Kountry Kookin' now in new home

By Wendell Fought

Kountry Kookin', Haskell's cafeteria-style restaurant, re-opened for business last Wednesday at a new location on US 277 North.

And it was not a day too soon for a host of diners whose noon meals at the popular eating establishment have been something akin to daily rituals.

The restaurant, formerly located on North 1st Street, had been closed for several days as the crew moved to the remodeled building most recently occupied by the Wigwam.

The new location provides an improved atmosphere, a greater seating capacity and ample parking. It is also hoped that the location will attract some business from the highway.

A number of regular customers have been eating at Kountry Kookin' ever since Betty Sue Lacey opened the business five years ago. "Some of them are here nearly every day," said Mrs. Lacey. Although it's popular during the week with the working people, Sunday is the biggest day for the business as church-goers converge after morning services.

Kountry Kookin' attained its popularity by being just what the name implies. At least three meat dishes are prepared daily, along with a half dozen different kinds of vegetables. Mrs. Lacey said she always uses fresh vegetables when they are available. She will use frozen vegetables if she can't get the fresh ones, but seldom uses canned goods.

Considering the quality and quantity of the food served, prices are modest. A weekday noon meal costs $3.75 and includes meat, two vegetables, homemade bread, salad, drink and dessert. On Sunday, the price is $4.

Although the noon meal is what the business is best known for, Kountry Kookin' opens at 6 a.m. Sunday through Friday. A group of early-morning coffee drinkers starts arriving promptly at 6, and others enjoy breakfast throughout the morning.

Mrs. Lacey and Edna Andress arrive for work each morning between 5 and 5:10 and start preparing the food. Minnie Comacho, who helps with the cooking, gets in at 6.

The business closes at 1:30 in the afternoon, although the crew stays around to do the cleanup.

Kountry Kookin' is closed on Saturday, but that's not a day off for Mrs. Lacey and Mrs. Andress. To fill out their seven-day work week, they operate the food concession at Haskell Livestock Auction. They go to work between 8:30 and 9 a.m. every Saturday and work until somewhere between 8 and 10 p.m., and occasionally as late as 11:30. Mrs. Lacey said most of the food prepared and sold at the cattle sale is hamburgers, steak fingers and chicken fried steak.

In addition to Mrs. Lacey, Mrs. Andress and Mrs. Comacho, the staff at Kountry Kookin' includes Karen Mitchell, Alex Silvas and Mary Silvas.

Mrs. Lacey has been in the restaurant business all her adult life. She said she first went to work for Sam Crume at the Steak House when she was 15 years old. Since then, she's worked at just about every cafe that's been in town. She operated Elsie's Hi-Lander under lease immediately before starting her own business.

Mrs. Lacey came to Haskell when she was 3 years old. She has four sons, Rodney, Johnny and Lewis, all of Odessa, and Ricky of Dallas. She also has a daughter, Tina, a student at West Texas State University.

Rule gets siren

The Rule Volunteer Fire Department has purchased a siren timer.

Rule Jubilee scheduled Saturday

There will be fun for everyone Saturday at the annual Rule Jubilee and all people of the area are invited to attend.

Activities start downtown at 9 a.m. with a treasure hunt, divided into two divisions, 6th grade through 9th grade students, and 9th grade through 12th. Four $25 prizes will be awarded.

Other downtown activities include antique car displays, arts and crafts booths and exhibits by the Texas Chiefs Model Airplane Club.

Joe Harold Cloud will show a film of Haskell County wild flowers several times during the day in the Lions building.

There will be arts and crafts booths in the park, for both viewing and selling.

Indians play Rotan here in last non-district tilt

The last time Haskell played Rotan, in 1985, they were in the same district and each team had an 0-6 record.

Things have changed dramatically. On Friday night, the 2-1-1 Yellowhammers came to Haskell to take on the 2-2 Indians in the final non-district game of the season.

And Coach Nelson Coulter, whose Indians turned in an outstanding performance against Electra last Friday, is not taking the visitors lightly. "They're a real good football team with great speed and good size," said the coach.

Coulter said the Yellowhammers' 205-pound fullback Kenny Warren "may be as good a back as we've seen." He carries the ball as much or more than the tailback, unusual for an I formation team.

And the tailback is no slouch either. He's 190-pound Joe Huit, a transfer from Breckenridge who Coulter said was able to run step-for-step last year with Stephon Brockington, the Indians' state champion 200-meter sprinter.

Still another speedster in the Rotan arsenal is Willard Roddy, normally a flanker, who has had great success on the reverse and who occasionally shifts to running back.

The offensive line will be the biggest the Indians have seen. The tackles weigh 245 and 220, the guards 185 and 175 and the center 195.

Rotan opened the season by beating O'Donnell and then defeated No. 6 ranked Cross Plains before being tied by Spur. Last week, the Yellowhammers lost, 20-7, to Anson of district 7-2A.

Coulter was disappointed that his Indians lost to Electra, 21-14, last week despite having a decided edge in most statistics. But he wasn't disappointed in the Indians' performance.

"All of our boys played well and we showed that we can play with anybody," said the coach. "We've now played six real good quarters of football," he said, referring to Friday's game and the second half of the Merkel game the week before.

Coulter praised the entire Haskell defense. He said he thought linebacker Paul Harvey had an exceptional night, as did tackles Eric Mullen and Patrick Burson.

