tate Legislature as Convened ast Tuesday

The 46th Texas legislature assembled at Tuesday in an atmosphere of uncertainty caused by failure thus far of Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel to disclose where he wants to get the money which to enlarge old age pensions. Fensions, other social security programs, taxes and appropriations were the principal issues as the 181-member body embarked on a session which may open in history as one of the most tumultuous of the present generation.

O'Daniel, the radio entertainer whose election last year amazed the nation, a newcomer to politics but old heads will be in direct charge in both House and Senate.

One of the first things on the House agenda after convening of the Legislature at noon was election of R. Emory Morse of Houston, a seventh-year speaker, Coke Stevenson of Austin, the only man in recent history to serve twice as speaker, will precede the Senate after his inauguration next Tuesday as lieutenant governor.

There was no shortage of successful politicians in either branch. Seventy of the 150 house members and 23 of the 31 senators were members of legislature which 16 months ago aged down retiring Governor James Alfred's request for higher taxes for age pensions and other purposes. Aside from the house's choice of Morse, who was unopposed, and the Senate's selection of a president pro tempore, the only important matter on Monday's program was the scheduled announcement of personnel of the various senate committees named by Stevenson. The house chose their elective officers and determined how many employees they will have.

The legislature probably won't do all week except get organized and make preparations for O'Daniel's inauguration next Tuesday. The first session will start after the new governor's inaugural message the following day.

Daniel said at Fort Worth Monday night his message would answer the question of whether in his opinion old age pension money should be

"I'm going to tell them where they get the money," he asserted after opening completion of the first item of the document.

ore Home Grown ed Is Plan or Farmers

College Station.—More home-grown food for immediate use and storage on farms and ranches of Texas is contemplated in crop classifications of the A. A. A. for 1939, according to new rulings notified here by George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee of the A. A. A. Slaughter called special attention to "39 change which takes sweet sorghum and sudan grass out of the soiling class."

"This," he explained, will make more land available for grain sorghums, corn, non-commercial wheat and other cereal crops for which special allotments are not set up, and should add impetus to efforts of the Texas A. and College Extension Service to encourage the use of trench silos in Texas. Extension reports recently indicated that the number of trench silos filled in 1938 might reach 20,000 in Texas, a year which would mark the eighth successive year in which the number silos doubled the previous season's.

Other alterations in AAA crop classifications spelling a greater abundance of feed on Texas farms include provision that wheat on a farm having no wheat allotment is not soiling if used as a nurse crop for lemons or perennial grasses, providing a stand of the legumes or grasses obtained and the nurse crop is cut for hay.

Members of the fruit of interested summer legumes can be harvested or grazed off.

ASOLINE IS DOWN TO CENTS GAL

Automobile and truck owners and drivers took it as a sign of returning plenty when the high grade gasoline price in Muleshoe was reduced to 18 cents, or from 20 to 18 cents per gallon.

Whether the reduction affected other stations outside of Muleshoe territory was not known by local dealers.

Each college, Lubbock will ask for $1,862 for the coming biennial election account when the Legislature meets this week. The figure includes $1,000 for an agriculture building at Texas college, Canyon, has also asked for funds for a science building.

OCTOGENARIAN MOTHER DIES AT ORAN

Information was received here of the death of Mrs. M. M. Tennessee Smith, mother of Tom Smith, West Camp community.

She died Saturday, December 31 at the old family home at Oran, Texas, where she had been for sometime.

The deceased, who was in her eighties, was well known here and in the West Camp community where she resided for several years.

A Co-Op Meeting Planned Here For Jan. 22

Co-operative evangelistic services are being planned by three church denominations in Muleshoe, beginning Sunday morning, January 22, the services to be held twice daily, in the morning at 10:00 o'clock at the Palace theatre in co-operative manner, with Rev. R. J. Klump of Sudan in charge of the individual pulpit, speaking to his respective congregation.

Churches co-operating in the movement are the Baptist, Methodist and the Church of Christ, Guy M. Woods of Wellington representing the latter denomination in the union services to be held.

The Church of Christ will begin a separate revival meeting here next Sunday under the direction of Mr. Woods, with Rev. R. J. Klump in charge of the singing, this meeting continuing throughout that week, and then co-operating with the other denominations, beginning the 22nd.

The unified service will last only one week, ending on Sunday night, January 29, and people of all particulars and peculiar faiths are urged to attend and take part in the services.

It is particularly requested by Rev. Hamilton and Rev. Sharp that all organizations without any special programs contemplated during the meeting so there may not be any detractions from the services, and the loyal co-operation of all business concerns in attending the services is respectfully solicited.

Bailey Co. May Get Allotment Growing Of Vegetables

Information and instructions have been received at the local county farm agent's office from the Extension department, College Station, relative to the 1939 commercial vegetable allotments which will be allocated on each farm in a given county, according to J. C. Smith of that office.

Commercial vegetables are such vegetables or truck crops, including potatoes on farms where a potato acreage allotment is not established, sweet potatoes, small, sweet, corn, melons, cantaloupes, strawberries, commercial bulbs and flowers; but excluding peas and sweet corn for canning, also artichokes for use other than as vegetables, of which the principal part of such production is sold to persons not living on such farms. Counties to be included in such commercial vegetable allotment are those where the average acreage of land planted to commercial vegetables in 1936 and 1937 was three acres or more, Smith said.

Since there were many vegetable growers during these two named years who were not affiliated with the AAA program, it will be necessary for such growers, who do not have an official record of their plantings, to call at the county agent's office to obtain definite information for their personal plantings, Smith continued.

It is understood there is a possibility of securing a commercial vegetable allotment for Bailey county; but not unless there are enough acres reported to warrant such allotment. All commercial vegetable growers are, therefore, requested to report at the county agent's office as soon as possible, so the status of this county may be promptly known and a report officially made to College Station.

MRS. MCHORSE HOSTESS TO EXPERT STITCHERS

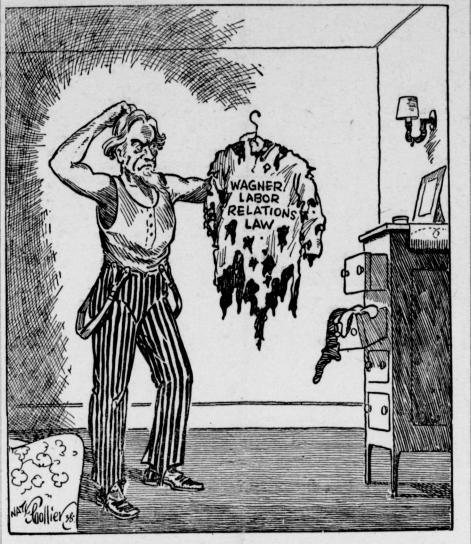

Members of the Needle Craft club were entertained in their regular meeting Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. W. M. McHorse.

Sewing and numerous kinds of needle work were done, after which tasty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess to the following members: Mesdames W. E. Renfrow, J. L. Alsip, M. G. Bass and Jessie Wright.

Members of the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Wright Thursday afternoon of this week.

Without figuring any possible sky-rocketing in age pensions, the Board of Control, Austin, predicted a $10,000,000 rise in the state's general deficit during 1939-41 biennium if no additional taxes were levied by the legislature.

