Two Killed, One Fatally Wounded by Cameron Farmer

TROUBLE AROSE OVER REPROVAL OF YOUNG GIRL

ABE CLAXTON SURRENDERS TO OFFICERS FOLLOWING SHOOTING

By United News. CAMERON, Texas, July 23.—Otto Junik, and Jim McAlpine farmers living on the old Barrett place, were killed here Wednesday afternoon and Mrs. McAlpine was fatally wounded, after Junik had reproved the daughter of Abe Claxton, neighboring farmer for using cistern water to wash clothes. The girl was employed at the Junik home. Claxton surrendered to officers and is in jail. Mrs. McAlpine is in a hospital and will die. A rifle bullet which broke her husband's arm penetrated her body. Both men leave large families. According to the children's story to officers, Junik told Claxton of admiring the girl a second time Wednesday against the cistern water for washing and that Claxton rushed to his home, returning immediately with his rifle, and that he began firing as he approached the house.

15 LOSE LIVES IN APARTMENT HOUSE BLAZE

TWO WEALTHY REALTORS HELD FOR ARSON AND MANSLAUGHTER

By United News. KANSAS CITY, July 23.—Louis Goldstein, wealthy realtor, and Joe Lascola, were charged with arson and manslaughter Wednesday night following an inquest into an apartment house explosion and fire here which took a toll of 15 lives. Charges against the two men were filed by county prosecutors after Lascola, a tenant, testified he had purchased twenty 10 gallon cans of kerosene and stored them in a room on the first floor. Lascola said he had rented space in the building for a grocery. Emmett Scanlon, fire inspector, testified that he had made an exhaustive investigation of the blast and that he was convinced that the building, which was owned by Goldstein, had been blown up, and fired by an incendiary. Twenty charred gasoline containers were found in the rains. The cans had been "planted," Scanlon said and were uncorked. This, coupled with Lascola's testimony that he had stored twenty cans of the inflammable materials in the building led to the arrests. Goldstein was summoned to the inquest late Wednesday and questioned concerning other buildings he owned, including two that were razed by explosions. Testimony was also presented to show that the building had been heavily insured. Fifteen bodies were removed from the wreckage of Goldstein's building after the explosion and fire early last Thursday morning. Three of the dead were firemen and the remainder negro tenants.

3,000 FISHERMEN GO ON STRIKE WEDNESDAY ASKING FOR MORE PAY

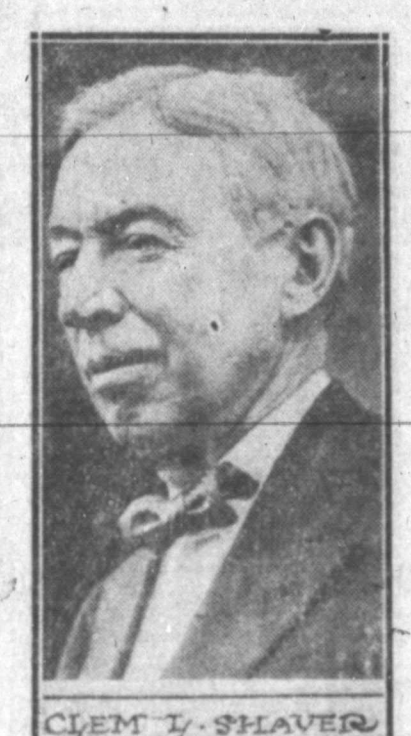

SAN PEDRO, July 23.—Three thousand fishermen went on strike here Wednesday after their demands for higher pay had been refused. In the middle of the tuna fishing season, the action ties up eleven canneries and throws 2,000 men and women out of employment. The fishermen on strike operate 700 boats out of San Diego and San Pedro. During the first four weeks of the season 6,000 tons of albacore were caught and canneries handled the product to the value of $3,500,000. The men were being paid $220 per ton for the fish, considered the choicest variety of the season's catch.

MINISTER SAYS CAN'T ACCEPT TERMS OF ALLIES

THREATENS RESIGNATION IF RUHR EVACUATION DATE NOT SET

By United News. BERLIN, July 23.—Foreign Minister Stresemann, it is understood to have confided in friends that he will quit office rather than accept the allied terms which fail to stipulate the date for evacuation of the Ruhr. This report which gained currency while Stresemann, awaiting an invitation to proceed to London Thursday and appear before the allied conference, represents the German temper toward the enactment of the Dawes program. Stresemann is said to feel that he cannot accept the responsibility for any settlement, which does not insure evacuation on a definite date. Chancellor Marx, who also scheduled to go to London, is not quite so strong in his views. He has indicated he would go as far as his colleagues in resisting the allies. The foreign ministers firm attitude may be designed partly for foreign consumption as it is clear that he is perplexed over the demands of the nationalists, who threaten to prevent the application of the Dawes plan unless it is preceded by fixation of a date for the Ruhr evacuation. Reichstag members other than the nationalists, have told the United States that recent events in London appear to dispense any doubts about German approval of the Dawes plan. They believe the nationalists fight against acceptance will die out ending in a retreat of the opposition. American and British insistence for guarantees for the $200,000,000,000 from Germany which is interpreted here as insistence on French restraint has bettered the German prospect for fulfillment of the Dawes recommendations. Details of the new railroad bill for carrying out the provisions of the experts report have leaked out. The bill provides for issuance of thirteen billion marks of common stock and two billions of preferred. From the sale of the stock one third will go to the reich, and the rest to the railroad company of which thus will become the largest corporation in the world. From the operation of the railroads under the Dawes plan Germany will produce a major share of her payment on the reparations account.

