Oliver Wuest says that the Little League is long on players and spectators but short on men who want to work with the boys and supervise the games. If you would like to help Wuest would be glad to hear from you.

The State Parks and Wildlife Commission is presently giving thought to adding an extra weekend for deer hunters this fall, starting the season Saturday, November 14, instead of Monday. Advancing the date would enable father-son hunts the first days of the season without interrupting school schedules and also enable many workers to take part in the opening of the season. Predictions are for a substantial increase in deer population this fall.

The main flock of the nearly extinct whooping cranes has departed Texas for the Great Slave Lake area near the Arctic circle—a 2,500-mile migration. This flock of 33 whoopers is expected to hatch three to four young in the far north this summer, but there is another courtship (?) going on in New Orleans.

The San Antonio Zoo has sent its captive whooper, Rosie, by jet to visit another whooper in the New Orleans Zoo. Zoo keepers aren't too good about telling a Rosie from a Raymond, but if the match is right the Texas zoo may soon boast an addition itself.

The caverns of Sonora had a perpetual showing of slides of our cavern formations at the Dallas Vacation and Sports Show recently. The exhibit was featured by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Sarah Sawyer was a hostess at the show.

Bennie Stokes says that Tuesday, May 12, will be Sonora's second biggest day. The biggest, he says, was when the railroad came to town. The opening of Sonora Stockpens will be the second largest event.

Rex Cusenbery at Lions Club Tuesday read the business card of Homer N. Tanner Jr., Chamber of Commerce manager at Brownwood. Cusenbery said that he thought that Tanner was an all-round man.

The card reads:
Used cars, land, whiskey, manure, nails, fly swatters, racing ferns, bongos...

Homer N. Tanner Jr.
AKC Approved.

Wars fought, revolutions started, governments run, uprisings quelled, tigers tamed, bars emptied, computers verified, orgies organized.

Cinders agrees, Tanner is indeed an all-round man.

Lions Roar

Sixteen members of the Sonora High choral group under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Prugel and Mrs. James Wilson sang for the Downtown Lions club Tuesday at their noon luncheon.

Mrs. Wilson accompanied the girls at the piano and Irene Davis introduced the songs.

Doyle Morgan, High School principal, who introduced the group, said that the only qualification for girls joining the group was that they enjoy singing.

Elliott Qualifies For Track, Field State Competition

By Dick McMillan

The red and white of Sonora High School will be carried to the State Track Meet this year, after an absence of one year. Bill Elliott will represent the Sonora Broncos at the giant track and field meet to be held May 8 and 9.

Elliott won his right to compete by claiming a first place in the broad jump and second place in the high jump at the Region I Track Meet held last weekend in Lubbock. The top track teams from districts 1-AA through 8-AA competed.

Elliott leaped 22 feet, 9 1/2 inches to win the broad jump. It was his longest leap of the year, and it was just good enough to top Mike Brockman of Iopa Park. Brockman jumped 22 feet, 8 1/2 inches.

In the high jump, Robert Seagraves, a 6 foot, 7 inch giant from Muleshoe carried away the gold medal with a 6 foot 1 3/4 inch jump. Elliott grabbed second with a jump of 6 feet after narrowly missing 6 feet, 2 inches.

Trainer Announces Changes in Service At Post Office

Money orders will no longer be sold at the Post Office on Saturdays after May 3. The new policy to take effect in Sonora and other cities is in accordance with limited adjustments in postal services ordered by Postmaster General Gronouski says James Trainer, postmaster. Saturday services only will be affected locally by the order.

Other Saturday services will be affected locally by Gronouski's orders. Beginning on Saturday, May 9, delivery or acceptance of parcel post mail, sale of stamps, and all other services requiring assistance from postal employees will be handled between 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

Trainer adds that no "before or after hours" window service may be provided at any time and that mail transportation schedules into and out of Sonora will remain unchanged. He states that the adjustments in services were ordered for the purpose of saving the government $12.7 million.

Futurity, Consolation Highlight Second Weekend Of Horse Racing

Will Your Opinions Be Counted?

AN EDITORIAL

Saturday 2,959,999 other Texans and YOU should all be of one mind as far as one thing is concerned: 2,959,999 other Texans and YOU should be determined that nothing—not out-of-town company, not a backache, not even the horse races—will keep from casting your ballot in the primary elections.

