Mrs. Alice Sellers Allen
... 102 years old

Haskell woman turns 102 Tuesday

Mrs. Alice Sellers Allen, better known as Granny Sellers, celebrated her 102nd birthday on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Allen says she was reared in the "Good Old Days" and attributes her long life to hard work and clean living. She says there were no food stamps or welfare programs to help her along.

Left with small children to rear after her husband's death, she worked at every job available to keep her family together. They would all follow the cotton harvest, gathering cotton in season, and later she would take in ironing to keep enough money to pay the bills and enjoy what pleasure came her way.

Mrs. Allen has lived in Haskell 12 years and in Haskell County for more than 45 years. She now resides at Rice Springs Care home and welcomes all visitors to come and talk over the memories of days gone by.

Of four sons and a daughter, only the daughter survives. She is Mrs. W. O. (Laura) Irvin of Haskell. Also living in Haskell are her granddaughter, Darlene Swinney, her husband and their two children. Altogether, Mrs. Allen has 17 grandchildren, 51 great-grandchildren and 17 great-great-grandchildren.

Her friends at Rice Springs Care Home say Mrs. Allen's positive outlook on life is an inspiration to all.

Indians, Bulldogs fight for survival

Haskell and Stamford will be fighting for survival in the district 7-2A race Friday night when the two ancient foes collide in Stamford.

Each team suffered its first district loss last week, Haskell losing 28-19 to Albany and Stamford bowing to Anson 13-6. The Indians and Bulldogs had opened the district race with victories the previous week, Haskell beating Hamlin, and Stamford defeating Albany. For the season, Haskell stands 3-4, while the Bulldogs are 4-3.

All was not spirited in the Indian camp this week as the team learned of the loss of Derrick Billington, one of the best offensive and defensive players in these parts. The Indian ace was injured toward the end of the first quarter at Albany and was to undergo orthoscopic surgery Tuesday to repair damage to torn knee cartilages.

Billington's loss was a tremendous blow to the Haskell team. He rushed just four times at Albany, gaining 88 yards, before he was injured. For the year, Billington has rushed 128 times for 995 yards. He also will be missed on defense where he was an all-district safety last season.

Coach Nelson Coulter was not sure who he would use as Billington's replacement on offense. Jonathon Dever filled in after Billington went down at Albany. Fred Shaw, a top running hand for the Indians last year who has seen limited offensive action this season, also is being considered. "We'll just have to see how the week goes," Coulter said.

Without Billington, the Indians will have a hard time matching Stamford on offense. Sophomore Eric Keen, the workhorse of the Bulldog backfield, has rushed for more than 1,000 yards. He's carried the ball a lot, 46 times against Ballinger and 42 times in another game.

Todd Harrison, 155-pound senior, is a seasoned veteran at quarterback. Tight end Eddie Hall is his favorite passing target.

On defense, the 195-pound Hall plays end where he was all-district last year. Coulter also is impressed with Jesse Sandoval, 185-pound safety.

The winner of Friday's game will remain in hot contention for the district championship. The losing team will see any title hopes virtually disappear, as well as hopes for a playoff spot.

After two weeks of play in district 7-2A, Anson at 2-0 is the only undefeated team. The Tigers this week will play at Hamlin. Albany is at Hawley in the other district game.

Lions hear report on Boys Ranch

"For whatever reason, they are here because there is no other place for them to go. They are not children in trouble but troubled children."

So reads a statement on a brochure for Ben Richey Boys Ranch of Abilene.

The executive director of BV Richey Boys Ranch, well-known TV personality Charlie Jordan, gave a rundown on the ranch and its activities to Haskell Lions Club members at their meeting last Tuesday.

"The purpose of Ben Richey Boys Ranch is to enable and encourage growth and change of the boys in our care," Jordan said. "Our approach is selected from various systems, doctrines and sources emphasizing the importance of the whole person in relation to his functioning ability as a member in his family, the community and the Ranch," said Jordan.

He said this goal is accomplished through individual and group efforts of the care-staff at the Ranch. "We all strive to help these boys toward helping themselves to develop positive, healthy attitudes for appropriate growth and development into mature young men," he added.

Jordan said that he doesn't believe kids want to be in trouble, but don't know how to stay out of trouble. "Kid learn to steal and vandalize," he said.

Ben Richey Boys Ranch has capacity for only 24 boys. There are two boys from Haskell at the ranch.

