Luau nets $2330 for cancer society

The Haskell County unit of the American Cancer Society raised $2,330 Saturday at the Texas Hawaiian Luau.

The party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Turner. Nancy Plunkett and Darlene Walton were in charge of arrangements.

Remington Restaurant (Embassy Suites) of Abilene donated a large baked tuna for the party and Ste. Genevieve Wines furnished wine.

Rain 50 percent above normal

Moisture received in Haskell through July was 50 percent above normal for the first seven months of the year, Sam Herren, local weather recorder, reported last week.

July's rainfall total of 3.39 inches brought the year's total to 21.8 inches. Normal for the January-July period is 13.48 inches.

Temperatures during the month ranged from a low of 59 degrees on July 14 to a high of 101 degrees on July 3.

Schedule given for registration

Secondary school students in Haskell will register in the high school library Aug. 22 for the 1990-91 school term.

Seniors will register at 9 a.m., juniors at 10 a.m. and sophomores at 11 a.m.

In the afternoon, freshmen will register at 1, eighth-graders at 2 and seventh-graders at 3.

Registration set at elementary

Registration for Haskell Elementary School will be Thursday, Aug. 23.

All students, from kindergarten through sixth grade, will register between 9:30 a.m. and noon. Early childhood students who attended school last year also will register on that date. All students will need their social security numbers.

New students (those who were not attending school here at the end of last year and kindergartners who did not pre-register) will register in the library. They need to bring their birth certificates, immunization records, social security numbers and last year's report cards.

Hawaiian Luau

There was plenty of food Saturday night at the Texas Hawaiian Luau sponsored by the Haskell County unit of the American Cancer Society. The party was in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Turner.

Indians to report Monday

Some 50 athletes are expected to report Monday morning for the first practice of the 1990 Haskell High School football team.

Coach Walter Hargrove said he expects about 30 boys back from last year's team, and another 20 freshmen.

Practices this week will be at 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Pads will be issued Friday. Two-a-day workouts will continue through next week, but the coach is not sure of the times.

Hargrove will be beginning his first year as head football coach, after having served three years as an assistant to former coach Nelson Coulter. Returning as assistant coaches are Randy Stone and Kerry Gartman, and former coach Richard Holloway who has returned after a year at Anson. New coaches include Alan Phillips, Mark Coffman and Rito Hernandez.

The Indians lost only seven members of last year's 2-8 Indian team through graduation, but the losses included many of their top performers. Gone, via graduation, are Shane Osborne, Harper Stewart, Rodney Johnson, Eugene Butler, Patrick Burson, Davis Chapman and Roger Roewe.

Among the returnees will be starting backs Rusty Stocks, who shared quarterback duties last year with Osborne, and running backs Jeremy Fuentes and Jonathon Dever.

Other backs returning from last year's squad are Mitch Mayfield, Heath McMeans, Aaron McFadden, Johnny Rodriguez, Erik Harvey, Cody Josselet, Jimmy Johnston and Sherwin Everton.

Returning ends will be Shawn Jordan, Shawn Sanford, Chris Tanner, Joseph Rodriguez and Isaac Swann.

Returning linemen include Cole Callaway, Terry Williams, Chad Gibson, Greg Williams, Edgar Nava, Mike Layland, Raymond Stuart, Ron Davis, Renee Garcia, Tony Coleman, Heath Green and Jason Davis.

Transfer student Jeffrey McFadden from Belton and a score of freshmen will complete the squad.

Super Saturday program features wheels and reels

"Wheels and Reels" is the theme of this week's Super 2nd Saturday in Haskell.

Highlighting the activities will be the second annual Pedalfest, sponsored by the Haskell Lions Club and the Headstream Memorial Mental Health Clinic, a bicycle and tricycle parade and races sponsored by the Muscular Dystrophy Association and a fishing derby sponsored by the Haskell Bass Club.

Kids' Duds will pay half the entry fee for the first 30 kids to sign up for the bike parade.

Also to be featured will be the Lions Club's pancake breakfast, a dunking booth by the Haskell cheerleaders, games, food booths and arts and crafts.

Preceding the Saturday activities will be the Leon Rausch concert Friday night at the Civic Center.

Saturday's activities begin early with the Lions' pancake breakfast. It will begin at 6:30 a.m. on the south side of the square. Serving will continue until 8 a.m. Tickets are $2 per person.

The Pedalfest begins at 8 a.m. Dozens of bikers, many of them from out of town, are expected to compete in the four races--10-mile, 20-mile, 40-mile and 100-kilometers.

The fishing derby will be at Rice Springs Park. Three trophies will be awarded. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult and all contestants must provide their own rods and reels.

All organizations are invited to operate concession stands. There is no charge for non-profit organizations. There is a $35 entry fee for others.

Forty-five Haskell businesses are cooperating in the Super 2nd Saturday promotion. Many of them will offer special savings on merchandise and services.

Super 2nd Saturday is a project of the Haskell Business Association of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Leon Rausch concert Friday

Advance tickets still are available for Friday night's Leon Rausch concert at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center.

If bought in advance, tickets are $6 each. At the door, they will be $8.

The concert will begin at 7:30. A concession stand will be open approximately an hour before the concert begins. Both the concert and the concession stand are being sponsored by the Haskell Business Association.

In the years since Elvis, both rock and country have had their ups and downs, but despite the trends and the fads, Leon Rausch has continued to display the same combination of enthusiasm, talent and showmanship which won him lead vocal honors on the Bob Wills bandstand.

Leon is still 100-percent committed to the memory of Bob Wills. "Those who started the rumor that Bob was a tyrant or a cantankerous ol' devil to work with, were the guys who were hard to work with themselves," he suggests.

Rausch admits that Wills was no pushover. "He wanted it just like he wanted it, and why shouldn't he? He wanted us to have our boots shined, our hat creased nicely and to have on a clean white shirt every night. And there isn't anything wrong with that."

Appearing with Rausch will be Bob Boatright, fiddle; Tom Morrell, steel guitar; Wayne Glasson, piano; Tony Dee, drum; Leo Charles, guitar.

Flashback

Haskell Free Press
Aug. 11, 1900

One of the pioneers of Haskell, who now lives in Oklahoma, was here several days this week.

He is L. M. Smith, first man who ever sold goods in Haskell County.

About 1884 he opened a small store near Rice Springs, at what is now the south edge of Haskell, and for two or three years traded with Tonkawa Indians and the few ranchmen and cowboys who always had the widely known springs on their route or made them a point of rendezvous in their roundup or buffalo and antelope hunting expeditions.

Mr. Smith went from here to the Indian Territory and has lived there for many years.

Kevin Walker

Former minister to give concert here Aug. 19

The former youth pastor of East Side Baptist Church will return Sunday, Aug. 19, to present a musical concert.

Kevin Walker, now of Lampasas who was youth pastor here from 1983 to 1989, will give his concert at 7 p.m. and the public is invited.

A music graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, Walker has been a youth minister for 10 years. He had three award winning songs at the 1989 Christian Artist Music Festival.

Kiwanis scramble this weekend

The fourth annual Kiwanis 3-person scramble golf tournament is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday at the Haskell Country Club.

Entry fee is $150 per team, and includes a mulligan and a Saturday night supper for two.

Tee times are 8:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. and the cut-off will be Saturday night.

Prizes will be given for closest to the pin and for the longest drive on both days.

A 1990 Chevrolet pickup will be given by Bailey Toliver Chevrolet and the Haskell Kiwanis Club for all holes in one on hole 12 on Sunday. (Mulligan shots are not eligible for the pickup.)

For additional information, call the country club, 864-3400.

Muscular Dystrophy

These young volunteers will be going door to door in Haskell this week soliciting funds for Muscular Dystrophy. From left, they are Truett Standefer, Cynthia Halliburton, Nichole Cothran, Susan Jarred and Brad Lane. Judy Standefer is local coordinator for the campaign.

Big melon

J. B. Kirby proudly displays this huge cantaloupe which he picked from his garden Tuesday morning. The melon weighed nearly 10 pounds and measured 27 inches around. It was a volunteer cantaloupe.

Mrs. Sam Toliver

Julie Raughton weds Sam Toliver

Julie Ann Raughton of Roscoe was married to Samuel Ray Toliver of Haskell in a double-ring ceremony performed at 7 p.m. Friday (Aug. 3) in the First Baptist Church of Roscoe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Raughton of Roscoe and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Toliver of Haskell.

The Rev. Bill Hatler, pastor of the church, officiated. The altar was centered with an arch candelabra entwined with plumosis and accented with pink tapers and pink satin bows. On each side of the arch were bird baths with mixed flowers and accented with pink satin bows. Benjamin Ficus trees were used on each side of the arch.

The unity candle and kneeling bench were set in front of the arch.

The family pews were marked with fresh arrangements of pink carnations and pink roses. The aisle pews were marked with tall candelabras with crystal votive cups. Each was accented with a pink satin bow and plumosis. On each side of the altar rail, palm leaves were used.

