Soil Erosion Bill Is Sponsored By A. & M. College And WTCC

A soil erosion bill sponsored by West Texas Chamber of Commerce and A. & M. college has been introduced concurrently in both houses of the Texas legislature providing for formation of districts to fight soil erosion conditions under direction of Commissioners' court of each county, thus obviating expense of other organizations.

It would be headed by a State Soil Conservation board of nine members to be paid per diem as they function. An appropriation of $10,000 is asked to start the program and an additional appropriation of $50,000 for the next biennium.

Citizens of proposed conservation districts would vote on such formation, according to the bill. One or more counties may be pooled in such district. The organization would be for 10 years and 10 cents of state ad valorem tax in such districts would be used for such soil protection work.

HOUSE COMMITTEE FAVORS GOLD RESERVE FARM LOANS

The House Agriculture Committee, Washington, has favorably reported the Jones bill designed to utilize gold reserves as a basis for new money for farm loans.

The measure authorizes the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks to issue currency to provide funds to meet farm credit needs.

Under the bill the Treasury would set aside $600,000,000 of its gold reserve as reserve for the new currency issues. Farm leaders urging the legislation assert it would permit farm loans at two per cent interest rate. The bill was sponsored by Chairman Marvin Jones, Amarillo, of the committee. It is similar to one reported by the same committee last session. That bill, however, never passed the House.

A SPECIAL SCOUT PROGRAM

A course in Scout Program Making will begin Monday March 1, here with Boy Scouts, parents and friends of scouting attending, according to report from these in charge of arrangements.

F. Gallman, A. A. Alexander, Clay Heavers and Rev. R. S. Watkins are the patrol leaders who are making preparations for the attendance. They are interested in knowing more about the fundamentals of Scouting and the program carried on by the boys is urged to take part in the course.

The local Scout unit has been urged exceptionally well under the present leadership and the Scouts have participated in local, district and council activities.

ELIGHT SNOW HERE SATURDAY

Snow fell in Littlefield last Saturday, being accompanied by a considerable drop of temperature. The fall was quite slight, most of it melting as it came down. It is anticipated to furnish some refreshment for growing wheat.

Heavy snow is reported in the northwest area of New Mexico, also in southwest Kansas, nearly five inches falling at Liberal and Meade, in that state, also about four inches at Guyton, Okla., where sand storms have recently been reported.

ELLIOTT GOES TO SEGUIN

Fred C. Elliott, assistant county farm agent in Bailey county since July 1, 1936, received notice last Tuesday of his transfer to Guadalupe county with headquarters at Seguin, where he will hold the same position as assistant agent, the transfer to be effective March 1.

While Mr. Elliott was stationed here he formed a large circle of friends who greatly regret his departure to another county.

TO GET RANGE BENEFITS

The Agricultural Adjustment administration last Friday designated 159 counties of Texas, including Bailey, Farmer, Castro, Cochran, and Hale, of this session, in which the 1937 range conservation program will operate.

Adoption of practices for which payments will be made include deferred grazing, contour listing or furrowing, ridging of land, construction of spreader dams, terraces or reservoirs, establishment of fire guards, eradication of rodents and freeing land from noxious plants.

SUDAN STARTS CITY HALL

The Sudan City Commission has ordered construction of a new city hall for that municipality, the structure to be of Spanish mission style, accommodating city official business, having commodious sections for offices, restaurant, rest rooms and fire proof vault for valuables of various kinds.

PRES. ROOSEVELT RECOMMENDS CROP INSURANCE FOR FARMERS TO CONGRESS; DECLARED IT LAWFUL

Proposes Amount Needed To Provide Adequate Reserves, Care For Other Costs, Cut Distressed Needs.

Officials have estimated that $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 would be required to set up a valid crop insurance system recommended to Congress by President Roosevelt.

They figured that amount would establish adequate reserves and meet other necessary costs. Offsetting this was the contention of the President's Crop Insurance Committee that the proposed system would be financed by a tax on farmers, farmers distressed by crop failures. The committee estimated such outlays had totaled $500,000,000 in the past 10 years.

In a special message to Congress last week Roosevelt recommended that federal crop insurance start with wheat next year and be extended later to other products, evidencing a desire for such protection.

Second Proposal

It was his second recommendation in three days for broadening the federal farm program. The first suggested liberal credit and other federal aid for tenants and insecure farm owners.

As in his message on tenancy, the President emphasized his contention that federal action upon such matters is constitutional.

