Interest Mounts Steadily In U. S. Senatorial Race; To Be Decided Saturday

Four Men Are Conceded Top Ranking In Race

Interest in the Senatorial election next Saturday has been gaining during the past ten days, and what seemed at first to be a slow campaign has suddenly developed into a hot contest.

The four top candidates, Mann, Dies, Johnson and O'Daniel, have been gaining and losing each other day and night for two weeks. Supporters of each candidate claim a sizable lead in straw votes over the state—which means little, if anything. Many local O'Daniel fans admit that the Governor will not have the huge vote that he has been accustomed to receiving. Of course, there are far from as many eligible voters this year, as thousands of people failed to pay a poll tax. However, there are many O'Daniel men who flatly state that they want the Governor to stay in Texas as chief executive. Instead of going to Washington, they will cast their votes for one of the other of the three top men.

A survey locally shows that Johnson and Mann are pretty well tops, but it must be remembered that last year it was only Mann to actually find but one O'Daniel vote out of 15 before the election. Nevertheless, he polled about 85 percent of the votes in Bailey County.

The Governor's boosters claim, however, that he can do more good by staying in Texas and they propose to keep him here if possible. They say that the Legislature under Coke Stevenson, who would become governor, (Continued on back page)

First Load Of New Wheat Is Marketed Here

The wheat harvest in this section of the state is on the verge of getting into full swing, since fields are becoming dry enough for farmers to get their machinery into operation.

The first load of new crop wheat was received by the Ray Griffiths Elevator at Muleshoe Thursday evening of last week. The wheat was grown by Paul Lewis who resides near Earth in Lamb county, and graded No. 1, testing 60.

The wheat was of the Red Clark Hard variety of which Mr. Lewis has only a small acreage this year, and it yielded around 20 bushels per acre.

Throughout this week all elevator concerns in Muleshoe have been receiving truck loads of wheat steadily and it is believed that within a few more days the big rush will be on.

Several hundred acres of wheat have been raised in Bailey county this year.

LIGHTNING STRIKES HOME

Lightning struck the Ivy home Tuesday about noon, knocking a number of shingles off the roof. The damage was not great and, fortunately, no one was injured. Mrs. Ivy was standing at the kitchen sink when the bolt hit, damaging the vent-pipe. About one-half inch of rain fell during the storm, which was an old-time thunder and lightning affair with plenty of wind. The rain extended to only about three miles north of town and some seven or eight miles to the south. No extra crop damage has been reported.

Sixty-Two Miles New REA Lines Are Energized

Sixty-two miles of Rural Electrification Administration lines were energized during the past week. Cecil McLaughry, superintendent of the Bailey County Co-Op stated yesterday. This new line will serve 96 members in the Springlake, Earth and Sunnyside communities.

Mr. McLaughry said that 145 additional miles would be energized within the next 15 days, unless storms delay the work.

Reinhart and Donovan of Oklahoma City are the contractors in charge of construction, and have made excellent time since beginning the job some four months ago. With the completion of the present unit, Bailey County Electric Co-Op will have approximately 450 miles of highline, serving every community in Bailey county, besides communities in Lamb, Castro, Farmer and Cochran counties.

Branch offices and display rooms are being opened this week. Mr. McLaughry stated, in Morton, W. H. Myers, formerly of Gilmer, Tex., will be in charge. Mr. and Mrs. Myers and their two children will move to Morton within the next few days.

The Morton office will serve members on 80 miles of line in Cochran and southern Bailey counties. At the display rooms in both Muleshoe and Morton will be found almost anything in the way of electrical appliances, including refrigerators, stoves, toasters, brooders, cleaners, etc., for the convenience of the hundreds of members.

Baptist Laymen Hear Snyder Plan

Urging the men of the community to do their part in the work of the church, Lyman Wren, Snyder businessman and church worker, was the speaker at a meeting of the Baptist Laymen's Association Monday night.

"Someone, long before most of you came to Muleshoe, started the fire that is the church," Mr. Wren said. "You who are here tonight should do your part toward keeping that fire going."

"The man who fails to add his share of fuel to the fire not only shares his duty to the church, but to his community and his family as well," the speaker concluded.

Mr. Wren has been active in church work for years and teaches a Sunday School class at Springlake.

MORTON BANK TO OPEN

The new State Bank at Morton will occupy its new building on the square soon, and will be open about July 1. It is Cochran county's first bank.

An Automobile Goes Swimming

Not to be outdone by its owner and a group of his friends, an automobile went swimming Sunday afternoon.

The following item, which probably would delight the creators of "Believe It Or Not," "This Curious World," and "Strange As It Seems," was sent in by The Journal's Baileyboro correspondent:

"Jack Obenhouse lost his car Sunday afternoon. Jack and a group of other boys went over to the big spring to go swimming. They had just dived in when they looked up to see Jack's car rolling off into the water. It took the boys several hours to find the car and get it out, as it was in water about 25 feet deep."