Preceding Jordan's talk to the Lions was a talk by Vergil Smith, district probation officer. He praised the work being done at the Boys Ranch, saying it offered a great alternative to the state correctional school "which is no place to rehabilitate a juvenile."

Smith said forces at home are responsible for the juvenile problem. He added that the breakdown of the family is the main culprit. "Most of the juvenile problem is the fault of the adult," he said.

includes five days and four nights accommodations.

Other prizes will be donated by Haskell National Bank, First National Bank, Olney Savings, Sport About, Haskell ASI, The Drug Store and Hale Farm Supply.

Turkeys will be donated by Modern Way, Buster's Drive-In Grocery, Tanner Grocery & Market, M System and Pogue's Grocery.

For additional information about the Turkey Walk, call Caldwell at 864-3945.

Cub Scouts plan annual Cake Bake

The Cub Scouts' popular Father-Son Cake Bake will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 25 at the Haskell National Bank Community Room.

Fathers will combine their talents with their sons to make cakes for this annual fundraiser.

"The scouts and their dads are totally responsible for making the cakes," explained Cubmaster Jim Bob Mickler. "Moms aren't even allowed in the kitchen. However, we suspect a few will take a peek in the kitchen to see if the walls are covered with frosting."

With more than 100 boys in scouting, Mickler believes the grocery stores will experience a large demand for cake/frosting ingredients this week.

Following the cake auction, scouts will receive information about the popcorn sales.

Prior to the pack meeting on Tuesday, the scouts will face off against other area scouts in pushmobile races in Anson.

The event will be on Sunday, Oct. 23, at 2 p.m. at the Church of Christ, and parents and friends are invited to attend.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

EXPLORE A TAX-FREE EXCHANGE

If you are anticipating selling a piece of business or investment property and replacing it with other property, consider the benefits of a tax-free exchange.

The tax-free exchange allows you to dispose of one piece of property and acquire another without incurring any current tax liability. On a qualified exchange the gain is deferred until the property is later disposed of. If the newly-acquired property is still owned at the time of your death, the deferred gain may never result in any income tax. (Property passing through an estate is entitled to a "stepped-up basis.")

The amount of your tax savings on a tax-free exchange will be determined in part by the amount of profit you would realize if the property were sold and any possible offsetting losses available on other transactions.

To qualify as a tax-free exchange, certain requirements must be met. The property exchanged must be of "like-kind." For example, real estate cannot be exchanged for personal property. In most cases, real estate can be traded for other real estate even though their use may be different. Raw land, for example, can be exchanged tax-free for an office building, or a farm can be exchanged for urban rental property.

The property that is exchanged and the property received must be held for productive use in a trade or business or for investment. Property to be received must be identified within 45 days after you transfer your property, and you must receive the new property no later than 180 days after you've transferred your property.

Take a serious look at arranging a tax-free exchange if your transaction will qualify. Give us a call; we'd be happy to give you a rough idea of the possible tax savings in any potential exchange.

Mrs. Holder hostess to Josselet club

On Oct. 11, the Josselet Extension Homemakers met in the home of Mrs. Flo Holder. A poem entitled "Happiness" was read by the hostess and was enjoyed by all.

The meeting was called to order by Martha Toliver, club president. The TEHA prayer was read in unison by everyone present. Since the program concerned fiber in the diet, roll call was answered by 13 members, each of whom told one food which she thought contained a high percentage of fiber. There was one visitor, Mrs. Lou Gilly, county extension agent/home economics.

The minutes of the Sept. 14 meeting were read and approved. A treasurer's report was given by Edna Anderson.

Dorothy Trussell gave the council report, stating that Information Day will be held Oct. 24 at 6:30 p.m. in the Haskell National Bank Community Building. The council will furnish the meat and each club is to bring salads, vegetables and desserts. The Josselet club is to come early and welcome people. Each club is to update club rolls and elect officers in their October meeting.

There were no committee reports and no unfinished business. As part of the new business, each member agreed to bring one assigned dish to Information Day. The club roll was updated for 1989. The club, through nominations and voting, elected the following slate of officers for 1989:

Margaret Jones, president; Helen Owens, vice president; Hazel Thomas, secretary-reporter; Phylecia

Bailey, treasurer; Dorothy Trussell, council delegate; and Margaret Wall, alternate council delegate.

