

Citizens donate blood

By Brian Burgess

Twenty-four pints of blood were donated by Haskell County citizens at the Oct. 23 Red Cross Bloodmobile.

This is down some from past bloodmobiles, but several regular donors were out of town, and though cards were sent out to previous donors, we were not able to call everyone.

However, we were encouraged by the number of first-time donors, and Homer Josselet became one of only five men in Haskell County to give five gallons or more.

Several women are very close to that 40-pint mark, but so far none have reached it. It will be exciting to see who will be the first woman in Haskell County to attain that five-gallon goal.

Here are the names of donors and a record of the total number of pints they have given so far:

5 Gallons
Homer Josselet (40)
4 Gallons
Lois Richardson (38)
Alice Yates (35)
3 Gallons
Brian Burgess (26)
2 Gallons
Harlan Weinert (23)
Robert Bartley (23)
Mike New (22)
Ronnie Bailey (19)
Kay Smith (18)
Donna Cole (17)
1 Gallon

Eddie Medford (13)
Jane Smith (12)
Linda King (12)
Jerry Cannon (11)
Robert Kramp (9)
Dale Fischer (8)

Other Donors

Yuvi Cadenhead (7)
Bill Blankenship (6)
Dixie Waldrop (6)
Laquita Wilfong (5)
Dannette Smith (4)
Jana Cullers (2)
Jennifer Burgess (1)
Kim Emerson (1)
Jerry Stocks (1)

Give a big round of applause to Anita Perry, professional volunteer coordinator, and to the following professionals: Casey Caldwell, Tammy Kimmel, Verla Price, Johnny Campbell, Alma Solomon, Jane McAdoo, Kendall Medford and Myra Myers.

And how about an ovation for other bloodmobile volunteers: Kim Crawford, Jim Crawford, Alice Yates, Kay Smith, Cindy Landreth, Reatha Mullins and Lorene Harris.

FFA members taking orders for fruit, meat

Members of the Haskell FFA are taking orders for smoked turkeys, turkey breasts, hams, pork sausage and bacon.

Also being offered are mixed fruit boxes, along with oranges, apples and grapefruit.

The meat will be delivered Nov. 19 and the fruit will be delivered Dec. 10.

Anyone interested in these products may contact an FFA member.

Indians end season at Anson Friday

Haskell's Indians will close out their 1990 football season Friday night when they journey to Anson to take on the co-leaders of district 7-2A.

Anson sports an 8-1 season record and a 5-1 district mark. Only blemish on the Tiger record is a 13-10 loss to Albany.

"They're the best team in the district," said Indian Coach Walter Hargrove. "They had Albany beat until the final minutes when Albany turned an intercepted pass into the winning touchdown."

Hargrove said the Tigers play real good defense and have some very versatile backs. Quarterback Kyle McEntire is a three-year starter and Hargrove says he is the district's best quarterback.

Perry elected ag commissioner

Haskell's Rick Perry won election Tuesday as Texas State Agriculture Commissioner.

In becoming the first farmer to win the office in 40 years, Perry, a Republican, upset incumbent Jim Hightower, perhaps the state's best-known Democrat. Late, unofficial returns Wednesday morning gave Perry a lead of about 44,000 votes.

In heavily Democratic Haskell County, Perry received 1,536 votes to Hightower's 859.

From an Austin hotel where he was listening to election returns early Wednesday, Perry said, "We won because of the people across the state who dedicated themselves to change and because of the city people who recognized good, clean leadership. Our hat goes off to all the people who did the work, especially the volunteers who helped."

He added, "This may be the political upset of the decade, and there probably won't even be a recount."

Making Perry's victory even more remarkable was the fact that he won as a Republican while the top of the state's Republican ticket went down to defeat.

Democrat Ann Richards won the governor's office, climaxing an uphill struggle against Republican Clayton Williams. And Democrat Bob Bullock was elected lieutenant governor over his Republican opponent, Rob Mosbacher.

Still undecided Wednesday morning was the State Representative race between John Cook, Democrat, and Fred Gough, Republican. The winner of that race will succeed Perry as representative of the 64th district.

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm (R) was an easy winner over Hugh Parmer (D) in his bid for re-election. Except for Perry, he was the only Republican to carry Haskell County, although his margin was a much closer at 1,266-1,123.

Here is how Haskell County voted:

For Agriculture Commissioner: Perry 1536; Hightower 859.

For U.S. Senate: Gramm 1266; Parmer 1123.

For Governor: Richards 1371; Williams 922.

For Lieutenant Governor: Bullock 1472; Mosbacher 820.

For Attorney General: Morales 1575; Brown 663.

For Comptroller of Public Accounts: John Sharp 1872; Harding 298.

For State Treasurer: Van Hightower 1051; Hutchison 984.

For Land Commissioner: Mauro 1780; Gilbreath 394.

For Railroad Commissioner: Krueger 1565; Boulter 629.

For State Representative: Cook 1507; Gough 785.

Old airplane, old horse... Either can get the job done

By Don Comedy
Free Press Publisher

Rick Perry grew up on a ranch riding horses and then was a pilot in the U. S. Air Force. Riding horses and flying airplanes require very different skills but have some basics in common. Number one is that you have to take very good care of both.

About a year ago, Rick bought a very old airplane. That was about the same time that he decided to seek the job of Agriculture Commissioner of the State of Texas. As a long-time pilot and veteran State Representative, Rick knew a lot about both flying and politics.

He knew that old airplanes, like old horses, are both wonderful (although different speeds) modes of transportation.

During the last year, Rick has flown over 600 hours in that old plane. Most of us don't understand hours in an airplane but that number roughly equates to about 120,000 miles.

If you ride an old horse once a week for a short time and take exceptional care of the animal, you will have a wonderful vehicle to get the job done. Much like an old horse, an old plane is nice for a Sunday afternoon tour of the countryside or an occasional trip to visit friends.

You can't work cattle every day on an old horse, put him up cold and wet and expect him to last very long. The same thing goes for an old airplane.

Three days before the election, Rick's 20 plus year old airplane gave up. Like an old horse with arthritis, the plane just had too many little things wrong to go another mile.

But like a good cow pony, the plane got the job done and Rick won the Ag Commissioner race.

Already being billed as possibly the political upset of the decade, the airplane was a tool, a vehicle used to get from one point to another; the real goal of winning the race went to Rick Perry.

The voters of the 64th District and much of West Texas (the people who really know him) overwhelmingly voted for Perry.

In an election dominated by Democrats, Perry, a Democrat turned Republican, won an election based on issues. The old airplane will go to the shop, get repaired and fly again. Rick Perry will go to Austin as a full-time representative not just of cowboys and farmers, but as a representative of the majority of the people of the State of Texas because agriculture touches all of our lives.

After all was said and done, it was probably "a little horse sense" that won the election.

Super 2nd Saturday features turkey walk

A turkey walk by the American Heart Association, a turkey shoot by the Haskell VFD Auxiliary, a Thanksgiving dinner for nursing home residents and the "molasses and feathering" of Randy McLelland highlight the activities scheduled for the Super 2nd Saturday promotion in Haskell this week.

Registration for the turkey walk begins at 8:30 a.m. at the Haskell National Bank. The walk begins at 9.

Anyone who has not made a pledge for the five-mile walk should contact one of the walkers, or call 864-2621 or 673-8268.

Patrons of the turkey shoot will get three shots for 25 cents. They will shoot stick darts at a turkey.

Mobile residents of Haskell Nursing Center and Rice Springs Care Home will be treated to a Thanksgiving dinner on the courthouse lawn, compliments of the Assembly of God, St. George Catholic Church and the Haskell Bass Club. Ford Cole will offer entertainment during the meal.

Arts, Crafts sale set for Saturday

The Haskell Young Homemakers will host their annual Arts and Crafts Sale on Saturday, Nov. 10, at the Haskell Civic Center.

All activities will begin at 10 a.m. and will conclude at 5 p.m.

Theme of this year's show is "Gifts from the Heart."

A light lunch of sandwiches and snacks will be available. Admission will be $1 per person.

All residents of Haskell and neighboring communities are invited to come out and get an early start on Christmas shopping.

Girl Scouts program Sunday

Family and friends of Haskell Girl Scout Troop 278 members are invited to their Investiture ceremony Sunday. It will be from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Inductees are Delinda Strickland, Selina Salinas, Brandy Gardner, Stefanie Isbell, Meg McManamon, Kira Poteet, Angela Isbell, Cecelia Gonzales, Emily Wheat and Laura Beth Burnett.

