Nearly two more inches of rain fell in Haskell during the past week, bringing the June total to 5.75 inches as of Tuesday, Sam Herren, local weather recorder, reported.

For the year to date, rainfall has totaled 15.06 inches.

The Haskell Municipal Swimming Pool has a new telephone number--864-8185.

Jim and Rhonda Lisle, pool managers, said there has been some confusion since the number is not listed in the telephone directory.

Swimming lessons will begin June 24. Call the pool for more information.

Sandy Forehand new owner of Merle Norman

Sandy Forehand has announced the opening of her new Merle Norman Studio at 6 Ave. D in Haskell.

The studio will offer an exclusive collection of skin care products and cosmetics. The firm's unique policy of "Try Before You Buy" allows customers the opportunity to have personalized makeup and skin care lessons by trained beauty advisors.

Mrs. Forehand has just returned from Los Angeles where she completed two weeks of intensive training at the home office of Merle Norman Cosmetics. While there she learned the newest makeup artistry techniques, makeup color coordination, and the latest developments and products for effective skin care.

Mrs. Forehand brings this expertise to the Haskell area where she opened a sparkling, fully stocked cosmetic studio Monday.

Haskell native is candidate for Congress

Calling for a federally subsidized health insurance program, a 53-year-old Haskell County native announced last week that he will be a "Democracy party" candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives in 1992.

Joe Bob Earles of Abilene, an educator for 31 years, including 15 as a principal, said he would like to see reduced and standardized medical charges throughout the United States and limits on the amount which can be asked in malpractice suits.

Earles is a candidate for the 17th District congressional seat now held by Charles Stenholm.

State spends millions on welfare programs

The state spent $2,675,604 last year for major welfare programs in Haskell County, according to Ray L. Dunavant, regional administrator for the Texas Department of Human Services.

Medical assistance had the biggest impact, with $1,024,647 spent for hospitals, physicians, laboratory, X-ray and other services. Also, $84,396 was spent in Haskell County for prescribed medicines. Nursing home costs of approximately $880,561 were paid for aged and disabled residents.

Food stamps worth $549,944 were issued for the fiscal year which ended Aug. 31, while aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) totaled $136,056. Food stamps are funded entirely by the federal government, while the department determines eligibility of applicants and issues the food coupons.

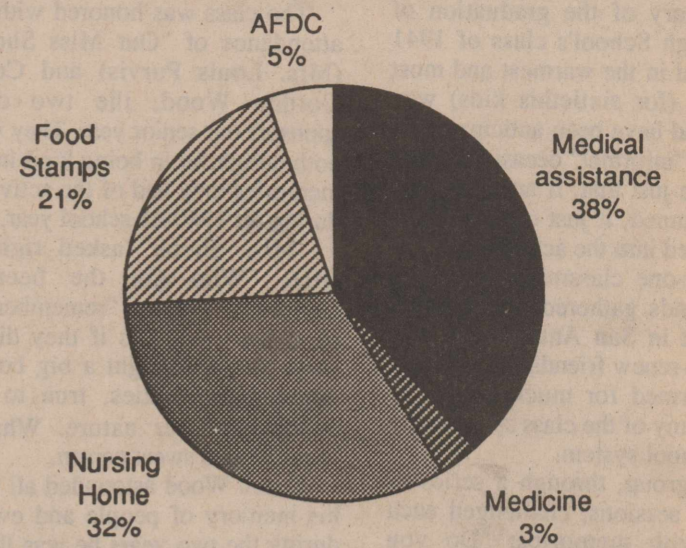

The state and federal governments share in the cost of AFDC to families where needy children are deprived of support because of the absence or disability of one or both parents.

In addition to services and assistance to low-income residents of the county, the department extended protective services to 44 abused and neglected children and their parents or caretakers. These services, furnished without regard to family income, were designed to reduce or eliminate danger to children.

There were 21 investigations in adult protective services. These investigations concerned reports of abuse, neglect, or exploitation of elderly or disabled adults.

Chamber conducting membership drive

The Haskell Chamber of Commerce is conducting a membership drive in hopes of strengthening, physically and fiscally, the organization which works for the betterment of the community.

Dr. Cliff Ray, chairman of the Membership Committee, prepared the following question-and-answer format to emphasize the purposes and goals of the Chamber:

Q: Why do we need a Chamber of Commerce?

