

Visit Alaska

Following a Princess Cruise voyage of the glaciers from Vancouver, to Kitchikan, Juaneau, Skagway and Glacier Bay, this group recently visited distant towns, relatives and friends throughout Alaska. Nancy and Bailey Tolliver visited Jimmy and Jan Bledsoe in Anchorage before they toured Point Barrow and Prudhoe Bay. Anita Herren and Frances Lane visited Robert and Carolyn Camolie in Anchorage before they continued on to Fairbanks where they were met by Gordon and Shirley Johnston. Harlan and Jimmie Weinert traveled to the Aleutian Islands where Harlan was stationed during World War II. Beatrice Weinert and Joella Weinert Perkins, now of Houston, visited Anchorage. Tina Cobb Holland and Hazel Cummings of Moab, Utah, went to Homer, Alaska. Debbie Burson Piper of Ennis, Lee Burson, Ernie and Margie Huss, all of Haskell, and Doug and Dorothy Myers of Munday went to Denali National Park.

Indians look good at Roscoe; scrimmage Knox City today

The Haskell Indians will scrimmage the Knox City Greyhounds there tonight (Thursday) in their last dress rehearsal before opening the season at Munday next week.

Coaches expect the Greyhounds to be a more formidable foe than Roscoe was last Friday when the Indians held their first scrimmage.

But they were well pleased with the Indians' performance against the 1A Plowboys.

Haskell's first unit outscored Roscoe's first unit, 3-2, and the Indians' second unit was on the long end of a 3-1 score.

"We saw a lot of good things," said Coach Walter Hargrove. "As expected, we made some mistakes with all of our inexperience, but we were pleased."

The Indians moved the ball well. The starting offensive line of Will Dunivan and Jimmy Johnston, tackles; Mike Layland and Edgar Nava, guards; and Heath McMeans, center, blocked real well, as did split end Tommy Isbell. Brent Breeden, tackle, and Matt Perry, guard, also played with the first unit.

Joining Breeden and Perry on the second unit offensive line were Leon McBee, Shawn Sanford and Kevin Conner.

A blow to the offense was an injury to Chris Tanner, ticketed to be the starting quarterback. He suffered a broken collarbone in the first few plays of the scrimmage and will be out of action for at least four weeks.

Sophomore Mart Guess replaced Tanner and performed well. He threw touchdown passes to Jonathan Tatum, Robert Huff and Isbell.

Other offensive performers included Jason Torres, fullback; Cody Josselet, tailback; Johnny Rodriguez, split end; and Isaac Swann, tailback.

The defense allowed Roscoe to control the ball a good bit with two long drives, but Hargrove said "we were in a new defense formation and we should be able to fix what we didn't do well."

He singled out linebacker Torres, tackle Layland, end McMeans and corner back Rodriguez for "doing all the right things."

But above all, Hargrove said he liked the enthusiasm the team showed.

The Indian junior varsity also came out on top, 3-1, against the Roscoe JVs.

Voters say 'No'

City hall financing arrangement rejected

Haskell voters said "no" Saturday to a proposal to give the City of Haskell authority to issue $400,000 in certificates of obligation to finance construction of a new city hall.

The final tally showed 299 voting against the proposal, with 173 voting in favor. Percentagewise, the proposal was defeated, 63-37.

The special election was for the purpose of determining a method of financing the new city hall, not whether the structure is to be built.

Three compete in HHH

Riders in the Criterium can reach speeds of 35-40 miles per hour.

Average age of HHH riders is between 20 and 40 with a 3-1 male/female ratio. Temperatures neared 100 degrees on both days.

Costs going up for traffic fines

Like a lot of other things, it's going to cost you more to break the law.

Beginning Sept. 1, court costs for traffic fines in JP court will be increased by $5.50.

Justice of the Peace Buck Everett said the increase in court costs has been mandated by new legislation. All of the increase will go to the state.

Court costs on traffic violation charges will go up from $17.50 to $23, Everett said. That means that fines and court costs will range from $40.50 to $155 for speeding violations.

The $40.50 is for speeding between 56 and 64 miles per hour. The cost increases in increments of $5 for each additional 5 miles of speed up to $75 for speeds of 85 to 89 mph. Fine and costs for speeds of 90 to 100 mph are $135.50 and for 100 mph or more the fine and costs come to $155.50.