Mary Lois Williams was organist and soloists were Melinda Hatler and Paige Allen. Suzanne Medlin, cousin of the bride, registered guests and passed out wedding scrolls.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a beautiful white satin gown by Bridal Original. Her gown was adorned with French alencon lace enhanced with seed pearls. It had a basque bodice with on-or-off the shoulder Juliet sleeves, draped midriff, with a semi-cathedral train. Her beautiful train was decorated with bows trimmed with pearls. She carried a cascade of white dendrolium orchids with pink and white roses with a touch of gypsophelia and stephanotis. Green fern backed the bouquet accented with white picot satin ribbon.

For something old, the bride wore her paternal grandmother's solid gold wedding band. For something new, she wore her wedding dress. For something borrowed, she wore a pearl necklace belonging to her sister-in-law, Christen Raughton. Her something blue was a garter presented by her friend, Leona Julian. She wore a six-pence in her shoe, placed there by her father.

Maid of honor was Jill Raughton of Roscoe, sister of the bride; and bridesmaids were Jamie Sasin of Roscoe, Becky Bolen of Cloudcroft, N.M., Christen Raughton of Midland, sister-in-law of the bride, and Shannon Neighbors of San Angelo.

Candlelighters were Brent Toliver of Sweetwater and Gates Colbert of Edmond, Okla., both nephews of the groom. Flower girl was Julee Ann Colbert of Edmond, Okla., niece of the groom, and ring bearer was Jonathan Toliver of Sweetwater, nephew of the groom.

Joseph Toliver of Ballinger, brother of the groom, was best man and groomsmen were Michael Bowman of Graham, Robert Ivey of Stephenville, Joey Kimbrough of Haskell and Scott Harrison of Lubbock. Ushers were Brian Toliver of Sweetwater, brother of the groom, Craig Raughton of Midland, brother of the bride, and David Collins of Haskell.

The bridesmaids wore pink, dusty rose and mauve floral street-length dresses of polished cotton. The dresses featured a scooped neckline with a V back, pleated overlapped bell sleeves and were belted at the waist with a linen dusty rose bow. Each carried arm bouquets of fresh gerber daisies, pink carnations, pink roses, gypsophelia with myrtle and leather leaf greenery, alstromeria and pink enchantment lilies accented with pink satin bows.

The flower girl wore a pink taffeta, tiered-in-the-back dress which was accented with teal.

The mother of the bride wore a street-length dress of pink silk chiffon and the mother of the groom wore a street-length dress of burgundy georgette.

The groom was dressed in a solid white tuxedo, tie, cummerbund and white rose boutonniere.

The best man, ushers, candlelighters and ring bearer, as well as the fathers, wore light gray tuxedos with light pink ties and cummerbunds. Pink rose boutonnieres were worn in the lapels.

The reception, hosted by the parents of the bride, was held immediately after the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

Catering the reception was Mrs. Linda Freeman of "The Farmer's Daughter Catering" of Roscoe.

The Roscoe Flower and Gift Shop was in charge of the floral decorations for the wedding and the reception.

The bride's table was set in front of white lattice work and green springerle dropped from the ceiling and flowed on each part of the white lattice. The table held a traditional three-tiered Italian cream cake decorated with fresh flowers.

The bride's bouquet was used as a centerpiece for the table. Mixed nuts and pink rose mints were served along with pink fruit punch. All appointments were silver and crystal.

The groom's table featured a chocolate Russian cake decorated with automobiles, reflecting the groom's profession. Mixed nuts and chocolate mints were served with coffee. White linen cloths were used on each of the tables.

Members of the house party for the reception were Cheryl Drake, Kristi Graham, Shelly Williams, Lucky Hollingsworth, Michelle Brown and Sandy Davidson.

The bride is a graduate of Roscoe High School and Angelo State University with a BS degree. She is employed by Haskell Independent School District. The bridegroom graduated from Haskell High School and Texas Tech University with a BS degree. He is general manager of Bailey Toliver Chevrolet in Haskell.

After a wedding trip to Switzerland, the couple will make their home in Haskell.

A rehearsal dinner, hosted by the parents of the groom, was held following the wedding rehearsal at the Sweetwater Country Club.

A bridesmaids' luncheon was given in the home of Mrs. Wesley Williams and was hosted by Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ray Denman and Mrs. Eugene Fullwood.

A gift coffee was given in the home of Mrs. Orville Paty of Roscoe and was hosted by friends of the bride's family on July 28.

An introductory party, hosted by friends of the groom's family, will be held on Aug. 12 at which time there will be a viewing of the wedding video and gifts.

Alzheimer's volunteers are needed

Volunteers are needed at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston for drug tests which may help with the devastating memory problems that accompany Alzheimer's disease.

"There is as yet no cure for Alzheimer's disease," said Dr. Rachelle Doody, an assistant professor of neurology at Baylor, "but we are hopeful that these drug trials now underway here and elsewhere around the country will provide us with new tools to alleviate some of the misery Alzheimer's patients and their families must endure."

The drugs are physostigmine, and SQ29852, which is similar to the blood-pressure medicine Captopril.

If these drugs help in stemming memory loss associated with Alzheimer's, it could be good news for victims of the disease, Doody said.

Volunteers must be 50 or older, in the early stages of Alzheimer's disease and free of any other major health problems. In addition, there are restrictions concerning other drugs patients may already be taking.

People wishing to volunteer may call (713) 798-6660 for additional information.

Genealogical seminar set

The seminar will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the 10th and Broad Street Church of Christ in Wichita Falls (midtown on US 287).

Kelvin Myers of the Dallas Genealogical Society will be the featured speaker and topics will be families of Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas.

Advance registration is $19 and registration at the door is $21. Lunch will be included.

Send check to NTGA, P.O. Box 4602, Wichita Falls 76308, and include surnames with area and date (example: Jones - GA - 1860+).

For more information call (817) 767-0961.

Raynes family has reunion in Kansas

Sixty-five descendants of the Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Raynes, Sr., family met Aug. 2-3-5 in Great Bend, Kan., for a reunion with Jiggs Raynes as president, assisted by his children.

The family gathered on Saturday at the 4-H club house, situated at Shack Park in Larned, Kan., for a hilarious day that included family skits, music, visiting, and of course, food.

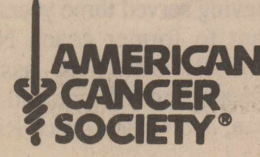

The R. W. Raynes family came home with the first-place ribbon on the skit program. They must have also won the prize for the most in attendance with 23 members present.

Towns represented at the gathering included Fort Worth, Arlington, Seminole, Munday, Seymour, Holliday, Haskell, Burk Burnett, Wichita Falls and Weinert in Texas, with several towns in Oklahoma and Kansas represented.

The music program was conducted by Clinton Raynes, son of Jiggs Raynes, who is a music teacher in high school there. His family is part of a local quartet which entertains groups with its gospel singing as well as with secular songs.

The Raynes reunion will be hosted in 1991 by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stephens of Arlington.

Out of the original 11 children, only five survive, and they are all in good health and were present for the occasion. They include Jiggs and Lois of Great Bend, Lou and Christine of Seminole and Bob of Weinert.

Haskell I.S.D. Lunch Guidelines

The Haskell Independent School District today announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals served under the national school lunch program. Each school and the office of the Haskell ISD has a copy of the policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility:

Family Size	Annual:		Monthly:		Weekly:
	Free	Reduced Price	Free	Reduced Price	Free	Reduced Price
1	$8,164	$11,618	$681	$969	$157	$224
2	10,946	15,577	913	1,299	211	300
3	13,728	19,536	1,144	1,628	264	376
4	16,510	23,495	1,376	1,958	318	452
5	19,292	27,454	1,608	2,288	371	528
6	22,074	31,413	1,840	2,618	425	605
7	24,856	35,372	2,072	2,948	478	681
8	27,638	39,331	2,304	3,278	532	757
Each Additional Family Member			2,782	3,959	232	330	54

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the application and return it to the school. Additional copies are available at the Principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials.

For school officials to determine eligibility, households receiving food stamps or AFDC must list the child's name, their food stamp or AFDC case number and the signature and name of an adult household member. Households not receiving food stamps or AFDC must list: names of all household members; Social Security numbers of all adult household members or a statement that the household member does not possess one; total household income and the amount and source of the income received by each household member; and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. Under the provisions of the free and reduced price policy Haskell ISD will review applications and determine eligibility. Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on the informal basis. Parents wishing to make a formal appeal may make a request either orally or in writing to Haskell ISD, P. O. Box 937, Haskell, Texas, 79521 or telephone at 817-864-2602 for a hearing on the decision.

Households that list a food stamp or AFDC case number must report when the household no longer receives these benefits. Other households approved for benefits are required to report increases in household income of over $50. per month or $600. per year and decreases in household size. Also, if a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size increases the household should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the household eligible for benefits if the household's income falls at or below levels shown above.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for school meal benefits. If a household wishes to apply for benefits for foster children living with them, the household should contact the school for more information.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data.