Randy McLelland to 'pay his debt'

Randy McLelland will "pay his debt" to the young people of the First Baptist Church Saturday.

He'll be "tarred and feathered."

Better make that "molasses and feathered."

At 2 p.m. on the platform on the south side of the courthouse, the young people of the church will crown their youth director with molasses and feathers.

It'll be a payoff for a challenge

McLelland issued to the kids last month. He told them that if attendance at a weekly youth gathering reached 90, he would subject himself to the molasses and feathers. Ninety-two showed up.

So, there'll be 92 "eligible" participants for Saturday's day of reckoning. McLelland said he's heard that a few others may try to get in on the act.

The molasses and feathering of McLelland will be one of the top features of Haskell's Super 2nd Saturday promotion so a big crowd is expected to be on hand to witness the event.

The Rev. James Densman, former First Baptist pastor who now lives in Hollis, Okla., and his family are coming to Haskell to watch the show. An Abilene television station (KTAB) has expressed interest in covering it.

McLelland said he understood that some local citizen has offered to donate a feather mattress in case it's needed, and that Winn's has offered some feather pillows.

McLelland said he planned to wear shorts and a T-shirt. He won't even shave off his beard. "There's not much point in doing away with the beard since I won't have any protection for the hair on my head," he mused.

After the thing is over, McLelland said he hopes to get a ride in the back of someone's pickup to a car wash where he can clean up.

City recognized for wastewater treatment plant

The City of Haskell has been awarded a certificate of achievement for excellence in the operation and maintenance of its wastewater treatment plant.

The award came from the Texas Water Commission, district 2, of Lubbock.

Haskell was one of three cities recognized for wastewater treatment facilities for the year running from September 1989 through August 1990. Other cities recognized were Ralls and Levelland.

"As the state agency that regulates the wastewater treatment industry, presenting these excellence awards is very gratifying to the Texas Water Commission," said Allen Beinke, executive director of the Texas Water Commission. "We congratulate these facilities, and commend the high standards of water quality that they consistently uphold."

The three cities received their awards Wednesday before the 500 participants of the West Texas Regional Water Utilities Short School in Lubbock.

Each wastewater treatment facility met the following criteria to be eligible for its award:

•Required monitoring, laboratory, and field data were reflected compliance with water quality standards.

•Required monitoring, laboratory, and field data were compliant.

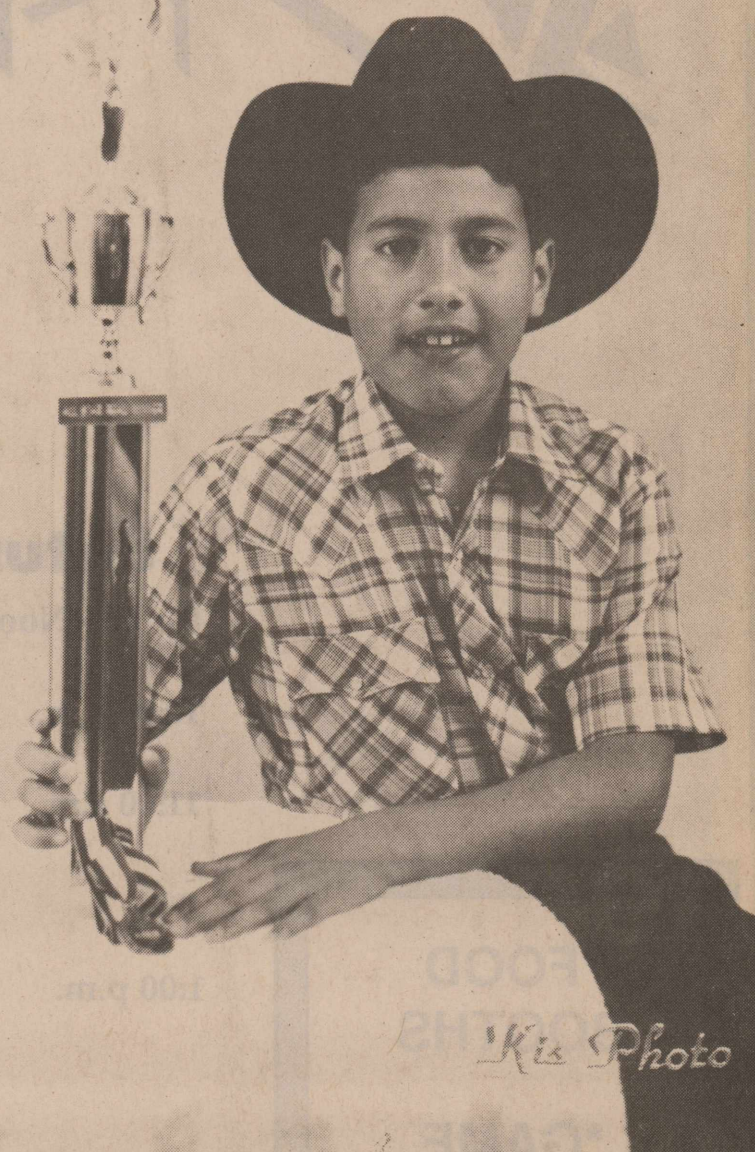

•No enforcement action involving the facility was pending before the Commission.

•The facility was compliant with all permit provisions during the annual compliance inspection.

•Facility records were accurate and up to date.

•The facility complied with wastewater operator certification rules.

•Overall excellence in housekeeping, operations and maintenance were noted.

Nick Jimenez Jr.

Haskell youth wins talent contest

Nick Jimenez Jr. won a first-place trophy and an All-Star medal in an All-Star Talent Contest in Abilene Saturday.

He entertained the judges by singing and playing his guitar.

He will now participate in a nationwide talent contest in Dallas in January.

Nick is a member of the St. George Catholic Church Choir where he sings and plays the guitar with his dad every Sunday.

He is the son of Nick and Eva Jimenez.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant Crisp

Tidrow, Crisp wed in Garland

Sonja René Tidrow and James Bryant Crisp were married in a private ceremony Saturday afternoon, Oct. 20, in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Crisp of Garland.

The bride was presented in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Tidrow of Haskell.

The Rev. Jimmy Griffith of the First Baptist Church in Merkel performed the double-ring ceremony. Terri Gideon Escobedo of Austin provided three flute arrangements, "The Lord's Prayer," "We've Only Just Begun" and "Theme from Ice Castles."

The bride wore a two-piece black and white suit of satin, that was completed with a white hat. The groom also wore black and white.

The ceremony took place before a fireplace that was decorated with fresh flowers and greenery. Spiral candelabras on each side of the fireplace accented the setting. Candlelighters were the groom's sister, Jean Ramsey of Forney, Texas, and the bride's brother, Barry Tidrow of Haskell.

Family and friends were invited to a reception that evening at the Jefferson Creek Apartments club house in Dallas. The bride chose to carry out the colors of the room, mauve and green. The stairway leading to the reception room was decorated with green and mauve ribbons, bows, streamers and balloons. The bridal table had a white ruffled tablecloth and white lace overlay that was completed with bows and silver bells. The tier wedding cake was also decorated with mauve and green flowers.

Serving at the bridal and food tables were the bride's sister-in-law, Sheila Tidrow, her cousin, Susan Petrich, and two of her aunts, Geraldine Baker and Connie Petrich. Nephews of the bride and groom, Brandon Tidrow and Jason Ramsey, passed out rice bags that were covered with silver wedding bells and tied with satin ribbon.

After a wedding trip to Vienna, Austria, the couple will make their home in Garland.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Petrich and Delia Mae Tidrow, all of Haskell. She is a graduate of Haskell High School and Texas Tech University and is employed as assistant marketing manager for TGI Fridays Inc. in Dallas.

The groom graduated from Garland Lakeview High School and Texas Tech University and is employed as a sales engineer for Carrier-Boch of Dallas.

Marriage Licenses

Five couples received marriage licenses last month from the office of County Clerk Woodrow Frazier.

They were: Roy Earnest Wright of Abilene and Wanda Sue Conner of Haskell.

Jessie Ledesma Jr. of Rule and Cynthia Hernandez of Rochester.

Steven Andrew Rodriguez and Janna Lorene Alvarez, both of Arlington.

Gary Gene Griffin and Tammy Renee Grissom, both of Hawley.

Joey Earl Kimbrough of Haskell and Tammy Denise Decker of Munday.

WMU hosts Prayer Day

The Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church of Haskell hosted the Baptist Women's World Day of Prayer on Nov. 5.

Registration, coffee and fellowship were from 9 until 9:30.

