

Six Discovered Dead In Debris of Airplane

The wreckage of a twin-engine Beechcraft plane and its six passengers, all dead, were found about one mile off US 290 some 20 miles east of Sonora Wednesday shortly before noon.

Subject of a widespread search from El Paso to Victoria, the plane was spotted by Her- man E. Moore, sheriff, who was flying the area with Stanley Mayfield. The plane was en route from Portland, Oregon, to Victoria. All occupants were from Oregon. The plane departed from El Paso Sunday. Identification had not been completed Wednesday, but the plane was believed to have carried Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Shelley of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Nichols of Eugene, Oregon, Walter Fuller and E. F. Niemela of Portland. Personal articles were found which be- longed to Fuller, Nichols, and Shelley.

Shelley, a former military pilot, was believed to have piloted the plane which crashed about 9:45 p.m. Sunday night on the Albert Schultz ranch. His flight log showed that he was 61.

Discovery of the wreck, which did not burn, came after W. A. Wright reported to Omer Grelle, city marshal, that he had seen a low, fast-flying plane cross the highway and dip out of sight near the Baker Road Sunday night. Wright said that he slowed down and watched for an explosion, but dismissed the idea of a crash when he saw and heard nothing.

Mrs. Sterling Baker said that she and her husband heard a swoosh and a pop shortly after 9:30, but that she heard no plane motor. Their house is near the place where the plane went down.

Splotches from snow that had fallen Tuesday night and all but melted by noon Wednesday mingled in with the debris of the broken plane and bodies. Looking east, one saw a furrow (impact), shaved trees, papers, clothing, bits of plane, bodies, and engine pieces. A generator was found several hundred yards from impact, a propeller still connected to the engine several yards back.

A gold watch back, engraved "Al from Mildred '38", lay close to one of the larger pieces of metal that once might have been a wing. The tail section rested in a tree, flannel pajamas waving from a nearby branch.

Cause of the crash was not known Wednesday nor had positive identification been established on all of the bodies.

A Piper Comanche crashed in September, 1963 32 miles east of Sonora on the Leonard Gibbs Ranch killing two Midland residents.

Services Held Tuesday For Charles Griffin, 29

Funeral rites for Charles Edward Griffin were held Tuesday, March 2, 1965, at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Rodney Dowdy, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Griffin, 29, died at his home at 7:20 a.m. Monday of pneumonia. He had been confined to a wheel chair for 14 years as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident March 24, 1951.

Born June 18, 1935, in Goldthwaite, he had lived in Sonora 23 years. He attended Sonora public schools.

Mr. Griffin lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernor Griffin, on the George Allison ranch 15 miles east of Sonora.

Survivors include his parents and a brother, Wilbur Griffin of Sonora.

Pallbearers were Gene West, C. W. West Jr., W. H. "Sonny" Hill, Billy Frank Turney, and Emmett Wilson.

Burial was in Sonora Cemetery directed by Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

Sonora's Knee Action basketball team is back in action this year and ready for a return match with the Harlem Stars. The adult team, including Bob McMinn, Bob Painter, Dennie Hays, Jerry Hopkins, Norman Rousselot, Jimmy Harris, and Gene West, fell to the professional Negro team last year, but have chosen March 26 as the date to gain revenge.

March came in like a lion and a side effect was that everyone who visited the Billy Green Water Service Monday literally raised the roof. Green has one of the modern suspended ceilings in which squares of ceiling material rest in a metal frame. But Monday's strong north wind was so anxious to pass from the front door to the back that it literally raised the roof as it passed through the building.

Although Doyle Morgan wasn't a candidate, his after dinner speech ranked among the top ones Saturday at the close of the speech meet.

Among other sidelights of the meet, he reported that 270 contestants attended; 230 were from out-of-town; 80 to 90 people judged; 65 to 70 timekeepers watched the clocks; and 44 families provided housing.

Morgan turned one young visitor's face red with a retort to an overheard crack the youngster had made earlier in the meet: "Our restrooms are bigger than this auditorium!"

Morgan replied that he just didn't need that large a restroom here. (And it was surprising that out of an auditorium over half full it was no trouble to pick out the bright red face that gave away a young man's secret.)

Last Rites Held Here For Mrs. Katie Brasher

Last rites for Mrs. Katie Sterling Brasher were held Tuesday, March 2, 1965, at 2:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Rodney Dowdy officiating.

