VOLUME 15 NUMBER 19

'DUST BOWL' AREA CHANGED INTO WATER BOWL AS HEAVY RAINS OF PAST WEEK POUR DOWN ON SECT'N

All Of Bailey County Thoroughly Soaked; Bridges Washed Out, Roads Under Water, Some Towns Inundated.

The commonly called "dust bowl" area of the west was transformed into a real water bowl Friday of last week, when rain falling over West Texas and most of New Mexico totaled a precipitation running from one to as high as six inches. The rainfall in Muleshoe was 1.60 inches, bringing the total here to 6.42 since January 1 this year.

Practically the entire country of the North and South Plains was swept by the deluge which also reached into the Panhandle of Oklahoma, where the North Canadian river, fed by swollen tributaries, went five feet over the state highway at Beaver, county seat town, while from 1.50 to four inches of rainfall was reported variously from sections of the No. Man's Land.

Roswell, N. M., was visited by the heaviest deluge in the past 33 years. The Honda river, west of that city, ran over its banks, inundating the Pecos river city of approximately 13,000 people, two principal bridges over the Pecos river being washed out, while the city was cut off entirely from the rest of the world by washed-out highways and railroads. Numerous homes and business houses were flooded.

At least 12 people are reported having lost their lives in New Mexico by driving into arroyos and being caught by descending walls of water. At Bovina and Friona, approximately 25 miles northwest and due north of here, respectively, the highway at the former place was under water four to five feet, while the Frio draw at the latter place was swollen to full proportions, running over into the adjoining lowlands and inundating the lower part of that town.

Amarillo, on the North Plains, reports a total precipitation of 6.83 for the month of May. Numerous other towns of the Plains had a similar depth of rainfall. Numerous highways in both states have been washed out to the point where official warnings have been issued to travelers. Rainfalls of from two to four inches over this western section were common reports issued the latter part of last week.

Bailey county was thoroughly soaked in every section, reports of four to five inch downfalls being reported by various communities. It is estimated

12,000 More Acres Are Bought In Hockley Co. For Gov. Resettlement

Amarillo, June 1.—Purchase of slightly more than 12,000 acres of land in Hockley county, Texas, as an addition to the Texas Rural Communities, community type farmsteads project at Rossville, was announced today by Regional Director L. H. Hutter of the Resettlement administration.

The new acreage when divided into farm units will comprise approximately 95 farmsteads, including the present 33 units. Present plans for the new units provide for farmsteads of about 180 acres each.

The addition to the Rossville project carries an authorization totaling $450,000. A study is now under way to determine the advisability of setting up a community and cooperative service for the farms.

"We shall emphasize a careful selection of families for these new farm units," said Mr. Will. "We intend to use a method similar to that used in selecting families on the first 33 units. We will demand a good class of people because the people already living at Rossville are that kind."

FARMERS MEET AT LUBBOCK

A meeting will be held at Lubbock Wednesday, June 9, beginning at 10:00 a. m. to be addressed by some prominent member of the Texas Agricultural association, to explain the proposed National and Improved Farm Program now before Congress.

Farmers of Bailey county are urged to attend, according to Wm. G. Kennedy, association director, who recently returned from Washington where he went in behalf of the state organization.

SING SONG AT BROWNFIELD
The South Plains singing convention will be held at Brownfield, Saturday evening June 19 and Sunday, June 20. Several from Muleshoe are planning to attend, according to report.

HIT OIL IN BAILEY CO.

Light Vein Is Reported Struck at 4,000 Feet; Change To Cable Tools, Begin Setting Of Seven Inch Casing.

Drilling in hard rock and recent rains have considerably slowed down and hindered progress of the oil test well in southeastern Bailey county, it being reported at an approximated depth of 4,500 feet, the first of this week. It is located in labor 4, league 700, Capitol Syndicate land.

