Dedicated to the Progress and Development of Bailey County and the South Plains of Texas

LITTERA SCRIPTA MANET—THE WRITTEN WORD ENDURES MULESHOE, County Seat of Bailey County, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1939 VOLUME 17 NUMBER 8

$8,000 Granted Bailey County Improvement

Bailey county having been included as a demonstration county under the Federal Water Facilities Board it has been granted an allotment of about $8,000, according to available information, and four projects have been outlined for demonstration purposes in this county.

Development of this type is handled in coordinate manner through the Water Facilities Board, Soil Conservation Service, Farm Security Administration and the Bureau of Agriculture Economics, the plan being the outgrowth of a report made by President Roosevelt's Great Plains committee in 1936, according to statement of Secretary Henry Wallace. This report recommended the development of small water facilities in arid and semi-arid sections as a means of promoting better and more profitable land use and assisting in the rehabilitation of distressed farm families, Wallace said. In irrigation sections, such as the Blackwater valley, the plan is being used to demonstrate the advisability of co-operative action among farmers, not only in the interest of farm efficiency, but also in the conservation of underground water used for crop stimulation and growth.

In connection with the above named allotment, it is understood four projects may be initiated in this county. One has been outlined for the Clovis farm, four miles north of Clovis, but since district funds for this project have been discontinued, it is not known at this time whether another project will be started in this county this year, owing largely to the lateness of the season. Present indications are such that may be deferred now until the coming year.

While co-operative development of this nature, under federal direction, is something new in this section, it bears present indication of being of inestimable value to the farmer in this area where the soil is so dry and less than adequate for irrigation is available. The project is being made under the authority of the Pope-Jones Water Act providing for such range land improvement and livestock work which may be planned by the farmer, and the installation and development of reservoirs, wells, dams, springs, planters, windmills, water spreaders, stock water dams, flood irrigation and small irrigated systems of various sizes, personal or co-operative in their nature.

The program not only provides that needy and destitute families may obtain federal loans for development of water resources which will place their farms upon a more profitable basis, but also provides for governmental assistance to such farmers and ranchers in planning and developing such added facilities to their lands.

Various Real Estate Transactions Made In Muleshoe

Movement of real estate is generally a good indication of business conditions in any given community, and there have been several property transfers in Muleshoe during the past week.

Mrs. Anna F. Mueller and son Walter Mueller last week purchased the lot and building belonging to D. H. Sneed, located on Main street and used as a blacksmith shop. They expect later on to remove the present building and replace it with another for business purposes.

C. Holt and son Horace G. Holt, last Saturday purchased two residence lots of Miss Lola Lipscomb on which they expect to erect residence buildings in the near future.

Ferrel Holt purchased the Pat Bobo cottage located near the school center and will occupy it in the near future.

Pat Bobo has purchased the Hocking property now occupied by Will Harper and will improve it for rental purposes.

Clyde Holt has purchased of Connie Gupton a residence lot west of the high school building on which he expects to erect a residence building in the near future.

It is also reported several farm tracts have changed hands during the first two weeks of this month.

$149,837 WPA Funds Spent In Bailey County To Date

Covering three and one-half years of WPA activity, Jones' report detailed expenditures of $5,569,566 in the 23 counties administered from the Lubbock office.

Federal cost per man-hour of operating the WPA projects was 37 cents, Jones said, 29 cents of this amount having been disbursed for labor in the form of security checks, and the remaining 8 cents utilized for material, equipment, and supplies.

Of the total expenditures, $149,837 have been spent on various accomplishments in Bailey county.

CLOVIS TO HAVE PARKING METERS

Within the next 30 days 50 parking meters will be installed in three principal blocks of the Clovis, N. M., Main street as a test measure for the following six months.

Thos. Moore Honored By Study Clubbers Tuesday Night

The St. Patrick's Day theme was featured at a meeting of the 1939 Study club of Muleshoe, given in the home of Mrs. A. E. Lewis with Miss Lucile Beatty and Mrs. J. L. Alsip joint hostesses, Tuesday night.

After the club song, Miss Okla. Mae Lawrence opened the program with a resume of the life of Thomas Moore, national poet of Ireland who composed "Irish Melodies" at intervals between 1803 and 1834. She noted that Irish Melodies "are probably the best sentimental songs for the drawing room ever written in English. She then played a piano solo, "Londonderry Airs."

Accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Claudine Gallman, Miss Lucille Beatty and Mrs. Lud Taylor sang, "Those Eng-dearing Young Charms." Members of the club sang, "Wild Irish Rose" and "Endemere's Dream."

The club members voted to co-sponsor a public library with the Muleshoe Study club.

Trasty refreshments, served out by the St. Patrick's motif, were carried to Mesdames Earl Hicks, Dick Rockey, Claudine Gallman, Ed Johnson, J. Clyde Taylor, Lud Taylor, Misses Mildred Miller, Stella B. Jackson, Okla. Mae Lawrence, Josephine Kay Lee, Oleta Moore and Flora Morris.

COTTON ALLOTMENTS ARE MAILED OUT

Cotton allotments for the various grovers in Bailey county received at the AAA office here last week have been passed on to individual farmers, such being notified by mail, according to Pinley White, county farm agent.

The smallest federal allotment is for two acres, while the largest is 1,720 acres, the total figuring 28.81 per cent of the cultivated land in the county.

Total cotton allotment for Bailey county is a little over 67,000 acres, plus 769 acres set-aside for new farm lands.

Legislature Debates New Method Of $40,000,000 Needed To Pay $30 Monthly To The Aged Citizens

By Julian Capers

Austin, March 13.—With antislavery tax leaders claiming 56 House votes against that form of levy, following a caucus last weekend, the Texas legislature prepared to plunge this week into what promises to be a memorable floor battle over what form of taxes, if any, will be submitted to the people this fall or late summer to raise $40,000,000 of new social security revenue.

Debate on the proposed constitutional amendment, approved by the House committee on taxation and revenue and on constitutional amendments, was scheduled to begin on the floor Tuesday. The amendment, an omnibus measure, would raise an estimated $23,000,000 of new revenue by imposing a 2 1/2 percent sales tax on retail purchases and public utility bills, to be paid by the purchaser and collected by the seller; plus a 25 percent increase in present levies on oil, gas and sulphur; plus a tax on amusement admissions of 50 cents and over.

Push Income Tax

Those opposing the sales tax feature will be, by floor amendments, to substitute a net income tax, with the same exemptions provided by the Federal income tax law, and a graduated income taxation schedule ranging from one to three percent for individuals, and a flat 3 percent for corporations. It is estimated this tax would raise about $20,000,000—the same sum estimated as the yield from the proposed sales tax for which it would be substituted, leaving a balance of $13,000,000 to come from the increased natural resource levies and amusements impost.

The anti-sales tax group named a committee to draft several amendments which will be offered in the effort to kill the sales tax feature of the omnibus amendment.

Meanwhile, with the session half gone, the Senate is sitting quietly on the sidelines, insofar as taxation is concerned, awaiting House action. Many senators believe that the bitter struggle in prospect between sales taxers and anti-sales taxers in the lower house will result in a complete stymie, with no taxation measure getting through the House.

Senate May Take Charge

Some Senators hope that the Senate then will be in a strategic position, by offering amendments or substitutes to some House revenue measure, for the upper body to take charge of the situation during the closing hours of the session, and thus write the State's tax policy for the new two years, at least, despite the Constitutional provision granting the tax origination option to the House. What the Senate would do under these circumstances is problematical. There is a strong sales tax sentiment in the Senate, but on the other hand, there is also a strong conservative element which is opposed to any large new taxation burden at all at this time, believing that it is a fundamentally wrong policy to check back to the people the problem of choosing between various complicated and technical tax plans. Members of this latter school of thought feel that failure of this session to raise any large additional revenue would be indicative of the inability of the people of Texas to assume such a burden now, and would open the way to write a new and conservative declaration of policy on old age pensions, which would limit aid to strictly those in need, and recognize the economic futility of attempting to pension everybody on a more or less equal basis.

They are unwilling to accept the O'Daniel dictum of $30 a month total income for everybody over 65, just as they found the unlimited $30 pension for everybody, advocated by the governor during his campaign, unacceptable.

How Would People Vote

House members, on the other hand, seem to be generally in accord with the amended O'Daniel program of $30 total income for all over 65.

In an off political year, with normal poll tax payments down, and the aged holding exemption certificates, sentiment here generally inclines to the belief that almost any tax program planned to raise more money for the aged, would carry in a referendum effectuated by means of a constitutional amendment submission. They point out there are 275,000 persons over 65 in Texas. If each of these voted, and controlled only one other vote, they point out it would roll up a vote of 550,000 for bigger pension regardless of the tax method, which is sufficient to carry an election even in a record-breaking poll tax payment year.

