An editor's insight into situations sometimes prompts him to print bits of wit and wisdom about the world around him. Here is a sampling from around the country as reported by the Grass-roots Editor:

The higher any man rises the less chance he has of being above suspicion.

—Sparta (Ill.) News-Plaindealer

Due to the effect of gravity, it takes more energy to close the mouth than to open it. In some cases this is a great pity.

—Granite City (Ill.) Press-Record

Traffic conditions sometimes improve when reckless drivers are awakened by a pinch.

—New Canaan (Conn.) Advertiser

Authorities in Guajira, Colombia, say that civilization is catching up with Indians in the nearby jungles. Members of the Epiayuu and Jayariyu tribes, who were fighting with bows and arrows as recently as a couple of years ago, now throw hand grenades at each other.

—Birmingham (Mich.) Eccentric

Wisdom is the art of proportion.

—Sumner (Ill.) Press

And from an 1887 issue of the Alleghany County Democrat comes this gem: "Will our readers please hand in their local items while they are still fresh? We don't like to publish a birth after the child is weaned, a marriage after the honeymoon is over, or the death of a man after his widow is married again."

—Ellicottville (N.Y.) Post

Businessmen say it's easier to go into business than to get out and the same may be said about South Viet Nam.

—Hillsboro (Ill.) County News

It's still the little apples that hold up the big apples at the top of the basket.

—Anna (Ill.) Gazette-Democrat

And the Devil's River News can sympathize with the Chapel Hill (N.C.) Weekly editor who writes:

In the last several days, we have received in our newsstand coin boxes:

- A 1943 one-franc piece
- Four Canadian dimes
- Five Canadian pennies
- One Canadian nickel
- Several bobby pins
- Three paper clips
- A Mexican centavo piece
- And a nice assortment of buttons.

We fully realize there is a serious coin shortage throughout the country and all that, but this is carrying concern too cotton-picking far.

County Agents Choose Earwood Man of Year

Fred T. Earwood, president of the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company and well known sheep and goat breeder, is one of six men named by the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association to receive its "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" award for 1965. He was nominated by the county agricultural agents of Extension district 6, West Texas.

The awards are made annually by the association to recognize outstanding leaders in agriculture or professions closely related to the industry, explained E. J. Harrison Jr., Ward County agent and president of the TCAAA. The awards also recognize outstanding contributions to improved levels of living and economic progress in communities, counties, the state and nation.

The county agents cited Earwood as an outstanding ranchman who supports Extension Service programs, assists 4-H and FFA activities, and gives freely of his time, talents and money to improve the sheep and goat industry of Texas.

He is director and past president of the American Angora Goat Raisers Association, director and past president of both the Texas Angora Goat Raisers Association and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, chairman of the National Wool Growers Association's Committee on Wool Marketing, and president of the Texas Warehouseman's Association.

BOSTON HAS ANOTHER PARTY

When in the course of more-or-less human events, people like the British see fit to ban American rock 'n' roll stars from the tight little island, trouble is to be expected. When the British government banned Boston's local rock 'n' roll artist, Jana Louise, on grounds she competes with English talent without adding anything worthy to Britannia's cultural scene, it once again drew the ire of violent Bostonians, noted for their touchiness.

Thus it was that Boston teenagers gathered at the harbor recently for "the Boston Tea Party-a-Go-Go" to dissolve the musical bonds that have connected them with the British Beat. Miss Louise made a speech, fans hurled Beatle records into Boston Harbor and vowed to write congressmen.

A good time was had by all, with the exception of officials from the British consulate. They reminded the revolutionaries that the U.S. has been refusing work permits to British swingers on precisely the same grounds.

They were right, of course, which only proves that perfidious Albion will go to any lengths to preserve its favorable balance in rock 'n' roll trade, even to the point of using logic to ruin a good party-a-go-go.

Dessert Topics

Here's a cool, cool dessert for warm days: Stir chopped, cooked prunes into whipped cream and prepared vanilla pudding mix. Freeze until firm.

Making applesauce cake? You'll like it frosted with 1/2 cup of finely chopped dates, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind mixed with a tablespoon of butter and 1 1/2 cups of confectioners' sugar. Moisten to spreading consistency with cream.

Roll thin pancakes with a filling of cream cheese and nuts. Serve with fresh strawberries. This will make a nice brunch dessert.