A light vein of oil is said to have been struck in the Bailey county well early this week at 4,400-50 feet which caused some excitement. Drillers at once abandoned the rotary rig, started running 7-inch casing and changed over to standard rig, when drilling was continued. Unauthenticated reports has it that the hole will be run on down to contract depth and should no heavier flow of oil be struck, they will draw back to this vein and give it the acid test for development.

Cameron No. 1, Cochran county, being drilled by Bond & Harrison, located in labor 1, league 15, Green county land, is now down approximately 4,800 feet and drilling hard line.

The Stanolind Oil & Gas Co., through its local week spudded in another well in Hockley county on labor 76, league 37, Zavalla county school land and about two miles southeast of the

CALICHE BASE TO BE LAID ON NO. 214 FROM NEEDMORE SOUTH TO BAILEY CO. LINE BEGINNING SOON

WPA Project Reinstated, Work To Be Under Direction Of The State Highway Department, Austin.

That further construction work on State Highway No. 214 south of Muleshoe will be continued from Needmore on to the south Bailey county line, work beginning on or about June 1, is the gist of information received by County Judge M. G. Miller from the State Highway Department, Austin, and confirmed by J. C. Jones, WPA manager for district 17, at Lubbock.

This work had been previously authorized to be done under direction of the State Highway Department; but occasioned by delay and lack of men for the project had been canceled and appropriated funds diverted to other state projects. However, upon representation to the State Highway Department and to WPA manager Lubbock, the project has been reinstated and is expected to be started promptly.

Letter conveying the work order to Judge Miller is as follows: "In Bailey County, N. R. W. 21-3, providing for 150 miles grading and drainage structures was approved on conditionally designated Highway No. 214. This designation was cancelled to permit construction of County sponsored W. P. A. project. It now appears that destitute conditions will exist upon completion of County sponsored project on June 1."

"It is therefore, ordered by the Commission that the former conditional designation of Highway No. 214 between Muleshoe and Morton, which was previously cancelled by Minute No. 13447, be reinstated, effective June 1, 1937. Furthermore, since P. W. A. funds for N. R. W. R. projects are all under approval of the Federal government, $27,000.00 State Funds be appropriated to supplement Works Progress Administration funds." Minute No. 13687.

Yours very truly,
CLIFF GILCHRIST,
State Highway Engineer,
By T. H. Webb, Assistant State Highway Engineer.

The State Highway Department has taken up with the Federal government the matter of furnishing the 100 foot right-of-way through the Game preserve located in the south central part of the county and through which this highway passes. Notice of such having already been given.

MAYOR'S CLEAN-UP PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, every citizen should have a wholesome pride in his home city, its streets, playgrounds, parks and public buildings, as well as the home and its surroundings. Well kept lawns, clean yards and freshly painted buildings add much to the appearance of property, increases its value and contributes to a more desirable and pleasant environment in which to live. In attaining these things we contribute to the general health and preservation of life by the removal of disease breeding filth and rubbish, which always constitutes a fire hazard and a menace to property.

NOW THEREFORE, I, C. F. Moeller, Mayor of the City of Muleshoe, Texas, do hereby designate the week of June 7 to June 12 as Fire Prevention and Clean-Up Week and sincerely ask the co-operation of citizens, both individually and collectively, in a special effort during this period of time.

C. F. MOELLER, MAYOR, CITY OF MULESHOE, TEXAS.

EASTERN STAR OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR INSTALLED MONDAY NIGHT IN APPROPRIATE CHAPTER CEREMONIES

TEARS OF APPRECIATION FOR THE PAST, SMILES OF ANTICIPATION FOR THE FUTURE, WITH FLOWERS AND FEMINE ORATORY FOR PRESENT, FEATURES OF EVENTFUL EVENING.

Monday evening, at the Masonic hall, private installation of officers for the ensuing year of the Muleshoe Chapter of Eastern Star organization was held. Mrs. Rosa Stidham, a past worthy matron presided as installing officer.

Bowls of roses and houseleaves were placed in profusion about the hall, lending their delicate fragrance to the beauty of the occasion. Soft candle light shed its glow over the beautifully draped hall, which was only outshone by the flower like, pastel colored gowns which incoming officers wore.