OIL TEST?

Sam Sanders, who owns and controls about 11,000 acres of land in Bailey county, is contemplating putting down an oil test well in the near future.

The test will probably go down on labor 2, league 171, Hale county school land, being located approximately five miles south and five miles west of Muleshoe, according to available information.

Mr. Sanders is an experienced oil man; has two rigs now drilling near Artesia, New Mexico. It is stated the proposed test well will be drilled with cable tools, standard rig. It is expected work may begin within the coming 30 days.

W. B. Irvin, Lubbock Heads Teachers For The Coming Year

Lubbock, March 14.—W. B. Irvin, superintendent of public schools in Lubbock, was elected president of the West Texas Teachers association at the annual convention held in Lubbock March 10 and 11. B. F. Miles of Loveland was elected vice-president. Usemen selected Hayes Holman of Post and Dr. Albert Barnett of Texas Technological college.

George Gentry, assistant superintendent at Big Spring, and O. J. Leas, superintendent of Finlay schools, retained their offices as secretary and treasurer respectively.

At least 2,000 attended the two day session with an actual registration of 1,422.

Miss Gentry Urges Live At Home Plan For Bailey County

There are about one and a half million Texans on the 2,342,000 farms and ranches of this state who are existing on third and fourth rate diets, according to state officials," says Miss Lillie Gentry, Bailey county home demonstration agent.

"Many of these families not only need more food; but food of a different kind and quality," she continued. "Plenty of them do not eat enough of the various kinds necessary for growth health and efficiency, and since there is plenty of land in this state, there should also be plenty of food."

"There are lots of ways to overcome the handicaps that in various regions limit the home production of food, Miss Gentry said in suggesting that frame gardens, subirrigation, and poultry, dairy and meat products be considered.

"The Extension Service is re-dedicating itself in 1939 to a continuation of its emphasis on growing food and feed for home use," she said.

The live-at-home program is no self-sufficiency theory nor is it aimed at farms and ranches that cannot profitably follow the plan. At the same time, under present conditions land devoted to home production of food and feed will yield a greater return on most farms than will any other crop, and will allow the release of cash income for other necessary uses, she said.

New Ford Almanac Filled With Facts Of Human Interest

Filled with useful facts and comment of general human interest, the 1939 Ford Home almanac is now being distributed free by the Muleshoe Motor local Ford dealer. Demand for the new almanac has been so heavy that 1,800 copies have been printed.

Contents of the almanac is distinctive in content. Its 48 illustrations are replete with historical, geographical, astronomical and industrial information.

In traditional style, the book contains an annotated calendar as well as its central feature. Decorated with a variety of type faces, the calendar cites a major historic event for each day of the year.

Charts and statistics, while extensively treated, do not form the backbone of the text. Philosophical discussions—words of wisdom from all the ages—receive primary attention.

Among the other prominent features of the Almanac are: A list of important festivals and anniversaries of the year, facts about the universe, facts about the planets, eclipses due in 1939, the giant Mt. Palomar telescope, symptoms of diseases, treatment of burns, and suggestions for building and furnishing a home.

Muleshoe Men To Give Away $25 On Saturday

Muleshoe business concerns are getting more generous, they are receiving fine response on Trades Day occasions—and people, getting better acquainted with local business concerns and their managers, are coming each Saturday in ever increasing crowds.

The system of making awards to the customers has been revamped the past week and more of these honors are to be passed out next Saturday—all of them in cash, and with no strings tied to them at all. There will be a $10, a $5, and several $2 awards dispensed to customers for past patronage. Everyone will want to be here when Generalissimo Booster Bob Brown crawls up onto the truck and unlimbers his baritone auctioneering voice.

Last Saturday there were 20 one dollar awards made to visitors present, several names being called of those who were absent at that time.

SEVERE SAND STORM HERE SATURDAY

Blisks living in Muleshoe and surrounding area spent the first part of this morning being out the assault of a sand week which hit the area on Saturday of last week.

It was by far the worst dirt blow of the year, extending over a wide area of country. Oklahoma City reported wind traveling at 48 miles per hour. Escrow, N. M., reported the worst sand storm for several years past with very low visibility. Some towns of western Texas reported visibility as low as 50 feet.