A: The Chamber of Commerce is much like a catalyst, lending aid and enlightenment to projects in progress, educating, publicizing, expanding, sometimes even funding and/or furnishing limited labor. The Chamber is pursuant, along with the Industrial Foundation, in seeking industrial development. The Chamber keeps abreast of developments in oil, agriculture, politics, medicine, recreation, industry--in short, commerce.

Q: But don't you just support the merchants?

A: Actually, the merchants support us, along with any and all who are interested in the support, betterment, enhancement, strengthening of this town.

Q: But suppose I don't live in this town?

A: If you buy or sell anything in this town, you are involved. If you provide a service, you're involved in this town; likewise, if you need a service.

Q: I pay taxes. Doesn't this provide the service I need.

A: Yes, it does, as far as it goes. Suppose you want a deer lease in another town, who do you call to find one? Suppose you want to put a business in some town, who do you call for information? Suppose you want lodging, recreation or services? Wouldn't you call the Chamber of Commerce? Buying or selling, coming or going, the Chamber is a clearing house for commerce.

Q: Yes, but suppose I don't need to buy or sell anything, or need any services?

A: The Chamber of Commerce serves as an information bureau, a training agent, a sales manager, a business motivator, a public relations team, a city spokesman, a mail service, a goodwill ambassador and publicity agent. Which of these don't you need?

Q: What if I wanted to be a member? What would it cost?

A: We ask for a minimum of $10 a month for businesses or $5 a month for individuals who are interested. However, we also ask that you pay more if you can afford to do so and want to do so.

Q: Where is the Chamber of Commerce office?

A: The office is located at 112 1/2 N. Ave. E and is open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Q: Well if I don't like what you're doing, you wouldn't want me, would you?

A: Indeed, we do want you. We want your impact. We have a board of directors anxious to know your ideas, anxious to have your talents, even eager to know when "you don't like" what they're doing. When you are a member, you have a part in the Chamber of Commerce, a voice so to speak, of what is being done.

Rule theatre to be setting for movie

Rule's Tower Drive-In Theatre is going to be in the movies.

A University of Texas graduate student has chosen the Rule theatre as the setting for the filming of a motion picture he is producing as a requirement for his master's degree in film production.

Paul Kloss said he checked all over Texas for an operating drive-in movie for his project. Only a very few drive-ins remain open today, but when he saw the Rule theatre, he was sold. "This was exactly what I was looking for," he said.

Kloss and his cast of three will arrive in Rule Sunday and will spend most of the week making the film. On Wednesday or Thursday night, he said he will need a crowd on hand to provide a crowd scene for the story.

The 30-minute movie will be based on a story Kloss wrote. In the story, a man and woman are on a trip and stop to see the man's father who operates a drive-in movie.

The movie will be shown at film festivals across the country. It is not being produced to be shown commercially, but Kloss said, "hopefully, something will come of it." He hopes to complete it this year.

Kloss has been to Rule four times to visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Whorton, owners of the Tower.

To seminar

Nichole Cothron, Brian Holmes and Mindy Ballard get ready to board the bus Monday for San Angelo and the Farm Bureau's Citizenship Seminar.

3 attend seminar of Farm Bureau

Three Haskell County high school students boarded a chartered bus here Monday morning for San Angelo where they will participate in the 29th annual Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar on the campus of Angelo State University.

Representing the Haskell County Farm Bureau will be Brian Holmes and Mindy Ballard of Rochester and Nichole Cothron of Haskell.

Four hundred high school juniors and seniors, sponsored by 162 county farm bureaus, are attending the seminar which will run through Friday.

The seminar is designed to provide the students with a better understanding of their American heritage and the capitalistic free enterprise system.

More than 11,000 high school students have attended the seminar since it began in 1963. Citizenship seminar graduates include a presidential advisor, a U.S. congressman, a state senator and many others now in leadership positions in government, education and business.

Speakers and their topics include:

Michael Broome of Charlotte, N.C., a motivational speaker, "You and America---Two Great Champions."

Steve Pratt of American Fork, Utah, constitutional expert, "Freedom in the '90s."

Robert H. Rowland of Oklahoma City, "Free Enterprise." Basilio Bachor of Corpus Christi, a Polish immigrant, "Living the American Dream."

Ambassador Sam Zakhem of Littlewood, Colo., recent assignment in Bahrain, "The Middle East."

S. M. True, president of Texas Farm Bureau, "Farm Bureau, Your Host."

Paint Creek VFD acquires fire truck

The Paint Creek Volunteer Fire Department bolstered its firefighting arsenal Friday with the acquisition of a truck, thanks in part to assistance from the Texas Forest Service and the Rural Community Fire Protection (RCFP) program.

