Governments and Men in High Place Have cred From the Beginning in Their Methods of Fighting Its Propaganda.

Article XXX.

By FRANK COMERFORD.

The bolshevik government launched great propaganda drive to bring about disorder. It was, and is, a criminal conspiracy to destroy the peace ness bolshevik propaganda is in a class by kself. It is poisoned publicity. The bolsheviks carefully kept their methods out of their propaganda. They emphasized the poverty of the world. They pictured conditions, always charging these conditions to the inequality of distributing and laying the blame at the door of the capitalist system. They invented fine-sounding udices of the people; they pretended ruth and common sense, they would provisions the following: have used every available agency to ernment and show the working people government and the methods by which! it sustains itself. The allied govern- their turn. ments contented themselves with tellbad, dangerous thing, a pitfall, Instead, they should have thrown searchfighting propaganda with propaganda, they edild have fought fire with waand edicated populace would have turned a deaf ear to bolshevik propawould not be the dangerous menace

Working People Took Alarm.

The working people noticed that a portion of the press previously allied with the "interests" and against the right of the people, thundered most bitterly against the bolshevik government. This class of papers denounced bolshevism, called it names, but gave little space to the calm, cool, plain statement of the truth about bolshevism. They were as "red" in their conservatism as the Reds were false in their propaganda. The newspapers of the general public; they have long been under suspicion. The bolshevik propagandists were in a better position to get results than the conser- in America, I have found that this vative press, and for three reasons; first, the bolsheviks had the sympathy the people to increase their suspicion of the workers of the world because of the political governments, of the of the connection with the liberation press, of the leaders of business and of Rudia; second, the bolsheviks appeared as the under-dog in the fight: third, he conservative press suffered from is past reputation as the mouthpiece if these who stood in the way of beter living conditions for the fought, because its success meant the great hajority. Many leading business men. Aptains of industry, followed the birth of the "New Order." This judg exam e of the conservative press and denot ced bolshevism instead of exposin, it. These men were under suspicion and their attitude confirmed the belie growing in the minds of the work s that bolshevism would benefit against the bolshevik regime. hem These same men denounced the in their own countries when sgight better conditions. Working emember that most of the reforms hat has come has been wrung dom, " ever, has a right been conhad to fight, strike for it, and even in this hour some of the leading figures of the employing minority call men bisheviks who are not communists, who are not bolsheviks. On the contray, they are good citizens, seeking, as they have a right to seek, a things they produce. These methods, these ttitudes, have reacted in the minds of men who toil, and I have heard nany of them accept the challenge ind proudly boast that they were bolsheviks, although in truth they were not.

Investigators Unfairly Treated. Someone drew a curtain of silence around soviet Russia. At least so it seemed to the people. Men who came out of Russia and brought with them! reports which displeased their governments were abused, their reports suppressed. Bullit. Robins and Steffens are examples in America. The public at once came to the conclusion that these man had found conditions in Russia good; that bolshevism was a safe, sane plan of government; that it was succeeding. Of course, this is not the real story these men brought = WINDMILL DOCTOR. out of Russia, but the abuse, heape on these men, the silencing of these men, spoke louder and more eloquently than any report could have done. An English paper went so far as to charge the prohibition movement of the United States with being in league with the bolsheviks, saying that its object was to make restless the workers by denying them alcohol, hoping that out of this restlessness would come revolution. Another appeal to prejudice permitted by the allied governments, was that the bolshevik movement was a Trotzky were Jews and that the soviet machine was Jewish from beginning to end. What difference could it make to freeminded people whether the leaders of the bolshevik movement were Jews or not? While the mass of the people are thought not to be aducated, they have the common sense to see in such propaganda an effort to make them hostile to bolshevism by inciting race prejudice. Shall C' bs or Reconstruction in

A great crack was made in the curtain of silence drawn around Russia. Through it came the startling news that the bolshevik government planned the nationalization of women. No fact about Russia was given greater prominence and publicity. I have talked to many men who were bitterly opposed to bolshevism, and in the last analysis I found the only tangible basis for their oppositionu was that the program included national prohibiica used the "Nationalization of Wom en" lie in its nationwide advertising. Of course, it is obvious to thinking people that the plan of nationalization of women was a falsehood, and the workers concluded it was designed to poison the public against bolshevism. Anyone who thinks for a minute will realize, first, that the nationalization of the world. It is an appeal to the of women is not a necessary part of discontented, an effort to mobilize the any economic program, second, that inrest of the world under the red flag one could not get a hundred men or of violence. In cunning and complete- women in any country of the world, who are not degenerates, to subscribe to a program which contemplated the registration and promiscuous violation of their mothers, wives, daughters, and sweethearts. that with the exception of the two cases cited above, it was never even contemplated by anyone. This libel of the holsheviks strengthened their cause in the allied world. Months after it was exposed the world was swept with another evil, unnecessary and false bit of propaganda. It was complained that this second piece of news was intended to corroborate and confirm the nationalization of women; its open object was to create hostility for the bolsheviks. It achieved exactly the opposite result. It was that the bolsheviks had decided to abolist Christian names, that henceforth children would be named by number. To illustrate, the first born would be Smith No. 1, the second child in the Smith family would be Smith No. 2 and so on. This was given first-page this class have not the confidence of space in the press of the world. I was printed as serious news, as truth

The Invitation

Two recruits in a Scottish regimen were visiting an English church for from he same conservative class; sel- the first time. They had not beer seated long before the organist began ceded to the working class. They have to play a very lively voluntary. This was something new to them, and they listened in astonishment, not being used to music of that sort in church On of them was then aroused from a reverie by a tap on the shoulder Turning around, he saw a lady, the owner of the pew, who smiled at him larger hare, a fairer measure of the wishing to pass to her seat. He did not take in the situation. "No, no mum!" he said. "Take my mate here -you'll find he can dance much bette than me!"

STUDY OUR PLAN. A careful study of the Devil's River Oil & Gas Company's plan will convince the close student of investments that we are offering the BEST inducement in the OIL fields. Oil production in Texas fades the total gold production of Alaska in its best days into insignificance. Alaska's best production of gold was only $15,000,000,00, while Texas is producing about $150,000,000 00 worth of oil. The production is increasing so rapidly that it is conservatively estimated that the output will be close to $300,000-
