Mentally restored need employment

Local businesses and individuals in need of part time or temporary help may now call on a pool of mentally restored applicants.

A program, known as "People Power Pool," is being administered by the Headstream Memorial Center in Haskell. Ann Kiser, psychosocial rehabilitation technician, is in charge of the program.

The Headstream clinic, which operates as an outreach of the Wichita Falls State Hospital, serves Haskell, Knox and Stonewall counties.

Headstream provides psychosocial skills training to designated clients. They are then prepared to work in a number of areas. Most are interested only in part time employment as they are receiving SLI or other benefits and their earnings are restricted.

Employers are entitled to tax credits for salaries paid to these workers.

The psychosocial rehabilitation program is designed to assist clients in obtaining and maintaining skills which will enable them to cope effectively with the demands of their personal and social environment, Mrs. Kiser explained. This way, they are able to live more normalized lives by participating within the community setting.

Businesses or individuals interested in participating in the program should contact Headstream at 864-3472.

The Texas Rehabilitation Commission will provide "Job

Coach" services. A job coach provides assistance in finding employment for handicapped individuals and works with employers to train individuals during initial stages of employment.

The labor pool is made up of people who have had disabling mental problems, have improved through treatment and have returned to the community. All have received some sort of vocational training as part of their discharge from treatment, or as preparation following their return home.

"Experience shows they are equal to other workers--and perhaps better in motivation, attendance and punctuality," said Mrs. Kiser. "Evidence is growing that mentally restored persons, when placed in appropriate job situations, are equal to other workers."

"Unlike most people, the mentally restored face limited employment opportunities. With training and continued support, they can become productive members of the work force. They need the opportunity to take advantage of one of the most normalizing agents in the lives of all adults--job satisfaction."

"Many perceive mentally restored people as different, and consequently the mentally restored become victims of stigma and discrimination," Mrs. Kiser said. "Stigma is one of the greatest problems facing those who have or have had mental illness. Calling the attention of the public to the problem can go a long way toward its solution."

An employer can receive a 40-percent tax credit (up to $2,400).

City tax rebate continues decline

Haskell's sales tax rebate check this month was in the amount of $18,858.93.

This was 5.68 percent less than last year's check of $19,994.08 for the same period. For the year, the city has received $64,525.32, or 10.37 percent less than the $71,988.30 it received during the first five months of 1989.

Rule's check this month was for $2,597.36, compared to $2,915.11 a year ago. O'Brien received $416.21 and Weinert got $407.59.

This month's checks include taxes collected on March sales and reported in April by businesses filing monthly returns, and also include taxes reported by those filing quarterly returns for the first quarter of 1990.

Statewide, checks to cities totaled more than $126 million, an increase of 7.27 percent over payments made last May, said State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

State official visits local club

The Progressive Study Club met May 10 in the Community Room for the final session of the 1989-90 club year.

President Mary Kaigler called the meeting to order, welcomed members and guests, gave the blessing and invited everyone to enjoy the delicious salads, cookies, tea and coffee.

The social committee, Reatha Mullins, Doris Jordan, Margaret Jones, Ruby Turner and Nelda Lane, chose red, white and red and white checked table covers. Each table had an arrangement of red roses.

The president introduced Polly Wheeler of Albany, first vice president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, who spoke on leadership and participation as keys to being a good club member. She defined leadership as the ability to get a person to do a task you want done and inspiring that person to want to do it. She stressed the importance of having a variety of programs involving members.

Mrs. Wheeler then gave a brief history of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and its 100th anniversary. She reviewed highlights of the various presidents and the establishing of the club house of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, which began in May 1897.

This area was a part of First District, which began at Fort Worth. Mrs. J. U. Fields served as president in 1925-27 and met with Texas Congressmen in Washington when she went to General Federation in Atlantic City. Mesquite District came into being in 1960 with Marie Ward of Aspermont as president. Anita Herren served as president 1962-64 and Erma Liles in 1964-66. Mrs. Fred Monke served in various capacities. Mrs. Wheeler was president 1968-70. Margaret Putnam of Albany accompanied Mrs. Wheeler.