Mary Martin directed the program, assisted by Donna Cole, Ann Sinclair, Lorene Adams, Earmel Bevel, Ethel Lou Shelton and Lois Redwine.

Approximately 35 women from communities in the Haskell-Knox Association attended.

Shower honors bride

A bridal shower honoring Lorry Kay Geilhausen Jennings was held Oct. 20 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Haskell.

The tables and serving tables were covered in the bride's chosen color of light blue, and a candle of blue with mauve and green silk flower circle was the centerpiece for the serving table.

Punch and finger foods were served to the guests.

On the registration table were the bride's wedding book and a picture of the bride and groom.

Hostesses were Janis Brzozowski, Pauline Dick, Frances Fischer, Henrietta Fischer, Cheryl Hannsz, Roberta High, Lois Howard, Mischelle Howard, Phyllis Klose, Eunice Koehler, Mollie Moeller, Florence Peden, Lil Peiser and Jamie Weaver.

Birthday party honors youngster

Christopher Kitley of Rule celebrated his third birthday with a party at the recreation center.

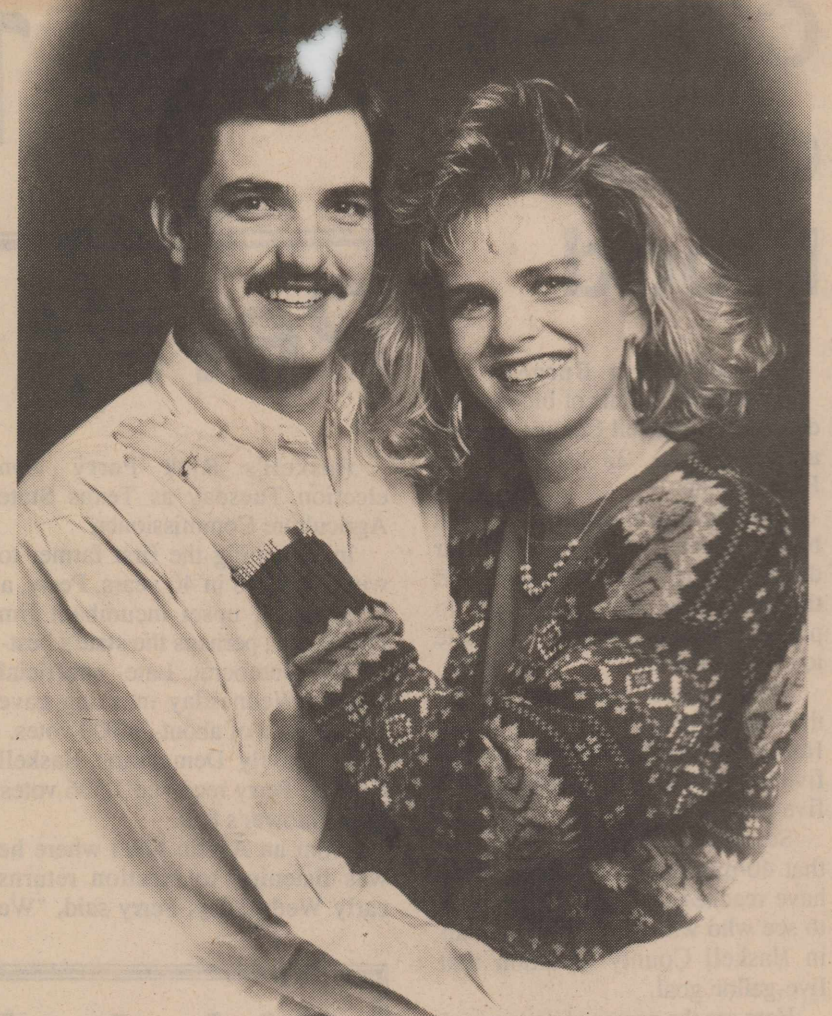

The birthday theme was the Ninja Turtles. The cake was decorated as the Ninja Turtle with three Ninja Turtle candles.

Guests were Luke, Kyle, Kolt, Kade, Sam and Will Kitley, Brandi and Jason Briles and Christopher's brother, Jonathan.

Grandparents attending were Bobby and Jere Kitley and Shirley Rhoads. Great-grandparents were Taylor and Blanche Sego of Rochester.

Other guests were Danny and Nikki Kitley, Rick and Beth Kitley, Angela Rhoads, Teresa Briles, Rick Plemister and Ruthy Watson of Haskell, and Christopher's mom and dad.

Kade Kitley and Christopher celebrated their birthdays together. Also helping Kade celebrate his birthday was his uncle, Nino Elliott.

Jimmy Burson and Melissa Eckles

Eckles, Burson set wedding date

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Burson of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. Sparky Eckles of Spur are happy to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their children, Jimmy Burson and Melissa Eckles.

Their wedding vows will be exchanged at the First United Methodist Church of Spur on the evening of Saturday, Jan. 5.

Melissa is a 1986 graduate of Spur High School and will be a 1991 graduate of Texas Tech University with a degree in education.

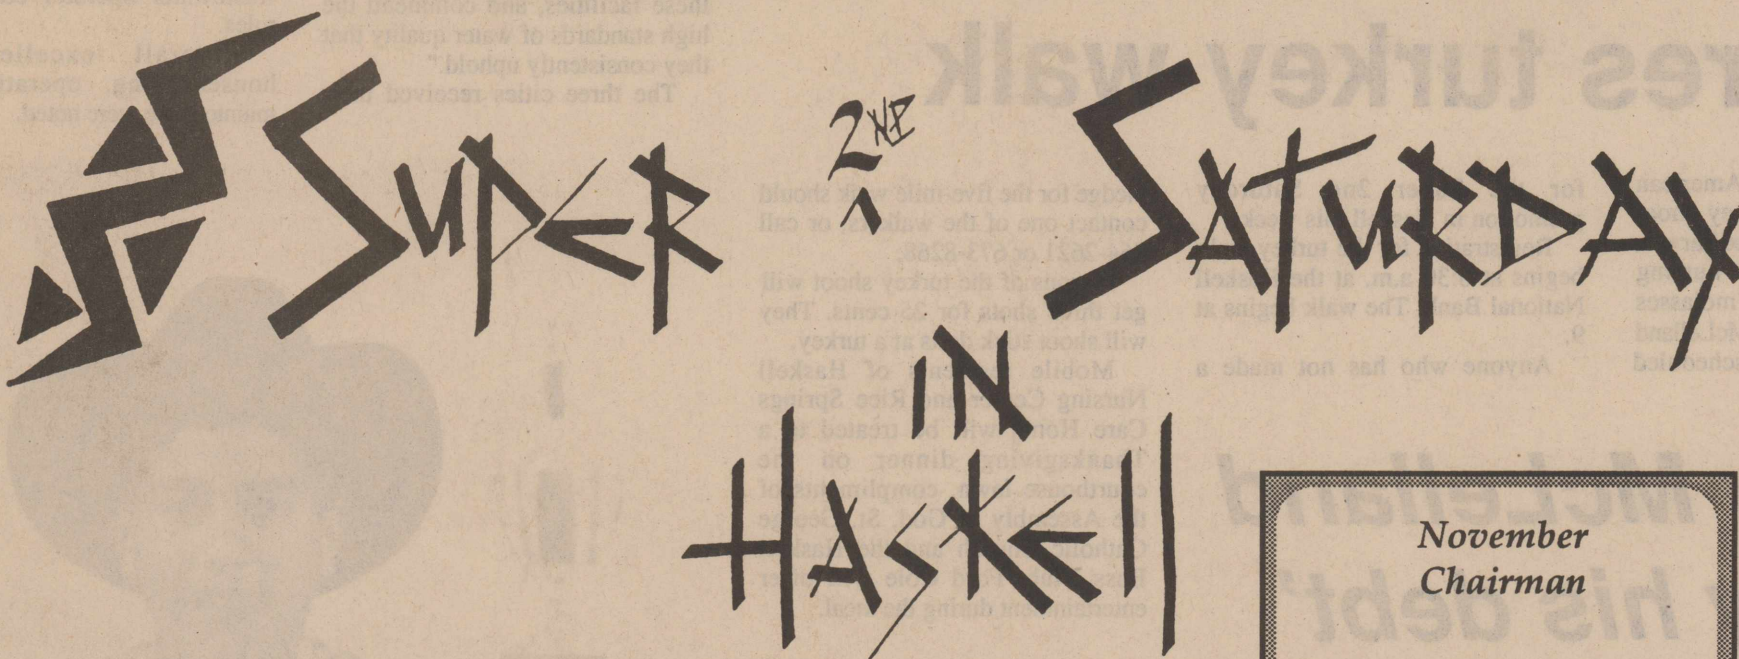

Jimmy is a 1985 graduate of Haskell High School and attended Texas Tech University. He is engaged in farming and has a custom farming business.

