23 BAPTIZED IN BAPTIST MEET'G CLOSED SUNDAY

Profound Preaching Good Music, Spiritual Results Noted.

Sunday, July 25, witnessed the close of a 15 day revival at the Baptist church, being a part of a state-wide move in a summer evangelistic campaign in which the Muleshoe Baptist church joined the Ninth district and the West Plains association for spiritual results.

Good crowds were reported at both the day and night services throughout the series of meetings. A public address system was used to serve the hard of hearing, invalids or an overflow crowd in the educational auditorium, as well as to cover an outside area.

The last Sunday afternoon of the revival, 13 were baptized; Wednesday night, July 27th five were baptized and five are yet approved for baptism. Many of these stood approved at the beginning of the meeting.

The pastor, Rev. J. Manley Reynolds, did the preaching and local forces directed the singing. Rev. T. B. Stover, missionary from Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, spoke at the morning and evening service July 20.

The pastor states: "It was a fruitful meeting. The church cooperated in a remarkably fine spirit. Other denominations in the city helped in their attendance and in other ways, for which we have our sincere gratitude."

D. E. CRAIG CONVICTED

The case of State vs. D. E. Craig charging an alleged violation of law wherein defendant was accused of transporting liquor without the proper revenue tax stamps attached, was tried in County court last Monday, defendant being convicted and given a fine of $150 and 60 days in the county jail.

It was announced by the defense attorney that appeal of decision would be taken to higher court.

NEW WPA PROJECT BEGUN

A new WPA project, known as the "school adequacy survey," was begun in Bailey county last Monday under direction of Cecil McLaury and Clarin C. Riddle, by direction of W. O. Williamson, district supervisor at Lubbock.

Purpose of the survey is to properly locate every public school pupil in Bailey county, determine the school they will attend and the particular bus service they will receive.

SUGAR MANUFACTURING COMPANIES REPRESENTATIVES INVESTIGATING BLACKWATER VALLEY BEET GROWTH

H. M. Bainer, agricultural agent for the Santa Fe system, with headquarters at Amarillo, accompanied by H. E. Knapp, agricultural agent for the American Crystal Sugar Co., of Denver, Colo., were in Muleshoe last week in the interest of sugar beet growing in the Blackwater valley. Mr. Knapp stated he thought there were great possibilities for the culture of this particular crop in this valley.

A few years ago several of this valley's farmers tried out the growing of sugar beets and the response being quite favorable in most instances. One hundred pounds of pure certified seed was imported here from Germany about five years ago and distributed to farmers and ranchmen for trial crops. The yield was said to be good and the sugar content quite high, running between 18 and 20 per cent, which is considered good for sugar making. The only drawback to sugar beet growing at that time was the wilt disease, though merely stunting the plants and not destroyed them entirely, they still furnish excellent food for stock.

Now it is stated by Mr. Knapp that sugar companies have succeeded in producing a sugar beet seed that is proof against wilt and this derogatory feature is eliminated.

A few years ago the Government made a several year check of beet growing area in this section, finding this valley to be admirably adapted

MULESHOE IS A RUNNER UP IN SUDAN MEETING

Wins One, Loses One Plays Lubbock Tip Toppers Friday.

A snappy game between Sudan and Muleshoe teams opened the baseball tournament at Sudan last Sunday in which the Muleshoe Majestics played scores in keeping with their dauntless opponents.

The Sudan team started the game of by piling up a big lead; but in the fifth frame the Muleshoe kickers got to kicking more viciously, running the scores up until additional lead was required to chalk them up.

In the sixth inning when the local began running 'em into the home plate, the intervening dust storm evidently putting more grit into their crop than that of the host team. Again in the eighth the locals hung up a few more enemy scraps. When the ninth frame was ended, Muleshoe leads were short just one outlay of victory.

Throughout the entire game numerous "big league" plays were pulled off on the diamond. The locals executing their share of them.

In the first game played during the tournament Amherst won over Peto to the tune of 9-1.

Monday Littlefield beat the Lubbock Tip Top team in a score of 9 to 1.

Muleshoe Beats Peto

Muleshoe lads clashed with the Peto team from Hockley county Tuesday, winning the set-to, 7 to 5, a big bunch of noisy fans witnessing the melee. The Peto lads had plenty of pep, keeping the locals on the jump throughout the entire game. Notwithstanding, Peto chalked up 10 hits to the Muleshoe lads nine, errors probably cost them the game.