THE OLD SHIRT NEEDS MENDING

HEALTHY PERSONS BEST LOAN RISKS FARM SECURITY ADMINISTRATION PERFECTS BETTER MEDICAL PLAN

Texas low income farm families who are cooperating with the Farm Security Administration, may soon receive emergency medical care at a cost corresponding to their income, according to a plan being considered by representative doctors in the various counties and officials of this agency.

The proposed plan, as announced by L. H. Hauter, regional director of the Farm Security Administration, provided this agency will make funds available to low income families so they may participate in a broadened medical care program.

We have embarked upon a medical aid program due to the growing need among low income farm families in many sections of Region 12," Mr. Hauter said.

"Quite aside from any humanitarian purpose, the FSA has found as a lending agency, that a family in good health is a better credit risk than a family in poor health. It has developed this medical aid program because it has found that good health is a necessary part of sound rehabilitation."

The program has been explained to the State Medical Associations in New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado; and the representative bodies of these groups have granted permission to the county medical associations to adopt such plan, if they desire. Three counties in New Mexico already have adopted the plan and funds were available January 1.

The plan has been operating in 11 counties in the Texas Panhandle for the past five months. Participating doctors report they are receiving a higher percentage of payment from families under this plan than prior to the inception. Cooperating families likewise report they are receiving more adequate medical care since the beginning of the program. Moreover the plan has very largely dissipated the fear unpaid emergency medical bills as a means to thwart their farming plans.

Mr. Hauter observed that in cases of unforeseen illness it is impossible for any family in the lower income levels to pay individually for hospitalization and special medical care without financial ruin; yet it is unfair to ask a physician to handle such cases for the funds available.

"The farming of such funds," he added, "serves as a form of voluntary protection against disaster for the patient and against unreasonable hardship for the doctor."

A. A. Glenn, specialist in charge of health services for this agency, sees in the plan a sane approach to preventative medicine. "In many areas," he says, "local physicians have served families in the past with little or no compensation and families have postponed requests for medical aid while ailments grow more serious."

In general, Mr. Hauter and Mr. Glenn say physicians are well pleased with the program. Most of the families served thus far have during the past few years been unable to pay anything, but are now able to pay at least a part if not all of their medical bills.

Bailey, Lamb, Cochran and Hookley counties are now participating in this new medical service program, according to J. W. McDermott, Bailey county supervisor, several unfortunate clients of the Administration having already obtained this service and at a saving of several hundred dollars.

Co-Ops Will Fight Gas Tax Repeat Law This Year

There were about 100 farmers, members of the local Co-operative gas and fuel association, and others similarly interested, who attended a meeting held last Friday night at the court house relative to taking some action against a proposed legislative repeal of the gasoline tax refund granted to farmers for certain use of gasoline in their farm business.

Joe D. Vaughn presided at the meeting, explaining its purpose and necessity of quick action on the part of farmers to retain the law. He took the names of all present, also financial contribution to assist in paying necessary expenses for sending delegates to Austin to object to the repeal action.

G. A. Sahil, auditor for the local concern, also spoke, explaining some of the merits of the co-operative order and benefits accruing to members of such associations.

O. C. Burgess, manager of the Co-operative organization at Amarillo, gave a lengthy history of co-operative action among farmers and others throughout the United States. E. H. Grimes, president of the Amarillo organization, spoke more definitely to the point of needed prompt action among co-operatives to protect their interests against large oil companies, chain stores, etc., who he declared are planning strong lobbies at Austin to influence the forthcoming legislature.

GOV. ALLRED LEAVES BIBLE VERSE BEHIND

As Gov. James V. Allred leaves the Capitol building this month he will leave behind him a verse marked in the historic Bible that lies on the governor's desk. The Scripture quotation is: "Man shall not live by bread (biscuits) alone," under the attenuating circumstances of O'Daniel's nomination, Allred believing such Scripture very appropriate.

The custom of marking a passage in the Bible for benefit of the incoming governor is said to have been originated by Pat Neff when he was governor of this state, and has been continued ever since by the out-going governors.

When Gov. Allred went out to office, his predecessor, Laramie Ferguson had marked for him the following: "Woe unto thee, Oh land, whose king is a child, and whose princes drink in the morning."

50-ODDERS MEET WITH MRS. A. P. STONE

Mrs. A. P. Stone was hostess to members of the Half Century club at her home in their regular meeting Thursday afternoon of last week.

A delightful afternoon was spent in sewing and doing various kinds of fancy needle work and visiting.

Those attending were Mesdames H. E. Musson, Mary Davis, Stella Eason, J. F. Wallace, Clara Young, and the hostess, Mrs. Stone.

REBECCA NAME NEW OFFICIALS

At a special meeting of the Rebecca Lodge at Sudan Tuesday evening, Miss Elizabeth Harden of Muleshoe, who is a member of that organization, was installed as vice-grand.

Mrs. Carrie Richardson of the Needmore community was installed as noble grand, Mrs. Lee Simms of Circleback, as secretary, Mrs. E. J. Sudan, treasurer, and Mrs. A. L. Carpenter, deputy.

1.58 Inches Rain Fall Here Over The Week End

All this Plains area of West Texas is rejoicing in a generous rainfall which visited this area last week end. Beginning Saturday morning it fell in a slow but continuous drizzle during the day, increasing in volume during the following night, until there was a total of 1.58 inches recorded here by Judge R. J. Klump U. S. Weather station. It was the largest amount of rainfall recorded here since 1921 when the government began keeping the local records. The nearest to this maximum figure was in 1936 when 1.24 inches, mostly snow, fell here.

The rainfall will be of inestimable value to wheat, young alfalfa, pastures and other winter growing crops of this section. This is especially true due to the fact that in last November there was only 34 inches of rain and in December, .08 inches of precipitation.

Weather conditions the first of this week still indicated an unsettled state of nature. Sunday evening there was a light snowfall here in Bailey county, extending on into Clovis, N. M. Reports coming in the first of this week are to the effect last weekend rain was quite general all over West Texas.

Wednesday morning there was some snowfall here for about two hours, but because of previous moisture, it all melted as it fell. Indications, however, as the paper goes to press, are for more precipitation.

Boys, Girls Defeat Amherst Teams In Basketball

Friday evening of last week the Muleshoe High school girls and boys basketball teams defeated the Amherst High school teams in fast moving and exciting games played here at the gymnasium.

The girls game, which was played first, concluded with scores of 32 and 19. The starting line-up of players on the local team were: Vodna Lyle Dell, Wanda Farrell and Beatrice Loe, guards; Kathryn Starkey, Loena Loe and Mary Haun, forwards. Maxine Harris went into the game in the third quarter as guard in Wanda Farrell's place.

The Muleshoe boys were winners in their game with scores of 39 and 25.

The starting line-up of boys on the local team was: Ivy and Winn, forwards; Bobby Jones, center; Walton and Black, guards.

At the end of the third quarter an entirely new team went into the game, being as follows: Long and Black, forwards; McNutt, center; Chitwood and Oliver, guards. Raymond Davis, substitute for Black earlier in the game.

Immediately following these two games the Muleshoe boys town team played the Amherst outside team, the latter being victorious with scores of 22 and 19.

Merle Witherspoon umpired the games, and a large crowd of basketball fans and interested citizens were present to witness the battles.

Tuesday evening of this week the boys and girls team from Bula school played match games here with the local teams.

At the time games have not been matched for this weekend as mid-term examinations are being given in the local school.