The $5.50 extra in court cost also applies to all other traffic violations.

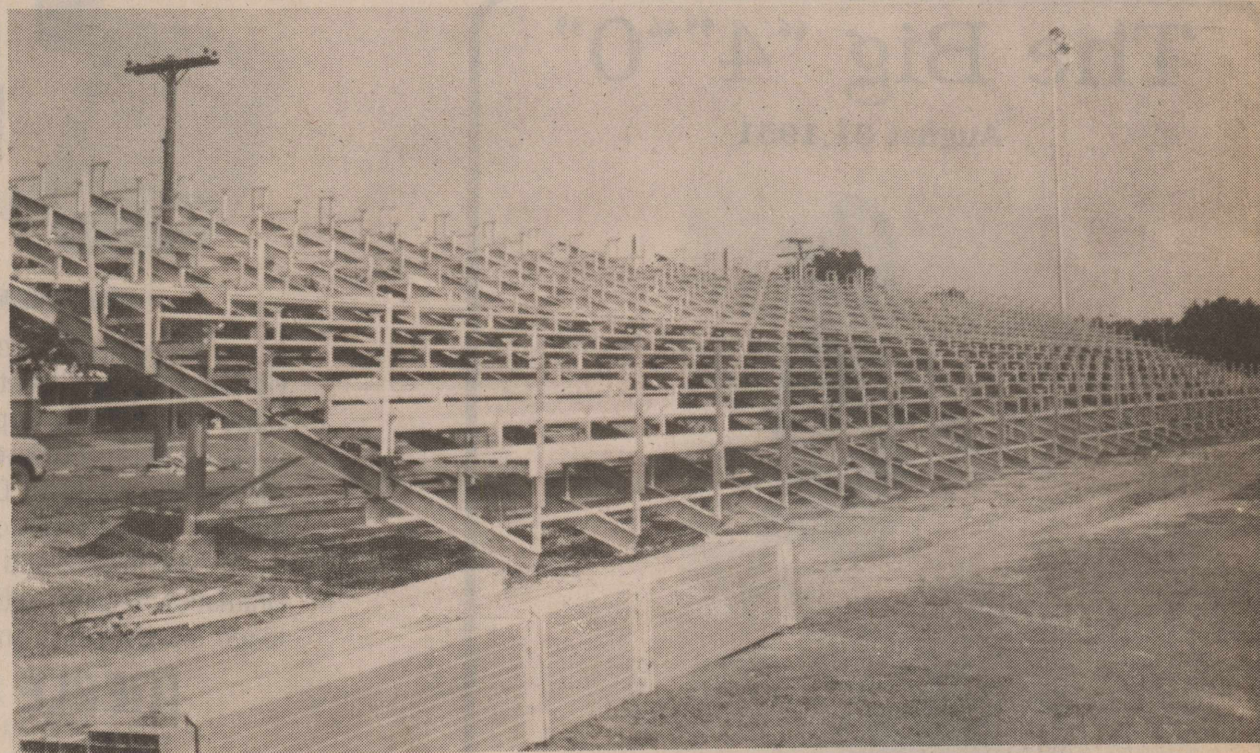

And beginning Sept. 1, those operating motor vehicles without proof of financial responsibility will be subject to fines of $175, plus a $75 added charge by the state, plus the $23 court costs, for a total of $273.

The new fine schedule follows on the heels of a new law in effect since June 1 which calls for a $20 assessment, in addition to fine and court costs, for traffic violations in school zones. The $20 goes into a state fund to promote child safety.

New scoreboard

Another new addition to the Indian football stadium this year will be the new scoreboard, now in place at the north end. It replaces the one destroyed in the April tornado. The 25-second clock, along with a similar one on the south end, is courtesy of the First National Bank.

Going up

Rising rapidly at the Haskell High School football stadium are the new stands, being erected to replace those destroyed by the April tornado. The stands are expected to be completed in plenty of time for the first home football game, against Seymour on Sept. 13.

New Hope reunion held

Officers re-elected for 1992 include Howard Hopkins, president; Leon Billington, secretary; and Gertrude Hopkins, treasurer.

The meeting concluded with a generous drawing for door prizes.