"May I repeat," he said today, "what I have suggested in a former message; that because economic and social reforms of this character are essentially national in scope and administration, the citizens of our Nation believe that our form of Government has never intended to prohibit their accomplishment."

Chairman Pope, Democrat, Idaho, of a Senate subcommittee appointed to consider the crop insurance bill, immediately hailed it as clearly constitutional. He said it involved no regulation of farming such as that banned by the Supreme Court in his decision against the original AAA.

Hearings This Week

Pope told reporters his subcommittee would begin hearings this week. Senator Norris, Independent, Nebraska, also asserted crop insurance legislation is "clearly constitutional under the Constitution."

"But whether it is constitutional under the Supreme Court decisions is a different thing," he added.

Secretary Wallace said participating farmers would be required to observe regulations under other federal farm measures.

Chairman Jones, Texas, of the House Agriculture Committee, predicted it would be some time before his group took up the new recommendations. He said it first would get farm tenancy legislation out of the way and act upon a bill to continue federal benefit payments to farmers for two more years.

With his crop insurance message, the President transmitted a report by a special committee which studied the subject.

It suggested that wheat farmers pay insurance premiums in federal and that they be protected against losses up to 75 per cent of normal yields.

Producers suffering losses from drought, hail and other natural hazards would be compensated in wheat or an equivalent amount of money.

Secretary Wallace, chairman of the crop insurance committee, said this system would have the effect of storing up reserves of wheat in years of larger crops and releasing them on the market in years of crop failure.

The administration has proposed additional crop control legislation to prevent reserves from becoming excessive and depressing the market.

The same federal experts who gathered information upon which the wheat insurance recommendation was based now are assembling data concerning insurance for corn and cotton producers.

Others Interested Wallace reported recently that growers of commercial vegetables, fruits and other crops were much interested in crop insurance.

Secretary Wallace said participating farmers would be required to observe regulations under other federal farm measures.

Chairman Jones, Texas, of the House Agriculture Committee, predicted it would be some time before his group took up the new recommendations. He

A CHANGED FRONT FOR TEXAS

It appears to be dawning slowly upon some legislators that a new front is necessary if this State hopes to come into its just deserts in the matter of a nationally distributed prosperity. Several recently have voiced the need of legislative assistance in progressing from a strictly agricultural State to one with sufficient industries to convert its natural resources and raw materials into by-products and take them into the Nation's trade channels.

The first and foremost requirement from the lawmakers is a revision of the tax system and a modernized Constitution which will remove the handicaps imposed by a generation of Texans who were just merger from the effects of "carpet-bag rule." The instinct of self-preservation played them false. They felt that Texas needed protection from invasion. They wrote a constitution and went into the statute-passing business of defending Texas from the dangerous effects of outside capital and emigrants from above the mason and Dixon Line. They served both purposes admirably. Some of the hardships have been overcome but many remain to this day. Capital following the spouting of oil wells refused to be daunted, but many other varieties have been chary of Texas investments.

Pat Spone and Kendall Young will be in charge, and will hear reports from the various committees on their plans for the year, and on their objectives.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE VOTE

Voicing of citizens and their opinions regarding President Roosevelt's proposed changes of the Supreme court is questioned in some sections as to crossing considerably interest. Also whether such ballots will be any more dependable than straw votes during the political campaign last fall.

Ballots are taken by more than 200 newspapers up to date indicate citizens two to one against the proposed changes. Texas vote is running a little stronger against and some other states almost evenly divided against. Yet some individual communities are polling for the change.

CUT WPA APPROPRIATIONS

Seventy-three Texas municipalities were last week advised that 93 cent of WPA projects totaling $22,762 should not be started unless they were in a position to finance them 100 per cent.

Gov. Allred returning from Washington last week also advised present indications are that all 45-55 government pay projects are ended, and such projects in the future may be lucky if they get 10 or 15 per cent federal aid, and in some instances none will be received.

TO HAVE CIRCUS DEBATE

This well is located about 30 miles west of Hereford, the showing of oil being discovered at about 2,000 feet. Much interest is being manifested in this section because of the prospects.

JUDGE MILLER TO AUSTIN ON C. O. BUSINESS

For Hi-way Extension Warehouse, Hospital Locations.

Judge M. G. Miller, of Bailey county, left Wednesday morning to join a delegation from Cochran county enroute to Austin where they will appear before the State Highway commission relative to giving further designation to State Highway No. 214 from the south Bailey county line to the intersection point on State Highway No. 24 at Morton, political capitol of that county.