The program, given by Lou Gilly, was very informative and concerned the types of dietary fiber and benefits derived from each type. Studies show that soluble fibers help lower cholesterol. To help lower serum cholesterol, on top of a low fat diet, one should eat one bowl of oat cereal each morning.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members:

Mary Abbott, Edna Anderson, Phylecia Bailey, Earmal Bevel, Reatha Mullins, Helen Owens, Margaret Simmons, Martha Toliver, Dorothy Trussell, Gladys O'Neal, Margaret Jones and Margaret Wall.

The door prize was won by Margaret Simmons.

Group celebrates birthdays

Jesus Arellano entertained at his home Thursday evening in honor of family and friends celebrating October birthdays.

Honorees and their birthdays included: Mrs. Arellano (Florentina), Sunday, the 16th; Mrs. Benny (Rosa) Abila, Saturday the 8th; Allen D. Overton, Sunday the 16th; and Alfredo de la Garza, Thursday the 20th.

After the Spanish style dinner, a decorated birthday cake was served to guests which included Mr. and Mrs. Benny Abila and children, Benny (J.R.) and Ramona, Alfredo de la Garza, Jesus Arellano of Abilene, Allen D. Overton, Karolyn Oman and Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Arellano and children, John and Kristy Lee.

Mrs. Arellano was also honored with a family birthday dinner in Abilene Saturday evening at a local seafood restaurant. Relatives attending were her children, Jesus, Angie and Rosie Arellano of Abilene, and Kristy, John and Jesus Arellano, all of Haskell.

Delynne Wiseman Harris

Delynne Wiseman weds Killeen man

Delynne C. Wiseman of Temple became the bride of William A. Harris of Killeen in a double-ring ceremony on Saturday, Oct. 1, at The Chapel of Horseshoe Bay in Horseshoe Bay, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wiseman of Temple, formerly of Haskell, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Floy Coleman of Lubbock, also formerly of Haskell. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Harris Jr.

The Rev. Tom Campbell officiated. Music was by Mrs. Betty Delisle of Horseshoe Bay, organist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a tea length gown of Alencon lace over slipper satin featuring a Victorian neckline, bodice beaded with seed pearls and sequins, and re-embroidered Alencon lace and bracelet length fitted sleeves.

Bridesmaids were Heather Harris and Erin Harris, daughters of the bridegroom. Best man was Jackson Bradley of Austin.

A reception followed at The Boardwalk in Horseshoe Bay.

After a wedding trip to Palm Springs, Calif., the couple will make their home in Salado, Texas.

The bridegroom is an attorney at Harris Law Office in Killeen. The bride is a graduate of the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor in Belton.

'Rainbows End' subject of study

Members of the Haskell Garden Club met Thursday afternoon in the Haskell National Bank Community Room. The chosen subject of study was "Rainbows End?"

This subject was interpreted by each member answering the roll with show and tell of one item of dried plant material. We never reach or see the end of the rainbow because we are continually creating or imagining with our expertise of something new in gardening, growing and arranging.

Each member brought an arrangement using dried material. They were all beautifully done. Juanita Rhea brought some lovely dahlias and fern in an arrangement of fresh material.

A short business meeting was conducted with Linda King, president, presiding. Lorene Dewey read the minutes and Mary Bischofhausen gave the treasurer's report. Mollie Carlisle introduced the speaker, Lorene Dewey, who told us how to dry several types of flowers and foliage. Some very interesting methods were discussed. She showed specimens of different dried things, illustrating how to dry and take care of each. We are planning many beautiful things for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Refreshments were served to the members by Mary Bischofhausen, Linda King and Mollie Carlisle.

Rev. and Mrs. Donald J. Richards

Couple appointed as missionaries

The Rev. and Mrs. Donald J. Richards were reappointed as missionaries by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board during its October meeting in Richmond, Va.

The Richardses will live in North Brazil where he will be directing the Department of Evangelism for the Alagoas State Baptist Board and they will be involved in a variety of outreach ministries.

Since 1981, Richards has been pastor of Autumn Creek Baptist Church in Houston, and Mrs. Richards has been the religious education director there. From 1975 to 1981, he was pastor of West End Baptist Church in Houston. Prior to that time they were missionaries in Brazil for 17 years before resigning in 1975.

