Cotton Is More Important Than Ever To Nation

"The importance of the role cotton is playing in America's national defense program cannot be over-estimated," Irvin St. Clair, chairman of the Bailey County Cotton Industry committee, said here today.

Stating that approximately 12 percent of current cotton textile production is going into defense materials, Mr. St. Clair said that literally hundreds of cotton articles are being used in large quantities by the armed forces of the United States. In addition, he stated that the Cotton Producing Industry and Cotton Trades Industry are cooperating with the Surplus Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture in an effort to increase the consumption of 100 million American cotton products by everyone.

Listing as typical examples of Army purchases of cotton articles Mr. St. Clair said that as far back as March the Army had bought 1,300,000 pairs of cotton khaki trousers, 1,000,000 canvas coats, 2,400,000 mosquito nets, 1,700,000 raincoats, 300,000 canvas tents, 200,000 cook's caps, 10,000 cotton parachutes, 5,000,000 towels, 1,300,000 gas masks, 1,800,000 sand bags and 450,000 rolls of surgical gauze.

Increased cotton purchases by the government for the Army and Navy have not been the sole effect of the world war on American cotton, however," Mr. St. Clair said. "On the other side of the picture, cotton has lost virtually all of its foreign markets at least for the duration of the war."

"Formerly the United States exported almost 7,000,000 bales of cotton a year to foreign markets. This year cotton exports will be less than a million bales," he continued. "Naturally this loss of markets has greatly affected the cotton industry. The only free markets remaining open to the eleven million Americans whose livelihood is those afforded by this country. It is essential that we redouble our efforts to increase the domestic cotton consumption."

"By purchasing more cotton than American consumers can assist this period of temporary emergency when the cooperation of all is so greatly needed."

Foundation Work Is Underway Here On New $32,000 Theatre

Comedian

Billy "Toby" Young, comedian and owner of Toby's Comedians, tent theatre, which is coming to Muleshoe for a three-night engagement, starting Thursday night, August 28, under the auspices of the American Legion.

Foundation work started Monday morning on Muleshoe's new theatre building. It is estimated that it will take 90 days to complete. As the show house throughout, and when completed, will represent an outlay of $32,000. Some of the most modern equipment to be found has been contracted for. Walter Moeller, manager, stated Monday.

"There will not be a theatre in Texas, or anywhere for that matter, with better machines and fixtures," Walter said.

Robison and Wildering are contractors, and the Charles Lena Lumber company is furnishing the material.

With the population of Muleshoe and its trade territory showing a rapid increase, the time is at hand for a theatre as good as can be found in any city, and Mr. Moeller guarantees that the motion picture fans of this area will have it.

There is probably no other town in the country with more movie fans than Muleshoe, in proportion to size, and these fans soon will have all there is to be desired in this line.

The equipment to be installed in the new theatre includes Simplex E-7 machines, with Simplex 4-Star sound; Peerless Magrane, high intensity lamps and a Walker beaded screen. This may sound like so much "gimmick" to the average citizen, but to movie people it means the best in motion picture theatre equipment.

Six hundred and fifty upholstered opera seats on the main floor and in the balconies will be furnished by the American Seating Co. of Temple, Tex. Bright lighting and automatic air-conditioning throughout will add to the convenience and comfort of the patrons, as well as the tiled lounge rooms. In fact, everything possible is being done to make this a theatre which will meet the approval of the most exacting.

Name of the new theatre will be The Valley and opening date will be about December 1.

The Palace will continue to be operated, showing second-run pictures, according to present plans. However, more complete announcements will be made at a later date.

West Texas Has New Playground Of 40,000 Acres

West Texas has a new playground—a recreational area covering 40,000 acres unequalled in beauty by any section of Texas outside of the Big Bend territory. The rugged hills, the timber growth, the canyons and the tortuous bends of the mighty Brazos River in Young, Stephens and Palo Pinto counties have always been recognized for their scenic beauty.

However, it took the creation of the 28,000 acre Possum Kingdom Lake to turn this section to a play ground for fishermen, boatmen, swimmers, nature lovers, dude ranchers and what have you.

