THROW SELVES ON MERCY COURT OPENING WAY FOR INSANITY PLEA; STATE ATTACKS ON 'EXPERIMENT'

By H. H. ROBERTSON (UN Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, July 21.—Erazon as ever, apparently serene in the belief that they never would feel the clutch of the hangman's noose, Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., pleaded guilty Monday to the abduction and murder of 14 year old Robert Franks.

In one bold stroke, engineered and supervised by Clarence S. Darrow, chief defense counsel, the two 19 year intellectual slayers, sons of multimillionaires simultaneously threw themselves on the mercy of Chief Justice R. Caverly of the criminal court and opened the way for their long heralded insanity defense in a manner that even the prosecution had failed to anticipate.

WHEAT PRICES TAKE NICE LEAP UP OVER SATURDAY AND CORN WAS UP AS WELL AS INCLINE IN PRICE OF OATS

By H. H. ROBERTSON
CHICAGO, Ill., July 21.—The romance of golden grain—grain that turns into a flow of pure gold—is being revived again in the usually prosaic pits of the board of trade.

Sharp price advances have resulted in some of the wildest trading sessions in the hectic history of Chicago's famous cereal exchange, a place where millions have been made and lost, where kings of finance have been created, and dethroned where heart-breaks, ruin, sudden wealth and good fortune have become daily accompaniments of buying and selling.

From the fields of the middle west and southwest a stream of elation is reaching one of the two great grain trading centers on the North American continent. The fact that farmers, producers of the harvest of Midas are paying off debts, building new homes, buying automobiles, and putting money in the banks is reflected in a general optimistic tone in trading operations.

The operators have lost their pessimism of a few months back in their fever of excitement over the excellent quality of bumper quantity of the grain crop in the middle-west and southwest, the knowledge that the crop as a whole will be below normal in volume, and the intelligence from Canada that the crop there, not yet near the harvest will be about 50 per cent short.

Men whose names once were enough to strike terror in the grain trading world crowd nearer the pits and into the board of trade Thursday to watch the fluctuations of a market that ran wild. Some of them were feeble, some had to be assisted from their automobiles and up into the trading rooms and offices. All were gray haired.

And as every cereal future with the exception of September corn made new high marks for the crop, many of these stooped old men straightened up with clenched fists and recalled the days when they were a part of the excited milling crowd that was seeking fortunes in the pits.

And there were other figures of the past, pathetic ones, some of them were wrinkled clerks from trading firms, who once had made fortunes of their own and later lost them through plunging on the wrong side of the market.

At the end of the turbulent day wheat was up 2-3/8 and 4-1/2 cents; corn was up 1-7/8 and 4-1/2 cents; oats were 58 and 1-1/8 cents higher; rye was 1-1/8 and 2-3/8 cents higher.

Again, as in recent sessions many persons who were operating on a shoe string made small fortunes. During the past four days trading, one man, whose name has not been divulged, has made $80,000 from a small original investment.

Another was reported to have cleaned up more than $20,000 in Tuesday's trading. They are employees of brokerage houses.

Shouting and jostling in and near the pits became so general during the afternoon that officials had difficulty in maintaining enough order to carry on operations. And board of trade memberships advanced $50 in price during the day.

More exciting sessions are expected. The men most interested in the trading intend to keep the market going until the Canadian grain harvest starts. The harvest of gold is being reaped too rapidly for interference just now.

ATTORNEY START ACTION IN BIG OIL SUIT

By United News.
LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 20.—Alicia Pomerene former United States Senator, but now special counsel in the government's suit to cancel its oil leases held by the Pan-American Petroleum company reached Los Angeles Sunday and will appear before Federal Judge McCormick Monday to have a date set for the trial. Pomerene outlined briefly the points he will raise. He will attempt he said, to prove the leases illegal because of a conspiracy which he charges, was entered into between former secretary of the navy Denby and former secretary of the interior Fall. He would not discuss political phases of the court action.

This civil suit has no connection with the criminal action which involves E. L. Doherty and his son, Fall and Sinclair, although three of the principals are now here. Fall, who is visiting at the Doherty home, spent Sunday as a guest aboard the oil millionaire's luxurious steam yacht, the Castana.

War Is Threatened Between Big Oil Companies

By United News.
CHICAGO, July 21.—Rumors of an impending price war between oil companies here were in circulation following an announcement of a one cent per gallon reduction in gasoline prices, effective today, by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Gasoline now sells at 20 cents a gallon retail and 19 cents a gallon tank wagon. With the reduction the prices will go back to the levels of three months ago when the last price jump took place. Representatives of both the Standard and other oil interests refused to comment on the price change announcement. It was explained at the Standard Oil Company's office here that price changes were caused solely by fluctuations in operating conditions.

HUGHES VOICES HIS APPROVAL OF DAWES PLAN

TELLS CONFERENCE U. S. WILL LEND ASSISTANCE IN PROCEEDINGS

LONDON, July 21.—Declaring that failure of the Dawes plan would "invite chaos" Secretary of State Hughes has assured the European nations now seeking a solution of the reparations tangle by this means that the United States will lend its interest and assistance to measures for their economic rehabilitation.

Hughes voiced his approval of the Dawes plan, and the interest of this country in reparations settlements, in an address here Monday night at the pilgrim's dinner, explaining that the United States could not aid officially but would help in other ways.

"We appreciate the difficulties," he declared, "but we believe that the Dawes plan opens the path for confidence and prosperity." For that reason, we are deeply interested in its prompt execution.