LIMITED TRAIN CRASHES PARTY OF PICNICKERS

FOUR OTHERS PROBABLY DIE WITH TEN MORE IN HOSPITAL

OAK HARBOR, July 23.—A high school picnic party ended tragically here when a fast New York Central train ploughed through the picnic bus, and killed ten members of the party. Four others were injured so seriously that they are not expected to live and ten others are in the hospital. The picnic was an annual affair of a club from the Attica high school. The party left early Wednesday morning in the bus for a picnic resort near Oak Harbor. Driver Not Watching. Tired and worn from the days fun of the 27 picnickers were looting in the big cross country bus as it approached the New York Central tracks. Spangler the driver of the bus, apparently paid no attention to the on-coming Chicago-Cleveland limited which makes no stop at Oak Harbor. He drove on to the track before he saw the train and could not stop the bus. According to passengers on the train the engineer had been whistling for several minutes as he approached the grade crossing. At the train neared the track, the engineer threw on the brakes, but the momentum was too great and the train slid into the bus. Victims Strwn Along Track. The bus was rolled over several times and dragged for more than 300 feet down the right of way. Victims were strewn about on the tracks and several of the dead were mangled under the locomotive. Passengers and crew gave first aid to the injured and passing motor cars commandeered to carry them to hospitals. Several passengers were overcome at the sight of the tragedy, and forced to return to the train. The engineer collapsed when he saw the results of the accident. Friends aided him in returning to the engine cab. Many passengers exonerated him from blame in connection with the accident.

NEGRO CONVICT ROASTED ALIVE

VICTORIA, Tex. July 23.—One negro was roasted alive another burned badly and two others less seriously burned when a gasoline fire destroyed one of the county road camps houses at Darnell Station, 8 miles south of this city, at 9 o'clock Tuesday night. Four negroes were occupying the house. Jeff Davis, a county convict, was chained to the inside wall, and two of the others had retired for the night. One of the negroes with a lantern on his arm entered with a gasoline spray and began spraying the room to drive away mosquitoes, when the flames broke out. Within the shack it was a furnace of fire and flames protruded out through the doors and windows. Spencer Jackson, Abraham Brown and Tom Holm, the convicts, were out of the fire, leaving Davis who was chained, behind. The chain was long enough to permit Davis getting his body outside the door, but the flames drove rescuers away. He called for them to throw him a rope, which was done. He urged them to pull him loose. Five or six men tugged and heaved at the rope, while the flames roared. Finally, Davis was pulled loose, minus one leg which had been burned off at the ankle. The flesh falling from his legs while he was being rushed to the hospital, Davis remained conscious up to a late hour and died at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning.

BOY SLEEPS WHILE WOLVES ATTACK FORD TRUCK

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 23.—Train Ellison, 16, country big game hunter, shouldered his trusty .22 calibre rifle and rode with his father in their Ford truck to Broken Arrow late last night. He hoped to get a cotton tail rabbit, a scissor tailed Jaybird, or some other animal upon whose pail he could demonstrate his prowess with the new rifle. But during the long ride Frank got sleepy, and retired to the rear of the Ford to rest. Then as A. Ellison, the father drove across a wooded gulch west of Cowlet out of the thicket streaked 5 red timber wolves, their eyes flashing and bushy tails erect. With a hungry growl, they leaped at the truck and one of their number attempted to bite a piece out of the fender. Ellison applied the gas and left the beasts behind. But young Frank still slumbered. He awoke at Cowlet and heard with very evident displeasure, his father's story of the big game he had failed to bag.

PORTLAND IS SWEEPED BY FIRE

FIRE ORIGINATING IN A SHINGLE MILL DOES $700,000 DAMAGE

By United News. PORTLAND, July 23.—Fire which started Wednesday afternoon in the Swift Womat Shingle mills at North Portland quickly destroyed the mills and spread to the immense building of the Pacific International Live Stock exposition and caused a loss of nearly $700,000. The large exposition building was a total loss. A strong dry wind was blowing and had carried the fire from the shingle mill to the exposition building 200 feet away. Within a few minutes after the outbreak the fire, all telephone trunk lines to the huge livestock plant of the exposition were cut. The Pacific International live stock building is valued at $650,000. E. A. Stuart, of Seattle is president of the association and O. M. Plummer is the manager. The fire presumably started from a refuse burner in the shingle mill. After destroying the mill which is opposite the main entrance to the livestock building the flames caught a transformer pole across the road cutting all electric power to the livestock plants and exposition. Break Fires Invade City. PORTLAND, July 23.—Break fires have invaded the city of Portland and Wednesday night a fire covering 50 acres is being fanned toward the city by a strong east wind. The fire started near Rocky Butte, at 94 st. and it seems impossible to prevent the destruction of many houses in its path. Early Wednesday evening the fire was sweeping toward the new shriner hospital but fire fighting forces were confident that structure could be saved. Just outside the city another fire had spread over three square miles of brush, grain and second growth timber and was within two miles of the small town of Bering, toward which it was being driven by a strong wind. Fire fighters are hampered by the dense smoke, which is being driven along the ground, and are endeavoring to control it by back-fighting. A disastrous fire similar to that which swept Berkeley California few months ago, was narrowly averted late Wednesday afternoon when an 800 acre brush fire outside the city limits was checked just as it was sweeping into the residential section. No apparatus was available because of the stock yards fire. The brush blaze was finally stopped, as Fire Chief Heider rushed street sprinklers to the scene. Now the politicians will see if it all comes out in the whitewash.

RULING FAILS TO AFFECT STEEL

MAY MEAN DIFFERENT SELLING PRACTICE SAYS PRODUCER

By United News. NEW YORK, July 23.—The action of the federal trade commission in abolishing the Pittsburgh plus system in price fixing for the steel industry has had little effect on steel prices on the market. Prices closed 3-8 of a point lower Wednesday than on Tuesday closing, but the price still remains above par. Many steel heads were of the opinion the act of the commission will have little far-reaching effect. One independent steel producer said the change would mean a different selling practice and would have no effect on cost to the consumer and no effect on steel profits. "In other words, steel competition would be calculated at competing points rather than as now at shipping points," he said. Judge E. S. Gary of the United States Steel Corporation issued a statement in connection with the ruling in which he said the corporation does not consider the case fully closed. He indicated the corporation would appeal to the courts if necessary for an equitable finding on the Pittsburgh plus system. "Personally, I do not think there ever can be a final decision on the case," Judge Gary said. He belittled the effects of the decision by pointing out the United States Steel Corporation had refrained from using the Pittsburgh plus system since litigation on the matter started several years ago. He said federal trade commission of different personnel decided it had no jurisdiction in passing on the validity of the Pittsburgh plus practice. That was several years ago he pointed out and when a new commission came in the fight was reopened.

