGED WITH AUTOMOBILE THEFT ARE ARRESTED

T. G. Gunn, of Dallas, representing the National Liberty Insurance Company of which Holland & Young are local agents, was here Friday and reported that the Auto Theft Bureau of Dallas had received news that Mr. Gere, department of justice man at Albuquerque, New Mexico, had captured the two men who are believed to have stolen the Buick automobile of W. J. Duncan of Lubbock on the night of April 1st.

The men are also charged with violations of the white slave law. Information reaching Lubbock is to the effect that the men took the car from Mr. Duncan's garage and intended driving to California but in the vicinity of Albuquerque their plans were upset when tire trouble caused them to lose a great deal of time. They abandoned the car at Albuquerque where it was found and a party who saw the men leave it is said to have identified them when they were arrested a week later.

TEXAS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF BETTER HOMES WEEK WHICH OPENS TODAY; FORCES BEING MOBILIZED

Texas has gone emphatically on record as a Better Homes State. A large number of her home-makers will take a vigorous part in the nation-wide drive for home betterment which will take place during Better Homes Week, from May 11 to May 18, under the auspices of Better Homes in America.

Thirty communities of the Lone Star state have already announced their intention of holding Better Homes demonstrations during the week. It is believed that other communities will also mobilize their forces for similar demonstrations during the next few days.

Communities in every state in the Union will hold similar demonstrations during Better Homes Week. The South is very well represented. In the home demonstrations of last year, two southern communities received prizes, and a number were given honorable mention.

Better Homes in America, under whose auspices the nation-wide campaign for home betterment is being carried on, was recently incorporated as a national educational institution, with Herbert Hoover, Secretary of the Department of Commerce, as president and Dr. James Ford, on leave of absence from Harvard University as executive director.

President Coolidge is chairman of the advisory council of the organization which includes many of the best known men and women of the United States.

"The American home is the foundation of our national and individual well being. Its steady improvement is at the same time a test of our civilization and of our ideals. We need attractive, worthy, permanent homes that lighten the burden of housekeeping. We need homes in which home life can reach its finest levels, and in which can be reared happy children and upright citizens."

President Coolidge recently declared in a letter to Mr. Hoover, commending participation in the coming home demonstrations. The Better Homes movement is now in the third year of its existence. It was initiated in 1922 by Mrs. William Brown Meloney and an advisory council with Calvin Coolidge as honorary head, and Herbert Hoover as chairman. Nearly 500 demonstrations were held during the first year. The movement had so developed by last year that the number of demonstrations was approximately doubled in 1923. As it became increasingly evident that the Better Homes in America movement was a force of great importance in the education of the American people to higher standards of home life, it was decided to put it on a permanent basis by incorporating the organization as a national educational institution. It is believed that more and better demonstrations than ever before will be held under this new arrangement.

The type of demonstrations to be given in each community is determined by the local committee appointed by the demonstration chairman. In the usual well-balanced form of demonstration a house is built or bought or borrowed, its garden is started and its ground beautified, and the house itself is equipped, furnished and decorated in accordance with regulations of convenience, comfort and beauty. During Better Homes Week it is thrown open to the public. A committee of hostesses is on hand to explain the reasons for the house plans and for its equipment, furnishings and decorations. Special exhibitions are given of special features such as the unusually convenient kitchen, the modern nursery, the particularly attractive garden, and so on. Programs dealing with various phases of home betterment are given at the demonstration home every afternoon and evening. School children take an active part in the campaign by writing Better Homes essays, making posters, and competing in Better Homes Music and Better Homes Books contests.

For the benefit of those who are still debating the advisability of entering the campaign, Better Homes in America gives the following reasons why every community in the United States should hold a demonstration:

1. To demonstrate the advantages of thrift for home ownership (Only 45 per cent of the families of America are home owners.)