--Paint Creek--

By Mabel Overton
Several have asked me for some Paint Creek news in the paper. So I'll try to write some, although most of the Paint Creekers I used to write about are grown up, moved away, married somebody out of the county, or are dead. I don't even know many people out here, especially those at the lake. But I'll try, if you Paint Creekers will call me (864-2886) any news you have.

Gene Fischer became quite ill Saturday, the 17th, and had to be rushed to Humana Hospital at Abilene where he underwent emergency surgery for a ruptured colon. Because he had the surgery so soon after the rupture, he had few post surgical problems, and was able to come home this past weekend. His mother and daddy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fischer, are with him and Mrs. Fischer this week.

School began Monday the 12th, and seems to be humming right along. The football team scrimmaged Northside Friday night, and Coach Haliburton and Coach McCoy have some good looking players. By good looking, I mean they are rather big boys. Come watch them play this fall. We have 112 students registered.

The Paint Creek Methodist Church has a new pastor since Conference. Brother Sid Parsley came to us in June, and we welcome him to Paint Creek. We especially welcome his talented wife, Kathleen. I won't have to play the piano anymore. I'll bet even the piano is glad.

Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Gonzales moved from Paint Creek this past spring, and now live in Stamford to be near their children. Mrs. Gonzales has lost her sight.

Bill Overton of Abilene spent Sunday with his parents, the Gene Overtons, and his twin brother, Wallar, and his family. He has just spent five weeks in England, as he does every summer, and began his drama classes at Cooper High School this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perry helped their son, Ricky, and his family move to Austin week before last. Ricky has been flying his plane back and forth between Austin and Haskell while his wife, Anita, was director of nurses at the Haskell Hospital.

Attending the funeral of Julia Pustejovsky Saturday at the Catholic Church in Stamford were Mrs. Frances Fischer, Mrs. Joan (Baumback) Davis from Abilene, her mother, Mrs. Otto Baumback, Joyce (Shanafelt) Decker from Haskell, and Mrs. Gene Overton. Julia had 11 handsome grandsons, all dressed alike, as her pallbearers, and lots of other little grandchildren. She and Frank reared three fine daughters at Paint Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Green have a baby boy born three weeks ago. His daddy is our agriculture teacher. Being the only tiny baby on faculty row, he can't help but be spoiled a little. His name is Justin.

A lovely bridal shower honoring Paige Morgan, bride-elect of Gaylon Richter, was given by the ladies of the Haskell Church of Christ last Sunday after the evening worship service.

Mrs. Frances Fischer spent last week in Lovington, N.M., taking some treatments for her neck. She was seriously injured when the Fischer home at Paint Creek was demolished in a butane explosion 11 years ago. She has been wearing a neck brace for the past two months. The doctor told her she could leave off the brace most of the time now.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Watson were guests of Ethel and John Thomas for a hamburger supper at their lake home one night last week.

The Paint Creek Homemakers Club served as hostesses for the Haskell County Homemakers last Wednesday afternoon at the Council office. Dolores Medford, Ann Sinclair, Frances Fischer, Dorothy Wells and Mabel Overton enjoyed a dessert plate and tea.

Mr. Tim Jennings, our new water man in Paint Creek, has been checking all the water lines and flushing out those that needed it. Mrs. J. W. Grametbauer was singing his praises the other day when I saw her. He had let her run all that flush water on her beautiful yard of grass, shrubs and flowers. It is a lot of fun to visit Mrs. Grametbauer. She has a large, white pet turkey, some ducks, guineas, and all kinds of chickens.

Please send me any community news you know, or anything you want in the paper. If you don't, I might just make up some news about you.

We perform enough cardiac procedures to know the process by heart.

At The Humana® Heart Center, we've performed over 1,500 bypass surgeries since the program's inception. And that's an impressive number since the Journal of the American Medical Association states that hospitals performing over 200 bypasses a year generally have a higher surgical success rate.* So, it's no wonder The Humana Heart Center is the preferred choice in our area for cardiac care. Our approach is comprehensive, which includes providing diagnostic testing, surgery, cardiac rehabilitation and education. And we're close by, allowing family members to be close at hand in times of need. Mary Kaigler:

From the Inside Out

Idly glancing at the back-to-school flyer in today's mail--remembering the yearly thrill of having new "pointy" Crayolas and a new, red Big Chief tablet--I saw the picture of Elmer's white paste and I thought of James Anderson and my first day of school.

