Rick Perry receives oath as Texas Agriculture Commissioner

By Don Comedy
Free Press Publisher

Haskell's Rick Perry became the first Haskell resident ever to hold elected statewide office during public ceremonies in the Senate chamber of the State Capitol last Saturday.

Fred McClure, assistant to the president for legislative affairs, administered the oath. Before the oath, McClure read a note from President Bush extending his congratulations and best wishes to Commissioner Perry.

The public ceremony was attended by a standing room only crowd and was opened with a prayer by Dick Waterfield. He also introduced Anita Perry who thanked everyone present for their assistance with the campaign and gave a special thanks to campaign leaders. She also introduced special guests: Hoyt Perry, (Rick's grandfather); Rick's parents

J. R. and Amelia Perry; his sister and family Morgan and Milla Jones and daughter Caitlin; Anita's parents Dr. Joe and Sister Thigpen; Anita's sister Emily and the Perry children Griffin and Sydney.

Anita also introduced Rick who also thanked several campaign workers and made a brief statement comparing his candidacy to the early settlers of Texas. He said both were facing tough odds and hard tasks, but both the settlers and the Perry campaign persisted and in the end were successful.

Following the ceremony, those attending were invited to a bar-b-cue and open house at the Texas Department of Agriculture offices. Special entertainment was provided by the Mac Abernathy Band.

Hospital administrators to discuss mounting woes

Administrators of hospitals in Haskell and other West Texas cities will meet in Stamford Tuesday for an informal discussion on how to protect their hospitals from attack by inflated costs, skilled care manpower shortages and lower Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements.

Also adding to the problems is a period of widening recession, which historically brings even deeper cuts in Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements, decreasing tax bases and a rising tide of indigent health care.

Discussions will center around ways to counter the attack by pooling resources in such areas as patient care, skilled manpower utilization and information dispersment. Also to be discussed will be new federal and state regulations allowing higher reimbursements to Rural Health Care Clinics established in medically underserved/manpower shortage areas.

Leading the discussions will be Marvin Cole, vice president, Rural Health Affairs for the Texas Hospital Association, and Jim Walker, project director, Rural and Small Hospital Project for the South Carolina Hospital Association.

Also lending their expertise to the meeting will be Frank Williams and Helen Orr of Hendrick Medical Center and Becky J. Harrison, rural health care consultant with Harrison & Associates.

Administrators expected to participate are Bud Comedy of Haskell, Don Hopkins of Stamford, Hershel Earp of Aspermont, Truman Sweeny of Rotan, Chuck C. Latham of Hamlin, Dudley White of Anson, John Martin of Knox City and Dick Stout of Hamilton.

Haskell records extra wet year

It wasn't a record, but the year 1990 went down as one of the wettest in Haskell's history.

Sam Herren, official weather recorder, reported that moisture for the year totaled 34.40 inches, slightly more than 10 inches more than the normal of 24.13 inches.

During the month of December, moisture measured 1.02 inches, slightly above the normal of .89.

Temperatures during December ranged from a low of 8 degrees on Dec. 23 to a high of 81 degrees on Dec. 13.

Indians, Maidens near half-way point

Haskell basketball teams will play Jim Ned there Friday and Albany here next Tuesday to close out the first half of the 7-2A schedule. They played Stamford here Tuesday night of this week.

The local teams split a pair of district contests in Hamlin last Friday, the Maidens winning, 61-40, and the Indians losing, 52-46.

The Maidens made quick work of the Lady Pipers, jumping to a 13-9 first-period lead and stretching it to 27-17 by halftime. A 28-15 fourth-quarter run had the Maidens winning going away.

Shelia Unger scored 23 points to pace the Maidens. Amanda Diaz and Shana McKenzie each scored 10.

The Indians also got off to a fast start, leading 17-6 at the end of the first quarter. But they were outscored 16-6 in the second period while seeing their lead slip to a single point. The Indians still led, 36-33, at the three-quarter mark but Hamlin outscored them 19-10 in the final frame to take the six-point victory.

Rusty Stocks scored 28 points and Adam Coleman scored 11.

At Wylie on Monday night of last week, both Haskell teams bowed to the 3A Bulldog teams. The Maidens lost, 52-37, and the Indians bowed, 54-49.

The Maidens were led by Unger and McKenzie, each of whom had 8 points. For the Indians, Stocks scored 20 points.

National council sets local meeting

Key provisions of the 1990 Cotton Title will be explained here Jan. 18 at a meeting of cotton producers conducted by the National Cotton Council.

The Haskell meeting is one of a series scheduled by the council in Texas and Oklahoma communities. The local meeting will be in the Haskell National Bank Community Building, beginning at 9 a.m.

"Even though the 1990 Farm Bill tracks the 1985 Food Security Act (farm law) very closely, there are enough new provisions and changes to warrant these face-to-face meetings," said Council President

Tommy Funk, a Harlingen producer.

For example, the 1990 Farm Bill freezes the target price level for cotton for 1991-95 at the current rate of 72.9 cents per pound, but calculations of deficiency payments and loan rates, as well as terms and conditions of the loan, remain unchanged. Council economists calculate the loan rate at 50.77 cents per pound.