My confidence that a way will be found to surmount all the existing difficulties lies in the fact that failure would invite chaos.

Look it over and make a lot of inquiries regarding the state candidates. Find out all you can about them and learn for yourself about them, lest you vote for some fellow you would not if you knew more about him.

It is important that you inform yourself regarding state officials or county as to that, and be a qualified voter in the true sense of the word, and not merely in the terms of having paid your poll tax.

some feeling" the Daily Telegraph says. The Westminster Gazette says that Lamont, Montague Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, and the Belgian and French bankers here conferred regarding the loan with Phillip Snowden, Chancellor of the exchequer, in a private room in the parliament building.

"President Coolidge" he said "has voiced his strong desire that this result would be attained and a conference to that end should be held as soon as the time is opportune."

Emphasizing the spirit of co-operation of the United States, Hughes throughout his speech drew a sharp distinction, however, between actual governmental aid which his country will not give and assist in other ways principally through private loans and other unofficial measures.

"Without wishing to say anything controversial on this occasion, I may give it as my conviction that had we attempted to make America's contribution to the recent plan for adjustment of government matters we should have been involved in a hopeless debate and there would have been no adequate action," Hughes explained.

"We should have been beset with demands, objections, instructions. This is not the way to make an American contribution to economic revival. You have the Dawes plan and you have had the participation of American experts with the liberty of constructive effort which was essential because it was undertaken in the only way in which success was possible."

"There are certain things" Hughes declared "upon which you can count in your relations with the United States. You can count upon us as a son aggressive power devoted to the interests of peace. We wish to promote friendship with all nations and among all nations."

Hughes expressed his acknowledgment "of the inestimable service to the cause of peace that was rendered by your delegation at the Washington conference and especially by the head of your delegation, Lord Balfour."

Stronger Guarantees Asked. LONDON, July 21.—The Daily Telegraph asserts that Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan and company has presented an ultimatum to the allied promoters, declaring that American bankers will not have anything to do with the proposed loan to Germany without stronger guarantees.

The guarantees Lamont is declared to have said must include the evacuation of the Ruhr.

The ministers received this ultimatum with keen disappointment and

THREE DEAD AND TWO INJURED IN TRAIN CRASH

By United News. BEAUMONT, July 21.—Three persons were killed and two others seriously injured when a Kansas City Southern train crashed into an automobile at a crossing between Beaumonts and Port Arthur Sunday morning.

Mrs. Kirby Price of Nederland, and infant daughter of Mrs. Price of Nederland and infant daughter and George A. Junot, were killed. Kirby Price who was driving the car and another daughter were seriously injured.

GREENVILLE, Pa., July 21.—Five children ranging from nine months to nine years, of the family of Fred Hedlin, of North Shady, near here, perished when his home burned here today. Two other children escaped by leaping from the second story window. The parents of the children were absent from the home at the time of the fire, being out in the field, some distance from the house. They rushed to the scene, and the mother arrived in time to see her children enveloped in smoke and flames, and was severely burned when she undertook to rescue them.

FIVE CHILDREN BURNED IN A HOME FIRE

TO THE VOTERS OF LUBBOCK COUNTY: I have known R. C. Burns since the Spring of 1890, and since then he has been a good and true friend. Mr. Burns ought to be a rich man, but he has lost a great deal of money in enterprises that built up Lubbock that was great financial loss to himself. He was largely interested in the first telephone system in Lubbock. He also established an auto-line to Amarillo from Lubbock that was fine for Lubbock, but disastrous for him. He also was one of the promoters of the first Light & Ice plant that cost the promoters heavily. In purpose he has always given more than his share and I am sure that he has given away more lots in the town of Lubbock than any one interested in it. No one could fill the office any better than he has and very few could fill it as well.

In view of this I shall consider it a privilege to give him my vote for the office of Assessor as long as he wishes it. He has been a booster for the Plains for about 40 years. W. D. CRUMP. 228-wk-1p.

ALLEGED IMPERSONATOR ARRESTED IN DOUGLAS

By United News. EL PASO, July 21.—Steward P. Stanley, arrested in Douglas, Arizona, on complaint of department of justice agents that he impersonated a United States Army captain and cashed several checks, will be brought back to El Paso, according to federal officials. Stanley, who recently visited here, represented himself as a captain in charge of the national guard training in Denver, federal officials declare. He was guest at several social affairs here.

SEE TEXAS.

Texas is a great big State. It is so big that people who were born and raised in the state do not know anything about certain other sections of it. A fellow might boast of his travels if he would simply take a look in on every nook and corner of the Great Lone Star State. There is scenery of nearly every description in Texas. We often wonder why people will travel thousands of miles across country, into other states to places of recreation that are no better than are found in Texas.

It is because Texas is undeveloped. The state as a whole, is in its infancy and the places that will some day be the greatest interest spots are yet in their rugged, undiscovered condition, and we believe that the State should give this matter more consideration than they have been in the past. This we are sure they will do, but will the Parks commission be thorough enough in their work, or will they merely skip around from place to place and not make the survey that they really should.

We have even in this "trackless, treeless Plains Land" some of the pretty places in the state. Take for instance, the canyon, that borders the city of Lubbock, and continues on through the county, down past Slaton, and still on down through the "breaks" leaving behind it the sparkling springs that bubble forth from its bank, cool and refreshing, with its channel filled with water and containing many fish, and with its rugged banks and natural shade trees, which with a few trimmings, such as all state parks are supposed to get, there could be made places of beauty, and recreation as good as any place in California, Colorado or other famous pleasure-famed places.