Cotton Stamp Plan To Start In Bailey County Within 6 Weeks

In anticipation of the issuance of Cotton Order Stamps to cotton farmers of Bailey county participating in the Supplementary Cotton Stamp Program within about six weeks, the government is carrying on an extensive educational campaign to acquaint local retailers of cotton products with the program's operation.

This announcement was made today by S. T. Logan, county agricultural agent, in stating that Mr. Duggin, a representative of the Supplemental Marketing Administration planned to call personally on the manager of every retailer of cotton products in the county. "It is of utmost importance," said Mr. Logan, "that these merchants and their clerks fully understand the rules and regulations governing the operation of the program. Retail merchants dealing in cotton goods will be one of the most important groups in this program designed to help our cotton farmers, merchants and the South's No. 1 industry as a whole."

"Many more citizens of the United States depend upon cotton for a living than upon any other crop we grow. It is the most important cash crop we grow. On 2,600,000 cotton farms of the South and Southwest more than 10,000,000 persons are dependent on cotton for the greater part of their income."

"The war has sharply curtailed our exports of American cotton, which, more than any other American crop has been dependent on foreign buyers for its market. Accordingly, it is today more in the national interest than ever before that we increase our domestic consumption of cotton goods grown, processed, and manufactured in this country. Merchants, farmers, and the general public should cooperate in this important national objective of increased cotton consumption."

A survey of women workers has shown they are less cooperative than men workers and therefore harder to organize into labor unions.

Shortage Noted In Muleshoes

There is not another Muleshoe in the United States, according to The Journal's statistician, who came out of temporary retirement this week to consult an antiquated postal guide.

The same tireless worker, who several weeks ago diligently figured out the price of milk products down Austin way at the rate of 65-c-a-glass butter-milk; who last week ran a location on J. Clyde Taylor's ranch on the name of a town, and who is ever at the service of Journal readers, expended no little effort in discovering that ours is the "one and only Muleshoe."

The nearest thing to it is over in the neighboring state of New Mexico, where a Mule Creek Adorns the map. Not even Missouri, generally regarded as the "mule state," honors the animal with the name of a town. But for those who want to be technical about such matters, there are Horseshoes in New York and North Carolina.

What products may stores sell for cotton stamps when they make their debut in Bailey county under the Supplementary Cotton Program of the United States Department of Agriculture? How will merchants redeem the stamps they have taken in trade? These and other questions of interest to local merchants and farmers who participate in the program beginning in about six weeks are answered by Irvin St. Clair, chairman of the Bailey County Cotton Industry Committee, in a series of articles starting this week in The Muleshoe Journal.

He said that "any new cotton product made entirely from new cotton that has been grown, processed, and manufactured in the United States may be exchanged for cotton stamps. Naturally, many such products will have bindings, buttons, or other fasteners as well as bindings and trimmings, which are not made of cotton. But these, he pointed out, are not a part of the fabric and therefore are not a determining factor.

On the other hand, merchants cannot exchange any articles for cotton stamps in which any material other than 100 percent American grown, processed, and manufactured cotton forms a part of the fabric structure. For example goods made from cotton fibers mixed with synthetic fiber, wool, silk, cotton linters, or non-spinnable waste could not be exchanged for stamps.

Mr. St. Clair added that "any merchant who was doubtful whether merchandise he planned to sell for cotton stamps was made of 100 percent American cotton, should make a careful check before accepting stamps for such goods. Regarding his stock on hand, he should write to the wholesaler or manufacturer from whom they were purchased. On new orders he should request that the seller state on the invoice which cotton goods are made entirely of cotton grown, processed and manufactured in the United States."

Local Selective Service officials are ready for registering the new men who have become 21 years of age since Oct. 16, 1940. There will be only one registration office this time, according to information from the board last Monday. All men who are subject to registration in Bailey county must do so at the Muleshoe office between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m., Tuesday, July 1, 1941.

Aliens as well as American citizens who are 21 years old on July 1 must be registered. It is pointed out that aliens between the ages of 21 and 36 years, who have come to the United States since the first registration on Oct. 1940, and have not been registered, must appear before local boards on July 1 to register.