Questionable for this week's game is Fred Shaw, who missed the Electra game because of illness. He still wasn't in school Monday.

Friday's game will be the last before the Indians wade into the district 7-2A schedule. The first district contest will be here next Friday against Hamlin.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Appointments may be made by calling 864-2621.

The Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be in Haskell on Friday October 14.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for a mammography in asymptomatic women. (Women who have no symptoms of disease). Those guidelines have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and The American College of Radiology. Those guidelines are:

- 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $50.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, VISA, MasterCard and American Express.

Paint Creek FFA

This week we have two corrections for last week's article: Garland Medford is the chapter president and Johnny Hoadley is the secretary.

This past week we held our fall barbecue for all the students taking an agricultural science course. The students, their parents and school board members were urged to attend. The menu consisted of brisket, beans, cornbread, potato salad, cole slaw, chocolate cake and tea. There were 54 people attending.

Beginning Oct. 12, the FFA will start selling fruit and meat. We are using Golden Valley Distributors for the meat products which include a 2-pound roll of sausage, 3-pound box of sausage patties, 3-pound box of breakfast links, 3-pound box of thick sliced slab bacon, 8-10-pound full cooked hickory smoked turkey and 6-8-pound boneless pit ham. We will be selling Seitz fruit which include oranges, grapefruit, apples and a combination box. For more information contact a member or Stephen Green.

Lanier, Lackey engagement told

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Lanier of Kress, formerly of Haskell, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kimberly Kay (Kim) Lanier, to James Raymond (Jimmy) Lackey of Canyon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lackey of Dumas.

The wedding will be Nov. 19 in the First United Methodist Church of Canyon.

Exes of Weinert convene Saturday

A full schedule of activities is planned Saturday for the Weinert homecoming.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and will continue throughout the day. Classes and teachers will be recognized during a program which begins at 2 p.m. The coming home king and queen also will be recognized and special recognition will go to someone who has done much for the Weinert school.

Entertainment, scheduled between 4 and 5:30, will include "All My Exes Live in Texas" by Durwood Burton, class of '58 and other exes.

Youth of the First Baptist Church will furnish a concession stand in the Homemaking room during the day.

The meal, to be catered by Sanderson's of Graham, will consist of sliced beef, sausage, ham, cole slaw, potato salad, beans, relish plate, bread, cobbler and tea. Price will be $5.50 per plate.

A dance at the Haskell Civic Center will begin at 8 p.m.

Officers for the homecoming are Mary Nell (Raynes) Coltharp, class of '61, president; Hal Guess, class of

'73, vice president; and Sue (Hager) Stewart, class of '72, secretary.

(Weinert exes from the classes of 1965-1976 are invited to a get-together at Mary (Yates) and Ed Murphy's house following the homecoming activities. There will be games, visiting and a slide show of "Weinert Through the Years." Local area exes are asked to bring a snack. The class of 1968 is given a special invitation to celebrate its 20th anniversary since graduation.)

Paint Creek clobbers Hermleigh

By Monica Howeth

The long ride west proved fruitful as the Paint Creek Pirates ended up spoiling the homecoming of the Hermleigh Friday night with a 64-42 victory over the Cardinals.

The game had a sluggish start with a low-scoring first quarter. Quarterback Daniel Acosta threw 4-5 in the first quarter and with 0:54 left hit Michael Guerrero with his first of seven scores on the night.

After that, the pace seemed to pick up as Acosta ended up throwing 32 passes, completing 15 for 215 yards and a touchdown. Defensively, he had six tackles and two fumble recoveries. His primary target for the night, Guerrero, caught 10 passes for 148 yards, rushed 13 times for 139 yards, scored seven touchdowns, had 16 tackles and two interceptions.

Johnny Hoadley contributed to the Pirates 694 yards total offense by snagging three passes for 40 yards and two touchdowns. He and Chris Cockerell were especially effective in rushing Hermleigh's passers all night. Cockerell ended up with 11 tackles. Dane Morgan, Tanner Childress and Kelly Williams were steady performers with 11 tackles and three receptions for 17 yards between them. Williams also received two extra points after Pirate TDs.

Rodney Tsoodle filled in for standout freshman George Mayen who will be sidelined for several weeks with a broken foot. Tsoodle had eight tackles. Other freshmen, Rodney Medford with two tackles and two receptions for 24 yards, Roman Morgan with two tackles and Mo Green with one exceptional tackle on a kickoff, did their parts in insuring the victory.

The Pirates face the Highland Hornets this Friday night at Paint Creek. The game starts at 7:30 with pregame activities, including a spaghetti supper from 5 to 7, the 4th and 5th graders squaring off in pee-wee football for the half time entertainment, and plenty of fun and fellowship during what looks to be another wide open and wild game. Hope to see you there.

Indians lose close one to state-ranked Electra

The team that makes fewer mistakes usually wins.

That team Friday night was Electra, and true to the old axiom, the No. 5 ranked Tigers took advantage of a Haskell penalty, a fumble and an intercepted pass to hang a 21-14 defeat on the spirited Haskell Indians.

The Tigers broke open a scoreless game by marching 68 yards in nine plays to get their first touchdown just 59 seconds before the first half expired. The 7-0 lead was enlarged to 13-0 on a 55-yard return of an intercepted pass just two minutes deep into the third period.