MULLICAN SPEAKS AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

CIVIL WAR VETERAN KILLED BY TRAIN AT CORSICANA

By United News. CORSICANA, Texas, July 23.—Crossing the railroad tracks on his way to get his morning newspaper, J. M. Holland, 84, Civil War veteran, was almost instantly killed by a Cotton Belt passenger train running behind schedule, which bore down upon the unsuspecting old man. The engineer of the train saw Holland in his path but too late to bring the on-rushing train to a halt in time to avert the fatality. Holland apparently never saw or heard the train. Many movie actors can't afford a new divorce suit this summer.

STATE DEMANDS DEATH PENALTY FOR SLAYERS

DEFENDANTS LOSE POISE FOLLOWING CROWE'S BITTER ATTACK

By H. H. ROBERTSON (UN Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, July 23.—At the outset of one of the most dramatic and intense sessions ever held in a Cook county court, the state of Illinois, through its prosecutor, Robert E. Crowe, Wednesday, presented a stern demand that Nathan F. Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb hang for the murder of 14 year old Robert Franks. It was the opening of the hearing to determine to what extent the defendants were responsible for the crimes to which they had pleaded guilty. A powerful impetus to Crowe's demand for the death penalty was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Franks, parents of the murdered boy. Mr. Franks appeared during the morning session, and in the afternoon, his wife who had arisen from bed to take the stand. Both bore unmistakable evidences of grief and horror in their faces and bearing. Crowe Brands Slayes Crowe, earnest, vigorous and forceful, stood before Chief Justice John R. Caverly and in a stirring summation one that caused the defendants to lose their poise, exclaimed: "Calm of Slayers Breaks Leopold and Loeb, with a brazenness and affront that astonished frequently during the day, and even had tried to stare him out of countenance as he faced them in one of his terrific flights of denunciation. But the appearance of the parents whose son they had taken away for ever, was too much for them. Both killers gazed at the floor most of the time while "Bobby" Franks' father and mother were testifying and when Mrs. Franks entered the court room, at the start of the afternoon session, Loeb clinched his fists and neared a complete breakdown. These two young "intellectual" killers who calmly planned at least five murders for the purpose of collecting easy money could not maintain their poise and continue their sneers in the face of the agonizing grief of their victims' parents. They had pleaded guilty Monday to the indictments, they apparently believed they never would hang and perhaps they also believed that a trial without a jury, with the final decision on their fates to be made by a judge, could not result in anything very serious. Mrs. Franks' appearance in court was the most moving and intense scene of a whole series during which what was undoubtedly the most exciting session ever witnessed in a Cook county court. She was more composed than her husband had been during his testimony at the morning session. Clarence S. Darrow, chief defense counsel, who had bitterly attacked Crowe for his opening address, and later admitted that his criticism was "improper" avoided

BONHAM BOYS ARE SUSPECTED IN SCHOOL FIRE

BONHAM, Texas, July 23.—Authorities here are investigating the burning of the Gober school house several days ago on the theory that boys who saw ahead of them an untimely finish of vacation days, fired the building. Investigators explained that if such was the case, somebody was due for a disappointment for but two days before the structure was destroyed, contracts had been let for a new school. A president has a tough job. The people are his landlords and he has to argue with them every day. Can't have much fun any more. Men in Texas was fined just for hitting a baseball umpire.

THREE OTHERS ARE BADLY BURNED WHEN ROAD CAMP IS DESTROYED

EL PASO COTTON CROP FOUR TIMES GOV'T. ESTIMATE

EL PASO, Texas, July 23.—The cotton crop in El Paso county this year is about four times more than the government estimate, according to H. L. McGrogan, agricultural agent of the Southern Pacific railroad, who has just completed a county survey. He estimates that 38,000 acres were planted this year and should produce a crop of 39,000 bales of cotton. The government estimate was only 7,500 bales.

PARADE OPENED BIG PICNIC HERE

A crowd estimated at between six and seven thousand people thronged the Merrill baseball park here Wednesday to attend the Lubbock County Democratic Constitutional Club picnic and barbecue.

An automobile parade, lead by a truck carrying the uniformed Slaton band, was the opening feature of the picnic during the morning. Many cars were in the parade, which was witnessed by hundreds of local people and visitors.

Speaking started at eleven o'clock when Hon. J. K. Wester, candidate for representative of this district, spoke in behalf of his election.

Big Jim Robinson, well known throughout the plains country for his ability at preparing barbecue, superintended the huge task of preparing the thirty-one beebes that were donated for the occasion, and was assisted by many local and Slaton men in this work.

Due to the fact that the large crowds could not be served at once, the tables were fenced off and at regular intervals as many as could be accommodated were marched by the tables where they were served ample portions of barbecue, stew, bread, pickles and other good things to eat.

At 1:30 o'clock after more than six thousand plates had been served, the crowd again assembled in the grand stand and about the speakers platform to hear other candidates speak.

Pink L. Parrish, well known local man and a former resident of Crosby county, made an eloquent address in the interest of Parke N. Dalton, of Crosbyton, who is making the race for district attorney.

Mr. Parrish declared that the candidate was not and would never be a member of the Ku Klux Klan. The Klan issue was mentioned in both this address and by Mr. Wester who bitterly denounced the hooded order.

Slaton was perhaps represented by a larger attendance than any other South Plains town at the meeting. The delegation from that city was accompanied by their band, which furnished well rendered and appreciated music throughout the program.

Quite a number of the Slaton men, who are members of the club which has been organized in that city, assisted in every way possible and contributed much to the success of the program, which was appreciated by all.

