Anniversary

Elbert and Franciene Johnson will be host and hostess Friday and Saturday as Johnson Pharmacy throws an open house in commemoration of the 23rd anniversary of the Johnsons' ownership.

Johnson Pharmacy marks anniversary

The public is invited to an open house Friday and Saturday (Sept. 1-2) at Johnson Pharmacy, 418 N. 1st, celebrating the 23rd anniversary under present ownership.

Elbert and Franciene Johnson bought the establishment in 1966 which was formerly M&F Pharmacy. From 1895 to 1914, it had been Pace Drug, and from 1914 to 1962 Payne Drug--75 years with the same kind of business at the same location.

Prior to moving to Haskell, Johnson had managed the Bowen Drug Store in Bowie, upon completing of his training at Pharmacy School at the University of Texas. He has served as president, vice president and director of BCPA.

Following his graduation from Texas Tech, he played pro football with the Chicago Cardinals and a pro team in Canada, followed by coaching at high schools in Muleshoe, Belton and Bryan.

Franciene, a graduate of the University of Texas, works alongside her husband. Their diversified interests have paralleled one another's since they have been in Haskell.

She served as the first woman on the City Council and as the first and only woman mayor of the City of Haskell.

Both are members of the Chamber of Commerce Welcoming Committee and Elbert is serving on the Chamber Board of Directors for the second time, now the treasurer and former president.

He has earned his PhD and served nine years on the School Board with offices of vice president and secretary.

P. C. homecoming to mark 50 years

Paint Creek school will celebrate its 50th anniversary at this year's homecoming activities.

Homecoming will be Sept. 30. Registration begins at 1 p.m., followed by a program at 2. State Rep. Rick Perry, class of '68, will be program speaker.

A pep rally will follow the program, and then a visitation period who alternated at the man-under position. Although statistics were not kept, the coach said that game film showed that 18 of 27 passes thrown were on target. And split end Harper Stewart had nine receptions.

The Indians scored "several" touchdowns against the 1A Plowboys, while surrendering three to the hosts.

With a week to go before the season opener at Munday, the Indian offensive starters appear to be lined up like this:

Stewart and Craig Hanson at ends, Chad Gibson at center, Robert Swann and Roger Roewe at guards, Davis Chapman and Patrick Burson at tackles, Stocks and Osborne at Franciene is a substitute teacher. She is a past president and an active member of the Progressive Study Club while Elbert's favorite civic organization is the Kiwanis Club which he has served as secretary for three years.

Franciene's leadership in the Keep Texas Beautiful program included being district chairman of 13 counties and one of the coordinators for the extensive local beautification program. Her husband submitted the winning slogan for the Haskell effort.

Elbert is a deacon and treasurer of the First Baptist Church; Franciene is an adult Sunday School teacher and sings in the choir.

His favorite past times are playing the piano and spectator sports. She prefers needlepoint and reading.

Their foreign travels have included Russia, Hawaii, Spain, England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, Holland and Monaco.

At their open house this weekend, 23 door prizes will be awarded in commemoration of the number of years Johnson Pharmacy has been in operation. Guests may register any time Friday or Saturday and need not be present at Saturday night's drawing to win. Winners will be notified and their names posted on the store window.

Refreshments will be served both days.

"We want to thank our customers and friends and hope all of you will come by during our celebration," the Johnsons said.

before the 5 p.m. meal served by the senior class and FFA. Tickets to the meal will be $5 for adults with children under 8 being admitted for $2.50.

Climaxing the day's activities will be a football game between Paint Creek and Hermleigh, beginning at 7 p.m.

quarterback, Jonathon Dever and Jeremy Fuentes at halfbacks and Rodney Johnson at fullback.

Defensively, the lineup looks like this:

Chapman at nose guard, Burson and Rene Garcia at tackles, Dever and Swann at ends, Roewe and Johnson at linebackers, Osborne and Erik Harvey at cornerbacks and Fuentes and Stewart at safeties.

Defensively, the Indians' strongest position appears to be at linebacker where Roewe and Johnson should form one of the best 1-2 punches in the area. Roewe has been shifted from tackle where he played last season, while Johnson was a linebacking standout last year.

City approves budget; sets tax rate at .2655

The City Council last week approved a 1989-90 budget which calls for income of $1,076,200 and expenditures of $1,063,610. The difference of $15,800 will be available for use on capital expenditures.

Also approved to finance the budget was a tax rate of .2655 per $100 evaluation, which represents a three percent increase in the effective tax rate of .2578. City administrator Robert Baker emphasized the increase is only about three-fourths of a cent and that Haskell continues to have a lower tax rate than any city of comparable size in Texas.

Action came last Thursday when council members met for their regular semi-monthly session.

To offset anticipated landfill expenditures for compliance with state regulations, the council raised garbage collection rates by $1 per month ($7 to $8 for residential) and increased the minimum monthly water bill by $1.50, from $8.25 to $9.75.

The city was able to hold the line on tax increases despite a 28-percent increase in the employees' health insurance program and an 18-percent hike in workers' compensation premiums. Expenditures for fuel and electricity also will increase for the next fiscal year.

The budget contains no pay increases for city employees and no funds are budgeted for capital improvements to the water and sewer systems. It does contain $40,000 for street maintenance.