Some idea of the tail-ender received here was realized in a report from New York that the temperature had dropped 25 degrees below zero.

Every Great Attempt is Glorious Even if It Fails

WHAT WILL THEY USE FOR MONEY?

Little by little, slowly but surely American citizens in various sections of the nation are beginning to realize the illusion of blessings supposed to flow from national socialization; that it is not only discriminatory, but in many instances is directly confiscatory, is a fact.

In various sections of the nation people are already beginning to wonder what they are going to use for money, not only with which to pay the rapidly increasing tax burdens; but to meet numerous and various other needs being required upon pocketbooks by federal authorities.

A few days ago President Roosevelt said something must be done to raise wages of laborers in the Southern states, and for a long time past we have seen and heard of the government wondering what to do with the demands upon their property and business ownership.

Unquestionably government ownership which is invariably taxless, puts added taxes upon the citizens where it operates. For instance, it has been estimated that the Tennessee Valley Authority has put financial matters in a critical situation in that section by its absorbing public utilities and private property, and removing it from the tax rolls. Tax Commissioner Walter Stokes, Jr., of Tennessee, says this one federal project will remove at least $1,000,000 in tax revenue from the state this year, while cities and counties of that area stand to lose as much as $2,000,000 more.

Some weeks ago it was officially suggested that U. S. bonds should be taxed, and at that time the Journal suggested such tax should also be extended to governmental properties. We now see no reason whatever why the TVA project should not also be taxed in the same rate and manner as taxes are being paid on properties under private operation. After all, operating a power plant for private customers is a commercial business, not a function of government for all the people, and as such should bear its proportion of governmental expense and levied taxes in behalf of the whole.

FARM WIFE'S COMPLAINT

A Michigan farm wife has given the Congressman of her district something to think about. She complains in a letter, which has been printed in the Congressional Record, that the government policy of indiscriminate relief spending has boomeranged. That should be something for everybody to think about.

Here is her letter, in part: "I know one family case very well, and it is indicative of thousands of families throughout the land. This family worked for my family three generations ago. Today every one of that family except one boy is on some kind of relief and now the third generation is marrying and bringing children into the world as fast as possible in order to get their share of this good thing while it lasts.

"You cannot get one of them now to work on the farms. They don't like the farm. They would rather work for Uncle Sam and that is just what they are doing.

The farmers around here cannot get adequate help any more, and if these people do work they want a wage higher than can be afforded on the land. They are anything for the work and investment. Most of the farm labor, the class who are doing their living working on What causes such a condition? We can't explain it, but look out for it!

About the best piece of work some Muleshoe men do is to take a bath on Saturday night.

The dinky Hitler mustaches (misplaced eyebrows) some Muleshoe men have the habit of wearing, remind one of oaks just sprouting through the ground.

Somehow it's peculiar when you ask some Muleshoe men for the truth, and after they give it to you, you don't believe them anyhow.

We Muleshoe folks often develop faults within ourselves that cause our acquaintances to dislike us. It is then we remark, "How people change."

Life must have been simple and sweet in Muleshoe before the New Deal taught us the meaning of the word "billion."

Some say we were happier when we didn't have so much. Maybe some of you older Muleshoe men recall what a pleasure it was to help your best girl put on her overhoes.

When one looks around and sees how swell-headed a cocky a lot of money makes some Muleshoe folks, it is easy to understand why it is good for the majority of us to be poor.

Gil Wollard, local mail carrier, delivered a black-edged envelope to one of his route patrons the other day, at the same time remarking, "Looks like somebody died." "Y-yes," answered the man in a somewhat worried tone. "It's from my brother Joe. I recognize his handwriting."

"I'll take hold of your case for $50," remarked "Hank" Gowdy, local attorney, to a prospective client the other day. "That's alright," replied the prospective patron; "but how much are you going to charge me to let go if you win it?"

That the annual rental value of said lands is $750.00.

That this action is brought as well to try the title, as for damages.