We like to think of the right to vote as a sacred right; yet, at the same time, we often let the opportunity to exercise this right slip right by us, saying to ourselves "What difference will one little vote make?" or "I just won't bother, my candidate has it made." But, of course, it does matter. If you and the thousands of others like you who are tempted not to vote actually don't go to the polls, then your candidate may well be defeated by someone less capable whose supporters happened to get out and vote for him.

This year's primaries offer special incentives to both Democrats and Republicans to vote. In the Democratic camp there are several hotly contested races, while on the Republican ticket for the first time there is a full slate of candidates for Congress and a presidential preference poll.

Democrats and Republicans alike have another opportunity for expressing a preference Saturday, by attending the precinct convention of their choice, after casting their ballots in the primary. Texans do not have a presidential primary; but when we go to the precinct convention and cast our vote for a delegate to the county convention of our party, we are in effect casting a ballot for the presidential candidate of our choice. Usually only about ten per cent of each political party bothers to vote in precinct elections.

Actually, 2,959,999 other voters and you are not expected at the polls Saturday. The figure 2,960,000 represents the number of people eligible to vote, while only 1,800,000 are expected to exercise their right. This means that only 45 out of every 74 citizens qualified to vote are expected to go to the polls.

Let us all 2,960,000 of us—Texans and YOU—help ourselves and the candidates and issues, think carefully, and make our decisions. Then let us act the responsible citizens and exercise our right to vote.

Lesson Number One: Volunteer Firemen Don't Press Luck

W. D. Wilkinson of Houston is being held in county jail after being indicted by the grand jury Monday morning on a charge of felony swindle by worthless check.

Wilkinson is charged with passing a worthless check to the Sonora Park and Horse Show Association last May and was apprehended when he returned to the races this past weekend. He has been unable to make bond, which was set at $2,000.

Volunteer Firemen Answer Two Calls

Volunteer firemen answered two calls this past week, but neither alarm resulted in serious damage.

Saturday afternoon firemen answered a call to the residence of Jack Kerbow, where it was discovered that the air conditioning motor was smoking.

Sunday an automobile belonging to Bill Doran caught fire in the parking lot of the Park Inn Cafe, and the front seat was damaged before firemen arrived.

A good crowd watched Saturday and a full house was on hand Sunday at Sonora Park when the starting gates clanged open for the first weekend of the Sonora Park and Horse Show Association's Spring Race meet. Entrants in the West Texas Quarter Horse Futurity and the new Futurity Consolation were chosen at the Futurity trials held Saturday, and on Sunday a mixture of races were run including the West Texas Quarter Horse Derby and the Goliad Sprint.

Fifty horses competed in six races Saturday to qualify for the ten places in the Futurity, which is a 330-yard dash for 2-year-olds sponsored by the Quarter Horse Association of West Texas. The estimated purse for the race to be run next Saturday is $20,000.

The second ten fastest horses in the trials qualified for places in the Consolation, which will be run next Sunday for an estimated purse of $12,000.

ANGORAS SELL AT $14.50 IN JUNCTION

Wanted: Goats For Opening Sale

"We have several good consignments but we would like still more good quality Angora goats consigned," said Charlie Schwartz speaking of the opening auction sale planned at Sonora Stockpens May 12. "Everything is going along just fine," he said. "We expect from three to four thousand animals at the sale."

Schwartz states that at a special Angora goat sale Monday in Junction 18,000 were sold with top price being $14.50 per head.

The initial auction sale here is planned for 1 p.m. Tuesday, May 12, the day of the grand opening of the Stockpens. Schwartz, manager-operator, has stated that he will provide free transportation anywhere in the United States for the first carload of goats purchased on opening day and shipped by rail.

Other opening day activities will include a barbecue at 11:30 a.m. for ranchmen and their wives, livestock buyers and their wives, members of publicity media, and special guests. The Sonora Chamber of Commerce is organizing the barbecue and has invited Governor John Connally. Local businessmen will serve the meat furnished by Sutton County ranchers.

TCU Students Learning To Be Ranchers Study by Observing in Sutton County

Imagine, if you will, 21 young men traveling toward Sonora in four station wagons. They look out at the passing countryside watching the fences, the mesquites, the livestock they are going by. Then one of them points out something and asks a question, and the discussion is on. Suddenly the four cars have become a college classroom, joined together by a two-way radio system.