Among topics to be addressed are planting flexibility, trade, competitiveness, conservation and the environment and the current economic situation.

Board asks bids for elementary classrooms

The Haskell School Board this week is advertising for bids for the construction of a freestanding, single-story classroom building at the Haskell Elementary School.

Bids are being asked in two categories: a base project calling for five new classrooms and a library, and an alternate project calling for six classrooms, a library and a teachers' workshop room.

In either case, one of the classrooms will be a computer lab which will enable the school to update its technology plan as directed by the state.

Which project is accepted will depend on the costs.

School officials estimate the cost of the approximately 8,000-square-foot structure to be between $300,000 and $350,000. The cost will be paid from state and local funds; there will be no bond issue.

The building, with precast concrete walls and steel roofing, will be built west of the elementary building and south of the special education department.

Bid specifications require substantial completion of work on or before June 30. Total completion is expected by late summer, in time for use of the building for the 1991-92 school term. Bids must be received by Jan. 21.

In addition to providing the library and computer lab facilities, the new project will alleviate the crowded conditions now existing at the elementary school. Superintendent Bill Stewart explained that present overcrowded conditions have forced to school to obtain a waiver on class size for one of the elementary classes.

Area included in water project

Thousands of acres of land in Haskell and Knox counties are included in a new national water quality project recently announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The Seymour Aquifer Hydrologic Unit Project, which includes 250,000 acres in Haskell and Knox counties, is one of two Texas sites chosen for 45 national projects.

The other Texas project is the Lake Fork Creek Hydrologic Unit Project, which includes 234,000 acres in Hopkins, Rains and Wood counties in northeast Texas.

This brings the number of water quality projects in Texas to four, said Dr. Billy L. Harris, project administrator and soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in College Station.

"Together, the four projects represent a major statewide effort to improve and maintain the quality of surface and groundwater across 6.78 million acres," Harris said. "They are designed to address existing and potential nonpoint source water pollution problems related to agriculture and forestry."

Harris said the five-year hydrologic unit projects will help farmers and ranchers apply the best management practices to improve water quality and protect surface and groundwater.

The projects also are intended to demonstrate the agricultural community's willingness to address water quality problems and concerns.

The Seymour Aquifer represents the only source of moderate to large supplies of fresh groundwater in that portion of the Rolling Plains. Land users will be encouraged to adopt practices that reduce or prevent water pollution.

Harris said the Lake Fork Creek project in the Sabine Basin will emphasize implementing best management practices for dairy and poultry facilities.

Assisting Harris with the Seymour Aquifer project will be Dr. Robert Lemon, extension service associate in water quality.

Lead agencies with principal responsibility for the projects are the Extension Service and the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board and local districts, along with two USDA agencies, the Soil Conservation Service and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Project activities are being coordinated with other state and federal agencies and organizations involved in water quality, Harris said. These include the U.S. Geological Survey, Texas Water Commission, Texas Water Development Board, Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Church sets concert Saturday

A well-known Christian singer with a name that sounds like an extra from "Gunsmoke" will present a concert Saturday night at East Side Baptist Church in Haskell.

Luke Garrett, a well-known Christian singer, will appear in concert, beginning at 8 o'clock. The public is invited. All young people in grades 7-12 are invited to a youth rally prior to the concert (6 to 8 p.m.).

Garrett may be the only man in the world to have melded the influences of Frank Sinatra, Pat Boone, the Gaithers and Chris Christian to turn out his debut self-titled album.

In a sense, this chapter of the story started with Sinatra, or at least the Best Vocalist award named for him at UCLA---the award Garrett won while mapping out a career in mainstream music.

The nine-week competition wore him down, however, and things began to change internally. "I found myself winning it," he explains, "and was very convicted about my whole life. I did not have a day-to-day walk, by any stretch of the imagination, with the Lord.

"A lot of my friends said, 'You are nuts' when I made the decision (to return to his home state of Oklahoma to begin in Christian music). I just had no more desire to pursue that mainstream career. I can't explain it because I was so g-get-'em. But when you finally channel that energy towards the Lord, it's amazing what He gives to you."

In this case, it was an album contract. After a brief stint in Oklahoma, Garrett followed his parents to Dallas where he began working in a bookstore. Six months later he was offered a music associate position at First Baptist Church in Dallas.

"Being at First Baptist two and a half years is what really started this ministry," Garrett says. What catapulted it was a September 1985 program he did with Boone, who later spoke to none other than Chris Christian about Luke.

"I never thought that Chris would be the one to produce what I was wanting to do," says Garrett. "He has a real understanding of a lot of different types of music, though; he really seemed to know what my voice needed, the inspirational sound I wanted."

Eckles, Burson marry in Spur

Melissa Eckles and Jimmy Burson were united in marriage Jan. 5 at the First United Methodist Church in Spur. The Rev. Lloyd Riddles of Guymon, Okla., uncle to the groom, officiated.

Given in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sparky Eckles of Spur, the bride wore a white satin wedding gown designed by herself, and tailored by Mrs. Patty Wyatt of Spur. The full-length straight gown, with detachable train and large bow at the waistline, was trimmed in wedding lace at the sleeve, neckline and hemline. The bride also designed her headpiece and carried a heart-shaped bouquet of red roses.

