STOCK SALT PROPOSITION

To the Ranchmen of Sutton County:—

For two years past the undersigned has had some question in his mind as to the value to live stock in this section of certain medicated salts, and we are determined to know for ourselves, and for you to know for yourselves, as to the value of the Illinois Stock Medicine Company's Medicated Salt.

A number of Ranchmen in Sutton county tell us that this salt has done their stock good. A few tell us that it is worth the price. We are not satisfied; you must make your testimonial stronger.

To that end THE SONORA MERCANTILE COMPANY has gone into an agreement with Mr. W. C. Bryson, of the Southern part of Sutton county, to Test the Value of This Salt. The agreement is as follows:

We furnish all the Salt for 1000 mother ewes with lambs; 200 goats; 100 head of cattle; and we Guarantee the Lambs to be Free from Sore-mouth from May 1st, 1920 to October 1st, 1920, and we guarantee them to have a better fleece of wool than sheep that eat common salt. We guarantee the Cattle to be Free of Ear-ticks on October 1st, 1920; we guarantee the Goats to be Free of Lice on October 1st, 1920. We Guarantee the Sheep, the Cattle and the Goats to be in a more Healthful condition, to Look better and Be Better than the same number of stock Under the Same Range conditions.

In the Western part of Sutton county we have made a like agreement with MR. R. A. HALBERT, and we would like to have a ranchman in the Eastern part of Sutton county; also in the Northern part of the county to make a like test. Further, if the Illinois Stock Medicine Company's Medicated Salt does not do what we claim for it when your stock have all they can eat of it and you convince us that they have had all they could eat of it, we do not want One Cent of Your Money.

The above mentioned agreements are on a basis of No Charge unless it Does what we claim.

P. S. We will Guarantee it to prevent stomach worms in sheep; also cure blood poison in mother animals of any kind when properly used.

NOTICE.

Evangelist J. S. Dunn of Dallas will begin a series of meetings in Sonora under a large tent beginning on the last Sunday in May for the Church of Christ. The public is cordially invited to attend.

JOY-TAYLOR.

On Wednesday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock, Mr. Dave Joy and Miss Maude Taylor were united in marriage at the Baptist church, the pastor Rev. S. F. Marsh officiating.

Mr. Sam Adams a cousin of Mr. Joy's and the bride's sister, Miss Veria Taylor were the only witnesses of the ceremony.

These fine young people are of the Cedar Hill and Copperas communities, the groom being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Doc Joy and the bride a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Taylor.

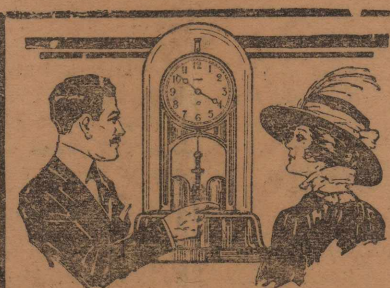

They are well known in Junction as they are often here visiting and on business.

A host of friends wish Mr. and Mrs. Joy much pleasure and usefulness in their wedded life; and surely the Lord has set the seal of his approval on the founding of righteous homes.—Junction Eagle.

C. S. Holcomb of Del Rio, and W. T. Hope of the Val Verde county surveyor were in Rockspring Wednesday. Some time ago Mr. Holcomb bought 52 sections of the Shaw ranch, about 30 miles west of Rocksprings, and he and the surveyor are cutting it up ready for the market. So far portions of it have been sold to Rosenow Bros., to Buck Bishop and to Bruni Hutto. Details can not be given until the surveying is completed. Mr. Holcomb still has 11 sections to sell.—Rock springs Rustler.

The Missionary Society.

The Missionary Society gave a tea at Mrs. Joe Ross' home Monday of last week, which was a great success. Division No. two entertained and a nice program was arranged.

WOOL BRINGS HIGHEST PRICES IN ITS HISTORY.