Quoting from Selective Service regulations, Gen. J. Watt Page said that the exemptions from registration as provided by the Selective Training and Service Act and the Coast Guard Auxiliary and Reserve Act are:

"Commissioned officers, warrant officers, pay clerks, and enlisted men of the Regular Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Public Health Service, the federally recognized active National Guard, the Officers' Reserve Corps, the Regular Army Reserve, the enlisted Reserve Corps, the Naval Reserve, and the Marine Corps cadets, United States Military Academy; midshipmen, United States Naval Academy; cadets, United States Coast Guard Academy; men who have been accepted for admittance (commencing with the academic year next succeeding such acceptance) to the United States Military Academy as cadets, to the United States Naval Academy as midshipmen, or to the United States Coast Guard Academy as cadets, but only during the continuance of such acceptance; cadets of the advanced course, senior division, Reserve Officer Training Corps or Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps; members of the Coast Guard Reserve, other than temporary members; and diplomatic representatives, technical attachés of foreign embassies and legations, consuls general, consuls, vice consuls, and consular agents of foreign countries, residing in the United States, who are not citizens of the United States, and who have not declared their intention to become citizens of the United States."

Special registrars will be provided to register men who cannot appear before the local board because of illness or other incapacity.

Every man subject to registration who is an inmate of an asylum, jail, penitentiary, reformatory, or similar institution on July 1 is required to register on the day he leaves the institution.

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States — and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year — although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent — averaging 47 per cent — and amounting to 580 million dollars a year — although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

1,700 Acres To Be Planted To Castor Beans

COLLEGE STATION, June 25 — Approximately 1,700 acres in 11 blackland counties of Texas have been designated by the Department of Agriculture at Washington for an emergency castor bean production program this year.

According to Director H. H. Williamson of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, the program is a defense measure prompted by a possible shortage of shipping which would seriously curtail the normal import into the United States of tung oil from China and castor beans from Brazil and India. Test growings of the beans in Bell, Collin, Dallas, Ellis, Fannin, Grayson, Hill Lamar, Navarro, McLennan and Van Zandt, the counties selected for the experiment has made a good showing. With normal production, the area should produce approximately 1,500,000 lbs. of seed beans, or enough to plant more than 250,000 acres should home production become necessary. This acreage, depending on seasonal conditions, would pro-

Pressure Cooker Likely To Prove Aid To Defense

COLLEGE STATION, June 25 — If you have a pressure cooker, your biggest contribution to defense may be keeping it safe and in working order and using it for a more abundant food supply.

Because the country's supply of virgin aluminum is being used for defense needs faster than it can be produced, there may not be "any aluminum pressure cookers available in 1942," one manufacturer and dealer has written to Mildred Horton, vice director of the Extension Service and chairman of the Texas State Nutrition Committee. Since most Texas orders were placed early this year, Texas distributors have been able to meet the seasonal demand for 1941.

Companies manufacturing their cookers from virgin sheet aluminum have been particularly hard hit this spring, since the only metal available has been scrap or "secondary aluminum." Now, even scrap supplies are not obtainable.

A recent statement from the consumer representative on minerals and metals for the national defense commission explains that "although it appeared some time ago supplies of aluminum in the form of scrap would be available to the manufacturers of cooking utensils, it now develops that supplies may be restricted to a much greater extent than hitherto foreseen. Since the defense needs are increasing much more rapidly than production, it appears secondary scrap metals will be taken over for defense needs. While it may be that a pool of material may be set up for emergency use, this does not mean any of this will be made available to the manufacturers of consumer goods."

Cooker Testing Clinics To Be Held In County

Schedules have been arranged for holding cooker testing clinics in various communities in the county, according to Little Century, home demonstration agent. Everyone is invited to bring cookers to these clinics to be tested.

All pressure cookers should be tested at least one each year, more often in order to eliminate chances of accidents and to insure better food preservation.

All canning at this altitude should be processed with two extra pounds of pressure to insure an accurate temperature inside the cooker.

The clinics will be held in connection with home demonstration club meetings on the following dates:

Stegall, July 2; Baileyboro, July 8; Watson, July 9; Progress, July 15; Maple, July 17; Fairview, July 22; West Camp, July 23; Buia, July 25.

Those interested in having their cookers tested are asked to get in touch with some club member in one of these communities to learn where the clinics will be held.

WPA Clients Are Advised To Take Jobs When Offered

WPA District Manager J. O. Jones has reiterated his reminder to farmers and other private employers that WPA workers are listed with the Texas State Employment Service and are available for private employment.

WPA workers will be released from projects wherever needed to make farm help available. Mr. Jones declared, "Prospective employers should consult local representatives of the Texas State Employment Service," he explained, "as this is the duly-constituted agency for referring WPA workers and other persons seeking private jobs to employers."

Rolls of the WPA are constantly open to private employers and no worker who refuses a bona fide offer of employment will be retained by WPA. This regulation is based on the following section of the WPA appropriation act:

"No person in need who refuses a bona fide offer of private or other public employment under reasonable working conditions which pays the prevailing wage for such work in the community where he resides and who is capable of performing such work shall be employed or retained in employment on work projects under the funds appropriated in this joint resolution for the period such private or other public employment would be available."