Hon. George R. Bean, candidate for district judge was one of the speakers in the afternoon, and was given ten minutes in which to present his claims to the voters.

Austin J. Hatchell, who introduced and made a speech in the interest of Lynch Davidson, candidate for governor.

R. V. Dairymple, who on a previous occasion had made an anti-Klan speech here, spoke during the afternoon and was given a great deal of applause. He endorsed the candidacy for governor of T. W. Davidson.

The crowd grew larger during the late afternoon and a rodeo program that was staged following the speaking program was well attended.

Nearly everybody knows who will be our next president, but they don't all agree.

International News Service.
FORT WORTH, July 23—Although the City of Fort Worth hopes to be enriched considerably by the annexation of Niles City, a suburb, recent developments that followed the annexation threaten to make the most costly adjunct to the city limits. If courts decided against the City of Fort Worth in a suit emanating from the annexation, the drawing of Niles City under the protecting fold of Fort Worth will cost the latter city a trifling matter of almost half a million dollars.

MAKING FRIENDS.

Lubbock, through her citizenship, her organizations, such as the Chambers of Commerce, the Kiwanis and Rotary Club, has been making friends for many years because of her broad minded attitude toward the towns in this territory.

Lubbock, several years ago, realized the value of friendship, and she has courted the good will and approval of the neighboring towns, to such an extent that she today stands in the good light of every town around her for many miles. Lubbock has always taken into consideration, the question of whether what she would do might be hurtful or detrimental to the growth of the towns around, and for that reason we have the very best of feeling existing toward us. This is a very pleasing position to occupy, and one that few big towns can boast of. As a rule, when a town gets to the size and importance of Lubbock, that they kind of take the position of boss, and a domineering position, but that is not Lubbock's style. While she does control the South Plains to a certain extent, she does not make capital of it, and does not put on the boastful attitude that some other cities that we know of do.

Lubbock possibly has the biggest trade territory at the present time of any city in the west, and we are proud of it, and we shall be pleased if we can hold the trade from the territory as it is now, especially from the standpoint of wholesaling.

For this reason we believe that Lubbock should show her appreciation of the business that comes our way from up the Santa Fe toward Amherst by attending in large numbers the big celebration that Amherst is going to have on the first of August. She is going to have a party that will be worth while, and she is inviting everybody for hundreds of miles around to come and enjoy with them the blessings that they are receiving, in the bountiful rains, fine crops and splendid building program. The fattest calf will be killed, and the big pot will be put in the little one and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Lubbock should go at least a thousand strong and be headed by our splendid band, that they can help make merry and enjoy the day with those good people, they are progressive, and they are sincere in their invitation to come to their party. The Chamber of Commerce recently had a letter urging that Lubbock be well represented on that occasion, and we believe we should go.

Another thing that is meeting with much favor with Lubbock is the interest and cooperation that the Chamber of Commerce is showing in the Chambers of Commerce meetings at other towns, especially in the smaller towns where the organizations are small, and have but meager information, and capital with which to operate. They appreciate the cooperation and interest that the Chamber of Commerce is showing through our good fellowship organization, and we are making friends by the score, and they will stand by Lubbock till dooms day or at least as long as we put forth the friendly efforts to assist and help to build and develop their communities.

Making friends is a good thing with individuals as well as with towns, states and nations.

GETTING CLEANED UP ON.

The election will soon be over, or in most of the races at least, and we will be glad of it. Most of the candidates will be glad too, that the heat of the race is over, and we will have more time to devote to the civic work of the town and community.

There is a move on foot to put on a real campaign that will make a clean sweep of the whole town, and not stop with the cleaning up proposition, but as far as possible and practicable a paint-up campaign will be made also.

A beautiful homes campaign will very likely be inaugurated, and there will likely be a chance for some real keen competition in the matter of pretty homes in this city. We believe this is a fine idea, and we are glad to see such a movement as this inaugurated. It will help Lubbock more than most anything else just at this time, in making our town more attractive, more healthful, and in every way a better place to live.

Committee men have been appointed from nearly every commercial and civic organization and these committees will formulate a plan that will mean much for the improvement of conditions at this time. During the month of August we know no better plan than to make it a month of cleaning up, brightening up, and making the town pretty. In October, the fair will be on, and there will be thousands of people visit our city, and from now on, there will be many prominent visitors here, so that we should have our clean clothes on all the time.

We are a strong believer in the use of paint and powder, especially on the homes of this community. Let every fellow fall in line and make old Lubbock shine.

MR. FORD COMES OUT FOR THE CHOSEN PEOPLE.

It may be that Henry Ford was talking business and nothing but business when he gave out the New York interview to Collier's that "in the interests of peace it seems that we shall have to manufacture high explosives on a scale not yet dreamed of. It is declared in the telegraphic summaries that he would have the United States armed beyond anything that the world has ever heard about. The United States, in short, must end war by getting so thoroughly ready for it that nobody will dare mention war in our presence. The country must do that and it must develop Muscle Shoals. The Muscle Shoals item is unfortunate. It suggests a modicum of self-interest on Mr. Ford's part which he would scarcely like to have suggested.

But if we disregarded that possible incitement to the position to which Mr. Ford has brought himself, we are struck nevertheless with the singular irresponsibility of a man of the Detroit manufacturer's prominence. To appreciate the flavor of his words will carry abroad we need only to imagine reading an interview with August Thyssen recommending the arming of Germany for a new war. We have heard of Thyssen. We know a little about him. It is natural to assume that he speaks for a large portion of Germany. If he were to give utterance to such folly serious consequences might follow. Certainly the reception it would have in France and elsewhere would hurt Germany. And the foolish talk of Henry Ford is doing this country hurt in Japan and in South American countries, to say nothing of Europe.

