Medicare enrollment period open

Citizens of Haskell County who dropped their Medicare medical insurance coverage or declined it when they were first eligible have another chance to sign up for it now.

The reminder comes from Glyn Hammons, manager of the Social Security office in Abilene which services the Haskell area.

The open enrollment period to obtain coverage will continue through March 31. Coverage will go into effect July 1.

Hammons said that some people who thought Medicare insurance was not for them might want to take another look at it this year. More extensive services will be covered, starting next January, because of recent legislation.

Among items of improved coverage are regular mammography screenings and increased days of home health care. A cap is set on the total expenses an individual would have to pay in Medicare-approved charges. In 1990, that cap is $1,370. Coverage of outpatient prescription drugs will be phased in over a four-year period, beginning Jan. 1, 1990. In 1990, Medicare will cover home IV therapy and immunosuppressive drugs. Coverage of all other prescription drugs will begin Jan. 1, 1991.

To pay for these services, Medicare medical insurance premiums will be increasing to $31.90 per month in 1989, Hammons noted. In addition, all people eligible for hospital insurance will pay an annual supplemental premium based on their income tax liability and collected as part of their income tax. For tax year 1989, the rate will be $22.50 for each $150 of income tax liability, up to a maximum of $800 per person.

Anyone with questions about coverage can call a special toll-free Medicare phone number, 1-800-888-1998. Questions about the supplemental premium should be directed to the Internal Revenue Service. For a free IRS publication which explains the Supplemental Medicare premium, call 1-800-424-3676 and ask for publication 934.

IRS also has a TELE-TAX service which provides toll free information. You may call 1-800-554-4477 and select topic 223 entitled, "Social Security, Tier 1, and Catastrophic Coverage."

First shipment of new cars was received Friday and more vehicles are expected soon.

Bill Wilson Motor Co., which has been in business in Haskell since 1945, will remain a Ford, Lincoln and Mercury dealer.

Family affair

State Rep. Rick Perry swears in his father for another term as county commissioner during ceremonies at the courthouse Dec. 30. The photograph on the wall is that of D. H. Hamilton, county judge in 1900-1904. Judge Hamilton was the great-grandfather of Ray Perry and the great-great grandfather of Rick Perry.

Weinert students make new friends

Many youngsters avoid writing letters, but not Janet Frazier's pre-kindergarten and kindergarten students at Weinert Elementary School.

The students are participating in the Weekly Reader Writing Pals program. They are writing to pen pals in a kindergarten class in Waterville, Vt.

The Weinert students and the Waterville students have found both towns on the map. Through their letters, they have found some similarities in their towns. Both are small, with small schools. Both groups enjoy books and their pets. Agriculture plays a role in both locations: the Vermont children told of "maple sugaring" while the Weinert children told of cotton, hay, wheat and cattle. Mrs. Frazier's class sent cotton bolls with the last letter.

The students also noted some differences. The Vermont children help cut their own Christmas trees, and some of their parents work at snow skiing resorts. The Weinert boys and girls watch cotton grow in the fields and noted that it must snow more in Vermont than it does in Texas.

In February, Mrs. Frazier will receive a complimentary kit from the Polaroid Education Program, which this year is cooperating with Weekly Reader to expand the Writing Pals program. In the kit, Polaroid is providing a Polaroid Sun camera and a pack of Polaroid 600-plus film, at no cost to the school. Weekly Reader is providing a full-color classroom poster designed to look like a page in a photo album.

The Weekly Reader photo album poster will be die-cut to hold Polaroid instant photographs, which Writing Pals will be encouraged to exchange with each other.

Weinert students sent a group photo with their introductory letter and look forward to posting the Vermont photos in the hall for all Weinert elementary students to view.

Dr. Lynell Johnson, executive editor of Weekly Reader, says: "It's great to see how excited children and their teachers get about the Writing Pals program. Because it's not just fun, it's also very much worthwhile. The program builds friendships across the miles. It teaches kids about other parts of their country. And it gets them writing."

