TWO PLEAD GUILTY TO SWINDLING IN COURT

Herman Vanatta and Dan Buxton, truck drivers, pleaded guilty to charges of "swindling" in County court Thursday of last week and were assessed fines of $100 and costs each.

From available information it ap- pears Vanatta and Buxton were op- erating trucks for one Jim Burke, the trucks being very similar in ap- pearance; but one weighing 670 pounds more than the other, and it is alleged the light truck would be weighed empty, after which the heavy truck would be weighed containing the load, resulting in a supposed extra weight of 670 pounds of grain in the truck.

The men are said to have been haul- ing grain in this specific manner, three loads having been hauled from the H. E. Schuster farm when discovery of the method was made.

Burk is said to have made good in payment for the difference in loads, also, paying the fine and costs for the two men said to be in his employ.

Legislature May Submit Additional Taxes To Voters Of The State In Constitutional Amendment

Austin, March 7.—If the people of Texas want to assume a new tax bur- den of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 a year in order to pay liberal pensions to aged people, school teachers, dependent per- sons and those with impaired eye-sight they are going to have to say so with votes at the ballot box, sometime this summer.

That appears to be the consensus of informed opinion in Austin this week, as the House of Representatives sent all of the various tax bills it has received to a subcommittee with instruc- tions to bring out recommended legis- lation without delay. Whatever tax plans are submitted to raise the social security money, they will, in the opinion of those closely in touch with the situation, be incorporated in one or more constitutional amendments.

This Legislature appears at this time entirely unwilling to heap that much tax burden upon the citizens without a direct mandate at the ballot box. So the prospect is that this will be an entirely tax session of the Legislature.

Whether the constitutional plan in- corporating a tax program will be a series of amendments, offering alternate proposals, such as a sales tax, a "use" tax, a transaction tax, an income tax, a gross receipts tax, and increased nat- ural resource taxes, or whether it will be a single "omnibus" amendment, in- cluding several of these tax plans, de- pends entirely upon the prevailing sentiment among members of the House committees on taxation and re- venue and on constitutional amend- ments.

The familiar arguments against each of the tax forms mentioned have been heard by the legislators from spokes- men from each of the affected groups. The sales tax, obviously is a burden upon the lower income group—the farm- er, the laborer and the small salaried worker. The transaction tax is a multi- ple sales tax, with its evils and burdens multiplied. The gross income and "use" taxes are but sales taxes, with the collection method simplified. The nat- ural resource people claim they are approaching the breaking point in their ability to pay further taxes. The protests from representatives of almost every economic group, including, farm- ers, labor, manufacturers, retail mer- chants, oil men and consumers have poured into Austin until many of the legislators are convinced that the best way out of the maze is to check the problem back to the people. They think that the voters who are at work, trying to make a living, edu- cate their children, pay their taxes and carry on a normal life, may be shocked into backing the legislators in a sane and sensible social security pro- gram that will take care of actually needy people, and not attempt to play Santa Claus to everybody in the State. They point out that this type of citi- zen still outnumber the group who want "something for nothing," and may predict that if the legislature checks it back to the people as a whole to write the formula for extracting $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 additional taxes from their depleted incomes, they may go to the ballot box and turn thumbs down on the "pensions for everybody" pro- gram of the demagogues and profes- sional pension agitators.

DOC BRINKLEY MAY OPPOSE O'DANIEL

It is said that Dr. John Brinkley may oppose Governor O'Daniel next year. Both are from Kansas; both are radio performers; both are supracale- man; both have a yen for hillybilly music.

Doc Brinkley has been at the job of leading people much longer than W. Lee. The doc came mighty near being elected governor of Kansas on the independent ticket.

If the program of the Governor turns out to be such a flop as Austin politi- cians are predicting and hoping, wou- ld the people of Texas would be fooled again—and by Doc Brinkley, got stand fame.—The Canyon News.

Muleshoe Buys A New Fire Engine And More Hose

The City of Muleshoe has purchased for a new fire eng' pumper type, equipped pumps and Ford V-8 M power engine, capable 700 gallons per minute.

A demon- stration of the engine was given at Amarillo found to meet all... by the production com- mittee.