On March 21, 1941, final openings in the 152-foot high Possum Kingdom Dam were closed and the early summer flood waters filled it many months ahead of schedule, and to the delight of all who have seen it, the red waters of the Brazos quickly changed into the clearest of lakes.

Follow the main meanderings of the lake and you have traveled 67 miles from headwaters to the dam. Explore its rocky and mountainous shoreline, and your boat will go 310 miles. Drop your fishing tackle near the dam and it will sink 140 feet. In some spots you can stand on the front porch of your cabin and cast into water 100 feet deep. Hundreds of inlets and many major creeks are already teeming with the millions of fish planted there by the Texas Fish, Game and Oyster Commission, under whose direct control the fishing activities come. (The lake is closed to fishing now but will be opened in less than 18 months.)

Of major importance is the 6,300 acre Possum Kingdom State Park. Two separate peninsulas face each other. One is formed by Caddo and Cedar Creeks, while the other is the result of a 15-mile bend in the Brazos. The area is characterized by high mountains, beautiful bodies of water, beaches and timber. Its development is under the joint sponsorship of the National Park Service and the Texas State Parks Board.

The Dam is about equidistant from Graham, Breckenridge, and Mineral Wells. The same holds true for the State Park. From the Dam the lake takes a north-west direction reaching into the city limits of Graham. Both Breckenridge and Mineral Wells are as near as 18 miles to lake water. Only 25 State and county highways are being built into the area as rapidly as possible. Applications for permanent camp sites are being received. Nothing will be overlooked in making this into an accessible vacation ground for all West Texas and Southwest Oklahoma.

While good views may be had of the Dam, visitors are not allowed in the giant power house or the inside parts of the structure. The production of power is scheduled to start the supply for national defense and later, go into thousands of Texas farm homes.

13,398 MILES ON 5-QUART FILL OF OIL

in the Certified

DEATH VALLEY DESTRUCTION TEST

Revolutionary New Oil tested against 5 other big brands. 6 new cars Destroyed. to prove Economy and Protection.

The oil that reeled off an amazing 13,398 miles on one regular fill, in blazing Death Valley, was proved to be an oil of the Nth degree—an oil of new high character... Hence its name:

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

This dramatic test, supervised impartially and Officially Certified, was simple, yet harsh. 6 identical new cars were taken to Death Valley—where the heat hits record highs. 5 of these cars were each assigned a different widely-known, highly advertised motor oil. The sixth car used new Conoco Nth motor oil.

Each car was broken-in on a brand assigned by lot. Then, one 5-quart fill of this same oil went into the crankcase—kept under lock. The cars were driven 57 miles an hour until oil failure cracked up each engine—utterly wrecked it! All of this under impartial official scrutiny, as was every step in the test, right on through the dramatic finish.

Here is what happened

New Conoco Nth oil went 13,398.8 miles. Not another oil came within 5,683 miles of this. One outstanding oil failed 8,258.6 miles sooner than new Conoco Nth motor oil. So it outdistanced the five competing oils by 74% to 161%.

Why this Astounding result was possible

New Conoco Nth motor oil contains a Conoco-originated synthetic (U. S. Patent 2,218,132) called Thialkene inhibitor. An inhibitor in motor oil acts pretty much as an inhibition acts on you. Inhibitions hold you back; police many actions. And so Conoco's Thialkene inhibitor polices Conoco Nth oil... arrests pollution that otherwise comes from normal operation. And that's your aid against a dirty engine with inferior lubrication.

Are you an OIL-PLATING "fan"?

If you are, more power to you! Don't for a minute feel let down, for Conoco Nth also contains the famous synthetic that OIL-PLATES engines. OIL-PLATING comes from the magnet-like attraction that keeps it bonded to inner engine parts, so that it can't all quickly drain down to the crankcase—not while you're using Conoco Nth oil. This same famed OIL-PLATING is still yours to guard against wear.