The highest prices ever paid for sheep and wool in the history of the industry in West Texas are reflected in sales which were obtained in San Angelo Thursday. Long wools have brought as high as 72 cents, or eight cents per pound higher than ever before known, while bred ewes, with wool on, have commanded from $16 to $25. Numerous flocks of lambs have been contracted for at $10, delivery to be made at weaning time in the fall.

Thus, after three years of hard ship due to the drouth, the sheep and wool-growers have at last come into their own, and predictions are being made freely that before the season is over choice wool clips will command $1 a pound.

Information considered reliable was received Thursday from Sonora to the effect that W. A. Miers had refused 90c a pound for his 12 months' wool and T. B. Adams, had rejected an offer of 85c a pound. Miers is said to have about 15,000 sheep and probably 150,000 pounds of wool.

Max Marshall of San Angelo, who ranches 12 miles north of Angelo, is the only man, so far as is known, who has been paid 90c for his wool. Marshall recently sold the fleece from 600 sheep, amounting to between 6,500 and 7,000 pounds, at this top figure. He disposed of the sheep at the same time, it is understood.

The highest confirmed price heretofore has been 68 cents per pound. This was paid at Sonora by H. P. Roddie & Co., of San Angelo for 50,000 pounds of wool bought from Holland Brothers. Some of the clips in the 90,000 pounds of fleece disposed of here by the Wool Growers' Central Storage Company early this week is reported to have brought 72c. The statement was made that the prices were the highest yet recorded, but the exact figures were not announced.—Standard.

"IF THE ORIENT IS TO BE SAVED THE PEOPLE IT SERVES MUST SAVE IT"

The people of the West saved the Orient two years ago when the Government took charge of the Railroads and the Directors through the influence of their school of railroads did not understand the conditions existing in the country tributary to the Orient on its 500 miles through Texas.

The new law that places the railroads of the United States under the control of the Interstate Commerce Commission puts the Orient in practically the same position as in 1918 and the Management of the Road has again called on the people to save the Road and incidentally the country it serves.

In response to the call for help Messrs. James Rooney of Fort Stockton, M. L. Mertz of San Angelo and W. L. Aldwell of Sonora acting as a directing committee has undertaken the organization of a campaign to save the Orient by united action.

While the citizens of the country served understand and appreciate the efforts being made by the Railroad, the commission in the proper exercise of their duties and the requirement of the Transportation Act of the present Congress must also understand the necessity to the commerce of the country of the continuance and extension of the Railroad.

A very enthusiastic mass meeting of citizens was held at the First National Bank Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of considering and taking action in the matter of the extension of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railway to Sonora.

The meeting was called to order by the Chairman of Sutton County Railway Committee, W. L. Aldwell, who stated the object of the meeting and L. W. Elliott was elected secretary. The secretary read the following call for the meeting and the telegram from Congressman C. B. Hudspeth, and other communications relating to this movement:

Dear Sir:—We the undersigned Railway Committee of Sutton County submit the enclosed letter and telegram from Congressman Hudspeth showing the condition of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railway at the present time. It is no question in the minds of this committee that concentration of action of the citizens in the interest of this road is manifested that we need this road.

It will be necessary to go before the Interstate Commerce Commission and demonstrate to them that this road is a necessity and it is developing a country that is not interested at the present time by any other Railway. Furthermore it will be necessary to those interested that financial aid will also be essential to confirm their claims.

We ask you to read the enclosed letter and telegram and be ready to make a date of meeting at Sonora for to arrange such program as will be necessary for to prove the facts that this road should be completed. We ask you to communicate with your neighbors and appoint some date to meet at Sonora promptly. Signed, W. L. Aldwell, E. F. Vander Stucken, W. A. Miers, L. J. Wardlaw, J. J. North.

