THE PROGRESS OF TEXAS

Texas is possibly making greater progress than any other state in the Union, and so great is the progress that not only the people of this state are taking notice of it, but newspapers and magazines throughout the union are taking notice of it. So progressive is the Lone Star State that it is the first State in the Union to nominate a woman for the high and honored position of chief executive of the State. Not only is progress noted along this line, but in the matter of manufacturing, oil development, agriculture, education, etc., making it so noticeable that the Christian Science Monitor, one of the recognized great magazines of the nation, remarks in a recent issue that those who have observed most thoughtfully the periods of development in Texas, first as an independent republic and then as a member of the American nation of states, easily distinguish those periods and mark the influences which have contributed to what, superficially, appears as an unbroken era of industrial and social progress. But however analyzed and measured, it must be apparent that the last quarter of a century has marked, in Texas perhaps more emphatically than in some other portions of the United States, the period of most rapid as well as most substantial growth. Within those years almost uncounted millions of acres of virgin prairie have been reclaimed by the plow and devoted to cultivation of cotton, corn and wheat. During those same years those thriving cities which even in the latter years of the last century were the pride of the southwest have grown and become more beautiful. Prosperity has everywhere left the distinguishing mark of its welcome presence.

Comparisons, if one dares to make them, must be indulged in with caution when one attempts to contrast the relative achievements of Texas cities or sections. Like some of the other larger American states, Texas seems to thrive upon what may be called internal rivalry. Its interests and industries are so widely diversified, its climate so varied, its borders so far-flung, no wonder there is stimulating and good-natured competition even among those whose interests, in the final analysis, are common. But if one might be permitted to appraise the progress of Texas as a whole and indulge in kindly comparison, it might be said that the most conspicuous advance during recent years has been made in what is known as the Panhandle country, once the center of the stock raising industry. A half-century ago, or even less, it could not have been conceived that in many generations would intensive agriculture ever put its mark upon that vast section. But the unexpected has happened, and the country of which Amarillo is the center now knows the cowboy no more intimately than does Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston or San Antonio.

Thus it is that while the development of the petroleum oil industry has placed Texas in the ranks of the great mineral states, the tremendous increase in cotton production has kept pace in the march of progress. But cotton is not now, as formerly, the only crop the farmers raise. Rice, fruit, nuts and cereals of all kinds combine to make the Lone Star State more nearly independent economically than it has heretofore been. Its railroads carry to its ports the products of the farms, mills and mines of scores of its neighboring states as well as its own. Its schools rank high, its homes and churches combining with them to set the measure of advanced civilization and culture.

But in these days of her prosperity and peace, Texas does not forget the years of trial and struggle. What once seemed her remoteness, coupled with her proximity to Mexico, tended to multiply her political and social problems. The process of reconstruction there operated somewhat slowly. The broad leagues seemed, in the years immediately following the Civil War, to offer sanctuary to the hunted, the fugitive, the voluntary outlaw. As in the sections of the Far West in an earlier period, organized authority was impotent in dealing with the vicious and marauding. But that period was brief in Texas. Today, even the remotest sections are under the jurisdiction of duly constituted authority. There has been commendable progress along this line.

The great prairies open to the sky and swept by the Gully winds still remain. These can never change. They are dotted now with thriving cities and towns standing where corrals and stage stations once stood. Broad roads, steam and electric railways, ship canals and rivers carry to markets of the world the increasing surplus products of the State's rich soil. Texas, as Emerson Hough would say, is still south of 36, but it has established itself as the center of an empire prosperous beyond the dreams of her pioneers.

If this war in China is to establish the ingredients of chop suey it is worth while.

Is it going to be necessary to make baseball players give an honesty bond when signing up?

ARE WE ALL SUPERSTITIOUS?

One of the prominent writers says that we are more or less superstitious. Many people will deny it, but if you will take an inventory of the true feeling you will likely find that you, too, are superstitious. Phebe K. Warner, who most of our readers know and recognize as a writer of ability, says that ever since the rainbow was hung in the sky people have believed in signs. Few of us will admit we are superstitious, but the most of us are. We will flatly deny we believe in signs, but if we drop the dish rag in the morning we will expect company. If we see the new moon over our left shoulder we will be disappointed if something terrible does not happen.

If our bunions pain us we look for a storm. And if we wait long enough and conditions get right these signs will come true.

But we are indebted to D. P. Yoder, of Snyder, Texas, for a few genuine signs that you can depend on winter or summer, rain or shine. Mr. Yoder is president of the Utilities Company, chief of the Snyder fire department and member of the Snyder School Board. We are adding these items that you may know the standing of the man who makes these assertions. And since the past week was dedicated to the study of fire prevention we feel that these signs may help you to be more cautious the coming year.

Mr. Yoder says: "A crack in your chimney is a sure sign that you are going to move."

"If you dream of smoke, it is a sign you are asleep and you had better wake up."

"To see a paperhanger papering over a flue-hole indicates an impending loss."

"It is bad luck to look into a dark closet with a match."

"If you can see your shadow from an oil lamp while filling a gasoline stove it is a sign that a crowd of people will be coming to your house soon."

"When the wind moans it is extremely bad luck to burn trash near your house."

"If you smell gas or gasoline and look for it with a light it foretells that you are about to start on a long journey."

"And even if your house and furniture are covered by insurance it is extremely unlucky to have them burn on Friday, the thirteenth."

The reliability of these signs is further emphasized by Chief A. J. Trodick, of Grand Falls, Mont. They seem to apply in all climates and geographical localities. And, no doubt, they are worth remembering in Texas, especially, since through negligence, Texas burns up almost as much every year as she spends on the education of all her children.

The total loss by fire in the United States is more than a half billion dollars. Is that worth trying to save? But the financial loss is the least part of a fire. No home ever burned that did not wipe out the most sacred possessions. They may not have been worth a penny to the world. But they were little things that can never be replaced. Perhaps it was the only picture you had of your mother. Maybe it was the children's baby pictures, all gone forever. It might have been the old family Bible that was thumb marked by the generations of the past. Or a piece of furniture that a dear hand made for you that will never work again. No one knows the full value of a fire but those who have felt it.

But the greatest waste by fire in America is the terrible waste of human life. To think of a child being burned alive. A little innocent helpless life suffering the most terrible death of any criminal by mob law. That is what it is. It is nothing less.

And who are the criminals that burn innocent men and women and children alive. Often it is the parents that burn their own children through negligence and carelessness. And sometimes it is the children who destroy the home and everything in it by some thoughtless act. How do you suppose the people who have been burned to death by the carelessness of others would feel if they could come back to earth to plead the cause of their own death sentence? Suppose we did not mean to rob them of their lives. The results and their loss are just the same. But they never have a chance to plead their cause or defend their rights to live. Isn't it terrible? Do you think there should not be an official punishment for the crimes of carelessness?