Muleshoe took the lead from the very start, getting plenty of runs and three bigger hits. All lads of the organization appeared to be in fine fettle, snapping into the game with plenty of vigor and apparent skill. In the series Muleshoe now has a victory and a loss, and is scheduled to play the Lubbock Tip Toppers Friday afternoon in the second double header of the tournament. Peto having previously lost to Amherst is eliminated from further participation in the games.

Muleshoe lads hope to be able to schedule a good game to be played here next Monday, which is Trades Day in Muleshoe.

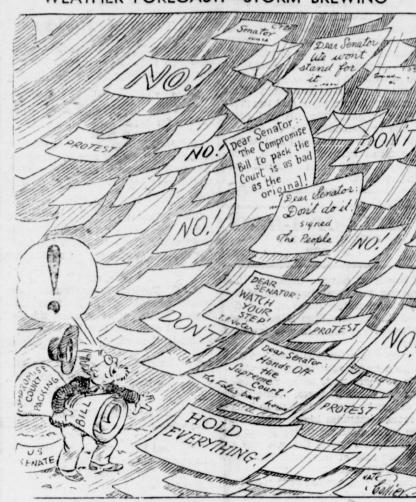

IN JUSTICE COURT

J. M. Vining residing south of Sudan and Roy Perkins of Littlefield pleaded guilty to charges alleged drunkenness in Justice court last Friday, receiving fines and costs totaling $140 each. It is said they were picked up by the Sheriff's department when they stopped at a local ice house to get ice for cooling beer.

STATE BOARD EDUCATION GIVES CHALLENGE TO AUTOMATIC TAX BOARD IN ITS 49 CENT STATE RATE

School Per Capita Appropriation Of $22 Was Reduced To $20 By The Action of Tax Board Last Week.

Following action of the State Automatic Tax Board in setting the ad valorem tax rate at seven cents per $100 valuation for schools, with an all purpose rate of 49 cents, officials of the State Board of Education have appealed to the Attorney General for a ruling as to the validity of such action.

The Automatic Tax board at its regular annual meeting held the previously proposed state per capita allotment of $22 per school pupil was too great and recommended an allotment of $20, which is still $1 higher than was granted for educational purposes last year. The big appropriation for public schools, it is said, came about largely through recommendation of the teachers and their organizations.

In setting the lower rate Governor Alred said he had no desire to take money from the schools "to which they were entitled" but, on the basis of estimates by the comptroller's department, the available school fund would have a surplus of more than $1,000,000 at the end of this year and he believed the present rate would not be needed.

"I think it is possible the schools will receive a $20 apportionment anyway for the estimates of revenue already have been very conservative," he said. "If a 20 cent rate were continued, then perhaps there would be another big surplus."

He criticized action of the board of education in setting the apportionment at $22 before the tax board fixed a tax rate.

"I think the education board was presumptuous in basing an action on what rate this board might levy," he said.

Ghent Sandorf, president, State Board of Education, criticized the governor for approving appropriations for institutions of higher learning without making any deductions, since only 40,000 students are affected. Most of them he said, are able to pay their own tuition, "and chiseled the public schools, affecting 1,560,000 students out of millions."

Many prominent citizens throughout the state commenting upon the mix-up seem to think the high per capita payment was the result of a coup by school interests at the expense of taxpayers of the state. Commenting upon the situation, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, in a recent editorial, said: "The state school fund is the beneficiary of several large sources of revenue directed specifically to it. In recent months these revenues have been greatly increased, especially by liquor and cigarette taxes. During this time the old system of regular appropriations by the Legislature in addition to earmarked revenues for schools continued. The per capita allotment of state aid to schools was successively raised, going finally considerably beyond the amount which in the older days school men had held before the Legislature as the measure of their duty to the schools. "The allotment went up from $16 to $17.50, from $17.50 to $19, and in a remarkably fine spirit. Other denominations in the city helped in their attendance and in other ways, for which we have our sincere gratitude."