Mrs. Brasher, 90, died at 8:15 a.m. Monday after a long illness.

Born in McLennan County near Waco January 26, 1875, she was the oldest of seven children. While she was still very young, she moved with her family to Ben Ficklin in Tom Green County.

She was married in 1901 in San Angelo to the late Joseph H. Brasher.

The couple had one son, J. H. Brasher Jr., who was an Air Force staff sergeant. He was a gunner on a bomber and died in action over Ceram Island in 1945.

Mrs. Brasher was the last living charter member of the First Baptist Church of Sonora.

In 1945 she was elected Fire-

MRS. KATIE BRASHER

men's Mother for Life of the Sonora Fire Department.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Walter Gulick and Mrs. T. T. Hurt, both of San Antonio; and a brother, Fred Sterling of San Antonio. Also she had many life-long friends, among whom were members of the E. E. Sawyer family.

Pallbearers were members of the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department, represented by Cashes Taylor, Lee Patrick, Ervin Willman, John A. Martin Jr., George Barrow, Bill McGilvray, Mat Adams, and A. H. Adkins.

Burial was in Sonora Cemetery directed by Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

Chandler Sentenced To Ten Years After Guilty Plea

Gayle A. Chandler was sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary by Charles Sherrill, district judge, after he pled guilty to a recent grand jury indictment for burglary.

Three other indictments came out of the grand jury meeting: Torbio de la Cerda, 44, for fondling; C. F. Burch of Abilene for passing forged checks; and a third person not yet apprehended for passing a forged instrument.

The indictment against Burch was later dismissed after he had made restitution.

Chandler was sentenced for the Nov. 7, 1964 burglary of J&S Motors in which the safe was cracked and $150 stolen.

Judge Sherrill ordered a mental examination of de la Cerda.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson Jr. and son this week are Mrs. Johnson's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Boggs of Russell, Ky.

Miss Whitworth Awarded Top Honors at Speech Meet

The 19th Annual Sonora High School Speech Tournament, which opened with a get-acquainted party Thursday and ended with a dance Saturday night, was climaxed by the presentation of awards Saturday, when Carla Whitworth was named outstanding female contestant of the meet and six other Sonora students won medals for individual performances.

Miss Whitworth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Whitworth, received first-place medals in impromptu speaking, poetry reading, prose reading, extemporaneous speaking, and humorous declamation, and she was awarded a second-place medal in persuasive speaking. She was judged best actress for her performance in Sonora's play, "The Sandbox." She was also named outstanding contestant in last year's meet. Other local medal winners in individual events were Margaret Bundy, second place in humorous declamation; Linda McBride, second in junior declamation; John David Fields, first in boy's after-dinner speaking; Grady Roe, third in boy's after-dinner speaking; Carol Hopf, third in girl's after-dinner speaking; and Gary McGilvray, who won first places in Bible reading and poetry reading.

Sonora's presentation entered in the one-act play contest won second place. Cast members, who won medals, were Miss Whitworth, Eddie Sawyer, Cindy Galbreath, Bill Glasscock, and Barbara Holland.

Trophy cups were awarded to the outstanding boy and girl participants, to the winning boy's and girl's debate teams, and to the casts of the first-place one-act play.

Tournament director was Robert Boyd and director of persuasive and extemporaneous speaking contests was Smith Neal.

Complete tournament results were as follows:

Boy's debate—Logue and Glenn, Denton, 1; Bays and Crouch, Denton, 2.

Girl's debate—Hammett and Anderson, Denton, 1; Greaves and Cure, Andrews, 2.

Boy's after-dinner speaking—Fields, 1; Frosty McKee, San Angelo, 2; Roe, 3.

Girl's after-dinner speaking—Carole Monferdini, Alice, 1; Ricci Harris, San Angelo, 2; Miss Hopf, 3.

Wool Warehouse Turns Into Tropical Island

Decorating committees of the Fling Ding Club are working this week to turn the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company warehouse into a tropical island.

When some 2,000 invited guests arrive at the Club's annual dance Saturday, March 6, they will find a thatch hut, bird cages, a fish pond, and replicas of hula dancers. Palms, bamboo, and fish netting will be featured throughout the decorations.