Two of the young men are instructors, and the other 19 are students in T.C.U.'s ranch training program. The class came to Sutton County last week as one of their six week-long field trips.

"We found that we could learn so much by discussing what we saw as we drove along that we added the two-way radios so that the whole class could participate," said John Merrill, director of the program.

This idea of learning all the time seems to be typical of the planning of the whole program. Merrill says that sometimes the class starts as early as 3 in the morning and doesn't finish until after dark.

The ranch training program is a nine-month course of intensive classroom and field work especially designed for people who plan to make a living from ranching or livestock farming.

Class members come from as far away as South America and Australia, and there is a wide variance in ages with freshmen as well as graduate students able to enroll.

The students are carefully instructed by the instructors. They receive information and data from application forms and personal interviews to try to select those students who have a genuine interest in ranching and who have sufficient experience to be able to benefit from the course.

In the classroom Merrill and his assistant, Raymond Kenny, emphasize principles concerning soil, water, grass, and livestock. The class travels about 9,000 miles from the Gulf coast to Kansas visiting some 30 ranches, experiment stations, and other operations to see different methods of putting these principles in action.

For example, last week the group spent Monday on the Jett Koy ranch in Schleicher County, and on Tuesday morning toured the Sonora Veterinary Clinic, and talked with Dr. Joe David Ross about the diseases of sheep and goats, Tuesday afternoon Dr. W. T. Hardy and Leo Merrill showed them the Experiment Station.

Then Fred Earwood spoke to them at the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company Wednesday morning about the marketing of wool and mohair. Clint Langford, county agent, was their guide that day as they watched shearing on the Mayfield ranch and learned about water diversion and bitterweed control from Bryan Hunt on his ranch.

Incidentally, the class isn't all work—the young men did find

Langdon Approves Greater Production Of Oil in Texas

Land owners were assured this week by Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon that he favors greater oil production in Texas.

Although the Railroad Commission cannot consider prices (only physical waste), he said, it was logical to assume that the greater the production the bigger the royalty checks for several hundred thousand land owners in the state.

However, if production exceeds demand, the price of oil decreases. Any excessive over-production, such as occurred in the 30's in East Texas when oil sold for 10 cent a barrel, will cut deeply into the checks received by owners of mineral rights in land from which Texas' oil and gas are produced, Langdon said.

Three Initiated Into Gamma Phi At Recent Meeting

Mrs. Doyle Morgan, Mrs. Lacy Steed, and Mrs. P. E. DeLoach of Del Rio, were initiated as new members of the Gamma Phi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at a meeting on April 18 in the homelike cottage at Sonora High School.

Mrs. Audrey Bridges was in charge of the initiation ceremony. Special music was presented by Mrs. Dennis Hays and Mrs. James Wilson. Mrs. Bill Gosney presented a program on "Changing Sociological Patterns". Mrs. Andrew Moore presided during the business meeting.

Those present were Randolph Harris, Mrs. Bryan Giffis, Mrs. Terrell Love, and Mrs. DeLoach of Del Rio; Mrs. Sydney Snyder, Mrs. Monte Kirkland, and Mrs. Velma Fleischer of Rocksprings; Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Bridges, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Hays, Mrs. Gosney, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Steed, Mrs. Edgar Glasscock, and Miss Margaret Schwiening.

Refreshments were served by Miss Schwiening, Mrs. Hays, Mrs. Bridges and Mrs. Glasscock.

enough time Wednesday afternoon to tour the Caverns of Sonora.

The students also learn from "working experts" in the classroom. Among their guest speakers this year were a banker to explain types of loans to them and a representative of the Internal Revenue Service to speak to them about taxation.

The subject they study included beef cattle, sheep, and goat production, grassland management, soil and water conservation, records and finance, animal health and reproduction, feeds and feeding, forages, and livestock marketing.

This full schedule explains why class members take no other courses during the nine-months they are enrolled in the ranch training course.

John Merrill says that he hopes in the nine months of concentrated study the students will learn a choice of ways to do things and will learn why things are done.

He says that he frequently hears boys say, "Well, I've helped my daddy do that all my life, but I never knew why we did it."