Louise Massey of Stamford, new president of Mesquite District, gave a humorous account of her recent "rainy" visit to Austin. She then challenged the club to fulfill its purposes in the areas of child abuse, teenage suicide, "say no to drugs" and youth and adult reading programs. She announced the May 26 workshop in Baird and thanked the club for agreeing to host the spring convention in 1992. She was accompanied by Doris Duncan of Stamford.

Mrs. Kaigler read her clever "poem" which was a summary of each program of the year. She had given it at the district convention. She gave a copy to everyone and then thanked the officers for their good work and cooperation. She presented each a small bell-shaped hand-painted ceramic scented pomander.

During the business session,

Oleta Cornelius read the minutes of the April meeting. A yearbook committee, Reatha Mullins, Franciene Johnson, Sammie Turner and Mary Martin, was elected. Sheree Gardner, treasurer, announced plans for the bake sale on Super 2nd Saturday, May 12.

The president showed the plaques prepared by Franciene Johnson and Suzanne Starr to be presented to two eighth-grade girls on Awards Day at school May 18. Their names were not revealed. They and their mothers will be guests at the September meeting.

The Federation Creed and Club Collect was read by all before the meeting adjourned.

Stoneham, Winstead to marry

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Stoneham of Waco announce the engagement of their daughter, Kelly Anne, to John Richard Winstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Winstead of Groves.

They plan a June 2 wedding in the Armstrong-Browning Library at Baylor University.

Miss Stoneham is a graduate of Midway High School in Waco and received a bachelor's degree in music from Baylor where she was a member of the Chamber Singers. She is presently a singer with the Houston Grand Opera Co.

Winstead is a graduate of John Jay High School in Hopewell Junction, N.Y. He received a bachelor's degree in business administration from Baylor where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, Omicron Delta Epsilon and Financial Management Association. He is a systems analyst for American Airlines in Dallas.

John Winstead is the grandson of Mrs. John S. Rike II of Haskell and the late John Rike.

Rule remembers

Sgt. Bobby Roper

By Jack E. Westbrook

Sgt. Robert Clarence Roper was born on May 14, 1934, in Dallas to Clarence and Alma Roper. He was three weeks old when his mother died. He was taken by his uncle and aunt, Frank J. and Earline Hennigan, who raised him as their own along with brothers and sisters, Marie, Betty Landreth and Lawrence Hennigan.

The Hennigans gave Bobby a home with all the love and devotion one could have, providing Bobby with a strength of character and the stamina that carried him through his life. His home was based on the church and its teachings. Bobby attended Rule and Sagerton schools.

Bobby joined the United States Marine Corps when he was 17 years old, May 20, 1951, at Abilene. He took his boot training in San Diego, Calif., soon to find that the Marines were his calling. He served in Korea from Aug. 14, 1952, until August 1953; then in Japan and the Far East for two years. He then served in the States until 1957 when he went to the Philippines and Guam, again returning to the States where he trained Marines for Vietnam.

He entered into the service with a dedication and energy that is demanded of a "Marine's Marine." As a typical Marine sergeant, he loved his work, planning to make a career of it. He felt very strongly about the cause of the United States and the defending of his country. Bobby loved the men he trained, hating to send them so young to the hell that was Vietnam.

In 1967 he volunteered for service in Vietnam where he was assigned to Company T, Second Marine Battalion, Ninth Marine Division. After seeing extensive action, he was killed on Sept. 21, 1967. He sustained fragmentation wounds to the head and body while under artillery fire in action against the enemy near Quang Tr 1, Republic of Vietnam.

A letter from his commanding officer to his parents told of Bobby's bravery and courage, of his having been an excellent gunnery sergeant, that he would have gone anywhere with him, and, was proud to have served with him.

Bobby and Virginia were married in San Diego in 1960. They had three daughters, Debbie, Cindy and Sherry, ages 6, 4 and 7 months at the time of his death. They knew him as a kind, gentle and sweet man despite his Marine stature. His parents, brother and sister knew him to be a loving and caring son and brother, very attentive and appreciative of his parents.

Bobby was brought home and was interred at Rosecrest National Cemetery in San Diego with full military honors. He was 33 years old at the time of his death.

It is said that old men plan and cause wars. But youth must fight them. Sgt. Robert C. Roper was such a young man. He assumed the responsibility of defense of his country without reservation. He fought its battles on foreign soil-- Korea and Vietnam--so that the battles wouldn't be fought on our soil.