Because of OIL-PLATING and Thialkene inhibitor, one 5-quart fill of new Conoco Nth oil went an astounding 13,398.8 miles. Of course, you'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil in sinister Death Valley, nor repeat any other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at the intervals recommended by qualified authorities. But how you'll expect to stretch the distance before you ever add a quart, judging by this big fact:

5 heavily advertised oils in the Certified Death Valley Test were out-mileaged 74% to 161% by Conoco Nth oil. Economy like that counts up into dollars! Change to Nth oil today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Co.—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

Body Plant Gets Auto Industry's First Navy "E"

The United States Navy's cherished "E" award for excellence now flows from the staff of the Fisher Body die and machine unit in Detroit. The "E" pennant—the highest service award in the Navy—was presented to the Fisher plant for its excellence and ahead-of-schedule production of naval ordnance. The Fisher plant was the first in the automotive industry to receive the coveted award.

Rear Admiral Wat T. Cluverius presented the "E" pennant to Edward F. Fisher, vice president of General Motors and general manager of its Fisher Body division, in a colorful ceremony at the plant. In making the presentation, Admiral Cluverius said the Fisher die and machine unit was the "finest naval machine shop" he had ever seen.

Pictured above is Fisher, left, as he received the pennant from Admiral Cluverius, center, while a member of the color guard waited to hoist it to the plant flag staff.

PAPPY REPORTS

The "common people" of Texas are already getting returns on their investment in a new Senator.

Not in money, perhaps, but in good old tummy-shaking laughs, which may be more valuable than badgering of more coin out of the guardians of the public till.

The bull-fiddle senator had already sent word home that the report for Sunday, August 17, would be good.

When the Senator didn't seem to realize, The folks, however, were getting on Pappy and they would have worn as usual—hands down, but for the fact that the Senator's propaganda bureau got a preview of the Sunday balance sheet.

It seems that the transcription, which was to go on the air just before Sunday School time, referred to the President, in a round about way of course, as being a coward.

When O'Daniel's business managers down at Dallas heard all this blaring from the loudspeaker at a pre-hearing proof-reading, the stab of a stinging scorpion wouldn't have raised them any higher out of their over-stuffed chairs.

Instead of getting the record censured quietly and eliminating the sacrilegious portion, they proved themselves unfit as political managers by running out on the street and howling to the heavens.

U. S. action. Few will be surprised if American marines eventually take over Marianne and French Islands in this hemisphere.

The Joint declaration of policy issued by Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt at their dramatic meeting at sea seems to have as its principal objective the assurance to all nations, including Germany, that the Allies do not seek to conquer or dismember any power.

A number of the points laid down in the declaration are of extraordinary interest. Point number four, for instance, guarantees that all states, "large and small, victor and vanquished," will be given access on equal terms to the trade and raw materials of the world.

Point number five, which guards the resources of the Axis, and more general system of world which will permit all nations to live in peace.

Point number eight has iron in it. It says, in effect, that until a wider and more general system of world security is attained, it will be necessary to disarm and keep disarmed the aggressor nations.

Some have compared the eight points of this declaration with President Wilson's famous and ill-fated 14 points. There is, however, one extreme, important difference.

When it comes to Germany, our technique must of course be different. We have had almost no trade with the Reich since the war began.

At the moment, it looks as if most of South America is ready to play along with this government. Uncle Sam isn't loved without reservation down South.

"Now look here, Dad!" Uncle Jake countered. "No use bing about it. I'll take 45 pounds off my fish if you'll just blow out that blasted lantern!"

YOUR NAME

A number of explanations have been advanced for the name Cox and its variants. "Cock," which evolved into Cox, occurs in personal names as a diminutive term denoting "little."

Another interpretation is that Cox sometimes was used to signify a man wearing "cuishes," a plate armor for the thighs.

Still another explanation is that the surname Cox may have come from an inn-sign.

There is an apter, Somersetshire, England, bearing the name Cox and the surname may be local from this source.

Kenyon Cox was an American painter and a writer. Palmer Cox was known for his writing and illustrating.

An English name of occupational origin, Parker is one of our truly commonest surnames in England.

A Gaelic name signifying "son of the freeman," from "mac" (son of) and "derm" (free), this Irish and Scottish surname is spelled several different ways.