While in Austin, Judge Miller will also present a petition to Superintendent Early, of the Maintenance department, asking for location of a division warehouse and headquarters in Muleshoe asking toward greater efficiency and convenience in operation of the crew in this section, since state highways 7, 28 and 214 all center at this point.

Judge Miller will also present a petition brief to the State Board of Control, Austin, asking due consideration be given Muleshoe as a probable location for a West Texas state hospital and psychiatric institution, as provided for in a bill before the Legislature. He was accompanied on the trip by County Commissioner John Allford.

Emergency Crop And Feed Loan In Bailey County, Now Made

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1937 are now being received at Muleshoe by L. S. Keon, Field supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration.

These loans will be made only to farmers who cannot obtain credit from any other source, as provided in regulations issued by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and working capital needs for growing his 1937 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock and in no instance may exceed $400.

Farmers are not eligible for these loans if they can borrow from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern. Emergency crop and feed loans will not be made by the Farm Credit Administration to standard rehabilitation clients of the Federal Farm Administration whose current needs are provided for by Resettlement.

As in the past, the security for these loans will consist of a first lien on the crop financed if the loan is for the production of crops, and if for the purchase of feed for livestock, then a first lien on the livestock to be fed. Landlords, or others having an interest in the crops or the livestock to be fed, will be required to waive their claims in favor of the lien to the Government of the State of Texas until the loan is repaid.

Checks in payment of the approved loans will be issued by the Regional Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Dallas, Texas. Mr. Keon stated that about 90 per cent past crop loans made in Bailey county have been repaid, which percentage repayment is considered good.

Applications for new loans may be made at the court house in Muleshoe.

Oil Well Progress Of Drillers Work In Nearby Counties

A bailer being used in the Wilms No. 2 well drilling west of Portales, N. M., which was lost the first of the week, has been recovered and drilling continued. That oil well is now down below 2400 feet. The well is reported running about 100 feet higher in stratum than the first well drilled, and operators declare their optimism in getting a producer of oil.

The Sundown oil test being put down by the Texas Oil Co. in Hockley county is has reached a depth of over 4,500 feet, now drilling in grey lime. Last week six inch casing was set and work is hopeful of present favorable indications. They expect to hit the pay at about 5,000 feet, according to report.

It is now persistently rumored the Magnolia Oil Co. will soon start a well located east of the Honou-Cascade well in Cochran county, drilling on the Mallet ranch across the line in Hockley county. Rumor has it also a well is scheduled to soon be started on the Cameron lands north of Whifrage. While such rumors are indefinite, yet it is generally conceded there is going to be considerable activity in those two counties as spring advances.

Has Vegetables to Eat April First

"I have had a cold frame for several years and we have had fresh vegetables by April 1 more than one time," said Mrs. Henry Hanover, cooperator of the Goodland Home demonstration club. She says she has found this is the way to have fresh vegetables two months earlier than one could have them in the garden.

Mrs. Hanover's frame is two feet high, and four feet wide and 40 feet long. They have made two frames with bird wire to cover the top. These frames are put on hinges so they can be raised up when working the soil or gathered vegetables. They are put under the cover to hold it up and keep the birds from getting to the plants. This cold frame has been used several years but it has never been sub-irrigated until this month.

Makes Cold Frame
In making our cold frame we spaded up the soil, added 1/2 as much manure as top soil, mixed this well, then built a frame around it," said Mrs. Gage, cooperator of the Joyland home demonstration club.

For making the frame lumber that is at least 12 inches wide should be used because if it is narrower the plants would grow taller than the frame and would not be protected. The frame may be nailed together or held in place by the use of stobs. One side of the cover should be tacked to the back of the frame and the other side tacked to a pole so it can be rolled like a quilt. By putting on the cover this way it can be rolled back to give the plants sunshine when the weather is pretty and can be stretched over the cold frame to protect it from sandstorms, cold and wind, when necessary.

The cold frame should be located on the south side of a building or windbreak to protect it from the cold. Tobacco cloth, cheap grade of muslin or cotton bagging may be used for a cover. A wire should be stretched through the middle and another wire every three feet across the width to hold the cover off the plants. Mrs. Gage put one cold frame on the south side of the house and plans to make another one in the garden. She will plant radishes, lettuce, mustard, tendergreens, carrots, spinach and onions in rows nine inches apart as well as transplant tomatoes, cabbage and pepper which have been started in a hot bed.