Looking for a different sundae? Melt 6 ounces of semi-sweet chocolate pieces in 1/2 cup milk, then add 1/2 cup salted peanuts and 1 cup miniature marshmallows. Chill and serve over vanilla ice cream.

Bake custard in individual cups, cool and unmold. Serve with fresh strawberry sauce.

Helen's Favorite: Brown Sugar Crisps (Makes 30)

1 cup sweetened condensed milk
3 tablespoons brown sugar
3 cups cornflakes
Cook sweetened condensed milk in top of double boiler over boiling water until thick. Remove from fire, add corn flakes, mixing thoroughly. Drop from spoon to greased cookie sheet about 1-inch apart. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 10 to 12 minutes.

Roe-ving Around

By Grady Roe
Well, once again I return to continue my tale of suspense. I know all about your plan for hope that I can soon finish it, stealing Madison Square Garden but there are always interruptions. You may remember that in the last incident was an unsuccessful attempt on my life.

As soon as the waiter had thrown the sun bonnet, I pulled out a knife and threw it at him, hitting him in the foot and cutting off his big toe. "Knife to have met you," I said.

"Care for a free toe?" he replied.

"No thanks, I just finished a whole bag of potato chips."

I turned and looked around. Joe Fingers was gone. I quickly turned on my sandals, which were really a sending and receiving radio set, connected to a mike hidden in the mouth of Joe Fingers' pet canary which was in the fiend's hotel room. The whole conversation sounded like it was coming from inside a Coke bottle, with all the gurglings and other such noises.

"Operator, give me New York," Joe Fingers said.

"I beg your pardon, sir?" she said.

"It's a long distance to New York," he said.

"It certainly is, sir," said the operator, and then she hung up.

I decided to move on in on Joe Fingers and finish the job right then, because I had an important Chinese checkers match with a maid, and I didn't want anything interfering. So, I went up to his room. I knocked on the door with my foot, and it went crashing down. "Okay, Joe Fingers, the game is up. I'm an undercover secret agent, and I know all about your plan for stealing Madison Square Garden and holding it for ransom."

He pulled a gun and shot at me six times, then six more, because it was a gun left over from an old western movie. But, I had my bullet proof chest, and the bullets bounced off.

"You're through, you thief," and with that I tossed him into the washing machine, where he drowned. Yes, he was all washed up.

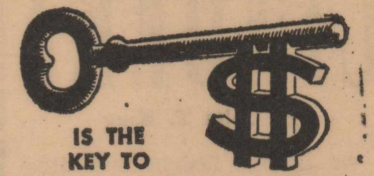

Thus ends an exciting story in the life of 6%. This is Horace Bond signing off until we meet again, you lucky thing.

SONORA Diamond JUBILEE

July 20, 1965

To the People of Sutton County:

I am proud that billboards on every highway into Sonora proclaim our forthcoming Diamond Jubilee; otherwise what would the tourists think? Did you ever see anything like it—we could pass as "Beatnik Capital" without those warning billboards. It is nice that so many got into the play of the thing for horseplay is so much a part of a pioneer type event.

At a meeting of the Executive committee last Friday it was found that all committees are functioning nicely—the food committee, the parade, the downtown, the pageant, and Mac Bundy has done a wonderful job in publicity. The stock sale campaign is not off the ground; however Bob Teaff has sold much stock, more than all the committee combined. He is working at it and needs some help.

The question has been asked, "Who are the pioneer families of Sutton County and who are we honoring on this occasion?" For your information, in the early days sheepmen would bring their herds to this area and carry them over winter without water as the lush vegetation provided sufficient. With the drilling of the first well some of these remained, then went back east for the family and settled where Sonora now stands. Others brought their families and belongings and soon a small hamlet was the result.

These early settlers were unique in that they did not come to this area to exploit it for riches but rather as a place to create their homes. It was this type of early citizen that made this County and City what it is today. From memory I am going to list some of these and will expect others to suggest additional names. I will use surnames and some of these will represent more than one family by that name. Those before 1910 include the following:

Adams, Aldwell, Allison, Archer, Alley, Baker, Berger, Bond, Benson, Barton, Briant, Brown, Bundy, Barksdale, Binyon, Burroughs, Cauthorn, Clarkson, Cooper, Cusenbary, Clendennen, Cornell, Chalk, Chadwick, Coalson, Carruthers, Davis, DeBerry, Decker, Drennan, Deere, Dunbar, Earwood, Eastland, Evans, Fields, Franks, Ford.