In the operation of child feeding program administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex, national origin, age or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Dallas ceremony unites couple

Shelley Renae McClure and Donald Todd Pennington were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony Aug. 4 at the King of Glory Lutheran Church in Dallas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan R. McClure of Richardson. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Pennington of Plano. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pennington of Haskell and Mrs. Ruth Currie Smith of Austin.

Maid of honor was Tonya Bates and bridesmaids were Pam Meeker, sister of the groom, Holly Kjeldgaard, cousin of the bride, and Tracey Odom. Ashlyne Meeker, the groom's niece, was flower girl. Tobin Taylor was best man. Groomsmen were Greg Allen, Brad Schulze and Matt Massengale. Andy Giesman, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Westlin Hotel.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will make their home in Dallas.

Both the bride and groom are students at the University of Texas at Dallas.

Seymour is site of Sanders reunion

The 16th annual family reunion of the Jack and Sallie Sanders family of Weinert was held Saturday and Sunday, July 21-22, in the air-conditioned building Donnie Portland Fancher donated to the city of Seymour.

Scarlett Brazell and her children, Edwin and Teresa of Haskell, were this year's hosts.

This year's reunion was held in conjunction with the annual Alexander family reunion, the maternal relatives of the Sanders children. Mrs. Sallie Sanders, the mother, was the daughter of George and Harriet Alexander of Weinert. Their children and grandchildren have had a reunion in Seymour Park for many years.

Each year Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wayne Blakely of Micanopy, Fla., send out beautiful folder invitations with a picture of one of the Alexander children and inside is the program and on the back are the children of that particular family. This year's invitation featured the picture of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanders, along with pictures of their 11 children.

The talent show, a part of each reunion, was different members remembering their parents. Children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren participated.

Andy Sanders of Cross Plains, grandson of George and Harriet Alexander, and a brother of the Sanders children, was president of the Alexander reunion this year. He prepared a huge barbecue for meat for all the meals. He and J. W. Alexander were auctioneers where money is raised each year for food and rental of the building. A lot of fun and excitement is generated at the auction each year.

The oldest member present was Mrs. Washington Alexander of Weinert. Her children present were Herschel and Merle Alexander of Weinert, Audra and Bob Schindler of Abilene, Evelyn and Carl Ellington of Muleshoe and Thomas Alexander of San Antonio.

J. T. Alexander of Weinert and Melba Kim of Phoenix, Ariz., are the only living Alexander children. Both were at this year's reunion and their children present were J. W. Alexander of McKinney and Charlene Harlan and her family of Houston, also Mr. and Mrs. Billy Kim of Phoenix. Terry Alexander of McKinney played the piano for the devotional Sunday morning.

The Sanders children present were Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Mitchell, Kendall and Allison of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Travis Sanders of Coleman; Ethel Slade of Eager, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Carruth and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Poole and family, Mrs. Tommy Lambright and daughter, Mrs. Ricky Thomas and daughter of Cross Plains; Mrs. Eva Hardman of Irving; Mr. and Mrs. William Maupin and Loretta of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Kirkland of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox and Junior, Mrs. Scott Sartain and Casey, Mr. and Mrs. David MacKay of Daingerfield; Mrs. Scarlett Brazell, Edwin and Teresa of Haskell; and Rocky Sanders and a friend, Marsha, of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacky Sanders and family of Irving was the only Sanders child not present.

Lola Alexander Tidrow's children present included Pauline Slade of Phoenix, Wanda Barnett of Casper, Wyo., Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Cowley of Wichita Falls and Gloria Sheppard of Paradise, Texas.

Minerva Alexander Touchstone's children present were Mr. and Mrs. Arby Touchstone of San Antonio, Mrs. Wanda Smith of Wichita Falls, grandchildren Robinetta of Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wayne Blakely of Micanopy, Fla.

Rocky Sanders, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanders, will be host for next year's Sanders reunion and Troy Wayne Blakely was elected president of next year's Alexander reunion to be held in Seymour on the third weekend in July.

Around town

Mrs. Dudley Phelps of Haskell and her sister, Ethel Slade of Eager, Ariz., visited last week with their sister, Eva Hardman, and brother, Jacky Sanders and family of Irving. Eva took them to Daingerfield where all of them visited another sister and her family, Sue Cox. While they were there Sue took all of them to Jefferson on Wednesday and to Gladewater on Thursday, sightseeing and shopping. On Friday, Sue brought them to Fort Worth where they visited another sister, Marie Kirkland, and B. D.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Gov. Bill Clements bucked a tide of local Democratic officials, environmentalists and reporters by telling them last week they overflew the Galveston Bay oil spill.

Earlier in the week, Clements declared a state of emergency and took charge of the state's response to the oil spill in the environmentally sensitive bay.

Texas Water Commissioner Buck Wayne won the use of oil-eating microbes, while the Texas Department of Health closed the bay to all fishing to monitor contamination.

Then, amid harsh criticism of the Coast Guard's slow reaction to fight the spill and forecasts of severe impact to the Bay economy and wildlife, Clements rode a helicopter to survey the spill and then:

- Said the oil spill was smaller than he imagined, and "not an oil spill in the usual sense of the word;"

- Urged tourists to visit Galveston's clean beaches;

- Praised authorities for doing "an absolutely super job" responding to contain and clean up the spill; and

- Said the media exaggerated the oil spill and the delayed response.

Tourists Encouraged

"If the people keep talking about it the way you've been talking about it, well, probably the tourists will all go to Alaska," Clements told Capitol reporters.

If many Galvestonians breathed easier after his display of boosterism, several local officials in this Democratic stronghold ripped Clements as insensitive and began a watch to see whether some of the oil evaporated or sank to harm marine life.

Meanwhile, the oil-eating microbes get another chance to show whether they can measure up to the hopes of this oil state.

Pollutant Politics

Though neither visited the scene, opponents in the governor race, Ann Richards and Clayton Williams, managed to squabble with it.

State Treasurer Richards ripped Williams, a West Texas oil producer, as a "polluter" whose oil wells have been cited frequently for pollution.

She also accused him of issuing junk bonds to build "the shakiest financial house of cards in Texas."

Williams' campaign responded that he has an admirable environmental record and spent millions cleaning up an oil well accident.

His campaign manager accused Richards of "milking taxpayers by pulling her check from the treasury while running for governor full time.

Parmer Touches Bell

State Sen. Hugh Parmer, D-Fort Worth, took his gripe against Southwestern Bell before the Public Utility Commission last week.

Parmer, a candidate for U.S. Senate against incumbent Phil Gramm, wants the PUC to rule that the phone company can't refuse to bill customers for calls placed to his campaign's 900 number.

For every $10 call, Parmer's campaign was supposed to receive $7. The remaining $3 was to be split between AT&T, Southwestern Bell and a Florida vendor that arranged the 900 number setup.

At least, that's how it was supposed to work until Southwestern Bell officials said they do not collect 900 charges for political campaigns, but admitted they inadvertently performed an identical service for Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance, who sought the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Bond Issue Default

■ State Rep. Bruce Gibson, D-Godwin, whose legislation created the Texas Public Finance Authority, said the agency "has taken what little authority they were supposed to have and gone crazy."

The agency is supposed to provide expertise in the issuing of state bonds, but is considered by some to be waging turf-wars with the governor, the Legislature and other state agencies.

Last week, the authority declared the state in default of $145.2 million in revenue bonds on a technicality: money from the 1985 bond issue was used to buy the 15-story One Capital Square building rather than pay for construction of a new one.

Release Gay Names

The vice president of the Houston Gay and Lesbian Political Caucus suggested it was time to stop gay-bashing in politics by releasing names of homosexual GOP officials.

Texas Republican Party chairman Fred Meyer admitted the GOP hierarchy included homosexuals, but of moderate or conservative lifestyles. They do not push "the liberal political philosophy of the gay and lesbian caucuses," he said.

Other Highlights

■ State District Judge Joe Kegans declared all-male "boot camps" for prisoners unconstitutional; said prison officials were "chauvinists" when they excluded females from the camp and ordered a 19-year-old woman inmate included in the program.

■ Responding to charges of racism, sexism and mismanagement against the Capitol police force, the state purchasing commissioner said he may hire outside help to investigate.

■ Nikki Van Hightower, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer, released her 1989 income tax return and called on Republican Kay Bailey Hutchison to do likewise. A spokesman for Hutchison said she would when they come back from her accountant.