Claude Gordon and his 13-piece orchestra, which includes a vocalist, will furnish music for the dancing beginning at 8 p.m. The Gordon group, recently named the best new band in America, plays throughout the United States, but is best known in the west coast area. Gordon plays trumpet in a style said to be similar to Harry James.

Three Candidates File for Offices On School Board

Three members of the Board of Trustees of the Sonora Independent School district have filed for re-election to their posts.

Filing for the three vacancies occurring this year are Armer Earwood, Gene Shurley, and Mrs. Vestel Askew. Trustees are elected for three-year terms to the seven-member board.

The election will be held Saturday, April 3. Deadline for filing was Wednesday, March 3.

On My Honor...

Girl Scout Week 1965, March 7-13, has as its theme, "A Promise in Action."

Actually the promise has been very much in action and in evidence for 53 years. It was March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Georgia, when a group of girls led by Juliette Gordon Low formed the first Girl Scout troop in the United States and set the pattern for more than 20 million others by making the Girl Scout Promise: "On my honor, I will try: to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout Laws."

It's interesting to note that Girl Scout experience refutes those critics who say that the modern girl is losing her taste for domesticity. In the past year, nearly one million Scouts—Juniors and Cadettes—chose to work on badges for demonstrated skills in homemaking. The largest number of Juniors—ages 9, 10, and 11—picked the "Cook" badge out of 47 badges offered in a wide variety of subjects. The Cadettes—12, 13, and 14 years old—can choose from some 60 badges, but more "Hostess" badges were earned than any other.

Woman's role in the world has broadened enormously over the generations, but the traditional feminine interests and aptitudes remain. The Girl Scouts are a major force in developing and perfecting them.

By inspiring girls to live up to the Girl Scout Promise and the Girl Scout Laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, cheerfulness, usefulness, kindness, and thrift, Girl Scouting can make the difference in the kind of woman a girl becomes.

And the kind of woman—the kind of human being—a girl becomes can make the difference in the world of the future.

Sutton Retail Sales Total $5.6 Million

Sutton County's 73 retail establishments had $5.6 million in sales in 1963, an increase of 14 per cent from 1958, the U.S. Bureau of the Census recently reported after tabulating data gathered from all firms in the 1963 census of business. Gasoline service station sales were almost 20% of this total.

The previous business census conducted by the bureau, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, was in 1958.

Retail trade in the county meant jobs (exclusive of proprietors) for 174 men and women and a yearly payroll of $520,000.

In volume of business the county's food stores had sales of $960,000, a decrease of 34 per cent from 1958, according to the bureau.

In other retail business, the county's eating and drinking places had sales of $572,000, and gasoline service stations had sales of $1.1 million.

For the state as a whole, the Census Bureau reported 96,406 retail establishments with sales of $12,715.4 million, up 18 per cent from 1958.

Census reports to be issued during the next few months will give state and county figures on wholesale and service trades.

Statistics on number of establishments and sales volume for major types of retail establishments in each county are provided in the printed report: 1963 Census of Business, Retail Trade, Bureau of the Census recently Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. 20402.

31 4-H Members To Show Livestock In San Angelo Show

Thirty-one members of the Sutton County 4-H Club will be competing in the San Angelo Fat Stock Show to be held March 11-14.

Scheduled to enter the horse show March 10 are Debbie Galbreath, Mark Shurley, Jerry Shurley Jr., Tony Renfro, and Allison Espy.

Competing in the fat lamb show March 11 will be Wesley and Wade Richardson, Kerry Joy, Libb M. Wallace, David Wallace, Mitch Trainer, Tryon Fields, Roger Langford, Steve Thorp, Janice Sue, Cleveland, and Joe David Nance, Bill Green, Joe Wallace, and Mark Jacoby.

Other competitors in the fat lamb show include Scott Jacoby, Bobby Granger, Tim Thorp Tom Green, Jim Wright, Martha Love, Ray Glasscock, and Bill, Sam, and Gene Thompson.

Chris Berger will be exhibiting sheep in the junior Delaine sheep show and the range ewe show March 12.

Some 4-H Expenses May Be Deducted In Computing Taxes

A number of items may be claimed as charitable deductions for federal income tax purposes by volunteer 4-H Club adult leaders, points out D. C. Langford, Sutton County agricultural agent.

Among these are out-of-pocket transportation expenses, including the cost for use of cars or trucks to and from 4-H sponsored events, necessarily incurred in rendering donated service to 4-H.