Glassecock, Green, Grimland, Gilbert, Halbert, Hill, Hudspeth, Hamilton, Hays, Hearn, Hodge, Holland, Holman, Hull, Heubner, Johnson, Joy, Jackson, Jones, Karnes, Keene, Kelley, Keese, Kirkland, King, Lowrey, Lightfoot, Logan, Locklin, Lovelace, Long, Luckie, Miers, Martin, Mayer, Mayfield, McKee, McDonald, Meckel, Merck, Merriman, Mittel, Morris, Mabry, Newell, Hurst.

Odom, Ogden, Perry, Pfeister, Potter, Ross, Reiley, Robins, Rode, Rouche, Rountree, Sawyer, Savell, Sewell, Sharp, Saunders, Stephenson, Swearingen, Shroyer, Shurley, Simmons, Smith, Steen, Stuart, Stites, Stokes, Sykes, Turney, Taylor, Trainer, Thiers, Taliaferro, VanderStucken, Valliant, Wallace, Ward, Wardlaw, Wheat, White, Whitehead, Wilson, Word, Wyatt.

Other names will come to mind, and you readers will offer many more. Please call or write the Devil's River News to add to the list. I consider anyone coming to Sutton County on or before 1915 should be called an oldtimer; 50 years is a long time. However many of our finest citizens came to the Stockman's Paradise since then. Many of these oldtimers came and moved away after a few years; those who came and remained to raise their families here deserve a special recognition.

This is the only 75th Anniversary Jubilee we will ever have. It is our way to pay honor to those who came and developed this County for our benefit and at the same time welcome all former residents and our friends from the surrounding area. It is to be Sutton County Hospitality, Western style. You Sutton County citizens can do your part toward this program right now by volunteering now to invest in Jubilee Stock and volunteering your services on the committee of your choice. There is much to be done.

Sincerely,
Buzzie,
H. V. "Buzzie" Stokes

Lodge's Clock Old Timer Time Teller

A relic of Sonora's days past may be seen in the Dee Ora Lodge hall. Hanging on the wall is a Seth Thomas calendar-clock, estimated to be as old and probably older than Sonora itself.

The clock was given to the Lodge by Roy Aldwell, once president of the First National Bank. It was said to have come out of the first bank building.

A possession of the Lodge for many years, the clock recently has been out of order. Several attempts to have the clock repaired resulted in failures until J. F. Longley of Abilene, vice-president of the West Texas Utilities, repaired it.

Longley saw the clock and immediately recognized its value, noting its age. He offered to buy it, but Lodge members decided that it was not for sale. Longley, whose hobby is antique clocks, then offered to repair it, and did so successfully. Longley mounted the clock last week, as-

Fire Officials Here Caution Residents Of Fire Hazards

Approximately 50 acres of grass were burned Monday on the Dantes Reiley ranch, due to a burning trash pile that got out of control, reported Lee Patrick, fire chief.

The fire department was able to extinguish the fire before any further damage was done, however.

John A. Martin Jr., city fire marshal, says that now when there has not been much rain and when the grass is so high, is the most dangerous time for grass fires. He and Patrick both urged all ranchers to get their stock sprayers prepared for any future grass fires that might occur on their land. Martin added that there are still many fire hazards within the city limits that need to be cleaned up.

The fire department members also extinguished a fire in the back seat of a car on the rodeo grounds Saturday, July 17.

Miss Grace Anderton of Snyder visited last week with Miss Janie Letsinger.

Lodge Schedules Program Observing 75th Anniversary

Members of Dee Ora Lodge No. 715 will observe the 75th Anniversary celebration with a barbecue and special program on the history of the Lodge at 7 p.m. August 19.

Started at old Wentworth in the spring of 1891, only one or two meetings were held there before the Lodge was moved to its present location in Sonora.

Since the regular meeting of the Lodge falls on Thursday, August 19—during the Anniversary Week—a program honoring old members and past masters will be presented. Efforts will be made to have as many non-resident members present as possible.