The War in Vietnam was a tragedy from the beginning, particularly in consideration of the undermining of the country at home and abroad by so-called Americans. The containing of the Communists in Vietnam sent a message to Russia and China that was necessary for the time. The heroes that sent that message were and still are heroes in our eyes despite the continuing attempts to destroy that image.

Sgt. Roper's giving of his young life for his country--for us--causes us to weep that his sacrifice had to be made. We are all in the awe of this man, this Marine, and the heritage he has given to us. We, as dedicated Americans, have the privilege, the right, the responsibility of carrying on the brilliance in freedom that is ours, a treasure placed in our care by the likes of Sgt. Bobby Roper.

Gunnery Sgt. Robert Clarence

Roper, United States Marine Corps, is one of those to be honored with the memorial monument to be erected in his home town of Rule, Haskell County, Texas.

Club elects officers

The Haskell Garden Club met May 10 at the Haskell National Bank building for a luncheon. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Gladys O'Neal.

Linda King, president, presided for the business meeting. Gladys O'Neal read the minutes in the absence of the secretary, Lorene Dewey. The roll call was answered by naming a favorite perennial.

Juanita Rhea discussed annuals and perennials. She had a beautiful assortment of flowers that she discussed the culture of each.

Those who brought horticulture were Dee Sprayberry, Marcy Rodriguez, Juanita Rhea, Leone Pearsey and Linda King.

New officers were installed by Linda King. They were Mollie Carlisle, president; Leone Pearsey, first vice president; Juanita Rhea, second vice president; Lorene Dewey, recording secretary; Gladys O'Neal, corresponding secretary and reporter; Mary Bischofhausen, treasurer; and Linda King, parliamentarian.

Next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Sept. 13. If anyone is interested in learning how to grow flowers, shrubs and trees or to arrange flowers for every occasion, members would welcome them as new members.

Bernadine Blankenship, a former member of the club, was a guest.

Our country is more green and lush than it has been in a long time. The birds and wild flowers—the beautiful roses, and the other flowers are so lovely, and you can remember the beautiful green color of the mesquite tree in Spring!
The hum of the giant farm machines, the busy farm traffic, the smell of fresh turned earth, all of this is Weinert, 1990. We have been spared any storm, but have had plenty of rain.

We congratulate the Munday Mogulettes for their 3rd straight Class A state track championship. And our congratulations to the Mogul's for their 3rd win also. Many area people were in attendance at the exciting State Track meet held each year in Austin.

We will sing the birthday song this week to Cindy Guess, Mildred Guess, Woody Turnbow, and Zachry Wood. Happy birthday, all!

Our concern and prayers are for our sick. For Bennie Horan who had to return to Humana with blood clots in her lungs.

For Betty Sanders who underwent a mastectomy last Wednesday in Hendricks hospital because of malignant tumor. She is hoping to be home by Wednesday. Ernest McGuire was re-admitted to Haskell hospital last week. He hopes to be released later this week if he continues to improve. R. S. Sanders is improving daily, following hip replacement surgery several days ago.

Mary Murphy and Shanna were part of the crowd at the State Track meet in Austin on Saturday.

Doris Walker was in Lubbock for a weekend visit with her mother, Hazel Dodson, and with her brother's family.

Doris was accompanied by her daughter, Deena Hacker and Jordan.

Buck and Helen Turnbow spent the weekend in Stanton with their daughter, Jeanene and Gene Perry, and enjoyed a family dinner in the new home of their granddaughter, Carla and Roger Brooks.

Mike and Laurie Byrd, the Turnbow's grandson, of Hamlin, were also present for the Mother's Day celebration.

Margie and Pete Jordan of Hamilton made a brief visit with her mother, Francis Mahan, and brother, Leonard and Linda, on Sunday.

The Jordans were returning from Weatherford, Okla. where they had attended graduation exercises, wherein their daughter, Pamela Marshal, had received her degree from the Pharmacy school.

Pamela is following in the footsteps of her parents, as they are both pharmacists and own their own drug store in Hamilton. Pamela lives in Vernon and is doing her internship there. Her husband, Tim Marshal is a coach at one of the Vernon schools. They have one daughter, Sarah.

Claude and Mae Harrison of Lubbock brought their own "duck dinner" and shared with R. S. Sanders on Friday night, much to his delight.