The couple will make their home in Haskell.

Around town

E. L. and Bernice Hilliard have returned from a nine-day trip to Minnesota and Wisconsin where they visited Bernice's three brothers who live in Rogers, Buffalo and St. Paul, Minn. They also made a trip to Red Wing, Minn., home of Red Wing shoes.

FmHA chooses safety program

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), an agency of the United States Department of Agriculture, has selected the Farm Safety for "Just Kids" program as its public service project for 1990-91, through its Wellness Program's Public Safety campaign, according to Larry McDaniel, FmHA county supervisor for Haskell County.

Farm Safety for "Just Kids" is a non-profit organization dedicated to educating parents and children about farm injury prevention. This organization stresses raising awareness levels regarding on-farm hazards. Each year, farm accidents result in the deaths of 300 young people and 5,000 serious injuries. The primary age group affected is 5 to 14.

Former resident returns to make home here

Glenn Thompson, who grew up in Haskell, has returned here from Colorado with his family to make their home.

He left Haskell in 1968 and says he always wanted to return. "I want my children to grow up and go to school where I did," he said. "I've always felt Haskell offers an excellent environment for children."

Thompson is working for Raydon of Knox City and the family is residing at 602 N. 15th in Haskell. He also is a Church of Christ minister.

The family includes his wife, Kathy; two daughters, Taadamexa, 10, and Tanya, 9; and a son, Tulley, 6.

Thompson is the son of Claude and Frances Thompson. His father was with the Soil Conservation Service in Haskell for several years.

McDaniel stated, "FmHA's involvement in the program will enable Farm Safety for 'Just Kids' to reach a national audience for the first time." Educational material, including a film, safety fact sheet, warning decals and children's workbooks, will be distributed by FmHA personnel throughout Texas. Over 13,000 FmHA employees, nationwide, will help spread the farm safety message to schools and the general public.

A Cornell University study reveals that children bear the brunt of farm accidents when the injury rate is adjusted to account for the time each worker is in the work place. In 1988, 35.6 percent of farm accident victims were children ranging in age from 5 to 14 years. There are three factors today which may be aggravating the dangers for children: (1) Increased mechanization, (2) new safety hazards--50 percent of the ATV accidents have involved children (900 deaths over five years), and (3) stressful economic conditions.

"We believe Farmers Home Administration in Texas can make a tremendous contribution to this organization in reaching thousands of children and young adults in rural areas that would have otherwise been missed," McDaniel said.

Women veterans to be recognized

The fourth annual Women Veterans Day will be held at the Big Spring VA Medical Center on Friday, Nov. 16, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The observance is intended to focus attention on the significant contributions of women in the armed forces.

Rule youths involved in Cub Scouts

Many boys in the Rule area are involved in Cub Scouts this year. The boys have been involved in several activities and had fun, plus learning many things.

Boys and their leaders are:
Wolves: Jonathan Allison, Josh Smith, Dylan Mueller, Bobby Gene Flores, Justin Coker and Jeffrey Murray. Den leaders are Charlene Murray and Charlotte Coker.

Bears: Steven Kitley, Jeremy Hertel, Grant Hisey, Brian Lehmann, Jessie Threet and Mike Casey. Den leaders are Cheryl Hertel and Karen Lehmann.

Webelos: Brad Simpson, Michael Hertel, Adam Boger and Austin Boger. Webelos leader is Marsha Simpson.

The boys participated in the Cub Scout Pushmobile Races in Haskell Oct. 13. They had a day of fun, in addition to winning lots of ribbons. Wolves won two first places, two seconds and a third overall in the Wolf division. The Bears won a second-place ribbon. Webelos won first and second place ribbons.

The Scouts participated in the Rule Jubilee Oct. 6, first participating in the parade. The opening ceremony at the park followed with the flag-raising ceremony was led by the Scouts. All of the Scout moms helped in the Coke booth in the park.

Scouts sat on the front row during the Oct. 20 dedication of the veterans' memorial.

Six Flags sets holiday program

Elaborate Christmas decorations and more than a half million twinkling lights will set the scene as Six Flags Over Texas begins its sixth annual Holiday in the Park celebration the night after Thanksgiving.

New for the 1990 event will be the "Bugs Bunny Merrie Holiday Ice Revue" in the Good Time Theater. Daffy Duck, Sylvester and the other members of the Looney Tunes gang will strap on their ice skates for the show which also features a final birthday salute to Bugs.

DID YOU KNOW?
When English chemist Joseph Priestley discovered in 1770 that material made from latex could be used to rub out pencil marks, he named the substance "rubber."

Headstream

Editor: With the holidays fastly approaching and thoughts turning to sharing, caring and giving to others, the Headstream Memorial Mental Health Center would like for you to be aware of the needs we have for November and December through the holiday season and for the upcoming year.

To start off the festive season, Headstream Outreach is planning a Thanksgiving luncheon for all clients of the three-county area. The luncheon will be at noon on Nov. 15 at the Experienced Citizens Center in Haskell. If you or your club, organization or church group would like to be a part of this luncheon by donating prepared food dishes or even donating your time to help serve, please call 864-3472. There are many of our clients who have no family and look forward to a Thanksgiving meal with their Outreach Center family.

In December, Christmas can be much brighter with your donations of can foods, fruit, clothing gifts or other personal items. If you would like to share your Christmas with the Outreach Center we would appreciate the support, generosity and thoughtfulness.

But don't forget, we serve the three-county area all year long, not just during the holiday season. The center has a monthly birthday party with refreshments and bingo prizes given away. Maybe your club or church group would like to adopt us one month and provide the refreshments and prizes for those activities.

Thank you for your support during the past year to the Headstream Mental Health Center in Haskell, Knox and Stonewall counties.

Ann Kiser

Thanks

Editor: I would like to thank the following dedicated "spooks" and "workers" for making the "Spook's Cave" successful for the last two years.

Spooks: David, Louetta and Loutina Davis, Jimmy and Debbie Williams, Jo Nored Lane, Peggy and Mike Crawford, Phyllis Klose, Sherry Moran, Debbie Earles, Jerry Stocks, Danny and Vicki Josselet.

--Letters to the Editor--

Mike, Glinda and Lori Martindale, Sara Sorrelle, Becky Cline, Stacy Martin, Mindy McGee, Laurie and Danny Letterman and Tike and Gina Meinzer.

Background workers: Nored Lane, Tony Burson, Toni Cline, Tiffany Williams, Jerry Don Klose, B. K. Lane and Merle and W. O. Nanny.

Props supplied by Weinert Gin, Steve Moran (tarps), David Frierson (tarps), Glenn Pogue's Meat Market (ghoulish items), Holden-McCauley Funeral Home (casket), Chester Lamb (chainsaw), Carlos Andrada (black light) Daniel Riley (strobe lights), Keith Medford (strobe lights) and Robbie Peiser (strobe lights).

A special thanks for the use of Dave's Cave to Jack, Gary and Terry Lane.

A really special thanks to Les Lane for making our "Spooks" sign outside without even being asked to, and for helping to build the cave tunnel.

In the last two years we've had over 440 visitors to the "Cave," plus those ghouls trying to scare the spooks, the Ike Neals and the Jim Yearlys.

The proceeds were donated to the senior class of 1990, last year, and donated to the seniors of 1991 this year.

I would also like to thank a very special person in my life for its support of my endeavors and all those cold suppers, my husband, Joe. Thank you.

Last, but not least, we the "Spooks" would like to thank those who came and for helping us to make this another "spooky" but safe and fun Halloween. Looking forward to scaring you next year.