This is one of the many surnames meaning "son of Robert." Robin was a nickname for Robert and besides giving us Robinson as a common family name, has also contributed Robison, Robson and Robeson.

THE SMOKY YEAR

Dusty King and Lew Gordon had built up a vast ranch in the mountains of Texas. Casually, as if they were talking about getting breakfast, these quiet-faced men were speaking of a proposed death—the death of a boy who had once been very close to her and very dear.

"Jim," the younger rider said soberly, "if Roper's got his wild bunch with him, Jim, in such a fix as none of us have ever gone into yet! When you stop to think that any time—any minute—a bunch of 'em may land in here—"

"Charley's on lookout," Jim Leathers shrugged. "I know Jim in plenty time."

A silence fell, a long silence. Heavy upon Jody Gordon was the panic of an open-space creature held helpless within close walls.

"No call to put it that way," Jim Leathers said mildly, almost gently. But his eyes denied that mildness.

Once more Jim Leathers' canine teeth showed in his peculiarly unpleasant grin. "Hell, no," he said.

Perhaps Lew Gordon should have known that if Bill Roper learned of the freeman, "from mac" (son of) and "derm" (free), this Irish and Scottish surname is spelled several different ways.

3,000,000 Volts! Car and Driver Unharmed

In a spectacular demonstration of the safety of an automobile during an electrical storm, a Ford Sedan was "struck" by 3,000,000 volts of man-made lightning recently at the Westinghouse high voltage laboratory at Trafford, Pa. At the wheel of the Ford is Dr. Gilbert McCann, research engineer, who said the demonstration proved for the first time that occupants of a steel-topped automobile are safe from natural lightning attacks. The bolt (as shown above) hit the Ford just six inches above the 29-year-old engineer's head and streaked harmlessly to the ground in a hundred millionths of a second. It can be seen jumping across the left front tire to reach the ground.

THIS WEEK'S BEST POEM (From The Monday Times)

I KNOW SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT YOU
Wouldn't this old world be better if the folks we meet would say, "I know something good about you?"
Then treat you just that way?

Wouldn't it be fine and dandy if each handclasp warm and true,
Carried with this assurance, "I know something good about you?"

Wouldn't life be lots more happy if the good that's in us all
Were the only things to recall? That folks bothered to recall?

Wouldn't life be lots more happy if we praised the good we see?
For there's such a lot of goodness in the worst of you and me.

Wouldn't it be nice to practice that fine way of thinking too?
You know something good about

I KNOW SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT YOU

me,
I know something good about you.

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

Inflation is the "little man upon the stair" in Washington these days. Some observers say that he is already clearly visible; others argue that he isn't there yet. Right now, but that he soon will be. But whatever they may think about the immediate picture, most Washingtonians agree that the subject of inflation is probably the biggest one at the present time.

Demonstration of this belief is the fact that hearings on the Henderson price control bill have been the best summer box office attraction in Washington. It is unusual for members of Congress to attend any hearings but those of committees upon which they serve but in this instance two rows of seats were reserved up front in the hearings room for the solons who desired to attend—and those chairs were filled regularly.

In addition to Congressmen, virtually every department or agency of the government had its own official observer. The implications of inflation, or of price control efforts aimed at halting it, are so broad that the area is likely to affect nearly every branch of government activity.

Leon Henderson, sponsor of the original measure on which hearings were opened, made it clear in his testimony that he thought Congress would enact wage control (or wage ceiling) legislation within the year. But he did not advocate this as part of his own price control bill, apparently feeling that wages should be regulated by some other government agency than the one which he himself heads. In other words, he contends that wage control and price control are two different problems.

This approach is reminiscent of the old story about the man who kicked his companion in the leg and then asked, "Why does your mouth cry out when it is your own that has been hurt?" Economists are pointing out in connection with the price hearings a fact that ought to be clear even to laymen: that wages are a factor in determining prices, and that if wages rise considerably, prices will rise also.

From this point of view, facts on wages are being studied here with extreme care. Thus, for example, the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported that average wage increases for the first six months of 1941 ranged from 4.9 percent to 9.6 percent, affecting more than 2½ million workers in more than five thousand manufacturing establishments. About one point there can be little disagreement: these rises will inevitably have a very direct effect upon prices in the industries concerned. You can't put a jack under an automobile, start raising the jack, and expect the car to stay at exactly the same height.

