The Welfare Council is low on funds as well as children's clothing and shoes. Deposits of money may be made at the First National Bank and clothing may be left at the Devil's River News or given to Hazel McClelland.

Cecil Westerman tells that story about the old-time preacher who wound up his sermon with: "All who want to go to heaven stand up!"

The preacher noted one man failed to rise so he asked the man if he didn't want to go to heaven.

"Yes," replied the man, "but I thought you were getting up a party to go now."

Of course there's the other one where the preacher asked for those in the congregation in favor of hell to stand up. He waited and waited and finally one man stood up.

"Are you in favor of hell?" asked the preacher.

"Not really," replied the member, "I just hated to see you standing up there all by yourself."

Well, the election is over and things can settle back to normal.

Erma Turner, newly-elected County and District Clerk, said Saturday that she didn't know whether it was a good sign or a bad one, but she had been dog bitten on the first and the last day of her door-to-door campaigning. I guess it was a good sign.

Schriener To Speak At Pre-hunt Party

Charles Schriener III, sportsman and owner of the Y-O Ranch near Mountain Home, will be the featured speaker at the annual Pre-season Hunting Party to be held Tuesday, November 10, at the 4-H Center.

Schriener will show sound movies of the exotic game on the Y-O Ranch, which has been termed by the Houston Chronicle as "perhaps the largest and most productive day shooting spot in the Southwest." It claims a kill last year of more buck deer of eight points or more than any similar acreage in Texas.

In addition to a heavy population of wild turkey and native white-tailed deer, the ranch offers black buck antelope from India, sika deer from Japan, and fallow and axis deer from Europe.

Other highlights of the party, which is sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club and the Sonora Chamber of Commerce, include election of officers of the Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association and a discussion of game population trends by Norrel Wallace of San Angelo, information and education officer of the Parks and Wildlife

Department. The program will begin with a barbecue supper at 6:30 p. m. Bob Johnson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, will discuss planned activities of the Chamber for the hunting season, and E. B. Keng of the Soil Conservation Service will introduce guests. Master of ceremonies will be Walter Pope.

The program will include the awarding of a series of door prizes, including a rechargeable flashlight, a hunting knife, an electric lantern, shells, binoculars, a $25 bond, turkey feeders, and a rifle cleaning kit.

Lions Defeat Broncos In Hard-fought Battle

By Gary McGilvray
The Sonora Broncos played one of their best football games of the 1964 season in Bronco Stadium last Friday night, although they lost to a tough Ozona team by a score of 21 to 17.

Sonora won the toss before the game and elected to kick as they had done several times this year. Ozona received the ball on their own 35-yard line and then ran four plays, three running plays and a punt.

After an exchange of fumbles, the Broncos settled down with the ball on their 38-yard line. They battled 60 yards to the Ozona two-yard line where they were held on three downs. The Broncos' quarterback, Bill Elliott, lobbed a two-yard pass to Roy Glascock, who made a leaping catch in the end zone for a score. Elliott kicked the extra point.

Ozona threatened to score twice in the first half. The first penetration was stopped when the Bronco defense caused a Lion ball carrier to fumble on the Sonora eight-yard line. The second threat resulted in a touchdown on a quarterback sneak from the one-yard line. The extra-point kick was good, and the score was 7 all.

The Broncos got the ball again on their own 25-yard line and moved to the Lion 35. On a surprise, end-around play Mike St. Clair took the ball from Elliott and threw a 35-yard touchdown pass to Ben Perez. Elliott added the bonus point, and the halftime score stood Bronco 14, Lions 7.

The single scoring threat in the third quarter came when Mike Wuest attempted a field goal from Ozona's 19-yard line. The try was blocked.

Ozona tallied in the fourth quarter on a 55-yard drive, and George Cox ran over a two-point conversion to put the Lions ahead 15-14 with only six minutes remaining in the game.

The Broncos received the kickoff and returned it to their own 35-yard line. They then staged a sustained drive which was highlighted by a 35-yard pass play from Elliott to St. Clair. However, the drive stalled on the Lion 13-yard line and Elliott kicked a field goal to put Sonora ahead 17-15 with only a few minutes remaining.

Ozona, still having great spirit, moved some 53 yards to garner a touchdown and a victory in a hard-fought game. Final score was Ozona 21, Sonora 17.

This loss puts Sonora out of the District 8-A race with only Big Lake and Ozona still vying. Sonora's district record is four wins and two losses, while Ozona has a five and one record, and Big Lake stands seven and none.