Notes From The Rolling Plains
(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

Frank Collinson told of the winter he spent near Spur, Texas in 1876 while hunting buffalo on duck creek. A norther had blown in and a blizzard had been raging for three days. Snow was drifted up to three feet or so and Collinson was staying in camp until the storm passed. Soon a freighter came in, almost frozen from a trip somewhere on the buffalo range. Caught without wood and cover his oxen and men were in bad shape. After a head count it was discovered that the freighter was one man short. A quick walk on the backtrail revealed nothing so the men decided to go to camp and wait out the storm. After a day or two the blizzard abated and the search for the missing man was resumed. About five miles back the searchers found the unfortunate soul, lying face down in the trail, frozen as stiff as a board. One man could not move him as the frozen man was as heavy as a log. The ground was frozen so that only a shallow grave could be scratched in the ground. The men rolled the body in the hole and went back to camp. When the ground had thawed somewhat they returned and dug the grave deeper. Later, some cowboys happened onto the grave and found human bones littered about by buffalo, wolves and coyotes. Each time the cold north wind howls through the badlands I often sit by our big wood stove and watch as the snow and sleet coats the mesquites an erie white in the darkness of a cold winter night. The passage in Collinson's book keeps haunting me and I wonder "how did those men survive those bitter cold winds on the open prairie with nothing but a buffalo robe and a creek bank for cover?" How many of us would have the grit to spend years at a time living under the conditions that those frontiersmen did? It is men like this that made our state what it is today. I hope that we never forget these men and women and the tolls they knew. We owe it to them. And we owe it to our children.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The dirtiest political campaign in the history of Texas ended this week, and Capitol eyes turned to watch what may be the last gasp of the most political Texas Supreme Court ever.

The dominant theme in judicial elections was whether lawmakers elected to judgeships can be trusted not to make laws from the bench — and voters thought they had their say Tuesday.

Not entirely so. In a neat display of political sidestep, the High Court Democrats and lame-duck Attorney General Jim Mattox have managed to drag a very tax-expensive issue away from the force of this week's election.

As a result, the five sitting Democrats on the Texas Supreme Court — all former state legislators — as a group will have a final say in telling the Legislature, at the bottom line, how much money it must spend.

How did they do it? Around Left End After an Austin state district judge waited until September to declare the Legislature's new school finance plan unconstitutional, Mattox pulled an end run around the appeals court and brought the case directly to the Supreme Court.

On one hand, his tactic saves time and money, but there are political profits to be reaped as well.

First, the hot potato case is delayed until after the election; Mattox and the Democratic leadership knew full well that to hand down a tax-prone decision before an election would jeopardize their entire ballot.

Second, Mattox essentially gave the issue to the bench's current majority of Democrats to handle in December, even though two justices — Franklin Spears and C.L. Ray — did not run for reelection.

Window of Opportunity If Mattox had gone through the appeal court, the case would have been delayed past their terms. As it stands now, the bloc of former legislators on the Court have a month-long window of opportunity.

Couldn't they wait a month? After all, State District Judge Scott McCown waited all summer before striking it down.

Hardly. Three seats were up for election, with the six non-contested seats held by three Democrats and three Republicans; facing the possibility of a Republican majority on the court, the former legislators couldn't afford to take chances.

Special Master Re-Enters Now, when the new justices take their oath in January, they'll likely find the school finance case has been sent back to the Legislature or given to the special master, himself a former Democrat legislator and Supreme Court Justice.

The pro-legislative maneuver is totally legal, is no deep dark secret, and is well-applauded in many Capitol circles.

Advocates argue Texas needs equity in education funding, and since the Legislature won't draw it up, the special master might as well.

Unless conservatives in the judiciary can delay action until the lame-ducks are off the court, he probably will.

Could Have Built Schools The doomsayers expect this lame-duck cabal to order costly reforms that will force legislators over the brink and into a state income tax.

So, the issue remains with us, whether it is right or prudent for a judge to force the Legislature to spend more money than it has on the books.

Texas has seen it all too often this past decade; in fact, had a federal judge not forced the Legislature to spend millions on new prisons, the Legislature might have been able to appropriate more money for public education.

Texans could have been building better schools instead of better prisons.

Initiative Rights Eyed State Rep. Rick Williamson, D-Weatherford, plans to sponsor legislation in January that would give Texans initiative and referendum rights. Although similar efforts failed in 1989, Williamson said he believes the bill has a better chance in 1991.

Residents in about half of the 50 states can put such measures as whether to slash taxes and impose limits on officerholders' terms, through the petition process.

In Texas, people don't have that power. But some lawmakers and political observers think the time may be ripe for change.

"It is the future of public policy," said Williamson. "The information-communications revolution of the 1980s has put on the table permanently that voters should have control over public policy."

Other Highlights ■ Two former chief justices, both Democrats, endorsed a Republican for Place 1 on the Supreme Court. John Hill and Joe Greenhill gave the nod to San Antonio's State District Judge John Cornyn over Democrat Gene Kelly.

■ Congress just gave Texas 11 new federal judges, the most any state received, with five slated for South Texas, three for West Texas, two for Dallas-Fort Worth and one in East Texas.

■ The last Gallop Poll before the election found that of the 12 percent of "most likely voters" who were still undecided, most were conservative, white females concerned with schools and crime.

More breast cancer being diagnosed

An increasing number of women are being diagnosed with breast cancer each year. There are indications this is due to improved diagnostic tests.

Mammography has made it possible for the detection of more breast cancers at earlier, more curable stages. Today, a woman has one chance in 10 of developing breast cancer in her lifetime.

Kids have right to individuality

By Keith Geiger

What has happened to the proud individualism that once made Americans the envy of all the world?

Why have we suddenly become a nation judging ourselves by the standards of others?

Why do we feel we must march in lockstep to the beat of other drummers?

The plain fact is that all Americans do not like baseball or even cherry pie. There are boys (yes, it's true) who prefer concertos to football, and girls who want to be President or Secretary of State. There are kids in classes who really like English and history, and those--girls as well as boys--who like figuring out how machines work.

And there are American parents who don't want their kids educated like Japanese or German or French or English kids, but want them educated like American kids who feel good about who they are and about their own individual dreams for their lives.

Those dreams vary vastly, reflecting the innate feelings, skills, personalities and experiences of the dreamers. Encouraged by education and refined by training, they can become more than dreams.

There are youngsters in our classrooms who do not want to become corporate executives, who would prefer to be carpenters--who like to saw and hammer and nail, to build with their hands. And the work of a good carpenter is as valuable as, and often more lasting than, that of a CEO.

There are boys who come to class with their hair in long braids, and like it that way, and girls who prefer pants to frills.

Like it or not, it was American diversity that made us the strongest, most creative nation on earth. Men and women from all ethnic, racial and religious groups made major contributions as individuals following their own dreams.

The dreams of our young people can not be explored and expanded in schools with rigid, top-down curricula geared to improving scores on standardized paper-and-pencil tests. Individual differences can not be encouraged in a lockstep march from kindergarten to grade 12.

Teachers must be given the flexibility to understand each child who enters their classrooms. They must be given this flexibility not only to teach subject matter, not only to help each child achieve his or her maximum potential, but also to help each child achieve his or her maximum happiness.

Yes, America needs astronauts and biotechnicians and lawyers and doctors and teachers and bright, educated young people entering every profession. But what we need even more is a generation of young people who believe in themselves and believe in their dreams.

(Keith Geiger is president of the National Education Association.)

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

The once scorned and lowly pig is finding a cozy place "in the hearts" of many Americans.

A growing number of Americans owe their lives to a pig heart valve which has been found a perfect replacement for a defective human heart valve.

While science continues its advance to supplement many natural medicinal products with synthetics, we are depending more and more on hogs as an important source for health products.

Specially selected and treated hog skins, because they are so similar to human skin, are used to create biological dressings for burns. These dressings last seven to 10 days and allow the body's normal healing mechanisms to work until new skin can be established.

This burn treatment technology was used by U.S. doctors who helped treat hundreds of Soviet citizens burned in an explosion of their vacation train last year.

Hormones and organic extracts from hogs are common and widely used pharmaceuticals. From the pancreas glands of 60,000 hogs come one pound of pure insulin, enough to treat almost a thousand diabetics for a year.

Lightly cooked pork liver is a source of Vitamin B-12, and is useful in the diet of persons with pernicious anemia. Desiccated liver, with added nutrients, is used as a nutritional supplement.

An enzyme in hog blood called plasmin has the ability to digest fibrin in blood clots, and is used to treat heart attack victims. Until recently, the adrenal glands from hogs were an important source of many different hormones used by physicians to correct chemical imbalances. (Now many adrenal compounds are being made synthetically.)

An acid from hog bile administered to humans helps avoid gall bladder surgery by dissolving gallstones, and the Vitamin D derived from hog brains can treat rickets in children and premature infants.

A natural coagulant used to thin the blood and retard or stop clotting is heparin, almost exclusively derived from the inner lining of the hog's small intestine.

While meat is still the primary product from hogs, medical uses and pharmaceuticals have given the animal new status.

Wacky Randy McLellend, who will be on center stage Saturday when the kids from the First Baptist Church cover him with molasses and feathers, paid off last Tuesday on another challenge he issued to the kids.

