RAIN OVER THE SOUTH PLAINS BRINGS SMILES

One to Three Inches Is Wheat Aid; Spring Season Helped

A rain lasting more than 24 hours, falling in such manner that practically every drop soaked into the dry land, fell over the entire South Plains area Friday of last week. It continued its gentle pattering, interspersed occasionally by heavy downpours of water for more than 24 hours, being of incalculable benefit to this section.

At Muleshoe the U. S. weather gauge showed a total precipitation during the 24 hours of 1.45 inches, according to Judge R. J. Klump, official weatherman. Reports following the rain, indicate it was quite general, not only over this particular area, but throughout the entire State of Texas. Several communities around Muleshoe reported rainfall of from two to three inches.

March rains over the South Plains area are rather uncommon, less than half of the past 10 years records showing any northward precipitation. In 1934 there was 1.16 precipitation during March, while in the same month of 1929 the record showed 2.25 inches, other intervening years still farther back showed very small fraction records.

In the extreme northwest portion of the Panhandle reports said the rain was slight, lasting only 20 or 30 minutes, while northeast the downfall was considerably greater, several towns reporting from one to one and a half inches of falling moisture. The rainfall extended southwest as far as San Antonio. In New Mexico snow varying from two to four inches is reported.

Moisture coming at this time will be of incalculable value to wheat and other winter crops, as well as putting a "good season in the soil" for further spring plowing and planting.

Marvin Jones Asks $2,000,000 Funds Soil Conservation

A resolution authorizing the appropriation of two million dollars of unexpended relief funds of 1936 for immediate use by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace for emergency spending and other emergency soil conservation measures was introduced in the House Friday of last week by Congressman Marvin Jones.

The money would be spent in the five southwestern states whose representatives held a meeting on last Monday night, at which time Jones was named chairman of a permanent Southwest block of Congressmen. The resolution was the outgrowth of the meeting more than a half million dollars probably will be the Texas' share of this emergency appropriation which will be handled by the Department of Agriculture.

While definite action has not been taken as yet it is understood that Harry Hopkins, relief administrator, has given his approval for the funds before the resolution was introduced.

Griffiths and other employees were checking stock in the store at the time of the accident. A box containing torpedoes was thoughtlessly tossed to one side, exploding and creating the injury.

The first of these meetings will be held Friday night, March 12, at Progress, at which time committee members for Progress, West Camp, Y. L. and Muleshoe communities will be chosen. Saturday night, of this week, a similar meeting will be held at Circleback for electing committee members for Circleback, Longview, Buia-Enoch, and Fairview communities.

Monday night a meeting of the same kind will be held at Watson to select committee members for Watson, Maple Goodland, Stegall and Baileyboro. All meetings begin at 8:00 p. m., and there will also be discussion regarding the plans for handling details of the Agricultural Conservation program in this county at each meeting.

A full attendance of interested farmers and other citizens is requested by Mr. Taylor.

REMITTANCE OF STATE TAXES MEANS $400 TO BAILEY CO.

The Texas Legislative House of Representatives stamped preliminary approval last Monday on a bill proposing to remit state ad valorem taxes in the 224 counties of the state for the coming five years which, if becoming a law will mean that approximately $30,000 of the tax money paid by citizens of Bailey county last year to the state would be returned to the county.

While it is claimed that passage of such bill will deprive the state directly of approximately $8,500,000 revenue, it is insisted on the other hand that need of counties for their various ad valorem funds are greater than state need.

Taxes paid in Bailey county last year to the state totaled $37,918.

CITIZENS PROPOSE VOTING $12,000 BONDS FOR AUDITORIUM-GYMNASIUM FOR BENEFIT MULESHOE SCHOOL

Increase Of Pupils Requires More Room; Athletics To Be Benefits; Improvement Claims To Not Increase Taxes

That citizens of the Muleshoe Independent School district may be given opportunity of voting on the issuance of $12,000 in bonds for construction of a combination public auditorium-gymnasium, either as a separate unit or addition to present school buildings located in Muleshoe, is the gist of a petition circulated within the bounds of this district the first of this week and presented to the School Board Wednesday night for consideration.

Proponents of the bond issue insist the immediate need of more room and better accommodations for school purposes. Present class rooms are now said to be crowded and more such rooms greatly needed for efficiency in school work, and the present auditorium may be converted into such rooms to remedy that need.

The Muleshoe school has never had a standard gymnasium, much of their athletic events having to be held elsewhere in this or adjoining counties because of inadequate facilities.