That morning Mama tied the sash of my new print dress, brushed my unruly red hair into long curls and then abandoned me at the door of Mrs. Shaw's room.

Whatever I expected of first grade, it didn't include seeing James Anderson eat his paste. Sitting across the aisle from me, he worked on it all day. It was the squeeze-tube kind and as it oozed up, finally curling over, he licked it off. By the end of the day he had squeezed out the last morsel and was peeling the wrappers off his new crayons, one by one. I watched expectantly, but he didn't eat them. (Later on, when he ate the paste that all teachers knew how to cook up and put into jars for class projects, it seemed a perfectly natural thing for him to do. We just all accepted that "James eats his paste.")

Sitting across on the other side was Gene Young who had already fascinated me by printing with chalk the town's name, ABERNATHY, down the side of Daddy's newly painted black Chevy. Greatly impressed, even if Daddy wasn't, I thought it was a brilliant thing to do, being such a long word.

Smart, witty and competitive, Gene completely deflated my timid ego that day by making "faces" at me every time I looked at him. My feelings were hurt, but I continued to look at him every chance I got and to secretly "claim" him anyway.

Mesmerized by these two nervous boys who were themselves trying to cope with the new situation called school, I hypotonically watched them; repulsed on one side, rebuffed on the other. One making my stomach hurt and one hurting my heart, while I spent the day not at all understanding of the sometimes-strange beginnings of friendships.

All through school James was one you just couldn't take seriously, even though he tried. The high school yearbook in which he painstakingly inscribed, "I could sit in study hall the rest of my life gazing into your blue eyes," belonged to my best friend, brown-eyed Merle Goebel. She and the entire freshman class thought this case of mistaken book-identity was hilarious.

At the junior-senior Mystery Celebrity party James couldn't believe that we stumped everyone by coming as Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland. He must have felt exactly like short, blonde, unkempt Andy Hardy, but being almost six feet tall, having black hair and wearing a "found" tuxedo, he certainly didn't look the part to anyone else. It was fun to do, but I knew very well I didn't look like Judy.

The year after graduation James came by John Halsey Drug in Lubbock, where I was bookkeeper. "Heard old Gene came by here to say goodbye to you on his way overseas," he said. "I couldn't let him get ahead of me. This is my last stop before I get on that bus to boot camp. I just hope we both get back."

Gene didn't get back. After one term at Abilene Christian College he was called into the service and sent to Germany, where he was killed in his first battle. As each generation of war-time youth does, we asked the unanswered question, "why?" and we grieved. We wondered what this one who had such potential might have done with his life had he been given the time, and we went on with our own lives while we had the time. One of the "good who die young", he will forever stay that way for me, "good and young."

James got back, thankfully. I didn't see him but I heard from him. In a small-world coincidence Tom gave him a ride from Lubbock to Abernathy early one morning right after the war, told him who he was, and James sent me a message. "Tell her I'm getting married, too," he said proudly. "To a nurse, a red-headed nurse. She knows I've always had a taste for red-heads."

He was right, I knew he had it, but knowing his taste for paste, I never knew just how complimented to feel about it.

The boys in first grade--I guess you don't ever forget them.

New law tightens auto registration

Beginning Sept. 1, the simple matter of registering a motor vehicle in Texas will become a little more complicated.

As of that date, the owner of a motor vehicle must submit proof of financial responsibility with an application for initial registration, renewal of registration or transfer of registration. Also for the first time, Texans will have to show proof of insurance to receive or renew their driver's licenses and vehicle inspection stickers.

The change is a result of insurance reform enacted by the 72nd Legislature.

"Many states have found that tying these responsibilities to proof of insurance increases compliances with mandatory liability law," said Arnold Oliver, engineer-director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. "But the Legislature was really responding to public pressure. Insured driver's--that's about 75 percent of us--wanted to tighten enforcement on the other 25 percent."

The most common evidence of financial responsibility is a liability insurance card issued to the policyholder by the insurance company. Examples of other types of acceptable proof include insurance policies and binders, pool coverage documents, certificates of self-insurance and certificates of bond.

The new law applies to registration handled in person or by mail. The original or a photocopy of the evidence will satisfy the requirement of proof of financial responsibility. All original documentation will be returned.

The Spanish padres from 1685 to 1793 established 35 to 40 Franciscan missions in Texas, and the sites of some of these missions have not yet been located.

