

Street dance slated Saturday

A street dance in Haskell Saturday night will serve as a climax to this month's Super 2nd Saturday activities.

The dance will begin at 8 o'clock with the "Crosswinds" providing the music. Spectators are welcome and may bring folding chairs. There will be no charge, but pass-the-hat donations will be accepted.

During the day, the McMurry cheerleaders will operate a booth, the Muscular Dystrophy Association will have a booth and the Rotary Club will conduct a bake sale. Concession stands will be operated by the Bass Club, Catholic Church, Assembly of God and Church of God.

Individuals or organizations desiring a concession or craft booth should call Von Marr at 864-8936.

Gibson chosen for Greenbelt

Chad Gibson has been chosen to play for the South team at the 1991 Greenbelt Bowl all-star football game in Childress.

Precinct boundaries to be re-drawn

By Wendell Faight

Drastic changes in the makeup of Haskell County commissioner precincts are expected to result from a recent decision of the Commissioners Court.

Commissioners voted May 28 to re-design the county's four precincts in an effort to bring them into compliance with a federal voting rights act which mandates that precincts be of near-equal population.

The county has engaged the services of Bickerstaff, Heath and Smiley, an Austin legal firm which specializes in re-apportionment, to assist commissioners in re-drawing precinct lines.

County Judge B. O. Roberson said the county hopes to have a preliminary plan as to head count within the next week or 10 days. A public meeting has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. June 20 in the district court room at which time Haskell County citizens will be given opportunity to voice their opinions on re-districting.

The Commissioners Court will make the decision on re-districting, but that decision must be approved by the U.S. Department of Justice which will determine if it complies with the voting rights act.

Haskell County's present four commissioner precincts are based on square miles rather than population. Each precinct covers approximately one-fourth of the county's 900-square-mile area.

As a result of this arrangement, 55 percent of Haskell County's population is in precinct 1 while only 12 percent is in precinct 3. Precinct 4 has 19 percent and precinct 2 has 14 percent.

When re-districting lines are drawn, each precinct, ideally, will have 1,705 residents, or 25 percent of the county's 6,820 population. The law allows a tolerance of 10 percent.

The present precinct 1 has a population of 3,737. The precinct covers the northwest quadrant of the county, including the northwest portion of Haskell, all of Rule, Rochester and O'Brien, as well as the points in between. J. L. Grand is the present commissioner.

Precinct 2, represented by Ronnie Chapman, covers the northeast part of Haskell and the area east of the Old Benjamin Road and north of US 380. The population is 962.

Precinct 3 covers southeast Haskell and the southeast part of the county, including Paint Creek. It has a population of 831. Commissioner is J. R. Perry.

Precinct 4 covers southwest Haskell and southwest Haskell County, including Sagerton and the portion of Stamford which is in Haskell County. The population is 1,290. C. A. Turnbow is commissioner.

The new commissioner boundaries will be in place for the 1992 elections.

Flag raising

Members of Rogers-Cox American Legion Post 221 conducted a brief ceremony Friday morning in observance of Memorial Day. The ceremony consisted of a rifle salute, playing of taps and raising the flag to half mast.

Pogue Grocery closes its doors

If Haskell seems a little different this week, maybe it's because the town no longer boasts of a Pogue Grocery.

The long-time Haskell business closed its doors this week, completing the final chapter of its 53-year history.

"I have mixed feelings," said owner W. S. (Bud) Pogue Friday as he surveyed the shelves of the store, made bare over recent weeks as he liquidated the merchandise. "But it's time to call it quits."

No more six- and seven-day weeks for the Haskell businessman. He's going to be spending his time tending his cows, fishing, hunting, traveling, and "maybe playing a little golf."

Pogue Grocery, which remained at its original location at 113 N. Ave. E throughout its history, was founded in 1938 by the present owner's father, Wash Pogue, and his brother, Curtis Pogue.

Bud Pogue joined the business in 1941 after his graduation from high school, and except for a couple of brief interludes has been there since. In the late 1940s, Bud Pogue and his brother, Bill, took over the store. This association continued until 1962 when Bill moved to Arizona.

"It's been fun," said the retiring owner. "I always said I hoped I would go out when I got ready, and not because I had to. And that's the way it is."

Pogue and his wife, Nadine, have two sons, Glenn of Haskell and Perry of Conroe.

Haskell High to get new football stadium

Haskell High School will have a new football stadium for the 1991 season, and the school's insurance is covering virtually all of the cost.

The School Board awarded a contract Friday night to Sturdisteel, Inc., of Waco to replace the west stands destroyed in the April 24 tornado. Cost for the project will be $142,600.

Separate contracts provide for replacement of the stadium's lighting system at a cost of $39,045, a new fence for $8,700 and a new scoreboard for $11,476.

The school still does not know what it will do about the damaged visitors' stands on the east side of the field. The insurance adjuster has not determined whether these stands should be repaired or replaced.

Sturdisteel will build the west stands at its plant in Waco and then transport them to Haskell to be erected. The contractor is expected to begin cleaning up the debris from the destroyed stands this week, and have the new stands in Haskell by the first of August. Completion is expected two weeks thereafter, in plenty of time for the first home football game against Seymour on Sept. 13.