Sub-Irrigates Cold Frames
"Since we do not have enough water to surface irrigate the whole garden, we decided it would be best to sub-irrigate the cold frame. By doing this it will not only take less water, but the vegetables will be much better quality. The ground will not pack as it does in surface irrigation and it will take so much less work," said Mrs. J. F. Carter, cooperator of the Maple home demonstration club.

After the tile was made and cured, a ditch about nine inches deep was dug and leveled. The tile was laid end to end and pieces of tar paper were laid over the joints. The tile was covered and the cold frame was made.

Mrs. Carter says she plans to make some other cold frames and keep them planted the whole year round. "Raise Asparagus for Early Vegetables" One of the best ways to raise early leafy vegetables is to put an asparagus bed in your garden," said Mrs. Tommy Galt, cooperator of the Goodland home demonstration club.

Mrs. Galt plans to be able to serve leafy vegetables every day by building a cold frame for early maturing vegetable and raising asparagus. She says she is sub-irrigating the cold frame.

Builds Two Cold Frames
"I have built two cold frames so I will be able to serve my family at least one leafy vegetable every day this spring," said Mrs. Roy Helson. She says generally it is June before she has vegetables in her garden and she decided she would build cold frames and raise some early vegetables.

The H. D. club met with Mrs. Helson and built 4 1-2 x 19 cold frame, but she felt that was not large enough to plant all the radishes, lettuce, carrots, tendergreens, mustard, spinach and onions she wanted. She plans to plant it about March 1 and hopes to have some vegetables to eat by April 1.

Mrs. Helson has put out a bed of asparagus that is 40 feet long.

Ancient Romans' Apples
Ancient Romans referred to oranges, pomegranates and peaches as apples.

BEGIN VOLLEY BALL GAME
Girls in the Muleshoe High school started practicing volley ball under coaching of C. R. Stevens, the latter part of last week. Some few girls who are playing have been on terms of former years, and it is anticipated the school will have a strong team. They will play at the Bailey County Inter-scholastic League meeting here Saturday, March 27.

Every Great Attempt is Glorious Even if It Fails

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

And this is the confidence that we have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will, He heareth us. I John 5:14.

Remember, whatever warrant you have for praying, you have the same warrant to believe your prayers will be answered.—J. Phillips.

THE ELEVENTH COMMANDMENT

In the hill section of Kentucky they have what they familiarly call "the Eleventh Commandment," and when you explain that you mean "heart of but ten, and ask what the eleventh one is they will answer that the Eleventh Commandment is "Mind your own business."

As the average Muleshoe man sees it, now is a good time for the U. S. government to inaugurate a strict observance of the "Eleventh Commandment." All indications point to an early war in the Old World. Where it will start, when it will start and what will actually start it, no man knows; but the leading diplomats of a half-dozen nations are agreed that it is bound to come.

This country may not be able to stay out of it but it can at least make every possible effort to do so. It can't try harder to stay out than it did the last time, and it ought to be starting right now. The president has been given power to prevent the shipment of arms, ammunition and airplanes, and no matter whose factories are hit and whose pocketbooks suffer, this power should be used to the fullest. Not an airplane, not a dime's worth of powder, not a single weapon should be permitted to leave the shores of the U. S. until the Old World lays aside its hates and returns to the peace it enjoyed before a little handful of men started in to grab off all the territory they can get their hands on.

"Mind your own business" is a sensible commandment for the family doctor will prescribe a day or so in bed, and when one considers that it is a small inconvenience when compared with what may result if you do not go to bed, the wisdom of such advice is apparent.

MORE TROUBLE AHEAD

If it isn't one thing in this country it's another, and right on the heels of floods that caused a property loss of a hundred million dollars comes a warning that this is going to be the worst season for locusts that this generation has ever known. Just why someone can't predict something good is hard to figure out, when such predictions would add a lot more to human happiness.

But here is the prediction, and folks around Muleshoe can take it for what it is worth. Agricultural experts declare that this has been such an open winter, taking the country as a whole, that insect pests have not been killed off by low temperatures as is usually the case. They explain that the ground has not been frozen sufficiently deep to exterminate insects that winter in the soil, while the same is true of those which hibernate in plant life, trees and shrubs. So they predict not only a season of great devastation from insect pests, but that the destruction will start earlier than it usually does.

The prediction doesn't come as good news to say means in face of all the aggravations this country has undergone in the past few years, but the damage can be greatly minimized, perhaps if a campaign of early spraying is resorted to and a diligent attempt is made by everyone to destroy all forms of destructive insects before

That is how you can help make your newspaper still more interesting, and you are invited to start doing so at once.