Melissa's attendants were K. B. Lane of Lubbock, her maid of honor, and her sisters, Mrs. Dedra Driggers of Spur, Mrs. Audra Bryant of Roby and Jennifer Eckles of Spur. The bridesmaids wore Christmas red, ankle length, two-piece suits with straight skirts and peplon jackets trimmed in red lace. They carried a single white rose.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Burson of Haskell, was attended by his brother, Patrick Burson of Lubbock, his best man, and David Adams, Joey Kimbrough and Ricky Dunnam, all of Haskell. Attending as ushers were Mike Fouts of Lubbock, Randy Roewe of Haskell, Mickey Dunnam of Rochester and Micah Lewis of Canadian, uncle of the bride. All of the male attendants were attired in black tuxedos with red bow ties and cummerbuns as accessories.

Attending as flower girls were Britney Bryant of Roby, niece of the bride, and Betsy Lewis of Canadian, cousin of the bride. The ring bearer was Colin Dunnam of Haskell, friend of the bride and groom.

The candlelight service was beautifully decorated with red poinsettias and greenery adorning the altar table and unity candle. Red bows and greenery accented the aisle pews. The candleabras were lighted by Colby Driggers, nephew of the bride, and Nathan Lewis, cousin of the bride. The music was presented by Mrs. Debbie Ball of Spur, as organist, with vocal performances by Susie Driscoll of Seymour and Trent Driggers of Spur, brother-in-law of the bride. The selections were favorite songs of the bride and groom, including "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do", "After All", "The Wedding Song" and "Sunrise, Sunset".

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Serving at the bride's table were Paul Whitefield, D'Ette Beadle, Edie White and Paige Clark, all friends of the bride from Lubbock. Attending the groom's table were Paige Cannon and Mandy Mays, also friends from Lubbock. The tables were decorated in red and white with silver accompaniments. Red and white table bouquets were used as centerpieces.

The director of the wedding was Mrs. Nell Sharp of Midland, godparent of the bride. Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sampson and Mrs. Estelle Burson of Haskell, grandparents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Eckles of Canadian, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Micah Lewis and Paul Micah and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin and Will, all of Canadian;

The couple departed for a honeymoon trip to San Antonio. They will make their home in Haskell.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers CPA

FILING YOUR 1990 TAX RETURN

Yes, it's time again to file your tax return. Don't procrastinate; file early so that you can get a head start on your 1991 tax financial planning.

Gather all your 1990 tax information as soon as possible. Typical documents that you'll need include forms such as W-2s, 1099s, and K-1s (from partnerships, S corporations, etc.) You'll also need to check your records for alimony paid or received, unemployment or social security benefits received, rental income and expenses, retirement plan contributions, job-related expenses, estimated taxes paid, and child or dependent care expenses. If you're in doubt about the relevance of any piece of information in your files, take it with you to your tax appointment and ask your accountant about it. Remember, you also need to have social security numbers for any dependents you'll be claiming who are two years or older.

Get details on items that you think might apply to you (such as the earned income credit if you are a low-income working parent). Also, while you are gathering your own tax information, check the filing requirements for your children. If any of them is required to file a return, pull together that information at the same time.

If you cannot gather all your tax information in time for the April 15 filing deadline, you can get an automatic four-month extension of time to file by filing Form 4868 by April 15. This is only an extension of time to file your return, not an extension of time to pay your tax bill. You are required to estimate any tax you still owe and send it in with Form 4868.

Final Note: April 15, 1991, is also the deadline for filing an amended 1987 tax return. So if you were planning to amend your 1987 return for some reason, get it taken care of soon.

Mrs. Tracey Stephen Kitten

Lane, Kitten exchange vows

Lori Pat Lane and Tracey Stephen Kitten were united in marriage at 5 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 29, in a double-ring ceremony at the Saint Joseph Catholic Church in Slaton.

Monsignor Curtis T. Hoffman of Slaton and the Rev. Darris Linder of Slaton performed the ceremony before the altar banked with red poinsettias and fan candelabras.

The bride was escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy E. Lane of Haskell.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin R. Kitten of Slaton.

"Jesu Joy of Man's Desire" was played by organist Nelda Lane, aunt of the bride, of Haskell, for seating of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bednarz of Slaton, and parents.

Marsha Tye, aunt of the groom, of Lubbock, vocalist/guitarist, preceded with selections of "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" and "Household of Faith". "The Lord's Prayer" was accompanied by the organist.

The bride entered with an arrangement of "Trumpet Volunteer" by the organist. The bride chose a traditional gown of ivory satin, an Alfred Angelo original, "Dream Maker" designed by Michelle Piccione. Designed with a high wedding band mandarin collar fashioned with hand clipped medallions accented with pearl drops.

The silk illusion yoke held the fitted bodice with dropped basque waist-line embellished with heavily beaded Schiffler embroidered medallions garnished with seed pearls and sequins. The long slim sleeves appliqued with Schiffler embroidered medallions covered with seed pearls and sequins finished with the traditional point and closed with small ivory satin buttons.