VFD officials stretched available funds further by obtaining aid through the RCFP program, which is administered by the Texas Forest Service. The VFD obtained the federal excess property truck free of charge.

Fifty percent cost-sharing aid--up to $5,000 for trucks and $4,000 for compressed air foam systems (CAFS) units and water units--is available to qualified VDDs.

Over 1,900 trucks, CAFS and water units, and other fire apparatus have been placed with RCFP aid, said Richard Robinson of the Forest Service, who delivered the truck to Paint Creek. In addition, rural firefighters have purchased over $836,152 worth of bunker gear, Nomex fire resistant clothing and wildland fire equipment at discount prices through the RCFP Fire-Safe Fund.

Additional information about assistance available to rural firefighters is available by contacting the Texas Forest Service, Fire Control Department, P.O. Box 310, Lufkin, TX 75902-0310, phone 409-639-8100. Thanks to one such contact, Paint Creek VFD firefighters gained assistance toward the acquisition of its truck.

Rule graduates of 1941 have reunion in San Antonio

By Jack E. Westbrook
It was even better than expected. The reunion celebrating the 50th anniversary of the graduation of Rule High School's class of 1941 happened in the warmest and most exciting (for sixtieth kids) way that could have been anticipated. A planned "informal" occasion turned out to be just that. If anything had been planned, it just couldn't have been fitted into the activities.

Forty-one classmates, relatives and friends gathered in the Hotel Crockett in San Antonio on May 17-19 to renew friendships that had been formed for much of the 11 years many of the class spent in the Rule school system.

The group, through a series of visiting sessions, challenged each other with memories: "Do you remember when such-and-such..." responded to with, "no, but you are bound to remember when so-and-so did..." But each classmate supported the veracity of the other's claims.

Ted Smith had made many of the arrangements for the three-day event--all of them appreciated and most satisfactory. Stanley Smith had put much effort in preparing a 40-minute video tape on the class that touched every heart in the group. A souvenir booklet had been prepared to help the class with their memories and to settle arguments which didn't arise.

The class was honored with the attendance of "Our Miss Shook" (Mrs. Louis Purvis) and Coach Gordon Wood, the two class sponsors our senior year. They were both delightful in being kind in the memories they had of the activities during the 1940-41 school year.

"Miss Shook" asked right at first, "Who got the beer at Carlsbad?" No one "remembered", or at least acted as if they didn't. Miss Shook brought a big box of homemade cookies, true to our memory of her nature. What a beautiful and sweet person.

Coach Wood astounded all with his memory of people and events during the two years he was there. All were reminded of his sensitiveness to the needs of "the kids" when he helped Jack Westbrook (in his "sensitive" condition) up and down the stairs and street. He mentioned he had told his wife, "He had to go be with those kids on this occasion."

Neither "Miss Shook" nor Coach had changed a bit--except for the better. What a treat it was to have them there with us. In fact, their presence made the reunion the warm experience everyone felt. We enjoyed the presence of Coach Louis Purvis, "Miss Shook's", who made his mark at RHS after we graduated.

Other memories: The speed of the time was set when Wanda and Millard Dyer arrived on Thursday. Wanda wanted a cup of coffee. Millard went to the hotel bar for one, and, on coming out of the bar, he missed a step, spilling the coffee all over the lobby--and himself (tipsy--only in appearance). From then on, things had to get better.

Stanley Smith, the picture of patience, showed his video to eight different groups, while Joyce served the Cokes and peanuts. The "formal" meetings were held in a penthouse room provided by the hotel, but more visiting took place in the garden area of the hotel, in Stanley's and Joyce's room, and in Laverne's and Curtis' room. And breakfast was a very special visiting time in the hotel dining room.

A. B.'s two lovely daughters came with him (to protect the old man while in the city), and, to his consternation, he spent most of the time in the lobby "patiently" (?) waiting "on the young ladies."

Harva's granddaughter, Kathy Moerman, came along to "help Gran' Ma"---what a delightful young lady, and such a credit to Harva. Laverne's and Karl's son, David, his lovely wife, Tennie, and their son, Brad, came in support of their dad (they wanted to learn some low-down on Karl, but hopefully were unable to do so). Such a handsome and delightfully nice family.

Miss Willie Geer, our "Room Mother Extraordinaire," could not be with us, much to our disappointment, but rememberd us with a floral arrangement for our dinner. Miss Mildred Butler, a most honored teacher, sent a letter along which was read to the class, reminding us of our loss in her not being with us for the time.