The Muleshoe school has been growing very rapidly during the past few years, every term showing a considerable increase in attending pupils, while it is estimated by interested patrons that present accommodations will be totally inadequate for housing and properly caring for the scholastic population during the coming year.

It is said such proposed bond issue can be voted, carried and paid out without any increase in tax assessments. The bonds would be of the serial kind bearing four per cent interest per annum, running for a period of 20 years.

Old Age Pensioners County Appropriates $2500 To Finish The North & So. Hi-way

At the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Friday it was said the North and South highway from Muleshoe to Needmore would go toward completion, the Commissioners court having arranged for $2,500 to be used in connection with WPA funds for such completion.

Neal Rockey and W. C. Taylor, county agent, both spoke on the need of seed testing for farmers throughout the county, occasioned by the report of the generation of seed of practically every variety this year. A resolution was passed by that body asking the County to provide such seed tester and arrange for its operation at a minimum cost to farmers and truck growers, thus lending further assurance of germination of seeds planted. A committee was named by President R. L. Brown to present the matter to the Commissioners court.

The body went on record as favorably administering in this county, it being reported several communities were much interested in obtaining electric lights and power for home and farm operations.

Carl Durhan, grain dealer from St. Joseph, Mo., was guest speaker.

It would accommodate between 500 and 600 patients.

OIL TEST WILL BE MADE EAST OF BAILEY COUNTY

Much Activity Continuing In Cochran Co. More Leasing Done.

Oil news runs rife the past week in Bailey and adjoining counties, some with little, if any verification, though some rumors has been proven facts.

It is persistently reported in Muleshoe that a well has been struck in Bailey county in the southeastern part of the county, near the town of Dallas, associated with the Porter Exploring Co., Thornton Lomax and W. L. Perkins, the contract calling for a hole 5,500 feet deep and to begin within the coming two months. To date little detail of the proposed wildcat well is publicly known.

Another report is to the effect a hole 6,500 feet is to be drilled east of Dallas in the eastern part of Bailey county, or just over the line in western Lamb county, spuding in to take place not later than May 1. It is said the test well will take place on land belonging to E. L. Wilson and others, being located in Capitol lease 700, 600 feet north of the well from land.

Drilling operations were begun last week on another test well in Cochran county in a leased block of 18,000 acres, the hole being located on land belonging to the estate of Mrs. Flora B. Cameron, Dallas, and located on lease 85, labor 1, Green county school land, being about six miles east of Morton. Celler and pit of this well have already been dug, water supply well drilled and machinery being placed on the ground for drilling operations, according to reliable report. The firm of Harrison & Bond is said to be leaseholder and John L. Sullivan of Wichita Falls is drilling contractor.

Slaughter Well
Persistent report is also to the effect that at least two deep well tests will be sunk on the C. C. Slaughter lands about four miles south of Morton, though it is said drilling contracts have not yet been signed. Approximately 6,000 acres of more land is leased around Morton in Cochran county last week at prices ranging from $1.00 to $3.00 per acre.

Pupils to enjoy creditable standings and pass on into the higher schools of learning.

This purchase is but another step in the Santa Fe's improvement program which includes 3,025 new freight cars and 27 locomotives, and purchase of 150,000 tons of steel rail and fastenings, all within a few months.

Cash Awards Made Here Saturday To Visiting Guests

Editorial

Every Great Attempt is Glorious Even If It Fails

UNFAIR COMPETITION

Leaders in all lines of worthy endeavor are always commendable. There are generally plenty of followers for the one of courage, thrift and enterprise who sets the pace. A plagiarist or literary thief, is no greater criminal than those of many other kinds, for stealing one's ideas to use or improve them is just as nefarious, though perhaps not as convictable, as some other types of stealing.

The business man who has at heart the welfare of his customers in that he seeks to protect their buying interests to the point he advertises his products as to quality and low price is to be commended; but the competitor who uses such approved publicity to undercut prices and in a low-handed manner take from another that which he has justly created and paid for by advertising, is worthy of condemnation.

SEVERAL MEN OPPOSE CONGRESS

Several towns around Muleshoe have recently complained of such improper tactics on the part of some of their business concerns, especially those in the grocery business who preferred to wait until one of their fellow business men advertised his prices and then cut under them a few cents in the hope of taking from such concern that to which he is entitled. We do not know that such practice exists in Muleshoe and we sincerely hope not, for it is certainly not in accord with modern business methods.