The following is a telegram from Congressman Hudspeth to W. L. Aldwell, Chairman of the Committee: "Have just conferred with secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission relative to loan out of the revolving fund for completion of the Orient road from San Angelo to Del Rio. Secretary informs me that this can be made upon pro or con basis, with sufficient security that the commerce of the country would be benefited by you will understand. Less, that there is no absolute guarantee that we will get this money, but it is available for such purposes and I think the effort should be made. I suggest that you confer with citizens from San Angelo and south to Del Rio and if you desire hearing before the Commission of a committee sent here I can secure same at any time after 20th of this month. Let me know your wishes, I am here at your service."

C. B. HUDSPETH, M.C.
Washington, D.C., May 3, 1920
Judge James Cornell was then requested to inform the meeting of the present and past status of the railroad situation as regards Sonora and this part of West Texas. He gave a lucid and complete resume of the previous efforts and the conditions now existing because of the Transportation Act of the present Congress which places this and similar questions in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission and presented the remedy for action to be taken at this time.

The proposition as recommended by the Executive Committee of the People, after due consideration and advice, is that a committee of the people be sent to Washington to present the claims and show the Interstate Commerce Commission the necessity for the building of the Orient, and in order that the Committee be in a proper position to act and show their authorization, that they be furnished with notes payable to the Interstate Commerce Commission based on a fifteen cents per acre donation from the land owners of Sutton county. The amount thus subscribed would be $150,000 and it is believed to be the most practical way of solving the bonus question. It is further believed that if we are not at this time able to convince the Commission of the necessity to commence of the construction of the road, we may as well resign ourselves to forever do without a railroad.

The soliciting committee appointed by the Executive Committee: H. P. Allison, J. W. Wilson, Will Williamson, Roy Hudspeth and Roy E. Aldwell.

W. C. Bryson was elected a member of the Executive Committee.

Judge James Cornell was elected a member of the Executive Committee to succeed J. J. North, resigned.

The meeting was attended by more than thirty representative businessmen and ranchmen and was very hopeful and enthusiastically indorsed the method of action proposed for the securing of this necessary adjunct to the future and in fact present welfare of the country.

THE METHODIST DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

Wednesday night, April 28th, at 8:30 o'clock, the opening sermon of the Methodist Conference, San Angelo District, was preached by Rev. H. H. Bain of Miles. Thursday morning at 9 o'clock the Conference was called to order by Rev. J. M. Perry the Presiding Elder who conducted religious services, after which the roll was called and thirty-seven answered present. Before night the same day many others were added to the roll as they arrived. The ministers filling the Sonora pulpit, besides those mentioned above, were Rev. W. K. Swinme, of Junction; Rev. J. T. Curry, San Antonio; Rev. J. S. Wilson, Rochelle; Rev. J. D. McWhorter, Ozona; Rev. H. E. Draper, San Angelo; Rev. F. G. Clark, Eldorado, and Rev. J. A. Boatman of North Chadburne Street, San Angelo. The Woman's Missionary Society of the District had charge of the house Saturday afternoon, and held their Annual District Meeting, Mrs. Robert Massie of San Angelo, the President presiding. Their meeting was indeed very interesting, as it brought reports from most every church in the District, and closed at 8 p.m. with a most excellent programme given for the District, by mostly Sonora talent.

Ministers present besides those mentioned above were: Rev. O. M. Cole of Sterling; Rev. S. J. Estes Water Valley; Rev. J. W. Cowan Brady; Rev. J. H. Clark Paint Rock; Rev. C. B. Molland Barnhart. For various reasons some were unable to attend. A very bright young man Ray Cooper editor of the Miles Messenger was licensed to preach and we confidently expect him to make good.

The Conference passed a resolution granting Brother Perry the Presiding Elder a leave of absence for 30 or 60 days as he might need to rest and recuperate, as he has been quite ill for the past month. He is improving rapidly but his brethren, both ministers and laymen desired him to have rest. Rev. Perry is one of the strongest preachers in Southern Methodism; no task is too great for his courage and determination and nothing too small to be done right. He is serving his fourth and last year on the San Angelo District and on Sunday morning May 2nd, and by the way on his birthday, the pastor and laymen of the District, as a token of their love and esteem for him, presented the Elder with a handsome suitcase. Then, the same day at the evening services the Woman's Missionary Society presented him with a nice little purse with considerable currency in it, besides several remembered him with individual birthday gifts. To all these he responded with words eloquent, beautiful and very fitting.