Norplant System

There have been a number of new birth control products introduced over the past 25 years. However, none has been as innovative or as strikingly different as the Norplant System (levonorgestrel implants) - the unique subdermal contraceptive system that provides five years of continuous birth control, yet is completely reversible.

While the Norplant System is a newcomer to the United States, it has undergone many years of research and testing. As with any birth control option, the Norplant System will not be the right choice for every woman, since individual needs vary greatly among women using contraception. Each woman who considers using the Norplant System should understand the benefits and risks of this form of birth control, as compared to those of other contraceptive methods.

The Norplant System consists of six thin capsules made of soft, flexible material that has been used safely in a variety of medical applications over forty years. The capsules are placed in a fan-like pattern just under the skin on the inside surface of the upper arm through a small incision using a local anesthetic. This is an office procedure that takes usually ten to fifteen minutes. The capsules contain a synthetic hormone, levonorgestrel (a progestin), that is also one of the active ingredients in many oral contraceptives used in the United States today. Immediately after insertion of the Norplant System, a low continuous dose of the hormone is released into the body. Pregnancy is prevented through a combination of mechanisms. The most important ways are by inhibiting ovulation, so eggs will not be produced regularly, and by thickening the cervical mucus, which makes it more difficult for sperm to reach the egg. When the Norplant System capsules are removed, the contraceptive effect ceases quickly, and you will return to your previous level of fertility. The Norplant System capsules are placed just under the skin on the inner surface of the upper arm in a fan-shape distribution approximately 2-3" in diameter. This is done with a local anesthetic; therefore, there is little, if any, discomfort whatsoever.

Following placement of the implants, you can resume work and other normal daily activities. The contraceptive effect of the Norplant System begins within 24 hours and is inserted either during or within seven days of one's menstrual cycle. They must be removed in five years. The removal process is much like the insertion process and takes only about twenty minutes. At that time, should one desire to continue using the Norplant System, a new set of implants can be inserted through the same small incision which was made to remove the original implants.

This is an extremely effective form of contraception. There are, however, some contraindications to its use. Consult your doctor for further information. Make us your health information headquarters.

resist going out on the town to do some country and western dancing--no one could keep up with them. Roy's still having his wry smile rewarded everyone, especially in response to Ruth's kidding him.

Eula and Ray were disgustfully young looking as were Earlene and Elton---disquietingly so. Buddy McCulley favored us with a visit, having to leave his ailing wife at home. We missed the opportunity to visit them in their home while there. Robbye and Jack Jones sparked the group, just as he had in '41. We were disappointed when Jack couldn't give us his skit Saturday evening for reasons of arrangements in the ball room being fouled up, but he promised to do so at the next homecoming.

Mary Morgan and all enjoyed the session, led by George, wherein everyone told of their lives since graduation. Tommie Jo entered into the activities with the enthusiasm of a "Salutatorium." Maxine and Felix were with us only a short time but were lots of fun. Felix is great. Florene proved to still be "the peacemaker", kind, sweet in nature and gentle as she was as a girl. And Luther entered into the activities just as the one-of-us he is.

This may have been, for all of us, a time during which---if only for a moment---we contemplated our successes, our failures---concluding that, whatever, we were survivors. And, as such, we could derive much satisfaction from the successes of our classmates. We could see in them the fine people we had known them to be, seeing that they had only developed in to even greater people than we had realized at that time 50 years ago.

Such strengths of character as were exhibited in their presence, such warmth in their personalities, such kindness and gentleness that shone threw their eyes---what a fine group of people! What a fine time of life! What nice memories we had---and made of this time! Jack Jones said it best as we were leaving, "Thanks for the memories."

How we felt their absence: Arra Mae, Derrell, Jolly, Frank, Vaden, Ray, Claris Fern, Judith and Johnny. What a tragedy that their lives had to be cut short, not allowing them the experience of "life", and of this time. We sorely missed them.

Those who came---and shared of themselves with us---were:

Donna (Dallas), Debby (California) and A. B. Arnett (Rule); Tommie Jo Milstead Denson of Nashville, Tenn.; Wanda and Millard Dyer of Fort Worth; David, Tennie, Brad, Laverne and Karl Everitt of Victoria; Robbye and Jack Jones of Lueders; Florence and Luther Kelley of Big Spring; Laverne and Curtis Kelley of Granbury; Billie Jo and Richard Mathis of Rule.