LET'S KEEP OUT

There are many indications that 1937 will be marked by important events in world history. With scowling European powers seeking excuses to leap at one another's throats, we can't help but expect war before the year has ended. The people of this country, knowing that war is an expensive and wholly inexcusable business, will do all in their power to keep out of the squabble, should it come.

Well do all of us remember that huge donation of twelve billion dollars we made to the world during the last war. Although we will never get the money back, the experience is worth a lot if it enables us to stay out of another one.

Though we may never collect from the European powers, we can, as a nation, consider our foeharidness of 20 years ago, accept it as a warning to "mind our own business" and let the hot-headed nations of the old world do the same thing without any advice or help from us.

FARM-MADE FUEL

Science has again put farm products to work and ere the summer has come and the Muleshoe car owner need not be surprised if they are introduced to a new auto fuel.

One made by distilling alcohol from farm crops and blending it with gasoline at the rate of 10 percent of alcohol to 90 percent of gasoline is now being successfully used in several western states. It is said to be even more satisfactory than gasoline in that it is more powerful and the price is about the same.

The big thing in connection with the discovery is the part it promises to play in preventing over-production of farm products. Then too, if farm-made alcohol proves valuable as a motor fuel it is certain to be utilized for many other purposes, eventually it may solve a lot of the problems which the grain growers of this country have wrestled for years.

Officials of all kinds should be representative of the character and ideals of the people they represent in that capacity. If they are not, they should be removed from office. Stragglers are liable to get wrong impressions when officials do not act away from home in keeping with the ideals of people they represent. Drunkenness and leanness are never commendable in any one much less an official representative. The easy way for such people would be to offer their resignation of office.

WHY TAKE A CHANCE?

With a nation-wide epidemic of "flu" second only in seriousness to the one which swept over the country in 1918, it is difficult to understand why anyone around Muleshoe will neglect a common cold, for flu invariably makes its approach with the same symptoms that mark a cold.

It seems little short of silly to allow a cold to gain headway when it is possible to secure relief in a remarkably short time. The family doctor will, as a rule, prescribe a day or so in bed, and when one considers that it is a small inconvenience when compared with what may result if you do not go to bed, the wisdom of such advice is apparent.

The danger line for common colds is not here yet. In fact, no graver danger from them exists than during the month of February. By careful attention to food and clothing and temperance they can be avoided, and careful quick treatment in the event you contract one will always prove both wise and effective.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

There has never been a newspaper that satisfied everybody, but there is a very simple method by which better newspapers can be produced and that is for those who subscribe to them to take an individual interest in seeing that they get more local and personal news. Not that you are expected to become a reporter when you become a subscriber, but because the newspaper stands on the opinion of all that is good for your community and because civic pride should therefore lead you to encourage such an institution.

If you have visitors if you have been on a visit or if you are going on one, your neighbors are sure to be interested in knowing about it. Tell them through your home town paper. Every little item of a local or personal nature helps just that much to make a still better newspaper and getting it to the editor requires very little exertion on your part.

"Young men for war and old men for wisdom."

A recent issue of Cappers magazine, Topeka, Kansas says war has been going on since the beginning of time for 3,000 years. We had supposed marriages were begun considerably earlier than that time.

If Americans were as interested in obtaining world peace as they are in getting a piece of the world, conditions would be more desirable.

Jaunty Journalists

An optimist is any Muleshoe citizen who thinks the turning out of his hair is just a temporary matter.

A Muleshoe man may fall many times; but he isn't a complete loss until he begins to blame somebody else.

The Muleshoe man who said women are going to become the ruling sex must be a bachelor or he wouldn't have said "going to."

When a Muleshoe man borrows, he should always borrow from a pessimist, for he never expects to get it back anyhow.

Say what you will about old-fashioned roads around Muleshoe; but a couple of pedestrians were not knocked off of them everyday by speedsters.

Muleshoe boys will be boys; but this day in time some of the girls are giving them a hot contest for the privilege.

Most Muleshoe men object to being called hypocrites not so much because they may be, but they are just a bit sensitive about it.

What has become of the old-fashioned Muleshoe man who used to walk down town every Saturday night and pay up all the bills he owed?

What the average Muleshoe woman thinks she would do if she had plenty of money is nothing compared to what she does do because she hasn't any.

There may be some other name for it; but if a Muleshoe man acted like Mussolini or Hitler, folks would call it well-honed. Roosevelt may be getting in the same class.

Air-conditions will solve a lot of problems in the future; but we very much doubt if it will solve that of the skinny Muleshoe man trying to keep warm when his wife is just suffocating.