He swallowed a gold fish. The clown, magician, musician, comedian, etc., otherwise known as youth director of the First Baptist Church, told children of the church that if at least 100 would attend children's night during the church's revival, he would perform the feat.

And he had to pay off. During the hot dog supper in the activity building preceding the service, he did just that.

But he made sure that other church-goers got to taste something out of the ordinary during the noon meals served at the church.

On Monday, he brought a serving of squirrel ala creole. On Tuesday, he prepared and furnished dove breast in white gravy over rice. And on Thursday, he brought chicken-fried armadillo.

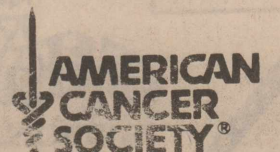

He didn't purposely skip Wednesday. On that day, he prepared barbecued raccoon, but he said his wife wouldn't let him bring it.

That's the same guy who a few months ago prepared and served a big pot of armadillo chili to the young people of the church.

Ugh.

Tax installments offered to seniors

Homeowners 65 or older may now pay the taxes on their current homesteads in four installments.

Leon Willhite, executive director of the State Property Tax Board, explained the purpose of the new installment payment option authorized by state law beginning this September.

"In past years, older homeowners had to pay their entire home tax bill before the normal Feb. 1 delinquency date or pay a penalty and interest on the unpaid amount. This was a hardship for many elderly homeowners with fixed incomes," Willhite said. "This new provision gives them the option of spreading out that payment."

To set up installment payments, 65-or-older homeowners must pay at least one-fourth of their 1990 residence homestead taxes before the Feb. 1 delinquency date. Then, three equal installments are due before April 1, June 1 and Aug. 1.

If all installments are paid on time, homeowners will not be charged penalty or interest for late payment, Willhite said. However, those who fail to pay an installment on time must pay penalty and interest on that installment.

Homeowners 65 or over who are interested in arranging installments need to contact the tax collection office for each taxing unit--county, city, school or special district--at the address on their tax bills.

This new provision does not apply to any past home taxes already delinquent or other types of property.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Nicholson

Couple to mark 50th anniversary

The children and grandchildren of Cliff and Lois Nicholson will honor them Saturday, Nov. 10, with a reception.

The event will be at the First National Bank, beginning at 7 p.m. Friends and relatives are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson were married in Haskell on Nov. 6, 1940. They lived in New Mexico for 30 years before returning to Haskell two years ago.

They have three sons, Cliff Ray Nicholson of Stamford, Eddie Jay Nicholson of Brownfield and Greg Nicholson of Plano; eight grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

Clara Clift

Clara Clift, a Texas school teacher for more than 50 years, died Tuesday, Oct. 30, in Austin.

She was born in DeLeon on April 7, 1898, the third child of Bruce Truman Clift and Nancy Elizabeth Rippetoe. She moved with her family to Haskell in the early 1900s and graduated from Haskell High School in 1918. After graduation, while working toward her college degree, she taught in a number of Haskell County schools, including Gilliam and Lake Creek.

She graduated magna cum laude from the University of Texas in 1925. She received her master of arts degree from Texas Christian University and did additional graduate work at Columbia University.

After teaching six years in Harlingen, she moved to Dallas in 1931 and began a 37-year teaching career in DISD. She taught at Boude Storey Junior High and at Sunset High School, retiring in 1968.

After her retirement, she continued to live at her home in Oak Cliff until 1977 when she moved to Austin to be nearer her niece and nephew, Earl and Judy Clift Martin, who survive her along with grand-niece and nephews Kim, Hank, Bruce and Mark Martin and their family.

She also is survived by a niece, Mrs. Sam Slack (Mayrene Hallmark) of Ithaca, N.Y., and a nephew, Robert Bruce Hallmark of Little Rock, Ark. She was preceded in death by her parents, four brothers and two sisters.

Those desiring to do so may make contributions to the Clara Clift Memorial Scholarship, McCallum High School, 5600 Sunshine Drive, Austin, TX 78756. The scholarship will be awarded to a graduating senior who plans to teach.

Graveside services were Saturday, Nov. 3, in Belvieu Cemetery in Rotan, under the direction of the Weathersbee Funeral Home.

Queen Ann Bed and Breakfast Inn.

He is survived by his wife; two step-sons, Mark Atkinson of Los Angeles and John Atkinson of Richmond, Calif.; a step-daughter, Rhea Atkinson of Danville, Calif.; two brothers, Dallas Baugh of Dallas and Doyle Baugh of Rule; and a sister, Erma Arnet of Lubbock.

Memorials may be made to the Rule Memorial Monument.

W. H. (Bill) Reynolds

W. H. Reynolds

W. H. (Bill) Reynolds died last Monday (Oct. 29) at Haskell Memorial Hospital. He was 85.

Funeral services were Friday morning at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Jim Turner officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery, directed by Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Rickey Lee Reynolds, William Monroe Reynolds, John Henry Reynolds, Leon McBee, Mike Brasher and Mitchell Reid Dodson.

A retired blacksmith and welder, Mr. Reynolds had lived in Haskell since 1965. He was born Dec. 12, 1903, in Belton. He married Ardith Harrington in Truscott on Jan. 8, 1934.

Survivors include his wife; five sons, Melvin Henry Reynolds, Billy Glenn Reynolds and Jeff Reynolds, all of Haskell, Douglas Reynolds of Levelland and Clyde Reynolds of Snyder; two daughters, Ruth Cohron of Millsap and Joyce Marie Dodson of Levelland; four brothers, Jim Reynolds of Corsicana, Charlie Reynolds of Bridgeport, John Reynolds of Graham and Alvin Reynolds of Odessa; two sisters, Myrtle Fespermean of Odessa and Dorene Brooks of Stamford; 39 grandchildren; and 31 great-grandchildren.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

Area rainfall well ahead of normal

October rainfall in Haskell was little more than half of normal, but for the year, the area still is well ahead of the annual average.

Rain last month measured 1.31 inches, according to Sam Herren, official weather recorder. This compares with a normal October rainfall total of 2.46 inches.

But for the year, Haskell has received 31.42 inches. The normal is 22.01 inches.

Temperatures last month ranged from a high of 90 degrees on Oct. 6 to a low of 38 on Oct. 22.

Chili cookoff set at Monday

A chili cookoff and auction will be held Nov. 12 in Munday.

The event, to be held from 1 to 5 p.m. in the Young Farmers Show Barn, is being sponsored by the Munday Fire Department.

Prizes of $100, $50 and $25 will be awarded to first-, second- and third-place winners. There is a $15 entry fee.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Richard E. Rodgers CPA

IRS NOTICES

(Know What You're Paying)

The Internal Revenue Service sends out numerous tax deficiency notices which are incorrect. Don't pay additional amounts on your income tax return unless you are satisfied that you owe it.

IRS offices are staffed with ordinary people that make ordinary mistakes. Add to that a computer that can make ordinary computer mistakes and you have the ingredients for improperly mailed notices. Because these notices come from a Federal agency, the average person gives them more credibility than they may deserve.

The Internal Revenue Service is attempting to match certain documents to your social security number and your tax return. If you receive interest, dividends, rents, royalties, or any number of other types of income, you will probably be issued a "1099" information slip identifying the earnings. If the IRS can't readily locate that information on your tax return, they may send you a deficiency notice even though that income may be included somewhere in your tax return.

Don't assume that you owe additional taxes to the IRS just because they send you a statement. Because of the possibilities of both mechanical and human error, it's worth checking to make sure you owe the amount requested.

If you have paid someone to prepare your tax return, give them a copy of "all" correspondence you receive from the Internal Revenue Service, even those which do not request additional taxes. Your tax return preparer needs a full track record of all aspects of your tax return if he's to do an adequate job of representing you. Most IRS notices require a response within a specified number of days; therefore, all correspondence should be given to your accountant as soon as possible.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

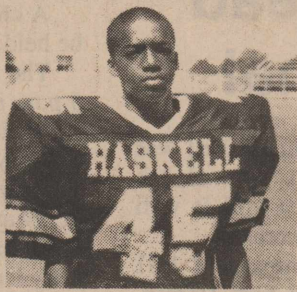

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00. A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, ● even before it can be felt.

Bulldogs scalp Indians

Stamford's Eric Keen rushed for 254 yards and scored three touchdowns to lead the Bulldogs to a 49-14 victory over the Haskell Indians here Friday night.

It was the third consecutive district 7-2A defeat for the Indians and dropped their district record to 1-5 (2-7 for the year), with only this weekend's game at Anson remaining on the schedule.