The sleeves featured a double satin butterfly bow on the shoulder covered with lace pearl drops. The full satin skirt accented with large English net scalloped motifs in front and back trimmed with beaded Schiffler embroidered medallions flowed to a cathedral train finished with wide scalloped lace sprinkled lavishly with pearls. A large double satin butterfly bow graced the waist-line at back garnished with cluster of pearls. The pencil edged veil of ivory silk illusions flowed to tea length, fashioned with matching butterfly bow in back and garnished with pearls. The veil and matching pouf veil were sprinkled with pearls.

For something old, she carried a white linen handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother Reese, a small white Bible received from Mr. and Mrs. James Powell at the age of three. Something borrowed was her sister's Tech ring. Something blue was her mother's garter. A sixpence was placed in her boot by her father, given to her by The Personality Shoppe of Haskell. Something new was her gown.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Lugene Pickering of Lubbock, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Robyne Stewart of Munday, friend of the bride, Trish Karr of Lexington, Ky., sister of the groom, Darla Lane of Austin, sister-in-law of the bride, Becky Bednarz of Slaton, cousin of the groom, Kathy Kelly of Lubbock and Cindi McElroy of Lubbock, friends of the couple. Their gowns were identical dresses from Bianchi of iridescent taffeta in V'ed back. The three-quarter length sleeves were puffed with an inverted pleat. The straight skirt had a bias flounce down one side held by a large cabbage rose. Headpieces were cherry tulle pouffs edged in ribbon designed by Lugene. Each carried gold trumpets with hurricane lamps entwined with ribbon and ivy.

Camille Karr, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore an ivory taffeta tea length dress with ivory eyelet marquisette overlay draped with ivory rosebuds. Her short veil fell from a single ivory rose. Her grandmother designed her attire.

Russell Kitten of Lubbock, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Doug Heinrich of Slaton, friend of the groom, Glenn Bednarz of Slaton, cousin of the groom, Kendall Karr of Lexington, Ky., brother-in-law of the groom, Les Lane of Haskell, brother of the bride, Lee Lane of Austin, brother of the bride, and Kevin Kelly of Lubbock, friend of the couple.

Clay Pickering of Lubbock, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer and Chad Pickering of Lubbock, nephew of the bride, served as messenger boy. Ushers were Brent Rumpy of Slaton, friend of the groom, Chris Bednarz of Slaton, cousin of the groom, and David Pickering of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bride.

Groomsmen's and ushers' attire were Parisian grey tuxedos by Christian Dior, ivory wing shirts with Parisian grey ties and cummerbunds. The groom, ring bearer and messenger boy wore full dress grey tuxedos with tails. Fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos by Christian Dior.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lane wore an ankle length iridescent emerald dress featuring long sleeves with peplum trimmed in gold braid by Alfred Angelo. Mrs. Kitten, mother of the groom, wore a two-piece emerald faille suit with peplum. Their corsages were fresh gardenias.

Lectors were Jim Tye, uncle of the groom, and Roy Jones, cousin of the groom. Registering guests were Annette Jones, cousin of the groom.

The reception and barbecue, catered by the Knights of Columbus, was hosted by the bride's parents at the VFW building in Slaton. Music was provided by the groom's grandfather and friend.

The bride's table was covered with ivory satin cloth with chiffon overlay draped with ivory rosebuds and gold leaf cascades. Her ivory tiered cake was topped with a bride and groom in a crystal heart. Her appointments were in gold.

The groom's table was covered with a charcoal grey cloth with ball fringe representing cotton bolls. His cake was a replica of a cotton boll. His centerpiece was a cowboy and bride in a brandy sniffer. Appointments were in silver.

A small table held the gold fountain of Sangria. The background for the tables represented a Winter Wonderland decorated with flocked trees and twinkle lights. Guest tables were covered with ivory cloths centered with gold leaves, cotton bolls, pine cones and red candles.

Serving at the bride's table were Mika Clay of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, and Angela Witt of Lubbock, friend of the bride. Serving at the groom's table were Nancy Antcliff and Dorothy Kitten of Slaton. Also assisting the servers were Kay Ella Bruedigam, Jeanette Linder and Elsie Schilling.

A dance followed, hosted by the groom featuring "Rex Thomas".

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the "50 Yard Line" in Lubbock on Friday evening, Dec. 28.

The bride graduated from Haskell High School and is currently attending Texas Tech University where she will graduate in May with a BS degree in Home Economics/Teachers of Young Children. The groom is a graduate of Slaton High School and Texas Tech University with a BS degree in Agriculture-Entomology. He is self employed as a farmer.

A lingerie shower was held Nov. 23 in Munday with Robyne Stewart as hostess.

A gift tea was held Nov. 25 in the home of Mrs. Bailey Toliver in Haskell. Co-hostesses were Jamie Weaver, Gayla Nanny, Erlinda Mayfield, Sue Miller, Charlene Dumas, Joetta Burnett, Audrey Renfro, Martha Richardson, Kay Croft, Nedra McCauley, Ruby Turner, Christi Stapleton, Mollie Moeller, Linda Briscoe and Nelda Lane.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

The Social Security program must be the most cost-effective government program of all.