The retiring officers marched to their usual places, after which the chapter was opened in short form and the purpose of the meeting announced.

Mrs. Stella Eason called for a circle to be formed of all past matrons, patrons, her associating officers and new members who had come in during her regime, and with touching phrases presented each with hand carved emblems of the Star. They were the handiwork of C. C. Mardis and doubtly appreciated by all who were so fortunate as to receive one.

After this, Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner called the roll of officers to be installed as follows:

- R. J. Klump, worthy patron.
- Mrs. Zula Carlyle, associate matron.
- Will Booth, associate patron.
- Mrs. Mary DeShazo, conductress.
- Mrs. Ruth McCarty, associate conductress.
- Miss Elizabeth Stevens, secretary.
- Miss Lola Lipscomb, treasurer.
- Mrs. Thelma Harden, chaplain.
- Mrs. Irma Mitchell, marshal.
- Mrs. Hattie Griffiths, pianist.
- Mrs. Grace Osborn, sentinel.
- The star points: Mrs. Naomi St. Clair, Adah; Mrs. Inez Bobo, Ruth; Mrs. Jackie Tate, Esther; Mrs. Bonnie Issacs, Martha; and Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner, Electa.

Due to the sudden death of the father of the incoming matron, Mrs. Virginia Weyer, she was unable to be installed at this meeting, also Miss Evelyn Boone was unable to attend. Corsages of flowers representing the Star Points, were cleverly used in presenting these officers for installation.

Scholastic Census Shows 95 Increase For The Coming Year

Byron Coward Gets Irrigation Well On Farm N. W. Of Town

R. C. Ireton, local driller, last Friday finished an irrigation well for Byron Coward located on his farm about six miles northwest of Muleshoe.

The well was sunk to a depth of 109 feet, being 15 inches in diameter. The first heavy flow of water was encountered by the driller at 15 feet, being about 10 feet thick of water-bearing gravel. At 62 feet another and heavier stratum of water was encountered which continued for the depth of the well.

The well has been cased for 60 feet from the top down, and installed in it is a new Peerless centrifugal pump capable of delivering 1,200 gallons of water per minute. It will be propelled for the present by a farm tractor, and later stationary engine installed. The well has not yet been tested, but Mr. Ireton says there is no doubt but it will yield between 1,000 and 1,200 gallons per minute.

Mr. Coward is planning irrigating 150 acres of land this season, mostly planted to cotton and grain.

CARVING LIFE'S MARBLE

Address Given by Miss Geraldine Robbins, Valedictorian of Muleshoe High School Graduating Class, 1937

Mr. Chairman, Members of the School Board, Teachers, Parents and Patrons:

It is a genuine pleasure to have each of you present for our Commencement program, and to have the opportunity of expressing to you, in behalf of the members of the high school graduating class of 1937, our great appreciation for all your expressions of love and interest in our behalf during the years gone by down to this very moment as we are about to step from these halls of learning and inspiration into greater fields of activity, into more regal halls of learning, or else take our place among those patriotic citizens of America who uphold their ideals and exemplify its fundamental teachings of patriotism.

Sacred history tells us that "In the beginning the earth was without form and void, and darkness was upon the face of it." Profane history and the explorations and investigations of science confirm the crude state of this planet when humanity first came to its terrestrial estate. The passage of the years has, however, witnessed some marvelous changes and transformations, and, with the improvement which has been constantly making, change and development in the present who occupy it. All true life is that of unfolding beauty, ennobling character and consummating of high ideals. The thoughts and desires which dominate our life, form our character and determine the kind of men and women we become. If there is any doubt as to the kind of person we will be, or as to what our future will be, we have only to consider the trend of our present thoughts which dominate us, and we may know the pattern that is being built into our future life.