The city also purchased an additional 1,000 feet of standard fire hose and 500 feet of smaller hose so all fire plugs, no matter the distance, will be available for use in case of fire.

The old fire engine is to also be re- tained as a standby, and will be avail- able for use when and if needed.

The new engine and additional hose cost approximately $4,300 delivered. HOME SPUN FARMING NEEDED

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

The pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow still eludes the eager fingers of the hopeful who have been waiting for some magic of government to boost them into prosperity. There are not going to be enough homes for the homeless, enough farms for the landless, enough jobs for the jobless, enough pensions for the aged, to be handed down by some legislative legerdemain of dividing up the wealth already in existence. Government can help and is helping but there will never be "farm security" for those who lean too heavily on outside props and fail to make the most of their own resources at home.

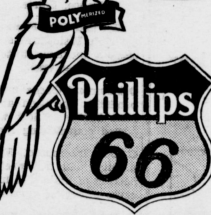

Good home living grows where it is planned and tended, not in legislative halls at the state or national capitol. The grass that grows along the branch and in the fence corners will feed a cow or a flock of sheep. The grass that springs up in the cotton patch will keep a flock of geese happy and save hoes, and pay for nothing of turning into feathers and luscious meat. The insects that infest the crops and the waste around the barnyard will keep a long way to keep a flock of hens. A flock of turkeys will pick boll weevil and leaf worms off considerable cotton. Teraced fields will give greater yields, and properly spaced furrows in the pastures multiply the grass. A mower to keep weeds down does the same. Lambs in the corn field after it is laid by keep grass and weeds down and pay for the privilege. A ditch which can be dug in a day without a dollar of cash outlay will store enough ensilage to feed the family milk cows their calves through a long hard winter or a summer drouth, and when feed is thus stored it can't blow away, burn up, dry out or decay.

Our frontier ancestors made the most of what they had, and left us a tradition of self-reliance and independence of which we may well be proud. All around us today are unused opportunities for self-help, many of which have been mentioned here.

We Gagged our Ad Writer!

HOW LONG SHOULD A GOOD AD BE? Our ad writer always answers by quoting Lincoln's saying that a man's legs ought to be long enough to reach the ground. "By which I mean," he continues, "that an advertisement should be as long as necessary to tell the complete story, to give all the convincing, action-producing facts." But we still like short ads and this time, at least, we are having our own way. And thus is published the shortest Phillips advertisement on record. The Missionary society did not meet last Monday due to bad weather, but will quit a quilt for Mrs. W. L. Blaylock this week. The ladies are making a quilt and are putting names on it. They were pleasantly enjoyable. Night was pulling her curtains as we glided up to a sign reading: "Cottages and Apts. for Rent."

On sight-seeing in El Paso the hands of beauty certainly did not overlook the inhabitants of that land. Among the most interesting interviews, a trip into Juarez was outstanding. Of all the curries, oddities, arts, in fact, almost everything of Indian and Spanish designs were on exhibition. The guards and officers were very watchful of all tourists. After having gone so far one's lives were endangered. Our friends who were with us, knew just what the boundary line meant and just how far to extend beyond it.

On entering Hot Springs, N. M., the Carrie Thingley hospital for crippled children makes a splendid setting with the Rio Grande river rippling gaily in the distance for the background. Those people undoubtedly must be very unsatisfactory for on every side the billboards and signs protrude in large letters: BATHS, mud, sun and hot water—all sorts of them. Nevertheless, after having taken a few of these we admitted they were really wonderful. Three weeks of baths in steaming water makes one come to the realization of another world. One that refreshes and makes us want to "wake up and live."

Live for a boating, swimming and fishing outing way out on the still blue waters of Elephant Butte lake, the place where the hatriffs do a hittrab version of "Woncha' Come Along With Me?"

On leaving that sunny place the scenery of Albuquerque, N. M., was still more astonishing. The Veteran's hospital and other sights of interest we admired very much.

Let me tell you, of all the scenes we viewed they gave us a broader view of life, but the little town of Farwell was most inviting after having been out for adventure some few days more than the weeks.

But, say you! If you'll only "come along" there is much yet to explore.

