NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE MORNING AVALANCHE MAKE VOTES FOR CONTESTANTS FOR THE DAILY NEWS

Contestants in the Lubbock Daily News subscription contest, have renewed their efforts, and the final laps of the race are being made and the contest will close Saturday evening.

The management of the contest gave the contestants a bit more track on which to finish the race by offering the same number of votes for the Lubbock Morning Avalanche new subscriptions as are offered for the Daily News. It is emphasized that the votes will not be given for renewal subscriptions but on new subscriptions only.

Such keen interest has been shown in the contest that the management is of the opinion that a continuation of this interest throughout the week will put the campaign over even better than was first anticipated, and by widening the field the contestants are given just that much more encouragement.

If you are not yet taking the Lubbock Daily News or if your name isn't on the mailing list of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche, subscribe this week and give one of the contestants the advantage your votes will afford.

ter a few ballots, and that this will be sufficient to attract additional delegates to give him the 732 necessary to be nominated. But many others believe he will fall down before a combination of hostile old line bosses, led by Tom Taggart, of Indiana, George Brennan, of Illinois, and the Tammany crowd. Al Smith appears likely to go into the balloting with the second largest number of votes. His friends claim upward of 300. But here again all except his own friends believe that the dry south and the dry west will combine to stop him.

Third in the list is Underwood with 60 to 75 votes. His only chance is to inherit Al Smith's following should the latter be forced out. But that is something far from settled.

The big town is already dressed in holiday attire. Fifth avenue at sundown became New York's "golden way" when the new colored street lamps were lighted for the first time.

Beginning at famous Washington arch and extending two and a half miles up town, the avenue gleamed with many colored splendors.

Until the convention has closed New York will be the romantic city of "Henry's Fancy"—Bagdad-on-the-Subway.

The work on Madison Square Garden is nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy Friday.

Political activity, temporarily stilled during the course of the republican convention at Cleveland, was reborn today. The Smith and McAdoo headquarters hummed with activity.

The first contingent of delegates was here. A scattering of leaders were expected this week.

Among prominent democrats here are Cordell Hull, chairman of the national committee, vice chairman Kremer; Committee Norman

E. Mack; Thomas B. Love, of Texas; Homer E. Cummings, of Connecticut; Tom Arthur of Montana and Secretary Charles Greathouse. The Smith and McAdoo forces thus far have monopolized the cheering section. The latter admittedly controls enough votes to dictate the rules and organization of the convention, but the Smith forces smile broadly at the claim of enough to secure nomination.

Lots of people think the world owes them five or six livings.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS BIG QUANDARY

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
WASHINGTON, June 16.—"Who have the democrats got?" is the question with which all current arguments over politics either begin or end.

Although the democratic convention which opens June 24 is now barely a week away the situation with respect to the large field of candidates is as vague as it was six months ago. One of the strangest features of it is the widely held conviction that the two strongest candidates—Wm. G. McAdoo and Al Smith—cannot get the nomination. Those who are generally conceded a real chance at the nomination consist of a string of favorites sons, colorless for the most part, and hardly heard of outside of their own states.

Briefly, the democratic situation at the threshold of the convention is about like this:

McAdoo has the largest number of delegates. His friends say he will show more than 600 votes af-

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

By W. M. PEVEHOUSE

The school year for the rural schools is fast coming to a close. New Hope, Grovesville, and Posey closed last week-end. Only Bledsoe and Liberty remain in session. We have had a wonderful year in an educational way. First, came the location of the Tech just before school opened last fall. Then came a great campaign for better and larger buildings, and last, with the coming of the New Year, came the great increase of scholastics. We have a system of rural school on the South Plains far above the average. We get the very best of teachers. We have the best of buildings. Then you provide the last, the best of children.

Henry Mahoney of the Shallowater Board paid his respects at the office last Saturday. Also, M. L. Brashears, of the Acuff Board. Welcome to the trustees, especially, when they come just to visit and speak their optimism of results to be had in their respective schools for the coming session.

T. J. Richardson, President of the County School Board, called to spend a pleasant half hour discussing the bright side of the rural school problems. While here, he had opportunity to talk freely with Mr. Ernest Shelly, of Bledsoe, who desired to transfer to Petersburg. Mr. Richardson is a man who has given many years to the best part of his life to the task of county school trustee, trying to make the rural schools better. He has given much of his time to the study of the laws relating to the rural school problem.

Many teachers drifting from the east, or shall we say—headed straight for Lubbock—instead of just drifting, say that Lubbock county people should be proud of the personnel of the county school board. They say few counties can boast of five men who are as active in the work as T. J. Richardson, New Hope; J. H. Burroughs, Carlisle; Douglas Pounds, Acuff; Bob Crump, Shallowater and W. C. Sheeley, Grovesville. All the men are farmers which, in a sense is as it should be, for is it not ninety-five per cent rural children they serve? These men can be relied upon to give justice, to attend to business, and to know where their respective duties lie.