Worm Danger Time Still Approaching

With nearly half the year yet to go, Texas has already recorded more screwworm infestations than during all of 1964, reported Screwworm Eradication officials.

Last year's total of 223 cases was surpassed last week and although the number of cases has been decreasing, the level of infestation is still much higher than a year ago and the dangerous fall season is still ahead, officials said.

County agent D. C. Langford asked that all ranchers be sure to complete all the information on the screwworm sheet before mailing in any samples.

Of the screwworm situation in years past, officials said, "A pause to reflect at this stage of the eradication program is in order as we have been experiencing very favorable weather conditions for screwworms. Remember the man hours spent in rounding up worms; remember the amount of screwworm dope you carried around in your pickup or in the saddle; remember the planing you had to do as far as marking lambs and calves to avoid possible screwworms; remember the death losses due to screwworms."

The Screwworm Eradication officials warned that although conditions are not as bad as in times past, the rancher still needs to be watchful every day as he rides the pasture for wounds made by natural causes to avoid a recurrence of past screwworm conditions. If any suspected cases are found there is still the need for submitting specimens for positive identification, they added.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

The Rev. Rollin Polk, St. John's Episcopal Church

A Christian is one who believes in Christ and tries to follow Him. Christ has made a tremendous change in human history and has won the loyalty of millions of people all over the world. The word Christian includes a number of different ideas.

I am a Christian: that is, "I try to let my life be guided and governed by Christian standards. The rules and regulations of society show clearly the influence of Jesus, who taught kindness, courage, and prayer. The true and noble ideal is summed up in the Golden Rule. I believe that the churches are doing a good work. I will support them. I hope that civilization will become more and more Christian as time goes on." Is this all there is to being a Christian?

I am a Christian: that is, I am Christ's man. When I am confirmed I will answer, "I do," when the bishop asks, "Do ye promise to follow Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior?" The rules of knighthood suggest an example of what this means. In the Middle Ages when a young man was a knight, he promised loyalty to his lord. He would serve him, fight for him, even die for him. He promised to "Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the King." This kind of loyalty means doing not only what we want to do, but even what we may not want, or what we find difficult to do. But is even this all there is to it?

I am a Christian: by baptism I was made "a member of Christ, the Child of God, and an inheritor of the kingdom of heaven." This is the way the Book of Common Prayer describes it. As a member of Christ I am brother to all other Christians regardless of color, education, or nationality. St. Paul said, "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus." We are Christians not because we are good, but because God in Christ accepts us and forgives us even though we make mistakes and do wrong things. It is God who makes us Christians and strengthens us to help one another.

MRS. ARTHUR CURTIS HAWKINS

Miss Roe Married to Dr. Arthur Hawkins; Newlyweds on Wedding Trip to Jamaica

Miss Glenda Jane Roe and Dr. Arthur Curtis Hawkins of Albuquerque, N.M., were wed in a double-ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church Saturday, July 17.

The Rev. Allen G. Roe, pastor of the church and father of the bride, performed the wedding service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roe. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hawkins of Farmington, New Mexico.

Mrs. Bob Hinant of Alice was the soloist and organist, John Schmidt of Austin, provided the wedding music.

Miss Joanna Morgan of Dallas and David Steele of Albuquerque were honor attendants.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rex Kellums of Fort Collins, Colorado, and Miss Patty Campbell of Dallas. Groomsmen and ushers were Grady Roe, brother of the bride, and Larry Willingham of Austin. The Rev. Norman Roe was also an usher.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, the Rev. A. Gordon Roe, wore a pale ivory gown fashioned of pure silk satin-faced peau de sole combined with dyed to match imported re-embroidered Alencon lace. The skirt of the scalloped Sabrina neckline gown was centered with a panel overlaid with lace and deep pleats extended across the center back, unfolding into a chapel length train. The bride's silk illusion veil with pill-box crown was of peau lace and pearls. Her flowers were orchids and stephanotis.

After the ceremony there was a reception on the church lawn. Members of the houseparty included Mmes. Johnny Johnson, Norman Roe, Barbara Glover, Albert Ward, W. T. Black, Jerrold Duncan, Jimmy Hugh Harris, Bob Steger, Miss Lou Tompkins, and Miss Sherry Phillips.

After the reception the couple left for a two-week wedding trip to Jamaica. They will live in Albuquerque, where the bridegroom is an orthodontist.