It is a curious feature of the new doctrine of Ford that he is unconsciously adopting the "chosen people" idea which he has so viciously fought in his own publication at Dearborn. In proposing America as the policeman of the world, Mr. Ford undoubtedly thinks of Americans as God's own elect, objects of special divine favor, peculiarly fitted for the ordering of the world and for the mandate of the universal conscience of man. That the rest of the world could and would combine against any such grandiose domineering ambition of ours is a likelihood which Mr. Ford probably would in his frothy opinion ignore, but that he himself has borrowed a cardinal principle of ancient Judaism would doubtless knife him to the heart should he ever stumble upon the realization of that debtorship.—Dallas News.

CONDITIONS OF INDIANS GREATLY IMPROVED.

Results of Government Indian schools are seen not only in the wholesome attitude of its graduates toward the many occupations of business and the professions which they enter but also in cultured homes and the aspiration of parents to have their children educated and successful, is the view of the office of Indian Affairs as expressed by the commissioner in a recent number of School Life, a publication of the Bureau of Education.

An organization system for the formation of health habits has been adopted in the boarding schools and to a large extent these habits are retained in after years. Two of the most obstinate diseases known, tuberculosis and trachoma, which in the past have spread unpeppable havoc among the Indians, are now practically eliminated from Indian boarding schools.

In cooking, sewing, laundering, nursing, and poultry raising, regular instruction is given to the girls of the boarding schools and the boys have agricultural courses and practice in farming which include stock raising, plant production, care of implements, roads, grounds, and dairying, together with such knowledge of carpentry, painting, masonry, blacksmithing, engineering, etc., that is ordinarily needed on a farm. All pupils are taught gardening.

In the larger schools literary societies, religious organizations, brass bands, orchestras, choirs, athletic clubs, physical culture classes, are classes, and various other student organizations, and enterprises are maintained for cultural training.

MUST REMAIN IN SCHOOL UNTIL 16.

As a step toward living down the charge that we are "a Nation of sixth graders," many States have passed laws requiring children to remain in school until they have finished the eighth grade, or until they have reached the age of 16. Kansas and Wyoming have recently added this requirement to their laws. In both of these States the child-labor law was amended to provide that a child must not be employed until he has reached the age of 14 and has completed the eighth grade at school. Between the ages of 14 and 16 a child may work at certain occupations if he has been granted a work permit. This permit will be granted only to pupils who have completed the first eight grades.

Children younger than 16 who have not completed the eighth grade must be kept in school by their parents under penalty of the law. In Wyoming the county superintendents have been authorized to act as truant officers, and their salaries were raised to compensate them for the new duties. The superintendent of schools in a first-class county will receive $800 a year more for acting as truant officer.

Darrow answered: "Your honor, I realize that I made an improper statement, but I was so outraged over the unlawful and uncalled for remarks of the state's attorney that I could not restrain myself from saying, 'We will show that there were mitigating circumstances attending this crime; that these boys should not, under any circumstances, suffer the death penalty. They have thrown themselves on the mercy of this court. They are young. Why no persons of mature years could possibly have conceived and executed the crimes which these youths have confessed. We expect and intend to ask for clemency.'

Then Crowe arose and called for Jacob Franks. A buzz of shrill, excited conversation started and the crowd pressed forward.

Nathan Leopold, Sr., father of the defendant, who had retained his composure with difficulty during Crowe's terrific arraignment of the slayers, slumped forward his face in his hands.

Slayers Shift Nervously The two prisoners shifted about in their seats. Young Leopold, who had stared at Crowe throughout his opening address in a most astonishing manner, then craned his neck to nerve himself for his ordeal. So Edwin M. Gresham, an uncle of the murdered boy took the stand and briefly testified concerning the last time he saw his nephew alive, and the next time he was identified his body in an undertaking establishment. Then Franks came. He was attired in a dark brown suit. He wore glasses with a long ribbon that was fastened in the lapel of his coat. In his face, bearing, and stride he expressed the somberness, the tragedy, the grim reality that he soon commenced describing.

Justice Caverly moved over with a notebook near the witness. Franks wiped his face with his hands. "When did you last see your son

THE MODERN BARBER

The old-time barber used to be a genial sort of cuss; he gathered up all the gossip and he'd give it all to us. His language wasn't polished, and some epithets he'd use To strengthen his opinions or to decorate the news. He'd snip and talk, and talk and snip, and now and then he'd let us see the ladies' pictures in the old Police Gazette.

The old-time barber didn't need an education vast. 'Twas enough to know the fighters of the present and the past; And in the baseball season he could get along right well. With the home team's printed schedule and a yarn or two to tell. Then, as we waited for our turn, we never had to fret or frown. We could look at all the ladies in the old Police Gazette.

But now the old-time barber and his shop have passed away; Men no longer talk with freedom when they visit him today. For the women folk are sitting round the room in every chair And the modern barber's busy hobbling many a matron's hair. Now it's "Vogue" and the "Pictureorial," his waiting patrons get Instead of that old favorite, the pink Police Gazette!

The modern barber's had to learn a line of talk that's new; The language of the prize ring and the diamond will not do. No when snips and chats of fashions, weddings, dinner parties, teas; And tells 'em who's been in to get their tresses hopped for these. There is never talk of prize fight or a horse race or a hot For his shop is now a parlor, where there's no Police Gazette.

While Franks haunted by memories of the son whose clothes were in his hands, told in a husky voice how his boy had disappeared, Leopold slumped in his seat and looked away. It was too much for him, this presentation before his eyes by the father of the boy he had helped to kidnap and kill, of the very articles of clothing the victim wore.

But Leopold's demeanor was entirely different. Brazenly he leaned forward and glared at the witness. Then with an impudent shrug, he spoke to Ben Baerach one of his attorneys and released into his chair with a self-satisfied smile.

After a few questions court recessed for two hours.

BOMAR MOORE ADDS NEW LAURELS HERE IN DEFEAT OF THOR JENSEN AT CITY AUDITORIUM IN TWO STRAIGHT FALLS

Following his defeat of Chas. Olson here Monday night, Bomar Moore, once local idol in the eyes of wrestling fans here, added new laurels to his crown last night when he defeated Thor Jensen, of Hereford, in two straight falls at the city auditorium. However, in behalf of Jensen it might be said that although he was considerably outweighted in the match, he put up a terrific tussle throughout the entire go.