What's Happening In Washington And Other Cities Of Importance

Eugenia Cardinal Pacelli, an Italian has been elected the 262nd Pope of the Catholic church.

President Roosevelt told Congress the other day something will have to be done about increasing wages paid in southern states.

Col. Edwin M. Watson, aide at the White House since Roosevelt became president, has been appointed a presidential secretary to succeed James Roosevelt, about April 1.

Mahatma Gandhi, well known India patriot, has gone on another hunger strike, declaring he will not again partake of food until certain reforms become effective. Doctors say it is quite likely to result in his death.

The value of machinery is well proven in the recent statement that the modern V-8 Ford car, if all made by hand would cost about $15,000. It is machine work which is largely responsible for the low price of many needed articles of today.

Field Marshal Hermann Goerring, Berlin, says Germany's air force is unbeatible, and that it was the decid-

WONCHA' COME ALONG WITH ME?

By JOSIE LEE COPELAND, West Camp, Member Farwell High School, Junior Class

Say there! Let's go down for a motor boat ride, gee, but it's most fun. About the most exciting part of it was my going topsy-turvy into the Elephant Butte, after the captain cutting corners too fast. My! My! What speed we did make, fifteen miles an hour, with the radio playing a swing selection of "Woncha' Come Along With Me!" It seemed the fishes were keeping time with them music clouning in the clear blue waters below us.

After beginning in our world covered with Mr. Winters' white robes, the paved highways seemed to welcome us, with the help of a defroster. Down the lane to Houston by way of Port Worth, Dallas and Waco, the cozy cottages were very inviting as the shades of night were falling. Yes, sir, re-arranging with a surprise what a tasty supper we did enjoy! A fireside chat ended with a toast at the bridge table.

Its delightful rising with the sun and watching the Gulf of Mexico. The tides seem to be doing something to enjoy in this 'ole world. Then too, going to those floundering, boating and swimming parties is a thrill. Try it sometime!

After having spent a week on the beach at Freeport, on our started for more adventure. Of all the relics, old buildings and parks, we saw them. Sam Houston's home in Huntsville, the Alamo building at San Antonio were the most interesting of antiques.

By then ya, do you like oranges? Let me tell you they are only 50 cents a bushel in San Antonio. How good they did taste after having driven all day, but one is all you can eat at the time. Guess why. They are the size of a grapefruit.

Leaving these, going into Del Rio, beauties of nature are plentiful. In Dr. you have all listened in on Mr. Brikley's lectures over the air. His programs might not be highly appreciated but the wonders of his property certainly are. His home, post office, parks, drug store, hardware and hospital are very attractive to every one.

FARMER'S SHARE THE SMALLEST

College Station, March 8.—The typical workman's family. The 49 cents received by the farmer in 1938 compares unfavorably with 45 cents in 1927. The lowest mark in 26 years was in 1932 when the farmer received only 33 cents of the consumers' food dollar. The highest mark was reached in 1917 when producers received 60 cents of the consumers' food dollar and only 43 cents went for process and distribution costs.

Bowles said the long time trend showed that the farmer was getting a smaller and smaller part of the consumer's dollar. The average share in the years 1914-20 was 55 cents, the 1921-29 average was 46 cents, and the 1930-36 figure 39 cents.

The farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar in 1938—40 cents—was the smallest in four years, according to the marking of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. The figures were compiled by the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The calculation was based on a list of 8 foods consumed annually by a ing factor in the Munich conference when France and Great Britain agreed to Zech dismemberment. Germany is reported to have at least 6,000 airplanes and making more of them every day.

Tacoma, Mispronunciation Tacoma is a mispronunciation of the common Puget Sound Indian word for snowy mountain—"Ta-kobed," according to an authority. It is the name applied to Mount Rainier, Mount Baker at Everett, Wash., Mount Hood and Mount McLaughlin. Early settlers mistook it to be a specific name for Mount Rainier.

Taxes on Cigarettes There is a six-cent tax on a pack of cigarettes, says the National Consumers Tax commission. That means $22 a year in taxes for the average smoker and more than 400 million in taxes a year for all smokers.