Bertie Alexander celebrated her 88th birthday on Saturday with a host of family and friends present for the occasion.

Her children present included Evelyn and Carl Ellison, Muleshoe; Audra and Bob Shindler, Abilene; Thomas and Sue Alexander, San Antonio; J. C. Alexander, Benito, Oregon; and Herschel and Myrle Alexander with Joy and Jessica, Ft. Worth; April Alexander and James of Austin; Georgia Shawyer, Cibolo; Terry Alexander with Terra Kay, Breanna and Brittany of Benjamin; Danny and Pat Owens and Danette of Munday.

Lona Mae Phelps, Haskell; Sue Cox, Daingerfield; Charlotte Brazzil of Haskell were also present for their aunt's birthday party, as were good friends, Francis Mahan and Pearl Alexander. We all wish you many more!

Helen Boykin, Myrtle and Marvin Plemister, Marcus and Greg attended a family get together at the Bluebonnet Cafe in Rule on Sunday, with hosts, Coy and Retith Keahey of Rule.

Larry Sanders returned to his home in Los Alamos, N.M. on Tuesday after spending the week in Weinert and Abilene with his parents, R. S. and Betty Sanders who are both recovering from surgery.

Visiting in Weinert with their parents, and grandparents, Mildred Offutt and Eddie and Myrnie Sanders, were Wayne and Shirley Offutt; Tammy and Brent Proffitt; Cindy Offutt and Stuart Mitchell, all of Wichita Falls.

Shannon Forehand, a pharmacy student in Weatherford, Okla. is spending some time with his parents, Chet and Jeanie Forehand.

The Guess family met at the Weinert Cafe on Sunday with 16 family members present for a family get together.

Mothers were honored and memories were exchanged. Ann Horan, manager and cook, welcomes family groups if reservations are made beforehand.

A dinner honoring Chet and Jean Forehand will be hosted on Sunday in the home of Marvin and Myrtle Plemister.

Legislature not reading Guv's lips

AUSTIN - The Texas president may have softened his stance on new taxes, but the Texas governor has not.

While the Legislature edges nearer to enacting a state personal income tax, it appears to be dawdling on the state's cadre of political reporters that maybe some Democrats in the Texas court system are more prone to legislate than is healthy.

Last week, lawmakers served up ity to combine counties into regional tax bases to pay for schools.

When told of his comments, Bernice Hart, president of the Austin school board, said: "You're joking. Where did he come from? Oh, Lord, somebody needs to lock him up. That's totally ridiculous."

Kilgarlin was ousted by voters last election following his admonishment by the State Commission on Judicial Conduct.

He is a close friend and political ally of Justices Oscar Mauzy and Lloyd Doggett, both court liberals who favor new taxes.

A former legislator and Harris County Democratic Party chairman, Kilgarlin favors an income tax and said he hopes the Legislature passes a tax soon so he won't have to draw a new plan for them.

Clements Optimistic

Meanwhile, key legislators and members of the governor's staff held night meetings in an attempt to negotiate a compromise finance plan, and Sen. Carl Parker, the Senate's lead negotiator, said, "I detect a ray of hope."

The governor remains optimistic that after he vetoes the new bill, the Legislature will agree on a plan and keep Kilgarlin out of the process.

Veteran observers aren't betting on it. The Democratic wheels are in motion to let Kilgarlin draw the plan, which pressures local school districts to raise taxes in August, and then blame it all on Clements.

Republicans are hopeful that rural districts will benefit, and that metropolitan school trustees will obey voters' wishes by cutting fat and raising taxes.

Race Track Loan Default

A Brady horse racing track, insolvent and under investigation, apparently will be unable to repay a $495,000 federal loan approved by the Texas Department of Commerce.

State authorities will meet this week with Brady city officials to discuss their options after investors with Heart of Texas Racing Inc. closed the track and announced they are insolvent.

Other Highlights

■ This Legislature, meeting last week for its 265 day last week, set a new Texas record for the most days in session during a regular two-year cycle. The old record of 264 days was set in 1933-34 during the administration of Gov. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson.

Heritage

Editor: Say! you made an old man's day recently in your "yesteryear" column.