The Match, in benefit of the local band was to a fair sized audience at the Civic Auditorium Wednesday evening. Moore won the match with two consecutive falls; the first fall in 43 minutes and 50 seconds with a Solar Plexus knockout, and the second fall in 14 minutes with a body scissors and a full Nelson.

In the first fall, Moore scored on an unusual move, with Jensen's having a body scissors and arms tightly held, and being back of Moore, he (Moore) rising fell back squarely upon Jensen's Solar Plexus, knocking the breath out of him, thereby winning the fall. The bout was indeed a good one, Moore and Jensen both showing genuine speed and ability, and also Moore won the match. Jensen gave him a plenty to do, Jensen's weight was 155 lbs. Moore was much heavier, giving a decided advantage. Both wrestlers repeatedly got good holds and had them broken, and also Jensen got some splendid chances, he was seemingly too light to put them over.

The Moore-Jensen match was between Bomar Moore of Anson, Texas, formerly of Lubbock and Thor Jensen of Hereford, Texas, both having had much experience in wrestling. There was no preliminaries preceding the match. Music was furnished by the Lubbock Band for the occasion.

TIGERS ARE DRIVEN FROM TOP IN 11 INNING BATTLE

Detroit's rise to the foremost position in the American League on Tuesday was only temporary. Their election came about Wednesday as the dethroned Yankees, spurred on to greater efforts after two straight defeats, launched a successful comeback in the third game of the series with the Tigers.

It was not an easy task for the New Yorkers to take fully 11 innings to accomplish a victory and were placed in a precarious position. Yanks would have been dragged into a tie for third place which is held by the Senators. The Babe came to the rescue in the 11th by clubbing his 29th circuit, within of the season—the blow which ended in a 3 to 3 tie and placed his teammates on the victorious score of 4-3.

As the Senators won from the White Sox in Washington the Tigers were placed in a precarious position for the victory had Washington a mere half game from second place. Urban Shocker had an easy time pitching to the Browns to a 7 to 0

BERNSTEIN IS GIVEN DECISION OVER JACK ZIVIC

NEW YORK, July 23.—Jack Zivic's ambition to some day wear the lightweight crown now resting unasily on the aging brow of Benny Leonard was temporarily blighted Wednesday when the Pittsburgh flash went down to defeat in a 12 round encounter with Jack Bernstein, former junior lightweight champion. The terrific slugging of Bernstein proved too much for Zivic's fragile body. The judges awarded Bernstein the decision.

CARPENTIER IN GOOD SHAPE FOR LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT TONIGHT WHILE ODDS ON FRENCH BATTLER CLIMB SLOWLY DOWN

NEW YORK, July 23.—Thursday night several million sport fans will know just where Georges Carpentier, the most colorful boxer in this century stands on the list of the world's leading light heavyweight aspirants.

As Carpentier goes into his fight with Gene Tunney, at the Polo grounds for the so-called American light heavyweight title, there is not as far as can be ascertained anything wrong in his wrist, his ankle or his sleek knock 'em dead pompadour. Both Georges and Gene, take it from their managers or leave it, are in "great shape." The fight will go 15 rounds.

The odds against Carp are climbing slowly and it would not be startling to present indications, if the bettors made the fracas an even wager by the time the two men climb into the ring Thursday night.

Twenty-four hours before the encounter, Tunney was the favorite at 3 to 2, whereas he had opened on the first bets at 3 to 1. Jimmy Johnson promoter, says he anticipates a $200,000 gate, although prices run from $1.00 to $10.00 the estimate seems fair enough because it's New York's first chance to see Carp in action since the memorable Dempsey-Carpentier fight at Boyle's Thirty Acres nearly three years ago.

Also according to Johnson, there should be nearly a thousand women at the Polo Grounds. Johnson figures that because both Gene and Georges are favorites with the fair sex and because he has hired Countess Goldanski, one of Russia's genuine noblewomen, to act as chaperon. Cuss words, Johnson insists, will be barred.

The Gene-Georges bout is the second international 175 pound decision match staged in America within the last five years. The last saw Carpentier beat up old Bat Levinsky at Jersey City. Tunney finished his training at Red Bank, Tuesday and Carp has wound up his preliminary work at Jack Cayley's place at Great Neck, Long Island. Wednesday they confined their efforts to limbering up exercises, doing just enough to keep the kinks out of their anatomy and to conserve their pep for the fight.

Tunney is expected to weigh in at about 175 pounds, the light heavyweight limit, but the Frenchman has been underweight and probably will register a few pounds less, although he has been building up. Carpentier has been doing much sparring at night, under conditions similar to those which will confront him at the polo grounds and was even considering the possibility of some very light shadow boxing on Wednesday night.

NIGHT GOLF IS GREAT SUCCESS AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, July 23.—Four hardy golfers set out at 8:30 p. m. not long ago to shoot the customary 18 holes. The full moon was up; no clouds in sight.

Nine owl-eyed caddies were distributed over the fairway from the first tee. The balls were coated with luminous paint, and everything was set for the first moonlight golf match in south Texas.

The queerest part of it is that it actually worked. The luminous paint didn't last long, and several lanterns and flash lights were called into play on the greens, but the four golfers were able to turn in medal scores just the same.

Tommy Cockran and C. Hunt represented the amateurs in this unusual contest, and Willie McGuire and John Abrams were the professionals. Scores: McGuire 75, Abrams 81, Cockran 77, Hunt 83. Par is 71.

Share Holders In An Amarillo Company Get Returns

International News Service. AMARILLO, July 23—Share holders in the Amarillo Oil Company, incorporated some months ago at a meager $10,000 have just been paid $140 to the dollar by officials of the Mission Oil Company who are buying out several hundred stockholders in the firm, who started operations on a "shoestring" and are ending up with a sixteen inch hawser rope.