J. C. Stanford, trustee at Slide, called to sign his teachers' contracts and leave the insurance company's check Slide received because of the storm damage.

J. L. Benton, trustee at Posey, was in and O K'd his principal's contract. Posey will let the contract for a modern teacher's home at a cost of some $1,000 this week, said Mr. Benton. Another thing that Lubbock county can boast of, a greater percentage of teachers' homes than any county in Texas. At the beginning of next session, the country schools will all have homes except two and there, the principals live at home near by, thus accounting for it probably. The time is at hand when the board wants the principal to be at home in the teacherage, where he can serve the community the year around.

H. L. Mote, trustee at Woodrow was a pleasant caller. B. W. Casey, secretary of the board at Carlisle, was up discussing problems. E. E. Jones, president of the board at Carlisle came in to see the transfer of some building funds that his district may be able to care for available warrants. This money had been drawn from the available account before the bond money came. He is always looking after matters and a fellow like that is seldom caught napping. If all the counties have trustees who are as good about looking after schools as our district boards, the children are blessed.

Teachers present were: Mrs. Velaria Fine of Posey, Blanche Stewart of New Hope, Prof. A. J. Ammon of Canyon, Prof. C. R. Teague of Loop, Texas, Prof. E. B. Dulaney of the Grovesville school and Robt. T. Dobson, principal of the Foster school.

The McClung board was in and stated that their newly elected principal was accepting elsewhere, and that they were in the market for a man. Mr. Raymond Barrier has a brother-in-law in East Texas that may be elected. Mr. Barrier says he is O. K. and that recommendation is sufficient. I should think we need just such teachers as Mr. Barrier says his kinsman is—a lover of school work on the farm and in the open country. Mr. Alspaugh and Mr. Snodgrass of this McClung board are much in favor of writing him to come out.

BLAST VICTIMS TO BE BURIED TUESDAY

By United News.

SAN PEDRO, June 16.—While a city steeped in mourning Sunday honored heroes of the Mississippi disaster relatives and friends of the men who lost their lives in Thursday's naval tragedy continued to arrive for the joint funeral services to be observed Tuesday.

An armed guard patrolling before the funeral parlors in which lay the flag draped coffins of the victims, kept back the curious and stepped aside for the relatives, black clad figures who made their way silently to the sombre chambers within.

The usual throngs which visits San Pedro each Sunday for a glimpse of the battleships as they ride calmly at anchor inside the breakwater was doubled today. Entering highways were jammed early in the morning and extra detail of police was necessary to keep machines moving.

Shore boats, put-putting out to the man O'war were filled with those who wanted to be shown the Mississippi. The canvassed turret which proved the death trap of the 48 navy men whose lives were snuffed out was the focus of thousands of eyes as the small harbor craft sped back and forth to their landing platform. There is a possibility, fleet officials said Sunday, that some testimony of the injured men aboard the hospital ship Relief may be presented to the board of inquiry Monday. As the investigation stands now, no exact cause of the blast has been definitely decided upon. A partial explanation was given Saturday in the statement of C. F. Magewki, a plugman on the gun at which the explosion occurred. He testified that the air pressure was low all during Thursday's practice. The low pressure would account for the need of pushing the breech closed and might possibly have laid the way open for some human element of carelessness. A paper index tag, it was stated might have brought in contact with the powder charges when some member of the crew closed the breech by hand. This tag ignited by intense heat of the gun, might have fired the powder before the breech was fully shut, it was explained.

Continuing its efforts to get to the bottom of the disastrous explosion, board of inquiry will come together again Monday morning.

TENSION AT HIGH POINT OVER KIDNAPING

ROME, June 16.—With resignations and dismissals emptying high offices as a result of the kidnaping and supposed slaying of Deputy Matteotti, political tension is increasing over the socialist teachers' disappearance.

Commander Bertini, head of the Roman police force was removed from office Monday because of his failure to apprehend Commander Rossi and Commander Filipelli, two prominent fascists who are wanted in connection with the crime.

The cabinet met Monday night and the Giornale d'Italia reports that, in order to give Premier Mussolini complete liberty of action, the ministers declared that they were ready to resign.

The newspaper also states that Commander Debonno general head of Italy's police forces has resigned and will be replaced by Commander Palmierrin a perfect of police in Turin.

No trace has been found of Mattiotti, but it is universally believed that he has been slain. When he disappeared the socialist leader was carrying documents which are thought to involve prominent men.

U. S. BATTLESHIP AGROUND IN CHANNEL

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The battleship West Virginia is aground in the north channel of Hampton Roads, according to word received by the navy department late Monday. Details of this latest naval mishap were lacking but it is believed that the big ship could be floated at high tide.

Aboard the West Virginia, which was the largest super-dreadnaught commissioned were many high naval officers and the naval athletes bound for the Olympic games in France.