James Frank (Buddy) McCulley of Universal City; Kathy and Harva Foster Moerman of West Jordan, Utah; Mary and George Morgan of Alvin; Maxine Barrow and Felix Penso of Leander; Eula Lott and Ray Perkins of Montgomery, Texas; Marie Shook and Louis Purvis of Brownwood, Earlene and Elton Self of Garland; Ruth and Roy Sellers of Odessa; Joyce and Stanley Smith of Lubbock; Mary and Ted Smith of Kerrville; Skipper and Jack E. Westbrook of Tulsa, Okla.; and Gordon Wood of Brownwood.

To those who were unable to come---you missed a very special time in our lives. And we felt cheated by your not being in our midst.

But to all---in Jack Jones' words---"Thanks for the memories."

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for Directory Assistance Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for Directory Assistance Service.

To help recover its costs, the Company is proposing to increase the rates for Directory Assistance calls from $.30 to $.40 per call (after the three-call allowance). Southwestern Bell is proposing that there be no change in the number of free Directory Assistance calls allowed each month (currently three) and that customers who qualify for exemption of Directory Assistance charges because of visual or physical handicaps continue to be exempt from these charges. The company also proposes to begin charging $.25 per call for Directory Assistance from pay telephones.

If approved by the Commission, this proposed rate change for Directory Assistance will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.4 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. This proposed rate change would affect approximately 900,000 residence customers, approximately 155,000 business customers, approximately 500 private pay telephone owners and all customers who make Directory Assistance calls from public pay telephones.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 tele-typewriter for the deaf.

Consumers cautioned on telemarketing fraud

By Noros H. Martin
 Individuals using fraudulent telemarketing schemes have added a new twist to their scams. Instead of credit card numbers, they now use bank account numbers to defraud unsuspecting customers. Telemarketers are those individuals who send notices to the public which deal with the recipient's claim to a certain prize or gift.

The telemarketer's approach begins with the mailing of postcards via direct mail to consumers. The postcard serves as a notice, stating that the recipient has won some sort of prize or gift. It also asks the consumer to call the number on the postcards to claim the prize.

At this point, the telemarketer tells the person calling that a purchase is required in order to receive the prize. The consumer, blindly accepting the notice as true, often agrees to make the purchase. Unfortunately, the consumer is unaware that the item to be purchased depends on the telemarketer. Regardless of the product, the purchase is usually hundreds of dollars.

In the past, a telemarketer would follow the consumer's agreement with a request for the consumer's credit card number. However, it is becoming increasingly difficult for telemarketing companies to obtain credit card accounts through which to process purchases. Banks hesitate to give these accounts to telemarketing companies because of the high rate of cancellation from the telemarketing companies' customers.

Telemarketers have now discovered that by getting the customer's bank account number, they can draft the amount of the purchase directly from the consumer's bank account. Unfortunately, this inventive scheme is legal.

This type of arrangement also presents the customers with some unique difficulties. Unlike credit card purchases, the customer cannot dispute the bill before submitting payment. With a bank draft, the money is gone the moment the bank account is reduced.

This is a growing problem that all too often finds the bank facing angry consumers. So, watch out for telemarketing solicitations. Contact the Better Business Bureau if you receive any requests to have bank accounts drafted prior to receiving merchandise.

--Social Security--

By Glyn Hammons District Manager
 Recent changes in Social Security law respond to the growing concern over how the program treats women. The changes, effective Jan. 1, 1991, affect disabled widows, divorcees and spouses of invalid ceremonial marriages. The changes also apply to men, of course, but are more important to women as a group because they are more likely to qualify for such benefits.

One change makes it easier for disabled widows to qualify for disability benefits by expanding the definition of disability for them. Under the change, widows may now qualify for disability benefits on their spouse's work on the same basis that they qualify based on their own work. This means that the effect of their age, education and work experience on their ability to work also will be considered.

Under the old rule, disability was evaluated solely in terms of medical findings and vocational factors were not considered.

Under another change in the law, women who marry--and later find out that their marriage is invalid--may now qualify for a benefit on the worker's Social Security record on the same basis as the legal spouse. Under previous law, these "deemed" wives could receive Social Security only if no legal spouse received benefits. The change also applies to widows and divorcees.

Under this change, a divorced spouse whose good faith ceremonial marriage turns out to be invalid may get benefits as well as the legal spouse if the marriage lasted at least 10 years. The amount of benefits one spouse gets has no effect on the amount of benefits another spouse can get.

A third change makes it possible for a woman whose husband was receiving spouse's benefits before she and her husband were divorced to receive divorced spouse's benefits without waiting the two years usually required.