An incident along this line recently happened in the neighboring town of Sudan, according to report carried in its newspaper, wherein a grocery store of that town ran a special price on certain items, such prices being extremely low in consistent good business and as soon as the paper was off the press, competing groceryman grabbed the advertisement and proceeded to reduce such prices from one to three cents each, some of which are said to have been even below wholesale cost.

The business man who cuts prices under those advertised by his legitimate competitor virtually seeks to discourage and discount advertising, which has long been considered to be the best known method of advising the buying public of commodity values, increasing volume buying and obtaining larger patronage.

The business man who advertises his wares is invariably a progressive citizen, a man of large civic loyalty, interested in every worthy movement calculated for local public benefit; the one who does not is fundamentally a cut-throat "copy-cat," as the Sudan paper says, and scarcely worthy of appreciation by his fellow citizens in a commercial way.

Some years ago the spirit of competition led in many lines of business; but that has largely changed now days to one of co-operation—to the spirit of "live and let live." There is enough business for all concerns that none must necessarily stoop to questionable methods of obtaining it. Every legitimate "business life" should be able to "stand on its own bottom." The buying public realizes this fact, and notwithstanding cut-throat methods of some business concerns, refuses to buy from questionable sources, realizing the business man who has the sagacity foresight and interest in his customers to advertise the quality and price of his wares, is honest, dependable and should be further encouraged with their patronage, and they invariably give it to him. It was long ago determined that the buying public is endowed with as much principle of fairness as the selling business concern.

For many years past Muleshoe has been credited with the untrue statement of being a "high priced place to great need for money, retirement on full salary does not express such wisdom on the part of congressmen as their electors might expect.

Mahon was sent to Washington to legislate on important matters, but to also protect the financial interests of his constituents and the citizenry of this vast large. We commend his action in this important matter. George has the guts—and we really need more men of similar intestinal fortitude in the Capitol City!

TIT-FOR-TAT COURT

Some things strike most Muleshoe citizens with "blank wall" conclusions largely because they are difficult to fathom: reorganization of the U. S. Supreme court, for instance.

Least we passed a law providing for retirement of Supreme court judges at 70 years of age. Why not the same law for U. S. senators and representatives? If a man past 70 is no longer capable of interpreting legal and economic matters that come to him for decision, are the men who pass such laws any more capable of considering them and giving proper construction in Congress? We believe not.

Suppose the personnel of the U. S. Supreme court was composed of men from 30 to 50 years of age, and these younger judges have rejected some of the acts of Congress as unconstitutional, as the present "nine old men" did, would there be serious agitation for their removal now or later on? You may answer that one.

Generally speaking, egotism of the younger generation is often astounding, and in this particular case it may pass understanding—at least if one wants to be chaplain.

SNAP SHOTS

All Americans have a genius for music, if it's in their "big brain."

The girl of today seldom dies of a broken heart—it's more often a broken neck.

In these days the man we call the "white-collar" worker, more often carries a solid one.

NOTE—The Journal acknowledges receipt of a can of this new-fangled cheese Bailey county women are now concocting and feeding their husbands and it's surely scrumptiously larpin. Miss Alma Stewart, county culinary expert demonstrator, brought in the can, stating milk used in the cheese was furnished by Mrs. Lee Bell of the Baileboro community. If all cow's milk make as good cheese as do Mrs. Bell's there should be sweet chin music ringing at plenty of tables three times daily.

THE COUNTY NEWS

Subscribers to and borrowers of the Journal have frequently commented favorably on the wide variety of county news, embracing practically every community in Bailey county, contained in each week in this newspaper, and the publisher has reason also to be justly proud of these weekly news letters given publication, most of which are not only accurate and prompt in their weekly contributions but also prepare them in an interesting and informative manner.

The news sent in weekly by correspondents gives publicity to every community of the county. They serve to tell the world of increased population, improvements and other developments accruing in their respective sections. Even small happenings are duly recorded and appreciated by the participants who see their names in the newspaper.

Occasionally they may miss some item, just as it is impossible for any editor and his reporters to obtain reports of all local news happenings; but they generally get all major events, together with much personal news happenings of their respective communities. Citizens of every community will find it to their interest and benefit to give every co-operation possible to these faithful correspondents that their weekly news letters may be as complete as possible. HIGH TEST makes cold motors purr-r-r-r

How can you tell what power, pep and speed, your motor will actually develop, until you have given it a real chance to "do its stuff" by filling up with high test gasoline?