After the Indians countered with a 55-yard scoring drive of their own, Electra came right back with its third touchdown and a 2-point conversion to make it 21-7 on the second play of the final quarter. The Indians battled back. A 14-play, 70-yard drive, highlighted by four penalties against Electra and two against Haskell, produced an Indian touchdown at the 5:15 mark. But that was to be all the scoring.

The Indians had two big near-misses in the first quarter. Derrick Billington ran 38 yards for an apparent touchdown midway through the period, but a penalty against Haskell wiped it out. Late in the first period, the Indians drove to a first down at the Tiger 10, only to lose the ball on a fumble.

The Indians started strongly. In their second possession, they moved from their own 27 to the Electra 38 from where Billington uncorked his called-back touchdown on a third-down play. A replayed third down lost 7 yards and the Indians had to kick to the Tigers.

After holding the Tigers at bay during their following possession and forcing them to punt the ball back, the Indians launched their next drive from their own 37. Seven plays later they had a first down at the Electra 10, but lost the ball on a fumble on the next play.

Electra launched its first touchdown drive from its own 22. Highlighted by a 29-yard pass from Luke Kimbro to Lenard Leviston, the Tigers moved to a first down at the Indian 7, from where Kimbro took it over with 0:59 remaining in the first half.

On the third play from scrimmage in the second half, Rodney Johnson recovered Electra's only lost fumble of the night at the Haskell 45. A 6-yard run by Billington moved the ball to the Electra 49, but a 15-yard penalty against the Indians called for a passing situation. Kimbro intercepted Guess' pass just across midfield and returned it for a touchdown. Kimbro's incomplete pass on the conversion try left the Tigers out front 13-0.

The Indians rebounded quickly. Billington had runs of 14, 7, 7 and 3 yards in a quick drive starting on their own 45 which moved the ball to the Tiger 1 from where Billington took it over. Guess converted to make it 13-7 at the 7:17 mark of the third period.

Haskell held the Tigers on their following possession and got back in business at their 20 after Leviston booted into the end zone. But on second down an Indian fumble was recovered at the Haskell 45 and the Tigers took full advantage of the opportunity. Kimbro had pass completions of 25 and 12 yards as the Tigers moved to the 3 from where Kimbro took it in for his team's third touchdown. He then ran over the extra points to make it 21-7 with the fourth period only 27 seconds old.

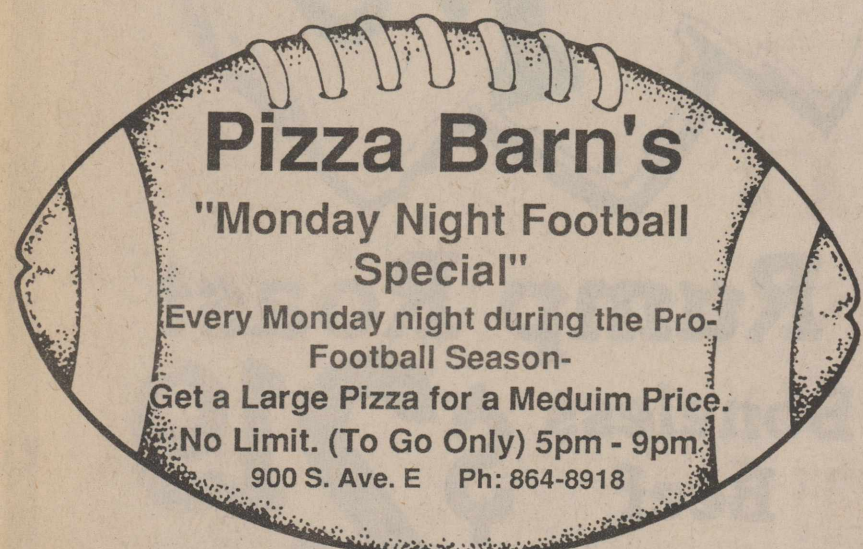

Following the kickoff, Haskell marched 70 yards in a long time-consuming drive to get its final touchdown. Guess got the touchdown from the 6 on the 14th play of the drive.

The Indians were to get one more chance. Holding Electra in check, they took over on their own 31 with 3:19 to go. After moving to a first down at the Tiger 41, they coughed up the ball again when the Electra defense swarmed Billington before he could get a pitchout from Guess.

Taking over with just 1:06 to go, Electra ran four plays in an attempt to run out the clock. The Tigers finally surrendered the ball on their own 42 with just 5 seconds remaining.

Haskell had a decided statistical advantage. The Indians compiled 18 first downs to only 12 for the victors, and outrushed their opponents, 197-130.

Billington was the game's top rusher with 128 yards on 20 carries. Guess connected on 5 of 13 passes for 47 yards and Billington passed once for 21 yards. Johnson caught six passes for 56 yards and Billington caught one for 12.

The JV opened the season impressively with a 14-6 victory over Munday.

The Indians then posted victories over Seymour, 20-8, and Merkel, 16-6.

"The JV players have a good attitude," Coach Randy Stone said. "They play hard on every play and never give up."

The ninth-grade Indians will combine with the JV at Rotan this Thursday.

The Indians opened their season with an 8-0 loss to the Aspermont Hornets. Aspermont scored the game's only points on a fumbled punt.

Coach Randy Stone said the play was a fluke, but the ninth grade wasn't playing up to par.