These changes represent a continuing effort to make the Social Security program more responsive to the changing needs of women. However, they are not intended to address the broader concerns raised by various groups . . . issues involving homemakers who lose Social Security coverage and women workers whose earnings, and thus benefits, are generally lower than those of men. These concerns are being studied by a Women's Issue Task Force, appointed several months ago by Social Security Commissioner Gwendolyn S. King. The task force is expected to report recommendations shortly.

People who are interested in more information about these changes should call toll free 1-800-234-5772 or the Abilene office number is 698-1360.

Old soldiers

Editor: You may remember that I am interested in the history of the War Between the States, particularly from the Confederate point of view. Along that line, I'd like to compile a listing of all (1) Confederate veterans who are buried in Haskell County, (2) their place of birth, (3) their military unit, (4) dates of birth and death, and (5) cemeteries in which they are interred.

Our organization "Sons of Confederate Veterans," is doing that here in the whole of the state of Oklahoma, finding it an interesting and rewarding project. Possibly this has been done in the past there in the county, as we've found here in certain locales, but on review, we've found that some veterans were overlooked.

Possibly your readers would help me in compiling this record which could, at completion, be installed in the county library. I'd appreciate hearing from the descendants and interested persons there in the county concerning this. I'd hope to report back through your "Letters to the Editor" periodically. I can assure you that each participant will be gratified for having shown these old soldiers this remembrance.

We still look forward to and enjoy The Free Press each week, particularly the "Out of the Past" column, "Plain Talk," "Happenings," "Letters to the Editor" and, last but not least, the "Obituaries."

Sharla Jetton gets scholarship

Sharla Jetton of Haskell is the recipient of the Maurice and Esther Crawford scholarship at Hardin-Simmons University. She is a history major at HSU.

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Come on. "You Have Already Won" proclaimed the headline on the postcard I received the other day. It was just one of three similar announcements received in the mail on that one day.

As always, there was a catch. Before I could lay claim to the $10,000 top prize, or any of the other prizes ranging downward to $100, I had to answer the following multiple choice question:

Which commanding general served in the 1991 Gulf War? (a) Robert E. Lee, (b) General Patton, (c) Stormin' Norman Schwartzkopf.

And, oh yes, I'm, supposed to send five bucks as a "judging fee," and let 'em know if I want my winnings in cash, stocks or by certified check.

Get outa here.

Name recognition is supposed to be important for a political candidate. But Sen. Jay Rockefeller isn't too happy with an Iowa poll which shows him having a 100-percent name recognition in that state.

Says he: "The bad news is that one third of the people think I'm the banker who foreclosed on their farm, one third think I run the oil company that raised the price of gasoline and one third think I'm the guy who sold Manhattan to the Japanese."

Some communities will go to any length to improve their economy.

Davenport, Wash., population 1,502, came up with a novel idea. Six years ago, people there got the county (Lincoln) to allow parties in uncontested divorces to get unhitched without requiring either party to show up for the hearing.

The result has met expectations. More than 8,000 divorces have been filed in the county and filing fees have generated nearly $100,000 a year.

You can stop sending those get-well cards to 11-year-old Craig Shergold in Surrey, England.

Two years ago the Children's Wish Foundation issued a plea to help the young cancer patient set a world record for receiving get-well cards. When the count reached 16 million, the Guinness Book of World Records agreed to accept that as the world record.

But that's only the tip of the iceberg. Another 33 million cards have been stored in an Atlanta warehouse. And they're still coming in.

Betcha didn't know: Viroqua, the name of a Haskell-sized town in Wisconsin, is pronounced ver-O-qua.

A story in last week's Wall Street Journal told how merchants of Viroqua banded together to buck a Wal-Mart store.

I'm not sure the strategy employed in Viroqua has a local application, but the story makes interesting reading for any small town businessman. It was in the June 5 issue.

Japanese kids may be sharp in math, science and economics, but they may be lacking in common sense. At least, they haven't figured out how to get a summer vacation.

Heard on WBAP:
 Q: How do you tell a plant from a weed?
 A: If you water it and it dies, it's a plant. If you dig it up and it grows back, it's a weed.

Flag rules

The American flag should be displayed on days when weather permits, especially on national and state holidays and such days as may be proclaimed by the President. On Memorial day the flag should be half staffed until noon.

The flag should never be used as drapery of any sort.

It is the custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on flagstaffs in the open, but it should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement. The flag may be displayed at night upon special occasions.