Actual unreimbursed expenses incurred by 4-H adult leaders in attending contests, training courses and other 4-H sponsored events. This includes meals, lodging and transportation expenses while away from home.

Also expenses for the cost and maintenance of uniforms and emblems required to be worn in performing the volunteer service, and cash contributions and contributions in kind, such as equipment, paints, and other supplies. The amount to deduct is the fair market value at the time the gift was made. No deduction is allowable for the volunteer's time contributed.

Leaders who claim deductions by itemizing their accounts are encouraged by the agent to keep accurate records throughout the year.

An Idle Mind Column

Kaye Ellis, Martha Love, and Susan Allison believe that they are the only all-girl grass judging team planning to compete in the Houston Livestock Show, and Edgar Glasscock says they are the first all-girl team he can remember in Sutton County in many years.

Martha says that the team worries most about the east Texas grasses unfamiliar out here. Glasscock, who is the coach, says that there will probably be hothouse-grown green grasses in the contest that will look slightly different from the dried ones the girls have been studying. But he says the main characteristics will be the same.

Glasscock praises the diligent way the girls have been studying, and he says he thinks they have a good chance when they compete this Friday.

I'm sure they will do well, and—win, lose, or draw—they are certain to be the prettiest team at the Houston contest.

Let's Teach Johnny To WRITE

By Smith Neal
English teacher, Sonora High School

Mark Twain once said, concerning the telling of a story, "I do not claim that I can tell a story, as it ought to be told; I only claim to know how a story ought to be told." By the same token, I do not pretend that I teach everything that should be taught in a high school English class, (or in the best manner) but I believe I know what should be taught.

Considering the controversy among educators, one may consider the above statement more than a little presumptuous. But I make this statement on the basis of my own experiences and on the basis of a survey of a number of colleges and universities.

Like most high school English teachers, I wonder whether I am preparing my students for college English. In order to answer this question, in January of 1963 I mailed letters to the English departments of about twenty colleges and universities which then had, or at some time had, Sonora graduates enrolled in them. In this letter I asked a number of questions: (1) Do you teach formal grammar to your freshman students, or do you let them learn this grammar by correcting their compositions; (2) Will you please give me something constructive, in the way of suggestions, to do to better prepare students for college English; (3) Let's assume that a high school sends you a student who can "write a good theme" and who "has a thorough understanding of grammar." What do you propose to do for him in the two or more years that you have him in your classes?

The answers to these questions were varied, but yet the majority of them were very similar. Almost everyone of those who responded stated that his college or university does not teach formal grammar except by the remedial approach of directing students to correct grammatical mistakes found in their themes. (This method consists of a professor's indicating a number in the margin beside the line which contains an error, and the student is directed to correct the mistake and write from his English handbook the rule which applies.) One writer stated that the English department where he teaches does teach formal grammar to freshmen, while another writer stated that teachers in his English department not only do not teach formal grammar, but that they see little value in teaching grammar because "the knowledge of grammar has little to do with one's ability to write." All of those who replied seemed to want freshman students to be able to write an effective theme of from 250 to 500 words. Two of the writers expressed the idea that they would be happy if the entering freshmen could write an effective paragraph.

I have found from my experiences that if students cannot write a paragraph, they certainly can't write an essay; therefore, I assign paragraphs rather than many essays. An over-burdened English teacher can grade several paragraphs before he can grade one 300-word essay.

Almost all of those who responded stated their English departments maintain "honors sections" in English for the top ten per cent of the freshman English students. In these sections, the student is expected to demonstrate that he can do the work which the "regular sections" do and in addition to this, he is given more challenging work. Two of those who responded stated that in their colleges a student may take an examination in English and if he scores high enough on this examination, he may be given credit for the first semester of freshman English, without taking the course. (Tommy Doc Raye, a 1964 graduate of Sonora High School, did this during the fall semester of the current school year at the University of Texas.)

Most of the writers expressed the idea that they would like to assume that the entering freshmen have a thorough knowledge of English grammar and that they can demonstrate this knowledge in their writings.