MEMO

To The People of Sutton, Crockett, Pecos, Kimble and Upton Counties

FROM:
Friends of Jim Langdon in this area

We are working to keep Jim C. Langdon as Railroad Commissioner, for several reasons. These reasons include:

1. Jim Langdon has the ability, training and integrity necessary in this unusually important office. He is a distinguished lawyer who was serving as Chief Justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals whose jurisdiction included Crockett, Pecos and Upton counties when Governor Connally appointed him as Railroad Commissioner.
2. Jim Langdon, in a year's time, has proved himself to be a really outstanding member of the state agency that regulates oil and gas production, truck and railroad rates, and other vital industries.
3. Jim Langdon is best-known in this five-county area for his distinguished service as district judge for four years (1954-58). During this period Jim Langdon proved himself to be a man of ability, whose fairness and honesty is undisputable.

We urge all the people of this area to support Jim Langdon and to vote for him in the Democratic Primary May 2.

Ford's New Mustang Aims at Those Who Drive for Pleasure

The new Mustang, according to releases from the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company, is aimed at the fastest-growing dimension in American motoring—driving for pleasure. Combining the practicality of a back seat and adequate trunk space in a car comparable in size to the classic two-passenger Thunderbird, the Mustang is 68 inches wide, only four feet, three inches tall, 181.6 inches in overall length, and has a wheel-base of 163 inches.

"In the Mustang, Ford actually has created three cars in one," according to Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager. "Starting with the economical, fun-to-drive Mustang, the buyer may select options to give him a sports car for street or competition use or a luxury car geared to either economy or performance."

Options available to the performance-minded include a selection of three V-8 engines with up to 271 horsepower, 4-speed transmission, quick-ratio steering, Rally-Pac with tachometer and clock, limited-slip differential, and a special handling suspension and sports tires.

Luxury options include a center console, power brakes and steering, automatic transmission, power convertible top, rear-seat radio speaker, remote-control trunk release, vinyl-covered hard-

John B. Connally Seeks Second Term As State Governor

John B. Connally, who has served two years as Governor of Texas, is a candidate for nomination to a second term, subject to the May 2 Democratic primary.

Connally was born near Floresville, one of seven children. He attended public schools in Floresville and San Antonio. Following high school graduation, he entered the University of Texas, where he worked at odd jobs to help finance his education. He was elected president of the student body in 1938.

In 1941 Connally received his law degree from the University of Texas, and following graduation, he took a position as secretary for Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

Later in the year he joined the Naval Reserve and then volunteered for active duty.

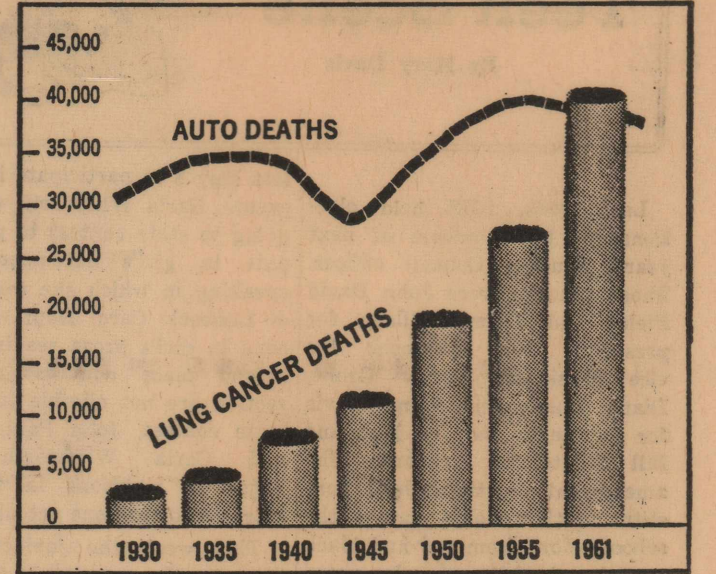

Following military service during which he received citations for action in the Pacific, Connally returned to Austin, where he practiced law.

In December, 1960, Connally was appointed Secretary of the Navy by President-elect John F. Kennedy. After a year in the Kennedy administration, he resigned to run for the governorship of Texas.