Illinois Revolted, Too It was not only in the original 13 states that the "ideas of liberty," on which resistance was to be founded, took root. In the year 1771, the Illinois French sent a delegation of two French merchants all the way to New York city and the head of the then British government in America to state their grievances against the oppression and absurdity of British rule over them.

'Cheyenne' From Sioux Word "Cheyenne" is a direct derivation from a Sioux word meaning "barbarian," or "one who does not speak our language."

SNAP SHOTS

It isn't so much what a candidate stands for in this country as what he voters fall for.

Every situation, no matter how discouraging, has its bright spots, if one only has the patience to look for them.

The fellow who always blames somebody else for his mistakes, never profits by them. That's certain!

Depressions were not hard to bear in the old days, because there were fewer of these "necessities" we enjoy today.

The fellow who complains, should see us now!

There would be much less grief around us if women cared more about the morals of their men and less about their manners.

WEEKLY LAY SERMON
SPIRITUAL ENGINEERS

By JESS MITCHELL

With the increased number, power and speed of automobiles, multiplied thousands of people are killed every year, and another multiplied thousand are injured more or less, some so seriously they are impaired in body and mind for life. Sufficient investigation of these tragic accidents have been made to prove that most of them are caused by the cars so much as by the ones who drive them. I long ago came to the conclusion, that while cars need to be tested at stated intervals, the drivers of them need more frequent and more comprehensive tests. Unfortunately though, we emphasize mechanical perfection and almost totally disregard human imperfections.

Great strides have been made in industrial progress during recent years. The time required for accomplishing a given task has been so cut down through efficiency that much less time is now required, giving numerous people much more time for leisure. Unfortunately, many people have not learned how to use their leisure time, frequently employing it to their own hurt or hindrance or to the injury of society. We have learned economy in the production, but not economy in the use of leisure—its most valuable by-product. With all the achievements of physical prosperity and economic thrift, most folks today yet do not know how to apply such to the genuine enrichment of life.

The greatest crime wave in the history of this nation. Prison wardens and other crime experts tell us there is no such thing as a criminal type or a born criminal, yet we go ahead and act as though there were such. We side-step the man or woman who has come out from a prison sentence. We build larger and stronger bastles. We do not take advantage of the proven ability of psychologists and psychiatrists for mental treatment or of skilled sociologists for imparting information on how to live together to a mutual advantage. Even much of the so-called religious teachings of today is not of the kind calculated to be of a fundamental corrective nature.

In colleges and universities the freedom of scientific investigation has resulted in discoveries of facts which have controverted many pre-conceived moral and religious ideas and nothing has been given to substitute such deduction. People are just as religiously inclined today as they ever were. They are much more intelligent now than fifty or a hundred years ago. They have cast off much of the previous ignorant and superstitious religion; but they haven't been given much to take its place. The trend of the times has demanded scientific progress; but in most instances that progress has not been properly directed, and sometimes not at all. Unskilled minds have grasped information, but have not known how to apply it to their own lives.

There are plenty of mechanical devices not in vogue in this country that are, from the standpoint of human welfare, far superior to the people who are using them. We have an abundant wealth in this nation; but most of us do not know how to use it. We have a broad education; but know comparatively little of how to relate it to the spiritual life of the citizenry. Mechanically, economically and intellectually we are far ahead of our spiritual life.

Much has been said recently by preachers and other men of public address about the need of this nation's returning to religion. I don't know that the nation has retrogressed so much in a religious way as that it has simply advanced so much more rapidly in other ways. Mechanically, intellectually and physically we have improved by leaps and bounds; but not so spiritually.

The American people have a rare faculty of organizing and systematizing things. Efficiency engineers are becoming prolific and they are producing magnificent results in many fields of endeavor. Waste is being rapidly eliminated, the useless is being used, cooperation is resulting in standardization and elimination of such as cannot come up to par, and it all prevents waste of time and dissipation of energy. Organizing genius has been successfully applied to practically every field of endeavor, except the most important one. In the realm of actual life it is difficult to find a real standard, rather, there are so many and varied so-called standards and so few of them acceptable to the citizens of ethical minds and lofty ideals that each must set up his or her own, more or less original, yet somewhat imitative of another, and seldom ever entirely satisfactory.