Blanco Canyon in Crosby county, also furnishes places that could be made, and are being made real pleasure resorts, and with the State backing them they could be made real recreational parks, and with the usual publicity accorded the State parks, would become famous, and attract people from many portions of the nation.

Over Palo Duro way there are many interesting places, and a state highway with state parks up and down that famous canyon, Texas, yes, West Texas, the plains and Panhandle could be made more interesting than many of the famed recreational parks. This section of the State should get busy and get the State Parks commissions interested in this country. They would find here many things that they never dreamed of being here.

They told us when the Tech College was to be located that this section of the country had no chance whatever, but at the same time; when the locating committee came this way they saw many things that appealed to them, and resulted in the location of this big institution here, and it will no doubt become the pride of the state and the Southwest. We should bend every effort to get the state department of parks out this way and let them see the opportunities that are here.

THAT CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

There has been running in the Avalanche the past four weeks what is supposed to be an amendment to the State constitution on the subject of pensions. A proposed constitutional amendment that was to have been voted upon in July of last year went by the board because advertisement thereof was not started in time, but the second amendment submitted by the Legislature will be on the ballot of the general election in November. It is familiarly referred to as an amendment to increase the tax for Confederate pensions, but, in fact, it has more latitude, as indeed has the existing provision of the Constitution. The changes that this amendment will make are as follows: The existing provision authorizes aid to "indigent and disabled" Confederate soldiers and sailors and widows of the same. The amendment substitutes "or" for "and." The existing provision bars veterans who came to Texas after Jan. 1, 1900, and widows who were married to veterans after that day. The amendment substitutes 1910 for 1900. The existing provision authorizes pensions to persons who served in the militia of Texas or in organizations for the protection of the frontier "for a period of at least six months" during the war between the States. The amendment omits the words "for a period of at least six months." Each of these changes enlarges the list of persons eligible to State pensions. The existing provision authorizes and ad valorem tax of not to exceed five cents for pensions. The amendment would raise the limit to seven cents. The article to be amended is a declaration that the Legislature shall have no power to grant aid to individuals, with provisos. Originally it contained a proviso reading as follows: "Provided that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity. When the amendment of 1912 was written so as to provide for the five cent tax, said calamity proviso was inadvertently omitted. The present amendment would restore it.

DECLINE OF SOCIALISM.

The Socialist party has resolution enough to oppose the Ku Klux Klan by name, but it has lost much of its numerical strength. Until recent times there was a Socialist party of considerable proportions in this country, just as there still is in England, France and other European countries. The Socialist vote in the United States grew from 94,768 in 1900 to 919,799 in 1920. But during the last four years the organization has dwindled to such an extent that little is left of it, according to one of its members, the former editor of the New York Call, who is quoted as saying in regard to his party's decline:

"In 1912 there were 70 Socialist papers published in English in the United States and 31 in foreign languages. In 1923 there were not more than 29 Socialist weeklies published in English, and a dozen in foreign languages. This excludes the trade union and Communist weeklies which Socialists have always ignored except to attack and deride. In 1923 the Socialist were obliged to sell their building in Chicago where they maintained national headquarters and to move to a loft of modest capacity. In 1912 one hundred persons were on the payroll of the national office. In 1923 this number had been reduced to five."

It is likely that the instinctive individualism of the American people made the United States an unpromising field from the outset, but perhaps the chief cause of this rapid decline is to be found in the disillusion following the scandalous methods and tragic consequences of the experiment which has plunged unshackled Russia into worse slavery and far greater unhappiness and suffering.

WHY LEAVE OUR BAND OUT.

Some funny things happen. Most always there is a reason for it, and we presume there is a reason for the Slaton Band coming to Lubbock to make music for the big "free" barbecue that is to be held here next Wednesday. But we cannot figure out just why the Lubbock band was not honored by furnishing the music for the occasion. We are sure that they can produce as good music as any band in this section, and they are all home men, and should certainly be taken into consideration. Of course, we know that this is supposed to be a county affair, and all towns in the county are invited to participate, and that is well and good, but why should the Slaton band be advertised as furnishing the music and leave the local band out all together? From the advertising literature that is being distributed telling about the big blow out, one would infer that Lubbock has no band, and the "25,000" people who are coming will never know that Lubbock has a band. The "Citizens' Committee" evidently has a reason for this, but the Lubbock band may not know why, and we imagine like about 12,000 other people in Lubbock just how it all came about.

A GOOD ENDING.

Two Republicans were talking about the political outlook before the Democratic convention met. One of them was pretty despondent about the chances of his own party, what with the charges of corruption, the slump of business, and so on. But the other, older man, rubbed his hands and said: "My boy, don't forget that the Democrats can always be depended upon to pull us out of our troubles by getting into worse ones of their own." —New York Times.

The above seemed very appropriate and pointed on the morning of July 9, when it appeared in print, but on the afternoon of the same day it was not quite so convincing, for the Democratic convention had enthusiastically and almost unanimously nominated the man who is widely regarded as the very best choice they could have made. As the British government and people have so often done, the Democratic convention "muddled through" at last, turning impotent groping and almost despair into enthusiastic activity and hope. And no doubt it will be found that the conflict of factions was less serious than it appeared to be. The delegates fought stubbornly for their favorites, but is it only reasonable to conclude that such real bitterness as there was has now passed away and that a united party will support John W. Davis. A glance at leading Democratic papers shows that the wind-up after long travail is hailed with great satisfaction.