Then the candidate himself is personally almost as well known in some sections as in Wisconsin for 30 years, he has covered the northern Iowa counties in political campaign and Chautauqua lectures. Every one with whom I talk conceded him the northern counties. But in the southern portion of the state, in what is called the "stalwart reservation" he is up against the big Coolidge strength of Des Moines, the klan spot in the southwest section of the state and hostile spots in the southeastern section. Finally, LaFollette will get a huge share of the democratic vote which normally is over 200,000. He will get most of it probably.

It would seem that all of the powerful influences would make

Senator Brookhart will be re-elected by a majority of 100,000 it appears. He is being all he can for LaFollette short of giving a formal endorsement. He is attacking Coolidge, predicting LaFollette's election by 150,000. He rode thru a section of the state with the independent candidate and they had their pictures taken by shaking hands printed in many newspapers. Judge William S. Kenyon, whose personal popularity is as great as Brookhart's was represented recently by having authorized the statement that he favored Coolidge and Davies. If a close personal friend that he has written a letter saying he and his family will vote for LaFollette. Word that Kenyon intends to vote for LaFollette's favor is that of Dante Pierce, editor of the Iowa Home-States. His paper has a circulation in Iowa of 140,000 or more. It fights hard in every political fight and it has a reputation of carrying its readers with it. At LaFollette headquarters, four hundred contributions of one dollar each came in on a single day recently. Thirty-seven per cent of those mentioned specifically that they were sending the money in answer to an appeal in Pierce's paper.

CLEANING UP THE ALLEYS IN THE BUSINESS SECTION OF THE CITY

The city officials are making an earnest effort just now to get the alleys entirely clear of all rubbish, boxes, etc., and they are asking for the co-operation of the people in this effort, and we should certainly make every effort possible to help them make a good job of it. Some of the alleys in this city, especially around the business section have become almost entirely blocked with boxes, trash, old stoves, etc., and the city officials have decided to open them and have employed additional help in order to accomplish this purpose.

The business section 'can be kept neat and clean if the people of the town will co-operate with the officials in their work, and we certainly should give them all encouragement possible. They insist that you park no cars in the alley. There is an ordinance against it, and this law is going to be enforced according to the city officials who are in charge of that part of the work.

Co-operation is the power that builds. It is the power that is behind all matters of civic pride, and there is one of the essentials of town building, and the keeping of the wheels of progress rolling, brings about development in its greatest achievements.

Lubbock is making great progress. More and there is one of the essentials of town building, are coming and the task of keeping the town clean and in a sanitary condition is becoming greater with each month, so that the co-operation of the people is very necessary in this important work.

Stand by the officials in cleaning up the alleys and render a great assistance to the beautifying of the city. Make it a healthy place to live.

GREAT REVIVAL IS BEING CONDUCTED BY REV. W. A. BOWEN AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH; SONG SERVICE MAIN FEATURE

A great revival at the First Baptist church; "great" because God's word is being preached in a forcible way by the pastor, W. A. Bowen, who has just returned from the lands our Saviour personally walked over and preached from two thousand years ago. But our pastor came back from these scenes filled anew with God's love for last and drifting humanity. Come and hear a man preach for the same reason that Paul preached. Our pastor is preaching, not only to revive our church, but to save lost men and women; that all other powers have failed to save and well do all thinking men and women know, that if the world is ever swung back to its rightful place it will be done by the grace and love of God.

IOWA NORMALLY REPUBLICAN ALMOST OVERWHELMINGLY BUT CLOSE RACE FOR PRESIDENT IS PROBABLE, CLAPPER SAYS

By RAYMOND CLAPPER. (Copyright by the United News.)
DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 16.—Iowa's normal republican vote is as overwhelming, in proportion as Vermont's, yet curiously it is the closest state, so far as the presidential race is concerned, that I have observed.

Iowa is the twilight zone between LaFollette country and the more conservative middle West. Davis is completely out of the picture, Coolidge and LaFollette are running almost with each side, hoping to win by a sprint in the last ten days. None of the politicians know what is going to happen in the presidential fight and all claims are made for public consumption only.

Senator Brookhart will be re-elected by a majority of 100,000 it appears. He is being all he can for LaFollette short of giving a formal endorsement. He is attacking Coolidge, predicting LaFollette's election by 150,000. Speakers are being scheduled to blanket the state with oratory in the closing days. Funds are to be supplied by the national committee to help out.

The big factor helping Coolidge in addition to the fact that he is the regular primary nominee is the desire of the Iowa farmer to play safe. He is progressive, generally speaking, but he is just climbing out of several years of heart-rending trouble. Thousands lost their farms and are trying to get a new start. Others hardly squeezed through. They want to play safe now. They want more than anything, good times.

A last minute drive on the slogan "Coolidge or chaos" with the emphasis upon the probability of a long deadlock in congress unless Coolidge is elected, may turn the balance to the president.

GERMAN LOAN BONDS OVERSUBSCRIBED HEAVILY

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The German loan took the country by storm. More than $1,000,000,000 subscribed although the American share of the loan offered by J. P. Morgan and company was for only $110,000,000.

Notices of their allotments began to reach subscribers today and most of it ranged from 5 to 20 per cent of the amounts which had been applied for by investors. The allotments apparently were made on a no-fixed basis. One Wall street broker, who subscribed for $1,500,000 was awarded only $65,000 worth of bonds. A country bank which asked for $100,000,000 was allotted fifteen thousand dollars worth of the issue. The American Tobacco company which applied for $16,000,000 worth of bonds, declined to reveal how its offer fared.

The new bonds established a new high record above 95 Thursday, although the offering price was 92. Many who were disappointed in their allotments are said to be planning to buy on the open market.

Astonishing Health-Building Powers of KARNAK

Proven in Case of Texas Woman—
"It's a Blessing," Declares Mrs. Armstrong

Miserable with intense stomach suffering both day and night, and so weak and rundown that she could hardly get about the house, Mrs. Amanda Armstrong, 1822 Trunk Ave., Dallas, Texas, tells how Andre's phenomenal new medicine, Karnak, has overcome her troubles and made her well and happy again. Just another demonstration of the remarkable, health-building powers of this great, new medicine.