"Here arose the question whether the State, after turning over directly to the schools lucrative revenue sources, should operate in the future as if these revenues were not going to the schools. The State Board of Education assumed legislative powers, by fixing an allotment which would require a tax rate in the future as high as in the past before the liquor and cigarette tax revenue increases accrued to the school fund. The Automatic Tax Board stepped in on the side of the tax-payer and decreed a reduction in his burden.

"In actuality, the Tax Board held that there was no further justification or authority for an ad valorem tax in support of schools, when the school fund already enjoyed, by virtue of segregated revenues, an income sufficient to pay a larger per capita allotment than the Legislature had determined as due.

"With this action, the state allotment which was $19 last year, will be $20 in the future. As the school fund's earmarked revenues increase, the allotment doubtless will go higher. In the meantime, it seems a healthy thing that the promises made to the taxpayer, at the time special revenue sources were expatriated to the schools, that the ad valorem tax for schools would be lowered as practicable, is thus early redeemed.

The action of the Automatic Tax Board is to be hailed, both as affording needed relief to property owners and as a strong suggestion to the schools that self-examination for purposes of efficiency and economy is in order."

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT MADE OF MISS ANN MARGARET HART

Announcement was made in Muleshoe the latter part of last week of the marriage of Miss Anna Margaret Hart and Mr. J. R. McGraw Jr. on the wedding ceremony taking place on September 12, 1936, at Fort Worth.

HAS 204 MILES OF BROOMCORN

Lee Bruce, once a railroad man, then a farmer, last year turning politician and being defeated in the sheriff's race, is farming again, and has 204 miles of broomcorn now being harvested. There are 204 rows of the crop each a mile long.

Bruce expects the 72 acres planted to yield about a ton to every five acres, totaling between 12 and 15 tons, and if he gets it harvested without weather damage will realize around $140 per ton from the crop.

LAND PLOW - UP IS LIMITED IN BAILEY'S PLAN

Special Rules Govern Wind Erosion Area Say Officials.

A called meeting of the Bailey County Agricultural Conservation committee was held at the court house, Saturday, July 24 to discuss problems coming up at this time in connection with compliance under the 1937 program.

It was determined that regulations and conditions in the county will not permit the plowing under of cane, millet or Sudan grass in preparation for fall planting of wheat on the same land if such land is to be considered as devoted to a soil conserving crop. Bailey county is among the group of counties designated as the Wind Erosion area and crops of the kind mentioned are to be left on the land as a protection against wind erosion if they are to be classified as soil-conserving.

It is expected that measuring of land to determine the extent of compliance on each farm will start at an early date. Questionnaires are being mailed to each work sheet cigner in the county so that none of these in compliance will be overlooked in reporting performance.

LAMB CO. BEER VOTE FAILS

Incomplete returns of the voting in Lamb county last Saturday on whether or not beer should be sold in that county, indicates the measure failed of passing by a vote of at least two to one.

Every Great Attempt is Glorious Even If It Fails

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day.—Isaiah 2:11.

Pride is the common forerunner of a fall. It was the devil's sin, and the devil's ruin; and has been, ever since, the devil's stratagem, like an expert wrestler, usually gives a man a lift before he gives him a throw.—South.

PASSING OUT

It isn't hard for older citizens of Muleshoe to recall the predictions made about the time the auto appeared that the new method of transportation spelled the doom of the horse. Happily, that prediction did not come true. For a good many years the horse remained in demand as a beast of burden, and the price of horseflesh showed no decline.

Now, however, comes a horse and mule census that throws new light on the subject. It shows the number of farm animals is rapidly decreasing and reveals that if this continues it will be but a few years until the horse and mule have passed almost completely out of the picture. The number of horses in the U. S., the census shows, dropped from 16,401,000 in 1925 to 11,858,000 in 1935, a brief ten-year period. The cause is attributed not to the passenger auto, as optimists predicted, but to the modern motorized machinery that is constantly finding its way to the farming sections of every state in the union.

As time goes on this will become more noticeable. Whether it will be economical or not, and whether it is cause for regret or satisfaction is not easily said, without fear of starting an argument, but the fact remains, all arguments to the contrary, that horses and mules are passing out of the picture in this country and that the trend toward motorization of all kinds of farm machinery is fast pushing the noble old animals closer to the soap factories and the fertilizer plants.