Philosopher Announces New Political Trend

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River thinks he has discovered a trend in public affairs, his letter this week reports.

Dear editor: Sometimes when the leaders in public affairs are involved with the worries of world problems they overlook minor trends that can be seen easily from the quiet unhurried atmosphere of this bitterweed ranch, untroubled by monsoons and De Gaulle stones.

I have been watching a trend develop over the last few weeks and I can report it has now reached serious proportions.

First General Maxwell Taylor resigned as ambassador to Viet Nam, saying he had spent over a year there and would now like to spend more time with his family.

Then the head of the U.S. Information Agency, Carl T. Rowan, resigned, saying he owed it to his family to get a better-paying job.

Next Mayor Robert Wagner of New York declined to run for re-election, saying he had an obligation to be with his children more.

Now you see what the trend is. If it keeps up, it'll get to the point where, if a man in public office announces he'll run for re-election, the public will start asking: What's he got against his family?

You can see where this will lead to. A man decides to stay in office and immediately everybody assumes he doesn't care about being with his family or his family isn't worth being with.

This will be a terrible plight, and if office-holders are smart they'll break this trend and start giving other reasons for retiring, like "I've had enough," or "Been here too long," or "This is a dull job," or "If there's an answer to the problems in Viet Nam or New York city, it's beyond me." Otherwise, one of the main planks in the standard candidate's platform will be knocked out. Being a family man is about all some men run on, and frequently it works.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Rehearsal Dinner Held Friday Night

A rehearsal dinner for Miss Glenda Roe and Dr. Arthur Hawkins was held at Mrs. Edgar Shurley's ranch home Friday, July 16. Hostesses for the lawn supper included Mmes. A. E. Prugel, R. L. Hardgrave, Zilpha Joy, L. E. Johnson Jr., Lois Duncan, J. Wray Campbell, and S. M. Loeffler.

Members of the wedding party and their guests and out-of-town guests were present at the supper.

The lawn was decorated with tulip candle lights, and the tables were decorated with hurricane lamps and rice bags. The rice bags were presented to members of the wedding party.

Miss Roe and Dr. Hawkins of Albuquerque were married Saturday night.

attend and support THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE REGULARLY

after the Parade

The parade is over, and Tim is hot, dusty, and his feet hurt. This was his first parade, and somehow it didn't come off as he thought. He didn't expect to be the whole show, but he did think he and his tuba would stand out a little. As it happened, he was just "one of the band."

Later, he will realize that if each player weren't just "one of the band" there wouldn't be any band at all. He'll start thinking from there, and the parade will seem a lot better in memory than it does right now. For Tim has a good sense of value, for a boy his age—thanks in part, to the teachings of his church and church school.

Tim will weather his disappointments and march successfully through life, instead of giving up. Will your youngsters be as lucky?

Give your children the chance to go to church school.

Performance Pedigrees Gain Acceptance For Evaluating Breeding Beef Cattle

Buyers at breeder beef cattle sales will soon be studying two pedigrees instead of the usual one.

A growing trend in Texas and other states is to supplement the standard family tree information with a production or performance pedigree that more accurately describes the animal's real breeding value. Such pedigrees are production records based on actual performance.

L. A. Maddox, Extension Service animal husbandman in the Texas A&M University Animal Science Department, looks for the practice to become common in the near future.

"Ten years from now, very few breeder sales will operate without this information for buyers," he predicted. "With this kind of data, the buyer can come nearer evaluating what a young bull, for example, is capable of than ever before. It's better than relying on an ancestor pedigree."

Several major sales in Texas have used the system in the past few years, the most notable recent one being the Nine-Bar Santa Gertrudis sale at Cypress. Thirty head averaged $7,963. Ten bulls averaged $18,210, with the top bull going to the King Ranch for $58,000.

Maddox said the usual information in a production pedigree includes weaning weights of sire, dam and calves; gaining ability of sire and calves, complete fertility data on dams, and carcass information from a random sample of a bull's calves.