Girls State

Two from Haskell attend Girls State

Two Haskell girls left Tuesday for Seguin where they will be delegates to Bluebonnet Girls State on the campus of Texas Lutheran College.

Representing Haskell will be Martha Nava, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nava, and Cathryn Seelke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy D. Seelke.

Girls State began Tuesday and will continue through Friday, June 21. On Monday of next week, the girls will visit the state capital in Austin and meet state leaders.

Girls State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Local businesses and individuals make donations to cover the expenses.

Canner gauges to be tested

Haskell area residents may have their pressure canner gauges tested for accuracy either Friday or Monday.

Lou Gilly, county extension agent-home economics, will test gauges in the extension office kitchen on those dates.

Hours will be from 9 to 11 a.m. Friday and from 2 to 4 p.m. on Monday.

All that is needed for the testing is the canner lid if it has the pressure gauge attached, or the pressure gauge only if the canner has the type of gauge that is not attached to the lid.

Those unable to bring their gauges during these times may bring them to the county extension office at their convenience and leave them to be checked during one of the scheduled times. Gauges will not be checked again this summer.

Mrs. Gilly said that home pressure gauges should be checked annually to insure safe canning.

Denise Wilson

Rule student is recognized at ceremony

Denise Wilson, a student at Rule Junior High School, was honored for her academic achievement at a statewide ceremony Monday at Texas Christian University.

The recognition ceremony was sponsored by the Duke University Talent Identification Program (TIP) to salute the seventh-graders from Texas who qualified in TIP's 11th annual Talent Search. All students invited to the ceremony had earned scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Testing Assessment (ACT) comparable to the average scores of college-bound high school seniors.

TIP conducts recognition ceremonies in each of the 16 states it serves in the Southeast, Midwest and Southwest. Over 57,000 mathematically and verbally able seventh-graders were identified by the program this year. TIP offers additional educational opportunities for gifted students in seventh through 10th grades.

TIP is a non-profit educational organization established in 1980 with a five-year grant from The Duke Endowment. The program receives continuing support from student fees, individuals, corporations and foundations.

Denise is the daughter of Jack and Suzie Wilson of Rule.

This month's check was in the amount of $9,590.76, compared to last June's check for $8,701.27.

Only other Haskell County city to receive a rebate check this month was Rule, which received $724.53.

For the first six months of 1991, the cities of Haskell, O'Brien, Rochester, Rule and Weinert, have received $91,193.80. This is a 7.49-percent increase over the $84,841.35 received through June of 1990. All five cities are ahead of their 1990 paces.

Perry launches program

Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry has launched a new economic initiative to enhance Texas' commodity processing industries--a move that could mean new jobs for Texans.

Perry said the program, known as "Make it TEXAS," will help capitalize on the abundant commodities it produces.

"We can brag that we produce more cotton, cattle, goats, wool and mohair than any other state," Perry said. "But the bragging stops when it comes to processing those products--and reaping the resulting profits. Texas on the whole hasn't aggressively pursued processing industries."

Texas lags behind the rest of the country in preparing, refining or packaging what it produces. Nationally, 20 percent of all commodities are taken through the processing stage in the state where they are produced. But in Texas, that number is only 8 percent, the commissioner said.

"By exporting our raw commodities, we are, in effect, exporting jobs, opportunities and dollars that otherwise would go into Texans' pocketbooks," Perry said.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for residence Custom Calling Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for certain residence Custom Calling Services.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling 8 and Speed Calling 30.

The Company's proposal would increase the monthly rate for the individual Call Waiting feature from $2.10 to $3.10 for residence customers. Also, the rates for certain combinations of Custom Calling Features (Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8) would increase or decrease depending upon the combination of features. In addition, the company proposes to obsolete the optional Custom Calling Service feature Speed Calling 30 for residence customers except for existing customers at their existing locations. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

One Feature Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting	$2.10	$3.10
Call Forwarding	2.10	2.10
Three-Way Calling	2.10	2.10
Speed Calling-8	2.10	2.10
Two Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding	3.75	4.50
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling	3.70	4.50
Call Waiting, Speed Calling-8	3.70	4.50
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling	3.70	3.50*
Call Forwarding, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50*
3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50*
Three Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and 3-Way Calling	5.30	5.90
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.90
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.90
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	4.90*
Four Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	6.90	7.30
Speed Calling 30	3.20	3.20

* denotes rate decrease

 Southwestern Bell's application proposes to obsolete residence Speed Calling 30 except for existing customers at their existing locations.