TAX COLLECTIONS IN FARMER CO. GOOD

That tax payments made in Farmer county, adjoining Bailey, are much better than in this county, is the state of affairs in last week's State Line Tribune, published in that city by Mrs. Bess Mansfield. The statement says:

"Tax collections for the year 1938 are considerably above normal. For this time year, according to Mrs. Bess Mansfield, deputy collector in charge of the tax division of Sheriff Earl Booth's office.

Mrs. Mansfield stated that the tax payments during the month of December were extra good and that payments for this year have been coming in at a very satisfactory rate."

Mrs. R. D. Hall, of China Grove, Scurry county, has a midget pig only four inches long, coming from a litter of 11, all others normal size.

O'Daniel To Be Inaugurated As 100,000 Visit

Enveloped in gayest festivity ever accorded an incoming governor of Texas, Governor-elect W. Lee O'Daniel will take oath of office January 17 while an anticipated 100,000 visitors gather in Austin to participate in "Homecoming" merrymaking of the common citizens.

Banners, flags, pennants, streamers of multi-colored lights studding a twelve block approach to the state capitol, scores of bands, and throngs of dancers will transform the entire city into an embazoned replica of movie screen triumph to climax the record-smashing victory that swept O'Daniel into office in the state primary in July.

A huge curved neon sign flashing "Welcome Gov. O'Daniel" will span the entrance to the capitol grounds. The governor's portrait has been processed on cloth banners for use as a centerpiece in each decorative unit in the business section. Two blocks of Congress Avenue north of the capitol will be roped off and decorated for dancing the night of January 17.

Plans have gone forward to hold the inauguration ceremonies for O'Daniel and Coke Stevenson, lieutenant governor-elect, who takes oath of office with the new governor, in Texas Memorial Stadium, this is especially true due to the fact that in last November there was only 34 inches of rain and in December, .08 inches of precipitation.

Weather conditions the first of this week still indicated an unsettled state of nature. Sunday evening there was a light snowfall here in Bailey county, extending on into Clovis, N. M. What's Happening In Washington And Other Cities Of Importance Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., Pittsburgh, have announced a wage increase restoring a 10 per cent cut to $500 of its 15,000 workers.

Prof. Felix Frankfurter, formerly of Harvard college, has been nominated by President Roosevelt to the Supreme court succeeding Judge Cardozo, resigned.

Paul V. McNutt, educator, former Indiana governor and once U. S. high commissioner of the Philippines, announced Monday his candidacy for the U. S. presidential nomination in 1940.

The time-honored practice of a witness in North Carolina sworn of killing the Bible when court is taboo by the Bar association of that state, in a recent meeting it being unanimously declared such procedure was obsolete, archaic and unsanitary.

Thom J. Mooney, for 22 years incarcerated in a California prison under conviction of having participated in the sensational San Francisco preparedness parade of 1916, wherein there was bloodshed and revolution, was last Saturday given a final pardon by Gov. Culbert L. Olson, that state.

Al Capone, once noted gangster leader, convicted and given a 10 year sentence at Alcatraz prison off the shore of California, has served his time and been transferred to a correctional hospital near Los Angeles where he will remain for another year. He is said to be afflicted with a serious brain disease.

C OF C WOULD HAVE TRADES DAY AGAIN

At the regular meeting of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce held last Friday noon the matter of reinstating the Trades Day events was discussed, all present apparently favoring the project.

Various methods of handling the events of the day and of financing it were discussed freely, several plans of merit being discussed. Before adjourning President Irving St. Clair appointed a committee composed of Cecil H. Tate, Ed Lane and W. M. McHorse to work out details of a plan and present it at the next meeting.

Peru has disposed of most of its cotton surplus.

Every Great Attempt is Glorious Even If It Fails

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! O Jonathan, thou wast slain in thine high places.—II Samuel 1:23.

I now know that wars do not end wars.—Henry Ford.

THEY COME AND GO

It was in 1932 that America's Public Enemy No. 1, started serving a ten-year sentence for income tax evasion. There were many who laid at the doorstep of "Scarface Al" Capone, but the law could act only with the charge as stated. There were many people, and some of them in Muleshoe, who believed Capone would not serve this sentence. His actual term in prison is shortened by good behavior despite the fact he is alleged to be one of the most hated criminals at Alcatraz and has been involved in a number of prison disorders. Capone, whose sentence is up Jan. 19, returns to Chicago a man greatly admired by these years of imprisonment. A recent examination shows him mentally deranged by his experience and this may confine him for a longer period.

The recent unveiling of a swindler posing as president of the nation's third largest drug firm, man of foreign birth who started in this country smuggling cheese, has wound up a colorful career in the biggest financial coup in our history. He had the admiration and respect of leading Wall Street financiers, was listed in "Who's Who," borrowed millions upon his company name for integrity and financial soundness, has mingled with the best people under the guise of a citizen of sound standing and vast influence both past and present.

Capone leaves Alcatraz to take up another life where his once powerful gang machine is no more. He enters the ranks of citizenship again, a sadder man. Do these outstanding examples of the fruits of lawlessness leave us a wiser people?

GUARD THE FARMER?

Investigation into un-American activities has unearthed evidence, says Chairman Dies, that the Communists will attempt to form a National Farmer Labor party within the next two years. Over a radio broadcast the farmers of America are warned to guard against such a movement, to be aware of this drive to set up a dictatorship of Communism among the tillers of the soil and the laborers of this nation.

Be this fact or fiction, the American farmer is alive to the situation, he is not asleep nor is he unaware of dangers from within as well as without, he reads his paper; he listens to his radio news. Today's farmer is hard to fool. Of course, there are many strange movements cloaked under the label of Americanism, but the farmer and laborer around Muleshoe can distinguish between intolerance and common sense.

Whether Mr. Dies is correct in his statement or if it is only a false alarm, the farmer and laborer can still tell the difference between a soap box and a lecture platform.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

In these days when red flannel is almost an oddity and winter underwear comes in less brilliant hue, we are recalled to the difference now and the times when the decided change of fall to winter meant the change from light weight into heavies, as certain as death and taxes. The winter may not be as severe as in the old days, but there are other changes to be noted as well.

One of our readers points to an account book for an example: The book shows the purchase of 10 yards of red flannel on April 10, 1934. Other entries showed eggs at 8c a dozen; shoes averaging $1.50 a pair, and brooms averaging 25c each; Coffee came at 50c a pound and tea $1 a pound. Candles, gunpowder, fur caps and whalebone for dress stays were listed as necessities. There were no items of cosmetics and silk hose.

Wonder if folks were less happy then for not having them.

CHECK IT OFF

This seems the proper time to make plans for our budgeting for this new year. All of us have hopes, dreams and ambitions to realize in 1939. Before we go ahead with these plans let us see how our slate for the year just past looks to us.

The best way to start a year right is to clear up the unfinished business of the old. This is true of debts. The best idea for keeping the head out of water for 1939 is to be sure there is no long overdue account riding the same wave with us, carried from '38, consider your purse, consider your indebtedness and consider your merchant.

The only way to continue to hold the good will of Muleshoe folks, is to see that your bills are not carried over from year to year. Start a new year with a clean financial slate if possible.

"Portales Needs a Museum," says a headline in the Forties, N. M., News, is Spud Greaves, its editor, admitting he is an old fossil and has no place to go?

One can not help but wonder why tax paying is better than ordinary in Farmer county and less than ordinary in Bailey county. These two counties join and conditions generally are about the same in both. Can some one explain?