MIXUP IN THE OFFICIAL BALLOT.

In the copy of the official ballot printed in the Morning Avalanche Sunday, there appeared a slight mixup, in the heading under which some of the fellows are running for, which was rather confusing. We are re-printing this ballot in this issue of the Avalanche, and hope you will look it over and use it instead of the one Sunday.

The mayor of Binghamton, N. Y., having appealed to Governor Smith for advice as to what to do about a Ku Klux convention at that place of "from 5,000 to 50,000" members, planning a grand march through the streets, Governor Smith sent word to "let them parade." This was sound; any organization has a right to parade, provided no law is broken.

About 50,000 New York children are satisfying their desire for play and need of summer occupation in the 20 churches, which opened Monday under the auspices of the Metropolitan Federation of Daily Vacation Bible Schools for one month, ending August 8. Thirty Protestant denominations are represented in this undertaking which is in its sixth year.

According to the Panama Canal Record of June 14, "during the month of May, 1924, 60 vessels carrying 10,000 or more tons of cargo transited the Canal." Perhaps this editor has taken too literally the advice to apizing writers to avoid hackneyed expressions, which might account for his impossible "transited" in lieu of "passed through."

HUERTA BRANDS CHARGES AS VILLAINOUS LIE AND BLAMES OBREGON AND CALLES WITH RECENT REVOLUTION IN MEXICO

By United News.
HOUSTON, Texas, July 21.—A new story of the death of Felipe Carrillo Puerto, hero of villain-governor of Yucatan was backed up to a blank wall and shot last winter, has just come to light here.

The story is contained in a letter written by Adolfo de la Huerta, former minister of finance of Mexico and leader of the recent revolution which terminated so disastrously for him.

In addition to a bitter attack on President Obregon, of Mexico, and General Calles, at present a candidate for that office, the letter declares that a statement issued by Calles just before the presidential election in Mexico two weeks ago charging de la Huerta with responsibility for Carrillo's death, is a "villainous lie" and that Obregon and Calles are responsible for the recent revolution.

De la Huerta refers Obregon and Calles to the files of the telegraph office in Vera Cruz containing an order signed by de la Huerta as supreme chief of the revolution in which he expressly declared against capital punishment.

Calles, because of his long association with me knows perhaps better than any other man my extreme respect for human life," the letter says.

"The entire nation knows how to deal with these diatribes and calumnies with which the impostors Obregon and Calles seek to saturate the political life of Mexico."

De la Huerta is now a political refugee from his country, and his whereabouts are unknown to us but his close friends. The letter was written to Jorge Prieto-Lourens, former mayor of Mexico City, former speaker of the Mexican house of representatives and governor of a part of Mexico.

Prieto Laurens, quit his post as governor when the revolution started last year, and became the right hand man of de la Huerta. At present he is the publisher of La Tribuna a Spanish language daily here, which today publishes the letter.

A duplicate of the letter also signed by de la Huerta is in the hands of J. M. Alvarez del Castillo, diplomatic representative of the de la Huerta government in Washington, D. C.

the state demands that they hang for their crimes.

For a moment the police Loeb and Leopold has manifested from the time they entered court deserted them. But it soon came back as they heard their counsel insist that the indictments of the defendants were such that they proved the defendants to be "morally irresponsible" for their deed.

Darrow plainly elated over the outcome of his coup walked over to the desks of the defendants and shook hands with them. Crowe left the room with his assistants. Later he and his assistants retired to a place outside the criminal court buildings where they commenced preparing to present rebuttal witnesses on Wednesday.

Crowe announced that he would put on the stand every witness he had intended to call, if the trial had started August 4. In the new proceedings, however, Justice Caverly said there would be little cross examination. Later in the day Jacob Franks, father of the murdered boy and Samuel Ettleson, his attorney were closeted with Crowe and his aides.

At the conclusion of the conference Franks said "I am more than satisfied with the turn this case has taken. The pleas of guilty are in part to be taken as tribute to the thoroughness with which the state prepared its case."

"There will be no escape for these killers. There could have been none, even if the case had gone to trial. Any jury would have voted to hang Leopold and Loeb for their vicious crime."

"And nothing to come will save them from hanging, in my opinion. The very fact that they entered a plea of guilty forbids their later use of any insanity plea. And so far as the mitigating circumstances are concerned, well, we have witnesses who will attend to all those circumstances in a manner that will be eminently satisfactory."

"I intend to see to it that these two brutal killers go to the gallows for their crimes."

Calm and debonair, Leopold and Loeb had entered the court room attired in the most correct habits that they and their valets can devise for most important appearance before public. Leopold wore a gray suit of costly texture, a stiff white collar, a blue-black four-in-hand tie, dark silk socks and expensive tan oxfords.

Leopold wore a dark suit—a woolen mixture and white collar, a blue bow tie with yellow polka dots, black silk hose and a yellow and black oxfords. Both boys had their hair slicked back. Loeb's hair had more of a gloss than that of Leopold and it was a bit more carefully brushed. The two resembled young gentlemen of fashion and leisure much more than they did two brutal slayers about to plead guilty to revolting crimes.