Currently employed on WPA projects in this district are 1819 men and women and an additional 731 persons are certified as eligible for WPA employment and are awaiting assignment whenever jobs are available. All of these persons are registered with the Texas State Employment Service and are immediately available to private employers, the District Manager stated.

YOUR NAME?

By CHARLES DIDWAY

MILLER
One of the oldest of occupational names, Miller ranks as one of the ten commonest family names in America. When an army of census takers descended upon an expectant American public in April 1940, they probably found few Millers at the mill. At the same time, however, they found few Smiths at the forge, fewer Bakers at the ovens and only a smattering of Weavers at the loom.

Originally Miller was the owner of a grist-mill. The oldest forms of the name are Milne and Milner, all coming from "molina," the Latin word for "mill."
Miller, Mueller and Moeller are German equivalents to the English Miller.
This country's famous Millers have included Joaquin Miller, poet, and William Miller, prophet of the sect called Millerites.

FRY
The family name Fry, comparatively common throughout the United States, is another form of "free" coming from the Old English "fri" (tree). When the name is spelled "Frey" it probably indicates one who came from Friesland, a Holland province. The original meaning of the name was "free, kindly, affable; a person not in bondage." Elizabeth Fry was an English philanthropist, and William P. Fry was an American lawyer and senator.

HADLEY
Hadley is an English local name from several places in England. It is derived from the Old English "hadra" (a wood) and "ley" (field), meaning "wooded field." Arthur T. Hadley was president of Yale University from 1899 to 1921. James Hadley was an English astronomer.

If your name has not appeared in this column and you would like to learn its meaning write it on a card and mail to The Journal.

Baptist Revival Is Progressing

The revival meeting being conducted by Elder W. B. Wages, missionary of the Plains Association, and Elder A. Stidham, editor of the Baptist Progress, is progressing nicely.

We are grateful to the Baptist church for the use of their building and other facilities.

A group of Baptists in and around Muleshoe have lots purchased on which to build a church house. They want to be a blessing to mankind. They want to lead the lost to Christ and to engage lost Christians to live for God.

All in attendance seem to be enjoying the preaching of the Word of God and the good singing and music.

The meeting will continue all this week and probably all next week.

Next Sunday night there will be organized an old fashioned Missionary Baptist Church. There is plenty of room here for another Baptist church, and there seems to be sufficient reason for the organization of a second church.

The services come at 10 a. m. and at 8:30 p. m. —Reported.

Boyle, former residents of Muleshoe. Their next stop was Ruidoso, N. M., where they spent several hours enjoying the mountain scenery. # THE SMOKY YEARS

By ALAN LE MAY

INSTALLMENT V
THE STORY SO FAR:

Dusty King and Lew Gordon were joint owners of the vast King-Gordon range which stretched from Texas to Montana. When building up this string of ranches, they continually had to fight the unscrupulous Ben Thorpe. He rivaled King-Gordon wealth and power, but had gained his position through wholesale cattle rustling and gunplay. One afternoon King was killed by Thorpe and his two assistants, Cleve Tanner and Walk Lasham. King's adopted son, "I guess you already know Graham," Roper said. "You know a warrior gang of Cleve's?"

"I want three dollars a head, American gold, paid off as the cattle come out of the water..." Roper's ways of gathering his wild horse were diverse, as diverse as rals. Now, I aim to hand back that saddle men he gathered. One range to Bob Graham; he's waiting the word. You part here, three more there, he got all he needed, and more.

"But certain other things had to be done, in order that the wild bunch would have work to do, planned in such a way that something would be accomplished that would stay accomplished." "Simple, huh? Just how do you figure this simple trick is to be done?"

"A lawyer in San Antonio kept the Rangers off when Tanner jumped Graham. Now we've got another better lawyer in San Antonio to keep them off when Graham jumps Tanner. The only question is, had worked under a different name, who's got enough salt to grab that somebody before; but here, assurance he was in no one's pay."

"And what do we get out of all this?" "I'm not asking the likes of you this?" "What's that?" Bill Roper said.

"Graham takes over the outfit and you hang around and help him, and you hear me doesn't get run off again. For that you get a half interest in the outfit. You split it among you any way you see fit. I'll back Graham with cattle, and what other stuff he needs."

Nate Liggett said, "Bill, I don't see where we come in for no advantage." "If you're satisfied with the lone wolf stuff you've been pulling, I haven't got anything to offer you," Roper admitted. "But I'll tell you this—the boys that string with me now will see the day when they'll run Texas; and Cleve Tanner, and Ben Thorpe, too, will be busted up and forgotten."

"It's a hefty order!" "Maybe it is. This Graham business is a kind of experiment; but if it works if you make it work. But if it goes through okay—it's only the beginning, and you hear me? You string with me a little while, and maybe by God, we'll show a couple of people something..."