Human life is the greatest asset any nation can possess, and quality life is all-important. Let other nations be interested in quantity life; but let America choose that of quality; such beings as we have, let them be of the very highest class. Nazism and Communism and any of the other isms may claim the welfare of a nation ahead of the welfare of its people; but in a democracy the welfare of the people, its citizens, should be so highly esteemed that they in turn, will produce the very highest type of government for mutual benefit.

Yet in a democracy, government, such as this, is so tremendously unfortunate that little concern is manifested regarding the spiritual welfare of its citizens. There is plenty of legislation regarding material things; plenty of legislation for the betterment of industry, commerce, various trades and professions, and recently, some legislation in a social way looking toward bettering conditions of the aged and improving that of the youth; but practically all from a physical standpoint, and but little aid given for mental and spiritual improvement. It is my candid belief if more sincere attention were given toward the systematic enrichment of human life, the developing of ethical values, the purification of social attributes and the cleansing of moral conditions our national life would be less lop-sided, more well rounded in its development and far more satisfactory.

Every citizen should have a desire to live his life in such a way as to derive the very best results from the living. Nearly all people do have that desire; but alas, so many of them do not have the right ideals or else do not know how to develop and realize on such ideals. A national school of training, setting forth worth while ideals and then teaching how to attain them, would be invaluable.

Most readers of this newspaper are laborers of some kind; laboring with brain or brawn, or both. Most of their waking hours are spent in the prosecution of business of some kind. Many, at the end of the day, are completely exhausted mentally or physically, and some have a moral depletion. Most of my readers have obligations to support others, and while some are exhausting themselves to render a service which will make their dependents wiser, saner and better, others are making this sacrifice in behalf of some who are becoming unduly selfish and falsely ambitious.

Some wear their lives out obtaining this world's goods in larger quantities than needed, when their loved ones would be better off if more time were devoted to them personally, rather than to the things money will buy for them. More of life's energies should be devoted to becoming better acquainted with the social and political needs of the particular community in which one lives; in a more intimate knowledge of the people whom we come in contact with in a business and professional way; in not being satisfied in merely giving to charity or in casting a vote, but in learning of the actual social and political needs for such gift and voting.

Some parents give their boy or girl a check book when they send them to college and, apparently forget them, while at home frequently there is just a casual acquaintance between parents and children instead of an intimate and understanding comradeship. In time of leisure it is often used as a hectic pursuit of questionable pleasures of doubtful value, rather than a time spent in rehabilitation of physical, mental and spiritual forces and faculties for oneself or their loved ones. Many relate themselves to the church merely through the contribution box or by occasional attendance, and often when they are present their minds are still wandering through the aisles of business matters, contemplating the past

Unborn Babies Have More Safe-Guards Than Formerly

Austin, March 7.—"Never in history have there been so many safeguards available to protect the health of the unborn child as there are today. With the family physician supervising the mother through the expectant period, essential advice influencing a favorable outcome for both mother and offspring is available to all those who will take advantage of this protection," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer.

"Unfortunately, the value of this service is overlooked by many expectant mothers. Indeed negligence in this regard annually is responsible not only for thousands of avoidable maternal deaths but for the birth of physically and mentally handicapped children, for many miscarriages and for the majority of still-births. Syphilis plays a significant part in these casualties.

"It follows that every expectant mother should make sure that she is free of syphilis by requesting a blood test when she goes to her physician for a prenatal examination. The earlier the discovery is made the better. However, if the examination is conducted before the end of the fifth month of pregnancy, thanks to the defense mechanism of the body that resists the passage of the syphilis germ to the unborn child, proper treatment will insure the birth of a normal child.

"Were this policy generally adopted the tragedy of 60,000 syphilitic babies being born each year in the United States could be eliminated. In addition the miscarriages and stillbirths—calamities that occur to eighty-three per cent of untreated syphilitic women at childbirth.

"It is, therefore, of paramount importance that women early in pregnancy should have a blood test, so that if infection is found, treatment may be promptly instituted."

AND WHAT OF THE DEPENDENT?