Next Friday night the Broncos will meet the Menard Yellowjackets in Menard at 7:30 p.m. The Yellowjackets moved up from Class B this year into the nine-member District 8-A loop. They have yet to win a game this season through eight contests. Their latest defeat was last Friday night at the hands of the Big Lake Owls, 42-6.

Menard has been marked by injuries this year. Tim Weddle, 185-pound senior tackle guard, received a fractured wrist in practice, and two other starters have also been sidelined for the season by injuries.

Bridge Tournament Slated Saturday By Golf Auxiliary

A bridge tournament is being sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sonora Golf Club on Saturday, November 7, at the Clubhouse. Party bridge will be played.

Registration will open at 8:30 a.m., and coffee will be served. Bridge play, which will begin at 9 a.m., will continue through the morning and will resume at 1:15 after a luncheon at noon.

Prizes will be awarded to winners. Fee for the two sessions of play and for the luncheon is $3.50.

Several out-of-town clubs have been invited to the tournament.

Attempted Rape Charges Filed

Ruben Mazuca, about 48, was charged Monday with assault and attempted rape of a 74-year-old woman before Alfred Cooper, justice of the peace. He has been placed in Sutton County jail.

The investigating officers said the offense occurred about 11:30 p.m. Sunday.

The woman, who is being treated in Hudspeth Memorial Hospital, is said to be in satisfactory condition.

Herman Moore, sheriff, said Tuesday night that bond had not been set.

Land Bank Slates Stockholders Meet

The annual stockholders meeting of the Federal Land Bank Association will be held Monday, November 9, in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

A program on brush control will be presented.

Prizes will be awarded, and refreshments will be served.

In local politics Sutton County voters elected Mrs. Erma Lee Turner as county and district clerk by a wide margin in the November 3 general election, while in national politics they followed the statewide and national trends to pile up a large majority of ballots for the Democratic candidates.

A total of 1099 votes were cast, compared with 1020 in 1960, the last presidential election year.

Unofficial figures show that Mrs. Turner received 526 votes, while Mrs. Zilpha Wheelis received 279, and David Shurley got 241. The three candidates, all listed in the independent column of the ballot, were seeking the two-year unexpired term of F. L. McKinney, who resigned the office in June when he moved to Kerrville. He had received the Democratic Party nomination unopposed.

In another local race, the late J. F. Hamby was the winner of the race for constable of Precinct 1 with an unofficial total of 326 votes. Although Mr. Hamby, the Democratic nominee, died suddenly October 9, his name remained on the ballot unopposed. J. W. Elliott, county judge, says that the post will be declared vacant, and the Commissioners will have the authority to appoint a constable.

Receiving write-in ballots for the office were Harold Schwiening, 163; Jim Hugh Richardson, 145; W. C. Bricker, 161; and Beto Perez, 79. Over a dozen other names received a few votes each.

In other contests Sutton countians gave sizeable leads to Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey in the presidential and vice-presidential race, and to Ralph Yarborough in the contest for the U. S. Senate seat.

Herman E. Moore, who was unopposed, was re-elected county sheriff, tax assessor-collector.

HUNTERS' WITNESSES

THE OUTDOORS is a big open window. What a hunter does in the field each year is usually witnessed by at least one other individual. Many times, it's a youngster who has been taken along to learn the sport of hunting. And a youngster can learn unsportsmanlike aspects of hunting just as easily as he can the right ones.

This gives every hunter two very important reasons to watch his conduct this next hunting season. First, most individuals can pick up bad habits. And when these detriments to character are repeated they soon become second nature without the person even noticing a change. By disregarding the accepted rules of good sportsmanship, he loses sight of the fact he actually is poaching or being wasteful. And when he is confronted with reality by an officer of the law, the individual resents being forced to face the truth. He has unconsciously convinced himself that what he is doing is not wrong.