Last year's budget provided for capital improvements to be made from the city's reserves, reducing that fund to approximately $300,000. Baker told councilmen that the city spent approximately $100,000 of these funds, primarily for equipment, paving, water lines and park improvements and still has approximately $350,000 left in reserves. This, he said, will give the city a cushion in case the budget needs to be amended to accommodate any unforeseen need.

In justifying the raise in garbage collection rates, councilmen pointed out that the state is requiring the city to purchase a trash compactor to replace the aging track loader. This will enable the city to comply with a state directive effective Aug. 31 of this year that bans burning at the landfill. In addition to this increased expenditure, the state will levy an extra $2,000 annual fee on the landfill.

The increase in water rates is partially the result of another change in state regulations which requires the city to reduce the rates it charges customers outside the city limits. In the past, the city has charged out-of-city customers a minimum of $16.25, but state law now requires the city to charge the same to these customers as it does to city residents. The city is allowed to add $5 to out-of-city users to offset the taxes paid to the water authority by city residents. All water customers will pay $2.05 per thousand gallons over the minimum.

In other action at Thursday's meeting, councilmen:

--Heard a complaint from Daniel Riley regarding his recent termination as a city employee, but took no action.

--Discussed a request for the installation of a stop and go traffic signal at the intersection of US 380 and Avenue D. They pointed out that a recent survey by the State Highway Department determined that traffic does not justify such a signal.

--Heard a report from Baker that Burlington Railroad has cleared its right-of-way on South 6th Street. (Baker had complained to the State Railroad Commission.)

--Granted permission for Baker to attend a conference on solid waste management in Austin Sept. 6-8. The conference is sponsored by the Texas Municipal League. Baker said he hoped to find out exactly what Haskell needs to do to meet the ever-increasing state demands for the operation of the landfill.

--Appointed Tony Burson to the Ambulance Board.

Bank featured in publication

The computerized processing system recently completed at the First National Bank in Haskell is featured in a special article in the August issue of Microbanker, a research newsletter on computers distributed to the banking industry.

"Over a year and a half ago, Microbanker was telling bankers there is no PC-based on-line data processing system for banking, yet," the article began. "While still a novelty, it's evident that these systems are now a reality."

And then it proceeds to tell the story of the Haskell bank:

"The First National Bank of Haskell, Texas, completed its in-house conversion on July 3. The $15 million bank has been weaning itself from its $3,000 a month contract with EDS over the last two years. Now, all its data processing is handled in-house on a COMPAQ 286 networked to 12 IBM PCs and XT's--one work station for every employee."

"The First National Bank now has more computers than employees, which is what Clayton Fowler, vice president and cashier, wanted. Besides handling his banking duties, Fowler programmed the entire banking system in Quick Basic. The code is easy to adapt. Designed as a relational database, it can be adjusted quickly to new product offerings. And, most important, the entire system can be backed up on tape and stored off premises.

"My philosophy is that computers should work for us, instead of us working for them," says Fowler. "There are so many banks and computer shops that say 'We can't do it that way, because the computer needs it this way.' That's crazy. There's nothing the computer can't do; you just need the right software."

"The right software gives them independence from their service bureau. It handles general ledger, CIF, DDA, savings and CDs, commercial and installment loans, payroll, word processing and spreadsheets."

"Training employees has been critical to their success. Fowler was careful to involve each employee responsible for the job in the development process. For those who suffered from computer phobia, he let them destroy data, then learn to restore from the backup. Two people in the bank can handle computer housekeeping. 'We're in the banking business, not the computer business,' says Fowler. 'So, I want my people to know how to get information in and out of the machine, but I don't care if they can tell you about the computer.'"

"Support for this endeavor came from the top. Robert Hobgood, president and chairman, hired Fowler with the mandate to develop the system. Saving the $36,000 a year in processing costs is significant for this five-year-old ag bank. Fowler's goal is to be able to grow to $25 million without adding employees. He feels this system will make it possible."

Retail Merchants

Haskell Retail Merchants will have their monthly meeting Friday morning.

Members of the organization will meet at 7 a.m. at Kountry Kookin'.

Coaching staff

The coaching staff at Haskell High School this year consists of Walter Hargrove, Kerry Gartman, Nelson Coulter, Randy Stone and Steven Hale.

Roberts, McMillan vows exchanged

Tammy Jean Roberts and Teddy Lance McMillan exchanged wedding vows Aug. 19 in a candlelight ceremony at the Southland Baptist Church in San Angelo. The Rev. Martus Miley officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Ray Roberts of Haskell. Grandparents are Mr. G. W. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Carroll of Haskell.

The groom is the son of Virginia McMillan of San Angelo and Ted McMillan of Snyder.

Vows were exchanged before a nine-branch candelabra entwined with ivy and white flowers and flanked by two brass heart candelabras entwined with ivy. The white unity candle and two side candles were placed atop a brass stand and accented with floral ivy. Two baskets of rainbow colors stood by the side of the piano and organ.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a dress of slipper satin with lace, pearls and sequin beading on a Queen Anne neckline. Her full bishop sleeves were also trimmed in lace and sequins beading at the scalloped cuffs. The edge of the full satin train was trimmed with two lace ruffles and bows picked up her satin overlay skirt. The large bow at the back of her dress served as a bustling during the reception. Her tea-length veil was made of two layers of lace, and enhanced with satin roses, and was held by a band of beaded lace and satin roses.