I believe that one can conclude from the above information that what we need on the high school level is not less grammar, but more writing. Of course, one assumes that a high school English teacher really does know grammar, but this, I believe, is a false assumption. My experience, and that of other beginning teachers, has been that most of the grammar that we know has been learned, not in college, nor as a student in high school, but as teachers as we prepare our lesson plans for teaching high school English. Therefore, it appears that the colleges are the principle cause of the dilemma in which they find themselves. If they would have freshman students who know what they wish them to know when they enter college, they must send out capable teachers to teach English.

For the benefit of those who would like some criteria by which you might evaluate your child's writing, here are a few questions that you should be able to answer in the affirmative. Does your child write logical, well supported thoughts which are interesting to a reader? Does he know what a sentence is, and does he write in complete sentences, avoiding two sentences punctuated as one? Does he spell his words correctly? Does he make his subjects and verbs agree in number and person? Does he make his pronouns agree with their antecedents in number, person, and gender? Does he keep his discussion in the same tense, without shifting back and forth from one tense to another? Does he place his modifying words, phrases, and clauses beside the words they modify? Does he write a clear, neat, legible manuscript? Does he proof-read his papers before he submits them to his teacher for a grade? Does he give credit to the author of ideas that he has borrowed? Does he "stick to the subject" on which he is writing? Does he understand thoroughly what his assignment is? And finally, does he submit his work to his teacher when it is due?

Writing consists of about as much perspiration as it does inspiration, and a parent can do his part to see that students do their parts of the perspiration.

This week I am following some advice from the Texas Tax Journal—briefly.

The journal reminds us that the length of a communication is no guide to its importance, illustrating the point with these examples:

- Lord's Prayer ..... 56 words
- The 23rd Psalm ..... 118 words
- Lincoln's Gettysburg Address ..... 266 words
- Ten Commandments 297 words
- U.S. Government order on cabbage prices 26,921 words

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By the Rev. Arno Melz
Pastor, Hope Lutheran Church
"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."
Matthew 5:16

God and speak kindly about his neighbors.

A Christian should be an example of honest dealings and be respectable in his conduct. He will have respect for authority and be a law-abiding citizen. Jesus instructs His follower to be kind and helpful, to be peacemakers, having a pure heart.

Are you a Christian? This means that you are aware that you are a sinner and are saved by accepting Jesus as your Savior. The good works will not help you receive forgiveness, but after we have received forgiveness through faith in Jesus, He does expect some changes in our life. Now we are to live a life guided by God's Word.

Jesus tells His followers to let their lights shine. They are to be examples to the community. The love of God should motivate them to be helpful and considerate toward others. When done with this motive the good deeds will bring glory to God. The actions of a Christian should be an encouragement for others to accept God.

Are you a Christian? If you are, your life should be filled with obedience to God. A sincere Christian does not use God's name in vain, neither will he gossip. Rather he will give praise to

In a summary statement Jesus said, "Love your neighbor as yourself," and our neighbors are all people of every class, race, and nationality. When we have this love for God and our fellow man, and put this love into action, then our lights are shining. Are You a Christian? Then let your lights so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

*EQUAL PAYMENT PLAN
For WTU residential customers

... is the new approach to a time-tried method of bill paying. Each month you pay one-twelfth of your annual electric service charge. West Texas Utilities Co. makes an estimate of your total electric use for one year, based on your past record, or, with new accounts, records of similar requirements. They divide the total into 12 equal, even-dollar payments. Monthly and yearly review of your account keeps the estimate as close to the actual metered usage as possible. If this review shows a material change in your use of electric service...up or down, due to unusual weather or the addition of some major appliance...you will be notified that a change of estimate is in order. Your 12th payment will be adjusted to balance your account for the Equal Payment Plan Year.

Equalize your monthly payments for electric service now. Visit your WTU office for the complete details.

According to an article I read in a newspaper this morning (and I hope you will answer quick as the situation may be totally changed by tomorrow morning) Gen. Khanh has been removed as head of the South Viet Nam military forces in what the newspapers call a coup and the television announcers call a coo and is being sent to New York as a United Nations observer.

What I would like to know is, is this a reward or a punishment? I thought that the United Nations was supposed to be watching what went on in Viet Nam, both North and South, but what they have been seeing is hard to understand. You reckon the South Vietnamese, having been unable at ground level to understand themselves what they're doing, figured the view would be better from New York?

Or do you figure Gen. Khanh was getting bored with the limited confusion in Viet Nam and figured he could get a broader taste of it in the United Nations? Like going from a sideshow to the main tent?