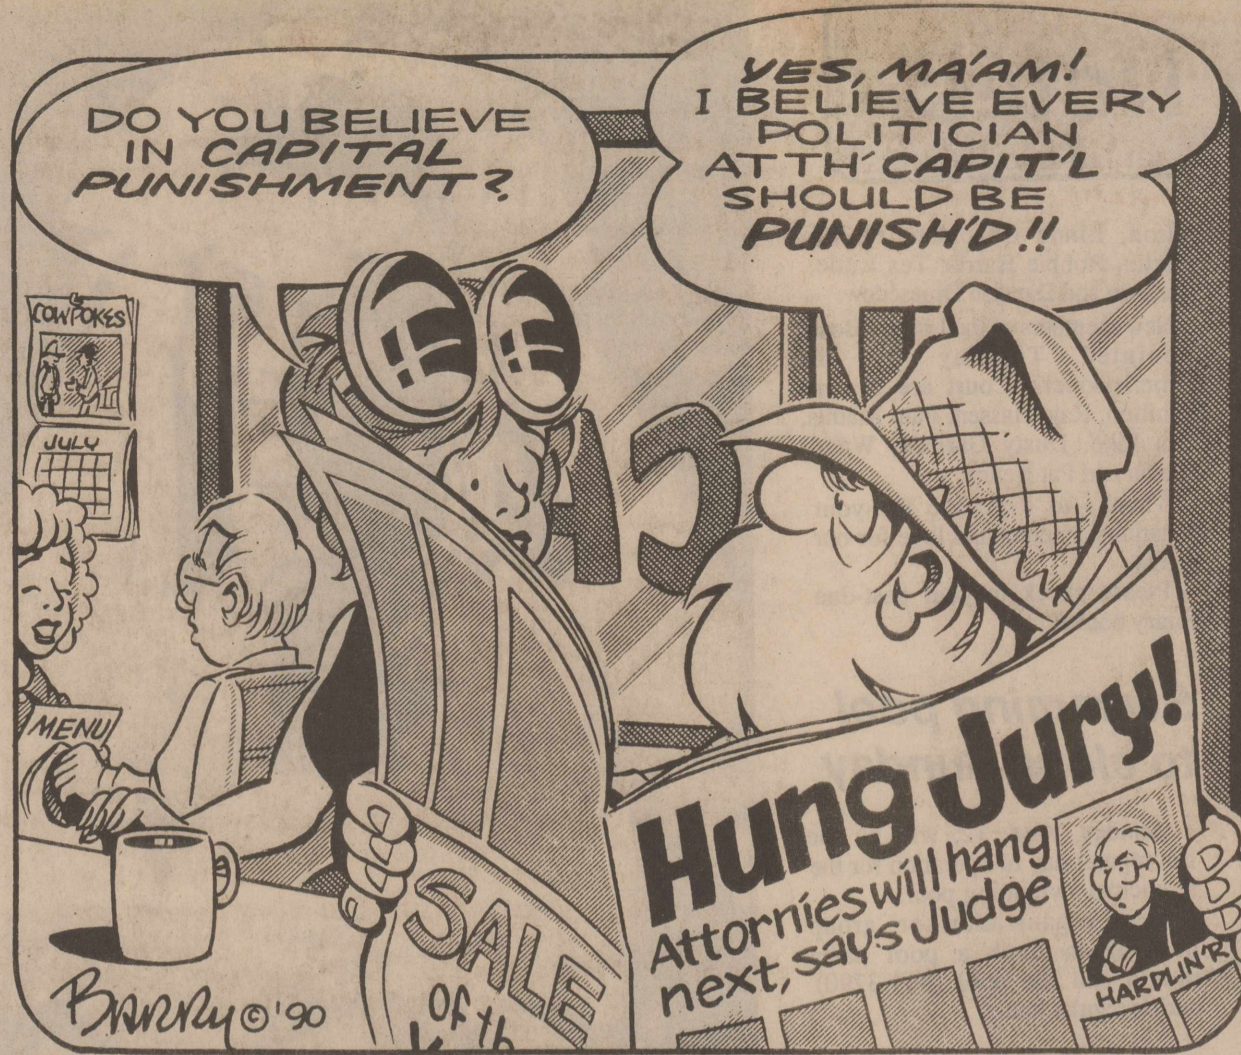

Alzheimer's group to be considered

The establishment of an Alzheimer's support group in the Haskell area will be considered at a meeting tonight in the First National Bank Community Room. It will be from 7 to 9 p.m.

The West Central Texas chapter of the Alzheimer's Association is sponsoring the meeting. Ruth Klose is local facilitator.

Faye Bruner and Richard Dillard of the Abilene chapter will provide background information on the disease and an update on research.

The meeting is for anyone interested in Alzheimer's disease or similar symptoms.

Thoughts on a lady

By Mary Kaigler

It was December 1944, right after Christmas, that I first met her, although Tom had told me several times about these friends of his from Haskell. Growing up with them, being best man at their wedding, lending his car for their honeymoon, I knew he thought a lot of them, but I was unprepared for his description of her.

"She's an angel," he said, as we drove to Haskell a few weeks after we married. (Always loving the place, and I think never feeling as much at home anywhere else, he was anxious for me to see it.) I'd never heard a human being seriously described as an angel before, but I knew he meant it, Tom never being one to bandy around with hyperbole.

It pinched me! This handsome young Lochinvar who had come riding into my life from out of the West in his cute grey Plymouth was making an assessment of another girl that even in the euphoric blindness of early marriage or in my wildest dreams I knew that I would never evoke from anyone. And boy, did it ever make my blue eyes green!

Living in Wichita Falls with her four-year-old Bill while George was overseas, Helen Fouts happened to be spending that Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. John Fouts. With her disarming lack of guile she welcomed me like family that day,

The Wichita Valley Railroad is shipping water from Haskell. They take about a half million gallons a week from the city water works.

Mrs. Jno. A. Hankerson returned Sunday from Dallas where she has been visiting for the past two weeks.

Mr. Earl Cogdell made a business trip to Fort Worth Tuesday.

Mr. E. G. Stein of Sagerton was in the city Tuesday and reports the crops in that section have stood the weather wonderfully well.

The ice factory has improved its facilities for making ice, so that now they are making the best manufactured ice in the world. It is as hard and clear as lake ice. We understand they are unable to supply the demand they are having. They were forced to turn down orders for five cars. The capacity of the plant is about a car a day.

Mr. F. G. Alexander made a business trip to Spur this week.

90 Years Ago

J. A. Couch is having a residence built in the north part of town. John Agnew started work on it yesterday.

Hugh Meadors has accepted a position as salesman in the T. G. Carney grocery store.

W. T. Lillie returned to Missouri this week to attend some business matters.

G. R. Couch sold this week to W. B. Smith of Jones County 640 acres of H&T Co. land at $3.50, and to L. W. Simpson, also of Jones County, 160 acres at the same price.

beginning 45 years of gracious welcomes and visits, and the sharing of many meals, happy times, heartaches, successes, disappointments, dreams and realities with this soul-sister whom I claim as my own.

As it is with any sort of sisters, we are much alike yet so different. Who wouldn't want to be akin to this girl who, while in college chose "kindness" as her life's motto, and who has never forgotten to give it to everyone she has met? I have no doubt that her gentle kindness will forever be there, still quietly rippling in and lapping at the shores of time.

The years have proved her to be just as Tom described her, and I do believe she still looks out on life with the same clear countenance from a soul uncrinkled, unscarred and unscarred by life's "slings and arrows"; unlike most of us.

Whether our paths crossed by mere chance or by grand design I know that I am the better for it, and that there are others who share this same thought.

An angel? Well, the fact that she has stayed happily married to George for nearly 50 years says a volume.

When Helen Fouts cuts her seventh-something birthday cake on Aug. 8, I'll say to this truly "golden girl", along with others, "Thank you for being my friend."

So much for this theory that a mild winter is always followed by a scorching summer. There seems to be a nip of fall in the air.

Nevertheless, old myths about weather predictions are just about as accurate as some of the high-powered calculations by present-day meteorologists.

And up around Boston, some restaurant owners are demanding that meteorologists quit making long-range predictions.

They claim that such forecasts are bad for business--as well as inaccurate.

Before last Memorial Day, weathermen forecast terrible weather at Cape Cod. "They told people if they wanted a peek of sun to head north, but it turned out to be one of the best weekends of the summer," said Cindy Eid, public affairs coordinator for the Massachusetts Restaurant Association.

A restaurant owner says his business suffered $75,000 in lost revenue last summer on good weekends after rain had been predicted.

Another owner said that a bad weather prediction cost his restaurant $100,000 in lost revenue following predictions of a big snow storm which never came. The prediction led to the cancellation of a dinner party for 250.

Restaurant owners say they don't object to three-day forecasts because they are usually right. But predictions beyond that are not accurate--and often costly.

The gradual demise of the typewriter as an office necessity is underscored by an announcement last week that IBM is getting out of the typewriter business.

The company is selling its typewriter business to a New York investment firm.

IBM made the first electric typewriter during the Depression. From the 1960s on, IBM sold 15 million Selectrics, the most popular typewriters ever built. For much of that period, IBM dominated the field with 80 percent of the market.