He added that breeders can gather such records on their herds in several basic ways:

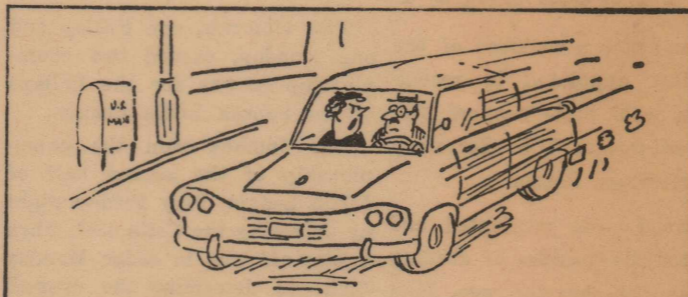

(1) All major breed associations have their own performance testing programs.

(2) The Performance Registry International of Denver, Colo. This is the oldest organization which has accumulated production records for breeders. It was established in Texas in 1954 at a time when breed associations were hesitant about value of production records.

(3) The Texas Agricultural Extension Service offers help through local county agents. Agents have been working with breeders for the past 12 years.

(4) Some private consulting firms offer the service.

Water Carnival To Feature 'King and I'

"The King and I" will be presented at the Fort Stockton Water Carnival this week.

The show will run three nights, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, July 22, 23, and 24, at Comanche Springs Swimming Pool in Fort Stockton. "The King and I" made its appearance as a musical comedy when Rogers and Hammerstein converted the book, "Anna and the King of Siam" into a Broadway musical comedy. The show at the Fort Stockton event will be a stage and water adaptation of the Broadway and movie version and will be directed by Neil Whiting of Odessa.

Whiting also directed last year's Water Carnival production—a stage and water comedy based on "Peter Pan". He is director of Odessa's Permian Playhouse.

The Water Carnival will be the 20th produced and the 11th in succession since 1954. It is sponsored by the Fort Stockton Lions Club. Joe Moring, immediate past president of the Lions Club, is general chairman.

Three beauty revues are an important feature of Water Carnival festivities. Audiences will see a different group of contestants in a revue preceding each night's show. Little girls from three to twelve will compete in three divisions on Thursday. Friday, the three divisions will be Fort Stockton Sub-Teen, Junior Miss Fort Stockton, and the Miss Fort Stockton contest.

The final night, Saturday, out-of-town girls will vie for the title of "Miss Southwest", and the winner will share the throne with Miss Fort Stockton for the next year's Water Carnival.

Chinch Bugs Badly Damage Lawns

If homeowners notice yellow or brown patches in their St. Augustine grass lawns, they should check for chinch bug infestation, says W. H. Newton, assistant Extension entomologist, Texas A&M University. He points out that many severe cases of lawn damage by chinch bugs have been reported in Texas this year.

Cinch bug damage is usually caused by nymphs (young) which congregate on sheaths of lower leaves and suck juices from grass plants. This results in wilting and eventual death of the grass.

Adult chinch bugs are one sixth of an inch long, have black bodies, reddish yellow legs and fully developed wings. Newly hatched nymphs are bright red with a whitish band across the back, Newton adds.

If chinch bugs are present in sufficient numbers to cause yellow or brown patches to appear, they can usually be found by parting grass in damaged areas and making close observations. They will appear as small black or red bugs with white markings on their backs.

Newton explains that a gallon can with both ends removed can be used as a sure detection for chinch bugs. This is done by forcing one end of the can two or three inches into the ground and filling it with water. Any chinch bugs present will float to the surface within five minutes. The can should be placed at the edge of the damaged area.

Control measures should be started immediately if chinch bugs are found. Ethion, Trithion and Diazinon are among several insecticides which may be applied either as a spray or dry granular form. Lawns should be wet when sprays are applied. Granular forms do not require lawns to be wet when applied, but they should be washed into the turf mat after application.

The entire lawn should be treated thoroughly, giving particular attention to areas obviously infested. Continued observation for chinch bugs should be made because one insecticidal treatment rarely prevents damage for a whole season.

Newton advises homeowners to check with local county agents for recommended insecticides and method of application for chinch bug control.

Mulching retains moisture in the soil.

Baseball Musical Comedy Set at Ingram

"Damn Yankees," the robust comes to bat, and his unprecise musical comedy that broke an all-dented batting transforms the time theatrical record with its last-place Senators into a team original New York success, is on the verge of winning the pennant being presented at the Point Sumner Theatre at Ingram for three weeks beginning July 21, and its large cast will be headed by Jerry Fitzgerald, Dana Haskell and Orian McBride. In the entire history of the American stage, this is the first play or musical comedy concerned with baseball to have become a hit.