Leopold and Loeb had been brot into a court room filled with an excited milling crowd. Even a statement directing that order be maintained, read by Justice Caverly failed to keep people in their seats after the slayers had arrived before the bar. Court attaches, lawyers, friends

THOUGHT

When Darrow, at the conclusion of a lengthy address in which he said his defense admitted the facts contained in the confessions made by Leopold and Loeb, announced that his clients wished to withdraw previous pleas of guilty a sudden hush prevailed. Most of those in court were too astonished, too stunned, to even move. Many newspapermen falled for a few minutes to grasp the significance of Darrow's remarks.

PUBLIC OPINION

HOW THOUGHTFUL SOME PEOPLE ARE

The Circulation Manager received through the mail this evening a specially prepared folder and a ticket with names of parties, according to the Democratic Constitutional Club of Lubbock County "who were never members of the Ku Klux Klan not endorsed by it."

We are as much at sea as to who are members of this club as we are to who belong to the Klan. We have not affiliated with either of these organizations. The circulation manager does not have to "make a re-affirmation of faith in the constitution of the United States and of the Bill of Rights and of the Constitution of the United States and of neither does he have to join any kind of any organization other than the Democratic party to be a 100 per cent American."

We have tried to keep posted on men and measures, who will be voted for next Saturday and it matters not to us as to what church, lodge, club or secret order to which they belong if they are honest, competent men. We expect to vote for the man, who in our opinion is a Democrat and qualified to fill the office to which he aspires.

We do not need a specially prepared ticket furnished us so that when we go to scratch our ballot in the voting booth, we may use same as a guide. Nay, Pauline! When we get to where we cannot make out our ticket we will quit voting, but until that time arrives we are going to vote as we see fit—please and insist that everybody else does the same thing.

Just because a man belongs to this or that order does not qualify or disqualify him for public office, no more than for a man to have his name on some church roll qualifies him for salvation.

We need good men in office. Let's put them there.

Just Folks

What will others say to hear from your hasty lips some speech? Or to see you, blind to all, save the goal you have set for yourself? Is it worth the brag of shame? Would a real man do this? Think your honor comes by chance or success by hit or miss? No, true character is made; made by sacrifice and toil. Made by men who stop to think ere their records here they spoil. Is it honest, is it clean, is it what a man would do? Should I want the world to know that I did it, once it's through? Will it lift or drag me down, will it serve me or betray? These are two things to ask yourself when temptation comes your way. Take the time to think it out and consider while you can; For it's only careful thought that can ever make a man.

BOMAR MOORE DEFEATS CHAS. OLSON IN FAST MATCH MONDAY NIGHT TAKING FIRST TWO FALLS IN RAPID SUCCESSION

Bomar Moore, of Anson, and formerly of Lubbock, won a decision over Charles Olson, local wrestler at the Civic Auditorium Monday evening, winning the first two falls in rapid succession in 2 minutes and 40 seconds with the bout promised to be a good one but came to an unexpected climax when Moore after Olson had been stung in first fall, kept getting continuous head scissors until Olson was thoroughly addled, throwing him very quickly.

Moore had the edge on Olson throughout the match in spears and getting holds, but Olson was able to take much punishment. The bout was a good one however and was enjoyed by the big audience.

The match was preceded by good preliminaries. Battling Dakin and Tony "The Dogo News Boy," both of San Antonio furnished a splendid boxing match, winning a four round bout in the third round with a knockout.

Immediately after the match Thor Jensen of Hereford, Texas and who has eleven years experience as a wrestler, challenged Moore the winner of Monday evening for a match Wednesday evening, was accepted. The benefits of this bout go to the local band, every fan in Lubbock is urged to attend—invite all our friends for an evening of good wrestling is assured you.

TIGERS CLOSING IN GAP ON LEAGUE LEADING YANKS

The already slim lead of the Yankees in the American League race became even more narrow when they lost the first game of a series of four to the second place Tigers in New York by a score of 2 to 1.

Last game at this stage of the game the Detroiters were embedded in fourth place with only a remote chance of reaching the top. This year, however, they are hitting harder than ever and their pitching staff which got off to a poor start gradually is rounding into shape.

The Washington Senators are only a short distance behind Detroit and should after club fail to eject the Yanks, the team from the capital will overtake the task. The Senators triumphed in Monday's match with the White Sox by 16 to 2, while the Browns emerged triumphantly from a game with the Athletics by 4 to 2.

In the National League, the Giants margin of leadership was whittled down to six games when they lost

LOCALS WIN FROM AMARILLO THERE SUNDAY 8 TO 7

AMARILLO, Texas, July 21.—Sled Allen and his nine of amateur ball players invaded the local park Sunday afternoon, and in a sea-saw game in which one would take the lead then the other, with an occasional tie count the invading squad captured final honors in an 8 to 7 count.

Terry initiated mound duty for the visitors, but was relieved in the seventh by "Southpaw" Sanders. Amarillo took the lead in counting with one run in the first session, and another in the second.

Lubbock, held scores for the first three innings, came back in the fourth for two runs, tying the count, and in the sixth took a heavy lead by driving in four runs.

DeLong, playing right field for Lubbock, hit for the circuit in this inning with two mates ahead. Amarillo counted in their half of the sixth when they tied the count, which battle raged unaffected until the first half of the ninth.

Opening this inning Lubbock scored two runs on errors and two hits, and rally on the part of the local lads fell short by one run.

DeLong led in hitting honors of the day with five for three.