SNAP SHOTS

Give people what you think they want instead of what they ask for and you'll be piling up a lot of enemies.

An expert is a man who is able to explain things so thoroughly nobody can understand them.

Now days it will pay for one to count their chickens if they happen to live along a well traveled highway.

Being your brother's keeper is all right so long as you don't waste your time trying to keep him straight.

The problem of the babies may be largely solved this year, for many of them will be going somewhere in trailers.

About the only fellows who seem unable to control the desire to spend their money foolishly are drunks and those with government jobs.

When one reads fearful stories about another great nation's huge navy it means your own country's navy wants more money to spend.

Another thing worth remembering is that it is just as hard to be right at the right time as it is to be right at the wrong time.

A southern editor declares virtue is much like a new car. After you get one in the fender a few more don't seem to make much difference.

Perhaps future wedding ceremonies should be changed in wording to say: "I do take this child as my future wedded wife."

This is a funny world. If you think what everybody thought last year, you're an old fogey, and if you think what everybody will think next year, you're a crank.

A boom without increased production of wealth only means that one crowd is just taking it away from another. It's another case of "borrowing from Peter to pay Paul."

While president Roosevelt has promised a balanced budget, he neglected to say it would take our dollars to do the balancing which keeps most of us from being so enthusiastic about his promise.

The rising prices of stocks should not tempt the man who lost his teeth trying to hold on a few years ago.

Standing taxation and sit-down strikes are the two great menaces to prosperity, suggests Kenyon Smith.

Preacher Watkins suggests one good way to tell whether a man's sins have found him out or not is to watch and see if he starts going to church again.

Judge Miller remarks that about the time we were all getting a big kick out of the Wallie Simpson affair, Congress had to go into session and disrupt our attention.

Judge Wiltedahl says there were no sit-down strikes when he was a boy, because when a boy went on a strike in those days his parents fixed him so he couldn't sit down.

Attorney Cecil Tate suggests the trick in writing a will is not necessarily making the document absolutely legal, but to protect it from the legal tricksters.

Hop Graham, Pawwell editor, told this newspaper man the other day he thought the reason basketball girls were so hard to recognize in their suits was because no one ever looked at their faces. Sigh!

A few days ago Homer, chief chef at Heavenly Hurley, bought a nice green dress; but when she tried it on and viewed herself in the mirror she said she looked like a ton of coal in the middle of a lettuce patch, and sent it back.

Newt Moore declares this "sit-down strike" business is nothing new, since for several years past he has had a rule that semi-occasionally indulged in that kind of strike, and he always had to increase his wages with enlarged rations to get him up and going again.

Charley S. Reed, Clavis mortician who occasionally does business in Muleshoe, when some one decided to seek a better place of residence than Texas, which asked a few days ago if he believed in the survival of the fittest, replied, "I don't believe in the survival of anything. I'm in the undertaking business."

It is reported on good authority that

NEWSPAPER vs. CIRCULARS

Judging from the condition of the post office wastebasket, Wednesday, the store that mailed circulars to box-holders got mighty little for the money expended. A visit to the post office and rural mail boxes after a circular mailing campaign should convince everyone of the futility of reaching the buying public in this manner. Has much money expended for a misaction in the home paper way a far greater buying power, a sale out of all comparison with circular method.—McLean Nes.

WEEKLY LAY SERMON MAN, HIS ORIGIN

By JESS MITCHELL

(PART I. Man, whether accepted as the product of Omnipotent fiat or the result of a process of evolution, has been the cause of more thought, interest and question than any other creature of earth. Many people contend this bipedal specimen of the genus homo is the evolutionary result of an early protoplasm, the fortuitous concurrence of primal atoms, the growth of an initial germ, the product of seminal spores, or the result of spontaneous generation—and it may all be true; but as Herbert Spencer admitted, back of either of all these there had to be an "unknowable mystery" or First Cause, which most people today call God, though they do not know a great deal about him in a positive way.

The early Phoenicians, thousands of years ago, declared the human race wobbled out of the mud. Democritus, who lived about 430 years before Jesus of Nazareth, said "Everything is composed of infinitely small atoms, which have certain mutual affinities, attractions and repulsions, and whose inviolable union and separation shape all things and dissolve again for new combinations." Anaximander centuries ago declared the human race started at a point where the sea saturated the earth. Many since then have made similar statements, until some folks have become convinced there is quite a scrap going on between science and revelation; when there really is not, if it is rightly interpreted. As in many things we are both a part of the same staff of life, melody, the one the base, the other the treble, and some day, when our knowledge becomes considerably greater, they will produce perfect harmony.