Born in El Paso, Richards received the bachelor of science degree from Texas Western College in El Paso (now University of Texas at El Paso), and the bachelor of divinity and master of religious education degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He also attended New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts (now New Mexico State University) and Texas A&M College (now university).

Born in Haskell, Mrs. Richards, the former Shari Sherman, received the associate of religious education degree from Southwestern Seminary. She also has been a secretary and an administrative assistant for agencies in Houston. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lois Sherman of Haskell.

The Richardses have four grown children. They will return to the field in January.

-Green Thumb-

By Gladys O'Neal

This is especially a good time to set out transplants such as snapdragons, pansies, calendulas, amemones and shasta daisies.

October is soon enough to plant bulbs with the exception of tulips. They need to be stored in the refrigerator until early January if they are going to break dormancy and grow properly. Place them in a paper sack in your crisper.

Now next spring work your soil deeply, and for a strong root growth place bone meal or superphosphate into your beds. Early is the secret.

Get a head start on spring by rooting cuttings of tender bedding plants now. Some of the easiest to start from cuttings are begonias, coleus and geraniums.

The best rooting soil for cuttings is loose, well-drained potting soil composed of peat moss or compost, or washed sand, and clean garden soil.

Homemade soil mixes must be sterilized to eliminate disease organisms, weed seeds and insects. To sterilize, place a two- or three-inch layer of moistened soil (not wet) in several shallow pans, and bake at 200 degrees from 30 minutes. Cool thoroughly before using.

To get the cutting, take a sharp knife and take three- to four-inch cuttings from a firm healthy stem by cutting just below a node or leaf joint. Place in a prepared container, water with warm water, never use cold water at this time. It is best to cover with plastic (clear) and place in a well-lighted location, avoiding direct sunlight. Avoid extremes of moisture, overly dry or wet may kill the plant.

Continue to grow indoors through the winter, transplant to your yard next spring after all the danger of frost is over. Now is the time to collect materials for winter arrangements. Keep an eye out for weathered wood, dried grass and flowers, seeds and seed pods and pine cones. Dried gourds and Borden apples make beautiful flowers and arrangements.

If you would like to learn about making contrived flowers and beautiful arrangements using your imagination and creativity, join the Garden Club which meets the second Thursday at 2 p.m. every month through September and May at the Community Room of the First National Bank.

It's fun!

Grain pests not too numerous so far

By Steve Davis
Extension Agent/Entomologist
Wheat fields examined in the last week have yielded several species of small grain pests but none in significant numbers to date. However, each field needs to be treated as an individual.

Armyworms seem to be the most predominant of all pests and are showing up primarily in older wheat that was "dry-sown" before the rains. These worms are seen easiest when a half to three-fourth inches in length. They leave a distinctive trail of feeding scars on the leaf surfaces. Armyworms have no color pattern but are usually dark green with a black head capsule and may have yellow, red or white stripes longitudinally along their sides.

Another pest affecting older plans is the cutworm. These feed at or below soil surface and will not usually be seen. Damage characteristics that indicate cutworm presence are very evident. There will be green plants next to apparently dead plants in the same row with more plants becoming affected as time passes. Cutworm infested fields have the appearance of being closely grazed and damage may be "clumped" or occur in spots in the field.

Green bugs have not been seen in numbers justifying treatment as yet, but any "yellowing" of plants in the field should be examined closely. Green bugs do well in cool weather and can reproduce rapidly over a short time.

Questions regarding insect problems may be addressed to local county agents or this office in Roby by calling (915) 776-2706. Extension publication B-1251 "Managing Insect and Mite Pests of Texas Small Grains" may be helpful in making decisions to treat small grains.

Some people once believed that unless the king sat up at all times, no winds would blow and all navigations would be endangered.

TAKE THE CHILL OUT OF WINTER HEATING BILLS.

With winter just around the corner, WTU has these suggestions for lower energy bills.

- Have heating equipment checked seasonally by a qualified serviceman and check the filter once a month.
- Set the thermostat at 68° or lower.
- Check for adequate insulation in the attic. R-30 is recommended.
- Caulk and weatherstrip around windows and doors to help prevent excessive heat loss.
- Tightly close the damper in the fireplace when not in use.
- Open drapes and blinds during the day to let in sunlight and close them at night to hold in warm air.

For a more comfortable home and an electric bill that won't give you a chill this winter, contact your local WTU office for more conservation tips.