The "Miss Annie Ellis" mentioned was my mother, and the occasion was a luncheon given in her honor prior to her wedding to J. D. Westbrook Sr. on May 18, 1910.

Thank you for reminding me of a part of my heritage.

Editor: I would like to thank the people of Haskell and Weinert for supporting me in the School Board election.

Editor: Helping hands come in many forms. Troop 136 in Haskell has 25 Boy Scouts going to summer camp in June, simply because some merchants in this town were willing to lend a hand.

The merchants are Ed and Mary Walling (Radio Shack), Haskell National Bank, First National Bank, Dr. Tom Hairgrove, Hess and Dorothy Hartsfield, The Hayloft, Doyle High and the Sport-About.

A special thanks to them and may God bless you one hundred fold.

We can't do this on a regular

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Quote of the week:

"The future didn't last long." By Chuck Long who the Detroit Lions were calling the quarterback of the future before they drafted Houston's Andre Ware.

Back before the oil, agriculture and other economic problems, not many communities would have been interested in obtaining a state prison. Now, everybody wants one. But garbage?

A candidate for governor of New Mexico has taken a controversial stand atop a pile of out-of-state trash.

Harry Kinney, one of four Republican candidates for the top office in that state, said "I don't want to be governor unless I have some money to spend."

The money Kinney would spend is up to $400 million that he estimates would be generated from 40 million tons of garbage that could be imported each year into the state at $10 per ton.

Kinney, who used to be mayor of Albuquerque, is quick to admit that many people are outraged at the suggestion that New Mexico begin accepting used, disposable diapers from New Jersey.

Tougher landfill regulations, including tighter controls on importation of trash, have dominated the last two sessions of the New Mexico Legislature. Gov. Garrey Carruthers vetoed one such bill but then signed a tough new landfill bill into law earlier this year.

Kinney insists that much of the emotion that surrounds the trash issue is not warranted and that proper burial of out-of-state trash can be accomplished, especially in dry regions such as New Mexico.

"I have yet to find one scientist who says we can't do it safely," Kinney told the Santa Fe New Mexican.

The Albuquerque Hot Air Balloon Fiesta is one of the biggest annual events in the state, and the launch site is a former dump for the City of Albuquerque, he says to illustrate his contention that garbage can be environmentally acceptable and economically agreeable.

Kinney said he sees no choice for the state Legislature unless it is prepared to raise taxes in the next couple of years to meet the needs of education and social services.

"The government has two choices: Either increase taxes or bring in some outside money," he said. "We're not going to find diamonds in the Sandia Mountains."

He said he sees his idea as an economic boost to the more remote areas of the state where the dump sites could be located and which have missed out on the high-tech boom that Albuquerque has enjoyed.

The state could collect a dumping fee and then could employ sorters and recyclers, he said.

If you thought one of those 2-ounce bottles of Tabasco sauce stayed in the cupboard forever, think again.

According to The Wall Street Journal, the average cupboard life is a mere nine months.

Tabasco started 125 years ago when Edmund McIlhenny, a New Orleans banker, returned home to Avery Island after the Civil War to find the family home and surrounding sugar fields and salt domes in ruins. About the only thing left standing were the Mexican pepper plants he had planted before the family left.

He found that by grinding the peppers, aging them and adding vinegar and salt, he could make a pepper sauce, a novelty that gave zest to the bland food prevalent after the war.

In 1869, he poured the sauce in some 350 bottles--mostly old cologne bottles--and sent them to food brokers around the area. The following year, he received orders for thousands more.

Old names die hard. Greyhound Corporation has changed its name to Greyhound Dial Corporation.

The company used to be in the transportation business, but it sold Greyhound Bus Lines in 1987. Now, its chief product is Dial soap.

You would think it would simplify matters to just change the name to the Dial Corporation, and do away with the Greyhound name.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

a double threat to embattled Gov. Bill Clements because he refuses to sign a tax bill.

Funding Omitted

The House and Senate passed the same school reform bill that Clements killed last month when he vetoed a half-cent sales tax increase, except this time they omitted the funding mechanism.

The kicker: If he signs it, then the Legislature could end-run his veto stamp by passing an income tax amendment which goes directly to the people for ratification.

Lawmakers figure they can scare the voters into approving it sooner than they can scare Clements.