The Selectric even made history in another way. When the Soviets managed to eavesdrop on the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in the mid-60s, they did it by slipping bugs into hollowed-out parts of the embassy's Selectrics.

Although IBM is getting out of the typewriter business, the name will remain as the new buyer gets the right to use the logo.

It's a no-win situation. When oil prices started rising in the early 1970s, we had all kinds of problems with the economy.

In the mid-80s when prices started falling, the Texas economy was devastated.

Now, oil prices are on the rise again and the stock market is reacting dangerously.

Liquor tax nets $143 for county

Haskell County's share of the 12-percent mixed drink tax collected in the second quarter of this year was $143.13.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock reported that $1,145 in state taxes was collected in Haskell County in April, May and June. The county gets 12.5 percent of this amount.

Cashing in on goat market

No butts about it, Texas goat producers have found a market need and are jumping in to fill it.

They are eyeing a new industry for Texas agriculture--meat goat production on about 22 million acres of brushland stretching across about 40 counties.

Interest expressed by ranchers attending a recent field day at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's La Copita Research Area near Alice indicated that many are adding such enterprises to their operations, said Dr. Wayne Hanselka of Corpus Christi.

"Other ranchers involved in meat goat production for a number of years say they plan to expand their herds," he said.

Hanselka, a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, discussed potentials for meat goat production in the South Texas brush country during the La Copita field day.

An experiment station study now underway seeks to determine how effectively the goats help control brush on rangeland and to evaluate their general nutritional needs.

"Previous research has shown that the meat goats prefer browse from native brush species and weeds over grass and other types of foods," Hanselka said.

Making goat meat, or cabrito, the "fajitas of the 90s," is another aim of the research.

"Cabrito, the meat from young goats, is nutritious, lean, and does not require a lengthy feeding period," Hanselka said.

He and Dr. Joe Paschal, an extension service livestock specialist at Corpus Christi, are coordinating the educational aspects of an agricultural diversification venture on meat goat production, expansion and marketing. Some results from the project are expected to be available in 18 to 24 months.

Besides the research studies, two major ranch demonstration herds and other cooperating ranches are expanding the knowledge base for meat goat production and management under field conditions.

"Results from these ranch studies show a strong potential for expanding the industry, particularly in South Texas," Paschal said. "These animals do not compete for available food with cattle or most other wildlife."

Hanselka said the goats help reduce such brush species as huisache, granjeno, catclaw, hackberry and blackbrush. "They also eat the beans of mesquite, and they browse on broadleaf weed species," he said.

A survey conducted recently by Winrock International indicated that prospects are bright for a meat goat industry in the southern states, including Texas, said Hanselka and Paschal.

But, they added, the study pointed to the need to expand the production of meat goats, because supplies of cabrito are generally limited to the months of April through September. This parallels the natural breeding season of the meat goats.

"We hope to extend the production and marketing season of the animals throughout the year by improving both breeding and management practices," said Paschal. Another option may be to vacuum pack the goat meat and merchandise it during the off season.

Estimates of the number of meat goats in Texas range from 300,000 to 400,000 head, a figure that hasn't changed over the last few years. The animals are marketed about as rapidly as they are raised, thus reducing expansion of goat herds. A year-long marketing effort would require more meat goats to be produced, the coordinators said.

"Presently, most of the cabrito consumed in Texas is marketed in or near the major metro areas of Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio and El Paso," Hanselka said.

In addition, he said about 26,000 of the meat goats are shipped annually to California from Texas, at the rate of about 500 per week. Others go to the East Coast and Canada.

The meat goats are not a distinct breed in a technical sense, but often are referred to as "Spanish type" or "brush goats" that are adapted to parts of Texas, the United States and Mexico.

"Strategies for improving goat production and management are important to all producers, but particularly for those with small landholdings," Paschal said.

Dr. Jerry Stuth, experiment station scientist in range management at College Station, and Dr. Maurice Shelton, sheep and goat geneticist with the experiment station at San Angelo, are assisting with the research.

Dr. William Hoefler, an animal scientist at Texas A&I University, said cabrito is a food that people like.

"It is both lean and nutritious," he said. "We'd like to see it as a grocery store staple and regular menu item in major restaurants."

Hanselka and Paschal said several grocery store chains have indicated they would sell cabrito "if they could be assured of a steady supply."

A Texas Meat Goat Conference will be held at Texas A&I University July 13-14 to bring together the producers, processors and marketers to discuss ways to achieve a steady supply. The conference in Texas A&I's Student Union building is open to everyone interested in meat goats.

Other supporters of the meat goat project include the Soil Conservation Service, the Texas Department of Agriculture and private foundations.

More information about the project and conference is available from Hanselka or Paschal at Texas A&M's Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Corpus Christi, (512) 265-9203, or Hoefler at Texas A&I, (512) 595-3689.

1990 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS MUNICIPAL WATER AUTHORITY

THIS NOTICE CONCERNS 1990 PROPERTY TAX RATES FOR NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS MUNICIPAL WATER AUTHORITY. IT PRESENTS INFORMATION ABOUT THREE TAX RATES. LAST YEAR'S TAX RATE IS THE ACTUAL RATE THE TAXING UNIT USED TO DETERMINE PROPERTY TAXES LAST YEAR. THIS YEAR'S EFFECTIVE TAX RATE WOULD IMPOSE THE SAME TOTAL TAXES AS LAST YEAR IF YOU COMPARE PROPERTIES TAXED IN BOTH YEARS. COMPARE IT TO THE TAX RATE THE TAXING UNIT PROPOSES FOR THIS YEAR. THIS YEAR'S ROLLBACK TAX RATE IS THE HIGHEST TAX RATE THE TAXING UNIT CAN SET BEFORE TAXPAYERS CAN START TAX ROLLBACK PROCEDURES. IN EACH CASE THESE RATES ARE FOUND BY DIVIDING THE TOTAL AMOUNT OF TAXES BY THE TAX BASE (THE TOTAL VALUE OF TAXABLE PROPERTY) WITH ADJUSTMENTS AS REQUIRED BY STATE LAW. THE RATES ARE GIVEN PER $100 OF PROPERTY VALUE.

LAST YEAR'S TAX RATE:
LAST YEAR'S OPERATING TAXES	$	0.00
+ LAST YEAR'S DEBT TAXES	$	136,975.12
= LAST YEAR'S TOTAL TAXES	$	136,975.12
LAST YEAR'S TAX BASE	$	84,443,648
= LAST YEAR'S TOTAL TAX RATE	$	.1623/$100

THIS YEAR'S EFFECTIVE TAX RATE:

Here's how to get more from your microwave

Although 80 percent of U.S. households have microwave ovens, many are only used for reheating leftovers and defrosting frozen foods.

Here are some tips from the Sharp Electronics Corp. that illustrate how you can take advantage of microwave oven capabilities.

•To get more juice from citrus fruits (oranges, lemons and limes), microwave on High (100 percent power) for 15 to 30 seconds.

•To soften brown sugar, place one pound in a microwave-safe container with a piece of bread or an apple wedge and cover. Microwave on High 30 to 60 seconds.

•Soften one pint of ice cream by placing in microwave on Medium (50 percent power) for 30 to 60 seconds until the side of the carton is soft and pliable. Let stand one to two minutes before serving.

•To soften butter, wrap one stick in wax paper and place on a microwave-safe plate. Microwave on Low (10 percent power) 30 seconds to one minute. To melt butter, place two tablespoons in a glass measuring cup and cover. Microwave on High 30 to 45 seconds.

•Melt semisweet and milk chocolate chips by placing one cup in a microwave-safe dish. Microwave on Medium-High (70 percent power) for one and a half to two minutes, stirring halfway through. Allow to stand several minutes to finish melting.

•Make toasted coconut by spreading coconut evenly in a microwave-safe pie plate. Microwave on High, stirring well every 30 seconds until light brown in appearance.

•Crisp stale crackers, chips or pretzels by placing in microwave on High until they feel warm. One serving takes 30 to 60 seconds.

•For flaming desserts, heat one-fourth cup liquor in the microwave at High for 20 seconds. Pour over dessert (Cherries Jubilee or Bananas Foster) and ignite.

•To defrost frozen juice, remove lid from can and transfer contents to a microwave-safe pitcher. Microwave for one minute on High, then add water and stir.

•Soften cream cheese by removing foil wrapper, placing on a microwave-safe dish and microwaving a three-ounce package on Low for 30 seconds to one minute.

•For a quick appetizer, microwave an eight-ounce Brie cheese wheel on Medium for two to three and a half minutes. Serve with fruit, crackers or bread sticks.

•Heat syrup for pancakes by microwaving one-half cup of syrup on High for 30 to 60 seconds.

•Warm a slice of fruit pie in the microwave on High for 45 seconds to one minute.

•Leave the husk on corn on the cob and microwave on High for three to four minutes per ear. Let stand three minutes, then remove husk carefully.