However, it is our belief there will always be need for horses and mules. There will always be work for these animals to do that can not be performed by autos, trucks or tractors, or which it will be more economical to use animals than machines.

Recently Texas has passed an order permitting its jacks and stallions now state owned to be leased to counties at a very nominal yearly rate, for service. One of these animals, a very fine Percheron stallion, is located in Bailey county, and we are of the belief that it should be retained for the benefit of those needing more and better horsepower for farm and business service.

The suggestion carried last week in the Journal for organization of jack circles, wherein such animals may be purchased with government funds by individuals or group farmers for improving and adding to their needed work stock, is a good one and should be carried to completion.

YOUR DOG

After all, the most unselfish, patient and forgiving thing in the world is your dog. Humans usually lack the virtue of forgiveness. Most of them carry a grudge for years, but your dog carries no grudges against you, no matter how often you may punish him. When it comes to loyalty, you haven't a human friend who will stick to you as closely as your dog. Whether you hit him your last penny or made a million dollars; whether you are in rags or dressed in the height of fashion, it's all the same to your dog.

With these facts generally admitted, a sanitation as a proper treatment of your dog during the heated season is most timely. From now until cooler weather arrives around the first of September dogs need and must have a constant supply of drinking water. Lack of it in hot weather, it is generally agreed, produces rabies and causes dogs to "go mad." When in that condition they are exceedingly dangerous to us. Infections arising from the bite of a dog suffering with rabies is difficult to combat and, especially with children, often proves fatal.

During these hot days every dog owner around Muleshoe should see that his dog is kept clean and that his water is kept clean when they want it. It is our best protection against losing your dog, and also against the serious results that may arise if he is seized with an attack of rabies.

USING SIGNALS

National safety experts in convention at Chicago recently expressed the belief that a large proportion of auto accidents could be prevented if drivers would adhere more strictly to the use of hand-signals.

The system of handsignaling is no doubt familiar to every motorist in Muleshoe, yet so seldom are they used. If he is not acquainted with their use and meaning then he has no business driving a car. The same holds true with those who are familiar with hand signals but who still refuse to use them. The man behind can't read your mind. He has no means of knowing what you intend to do until you signal that intention. If you make a turn or sudden stop without first indicating your intention by a hand signal, then you are to blame for the serious results that are likely to follow.

Use hand signals all the time, wherever you are driving. It is, the safety experts say, your greatest protection.

WORTHLESS BONDS

With money circulating more freely than for a half-dozen years and many Americans again seeking methods of investing their savings, the foreign securities markets are said to be once more attracting attention. Evidently there is no truth in the old assertion that "a burned child dreads the fire" for there were certainly plenty of people in this country burned on foreign securities a few years previous to 1929.

Obviously there is nothing that can be done to prevent people from buying foreign bonds if they wish to do so. It is their money they are investing, and if they want to risk losing it, that's their lookout.

Insofar as the people of Muleshoe and surrounding territory are concerned, however, money is not yet plentiful enough to change a single dollar of it on foreign securities. Uncle Sam's securities are still good, and the man who isn't satisfied with the interest they pay deserves to be stung.

THE GOSPEL TRUTH

Speaking before an audience in New York City, recently Clayton Rand famous advertising expert, uttered these words of truth and wisdom: "There is nothing in print that has fringe appeal, influence or pulling power like the home-town newspaper. In the aggregate it is the greatest power in America. The first line of American defense is our army of 14,000 hometown newspapers and if the nation endures it will be because these home-town papers were kept strong, and because in any hour of peril they can be depended upon to carry the word of warning to the people that the enemy is within our gates. While the metropolitan press is still the great reflector of public thought and opinion, the cross-road press of America is still the motor of it, and still America's greatest safeguard against enemies both within and without her boundary lines."

A MELL-OF-A-HESS INTEREST RATES

By ZEP

A bunch of citizens were one time discussing the great inventors of the world, when a Jew spoke up and declared that greater than Edison, Tesla or Marconi was the man who invented interest.

At any rate interest is a subject that has been under controversy for thousands of years past, being practically coeval with that of taxes. While there has always been a discussion in interest rates, sometimes higher and sometimes lower, statistics indicate that for the past 5,000 years the average or "natural" rate of insurance has been around five per cent.