When completed, Haskell should have one of the finest football stadiums in the area. The west stands will be moved back 10 or 12 feet farther from the playing field, increasing the sideline area by that width. There will be 14 rows of seats, compared to nine rows in the old stands, enabling all seats to be between the 20-yard lines.

Although the stands will be 186 feet long, compared to the former length of 240 feet, the number of seats will be increased slightly due to the increased number of rows. Seats will be made of maintenance-free aluminum.

An 8x40-foot press box will be built atop the stands.

The lighting system, contracted to Permian Basin Electric Inc. of Aspermont, will consist of four free-standing poles with underground wiring.

The new modern scoreboard will be installed by Spectrum Corp. of Houston and the fence will be erected by Jones County Fence Co. A new public address system will be installed by F&D Electronics of Haskell.

Contracts for the stadium were awarded without bids, due to emergency. State law allows schools to make emergency expenditures without bids. It would have been impossible to have gone through the bid process and to have had the stadium ready for next football season, Superintendent Bill Stewart said.

Stewart said insurance will cover all but about $15,000 of the total project.

The school should learn soon what the insurance company agrees to do about the east stands. Stewart said a very preliminary repair cost estimate for the east stands has been set at $30,000.

Model plane club schedules 'fun fly'

Texas Chiefs Model Airplane Club will have its annual open house and "fun fly" Saturday and Sunday at the model airport three miles east of Haskell.

The public is invited to come out and see the model airplanes.

Spectators will be asked to select their choices for the prettiest and ugliest models, and plaques will be awarded to the winners.

Also receiving awards will be the pilot coming the longest distance and the pilot having having the worst crash.

The club will have two raffles. One will be for a ready-to-fly model with engine and radio, along with free flying lessons. The other will be for a six-channel radio set.

The fun fly Saturday will feature such events as most loops, most rolls, most touch-and-goes, carrying an egg aloft without losing it, and climb and glide. Demonstration flying, including a sky diving GI Joe, will highlight Sunday's activities.

Hot dogs, nachos, snow cones and soft drinks will be available at the field.

The event is sanctioned by the Academy of Model Aeronautics and has the support of a number of model manufacturers. Flyers are expected from Oklahoma and New Mexico, as well as Texas.

Homes to be toured Sunday

Four impressive Haskell homes will be viewed Sunday afternoon by local citizens during a "Patriotic Tour of Homes," sponsored by the Haskell County Heart Association.

The tour will be from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Tickets, at $4 each, are available at the Haskell National Bank or from Mary Rike or Ruby Turner. They also will be available at each of the homes.

Homes to be toured include those of Sheila McMeans, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kaigler, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cox.

All of the homes will be open during the tour hours and citizens may visit them in any order.

Refreshments will be served at the Turner home.

Proceeds from the tour will go to the American Heart Association.

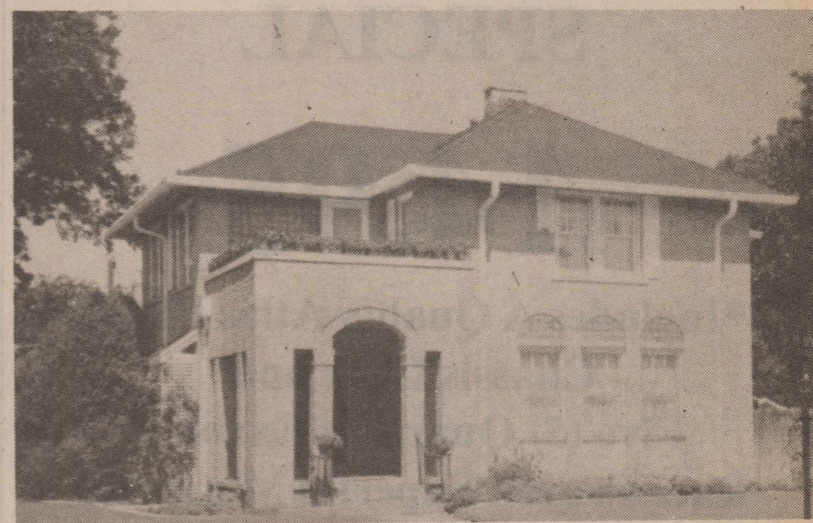

Here is a rundown on the homes to be toured:

Sheila McMeans

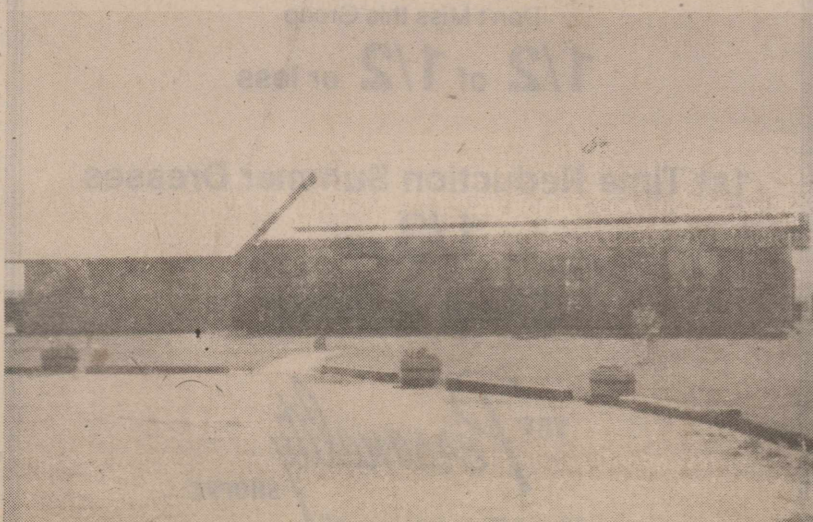

Located on the east edge of Haskell, north of Trinity Lutheran Church, this country home was built in 1987. It is of blue grey brick and has a tin roof. It has a large front porch with a white railing.

Tour to feature four residences

Tom and Mary Kaigler
The Mediterranean-style home at 901 N. Ave. F was built in 1926 by John W. Pace, early-day founder of the Haskell Telephone Co. Located on a half-block lot on (then) Brick Street, the house was unusual for that time with solid double-brick construction, metal lath and plaster interior walls and a system of servant "call" bells.

Now blended with an added, modern den and updated decor, the crystal chandeliers, wide decorative moldings and high ceilings retain the ambience of tradition for the 65-year-old house.

The Kaiglers, the third owners, moved to Haskell from Austin in July 1985.

Wallace and Jo Cox
Built in 1910 by Bob Robertson, this home at 701 N. Ave. K, was formerly owned by Dr. Gordon Phillips, Bailey Post and Clinton (Bud) Herren. Helen and Oscar Oates lived in the house during World War II. The Coxes bought the home in November 1962.

The home was remodeled in May 1988 and a den was added. The original house had a screened front porch and back porch, two coke-burning fireplaces and one bath.

It was the only house on the lot for many years and was considered country until the mid-40s.

Abe and Ruby Turner
This two-story home at 311 N.

Ave. F was built in 1904 by Spence Bevers, grandfather of Barney and Woodrow Frazier and Marcille Jones. Mr. Bevers was a rancher and early-day settler of Haskell County.

The home has had several owners, including a Mrs. Bailey who lived in the house and rented out some of the rooms.

The Turners purchased the house from Dr. R. A. Middleton in 1964 and it has been remodeled inside and out. The exterior walls have been bricked and cedar shake shingles have been added to the roof as well as to the window areas. Two original chimneys were rebuilt. A large covered patio and swimming pool have been added to the back yard.

The home is furnished with many antiques. One wall of the dining room features a wall cabinet that came from the old Payne Drug Store. It now contains antique tin containers, such as tobacco tins. The master bedroom is furnished with an iron bed that came from Ruby's parents' farm. In the patio area are many antique signs and an antique Texaco gasoline pump.

Dusty Meeks selected All-American

Haskell's Dusty Meeks has been selected to the NAIA all-American track team.

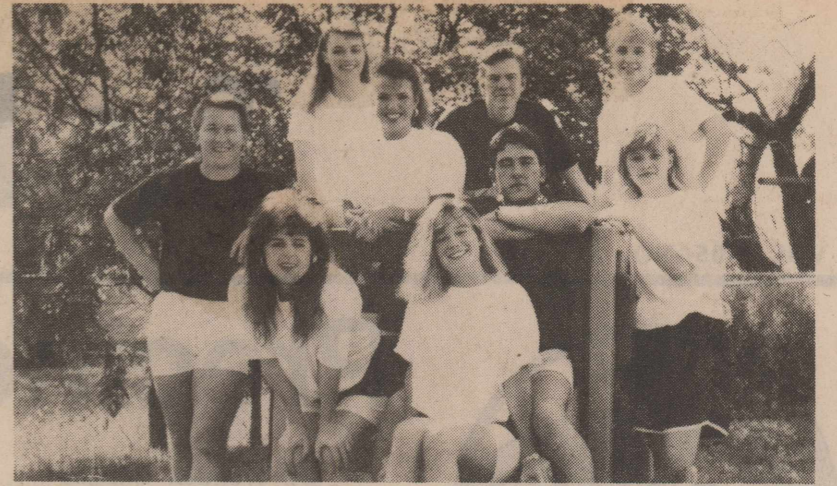

The Midwestern State University sophomore becomes the first all-American ever from the Wichita Falls university.

A high jumper, Meeks set a school record with a jump of 6-10 3/4 in winning first place at the TIAA conference meet in Alpine in April. He competed in the recent national NAIA meet in Stephenville, finishing fourth with a jump of 6-9 3/4.

Playnight set for Saturday

Haskell Horse Club will sponsor a jackpot playnight Saturday, beginning at 7:30.

Events will include barrels, flags and poles. Competition will be in the following age groups: 8 and under novice, 8 and under regular, 9 through 12, 13 through 15, and 16 through 19.