8th grade

By Scottie Martin

The eighth-grade Warriors travel to Rotan to face the Yellowhammers Thursday.

They opened their season two weeks ago with a 30-14 loss to the Merkel Badgers.

Sherwin Everton scored on a five-yard pass from Mark Jones for one of the Warriors' touchdowns. Jones scored the second touchdown on a one-yard quarterback sneak.

The Warriors had two touchdowns called back because of penalties. Stacy Martin had a 50-yard run called back and Joseph Rodriguez' 50-yard touchdown reception from Jones was called back.

Receives award

Market recovery expected in spring

By Jim Yeary
KVRP Farm Director

Putting a few of the topsy-turvy world world of markets in perspective on Sept. 19, the bottom fell out of the Chicago Board of Trade and Chicago Mercantile Exchange futures markets. Market conditions suggest new lows for nearby futures during the coming weeks, a dull market for several months after the new year, then there is a potential for a moderate market recovery in the late spring and early summer of 1989.

Carl Anderson, an extension economist-marketing specialist with the Texas A&M Extension Service, said that producers must become market wise and "can" increase their cotton income by at least $50 per bale over average price received by all farmers. He cited marketing skills as a must for cotton producers. He added that producers must become market watchers, plotting future prices, keeping up with monthly supply and demand reports, understand technical trading, know production costs, prepare a year-round marketing plan and always be prepared to change when market conditions change.

The cotton specialist said that three basic market strategies should be considered: 1) Sell program cotton for a reasonable equity or POP payment this fall; 2) Evaluate potential of buying a call option as a storage hedge on 1988 cotton and/or use as a deficiency hedge on 1989 crop; and 3) Get ready to price 1989 crop next summer during market rallies.

Anderson said that if cotton producers don't have a working understanding of how to use options, they should contact their county agent to set up a workshop on using futures and options in protecting their crop income.

He further said that area cotton producers have another option to consider that any outside of program cotton not yet priced can either be held for a higher market or sold and a call option bought as a storage hedge.

Hurricane Gilbert had a typical effect on the cotton futures market during the week of Sept. 12. First, a rally due to the threat of crop damage, then as the threat died, futures went down. Speculators made money while the market was going up and down.

Because supplies are excessive, the market remains bearish. Domestic demand is soft and exports sluggish. Foreign cotton is generally priced below what the U.S. can price cotton delivered overseas. Because calculated U.S. world price is too high, the cotton marketing loan is not working well.

In the short run, a weak market might increase the spread between the U.S. world price (AWP) and the cash price. Due to the week-long AWP, the spread can change substantially within a week. The wider the spread, the more potential for equities to be larger, or net price higher using the producer optional payment (POP). When the AWP and cash spread narrows equities become less attractive and when the AWP and cash price converge on the loan rate, equities are apt to be squeezed to lower levels.

Anderson cited the September USDA report which did reduce expected cotton ending stocks from 8.9 million to 8.2 million. That was a tiny bit of encouragement that the market may bottom out during the next several months. The big uncertainty is how low is the bottom. Given current stocks to be used of 67 percent, the futures market could drop well into the mid-40-cent range.

Anderson added that there's a good chance the October report will again reduce the U.S. cotton crop. Dry weather, cool weather, and insects have hurt cotton across the Rolling Plains and Southern High Plains areas. An early freeze would likely reduce quality and production.

Ending stocks could eventually move down around the seven-million bale range or lower. However, there is still too much cotton for the market to turn very bullish on the '88-'89 crop. That crop may start a sustainable recovery that could start during the April-May planting season. The market could trade around loan early next year after a possible low this fall.

A set-aside of 25 percent and a possible paid land diversion to go with it, fewer "wildcat" acres, some acreage going to soybeans, the threat of bad weather and fairly strong demand due to low prices, might give the market a boost next summer, especially if we have the usual bad weather news next spring across the Rolling Plains and Southern High Plains areas.

Anderson added that these comments are based largely on USDA and Foreign Agricultural Service data. The cotton market situation is always subject to change and surprises, U.S. and foreign date change, policies change and weather takes sudden and unforeseen turns both good and bad. As a result, it is highly desirable to keep updating your perspective on market conditions on a continuing basis.

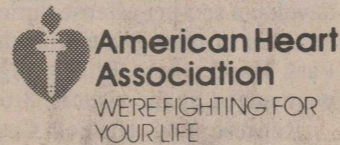

Do not develop an inflexible market option---if market conditions change, change with it, said Anderson.

Erick, the youngest and most hard-headed member of the Charles Massegee Crusade team, sings, teaches and amuses in every service. Erick is a wonder dummy, manipulated by Massegee's wife, Beverly, who has won national awards for her ability as a professional ventriloquist.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Playing to soft spots in the Texas economy, Dukakis Democrats pitched to the beleaguered oil industry, while Bush Republicans pushed new jobs in the Houston-area space program.

President Reagan, stumping at Bush's Houston fundraiser which raised more than $3 million, visited the Johnson Space Center where he called the Discovery astronauts "space age pioneers" and said the U.S. space program is back on track.

"America is going to space again—and we are going there to stay," the President told more than 3,000 space center employees and their families.

Mr. Reagan stopped first in Waco to address Baylor University students and assist Beau Boulter, the Republican congressman who is opposing the Senate re-election of Lloyd Bentsen.