It costs $2.4 billion to administer the program, but that's less than 1 percent of the $271 billion it will pay out this year, and considerably less than that of the $342 billion that will be collected.

-o-

America's sophisticated military might requires a vast support system.

A TV report points out that 30,000 airmen are serving in Operation Desert Shield in support of the 500 aircraft deployed there.

-o-

Columnist George Will notes that America's 25th largest school district in terms of student enrollment is in Germany. It educates 723,000 Americans in the 14 NATO countries.

-o-

Quote of the week:
"Bennett (William), who has been secretary of education without solving the problems of education and drug czar without solving the problems of drugs, now wants to write books on how to solve the problems of both. In America, this is what we call 'expertise'." . . . Baltimore Sun columnist Roger Simon.

-o-

"Appoint a committee."
It used to be the answer to just about any problem.

Today, it's "form an organization."

The American Society of Association Executives (ASAE) predicts that Americans will form more than 1,000 organizations this year. There already are more than 100,000, one for just about every industry, profession, cause and point of view.

They range from the American Association of Retired Persons with 28 million members to the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association with just seven members.

The relatively new Mothers Against Drunk Driving already has 1 million members. More than 100,000 have signed up for the year-old Airline Passengers Association of North America, dedicated to making airline travel safer and more convenient.

The ASAE says that seven out of 10 adult Americans belong to at least one organization.

Although winter has not really been here that long, we have certainly had our share of cold, freezing weather, haven't we? Looks as if it will be a long, hard one.

Birthday greetings are sent to Pat Gray of Stamford, Tom Massey of Graham and Fay Hubbard of Abilene. Also, belated birthday greetings to Doris Cowan and Mary Calicoate.

Best wishes are sent to newlyweds, Chandra and Dustin Mathis. As everyone no doubt knows, Chandra is editor of the Stamford American. A long, happy married life is wished for them.

It was good to see Barbara Cox of Old Glory, also, the Jesse Mortons of Stamford, Irene Moon of Stamford; and Hamlin ladies: Frances Sharer and Leona Russell, all at Wal-Mart this past Saturday; also Doris Lehmann and daughter: Norva Smith of Rule.

My apologies to Evy Michelle and Steven Saffel of Abilene for misspelling their names in last week's column.

Sympathy is extended to the families of Beatrice Gifford of Lueders and Oscar Corzine of Rule.

Our wishes are sent to Belle Turner, for a speedy return to good health, a recent patient in Haskell Memorial Hospital; and to Raymond Woodriddle of Old Glory, who underwent surgery in a Ft. Worth hospital this past week for resection of an aneurysm; and to Lou Dell Casey as she goes for further tests to Abilene next week.

Sunday visitors of Ethel Greeson and the John Greesons were Ethel's daughter and John's sister, Nancy Wright, her husband, Millard and daughter Kelley of Lewisville. This was their delayed Christmas, as there was illness during Christmas then last weekend, the inclement weather.

Of interest, in Bob Bruce's "Travel" in Sunday's Abilene Reporter-News was the fact that the Alamo is still the state's #1 attraction with San Antonio's River Walk also listed near the top. Little did we dream that our noon-time activity (going through the Alamo in 1942 during our business college days) would ever be at the top 49 years later. Many of us had little or no money and could go through the Alamo free of charge. During those days, the San Antonio River was off-limits for that was where muggings and such-like took place, so that was avoided. My, how times have changed! What is the old saying? "If you live long enough, you are apt to see everything."

Stanley and Linda Joy Trammell and children, Chad and Amber of Aspermont were guests for a Mexican dinner this past Sat., Jan. 5 of Joy's parents, Travis and Lorene Boyd of Rule. This was in celebration of Stanley's birthday.

Guests in the home of Coy and Retith Keahey on Christmas Eve were Jimmy and Laura Trammell and children, Sarah, Rebecca and Arthur of Abilene; Jerry and Linda Patterson and children, Christa, Mary and Abbey of Princeton, Indiana and Mark and Lisa Justice of Dallas; also Vida and Rusty White of Rule and Tauniya White of Tyler.

Spending the week with Coy and Retith Keahey were her daughter and family, Jerry and Linda Patterson and daughters, Christa, Mary and Abbey of Princeton, Indiana.

On the night of New Year's Eve approximately 50 members and friends of the Rule Church of Christ met in the Fellowship Room of the church for snacks, games and to welcome the New Year in. Almost everyone stayed until midnight, at which time, "Happy New Year" was exchanged, and then, "Happy Birthday" was sung to Paula Wilcox, the wife of Jackie. Also, "Old Lang Syne" was led by the oldest person present, Ethel Greeson. A fun night was had by all. This is a New Year's Eve tradition at the Church. Everyone enjoyed the fresh black-eyed peas brought by Denise Turner.

Winter has really aimed its worst weather at us, hasn't it? Although ice-covered trees and weeds alike are picturesque, a sunshiny day now and then would be nice, would it not? Although that is no longer my problem, I do feel sorry for those of you who have to get out and drive to your jobs these bad mornings.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family of Archie Liles of Stamford, and also, the family of Clifford Cowan of Lueders. Sympathy is also sent to Annie Baize of Tuxedo and the family of Bernice Prescott of Cisco. Bernice was raised near Stamford and was Bernice Bush.