Income Tax in Disguise

Clements said he won't sign the measure, calling the legislation "an income tax bill disguised as education reform."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and other income tax advocates say Clements is going to cause sizeable property tax increases in big cities.

But many rural legislators, including several Democrats, are disenchanted with the way that Hobby's Houston school districts have been draining state revenues at their expense.

It has developed into a big city vs. country schoolhouse battle for dollars, and city delegations against rural delegations.

The Houston delegation narrowly killed the Schoolcraft plan last week before the House passed Hobby's plan.

The Schoolcraft plan favored by Republicans and rural lawmakers, takes state money away from the rich school districts and gives it to the poor ones, as the Supreme Court ordered, except Schoolcraft adds $150 million to the kitty to soften the blow.

Special Master Named

The court master appointed to overhaul the system said he believes he has the power to take property tax money from property-rich school districts and give it to property-poor ones.

Former Texas Supreme Court Justice William Kilgarlin, appointed as special master last week, also said he has the author-

--Library Notes--

New summer library hours: Beginning May 29, the library will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; 1 to 6 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday; and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. We hope to serve you better by staying open a couple of days in the evening.

New at the library: We have purchased a new set of World Book encyclopedias. These books are very current and are a real asset to our library.

We now have a collection of film classics donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walling. They may be checked out for three days. There is a $1 a day fine for past due films. These films are purchased as a collection; therefore it is impossible to replace or purchase new or replacement films if one is lost.

Things to watch for: There will be a reading program this summer. So watch for more details later this month.

We also plan to have a book sale when the weather settles down a bit. It is to be held on the patio in back of the library and the library will be closed to business on the day of the sale.

Coming soon: A collection of westerns by Elmer Kelton and adult fiction. Books for young adults by James Howe and Paul Zindel. Sweet Valley High, Sweet Valley Twins and The Babysitters club are on order and should arrive within the next month.

About fines: At the present time we have no fines for overdue books, but with the cost of books rising as they have been in the past few years it may become necessary to charge fines in the future. We do have to replace books that wear out, get lost or just never are returned to the library.

We are still missing around 300 books from the library. A great many of these are children's easy books. I encourage you to check and see if you have library books overdue. If the library is closed you may put your books in the book drop on the front porch.

Contributors: The library

would like to thank the following people for their contributions:

Cash donations: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Aycock, Mrs. Donald Cunningham, in memory of W. P. McCollum.

Banner of liberty... ... Symbol of sacrifice

The following was submitted for publication by Gene Plunkett, commander of Rogers-Cox American Legion Post 221 of Haskell:

By Miles S. Epling
 National Commander
 The American Legion

Whenever I am in Washington, D.C., I go to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial to spend a few moments with my buddies. During that quiet time near dawn, I remember each of them as they were. As I touch each name on the Wall, I can still see their faces and hear their voices. We were so young, so full of life. Death had not touched us, and we bore no scars of battle.

Dying was a concept as abstract as patriotism, yet each of us--as had generations before us--soon came to understand the meaning of both. Those of us who eventually made it home had left our youth in Vietnam, but we returned with a commitment to our friends who will be forever young.

Our commitment is not to their memory alone, but also to the ideals and values they died believing in. I'm not ashamed to admit it: Our flag, to me, is the living symbol of all those things, good and true, that my buddies laid down their lives for. In life, they respected and loved what it stands for.

And in death, it draped their caskets in honored glory, and in memory of who they were, what they did, and why they did it.

When someone burns that flag, or spits on it, or tramples it, then he is desecrating not just the flag, but also the memory of those brave men and women. To accord such repugnant acts of disrespect and defiance constitutional protection based on some legal interpretation of "free speech" defies logic and must not be permitted to continue.

"We, the people" have the right and the obligation to protect our flag by adopting a narrowly drawn constitutional amendment which will settle this issue once and for all. Statutes which existed prior to Texas v. Johnson have been overturned. Congress' attempt to draft new flag-protection legislation now faces the constitutional challenge we predicted it would.

The only sure course is the one that made the most sense from the beginning: Amend the Constitution.

Our flag deserves this protection. It is the torch the poet spoke of that we the living must hold high and pass on to future generations. We have a commitment to those who are no longer with us, as well to those who will follow us, to Stand By Our Flag.