McMurry cheerleaders

McMurry University cheerleaders will participate in Super 2nd Saturday activities in Haskell this weekend. The cheerleaders will have a dunking booth and will sell "tropical sno" refreshments from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Cheerleaders are, front row, Elizabeth Sellman of Mart, Kelly Cummings of Abilene; middle row, Wesley Holland of Abilene, Julie Pease of Rotan, Trey Gardner of Munday, Angela Petree of Abilene; back row, Melissa Phemister of Haskell, Joe Frank McKee of Abilene and Margaret Billingsley of Roby. Others not shown are Christy Williams of Cleburne and Sunnie Erwin of Azle. The squad's sponsor is Risa Starr.

Hearing Loss Is Not A Sign Of Old Age.

Chicago, Ill. - A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest hearing aid Beltone has ever developed will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than an eighth of an ounce, and it fits completely into the ear canal.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Although a hearing aid may not help everyone, more and more people with hearing losses are being helped. For your free sample send your name, address, and phone number today to: Department 06650, Beltone Electronics Corporation, 4201 West Victoria Street, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

--Library Notes--

The Texas Reading Club is for children of all ages. This year's club is called Camp Wanna-Read.

Haskell County Library will sponsor the reading club this summer in cooperation with the Texas State Library. Camp Wanna-Read begins on June 17. So come to the library and sign up for the Read to Me Club for non-reading children or the Reading Club for readers.

The story time will begin at 10:30 on Wednesday mornings, beginning June 19. Each time you attend a story time you may register for door prizes to be given at the end of the program on Aug. 14. Reading certificates will be presented and refreshments will be served at this time.

The library is located at 300 N. Ave. E. Phone number is 864-2747 and the hours are 1 to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday.

Please make plans to participate in Camp Wanna-Read and attend the story time. Come by and register today.

Remember: Libraries promote America's greatest source of renewable energy--Brain Power. See you at the library!

TIPS FOR PARENTS

Your involvement with your child this summer can make all the difference in whether the summer reading program is an exciting adventure or a frustrating disappointment. Here are some ideas to help you make this summer's reading program all that it can and should be for your child:

- Help your child set a realistic book goal for the summer. Try to encourage a goal that will challenge the child but not so ambitious that book enjoyment becomes a chore or successful participation too great a challenge.

- Establish a regular time for reading in your home for all members of the family.

- Offer to share stories at bedtime or as dinner conversation.

- Encourage your child to share favorite stories with you.

- Show genuine interest in the stories or programs your child discovers during the summer.

- Appreciate all books the child selects, even the ones that look "too easy." Summer is a time for fun, after all, and you can always guide your child to a more challenging book the next time you visit the library.

- Read to your child. Even if children are able to read themselves, they still enjoy hearing good stories read to them.

- Read yourself. And make sure your child knows you enjoy reading. There is nothing like a good role model.

- Help your child attend special library programs. Many children appreciate going with friends. Your child might like to be able to invite a friend or two to attend also.

Scientists uncover fossil

Scientists from the Denver Museum of Natural History have uncovered the fossil remains of Dimetrodon, a large, sail-back reptile, near Haskell.

These 250-million-year-old reptiles from the Permian Age are the earliest members of a group of animals that scientists have named the mammal-like reptiles.

Two partial skeletons were found on land north of town owned by Jimmy and Grace Hannsz. Found along with the fossils were small bone fragments and teeth of extinct amphibians and small fresh water sharks.

The site was first brought to the attention of scientists at Texas Tech University by Tom Long of Haskell. The Denver Museum of Natural History then received permission to excavate the fossils, hoping to use them in a new fossil life exhibit being planned for 1995.

The sail-back reptiles get their name from the extremely elongated spines that run down their backs, forming a sail. One explanation of this unusual feature is temperature control. The spines show evidence of numerous blood vessels. The blood could be warmed or cooled, depending on which way the animal faced the sun.

Dimetrodon was the chief meat-eater of its time. It lived 50 million years before the dinosaurs. They grew up to 10 feet in length and were armed with long, sharp, dagger-like teeth.

North Central Texas is well

Artist's drawing of Dimetrodon known for its 250-million-year-old "red bed" exposures. Many fossils have been collected from these exposures and are now on display in many of the country's large museums.

The main area for collecting these fossils has been the Wichita Falls-Seymour area. The new discoveries in Haskell are possibly the southernmost occurrence of the sail-back reptiles, and will help scientists better understand these unusual reptiles.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for residence Custom Calling Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for certain residence Custom Calling Services.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling 8 and Speed Calling 30.

The Company's proposal would increase the monthly rate for the individual Call Waiting feature from $2.10 to $3.10 for residence customers. Also, the rates for certain combinations of Custom Calling Features (Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8) would increase or decrease depending upon the combination of features. In addition, the company proposes to obsolete the optional Custom Calling Service feature Speed Calling 30 for residence customers except for existing customers at their existing locations. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

One Feature Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting	$2.10	$3.10
Call Forwarding	2.10	2.10
Three-Way Calling	2.10	2.10
Speed Calling-8	2.10	2.10
Two Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding	3.75	4.50
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling	3.70	4.50
Call Waiting, Speed Calling-8	3.70	4.50
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling	3.70	3.50*
Call Forwarding, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50*
3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50*
Three Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and 3-Way Calling	5.30	5.90
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.90
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.90
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	4.90*
Four Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding 3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	6.90	7.30
Speed Calling 30	3.20	3.20

*denotes rate decrease
Southwestern Bell's application proposes to obsolete residence Speed Calling 30 except for existing customers at their existing locations.