And further pleading, plaintiff alleges that she, as those using whom she claims, have had peaceful and adverse possession of all of said lands and premises under title and color of title continuously for three years after cause of action accrued against them;

That she, and those under whom she claims, have had and held peaceable and adverse possession of the same with it enclosed, cultivated, sown, and claiming under deeds duly registered, continuously for five years after cause of action accrued against them;

That she, and those under whom she claims have had and held continuously for ten years, peaceable and adverse possession thereof, having the same enclosed, cultivated, sown, and enjoying the same for said time, after cause of action accrued against them.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays for citation, and upon final hearing, that she have judgment for the title and possession of said lands, for her rents, damages, and costs of suit, and for citation by publication as against all named defendants except the defendant, M. E. Ellis, and for such other and further relief, special, and general, in law, and equity, as she may show herself justly entitled to, and in duty bound will ever pray.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

By FINLEY WHITE
Bailey Co. Farm Agent

The time is rapidly drawing near for the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show at Lubbock. The dates are April 3, 4 and 5.

With this show date in mind, the 4-H club boys of Bailey county should begin grooming their calves and pigs to "show off." The show is to be primarily an exhibition of finished animals, but all of us know that often an animal not too well finished, but quite properly shown, will place higher than a finished animal poorly shown.

Of course, we don't want to go to the show with any animals not finished, but if any of the boys have animals that are pretty well finished they should begin training those animals to show well. With a climate like ours and with feed so abundant, there is no reason why Bailey county 4-H boys should not get into the money at the Lubbock show.

Food and Feed Crops
With the price of cash crops so low and the prospects of the rice staying low, it seems that more attention should be given to feed and food crops this year.

Now is the time to make definite plans for planting enough food and feed crops to assure ourselves of a good living at home regardless of the price of cash crops this fall. It will be remembered that under the farm program the crops grown for home eating do not count as soil depleting—the acres devoted to these crops count as natural acres.

The best way to market a feed crop is thru livestock. Let's plant enough feeds to fill a good silo his fall and then we'll be in position to feed out some steers, sheep or cows. It's worth trying.

4-H Cub Work Looks Good

The response from the boys and their dads indicate that Bailey county is going places in 4-H club work this year. The writer is highly encouraged by the enthusiastic backing the dads are giving their boys in this work. Your continued support is sure to result in the development of a high class citizenry among the 4-H boys.

The 4-H work has as its purpose (as indicated by the 4-Hs) the development of the Heart, the Head, the Hands and the Health of the boys. Surely, when these four important parts of a boy are properly developed he will be a better boy and will grow into a more useful citizen. Our boys of today will soon have on their shoulders the responsibility of this great government of ours. Let's do our part toward equipping them for this load.

FARMERS OBJECT TO WAGNER ACT

Letters of farmers by petition and letter are urging the repeal or amendment of the Wagner Labor Relations Act "to give agriculture a fair deal," says the American Agriculturist. This seems strange indeed coming from a large part of the American population supposed to be exempt from the act. It presents the paradox of exempt farmers being involved as well as labor and industry.

The American Agriculturist goes on to say that "Not only are labor and industry involved in this unfair Wagner Labor Act, but farmers are just as much concerned as anyone else. Agriculture is supposed to be exempt under the law, but in practice this exemption means nothing. Thousands of farmers and their organizations all over America are up in arms over this unfair Act, demanding that it be repealed or amended to give agriculture a fair deal."

"American Agriculturist is in receipt of thousands of signed petitions and letters, showing that northeast farmers are almost unanimous in their opposition to the Act as it is being administered by the Labor Relations Board."

PLAINVIEW ASSOCIATION DROPS INTEREST RATE

The interest rate to members of the Plainview Production Credit association has been reduced one-half of one percent on all money advanced beginning February 24. According to J. P. Snyder, secretary-treasurer.

"This is made possible," said Mr. Snyder, "by the continued ready sale of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank debentures to the investing public bearing low rates of interest, the favorable operating results of the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks and the production credit associations during 1938." Snyder explained that the association discounts the farmers' notes which it takes with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston.

"The new rate will be four and one-half percent per year, and as usual interest will be charged only for the period which the members actually have the money," Snyder said.

Treating Seed Spuds For Scab Is Vital Says Co. Agent

Treating seed Irish potatoes for scab costs only 5 to 10 cents a sack, but it may be the factor that will determine whether or not a farmer makes a success with his potatoes, according to Finley White, Bailey county farm agent.

"Seed treatment in Texas has been successfully practiced by thousands of farmers, and it has paid big dividends in almost every case," White said. Seed is going to be high priced this year, and it will pay growers to protect their plantings.