The West Virginia lost power while proceeding from the sea to Hampton Roads through a dredged channel, hitting the mud-bank. She is lying easily on the northern edge of the channel, the navy department was advised. Three mine sweepers are standing by and the Norfolk Navy Yard is sending tugs. Officials expect the big ship to come off the mud bank with their aid at the high tide between 7 and 8 o'clock tonight. The only damage reported was the cracking of a condenser head. From this navy experts in the absence of details, believe the West Virginia in proceeding up the narrow channel, churned up huge quantities of mud which clogged the condensers explaining the loss of power.

An increase on 44,881 in the enrollment of the kindergartens of the United States is reported for the years 1921-22 by the Statistical Division of the United States Bureau of Education. The total enrollment is now 50,830. This is 11.7 per cent of the children of the country who should have the benefit of kindergarten training—that is, those from 4 to 6 years old, inclusive.

More than 2,000 of the 3,400 girl graduates of accredited high schools in Virginia in 1923 registered in the four teacher-training institutions of the State, according to President S. P. Duke, of the Harrisonburg State Normal School. Only about 300 girl graduates attend other higher institutions.—School Life.

WHAT ARE ICE SCALES FOR ANYWAY?

On every ice wagon that we have ever seen, there is a set of what seems to be perfectly good scales, but what they are there for has been a puzzle to us, for we have never yet seen them used for anything in the distribution of ice to the customers.

About the most comical thing that we have heard out side of the funny pictures was when we heard of the iceman having the representative of the weights and measure department test their scales. It was really a great joke on the iceman's customers, for he never uses them, and is still guessing the weight, and getting by with it.

In Amarillo, the icemen are required to weigh the ice correctly. Just why are people supposed to take guess weight on ice any more than any other commodity?

If the price of ice is not high enough, why not raise the price, but give the people the amount they pay for. There is no use to try to get more for the ice by giving guess weights.

We are not sure that the people of Lubbock do not get ten or fifteen pounds more ice for a hundred pounds than ice customers anywhere else, but in twenty-five and fifty pound chunks, we are of the opinion that they don't weigh out, and oftentimes the milk sours or the meat spoils because the fifteen pounds of ice that the coupons called for was not there to keep it cool.

The custom of measuring ice was unfortunate we believe, especially out in this country where the wind blows and the sun shines right square down, and makes a direct assault on what was twenty-five pounds of ice when it left the factory. The Avalanche is for fair play. We believe in a fellow getting paid for what he sells and we also believe in the fellow getting what he pays for.

Short weights are in abomination to good business principles, and it is the bait that the devil uses to catch more people who will fall for it. Whether it be carelessness, or indifference, makes no difference, it is something that one must guard against, and every honest business man should see to it that full measure, pounds or yards should be given to the customer.

THE NEWSPAPER.

There is no greater responsibility than that resting upon the editor of a newspaper. The late Dr. Talmage said: "The newspaper is the great educator of the nineteenth century. There is no force compared with it. It is book, pulpit, platform, forum, all in one. And is not an interest—religious, literary, commercial, scientific, agricultural or mechanical—that is not within its grasp. All our churches, and schools, and colleges, and asylums and are galleries, feel the quaking of the printing press."

Every man who has anything to do with the making of a newspaper should take special pride in giving it a character for truth and wisdom. "I saw it in the newspaper" ought to be sufficient evidence of the truth of assertion.

But newspapers are human institutions, and are good or bad, in precise proportion to the character of their makers. Some are avaricious and look at all questions through the business office, some are timid and sycophantic, and some are weak and foolish. To put them all in a class would be as unjust as to put all men in the same class.

The world would be a stupid place to live in if it were not for the newspapers, and it would also be a much more cruel and tyrannical world. Besides being a terror to evil doers, the newspaper inspires heroism, patriotism, philanthropy and integrity. When the newspaper becomes a traitor to its trust, and the people lose faith in its sincerity, God help the republic!

Officials of the United States Forest Products Laboratory announce the discovery of what is declared to be an excellent and valuable pulp wood from the allanthus tree, otherwise known as the "tree of heaven." They have developed a high grade of book paper, also fit for use in the manufacture of lithograph and writing paper. The allanthus was imported from China into Pennsylvania and New York, where it rapidly is becoming a weed.

STEPS AGAINST BOOZE PARTIES.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is taking steps early in the season to impress upon the people in the towns where the West Texas Convention is held that there must be a strict enforcement of the prohibition laws of the state during the conventions.

Porter Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has sent out the following notice to the newspapers, chamber of commerce secretaries, directors and officers:

"We desire to call your attention to the Resolution passed by the Executive Board at Sweetwater in connection with the enforcement of the Prohibition Laws at the Conventions of this and all other organizations. The Board went on record unanimously as favoring a strict enforcement of this law and regretted very much that there were some few persons at the last convention at Brownwood who took advantage of the Convention in order to load up on booze. Of course we realize that there are some persons who cannot be controlled but it is the sincere desire of the Executive Board that this Law be enforced."