New space exploration means thousands more jobs to the Houston economy, while higher oil prices boost the entire state.

Dukakis scored points with some Texas oilmen by promising that Lloyd Bentsen will head a blue-ribbon panel to hammer out a U.S. energy policy, strongly implying that Texas needs will be addressed in the future program.

It was considered the smartest move of late by the Dukakis camp in Texas, and an obvious one considering Bush's publicized failure to address concerns of Texas oilmen.

But Bush has plenty of time to respond and Dukakis may have alienated other businessmen by saying private business, at a cost of about $10 billion, should provide health insurance to employees who can't get it elsewhere.

Dukakis and Bentsen double-teamed on the health care issue, with Dukakis visiting urban hospitals and Bentsen talking rural medical needs in the Panhandle.

Magic Number 54

Polls have shown Bush leading, but the race is viewed by many as tightening up last week.

Despite grumblings among some Texas Democrats of the Dukakis organizational bumbblings here, the Massachusetts governor nearly put Bush on the spot in the petroleum sector.

Meanwhile, Gov. Bill Clements, speculating on the Texas Republican Party's bid to take over the Texas Supreme Court, said Bush must win Texas by 54 percent or more to carry GOP down-ballot candidates to victory on his coat-tails.

Frankly, many observers feel the margin may well rest on how well Reagan campaigns in Texas and whether his popularity is as strong in the end-game of his administration as it was at the outset.

Casino Gambling Issue

On winning percentages of a different sort, pro-casino gambling forces have failed three times to establish a Texas foothold in Galveston and now might have to tackle the state as a whole to pass their issue.

Galveston's anti-gambling voters, led by "Mr. Democrat" Shrub Kempner, want an end to costly local casino elections until Texas legalizes the industry.

They'll try to change the city charter to provide such protection.

State Halts Radio Calls

After thousands of outgoing phone calls knocked the state Capitol phone system out of service earlier this year, officials have halted attempts by state employees to win cash from radio station call-in contests.

Carl Stringfellow, state director of telecommunications, said the change was made after phone service was disrupted several times by workers trying to reach a radio station offering a $1,000 prize.

Officials reset the phone system to prevent any calls to telephone numbers beginning with 390, the exchange assigned by Southwestern Bell for radio call-in contests.

Other Highlights

- Gordon "Doc" Arnold resigned as executive assistant to House Speaker Gib Lewis and will be replaced by state Rep. Mike Milsap, D-Fort Worth, when his legislative term expires Jan. 10.

- Lauro Cavazos, president of Texas Tech University, became the first Hispanic to serve in the Cabinet when he was sworn in as U.S. Secretary of Education.

- A recent Texas Poll indicates 75 percent of Texans favor and 20 percent oppose increasing the minimum wage from $3.35 an hour to $4.45 over the next three years.

- Attorney General Jim Mattox and State Sen. John Whitmire led the media on a tour of the Harris County jail to underscore crowded conditions there.

- Mattox is reviewing the Texas Real Estate Commission's policy recommending that agents tell prospective buyers if the seller of a house has AIDS.

- The Texas Racing Commission intends to license Class 2 racetracks by Spring 1989 and asks all parties applying for a racetrack license to file a letter of intent by Oct. 31. The Class 2 license application period is Nov. 1 to Dec. 30.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

Our nation's health care system faces an unprecedented shortage of nurses at a time when our needs could not be greater.

According to the American Hospital Association, about 75 percent of hospitals report a nurse shortage, shortages that are delaying admissions and surgeries and temporarily closing emergency rooms. We're seeing this in Texas, where several hospitals—Hermann in Houston, John Peter Smith in Fort Worth and Parkland in Dallas, to name three—periodically have had to divert emergency cases to other hospitals.

The national average job vacancy rate for hospital nurses more than doubled—from 4.4 percent to 11.3 percent—between 1983 and 1987, according to testimony before the Senate Finance Committee's Health Subcommittee. By 1990, the U.S. is expected to be short about 400,000 baccalaureate level nurses.

With the growing number of older Americans and the development of increasingly sophisticated health-care technology, we need an adequate supply of nurses who are highly skilled and whose training enables them to act as the front line of America's health care system.

The Senate Finance Committee has jurisdiction over these and other health issues. As Chairman of that committee, I am well aware of the potential effects that the nursing shortage can have on the millions of Americans who receive their health care through Medicare, Medicaid and private insurance.

That is why I have coauthored the Medicare Graduate Nurse Training Act of 1988, a four-year pilot program to insure that nurses taking graduate clinical training receive the same financial assistance that graduate physicians already receive.

Medicare currently will pay only for educational programs operated by hospitals, not those run by university-based nursing schools. Most physicians are enrolled in hospital-based graduate programs but most graduate nursing programs are based at schools rather than hospitals. I believe the nurses in these school programs should receive the same help physicians receive at hospital programs.

My legislation would modify Medicare payment rules to promote the formation of new graduate nursing clinical training programs that are operated jointly by hospitals and schools of nursing.

The test program will let us know whether this innovative approach will work. If it's successful—and I'm optimistic—then Congress could make it permanent.

There are many reasons for our current nursing shortage, but virtually everyone agrees salaries are part of the problem. Obviously, nurses with graduate clinical training have higher salary potential than those without it, and our purpose is to make this training more available.