Most of the Company's residence customers in Texas who subscribe to one or more of the Custom Calling Service features will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring. It is expected that the proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.9 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. The restructuring will result in an increase in the Custom Calling Services rates for approximately 2.5 million residence customers and rate decreases for approximately 15,000 residence customers. Also, the obsolescence of the optional feature Speed Calling 30 will affect approximately 156,000 residence customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Notes From The Rolling Plains

(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

I was out last week awaiting the onslaught of yet another spring thunderstorm. The time was about 11:00 p.m. and I needed some good lightning photos for my files. As I sat on a low hilltop awaiting the storm, there seemed an almost peaceful interlude before the damp winds, born from the powerful storm, swept over the badlands. Taking note of the proximity of the storm system as not to endanger myself to deadly lightning, I sat listening to the calls of mockingbirds in the night. In the distance the bluegreen clouds meshed and entangled themselves as if in mortal battle, constantly changing forms with each lightning torch that lit the angry skies. With plenty of time to sit and observe before the storm hit, I savored the moments of solitude with only the night birds speaking to the darkness. No cars, no wind, no people...only a man, the lightning silhouetted horizon of the ragged badlands and a beautiful thunderstorm. I felt so lucky to have the opportunity to passively observe this age old meeting. The canyons and hilltops of the rough breaks have welcomed the approach of these storms through the millenia. This one was no different than the ones ten, a hundred, even a thousand years ago. With the veil of darkness around me to hide the tracks of civilization, I was as one with the ancients. It was a moment to remember.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

INVESTING IN TAX-DEFERRED ANNUITIES

Looking for a way to build a retirement fund? Perhaps you should consider a tax-deferred annuity.

For a typical tax-deferred annuity, you pay installments (or a lump sum) to a special account with a bank or an insurance company. At a later date, the account pays you back in monthly, quarterly, or annual payments.

The return on your annuity may be either "fixed" (e.g., 8%) or "variable" (i.e., determined by how successfully the bank or insurance company invests your money).

A contribution to an annuity is not tax deductible. However, the tax code does allow you to defer income tax on an annuity's earnings. Income tax becomes due only when you begin receiving the annuity payments. Unlike an individual retirement account (IRA), a tax-deferred annuity does not restrict your contributions to $2,000 per year.

Although advantageous as retirement funds, tax-deferred annuities generally do not make good short-term investments. As with an IRA, the IRS can charge you a 10% penalty for withdrawals made before the age of 59 1/2.

In addition, some annuity companies also impose "surrender" fees if you make withdrawals within the first seven years after the annuity is created. A typical surrender fee would be 7% in the first year, decreasing by 1% each year until there would be no additional penalty beginning with the eighth year.

Sometimes there are other charges as well - especially with annuities that pay unusually high returns. For example, some annuities impose "deferred sales charges" over a several-year period.

Nonetheless, if you can resist early withdrawals from your account (and thereby reduce the effect of short-term fees and withdrawal penalties), you may want to investigate a tax-deferred annuity for your retirement fund.

Info wanted

Editor: I have searched for two years for any publications of your county in any library. The census is the only item that I have located. I also have not located a genealogical society for your county, or area, with much regret.

Therefore, I wish to make a request to have a query published in your paper.

Seeking info on relatives of Mary Elizabeth Parker for the third Samuel Hart Jr. Reunion to held in Dallas, Ga., in August.

Mary Elizabeth was born Dec. 2, 1836, in Carroll County, Ga., daughter of Samuel Hart Jr. and Martha Veazey. She married G. W. Parker July 11, 1860, in Carroll County. He apparently died in the Civil War.

Two children were born in Carroll County, daughter Atlanta (May 1861) and son Willie (1864). The family moved to Collins County, Texas, about 1880-81 where Atlanta married William L. Cason on Nov. 19, 1881. By 1900, William L. and Atlanta Cason, Mary Elizabeth, a niece, Bessie L., and a nephew, Willie Parker, were living in Haskell County.

In 1910, William L. Cason owned a general hardware and furniture store in Haskell. Willie Parker likely was a court recorder or had some related position with the courts.

Deficit?

Editor: I just heard Crystal Wolf on KTXS-TV news use the term, "the Texas deficit," on her report of the Texas Legislature's struggle to raise new state tax revenues: lottery, state income tax, 10-cent gasoline tax.

Either she or the newswriter is misinformed. There is no state deficit. Unlike the federal government, Texas has a constitution that has a balanced budget provision, prohibiting the Legislature from passing any budget that exceeds the money which the state has to spend.

Please understand that the $53 billion budget recently voted out of committee is based on the fact that Texas has $53 billion. No new taxes in any form are needed.

The deficit that lawmakers refer to is the difference between what they have and what they would like to spend. In other words it's their wish list. Even though bills are being introduced to create new expensive programs, or to expand existing ones, Texans are being brainwashed to believe $58 billion is needed just to maintain a minimum level of government services.