Two years ago, John Connally, a new face on the political scene, pledged to the people of Texas a comprehensive program of progress designed to help our state meet the challenges and opportunities in a rapidly-changing society. After only 15 months in office, Governor Connally has already achieved almost unbelievable progress on his program. Long-time capital observers cannot recall any prior period during which a Governor's administration could point to so much accomplishment during its first elective term.

Last week, SHS held elections for the members of next year's Student Council offices. Those running were John David Fields and Jimmy Wilson for president; Bill Glasscock for vice president; Peggy Grobe, Diana Black, and Irene Davis for secretary; and Jim Fish and Bill Elliott for treasurer. The amendment to the school constitution—that would change the school colors from red and black to red and white was also voted on. John David Fields will be next year's president, Bill Glasscock will be vice president, Irene Davis will be secretary and Bill Elliott will be treasurer. The amendment carried, also.

The students who went to Lubbock enjoyed themselves a great deal. They came back with two firsts and two seconds. Bill Elliott won first in the broad jump and second in the high jump. He will go to state con-

The Devil's Workshop

An Idle Mind Column

By Della King

Students working in the chemistry laboratory for the first time sometimes feel that their teacher is being a "mother hen" restricting them with rules and regulations. After a few experiments, however, when they see the startling results of mixing two chemicals, they usually see the dangers and appreciate the reasons for the restrictions.

Unfortunately, the "daring scientist" mixing chemicals sometimes is not aware of the role she is playing. For she may be a housewife—not a student or a chemist—cheerfully trying to find a way to get rid of that terrible stain, unaware that she has turned her kitchen into a laboratory and should take the same precautions.

Reggie Trainer noticed the following article in the post office department bulletin and thought it might be a good reminder for all of us:

"There is a common mistake in thinking that because certain household products are useful and good, by combining two or more, they will do the job better. This may not only be a waste of time and effort, producing poorer results through neutralizing or diluting one another, but may prove disastrous.

"For example, a fatal accident has been reported which involved the mixing of common household cleaning agents. A housewife using ordinary toilet bowl cleaner was not satisfied with the result. She decided to add liquid bleach and stirred the mixture with a brush. The woman died quickly—Other women, using similar mixtures have spent long periods of time in the hospital.

"There have been cases reported where people were overcome by the toxic vapors released from mixtures of cleanser, chlorine bleach and ammonia. Scouring powder often contains chlorine. Poisonous gases can be produced when two or more cleaning agents, commonly found in almost every household, are mixed. The addition of chlorine bleach (sodium hypochlorite solution) to an acid or acid producing substance, such as a toilet bowl cleanser or even plain vinegar, will release toxic chlorine gas. When it is mixed with alkaline materials (ammonia or lye), the chemical reaction liberates a highly irritating gas. If inhaled, these toxic fumes can cause serious injury, and possibly death. These accidents can happen in the kitchen or bathroom, and also during the cleaning of a home swimming pool and in the treatment of the water.

"Labels on containers, giving manufacturer's instructions, should be carefully followed."

Joyce Hearn received all A's and one B.

The six juniors who received all A's are Bill Elliott, John David Fields, Cindy Galbreath, Merry Glasscock, Peggy Grobe, and Carla Whitworth. Making all A's and one B were Barbara Holland and Carol Hopf.

Sophomores on the all-A honor roll are Ray Glasscock and Gary McGilvray, while Tim Brown received all A's and one B.

In the freshman class Jim Fish and Jim Billingsley made all A's and Laney Cook and Chris Frizzell received all A's and one B.

Well Known Artist To Lead Workshop For Local Students

Mrs. Juanita Tittle Pollard, widely known painter and teacher, has agreed to conduct a two-week workshop in art here the last two weeks in June, according to Mrs. Armer Earwood, who is organizing the workshop.

Mrs. Pollard, who received a bachelor of arts degree from Abilene Christian College and a master of arts in painting and ceramics from Texas Woman's University, was head of the art department at Abilene Christian from 1938 to 1963, and has been head of the art department at Lubbock Christian College for the past four years.

Mrs. Pollard has studied at the Chicago Art Institute, the University of Southern California and has been a student in workshops conducted by Frederick Taubes, William Lester, Everett Spruce, Jacob Getlar Smith, Abram Rattner and other noted artists.

During the past several years she has held art workshops in Hobbs, New Mexico, Brownfield, Littlefield, and Lubbock and has conducted a special course for advanced painters in Abilene.