"Before I got Karnak I was just plumb down," is the way Mrs. Armstrong characteristically expresses her condition, "and wasn't able to do a bit of my housework. I had such a terrible cramping pain in the pit of my stomach that big drops of perspiration would just roll down my face. These pains would extend clear back through my shoulder blades and were so dreadful I could hardly get my breath. I was just simply in agony from bloating and suffering for hours after every meal, and at times I just didn't see how I could live through it. I was dreadfully nervous, too, and could scarcely get a wink of sleep."

"But I haven't had a single attack with my stomach since I began using Karnak. I have a splendid appetite, eat anything I want, and my food digests perfectly. The pain bloating and suffering is all gone, I sleep like a healthy child every night, and now do all my housework. I will praise Karnak the longest day I live for the wonderful blessing it has been to me."

Karnak is sold in Lubbock by City Drug Store.

Modern Teachers Are Man Chasers Educator Claims

By United News.
ALBANY, Oct. 16.—Phew! If the rosy cheeks of our flapper school teachers could turn any redder, they must be going some.

Supt. Frank Boynton of Ithaca started the excitement Thursday when speaking before the New York State Council of School Superintendents, he described the modern school morals as being "bob-haired, carmine lipped, cigaret smoking, immodestly clothed young man chasers."

Boynton's opinion was released when some one demanded to know why women teachers were not paid as much as the men.

"We pay these young college girls $6 a day to begin with," Boynton said, after giving the above description of his subjects. "If a girl is a Phi Beta Kappa student she gets a job, according to the superintendent. That's all the college employment bureaus are interested in," he said.

"We have too many would-be in our schools, too many are man-chasers and who wait to quit only until they have hooked some fellow. I know whereof I speak, for I unloaded 15 of them last year."

91 QUARANTINED FOR YELLOW FEVER ARE RELEASED

The 91 persons were exposed to the disease in a local hotel where Fernandez Perez a Mexican newly arrived from Yucatan, died of the disease on October 6. They were held in a city detention camp until all danger of their developing the disease was past.

ONLY A LITTLE OVER TWO WEEKS KILL THE GENERAL ELECTION

With only a very short time left till the general election at which time the people will have an opportunity to cast their vote in the selection of the highest official in the United States, the president. In this space of time many things could happen to change the present indications, but as they stand at this time one is convinced that Coolidge has the best indications of election of any of the three candidates since the nominations have been made.

If the polls of the straw vote, which the Literary Digest is now conducting is any indication of the final result President Coolidge is an easy winner, but this is not altogether conclusive as has been the experience of the candidates in other days. But there is one thing that makes the final results look more like a republican victory and that is the constant leading of the republican candidate throughout the campaign. The last poll shows that Davis, the democratic nominee, has made some substantial gains, and the result of this latest poll is given in the report from the Digest under date of October 17th. This report says that John W. Davis has increased his percentage of the popular and Electoral College vote.

As the Democratic percentage has risen slightly, the Republican ratio has correspondingly decreased. Of the total of nearly 2,000,000 votes, Coolidge has 1,061,214; Davis, 384,200; La Follette, 432,660, which expressed in percentages show 56 per cent Republican, 20 per cent Democratic and almost 23 per cent progressive.

La Follette is still holding Wisconsin while Davis has increased his leadership to eleven states and President Coolidge is ahead in the other thirty-six states. La Follette is second choice in twenty-eight states with Davis second in thirteen. In Kentucky and Oklahoma the Democratic candidate is crowding the Republican standard-bearer closely and La Follette has gained slightly on the President in California in the week's tabulations.

The Democratic percentage may be expected to rise still further with succeeding returns. The Digest predicts, "since the states in which Democratic strength is confessedly strongest are among the last ones to report."

Many Democratic spokesmen, notably Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, have explained that the Democratic campaign is slow in getting underway, by comparison with the campaigns of Mr. Coolidge and Mr. La Follette, and therefore, it may be considered to the advantage of the Democrats that their strongholds are being heard from comparatively late in the poll.

This fact may compensate for any advantage given the Republicans by the strong Coolidge showing in the states from which returns were first received.

Both Democratic and Progressive publicists have argued that The Digest's polls tend to favor Republican candidates by approximately 10 per cent and several editors produce figures from previous polls to back up their arguments. This alleged percentage of error, of course, may or may not exist, but it is noteworthy that, even granting its existence, it would make a change in the political complexion of only three states.

California would be transferred from the Coolidge to the La Follette column, Kentucky and Oklahoma would go to the Democrats, and West Virginia, Mr. Davis' home state, would show practically a tie vote between Coolidge and Davis.

A feature of the voting in California is that, since the tabulation published a week ago, Coolidge has received 5,149 votes to La Follette's 4,651, a proportion which seems to indicate a slight rise for the week at least, in the California popularity of the Progressive candidate.

The question as to the source of Mr. La Follette's strength, whether drawn more largely from the Republican or Democratic ranks, continues to stir a good many of the political prophets and dopsters.

"In consulting the table of 'How the Same Voters Voted in 1920,' some observers of the poll have called attention to the large size of 'Did Not Vote' column. In this column, it must be explained, is included both those who specify that they did not vote and those who fail to mention their political allegiance in 1920.

A more complicated tabulation, kept in the Digest's polling room shows in more detail the trend of the vote. Thus, in California, according to this tabulation, Mr. La Follette draws his large vote chiefly from 12,862 former Democrats and 32,188 former Republicans, while 4,883 former Democrats are registered as voting for Coolidge and 1,569 former Republicans are in the Democratic column.

Turning to an Eastern State, New York, where La Follette has shown considerable strength, it appears that he draws 28,804 votes from former Republicans and 11,654 from former Democrats. In Iowa, he is credited with 11,137 formerly Republican votes and 3,887 formerly Democratic. In Wisconsin, his home state, his present vote includes ballots from 20,306 former Republicans and 4,094 former Democrats; in Pennsylvania 12,965 former Republicans and 3,791 former Democrats.

In this connection it must be remembered that 1920 was a strongly Republican year, so that there is small indication in these figures that Progressive candidate's strength is being contributed exclusively by one party, as several partisans have announced.

It is also noteworthy that, in spite of Mr. La Follette's large vote, he has so far carried only the State of Wisconsin, with California added, granting that the present poll has a somewhat larger percentage of error in favor of the Republicans than was shown in the smaller poll of 1920.

A Democratic paper finds in the registration of the previous affiliations of the poll voters, which is now given as 1,076,905 Republicans to 441,251 Democrats, a sign that no Democrat could possibly win in the poll.

It may be said, also, that no Democrat can win in the election unless a considerable number of the Republicans of 1920 change their politics.