Haskell had a reasonably good offensive output, but on this night the Indians were no match for the Bulldogs. Haskell had 151 yards on the ground and another 112 through the air but Stamford countered with 390 infantry yards and 68 via the airplanes.

The Bulldogs wasted little time in showing their dominance. On the sixth play following the opening kickoff, Keen ran 5 yards for the game's first touchdown with less than two minutes of playing time elapsed.

Haskell stormed right back after Jonathan Dever returned the Bulldog kickoff to the Indian 36. Dever ran 34 yards on first down and then Rusty Stocks passed 13 yards to Erik Harvey to put the ball on the 17. After an incomplete pass, Dever ran for 10 to the 7 from where Harvey scooted in for the tying touchdown. Chad Gibson's conversion kick gave the Indians a short-lived 7-6 lead with the game only 10 seconds past the three-minute mark.

Later in the first period, Stamford's Eddie Pryor ran 50 yards for a touchdown.

Haskell	Game Stats	Stamford
18	First Downs	24
32-151	Yards Rushing	46-390
112	Yards Passing	68
8-31-3	Passes Completed	4-13-1
263	Total Net Yards	458
0	Fumbles Lost	1
3-22	Penalties	9-72
2-35	Punts	1-32

The Bulldogs added a safety in the second quarter when Dever was tackled in the end zone after Harvey's interception of a Stamford pass had given the Indians the ball just inches from the goal line.

The Bulldogs scored three second-quarter touchdowns, the first on Keen's 11-yard run, the second on a 27-yard pass from Kevin White to David Moreno and the third on Louis Fernandez' 28-yard return of a pass interception.

Haskell scored its second touchdown by going 72 yards in 11 plays, capped by Stocks' 8-yard pass to Chris Tanner with 34 seconds left in the half. Gibson's extra-point kick made the score 36-14, where it stood at halftime.

Moreno intercepted a Haskell pass on the Indian 35 on the second play of the second half and seven plays later, Keen went over from the 3.

After the Stamford kickoff, the Indians drove to a first down at the Stamford 5, but after four consecutive incompletes passes, they surrendered the ball on downs.

Stamford stormed back, going 95 yards in 11 plays to score its final touchdown, which came on the first play of the fourth period when Darrell Willis ran 20 yards for the score.

Haskell had one more scoring chance after Dever recovered a Stamford fumble at the Bulldog 45. This time the Indians drove to the Bulldog 2 before turning the ball over on downs.

Rushing

Haskell: Dever 23-122; Fuentes 6-15; Harvey 3-14.

Stamford: Keen 29-254; Pryor 4-78; White 5-0; Willis 7-55; Moreno 1-3.

Passing

Haskell: Stocks 8-30-3 for 112 yards; Dever 0-1-0.

Stamford: White 4-13-1 for 68 yards

Receiving

Haskell: Harvey 3-45; Tanner 3-41; Hanson 1-12; Fuentes 1-14.

If you missed seeing "Puttin' on the Hits" this past week, then it was your loss. Those kids do a great job, and seem to have fun in the process. On Monday and Tuesday nights, the auditorium was only half full, if that much; but the last night on Thursday, the auditorium was two-thirds full. Everyone did a great job, but it seemed that Keith Vanderbilt and Joe Zepeda were the favorites with their dancing!

Belated "Happy Birthday" to Katie Doyle, who reached the ripe age of ninety-three on Nov. 2. Also, "Happy Birthday" to granddaughter, Susan Saffel, who was thirteen on Nov. 4.

It was nice seeing old friends, Voncile and Allen Fowler at Walmart recently; also from Hamlin, Gaye and Joe Collins. Joe is a brother of long-time friend, Ann Foster, who now lives in Tucumcari, N.M. Another brother, John Pat Collins and wife, Billie, are Stamford residents. Billie has had open heart surgery in the not too distant past, and seemed to be doing well when we saw her at Lawrence Brothers recently. She is Dr. Mark Robst's nurse at FMA.

Welcome to Roger and Stephanie Smith, who moved to Rule from Ft. Worth following their recent wedding. Roger has lived in Rule previously, and is the son of the Raymond Smiths. Roger is employed by Roy Dean Smith and Stephanie at Sue's Flowers in Haskell. It is always good to have a young couple move to Rule.

It was good to see Rayberne Oliver able to be out to church this past Sunday. He was scheduled to return to Lubbock again on Monday and Tuesday of this past week.

Wayland Baugh has been hospitalized in the Haskell Hospital with pneumonia. We wish for him a speedy return to good health.

Best wishes go to Ruth Wilcox and Sam Turner for a clean bill of health as they have check-ups this week.

A long-time friend and former fellow employee, Doris Cowan of Stamford along with Annie Mae Ivy came by our home for a brief visit this past Sunday.

Weren't the little "Trick or Treaters" cute on Halloween night? For the past few years we have only had about four or six to come down our street, but thankfully, we had quite a few more this year. By "thankfully", I mean that we had lots of candy to give away and didn't want any left over for the Andersons to munch on.

Of interest, I learned from Dora Torres that the Spanish word for the holiday (day of witches) just past is "bruja", pronounced "Bru-ha" and if I remember correctly, a "bruha" is a disturbance or riot. Strangely enough, the above word is not in Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, but I'm positive that my mother used the word way back when.

The ladies at Campbell Insurance Agency really got into the spirit of Halloween with Bertha and Donna being witches, Jerri was a pumpkin and Sue a ghost. Then, the ladies and gentleman at the Farmers National Bank had a table set up with punch and cookies that were appropriate for the occasion.

Also, the ladies were dressed in yellowish-orange blouses with black skirts, and they all looked quite nice. (Patrick, I hope you know that I was only teasing about looking for a spook to photograph! Actually, your picture turned out quite nice.)

Through the grapevine I heard that the "Haunted House" at the old gymnasium was quite spooky, but by the time church was over, it had closed, so I have to take someone else's word for that. It was sponsored by the Junior & Senior classes.

Again, I would like to thank you nice people for your comments about the news column. It is you—the public—who supply the news, you know. Remember there is a mailbox on my front door at 509 Gladstone where you can drop off news items—in case nobody is home—which is often the case! To me, it is interesting and fun to write the news as I have met at least 75% of the Rule citizens in this endeavor.

This past Sat., Nov. 3, a group of ladies from the Church of Christ attended the annual Ladies Day at the Hamlin Church of Christ. The speaker was Hazel Fillmon, dorm director at Sikes Dorm at ACU. Her subject was "If Everything is Right, Why Do I Feel So Bad?" and was quite interesting, amusing and thought provoking. A most delicious lunch was served to the ladies. Those in our group were Vicky Anderson, Dovie Anderson, Alma Counts, Jeanne Burleson, and Ruth Wilcox.

Elsewhere in the paper you will find an announcement of the Sagerton Hobby Club Bazaar to be conducted Sat., Nov. 17 from 9 to 2 at the Sagerton Community Center. The proceeds go toward their scholarship and community projects.

Recently had a good visit with Stamford native, Charlene Hargrove Murray now of Rule over the telephone. She went to church and school where our family did in Stamford, and we know many of the same people.

Some baseball trivia was recently given over television, which I meant to share with the reader's sooner. Did you know that the Yankees have played in the World Series 33 times and have won 22 times while the Dodgers have played in the Series 18 times the St. Louis Cardinals have won 9 World Series as have the Oakland A's.

Congratulations to the sixteen Haskell County 4-H foods project leaders who were recognized for their work with foods project groups at the Haskell County 4-H Food Show on Oct. 22. The Food Show was hosted by the Sagerton 4-H Club in the Sagerton Community Center. This year's leaders are: Haskell, Kim Gilly, Deanna Jordan, Doy McKenzie, Shana McKenzie, Sandy Sanford, Kay Smith and Christie Stapleton; Paint Creek, Kim Crawford and Darlene Walton; Rochester, Alice Ballard; Rule, Susan Kittley and Celinda Allison; Sagerton, Tami Baitz, Helen Lammert and Gaile Swoyer; and Weinert, Jonita Felty.

Congratulations to the Rule Bobcats who defeated Rochester by a score of 41 to 21. Also, congratulations to Tori Jenkins and Callan Benavides, who were chosen as "Football Sweetheart" and "Hero" at half-time.

Annual bazaar set at Sagerton

Sagerton Hobby Club's eighth annual Bazaar will be from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17, in the Sagerton Community Center. Booths are available at $5 each. Crafts, baked goods and flea market items will be on sale and lunch will be available. The door prize will be a turkey and registration for the quilt will be $1.