CHAPTER VIII
Hot, dry days of early August—As late as an struck with a resheat across the plains, the Tanner men who held the Graham range were already saddling. All over Texas, cowmen were throwing to the deck from Roper was still caddy. "When it comes to custing a man from possession—"

"You know who 'outed' Bob Graham and his family from possession, Cleve Tanner took over that outfit by your hand, and in another minute or two the three Tanner riders were grouped in a defensive knot, while Nate Liggett jogged forward to talk it over.

"I don't think you want to go on," he said. "I don't even think you want to work for this outfit any more."

"Two nights later, one hundred and fifty miles away—"

With the approach of dusk, a peculiar light lay upon the valley of the Potrero. In a reach of open grass a line of five hundred head bunched loosely—tame, heavy cattle, already well removed by breeding from the old, wild, long-horn strain. But they had not bunched together. The shuffling restlessly, watching the brush something was happening around them that they did not understand.

As the light faded, the figures of horsemen emerged from the brush, cutting mile-long shadows into the flat rays of sunset; the signal, they shouldered man who signaled his spread-out cowboys by turning his horse this way or that, in Indian horse language, was Dave Shannon. They did not speak.

Only, between sunset and the next daylight, no cow took a step other than in the direction of the Mexican border...

"I'm not asking you to put Graham back in possession of his range. I'm not asking you to save him from being put off again in the way he was before. What I want to know is, can you head off some cooked-up legal interference with Graham, after he is in possession again?"

Fred Maxim thought it over. "I can only promise you that I can cause considerable delay," he said. "Months of delay?"

"Providing you can show possession—I'll keep you clear until hell freezes."

"That's all I want..." Still July, at Willow Creek—

A barren range of hills, sand hills; golden in the dawn, purple in the twilight, barren always. Beneath them, what had been the Willow Creek camp of the old King-Gordon. In the bunkhouse nearest the river, five men lounging around a little room.

"All right, you hard guys," Bill Roper said; "you know who told you to come here. Dry Camp Pierce told you to come here. Maybe he told you what you could look for here, huh?"

These four gunfighters who met Roper here were none of them older than Bill; yet each was famous as a killer in his own right. Of them all Bill Roper alone had no name, no reputation. Yet, in respect for the name of Dusty King, they had come to hear him out.

Nate Liggett, a round-faced kid with eyelashes that looked as if they had been powdered with white dust, said, "Well, what seems to be your offer?"

"I figure to cross five thousand head with the next three months, Roper told him."

"Five thousand head won't even scratch the hide of Thorpe and Tanner, son."

"I know that as well as you. What it will do, it'll draw Tanner to throw his warriors onto the border. That's what I want. Because by then I'll be working somewhere else."

DIVIDENDS ARE PAID BY MOONSHINE CROP

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Pete Zarzoll scooped last year at the prognostications of Professor Cotton Whitaker, an official weather prophet of note who believes crops planted in the dark of the moon have greater yields than those planted in the light of the moon. A gardening contest was arranged.

Zarzoll's crops, planted under a full moon, proved clearly superior to those of Whitaker, planted when there was little, if any, moonlight.

In recognition of his ability Zarzoll was made foreman of a WPA truck farm of 25 acres.

Washington Snapshots
by JAMES PRESTON

Washington is still fumbling around in its search for means to end defense strikes — without hurting anybody.

There also are fears in some Congressional quarters that unless progress is made cautiously the nation may surrender the very things it is building defense to protect.

On the first point, the legislators are a-dither. Many of them think it unfair for the government to take over private property just because allegedly Communist agitators persuade workers to strike. Such action, they believe, punishes an innocent bystander.

What these solons would like to do is simply forbid strikes in defense plants. But that, they fear, would be wrong because it is difficult to compel a man to work against his will. Also, saboteurs are adept at slow-downs and at destructive operations inside factories.

A lot of the legislators, too, blame themselves for the present situation. They think, for example, that things would be much better nowadays if they had amended the Wagner Act to put some responsibilities upon labor organizations; that they should have moved four years ago when sit-down strikes broke out.

But they did neither of those things. The House did pass Wagner Act amendments by a tremendous majority, but administration pressure bottled them up in the Senate.

Even so, even some of the Senators who failed to exert pressure which might have unbottled the Wagner Act amendments are penitent. There is, though, a good political reason why they do nothing now. It is this:

For years the administration and many of its Congressional followers have been a "friend" of labor and labor organizations — two terms which by no means are synonymous. They have encouraged unionization and collective bargaining, the two weapons which permit unions to exert so-called "economic pressure" by striking and forcing plants to close down.

The President even went so far that when he condemned the sit-down strikes in automobile plants he also condemned plant managers.