The bride's bouquet was of white roses with seed pearls. Carla Dahlquist, cousin of the bride, designed the bouquet as well as the bridesmaids' flowers and the groomsmen's boutonnières. Honoring the tradition of something old and borrowed, the bride had a cameo necklace belonging to the fourth generation great-grandmother. Her wedding dress was new and her garter was blue. She carried an old sixpence in her shoe, given to her by her father. She wore gold diamond earrings and a gold diamond necklace that the groom had made for his bride.

Maid of honor was Cayton Dugan of Austin. Bridesmaids were Patti Roberts of Paige and Missy Plemister of Haskell. Junior bridesmaid was Kerrie Dahlquist of Baytown. Their dresses were satin tea-length designed with a sweetheart neckline and puffy sleeves encrusted in bows. The bride chose peach, teal, mauve and dark teal as her wedding party's colors.

The groom, wore a white tuxedo with white satin tie and cummerbund. His boutonniere was a peach rose. Best man was Lane McMillan of Big Spring. Groomsmen were Laddie McMillan of Snyder and Shawn Gilliam of Kerrville and junior groomsmen was Tony Dahlquist Jr. of Baytown. They wore grey tuxedos with ties and cummerbunds matching the bridesmaids they escorted.

Guests were ushered by Ricky Plemister of Haskell and Laddie McMillan of Snyder.

The bride's mother chose a straight street-length dress of peach satin with a scalloped cape skirt. The groom's mother chose a teal tea-length dress of satin and lace.

Jim Wynn and Mary Eakman provided the music. They sang "When I Fall in Love" and while the bride and groom were lighting the unity candle the groom had them to sing "A Lady Like You," especially for his bride.

A reception was held in the fellowship of the church following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a floor-length cloth and lace overlay. The bride's cake was white and peach. Two tiers held a waterfall, and above it was the top tier which held the cake top. A staircase leading down each side of the top tier ended at another cake. Figurines of each attendant stood on the staircase.

The groom's table was covered in a floor-length white linen cloth. The groom's cake was German chocolate with chocolate icing with a heart in the center with his initials in it. A heart-shaped table held the punch fountain. Soft music was played by Jim Wynn. A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's family.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado the couple will make their home in San Angelo.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Haskell High School. She received a bachelor's degree from Angelo State University in 1983 and is a customer service representative for GTE.

The groom is a 1979 graduate of Snyder High School and received a bachelor's degree from ASU in 1986. He is a golf professional for San Angelo Country Club.

Pre-nuptial courtesies included a lawn party at Riverhill Country Club in Kerrville, a bridal shower at the East Side Baptist Church in Haskell, a bridal shower at the First Presbyterian Church in Snyder, a lingerie shower in San Angelo and a bridal shower in San Angelo.

Franke descendants meet in Sagerton

Sixty-nine descendants of Friedrich and Dorothea (Wiede) Franke met at the Sagerton Community Center Aug. 12 for their first family reunion.

Bruno and Hilda (Franke) Kupatt's family were hosts for the occasion with Frances (Kupatt) Hendrix of Austin serving as organizer and chairperson.

Edwin Franke of Abilene was the oldest member present and Kortney Leanne Kupatt, daughter of Kraig and Leslie Kupatt of Sagerton, was the youngest.

Dustin Acklen, grandson of Frances Hendrix, of Rancho, Calif., was the child who traveled the furthest and Doris (Franke) Whitaker of Wheat Ridge, Colo., was the adult traveling the furthest.

Besides the host family, the Edwin Franke family had the most members present.

Family members were present from Abilene, Austin, Big Lake, Brenham, Dallas, DeKalb, Fort Worth, Marshall, Midland, Olney, Rockwall, San Antonio, Stamford and Sagerton in Texas, Rancho, Calif., Wheat Ridge, Colo., Apache, Lone Wolf and The Village, Okla.

In 1905, Friedrich and Dorothea Franke heard stories of new, good farm land opening up in Haskell County and they decided to move their family from Washington County to a new town named Sagerton.

The oldest son, Richard, had married and was established in farming so he did not move to West Texas. However, years later his son, Edwin, did come to Sagerton. The family first moved to the Capron community, but moved to Sagerton after a year so that their youngest daughter, Hilda, could attend school, and so they could be near the Lutheran Church where Mr. Franke served on the first council.

The Franks purchased several hundred acres of land southwest of Sagerton. They drilled a well and pumped it with a two-cylinder gasoline motor to furnish water for the family, their livestock and the neighbors, thus bringing the first "running water" into Sagerton. Water was a precious thing, as there was a short supply in the area wells at that time.

Their children married and most of them lived and raised their families in Sagerton before moving to other areas. The Paul and Minna Pfeiffer family moved to Oklahoma, the Henry and Lone Bredthauer family to Wichita Falls, the Willie and Ruffina Spiser family to Wichita Falls, Rhinhardt and Lillie Franke to McLennan County and John and Ada Franke later moved to Abilene. Descendants still farming the original Franke land are Edwin Franke and son, and the sons of Bruno and Hilda Kupatt, Fred and J. D.

The family enjoyed visiting and taking tours of the places they lived as children. Those taking them on tours were Fred, J. D. and Kraig Kupatt. They also enjoyed Fred Kupatt's brief history of the Franke family and their lives in the Sagerton community.

Special session coming

AUSTIN--Gov. Bill Clements told lawmakers to convene on Nov. 14 for a second special session on workers' compensation insurance which may well set the tone for the 1990 political campaigns.