It is my humble opinion that the Creator who inspired the ancients to write on parchment is the same Creator who himself wrote on the rocks. Perhaps Thomas Payne, Hume, Voltaire and Darwin performed some improper diagnosis held false premises, accepted untrue hypotheses, made some unwarranted statements, and arrived at some unfortunate and wrongful conclusions, yet they certainly opened the way for further mental cogitations and serious contemplations of human minds for more thorough study, analysis and discovery. We know now many of the ratiocinations and exploits of these earlier scientists was wholly honest and sincere. They were not entirely the atheistic beings once condemned as such, rather were they men who sought reason for the basis of their faith.

I have never believed there was any real differences between ancient inspired manuscripts and modern geology; between theology and geology. The apparent difference less largely in our ignorant applications of suppositions and lack of true understanding of means and methods, in all of which the human race has yet a long way to travel before it achieves correct solution. All geologists, zoologists, biologists, astronomers and other genuine scientists, have my full approbation and commendation in their sincere efforts to solve the riddle of creation. I believe in evolution, and it does not lessen one whit my confidence and adoration of Omnipotence because of such belief. The fact that Omnipotence should begin with nothing and through a period of centuries produce from it a majestic something, to my mind, does not limit his omnipotence a particle. So far as we know all other creation was carried on in that manner, why not the creation of man? I do not believe in the evolution of one human species into another human species; but I do believe heartily in the evolution of individual species of mind man, the last of Omnipotent creation, was rightly created last. For ought I know, the Creator himself thought advisable to make all other creatures resembling humans for his final masterpiece, as they are. There undoubtedly was reason in his purpose.

While there is every reason to believe in the evolution of quadrupeds of the lower order and of other creatures of earth, and it must be admitted there are similarities of primal existence in both primate man and other lower animals, yet it is probably merely the fundamental basis of creation that is differently manifested in all beings and does not necessarily mean an evolution of one to another. Some have condemned evolution entirely because they nor their grandparents have seen little if any of it, forgetting that such changes are a very slow manifestation requiring millions of years for any visible change to be noticed. No one ever heard of a monkey, baboon or orang-outang evolving into a human being, though it is admitted that in the earlier known forms of man, such as the Trilobite, Ape-Man, Heidelberg, Cro-Magnon, Purtozo, Pittdown and Neanderthal, there were fundamental physical construction of an analogous nature. Many people forget also, that the process of evolution is one of a mental and spiritual as well as that of physical and perhaps even more so. As the race rises toward the acme of its final perfection.

So while a shark never became a whale, a pigeon an eagle, a butterfly a humming bird—there has been marvelous changes in ornithology, zoology, ichthyology and even conchology, "every winged fowl after its kind," every creature after its kind, yet man has never evolved into an angel, generally recognized as a higher order of being, nor will angels likely evolve into gods of any caliber.

Away back in the unaccountable aeons of the past there was fire mist or star dust; the entire universe, so far as we know it, was filled with a humiferous ether, maybe the beginning of electricity, and that the beginning of life) this settled off in a granite, which settling, by turn, was affected by earthquake, storm and light, and this vast cooling mass, convulsing here and there, formed into mountains and valleys, seas eventually were filled with condensing moisture, and in the unnumbered ages that followed this planet on which we live was finally formed. No one has yet definitely located the factory where worlds were manufactured, yet it is well within the realm of reason to believe there was one, also a Manufacturer who operated it. Call it, or him what you may, give it any name you choose, it all amounts to the same in that his theory is the only really rational one. The human mind knows of no other method of reasoning than from cause to effect, and while effects may be quite positive and logical, yet the process of reasoning backward to cause is certainly more complicated; but also capable of considerable satisfaction.

(When the palace of this world was finally created and made ready for human habitation, there was still no king to live in it. This essay largely leads up to the discussion of Man: His Adaption and Destiny," which will be considered next week.)

LUBBOCK NEWS SCRIBE GIVES THE LOW DOWN ON BROWN'S DENVER TRIP

DECLARES PROMINENT BOOSTER AND LEADING MEMBER OF LOCAL SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH WAS LOYAL TO THE DIGNITY AND VIRTUES OF HIS HOME TOWN.

Notwithstanding the Journal faithfully and sincerely reported the rectitude and demeanor of R. L. Brown, local real estate dealer, Chamber of Commerce president and official representative of this municipal body on the excursion trip through Amarillo to Denver, Colo., through courtesy of the Santa Fe system in celebration of completion of its new road into Los Animas Colorado, several citizens have not been entirely satisfied with such report. There fore, further inquiry was deemed necessary.