We want to make sure there are plenty of trained nurses on hand, delivering quality medical care to Americans.

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

I've seen something similar, but I still like it so I stole this from Patty Adams of the Paducah Post who stole it from Rosemary Neff, editor of Transportation News.

Are you just trying to make it to Friday? It's easy. Turn west outside Davy Crockett National Forest in Houston County, and it's Friday, a town of 41 souls in the heart of Texas.

Now that Friday's in sight, are you Happy? Jolly? Smiley? Are you filled with Joy? Or are you Uncertain? Want to Circle Back? All of these are possible without crossing the Texas border.

Want a taste of the old West? Then visit Cut and Shoot, Buckeye, Lariat, Bronco, Deadwood, Gun Barrel City, Cactus, Paint Rock or Point Blank. If you always root for the Indians in Western movies, you'll want to take in Medicine Mound, Cherokee, Comanche, Geronimo, Indian Gap, Indian Lake, Kanawha, Pawnee, Quana or Seminole.

If White Settlement isn't your style, see Black on the map. Want more color in your life? Try Blue Mound, Red Rock, Greenwood or Grayback.

If your journey has made you hungry, stop for a taste of Oatmeal, Rice, Plum or Noodle, and wash it down with Coke or Sweetwater.

Now that you're restored, maybe you'd like to stretch your horizons and visit those cities whose names have always beckoned from travel brochures, and do it on limited Cash. You won't have to cross state lines to Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, Atlanta, Boston, Carlsbad, Memphis, Miami, Helena or Nome.

Will it play in Peoria? You can find out in Texas. Venture farther abroad and tour Athens, Paris, London, Edinburg. See China, Egypt, Ireland, Italy and Nazareth. Then there are the "far-away places with strange-sounding names" like Iraan, Diner, Ozona or Wamba. And if those destinations aren't exotic enough, try Eden, Elysian Fields, Paradise or Utopia and you still won't have to leave the Lone Star State.

Ready for a break? Take Comfort, Coffee City is just ahead. Forget about writing Post cards while you rest; joy bother when Telegraph, Telephone and just plain Tell are right here in Texas.

Maybe you're missing your friends by now. You shouldn't get lonely in Texas, not with Alexander, Alfred, Alice, Allen, Allison, Alma, Anna and Anthony. Visit Ben Franklin, Ben Arnold, Ben Bolt, Ben Wheeler, or just plain Benjamin. See Clyde, Diana, Gail, Irene or Jean. Don't neglect Katy, Leroy, Lolita, Melissa, Melvin or Peggy. You could visit Nixon, and even Reagan is waiting for your Call. And you don't have to be Royalty to enter Whitehouse.

Enough of this Lark. Direct that Energy and apply yourself with Industry. Put your shoulder to that Spade and don't be a Quitman. You can have an Impact, maybe even be a Star. We Needmore like that on this Earth (and maybe even on Venus and Mercury).

Shame on Burger King.

At a time when scholars are complaining that kids don't know much about history, the giant fast food chain is telling them that Thomas Jefferson wrote the Constitution.

The company's "Education Enriches Everyone" promotion features a placemat which says: "Before Thomas Jefferson could pen our Constitution, he was schooled in history."

Truth is that Jefferson was not even in the country when the Constitution was written. He was living in France in 1787.

His old friend, James Madison, is generally credited with authorship of the document. Jefferson gets credit for authoring the Declaration of Independence, written 11 years earlier.

"Mexicans were eating dried beans at least 4,000 years ago."

That's what it says in a release from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Technically, there weren't any Mexicans 4,000 years ago. My recollection of history tells me there wasn't such thing as a Mexican until the 16th century.

Let it stand under the assumption that TDA meant the Indians living in what is now Mexico.

40 sign up for Boy Scouts

More than 40 boys signed up to become scouts following the School Night Rally held by Pack 136 last week in the elementary cafeteria.

"Successful" is the way Mrs. Pat Mickler, Tiger Cub coordinator, described the enrollment of 21 first graders in the Tiger Cub program.

The other new recruits entered at various levels of cub scouting.

Bob Oatman, Chisholm Trail Northern executive director, said it was the biggest rally he had ever attended.

He told the near-capacity crowd that Pack 136 was one of the most successful groups in his district. He explained that the scouts have not only participated in district scouting activities but also they usually won.

Registration is still open for boys in first through fifth grades who are interested in joining a den.

"Actually, registration never closes. Boys as well as adult leaders can join at any time," Cubmaster Jim Bob Mickler said.

Mickler explained that the pack had an urgent need for "experienced" uniforms. Several boys want to join but are not able to purchase uniforms.

"We would appreciate the donation of 'experienced' khaki or navy shirts and Wolf, Bear or Webelo neckerchiefs," Mickler said.

Two major events are planned for October. First, pushmobile competition will be held Oct. 23 in Anson, and the ever-popular fundraiser, the Father-Son Cake Bake, will be Oct. 25.

"These are both favorite activities for our scouts, so if someone is thinking about signing up, now is the time," Mrs. Mickler said.

Newspaper Week

America's first newspaper, Publick Occurrences Both Foreign and Domestic, made its debut Sept. 25, 1690.

This week, in commemoration of that oddly named and oddly spelled publication, America observes National Newspaper Week.