Within the breast of each of us there is an invisible sculptor who is constantly moulding our spiritual nature, and our physical stature has a tendency to correspond. When we first came into this life we were scarcely more than animated chunks of clay; but thanks to the love of kindred, the devotion of teachers and the sympathetic assistance of a host of unknown contributors, we have obtained a godly start in the moulding of character and the placing of ideals.

No sculptor can carve beauty out of the marble with an ugly model in mind. He cannot develop an angel when he visualizes a devil. He must carve out of the marble that which he feels. His sentiment, his philosophy, his ideals are the things that will influence his chisel. Sir, Peter Leary, the great master painter, used to say that he never dared look at a bad picture lest his brush should get the taint of inferiority.

A block of marble lying in the quarry, just as it was hewn from the quarry has no more attraction than a diamond fresh from the mines of Golconda. The diamond must first be cut and polished before it is fit to adorn the finger of the bride. So the marble must be chisled and carved and polished before it is fit to take its place among the beautiful statues of the magnificent cathedral. The sculptor, with mallet and chisel in hand, knocks off the rough places, he gouges out the eyes, forms the lips, spits out the fingers and gives contour and symmetry to the whole body—all the time keeping in mind the ideal of his finished product.

So in chisling the marble of life, there is always before the human sculptor an ideal of perfection. He may be unable to adequately express it, just as the sculptor is never entirely able to reproduce the idealized vision of his own mind; but the image he produces represents to the world the beautiful picture and lofty ideal taking possession of his soul.

Every canvas is but a rough copy of the finer picture that haunted the artist's mind. Every book is infinitely inferior to the one that lived in the author's brain. Every sermon or lecture is but a replica of what the orator grasped in the secret of his study; but whose lack of eloquence failed to make it public. The finest music ever heard is but jargon compared with the harmonies and melodies which floated in the musician's soul, and that could not be tied down by words or notes, nor impressed by bars and staves; yet all these accomplishments, though more or less crudely expressed are the very ideals that make the best things of life possible.

I would have my friends to realize that it is the vision that comes to us when reading a book, rather than the book itself; it is the painting one sees in the mind's eye beyond the canvas; it is the harmonies one hears beyond the material sound that reaches the physical ear; it is the new understanding, the broader grasp, the enthusiastic inspiration that comes to one—these are the things that engender and make possible the ideal.

Turner introduced himself to his friend by trying to out-picture the self in his ideal. Michael Angelo went into ecstasies every time he saw a slab of marble. It was because the divine self of his nature was urging for another expression even more glorious than the last.

A lady one time going through the National Art Gallery at London, was admiring one of Godard's pictures. The old painter, unknown to her, was standing nearby and overheard her words of praise. Stepping to her side, he thanked her for her compliments, then touching his forehead, he said: "Ah, madam, but you ought to see the picture in here."

So I would have you, my fellow classmates, along with myself, to realize the importance of establishing an ideal early in life and then working toward its achievement. The largest, the noblest and the grandest in each of us will respond to right thinking and to right living.

If the sculptor's chisel can make impressions on marble in a few hours which distant eyes shall read and admire; if the man of genius can create work in life that shall speak the triumph of man a thousand years hence, then may you and I, if truly alive to the duty and obligations of our existence, do infinitely more. Putting our chisel of workmanship on human hearts and destinies, it shall be our privilege to do work that will never perish—to build within life's fleeting hours monuments that shall last forever. A steady aim, with a strong arm, willing hands and a resolute will, are all the tools necessary for our dauntless task.

Everyone is the architect of his own house, his own temple of fame. We chisel for ourselves the image that is to adorn our niche in the world's coliseum. We creep into childhood, bound into youth, sober into manhood and totter into old age; but through it all we may so live that as the evening of life approaches the silver clouds will rest sweetly and invitingly upon the golden mountains, and, as the light of eternity streams down through the tending mists, we may have a peaceful and joyous entrance into that world of everlasting blessedness where all ideals are fully realized.

Right well has Daniel Webster said: "If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, imbuing them with right principles and high ideals, then we are engraving on everlasting tablets something that will brighten to all eternity."