•To separate cold bacon slices easily, microwave one pound of bacon on Medium for 45 seconds to a minute and a half.

•Warm egg whites in your microwave on Low just until the chill is off, 15 to 30 seconds per egg. Warm whites beat to a higher volume than cold ones.

•Make warm fingertip towels to clean hands after messy meals by placing damp face cloths in the microwave and heating on High 5 to 10 seconds per towel.

•To freshen the microwave and remove odors, add one teaspoon vanilla or lemon extract to three-fourths cup water. Microwave on High four to six minutes. Wipe interior of microwave with a damp cloth.

--Social Security--

By M. Glyn Hammons
District Manager

I heard a rather sad story the other day that prompted me to write this column.

An elderly widow came into the office to sign up for direct deposit. When I realized her Social Security check was only $375, I asked her about applying for Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

She told me she had applied about three years ago and was turned down because she had too many resources, specifically money in the bank. Come to find out, those extra resources had been spent a long time ago and she was now eligible for SSI. Unfortunately, she hadn't re-applied.

That leads me to believe there are many people who were once turned down or thought themselves ineligible for SSI who have had a change in their circumstances that would make them eligible. For example, like the widow the other day, they had too much money in the bank and have since spent the money.

Following is a list of what I suspect are the most common changes that could affect someone's eligibility for SSI:

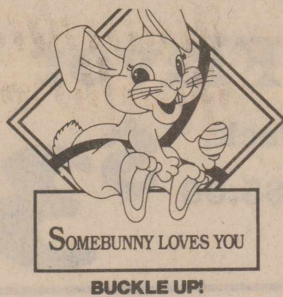

- A decrease in income or resources,
- Death of a spouse,
- A spouse enters a nursing home,
- A disabled child reaches age 18,
- Moving to another state,

•The medical condition of someone who was previously denied disability benefits worsens.

Additionally, the SSI income and resource limits have increased over the years. This means people who were found ineligible in the past because they had too much income or resources may now be eligible.

Too often, people who have these types of changes fail to re-apply for SSI. They're losing out on important benefits because being eligible for SSI means more than simply getting monthly checks. In most states, including Texas, they would also be eligible for Medicaid which helps pay health care expenses. And SSI recipients often qualify for food stamps and other social services.

If you or someone you know was previously denied SSI benefits, look at the situation again. If there's been some kind of change, check with Social Security to see if the change affects SSI eligibility. If you have a question or need an appointment, you can call toll free by dialing 1-800-234-5772.

Many people plan for what might happen—fire, burglary, injury, and accidents. Now more and more people are planning for what will inevitably happen. It simply makes good sense to prepare for that which we can not avoid.

Pre-need funeral arranging allows one to control the type of service they would prefer, select a means of financing it, freeze the prices at today's price, and save loved ones the anguish of deciding these matters at a later date. Really it is the loving thing to do for your family.

Wheat growers should avoid early planting

West Texas wheat growers should avoid planting in August and early September to reduce the threat of infection with the devastating wheat streak mosaic virus, cautions a plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The disease is spread by a wind-borne wheat curl mite that is most active in warm weather. The mite generally moves in a northeasterly direction with the prevailing summer winds. Infected plants have yellow, continuous streaks on the leaves.

Planting in late September or early October, after mite populations usually have declined, may keep the field from becoming infected, or at least delay the time of infection and thus reduce the destructiveness of the virus.

Program targets at-risk students

Haskell and eight other area schools have established the Clear Fork Co-op in McCaulley to provide an alternative program for dropouts and at-risk students.

It will serve students who have not been successful in the traditional classroom. The primary objectives of the program are to provide intensive remediation in academic skills and to provide realistic, job-specific vocational training for every student.

Academic classes will be taught on an individual, self-paced basis. Students will also gain hands-on experience in one of the following vocational areas:

- Food production, management and service (covering all aspects of purchasing, menu planning, food preparation and serving on a commercial basis).

- Business office practices (learning word processing using a computer, office duplicating practices and filing).

- Building maintenance (skills in basic carpentry, electrical trades, painting, plumbing and custodial services).

•Health related occupations (including work stations in a doctor's office, veterinary clinic, nursing home and dentist's office).

To be eligible for the program, students must be between 14 and 21 years old and reside in a participating district. Admission to the program is by recommendation of the local school principal or counselor.

Transportation to the co-op site will be provided by the local districts. On campus child-care services will be provided for single parents and homemakers.

Participating schools are Anson, Aspermont, Hamlin, Hawley, Merkel, Roby, Stamford and Trent, as well as Haskell.

For further information, contact Gerald McCoy, secondary school principal in Haskell (864-2848).

Cancer tape available to groups

The Area VI office of the American Cancer Society has announced that video tapes on cancer are available to local clubs, churches, organizations and employee groups interested in educational programs on cancer prevention or early detection and treatment.

Some of the programs demonstrate "Breast Self-Examination," the simple technique of checking for unusual lumps or thickening in the breast. "The Cancer No One Talks About" is a program about cancer of the colon. "Let's Call It Quits", an adult film, shows the humorous, yet serious side of a man as he tries to quit smoking. "Eat Smart" is a program on developing good nutrition sense.

Any group wishing to schedule a Cancer Society program needs to contact the local American Cancer Society.

She also is survived by a brother, Wayne Coburn of Stockton, Calif., and several nieces and nephews.

Bullock claims state residents losing millions

Hundreds of thousands of Texas families are not receiving the help they need because Texas doesn't get its fair share of federal funds and families don't know which of 16 state agencies to turn to, says State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

"Texas' health and human services programs are administered by 16 separate agencies--more than any other state," Bullock said. "This confusing and wasteful fragmentation is literally taking the food out of children's mouths, and preventing many of Texas' poor, disabled and elderly from obtaining essential medical attention. Every day Texans are suffering because our patchwork bureaucracy is failing to respond to their legitimate calls for help."

Bullock's comments came as he released the third report of a five-part series which details how and why Texas is losing about $2.4 billion annually in federal funds.

The agency found that some 67,000 disabled Texans go without disability payments they deserve. Another 120,000 low-income women and children fail to receive medical care; 45,000 don't receive food benefits. More than 15,000 families can't get subsidized housing. About 7,100 Texas children miss out on Head Start benefits, and 4,100 don't receive vocational education.

"The report shows that even when Texans manage to work their way through the frequently insensitive maze of state agencies and actually locate the right agency to qualify for aid, they find all too often that the aid is too little and too late.

"When Texans are prevented from getting the federal assistance that is their rightful due, all Texas taxpayers are shortchanged because they have to pay the bills that the federal government pays in other states," Bullock said.

This series of reports, called "Dollars We Deserve," is based on a three-year study by the Comptroller's Economic Analysis center and is the most comprehensive review of federal funding ever done by any agency in any state.

Carruth family

Carruth family gathers in Haskell

Descendants of William J. and Emma Carruth held their annual reunion of the pioneer family July 1 at the Civic Center in Haskell.

It started on Saturday with a fish fry at the park. The fish were furnished by several of the young men and friends. There were 93 in attendance.

A dinner was then held on Sunday with over 100 people attending, including all eight of the Carruth children.

Dora Holley, Callie Moore, Nellie Bird and Ocie and Gladys Carruth of Haskell, Crawford Carruth of Guyton, Okla., C. N. and Frances Hutchison of Pomona, Calif., Noel and Nettie Abbott of

Davis attends orientation at Sul Ross

Missy Davis of Haskell was one of 96 prospective college students, accompanied by about 50 parents and family members, who attended freshman orientation sessions at Sul Ross State University in Alpine July 18-20 to prepare for the fall semester.

Orientation sessions were designed to acquaint students with the university and to give them a preview of college life and an opportunity to meet other incoming freshmen.

Parents learned about university programs and financial obligations and met university personnel.

A Student Resource Fair was held in the University Center with booths representing various campus programs and services.

Horse club plans playnight

TAX PLANNING

Written By James E. Rodgers, CPA

MAINTAIN ADEQUATE BUSINESS RECORDS

The tax law requires all businesses to keep records to support the gross income, deductions, and credits claimed on their income tax returns. But many taxpayers aren't sure which records must be kept, or for how long.

All businesses should have a permanent set of books which summarize individual deposits, disbursements and items of adjustment. These are permanent records and should be retained indefinitely. Permanent records also include those needed to prove the basis (cost) of depreciable assets.

There is often uncertainty about which supporting documents to retain. Supporting documents may be needed to "prove" the summary journals if your returns are examined by the IRS. The general rule is that supporting documents should be retained at least until the statute of limitations for a tax year has passed. The ordinary time limit is three years after the return was filed or after the due date of the return, whichever is later.

The supporting documents the IRS reviews include bank statements, cancelled checks, payroll records, invoices, and the like. You should also retain documents supporting deposits which do not reflect income, such as loan documents. If storage is a problem, you should consider microfilming these supporting documents.