"The treatment controls scab, an infection which lowers the grade price, and food value of potatoes," also reduces black scurf, a disease that attacks the young sprouts and causes poor stands."

There are two popular treatments, the horticulturist pointed out. These are hot formaldehyde for large lots and bi-chloride of mercury for small lots.

The effectiveness of the treatment may be greatly lessened by soil contamination or by the survival of the organisms producing the scab from the previous year. For that reason White advises crop rotation, the use of humus building crops, and in some instances the use of acid-producing fertilizers.

"Rotation is advisable regardless of whether the potatoes are planted for home use or for commercial production," White said.

STRING SAVERS

Who in Muleshoe hasn't a string-saver some place in the family. There may be thoughtless and imprudent folks who poke fun at string-savers; but today they come into their own.

In Cleveland, Ohio, there has been formed a Royal Society of String-Savers and its members call themselves "string-savers."

A piece of string may be a very inconsiderate little item; but lots of big eggs are built on the basis of the little s.

Invariably the person who saves a bit of string, winding them onto a coil or into a ball for future use is a sagacious, considerate and provident string-saver.

What would have meant string-savers would have meant PA workers, less old people government, less families mortgaged or the farm—less a many things not desirable, for a man who saves a bit of string, an annual rack or some other apparently worthless object, is a person who has the saving habit.

My father was very saving—I am glad of it, for his example has in worth much to my own life.

Unmistakably plenty of us in and around Muleshoe are not big money-makers; but we can all be savers, and saving a part of what little we make counts for competence in the long run.

My father who was always picking up something to save, used to say, "Everything comes into use once in every seven years," and generally he was right. At least it's a worth while habit.

We have stamp, doll, bottle, and hundreds of other sorts of collectors.

Why not string collectors? In our humble opinion, it's a darn good habit for anyone to form.

SMALL PURSE DIETS

We don't need a survey to tell us that the low-paid workers buy food that "sticks to the ribs" and pays not so much attention to that type of food means the most needed minerals for health.

When you have a small income and each the vital foods that are building are not given attention as they should survey showed that a person a week for as much milk, one-third as much butter, eggs, green vegetables, meat, poultry and fish as the budget that allowed $3.75 a week per person. It doesn't take an outstanding local Muleshoe mind to reply that the larger the income the more varied and wholesome is the food.

We are all pleased to get a quantity of fresh vegetables and fruit plates instead of a constant diet of potatoes, rice, grits, navy beans and so on; but to have these vitamin-strong foods a lot, we must be able to afford them.

Who wouldn't rather have fresh strawberry shortcake than whipped cream instead of dried prunes?

Our suggestion is, if you wouldn't take much time to check your grocery list and see if your family is getting some of the proper foods, whatever be your weekly budget.

THE TAX MEASURE

With present indications the Texas Legislature will "pass the buck" to the people in the matter of future taxes, by going the constitutional amendment route, already repercussions of disagreement, some of them right here in Muleshoe, have been uttered.

While it is true the Legislature has passed plenty of bone-heads, considerably more than the citizens generally expect from a bunch of men supposed to be schooled in statecraft, yet it is declared by many to be the duty of the law-making body, composed mostly of lawyers and supposedly experts in such matters, to settle such problems in behalf of the general public benefit rather than their

of the proper foods, whatever be your weekly budget.

True that is democracy; but also true many people living under democracy have no idea what it is all about. On previous occasions various important subjects have been referred to the people to vote upon and a little while after the votes were counted, many of those who voted for the measure wished they had not. Part of the present mix-up of affairs is undoubtedly due to some unwise voting in the past on constitutional amendments.

The proposed new tax bill has, in the main as it now stands, been a bone of contention for several years past. If the Legislature approves it and shoves it on out to the ballot boxes—we'll see what we can see!

COMPANY MANNERS

Word reaches us that the British ambassador has been asked by some Englishmen, to request President Roosevelt to suggest to us in America to behave properly when King George and Queen Elizabeth visit us this summer.

Now we don't know just who they expect us to act but we figure in welcoming royalty to our country in the usual American way. We may not have the stilted manners of the English but we have a feeling that the King and Queen will like our land and the folks they meet. Americans are themselves, informal and democratic with visiting titled heads.

Of course, there will always be people who act foolish when confronted by royalty; but most of us will be ourselves.