Peace of Mind

We never get peace of mind when we give "a piece of our mind." Pieces of mind are usually thrown off in a state of anger or excitement. At such times we say things that we are sorry for afterwards. We wish that we might recall the harsh and bitter words that were spoken. But they are gone forever. We know that they have made their impressions and that a heart has been wounded. Peace of mind is the result of self-control.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD SERVICES

The newly erected Assembly of God church has been completed and everybody is invited to attend the services. It is "the friendly church and a place where one feels at home," according to members. The program for services is as follows: Sunday morning worship, at 9:45 a. m. "Christ's Ambassadors," sermon 11:30 a. m. Sunday. Evangelistic service 8:30 p. m., Monday.

Prayer meeting service, Wednesday

8:30 p. m. Women's missionary council, 2:30 p. m., Thursday. Saturday evening services, 8:30 p. m.

A Wrestler's Paradise
No athletic heroes of any other nation are so worshiped as the wrestlers of Japan. A grappler gets bushels of fan mail, presents enough to feed, clothe, and house him. In one meal he eats as much as the average man in a week. The wrestlers, "through" at thirty-three, frequently retire and open tea houses.

Every Great Attempt is Glorious Even If It Fails

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

O give thanks unto the Lord: for he is good.—Chronicles 16:33.
Among the attitudes of God, alshines with even more brilliancy than though they are all equal, mercy justice.—Cervantes.

SCHOOL FINANCES

Constitutional amendment No. 23, now being published in the Journal, is one that should be of vital interest to every property owner in Bailey County. It provides that "no property of any kind shall be assessed for ad valorem taxes at a greater value than its fair cash market value." This statement refers directly to school taxes; but should have been made broad enough to refer to state and county taxes, as well. Notwithstanding there is already a statute covering the latter.

The Journal is not familiar with tax conditions in other school districts of this county; but it does know that in numerous instances in the Muleshoe school district, taxes have been high and inequally assessed. Some property owners have meekly submitted to the exorbitant levy, some have raised a fuss about it, and a very few have taken the matter to court for judgment. About a year ago a large number of school tax suits were filed in District court, some property owners were bluffed into paying off by the threat while some of these suits are said to be still pending.

Passage of this amendment will force a readjustment in the independent school districts where previous sale of property has already set a fair market value for such. It will mean property values will receive just appraisal for assessment purposes, and it is well known much property in Muleshoe has been assessed for more than was paid for it or what it would bring on the open market today. Some of it has already sold at distress values forced upon the owners by taxes past due and which prices are doubtless, in some instances below real market value, yet these low prices will assist in arriving at real value for other and all property.

If a piece of property was sold for $3,000 some time ago, and later because of exigent condition another sale of it is forced at, say $1,500, that does not necessarily mean the actual value of that particular piece of property; but when general demand is taken into consideration and the price of other properties sold are considered, a re-ascertaining for tax reductions, will doubtless property may be quite accurately obtained.

JOE GUY

SOME OF THE TROUBLE IN THIS COUNTRY IS BECAUSE ONLY THOSE FOLKS NOT IN OFFICE KNOW HOW TO SOLVE OUR ECONOMIC PROBLEMS.

The passage of this amendment, which doubtless will become a fact, since property owners and citizens in general throughout the state are clamoring for tax reductions, will doubtless put a crimp into some public activities there for a mania for expenditures, much of it entirely uncalled for, has existed. Other districts will likely lose several thousand dollars worth of uncollected taxes, while still others will be forced into a program of retrenchment—all of which will have a tendency to put the free public schools of this nation back onto the fundamental basis of education as originally intended, and cutting out many of the frills and furbalows, which rightfully belong to private and special schools, colleges and technological schools, reduce the constant irritation of exorbitant tax assessments and create a new friendly attitude for one of America's most laudible national enterprises.

IT'S GOOD NEWS!