In other Capitol events last week:

- The head of Public Finance Authority said Texas is deeper in debt because state agencies are borrowing money they don't need and can't use.

- Attorney General Jim Mattox warned former Govs. Mark White and Dolph Briscoe not to enter the Democrat gubernatorial primary.

- Several current and former state legislators signaled they may enter the Nov. 7 special election of a successor to the late Congressman Mickey Leland.

Session Showdown

The special session may well produce a showdown between the state's two most powerful officials, Clements and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Or maybe a compromise hammered out in the interim will sail through quickly, allowing lawmakers to return home before Thanksgiving.

Up to now, the workers' compensation issue has been largely an issue pitting pro-business forces against trial lawyers and labor unions.

But if the confrontation scenario prevails, the issue could well be Republican vs. Democrat come November.

Although both Clements and Hobby are "lame ducks," the results of the session, which concludes just weeks before spring primary elections, will doubtless signal momentum for those campaigns.

Clements staunchly defends the pro-business position, and will probably veto any bill he thinks a shortfall.

In previous considerations, Hobby, a Democrat, championed keeping jury trials, favored by trial lawyers and unions.

Last week, Hobby wrapped his arms tightly around the ball, promising to introduce legislation he called his solution to the workers' comp issue.

It could be the compromise or the confrontation, but if Hobby is carrying the ball, no power short of a veto can stop him in the Texas Legislature.

"Al Capone Law"

Starting Sept. 1, a new state tax on illegal drugs--marijuana, cocaine, heroin, etc.--will become the latest law enforcement weapon against drug dealers.

Under the law, a new tax stamp must be placed on marijuana and other drugs. The stamp depicts drugs as poisonous.

Naturally, drug dealers are expected to avoid paying this expensive tax, because it would blow their cover. But by such avoidance, they set themselves up for tax evasion prosecution.

Legislators call it the "Al Capone law," because the law's sponsor, Rep. Billy Clements, persuaded fellow lawmakers that Al Capone was convicted, not for bootlegging, but for tax evasion.

Drug dealers and users arrested with illegal drugs will be liable for taxes, late penalties and interest, as well as prosecution for tax fraud.

The taxes are high: about $1,624 per pound of marijuana and $90,720 per pound of other controlled substances.

Enforcement of this tax collection will doubtless be an issue in next year's campaign for comptroller.

Leland's Successor

In the special election to elect a successor to Congressman Mickey Leland, some leaders of Houston's black community had hoped to avoid a blood bath.

But with several current and former state legislators eyeing the race, the collision may not be avoidable. The Houston district, which contains the rough Fifth Ward, is 40 percent black, 30 percent Hispanic. The seat has been regarded as a black seat, having been passed to Leland from Barbara Jordan.

But some fear that if too many black candidates split their bloc, the inevitable run-off could pit a white Republican against an Hispanic Democrat.

Mattox, White, Briscoe

Mattox, an unannounced candidate for governor, reminded Briscoe that voters decided in 1978 that he should not be in office, and warned White there is no "great demand" for his comeback.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for Treasurer Ann Richards said she welcomes all comers, but lumps Briscoe, White and Mattox into "the kind of people who got us in the mess we are in now."

Bonded Debt

Harry Whittington, chairman of the Public Finance Authority, said state agencies are seeking too many bond issues to borrow money they don't need.

"We went from no-deficit spending in this state, to a lot of deficit spending, to borrowing money they don't need," he said.

He particularly cited state agencies for failing to monitor and carry out construction projects.