2. To overcome the present shortage of homes. America needs at least 600,000 new homes.

3. To make a wholesome home life available to all.

4. To assist and encourage home-makers and home builders. (Over 90 per cent of the women of America do their own home work.)

5. To improve the home environment, thereby helping to build character.

6. To increase the efficiency of the wage earner of the house.

7. To stimulate sensible and appropriate purchasing for home improvement.

8. To encourage the development of practice houses in the public schools for the teaching of home-making.

9. To mobilize community pride for a common objective—Pride of Home.

ACTUAL WORK TO BEGIN SOON ON STADIUM

AUSTIN, Texas, May 10—Actual construction work on the University of Texas Memorial Stadium, the only stadium of the South will start in the near future, following the letting of the contract by the Board of Directors to the Walsh & Burney Construction Company of San Antonio, this week.

Only the contract for the first unit of the stadium was let by the Board of Directors, the figure for the construction of this unit being $201,091. The first unit will have a seating capacity of 26,000, and will be ready for use for the Thanksgiving game of this fall between the University of Texas and A. & M.

Excavation work on the stadium has been going on for some time, and the actual field will soon be completed. It will then be planted in grass and prepared for a grid-iron. The outside excavation, for the stadium structure itself, is also progressing.

The University of Texas Memorial Stadium will be the only state-wide tribute to those sons of Texas who fell in France, and will be a lasting memorial to their deeds in defense of an ideal for which their country went to war. The entire state is co-operating in putting up this structure, and it will be a Memorial Stadium of Texas, and not exclusively of the University of Texas, it is stated.

At present groups of stadium workers are making tours of the principal cities of the state, preparing for the state-wide campaign which will be waged among ex-students and the citizens of the state. However, the construction work will continue in advance of the completion of this drive, and the stadium will stand ready for use, although not complete, by Thanksgiving of this year.

WARLICK'S WORK IN BEAUTIFYING THE COUNTY PARK HAS BEEN VERY SUCCESSFUL; LAKE DAM ENLARGED

Marvin T. Warlick, commissioner of precinct 1, has done some very constructive work in beautifying the county park.

Ninety per cent of the more than eight hundred trees and shrubs that were planted in the spring are living, and R. A. Woods who has charge of the grounds is having them watered every day. Prisoners in the county jail are used by Mr. Woods in carrying on this work, and in the past few months they have succeeded in making the county park one of the most attractive places in the county.

The county club house which is nearing completion, will be one of the most beautiful structures in the country, and is substantial throughout. Duval & Jackson, local contractors, have charge of the construction of this building and will complete it within a few weeks.

The concrete dam at the southeast end of the lake is being made fourteen inches higher and will bank up one of the finest bodies of water to be found on the canyon in this vicinity.

The Municipal Golf Association, of which J. O. Smith is president, the course of which makes up a part of the attractive features of the county park, and will be patronized by a number of local fans. E. S. Stewart, of the Citizens National Bank is secretary of the association and will receive members.

DEPEND ON BABY'S FEET, NOT FINGERS

CHICAGO (United Press)—Although losing new-born infants in hospitals is such a rare happening as to merit considerable space in newspapers when such an error occurs hospitals of the United States and Canada constantly guard against such a misfortune.

One of the latest methods of identifying babies is a modification of the well-known fingerprint system of the police. Instead of taking prints of the tiny fingers, however, the hospital authorities make impressions of the feet of the new-born baby on birth certificate forms, which are signed and sealed with the official seal of the institution.

An increasing number of hospitals are distributing these footprint birth certificates to the babies' parents, and these certificates not only are a souvenir, but a valuable record in after life.

The footprint identification method received considerable stimulus in recent years following the development of a suitable device to make the prints, and in the event of a war in the next twenty years these certificates will save the hospital staff a great deal of searching of records, making of affidavits etc. Thousands of requests were made on hospitals for documents proving age, etc., of young men entering service in the world war, and if any of the babies of recent years are called on for similar testimony twenty years from now, many of them will have the certificate of their birth, their footprints the hospital seal, etc., for ready reference.