Recently Congress has been considering the Federal Land Bank interest rate, finally passing a bill which reduced that interest rate to three and three-eighths per cent. President Roosevelt vetoed the bill, giving no particular business reason for doing so, yet expressing some humanitarian causes. The House immediately passed it the second day after the veto, and last Friday the Senate followed suit. This action knocks out four, five and five and one-half per cent rates which previously prevailed.

For some years we have held the opinion there should be no really fixed rates of interest on borrowed money. The U. S. in granting low rates of interest on home and other loans, in other figures on the security of the "spread," which is not fair to the borrower of decided assets, good collateral or adequate security furnished. Some banks figure eight or 10 per cent interest, taking into consideration the moral as well as the financial risk of the borrower, yet the one who is decidedly a good risk seldom gets the benefit of rate reduction to assist him in a pinch.

Frankly speaking, we believe both the banks and the Government should have a sliding scale of interest, the poor risk, the slothful and improvident farmer paying a higher rate than the good business man and the party who is a good moral risk. Some business concerns have big financial ratings in Dunn-Bradstreet; but very low credit ratings, while with others the reverse is true. Perhaps there are some cases where rates to certain classes of borrowers should be entirely prohibitive.

The New Deal notwithstanding, it is our belief that the law of Supply and Demand should largely be responsible for the fixing of interest rates on farm mortgages and other loans. We have no decisive faith in arbitrarily low interest rates, and action of Congress in the Federal Land Bank rates may be to the interest of politicians in vote catching rather than that of statesmen in behalf of the welfare of our nation. Like many other features of the New Deal, this one has a good chance to turn out to be a mell-of-a-hess.

I have electricity in my hair and grandma has gas on her stomach."

The difference between a poor man and a millionaire is that one worries over his next meal and the other worries over his last.

This day in time it's easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than it is for a rich man to get locked up in jail.

Love at first sight is probably still possible in this country; but it's got to be a safe thing is for one to wipe off their glasses and take a second look before leaping.

New days a fellow can't even commit murder or pull off a burglary without the government stepping in and indicting him for failure to pay his income taxes.

A free country is one where people criticize the officers for not catching lawbreakers and then feel outraged when they are caught breaking the law.

Ferel Little Succeeded Albert H. Isaacs As City Clerk of Muleshoe

Following resignation of Albert Isaacs as city clerk of Muleshoe for the past five years, Ferel Little, formerly statistician in the county farm agent office, was last week unanimously selected by the City commission for that position.

Mr. Little is one of Muleshoe's growing young business men. W. C. Taylor, county agent, speaks in highest terms of his ability, and white loath to release him, yet did so with his greatest commendation because of the greater opportunity for advancement accorded by the new position.

2 Spanish-Americans Badly Injured In Auto Collision Friday Night

Two Spanish-American women, Senora Cardova, of Lehman, and Andrea P. Jacques, Clovis, N. M., were seriously injured Friday evening of last week when struck by another car driven by Mrs. Frances M. Palmer, Midland about five miles east of Muleshoe on State Highway No. 7. After being given temporary relief by a local physician, they were taken to a hospital at Clovis for further treatment.

Mrs. Amelia Molina at the same time had two teeth knocked out and received severe bruises on her face, while Mrs. Palmer suffered some bruises. Both cars were badly damaged, according to report.

From available information, it appears the car occupied by the Spanish people had been stopped alongside the highway while tire repairs were being made. The Midland woman while passing that car also passed another car coming toward her and was blinded by the headlights, not seeing the car occupied by the Spanish-Americans until too late to avoid the crash.

The two seriously injured women were standing behind the parked car, being caught in the impact, one of them suffering the breaking of both legs, while the other had one leg broken, an arm broken and badly injured. They are returning from the funeral of a friend at Lehman in Cochran county when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Palmer, through the local sheriff's department contributed a check of $88 toward medical attention of the injured women.

Clark Cain, Portales Made First Arrest Of W. H. Bybee, Killed

Clark Cain, night policeman at Portales, N. M., was probably the first to arrest W. H. Bybee, Texas convict and desperado, who was killed in a gun fight with Arkansas hostesses at Mori...