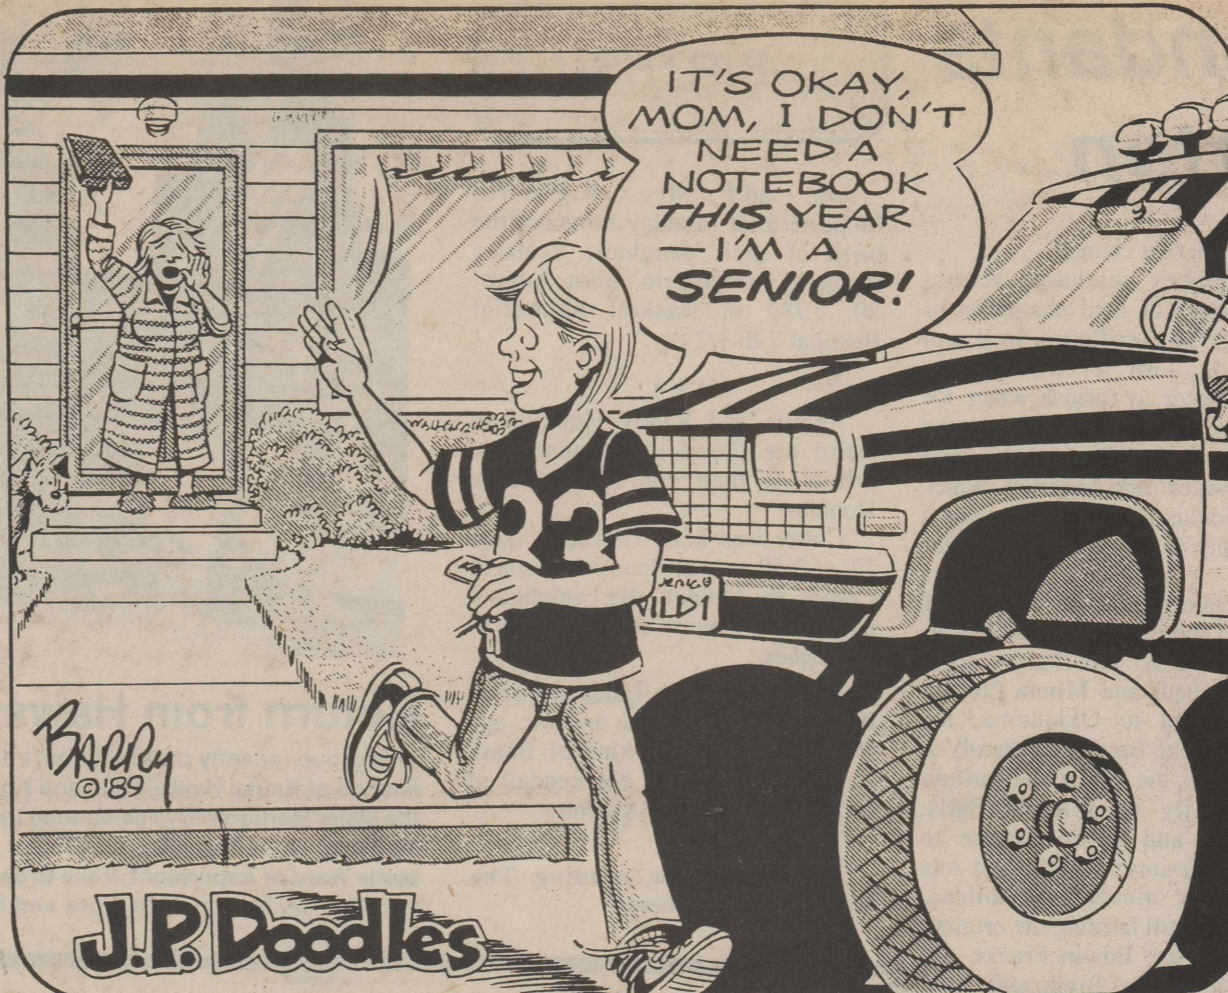

Animal health office relocated

On Sept. 1, the Area 2 office of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) will be moved 30 miles north, from Paducah to Childress. Area 2 includes Haskell County.

The TAHC, with main headquarters in Austin, is the state regulatory agency responsible for controlling and eradicating certain contagious or dangerous livestock and poultry diseases. Jimmy Dusek, DVM, is Area 2 director and the only state-employed veterinarian for a region that covers 32 West Texas counties.

Cattle sales

The market was steady to $1 to $2 lower at Saturday's sale at Haskell Livestock Auction. The sale was on a run of 1,434 head of cattle.

--Haskell Nursing Center--

By Mary Beth Hunt
Activity Director

The past two weeks have certainly been busy around the nursing center. On the 10th, the Country Band came out and treated everyone to their special music. Our residents really enjoy this entertainment and look forward to hearing it. We thank you folks for brightening up our lives.

Our "50's Day" on the 15th was a lot of fun. Most of the staff was dressed in their rolled-up jeans and bobby sox. In the afternoon we watched an old Elvis movie. Everyone enjoyed the change of pace.

Mrs. Louise Chambers of Rochester sent us a big mess of black-eyed peas from the Anders' farm in Rule. Several of our ladies shelled them for us and they were certainly delicious. Thanks, Louise.

We've had quite a few watermelons donated also. Tony and Mike Adkins of Rochester sent 12 seedless ones to us earlier in the month. Last week, Don and J. Smith of Rochester sent eight. These were all eaten with great relish. Thank you all very much for thinking of us.

Saturday, the 19th, was a big day for everyone at the nursing center. The Haskell Bass club donated a big mess of fish. Johnny Isbell, Danny Letterman and Larry Bayless came out and cooked them for us. They set up outside and spent all morning frying fish and hush puppies. All the staff and several family members brought a wide assortment of covered dishes. Everyone over-ate and had a great time. Our heartiest thanks go to these folks for making our day so special.

We want to also send thanks to Rev. Randolph Wilson and his family for filling in on Sundays this month. The residents have enjoyed these services.

Our prayers are with you, Bill S.

As a strong advocate for a more literate America for almost a decade, I

Nice visit

Citizens of Haskell: Recently my friend and I were on vacation. We had planned our stay-over in your town according to the Good Sam directory. It was a good place to stop.

We were both very surprised that the City Park offered level, shaded hookups for motor home travelers. The bonus is that you offer these services free.

We are taking this time to thank you for your hospitality. Very few things in life are free and we think your idea is outstanding. Thank you very much. I hope we can return again some day.

am convinced that literacy is key to solving many of our nation's most pressing problems. Poor literacy contributes to virtually every social and economic ill America faces. When we help people learn to read and write, we are helping ourselves and our nation as a whole.

I am a stalwart supporter of Literacy Volunteers of America, one of the finest and largest national organizations for literacy. As honorary chairperson of the LVA National Advisory Committee, I am delighted that Texas now has its own very strong state office, and I hope you will help make it stronger in any way you can. Improved literacy in our great state absolutely depends on effective volunteer programs like LVA-Texas, and our support is essential to their continued good work.

Please help LVA-Texas in its efforts to raise awareness and help people help themselves. You could not contribute to a more worthy cause.