The citizenry of the country was divided, roughly, in 1920 between 16,000,000 Republicans and 9,800,000 Democratic voters, with only a small third-party vote, less than 1,000,000 for the Socialist candidate to complicate the issue. What shifts, then, are now being made from Republican to Democratic ranks, or from Democratic to Republican, that will show that the verdict of 1920 is to be reversed, or repeated?

A glance at the table comparing the 1920 and 1924 columns shows that the Republicans have an increase in thirty-two of the States, while sixteen show a decreasing Republican vote. Ten states, on the other hand, show a Democratic increase over 1920, while a loss in the Democratic vote during the last four years is indicated in thirty-eight of the states. Some of these gains and losses are very large, some so small as to mean very little.

Among the more significant changes, there appear to have been Republican losses in Iowa, Illinois, Pennsylvania, California, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Republican gains are indicated in many of the states of the "Solid South" where such increases will in all probability, have no effect on the election whatever, and also in Kansas, in New York, and in Michigan. Aside from ordinarily Democratic states, the Democrats appear to have increased their voting strength in West Virginia.

In presenting the views of Republican and Democratic editors on the general accuracy of their polls The Digest concludes with the comment of a Nebraska editor:

"No straw vote," the editor states, "is actually satisfactory—to the losing side. However, the Digest vote in 1920 was amazingly accurate and, if we remember right, there was the same doubting on the part of the same editors."

CUMBERSOME ELECTION METHOD

The method of electing members of the senate of the United States by legislatures of the states has been superseded by the direct method, authorized by adoption of the seventeenth amendment a few years ago. The next amendment should be one providing for direct choice of president and vice-president by the electorate.

Under the present system of choosing president and vice president, the voters indicate by their ballots choice of party, but they have no legal assurance that the electors whose names appear on the ballot will vote for the candidates of their choice.

Whatever obligation rests upon the electors receiving a plurality of votes in any state is moral only. There is nothing in the constitution making it mandatory that they shall support the candidates on the ticket upon which the electors were chosen.

It is true that little confusion has arisen from this ability of any elector to vote against the candidate of his party, although in a number of cases the electoral vote of a state has been divided, and in a close contest in the electoral college a few electors might defeat the will of the plurality party by voting contrary to expectations.

A candidate for president may receive a plurality of the votes of the people, yet fail to obtain a plurality in the electoral college, which would seem to be contrary to the principle that a majority should be accepted as expressing the will of the nation. Under the direct ballot, the plurality of voters would determine the choice.

The constitution of the United States provides for the federal system—the expression of the will of the people through their representatives. That is seen in the selection of members to congress and to the state legislatures, who represent specified districts of the nation. The selection of senators by popular vote was a step from the federal system toward a democracy, where the voters make direct choice. The same method, if applied to the presidency, would still further depart from the federal system and make the will of the plurality effective at all times.

MUSCLE SHOALS NO LONGER LIVE ISSUE WITH FORD

Henry Ford is off of the Muscle Shoals he says in withdrawing his bid that he made on same, and over which there has been so much talk in congress and out of congress, and according to an interview with Mr. Ford that appeared in a recent issue of Collier's Weekly, he has assumed a warring attitude, and he is now awaiting the next move of the government in the matter. "Muscle Shoals," Mr. Ford is quoted as saying, "is not a live issue with us any longer. More than two years ago we made the best bid we knew how to make. No definite action has been taken on it. A simple affair of business which should have been decided by anyone within a week, has become a complicated political affair. We are not in politics and we are in business. We do not intend to be drawn into politics. We are moving so fast and the settlement of Muscle Shoals' future seemed so far away we had to find other means to do the things we could have accomplished at Muscle Shoals. Productive business cannot wait on politics. Therefore, we are withdrawing our bid."

HARD WORK AND TRAINING IS INVOLVED IN SCOUT WORK; BOYS MUST PASS THREE DISTINCT CLASSIFICATIONS OR RANKS

The three Scout classifications are of special interest to all boys, and grown-ups in Lubbock eager to help the boys become more familiar with Scout work are given the following scout classifications taken from the Scout Handbook. These classifications are all required by the Scout organization and many of the boys have made good progress in making the grades from one status to the other and some of them are working on the merit badges.

To become a scout a boy must be at least twelve years of age; must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the scoutmaster his ability to repeat the scout oath and law in full and his thorough knowledge of their meaning and upon passing the following tests, the boy formally subscribes to the scout law and is then entitled to wear the tenderfoot badge and the official scout uniform:

1. Know the scout's law, motto, sign, salute and significance of the badge.
2. Know the composition and history of the national flag and the customary forms of respect due to it.
3. Tie the following knots: square knot, reef knot, bowline, shepherds knot, sheepskin, slip, clove hitch, square knot, and two half hitches.

Second Class Scout
A tenderfoot scout may, upon passing the following tests, to the satisfaction of the proper local scout authorities, be enrolled as a second class scout. He is then entitled to wear the second class badge of the Boy Scouts of America:

1. At least one month's service as a tenderfoot.
2. Elementary first aid. Know the general directions for first aid; demonstrate treatment for fainting, shock, bruises, cuts and scratches; burns, how to carry the injured and elementary use of the triangle.
3. Elementary signaling; know the signals of the Scoutposts of the General Service (International Morse) Code.
4. Track half a mile in twenty-five minutes; or, if in town, describe satisfactorily the contents of one stone window pane of four observed for one minute each.
5. Give a talk in twelve minutes at scout's fire—about fifty sters—running and fifty walking, alternately.
6. Use properly knife and hatchet.
7. Cook a whopper of a round of meat and vegetables in the open without a stove or fire.
8. Prove ability to build a fire.

Church officials visited by Dr. Crawford Fri.

Dr. J. E. Crawford, Centenary Secretary for the Central and Northwest Texas, was here Friday relative to perfecting plans for an immediate collection of the Centenary pledges. The secretary is making a trip through the conferences served by him and is hopeful that the centenary work will be completed in due time.

He has recently made a tour of Europe and visited Palestine. He studied the work that is being done in the mission fields in Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia, where twenty-four highly trained missionaries from this country, aided by native ministers, are carrying on their work in a most creditable manner.

He stated that in Poland they have three presiding elder districts serving one thousand members each. This work grew out of the relief work done by the centenary movement at the close of the world war, which opened a program for evangelism which was set upon by the Methodists who have made great headway in establishing protestantism in that country.

IRA WILSON LEFT LAST NIGHT FOR NEW ORLEANS

Ira Wilson of the Wilson Abstract Company, left last night for New Orleans to attend a four days convention of the American Title Association, of which his company is a member.

Mr. Wilson will go via Dallas where he will spend one day attending the state fair. The meeting at New Orleans, which convenes on the morning of the 21st will be attended by the leading title men of the United States and able speakers will be heard on the problems confronting the followers of that business.