During the routine business of the Conference a resolution was adopted endorsing the plans of the Commission on Unification of the North and South bodies of Methodism. Also one endorsing the plans of our Centenary Commission. And on Sunday night at the last service a resolution was adopted by the Conference, thanking the people of Sonora for their splendid hospitality and the royal manner in which they entertained the Conference.

In conclusion, the pastor of the Sonora Methodist Church wishes to take this method to thank one and all of the Sonora people who helped in any way to take care of so large a delegation. Just a few less than a hundred visitors were with us during the Conference.

Next year we meet in the little city of Miles, which place was selected without a dissenting vote. Delegates to the Annual Conference were elected, so far as we remember, as follows: H. E. Jackson, Mrs. Robert Massie, Mrs. J. M. Perry, San Angelo; S. J. Estes, Water Valley; J. S. Broyles Paint Rock; R. W. Davis Sonora. Don't forget next Sunday is Mother's day, come worship with us in this great service.
Yours, S. C. Dunn.

San Angelo Standard Changes Hands.

It is with feelings of regret that the News learns of the retirement from the ownership and management of the San Angelo Standard of J. G. Murphy. Mr. J. G. (Pat) Murphy as owner and manager of the Standard for the past consecutive 36 years, has been the inspiration and directing force of the newspapermen of West Texas who have endeavored in their various localities to emulate his example and keep their communities ever advancing, materially, socially, educationally, religiously—always progressively. Ever optimistic for the future of San Angelo and West Texas he has enabled many a storm of depression and disappointment to vanish by pointing to the silver lining and holding the fort until all uncertainty is passed and the country firmly established and at the zenith of prosperity. The Fraternity, however, rejoices that his untiring efforts have not been without reward and that he retires with a competency adequate to his modest needs. May he live long and see the Empire he has so largely been instrumental in establishing continue to grow and develop as he would wish.

The new owner of the San Angelo Standard is Houston Harte of Booneville, Mo., an experienced newspaper man. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri, enlisted in the infantry as a private in January, 1918 and came out a Captain in 1919. The News extends its welcome to Mr. Harte as Commander in Chief and promises loyal and hearty support from our department.

QUIET SUNDAY WEDDING.

Mrs. Clara Lee Hagerlund and Michael J. Murphy, both of Sonora, were quietly married Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. Father H. M. J. Wirtz. The ceremony was performed at the priest's house in the presence of a few chosen friends and relatives including Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Murphy, Miss May Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nabors.

Mr. Murphy is well known in San Angelo and is a brother of J. G. Murphy of The Standard. He is the editor of the Devil's River News published at Sonora. Following the ceremony the bride and groom returned to their Sutton county home.—San Angelo Standard, May 3, 1920.

J. M. Quicksall of Brady was here last week attending the Methodist conference. Mr. Quicksall has been farming in the Brady country since 1890 and has seen the country pass from a great grazing land to a fine successful farming country. He paid his respects to the News because he said Brother Sellers of the Brady Sentinel would be sure to ask him all about the Sonora country of which they hear so much, and being a believer in the power of the Press, he wanted to give the "formers of Public Opinion" the once over. Thank you for the call Mr. Quicksall, and hope your report will be glowing about the Stockmen's Paradise.

For every purpose for which a liniment is usually applied the modern remedy, Liquid Borozone, will do the work more quickly, more thoroughly and more pleasantly. Price, 30c. 60c and $1.20. Sold by Sonora Drug Co.

STUDY OUR PLAN.