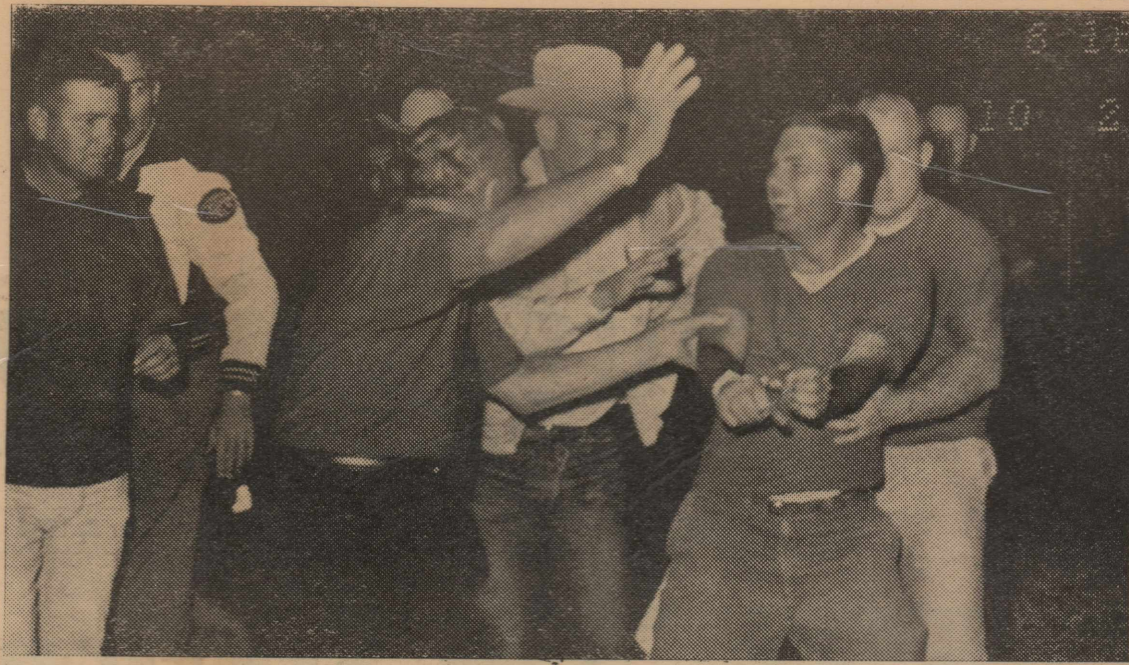

Suppose a youngster, or even another adult, is observing the actions of this hunter. It's logical to assume that if someone is watching, he more than likely will be tempted to take up the same bad habits. This is reason number two why every hunter should mind his "field manners."

What's the protege going to say when he gets caught in the act? Field manners may not seem important to a hunter until something drastic happens. Who can say why game wardens are shot each year as they try to enforce the laws of the land? Perhaps those who pull the triggers have been misled by the careless actions of others, or the persuasion of an uncontrolled tongue that constantly degrades the laws and threatens those who are pledged to enforce these laws.

As you plan your hunting trip this year, review good hunting manners. Generally it requires only the use of simple, common sense and courtesies. Maintain respect for others in the field and for the laws which are intended to protect the rights of all citizens. Make up your mind that you are going to set a good example for those who may be watching you, regardless of age. Teach someone to respect the rights of others and he'll show more respect for you.

HIGH JINKS were the order of the day when the Bronco Booster Club staged a benefit football game recently at Bronco Stadium. Above, Buddy Joe Brown, handcuffed, is being ejected from the football field by Omer Grelle (wearing hat). Numerous other penalties were imposed including one for unnecessary slugging. The farcical football game was considered a success as over $300 were raised. Among Boosters joining in the fun pictured above were Jackie Sharp, Dennie Hays, Marciano Hernandez, George Barrow, Jimmy Harris, and Tommy Thorp.

Bruised Boosters Appreciate Help At Football Follies

(Editor's note: The following is an open letter written by bruised and sore fingers after the Bronco Booster Club benefit football game Thursday night, October 22.)

Dear Friends and Boosters of the Booster Club:

On behalf of all the Bronco Booster Club, we would like to thank all of you loyal fans who came out to support us in our titanic football farce last Thursday. As we go to the operating room or are just lying here in our own little hospital beds, we will know our efforts were not in vain—that some one out there still cares.

It was a lot of fun for all of us "old men" and some "not so old men" (unfortunately), who were able to play? coach? and announce? the other night. We are happy to report that thanks to such loyal supporters as yourselves, the Booster Club has been able to purchase the Kodak Anayst movie projector for our high school athletic teams. This projector is especially adapted for showing and analyzing athletic films.

(Secretary's note: Doctors Browne and Howell plus Cecil Westerman reported that Business was booming for them Friday and Saturday and that the sales on Ben Gay and Absorbine Jr. had gone up 400%!)

The club activities have been successful again this year, and I think it only points up the fact that Sonora people are more than willing to help out whenever they are needed to pitch in and do the job. Again—many thanks to all of you for your support.

Shell Executive Eyes Industry Use Of Fresh Water

The use of fresh water by the oil industry was the subject of a talk entitled "Waterflooding Project in Gaines and Yoakum Counties," by R. M. Brackbill October 27.

In a speech before the Denver City Lions Club the Manager of Shell Oil Company's Midland Division said, "The oil industry has been receiving considerable publicity concerning the use of fresh water for secondary recovery operations. Much of the concern has been due to the falling water tables in the Southern High Plains and other portions of West Texas. It seems timely that the public be furnished data to understand the insignificant amount of fresh water to be used for this industrial activity."