THINK ABOUT IT: "The advice your son rejected is now being given to your grandchildren." (Borrowed from the Rule Reminder).

We all find it hard to believe that another New Year is here. We all wonder what the months ahead hold for us.

This month we have five birthdays: Adeline Letz, Agnes Rike, Mae Wimberly, Thalia Jenkins and Virgil Wall. New residents are Harvey Dudensing and Belle Turner. We welcome them and hope they will make this a home to them.

Parks Woodson has left to go live with family in Florida. Venus Brewer also left to be near family in California. We wish them the very best.

Our sympathies are expressed to the families of Lila Bell Woodson and Oscar Corzine.

New employees are Debbie Merchant and Tina Webb. Celebrating 50 years of marriage the 16th of this month will be Charlie and Leona Seelig. Congratulations on your golden anniversary.

A special thanks to the "Four Friends" for their wonderful singing during our Christmas party and to Alton Middleton for being Santa Claus. Also thanks to all those who helped and furnished refreshments. Your kindness is very much appreciated.

We had several in attendance for the Christmas party. It was wonderful to see our residents so happy.

Please remember us in your daily thoughts. We would gladly welcome your visits.

Dates announced for driving course

After a hiatus of a year, the Driving Safety Course designed by the Association of Retired Persons is again ready to be taught in Haskell.

It is open to anyone 50 years of age or older, regardless of whether they are members of AARP.

Don Kreymer will be the instructor for the two-day, 8-hour class. It will be held at the Haskell National Bank Community Room from 1 to 5 p.m. on Jan. 30-31.

AARP was founded in 1958. It has over 30 million members and is growing at the rate of 200,000 new members each month. It is a non-profit, non-partisan fellowship for people over 50, whether they are actively employed, semi-retired, or retired.

About half of all Americans age 50 and older are members of the nationwide organization.

In 1969, the AARP commenced teaching the National Safety Council's Defensive Driving Course. In the 10 years that followed, more than 400,000 older Americans completed the course. Each year, AARP was honored as the No. 1 civilian trainer of drivers.

Beneficial as this course was, there were some limitations in its application to older drivers. The Defensive Driving Course was geared to drivers 16 and older. Considerable emphasis is given to areas not seen as serious problems in older drivers.

The "DDC" programs are presented to a passive audience. There is no consideration of age-related physical changes. Therefore the AARP developed its own course, a classroom refresher curriculum for older motorists.

It is called "55 Alive/Mature Driving". It spends major effort in considering the physical problems that affect older drivers, medical and pharmacological dangers, declining perceptual skills, rules of the road, local driving problems and license renewal.

The course is presented with a minimum of lectures and a maximum of group participation and interaction. Classes are limited in size in order to make effective learning and maximum retention possible.

Cost of the course is $8. Registration forms are available at the Haskell Experienced Citizens Center. The completed registration form, along with a personal check for $8 payable to AARP, should be sent to: 55 Alive, 1410 Oak Hills Dr., Graham, TX 76046. The first 20 applicants are guaranteed acceptance.

CRUCIFEROUS VEGIES

Cruciferous vegetables are often referred to as cabbage-family or mustard-family vegetables. Their name comes from a four-leaf pattern that resembles a cross. Other than cabbage and mustard greens, cruciferous vegetables include broccoli, brussels sprouts, kohlrabi and cauliflower, all of which may help prevent certain cancers from developing.

Notes From The Rolling Plains

(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

I awoke on a recent Sunday morning to the howl of a north wind and blowing snow and sleet. From the cool feeling atop my somewhat balding head I knew it was time to go outside and gather some firewood for the two woodstoves. It was 4:30 A.M. and the temperature stood at 9 degrees. Dressed only in my long johns, the minute it took to get the firewood inside was a trying experience to say the least. The temperature inside the house stood at a cool 48 degrees as I'd procrastinated at the 10 P.M. hour and not loaded the stoves to their capacity. Standing around the stove and waiting for its warmth to override the cold house, I faced my west window and imagined having to live out in such a ferocious norther. The story about J. Wright Moorar came to mind when he was camped on the north rim of Palo Duro on Christmas day 1875. The wind was howling from the north and the men had previously killed seven or eight bison so that they might wrap up in the freshly skinned hides for protection against the cold. A new man was in camp and when Moorar broke out the camp ax to chop the frozen bisquits for their Christmas dinner, the new fellow broke down and cried. Its funny how man can be turned into whimpering, cringing creatures when Mother Nature decides to flex her muscles. Be it the powerful thunderstorms of springtime or the deliriously cold northers of winter, it takes but one to remind us that we are helpless when nature vents her fury. As I sit by my warm fire and listen to the winds in the dark night I wonder how many men have passed the trails described in another poem by Robert Service.

"Staggering blind through the storm-whirl, stumbling mad through the snow,

Frozen stiff in the ice-pack, brittle and bent like a bow;
Featureless, formless, forsaken, scented by wolves in their flight,

Left for the wind to make music through ribs that are glittering white;"

Special person

Editor: On behalf of my family, I would like to send out a very special thanks to an extraordinary person. Her name is Wilma John Pruett, our Grandoll, and she worked so hard to make our holiday extra special. Sometimes we all forget to show her how much we appreciate and love her.