A charter member of the Texas Watercolor Society and the West Texas Watercolor Association, Mrs. Pollard is affiliated with the Texas Fine Arts Association, the South Plains Art Guild and the Texas Art Educators Association. She has won a number of prizes in juried art competitions.

Solo exhibits of Mrs. Pollard's work have been held at the Lubbock Garden-Arts Center, the Abilene Fine Arts Museum, the San Angelo College, and Wayland Baptist College. Her paintings are in many permanent collections, and she has done a number of special commissions for private homes, business offices and public buildings.

At the workshop in Sonora, Mrs. Pollard will give lessons and criticisms in the mornings, and will supervise free-time painting in the afternoons. The fee for the course which is open to adults and high school student, will be $50. Those wishing more information or desiring to enroll in the workshop may call either Mrs. Earwood or Mrs. George Barrow.

What Is Purpose Of Primary Election Held by Parties?

What is a primary? Why are there Republican and Democratic primaries, and just what is a presidential referendum?

John Tedford, chairman of the Republican committee of Sutton County, says that he hears these questions often. His answers should be helpful to members of both parties.

"A primary is held so that the supporters of each political party may select the candidates who will represent their party in the November general election," Tedford explains.

"It is now required by law that both Republican and Democratic primary elections be held in all counties.

"The primary election concept is a vital function of a multi-party, democratic type of government. It is an important part of the system of checks and balances inherent in our constitutional framework. The multi-party system is the most effective safeguard the people have in maintaining true representation in government.

"In a presidential referendum the supporters of a political party choose the man they would like to see nominated for President at that party's national convention. Each party sends a group of electors to represent them at the national convention.

"In the absence of a referendum, these electors are relatively free to decide for themselves whom they will support at the convention, or to change their minds as they see fit. A referendum, however, expresses the opinion of the voters represented by the electors."

government, White's office reported this week.

During Commissioner White's administration of the Texas Department of Agriculture, the report said, programs which directly benefit all Texans have been begun and increased to such an extent that consumer services are now 5 times greater than when White took over.

Direct consumer services under White's department include such programs as checking for honest weights on all goods for home and industry sold in Texas, inspection of egg grades and quality, quality tests of all brands of automobiles anti-freeze, inspection of numerous kinds of fruits and vegetables, and inspection of nursery products.

White's agency is also in charge of numerous additional laws and services which benefit Texas farmers. Laws to insure quality of seed the farmer uses, to guard against insect pests and diseases, to protect grain that the farmer stores, to assure careful applications of farm chemicals—these and many more programs of services and as-

Screwworm Case Near Juno Prompts Appeal to Ranchers

Discovery of a screwworm case in the Juno area has prompted eradication workers to issue an urgent appeal to livestock producers to inspect their animals, treat infestations and wounds, collect samples from infested wounds, and report them to the county agent immediately.

Eradication Program officials have moved quickly to prevent additional cases from developing and spreading to other parts of the state. Livestock in the infested area are being sprayed by inspectors at Program expense, and sterile flies are being dispersed by airplane near the infested premise. Sterile flies mate with native female screw-worm flies which lay eggs that do not hatch, thus halting the life cycle of the insect.

County Agent D. C. Langford has urged livestock producers throughout the county to be alert for infestations. When an infestation is located, producers should collect 10 or more of the larvae from deep within the center of the wound and place them in a collection kit or a bottle of water or alcohol. This sample should be taken immediately to the county agent or mailed direct to Box 969, Mission, Texas.

Langford says the wound should be treated and all worms killed, including any that may have dropped to the ground. He adds that spraying every two to three weeks with Co-ral or Korlan will prevent the development of screwworm cases that could be the source of further outbreaks.

All livestockmen must give their full cooperation in order for eradication efforts in this county to succeed, Langford says. The sterile fly technique of eradicating screwworms will work, he states, but the producer—in examining his animals, collecting samples, reporting cases, treating wounds, and spraying livestock—plays a key role in its success.