When you hear of a $5 billion deficit in Texas, that $5 billion is the amount that your representative would like to get from you for new spending over the next two years. Two years ago the budget was $47 billion, meaning that the government now has 13 percent more money to spend on those same services than it did two years ago. Even accounting for inflation, that amounts to a surplus, not a deficit.

But they want $5 billion more-- 24 percent more than just two years ago. Enough is enough. Let's not let our state bureaucracy, hungry for our paychecks, get away from us like the federal government has. If they get the $58 billion they are crying for, our state budget will have almost doubled since 1984-85. Texas isn't suffering from lack of revenue; it's suffering from mismanagement.

Let your representative know his job is to cut spending, not raise taxes.

And while we are on the subject, if you want to keep an eye on what is going on in Austin, for only $10 annually you can receive a monthly newsletter report on local, state and national issues from the American Family Association of the Rolling Plains, a non-profit, tax-exempt research clearinghouse serving members in the Haskell, Jones, Stonewall, Knox and Throckmorton county area. Send your address along with $10 to AFA, P.O. Box 521, Rule, TX 79547.

Graduation party

Editor: I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed in any way to the all-night party after graduation.

The Haskell County people worked together to make it successful. The time, money and gifts were too numerous to mention, but they made many of our students very happy.

A party such as this can only succeed because of the backing from the county.

Liked column

Editor: Your "Plain Talk" column of May 23 was great. It took you out of the category of just being a writer and put flesh and blood on you.

We who have imaginations can go back and smell the flowers of our youth. We see their colors just as brightly today as they were 60 years ago (maybe brighter). In memory, all of the things of our past are still with us.

Thanks for a good article.

Thanks for story

Editor: I'd like to take this opportunity to say "thank you" for the article you ran last January on Michael Adams. Everyone agreed it was the best written about Michael's disappearance.

There have been many leads on "sightings" of Michael but they do not pan out. It'll be four years June 8 since he disappeared. It would be a miracle if he were still alive. But his relatives pray each day that he is alive and well.

Tired of the federal budget deficit?

Income taxes? Unlimited terms for elected officials?

If so, you might want to sign up as a member of the U.S. Taxpayers Alliance (USTA), an organization of frustrated taxpayers which is seeking a presidential candidate who will balance the budget, eliminate all income taxes and limit the terms of U.S. officials.

The USTA bases its bold political agenda on the premise that the only legitimate purpose of civil government is to safeguard the God-given rights to life, liberty and property.

Howard Phillips, former director of the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity, is founder of USTA.

Phillips believes that a USTA president will need to utilize presidential veto power and create what he calls a "constitutional budget," i.e., a purge of all federal spending not authorized in the Constitution, until federal expenditures no longer exceed taxes collected.

He is quoted in Government Waste Watch, a newsletter of Citizens Against Government Waste, as saying, "You don't have to repeal the funding or the authority of this or that program. You zero fund it, and eventually the bureaucrats will go home. We need equal taxation, and, if we have a constitutional budget, we can do it. We can run the government without any income tax."

The USTA proposes to dissolve the IRS and its current income-tax system and implement a 10-percent flat tax rate for all Americans.

USTA not only favors limitation of the terms of elected officials, but the elimination of pensions for elected officials.

Another drastic action endorsed by USTA is the elimination of Social Security, to be replaced by a program whereby citizens make regular contributions to private retirement accounts.

The women across America have spoken.

Of all the household chores they perform, they most hate waxing floors and washing windows, according to a recent survey by Mallory Industries.

Dusting was the least-despised chore, the survey showed, and most of the women surveyed (ages 25-60) didn't mind doing the laundry, vacuuming or washing dishes.

Waxing floors topped the most-hated list, and window washing was the job performed the least, averaging only one washing per year.

Sometimes you have to question something you read.

The National Hot Dog and Sausage Council, calling attention to the fact that July is National Hot Dog Month, reports that 50 million hot dogs are eaten every day in the United States.

Fifty million? That would mean that the average American eats a hot dog every five days.

There's something else wrong with the Council's arithmetic. It says that the peak season is from Memorial Day to Labor Day when Americans consume 5 billion hot dogs. My calculator says that's an average daily consumption of about 50 million, meaning that it isn't peak sason, but only average.

Sixth-graders hear from balloon finders

For the sixth consecutive year, Haskell sixth-graders last month released hundreds of helium-filled balloons into the skies over Haskell, and feedback from the project has come from unexpected places.

Sixth-graders are allowed to release a balloon for every 300 pages of outside reading done during the school year.

Each balloon is tagged with the student's name, school address, and a message to the finder asking for a reply.

This year, Harrison Druessedow's balloons set a record. They traveled all the way from the elementary school playground to the front yard of a house in Lonoke, Ark. The finder, Mrs. Pearl M. Woods, wrote Harrison saying she found the balloons on May 4 (the day after the liftoff). She said, "I have a grandson about your age. I hope he is as smart as you are. I am proud of you reading 300 pages."