No one really concerned with the inflation danger wants to see these points passed over lightly in the testimony. There is a feeling that it would be easier politically to put a ceiling on prices than to put one on the factors that go into making up our prices. The only trouble is that in enforcing so an economic law would be so badly violated that no workable result would have been achieved.

The President himself has said virtually the same thing on this difficult subject of prices. Here's Mr. Roosevelt's analysis: "There cannot be price stability if labor costs rise abnormally—labor has far more to gain from price stability than from abnormal wage increases, for these are likely to be illusory and quickly overtaken by sharp rises in living cost. . . .

"Labor as a whole fares best from a labor policy which recognizes that wages in the defense industries should not substantially exceed the prevailing wage rates in comparable non-defense industries where fair labor practices have been maintained."

Facing facts like those would be a good start towards handling the "little man upon the stair"—the danger of inflation.

"THE MIDNIGHT SUN" TELLS OF MARINES LANDING IN ICELAND

We have had the privilege this week of looking over two very interesting newspapers, brought to us by H. O. Barbour, Santa Fe agent. The newspapers were sent to Mr. and Mrs. Barbour by their son, Babe, who is with the First U. S. Marine Brigade in Iceland.

"The Midnight Sun" is the name of this very interesting sheet, and it is a supplement to the regular Icelandic edition. It gives general news of interest to the Marines, including war bulletins sports news, and short articles on the new U. S. base.

One page carried the text of a radio broadcast on the landing of the first contingent of Americans, probably the next day after the boys went ashore. The dateline reads July 19, 1941. The radio announcer first gave a short introduction of the famous service corps, and continued:

"Yesterday afternoon the whole island, Icelanders and the British garrison as well, was stirred by the news, which flashed from mouth to mouth, that a huge convoy was approaching, steaming majestically across the calm grey sea. Groups of soldiers and crowds of Icelanders crowded the vantage points to watch this inspiring sight. Although the early stages of the journey had not been so lucky with the weather it certainly was kind when the convoy arrived, and to many their first sight of Iceland must have been a surprise. No ice, but instead, a land of towering, massive mountains, their tops hidden in mist and at their feet bright, emerald green fields, dotted with sheep. Little groups of white washed farmhouses, with a toy-like church to each group.

Soon after six o'clock the first ships dropped anchors in the harbors, and the adventure had begun at this time of year the British forces went aboard the American ships shortly afterwards.

Not many Americans came ashore last night, but a surprise was there just the same, for in Iceland at this time of year the daylight never goes, and it is nearly as light at midnight as it is at midday.

Following a few minutes before 10 o'clock, things started moving. The commander of the British troops, accompanied by members of his staff and representatives of other services, waited at the pier to greet some of the first American soldiers to set foot on Icelandic soil.

A launch, flying the American flag, drew alongside. The American general stepped ashore, followed by his staff. There were handshakes all round and as they turned to walk up the pier a sharp command brought them to general salute. The inspection was followed by a march past, and it was an impressive scene as the Guard, with its band, passed the two commanders.

After lunch, cars were waiting to take the American commander and his staff to their camps. These, which have withstood Icelandic winters, were more comfortable than some had supposed, and there's no doubt that they will provide a home for the Marines which will compare quite favorably with many of the places in which they have found themselves in the past.

Dairy Cattle Premiums Will Be Higher At Fair

LUBBOCK, Aug. 27 — Very substantial premium increases, amounting in one division to 66 2-3 percent, have been announced for the Dairy Cattle department at the 28th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here October 6 to 11, and it is anticipated that the best showing of dairy cattle in the fair's history will result.

Highest percentage of increase in premiums is in the Holstein division, where place premiums have been stepped up from three to four. Last year's postings offered only first, second and third places of $7.50, $5, and $2.50.

There were 18 competitive classifications in the Holstein division last year in addition to senior, junior and grand champion, and these remain the same. The Jersey division contains the same five places as last year, but premiums have been increased more than 39 percent. Premiums for the 1941 fair will be $12.50, $10, $7.50, $5, and $2.50, as compared with a top of $10 and a $2 fifth place last year.