Despite its title, the musical show has nothing to do with Civil War feelings of Southerners for Northerners. It stems only from the grudge of a Washington baseball fan for the New York American League ball team called the Yankees.

The show's plot has been taken from two popular stories, one a classic, the other a recent novel. The first is the Faust legend, about an aging man (Faust) who is so drawn to a young girl (Marguerite) that he sells his soul to the devil (Mephistopheles) in return for renewed youth, so he can woo her adequately. In the legend the bargain works out poorly and everyone ends up dead, except Mephistopheles.

Roughly the same situation was worked out—but very gaily this time—in a novel by Douglass Waiplop called "The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant," on which the plot of "Damn Yankees" is based.

This told about a middle-aged real estate man so devoted to the Washington Senators that he grieves mightily whenever they lose a game.

When, as in the old legend, Lucifer offers the aging fellow a chance to become a young man again—not for romantic purposes, but so he can lead the Senators to a pennant over the hated Yankees—he takes up the Satanic offer, at the cost of his soul.

The Devil keeps his end of the bargain, and from then on it's Faust with spangles. The diabolically-gifted ball-player always cleans up the bases whenever he work and recreation, Siegmund explained.

John Paul, a sophomore at Texas Technological College, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Friess. The ten-year 4-H veteran has made sheep projects, including production of fat lambs, range sheep and commercial ewes, the nucleus of his work.

Winings from his sheep projects were climaxed when he was named Premier Exhibitor at the Sonora Wool Show in 1964. Also active on judging teams, John was high individual wool judge at the Sonora Show for three successive years, junior and senior high individual at the State 4-H Wool Contest, and a member of the first place National team.

John Paul's list of honors include the Sutton County Gold Star Award, Rural Youth Award, and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Award which provided a trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

John Paul expressed his gratitude to the 4-H in this way, "In essence, 4-H work has fitted me and many other youngsters for life far beyond our most fantastic dreams and expectations."

Earwood, who originated and perfected the practice of grading wool at the shearing pen, is a leader among fine wool sheep breeders. By the use of a selective breeding program, he has developed a distinct type of long fleeced sheep known as "Earwoils."

Fleeces from these sheep have won championship honors at wool shows throughout the nation.

He has also developed a herd of Angora Goats that are famous among goat breeders throughout the United States and South Africa. South Africans, noted for their quality mohair production, have in recent years imported bucks from Earwood's herd to improve quality of their breeding stock.

Earwood is chairman of the Sonora Wool and Mohair Show, which he helped organize 28 years ago. This show, which features the National 4-H Wool Judging Contest and a statewide contest for both 4-H and FFA, is recognized as the largest wool show in the United States.

A leader in community and civic affairs, Earwood was presented the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation Award for outstanding contributions to 4-H at the recently held Texas 4-H Roundup. He was a director of Sonora's Hudspeth Memorial Hospital from 1953-61 and manages the ranch without pay, which helps support the hospital. Wool production on the ranch has almost doubled, its quality greatly improved, and the lamb crop increased since he started its selection program in 1950.

The honoree's contributions to agriculture have not been limited to the sheep and goat industries. He works closely with agencies, groups and organizations to promote programs and activities to improve agriculture and rural living. Range management, soil and water conservation, suggested programs for detailed research, livestock sanitation, predator and parasite control are other fields in which contributions have been made.

His ranch and the wool and mohair company he heads draw visitors from across the nation and the world. But, say the county agents of his area, he always has time to help us with programs and activities and to counsel on problems. His leadership has added greatly to the economic well-being of our area, they conclude.

Mrs. Harold Saunders, Mrs. John Bell, and Sherry Saunders visited Six Flags and then attended the Texas State Florists convention in Dallas last week.

Rewinding Rod Ferrules
Make use of a sewing machine the next time you have to re-wind a rod ferrule.

Place the thread on the spool spindle, pass it through the tension device and thread lifter, then adjust the tension to your liking.

Fish Like Candy, Too
Take along a bag of gum drops on your next fishing trip. Not only will you enjoy snacking on them, but you might use a few as fish bait.