A man like Mr. Langdon is a far safer bet than one whose statements indicate he is blind to both the legal and the economic facts of life in the oil industry.
—Fort Worth Star-Telegram

We repeat, a vote for Jim Langdon for Railroad Commissioner is a vote for the welfare and progress of Texas.
—The Lufkin News

In a relatively brief period as a hard-working member of the Railroad Commission, Jim C. Langdon has demonstrated both the capacity and the temperament to render a great service to the state of Texas in the proper regulation of the oil industry and the vast transportation network over which the Commission holds jurisdiction.
—The Victoria Advocate

We have ample assurance that those who do not know him personally, or who have not had individual experience in the areas of his administration, can rely fully upon his (Langdon's) established record of service.
—The Austin American Statesman

We believe Langdon can continue to serve his state well, and endorse him for Railroad Commissioner.
—Big Spring Herald

The Post believes the people of Texas owe it to themselves to keep Jim C. Langdon on the Railroad Commission.
—The Houston Post

Judge Langdon is the kind of man and the kind of official which Texas needs on its petroleum regulatory commission.
—Texas Oil Journal

McLendon Blasts Civil Rights Bill Pending in Senate

Gordon McLendon concentrated his fire on the pending civil rights bill in the waning days of his campaign for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator.

"My opposition to the bill being debated in the Senate actually is a crusade for civil rights," he declared. "I'm not in favor of denying any of our citizens the rights granted them by the Constitution, but I am against the passage of this bill because certain sections of it threaten the civil rights of all citizens. Those provisions would deny everyone, regardless of race or national origin, the right of trial by jury and deprive us all of control over our property—including our very homes."

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Allen Roe, pastor
First Methodist Church

In the second letter to the Corinthians, chapter 4, we find the Apostle Paul saying: "Therefore, having this ministry by the mercy of God, we do not lose heart. We have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways; we refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God's word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. And if our Gospel is veiled, it is veiled only to those who are perishing. In their case the god of the world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep them from seeing the light of the Gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the likeness of God. For what we preach is not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord, with ourselves as servants for Jesus sake. For it is the God who said, 'Let light shine out of darkness' who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ."

There is quite a contrast between the happiness most of us know and the joy the Scriptures ascribe to Christ and his followers. When we wish one happiness or prosperity we are thinking in fleeting terms. The happiness of which we speak is temporal; the joy of which the Apostle speaks is eternal.

An oriental ruler, near the end of his reign, made this confession: "When I look back over the years and count the days I have really been happy, they are barely ten in number." When thinking of the thousands of subjects over whom he had ruled, his vast wealth, and the power that he held, he reached the conclusion that happiness does not come in this way.

St. Paul was able to use his Christian experience to lead him onward. He could take great pride in being able to say "I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision." With John Newman he would say: Joy is a fruit that will not grow in nature's barren soil; All we can boast, till Christ we know, Is vanity and toil.

The life of a dollar bill is 13 to 14 months.

Soil is disintegrated rock plus organic matter.

Elias Howe invented the sewing machine in 1846.

Mexico won its independence from Spain in 1822.

FOREIGN AID—Foreign aid should be withheld from all communist-dominated countries. Foreign aid should be maintained in those countries in which we have military bases. In other countries where aid might be prudent, it should be mainly in the form of surplus agricultural products.

NATIONAL DEBT—Government expenditures should be made only from current income in peace time. An orderly program for retirement of the public debt should be initiated.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS—The Monroe Doctrine should be firmly restated and upheld.

FARM PROGRAM—A systematic program should be adopted to end government restraints upon agriculture and permit the farmer and rancher to enter the free market.

GOVERNMENT BUREAUCRACY—An orderly elimination of outmoded bureaus and agencies should be undertaken without delay.

CONSTITUTIONAL POWERS—Maintain respect for the constitutional division of powers between the federal government and the states.

CIVIL RIGHTS—Equal educational and voting rights for all, but firm opposition to attempts to deprive anyone of the rights of trial by jury, private property and civil liberties.

INCOME TAX—Legislation should be enacted to simplify existing income tax laws and collection processes.

MEDICAL CARE FOR THE AGED—Retain the right of the aged to select their own doctor and hospital as outlined in the provisions of the Kerr-Mills law and the Texas-65 program.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES—Free business from bureaucratic restraints in order to promote business expansion and thus create greater employment.

FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION—Staunch opposition to federal aid to and control over schools, and encouragement of a realistic tax exemption for families supporting students in higher education.