Brackbill pointed out that a recent analysis of figures published by the Texas Water Commission indicated that oil industry waterflooding operations use only .3 of 1% of the water withdrawn from the ground. Irrigation wells now pump over 97% of all the Ogalalla water being withdrawn indicating that agriculture is the principal user.

The Sonora Scouts also presented a demonstration on first aid, the only demonstration given by junior Scouts.

Accompanying the girls on the trip were Mrs. Jack Kerbow and Mrs. O. L. Richardson Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Trainer also visited the camp on Sunday afternoon.

Beth Davis, a member of the Sonora troop, was unable to attend.

Back Spinning Wheel Bothers Philosopher

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River apparently is getting his mind off the political campaigns this week.

Dear editor: According to an article I read last night in a copy of a newspaper I pulled off my television antenna and which must have fallen out of some Presidential candidate's airplane as it was published at least 15 states away from here, the world has made more scientific progress in the last 50 years than it did in all the years before, throughout the long corridors of history.

This progress it said has been made in all fields of science, and cited not only space exploits and monster bombs but incidental progress here on earth in other areas. For example, it pointed out, scientists have now perfected a machine that picks heads of lettuce. Not only does it pick them, it first feels them to see if they're ripe, and will leave any lettuce head not yet quite ready for picking.

While I have never felt the need for a $50,000 machine to tell me when anything in a garden was ready to eat, still I'll admit this is progress if you have difficulty in this line.

But science still has along way to go. For instance, take a TV Western. It is fabulous enough to sit in your house and watch a Western unfold on your television set, but I have never understood how science could do all this and still not ever whip the problem of back-spinning buggy wheel. Yet it's a fact, when the owner of the ranch pulls into his front yard from a trip to town in a buckboard or a buggy pulled by two high-stepping mares, the wheels are turning backwards. It continues to baffle me, how science can get the moving picture onto my screen, even, I'm told, in color, but still can't make the wheels turn forward.

I have not heard of any branch of science that's working on this problem, and until it's conquered I'm going to continue to have something less than absolute faith in scientific progress. Personally I don't see why a man with Ben Cartwright's money puts up with it. Yours faithfully, J. A.

The Devil's Workshop

An Idle Mind Column
By Della King

Halloween—and there were the ghosts and goblins, frightful witches, and all the other spooky creatures that are associated with the annual celebration.

Why is this holiday so popular? It hasn't the religious background of Christmas or Easter, the historical appeal of Thanksgiving, or patriotic meaning of the Fourth of July. It is not bolstered by the retail promotion of a gift-giving time such as Mothers' Day or Fathers' Day. Yet year in and year out we observe Halloween with its eerie symbols.

Maybe we like Halloween because we human beings, for some reason, like to be frightened a little bit. The smallest child is quickly pleased with the game of peek-a-boo. The suspense while papa's face is hidden and the little surprise at the cry of "boo" are always followed by delighted giggles.

And what teenager doesn't thrill at a screaming ride on a roller coaster? And how many are there who aren't eager to see a blood-chilling, hair-raising, liver-frizzling horror movie?

And what adult can cast the first jack-o-lantern and say he has never been fascinated by a gory whodunit or stayed up beyond any reasonable hour watching an old monster movie on television?

Have you ever been in a group that has had a genuine scare and then had everything turn out all right? Almost always, with the relief comes a feeling of merriment and glow of comradeship.

Perhaps our enjoyment of a little fear can be compared to the man who was beating himself on the head with a hammer. A friend asked him why he was doing it, and he replied slyly, "Because it feels so wonderful when I quit."

'Building a Pinnacle of Life' Is Theme At 82nd Session of Grand Chapter, OES

"Building a Pinnacle of Life" was the theme of the 82nd session of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star, which was held October 25-29 in San Antonio.

Six members of the Eastern Star from Sonora were among more than 5,000 attending. They are Mrs. David Shurley, deputy grand matron of District V, Section II; Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Loeffler, worthy patron and worthy matron of the Sonora chapter; Mrs. Wallas Renfro, associate matron; Mrs. Joe Hull, secretary; Mrs. Frank French, Electa; and Mrs. Mary Johnson.

Mrs. Molly Goodpasture of Brownfield, worthy grand matron, and E. F. (Van) Plumlee of Dallas, worthy grand patron, directed activities here.

Outstanding events included a church service at the Scottish Rite Cathedral held on Sunday morning.