A careful study of the Devil's River Oil & Gas Company's plan will convince the close student of investments that we are offering the BEST inducement in the OIL fields. Oil production in Texas fades the total gold production of Alaska in its best days into insignificance. Alaska's best production of gold was only $15,000,000.00, while Texas is producing about $150,000,000.00 worth of oil. The production is increasing so rapidly that it is conservatively estimated that the output will be close to $800,000,000.00 in 1920.

NO is the time to get in the oil business in order to reap the early harvest. With 600 acres of oil lands to draw from, we anticipate making big profits on our most liberal plan. ### THE WOODEN SPOIL.

Two days after the news reached Hilary he went into the village for his mail. Taking it to his office to read, he found among it a bulky envelope addressed to him from Ontario in an unknown writing. He opened it and found a letter from Morris.

However evasive the ex-manager had been in conversation, he was direct enough in writing. "You didn't treat me well, and I guess you had reason to act as you did," he wrote. "That hound Brousseau swindled me as he was swindling you, and I'm going to put you in possession of the facts and documents, which I took from his desk before leaving. You needn't have any scruples about using them, because they refer principally to you."

Hilary thought enough of the matter to send a man to Lafe, asking him to come in immediately; and that afternoon the two men went over the situation together.

"It's a clean case," said Hilary. "He's been swindling the property right and left, it seems. I allowed for a few thousands, but as I make it out it amounts to nearly eighty thousand."

Lafe whistled and took up the paper that Hilary handed him.

"This is the contract with Leblanc to cut on the St. Boniface limits," he said. "So there's no mistaking who owned that lumber in the river."

He took up another document. "A contract with the Cornwall Paper company to supply twenty thousand cords of spruce wood from the St. Boniface limits," he said. "And here's Morris' receipt for seven thousand dollars commission on 'gummy fir' as he would call it—in other words, pulpwood sold off the seigniory during 1914, at 10 per cent. What do you make of it, Lafe?"

"Water-tight," answered Lafe.

"Here's another document that makes interesting reading," continued Hilary, handing it to him.

Lafe studied it. "I don't get it," he said.

"It's Lamartine's acknowledgment of fifty thousand dollars received from Rosny for fifty shares in the North Empire Development company—one of Brousseau's interests. Now look at this one. Lamartine is remitting five thousand dollars less the broker's charges for the sale of North Empire Development stock, as per order. He doesn't say how much stock. Lamartine isn't a fool. But here's Rosny's acknowledgment of the five thousand dollars less broker's charges for the sale of fifty shares, dated March 9, 1915. Now, here's a stock market clipping from a newspaper of March 11, showing the stock at $875.

"That's where we've got him, Lafe. Lamartine's letter proves nothing, but Morris got hold of Rosny's acknowledgment, probably for blackmailing purposes, and it shows Brousseau has swindled Rosny out of $37,000 on that deal. Probably there were others. That's where his money went."

"It's a pity," Morris couldn't run straight, being as thorough as he is," said Lafe.

Hilary looked at him searchingly until he compelled him to return his gaze.

"You have been very reticent of late, Lafe. What's the trouble?"

"I guess it ain't much," said Connell. "Well, you see, it's this way," he went on reluctantly. "I know what lies that blackguard was spreading about you. And I didn't know whether to tell you or not, Mr. Askew. I knew Baptiste saw us with that girl in Ste. Marie, and I knew from his face that he wasn't pleased. And again I didn't know what to do. And I decided to lie low. It's my way; maybe I was wrong, but I'm against butting in, by nature."

"Never mind, Lafe," said Hilary. "It's too late to make any difference now."

"No, it ain't too late!" shouted Lafe, leaping to his feet. "Mr. Askew, you haven't told him—Mr. Rosny—about that asbestos mine, have you? You ought to have gone to him and let him know. You could have saved Mamzelle Rosny from sacrificing herself this way. You can save her, and you're going to."

"I suppose I have let things drift," said Hilary somberly. "I lived in a sort of hope that the mess would clear up. And I hadn't the heart to do anything at all."

"There's the girl Marie—won't she say anything?"