The next two letters to arrive were addressed to Regina Tatum and Wendy Dulaney. The finder was a fifth-grade student from Percy, Ark., and she found the balloons while walking home from school. She wrote, "I thought it may have been one of ours because we let balloons off, too."

Still another letter arrived for Mario Alvarez and was from an Ada, Okla., farmer, Rance Walker. He wrote, "Your balloon was found in a plowed field on May 17, about 11 miles east of Ada." This finding set a record since in the past balloons have always landed in a 15-20-mile radius of each other. Local students had never received letters from finders so far from each other.

Sixth-grade teachers are Letha Newton and Debbie Earles.

 Or sat quietly in a chair.
 Perhaps you sent a funeral spray,
 If so we saw it there.
 Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
 As any friend could say;
 Perhaps you were not there at all,
 Just thought of us that day.
 Whatever you did to console our hearts,
 We thank you so much whatever the part.

Unemployment rate here 3.2%

Unemployment rate in Haskell County in April was 3.2 percent, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

Figures released by Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers listed the county with an employment force of 3,430, of whom 3,319 were employed and 111 were looking for work.

The 3.2 rate for Haskell County was one of the lower rates among Texas counties and less than half the 6.9 state rate.

"DECISIONS MADE EARLY"

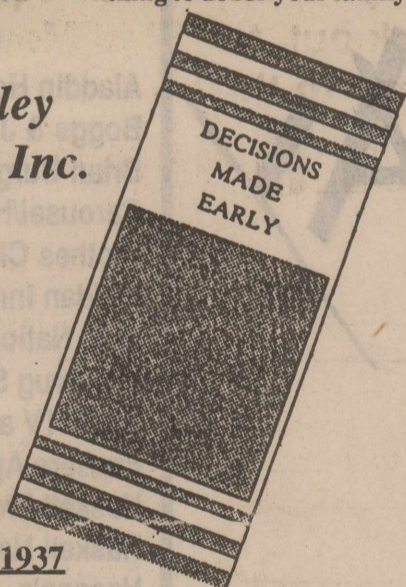

Simply come by or call and we will come by to see you.

Many people plan for what might happen—fire, burglary, injury, and accidents. Now more and more people are planning for what will inevitably happen. It simply makes good sense to prepare for that which we can not avoid.

Pre-need funeral arranging allows one to control the type of service they would prefer, select a means of financing it, freeze the prices at today's price, and save loved ones the anguish of deciding these matters at a later date. Really it is the loving thing to do for your family.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for Directory Assistance Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for Directory Assistance Service.

To help recover its costs, the Company is proposing to increase the rates for Directory Assistance calls from $.30 to $.40 per call (after the three-call allowance). Southwestern Bell is proposing that there be no change in the number of free Directory Assistance calls allowed each month (currently three) and that customers who qualify for exemption of Directory Assistance charges because of visual or physical handicaps continue to be exempt from these charges. The company also proposes to begin charging $.25 per call for Directory Assistance from pay telephones.

If approved by the Commission, this proposed rate change for Directory Assistance will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.4 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. This proposed rate change would affect approximately 900,000 residence customers, approximately 155,000 business customers, approximately 500 private pay telephone owners and all customers who make Directory Assistance calls from public pay telephones.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Stenholm to study health care system

Congressman Charles Stenholm is one of 13 members of the House of Representatives who will travel to Canada Friday to study the Canadian health care system.

"Health care is one of the main issues facing Congress today," said Stenholm. "It is in our best interests to explore all avenues in an effort to find ways to offer affordable health care to all our citizens."

He pointed out that the number of uninsured Americans, health care costs increasing several times the rate of inflation, the complexity of Medicare paperwork, and businesses being forced to commit larger portions of employee benefits to health care are problems that need to be addressed and solved as quickly as possible.

The group will travel to Ottawa where they will meet with government officials to obtain an overview of the Canadian health system. They will have lunch with members of Parliament and journalists who will give their views on their country's health system. The afternoon session will include points of view from hospital administrators and physicians.

"While there are a number of reasons I would resist our country moving towards a national health care system such as Canada has, I still think there is much we can learn from our neighbors," Stenholm said. "In at least two ways---paperwork costs and insuring all their citizens---Canada is doing a better job than the United States. I'd like to find out what ideas we might be able to borrow."

Stenholm was chosen to participate in the trip because of his involvement in health care issues, particularly as co-chairman of the 170-member Rural Health Care Coalition.

Rule firm changes ownership

Mrs. Frances Campbell and Mrs. Bertha McQuinn have announced the sale of Campbell Insurance Agency in Rule to Mrs. Vance (Donna) Saffel, as of May 1.

The agency was established in 1934 by the late P. H. Campbell. He was joined in 1946 by the late Frank Campbell. Mrs. Saffel became an employee in 1979, having had two years previous insurance experience. She has been a recording agent since 1987. She is the daughter of Wilma John and Pluto Pruett of Haskell and granddaughter of Elizabeth Cofield Corum, and a graduate of Haskell High School.

Mrs. McQuinn joined the agency in 1959, and has been a recording agent since 1977. She will remain as a solicitor on a semi-retired basis, and as an agent for health and life insurance. The business name will remain as Campbell Insurance Agency.