Many hospitals throughout the United States and Canada have invited babies born in their institutions in the past year to return on National Hospital Day, May 12, to have their footprints impressed on the certificates with devices recently purchased.

ERECT ENGLISH TOWN FOR TALMADGE PLAY

In "The Dangerous Maid" Constance Talmadge appears in the biggest outdoor moving picture setting ever constructed for one of her photoplays. This set is in the shape of a cross, one leg of which is 550 feet and the other 360 feet long.

The set represents the town of Durford, England, as it was in the time of King James II. Every house in the town, as shown in old engravings, has been re-erected for "The Dangerous Maid."

Some fierce battling takes place in the streets between the soldiers of the king and the rebels under the Duke of Monmouth. Constance has the role of Barbara Winslow, a fair rebel, while opposite her Conway Tearle, as Captain Miles Prothero, an officer of the king, has the leading male role.

"The Dangerous Maid" was directed by Victor Heerman for First National release. In the cast also are Morgan Wallace, Tully Marshall, Marjorie Daw, Charles Gerrard, Lou Morrison and Ann May. Constance Talmadge has the role of a madcap little rebel who dons a cavalier's sword and costume and engages in a thrilling series of adventures with the officers of the king. The story gives Constance her first opportunity to play a dramatic role, and the picture, although it contains many humorous situations, is replete with romance and love interest.

This First National release will be shown at the Lindsey Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

LABOR DAY CAUSES LITTLE EXCITEMENT

LONDON (By United Press)—May Day, which is British "Labor Day," was celebrated all over the country, but it cannot be said that the fact of a Labor Government being in power for the first time in British history, added anything to the magnitude of the celebrations.

The customary labor parades were held, and Thursday being a half holiday or "early closing day" in many districts, enabled the organizers to secure good musters at the various demonstrations, but the general public took little notice of the celebrations, and only the energetic politicians among Laborites troubled to attend. The average British worker prefers to devote a half-holiday to his private amusements rather than attend semi-political parades, and despite the efforts of organized labor, May 1 is not yet a national holiday.

The biggest parade was held at Hyde Park, London, whither big columns of men and women, with wagon-loads of children, converged from all parts of the metropolis.

CAME TO LIFE JUST BEFORE BURIAL

RIO DE JANEIRO (By United Press)—Vanguardia, popular afternoon newspaper, carried a telegram from Bahia saying one Pedro Leao, or "Peter the Lion" as his name translated into English would indicate, rose just as the lid of his coffin was being nailed on and protested against premature burial. He wasn't dead, just epileptic.

BURGLAR BEATS SECRET LOCKS

PARIS (United Press)—Burglary is made easy, in the opinion of police, by a scientifically constructed appliance for measuring locks so that false keys can be made, which has been discovered by chance as the result of a rapid flight of a surprised thief. Placed over a lock, with a lever penetrating the key-hole, the appliance registered on the sliding scale the position and size of every one of the wards which it would be necessary to cut on a blank key to enable it to open the lock.

The police say the instrument beats secret locks.

18,000 ARMY MEN HAVE CITIZEN PAPERS AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (United Press) Citizenship papers of approximately 18,000 men of foreign birth who served this country during the world war remain unclaimed in the Bureau of Naturalization, it was announced by Secretary of Labor Davis today.

During the war 278,513 unnaturalized men served in the army, navy and marine corps, and all were given citizenship tests during their terms in training camps. Of this number but 18,000 have received copies of their certificates.

"It is of the utmost importance to these men and their families that they obtain evidence of their citizenship," Secretary Davis said, "as property and personal rights and privileges are involved, not only to the individuals naturalized, but of their families as well."

American Legion posts throughout the country have been supplied with the names of those who have not received certificates and are asked to assist in securing the naturalization papers for them.

When Youth Starts Upon the Road of Life!