Perhaps few people who contribute to social welfare causes have hitherto heard of the Social Service Employees Union, Local 19, affiliate of the C. I. O. Such ignorance may be somewhat startlingly dispelled by the announced plans for which a month's vacation in summer plus one week in winter for all members; six months' sabbatical leave with half pay after six years' time off with expenses for conference attendance, also maternity leave up to six months, with half pay after three years' service.

To many humble toilers in other fields who gladly give up half pay to charity the above will seem a dream schedule. Nor are they likely to ignore the overhead costs involved—particularly in welfare services they have been taught to believe are conducted with a minimum of administrative expense.

As for employers in plain business or industry, some of them might well be staggered by comparisons with such widely different working conditions, vacations, etc., in social service organizations for which their money aid is frequently solicited. Suppose they dry up.

These are bewildering days. To find even social welfare workers organized and militantly pressing upon demands is only a little stranger than other developments.

But it may turn out that unorganized welfare workers can become too rash to be compatible with the accustomed inflow of welfare contributions.

Shall we then have strikes to compel charity?—N. Y. World-Telegram.

J. Whitcomb Riley Theme of Study Club Meeting

A program devoted to the poems of James Whitcomb Riley was given by the 1939 Study club of Muleshoe at the home of Miss Mildred Miller, Tuesday evening.

Members opened the program by singing "When We All Get Together," led by Mrs. Claudie Gallman.

"Discussion on Party Line," was very cleverly given by Mrs. Jay Weyer.

Mrs. Dick Rocky sketched the life of Riley, pointing out he was never as knowledgeable as a great poet, however children liked his poems and loved him very dearly.

Miss Stella B. Jackson gave a short review of a collection of Riley's letters she had studied while in university last summer. Personal observations of verses added to the interest of the talk.

Mrs. J. Clyde Taylor read, "The Raggedy Man," and Mrs. C. D. Gupton read "The Swimming Hole."

It was decided that dues be paid now and that the club will have 30 charter members.

The hostess served cheese sandwiches cookies and coffee to the following: Misses Josephine Kay Lee, Elizabeth Harden, Oleta Moore, Lucille Bealy, Stella B. Jackson, Okia Mae Lawrence, Helen Jones, Mesdames J. Clyde Taylor, C. D. Gupton, J. L. Alsip, J. J. DeShado, Dick Rocky, Jay Weyer, Claudie Gallman and Lud Taylor.

March 14, the club will meet with Miss Lucille Bealy and Mrs. J. L. Alsip, co-hostess.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

By FINLEY WHITE
Bailey Co. Farm Agent

The writer has about decided that the folks who made our present day calendar didn't live in West Texas in they had, they surely would have left March off because it's too rough and windy.

Such weather as we're having here of late makes us realize the importance of a good wind brake to keep our live stock from suffering so much. It will soon pay for its self in reduced feeding costs and in quicker flesh gains when we're feeding out stock.

AAA Happenings We have just received a batch of late subsidy checks. Some producers (and creditors too) who have been sweating about these checks will now begin to believe in Santa Claus.

Our County committee and AAA Administrator officials have recently returned from College Station where they spent a few days getting things lined up so they would be able to give out individual farm allotments in the near future. Every effort possible is being put forth to have each producer's allotment to him before April 1.

The office personnel has finally found out what its all about here now and our AAA work is moving along with clock like precision. We get off to an awful bad start, but we are catching up quite rapidly now, and from here on out, we're going to be "up" on everything or know the reason why.

We appreciate the patience and tolerance shown by the farmers and land owners of Bailey county and we pledge ourselves to a more efficient administration of the farm program in 1939 than was had in 1938.

4-H Club Work There should be about 100 farm boys in Bailey county actively engaged in 4-H club work. To date, we have less than 25 actually working at the job. It is hoped that before the close of March another 75 boys will have lived up with this work. The co-operation and encouragement of the parents is needed in this work, as well as that of the boys. If you happen to have a boy between the ages of 10 and 21, for whom you have plans and ambitions, won't you help line that boy up in 4-H work so he can have the advantages offered him? He will make a better boy, will grow into a more useful citizen and will be worth something to the community in which he lives. You owe it to yourself and the boy too, to help get him lined up.