If you fail to retain adequate records to support the items claimed on your returns, the IRS has the authority to reconstruct your income using one of several methods--including estimating increased net worth, looking at bank records, or estimating the raw materials used in manufacture. Whatever method the IRS uses, you have the burden of proof if you dispute their estimate. Without adequate records, proving the IRS estimates wrong is difficult, at best.

Ask VA

Q: Will my VA insurance dividends be affected if I get a loan on the policy.

A: No. Earned dividends are not affected by a loan on the policy. However, you may use your dividends to reduce the balance of your loan. For more information on this and other dividend options, please call 1-800-422-8079.

Q: Can I use my VA-guaranteed home loan to buy land I plan to build a house on in the future?

A: A VA-guaranteed loan cannot be used to buy undeveloped land unless it is part of a package that includes the building of your home.

Q: How long does a power of attorney designating a service organization to represent me in VA claims matters last?

A: A power of attorney does not expire. It must be revoked or cancelled. The Department of Veterans Affairs treats designation of a new power of attorney as an automatic cancellation of an earlier one.

Watching Washington

Drug smugglers coming across the border into Texas don't have to worry about going to trial anytime soon.

Why? Our federal courts are so overwhelmed with drug cases that there aren't enough judges to hear the ones already pending. Any new drug cases will have to take a number and go to the back of a very long line.

There's a proposal pending before the Senate right now that would help relieve our federal courts of the deluge of drug cases by creating 77 additional judges nationwide. But this legislation doesn't offer enough help to Texas and I'm working to see that our state gets the judges it needs.

In the last few years we've seen our border with Mexico become a virtual sieve. As enforcement has been beefed up on the East and West Coasts, drug traffickers shifted operations and began bringing increasing amounts of their illegal wares into the U.S. through Mexico. The result has been that Texas courts are having to bear the brunt and handle an enormous number of drug cases.

The Southern and Western U.S. Judicial Districts of Texas cover the entire 889 miles of our border with Mexico. Criminal filings in these two districts exceeded the national average by 300 percent for the year ending June 30, 1989. During a recent 16-month period, judges in these two districts sentenced 23 percent of all defendants in the entire country. It's taking years to try civil cases due to the number of drug cases.

But, despite these overwhelming numbers, these districts would only receive 5 percent of the 77 new judgeships created in the Judicial Improvements Act of 1990. The bill provides only one new judge in the Northern Judicial District of Texas, none in the Eastern, three in the Southern and one in the Western District, for a total of five.

That 5 percent is ironic when you consider that we have increased the number of Federal Drug Enforcement Agents and more than doubled the number of federal prosecutors along the Texas border, yet we can only increase by 5 percent the judges necessary to hear the cases. So, the government's actions have helped create a gridlock in our courts, yet not enough is being done to make sure those cases will be heard.

Only four new judges for Texas is inadequate and would virtually paralyze the criminal justice system as the campaign against drugs crossing the Mexican border intensifies. I've written and talked to the Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee Joe Biden and urged him to provide 11 new judges for Texas: two new judges for the Northern District, one new judge for the Eastern District, five new judges for the Southern District and three new judges for the Western District.

The issue of new judges is not a matter of competition between the states. Rather, it is an issue of national defense, defense against the illegal drugs flooding into this country. Many of these smugglers, after all, weren't planning on stopping in Texas, but passing through to sell those drugs in other states.

And the case backlog in Texas federal courts will only get worse in the months ahead, as prosecutions of savings and loan fraud begin, in earnest.

We can't let arrested drug criminals prowl the streets while they await a far off trial date, carrying on business as usual. Winning the war against drugs takes more than police officers or prison cells—it takes judges to try the cases and put the guilty behind bars where they belong.

'Reach to Recovery'

Many women may experience fear and frustration after undergoing a mastectomy or a lumpectomy. However, studies indicate that the majority of women can resume healthy, normal and productive lives after these operations. "Reach to Recovery," a free patient service program offered through the American Cancer Society, can be instrumental in helping women learn to understand and cope with their experiences with breast cancer.

Cholesterol levels can show variations

Heart attacks due to high blood cholesterol are brought on when the supply of cholesterol overpowers the demand, building up in the bloodstream and clogging arteries. The liver eliminates excess cholesterol not utilized by the body. Saturated fatty acids can slow down this elimination process, and they are the key word.

Cholesterol tests are not as accurate as they should be. So if you have a reading of 200 or above, have it checked several times. Cholesterol levels vary with the season, peaking in December and dropping to a low in June. Infections drive cholesterol levels down, as do hypothyroidism and anemia. On the other hand, some drugs such as those for hypertension may raise the cholesterol level. In fact, heart specialists now are recommending that several cholesterol tests be made before embarking on major lifestyle changes.

The concepts of dietary versus blood cholesterol are still a source of confusion to the public. Nancy Ernst, nutrition coordinator for NIH's Heart, Lung and Blood Institute, is concerned that many people when dieting may not consume enough red meats or dairy products. These people may become so obsessed with cholesterol and fats they forget about total nutrition.

Ernst mentions that certain cut of beef, such as eye of round and top round, are low in saturated fatty acids--as low or lower than fish such as mackerel or herring. Skin or one-half percent milk gives less fat but still provides an excellent source of calcium and high-quality protein as 2 percent or whole milk.

With all food, the current consensus is that saturated fatty acids matter more for blood cholesterol control than total fat content. For example, potato chips which include mostly unsaturated fatty acids, are not a threat to blood cholesterol levels.

Non-cholesterol foods can still be high in saturated fatty acids which raise blood cholesterol levels more than dietary cholesterol does. Ernst believes that the key to managing cholesterol levels is moderation and variety.

--Rice Springs Care Home--

Our monthly birthday party for July went over great. We had several in attendance and all enjoyed. Our thanks to the Church of Christ ladies for hosting.

Our calendar for August promises to be a busy one. Aug. 8, we are planning a domino tournament between Rice Springs and Haskell Nursing Center. We hope to have lots of fun.

We have 13 birthdays for August. Happy Birthday to Herman Letz, Eunice Mann, Charlie Davis, May Holcomb, Thelma Vogelsang, Nellie Powell, Alvena Holle, Lois Speck, Joe Hix, Frieda Carter, Tony Cox and Louis Maldonado.

New residents to our home are Gladys Dyches, Oleta Bailey, Virgil Wall, Hubert B. Dsoe, Velma Gann and Nerva Oates. We welcome them with all of our love.

Our hearts go out to the family of Willard Jones. We will miss him.

Cathy Payne has a new grandbaby, Shannon Hope, 9 lbs., 9 ozs., and 20 inches, was born July 28 to parents Stephen and Cindy Boyd. Congratulations.

New employees of our home are Ida Crane, Mary Gonzales and Mary Adamson.

Anyone interested in volunteering their time would be welcomed. Bingo callers, letter writers or readers, crafts or just visitors would be welcomed. The pay is all the kindness and love that you receive from those you help.

Not all diet plans prove effective

People who want to maintain their normal weight or lose extra pounds often end up choosing a weight loss plan that may not be effective, said Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

With all the television, magazine and newspaper advertisements of diet plans and commercial weight loss programs, choosing the right diet can be difficult, she said. Some people may not need a "special diet" at all.

"People with an extra 2 to 5 pounds from overeating can probably drop the weight just by cutting back on extra calories and getting on an exercise program, such as walking a mile or two each day," she said.

Some people may benefit from low-fat recipes from a magazine diet plan, but if a person's already 20 to 30 pounds overweight, a significant diet is needed, she said.

"Although a fad diet may help in the short run, research indicates that 95 percent of the people who go on them regain the weight within a year," Sweeten said.

Before choosing a diet book, class or plan in hopes that it will help you with significant and permanent weight loss, Sweeten suggests asking the following questions:

•What's the source of the diet? Is it a reliable health organization?

•How is the effectiveness of the diet documented? Be wary of testimonials by "successful" clients. Ask for figures on long-term maintenance as well.

•Are sensational claims made for the diet? Does it make sense that you can "lose 10 pounds overnight" or "eat all you want" and still lose weight?

•Is the program supervised by qualified personnel, such as a physician or a registered dietitian?

•Along with calorie reduction, does the diet include instruction in behavior and lifestyle modification to help maintain the weight loss?

•Is this a one-food diet or liquid diet? In addition to being boring, these diets omit necessary nutrients and can be a danger to your health.

•Is the diet nutritionally balanced? It should include foods from the major food groups of meat, poultry and fish; fruits and vegetables; dairy products; and grains and cereals.

•What is the cost of the diet? If you have to buy special foods, devices, supplements or books, will it be worth it?

Now AmWest can give you something few banks can...

A good night's sleep.

Now AmWest has "DreamSaver"—a savings program designed to bring peace of mind to all those who worry about saving money.

Here's how it works: You tell AmWest how much you want to save every month, (as little as $25 if you like) and they'll deduct it automatically from a free checking account (that's right, free checking) and put it into a CD account. Keep your money there for a full 12 months and it will earn a high-interest CD rate. Take it out early, and you'll get a penalty — three months interest or $50.