Headstream plans garage, bake sale

Headstream Memorial Center will conduct a garage and bake sale in Haskell on Friday, June 8, and Saturday, June 9.

The Saturday date coincides with the next Super 2nd Saturday promotion in Haskell.

The sale will be held between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday across from M System.

Donations for the sale are being solicited. Call 864-3472 or 864-2225.

Proceeds from the sale will go into the building fund of the Headstream center. An addition to the county-owned building is badly needed.

We would like to extend our sincere thanks to all the hosts and hostesses who sponsored the benefit for the Coleman Bivins Memorial Scholarship Fund. We appreciate all the work that was done to create such an enjoyable party for the many friends attending, and the future graduates of Rule High School who will receive the scholarship will certainly appreciate the generosity of all donors.

by Vicky Anderson
Marguerite Anderson of Richardson, former Haskell County resident, was in Rule on Sunday afternoon to visit her cousin, Parnell Anderson and wife. That night Marguerite and Vicky went to Hamlin where they spent the night with a cousin, Valeta Mullins. On Monday, Marguerite and Vicky went to Sweetwater to visit another cousin, Winnie Lue Shipley and her husband, Dan. The ladies enjoyed a soup and salad luncheon at Cross Ties. On Monday night they drove to Abilene where they spent the night with Mrs. Anderson's granddaughter, Nikki Kittley, Nikki's husband, Danny and son, Luke. Monday morning the two ladies were breakfast guests of a cousin, Hazel Fillmon, also a dormitory director at Abilene Christian University.

We are sorry to report that Lawrence Camp has been feeling bad lately. He is wished a speedy recovery.

Sallie Whittemore is a patient in Room 20 of the Stamford Memorial Hospital. She has been quite seriously ill, but is now slightly improved.

Hasn't the sunshine been wonderful the past several days? Although a good rain is always welcome in West Texas, the sunshine is nice, too.

Dale Randolph, who works with the World Bible Translation Center in Richardson, was guest speaker at the Church of Christ on Sunday evening. He shared with the congregation the new opportunities that have opened in Russia. He had spoken at the Haskell Church of Christ that morning.

On Sunday your writer and a granddaughter visited the Broadway Street Church of Christ in Lubbock where Terry Bell, formerly with Hillcrest Church of Christ of Abilene, is now minister. The auditorium held an estimated 1500 people, and it was packed! Can you imagine the entire population of Rule being under one roof?

Word has been received that Novis and Jewel Ousley are doing all right.

Faye Webb and your writer visited the nursing homes in Haskell last Wednesday. Among those visited were Steve Ezzell, Duke Stone, Rosa Weaver, Beatrice Free, Ima Mae and Joe Smith, also Chick Norwood.

Ruth Wilcox and Molly Cannon were in College Station this past weekend to attend the graduation of a niece from Texas A&M. They also went after Wade Welborn to bring him home for the summer.

Missionary speaks here Wednesday

The Rev. Robert Millsaps, recently appointed Assemblies of God missionary preparing for ministry in Columbia, will be the featured guest speaker at First Assembly of God in Haskell on Wednesday, May 23. The Rev. J. C. Amburn, pastor, said the service will begin at 7:30 p.m.

"Our ministry has always been geared to reaching the lost," Millsaps explains in reference to the ministry he and his wife, Jureen, have pursued together in churches in Iowa and Texas. They have explored a wide variety of outreach methods, including tent crusades, door-to-door evangelism, bus ministry and radio programming. His broad base of pastoral ministries has been complimented by his wife's emphasis on children's evangelism.

"My missionary call came as a result of a gradual growing desire to share my faith and what God is able to do with others," Millsaps notes. He conducted a crusade in Kingston, Jamaica, and spent a week in Guadalajara, Mexico, with missionaries. "After preaching in Jamaica and seeing the great needs in Mexico, God began to deal with my heart in regard to a call to Latin America."

Columbia's internal strife has repeatedly made international headlines in recent months. This nation of 32 million located on South America's northwest shoulder is faced with a mountain of social unrest. Political and legal measures have repeatedly failed to restore peace.

"God has called me to be a church planter, Millsaps says when explaining his plan for outreach. "We will present the unchanging gospel through the preaching of God's word in areas where there are no churches by either renting a building or setting up a tent and holding nightly evangelistic services."