During his four years in business here, Mr. Wilson has not taken a vacation, and since he has been a member of the Association for several years and the New Orleans meeting will perhaps be the only one held in this section of the United States for some time, it is well indeed that he took advantage of the opportunity to attend.

MORE THAN THOUSAND TAX SUITS WILL BE FILED HERE SOON
Attorney V. E. Wilson, who recently established an office here, has been employed by county attorney Owen McWhorter to begin work preparatory to filing more than one thousand delinquent tax suits for County Tax Collector I. F. Holladay. Attorney Wilson is sending out notices to owners of delinquent property, and thirty days after these notices have been mailed, the suits will be filed in conformity with a late ruling which was made concerning the collection of taxes by the 38th Legislature.

WESTERNERS LOSE TO CLOVIS HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY 6 TO 0

CISCO LOBOS BEAT ABILENE EAGLES 6 TO 3 FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

CLOVIS SCORES COUNTER IN LAST PERIOD

CLOVIS, N. M., Oct. 17.—In one of the hardest contests seen on the local gridiron this season, the Lubbock high school Westerners went down to defeat before the Clovis squad here today 6 to 0, leaving the local lads with a clean slate of wins in their four major encounters for this season.

RICH MENU IS GIVEN IN TODAY'S FOOT- BALL GAMES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Most everything that might be ordered by a famished football fan is on the menu arranged for tomorrow, the biggest day of the youthful season.

Three of the most important inter-sectional games of the season are features of the program that is checked from top to the bottom line with interesting games.

Because of its tradition and the habit the westerners have of springing something sensational in the way of new football, the game between Notre Dame and the Army in New York will be the biggest game of the day.

The first play of Notre Dame to the day, almost an exact season ago, is part of a fashion show for fall football and the game is followed even more closely by the men who follow coaching as a profession than by the neutral fans who get a thrill out of fast hard football.

Notre Dame will exhibit that great backfield which has won the last year's national championship as a promise follows precedent he probably will put on display a couple of sensational touchdowns as a promise.

"Here's what you'll have to eat next year."

The Army, as a rule, runs more to power than brilliance, but this year the Cadets will have Harry Wilson the All-American back from last year's Penn State eleven, and Will Davis, one of the best and most spectacular runners in the game.

Last year the Army-Notre Dame game conflicted with one of the games of the world's series, and it made itself felt appreciably on the gate at the baseball game.

Penn State is down south to play a return game with Georgia Tech and a good game is assured. The two teams have enjoyed the friendliest relations and their games in the past two years have been features of the season. Penn State may not be as strong as last year, as several of the players upon whom Hugo Brock depended as a nucleus for his team, got into scholastic troubles and were disqualified for the season.

While it isn't the most important game of the season, the battle of Lincoln between Colgate and the powerful Nebraska team will be one of the hardest played and most interesting games of the day. Nebraska in the country play harder football than Colgate and Nebraska among the eastern games that will draw big crowds are the Yale-Dartmouth game at New Haven; the Harvard-Holy Cross game at Cambridge; the Princeton-Navy game at Princeton; and the Syracuse-Boston College game at Syracuse.

Dartmouth is assuming a big proposition in meeting Yale tomorrow and Harvard next week. Victories over two of the "Big Three" teams mean more to Dartmouth than any other games on the schedule.

Harvard and Holy Cross always have a battle royal and the Princeton Tigers will have the job that any team in the country has against the Annapolis midshipmen.

Among the other eastern games are Pennsylvania against Columbia at Philadelphia; Pittsburgh against Johns Hopkins at Pittsburgh; Washington and Jefferson against Carnegie at Washington; Cornell against Rutgers at Ithaca.

Two very important games are carded in the Western Conference. Illinois meets Michigan at Urbana, and Minnesota plays Wisconsin at Madison.

Taking a breather after their hard game last week, Ohio State meets Ohio Wesleyan, and Iowa plays Lawrence at Iowa City.

Chicago plays Indiana at Chicago. In the Missouri Valley Conference the big games are between Kansas and the Kansas Aggies, and Missouri and Iowa State, with the inter-sectional feature at Lincoln between Nebraska and Colgate.

The Georgia Tech-Penn State game ranks the other big southern games in general interest, but local importance will be attached to the games between Vanderbilt and Tulane at New Orleans, Alabama and Sewanee at Birmingham, and Centre and Transylvania at Danville.

On the Pacific Coast, California plays the Olympia Club of San Francisco and Stanford plays Oregon. Southern California is idle.

SLATON TIGERS BEAT TULIA HI FRIDAY 39 TO 21

SLATON, Oct. 17.—The Slaton Tigers, one of the strongest contenders for Class "B" high school honors on the gridiron this year on the plains registered another win today when they met and defeated the Tulia high squad on the local grounds 39 to 21, practically eliminating the northern school.

To date the Tigers are undefeated in their practice games, and of official contests.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS ARE PREPARED FOR DEFEAT IN SATURDAY'S GAME

By MOULTON S. COBB
AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 17.—The student body of the University of Texas is prepared to accept defeat Saturday when the Texas Longhorns meet the Southern Methodist University Mustangs in Dallas at the Fair. Two pep rallies were held at the University this week and representative students frankly admitted defeat seemed almost inevitable. E. J. Stewart, the Longhorn coach, has acquired the reputation of being pessimistic. Perhaps at times in the past his pessimism was somewhat exaggerated, but impartial fans over the State admit the veteran coach has a right to be extremely pessimistic over Saturday's contest. The Longhorns will fight their best this week against the conference champions of 1923, S. M. U., but they will not have much to fight with. The University has but several real football players this season and no substitutes of merit. This fact was proved in the Howard Payne game last Saturday.

To make matters worse, Harry Pfankuch, promising Longhorn center, had a small bone broken in his shoulder in last week's game and positively will be out of the Mustang contest. Mat Newell, star Longhorn line man, has a weak ankle and may have to be taken out any time. Frank Dayvault, line captain has not recovered completely from recent injuries. Sailor Seharer at end will limps on a sore foot, while Stuart Wright, Bertie Foster and Blue Smith of the backfield are all in poor condition.

Thorlief Thompson of Port Arthur who never played any football here until this year, will be used at center. Thompson will be new at the position. He heretofore he has been substitute tackle. Another Thompson may be used in the Texas backfield Saturday who will be new to the fans. He is Abe Thompson of Rusk, who until this year was known only as a baseball player.

The team will leave Austin Friday at noon for Dallas, and will try to get a good night's rest. Coach Stewart has not drilled his players hard this week for fear the equality list would be further increased.