According to uncompleted plans formulated immediately following the game, the locals may invade the Lubbock park next Sunday.

WHEAT RECEIPTS REACH NEW HIGH

KANSAS CITY, July 21.—Wheat receipts mounted to record high levels in the Kansas City market Monday, when 1,289 cars of the 1924 bumper crop were delivered for shipment to world points.

Trade in wheat on the local board of trade totalled over 2,000,000 for the day, as wheat growers took advantage of exceptional market conditions and exchanged their crops for cash at an average price of $1.25 per bushel.

Exactly 1,611,250 bushels of wheat largely from Kansas fields, were delivered at the Kansas City exchange establishing a new high level in receipts for the year and almost totaling the historic record of a single day three years ago when 1,533 cars passed through the local market.

Wheat farmers for the first time in years were lifting themselves from burdensome debts, with the sale of their crops. Many Kansas farmers after receiving checks for their wheat deliveries declared:

"That'll pay off the mortgage, and buy seed for the next crop."

Cash handlers and speculators bought recklessly at the top prices as the farmers hauled their crop to market.

"We are expecting still higher prices" one of them said. "The market can't go down with the nationwide shortage in view. We are storing this wheat anticipating even higher prices in the fall."

Flames Threatened Building At 1620 7th Street Mon.

Flames that originated in a stack of kindling near the garage at the rear of a residence at 1620 7th street, was extinguished by members of the Lubbock fire department at 4:10 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The flames had not gained much headway when the alarm was given and the firemen lost no time in reaching the scene.

The usual difficulty of making speed with the heavy fire truck over the rough streets was experienced, and "everything that was loose was shaken from the truck," according to Chief Twitty.

Nothing looks better on a girl than a bathing suit; but not, however, absolutely nothing.

HENRY FORD BELIEVES BEST METHOD OF KEEPING PEACE IS TO BE IN SHAPE TO PULL BIG SCRAP IF NECESSARY

By United News.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Henry Ford, who sailed hopefully for Europe during the great war on his famous but futile mission of "getting the boys out of the trenches by Christmas" now has a new peace formula. He would have the United States prevent war by arming itself in greater strength than the world has ever known.

Ford's latest views on war are revealed in an interview with Samuel Crowther, in Collier's for this week. Whereas in the old days, the automobile manufacturer believed in peace by mortality alone, he believes now that the war can be ended by Uncle Sam wielding the big stick, and developing Muscle Shoals.

"The potential nitrate production of Muscle Shoals," Ford declares in the interview, "will make the United States independent of Chilean nitrate. This would enable us to manufacture high explosives on a colossal scale, undreamed of by munitions manufacturers and thus develop war power beyond anything that has ever been known."

"In the interests of peace," Ford adds, "it seems that we shall have to do it."

In view of his record in automobile production special interest is attached to Ford's prediction that commercial airplanes eventually will be built "by the thousands or by the millions." Ford believes airplanes can be developed for commercial purposes "as soon as they are taken up in a commercial way."

Ground at the Dearborn plant has been given over to an aviation field and Ford predicts that "as soon as we know as much about airplanes as we do about automobiles—and that will not be long—then they can be built by the thousands or by the millions."

Reverting to war, Ford holds that the institution is not inevitable. "The world does not seem to be tired of war," he told the interviewer.

"In spite of the fact that everybody lost and nobody won in the last war, people are still thinking that force and force alone, is important, and they are going to go on thinking in that way until a force appears which makes the biggest forces they can muster trivial in comparison."

"That force is latent in Muscle Shoals; the manufacturer believes it must be developed unless an enormous expenditure is to be totally scrapped."

"Petty larceny wars" according to Ford "will die out of themselves. We cannot prevent all war, but we can prevent some wars."

"International justice is very apt to be power-balanced against power, instead of right balanced against right," he continued, "the queer combination of banking and business abroad results in a war as a contest for markets, in Ford's belief."

"The home market is our chief concern," he concluded. "We have no temptation to make war for trade purposes."

The manufacturer describes the boosting of the price of nitrates as "poor business" and declares that nitrate profits could be multiplied readily by selling nitrate products to the farmers as cheaply as possible.

EL PASOAN HERISHES BEATING BY DICKENS

EL PASO, July 21.—To get a sound thrashing and cherish it as one of the pleasant reminiscences of life, is rather unusual, but Jas. G. Finch, 83 year old upholsterer, of El Paso, wears a broad smile as he relates how Charles Dickens the author once gave him a good lambasting.

"Dickens caught me in his pear orchard one day when I was ten years old and gave me a good licking," Mr. Finch declared. "You will know where to get pears after this," Mr. Finch said Dickens told him.

"You have given me a sound reminder and I ought to remember," Mr. Finch replied.

Mr. Finch was born and reared across the street from the Dickens Gadsden home. His brother was a coachman for Gladstone, and one of his most valued possessions is a cane that Gladstone once used.

TECH COLLEGE OF INTEREST TO BOYS

Arthur Dyer and Fred Greene, of Crosbyton, were in Lubbock Monday and called at the Avalanche office. They are intensely interested in the work that is being done toward building the Texas Technological College and are prospective students of that institution.

Fred is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Greene of Crosbyton, and is the last of their four sons to be in school, the other three having graduated from the public and high schools of this state and also from higher educational institutions, including the State University and it is well indeed that such promising students as him are interested in the new school.