She has been a resident of Haskell all her life and she has spent all of it helping people, giving to the community and being a good friend.

Thank you for allowing us to let her know how happy she made our life.

Where's the fire?

Editor: My urgent topic is: "Where's the fire?"

Each time my alarm alerts me to a fire in the city, I say a brief prayer. The prayer is not only that the fire will be minor and minimal damage to the structure ablaze, along with the safety for the occupants involved, but it also is a prayer for those firemen who have to respond to the call.

Even in the dark early hours of the morning when the city is asleep and streets are for the most part clear of vehicles, the volunteer firemen must risk their lives enroute to a fire. But especially our lives are on the line during the daylight and evening hours when the city is awake.

"Where's the fire?" some city residents seem to be asking. Then they follow the fire equipment, looking to see "where's the fire" and blocking the way of the firemen who know what the sight may be. It is dangerous enough to fight fires---the most dangerous occupation there is. Must we fight the traffic, too?

You can ask, "Where's the fire?" but please do not go looking. Not only is searching for the fire dangerous for the firemen who have their emergency flashers and headlights at full beam, and hazardous for you the residents who hinder our way, it is also a traffic violation for you.

Therefore, when you see us coming, clear the way. It may be your house, or business, or family. And believe it or not, we, the firefighters, need to be there before you do.

U.S. CAR OWNERS FIGHT BACK WITH NEW ECONOMICAL GAS SAVING BREAKTHROUGH!

United States Army Tests Report Gasoline Savings Of Over 28%!!!

Developed by funding from N.A.S.A. — Reduces Hydrocarbon Emissions by 99.8%. Reduces Dangerous Carbon Monoxide Emissions by 100%. Increases Horsepower and Acceleration by a full 11%!

In England gasoline sells for an incredible $4.00 per gallon. Here in the United States we are currently paying a nationwide average of $1.38 per gallon, but with the current Middle East crisis it's anyone's guess how high gasoline prices will rise. One thing is for certain and we all know it, prices will go up.

Now for the good news. A brand new, U.S. Patented, economical breakthrough gasoline-saving device that really works is now available.

It has been tested by the United States Army, Chrysler Motors, Airborne Express, two independent, category 1 U.S. Government EPA-approved testing laboratories, one New York Police Department, four different Bus Lines and many thousands of private individuals.

It is called the PetroMizer® and that is exactly what it is — an honest-to-goodness gasoline miser that is saving everyone who owns one, big bucks at the gas station.

More good news. PetroMizer® can be installed without a mechanic in three minutes flat by anyone. No tools or knowledge of how cars work whatsoever is needed. Or, a service station attendant can just snap it on while you are waiting for gas. But perhaps the most exciting news is its unbelievable low price. Before you hear how so little will save you so much, listen to this: One test showed an average fuel savings of 4.6 gallons per day. Based on a 10 hour day, a 260 day year, the savings per year was 1,196 gallons. At $1.25 per gallon, the total dollar savings in one year was $1,495.00.

In field tests conducted by the United States Army, in a report dated September 11, 1989, we quote, "The culmination of the evaluation on the fuel saving devices which I had attached to the 817th fuel consuming equipment during the October 88 M.U.T.A. has been completed with the 817th's return from Annual Training.

Taking into consideration the load this equipment carried to and from Fort Campbell, Kentucky, the results surprised even me. The complete test reveals these devices (PetroMizer®) when attached to the exterior of the fuel line, will increase local driving mileage, on average, by five miles, from fourteen miles per gallon to nineteen miles per gallon. On long distance driving utilizing limited access thoroughfares this has increased to twenty two miles per gallon. In addition to the M 1009's satisfactory performance, the M-35A2 went from eight miles per gallon to fourteen miles per gallon. Signed Paul T. Cahill, Capt., M.I. United States Army.

The test vehicles all had production Chevrolet Blazer chassis. These United States Army tests showed and average fuel savings of 28.5% or an increase of 4.64 miles per gallon. Negotiations have begun with the United States Army to install PetroMizer® on all of their vehicles.

After testing PetroMizer® on five police cars, they projected an annual savings to the county of $3,745.00 and $300,000.00 for the fleet of 400 vehicles.

—Police Department
Westchester County, NY

The PetroMizer® is a Patented device based on technology developed under a N.A.S.A. grant. But how does it work? The Scientific explanation is: "The molecules of hydrocarbons shift from a certain configuration to another. At the same time, intermolecular force (van der Waals force) is considerably reduced or depressed."

In simple English, it works with magnets. Utilizing advanced magnetic technology Petro-

Mizer® subjects the fuel molecules to a magnetic field, causing them to change their orientation in a direction opposite that of the magnetic fields. This is called polarization. The reorientation of the fuel molecules tends to reduce surface tension. With less tension the fuel molecules move farther apart allowing a better oxygen mixture not only in the carburetor, but through the manifold and on into the combustion chamber. This increases the explosive power, leaving far fewer unburned deposits and residues to clog your engine and reduce mileage and performance. Increasing the efficiency of the burn yields substantial fuel savings, more horsepower, improved performance and reduced hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions. As most people are aware, hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions have been directly linked to cancers, respiratory diseases and other serious health problems, as well as contributing to the destruction of Earth's ozone layer. They are making our air virtually unbreathable.