So try Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

It costs no more than ordinary low test motor fuels. Yet scientific laboratory tests made day in and day out, all winter long, have proved that the effective high test of Phillips 66 is unsurpassed by any other gasoline—even those selling at a higher price.

You will notice that your motor starts much faster... warms up quicker... that it literally purrs along at any speed from a small pace in traffic to a streamlined sprint on the out-of-town concrete.

You will also feel the added power which comes from the extra energy units supplied by the patented POLYMERIZATION process.

You get these two-fold economies of extra high test and extra power... without extra price... because of Phillips resources as world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline...

because of Phillips initiative as an Independent Organization. Make it a point to get your next tankful of gas at the Orange and Black 66 Shield. You'll enjoy that difference in performance and saving in money.

Phill-up with Phillips for Instant Starting

Don't forget to tell some one about the revival meeting that will start the 28 of this month.

The rain that fell was greatly needed and was appreciated by every one. Farmers will now realize a busy getting their hand in shape for another crop.—Reporter.

R. O. H. CLUB MEETING

The R. O. H. club met in regular session Thursday March 4, in the High school auditorium.

During the business session, Mrs. Mary Hart was elected as club mother to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. A.

W. Copley.

Florence Stone gave a very interesting talk on "The Effects of Home Economics on Women of the Past," in which she revealed to the club how important home economics has always been.

Dorothy Schuster favored the club with a piano solo after which several of the members gave their declamation speeches for the Interscholastic League meet.

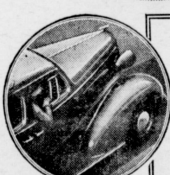

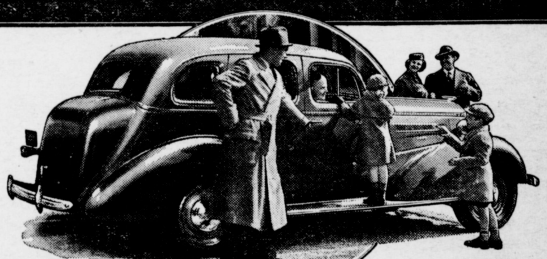

Geraldine Skeeters then rendered the solo, "Glow Worm," on the piano after which the meeting adjourned.—Reporter.

"Doubling in Brass"

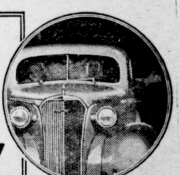

The expression "doubling in the brass" originated with productions whose opening in a town was advertised with a brass band parading the streets. An actor who joined the outfit on parade was said to be "doubling in the brass." It is used for an actor who also plays a musical instrument.

"RESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S DESIRE TO CHANGE SUPREME COURT PLAN RINGS CONTROVERSY OVER U. S.

atters Pro and Con Written, Opinions Are Expressed, Mr. Average Citizen Has Numerous Conflicting Views.

No issue since the World war has brought such a deluge of debate, argument and bitterly opposed controversy as the President's judicial reorganization proposal which, to all intents and purposes, would give the Executive branch control over the judicial branch to an unprecedented extent. Publicists have written article after article upon various phases of the question. Public men—save for that group which hesitates to say "yes" or "no" to anything until it has decided which side has the tide of public sentiment in its favor—have come out with their opinions. The "letters from readers" sections of the big newspapers are crammed day after day with conflicting views of the "average citizen." The president's action has brought into the lime-light a many-faceted and very old question concerning fundamental governmental theory. There are two kinds of democracies in the world. One, such as the United States, has a written constitution by which the legislative branch must abide—or be reversed by the courts. The other kind of democracy is best exemplified by England which has no written constitution

The Muleshoe girls' basketball team, shown above, won the Bailey county championship recently and then finished second to the Friendship team in the district meet. Seated, left to right, in the above photo are the first string players, Tidwell Douglas, Joe V. Goun, Irma Willis, Maude Harper, Leona Lee and Rosa H. Newrow. In the top row are second string players. They are, left to right, Polly Gloeck, Marie Finley, Geraldine Robbins, Clara Payne Lindsey, Wanda Farrell, Violeta Young and Miss Evelyn Boone, assistant coach.

It has instead what might be termed a "fluid constitution"—it can be changed at will by Parliament. In England the courts simply interpret legislative acts—they cannot over-rule them.

Those who support the President's proposal or some other plan which would substantially change the role of the judiciary in our life, are of the opinion that the courts and especially the Supreme court, act as a barrier to progressive legislation.