Maidens going for first-half title

The Haskell Maidens can wrap up the first-half championship of district 7-2A at Hawley Friday night with a win over the Lady Bearcats.

It will be the final game in the first half of the district race and the Maidens boast a perfect 5-0 district record. Hawley stands at 4-1 and can claim a share of the first-half title by upending the Maidens. In such event, Haskell, Hawley and the winner of Friday night's game between Jim Ned and Stamford would all finish the first half at 4-1.

The Haskell Indians also face a big contest in Hawley. The Indians, 3-0 in district and 15-3 overall, will be going against a Bearcat team which also stands 3-0 in district and has an even better season record of 17-3. Two more first-half district games will remain for the Indians after the Hawley contest. One of Hawley's losses was to the Indians in the Wylie tournament; the other two to 1A power Eula.

The Maidens, 13-5 for the season, go into the first-half finale at Hawley coming off a 51-24 blowout over Hamlin last Friday. Sheila Underwood scored 18 points, while Missy Davis and Joy McKeever each had 13 as the Maidens took their fifth consecutive district victory. Haskell blew the game open in the third period by outscoring the Lady Pipers 24-1 after leading only 17-13 at halftime.

The Indians also had a romp against Hamlin, winning 89-39 as five players scored in double figures. Dusty Meeks had 25 points, Brad Bevel 16, James Rike 15, Chan Guess 13 and Sam Beakey 10.

Next Tuesday night, the Indians and Maidens will be at Stamford. For the girls, that will be the first game of the district's second half.

After Stamford, the Indians have a Jan. 20 date with Anson here in the final game of the first half. The second half of the boys' campaign begins at Jim Ned Jan. 24.

fundamental classes and expects the next round of classes to start soon.

Year's first sales tax check up by 10 percent

Haskell's first allocation of sales taxes in 1989 showed an increase of 9.75 percent over 1988.

This month's check to the city from the state comptroller was for $9,710.21. Last January, it was $8,847.60.

Only other Haskell County city to receive a check this month was Rule, which received $1,235.36, a figure down sharply from last year's January check of $1,943.65.

O'Brien, Rochester and Weinert did not receive checks this month.

Statewide, the $64.1 million sent to 924 cities that collect local sales taxes at one or one and a half percent represented a 19.4 percent increase over last year.

The tax allocation to Stamford was down 11.12 percent, dropping to $8,251.27 from last year's figure of $9,283.99.

Other Jones County cities suffered similar decreases, Hamlin falling 13.87 percent, Hawley 12.38 percent and Anson 3.64 percent.

To the north, Seymour dropped 1.96 percent, and Knox City and Munday rose 7.12 and 19.73 percent respectively. Aspermont took a 32.4-percent dip and Albany climbed 6.03 percent. Throckmorton collections were down by 21.51 percent.

January checks represent taxes collected by monthly filers in November and reported to the comptroller's office by Dec. 20.

Maddox, Burnett exchange vows

Melisande Maddox of Charlotte, N.C., and Ray Charles Burnett of Haskell were united in marriage at 7:30 Saturday evening, Dec. 17. The double-ring ceremony was performed at First Scots Presbyterian Church in Charleston, S. C. The Rev. Coile Estes presided.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Maddox III of Charlotte and the granddaughter of Mrs. J. S. Newcomb, formerly of Haskell. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Burnett of Haskell.

The church was decorated with poinsettias, swag garlands and large red bows. Amidst the poinsettias in the windows were hurricane lamps with candles. Continuing the Christmas scheme were pew markers of white lillies and red roses, carnations and tulips. Two candelabras decked in swag garlands stood on each side of the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her family, wore a long gown of white satin designed by Eve of Milady. It had a sweetheart neckline, basque waist and Elizabethan sleeves. The bodice, neckline, sleeves and skirt were trimmed in pearls and sequins on alencon and re-embroidered lace. The cut-out designs were surrounded by alencon lace. The A-line skirt ended in a cathedral length train.