As a general thing the kind of news sent out by the Weather bureau isn't good news; but now and then there is an exception, and a forecast regarding a petition of last year's drought is an example. It is the kind of weather news everybody around Muleshoe will enjoy reading.

According to this prediction, the country will witness a more moderate summer than the last one. The experts say temperatures will be more normal; there will be no long, record-breaking hot spells such as we went through in 1936. In some sections of this nation there has already been more than the usual amount of moisture this year.

This is certainly true regarding the North and South Plains of West Texas here, during the past two weeks heavy rains have been enjoyed, the total precipitation to date this year already exceeding the amount received last year for similar periods.

Uncle Sam's assistants in the Meteorological department at Washington say, in a general way, there will be plenty of moisture in most all sections of this nation for reasonable vegetation growth, and crops will not be hampered by exceeding heat during June, July and August. In other words, our honorable Uncle is not anticipating another drought year.

Along with this cheerful forecast, comes one just as rosy from the Department of Agriculture to the effect that while many sections are below normal crop conditions owing to excessive spring moisture, the general outlook is good and warrants the prediction of bumper crops of all kinds will more than make up for the shortages caused by lack of it last year. In this particular area much re-planting is having to be done because of heavy rainfall; but notwithstanding the added expense and delay of time, farmers are jubilant over the increased crop prospects because of abundant rains.

Putting these two reports together it makes the kind of news every reader likes to get hold of, and the kind of news every newspaper likes to print.

THE PREACHER

Someone is always writing about preachers and teachers, and seldom can you find space devoted to that humble servant known as the preacher. Maybe it hadn't been for the recent thoughtfulness of a Missouri editor you never would have had a pen-picture of the preacher, but he has thought to write one, and in the belief that citizens of Bailey county will enjoy reading it, we take the liberty of reproducing it—and here it is:

"The preacher has a great time. If his hair is gray, he is too old. If he is a young man, he has not had experience enough. If he has ten children, he has too many. If he has none, he is setting a bad example. If his wife sings in the choir, she is presuming; and if she does not she isn't interested in her husband's work. If the preacher reads from notes he's a bore, and if he speaks extemporaneously, he isn't deep enough. If he stays at home in his study, he doesn't mix enough with people; if he is seen around the streets, he ought to be at home getting up a good sermon. If he calls on the poor, he is playing the grandstand; if he calls at the homes of the wealthy, he is an aristocrat.
"Whatever he does, someone could have told him how to do it better. Yes, the preacher has a great time!"

"BUY AMERICAN"

Probably not one Muleshoe citizen in a hundred ever looks to see where the article he is purchasing was produced, though if more would do so, and made would refuse to buy products shipped into this country from abroad, conditions over here would quickly improve.

In China and Japan a wage equal to 15c a day in our money is considered fair; Germany is not much better and Russia and Belgium are not far behind. How can an American workman compete with wages like that, or how can living conditions over here be kept at their present standard if he has to?

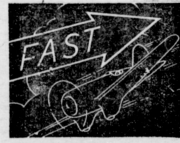

If more Americans would look to see where the merchandise they are about to buy was produced, and then refuse to buy it if it came from a country where starvation wages, long hours, sweat shops and unsanitary conditions are the rule it would go far toward solving this country's employment problems, and do much to prevent future depressions. "Buy American" should be every loyal American's slogan from now on.

MAILING MISTAKES

Uncle Sam put $230,000 in his pocket in 1936 because the public was careless in addressing mail. Exactly 12,350,000 pieces of mail went to the "Dead Letter office" because of insufficient addresses, and 108,464 of that number contained money, since there was no return address on the envelopes, and it could not be returned, the government got it. All of which should impress Muleshoe citizens with the importance of having a return card in the upper left-hand corner of every envelope they mail.

Gas is the FASTEST cooking fuel. New non-clog burners bring you a thousand even heats—all put into ACTION by the turn of a valve.