BAND IS BROUGHT WITH L. S. U. SQUAD FOR RICE CLASH

By United Press
HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 17.—Handed by three coaches and a sixty piece band, 24 gridiron men from Louisiana State University arrived here today preparatory to the clash tomorrow afternoon with the Rice Institute.

This is one of the primary inter-state games of the season. The odds in weight, experience and speed are said to favor L. S. U.

BRYAN'S FUMBLE COSTS EAGLES THE GAME

(Special to The Morning Avalanche)
ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 17.—Tish Cisco High School swayed into the championship of section two of the interscholastic league here this afternoon by defeating the Abilene High School Eagles 6 to 3, in a mighty battle at the West Texas Fair Park.

A fumble by Captain Dick Bryan in the fourth period cost the Eagles the game. The ball was scooped up by Brown, Cisco right half, who ran 28 yards for a touchdown. Bryan scored a field goal for Abilene in the third quarter. Repeated attempts to complete forward passes by Abilene failed. The game was witnessed by one of the largest football crowds ever seen here.

EYES OF SPORT FANS TURN TO GRIDIRON FOR PLEASURE

By HAROLD ANDREWS
CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Now that the season is seven or eight days old and the players have heard the cracking of collarbones and the wrenching of wrists, and therefore know their stuff, the football fan in the middle west has armed himself with cough drops and are off for the gridirons for Saturday's big ten conference games. Confident that something is going to happen.

Next in prominence to Captain Steger is quarterback Backall who walked down the field last year in the game with Wisconsin and chalked up the winning point. A great fight is certain, with much depending on which team gets the breaks.

Second in interest of the mid-western games will be the classic between Wisconsin and Minnesota. Predictions as to which team will win are being made with much persistence and the dope experts will remain under cover until after the game is over. Both eleven have powerful line and full physical power will be fought in the air.

The scheduled game between Northwestern enjoys the same reputation in the conference, that Joseph Beckett the British heavy-weight champion does in the world of prize fighting. If Northwestern wins, somebody will be called upon to invent a more thrilling phrase than "the dope has been upset."

What's more there are many close students of football who have been watching Northwestern this year who are already going about remarking that "Northwestern is going to pull the big surprise."

The results of these three games will provide a basis for speculation as to which University has the stronger team. As it is now one game is almost as good as another. Other lesser well attracted in the middle west Saturday are: Chicago vs Indiana at Chicago, Ohio State vs Ohio Wesleyan at Columbus, Ohio vs Lawrence at Iowa City, Nebraska vs Colgate at Lincoln.

LEWIS RETAINS TITLE WHEN HE BEATS SAMPSON

By United Press
HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 17.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, world's heavy-weight champion wrestler, retained the title and boosted his bank account several thousand dollars tonight by throwing Karl Sampson in two straight falls. Eight thousand fans saw the match.

Lewis won his first fall in 44 minutes, the second in 18. Both times he used the headlock, a variation of the famous hold, now barred, that gave him his name. The German challenger showed some good stuff, and punished the mat king at times, but was unable to withstand the terrific hand, wrists, of the champion.

Clarence Ecklund and Paul Jones finished a preliminary in a draw.

COLUMBIA GRIDSTERS LEAVE TO PLAY IOWA AGGIES

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 16.—With a record of victories over Chicago University, conquerer of Brown, and Missouri Wesleyan the Missouri Tigers will leave here tonight for Ames Iowa, where Saturday they will tackle their first Missouri Conference game with the strong Iowa State Aggies.

Based on their victory over Chicago and Ames narrow escape from a tie score last Saturday with the Kansas at Lawrence, Tiger rosters are forecasting at least a touchdown victory Saturday and critics who have watched both elevens in action, assert that playing as they did against the Maroons, Missouri should win by at least two touchdowns.

M'PHERSON COLLEGE HAS SLOGAN BEAT DUTCH'S TEAM

M'PHERSON, Kans., Oct. 16.—"Beat the Dutch!"
In most communities this is merely a slogan, but here it means a hard-fought battle. The Bulldogs must defeat "Dutch" Lomborg's Washburn College eleven from Topeka here tomorrow afternoon.

"Dutch" several years ago as coach at M'Pherson college gave the local school its first winning football eleven. But the Topeka school offered him more money. So while M'Pherson fans "pull" for Washburn in most of its games, tomorrow's battle is the one exception when Lomborg's local friends will be out hoping his eleven will be defeated.

JOHNSON SLIPS IN ON HOMEFOLKS AT COFFEYVILLE

By United Press
COFFEYVILLE, Oct. 17.—Walter Johnson came back to his old home town today, but the old home town was disappointed. Walter, not meaning to do it—put one over on his friends, who had planned to receive him with bands and oratory and parades. He slipped from a train here this morning and not even a relative was there to greet him. He had not been told of the reception that was planned for his home-coming or he wouldn't have slipped up the way he did—he said so himself. Thirty minutes after his arrival, however, he and his two older brothers, who stayed in school during the world series, were in the midst of a rip-roaring reception at their farm home a mile and a half east of here.

Walter's wife and his mother, Mrs. F. E. Johnson, and the two younger children, who motored thru from Washington will reach Coffeyville tonight. Mrs. Johnson telephoned Walter from Girard, Kansas, eighty miles northeast of here, at noon and said the big Lincoln Limousine presented to Walter by the capital fans had balked and refused to budge an inch. "There is a lot of smoke in the car and I don't know what is the matter," in about 30 minutes, Walter and a mechanic from a Coffeyville garage were speeding toward Girard. After appearing in exhibition games at Rochester, N. Y., and Philadelphia, Walter had planned to join the motor party in Indianapolis or St. Louis. But they have two youngsters here in Coffeyville and Mrs. Johnson wanted to see them. So when she left Washington for Coffeyville, members of the family here think that she forgot all about the car being new and the slow driving rules that are supposed to be adhered to by drivers of new automobiles.

Insanity Feigned By McCoy, Charge Made by Doctors

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 17.—When Kid McCoy took the welter-weight championship from Tommy Ryan in 1922 he did it by the cunning of his brain. McCoy is using that same method now in his efforts to fight clear of charges of murder which were placed against him after Mrs. Theresa Mors had been shot to death. Two alienists, Dr. Victor Parkin, and Dr. Paul E. Bowers, gave out this testimony Friday when they put McCoy through a series of mental tests after his show in insanity Thursday.

"A case of malingering," the physicians said, explaining that McCoy probably had feigned insanity to bolster up his defense in his coming trial.

Deputy District Attorney Harold Davis declared that he had expected McCoy to "do a mental flop."