1934, he was again captured near Amarillo. On this occasion he had picked up a girl hitchhiker near the Kansas line, and after driving for some time, asked her if she could drive. He forced her to drive from 65 to 70 miles an hour and when she asked him what was his hurry, he told her who he was, and showed her his guns. He later dropped off to sleep and she drove on through Amarillo, stopping at Vega and waking him up to buy some gas. While he was out of the car but gas, she drove off leaving him, and untried officers who he was. Amarillo officers again captured him, and while in jail, Cain interviewed him again. He told Cain about his trip, and stated that if they did not give him the "hot seat" he would again escape. Cain asked him if he was going to try and escape from there. Bybee replied, "Do I look like a damn fool?"

Harold W. Gaulrapp Grange Official Was Here For A Meeting

Farmers of seven Bailey county communities met at the court house Thursday, July 22 in conference with Harold W. Gaulrapp, organizer for the National Grange, to learn something of the principles and farm policies of that organization. Mr. Gaulrapp was here in the interest of starting local chapters of the Grange and asked representatives from the various communities to assist him in calling community meetings for that purpose.

Communities represented at the conference were West Camp, Progress, Y. L. Fairview, Circleback, Watson and Stegall. Although Grange chapters have been organized in some West Texas counties, none exist in Bailey county. No further meetings were scheduled, but if any community wants a meeting with the Grange representative he may be contacted through the office of the county agent.

What's Happening In Washington And Other Cities Of Importance

Congress debates the wage and hour bill this week. Approximately 24,000,000 acres of wheat in western Canada is in a stricken condition, half the planting being reported a complete failure. U. S. Census department reports there are 961,017 individual farms comprising 137,597,389 acres in Texas, average size being 274.6 acres. The U. S. Senate has gone on record as favoring government control of helium gas, the largest field of which is located near Amarillo. Congress will investigate the report of Nazi propaganda going on in the U. S. It is reported at least 17 such military and training camps are now operating in this country. Senator Barkley of Kentucky, former assistant to the late Senator Joe Robinson, has been chosen Democratic leader in Congress over Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, winning that honor by just one vote.

the cut. Use of aliens or those who have not field first citizenship papers is prohibited.

The Floyd county wheat yield is now said will lead the nation with 5,000,000 bushels. Hale county will yield 2,500,000 bushels and Swisher counties, 2,000,000 each. Deaf Smith county, 1,900,000, while other adjoining areas are all reporting big yields. Selling at an average of $1 per bushel the wheat crop is bringing an immense amount of money into this area as is attested to by bulging bank vaults.

Notwithstanding Gov. Allred has said he will request the legal return of Pete Traxler to Texas, indications are the convict will be held at Hugo, Okla. for trial. Traxler was seriously wounded the same time Fred Tindol, fugitive pal, was killed by two men held as hostages who grabbed guns from the convicts as they drowsed and shot U. S. agents. Traxler's wife is also being held on charge of protecting a criminal.

55,000 Acres Of Cotton Planted In Bailey Co. 10 Per Cent Increase

There are approximately 55,000 acres of Bailey county land planted to cotton this year, according to W. C. Taylor, county agent, which is an increase of some 10 per cent over the planted acreage of last year, he said.

Most of the planted crop averages about three weeks later than normal, occasioned by it having to be replanted two and three times. However, some of it is now coming to blossom. Present prospects are for a record production. Recent weather conditions have been quite favorable to the crop development and a rapid growth has been obtained.

While the annual carry-over of American cotton has been greatly reduced by governmental programs, it is possible that prices may not be so good as during the past two years should a record crop be grown over the cotton belt. It is further stated on good authority that the grower of short staple cotton will be penalized as never before on the markets. While the crop as a whole is said to be good over the entire cotton belt this year, boll weevils and other pests are working farther East, and it may be possible that the early production will be such that present prices will be maintained.

To date there has been no report of flea hoppers or any other insect damage occurring in Bailey county, Mr. Taylor said. The hopper, a small insect that looks much like a young green grasshopper. It works in the buds and when the small squares make their appearance the bud has been killed by the hoppers. Dusting every seven days with powdered sulphur is said to kill the insects. Dusting is most effective just after a rain or while dew is still on the plants.

Flea hoppers are very insidious in their activities, being small they are difficult to locate and may do considerable damage to the plants before discovered. Flea hoppers not only attack cotton, but will also do damage to flowers.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce has attacked the wage and hour bills as being uncertain and full of ambiguities, based on artificial definitions and unworkable.