"Will the school be equal to other educational institutions to which one could go during its first term?" is one of the questions asked by the students. They were assured that President Horn will see that the very best instructors available are employed for the college during the first term as well as during the succeeding ones, and that the interests of the students will be safeguarded in every instance.

The Texas Technological College is to be one of the great institutions of the South, and it is well that such young men as Messrs. Dyer and Greene begin now to plan entering its doors when they are thrown open to the young manhood and young womanhood of Texas in 1925.

There are many young people throughout West Texas who are interested in the work that is being done toward building the Texas Technological College, and they may all rest assured that the building committee and all members of the board of directors as well as the president of the college and others having to do with its construction are doing their best to see that it will be ready for the 1925 term, and there is no doubt but that it doors will be thrown open in September, 1925, as scheduled. Crosbyton will furnish some of the students for the college during the first term, as will practically every other community on the plains.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Vigilato family goat has been sacrificed on the altar of the law. SHORTAGE CAUSES LIMIT ADVANCE ON COTTON

By United News.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Cotton provided the sensation in the commodity market during the opening session of the week when the price of the futures advanced to a new high, the trading limit, when the department of agriculture announced at mid-day the mid-month condition of the crop as 68.5 percent of normal, as of July 16. The average guess had been 71.6 percent. The government figures indicate a yield of 11,934,000 bales. This mid-month report is the first issued in recent years. Heretofore the government has issued a single monthly report, coming about the tenth of the month and indicating the condition as of the first. There is, therefore, no direct comparison available with the present figures. On June 25, last, the government made the condition of 71.2 percent with the indicated yield 12,144,000 bales.

Insect pests were prominently mentioned in the report, the well known weevil giving way to another pest, the "flea" which has been travaging certain districts in the extreme southern portion of the belt. Excessive rainfall is recorded in some parts of the Atlantic states and drought in Northern Louisiana.

Wall street, however, was inclined to eye the report narrowly inasmuch as cotton eased off $3 to $5 a bale in the peak reached at mid-day. It will be seen that the principal losses were sustained by the Carolinas and Louisiana, according to the report, due in no small measure to weevil activity, but private reports received here indicate that the weevil has been far less active than last year in these sections. It is argued that the reports for these states have been based on heavy damage by weevil so that the present percentage allocated undershot the mark.

The next government report will be issued the second week in August as of August 1. On Tuesday July 22, the census bureau will issue a report on the cotton picking industry in June 5.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said: "I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up. "I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling. "I would get depressed and out of heart. "I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse. "I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results. "I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up. "Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it." "Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others. MARKETS

TRADERS WATCHING REPRATIONS RESULTS

By EDWARD J. CONDLON (United News Financial Editor)

NEW YORK, July 21.—There was no denying the upward march of the prices on the stock exchange during the opening session of the week, and the industrials averaged nearly a point higher and the rails almost half a point. Traders had one eye on the commodity markets and the other on the dispatches reporting progress of the allied conference in London.

Even the announcement at midday of the 50 per cent reduction in the dividend rate in Standard Oil failed to have any effect upon the market. Indeed, the stock of the company in question gained more than four points as the declines of last week apparently discounted on even greater cuts.

Even the further reductions in both crude and refined oil prices failed to shake public confidence in the oil shares, and the market held steady to firm in the section of the list. United States Steel closed two points above par in an active round of trading, thus establishing a new high on the movement.

It was the cotton market, however, that the biggest sensation of the day was sprung. On a condition report by the government at midday, making the cotton crop 68.5 per cent of normal as of July 16, as against the private estimates averaging 71.6 per cent, the market reacted sharply.

The grain markets experienced a general evening up of the technical position following the rapid advance of last week and prices were off a cent or more all down the line. However, in the livestock market, live hogs sold at $8.50, the highest price since 1923.

The question has been raised in not a few journals as to whether the present sensational advance of farm products prices was not primarily window dressing by the political party now in power in order to offset the political opposition, who are endeavoring to capitalize on the unrest in the agricultural districts. If this question requires a serious answer and there are many who assert that it does not, the reply must be that poor tactics are being employed for a rise before election time would count for more than advances some months previous.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that upon final hearing hereof, it have its judgment for the sum of $403.44, with interest and costs against the said A. S. Harper; that the cause of the non-payment of interest on the $948.50 note, which was due June 1, 1922, June 1, 1923, and June 1, 1924, is declared the principal of said note and all interest due. Wherefore, it prays that its judgment against the said Harper be declared a lien on such $288.00 note, together with deed of trust on lot 6, Block 108, securing same, and that said deed of trust be foreclosed and it be given judgment for full amount of said collateral note against defendants Brown and Willett, and that the lien be foreclosed and said lot be sold to satisfy judgment and for any and all other relief, to which it may be entitled, etc.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court at office in Lubbock, Texas, on this 21st day of July, A. D. 1924.

Louis F. Moore, Clerk, District Court, Lubbock Co., Tex. 228-2Tues

LAND OWNERS WILLING TO SIGN BONUS CONTRACTS THAT ASSURE CONSTRUCTION OF THE R. R. WEST

"We have not been refused by a single landowner in asking them to sign the bonus contracts that will make it possible to build the railroad west from Lubbock," declared J. A. Wilson Monday.

Mr. Wilson stated that the level-land chamber of commerce was co-operating in helping to get quite a number of the owners of small tracts of land in Hockley county to sign the bonus contracts, and that practically all of the large land owners have already signed and others have promised to do so at the first opportunity.