A few of the newspapers over the state have undertaken to place the blame on the managers of the chamber of commerce, but we cannot see any connection with them in this matter. It is purely a matter of local law enforcement, and if the officers of the towns where the convention is held, cannot cope with the situation they should call on the United States Revenue officers to help them, and put a stop to the practice of bringing in airplane loads of the stuff and peddling it out among the visitors.

If this feature of the convention cannot be controlled it will sound the death knell of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention quicker than most any other thing.

We have heard a number of people remark that they will never go to another meeting of that organization if that is the way it is going to turn out. They were thoroughly disgusted with that part of the Brownwood party. The prohibition laws must be enforced or the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will come to a disastrous end.

THE COATLESS QUESTION.

Now that genuine summer weather has arrived, hung up its hat and announced its intentions of staying a while, the question of coat versus shirtwaives once more rears its head.

The women retain the proud privilege of wearing the shirtwaist ubiquitously. For church or shopping or evening party the shirtwaist is in vogue for femininity and, apparently, always will be.

The man who would venture to remove his coat in church would be looked upon as mentally deficient, and fashionable hotels and restaurants will not countenance his presence.

Regular pastors, sweltering in their heavy, black frocks, often envy the Rev. Billy Sunday who not only removes his coat in mixed audiences, but also collar and dress shirt when talking to men only. But, then, he is an evangelist and is answerable to no one.

Court judges cling to precedent no less resolutely than the clergy. Some courts refuse permission to sweltering jurors to remove their coats while others encourage it.

With the exception of church and court room, there are few places where man could not wear his shirtwaist, and coat, if he really wished to do so, but it is man himself who is responsible for the popular attitude toward his mode of apparel. If the shirtwaist man were numerous enough, he would meet with no opposition. The women are not greatly concerned over his fashions, so it is a question for man himself to settle.

Humiliating as may be the confession, man is the prize sartorial coward. Woman has nerve enough to adopt the most outlandish and hideous fashions which human ingenuity can conceive, but the lords of creation don't dare to take up a new style that's sensible.

It is man's own fault that he is conventional rather than comfortable.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

There has been a slowing down of business in various lines during the past month, but the outlook is by no means discouraging, not suggestive of a complete setback in industrial affairs. The country's buying power has been somewhat reduced through partial unemployment, observed in the textile mills in New England and to some extent in similar lines in the south. But the decline in activity has not reflected any serious deflation in prices, the index number of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics showing in April a decline for the year of only 7 per cent. There is nothing in such a change to cause concern; on the contrary it reflects a conservatism which if persisted in, will provide its own corrective and hasten the recuperative process in various lines.

The fact has recently been discovered that the magazine "The Nation," edited by ex-Ambassador George Harvey during the war, was owned by J. P. Morgan.

MARKETS

FEW STOCKS HIT NEW HIGH FOR THIS YEAR

By EDWARD J. CONDLON (Financial Editor United News.) NEW YORK, June 16.—The performance of leading stocks on Monday... The bear drive failed to materialize and offerings were readily absorbed with the result that several new highs for the year were touched by several specialty stocks of the industrial list.

Although the leading railroad issues with a few exceptions, finished generally higher, the average for the rail group was lower for the opening session of the week. This weakness was ascribed to the loss of speculative interest in the low-priced issues which were decided upon in one particular district, coming on the heels of certain declines noted at the close of last week, failed to shake confidence in the market of certain of the representative oil stocks.

The market has taken note of the fact that steps have been taken in the Oklahoma district to control production. Aside from the general trading in the various securities, Monday was an eventful day for the United States this year, June 15 falling on Sunday taxes aggregating $200,000,000 or more became due on Monday, as did the $69,000,000 interest payments on Britain's war debt to the United States and certifies on the new treasury certificates issued on $193,000,000.

On the other hand some $311,000,000 in government notes matured as did some $134,000,000 in certificates, together with interest payments of about $76,000,000. Thus the grand turnover was close to the billion dollar mark. Incidentally, actual payment of the British interest on the debt to the United States government was made by check and a small amount of certificates, but no liberty bonds were included. This fact hardly accounted for the easing in liberty bonds today as it has been apparent for a month that Great Britain has been accumulating liberty bonds.

One reassuring feature in the days dealings among the counting houses was the rise in foreign exchange. France closed a little better than 5 1-2 cents and sterling was up more than half a cent on buying induced by the formation of Herriot's cabinet. On the other hand, a small decline in lire was traceable to reports that public confidence in the Italian cabinet maybe shaken if the dramatic disappearance of a deputy is not satisfactorily explained. The sharp rally in grain had something to do with strong closing of the stock market, but not a great deal of confidence was inspired by the finish of the cotton market which was off 7 to up 18 points at the last after an irregular session.