Making Dill Pickles
Mrs. E. L. Jones of Mulshoe plants the Lone Green and Burpee Everbearing cucumbers. She has found that it is better to plant cucumbers like beans rather than plant them in hills. The leaves shade the ground and this helps to hold the moisture. Mrs. Jones is going to make dill pickles out of some of her cucumbers.

In making dill pickles, grape leaves may be used to give color to the pickle. The brine is made by using 2 gallons of water, 1 pt. salt and 1 pt. vinegar. Dill and mixed pickling spices may be added to give the desired flavor. Cucumbers placed in this brine may be cured in about 10 days and after that time they may be placed in jars, covered with a fresh brine and sealed.

Plants Fall Garden
"I am going to plant Kentucky Wonder beans about July 23 for my fall garden," answered Mrs. Claude Gauge of Joyland, when asked about her plans for a fall garden. She planted 150 feet of Kentucky Wonder beans and they have eaten beans for two weeks, she divided with several of the neighbors and has canned 36 quarts. She plans to can at least 30 more quarts of this 150 feet.

Mrs. Gauge picks her beans while they are young and tender so that they will be a tasty vegetable.

Why Eat Yellow Vegetables
"We have certainly raised a lot of the yellow squash this year, answered Mrs. Joe Thompson, cooperarator of the West Camp home demonstration club, when asked about her garden.

Foods with yellow and green color are rich in vitamin A. Yellow carrots, squash and sweet potatoes are better sources of vitamin A than white foods. Eye trouble is often caused from a deficiency of the diet. The lack of vitamin A causes eye trouble, infections of the ears, glands of the mouth, and throat; and sometimes kidney and bladder trouble.

A person needs plenty of leafy green and yellow vegetables and dairy products especially butter to prevent eye infections.

Cans Dark Red Beets
"I planted Detroit Dark Red beets and they certainly have a good color," said Mrs. A. J. Smith, cooperarator of the Baileyboro club. The deeper the color of a product, the more vitamins it contains.

Mrs. Smith cans baby beets by the following recipe: Only dark red, young tender beets are used. Wash thoroughly and scald in boiling water for about 15 minutes until the skin slips off easily. Leave on at least one inch of the stems and all of the roots during cooking to prevent bleeding. Slip off the skins, fill the containers, add one teaspoon of salt to each quart and will with hot water. Process at 12 pounds pressure, glass jars for 35 minutes, pints for 30 minutes.

Cool Grown Vegetables Better
Did you know that vegetables grown in the cooler part of the season have a better flavor and are milder? If you would like to hear more about gardening, storing fruits and vegetables, canning, drying, brining and curing foods; canning according to approved standards, attend any of the home demonstration club meetings in August.

Joint Meetings Held
Due to the lack of time, the agent will not be able to meet each home demonstration club in August; but the council has made plans for two or three of the neighboring clubs to meet together. The following plans were made:

West camp and Progress will meet together Wednesday, Aug. 4 at 3:00 p. m.

Maple and Stegal clubs will visit Goodland club which meets at the Goodland school building, Thursday, Aug. 5 at 3:00 p. m.

Watson has been invited to visit Enoch's at the home of Mrs. Everett Brewer, Wednesday, Aug. 11 at 3:00 p. m.

Y. L. will visit Mulshoe at the home of Mrs. C. C. Mardis on Thursday, Aug. 12 at 3:00 p. m.

Zeppelin service between Germany and India will be established this year.

Jan Kubelik And His Company In Musical Program At The Tech.

Lubbock, July 23—An international known violinist, a pianist, and a ballet company of 30 dancers will combine to give cultural variety to the fall Artist course at Texas Technological college, said R. A. Mills, chairman of a committee arranging the program.

Jan Kubelik, Austrian violinist on tour of the larger American cities, will open the course November 22. Kubelik has made concert tours on the Continent and in America since his debut in Vienna in 1898. His first visit to America was in 1901. Outstanding artist course attraction of the season, Mills believes, is the Joes European ballet, which will appear January 17. Third number on the course will be a concert by Harold Bauer, pianist whose appearance will be sponsored by the Association of American Colleges. He will play March 2 and 3.