In addition, PetroMizer® helps prolong engine life and reduces maintenance costs for both gasoline and diesel engines. The PetroMizer® can safely be used on all gasoline or diesel engines in automobiles, trucks, tractors, R.V.'s, buses, boats, etc.

Scientific studies are all and fine, but what do average everyday people who are using PetroMizer® have to say about it?

Automotive engineer John Eckert writes, "After installing the PetroMizer® on my 81 Honda Civic with 90,000 miles, I no longer experienced "pinging" on hills. I could now climb the long grade on Route 28 south of Oneonta in 5th gear. Before PetroMizer®, the car would buck, shake and stall within 500 feet of the top. It was necessary to set the idle speed back after 3000 miles, as it had climbed from 800 - 1100 RPM, another indication of more power."

Peter Bryant of Seal Cove writes, "I changed from skeptic to believer as both the driveability and mileage of my 1984 Dodge Daytona were dramatically improved. I installed PetroMizer® in only 3 minutes!" James La Marca, President of System Freight Inc., North Bergen, N.J. writes (for the ten trucks tested) "... they (PetroMizer®) would save $630.00 per truck, per year. With our fleet of 60 vehicles, that equals a savings of $37,800.00 per year. With this data, that was accumulated by our own staff, we would be foolish not to equip our entire fleet with PetroMizer®. Enclosed is our purchase order for 50 PetroMizers®."

D. Fell, Jr., Secretary Treasurer of Frames Motor Freight of West Chester, Pa., writes, "Thanks for bringing this (PetroMizer®) to our attention. We expect to save over $14,000.00

"The M-35A2 (Test Vehicle) went from Eight Miles Per Gallon to Fourteen Miles Per Gallon."

—Paul T. Cahill, Capt., M.I.
United States Army

next year."

A letter from Eckert Energy Savers to Mr. William Jackson, Kraft Inc., Walton, N.Y. in part reads "In three months and 43,000 miles these two units (PetroMizer®) have already saved 1,413 gallons and $1,660.00. Bill, you are to be commended for your interest in fuel savings which, with purchase of PetroMizer® for the fleet, will now result in significant dollar savings for your employer, Kraft, Inc."

Joan Egnatoff, a secretary in Phoenix, Arizona writes I recently installed a PetroMizer® in my 1985 Buick Somerset and am very impressed with the results. Before installing PetroMizer® I was getting between 23 and 25 mpg. Recently myself and three friends drove to Laughlin, Nevada from Phoenix, a 230 mile trip through mostly uphill mountainous roads. I thought this would be a good test for PetroMizer®. With PetroMizer® installed we recorded 32 miles to the gallon. That's well over the 23% fuel savings that I was promised. I easily installed PetroMizer® myself in just a few minutes with no tools required. I am very happy."

Michael MacDonald writes, "I put your PetroMizer® on my 1987 Ford Crown Victoria. It was real easy and I didn't even get my hand dirty. Just clip it to the fuel line. The first thing I noticed was an increase in power, like I had gotten a tune up. The car would pull up a hill under full load without straining. Since installing the PetroMizer® maintenance costs have dropped. Less oil is burned. I needed a tune up after 30,000 miles instead of the usual 20,000. My mechanic said the plugs were still good even after all those miles. I would recommend the PetroMizer® to any professional driver or anyone who wants better performance and to save money."

Michael Carlon, President of Carden Designs Inc., Cedar Springs, MI writes, "Until the installation of (PetroMizer®) there was considerable spark-knocking, which has been totally eliminated. This was a problem Chrysler Motor Corp. was unable to correct."

Michael Deck, M.D., of Rye, New York writes, "This letter is to express my great satisfaction with the PetroMizer® that I have used on my BMW 3201. Prior to installation of this device I had been recording 25-26 MPG ... on a long trip I recorded an even 30 MPG ... the engine runs better, pings less and feels more lively."

Vans and Trucks Magazine didn't believe it so they conducted their own test. The result, and we quote, "was drastically better than that achieved in the controlled tests." (mentioned above).

In New York, the Westchester County Police Department tested PetroMizer® on five police cars. After testing PetroMizer® they projected an annual savings to the county on the five cars of $3,745.00 and an astounding $300,000.00 on their entire fleet of 400 cars.

PetroMizer® is guaranteed for life against defects or flaws in material or workmanship of any kind. It cannot possibly harm your car in any way, it can only help it. And you can rest assured that it will not interfere with your car's manufacturer's warranty. It can easily be switched from your old car to your next car. (Or let it increase the resale value of your car when you sell it. You can always buy another PetroMizer® for your new car.)

So, if you are tired of being at the mercy of third world oil producing countries, if you want better gas mileage, more horsepower, a better running, longer lasting engine with lower emissions, to help save our planet, then order your PetroMizer® today.