Her veil of French illusion had a pouf in the back and had a pearl head band with a side spray of lilly of the valley.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white lillies, roses and carnations accented with red tulips.

The matron of honor was Robirene Johnson of Charlotte, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Joan Clubreth of New York City and Tamra Burnett of Haskell, sister of the groom. They wore long gowns that had elegant velvet long-sleeved bodice with pewter taffeta skirts. The dropwaisted dresses were accented by a taffeta rose with large rhinestone centers.

The groom's best man was his father, Charles R. Burnett of Haskell. Groomsmen were Steven Foster, cousin of the groom, and Darrin Tosh of Joplin, Mo. The men wore black tails with red cummerbunds and bow ties. The men wore boutonnières of red roses, the groom's was a white rose.

Jennifer Johnson of Charlotte, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a short dress with a black velvet bodice and white lace skirt. She carried a basket filled with red roses, tulips and carnations accented with lilly of the valley.

The mother of the bride wore a long light blue chiffon over taffeta dress. Rhinestones and sequins embellished the front. The mother of the groom wore a long light sea foam green dress of chiffon over taffeta. The waist was accented with a lame' cummerbund. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The reception was held at the fellowship hall at the church. A buffet style dinner was served from a table centered by an ice carving of a swan. In keeping with the southern tradition, a single cake, symbolizing the unity of the families, decorated with holly and red roses was served.

A rehearsal supper was held at East Bay Trading Company restaurant in Charleston, hosted by the groom's parents.

The couple plans to make their home in Midlothian, Texas. The groom is employed by Southwestern Bell. The bride plans to finish her degree.

Mrs. Ray C. Burnett

Lady Pirates beat Rule

The Lady Pirates opened this year's district competition with a 48-47 victory over Rule this last Friday night.

The game was close from the opening tipoff until the last two free throws went in with nine seconds to go.

Paint Creek went into the game knowing that they would have to attempt to shut down the high scoring Rule forward, Larissa Lefevre. While she only scored 6 points from the field, at the line she contributed 18 of 20 free throws.

The lead changed 11 times with Paint Creek ahead at the end of only the third and final quarters. Paint Creek was paced by returning starter Sherlene Grisham who had 20 points, bringing her total in 11 games to 229.

Also contributing were fellow seniors Shelly Briscoe and Kathy Langford with 2 points each. Sophomore Monica Howeth had 8 points to add and classmate Francine Barros contributed her season high 16 points, the last 2 of which were one and one free throws to ice the game with 9 seconds left.

The Lady Pirtes host Lueders-Avoca in their next district contest this Friday. The game will be preceded by a chili supper sponsored by the Paint Creek athletic department. Serving will begin at 5 p.m. and continue until game time. Tickets will be $2 for students and $3 for adults. Proceeds will go toward new boys' basketball uniforms.

--Weinert--

by Myrtle Plemister

Our weather has continued to be cold, windy and dry. We hope for some moisture, and colder weather to kill the insects that farmers fear.

Our sympathy is extended to the Raynes family upon the death of Mrs. Jiggs (Margaret) Raynes in Great Bend, Kansas a few days ago.

Margaret succumbed to cancer, after many years of battling the disease. Her memorial services were held in Great Bend on December 26. Attending from Weinert were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Raynes and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Raynes.

The friends of the Hutchinson family offer our condolences to the family upon the passing of Mrs. Robert (Beatrice) Hutchinson last week.

The memorial services were conducted on January 5th with Jimmy Hackney and Roy Herricks officiating, with burial in the Weinert Cemetery beside her husband.

Beatrice was a resident of the Munday Nursing Home for 6 1/2 years after suffering slight strokes and hardening of the arteries prevented her from living elsewhere.

We remember the beautiful Christian life she lived in our community. The many hours of service she gave to others, setting with the sick, babysitting, club work and of course, work in the Church of Christ. She is gone, but not forgotten.