Treasury department to have to return a total of $34,529,774 to them last week, 159,233 of these individuals and corporations having overpaid their income tax dues and processing tax assessments. It is not intimated that the over-payment was due to favorable economic conditions.

Mrs. Charles Lenau Honored With Big Shower Of Gifts

One of the loveliest social events of the year occurred Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. K. Smith when Mrs. Charles Lenau was honored with a tea and miscellaneous shower.

Using the George Washington motif and a color scheme of red and white, the lace-covered tea table, centered by a miniature cherry tree and the traditional hatchet, was perfectly appointed and most attractive. Spicy red and white carnations flanked by tall lighted candles were tastefully arranged before the buffet mirror.

The afternoon's program was presented in a novel way. Those present were requested to pick cherries from the tree, and upon opening them, learned Mrs. Pat Bobo was to sing a solo. Mrs. Anna Margaret McGraw was to read, and Mrs. Charles Lenau was to open a huge bale of cotton in which her gifts were concealed. Among the gifts was a bride's book in which the well wishers later registered.

After the gifts had been opened, Mrs. Lenau and the guests were conducted to a tea table at which the co-hostesses, Mrs. Julian Lenau and Mrs. Pat Bobo presided, and were served tea, open-face sandwiches and cherry tree sugar cookies.

...es A Bill ... Lower Rates

"I have introduced in the Senate a bill seeking to correct the inequalities and discriminations in freight rates in Texas and the Southwestern territory," said United States Senator Tom Connally of Texas in a letter received from him this week by the Journal editor. "The act seeks to remove the differentials which operate to increase the rates in that territory," the Senator said.

"The purpose of the bill," Senator Connally said, "is to remove the gross discriminations and inequalities in the matter of rates which burden freight and commerce in the Southwest and in some other areas. The Committee on Interstate Commerce of the Senate will begin hearings on February 27th on a number of similar bills, all having in mind the same objective. It is our purpose to thoroughly examine all of these measures and endeavor to work out one upon which all can unite and make a concerted drive for its enactment."

TWINS 'GOSH SING THE DOXOLOGY

Realizing the human race must be continued in balanced proportion, A. W. Copley, designer and chief engineer and Emma D. Copley, production manager, assisted by Dr. R. G. Dunn, chief technician, announce the introduction in American social circles of two brand new productions, deluxe type, masculine and feminine, by the Babyland Corporation, located on the corner of Hallelujah Street and Heavenly boulevard.

The youngsters will become known to future generations as "LaVon Dee" and "Don Wilson," they weighing 5 pounds and 9½ ounces and 6 pounds and 5½ ounces, respectively, when they sang their first duet in the maternity ward. Incidentally, it is reported that the father, who is a cotton ginmer by trade, has so much confidence in the virtue of the fleecy staple, he has prevailed upon the nurse to put a little cotton seed in their rations, thus insuring plenty of protein for the growing youngsters with lusty soprano and baritone voices.

While the youngsters made their discovery of America in a Lubbock hospital, they expect to soon transport their precious and priceless anatomies to Bailey county to swell the population of Muleshoe and increase attendance at the Methodist Sunday school.

The twins are reported radiating supreme happiness in their new found world, mother in fine fettle rapidly convalescing, while the father is still running considerable temperature.

CHARLEY BOYLES BURIED AT CUERVO, NEW MEXICO

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon of last week at Cuervo, New Mexico, near Santa Rosa, for Charley Boyles, 45, former citizen of Muleshoe several years ago, he having died Thursday.

The deceased is survived by his widow and six children, four boys and two girls, his father and a host of other relatives and friends.

Among those from here attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder, Mrs. T. L. Snyder, W. H. Kistler, Homer Mardis, Mrs. Beulah Carles, Ray Griffiths, and John Boyles, father of the deceased.

Mrs. Max Miller, sister of the deceased, and her husband, Mr. Miller, former citizens of Bailey county but now residing at Flagstaff, Arizona, and Cecil Boyles, brother of the deceased, formerly of Muleshoe, but now residing at Canyon City, Colorado, were also present at the last rites.