Re-institution of Trades Days in Muleshoe is now spasmodically being discussed. If it receives no more hearty and general response in the future than it did in the past, there may be doubt as to its real value in a commercial way.

Meetings of various kinds are continually held in various Bailey county communities and attended by citizens from other neighboring towns. Meanwhile Muleshoe business men, while anxious for their patronage and good will, are invariably conspicuous for their absence. How about it Chamber of Commerce?

Washington WPA officials report there are too many young people on the farms, and more will have to go to the cities to find employment. The drift has already begun in Bailey and other West Texas counties, where the tractor is driving not only the young people from farms, but the fathers and mothers, also.

Thousands of Texans all over the state are looking forward to the time when W. Lee O'Daniel will officially "pass the biscuits" to them, and not only to the cities to find employment. They will have the anticipated flavor and nutrition—and if there will be very much gravy.

Bailey county farmers had a meeting here a few nights ago to protest of a threat to repeal the 4-cent gasoline tax refund granted them for use of gasoline in farm engines. It may be some consolation to them to know that in France farmers pay 50 cents per gallon for gasoline, while in the Sahara desert it costs for $4.00 per gallon and is hard to get.

Anyone who saw the old fire engine crippling along one day last week and bumping itself trying to get to a laundry fire in time to be of service, could not help pitying the mechanical critter. Apparently it is ready for a "pension." For sometime the City Commission has been trying to buy a new one; but indications are it has to be watchful to get what it had ordered.

President Roosevelt has nominated Felix Frankfurter, a 56 year old Jew, as a member of the U. S. Supreme court. There may have also been a method in his madness, as well as recognizing Frankfurter's ability, regardless of his race. Thus Congress for more reason than one will doubtless confirm the nomination, at the same time giving Hitler another whack over the head. Incidentally, not so long ago there was a report that Roosevelt had Jewish blood flowing in his veins.

Jaunty Journalettes

The Muleshoe man who borrows and runs away can scarcely hope to borrow another day.

If most of the Muleshoe folks saw ourselves as others see us, perhaps we would get a much better idea of what we really are.

Newspapers of recent date show us Muleshoe folks that the world is still full of fellows who feather their own nests by robbing some other bird.

Nearly any experienced Muleshoe man will tell you the best way to get a woman to talk is to tell her just to keep still.

We ran across a Muleshoe man the other day who impressed us that the grandest vision he could possibly have would be a mental picture of himself.

There are doubtless some Muleshoe women who think the reason some other women can't take a joke is because they have already taken one too many.

More than one Muleshoe young man has discovered, when he started out to "bring home the bacon," that it was an easy matter to get the wrong sow by the ear.

We've sometimes wondered why it is a Muleshoe woman invariably lowers her voice when she asks for something, and then raises it if it she doesn't get what she asks for.

SNAP SHOTS

One nice thing about wishing; there is no hard work connected with it.

There are always two sides to every question—your side and the wrong side.

America may have more crime than other countries; but by golly, she didn't raise nearly all the criminals that are in this country.

This is the season of the year when a fellow who runs his auto motor in a closed garage doesn't get a chance to talk about it.

It is generally conceded there are two things in this country that are better off when let alone—the Bible and the Constitution.

Recently we have wondered if anyone in Muleshoe has come across the devil Aimee Semple McPherson said she was going to chase out of Los Angeles several years ago.

Pavement Pickups
Attorney Cecil Tate says while he doesn't believe at all in criminality, it might be just as well for the State if the present session of its legislature become lawless.

D. L. Butts says when one goes into a store to buy merchandise they want to know if the article is "all wool and a yard wide"; but the time is coming when roads in Texas may be designated as being all cotton and at least two cars wide.

Jimmy Alsip and Cecil Spence were observing a fine looking young lady coming down the street a few days ago. "She looks like a nicely reared girl," remarked Jimmy. "Sure does," rejoined Cecil, "and she don't look bad from the front either."

A group of men, standing on a street corner the other day were discussing the continued cold weather, some of them wondering how and where was the coldest spot, when one fellow who had made a fortune in a recent financial appeal, declared it was on the north side of a banker's heart.

Attorney Fat Bobo who voted for Lee O'Daniel, was looking rather glum the other day, and when asked what was the trouble, he replied, "I was just thinking about O'Daniel; he will be sworn in the 17th of this month and from then on will probably be sworn at by most people in Texas. Such is life!"

"Plenty of Christmas packages were received here with the notice, 'Don't open until Christmas' marked on them according to A. J. Gardner, local postmaster; but one package arrived about a week before Christmas, marked, 'Don't unhook before Christmas.' A. J. is still wondering whether that advertisement was observed.

A young chap applying for a marriage license at the county clerk's office the other day, asked J. J. Williams why it was that beginning with this year one had to get an auto driver's license every year; but there was no such requirement regarding a marriage license. "That's easy," replied the County Clerk. "After a man is once married, he doesn't any longer do the steering."

A DAILY DOZEN FOR THE COMING YEAR

The Clarendon News plans the following dozen rules for success during 1939, which applies in Muleshoe as well as in Clarendon. These rules follow:

1. Cultivate the habit of persistence.
2. Make up your mind to do the things you dream of doing.
3. Plan the first step . . . and then begin.
4. Perform one hard task each day.
5. Control your habits by practicing self-denial.
6. Believe in yourself, in your ability to achieve.
7. Do not be turned from your purpose by failure. . . . Do not expect too much at first. . . . Keep trying.
8. Get the facts; don't guess or play hunches.
9. Concentrate; concentration develops sound judgment.
10. Skip the trifling and worthless in your reading. It will keep your mind sweeter, and leave you more time for constructive thinking.
11. Be courteous and considerate, never intolerant or self-righteous.
12. Be of cheerful spirit. More battles have been lost by frowns and more successes won by smiles than the world dreams of.

CO-OPERATION COUNTS

"It is not the guns and armaments Nor the funds that they can pay; But the close cooperation That makes them win the day. It is not the individual,

The Household

By LYDIA LE BARON WALKER

DECORATING the boy's room is something every mother who has a son finds intriguing. The lad spurns anything that savors of daintiness. He wants a real man's room. It is up to the mother to make the room as masculine in its character as she would make her daughter's room feminine in type.

Most boys delight in boats and boating, and this suggests a nautical room for home, school or college. Fortunately there are many emblems that lend themselves admirably to ornamental use, ships and boats, anchors and ropes, sea creatures and seaweed, lighthouses and rocky shores with waves and breakers, fishermen and oarsmen, etc.

Banks of Galley Oars.
One of the ancient ornamental conceits for weaving, rug-craft, and other craft arts is the galley oarsman. When you know the motif the stylized row of oars or banks, as they are termed, is readily distinguished in what seems to be a maze of design. The motif is, of course, adapted to the necessities of the craft, such as the warp and weft, or filler, as it is frequently termed today.

A large anchor with its chain and fastening done in applique or tufting makes an excellent center motif for a bedspread, and in somewhat smaller size, for the center of sofa cushion covers. Strips of undulating applique supply the wave motif to use as bands for a border. Or if tufting is employed, the wave motif can be done in this work. In plain embroidery chain stitch done in heavy yarns is quick and correct for chains.

Fish and Seaweed.
The fish and seaweed design is just the thing to use on towels, bureau scarf, and table covers. This printed pattern for fllet crochet or cross stitch by counted threads, can be had while it lasts, by sending ten cents together with self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope with a request directed to Lydia Le Baron Walker care of this paper.