Most of the Company's residence customers in Texas who subscribe to one or more of the Custom Calling Service features will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring. It is expected that the proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.9 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. The restructuring will result in an increase in the Custom Calling Services rates for approximately 2.5 million residence customers and rate decreases for approximately 15,000 residence customers. Also, the obsolescence of the optional feature Speed Calling 30 will affect approximately 156,000 residence customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Model airplanes filled the skies Saturday and Sunday at the Haskell Model Airport.

Nineteen pilots competed in the "Fun Fly" events on Saturday and 35 pilots registered over 100 models for the Sunday flying.

The rainstorm Saturday afternoon failed to dampen the fliers' spirits although it kept them grounded for a while and forced cancellation of some events.

C. J. Young of Archer City won two of the three events flown to take top prize for the fun fly. Jim Belyeu of Plainview and Steve Barbour of Haskell took the other two places in the open event. Novice was won by Shawn Barbour of Haskell, with Donald Fetty of Dyess second and Eddie Collins of Wichita Falls third.

Pilots and spectators chose a quarter-scale clipped-wing cub as the prettiest model of the meet. It was flown by David Carmer of Abilene. The ugliest model award went to Kip Nemir of Haskell. The pilot coming the farthest was Craig Capers of Garland. Mark Gery of Abilene had the misfortune to claim the worst crash award when a control failure totally destroyed his beautiful large scale CAP 21.

Drawings were held all day and everyone went home a winner.

None topped Jim Belyeu as he won the ready-to-fly model built by the local club. Bob Giles of Spur won a six-channel radio in the final drawing.

Members of the sponsoring Texas Chiefs Model Airplane Club expressed their thanks to those who helped make the event a success.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

DOES YOUR WILL NEED UPDATING?

Do you bypass articles about the need for a will because you already have a will? Good for you! Too many people never manage to get a will prepared. But don't regard your will as something to be faced once and then forgotten, because a will needs to be changed as often as your life's major circumstances change.

Wills are a creature of state law. If you have moved to another state since your will was written, it may be invalid under your current state's laws. Get an attorney in your new state to review it for compliance with current state laws.

Are your personal representative and the guardian appointed for your minor children still willing and able to serve? Are they the ones you would still want to serve? If time and circumstances have changed these choices, you should contact your lawyer to reestablish these important provisions or risk having the court appoint someone who might not know your wishes in these matters.

Marriage, divorce and births should always trigger an updating of your will. Even if you have left someone out intentionally, that person may contest the will, tying up the estate assets during a period when your rightful beneficiaries have need of them. Address this issue with your attorney.

Do you still own the personal or real property items referred to in your will? If not, do you want the intended recipient to get a comparable inheritance? If you don't specifically say so, that individual may not get anything.

Has your will been examined in the cold, clear light of the massive tax changes that came about during the 1980's? What was smart estate advice ten or even five years ago may not be appropriate today.

A clear, concise, up-to-date will is a final gift you can leave your beneficiaries, one that can alleviate additional stress and uncertainty at an already difficult time. If you haven't reviewed your will in some time, set up an appointment with your attorney to do so now.

(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

As the skies boiled in angry fury last week, I waited in anticipation for the rain to finally subside. With the rivers at flood stage I could now take my cameras aloft and capture on film what a ground level perspective cannot show. The little champ climbed lazily into the rain laden skies as the western horizon promised a crimson sunset only an hour away. Heading Southwest, the plane and I were soon circling the area where the Double Mountain Fork and the Salt Fork of the Brazos converged. In awe over, the powerful waters seething below, I continued to circle above, watching the deadly whirlpools play their deceiving games in the late evening light.

Soon, with the sun on its downward journey to signal another days end, I headed the plane further to the Southwest. The looming forms of the Double Mountains soon dominated the horizon, standing silent guard converged the twisting river whose waters takes the name of this Rocky guardian. With my Rivers book in mind, I felt an urgency to expose an image that would tie these two natural phenomena into a state of brotherhood. The Double Mountains and the Double Mountain Fork- there must be a photo to tell the story. The sun shown but a quarter full on the horizon than I finally saw my photograph. The twisting course of the River meandered for a distance directly in line with the "MTMS" and the crimson horizon. Circling rationally in an attempt to line up the elements for the photo I could see, the sun blinked its last rays before leaving the land and sky to the God of darkness. Savoring the feeling one gets from a job well done, I headed the plane Northeast and watched the swirling rivers slide below in the darkening hour of twilight.