"We wish to thank our friends and customers for their many years of patronage," said Mrs. Campbell. "We know they will continue to receive the same courteous service from Mrs. Saffel and Mrs. Sue Hertel, secretary."

The public is invited to an open house at the agency office from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday to greet Mrs. Saffel as the new owner.

Inflation is a method of cutting a dollar bill in half without damaging the paper.

Lotteries help, but no cure-all

"Three decades of experience show us that states have found lotteries to be an important source of revenue but not a cure-all to state budget problems, State Comptroller John Sharp said last week.

"The overwhelming popularity of the idea---and the fact that it can generate new revenue for our cash-strapped state---is why we should look at the pros and cons of a Texas lottery," Sharp said, releasing the May issue of Fiscal Notes, which reports on the experiences other states have encountered with running lotteries.

Sharp projected earlier this year that a lottery could produce approximately $731 million in new state revenue over the next two years.

A resolution calling for a constitutional amendment authorizing a state lottery has been introduced in the Texas Legislature this session. The legislation has thus far failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote in the Texas House and has yet to be considered by the State Senate.

The Fiscal Notes article points out that lotteries are certainly not a new source of revenue for this country. Private lotteries were common in colonial America, where they were used to fund roads, schools and universities such as Harvard and Yale. The modern lottery era began in 1964, with sales booming in the 1980s, largely due to the success of a multi-million dollar jackpot game called lotto.

According to Fiscal Notes, 32 states and the District of Columbia currently offer lottery games, and the Louisiana state lottery is scheduled to begin later this year. Lotteries last year grossed more than $20 billion nationwide, of which $7.7 billion went into state offers.

"No state has ever lost money with a lottery, and some net millions a year in profits. Seven states last year netted more than a half-billion dollars each in lottery proceeds," Sharp noted.

"While U.S. lottery sales grew by 21 percent in 1988 and by 23 percent in 1989, they increased by only 8 percent last year.

"Newer lotteries are still growing at a fast pace, while the sales in states that have conducted lotteries for a longer time---such as Pennsylvania and New Jersey---are beginning to level off," Sharp said.

"In states with the 10 biggest-selling lotteries, games generate between 1.6 percent and 3.8 percent of a state's total tax revenue.

For example, the $848 million earned by New York from its lottery in 1989 amounted to substantially less than the state's public utilities tax receipts for the same year," Sharp said.

Many states simply place lottery profits into general revenue, but some dedicate the money to specific uses, most commonly education. According to Fiscal Notes, 10 states dedicate lottery proceeds partly or entirely to schools. Other uses of lottery proceeds include environmental protection, economic development and local assistance.

Experience — We consider it money in the bank.

A face lined by dry, hot summer days, harsh winter, and seven-day work weeks. But there is sparkle, too, remembering warm spring sun or gentle rains and acres of cotton.

Back when he started farming, a man's labor represented the majority of his investment in the farm. Over the years, when he's had to invest in land and equipment, he's turned to his Land Bank Association for competitive, long-term financing. At the Land Bank we not only place value on a man's farm, but his experience, too.

So, if you need help growing, talk to a neighbor you can bank on — your Land Bank Association.

Why do Eskimos have a low heart attack rate? Norwegian researchers credit the monounsaturates in their high-fat diet (it includes blubber), as well as Omega-3 oils from fish.

New, shorter treatment gets patients with blood clots in leg veins out of the hospital faster. In a study in the U.S. and Canada, five days of heparin worked as well as ten, when warfarin therapy was started right away.

Middle-aged women who burn 1,000 or more calories a week through exercise can lower their total cholesterol levels while raising levels of high-density lipoproteins, and lower blood pressure and insulin levels, too. Exercising away 2,000 calories is even better.

Clams, mussels, oysters and crabs may actually help lower cholesterol levels, (especially the "bad" kind,) according to research at the University of Washington in Seattle. Subjects ate various low-fat dishes made with shellfish.

WE ARE THE LOAN STAR OF TEXAS.

For home mortgage loans, AmWest Savings is the best in the West.

Who would you rather ask for a loan? Some bank that calls another state home? Or a home-grown institution with the same roots as you? We're owned and operated by Texans. So we better understand your needs and concerns. And we have that same Texas pride, too.

That's why when you ask us for a home mortgage loan, you'll get an FHA, VA, Jumbo, Conventional, Variable or Fixed Rate mortgage that's just right for you. Some of the best interest rates around. And terms tailored to fit your lifestyle.

So if you've found a place you'd like to call your own, come talk to the folks at your local AmWest. When it comes to mortgage loans, we outshine them all.

When temperatures are on the rise... help keep cooling costs down!

HERE'S HOW:

- ✓ Check your home for adequate insulation — R-30 is recommended in the attic.
- ✓ Help your cooling system's efficiency by caulking and weatherstripping. Infiltration of outside air is your air conditioner's greatest enemy.
- ✓ Help keep the cost of cooled air down by setting your thermostat at 78° or higher and clean your air conditioner's filter regularly.
- ✓ If your present air conditioner needs replacing, consider an all season electric heat pump. It cools in the summer and heats in the winter and saves you money on your energy bills.