Thus these Congressional followers of the administration have a record on which many of them were elected and re-elected. They feel they must stand on that record. To admit that they made mistakes by writing one-sided laws, by granting all the privileges to labor unions and imposing no responsibilities upon them, is to admit faulty judgment. And a candidate for Congress who admits he was guilty of mistakes might not prove too popular at the ballot boxes.

Many of the serious thinkers believe that troops were necessary to protect airplane production, but they also think that if proper steps had been taken by the government to keep subversives and agitators out of labor organizations, the need for troops never would have arisen. For example, it was only two years ago that then Chairman Madden of the National Labor Relations Board said that if an employer in complete truth should describe leaders of a particular union as Communists, he would be in violation of the Wagner Act.

There are a lot of people today who regret such policies.

If news is the unusual, then Rep. Clare E. Hoffman of Michigan has made news. He delivered a speech in the House. When it appeared in the Congressional Record, the printer had put at the end of it: "(Applause)."

Hoffman obtained official permission of the House to have that "applause" deleted from the permanent copy of the Record because nobody applauded.

Members frequently insert that word, but no old-timer remembers anybody else who took it out.

Defense Cost Note: OPM Director Knudsen informed Rep. A. Willis Robertson of Virginia that the Federal 40-hour law has increased the cost of negotiated or fixed fee defense contracts "from 5 to 10 percent."

Southern Baptists To Raise $300,000 For Soldiers' Work

The Southern Baptist Convention, composed of more than 25,000 Baptist churches and a combined membership of more than 5,000,000 people, has instructed the Home Mission Board, located at Atlanta, Ga., to promote the religious work in connection with the army camps, navy bases, marine stations, air corps and CCC camps. Although Texas Baptists have been promoting religious work in all the army camps in Texas, they will cooperate with Southern Baptists in the promotion of the religious work among the soldiers throughout the nation.

Dr. W. W. Melton, General Secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, with headquarters in Dallas, made the following statement in a meeting in Dallas this week.

"The world at its worst needs Christianity at its best. While the United States is making preparation to defend itself, the young men who are in government service need to fortify themselves by trusting Jesus as Savior and Lord." Dr. Melton also said, "While our young men are receiving training to be soldiers of our government, they should also receive the love of Christ in their hearts and thus become soldiers of the Cross and enlist in the Christian army with King Jesus as their Commander."

The time set by Southern Baptists to raise the $300,000 is July 27. All pastors of all Baptist churches in the South will be invited to participate in this movement. It has been suggested that on July 20 all pastors use as their subject, "Our Responsibility to Our Government-Enlisted Men."

A local church was making a drive for funds, and two colored sisters were bearing down hard on old Rastus Jones. "I can't give nothin'," pleaded the old Negro. "I owe nearly everybody in dis here old town already."

"But," said one of the collectors "don't you think you owe the Lord somethin', too?"

"I does, sister, indeed," said the old man, "but he ain't pushin' me like my other creditors is."

Two men were discussing the reasons for success and failure. "A good deal depends on the formation of early habits," said Howell.

"I know it," replied Powell. "When I was a baby my mother hired a woman to wheel me about and I have been pushed for money ever since."

The average consumption of steel in this country equals 600 pounds a year for each American. The comparable average for textiles is 30 pounds, and for oil products, 2,500 pounds.

Defense Contracts In Texas Pass $495 Million Mark

AUSTIN, June 25 — National defense contracts let in Texas up to April 15 amounted to $495,241,592.81, and Texans have been quick to make themselves available for employment in occupations essential to national defense. James R. D. Eddy, State Director of the National Defense Training Program, said today.

Shipyard contracts in Texas total $181,142,452.00. These contracts cover 12 destroyers to be built at Orange, 12 cargo vessels and four steel mine sweepers to be built at Beaumont, four steel submarine chasers and 37 steel cargo boats to be built at Houston, 10 wood mine sweepers to be built at Orange, and an unspecified number of wood submarine chasers to be built at Rockport and Galveston.

With Texas forging to the front as a center for ship construction, labor estimates compiled by the Texas State Employment Service indicate that the shipyards in Texas will absorb 12,000 workers within the next 12 months.

"If the flow of national defense materials is continued unimpeded, it is essential that trained men be available for the jobs when they are needed," Eddy declared.

Texas Will Rank First In U. S. O. Soldier Benefits

DALLAS June 25 — Texas will rank first in benefits to be bestowed by the United Service Organizations for National Defense. This is due to the fact that Texas will train more men in the service than will be trained in any other state. In addition to the training camps Texas ranks high in the distribution of war defense contracts which are adding thousands upon thousands of workers to industrial payrolls, according to E. B. Germany, Dallas, U. S. O. regional chairman for four southwestern states.