This day in time when printed return cards on envelopes are so inexpensive, and the only guarantee of a letter's return if it is improperly addressed, there is no excuse for mailing gone to the "Dead Letter office." Whether it is a business or a social letter, make sure your name and address is in the upper left-hand corner of the envelope in which it is mailed, then if it isn't delivered you will get it back, and have the satisfaction of knowing why it came back.

Jaunty Journalettes

There are a lot of men and women in and around Muleshoe who try to imagine they have poor health when all that ails them is laziness.

Those Muleshoe citizens who go to bed with the chickens have the advantage of getting up in time to get the eggs.

One of the best ways for a Muleshoe man to attain success is to find a location where everyone else is dumber than he is.

How some Muleshoe women can even pretend to be proud of their husbands is a mystery some other Muleshoe women can't explain.

The ant is a jucky little fellow. He has no government to take his savings and distribute them among the grasshoppers, yet how many Bailey county folks would prefer being ants!

To hear a Muleshoe man expressing hope there will be no more taxes added during this recent session of the legislature is a pleasant way of preparing the patient for the operation.

What has become of the old-fashioned Muleshoe man who used to drop two bits in the collection plate on Sunday and then expect heaven to bring him good luck the balance of the week?

CLIMBING THE LADDER OF LIFE

Address Given By Miss Irma Willis, Salutatorian of Muleshoe High School Graduating Class, 1937

Members of the School Board, Teachers, Parents and Friends:

As members of the Muleshoe High School Graduating class of 1937, we salute you and bid you welcome to our finishing exercises. Words fail to express our sincere appreciation for your love, patient kindness and labor in our behalf that has brought us to this good day when we step from these halls of learning on our way to higher departments of instruction, stepping up another rung on life's ladder.

"Climbing the ladder of life," is an old figure of speech; but it is just as potent and applicable in this present twentieth century as when it was first coined hundreds of years ago.

All true life is one of progress and growth; of going onward and upward. It is one of searching the inexplicable, conquering the mysterious and coming the unknown. Essentially it must be so that the innate yearning of human desires be calmed; for implanted within every human breast there is a virgin ambition that seeks satisfaction.

Ten, eleven, or perhaps twelve years ago the members of this graduating class came to the foot of this ladder. Since that time we have been steadily climbing. First in the ladder was the Primary rung, then came the rung of the Grammar grades. Now we have attained the rung of High school, and next will be that of College and the University, after which there will be many other rungs to surmount before real success has been attained; for these are but the preparatory rungs of life, and, as the ladder reaches upward the rungs become narrower and closer together, as our ambitions are quickened and our accomplishments heightened.

Enough to say that it is the desire of each and every member of this class to climb upward with unflinching reach until we have attained the topmost rung, in which the apex of our efforts shall have been crowned with the salutatory of the world's honors.

Not only has every student an ambition; but there is also within his mysterious voice approves. It encourages, cheers and enthruses us, so that we are stimulated to go on no matter what obstacles stand in the way of our ascent.

Every person who has ever risen to greatness, or who has accomplished what others called "impossible," has done so by listening to the voice within, which continually urged him to climb. From Columbus to Admiral Byrd, from Franklin to Edison, from Morse to Marconi, from Washington to Roosevelt—in every field of human achievement, it is the man who has obeyed the call to climb up higher who has done great things for this world.

When Abraham Lincoln was splitting rails in Illinois, when John Wainmaker was driving his first delivery wagon, a wheelbarrow in the streets of Philadelphia, when Thomas A. Edison was selling newspapers on trains, when Chief Justice Charles A. Hughes of United States Supreme court was but a young lawyer in a small town in New York—they were all obeying that inner voice that was urging them on to the realization of their ideals, and every step they took led them up the "ladder of life" toward the peak of their ambitions.

It didn't matter to them that others called them "fools, mad-men or dreamers." It deterred them not to be ridiculed, mocked, eliminated or persecuted. They followed the voice within that said: "You can, you will," so they each marked another step in the ladder of human progress up which the race is slowly but surely climbing.