She raised six wonderful children and her influence continues to live through them.

Her family has asked that through this column their gratitude for the comforting sympathy offered them, the bountiful meal the community prepared, and the use of the Baptist Church facilities, be expressed and conveyed to each one of you. They are very appreciative of it all, and wanted you to know.

We will sing the birthday song to Herchel Alexander, Gail White, John Brueggeman, Ruben Castillo and Ann Horan this week. (And to Martin Luther King on Sunday). Happy birthday, all!

Visitors to Weinert includes the LaRoque family from Odessa, who came to visit their mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Francis Mahan. They are Ruby LaRoque, her son, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce LaRoque and children, Justin, Chad, Paul and Jessica. Bruce is a fireman in Odessa and CPR technician.

Bertie Alexander had some surprise guests when her granddaughter, Donna and Bryan Cotten, with Krista, arrived for a visit from Memphis, Tennessee.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arby Touchstone of San Antonio, and Wanda Smith of Wichita Falls, nephew and nieces of Bertie.

Guests in the Brockett home were children and grandchildren, and included Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nance of Summerville (near Houston) their grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Nance, with Clint, Shannon and Ricky Jr. of Huntsville, Jo Coffman of Goree and Imo and Pete Brockett of Munday.

Imo was still excited about her photography session with the group from New York, representing Lear's magazine. We are, also, and congratulate her on her successful career in modeling.

Our skiing vacationers arrived home safely on Sunday night after a week spent in Wolf Creek, Colorado. They witnessed a few days of wintry weather that kept them "snowed in" for a time but they had no illness or accidents.

Those in the group were Mark and Kim Stewart, Shannon Forehand, Mondy Mayfield, Laurie Kimmel, Perry Kuehler, David Adams, Steve Decker, Mike Stewart, Robin Weaver, Jimmy Burson and Todd and Angela Herricks.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Stout with children Brian, Keith, Gary, Laura and Katy of Bedford spent a few days in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stout.

R. W. and Judy Anderson, with Mellisa and Valerie have returned to their home in Eatontown, N.M. after spending several days with Judy's mother, Mildred Offutt. Mildred accompanied them as far as Wichita Falls for a few days visit in the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Offutt, Cindy, Tammy and Marty.

R. S. and Betty Sanders spent the weekend in Winters where they co-hosted the 60th wedding anniversary celebration of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ras Gideon.

Larry Sanders of Los Alamos, N.M. was in town to accompany them to Winters.

Those club members who were in Abilene to view the donated items for the Rehab Auction were Jimmy Weinert, Betty Sanders, Alice Yates, Faye Jetton and Myrtle Plemister. This is the 10th year that the Extension Club has made a quilt for the Rehab Center.

We had much illness in Weinert last week, that hit several homes with strep throat, viruses, flu and other symptoms. The Woods, Forehands, Walkers, and others were quite ill for several days.

Ted Jetton was rushed to the Haskell Hospital with a breathing problem, and spent the night before coming home on Monday.

D. I. White had a problem with his heart and spent a few days in the Abilene hospital as the doctors worked to regulate his heart beat.

The Weinert Elementary school is involved in mid-term tests this week, and look forward to Friday when the students will enjoy a day out of school.

The teachers will have a "workday".

The basketball team was involved in a tournament in Rochester this past weekend. They will meet the Benjamin team in the Weinert Gym on Thursday, January 12 at 5:30 p.m.

Thought for the day:
Look at others with your heart. Your eyes might not see so good (Barbara Metcalf).

Have a nice day!

Challenges of youth Teens need friends

By Lou Gilly
County Extension Agent
Home Economics
(Seventh in a Series)

All adolescents feel a need to take comfort with people their own age, so teenage "peer groups" develop naturally.

Peer groups and close friends can be instrumental in helping teens make the psychological move toward adulthood. They provide an arena in which teens can begin to become independent of their parents. They make it possible to have experiences which the family does not provide and to practice behaviors which might be inappropriate or emotionally difficult to perform in a family setting-- behaviors which help a person function as an adult.