Hopefully, it can be presumed that most Americans are a bit tired of all the "observances" we've had in recent weeks. There was the 20th anniversary of Woodstock and the 12th anniversary of the death of Elvis Presley, to name a couple. Each was preceded with a bunch of publicity of the upcoming event.

And during all this, scant mention was made of the 44th anniversary of V-J Day--the end of World War II. Surely, that event was of much greater historical significance.

As this is written, on Wednesday, Aug. 23, I can't help but wonder what kind of publicity, if any, we will be reading over the next few days as we approach the 50th anniversary of the beginning of World War II. Let's hope it's much.

Not that we should "celebrate" the beginning of that tremendous conflict, but rather that we make serious note of it in the hope that the world will continue to learn more about causes which brought it about.

It was Sept. 1, 1939, that Germany invaded Poland. "Poland Cries for Help as Hitler's Legions Invade" read the headline on a newspaper "extra" this then-10-year-old sold on the streets of his hometown.

Two days later, Great Britain and France, fulfilling their commitments to aid Poland, declared war on Germany.

Before World War II ended in 1945, 57 nations had fought in the war. Seventy million men and women served in the military forces of their countries and 17 million of them were killed. There were even more civilian deaths--20 million at least. Some say many more. Eight million people in Europe alone were displaced and almost as many Japanese, Chinese and other Asians. Hundreds of thousands were missing and never accounted for.

We cannot afford to let World War II fade into the memory banks of those who lived through it. It's a history lesson that every person on the face of the earth has an obligation to learn.

To hell with Woodstock.

Most of the kids still love pep rallies and proms. TV is not as important as once thought and teens are spending less time on the telephone, the survey concludes.

What else?

Seventy percent believe their parents are "cool" and wise. And kids admire their parents more than any other adults. (Teachers come next.)

1. Club presidents drew for their clubs' titles for their educational booths at the Haskell County Fair.

2. Council voted to divide the money budgeted to help pay 4-H's expenses to state events among the four county 4-H's who participated in state events. They included Mindy Ballard, state 4-H Congress; Chad Gibson, state 4-H Horse Show; and Kim Gilly and Emily SoRelle, state 4-H Roundup.

3. Council voted to award the Extension Homemakers' scholarship to Dalyn Gilly since she was the only applicant.

4. Jimmie Weinert was elected as the TEHA chairman for 1990.

5. Mildred Robertson, TEHA chairman, made a report.

Area agency due transportation grant

A $176,000 grant is expected to be approved for assistance in operation of the small urban transportation system serving Haskell County.

Recipient will be the Aspermont Small Business Development Center, which serves Haskell, Jones, Kent, Knox, Stonewall and Throckmorton counties.

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm announced this week the loan is expected to be approved upon completion of the application process.

The grant will come from the State of Texas, with monies provided by the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Transportation.

"This assistance is part of UMTA's block grant program, which allows local officials responsible for transit programs to tailor the federal funding they receive to fit the needs of local citizens," Gramm said.

UMTA was established in 1968 and operates a variety of grant and loan programs to assist communities in creating and operating local transportation programs.

Quanah's Dickens playing at TCU

Quanah's Setrick Dickens is expected to be a key part of the TCU Horned Frogs' new "Triple Shoot" offense which Coach Jim Wacker is instituting this year.

Dickens, last year's 2A player of the year for the state runnerup Quanah Indians, appears to have nailed down a starting position as a flanker.

Weinert grads meet

By Erlinda Mayfield

Twelve class members and their spouses recently met at Lake Brownwood for the annual reunion of Weinert's class of 1958. Class member Donald Griffis and wife, Gracie, once again served as hosts but enlisted the help of classmates Truman and Charlene Sturdy Therwanger, Christine Hutchinson Meers and husband, Boyd Lynn, in reading the cabin for the weekend.

This was the fourth year the group has met here to reunite and renew friendships, but as Bobby Jenkins can verify, the location is not an easy place to find as he once again spent two hours trying to locate it. Of course, Elwood Bruton, keeping with his regiment of jogging several miles daily, could find his way anywhere within the park with his eyes closed. Then there is a certain class member who can't find his way around the inside of the cabin with the lights out and there are other who are quite adept at making quick exits in the dark.

The group basically relaxed and enjoyed various activities and visitation but the gathering is always a learning experience. Friday was spent shopping, fishing, swimming and visiting on the boat dock. After spending a questionable amount of money on swimwear, life jacket, life raft and 20 feet of rope, Patsy King learned that she could get 15 feet from the dock without getting wet. It was here that the group learned of Gracie's pet name for Donald. Boyd Lynn demonstrated the life saving technique of riding a rubber horse in the water and J. B. out-fished everyone and was finally able to produce a license when questioned by the game warden. The warden, however, was not amused by the fact that all of the men claimed to be J.B.

Mealtime again brought out Truman's talents as he spearheaded the cooking regimen. He learned that one definitely could cook frozen meat and also that the heat from the fire was comparable to that from disgruntled partakers.

After supper, activities centered around Durwood Bruton and his famed guitar as he vowed to teach the group all the words of the class song, "Lord, It's Hard to Be Humble," but even with the help of Jack Therwanger, he learned that it was futile.