Bass and catfish are both fond of gum drops. Simply cut one in half and use on hook as bait. If gum drops are of the small variety, use them whole for baiting.

Indians Win Over-all Championship

Two victories, one Friday and one Monday, earned two championship crowns for the Indians of the Sonora Little League.

The Indians won the championship of the second half of Little League Play Friday night by defeating the Colts 13-7. Then a play-off was in order Monday night to determine the over-all championship between the Indians and the first-half winners, the Colts.

Continuing their winning streak, the Indians were once again victorious, topping the Colts by a 15-11 margin.

In Friday night's game Richard Bernal was the winning pitcher with seven strikeouts. The Indians scored nine hits. Bernal recorded three for four with two homeruns, while John Martin Beckham and Ramiro Gandar each tallied two for four.

Pitching for the Colts was Lino Martinez, who struck out eight batters. Joe Gutierrez and Freddie Virgen each hit doubles, and the team had five hits.

Monday night Bernal and Gandar pitched for the Indians, allowing five hits and striking out nine batters. Indian batters got 12 hits, including three for five tallies by Chuck Browne and Gandar. Bernal racked up a home run, a double, and two walks, and Tony Renfro earned two for five, including a home run.

Martinez and Freddie Gonzales pitching for the Colts struck out six. The team chalked up five hits, with Mark Rousselot and Alfred Virgen getting one for four; Joe Gutierrez, two for three; and James Noel, one for three.

Umpires were John Bell, Pat Brown, Chapo Samaniego, and Ruben Flores.

The victorious Indians are being treated to a trip to Houston by Dr. Charles Browne, coach. Harold Schwieng Jr. and Mike Wuest, who also coached the team, will be going on the trip, too.

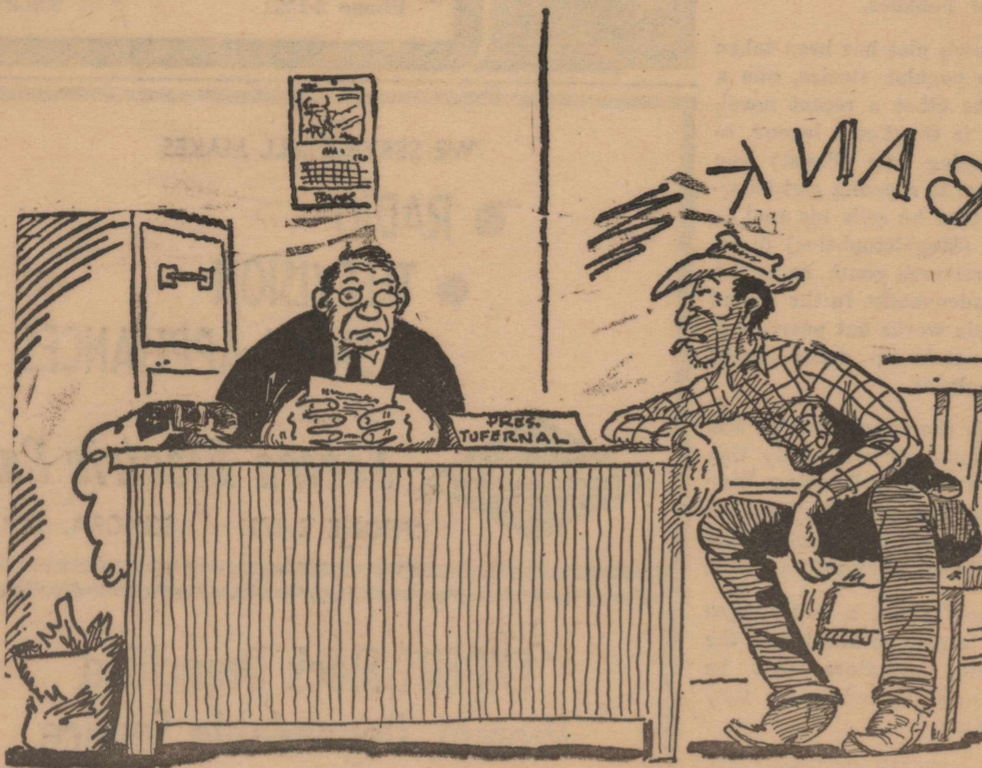

Oliver Wuest asks that all Little League players return their uniforms to their managers at the baseball field Thursday night.