WALTER R CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

WHY ALWAYS AUTO ACCIDENT?
The other day I saw a wagon crash into an automobile on a crowded street and the next morning I read in the newspapers about an automobile accident. Why wouldn't it have been fairer to have described it as a wagon accident? When a street car crashes into an automobile the mishap is usually described as an automobile accident. Why not call it a street car accident even though the car has to keep on tracks and the automobile has the choice of several routes?

DALLAS YOUTH IS HURT IN CAR COLLISION

By United News.
DALLAS, June 16.—Marvin Pruett, 9 year old newsboy, was severely injured when a street car split a switch here Monday afternoon striking an automobile and knocking it against a telephone post and pinning the lad between the post and the machine. The boy suffered stoically for ten minutes before he was extracted. His left leg was so severely lacerated that it is expected that it will have to be amputated.

LUBBOCK NOW HAS A REAL BAND; THE INITIAL CONCERT IS TO BE GIVEN HERE ON 29TH THIS MONTH

Lubbock has a full grown band, R. Borden, manager and organizer of the new organization, has just announced that the band will play a free concert on the courthouse lawn here at five o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 29th.

The members of the band are experienced musicians, and the fact that the organization has been perfected and whipped into shape for actual work during the past three weeks stands out as a tangible evidence of the fact that a band for Lubbock is not only possible but at this time a reality.

There was some pessimism expressed at the outset that a band could not be organized here, but Mr. Borden has shown that that belief is entirely false, and when the band of from twenty to twenty-five pieces appears on the 29th for a concert, it is hoped that the citizens of Lubbock will attend in such numbers that when those who hear the band voice their approval of the quality of music that will be produced by it that the organization will have the unanimous endorsement and support of all Lubbock.

R. Brown, director of the band, will not be in Lubbock for several days due to the fact that he has business in Dallas that will require several days of his time, and but for his absence from the city the initial concert of the new organization would be played next Sunday afternoon instead of a week later.

Lubbock has a real band, and now it is up to her to support it, and for some of the people who have always been wishing for a band to show that what they had to say in regard to it will be backed up with actual cash in order that the organization can stay intact.

MRS. HATTIE STOKER ENTERS RACE FOR TREASURER

In this issue of the Avalanche will be found the name of Mrs. Hattie Stoker, who enters the race for the office of County Treasurer. Mrs. Stoker is now with the W. J. Garrett Company, and she has been in this city for four or five years. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hardy, one of the pioneer citizens of the Plains country, and she will greatly appreciate your vote and influence in the coming election.

Mrs. Stoker was formerly with the K. Carter Company, and is well known to the people of this city and county, by her affiliations with the various business firms of Lubbock.

Mrs. Stoker asks that you give her candidacy due consideration when voting for a person to fill the office of County Treasurer. She is confident of her competency for the office, and if nominated and elected will take care of the duties of the office to the very best of her ability, and assures you of the very best office service.

NEGRO ARRESTED FOR CARRYING LIQUOR

George Lewis, negro, was arrested here Sunday night by Policeman Herron, and a suit case which he carried and which was found to contain a quantity of choc was taken by the officer.

Lewis was placed in the Lubbock county jail and will be tried at the next term of court for violation of the prohibition laws.

Efforts to determine whether or not he manufactured the liquor which he carried are being made, and if it is found that he is responsible for its manufacture, two charges will be filed against him, one for transportation and one for manufacture of liquor, making his case a difficult one to beat.

Preparations are in progress by the Oregon Humane Society to make effective a law enacted by the recent State legislature which provides that each public school of Oregon shall devote 15 minutes of each school day to the instruction of children on the subject of kindness to dumb animals.

LAW DON'T REST ON SUNDAY IN LUBBOCK CO.

Deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford arrested Cleo Jones, negro, in a servant's house here Sunday night, capturing together with the negro fifteen gallons of choc, which was made in violation of the prohibition laws.

Jones was placed in the Lubbock county jail.
Deputy Sheriff Ford is finding Sunday a regular work day with him, as on Sunday one week ago he and Chief of Police Abel of Slaton captured three negroes there and took twenty-five gallons of liquor in the raid.

The bootlegger who takes for granted that law enforcement is a six day a week proposition is finding that that idea won't hold up in Lubbock county.

FARM BUREAU TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

W. E. Bennett, secretary of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau Cotton Association, announced Monday that July 4th will be "sign up" day in Lubbock county, and all farmers of the county will be given an opportunity to sign membership contracts with the association.

This campaign is said by Mr. Bennett to be of especial importance in that dovetails with similar campaigns throughout the state, as the bureau is making unrestrained efforts to control a majority of the cotton that is grown in Texas this year and market it co-operatively.

The Lubbock County Farm Bureau Cotton Association has as its members some of the pioneer farmers of the county, many of whom cultivate many hundreds of acres.

Mr. Bennett will be assisted in making "sign up" day a great one for the Lubbock County Farm Bureau Cotton Association by Field Director R. E. Overstreet, as well as a number of farmers who are already members.