The following reply to a letter addressed to J. Sam Lewis (not Ham) Lewis, pompous and peripatetic reporter of the Lubbock Avalanche, sets forth in considerable detail the direct and circumstantial actions of the gentleman in question in a manner that should be entirely satisfactory to the most inquisitive fellow citizen.

"Lubbock, Texas, Feb. 18, 1937. Hon. Jessica Mitchell, Mayor of Hurley, Muleshoe, Texas

"Friend Jess:—I thought I'd reply to that screem you had out to Bro. Brown and his recent Denver trip, but the darn thing is mislaid, so I cannot put out all of the discrepancies. I do think, however, you should have gotten more low down about him.

"First thing I saw of him on the trip was in the Santa Fe depot at Amarillo. He tried to sell M. C. Burton and J. J. Lane a farm in Bailey county and failing, went to work on a Santa Fe surgeon from Temple He almost got him sold, but it was time to start, so he quit. Better luck next time.

"We were not in the same sleep, so he didn't keep me awake. John Santa Fe paid for the meals on the train, so he ate two breakfasts each morning and two lunches Thursday. He DID NOT use the club car.

"In Denver I saw him three or four times; first, on the depot platform when he almost ran over the Santa Fe vice-president in an effort to broadcast the glories of Muleshoe. Think he talked half a minute over NBC.

"He tried to get me to sign for the brick and stone buildings, wiping his hands and heard him muttering: "why, that's soot!" The buildings were dirty; looked worse than a regular old-time sand-concrete here.

"He took a trip through the mountains. I heard him yell a time or two. At the banquet that night he only drank one glass that had any alcohol in it.

"But it was on the return trip where

Bro. Brown shone. In Springfield, Colo. he almost sold a native there, a big landowner, etc. two sections of land; but the engine whistled tooted and he had to get back to the train.

Some thing happened in Boise City, Okla., only he got three prospective members there, to ten in Springfield, for the SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH.

"Don't know what he did in Stratford. I did not get off the train.

"In Dumas he sold a young lady from Chicago a farm, sold one to J. B. Waide Jr., and to three other men. Also secured five covers for the church.

"Otherwise, I think he was not very busy. Sincerely, J. Sam Lewis."

Nufchattel Cheese Is Becoming Popular With Bailey Folks

Nufchattel and Philadelphia cream cheese seem to be the rage now in Bailey county, many men finding an excellent use for extra milk in making such cheese. For benefit of women not belonging to some of the home demonstration clubs of this county the recipe is given as follows:

Set 3 1/2 gallons of clean, whole milk at a temperature of 78 degrees, Fahrenheit. A steam pressure cooker is a good vessel to use.

Add 1-8 of a cheese coloring tablet if cream color is desired.

Either may be mixed with 1-2 pint of clubber milk free from gas held over flavors. Stir into the milk well.

Add 6 to 8 drops of liquid rennet or approximately 1-8 to 1-2 junket tablet.

Either may be mixed with 1-2 cup of cold water before added to the milk.

Hold at a temperature of 78 F. for 15 to 18 hours, at the end of which time one pint of whey should be poured off.

Carefully dip the curd from the can with a cup or dipper and place in cloth to drain. Allow to drain for several hours without disturbing.

The curd should then be worked to the center of the cloth with a paddle.

When all the free whey has drained off, fold the cloth over the cheese and press for several hours. This can be accomplished by placing the cheese between two boards, putting a three gallon bucket of water on the top board. Pressing time may be shortened by chilling the curd in cracked ice or placing it in a refrigerator for several hours.

After the curd has been pressed, there should be from 4 1-2 to 5 1-2 lb. of cheese. Work until smooth. Add one heaping teaspoon of salt and mix. The cheese now is ready to be placed in containers. Jelly glasses or ice cream cartons serve equally well for this purpose.

Nufchattel cheese may be served plain. Ground pineapples or a mixture of chopped olives and nuts often are added to give variety. Only enough to give a good flavor and appearance is necessary.

To make the cream cheese, add eight cups of pure cream to three gallons of clean, whole milk, which has been heated to a temperature of 78 F. Then follow carefully the Nufchattel recipe. Nut, pineapples, or olives usually are not added to the cream cheese.

They were complimented by other teams and coaches on their sportsmanship throughout the tournament and were awarded 10 silver basketballs by the New Deal school, also a lovely second place trophy.