"We have known for some time that insanity would be McCoy's defense," Davis said. "He answers the same foxy fighter who tricked Tommy Ryan into going into a championship bout without training. In those days, he used his brain when his hands failed him, and he's doing the same thing now when he knows he's beaten."

The alienists who examined McCoy

LIQUOR ACCOMPANIES MILK DELIVERIES IN SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 17.—Delivering whiskey along with the morning milk is the latest in San Antonio, hoodlum circles. It was discovered when prohibition agents arrested a Mexican boy as he was leaving a bottle at the home of one of his customers.

The federal men received information that whiskey was being delivered with the morning milk. Just before daylight the officers lying in a hiding place, saw a touring car stop near their place of ambush. A man stepped to the curb and received a bottle in a sack. One of the agents nabbed the driver and the others chased the man around his home. Fifteen quarts of whiskey were found in the car, it is alleged.

"TO MY FRYER CUSTOMERS AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY"

Many, if not most of you, I feel sure, know personally, or in a business way, the firm Hemphill-Price Co., now located in the Lewis-Spencer building adjoining the house of Rix, at corner of 13th and Ave. J. While I have not had personal knowledge of the management of this firm until recently, I have known of its enviable reputation for careful merchandising for some time; and as we have erected a building of ample size, well lighted, convenient & comfortable, and having seen their complete and varied stock of dependable merchandise, I feel safe in saying that this is now, and destined to become more and more, a most desirable place to trade. If you are and have been a customer of this enterprising firm, you need no word from me. But if you have not met them, I wish to ask that you visit this firm at its new location, and if you see it as I do, I believe, you will realize that it is well equipped to serve your interests, and will line up with it, make it your store. Feeling that, in a sense, our interests are mutual, I shall duly appreciate any favors you may show this firm along consistent lines. Very respectfully, Jno. P. Lewis 304-2

Bootleggers Are Sinking From All Places of Respect

By United News. KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17.—Bootleggers are sinking from respected places in society to the underworld—where they belong. A joke about the dry law and its violators is becoming as funny and as widespread as a bill collector's call on the first of the month. More women are entering into the bootlegging business and mixed juries are certain to prepare their exit into prisons. These and a few other optimistic prohibitions, venture were brought to Kansas City by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant U. S. Attorney general, who was responsible for the bringing members of a "saw-tooth" booze ring to justice.

"The American people are taking the prohibition law as the true sports that they are," she said. "They must give up their pocket flasks but they're doing it. When prohibition first went into effect the idea of defeating the measure appealed to many citizens as a great game, a contest, a cleverer to know a bootlegger and to be able to serve something at parties that your neighbor didn't have."

"Now, however, the game is getting old and losing zest. A more serious public sentiment toward prohibition is being awakened."

800,000 IDLE WAR VETERANS IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Oct. 16.—There are still 800,000 ex-service men upon the unemployment list in England, according to Field Marshall Earl Haig. Addressing National Executive Council of the British Legion, Earl Haig appealed for help in finding employment for these jobless veterans of the world war.

Of the 800,000 unemployed ex-service men, 300,000 are not much over thirty years of age," he said. "They gave their best years to serve their country—and all they want now is work, not doles; and the least that their own countrymen can do for them in their present dire need is to insure that all costs jobs shall be found for them."

MARKETS

SLIGHT GAINS ARE REGISTERED IN LIGHT TURNOVER

By EDWARD J. CONDON. NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Almost without exception the leading railroad and industrial stocks closed higher on Friday. Few of the gains were at all impressive, however, the undercurrent of the market was unmistakably firmer. The turnover was less than three-quarters of a million shares but there was some decent short covering at times and not a little of this came from out of town sources.

The firm close of the stock market was assured by the dip in call money to 2 1/2 per cent after renewing again at 2 1/2-2 3/4. In view of the satisfactory performance of stocks during the closing days of the week it became increasingly evident that the money market was becoming more liquid. The large holdings and not to a general move on the part of investors to desert the constructive side.

The tenor of the weekly review of business and finance was not, perhaps, all that could be desired. Distribution and consumption is proceeding at a fair pace but hardly measures up to the stride of a few weeks ago. Early in September price unsettlement was not as great as it is now. Then, too, warmer weather than was expected has tended to restrict buying against fall and winter requirements. Lower cotton prices, too, have tended to offset the increased buying power which would result from higher markets. Steel prices now stand at the lowest level nearly two with production running little changed from week to week so far this month.

Dun's review sees some new signs of expansion, both in domestic and overseas commerce. It is pointed out that the foreign trade outlook has brightened considerably with the successful placing of the German loan.

Failures for the week are reported by Dun's as 250 against 319 last week and 368 a year ago.

Brandstreet's Journal places the bonds clearing in the United States for the week ending Oct. 16, at $8,416,648,000 against $8,124,920,000 last week and $7,243,963,000 in the corresponding week last year.

The bond market proved quite as steady as stocks with the treasury 4 1-4's again reaching a new 8 1/2% level. The German bonds eased slightly under less urgent buying, but the French issues appeared quite unperturbed by the prospects of the early offering of $1,500,000,000 French loan, in this market.

Minister is Forced From Pastorate Account Politics

By United News. WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Rev. Tom P. Jamison, a Methodist minister of Spencer, North Carolina who is an elector at large on the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket in the state, has been forced to give up his pastorate as a result of his political activities, according to a telegram Friday to LaFollette-Wheeler headquarters from J. P. Barringer, state chairman of the Independent movement in North Carolina.

The telegram stated that Bishop Collins Denny and his cabinet in the Methodist church south, insisted that Dr. Jamison be voted out because of his activities in politics.

The pastor declared "that it was not his activities in political circles, but the fact that he had bolted the democratic party and was supporting LaFollette—that caused the action of the conference."

The telegram said: "Rev. Tom P. Jamison, prominent"

SPECIAL DINNER TO BE SERVED SUNDAY AT THE MELBA GRILL

Special dinners at the Melba Grill from 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning to 2:00 in the afternoon and from five o'clock in the afternoon to 8 o'clock in the evening have been announced by the managers, C. I. Partee and T. M. Gamble. The Melba Grill is fast becoming one of the most popular eating places in the city, and the management is to be congratulated upon the aggressive business policy that is being followed.

The people of Lubbock appreciate such service as is offered there which lends a great deal to the rapidity with which the business is growing.

Sunday School Lesson

REV. J. B. FITZGERALD, D. D., Dean of the Evening Robert Moody Bible Church, Lubbock, Tex.

Lesson for October 19

THE PARABLE OF THE SOWER

LESSON TEXT: Mark 4:1-20. GOLDEN TEXT: The sower sows the word. Mark 4:14.