"She's afraid of her father. There's no telling how he would take it. At present I don't think he knows anything."

"I wouldn't let that stand in my way," said Lafe emphatically.

"I don't think you'd really use that means of clearing yourself, if you were my promise to say nothing, and that settles the matter. No, Lafe, you're talking nonsense."

"Maybe I am," said Lafe stubbornly. "But I ain't going to see your happiness wrecked because two women haven't the sense and the heart to clear you. And I'm going to do it."

"No, you're not, Lafe," said Hilary bluntly.

"Why not? Good Lord, why not?"

"Because I'm leaving St. Boniface," answered Hilary.

"I'm going," repeated Hilary, with a swift gesture of hopelessness. "You'll call me a quitter, I suppose."

"Certainly should," answered Lafe coolly. "The same as you did me."

"Maybe. But I came up here to play a certain game. I came to put the seigniorly lumber business on its legs. And I've done it. I stayed to fight Brousseau after he nearly got me down, and I've beaten him. I've won that game on every point. I'm going to make Brousseau refund his stock, and I'm going to leave you here in charge for the present, to wind up. I shall go to Quebec to start proceedings and try to find a purchaser. Your contract will hold as long as you want it to. And I'm not coming back. I've done what I came for, haven't I?" he ended defiantly.

"That's the way all quitters talk," said Lafe.

Hilary's nerves were gone, of course. Lafe knew that the last lap of the race was the grueling one. Hilary needed help, that was all. Lafe grew crafty with his idea.

"Well, you're boss, of course," he said reluctantly. "If you've made up your mind, it ain't for me to interfere. When are you leaving, sir?"

"I shall go out with Dupont when he takes his last load," answered Hilary. "That'll be Friday. We can't have the logs through the mill before then. Dupont doesn't know yet?"

"No."

Lafe reflected. The weather had changed suddenly during the preceding night. Already the shores of the St. Lawrence were thick with grinding floes. The middle passage was clear, but in a few days navigation would be impossible; a dog team would have to be procured and trained to run together. Already it was a difficult journey with a horse-sleigh between the camp and the mill. If the weather held, Hilary could be held until he had accomplished his purpose.

Hilary put on his hat and overcoat, picked up his snowshoes and went toward the stables. In a few minutes the horse had been harnessed to the sleigh and stood breathing great clouds of smoke into the frosty air. It started, and from the office doorway Lafe watched the man whom he loved best in the world of men driving away.

He waited till the sleigh had disappeared among the trees behind the bridge. He allowed ten minutes more, to make sure that Hilary would not change his intentions and return. Then he coolly opened Hilary's desk with a duplicate key that had been made after the burglary and took out the envelope that contained the papers from Morris. He removed these and thrust them into his pocket. In the empty envelope he placed some discarded letters from the waste-basket. Then he put back the envelope, closed the desk, strapped on his snowshoes and left the office.

Five minutes after he left Hilary was back. His decision had suddenly come to him. He had resolved to leave St. Boniface, and there was nothing to be gained by procrastination.

He wanted to leave St. Boniface forever, and to put the memory of the past months out of his mind, so far as it could be possible. He hated the little village; even Lafe's presence had become intolerable to him.

He went to Dupont on board his schooner and arranged for him to sail for Quebec the following evening with the little lugger-schooner full—which he had. He instructed him to say nothing to anybody about the arrangement. He saw nothing strange in Dupont's manner or aspect and, had he done so, he would not have thought anything about it.

Having issued his instructions, he drove back toward the camp.

But, seeing that the office was dark and unoccupied, he stopped there on his way, opened his desk and took out the envelope which he supposed to contain the letter and paper from Morris. In Quebec he meant to go through them again, mailing to Rosny those papers that had reference to his affairs and placing the others in a lawyer's hands for a civil suit.

He packed a few of his personal effects in a bag and left the office, as he supposed for the last time.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royse City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says; "After the birth of my little girl... my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me... but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable... I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.