So, my fellow classmates, I come to tell you tonight, that the ladder of our ascent reaches to the stars, and our climbing may be limited only by our vision. The way is wide open for the realization of our several individual visions, and our ascent up the ladder may be even to the topmost rung where, with our feet still on earth, our heads may soar amid the galaxies of other stars finding a place amid the blue zenith of world renown.

Yes, the developments of tomorrow may exceed our wildest dreams of today, for there is no name so secure in the Hall of Fame, no leader in any line of endeavor today; but who is not likely to be superseded by some one yet entirely unknown to fame. For ought I know, in the years to come that world favorite may tonight be a member of this graduating class.

So I salute you, my fellow classmates and bid you God-speed as you continue your climbing up the "ladder of life," trusting you may each and all some day reach its apex of success and satisfaction.

Success is never half so sweet as when shared with others. Tonight we wish you to join us in our happiness and make it your celebration, too. May you be as glad as we that you came.

WILLS-LITTLE APPROACHING MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

Wednesday night of this week, announcement of the coming marriage of Miss Irma Willis to Mr. Fore Little, to be consummated June 18, was made at a party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Mitchell. Both Miss Willis and Mr. Little are residents of Muleshoe.

Bowls of roses and honeysuckle were placed in profusion about the entertaining rooms, lending their fragrance and beauty to the enhancement of the occasion.

One of the most popular games of the evening was the putting together of a jigsaw puzzle. Each guest present was given a link to the puzzle. When completed, it revealed the announcement of the coming nuptials. The puzzle was a large wedding bell with a picture of a bride and groom. Beneath the picture were the names of the contracting couple with the date of the wedding. Talley cards used, further carried out the bride and groom effect, being adorned with quaint pictures of the bride and groom.

Another popular, but less exciting game, that furnished entertainment was "monopoly."

Very enjoyable evening was completed with refreshments of ice cream, topped with cherries, pink and white cake, with rusebub favors.

Those present were: Misses Eva Harry, Hazel Nelson, Eunice Griffiths, Mary Holt, Messrs Morris Garth, Walter Moeller, Francis Gilbreath, Lester Garth, the honorees, Miss Willis and Mr. Little, and the hostess, Mrs. Mitchell.

STEINBOCK-WIN

Miss Alma Steinbock, daughter of Mrs. Alma Steinbock of Lazbuddie, and D. W. Winn Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Winn, sr., of Muleshoe, were married Wednesday evening at Clovis, N. M.

They were accompanied by Miss Betty Bledsoe, L. S. Barron and the groom's uncle, R. L. Brooks and wife. The couple will make their home for the present at Lazbuddie.

Thursday evening the newly weds were graciously entertained with a dinner and shower by friends at Lazbuddie.

COST OF ROOSEVELT'S RECENT FISHING TRIP TO TAXPAYERS

A group of men at Middleton, N. Y., have figured out the recent fishing trip of President Roosevelt taken in Gulf of Mexico waters, and declaring it to be between $150,000 and $175,000 to the taxpayers of the nation. They figure at first may seem a little high; but when one considers the cost of manning the ships he used, one for himself and one for his accompanying party, with the maintenance of upkeep and repairs, it is said the estimated sum may be quite conservative.

Severe Grasshopper Infestation Threatens West Part of Texas

College Station—A grasshopper infestation equal to or worse than that of 1924 threatens a large portion of the state, according to R. R. Reppert, Extension Service entomologist. As the result of counts of eggs deposited last fall, Reppert forecast in April a severe grasshopper infestation, and reports from county agricultural agents indicate that the emergence of grasshoppers will be even more serious than anticipated.

Poison mash scattered around areas of concentrated egg deposits does much to control the insects before they do much damage, Reppert said. A state grasshopper control committee, with Reppert as state leader, has been set up to combat the infestation. This committee has requested 150 carloads of material from federal sources to use against the Texas grasshoppers. Congress recently appropriated a million dollars for this purpose.

A similar program in 1924 resulted in a saving of more than seven million dollars to Texas agriculture.