I'll admit I don't know a thing about what's going on in Viet Nam, but I don't want this to leak out as Washington might want to send me over there as an observer. I've got all the confusion I can handle at home.

And speaking of the United Nations, as I understand it, the U. N. has a rule that if any country is behind two years in its dues, it loses its membership, but is afraid to vote on whether this rule is still in effect on the grounds that if it does, there won't be enough major powers left in the outfit to operate it. This is like a hard-pressed bank declining to call in its past-due loans on the grounds it would alienate its customers.

It's possible that after Gen. Khanh observes the United Nations a while, he may go home and announce all this earth's countries got problems.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Methodist Class Collecting Sheets

Members of the Ruth Shurley Sunday School Class at First Methodist Church are collecting old sheets to be torn into strips for bandages.

The bandages will be used at the hospital at the Methodist mission in Seoul, Korea. The hospital is operated by Lenna Belle Robinson of Kenedy, Texas.

Mrs. James Wilson of the class says that any clean sheet, either colored or white may be used.

Persons wishing to donate to the project may leave sheets at the Ruth Shurley Jewelry.

P-TA Elects New Slate

Mrs. Bill Morriss was re-elected president of the Sonora P-TA at the March meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Other newly elected officers are Mrs. Lawrence Finklea, first vice-president; Mrs. Rex Lowe, second vice-president; Smith Neal, secretary; Mrs. Lester Byer, treasurer; Mrs. Vernon Cook, parliamentarian; Mrs. Glen Richardson, historian; and Mrs. Bill Wade, publicity chairman.

Robert Boyd, Sonora High School speech and English teacher, spoke on "Your Child's Speech". He stressed a need for everyone to be able to communicate his ideas effectively to others. Selections in speech were given by Carla Whitworth, Linda McBride, and Gary McGilvray.

Smith Neal, Sonora High School English teacher, related to the group which English courses are offered here. He also included a report on what colleges expect freshman students to know.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Arlice Brooks, district president of San Angelo; Mrs. Ray Hodges, district corresponding secretary, also of San Angelo; Mrs. Boyd Baker, district vice-president of Ozona; and Mrs. Lowell Hankins of Rocksprings.

St. Patrick's Theme Followed at Party By Mrs. J. Hopkins

Mrs. Jerry Hopkins followed a St. Patrick's Day theme in entertaining the 7-11 Bridge Club at the Holiday Host Restaurant Monday night. Shamrocks decorated the tallies and score pads, and a leprechaun was featured on the gift table, which was centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

Prizewinners in bridge play were Mrs. John Tedford, high score for members, and Mrs. Norman Rousselot, high score for guests. Traveling prizes were won by Mrs. Clinton Langford for slam and Mrs. Warren Hemphill for three no trump.

Mrs. Bill Morriss and Mrs. David Shurley binged.

Other club members present at the party included Mmes. Ralph Mayer, Jimmy Hugh Harris, Albert Ward, Ralph Finklea, Dickie Street, and Doyle Morgan.

Also attending as guests were Mmes. Tommy Smith, John T. King, Cleveland Nance, Jamie Parker, Lester Byer, Wallas Renfro, Clayton Hamilton, George Wallace, J. A. Letsinger, Nolan Johnson, W. T. Black, Clay Cade, Bill Gosney, Rex Lowe, Joe Neil Smith, Jerry Shurley, Louis Wardlaw, James Hunt, and Shelly Lowe.

Also guests at the party were Mrs. Hopkins' sister, Mrs. Ben O'Neal, and her mother, Mrs. A. G. Reville, both of San Angelo.

Mrs. Hopkins served lime parfait pie and coffee.

New Mexico Governor Slated To Speak At 88th TSCRA Convention March 15-17

Jack Campbell, Governor of New Mexico, will head the list of speakers who will address cattlemen attending the 88th annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association March 15-17 in El Paso. Headquarters of the convention will be the Paso del Norte Hotel, and more than 1,000 cattlemen are expected to attend.

Other speakers at the convention will be Dr. Jan Bonsma, animal geneticist from South Africa; Dr. Herrell DeGraff, president of the American Meat Institute; H. N. Smith, head of the Soil Conservation Service in Texas; Dolph Briscoe, Jr., chairman of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation; and U. S. Representative Graham Purcell of Texas.