Actual construction on service club buildings has already begun in the North and it is expected many of them will be built in Texas within the next few months, Germany said. These club buildings will be erected in towns and cities near troop concentration camps and in the districts where large numbers of defense workers are employed. The first of the USO service clubs to be started is at Wrights town, N. J., which is in the heart of an area of defense and military concentration. All clubs are to be staffed by civilian workers under the direction of service organizations sponsored by the U. S. O.

Texas is now striving to raise its quota of $400,000, its share of the national fund of nearly $11,000,000, to cover the first year's operations of the clubs. Three congressional districts have reported complete county organization and many counties have already attained their designated quota.

FARMING AS A BUSINESS

Is your farming business large enough to keep you and members of your family employed at productive work throughout the year? It is not necessarily how many acres you operate that counts, but rather how much you produce for sale. Obviously, 10 acres of cotton or tobacco represents a larger output of labor and materials than 10 acres of wheat. Similarly, 25 dairy cows mean a larger livestock business than 25 steers, sheep or hogs. Farm records show that few farmers obtain a satisfactory income who do not—

1. Operate at least 40 acres of crop land, including hay and rotation pasture;
2. Spend 300 or more days of man labor on crops or livestock to be sold;
3. Sell $1,000 worth of farm products each year (or an amount equal to at least 20 percent of the investment in farm real estate, livestock and equipment).

Levelland Rodeo Dates Set For July 4 And 5

LEVELLAND, June 25 — Lions' plans for Levelland's 16th annual Birthday Celebration and Rodeo here July 4 and 5 were being celebrated this week as arrangements went forward for an outstanding two-day event.

Two radio programs over station KFYO, Lubbock, have been scheduled for June 25 and July 2. Lions club rodeo officials announced Tuesday. Designed to advertise the July 4-5 event, each of the two programs will be heard at 2:45. Alvin R. Allison will be master of ceremonies for the 15 minutes of entertainment which will include numbers by the Levelland String Band, as well as other musical specialties.

Highlight of July 4 and 5 fun in Levelland will be two-a-day rodeo performances, which are expected to attract top-notch cowboys from a broad Eastern New Mexico and West Texas area. They will compete for $1,500 in cash plus additional hundreds of dollars in merchandise awards.

A full calendar of entertainment events has been carded by the Lions Club, sponsors of the celebration and rodeo, which will be climaxed with dances each night of the July 4 and 5 celebration.

Levelland is preparing an outstanding city last year when over 8,000 guests were entertained by the city's 15th Birthday Celebration and one of the outstanding rodeos of the season. Two good-will tours are slated for Levelland booster trippers who will depart on their first publicity excursion June 26 and climax their jaunts with another tour over the South Plains and New Mexico area on July 2.

Curley Daugherty, noted stockman, will furnish stock for the rodeo, assuring both performers and fans of plenty of entertainment with rodeo stock of the highest caliber on tap for each rodeo performance.

Lazbuddy Study Club Meets With Mrs. Jennings

The Lazbuddy Study Club met Thursday June 19, at the home of Mrs. Ophel N. Jennings.

As the weather prevented our last meeting, quite a bit of business was attended to. Mrs. Glenn Dunn, president of the club, presided.

Plans are underway to provide hot school lunches for the school children. Most of us had taken this work for granted, but it is a community affair in which all patrons should cooperate in helping to make a success.

Mrs. John Gammon was appointed chairman of the committee to work out details to be presented at the next club meeting. We are very glad to have Mrs. Elmo Taylor, proprietor of the Lazbuddy Mercantile store as a new member.

"Going away" gifts were presented Mrs. C. E. Merriott who moved to Floydada; Mrs. Edwin Julian of Los Angeles, Calif.; Miss Lucille Meacham of Lubbock and Mrs. G. C. Tiner. We regret very much to lose these efficient club members and wish for them much happiness in their respective new homes.

A very enjoyable program was rendered by Mrs. John Gammon, Mrs. Bruce Abney and Mrs. C. E. Briscoe, who gave an appropriate talk on "Father's Day."

Mr. E. M. Jennings of Lubbock was a guest of the club. Salad plates were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Joe Bates Jennings, who was also a guest, in the following: Mesdames Walter Steinback, Glenn Dunn, C. E. Briscoe, Bruce Abney, Finis Jennings, Frank Huikson, E. M. Jennings, Sam Laymon, J. E. W. Jennings, Rex Faulkner, Price Frather, Joe Jarman, John Gammon, Joe Bates Jennings, and Misses Margie Louise Mars, D. Riley Jennings, and the hostess.

ELECTRICITY ON THE FARM

C. V. Phagan and G. H. Stewart Clemson extension agricultural engineers list five ways to use electric juice to reduce farm costs or increase farm income as follows:

1. A water pump at reasonable cost will give the housewife running water where and when she wants it and will lessen her biggest drudgeries and give her time for other tasks that will mean much more to the family.
2. A water hose and sprayer will irrigate the garden during dry months and insure more fresh vegetables for the family and for sale.
3. A homemade electric brooder costing $6 or less, with a capacity of 100 day-old chicks, will help raise chicks more economically for family use and market.
4. A small bull pulled by a one-quarter horsepower motor will permit what grinding at home, thereby getting 50 pounds of flour and 10 pounds of bran from a bushel of wheat which, if sold on the market, would buy only 17 pounds of flour.