Wall papers come in lighthouse patterns, seascapes, and ship designs. Or a plain wall paper can be the background for pictures featuring water, wharf, and marine scenes.

INVESTIGATE LAMB CO. COTTON ALLOTMENTS

Following considerable dissatisfaction over past cotton acreage allotments in Lamb county and the signing of a petition by more than 300 cotton growers of that county, a full investigation is being made by officials as to the real status of such allotments.

Individual criticism of not only individual allotments, but the methods of making them has been voiced in different sections of the county for many weeks past, says the County Wide News a Littlefield publication. It is claimed that in some instances farms of the value and low productive ability, have received allotments almost three times the best producing farm in the county, the News says.

WEEKLY LAY SERMON
PSYCHOLOGY AND RELIGION

By JESS MITCHELL

"healing" is perhaps one of the most important words in the language. It has to do with some of the most important phases of human behavior. It is the normal condition of being and health is the result of the Creator for all of us. It is far from being a mere word, it is a fact in that nearly all of us are affected by it. It is a fact in that nearly all of us are affected by it. It is a fact in that nearly all of us are affected by it.

ious diseases has come into vogue, and with much more positive and laudable results. Indeed, there is in these days a rapid rapprochement of faith and reason with very definite and favorable results hitherto unknown.

While I have a very decided appreciation for modern medicine and surgery, which can in no way be depreciated, yet I also have a rapidly growing appreciation for the increasing knowledge being attained by those sciences which have to do explicitly with mental and spiritual factors of the human being and which are so closely related to the physical it is being demonstrated daily they are inseparable, and what helps or hinders the one also helps or hinders the other. There are energies in personality that affect and are affected by physical functional and organic disorders, and it is also known that physical malconditions in turn are often concomitants of psychological uneasiness or even spiritual disharmony. Non-material energies may be used to adequately deal with supposed physical disabilities.

More and more it is being demonstrated that a reasonable working knowledge of psychology is all-important to people definitely engaged in religious work. As religious belief becomes more rationally intelligent and refined, the close affiliation of mind, spirit and body is more definitely being understood and realized. The rightful place of the professional psychotherapist and psychoanalyst is now generally approved, and their methods of treatment are rapidly being accepted as being as fundamental and important in relief of physical disease as that of the mental and spiritual kind.

Indeed, the time has arrived when religious psychology has become a quite well demonstrable science, and, fortunately ministers of religion have in many instances recognized it and are using it as the principal adjunct to soul healing and spiritual benefit of the human race. Undoubtedly there is plenty of room for advanced knowledge and technique in all professions; but especially so in that of the ministry, and I am constrained not in the attitude of criticism; but rather that of commendation that all ministers, and especially the pastor-preachers, should have a more adequate training in modern psychology.

I do not believe preachers generally should think of entering into the practicing of psychoanalysis and psychotherapy; but I am positively convinced from the experience of some who are now employing this science, that a working knowledge of it in numerous cases will be of incalculable value to their churchly work and to members of their congregations. Many pastors of today, with the very best of intentions, are little more than street-peddlers and professional door-bell ringers, when if they knew how to employ their pastoral time in a more definite and efficient manner the results would be far greater and much more satisfactory, both to the minister and the ones receiving his ministry.

Most of the theological seminaries of today have requirements of study in psychology; but these degrees of requirement are not sufficient. Perhaps it should also include some knowledge of physiology and anatomy, a given number of hours spent in a hospital familiarizing themselves with methods of surgery and materia medica, visitation and intimate knowledge of afflicted patients of different types as they lie suffering or convalescing upon their hospital beds. A minister should not only know something of crowd psychology; but he should also know something of how to make certain nerve-tests and be able to diagnose psychological disharmonies from certain physical signs existing in the subject.

Every day of his life the minister is meeting and dealing with people—people in all kinds of physical, mental and spiritual conditions. What an opportunity for the study of human behavior and of correcting such misbehavior! The minister is about the only one who has a carte blanche invitation into the privacy of his people's homes, entering unbidden and unsummoned, the only person outside the family circle so honored—and what an opportunity that is, if he be properly schooled, for diagnosing early beginnings of neurotic troubles or even psychosis. There are many physical diseases, psychosomatic effects of soul with body that the minister properly trained can, with a few intelligent conversations and suggestions, properly diagnose and satisfactorily alleviate. In fact, there are times when the minister may not only obviate much personal worry and suffering mental and physical even before the doctor arrives, and innumerable cases where troubles of various kinds may be alleviated without the services of the medical man. Indeed, medical physicians themselves completely baffled in specific cures because the physical disorder apparent is really one of a mental or spiritual kind, or both, which actually needs the services of a psychologist or metaphysician rather than one of materia medica.

King Solomon long ago reminded the Hebrews that the "heart" and the liver, the seats of fortitude and of furies were not situated very far apart in the human body; that they were closely related, and what affected one was likely to affect the other in more or less degree. Mystic religionists of all kinds—Christian Scientists, Theosophists, Telephists, Clairvoyantists, and others of similar ilk—have long recognized this fact, and cured many physical manifestations by treatment of mind and spirit.

I know of no two factors of human life more irrevocably wedded than are religion and psychology. Most psychological troubles are the result of faulty situations in life and knowledge of realities, and in numerous instances religion, intelligently presented, offers great alleviation and proper adjustment. Often folks will confide secrets of their inner lives to ministers when they would not think of revealing them to doctors. Psychological illness is often the result of selfishness and sin of some kind. Sex tangles, fears, worries and bad habits of various kinds often set up complexes of various kinds, inhibitions produce nerve tensions and perversions of various types more readily respond to, psychological treatments than they do to those of materia medica.

In reality the very essence of pastoral work is one of religious training both through suggestion and by direction. From the young child to the oldest person there is much need for increased intelligence in the various avenues of actual life, which can be accomplished much more readily and satisfactorily by the trained minister than by the skilled doctor. Indeed, the most efficient minister is the pastor who enjoys the highest respect and confidence of the doctors of the community in which he lives, unless it be one of those cases where the physician is faulty in his own training and experience, a few cases of which I personally know.

Ministry and medicine, psychology and pharmacopoeia, prayer and preparation, the doctor and the preacher should stride hand in hand toward the general betterment of the human race. The clergyman is fundamentally a physician of the soul, the medical man a physician of the body. These two working together may accomplish incalculable results for the physical and spiritual health of humanity. It goes without saying that every doctor should himself be a practitioner of religion of some kind, and it is my firm belief that only as he cultivates his own spiritual faculties can he accomplish the most

LITTLEFIELD EDITOR PUBLISHES THE H. D. A. REPORT, DECLARING SUCH WORK "WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD"

The County Wide News, published at Littlefield, in Lamb county, last week published the commendable annual report of its county home demonstration agent, and then commented upon it as follows:

"Folks living in town, are often too prone not to see or realize what is being done and is going on in the rural community which surrounds them.

"We see new homes being built, others improved, yards being beautified, new business buildings, an addition to the schools, and countless other things here in town, but do not always realize that the country folks are not lagging behind—that they improve and keep abreast—often ahead of the towns which they regularly visit and patronize, for the many things which they need and must buy.