On Sunday afternoon the worthy grand matron and worthy grand patron were honored at a reception in the Crystal Ballroom of the Gunter Hotel. Decorations included sweetheart roses flown from Hong Kong, China.

The general grand officers of the General Grand Chapter were honored that night with a banquet planned with an Irish theme, "An Evening at Tara." Favors were flown from Ireland. Mrs. Shurley, who participated in the program of the banquet, also presented three vocal selections, "Faith Unlocks the Door," "Climb Every Mountain," and "Gonna Build a Mountain," at a luncheon Monday. Theme of the luncheon was "Over the Rainbow."

Installation of the newly elected grand chapter officers held on Thursday evening. Mr. and

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By the Rev. Arno Melz, Pastor
Hope Lutheran Church
 The just shall live by faith.
 Romans 1:17

There are many things that have changed history. There have been wars, disasters, and the atomic bomb; each of these have had an effect on nations and the people in the nations. Although these things have had great influence on history, the thing that has changed the world the most are the words, "the just shall live by faith."

Last Saturday, our children observed Halloween, but in the Protestant churches, it was Reformation Day. Martin Luther discovered these words in Romans 1:17 and applied them to his life and the lives of his people. The Protestant churches in our community are evidence of the far-reaching effect of these words.

The words are effective because all people are seeking peace within their hearts. In Romans, we are told that God gives this peace to all who have faith in Jesus as their Savior. We have peace with God when our sins are forgiven. God gives this forgiveness as a free gift to all who believe.

These words make wonderful changes in our lives; we who were once condemned sinners are now called sons of God. To be a just person, or child of God, you need only believe that Jesus died on the cross for your sins also. Through faith in Jesus, we receive other promises He made, such as a place reserved for us in heaven, protection from all harm, and provisions for our daily needs.

If you haven't received such blessings in your life, read these words and others in Romans and discover God's plan of salvation. Accept Jesus as your Savior today and receive the joy and peace which He alone can bring into your life. Amen

MAKE CHURCH-GOING A HABIT

HOW DOES LIFE GET SO TANGLED?

Interesting thing about a rope—it rarely becomes tangled when it's serving some useful purpose. It stretches firm and taut . . . reaching . . . holding:

But lay the rope aside . . . waiting without a purpose . . . and it becomes so tangled you can't even find the ends.

Life is like that! For some folks it seems an impossible tangle of conflicts, worries and disappointments. They haven't discovered how to devote their strand of years to a vital, constant purpose.

But for others life stretches firm and taut from birth to Eternity. The tangles disappear as men reach across time to hold certain truths by which God would have us live.

Life without tangles . . . life with purpose . . . discover it in Church next Sunday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WSCS, Wesleyan Service Guild Observe Annual Call to Prayer and Self Denial

A call to Prayer and Self-Denial was observed by the Wesleyan Service Guild last week. Mrs. Clayton Hamilton and Mrs. Jimmy Harris. Mrs. Ben Cusenbary presented the meditation. Mrs. Alvis Johnson and Mrs. Joe Brown Ross read from Psalms to emphasize the second phase of the service which was Renewal. Mrs. Cleve Jones Jr. gave the meditation which was followed by a group prayer.

Mrs. J. F. Howell was leader for a Quiet Day service held Wednesday morning, October 28, in the home of Mrs. Cleve T. Jones Jr. Theme of the worship booklet was "Recognition, Response and Renewal" prepared by Clarice M. Brown.

"The Call to Prayer and Self Denial is one of the oldest observances for Methodist women, dating back to 1887—originally called the Week of Prayer and Self Denial until the change was made this year," stated Mrs. Howell.

The worship service was composed of prayers, scripture readings, songs, and meditations. Mrs. Louie Trainer presented a collection of prayer hymns to open the worship service. Mrs. Albert Ward and Mrs. Jimmy Harris read Psalms 93, and a period of silent prayer and quiet music ensued.

The first phase of the call to prayer was of Recognition and praise. Scripture reading was by

Census Questionnaires Now Being Mailed

Questionnaires for the 1964 Census of Agriculture are currently being mailed to ranchers of Sutton County, D. C. Langford, county agent, reported this week.

The forms are expected to reach the ranchers within a few days, allowing them a period of time to consult their 1964 business records in order to answer questions on the forms before census enumerators begin calling to collect the forms.

Best estimates will be sufficient to answer questions in cases where complete records for the year are not available, Langford explained.

Jene Moore of Eldorado has been named crew leader for this area to supervise the team of enumerators, who will begin their visits on November 9. They will call on every rancher in the area, Langford stated.

The enumerators will help ranchers complete replies to any questions on the form which