FORMER LUBBOCKITE HERE VISITING HOME

Alfred Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Smith, came in Monday, from Montezuma college at Las Vegas, N. M., and will spend the summer here. He will return to Las Vegas in the fall to resume his studies.

Young Smith formerly worked as a printer before entering college and is working his way thru school.

A choral competition will be held in Rome on May 24, 1924 between nineteen regional squadrons representing the entire kingdom of Italy. It is planned to make these competitions annual events.

Stomach Distress?

Galveston, Texas—"One year ago I was suffering with indigestion. Everything I ate hurt me and I had almost constant headache. I tried several remedies which did me no good. Then I decided to try Dr. Pierce's medicine. I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which was highly recommended for stomach trouble, and the 'Favorite Prescription,' a celebrated feminine tonic, and I improved right from the start, and by the time I had taken a few bottles I was well."

SHATTERED NERVES

Lady Says She Was In a Desperate Condition, But "Now in Splendid Health" After Taking Cardui.

Dale, Ind.—"About three years ago," says Mrs. Flora Roberts, of this place, "I had the 'flu,' which left me in a desperate condition. I had a bad cough. I went down in weight to little over one hundred pounds. I took different medicines—did everything, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I hurt so badly in the chest at times I would have to go to the door to get my breath. "I would have the headache and . . . was so weak I felt like I would just have to sink down and stay there. "My nerves were shattered. I looked for something awful to happen—I would tremble and shake at a noise. "My mother said, 'Do try Cardui', and my husband insisted till I began its use. I used two bottles of Cardui . . . and noted a big improvement in my condition. I kept up the Cardui and weigh 180 pounds. I am now in splendid health—sure am a firm believer in Cardui, for I'm satisfied it did the work." After a weakening illness a tonic is needed to help regain lost strength. Many thousands of women have found Cardui exactly what they needed for this purpose. It may be just what you need. Try it. All druggists. NC-155

WHIT DAVIDSON'S SPEECH CHEERED BY VOTERS

Lieut. Governor T. W. (Whit) Davidson, candidate for Governor of Texas, was here last night and spoke to a number of voters at the District courtroom.

The candidate's speech was well received, and much approval of his policies was expressed by the people who punctuated the speaking hour with hearty cheers.

"I am the same thing to all people, and when I am elected governor of Texas I will never be found placing one section against the other, nor arraying class against class."

"My attention has just been called to a speech of Mr. Lynch Davidson, printed in the Dallas News of the 12th in which he says he will save ten million dollars and offers as proof of the fact that the 35th legislature spent ten million dollars more than the 37th legislature. I have here in my hands the items that made up the appropriation bills of the last session of legislature."

When Mr. Lynch Davidson addresses you I want him to quit dealing in generalities and tell you people of Lubbock just what item it is in this appropriation bill that he would strike out, if he had been governor of Texas. He, at least, leads the people of the state at large to believe that he would strike out and veto every item of expenses that created this ten million dollar difference between these two legislatures. One of these items is a million dollars of the Technological school located here at Lubbock.

"I want him to tell you people here that he would have vetoed that item."

"I am making my fight for constitutional government and against any conspiracy that interferes with the administration of justice. Any man or woman who joins me in this and who makes his or her government and its constitution first, is welcome to give me his or her support in this fight, but I will feel no man to get his vote and have never done so. I will make no trades and no alliances," the candidate said.

KIWANIS NIGHT OBSERVED BY LOCAL CLUB

Kiwanis Night was observed by the members of the local club as per instructions from national headquarters.

The local Kiwanians met at 8 o'clock last night and with their ladies as guests, conducted the regular weekly program in accordance with instructions sent out to the more than twelve hundred other Kiwanis clubs in the United States and Canada.

Judge E. L. Klett, acted as chairman of the program, and introduced the purpose of the meeting in fitting words.

Mrs. S. H. Stewart sang appropriate numbers, and a beautiful reading was given by Mrs. James H. Goodman.

W. C. Rylander and other members of the club talked on the origin and activities of the Kiwanis, giving their hearers a keen insight into the true significance of the organization and its place in the community life of Lubbock and every other community supporting Kiwanis clubs.

of our Lord given to a man over in the Gadarenes, possessed of devils. My Lord went about to bring happiness to the people with whom he came in contact. The devil always got busy when ever Jesus went. Here was a man possessed of devils. Made his home in the grave yard, and yelled and screamed both day and night. The authorities had bound him many times, but he would always break his fetters. There were no asylums in those days to shut in crazy people, so they had to run loose. Jesus when he saw the poor fellow commanded the devils to come out of him. There were hundreds of devils. Some people think there is no devil, but I want to say to you that as sure as there was a devil in those days of Jesus there is a devil now. Jesus commanded the devils to come out of the man. When they saw that they had to obey they requested that they be allowed to go into a herd of swine that were feeding in a field near by. The Master said go on. So the story says they entered into the hogs. The hogs got so ashamed of the fact that the devils were in them that they ran down to the lake, jumped into the lake and committed suicide. Hogs were ashamed of it, yet I see folks every day who will allow themselves to be possessed with all kinds of devils and then get out and parade the fact before the whole town. Did you notice the hogs were so ashamed of it that they killed themselves?