"These services will be Pentecostal in nature, with emphasis being given to salvation, divine healing, the baptism in the Holy Spirit, and the rapture of the church. Jureen, at the same time, will conduct services for the children. Eventually, churches will be established and given over to local leadership."

The public is invited to hear the Millsaps.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

LOANS TO FAMILY AND FRIENDS

If you make interest-free loans to family or friends, take note. Unless you meet one of the exceptions explained below, the IRS requires that you report interest income at the rate they set forth, even though you do not collect any interest. The rate of interest imputed by the IRS is determined by the length of the loan and the current rate of interest on certain obligations of the United States.

You'll escape the imputed interest income trap if the amount you lend is $10,000 or less and the borrower doesn't invest the money in income-producing property.

You'll also escape this phantom interest on loans of $100,000 or less if the recipient earns $1,000 or less in taxable investment income (interest, dividends, etc.) If the borrower earns more than $1,000 in investment income, you'll have to report the lesser of his or her investment income or the interest calculated on the loan using the IRS's formula for interest-free loans.

For example, if you lend $10,000 to your daughter so she can buy a car, you don't have to report any interest income. If your daughter invests the money, you won't have to report any interest income as long as your daughter's total investment income (from all sources) is $1,000 or less. If your daughter has over $1,000 in investment income, you must report the lesser of her investment earnings or the interest the IRS says you should have charged her on the loan.

If you are providing financial assistance to some family member or friend, whether it's a direct loan, an assignment of equity in property, or a line of credit at a bank, give proper concern to both the legal and tax aspects of your transaction. For help in planning such transactions, contact our office.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00. A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

CHRIST THE SON OF GOD

St. Paul opens his Epistle to the Romans by stating that the Lord Jesus Christ was "declared to be the Son of God with power," or "powerfully declared to be the Son of God . . . by the resurrection from the dead" (Rom. 1:4).

In Psalm 2:7, we have Christ, in prophecy, saying: "I will declare the decree: the Lord hath said unto Me Thou art My Son; this day have I begotten Thee." Our Lord was, of course, eternally one with the Father, but the word "begotten" here comes from Israel's laws, referring to the time when the child was officially declared to be the father's fullgrown son.

But what day was He referring to? On what day did the Father officially declare; "This day have I begotten Thee?" The answer is found in Acts 13:33, where the Apostle states that God "raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second Psalm: Thou art My Son, THIS DAY have I begotten Thee."

So our Lord was officially declared—and powerfully declared—to be the Son of God at His resurrection from the dead.

But what did Paul mean in II Timothy 2:7,8, where he said: "Consider what I say; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things. Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of David, was raised from the dead according to my gospel?"

The answer is that the twelve had proclaimed Christ as the Son of David, to sit on David's throne. Theirs was "the gospel of the kingdom."

But when the King and His Kingdom were rejected, God raised up another apostle, Paul, to proclaim "the gospel of the grace of God" (Acts 20:24).

Christ was, indeed, raised from the dead to sit on David's throne, and this will yet come to pass, but Paul has a message for us, here and now; that Christ was raised from the dead to certify our justification and to become the Head of "the Church which is His Body."

Super 2nd Saturday

--Haskell Nursing Center--

By Judy Wolsch
Activity Director

Mothers at Haskell Nursing Center were honored Saturday with a Mother's Day party. Lector Thomason was recognized as the oldest mother present, Lillian Bagley as the youngest and there was a tie between Lillian Bagley and Gladys (Nita) Jackson for the mother of the most children, five each.

Each was given a corsage, then served pie and punch.

Sunday started National Nursing Home Week. Special activities are planned throughout the week.

Tuesday, the residents were humored by Randy the Clown with his tricks; Wednesday will be Western Day; Thursday, residents will be honored at the East Side Baptist Church for lunch and the church will also give the residents a tour of town.

On Friday, Haskell Nursing Home will open its doors from 2 to 4 p.m. for open house. We invite each one to come and visit. On Saturday, there will be a children's hour, starting at 1, for all children to pay a special visit to the nursing center, and at 2:30 there will be a balloon launch.

A special group of young people have been visiting our residents, the English I students of Haskell High School. We want each of you to know you all have been an inspiring group to our residents. You'll all go far in life doing the good work you're doing. Thanks.