So "DreamSaver" not only helps you save money on a regular monthly basis — it helps you keep your hands off it too. And with a little money in savings — a good night's sleep will come a whole lot easier.

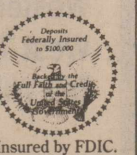

Put Your Money on Texas.

Substantial penalty for early withdrawal. Interest paid quarterly. Rates subject to change without notice.

--Weinert--

by Myrtle Phemister

We are rejoicing in the blessings of God, as we see the results of the good rains He has sent us.

We measured approximately 2 inches on Friday night, with a 2 tenths of an inch shower on Sunday. Things continue "looking good" in our area.

We have no new illness to report in Weinert, but many have made the trip to Abilene to check on the progress of Burgess Forehand, who was taken to Hendricks Hospital on Wednesday, later moved to Humana where he remained in the Intensive Care unit through Sunday, suffering from a heart attack.

Latest report was, the doctors say he is progressing. Our prayers are for a complete recovery for him. All his children, and most of his grandchildren, have been at his bedside.

We love to throw bouquets to deserving people, and the Cemetery Board of Directors are due ours today. The cemetery looks so very nice; the water lines are laid, several benches are in place, trash barrels are set up, and Manuel Estrada is doing a great job keeping the grass and weeds mowed. This is all being done by the memorials and donations you have made, and we appreciate you, too.

Tiffen Mayfield serves as president, Elmer Adams, as vice-president, Betty Raynes, as secretary of the Board, with Johnny Ear, Eddie Sanders, Francis Mahan and Melvin Vojkufka, directors. They deserve our appreciation!

Congratulations to Becky Perez Ruiz, who has recently completed her training at the Correctional Officer Training, conducted at Western Texas College in Snyder, a part of the approved curriculum of Texas Dept. of Criminal Justice.

Becky graduated with honors in the ceremony held in the College's Fine Arts Theatre on July 30th, and is waiting for an appointment to serve at a prison unit, or as a security guard elsewhere.

Attending the ceremony were Becky's husband, Jessie Ruiz, and son, Jeremy; her father, Pete Perez, her sister, Dianne Perez of Anson and an aunt, Ann Rodriguez, also of Anson.

Merle and Herschel Alexander returned from a week's vacation in Texas and New Mexico in which they visited each of Herschel's sisters and brothers, except J. C. who resides in Oregon.

Their trip took them from Clovis, N.M. through Muleshoe, Lubbock and south to San Antonio. Herschel misses driving the 18 wheeler he had to give up, but he enjoyed the leisurely trip.

Coleen and W. C. Nance have returned home after several weeks in Munday with his ill mother, and visiting in Weinert with her parents, the Pud Brocketts.

Linda and Leonard Mahan with Donald, spent the weekend in Odessa with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Maples and family.

Lt. Col W. B. Guess, Jr. spent the weekend with his mother, Mildred Guess, and attended worship services at the First Baptist Church on Sunday.

Faye Crawford of San Antonio came last week to see her mother, Bertie Alexander. She was accompanied by her daughter, Janice Miller, with Ronnie and Mandy, of Los Cruces, N.M.

Other guests in Bertie's home included her daughter, Audra and Bob Schindler of Abilene and sister-in-law, Melba Kim of Phoenix, Ariz., and nieces Lona Mae Phelps of Haskell of Haskell, Sue Cox, Daingerfield, and Ethelyne Slade and Pauline Slade of Phoenix.

Rita and Chan Hughes spent Tuesday in Weinert with Clyde and Otie Mayfield and Rita and Otie met with the Women of Weinert at their regular Tuesday "Koffee Klack" at 3 p.m.

Ricky and Linda Wade, with Taylor of Kermit is spending some time with her parents, Toby and Alice Yates.

On Sunday, Ricky and Linda accompanied Ed and Mary Murphy to the first weekend of the month flea market held at Canton.

Shanna and Lane stopped in Garland for a visit with their grandmother, Norene Murphy.

Neil Sheppard of Lueders, was guest speaker at First Baptist Church on Sunday, while the Harbers are away for a few days.

Our birthday people this week includes Molly Estrada, Billy Joe Robertson, Reuben Castille, LaVern Mayfield, and Denise Carroll. Happy birthday, all!

The Weinert homecoming officers are busily at work, making plans for that first Sat. in Oct. when all roads will lead to Weinert with the "red-carpet" rolled out by the townspeople here.

Alexia Mayfield Rimmer is vice-president for 1990, and you can know her plans are for a "jolly good time" as she thinks about fun, frolic and food. She is open to suggestions and hopes you will contact Charlene Therwhanger if you have one to offer.

There may be frog jumping, duck racing, antiques, crafts, etc., but definitely a horse race is planned for the youngsters on Saturday.

Mark your calendar!

What are the quiet whispers going about concerning some actions of a certain Munday man who went with the Toliver group to Europe and those actions being "unprintable"? Helen Boykin swears she is truthful!

Food for thought: If God intended us to live in a permissive society, wouldn't He have made ten suggestions, instead of Ten Commandments?

Have a nice day!

HSU offers White Horse scholarships

Six scholarships, in the amount of $1,000 each per year, will be awarded, at $500 per semester, to female riders for the Hardin-Simmons University Six White Horses.

Recipients will be chosen by a panel of judges, based on their riding ability and other characteristics deemed to be desirable in those representing HSU. Tryouts and interviews will be held at specified times during each year.

To be eligible, recipients must be enrolled for a minimum of 12 semester hours unless they are graduate students or seniors who need less than 12 hours for graduation. They must maintain a cumulative grade-point average of 2.5 or above, and must be in good standing with the university.

For more information, contact Dr. George A. Newman, director of the HSU Western Heritage Center, (915) 670-1385.

Hurricane season

How many storms are left for the 1990 hurricane season?

No one knows for sure, but it may be that the worst is yet to come.

While hurricane season runs from June through November, historical data show that nearly 90 percent of the hurricanes striking the United States in this century made landfall between August and November.

Proclamation

Whereas, it is the fundamental responsibility of every Texan to participate in the electoral process by exercising his or her constitutional right.

Whereas, a democracy's most precious gift to its citizens is the right of participation---the right to vote; and

Whereas, the Texas Secretary of State's office is actively promoting voter registration and participation through the VOTE '90 campaign; and

Whereas, the VOTE '90 program is promoting voter registration for the Nov. 6, 1990, general election; and

Whereas, Oct. 7, 1990, marks the deadline for Texans to register and vote in the Nov. 6, 1990, elections; and

Now, therefore, I, Mayor Greg Melton do hereby urge Haskell citizens who have not already done so, to register between now and Oct. 7, 1990, and vote in the Nov. 6, 1990, general election.

Executed this 2nd day of August, 1990.

s/Greg Melton
Mayor of Haskell

Students invited to HSU Roundup

Hardin-Simmons University is inviting potential students to a "Round-Up" on Sept. 28-29. Events will include a tour, a pool party, a pep rally and a football game (HSU will play Sul Ross).

Each participant will attend mock classes in two areas of interest. The participants will be able to stay with HSU students on campus, but special arrangements through Comfort Inn are also available.

For more information, call (915) 670-1206.

Other driver causes most cycle deaths

Last year, 243 motorcyclists were killed and 6,812 were injured in traffic accidents in Texas. More than half of these accidents involved another vehicle. And according to national statistics, two-thirds are caused, not by the motorcyclist, but by the driver of the other vehicle.

"The biggest cause of motorcycle accidents is motorists who don't see the motorcyclist," said Henry Palma, manager of the Department of Public Safety Motorcycle Safety Bureau.

National statistics show that more than half of the accidents are caused by a driver who did not see the motorcyclist.

"We want drivers to become more aware of motorcycles on the road," Palma said. "By driving aware, motorists are helping make the streets and highways safer for everyone."

Why doesn't the average driver see an approaching motorcyclist? Motorists tend to look for other cars, not for motorcycles, Palma said. And because of its small profile, a motorcycle is harder to see.

A motorcyclist's riding pattern also differs from that of a car and is harder to predict. Traffic, weather and road conditions often require motorcyclists to respond differently than drivers do.

Drivers can drive aware if they know what to expect from motorcyclists and the situations where accidents are likely to occur. These high-risk situations are when motorists make a left turn in front of motorcycles; when a motorcycle is in a car's blind spot; during hazardous road conditions; in strong winds; and when large vehicles block a motorcycle from a driver's view.

Abilene hosts gun, knife show

The Texas Gun & Knife Association will have its second Abilene show for 1990 on Aug. 18-19 at the Abilene Civic Center.

Collectors and exhibitors throughout the area will come to buy, sell and trade some of the most unique guns, knives and accessories ever made. In addition, the show will offer a large selection of wildlife art, historical artifacts, Indian and military memorabilia, "Texana" items and fine displays of gold and silver jewelry.