There is perhaps nothing more distressing to people who are bothered with them, and surely nothing as displeasing to others who see them, as pimples, blotches, bumps, rash, scrofula, eczema, "breaking out" and similar skin disfigurers.

MARKETS

DECISION IN STEEL PRICE BASIS HAS SLIGHT EFFECT

By EDWARD J. CONDLON (UN Financial Editor)

NEW YORK, July 23.—The financial community directed its attention to the steel shares during the Wednesday session to note their performance following the prohibition of the federal trade commission of the "Pittsburgh plus" system of fixing prices. If anybody was looking for a break in the market, they were destined for deep disappointment, for, as Judge Gary expressed it, a final decision on the question, cannot be made "that will materially affect the business of the iron and steel producers or their customers."

Stiegel common closed fractionally lower, but there was nothing that approached a demonstration in the stock all day though the turnover was in keeping with the heavy sales on the stock exchange for the day which were well above the million share mark. The gossip in steel circles just now concerns the meeting of the Bethlehem directors on Thursday for dividend action and the meeting early next week of the United States Steel Corporation board. According to some opinion there is a likelihood that the present dividend rates on the junior shares will be maintained.

Several of the specialties in the industrial group enjoyed a run of brisk trading which fetched a number of the issues up to new highs. In the oils, Pan-American was the outstanding feature, foreign exchange ran into a decided slump in which sterling dropped more than a cent. Not a little resentment has been expressed in local banking circles that Berlin plans should seek to make capital of the fact that American and British bankers were included to go slow on giving approval to a German loan until a clear first mortgage on Germany was obtained, superseding the claims of France. Perhaps the reaction in the principal European rates might be attributed to speculative interests who took optimistic view of the situation when the London conference was first called.

MAGEE ANSWERS HABEAS CORPUS

SUPREME COURT TO RULE ON SHERIFF'S REFUSAL TO HONOR PARDON

By United News.
LAS VEGAS, N. M., July 23.—In custody of sheriff Loren Delago, who ignored Governor Hinkle's pardon for his release, Carl Magee will leave for Santa Fe in the morning to appear before the state supreme court. Sheriff Delago will take his prisoner to Santa Fe under habeas Corpus orders issued late Wednesday by the supreme court. Meanwhile Magee will spend another night in jail.

Magee is editor of the New Mexico State Tribune, a Scripps-Howard publication. He was sentenced to jail for contempt of court Tuesday because of editorial attacks on the state political system.

A pardon for his release from the governor was ignored by the sheriff who held that the executive could not pardon for direct contempt.

The supreme court will review the case, and probably rule on the validity of Governor Hinkle's pardon.

Sheriff Delago declared tonight that the governor's pardon was out of order "it's illegal, and I can't see it" he told the United News. "The writ of habeas corpus is a different matter" he continued. "However, that doesn't call for release of the prisoner, and he'll have to stay in jail until we board the train for Santa Fe in the morning."

Publisher Refused Bond.
SANTA FE, N. M., July 23.—A writ of habeas corpus requiring appearance of Carl Magee, Albuquerque publisher, before the state supreme court here tomorrow afternoon was issued late Wednesday. The court refused to allow for Magee's release from jail at Las Vegas where he has been held since yesterday charged with contempt of court, the result of editorial utterances in the New Mexico State Tribune a Scripps-Howard publication. It, however, ordered that sheriff Loren Delago of San Miguel county produce him for hearing by 2 p. m. Thursday.

Delago refused to recognize a pardon for Magee issued by Governor James Hinkle. The supreme court is expected to act on the validity of the governor's pardon.

BANKERS WANT BETTER SECURITY IF THEY LOAN GERMANY THE TWO HUNDRED MILLION AS PROPOSED

International News Service.

LONDON, July 23.—The bankers who proposed to float a two hundred million loan for Germany continue to hold out today for better security than that which the allied conference agreements had given them. Herriott threatens to return to Paris unless the bankers compromise.

The bankers do not want the reparations commission to have full power to declare Germany in default and to exact sanctions, feeling that such course is jeopardizing their chance of collecting the bonds. The French insist on treaty provisions meaning reparations commission as a body to declare defaults and fix sanctions.

The solution today appeared to be some way to get power away from the reparations commission without appearing actually to do it, thus satisfying both bankers and France.

The conference today ordered the committee to reconsider its report on the sanctions and defaults in an effort to satisfy the bankers, who asked better security if they are to float the loans that they had suggested, to Germany.

BOYS MURDERED FRANKS FOR MONEY

International News Service.

CHICAGO, July 23.—The need of large sums with which to satisfy gambling debts, is the motive expressed as being behind the slaying of Robert Franks, the states attorney, charged today in his opening address of the hearing which may send the boys to the gallows.

He stated that he had evidence to show that although wealthy sons they had gambling debts and plotted to kill the boy to obtain money with which to meet these obligations. He traced the already well known history crime.

Darrow, the attorney for the defense opened his address about noon and declared that although the killing was the most terrible in the history of the nation that the tender age of the defendants should be taken into consideration, before hanging the defendants by the neck.

He talked only about ten minutes. The father of the Franks boy was then called and though visibly affected told the pathetic story of how he had left the boy at school and the next he saw of him was in the morgue where he identified the boy's wearing apparel, which had been buried by the murderers and dug up by themselves.

The present hearing on whether the boys shall be taken before the jury commission, is expected will consume several days, as both the state and the defense are lining up star witnesses, and a hard fight will be made by the state to prevent the sanity pleas being considered and force the court to select a jury or assess the punishment.

There's nothing new under the sun, but a lot of strange things are happening under the moon.

STUDENT OF A LOCAL WOMAN TO SPEAK FOR BARTON

Major Ethan A. Simpson, who is scheduled to speak at the district court room at two o'clock Thursday afternoon in interest of Thomas D. Barton, candidate for Governor of Texas, and who is regarded as one of the great speakers of Texas, was taught in among the first schools he attended by Mrs. E. R. Haynes, of Lubbock.