Yes, an epochal event. Son or daughter has reached a milestone upon the road of Life Fulfillment; and how proud—justly proud are the parents!

We are proud too. We know that through small though systematic saving at this bank, many parents were able to put their children through school and college without undue financial strain.

Some fathers, for example, began saving very small amounts ten years before their sons were ready for college. Some invested their savings in good securities and allowed the interest to pile up.

Isn't there a worth-while suggestion here for many other fathers who look forward to THEIR children's Graduation Day?

FARM LEADERS BLOCK VOTE TAX BILL

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United News Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Farm leaders in the senate, rising up boldly and throwing off their lassitude of the last few months, have shown their power by blocking a vote on the tax bill because of inaction on agricultural relief measures.

Their movement Friday, led by Senator Norbeck, republican of South Dakota further embarrassed administration leaders who had to sit by and watch the democrats again reaffirm the victories which have made the tax bill practically a democratic measure.

As a result of the blockade, the senate was forced to recess Friday night without a vote on the tax bill, which had been expected. Under a unanimous consent agreement reached before the recess, the senate will meet at 11 o'clock Saturday, debate will be shut off at 2:00 o'clock, pending amendments will then be voted upon, followed by a vote on the entire bill.

Norbeck, after a lengthy speech on farm relief which delayed the tax bill Friday afternoon informed republican leaders that he would introduce the McNary-Haugen agricultural measure as an amendment to the tax bill unless a vote was postponed until Saturday. He had previously threatened to tack the farm bill on as an amendment.

Explaining his action on the floor after he had won his point, in feverish conferences with republican leaders who wanted a vote on the tax bill—Norbeck said he wanted to wait for action by the house rules committee Saturday morning, which will meet to draft a special rule for consideration of the McNary-Haugen bill. If the committee does not report a rule which will bring the measure soon before the house, Norbeck is expected to introduce the bill as an amendment to the tax bill Saturday.

Democrats sealed their trade mark on the bill Friday when Senator Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the finance committee, made a stand for a compromise surtax rate, after the senate had gone from committee of the whole into full session again. His two efforts on surtaxes fell flat, and he did not even call for a record vote on the normal rates.

He first offered a compromise schedule, with a maximum rate of 32 per cent at $300,000 which was killed, 47 to 36. The house schedule was then tried with a maximum of 37.14 per cent at $200,000. It was rejected 46 to 39. The Simmons normal rates were then adopted without a record vote.

Smoot obtained the support of two democrats on his first attempt, Bruce Maryland and Byard, Delaware, while Glass, of Virginia, bolted and joined these two when the house rate was offered. Six republicans, Frazier, Howell, Johnson of California, Ladd, Norbeck and Norris, stood with the democrats in opposing the first compromise with Norbeck switching on the higher rate. Shpstead and Johnson, Minnesota, farmer laborites opposed Smoot.

The administration suffered another defeat Friday when the tax on telephone and telegraph messages and on radio equipment was definitely killed, 61 to 23.

A committee amendment placing a tax of two cents per $100 on drafts, promissory notes and checks not payable on sight, was defeated, 47 to 31.

TOO MUCH RUBBER, SAYS THE BUTTON MAKERS

LONDON (By Mail to United Press)—These are gloomy days for British button manufacturers.

The ladies, it seems, prefer to hold their dresses and things on with elastic rather than buttons, as much—or, if you want to put it that way, as little—as possible.

The profits of one of the big button manufacturers were $80,000 less this year than last.

"Too much rubber," was the explanation made by the management to the board of directors.

Ways and means of a campaign to bring buttoned feminine garments back were discussed.

Russian monarchists hope to place Nicholas on the throne. Sir Edward Elgar, noted British composer, has been appointed Master of King's Music by King George, succeeding the late Sir Walter Parratt. Jacob Adler, famous Jewish actor, who retired two years ago after 50 years on the stage, returned, at 69 years of age, for one performance of Jacob Gordon's "Stranger."