Senate Candidate Favors Limitation On Beef Imports

George Bush, Republican primary candidate for U. S. Senator, favors restricting importation of foreign beef.
 "I am greatly concerned over the beef import problem which is causing such hardship to American cattlemen," Bush said. "Imported beef has increased eight-fold since 1956, and imports now comprise 11 per cent of the domestic beef supply."
 The Houston oilman also says he favors a Constitutional amendment which permits prayer in public schools, but does not make prayer obligatory.
 Bush further states that he hopes that Southern Senators remain firm in their fight against the administration's civil rights bill. "I think the entire bill is bad legislation, but I am particularly opposed to the public accommodations and FEPC sections," Bush said.

Dallas Physician Seeks Nomination For Senate Seat

Dr. Milton V. Davis, candidate for U. S. Senator on the Republican ticket, is a Dallas surgeon who specializes in thoracic and cardiovascular surgery.
 Davis served on the White House Conference on Aging in 1961 and on the Governor's Committee on Aging in 1960, 1961, and 1962. He was one of the founders of the Dallas County Commission for Action on Aging.
 Davis is active in public service and charity work. He served on the Board of Trustees of the Dallas Health and Science Museum, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Texas Tuberculosis Association.

Morris Proposes Different Approach To Farm Legislation

Robert Morris, candidate on the Republican ticket for U. S. Senator in the May primary, proposes a new federal approach to agricultural legislation and labels the current administration's farm policy "unsound economically and socialistic politically."
 A Dallas attorney and writer, Morris has worked for the past two years as a civil liberties attorney. He has spent considerable time in Washington serving as counsel for various Senators and Senate committees, under both Democratic and Republican administrations.
 He says, "Although the farmer is heavily subsidized for restricting his output or for reducing it to zero, the arbitrary government controls have left him poorer as well as shackled by bureaucracy. The system, through huge government hand-outs, has enriched some land speculators and it has led to graft and corruption such as the Billie Sol Estes case."
 Morris says he advocates repeal of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 as amended, removal of production controls, moderate, temporary subsidies to those producers of agricultural commodities in an uncompetitive relationship to foreign and domestic markets, and a reasonable tariff on imports of foreign beef and lamb to protect American stockmen.

RE-ELECT DORSEY HARDEMAN STATE SENATOR * 25TH DISTRICT

To the people of the 25th Senatorial District:
 It has been my desire and effort to visit with each voter, personally, but the vast area of the 20-County District has made this impossible. Thus, I take this means of soliciting your vote and support for my re-election as your State Senator. Numerous issues must be resolved — redistricting, educational excellence at all levels, increased teachers' salaries, water resources conservation, industrial and tourism development, to mention a few. I pledge continued honorable, dignified and effective representation of all the citizens of the 25th District. My seniority of service, my experience, and proved qualifications are back of this pledge. On this basis I respectfully request your vote for me for State Senator, on May 2.

By E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service

Scattered showers, accompanied by light hail, fell over most of the Sonora area Saturday night. Precipitation varied widely, with reports ranging from .25 to more than one inch.

Hard winds accompanied the storm but no damage was reported. The rain fell slowly and no runoff occurred.

Rainfall reports collected included W. R. Cusenbary .60; Sim Glascock 1.20; Dorothy Baker .90; Mrs. Paul Turney .35; Harold Friess .60; George Wallace .70; Mack Cauthorn .25; L. E. Johnson Jr. .50;

Rainfall has been generally light over the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District since the heavy rain on January 31. The light showers have fallen regularly and spring vegetation is growing rapidly, but a good general rain is needed to furnish some deep moisture.

Mesquite brush has leaved out rapidly with good foliage. Additional rainfall is needed to keep leaves growing rapidly until mid-May, when spraying conditions should be suitable.

Wild flowers are blooming profusely along roadsides. The bladderpod or cloth-of-gold has matured seed and faded. Engelmann daisy, a tall perennial weed with yellow flowers is now dominant on roadsides near Sonora. Rosering gaillardia is beginning to flower. Dakota verbena or sweet Williams are blooming beautifully now.

With continued rainfall wild flowers will bloom in waves, each taking its turn. Grass is somewhat slower to dominate, but is much more stable once it is established. Native grasses have been hard hit by three dry summers, and need both adequate rain and protection to recuperate this season.