PRIMARY TOPIC: The Garden of the Heart.

JUNIOR TOPIC: Good Soil for Good Seed.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC: How to Receive and Use God's Word.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC: How May I Improve the Soil of My Heart?

The method of teaching by parables was not employed by Jesus until the rulers had set their hearts against Him. When in the night of His wonderful works, they turned against Him and attributed His works to the devil (Mark 3:22) He denounced them by parables in fulfillment of Isaiah 6:10. The parabolic method of teaching makes clear the truth to those who love it and conceals it from those who dislike it.

A great multitude gathered to Him at the seaside (v. 1), so that, in order to escape the pressure of the crowd, He was obliged to enter a boat. From the boat as a pulpit He taught many things in parables. In this parable the sower and the seed are the same in all instances, but the results are entirely different. The difference lies in the condition of the soil. The central purpose of the teaching of this parable is to show that the results of preaching the Word depend upon the condition of the human heart.

I. The Wayside (vv. 4-5).

The wayside means the track beaten down by the hoofs of animals and the feet of men. Because the soil was unbroken and unpenetrated the seed could not get beneath the surface, therefore was devoured by the fowls that came along (v. 4). The great truth taught here is that the heart unbroken and hard is not fit soil for the Gospel. Such a heart, if it penetrates not, but lies loosely upon the surface, it is not recognized as God's means for restoring them unto Himself. While in this condition the evil one finds some way to snatch away the seed. The fowls that devour the seed represent the temptations of Satan (v. 15).

II. The Stony Ground (vv. 6, 9, 10, 17).

Stones means not stones mixed with soil, but stones with a thin layer of soil on them. With such conditions a seed springs up quickly and luxuriantly, as if it has not much depth. The great lesson is that hearts superficially impressed receive the Word with joy, but when affliction or persecution arises for the Word's sake, immediately they are offended. They wither away and die.

III. The Thorny Ground (vv. 7, 18, 19).

In this case the ground is good, but lies beneath it. It is mellow enough and has sufficient depth, but has not been cleaned of the thorns. Such really hear the Word, but the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the Word, and it becometh unfruitful (v. 19). The thorny ground hearers of this age are those:

1. Who are so immersed in worldly business and anxious cares that the good seed cannot mature.

2. Who are rich. Anxious care in business brings riches and the effect of riches is to blunt the spiritual perception of men and women, thereby rendering them unsusceptible to the call of God, to higher things in life.

3. Who are running after the pleasures of life. All these things choke the Word. Many of the enjoyments of the world may be innocent in themselves, but they attract so much attention and consume so much energy and time that one has not time for Bible reading, meditation and prayer.

IV. The Good Ground (vv. 8, 20).

This ground differs from all the rest. It is soft and mellow, deep and moist, therefore, is capable of bringing forth fruit, some an hundred, some sixty and some thirtyfold, indicating different degrees of fruitfulness even of the good ground. In the measure that the heart is kept free from worldly riches and pleasures, the good seed matures.

TEXAS COWBOYS HAVE ORGANIZATION COMPLETE, READY FOR ACTION

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 16.—Texas Cowboys have recently completed their organization at the University of Texas and have outlined entirely new plans for the current season. Instead of appearing at every game in orange shirts, chaps and big black hats as formerly, the cowboys will wear their four-gallon hats and western regalia this year only at the Thanksgiving game with A. and at the dedication of the Texas Memorial Stadium and out-of-town games. When the Longhorns play on foreign fields this year the v-may be sure of a rooting section of at least fifty members, for the Cowboys will attend all such games in full force and full regalia. Together with the Longhorn Band they will help make the famous T. U. formation. Freshman spirit is being fostered this year by the cowboys, according to Richard Blalock, of Marshall, Texas, and the organization will encourage the wearing of the green

Expose by Texan Causes Arrest of Negro "Christ"

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17.—A sensational exposure of the strange religious cult ruled by the self-styled "Jesus Christ revealed," a negro, by Volney Cochrane, former railroad employe of San Antonio, Texas, may result in instigation of a grand jury in this city. Police raided the basement of a home in the northern part of town and arrested the negro leader, Cochrane, three white women and eight negro women. It was almost impossible "to book" them at police headquarters because none apparently had a name and referred to other as "Baby," "Little Bill," "Owen," and "The Blue Eyed Girl."

KANSAS CITY COURTS LISTEN TO FAMILY TROUBLES

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17.—Judge Ira S. Gardner in the South Side police court weekly listened to the troubles of the Babcock Day and Black families. According to the evidence, it is assumed as though Mrs. Joe Black had asked Mrs. C. E. Babcock to come to the Black home and assist in treating Mrs. Black's married daughter, who was ill "and having spasms." But Mrs. Babcock was afraid, so she waited until friend Charles Day, a street car conductor, came to her home, and together they went on their errand of mercy. Mr. Babcock stayed with the sick woman while his wife and Mrs. Black hurried to find a physician.

Then something hit Babcock. When he regained consciousness, his wife was running water on his head. It seemed as if Charles Day, estranged husband of the sick woman, had come home while Babcock was doing his nursing, and drew some wrong conclusions. Day apologized, but Babcock decided to get a warrant. So the Blacks, Babcocks and Charles Day, a street car conductor, appeared in court. After the judge had heard the story, he looked enquiringly at Day. "Judge, I don't know a thing about it, I think they got the wrong guy." "He's right," piped up Mrs. Black and Babcock. "Perhaps you want the Charles Day who works at the Eighteenth street barn," suggested the wrong way anything to oblige.

Now the police are looking for the right Day. And a big sentence is assured Judge Gardner when he hears testimony again in the case.

In China there are streets given over exclusively to silk and fur shops. Other streets specialize in lanterns, fans or pictures. There are lacquer streets, silver streets, powder streets and basket streets.

Manslaughter Charge Filed in Neglect of Child

SPRINGLAKE, N. J., Oct. 17.—Ten-year-old Howard Reynolds has died in the Spring Lake hospital morgue, a victim of his parents' religious convictions. Recently little Howard became seriously ill, and was compelled to remain in bed. Hourly his condition became worse. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grandin Reynolds, alleged faith healers, did nothing to help relieve the child's suffering. "Howard will be healed by the Divine Faith," they are said to have remarked. Sympathetic neighbors summoned a physician who examined the child and handed the parents a prescription. "The boy does not need medical treatment," Mrs. Reynolds is alleged to have said, in rejecting the prescription. "Howard will be healed by the Divine Faith," they are said to have remarked. The charge against the parents was changed to manslaughter.