The Jersey division will offer 20 competitive classifications in addition to junior, senior and grand champion.

August 30 Is Deadline Wheat Insurance

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 27—All-risk crop insurance contracts may be made on either 50 to 75 percent of the wheat yield, E. R. Duke, state wheat insurance supervisor, points out, in reminding Texas wheat growers that August 30 is the deadline for taking out insurance on the 1942 crop.

Wheat insurance covers losses by hail, wind, rain, fire, cuts, drought, wintering, and floods, and crop failure Duke said. Applications for insurance must be made either before the August 30 deadline or before the wheat is seeded, whichever is earlier.

The method of paying premiums and the number of policies taken out by one wheat grower constitute important changes in the insurance program this year, Duke said. Premiums will be paid on the market value of wheat the day the premium is due instead of when it is signed, and only one commodity note is made regardless of the number of farms in which a grower is interested.

The commodity note authorizes the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to deduct the amount of the premium from future payments in the event it is not paid. Future payments include certificates of indemnity, in case of partial or total crop loss, AAA payments or wheat loans, and the amount of the premium will be deducted from the first payment.

Regardless of the number of wheat farms only one Commodity Credit Corporation note will be signed by an individual grower. Regulations also specify that insurance must be taken on all wheat farms in which a grower has an interest.

In the event notes are paid before maturity date, the AAA officials explained, premiums may be paid in the cash equivalent of wheat based on market prices the day the payment is made or in bushels of wheat. Texas wheat growers insured 4,942,455 bushels of wheat on 11,040 farms under the 1941 wheat insurance program.

The Paddfish

Little known to most sportsmen is one of the queerest creatures of the fishes family — the paddfish. Formerly they were common, but due to the fact that their eggs are used as domestic caviar and their flesh brings highest prices on the eastern markets, the species is becoming more and more rare each year.

The flesh of this species, when smoked, tastes much like sturgeon. Too, the fish have no bones in their bodies. Cartilage replaces bones. The paddfish, along with gar, sturgeon, and grindle, have survived all stages of evolution. Each is still shaped exactly as it was during pre-historic days when mastodons and saber-toothed tigers roamed the world. They have been recorded as weighing up to 162 pounds. The paddle or snout, is shaped like a duck's bill. It is found occasionally throughout the entire South.

This Man Can Afford Not to Buy a Servel NOW!

YOU folks all read the papers and listen to the radio. So is it necessary to mention that there's just no predicting what next year will bring? But we can still supply a limited number of some of the more popular models of SERVEL Electrolux, the gas refrigerator backed by that famous 10-YEAR GUARANTEE, at no extra cost. And it's still the only one that's backed by such a guarantee; for the very good reason, no doubt, that it's the only one with no moving parts in its freezing system. Nothing to wear, to make noise, to cause costly repairs. And we can still give terms on your new Servel so low the payments will be about like your monthly ice bill. But—better not wait—unless you're like the man up there above. Better come in today!

GUARANTEED 10 YEARS

Horses, Mules May Stage Comeback

Horses and mules, once considered casualties of the gasoline age, soon may be back to work helping to rear America.

Demand for machines and fuel has stimulated the need for power so the old gray mare and "Dobbin," erstwhile kinskins of transportation on farm and in city, already have benefitted indirectly.

Wayne Dinsmore, of the Horse and Mule Association of America, today predicted the steady decline of the nation's work animal population soon would halt.

"Any rationing of gasoline or higher prices and any difficulty in obtaining machines or trucks for rural or city use or in obtaining parts is likely to be felt by the horse and mule business," he said. He pointed out that a Chicago trucking concern only recently substituted two teams for motor vehicles for short haul work in the Loop.

A FUGITIVE ITEM FROM "YOUR NAME" COLUMN

SCOTT FIELD, Ill.—Corp. William A. Couch of Chicago, on temporary duty at the post hospital, heard a feminine voice inquire over the telephone:

"May I please speak to Julius Caesar?"