The week pays tribute to the importance of newspapers in American life while recognizing the people--the editors, publishers, printers, advertisers, carriers and readers--who make newspapers possible.

Magnum tractor gets award

The Magnum line of tractors carried by Richardson Truck & Tractor of Haskell has won a national award for outstanding design quality, according to A. C. Richardson of the local firm.

"The Magnum tractors earned first place in their class in a contest sponsored by the Industrial Designers Society of America (ISDA)," Richardson said.

"The ISDA calls this contest the Industrial Design Excellence Award (IDEA)," Richardson said. "This year's IDEA competition had more than 310 entries."

The IDEA awards recognize industrial designs for excellence in five areas: innovativeness, user benefits, appealing appearance, appropriate use of materials and cost-efficient production.

IDEA jurors, who are all professional industrial designers, said the Magnum tractors deserved recognition because the product exhibited "carefully guided evolutionary design" and "addressed and improved actual use problems whenever possible."

Winning this contest ranks the Magnum tractors as first class products along with the winners in other categories, Richardson said. Some of the other winning products and their manufacturers were the Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme automobile, General Motors; Sigma non-impact computer printer, Queme Corporation; Lamborghini Portofino show car, Chrysler Corporation; Newhouse Group furniture, Herman Miller Inc.; and Amoco Station of the Future, Amoco Oil Co.

Richardson said the Magnum tractors are the first tractors designed for the 1990s.

Tradition continues

Bob Dulaney, former scoutmaster of Haskell's Troop 36, recalled many memories Sept. 24-25 as he went with son James (Pat), Eagle Scout, and grandson, Jim, Webelos Scout for their first father-son campout at Buffalo Trails Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains. Ten boys and fathers attended. James is now the Webelos leader for Midland's Pack 160. These boys started as Wolves two years ago under den leader Mrs. James (Susan) Dulaney. Susan is now Pack 160's assistant cubmaster.

Child Welfare Board

The Haskell County Child Welfare Board met in regular session Sept. 20 in the jury room. The resignation of Shirley Mickler, who represented the Paint Creek community, was accepted. With the addition of two new members who came in August, Thomas Long and Dr. James Kemp, the board now has 10 members.

Sue Miller, treasurer, reported that a dental bill had been received. The board had a request to pay for physical and dental examinations for a local boy so he could enter Abilene Boys Ranch.

Mary Martin, secretary, reported that 43 counties in Region 04 had been sent letters as to the collective purchasing of comic books concerning child abuse. Several replies have been received. Others are expected when the Regional Advisory Council meets Oct. 4 at DHS regional office, 4380 Spindletop, Abilene.

She also reported on the public hearing of the Select Committee on Child Abuse and Pornography which was held at McGlothlin Center at Abilene Christian University at the request of PACA (People Against Child Abuse) on Sept. 12. This was chaired by Rep. Doyle Willis. A lawyer and four other people were on the panel. Rep. Willis said that about 40 new laws had been passed and a number had been amended as a result of hearings in various parts of the state since 1979. About 15 people testified. It seems as if the child is on trial instead of the child abuser or molester. Previous convictions of the offender, even felonies, cannot be introduced during a trial. Judges seem to be more interested in getting rid of cases instead of seeing justice carried out, even declaring that a child is not capable of giving testimony. An Abilene father told how his daughter was kidnapped from an elementary school yard. The case has been prolonged and the offender is still free. A divorced mother testified how the court forces her small daughter to visit her father two weekends each month even though she cries not to go and is always ill after a visit.

A social worker who has been involved for 15 years used the full 10 minutes to say that over the years only about 200 cases out of 500 had been investigated because of lack of funding and lack of personnel.

One of the last testimonies was given by a local man who had allowed himself to become addicted to pornography. He told how he was delivered and his family was restored, something that usually does not happen. He was willing to speak to help make the Big Country aware of how laws should be enforced.

The board had a display of free literature at the Haskell County Fair. The next meeting will be Oct. 18.

Enrollment hits record at Cisco

Cisco Junior College's enrollment for the fall semester has reached record levels with 1,971 students.

This is an increase of 13 percent over the 1987 fall enrollment, said Olin Odom, director of admissions and records.

Enrollment on the Cisco campus is 742, largest since 1976. The Clyde campus has 583 students and the Abilene Campus has 639. Students in Coleman account for the remainder of the enrollment.

Volunteers thanked by AHA

The American Heart Association has expressed its appreciation to those who volunteered their time and services to the booths at the Haskell County Fair.

Volunteers took blood pressures, set up registration for CPR classes and passed out heart-healthy literature on diets, CPR and blood pressure. The volunteers were Bruce and Tempa Toney, Merry Harvey, Gwynne Unger, Vera Hunt, Charlotte Arendall and Casey Caldwell.

The AHA also expressed appreciation to those who helped with the Food Festival, including Sheila Tidrow, Norma Richardson, Joy McKeever, Missy Phemister, Dala Harris, Teresa Unger, Teresa Rodriguez, Sylvia Alvarez, Lisa Goss, Debbie Solomon, Betty Michaels and Donna Spikes.

Special thanks went to Sam Bitner and Sam Watson for permitting the Heart Association to hold the Food Festival in their stores.

Linda Wade gets HSU degree

Linda Yates Wade has completed requirements for a master of education degree and has received a diploma from Hardin-Simmons University.