After great amounts of encouragement, B. D. Kirkland once again demonstrated the moves of the 50s popular dance, "The Bop." Board games were enjoyed by everyone--old ones such as "Wahoo" were played as Marie Sanders Kirkland relentlessly and ruthlessly beat Carolyn Davis Griffith again and again. New ones, such as "Chicken Foot," left Glenda Williamson and others as confused as possible.

Saturday morning began with a class meeting. The group reminisced about the group's trip to Jamaica they took last summer. Fortune cookies were distributed and each member read his "fortune" for the coming year. Tiffen Mayfield led the group in a longevity toast--that being that all class members would live long enough to see Charlene get fat. It was decided to immediately start making plans for another extended trip, possibly to the Bahamas, in the summer of 1990 to commemorate the 50th birthdays of the class members. When the meeting adjourned, Gracie, along with Barbara Jenkins, were off for a morning of flea marketing and defeating the area locals playing bingo.

After an afternoon of relaxation, an ice cream freeze-off was held. Just let it be said that the "city" team, headed by Marsha Bruton, certainly showed the "farm" team, consisting of Christine Meers and Erlinda Mayfield, some new and strange tricks in the art of making "no-fuss" ice cream.

This year, the annual Trivia Pursuit rematch was replaced by a new game called "Win, Lose or Draw." However, the women did remain victorious.

Sunday brought farewells and promises as each class member left to return to their home but promised to meet again in December to finalize the plans for the birthday celebration trip in 1990.

Committees make plans for projects

Two subcommittees of the Haskell County Extension Service's Extension Program Council met recently for a planned meeting.

The Home Economics Committee made plans for their series of meetings on "Economical Meals in a Hurry" they will sponsor on Oct. 10-17-24 and decided to have their exhibit on sales during the Haskell County Fair.

The committee chose the programs and activities for 1990 and discussed ways to involve more county residents in their educational programs. The committee discussed their membership list and made suggestions of individuals to serve on the committee in 1990.

The committee also decided to continue distributing public awareness information about programs and services available in the Haskell County Extension office at their educational programs.

Members participating in the meeting were Alice Yates, Phylecia Bailey, Ophelia Newsom, Anita P. Dabney, Kay Smith, Danny Lammert and Mildred Robertson.

The 4-H Committee made final plans for the county 4-H awards program to be held Sept. 30.

"Please don't hurt my little girl"

This week my daughter who is seven years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on her new black shoes. Her cocker spaniel whose name is "Scott", sat on the porch and whined as she waved "goodby" and started to the halls of learning.

Last night we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her...the girl with the yellow curls...and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head... and about the trees in the school yard...and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things--tremendously vital unimportant things--and then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic and then to bed.

She's upstairs now...sound asleep with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's her doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger is cut or her head gets bumped, I can fix it...but when she starts to school, when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a sweet little girl and I'm so proud of her. She can run like a deer and dart about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoon. But I can't be with her all the time... I have to work to pay for her clothes and education, so please help me look out for her. Please drive carefully, please drive slowly past the schools and intersections...and please remember that children do run from behind parked cars.

NOTICE OF VOTE ON TAX RATE

The Haskell Independent School District conducted a public hearing on a proposal to increase your property taxes by eight (8) percent on August 24, 1989.

The Haskell Independent School District is scheduled to vote on the tax rate at a public meeting to be held on September 1, 1989 at 6:30 p.m. in the Haskell I.S.D. Administration Building.

34 Texans may die on weekend

The traffic death count for the Labor Day weekend could go as high as 34 persons, the Department of Public Safety has estimated.

"This may scare you, but you need to know that as many as 34 people could die in traffic accidents in Texas this Labor Day weekend," DPS Director Col. Joe Milner said.

In 1988, 30 persons died in traffic accidents during the 78-hour Labor Day period. Two critically injured persons died later, for a total of 32 fatalities. This year's Labor Day period also is 78 hours, beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 1, and continuing through midnight, Monday, Sept. 4.

"The Department of Public Safety will be doing everything it can to ensure you have a safe holiday, but we need your help," Col. Milner said. "Please don't drink and drive, stay within the speed limit, and wear your safety belt."

Last year, 21 persons died in DWI or speed-related accidents during the Labor Day period. That amounts to 66 percent of all the deaths. Also last year, of the 23 persons killed as occupants of cars, trucks or buses, 18, or 78 percent, had not been wearing safety belts.

"We believe safety awareness does make a difference," Col. Milner said. "So far, no traffic fatality has been reported anywhere in Texas for June 13. If this holds up, it will be the first time since 1977 we have had a day with no traffic deaths in Texas. Let's make it happen again this Labor Day."

During the Labor Day period, all available DPS troopers will be patrolling the state's roadways. Periodic reports on the number of traffic fatalities will be issued to remind motorists of the need for safe driving.

LUXURIOUS LAKE HOME. 3 bedroom at Veda's 2

by Myrtle Plemister

We are enduring these hot days, as there's nothing we can do about the weather, but know that cotton is a hot weather crop and needs the heat to mature.

We could use some rain, as it's very dry around Weinert.

We extend sympathy to J. T. Alexander, and Mrs. Washington Alexander, at the death of his sister, Lola Alexander Tidwell. Lola lived in Paradise, Texas just out of Bridgeport, and her memorial services were held in that city.

J. T. was in attendance at the services, as was his only surviving sister, Melba Kim of Phoenix, Arizona. They are of the George and Harriet Alexander family and cousins of so many of us in Weinert.