The corporal, who knows all the answers, replied:

But his mirth turned to mortification when, upon relating the gag to a friend from the registrar's office, he was informed:

"Private Julius P. Caesar of Mascoutah, Ill., was admitted to the station hospital yesterday."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE
A 10-year-old boy turned in the following essay on "Cats":
"Cats and people are funny animals. Cats have four paws but only one mother. People have forefathers but only one mother. When a cat smells a rat he gets excited; so do people. Cats carry tails and a lot of people carry tails, also. All cats have fur coats. Some people have fur coats, and the ones that don't have fur coats say catty things about the ones who do have them." (Found in the Lemeta, Tex. Reporter.)

Some idea of the extent of the loan shark business in Texas may be gained from the fact that, in the city of Houston alone, 30,000 families are in debt to usurers. This estimate is made by C. E. Buehner, Better Business Bureau manager, who has made a study of loan sharks. He places the number of such concerns in Houston at 130 and says the rate of interest ranges, generally, from 10 percent a month to 10 percent a week.

Pyramiding makes it difficult for the borrower ever to get free again. He borrows, let us say $20 for which he agrees to pay back $26 at $2 a week. After he has it down to $15, (in other words, he has paid all but $5 of the principal), he is persuaded to float a new loan, obtaining $5 in cash but signing a new note for $26 — and this process is repeated, over and over, so that he is paying interest on interest.

How the borrower is kept enslaved by debt is shown by a few cases reported to the Better Business Bureau. One man borrowed $20 and paid $3.50 a month for two years, a total of $84 — and still owed $20! Another borrowed $20, paid $3.50 a month for a year, or $42 — and still owed the original amount. Another borrower had the same experience except that he paid $3.50 each month for six years, a total of $252 on a loan of $20, and yet he still owed the $20.

Tom Phillips in the Santa Rosa Signal says, "Study is a wonderful thing — last week we stayed up all night figuring out what became of the sun when it went down. Finally it dawned upon us."

Following the dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert left for Wichita Falls, where they will make their home.

Mr. Lambert is employed on a defense project with a wholesale company in that city.

Southern Cotton Hit Hard By Boll Weevil

Boll weevils are chewing up millions of dollars of southern cotton this year with agricultural leaders describing the infestation as the heaviest in a decade.

State Entomologist J. A. Girardeau said from 40 to 50 percent of Georgia's crop had been destroyed. The normal loss to weevils in Georgia ranges from five to 20 percent.

Damage in virtually every section of Alabama was reported by the state extension service but estimates are not yet available.

Arkansas' loss to weevils is expected to amount to a third or a half of the crop, but this was offset to some extent by prospects for an excellent crop.

In Louisiana, the state university extension department said conditions were the worst since 1921-22.

Texas growers said their loss to the weevils was more than in recent years. Infestation was reported most severe in south-central, southeast and eastern portions of the state.

Oklahoma planters experienced trouble in fighting the pests because of a lack of dust guns.

Funeral Services Held At Enoch's For Wreck Victim

Vernon (Buddy) Vandevanter, about 15 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Vandevanter of Enoch, died as the result of an accident which occurred about 11:30 p. m. Friday, August 15, on the Muleshoe highway, north of Morton.

A car, said to be driven by Roy Gunnells, struck the tractor on which the boy was riding with his older brother, John Vandevanter and wife and baby.

The victim, in company with his brother and family, had attended a show and were on their way home.

The car was reported to have run over small wheels of the tractor, which was hooked on to the tractor and on upon the tractor, knocking the riders off with a terrific jolt. Persons who viewed the tragedy before the boy was carried to town, state that it seemed that the boy's body had been wrapped part of the way around the right tractor wheel and that he was horribly mangled.

The baby was thrown clear of both machines and was reported to have received only a few scratches from the weeds in which it landed. Mrs. Vandevanter was badly bruised and lacerated. Mr. Vandevanter received a badly cut arm.

The victims were taken to a Morton hospital for emergency treatment.

Funeral services for the Vandevanter youth were held in the First Baptist church at Enoch Saturday, August 16, and burial was in the Morton cemetery.