Listed below are some important thoughts about teenagers and their friends:

--One of the main reasons friends are important is that friends help us develop our personality.

--Friends often influence us in the way we spend our free time, in our choice of what to buy, and in the way we treat other people.

--The main traits most people look for in a friend are considerate, cheerful and honest.

--To be a good friend one needs to praise others when they do well, keep promises to others, and be able to forgive and forget.

--Adolescents who have good relationships with their parents--who feel that their parents are helpful, understanding, willing to talk to them when they have a problem, fairly easy to talk to and "in touch"--are most likely to be influenced by their parents rather than their friends.

--The majority of teens will continue to see friends even if parents do not approve. They think that parents' disapproval of a friend is because they are considered to be a "bad influence."

--Teens seldom perceive their friend as "pressuring" them into decisions. That is, they do not recognize peer pressure.

Friendships enrich our lives by what we give as well as by what we get. Friends make each other feel like worthwhile people. They accept each other. In so doing, they fulfill each other's basic need for acceptance.

It is important for teens to have friends of both sexes as well as to have friends of all ages. Problems can arise when teens ban themselves together in a gang or a clique. They lose opportunities to form friendships among other interesting people.

It takes time to make a real friend. Friendship cannot be bought. Remember, friendships worth having are worth waiting for and working toward.

TAKE THE CHILL OUT OF WINTER HEATING BILLS.

WTU has these suggestions for lower energy bills.

- Clean or replace filters monthly in your heating unit.
- Set the thermostat at 68° or lower.
- Check the attic for adequate insulation; R-30 is recommended.
- Caulk and weatherstrip around windows and doors to help prevent excessive heat loss.
- Tightly close the damper in the fireplace when not in use.
- Open drapes and blinds during the day to let in sunlight and close them at night to hold in warm air.

For a more comfortable home and an electric bill that won't give you a chill, contact your local WTU office for more conservation tips.

"The Year of Love" is being observed in 1989 at East Side Baptist Church.

Each month during the year, special focus will be on a different aspect of the theme.

The church bulletin describes the observance as "not a program or a campaign, but as a year-long emphasis for East Side Baptist people to allow the Holy Spirit to teach us how to receive and respond to the love of God which He has poured in our hearts; to allow that love to flow from our hearts to touch every area, person and circumstance in our lives."

Special events and special guests will be featured from time to time.

Monthly topics will be:

January: Love My God; February: Love My Spouse; March: Love My Church; April: Love My Country; May: Love My Bible; June: Love My Family; July: Love My Country; August: Love My Enemies; September: Love My Self; October: Love My Job; November: Love My Neighbor; December: Love My World.

--Rice Springs Care Home--

By Judy Wolsch
Activity Director

We thank Randolph Wilson and Nan for filling in on Sunday mornings in January. Calvary Baptist was unable to host services this month.

January birthdays are Adaline Letz the 5th, Agnes Rike the 7th, Thalia Jenkins the 22nd, and Hassie Couch the 23rd. The birthday party will be Thursday, Jan. 26.

We have several residents who would love to have visitor to talk to or even a short phone call from a friend. Please take a moment to remember our residents. As a poem I have states, "people need people."

People need people
And friends need friends,
And we all need love
For a full life depends
Not on vast riches or great acclaim,
Not on success or on worldly fame,

But just in knowing that someone cares
And holds us close in their thoughts and prayers,

And life's completeness and richness depend

On things we share with our loved ones and friends.

--Helen Steiner Rice

Machinery, Keeping up with demand.

Today's agriculture and its machinery needs have come a long way since the days of the horse-drawn plow. So has ag lending.

We know the needs of today are greater than those of even a few years ago. The business of farming has changed. So has the business of financing it.

Your local community bank has kept pace with its customers' needs, just as cattlemen and hog producers have kept pace with the American housewife's desire for leaner meat.