Our sick all received good reports, and are well on their way to recovery at this time, for which we give "Thanks" with the exception of Henry Ruffner who remains in Hendrick's Hospital.

Many of our residents have been away on an "end-of-summer" vacations.

D. I. and Mattie White with Jim and Sue Hackney, Tolanda and Kyle

White spent several days in Fun Valley, Colorado and enjoyed a relaxing time in cool weather, with fishing poles and hiking togs.

The Hackney's are from Ft. Worth, where Jim is minister of the Mid-Town Church of Christ.

Johnny and Marilyn Earp were in that cool climate also, and spent several days at Menkhaven lodge in Antinto, Colorado where the 50° and 60° degree weather cooled down to 35° at night and the heavy frost looked like snow each morning.

They were accompanied by Marilyn's parents, Check and Francis Smith, of Goree, and the days were spent driving and sight-seeing in the area. The roads have been improved greatly, and the tourists have also "multiplied" since the Earps were last in that part of Colorado.

Janet Frazier is home after an exciting summer, and is ready for school to begin on Monday.

Janet flew with her mother and sister to visit her brother, Bobby Williamson, in Salt Lake City, Utah where he is currently enrolled in the university there, working on his doctorate.

They were privileged to attend a presentation of the Morman

Tabernacle Choir, and to tour the outside of the Temple area.

Glenn and Jona Caddell, with granddaughters, Deana and Robin Hurst of Abilene and Ima Stewart of Haskell were in town last week and spent the day with Rene Vojkufka.

Lona Mae Phelps of Haskell, Martha Maupin of Odessa and Ethelyne Slade of Eager, Arizona were here for a visit with their aunt, Bertie Alexander. They later attended memorial services in Bridgeport for their mother's sister, Lola Tidrow.

Guests in the home of Nelta Reeves this week were her brother, Arlan and Sue Alexander of Plains, with their 7 week old twin granddaughters, Kaitlyn and Danyell Jones. The twins mother, Johnny Sue Jones, and Dawson Alexander were also in the family group.

Arvil and Dorothy Alexander and Nan Reeves, all of Abilene, were also here for the weekend.

Pud and Susie Brockett entertained their children, Jo Coffman of Goree and Pete and Imo Brockett of Munday with grandchildren Reneau and Justin Gray on Saturday.

Arlan Alexander, a former neighbor, also dropped by to renew acquaintances.

Susie has been nursing a "sick" tooth. (Does anyone have a pair of pliers, or a string?)

Julian and Andrea Estrada, with Monica, Molly and Ezekiel spent the week in Liberal, Kansas with Julian's sister, Candy Garza and family.

Monica stayed for a longer visit, and returned to her home today.

Reuben Castillo, Jr. of Garland spent the weekend with his mother, Angie Castillo, with Amy, and the two brothers.

Several of our migrant worker families have returned this week from their work in Minnesota, including Robert and Esther Estrada, with Robert, Nancy and Martin.

Also returning in time for the first day of school is Anita Garza with her children, Adam, Alicia and Arthur, who have spent the summer in Minnesota.

Ivy Minchew of Denver City, spent a few days with good friends, Nova and Weldon Walling.

Jessie Ruiz spent Saturday visiting his grandparents in Hamlin.

Doris Walker hosted a birthday party for her daughter, Deena Hacker, and grandson, Justin Parrott of Wichita Falls, on Saturday.

The Baptist women attended a retreat hosted by Hardin-Simmons University on Friday and Saturday, where over 900 gathered to be uplifted by the programs presented by the Great Hill group of Austin.

Those from Weinert in attendance included Mary Murphy, Shelia Harbors, Karen Yates and Christy Herricks.

Janet Frazier hosted a reception for the pre-school and kindergarten children and their mothers on Friday, and gave the children an opportunity to get acquainted with each other, and the school facility.

Our college young people have departed our community and are enrolled in various colleges and universities.

Tarleton State at Stephenville will welcome Laurie Hester, Louis Perez, Mondy and Deborah Mayfield.

Lubbock Tech remains first choice for Darla Griffis, Donna and Randy Waggoner.

Marcus Plemister and Monica Estrada chose to attend TSTI in Sweetwater.

Kent Sanders left this week for College Station where he will enroll at A&M.

Tina Briscoe has chosen to attend Western Texas College at Snyder.

Shannon Forehand continues with his Pharmacy training at Weatherford, Oklahoma.

Kregg Sanders will remain at North Texas in Denton.

Barry Walker will attend Midwestern in Wichita Falls.

My apologies if I left anyone out...and good luck to all you students!

Birthday wishes are in order for Fred Horan, Joyce Hager, Jimmy White, and Myrtle Plemister.

Marvin and Myrtle Plemister will observe their 56th wedding anniversary on September 3.

On Thursday, Aug. 31, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Michelle Mahan Sadler, with her three little daughters, will be honored with a come and go "welcome" tea in the home of Myrtle Plemister. A money tree will be provided for a love offering.

Michelle's husband remains very ill in M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, suffering with leukemia. You are invited to attend the party.

The Weinert Church of Christ will host a gospel singing at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 3. Visitors are always welcome at each service of the church.

The Weinert Home Extension Club will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 5, at 2 p.m. in the home of Agnes Winchester of Haskell.

The age recorded on a whisky bottle refers to the number of years it's aged before it's bottled.