Dr. Bonsma, professor and head of the animal science department, University of Pretoria, Republic of South Africa, is currently a visiting professor at Texas A&M University, under the sponsorship of a grant by the Wortham Foundation of Houston. He is widely known for his ability to recognize fertility traits in cattle by visual appraisal and to convey this information to students. He has spoken in every major livestock country in the world, and will appear before the convention twice. His talks will deal with the climatic adaptation of cattle and judging cattle for functional efficiency.

Teen Scene

By Carol Hopf

The big news of the week has been, of course, the speech meet. It "went off" very smoothly, and an expression of accomplishment was the look of everyone who took part in any way. Sonora had several participants, and a good number of them received medals, Carla Whitworth, Gary McGilvray, John David Fields, Grady Roe, Eddie Sawyer, Cindy Galbreath, Linda McBride, Carol Hopf, Bill Glasscock, Barbara Holland and Margaret Bundy won medals.

Joyce Hearn, Dick McMillan, Jack David Wardlaw, Johnny Merck, Jimmy Frank Richardson, John Paul Friess, Gil Allison, and Buck Bloodworth came home for the weekend's activities.

This week is the week for our belated six-weeks tests. Just think! This has been the fifth six-weeks! Soon, it will all be over.

Coming up this week we shall have several activities. There will be a volleyball tournament in Ozona, a track meet in Ozona, and a speech tournament at Trinity University, San Antonio. Mr. Behrens, Irene Davis, and the annual staff are happy, and I should imagine they are also relieved. They have sent their last shipment of the annual to the publishers.

Be sure to notice the posters announcing the arrival of the "Harlem Stars" in Sonora. They will have an exhibition game here on March 26. That should be very entertaining.

Music Club To Honor High School Band

The Sonora High School band will be honored at the meeting of the Sonora Music Club March 11, and several members of the band will perform on the program.

Texas composers will be recognized at the meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Louie Trainer.

 4♠ pass pass pass

Opening lead: king of clubs.

South won the opening lead with the ace in the closed hand. The jack of clubs was trumped in the dummy and the queen of spades led from the dummy. South played low from the closed hand and West won the trick with the singleton king. West then led his ace of diamonds, followed with the seven of diamonds. East took tricks with the king and queen of diamonds and returned a spade. South then cleared trumps and was left with two top heart tricks and one good diamond for a one trick set.

Comment: South's only hope was to either find the king of spades in East's hand or as a singleton in West's hand; however with five trumps he decided to play East for the king and thereby lost four tricks.

Miss Donna Hester, And Tracy Crites Are Wed Saturday

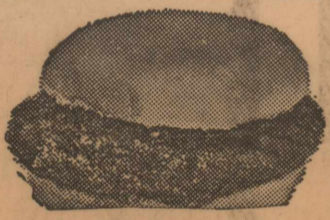

Miss Donna Jeannene Hester became the bride of Weldon Tracy Crites Saturday, February 20.

Quarter Horses To Be Judged at Roundup

The Texas State 4-H Roundup will include a quarter horse judging contest for the first time this year, disclosed Dr. Dale Burnett, Extension animal husbandman.

Burnett said the contest became essential due to the rapid growth of the Texas 4-H Horse program during the past four years.

"The quarter horse judging contest will provide opportunities for the 4-H members with horse projects to develop the ability to explain observations, to make decisions, and to learn principles of horse selection and evaluation," Burnett added.

To be eligible for the state contest, each contestant must be an active 4-H member and conducting a 4-H horse demonstration for the current year. In addition, each contestant must be at least 14 years old and must not have passed his 19th birthday before Jan. 1, 1965, Burnett explained.

"The contest will be conducted on an individual basis, and each district will be permitted to enter the two high-scoring individuals from the district contest," Burnett said.

Vehicle Deadlines Set April 1 and 15

Approximately 2,070 vehicles will be registered in Sutton County this year, estimates the Department of Public Safety. Of this estimated number, only 643 automobiles have been inspected thus far.

Officer James Cumby urges residents to remember that the deadline for buying Texas license plates is April 1 and the deadline for having cars inspected is April 15. The charge for inspection is $1 plus the charge for whatever repairs or adjustments are needed.

Cumby also stressed the importance of having cars inspected early. He encouraged all citizens to avoid the last minute rush and have their cars inspected immediately.