When the hogs all drowned, those who were standing around ran into town and told what had happened, and down came a committee and asked Jesus to leave their country. He left at their request, and there is no record that he ever came back. My Lord will not come to any church or people, unless they want him. When the committee came to Jesus, the crazy man was clothed and in his right mind, and sitting at his feet. When Jesus got into the boat to leave this man wanted to go along, but Jesus told him to go back to his home, back to his family, back to his friends and tell them what great things the Lord had done for him.

The trouble with our homes today is we have left God out of them. You as fathers and mothers have failed to tell your boys and girls what Jesus has done for you. Did you see what Jesus did? A marvelous thing. He cleanses the man both inside and out, puts a new song in his mouth, and planted his feet on the solid rock. Go home, Jesus said, and tell what great things the Lord hath done for you. But what is a home. That is the question we want to consider this evening for a little while. Some one has painted a picture of the modern home as a place where you hang your hat, and where the young people park their automobile between the moving picture and the dance, a place where Father goes to get a change of linen, mother takes a new cargo of powder or paint, and let me hear your music and see the kind of reading material you allow your young people to read, and I will tell you whether your home is a real home or not. You mothers and fathers have allowed your boys and girls to feed upon this musical trash until God has left. I have come into Methodist homes, where the father and mother were supposed to be christian and have heard the young people playing all this jazz jazz until it made my head swim. I have searched through their record cabinets for a religious record but could not find one. Unless we call a halt on this riot of social jazz pretty soon we will face the most serious condition in America you can imagine. How many times have you told your girls mothers, what great things Jesus can do for them. Do you get the greatest of all books and read it to your boys and girls, or do you put it on the shelf and never touch it? You have laid it away and those children in your home have thought it was a book for grandfathers and grandmothers, and you have torn down your home rather than to have builded it up. Jesus said, Go home and tell what great things the Lord has done for you."

Prayer meeting Tuesday will be held at four o'clock in the following homes:
District No. 1 at the home of Mrs. M. Mickin.
District No. 2 Mrs. H. T. Kimbro
District No. 3 Mrs. W. W. Royalty.
District No. 4, Mrs. W. C. Rylander.

GREER MURDER TRIAL OPENS MONDAY
By United News.
LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Edna Purviance, plump blonde screen actress, who has not faced a Kleig light since Horace Greer, a spectacular young chauffeur with heroic soul, interrupted a tea party in which she and Mable Normand, Greer's employer, were being entertained by Courtland S. Dines, a scion of a Denver family last New Year's day took the witness stand today to reveal that Dines did his entertaining in his underwear.
It was the first day of Greer's trial on a charge of entering the Dines boudoir and rudely whipping out a gun and "plugging" the aristocratic young host of the film favorites.
Without the flicker of a daintily darkened yellowish or a deepening by nature of her already artistically crimsoned cheeks, Miss Purviance, replying to the pointed question of defense attorney S. S. Hahn as to how Dines was dressed the afternoon of the party, replied: "He had on his undershirt."

"Is that all?" exclaimed the counsel registering as much surprise as if he had never heard the rumor regarding Dines' asserted abbreviated costuming.
"Well, he couldn't have had on any overshirt," Miss Purviance continued failing to explain why he "could he have any trousers on?" Hahn persisted.
"He had them on in the afternoon" the fair recipient of many custard pies, in the face when she for years acted as the foil for Charley Chaplin's humorous antics replied.
"Did he have them on in the evening," continued the relentless Hahn.
"I believe he did."
"But you are not sure?"
"No."
With that momentous point still as much bemuddled as the stories told by principles when taken to the police station the night of the shooting, the questioning turned to details immediately preceding and following the shot which ended the party.
Miss Purviance testified that she was in an adjoining bathroom when she heard a sound "like the crack of a whip."
"What did you do when you came out of the bathroom?" Prosecuting Attorney Fricke asked.
"I found Mr. Dines sitting on the sofa with blood on his shirt," the actress said. "I helped him to bed."
"Did Miss Normand help you?"
"She did."
Attorney Hahn broke in with a question as to whether or not she, Miss Normand or Dines had weapons.
"There wasn't a gun in the house that I know of," was the reply.
The exotic Mabel nattily clad in a gray duvetyne suit and a small round hat swept into the room, preceded by her attorney and followed by two feminine attendants. Spectators craned their necks, the court session paused and all eyes were turned toward the comedienne as she advanced to a place in the front of the court room. Baliff Daniels hustled to dust off a chair which had been held for Miss Normand, with a dainty ribbon tied across the arms.