The need for better machinery is constant. It's our job to help finance that need. It's what you can expect from a trusted financial friend.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

TAXPAYER BILL OF RIGHTS

In 1776, our country's forefathers thought it wise to have a Bill of Rights to protect the civil liberties of its citizens. Now over two hundred years later, Congress has decided to pass a "Taxpayer Bill of Rights" to assist citizens in their dealings with the IRS. This new law is part of the 1988 Technical and Miscellaneous Revenue Act ("TAMRA").

The "Taxpayer Bill of Rights" covers situations between the taxpayer and the IRS from the moment of contact through (if necessary) the sale of a taxpayer's property to pay a delinquent tax.

At the initial stage of contact by the IRS, a taxpayer must be given Publication No. 1, "Your Rights As A Taxpayer," which details a taxpayer's rights and the IRS's obligations in audit, appeals, refund and collection matters. Only in the case of a formal summons is a taxpayer required to be present during an audit. And, during the audit, if the taxpayer wishes to halt the process at any time, he or she may do so for purposes of consulting a tax advisor. A taxpayer has the right to make an audio recording of the audit interview, as does the IRS.

If the audit process fails to resolve the tax delinquency and the collection division gets involved, there are new rules that deal with liens and levies. First, the taxpayer's personal residence is generally no longer subject to levy, and the amount of other personal property and wages exempt from levy are increased.

Second, before the IRS can begin proceeding to sell a taxpayer's property for tax deficiency, it must now give a full thirty days notice in place of the former ten days notice. Last, the taxpayer may appeal to the IRS for a release of lien. In the event that the IRS fails to release a lien (where the tax is paid or bond is posted), the taxpayer may sue for damages.

THE AMERICAN CONSUMER HAS MADE A.L. WILLIAMS NO. 1

Eleven years ago, A.L. Williams was a brand new company that didn't appear on anyone's list, much less an official industry tally like the one above. We believed in a different concept than the rest of the industry — 100% term life insurance. Everyone, especially the traditional industry giants, said we wouldn't make it. But we did make it, big time. That's only because you, the American consumer, have chosen our way of thinking.

When we told you about your choices for life insurance, you said, "Yes!" to buying inexpensive term insurance and investing the difference. No. 1 across the board after only eleven years... we must be doing something right.

Gladson, Frierson wed in Ft. Stockton

Tracy Lea Gladson and Randall Ross Frierson were united in holy matrimony in a mid-afternoon ceremony Saturday, Oct. 15. The Rev. Blake McKenzie of Luling, cousin of the bride, performed the double ring service at three o'clock in the afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church of Fort Stockton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gladson of Fort Stockton and Mr. and Mrs. David Frierson of Haskell. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daniel, Mrs. Marjorie Gladson of Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neal McKenzie of Bakersfield and the late Cleo and Mary Lea McKenzie. The groom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Oris Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Frierson of Haskell.

Decorating the church for the ceremony were spiral candelabra entwined with ivy, votive candles with greenery and silk candlelight flowers. A unity candle decorated with greenery stood on the altar as the couple exchanged their vows. Pews were marked with green and yellow silk orchids with pale and bright yellow satin bows.

Pre-nuptial music selections were played by Mrs. John Lewis, and Miss Connie Riggs sang "Everlasting Love," "You Light Up My Life" and "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in an ivory gown with a sweetheart neckline which dropped to a deep vee in back. The bodice was of sheer point de esprit net over embroidered in floral swirl with seed pearl beading edging the neckline. Puffed chiffon modified leg-o-mutton sleeves came to a point on the hands. The skirt was of ivory chiffon over taffeta with chapel length train.

She wore pearl earrings, a gift from the groom's parents, a diamond and gold bracelet, a gift from the groom, and a cameo brooch which belonged to her great-grandmother, Ethel Daniel.

The bride's hat was of candlelight satin with lace motifs, seed bead embroidery. The fingertip veil of illusion net was gathered into a pouf at the back edge of the hat and was edged in scalloped lace and seed pearls.