Duncan Newsboys Hear E. Castro Jr. At Annual Banquet

"It's no disgrace to fail, but it is a disgrace to fail to try to get back up," Ernest Castro Jr. told newspaper carriers in Duncan, Oklahoma, at an annual newsboy banquet recently.

Castro, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Castro Sr., is minister of education of the First Baptist Church of Duncan.

Offering pointers to the boys, he advised them to plan for the future. Set a goal or goals, and set them high, he said. A goal set too low, which offers no challenge, is of no value, he warned.

He urged the boys to be eager for training and education.

"Have a fear of the future," he suggested. "By that I mean, have a sort of fear that keeps you prepared for whatever may come."

Castro said that too many young people want to start at the top or reach the top too quickly. They must learn to walk, he cautioned, before they can run; they must learn before they can teach, learn to obey before they can order.

All these things are wrapped in building a good character and involve self discipline, he said.

TS&GRA Launches Drive To Register Associate Members

A drive for associate membership among banks and other firms and professional men associated with the sheep and goat industry is being launched by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.

The plan is for directors of the organization to contact business and professional men in their own counties.

TS&GRA works in legislative and other fields on behalf of the sheep and goat industry.

Survivors Should Ask About SS Benefits

If a worker dies, some member of the family should inquire at the social security office to see if survivors benefits are payable, Floyd B. Ellington, social security district manager in San Angelo advises.

According to Ellington, nine out of every ten young children and their mothers can count on the survivors' benefits. Survivors per month.

benefits may be payable to young children when the mother, who has been working, dies, even though the father is the family's primary source of support.

Nearly 4 1/2 million survivors of deceased workers are receiving monthly benefits. The average benefit paid to a widowed mother with two children is about $190 per month.

'65 CHEVROLET

These great performers are the lowest priced models at our One-Stop Shopping Center

Top to bottom: Chevy II 100, Corvair 500, Chevelle 300, Chevrolet Biscayne. All 2-door models.

Each of these beauties is the lowest priced in its line. But the ride doesn't show it. Or the interior. Or the performance.

That luxurious Biscayne is as roomy as many expensive cars, has color-keyed interiors, plush vinyls, fine fabrics, full deep-twist carpeting.

Chevelle, America's favorite intermediate-size car, has clean new styling, wide doors, roomy, tasteful interiors and Chevrolet easy-care features.

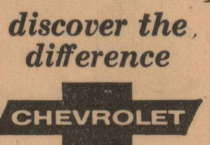

Chevy II got a lot smarter for '65—but stayed sensible! Still family-size, easy to handle, economical, and the lowest priced Chevrolet you can buy.

Or get a sporty rear-engine hardtop in a Corvair Sport Coupe or Sport Sedan for fun in the months ahead.

Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II are available with the Turbo-Thrift Six for fuel economy, quick warmups, quiet idling. It's light, efficient, smooth and spirited.

Corvair's air-cooled rear-mounted Turbo-Air Six delivers the best balance and traction for this size car.

So be practical. Only you will know. Because it sure won't show!

Drive something really new—discover the difference at your Chevrolet dealer's

STRONG CHURCHES

Make STRONG COMMUNITIES

THE WORLD

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Strange sight? Not really! We're getting used to seeing pictures of our own earth. We're getting used to the concept of a universe instead of a world. We can believe that the moon's soon to become a landing place.

Does this familiarity with space — does our thrust into the physical unknown — make the basic facts of life and death any simpler to us? Certainly not! Man is in a peculiar position, today. The more he explores, the more vast he finds what lies ahead of him. The more he learns, the more he discovers how infinitely much there is to know.

More than ever before, man realizes how great the hand of God has been in fashioning this world, this universe, we live in. That's why people everywhere — including scientists, astronauts, space pioneers — are men of religious conviction. Go to church this Sunday, and see for yourself.

Peps Up Batteries

Heat flashlight batteries over your campfire for a few more hours of life.

Repairing Rod Guide

A hairline crack in a rod guide can wear fishing line thin in a very short time.

To fix it temporarily, wrap a section of line carefully all around the guide. Weave it around and around and lay it up smooth. Then lash it to supporting arms.

It will last for several days. Early attention may prevent loss of the lunker fish.

Handy Lure Box

Some salt water fishermen use toothbrush holders to store their feathered lures.

Keeps 'em in shape a lot longer than bouncing around in the bottom of a tackle box.