All this controversy has naturally led to the widespread belief that the Supreme Court has negated acts of Congress on many occasions. But rather surprising are the facts concerning this as presented in a recent article in the United States News.

Since 1789, Congress has enacted 24,902 laws. Of that number, precisely 73 have been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court, and of those 73, only 16 concerned bills of national economic or social significance.

First major decision of the court holding a Congressional act illegal was the famous Dred Scott decision in 1857. This decision said that a slave was property and that he could be brought back from a "free" state to the slave state from which he escaped. The slavery amendment followed the Civil war, representing ordered constitutional procedure to change a condition that was repugnant to the people.

The next decision occurred in 1870 when the Court decided that greenbacks printed during the Civil war were to legal tender for debts contracted prior to their issuance. This afterward was reversed by the Court itself when it was enlarged from seven to nine justices.

The Congress passed the first income tax law and the Court held it unconstitutional. Again the people adopted ordered constitutional methods to remedy matters and the 16th Amendment, specifically authorizing the income tax, resulted.

Thereafter, up until the present administration, the Court held unconstitutional a few other important laws—one fixing minimum wages for women employed in industry, one dealing with child labor, etc. In the first 144 years of the Republic eight such decisions were handed down.

Then came the New Deal—and the part played by the Court became suddenly more important. In the last four years, the Court has outlawed eight major acts of the Roosevelt stewardship—half of the major acts declared unconstitutional in the whole of its life. Among these acts are the railway pension bill, the Federal-Land law, the AAA, the Municipal Bankruptcy act, the Guffey Coal act—and, above all, the NRA.

Furthermore, the Court will pass on a number of other major New Deal laws during 1937, and legal opinion generally holds that the decisions will be mostly unfavorable.

Sources close to the White House say that the President has been considering various measures for limiting the power of the Supreme court or changing its membership ever since the NRA decision. The proposed bill is the upshot of his deliberations, and it came as a surprise to many of his associates and to most of the Democratic spokesmen in Congress. Opinion tends to the belief that months of debate must ensue before the bill is either passed, defeated or revised. In the meantime, the judicial issue will be thoroughly aired—and it is the considered feeling of observers representing all shades of opinion, that it is as important an issue as has ever appeared in the history of the United States—Industrial News.

MANY AT TEACHERS MEETING

The West Texas Teachers association meeting held at Lubbock last week was one of the best sessions for many years past, according to returning teachers who attended. Many prominent speakers from over this and other states were on the program leading inspiration and value to the session.

It is stated practically all teachers from Bailey county, with the exception of one district availed themselves of this intellectual feast. While the association passed the resolution, now pending in the Legislature, calling for appointment of a State Superintendent of Education, yet the vote was close, and it is said most superintendents are against the measure, also many of the teachers.

Irish To Celebrate At Plainview Mar. 17, Friendship Day

St. Patrick's day, next Wednesday, March 17, will set the stage for a new Friendship day feature in the nature of an Irish Jamboree with fun aplenty at the City auditorium in Plainview at ten-thirty o'clock on that morning. All Irishmen, and those who are not Irish, but enjoy a lot of fun anyhow, are especially invited to attend this morning program.

This day will also be Indiana day in the Friendship day schedule of state days. All former residents of Indiana are invited to get together for an informal reunion, reception and refreshments at the Chamber of Commerce offices, starting at nine-thirty in the morning.

At three o'clock in the afternoon at the City auditorium there will be another popular Country Store with more than 100 gifts for visitors who register in the stores of sponsoring merchants during the day up to that hour.

There are no cash contests on this Friendship Day.

After business was transacted and council report made, members discussed means of creating new interest in club work, an idea given in the last council meeting met with general approval. At the next regular meeting there will be a surprise package given some club woman. Hereafter, each hostess in turn will be responsible for such packages.

A call meeting was set for Wednesday, March 10, at the Goodland school house. The purpose of this meeting was to complete plans for an entertainment.

After a short recreation period and program, the club adjourned. The display of cured herbs then became the center of attention. Later delicious refreshments of pie and cocoa were served by the hostess.

The next regular meeting will be on March 17, with Mrs. O. G. Kirk, when the agent will give a demonstration of Neufchatel cheese-making. Each club member is urged to bring some non-club member with her to this meeting.—Reporter.

Silence in Conversation
Silence is one great part of conversation. He is not a fool who knows when to hold his tongue; and a person may gain credit for sense, eloquence, wit, who merely says nothing to lessen the opinion which others have of these qualities in themselves.