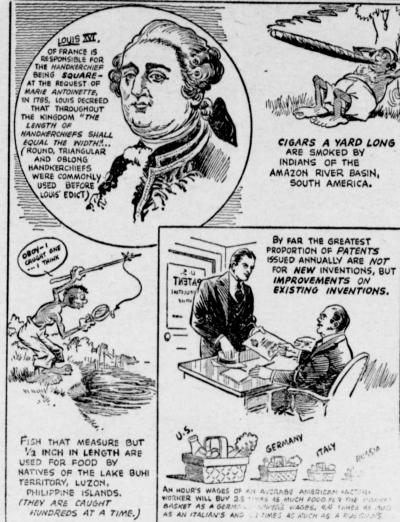

To ask our President to control our conduct is sort of absurd, for his hands are full trying to control our political behavior without attempting to adjust our social behavior.

The chief objection from English quarters seems to be regarding publicity especially in American newspapers; but readers of The Muleshoe Journal will be given the usual type of news of royalty upon the arrival of the King and Queen. Americans will continue in their natural cordial way to entertain. Americans haven't a special sort of code of manners that is put on for company. To us any king and queen is just ordinary human folks elevated to high office; but we'll do our best to be courteous.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Winter is still with us, and heavy in many places, but the seed catalogues are beginning to find their way to many a dining room table.

There comes the annual news regarding the baseball training camps, the increased fitness or slippage of some hero of southern sun.

Winter snows and colds begin to give way to signs of future garden spading and house painting.

Spring is sweet! The smell of earth after the shower, the sight of a violet warms the coldest heart.

The picture of a rake is more inviting than a coal shovel.

We don't know much about the proposal to increase truck loads in this state to 20,000 or even 60,000 pounds; but if we were a member of the Texas legislature we would be inclined to support a bill providing trains might put rubber tires on their wheels and use the highways.

"What is sauce for the goose should be sauce for the gander."

Years ago we coined the expression, "There is no gold in rainbows; but there is plenty of grit in sweat."

We thought of that expression again the other day when a business man told us he was going to do his damndest to run his own business a couple of years longer and then turn it over to the government to get what they could out of the deficit.

Jaunty Journalettes

Generally speaking, the earlier a Muleshoe girl is on the eyes, the harder she is on the pocketbook.

Some Muleshoe women get quite excited when they ask their husbands for money, while others remain calm—and collected.

A born pessimist is that Muleshoe man who is always ready to remind you when the worst happens, that he is the one who told you it was going to.

The way some young folks in Muleshoe drive their car, it looks like they are not flirting with a girl but courting an undertaker.

There are probably girls in every town like Muleshoe who are singles today just because they couldn't stay awake while some fellow talked about himself.

Tell a Muleshoe man something and it frequently goes in at one ear and out at the other; tell a Muleshoe woman something, and generally she goes at both ears and comes out at her mouth.

The reason some Muleshoe folks so dislike the idea of going to bed at night may be because they so dislike the idea of getting up at a reasonable time in the morning.

It doesn't make much difference how much nor how load money talks; we have yet to discover the first Muleshoe citizen who gets tired of its conversation.

Perhaps there is nothing that will make a Muleshoe man madder than to have a family friend get married and have to send a wedding present when Add buttermilk, mixing lightly with a fork. Turn dough on floured bread board, knead lightly and roll. Sprinkle grated cheese over dough and roll up like jelly roll.

Cut in 3-4 in. slices. Place, cut side up. On well greased baking sheet and bake in oven preheated to 425 degrees. Cook for 40 to 45 minutes. Makes two dozen biscuits.

Keep the Color

To help keep colors in figured drapes from running when laundered, loosen one end of the lining of each drape.

When ready to press, slip a bath towel between lining and drape. Colors that run will be absorbed by the towel which can be quickly washed.

A Matter of Mattress

Care for your mattress in order to assure yourself of sleep and service for the mattress itself. There should be a changing of its position on the bed, every week.

One week the top should be shifted to the bottom and the second week turn the mattress over. This means a complete turning every 14 days.

After your mattress every two weeks. All that is necessary is to open windows before you make the bed.

CORRECTION:

In the Muleshoe Journal of March 16 appeared an article under heading "Judges named for school elections, held April 1."

In the first paragraph it is stated these judges were for school trustee elections, whereas they are for the general election, as the trustee election judges are appointed by the local trustees of each district, while the general election judges are appointed by the Commissioners court.