She is the daughter of Tom Yates and Myrtle Phemister.

The community is standing by for the countdown to "Homecoming '88" as we look toward the weekend. Class reunions will begin on Friday night, and area football games at Munday and at Haskell will draw part of the crowds.

Class of 1950 will meet for dinner at 6 p.m. in the home of Fretta Edwards Wright in Rochester with Wanda Dunnam Hawn as co-hostess.

Visitation and registration will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday, October 1st at the school with a recognition program at 2 p.m. A record crowd is expected.

The month of October will bring a special treat to you readers as Mrs. Darlene Bellinghausen with her Junior High students of the Weinert school will be compiling this column for the full month. We know you will enjoy it. At the same time they will be getting lessons in journalism, reporting, public relations, English, grammar and speech.

Michael Dukakis Weinert Student's choice. If students at Weinert school have their way, Michael Dukakis will become the next President of our country, according to Mary Murphy, school coordinator for the Weekly Reader's National Presidential Election Poll.

Grades Pre-Kindergarten through eighth grade took part in the poll, along with over one million other students nationwide, and it was a great opportunity for the children to learn about America's election process through the hands-on participation.

The Weekly Reader's National Presidential Election Poll has spanned 32 years, and has been extremely accurate in its projections for the eight elections during those years. National results will be made public by Weekly Reader prior to election day, November 8.

Even the pre-kindergarten students were familiar with the pictures of Mr. Bush and Mr. Dukakis, when shown them by their teacher, proving they are observant of TV coverage of the presidents race.

Shortly after the election, students will once again focus on the Presidency when Field Publications; Weekly Reader asks them to identify goals for our nation's new leader. The results of that survey will be shared with the President after his inauguration on January 20, 1989.

Don and Gracie Griffis report a great at Las Vegas, Nevada last week. They were also guests in the home of Don's uncle, Frank and Fauna Garrett, and other relatives in that city. Gracie said the "bandit" machines were all rigged just to take her money.

Recent guests in the home of Gilbert and Ruth Jimenez were her brother, Leonard Villarreal and his wife of Baytown, Texas. They are teachers in the Clearview school system, and "Gilbert" the hurricane afforded them an opportunity to come to the Big Country for a visit.

The Board of Directors of the Weinert Gin have hired a new manager and hosted a "get acquainted" luncheon at the gin in his honor on September 28th.

Steve Morren and his wife, Sherry, have moved into the Stewart farm home and are getting acquainted with Weinert residents. Sherry is employed at the ASCS office in Haskell. Steve is a graduate of Oklahoma State University and was formerly employed as an entomologist in our area.

We welcome the Morrens, and hope they have a happy, successful life in our community.

Ted and Faye Jetton are announcing the arrival of another great-grandchild as they welcomed 8 lb. Cheyenne Jetton Smithson to their family on September 23rd. She is the granddaughter of Jimmie and Claude Young.

Russel Rainey is recuperating from surgery he underwent at Hendricks Hospital. We wish a speedy, and complete recovery for him.

Garth Garrett has been hospitalized at Red River Center in Wichita Falls and is being admitted to the Haskell Nursing Center in Haskell. He may have visitors in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Woody Turnbow with Greg were in Weatherford for the weekend to visit with their daughter, Twyla and Tommy Sorrells with Luke, Levi and Tabitha.

Several of our residents received ribbons for items they entered in the Haskell Fair, but we rejoice most about a couple of ribbons Ima Stewart received for a wall hanging she received a blue ribbon, and for a crocheted tablecloth she received a red one. Ima is legally blind, and that fact makes these achievements outstanding! Congratulations, Ima!

One of our newest residents is Lori Kimmel, formerly of Munday, and we welcome her to town. She is employed in Haskell.

David and Peggy Phemister with Greg and Marcus were in town to visit with relatives. Greg remained for a longer visit.

Those celebrating birthdays include David Crump, Bob Wood, Melvin Vojkufka, Hellen Stout, Eric Hager, Georgia Turnbow, Wanda Hester and Peggy Adams. Happy birthday, all!

Celebrating anniversaries include Toby and Alice Yates and Melvin and Wanda Vojkufka. Congratulations!

David Crump was honored with a birthday party at his house on Monday, September 25, when several little friends gathered to play, visit and eat.

John and Laverne Mayfield have returned from another leisurely trip through central Texas, making stops in Cleburne, Glenrose and Granbury before a longer stop in DeSoto, to help celebrate their granddaughter's 2 year birthday, and their own 45th wedding anniversary.

The Weinert Baptist Church will host a dinner on Wednesday evening, September 28, to honor the teachers of all the Sunday School classes.

Their pastor, Donnie Crump attended the Sunday School Convention held at Stamford last week.

Sandra Nicholson and "T" are excited about the beginning of the construction of their new home east of town, as the cement mixers rolled in on Wednesday morning to pour the foundation.

Helen Boykin received word that a brother-in-law, Morris Davenport of Vernon, passed away on Monday, and she was in Vernon to attend the memorial services on Wednesday morning. Morris was married to Mack's sister, Francis.

R. S. and Betty Sanders enjoyed a visit with Betty's parents and sister on Sunday as Mr. and Mrs. Ras Gideon and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Black of Winters arrived to spend the day.

Mrs. Gideon is frail, just now recovering from treatments for a malignancy.