She sat down and gazed with kindly eyes toward her former chauffeur and listened with languid interest to the testimony of her co-guest at the New Year's fete. Dines was not presented. His whereabouts are somewhat of a mystery. He last reported from Denver, telling the district attorney over the long distance telephone that his father was at death door, and he could not get away. The prosecution, however, is hopeful of having him here within a day or so.

54 SACKS IN ABANDONED AUTO AT

INSPECTORS HAD LEADING TO RECOVERY, I

By United News.
JOLIET, Ill., June 16.—Five sacks, containing valued at more than a part of the loot of a mail train robbery at Illinois, were found in an abandoned auto camp at Rock Run, southwest of here.
As a result of the postoffice inspectors received a clue which lieved would lead to rest of the loot.
Sixty one sacks were the robbers, who stopped at Milwaukee and St. Paul 30 miles north of here, where they threw tear bombs at sixty clerks guarding the mail, valued at about $100,000 and escaped in an abandoned automobile.
Identification of the mail by postoffice inspectors in Chicago, "where we here" in automobiles, Hugh H. Egan, of Joliet, Ill., said he had seen some of them had been the contents appeared intact. The bags first were here and later sent to a der heavy guard.
Why the car and abandoned puzzled according to farmers who drove the automobile to last Sunday and spent there. The car remained finally a farmer, Danie became curious and located. He was astonished to find mail sacks inside. He telephoned Sheriff Walker Joliet police.
Chief Postal Inspector Germer of Chicago a few hours after the said that the recover rest of the loot probably be made within two weeks.
"We know who took the robbery and we already of them under arrest" said. "There were not 16 men actually engaged robbery. They were person who knew all a shipments and who was a them just where they the sacks of registered whole robbery was p Chicago and every detail ranged weeks before the carried out."
The automobile which escape from the scene of robbery, Rondout, Illinois, north of Chicago, was discovered by detectives and later Chicago. A soft black found in the car and it were telephoned to the police to try and find the hat.
Quick identification of was made by bags which found with duplicates in Chicago postoffice. Only the sacks stolen in the had been found prior to recovery of Tuesday.
Only three of the chief pants in the robbery still large according to postoffice inspectors. They declined reveal the names of those rets who they charge with committed the robbery. er, it is known that J. E under arrest in Chicago is by government men to bandit who was shot in robbery.
The sacks had been emptied of currency but bonds and other valuables were thrown aside. About in currency had been taken estimated. The automobile identified as one of the used by the mail train is had been seen by picnic early as Sunday but was to have belonged to some Joliet. The continued press the machine was reported Tuesday and it was not that they discovered the

INSPECTORS HAD LEADING TO RECOVERY

By United News.
JOLIET, Ill., June 16.—Sixty-one sacks, containing more than a part of the loot of a mail train robbery at Illinois, were found in an abandoned auto camp at Rock Run, southwest of here.

As a result of the postoffice inspectors received a clue which lieved would lead to the rest of the loot.

Sixty-one sacks were the robbers, who stopped at Rock Run, southwest of Joliet, Ill., June 16, 1924, threw three bombs at six clerks guarding the mail, valued at about $100,000 and escaped in an abandoned automobile.

Identification of the mail sacks made by Chicago detectives was complete, and Hugh H. Bolton, of Joliet, Ill., said that some of them had been the contents of the mail sacks first seen here and later sent to the federal guard.

Why the car and abandoned mail train were abandoned to farmers who drove the automobile to last Sunday and spent there, the car remained finally a farmer, Danie became curious and located the car. He was astonished to find mail sacks inside. He telephoned Sheriff Walter Joliet police.

Chief Postal Inspector Germer of Chicago at a few hours after the said that the recover rest of the loot probably was hidden in the "inside" of the car. "We know who took the robbery and we already of them under arrest" said. "There were not 16 men actually engaged in the robbery. They were persons who knew all the shipments and who was them just where they were the sacks of registered whole robbery was p Chicago and every detail ranged weeks before the carried out."

The automobile which the bandits evidently had escape from the scene of robbery, Rondout, Illinois, north of Chicago, was discovered by detectives and later Chicago. A soft black found in the car and it were telephoned to the police to try and find the car.

Quick identification of the mail sacks was made by lads who spend with duplicates in Chicago postoffice. Only the sacks stolen in the hi had been found prior to recovery of Tuesday.

Only three of the mail sacks in the robbery still large according to postoffice inspectors. They declined to reveal the names of those who they charge with committed the robbery, or, it is known that J. J. under arrest in Chicago by government men to bandit who was shot during robbery.

The sacks had been emptied of currency, but 1 bonds and other valuables were thrown aside. About in currency had been taken estimated. The automobile identified as one of the mail train by the mail train had been seen by Joliet, Ill., early as Sunday but was to have belonged to some Joliet. The continued by the machine was reported Tuesday and it was not until they discovered the