The lovely bride carried a bouquet of white bridal roses with baby's breath and varied greenery, with ivory streamers with love knots.

As something blue, the bride wore a garter of candlelight satin with a blue beaded heart. Something old was a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Marjorie Gladson. She wore a six-pence in her shoe.

The bride's cousin, Sherri Drennan Browne of Lewisville, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Jackie Fannin of Dallas, Lynette Welsh and Judith Pyssen, both of San Angelo, and Dessa Marie Stein of Rio Medina, cousin of the bride.

Attendants were gowned in tea length emerald green lame' with long dropped waist, shirred sash and draped bows. The dresses had long sleeves and bateau necklines. Attendants carried nosegays of silk cymbidiums with yellow ribbons and point de esprit net streamers.

The bridegroom's brother, Jeff Frierson of Austin, served as best man. Groomsmen were Nathan Frierson of Breckenridge, brother of the groom, Clint Porter of San Angelo, Kerry Therwhanger of Haskell and Walter McBroom of Haskell, cousin of the groom. Ushers were Guy Gladson of Lubbock, brother of the bride, and Chad Gibson of Haskell, cousin of the groom.

The groom was attired in full formal dress with cut away coat, and the groomsmen wore tuxedos.

The mother of the bride wore a peacock blue chemise with dropped waist and matching accessories. Mrs. Frierson wore a mauve crepe frock with three-quarter sleeves and matching accessories. Both mothers had bouquets of cymbidium orchids and sprays of greenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Frierson

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the church's fellowship hall.

The bride's table was covered with an ecru cloth of Florentine lace on ivory linen, which had belonged to the bride's great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Thomas M. McKenzie. The two-tiered cake had a Precious Moments bride and groom under a brandy snifter on the square lower tier, while the upper round tier was decorated with ferns and roses. The pastel mints were made by Alva McMasters.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a lace cloth belonging to his great-grandmother. The two-tiered chocolate cake was topped with a model of a "Silver Ghost" Rolls Royce, loaned by the bride's grandfather, Frank Daniel. Coffee was served form a silver service.

The separate punch table was laid with a linen embroidered cloth, which had belonged to the bride's great-grandmother, Anne Westerman, and crystal appointments with fluted champagnes by Meraline Stockton.

The gift table was dressed in a crocheted cloth owned by Wynona Riggs. The registry table held an arrangement of silk flowers, baby's breath and gypsophilia in a silver vase.

The bride's house party included Mesdames Mike Parker, Lee Roy Pyssen, Bill Ballard, David McMaster, Jim Renz, Anna Garcia, Paul Blaylock, Larry Thompson, Walter Stein and Rex McKenzie.

Serving at the groom's table were Mrs. Kerry Therwhanger, Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Nathan Frierson and Debbie Grindstaff.

The couple will make their home in San Angelo.

The wedding was preceded by a western wedding dance on Friday, Oct. 14, at the Civic Center. Barbecued brisket was served at the dinner.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Fort Stockton High School and an August 1988 graduate of Angelo State University. She is a first grade teacher at Grape Creek ISD (San Angelo). During high school she was active in the Panther Choral, PC Rhythm Singers, sports and student council. She was named FSHS All-Around Girl and Panther Choral Sweetheart. At ASU she was named to Delta Kappa Pi, the education honor society.

The bridegroom is a 1983 graduate of Haskell High School where he was active in sports and FFA. A 1988 graduate of ASU, he was active in intramural sports. He is employed by B&W Manufacturing of San Angelo.

Among out-of-towners attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Oris Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Mac McBroom, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Therwhanger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson with Chad and Paul, all of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grindstaff with Debbie and Donnie of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Frierson with Turner and Caitlin of Breckenridge; Mr. and Mrs. Kerry Therwhanger of Megargel. Also Oris D. Gibson of Victoria, Jeff Frierson of Round Rock and Walter McBroom of Lubbock.