"And so it is with pardonable pride, that we call your especial attention to the published reports of the several Lamb County Home Demonstration clubs, and the report of the County Home Demonstration agent, which in a measure tell you, what the women of rural Lamb county are doing to improve their homes and their county—in making West, Texas a better place to live. They do not follow—they lead—in home improvement.

"Another reason for our calling your attention to these reports, is the fact that in one nearby county, Bailey, a movement got underway a few weeks ago, and the Commissioners' Court without warning, voted to abolish the office of County Home Demonstration agent. A few days later they rescinded that action—but the matter is still in doubt.

"Lamb county cannot afford, must not even countenance the thought of such an action here, although we are glad to say that, so far as we know it has not been suggested.

"These Home Demonstration clubs are doing more to promote better homes, better diets, better health in the rural areas, than any other one thing. And the opportunity they afford to bring a bit of needed social life to many rural women—is well worthy its weight in gold."

40,000 Acres Are Contoured In Co. Last Yr.

Notwithstanding the Bailey county farm agent has been greatly handicapped in his avowed endeavors as a county agent because of governmental work requirements which necessitated approximately 95 per cent of his time and labors, a brief survey of his farm work accomplishments during the past year show some very definite and forward results.

The use of contour rows was employed on more than two hundred additional Bailey county farms in 1938 covering nearly 40,000 acres according to reports gathered by W. C. Taylor, county agent. The agent personally conducted demonstrations in contour work on 22 farms, the amount of land surveyed being approximately 3,500 acres. Value of this work varies with the amount of rainfall ranging from one to four dollars per acre.

Although records of performance by farmers of Bailey county in agricultural conservation work are not yet complete, County Agent Taylor's annual report for 1938 indicates that farmers are taking advantage of recommended soil-building and conserving practices in connection with their acreage control of cotton, wheat and other basic crops.

Based on values given the various practices by the Agricultural Adjustment administration, this part of the program alone totaled $2,528. Practices engaged in which are recommended either for moisture conservation or wind erosion control were: plowing under green manure crops, strip-cropping, cover crops, summer fallow, contour listing and the growing of crops on the contour.

Farmstead windbreaks in Bailey county were planted in 1938 on 29 farms where 4300 young trees of six varieties were used, Chinese elm was the predominant variety. The county agricultural and home agents worked in cooperation with farm people in this phase of work. The agents held three method demonstrations in as many communities on planning layout, land preparation and setting trees where those in attendance were instructed according to accepted procedure.

There are now in Bailey county approximately 100,000 acres of contoured land, and while terraced land is considerably less in acreage, it will probably total around 4,000 acres. Farmers of this county who have employed terrace and contour methods for moisture conservation are unanimous in their approval of such approved methods.

Muleshoe, Farwell National Farm Loan Association Combined And To Be Located At Muleshoe

The Federal Land Bank and the Land Bank Commissioner have tentatively approved the consolidation of the Muleshoe and Farwell National Farm Loan associations, according to L. W. Jordan, manager.

In a joint meeting of the boards of directors of the two associations in Muleshoe, December 29th, the consolidation was approved, and it was voted to change the name to the "Western National Farm Loan Association," with permanent headquarters at Muleshoe.

The directors elected to head the new association are D. C. Stovall and J. T. Gilbreath of the Muleshoe association, and Geo. W. Bolton, B. T. Hendrickson and Fred E. Kephley of the Farwell association.

A stockholders meeting has been called for January 17 at 2:00 o'clock p. m., at the court house in Muleshoe, so that final action may be taken regarding the consolidation.

The territory covered by the new association in curing the physical difficulties of its patients.

Everyone, when they go to church, like to hear an interesting and inspiring sermon from the minister, and they are entitled to that mental and spiritual rejuvenation in congregational worship; but after all, it is in personal private conversation with the individual members of a given congregation that the minister is able to clinch concrete spiritual results, many of which had their beginnings in the church auditorium.

If one had a dozen jugs to be filled with water, and, taking a bucketful cashed it at the jugs, a few drops would probably get through the small neck of each jug; but the most of it would be wasted. Preaching is like throwing that bucket of water at the jugs; but pastoral work, efficiently done is where the minister gives particular attention to the personal filling of each individual human jug; that is good applied psychology in behalf of religion!

association is Bailey, Farmer, Deaf Smith, Lamb and Cochran counties. There are now 555 Bank loans and 308 Commissioner loans serviced through the association, totaling approximately $2,500,000.00. The annual loan maturities total approximately $130,000.00, and the total collection during the past year amounted to $169,000.00. Both the Muleshoe and the Farwell associations have been advanced to class one and this, combined with the good payment record made by the borrowers, has made possible the consolidation.

With the associations combined, it will form one of the strongest national farm loan associations in the state, with total assets of approximately $100,000.00, which will be a decided advantage to all borrowers.

EASTERN STAR TO HOLD MEMORIAL

Tuesday evening of this week, members of the Eastern Star met at the hall for the first meeting of the new year, with Mrs. Zula Carlyle, worthy matron in charge.

Miss Elizabeth Harden gave a report of a recent meeting at Olton, when that chapter was granted its charter. Mrs. Bonnie Isaacs efficiently read the minutes of the previous meeting and reported business that required immediate attention.

Legion Boys Spend 19 On Cemetery Improvement Here

The local post, American Legion, has just purchased an additional 20 acres for cemetery purposes, it adjoining the old plot, and appropriate improvements are to be made on the new tract in the near future.

The Legion became trustee of the local cemetery association in October, 1935, and since that time has expended much time, labor and money in the improvement of the local burial grounds. To date there has been a total of $619.96 expended for direct improvements, that sum having been contributed by people of Muleshoe and surrounding area.

Principal expenditures have been for clearing water about the cemetery, setting out trees, and dressing the lawn, is now being planned to build a building on the recently purchased tract to be used as a home for the caretaker to be employed, and it is hoped that rapid advancement may be made in beautifying and maintaining the old plot.

Letters are being mailed out this week to lot-owners in the cemetery asking for money donations for such things and other needed improvements which will put this plot in burial in an improved condition in line with other spots and which are greatly appreciated by all, especially those having loved ones buried there.

Members of the Legion have a very real desire to make the local cemetery one of the beauty spots of this county, and with this intention, will see that such is accomplished in the coming months. All who are interested in the beautification and improvement of this plot are asked to be liberal with their donations. Members of the Legion are keeping an accurate account of all receipts and expenditures, and will be glad to give an accounting at any time to anyone so interested.

Congressman Mahon Is Appropriation Committeeman

Washington, Jan. 18.—Official announcement was made this week of the election of Congressman George Mahon by the House of Representatives to a place on the Committee of Appropriations. The place is considered a highly desirable one and is much sought after among the members of the House. Only two Democratic members were elected at this session. His membership includes 25 Democrats and 15 Republicans, Mahon being the only member from Texas.

Since the committee on Appropriations is a major one and has a heavy schedule of hearings throughout the sessions, a Democratic member is not permitted to serve on any other standing committee of the House.

Mr. Mahon leaves posts which he has held through two terms in Congress on the Committees on Civil Service, Insular Affairs, Census, and Elections.

REA OFFICE NOW ON MAIN STREET

The Rural Electrification Administration office, which has been located in the court house at Muleshoe for the past few months, was last week moved to a new location on Main street in the building previously occupied as the Panhandle Lumber Co. office.

The new location has considerable more room than the old, which will make it more convenient for the business to be carried on. Cecil McLaury is office manager in the new offices.