5. Refrigeration of any type will aid in the preservation of farm products, with surplus to sell for cash.—The Progressive Farmer.

They are more graceful when spread out and each flower may be distinguished for its individual beauty. An attractive arrangement in your holder is to cut the stems of flowers of the same variety into three different lengths, placing the tall in the back, medium length in the center and short stemmed ones to the front. This is especially effective with lilies.

We "Buildd Better Than We Knew"

We started late in this race for preparedness. The dictators had been arming for years when our government placed its first contract for defense material with American industry last spring. We've made amazing progress since then but experts say that we have only begun turning out tanks and planes and ships and guns in the vast quantities that we can eventually achieve.

But viewing the thing from another angle, it seems as if we've been preparing for this emergency ever since we became an industrial nation.

Today, America is a country of 130 million people occupying 1-20 of the surface of the earth. But that isn't the measure of our strength. We've developed our resources and built up an industrial system that is frankly the envy of the aggressor countries. Just look at some of the things we have!

We produce two-thirds of the world's oil, one-third of its lumber, one-third of its coal, one-third of its hydro-electric power, one-third of its pig iron, nearly one-third of its aluminum, and two-fifths of its copper — all of them needed for defense production.

Then consider that we have one-third of all the railroads in the world — nearly one-half of all the telephones, and nearly three-fourths of all the automobiles — to mention just a few of the things which our industrial system has produced.

The figures, which are nothing less staggering, mean that we had a kind of head start on the rest of the world and that even if we did begin late on this last lap of preparedness we shall be able to overtake and finally surpass the defense production of the dictator countries.

Besides we have one other great advantage. We are a nation of free men and women working together in a system of free enterprise. We work because we have ambition and ideals not because someone tells us we must or threatens us with punishment if we don't. And we work according to our own ideas of how things should be done, making changes whenever they seem desirable and bringing about improvements all the time we work to express ourselves and to earn the rewards offered by a system like ours.

For two decades after the last war we hoped for peace and let our armament industry lapse. But with our genius for production — with our great reservoirs of manpower — with our natural resources and above all, with our traditional love of freedom for every man, woman and child within our borders, we have the groundwork for an output of defense material such as the world has never seen. Since we first declared our independence over a century and a half ago, we have been building "better than we knew"; getting ready to make this "armament of democracy" at a time when free men everywhere must make a determined stand for human liberty.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Bladders started Monday in the wheat fields and the yields are going to surpass the first estimates. In some places, the farmers say it will make 35 bushels per acre and some will go as low as 20 bushels, all depending on the stand of wheat.

Sones Entertained At M. E. Church Monday Night

Prof. and Mrs. C. L. Sone were honored with a farewell party at the Educational Building of the local Methodist church.

The Sones are planning to move to their new home in Canyon about July 1. They have resided in Muleshoe for the past three years, where he has been mathematics teacher in the local high school. A supper was one of the highlights of the occasion. The Sones were presented with two lawn chairs and a reading table by their friends of the church as tokens of the high esteem in which they are held.

Alloting Part Of Salaries For Defense Bonds

AUSTIN, Tex., June 23—When queried as to the reception by the people of Texas to the salary allotment plan for Defense Savings, State Administrator Frank Scofield stated:

"Many, many employers over the state have made it possible for their employes to invest regularly in defense securities thru the medium of allowing a fixed amount out of each pay check for this purpose. Also, thousands of their employes have started active participation in such a plan for regular saving and investment.

"In this connection," said Mr.

Scofield, "I should like to mention that on the purchase of a 10-cent stamp you will be given a card on which you may mount 25 of these stamps and exchange them for $2.50 worth of the larger size. On the purchase of a 25-cent stamp you will be given an album on which you may mount 75 of these stamps. When so filled the album will have a total value of $18.75, the purchase price of a savings bond that will appreciate in ten years to $25.00. Correspondingly, the regular purchase of stamps of the 50-cent and $1.00 denominations will fill albums of a total value of $37.50 and $75.00 respectively. The filling of an album of $5.00 stamps will represent a saving of $75.00, the purchase price of a Defense Bond that will appreciate in ten years to $100.00."

"In other words, if you buy a bond for $18.75, buy 25 stamps. If you want to buy a $37.50 bond, buy 50-cent stamps. If you want to buy a $75.00 bond, buy either $1.00 or $5.00 stamps. If you buy 10-cent stamps, your album is full trade it or you want to buy eventually