Mrs. Haynes will be among those who will hear the speaker and it is hardly probable that any other hearer will give him as much attention as his former school teacher.

"I have heard he has made good as has so many of the pupils I knew in school, and of course I want to hear him speak," Mrs. Haynes said.

EL PASO BARBER TABOOS LADIES HAIR BOBBING

By United Press.

EL PASO, July 23.—Taking the bit in his teeth, O. L. Ehlers, barber, has notified women that he doesn't want their patronage. He placed a sign over his shop "No Ladies Hair Bobbing in This Shop."

As Ehlers explains it, women have no business in barber shops which have been and always should be man's territorial haunts. The women, he declares, should patronize beauty parlors. And besides, women are hard customers to please. They fidget and squirm around in the chair and make a nervous wreek out of the poor barber. Ehlers claims they balk, too, when it comes to waiting their turn.

The women sneer, politely, as they pass Ehlers' sign, but the men come in with a glad smile, he says.

TEMPLE, July 23.—Excavation here recently brought to light some very old relics. 25 Indian skeletons were found, some of them estimated to be over 200 years old. Other relics of this Indian race which flourished long before this government was founded, were unearthed, some in very good state of preservation.

THREE FIRMS FOUND GUILTY MONOPOLY CONSPIRACY

By United Press.

TOPEKA, Kas., July 23.—Three wholesale grocery companies were found guilty of violating Kansas anti-monopoly laws in findings of a special referee of the supreme court here Monday. The verdict was handed down by John A. Hall, Pleasanton, Kas., appointed two years ago by the supreme court, as special referee in the case brought against 38 grocery concerns.

The firms found guilty were the Samuel E. Lux Wholesale Grocery of Topeka, the H. D. Lee Mercantile Company of Salina, and the Pittsburg Wholesale Grocery Company. Thirty five other defendants pleaded guilty when the suits were instituted two years ago, and paid fines aggregating $30,000.

Hall's decision charged the grocery companies conspired to fix prices of sugar, milk, and other commodities. Sentences were deferred.

ANTI ALIEN LAND LAWS WILL STOP THE JAP COLONIZATION

International News Service.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 23.—Possibility of there being an invasion of Southwest Missouri by thousands of Japanese on a colonization project virtually is impossible, it was pointed out at the state legal department in answer to questions as to the situation.

Such a movement would be prohibited by Missouri's anti-alien land laws, it was explained.

The statute states it is unlawful for any person, or persons not citizens of the United States, or who have not lawfully declared their intention to become such citizens to acquire land in the state.

Corsets For Men Is Next Craze Says A Haberdasher

By United Press.

FORT WORTH, July 23.—Corsets for men! Imagine stalwart Texans with their middles clasped by contraptions of steel and canvas!

That's what we can expect, according to P. G. Pflueger, haberdasher. Pflueger, who insists he isn't "joking," says the men in Paris are already wearing corsets, and since Paris fashions usually arrive down here about a year later, he predicts that 1925 will see Texas males donning corsets each morning.

Tight fitting coats and vests are coming too, Pflueger says. Trousers won't be so tight as the upper garments.

GOOD PROGRAM PLANNED FOR KIWANIS

C. E. Maedgen of the Security State Bank and Trust Company, will be chairman of the Kiwanis Club program Thursday, and the inter-club meeting with Plainview will be discussed.

J. B. Massey will tell the Kiwanis the importance of this meeting and how to make it a success. Impromptu speeches will be made by other members of the club.

At the last meeting of the club president E. C. Wilson told of the instructions this club has received to attend an inter-club meeting with the Plainview club, and it is well indeed that the clubmen of Lubbock make early preparations to go to that city that day and meet with their fellows. The Kiwanis of Amarillo being in attendance will make the meeting all the more valuable to the three clubs represented.

Miss Carlisle has kindly consented to render a vocal selection and to give a reading at this meeting, which will lend much to the program. This feature alone should encourage a near one hundred percent attendance which is so much desired by the officers of the club whose communications with the international organization have taught them the necessity and value of large attendances at the meetings.

Remember the luncheon will be held at the Armory building on Ave. J, at the regular hour—starting promptly at 12:05 o'clock. Members are invited and urged to take guests.

W. H. Stafford, of Oklahoma, is here visiting his daughter, Mrs. F. A. Saunders, and his son W. W. Stafford. Mr. Stafford has been in failing health for some time and will remain in Lubbock until he is thoroughly recovered.

Construction Of The Worth Mills Is Going On

By United Press.

FORT WORTH, July 23.—Forty carloads of machinery for the Worth Mills, now under construction near here, are ready for shipment and will be moved from Fairhaven, Mass. in a few days, according to Rudy Copeland, vice-president of Fort Worth's first textile mill.

The machinery will be stored here until the middle of September, when installation of equipment will begin. A total of 100 carloads of machinery will be received, Copeland said.

C. O. Tendley, who lives five miles south of the city, announces the arrival of an 8 1/2 pound boy on July 20.

VOTE FOR JOHN L. RATLIFF

—FOR—
District Attorney

It is being urged that Judge Ratliff be defeated because he is from Lubbock county, that Lubbock would have all the judicial offices, and has had them all along. Lets analyze that.

The first district judge was from Terry county, and served ably until his death eighteen months ago. The first district attorney was appointed from an outside county, the next was elected from Lynn, and the third and last elected from Dawson county. So the facts are Lubbock has had these offices less than nearly all her neighbors.

John Ratliff is one of our highest type citizens. He is constantly giving of himself, his time and his means to the upbuilding of our city and county. We wonder if we shall repudiate such a man because he lives with us.

He is a plain democrat. He takes no part in any factional agitation or strife. He does not want our city or county hurt by that. We appeal to men and women who are tired of strife to join with us in supporting him. He will meet your most exacting demands for manhood, character, faithfulness and ability.