It takes an eighth-grade reading level to be able to read labels on industrial cleaning products.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mueller and children ate supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer. Tuesday night we played 84 which the men had to beat the women.

Tullie Herring, T. C. Herring, and Jerry Herring came by to visit for a few minutes in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer Friday on their way to go see their brother, Henry, who is a hundred years old and do some deer hunting while at Santo.

Mrs. M. Y. Benton and Mrs. Charles Clark went to Aspermont to do some shopping.

Mrs. Harvey Stegemoeller is staying in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert LeFevre while she visited with Mrs. Henrietta Stegemoeller who is in the Rice Springs Care Home in Haskell.

Mrs. Odene Dudensing went to Littlefield to visit in the home of her daughter and husband Larry Hobratchk and children last Thursday.

Judy and Roy McEwen of Tuscola visited in the home of Mrs. Mary Neinast recently also attended the homecoming in Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. Duce Clark of Whitney visited in the home of Mrs. Mary Neinast last week one day.

Those who played bridge in the home of Mrs. Mary Neinast Saturday were Mrs. Rose Gholson of Old Glory, Mrs. Louise Letz of Old Glory, and Mrs. Francis Davis of Aspermont.

Miss Debby Rollins visited with her granddad James Gellner over the weekend.

Those who go bowling on Monday from around here are Mrs. Ruth Williams of Rule, Mrs. J. F. Dozier, Mrs. Gus Vahlenkamp of Old Glory, Mrs. Ernest Lowack, Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer, Mrs. Adela Nierdieck of Sagerton and Mrs. Fred Teichelman of Hamlin.

A CENTURY of VISION

For 100 Years, Haskell National Bank has seen the young people of our town and county answer the call to serve their country to preserve the "American Way of Life." We pause on this Veterans Day - 1990 - to honor those who served proudly and came home to work, raise families and build for the future. Also, on this day we honor those who did not return, but paid the supreme sacrifice. Long after the visible ravages of war have healed, the great fields of snow white crosses will bring back to our hearts poignant grief for those who must remain forever.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders Fields.

John McCrae

Public Notices

NOTICE
Members of an accreditation team from the Texas Education Agency will be available Monday, Nov. 12, to meet with parents and patrons who have an interest in expressing their views and opinions about the Haskell Consolidated Independent School District, according to Mr. Bill Stewart, Superintendent.

Interviews will be conducted by team members beginning at 5 p.m. in the elementary cafeteria located at 306 South Avenue G.

Every school district in the state is required by law to be visited by an accreditation team from the Agency to evaluate the quality of its educational programs and to determine what progress the school district has made since the last visit.

During the interviews, emphasis will be given to the quality of instruction and community support present on each campus in the district. Areas to be evaluated by the team include planning, curriculum, instruction, services to students, instructional resources, personnel, governance, community conditions, and physical facilities.

--Weinert--

by Myrtle Plemister

The cold front brought the shower of rain we needed, but it measured less than an inch. The temperature dropped below freezing on Sunday night, with a beautiful frost on Monday morning. (Did you remember to bring the potted plants inside?)

The cotton gins will run full speed in a few days, but they have been pretty busy already, with the Weinert Gin reporting 850 bales ginned, and the Paymaster Gin 900.

Our birthday calendar says Marty Earle, David Earle, Mark Stewart and Justin Brueggeman will have a birthday this week. Happy birthday! Lester and Kathi Hutchinson and Wayne and Cherie Hutchinson will celebrate wedding anniversaries. Congratulations!

The Women of Weinert continue to meet each Tuesday at 3 p.m. at Ann's Cafe and this week they served as the telephone committee to "Get Out the Vote."

They were later guests of the Home Extension Club at the Community room at the school and heard Lou Gilly speak about long term care insurance.

Alice Yates hosted the meeting.

Approximately fifty descendants of the late Romulus and Mary Sanders gathered at the Fireman's Hall in Gorman on Sat. for their annual reunion.

Gary and Elizabeth Strain, a great-great grandson and his wife of Arlington were in charge of the meeting.

Those attending from Weinert included Eddie and Myrnie Sanders, and Bertie Alexander.

Evelyn Ellington, of Muleshoe came to take her mother, Bertie Alexander, to Gorman on Thursday for a few days visit with her sisters there before the reunion on Saturday.

The Hamlin Church of Christ hosted their 6th annual ladies day at their building on Nov. 3, with Hazel Fillmon of Abilene as guest speaker. Her topic was "If Everything is so right, why do I feel so bad?"

Mrs. Fillmon has served as dorm mother at Sikes Dorm at Abilene Christian university for 12 years, and teaches the ladies class at Woodlawn Church of Christ.

Attending from Weinert were Mattie White and Faye Jetton.

Shelia Harbers, acting secretary for the Weinert Community Pictorial directory, reports the company will hold a series of picture proofing at First Baptist Church on Nov. 19 and 20. You will receive a card as to the time.

Out of town visitors: Margie Allen Jordan of Hamilton and her daughter, Pamela Marshall with Sarah of Vernon were here to visit her mother, Francis Mahan on Sat.

Francis' whole family are making plans to be here for Thanksgiving.

Visiting with Gus and Henrietta Rueffer from Decatur were her daughter, Kathryn and Larry Schonerstedt with Geanene.

They all attended worship services at Haskell Lutheran on Sunday and the lodge meeting in the afternoon.

Question Greer of Snyder spent the weekend with his daughter, Tinka and Rex Herricks. Her mother was in Lubbock caring for a sick sister.

Randy Alexander of Stamford was home for the weekend with his grandparents, Ed and Zella Alexander, and also enjoyed a visit with old classmates.

His mother, Veta Black, was here on Tuesday for a few hours visit with the Alexanders.

Helen and Buck Turnbow met their daughter, Jeane Perry of Stanton in Abilene on Tuesday for lunch.

Jeane is doing well following her recent illness. Helen is seeing an Abilene doctor about a problem with her knee.

Becky Fry of Bowie was here for a visit with her parents, Louise and Ernest McGuire, and coming from Haskell for Sunday lunch were Tommy and Selina McGuire, Brooke and Brandon.

Ernest did not have the surgery as was reported, due to the serious illness of the doctor's mother. He continues to have problems, but is up and about.

Michelle Sadler, with Tabitha, Malorie, and Meagan of Mineral Wells spent the weekend with her parents, Linda and Leonard Mahan and Donald.

Sandra Stafford, Kim Sauer, with Brianne, Lily and Thomas, all of Great Falls, Montana came this week to help Faye Jetton celebrate her birthday, and spend some time with granddad Ted.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hummel have returned to their home in Sterling, Illinois after several days visit with relatives and friends in our area.

A farewell dinner, eaten together at Ann's Cafe on Sat., included LaVera's sisters, Otie Mayfield, Mabel Derr, John and LaVerne Mayfield and Rita and Chan Hughes, of Munday.

Erma Liles, accompanied by Inez Mobley of Haskell, attended the annual dinner hosted by the Sacred Heart Church in Seymour on Sunday and reports a delicious buffet of food and an enjoyable visit with friends.

Shirley Hudgens, Doneta Hudgens, Paula Hise and Jeanie Stout spent a delightful weekend in Canton and attended the world famous Canton flea market bringing home many treasures with plans to do it again.

R. S. and Betty Sanders spent Saturday in Winters with her father, Ras Gideon, and her sister, Virginia and Jimmy Black.

Tinka and Rex Herricks were in Abilene on Monday to comfort the family of Pat Hale who underwent major surgery at Hendricks hospital.

Our prayers are for a full recovery for him.

Kindness is like snow; it beautifies everything it covers.

Have a nice day.

City applies for landfill change

The City of Haskell has filed an application to amend its permit with the Texas Department of Health to upgrade its landfill to a Type I municipal solid waste site.

The site, located 4.2 miles east of Haskell on US 380, covers approximately 160 acres and is to receive approximately 49 tons of solid waste daily under the regulatory jurisdiction of the health department for disposal or other processing in accordance with the department's regulations.

A technical review of the application is being made by the department's Bureau of Solid Waste Management and various state and local agencies which have jurisdictional interest.

No public hearing will be held on the application unless a person affected has requested a public hearing. Any such request must be in writing and contain the name, mailing address and phone number of the person making the request, along with a brief description of how the requester, or persons represented by the requester, has suffered or will suffer actual injury or economic damage by the granting of the application.

Requests for a public hearing and/or requests for a copy of the application should be submitted in writing to the Chief, Bureau of Solid Waste Management, Texas Department of Health, 1100 W. 49th St., Austin 78756.