HOT SHOT CAFE IS NOW SOLD

"D" Hot Shot cafe in operation in Muleshoe for the past few years was closed the first of this week.

Mrs. C. J. Roach and daughter, who have been managing the business, recently went to Lamesa where Mr. Roach has been in the cafe business for several months.

At this time it is not definitely known who will occupy the Moeller building vacated by the Hot Shot cafe, according to Walter Moeller.

'Vintage Years' for Perfumes

Everyone knows that wines have certain "vintage years" when sun, rain and all other conditions combine to produce grapes which give an unusually fine product. These years do not come frequently and wine of a "vintage" year generally brings a much higher price. Few persons know that there are also "vintage years" for perfumes.

These are seasons when climatic conditions are such that the flowers are more luxuriant, richer in fragrance, more abundant in variety. Many of the great perfume houses stock up in these vintage years, to protect themselves against crop failures, etc.

Chitwood and Family Again Travel The Prosperity Road

Numerous instances are now on record where Bailey county families through assistance of the Farm Security administration have been able to pull up from out of the pit of economic depression and start again on the road of prosperity. The subject of this week's story is Otto Chitwood and family of Sledge who have made a commendable recouping record during the past three years.

In the spring of 1936, Mr. and Mrs. Chitwood had no farming equipment nor livestock. He borrowed enough from the Farm Security administration to purchase four horses, one cow, 20 hens, feed for livestock, and the machinery necessary for working the 160 acres of land he has rented.

During that year, improvements and repairs were made on the house, fences and yard. Mrs. Chitwood raised a good garden and canned about 300 quarts of vegetables.

In 1937 Mr. Chitwood bought another cow and three pigs. He had to purchase only a small part of the feed for his livestock. A good garden was raised again and Mrs. Chitwood was able to can enough vegetables to fill her canning budget. The poultry flock was increased to 60 hens.

Mr. and Mrs. Chitwood remained on this same farm in 1938. This time no feed needed to be purchased for the livestock. An increase from his cows made three good milk cows. The surplus milk from these cows netted $40.00.

Since the poultry flock was not a very productive one, it was culled out and some better baby chicks were bought. A new chicken house was built to care for this increase. At present, Mrs. Chitwood has 140 pullets and hens on hand which are being well cared for and fed. They have already begun to lay good producers.

Due to a lack of sufficient water supply, the garden yield was lower than the two former years. However, trades were made which helped to get a fair supply of fruit and vegetables for canning. More than 300 pounds of vegetables have been dried or stored.

Two hogs and one calf will furnish all the necessary meat and lard for the coming year.

The Chitwood family had made such a good record on farming and had improved the home surroundings so much that the landlord became interested. He furnished lumber for Mr. Chitwood to add a larger room to the two which were quite inadequate for a family of five. He has also furnished material for a cellar which is being dug and built.

Mr. and Mrs. Chitwood are looking forward to a better and more profitable year in 1939. The sales from the surplus supply of cream and eggs will furnish all groceries needed to supplement the meat supply and canned food now on hand.

Mr. Chitwood's progress and reputation has enabled him to secure a three year rental contract on his farm rather than for just one year. This within itself will be of much benefit to himself and family.

Hog Cholera In 20 Counties Means Big Swine Loss

That hog cholera is becoming prevalent in this area is the expressed opinion of several countrymen recently one man reporting the loss of $300 worth of hogs a few days ago, while there are several other swine growers in Lamb, Bailey, Lynn, Farmer, Cochran and Hockley counties who have been similarly disasterously affected.

The shipping in of unvaccinated hogs from East and Central Texas is given as the primary cause of the cholera epidemic over much of this area, and which, according to report, has resulted in a quarantine being placed by the State on 20 counties in this section, such order requiring hogs to be vaccinated before entrance of the quarantine area.

Dr. A. J. Lewis, Lubbock of the Animal Husbandry department, U. S. Department of Agriculture, declares the disease is wide spread at this time and both growers and buyers must exercise every precaution possible to keep it from their herds. No hog should be purchased without being properly vaccinated, he says.

MULESHOE STUDY CLUB HAVE ARTIST PROGRAM

Sixteen members of the Muleshoe Study club met in regular session Thursday night of last week at the home of Mrs. J. W. McDermott to hear a program on "Great Artists."

Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner ably presided as program leader and first presented Mrs. Dee Walton, who read a paper on Leonardo Da Vinci, the great Italian artist of the high renaissance period.

Next Mrs. A. A. Alexander discussed Jean Francois Millet, the well-known French artist remembered for his "Angels" and "The Gleaners." Mrs. Julian Leland brought the program to a close by telling of D. Rivera, the great Mexican painter, who has attracted worldwide attention with his murals.

Members answered roll-call by naming an artist and the work for which he is best known.

Following the program, Mrs. Clay Beavers took charge of the business meeting. Mrs. A. A. Alexander made a report on Christmas baskets prepared for distribution by the club. Mrs. Ray Moore told of a visit to the Junior Study club at Sudan.

After adjournment the hostess served tasty refreshments and guests enjoyed a social hour.—Reporter.

Malnutrition Is A Matter Of Public Concern Says Dr.

Austin, Jan. 17.—"The past half-decade has seen malnutrition become a matter of concern to public health officials, physicians and teachers in Texas. It is estimated that 50 per cent of the school children in the state are malnourished to some degree. And in view of unemployment and adverse economic conditions among certain groups of the population, malnutrition is being greatly intensified," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"Strictly speaking, malnutrition is not a disease but rather a condition due to poor or faulty nourishment. The child is usually thin, though he may be fat or flabby. He is often pale, with dark hollows under his eyes, lacks muscular tone, has round shoulders and in the more advanced stages, malnutrition produces a child with a narrow and flat chest, protruding abdomen and without spirit or mental vigor.

Specific causes of malnutrition are insufficient or unsuitable diet, wrong food habits, insufficient sleep, chronic fatigue, lack of exercise, disease, physical defects and an element of heredity. "Malnutrition in itself justifies concern. However, the results of malnutrition present the biggest problem and involve stunted growth, anemia, nervous irritability and diminished energy. Its most serious consequences, moreover, is increased susceptibility to disease and lack of resistance to it. Too, the relation between malnutrition and tuberculosis is conclusively and pathetically established. In short, malnutrition is an abnormal condition which if it is permitted to continue, in many cases, results in serious illness and possible death." Dr. Cox further stated.

"Increased malnutrition is facing not only Texas, but the nation at large. A well balanced program of meals is the best weapon against it. Parents must realize the importance of an intelligently applied dietary. Communities can ill-afford to underestimate this vital and elemental factor in their welfare activities.

"It is not too strong a statement to make that malnutrition among our youth, especially among the families of the unemployed and the local economic straits, represents a powerful enemy against the nation's future welfare. Intelligent action is needed to successfully combat it.

"The State Health Department of Texas is doing its part and will send free of charge nutrition information and sample menus embodying the principles of well-rounded dietary to anyone who request it. A penny post-card addressed to the department will bring this information by return mail.

JUST WHAT HAPPENS IN AN HOUR!