Mr. Wilson stated that an unexpected number of prospectors had visited his office during the past three days which had made it almost impossible for him to devote his time to securing signers, but that it is evident now that the project will be put over within a short time.

"We have not secured pledges from the landowners in Cochran county as yet because we have not solicited them, but just as soon as we have had all landowners in Hockley county sign bonus contracts we will start signing up those who live in Cochran county and believe that our efforts will meet with the same encouragement that has been shown by the Hockley county landowners," Mr. Wilson stated.

The importance of building this road is readily realized by local business men, who understand something of what part it will play in the further development of the section it is to traverse.

There has been much said about the possibilities of building the road but now the project is about to become a reality and it will be but a few weeks now until every preparation to start actual construction has been made.

in their work during the remainder of the summer.

Communion service was observed at the morning hour and Rev. Jack M. Lewis, the pastor, delivered a great message from the text: Behold I stand at the Door and Knock. This service was well attended.

At the evening hour the service was given over to a consideration of Christian citizenship.

An outstanding social event of the week that has been planned is a Sunday school picnic to be given Thursday evening at the Experiment station, which many members of the Sunday school will no doubt attend.

RUSSIA ON VERGE OF AGREEMENT WITH JAPAN

By MOTO TAKATA
(UP Staff Correspondent)

OSAKA, Japan, (By Mail to United Press.)—Japan and Russia are on the verge of making an agreement. The outlook of the private parley between M. Karahan, Russian Envoy at Peking, and Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister at Peking, is so promising that a draft agreement might be reached before long if there is no serious obstacle on both sides.

Apparently people in Japan generally hope for an early settlement and understanding, realizing importance and necessity to restore Russo-Japanese relations. They think that it is not only of immense material benefit to Japan, who is poor in natural resources, but it is imperative to restore the friendly relations with Russia. Especially after the unfortunately incident with America on recent immigration issue, Japanese people urge for the early settlement. Everywhere in the world the Japanese people are meeting with cold reception. In all countries inhabited by Anglo-Saxons Japanese are preemptorily excluded. At such a time Russia is desirous of the cooperation of Japanese in the exploitation of Siberia, which has inexhaustible supplies of natural resources. When such an excellent opportunity is placed within Japan's grasp, where is the necessity of Japanese forcing their entry into the lands of Anglo-Saxons? So they look to Kato.

It is true that the impending political change has called a halt to all diplomatic problems toward settlement, but the Kato ministry is expected to encourage early settlement of the Russian question. They now regard that should the present negotiations fail, another opportunity would not come for a very long time. This consideration makes it imperative for the authorities to pay the closest attention and work most earnestly for a speedy conclusion of the negotiations in progress. It is not only on the part of Japan but also on the part of Russia that realize of the desirability of an immediate settlement. Russia has now fully realized that Japan constitutes a very important factor in the settlement of all problems pertaining to the Far East, and that without an understanding with her it is impossible for Russia to do anything in the Far East. Formerly the heads of the Russian government had rather been antagonistic to Japan, but now they are changed to a great deal. Even M. Trozky now expresses his hope for a friendly understanding with Japan. These factors contributed to make the present parley in Peking more hopeful than ever.

According to the latest reports, an agreement of views has already been arrived between the parties on practically all important problems, on which Japan demands from Russia a sincere apology. The Nikolaevsk issue was a fatal obstacle in all the Russo-Japanese parleys in the past and so long as there exists disagreement on this issue there can be no bright prospect for the negotiations. In their recent parleys, Japan has abandoned her claim of indemnity for individuals; she simply demands an apology from Russia as to save her face. This is clear proof of her reconciliatory attitude. At the last parleys this demand was refused by M. Joffe and M. Karahan seems just as reluctant.

Northern Saghalien

Another difficulty lies in the issue of Northern Saghalien. During the discussion with M. Joffe, the question of purchase was discussed, but Japan's idea of a price was a sum just about equal to the debts owing to her by the Tsarist Government, while Russia's idea was at least ten times as much. The questions of debts and fisheries had been also serious obstacles at the past parleys, but these do not constitute any serious difficulties at the present parleys.

Undoubtedly the Anglo-Russian negotiations in London have been closely observed by the Japanese authorities and they would have some effects upon the present parleys or any other future negotiations between Japan and Russia. It would be especially so when the question is taken up by the hand of Viscount Kato who is anxious to have closer cooperation with Allied Government on this and any other international affairs.

"A Soldier of Fortune"

"A SOLDIER OF FORTUNE!" Truly, a fitting title for the little clock-safe pictured above. On guard twenty-four hours of the day, protecting the future of its owner. Seeing to it that something is laid aside each day toward a "nest-egg."

Perhaps not a "Fortune" in the end, but sufficient to provide the comforts and pleasures that make life worth while.

The clock runs for twenty-four hours before re-winding is necessary. Then, before it can be rewound, a nickel, dime or quarter must be deposited.

Depositing a coin each day soon becomes a habit—a habit that, almost before you know it, results in a Bank Account of importance. The Coin Clock is most attractive and a perfect timekeeper. Opening a Savings Account here secures it.

and while the time for closing the stores has not been definitely settled upon, it is generally believed that the grocery stores will close thirty minutes after the dry goods stores close, which is at six o'clock. The dry goods merchants have been closing their stores promptly at this time, and with the grocery stores closing at 6:30 as contemplated, the employees will have a great deal more time for recreation in the evenings.