A Cloquet, Minn., correspondent has emerged from a maze of vital statistics-census and industrial production figures with some interesting facts which he titled "What Happens In An Hour." In every sixty minutes of the day, he estimates, the following transpires: Sixty-two hundred babies are born. 2,500 couples are married and 85 divorced; textile industries convert approximately 1,000,000 pounds of silk into 600,000 pounds of rayon into fabric; the world consumes 65,000,000 pounds of potatoes, 8,000,000 pounds of meat and 80,000,000 pounds of bread; her day 2,500,000 eggs; 1,500,000 quarts of wine and 500,000 quarts of beer are consumed; 50,000,000 cups of coffee are consumed; 700 new automobiles are built; $1,500,000 is spent on tobacco; 170,000 barrels of petroleum are produced; the coffers of the world enriched by $12,000 worth of gold mined; 5,000,000 telephone conversations take place and over 65,000 telegrams are sent; the post offices of the world are deluged with more than 600,000,000 letters, post cards, etc.; 18,000 feet of photographic films are exposed; paper mills produce about 2.0 tons of paper and more than 1,000,000 copies of newspapers are printed.

Now we know why the economist always fails when they try plan our economic life. It reminds of a beach combing trying to push the ocean with a broom.

SANTA FE CO. GIVES CANNING HISTORY

The history and development of widespread canning industry is illustratively depicted in a booklet entitled "Delicious Foods in Tin and Glass" published by the Santa Fe Railway copy of which the Journal acknowledges receipt.

The booklet also points to the railway's part in aiding the industry far flung markets. Attractively illustrated, it carries the reader from first practical attempt to preserve food in 1782 down to the present day in virtually every table staple is put under glass or tin.

ANYONE WHO THINKS PREACHING IS A CINCH OUGHT TO GET A CALL TO SUCH WORK SAYS REV. HAMILTON

Overhearing a remark on the streets a few days ago which aroused his Irish in other words his righteous indignation Rev. F. B. Hamilton, pastor Muleshoe Baptist church, proceeded to unload on the Journal editor that such "unloading" might be passed on to the public in a correctional way.

"I have heard that remark make before," he said, "by people who perhaps meant well; but didn't know what they were talking about. There are some folks who know little about a minister's activities other than the sermon they hear on Sunday; but really a preacher who is vitally interested in his church and the welfare of his congregation, generally finds more to do than he can accomplish in reasonable union hours of labor."

The Mustard Fight

By RUBY H. MARTIN

MRS. CURTIS and Marie hadn't acted as usual. Will Norden felt an unmistakable discomfort in the atmosphere when he opened the back door of the farmhouse and entered the warm kitchen where they were washing the mid-day dinner dishes...

SHORT SHORT STORY
welcome, the young man knew he was regarded as an intruder upon this home where he had long been so friendly...

Will returned. "We expect Jimmie on the 19th. He's going to meet him at Dover Junction."

Then he heard the Limited whistle at the nearest crossing, the sound coming from the north through the stormy air...

The brakes squealed. The engineer jumped down to nurse the hot box. A car door was opened and the conductor got down...

"Wait a minute!" called Will. "Your train's going to be late."

"We'll get started over!" ejaculated Will, gripping his arm without remorse. He saw now that the man was flushed with fever and gasping for breath...

He had his hands full. That fellow's bare feet went into a hot mustard bath. Will tied poultices on various writing surfaces...

"Keep out!" he remonstrated, "I don't know what may be the matter with this sick man!"

"But I'm not!" flashed Marie, stripping off her heavy sweater. More mustard! Yet they must husband the scant supply!

"You must be caring for me makes it different?" He whispered tenderly, and felt the tighter clinging of his hands...

The sick man murmured in his fitful sleep. Will's prompt action had saved his life. But Will heeded none of that with the girl he loved in the shelter of his arms...

GRASSHOPPER INFESTATION DAMAGE IN WEST TEXAS MAY REACH TOTAL OF $15,000,000 SAY OFFICIALS

While there has been no definite check-up of probable grasshopper devastation in Bailey county during the coming spring and summer months, yet present indications point to an uncertain crop loss of from one to 10 per cent, according to available information.

That the 1939 grasshopper infestation in some counties of West Texas may be greater than it was last year, is the conjecture of the Agriculture Extension department, College Station, probable losses being placed at about $15,000,000 unless control methods are practiced.

Most of the Texas damage will come from the migratory species, so far confined to the Panhandle, where 23 counties are threatened. It is expected that 17,577 tons of poison bait material will be needed of which 13,428 tons will be used to control the migratory hoppers.

These figures come from R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service and state grasshopper control leader, and are based on egg surveys conducted by federal supervisors and county agricultural agents in 115 Texas counties.

Grasshoppers deposit eggs in pods in grass roots along ditches, fence rows and in open pastures. Each pod contains from 75 to 100 eggs, and the number of pods in selected areas gives a valuable index as to the infestation to be expected in the following year.

The egg surveys have proven to be startlingly accurate, and Reppert's estimates of the past three years have been almost exactly correct.

"The migratory hoppers of the Panhandle was found laying eggs even more extensively and abundantly than the previous year," the entomologist commented.

"In many places, as many as 30 egg pods per square foot were found, equivalent to 1,800 eggs."

Extensive areas of migratory hoppers were destroyed in 1938 by batteries of mechanical spreaders drawn by National Guard and State Highway department trucks, and 550 of the spreaders were built last year.

The 1938 infestation caused losses totaling $1,766,908, while savings estimated at $1,028,988 were effected by the control campaign.

The ratio of savings to losses was 9 to 1 in 1938 as compared to 2 to 1 in 1937. Approximately $200,000 of federal funds, administered through the United States Department of Agriculture Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, were expended on the 1938 campaign in Texas, while the local contributions of material and labor was somewhat in excess of this amount, Reppert said.

Plans already are being made to combat the 1939 infestation through the federal-state-county plan in effect in previous years. County agriculture agents, as in the past, will head up the campaign in the various counties.

IRRIGATION MACHINERY IS BEING STOLEN

A theft ring that specialized in stealing of irrigation machinery in H county and adjoining areas is broken up with the arrest of four living in Plainview now held on 10 and burglary charges.

During recent weeks irrigation machinery and accessories, consisting of engine heads, carburetors, batteries, pumps, etc., and in at least one instance an entire pump system, all having a value of several hundred dollars has been stolen. Very little of the machinery and parts have been recovered, according to Sheriff O. R. Martin that county.

What's Happening In Washington And Other Cities Of Importance

The German government has announced it declines to guarantee the safety of U. S. citizens in that nation without regard to race or creed.

Bananas last week were sold in Moscow, Russia, for the first time since the World War. The price being about $1.50 per pound.

With more than 3,000 bills already dropped into the hopper of the national legislative body, and still plenty more to come, Congress seems to have the idea "there ought to be a law."

The U. S. Mint bureau announces a total of 15,056,308 ounces of gold produced by mining in this country during 1938, a record production being 9,000,000 ounces more than was produced in 1937.

It is now being rumored that Justice Brandies, of the U. S. Supreme court, who has been in ill health for some time past, may retire, thus giving opportunity for appointment of another Roosevelt-minded man on the bench of that high tribunal.

With the House division of Congress having already cut down President Roosevelt's request for WPA funds about a million and a quarter dollars, indications now are the Senate may make allotments to states on the basis of population also requiring state funds be contributed to such type of relief.

That Nazi Germany now not only has the largest air force the world has ever seen, but is now turning out daily more than five times as many first class fighting planes as England and France combined, is the information the U. S. has just obtained. It is said that nation now has more than 9,500 military aircraft and is turning out about 36 completed planes daily.