Headline in the student newspaper at the University of Minnesota: "University Cafeteria Feeds Thousands; Grosses Millions."

It started over a stolen pig, but it's ending up as pork--as in pork barrel.

Congress has appropriated $150,000 to make a study of the legendary feud between the families of William Hatfield and Randolph McCoy.

The feud, which began in 1878 over an alleged theft of a pig, claimed 12 lives before ending at the Supreme Court in 1889.

The government project aims to document the social and economic contexts of the feud.

The beneficiary: The tiny town (800 population) of Matewan, W. V., the home base of the Hatfields and McCoys. As government things have a tendency to do, the project will go beyond its original intent. Money will be used to help flood control, town revitalization, start a weekly newspaper and install a greenway to connect hiking trails with recreational and historic areas.

And it all started with a stolen pig.

Haskell, along with Andrews, Childress, Midland, El Paso, Dallas and a bunch of other cities, is a city located in a county of the same name.

But if you're looking for Austin County, you'd better not drive down to the state capital. The county of Austin is a lot farther south. Bellville is the county seat of Austin County.

And don't place Jefferson (city) in Jefferson County. The city is in Marion County in northeast Texas south of Texarkana, while the county is down near the coast (Beaumont).

The city of Bowie is in Montague County. But Bowie County is over in northeast Texas (New Boston).

Cherokee is a tiny town in San Saba County, a far piece from Jacksonville and Rusk, the principal towns of Cherokee County.

Dimmitt, in Castro County, is a long way from Dimmitt County where Carrizo Springs is the county seat.

Yoakum is in DeWitt County, while Plains and Denver City are in Yoakum County.

Tyler, in Smith County, is not to be confused with Tyler County (Woodville), and Taylor in Williamson County is nowhere close to Taylor County (Abilene).

One of the most commonly confused county locations is Pecos. That's down in Fort Stockton and vicinity. The city of Pecos is in Reeves County.

All Texans know that Terrell is a few miles east of Dallas. But that's the city of Terrell in Kaufman County. Terrell County is down near the Mexican border and has a single town, Sanderson, unless you can call Dryden and Independence towns.

And Colorado City is not in Colorado County, but Mitchell. Woodville is not in Wood County, but Tyler, and Stephenville is not in Stephens County, but Erath.

I got to thinking about this the other day when I read that more United Nations offices are located in Switzerland than in any other country. And Switzerland is not even a member of the UN.

Edsel Curnutt, the subject of Bill Hart's sports column in the Reporter-News Tuesday, was my high school baseball coach in Oklahoma.

He played every minute of every football game for the University of Oklahoma in 1932, a school record which probably will stand forever since today's players don't play on both offense and defense.

Not until I saw him at a high school reunion in November did I know that he lives in Abilene. Since then, we've downed many cups of coffee together on Saturday mornings as we relish the old days. He just laughed when I asked him if he remembered the time he called me a "jug head," for missing a sign to steal second base, the closest I ever heard him come to cursing.

I don't remember how I got to first base. That must have been the year I got my hit.

Overton teaches class in England

Bill Overton, head of the drama department at Cooper High School in Abilene, has returned from England where he spends his summers.

After the Albany "Fandangle" where Bill is the assistant director and writes some of the songs, he goes to London to study different phases of drama and see all the plays he can.

This summer he was asked by the Stratford-on-Avon Festival to teach a course in puppet construction. He mailed his puppets ahead and after the Fandangle he spent two weeks in London seeing plays. Then for two weeks, he taught construction, and his students gave his original play, "Rumpelstiltskin," for graduation.

This will be of interest to Haskell children who saw "Rumpelstiltskin" last Christmas when Overton brought his Cooper High School students and gave it as Lane Felker's and the Haskell merchants' Christmas gift to the children of Haskell.

Overton is the son of Gene and Mabel Overton and the brother of Waller and Mike Overton.

The following article appeared in the Aug. 2 issue of the Stratford-on-Avon Herald, written by B. Sharp.

For the last five days of the town's festival, Dermot and Margaret O'Brien, the professional puppeteers from Ettington, have staged daily Puppet Workshops, with three shows from them and no fewer than five professional shows.

It is to their credit that this is the ninth year of puppets, which as far as is known is longer than any other puppet festival has continued.

Tucked away round by the parish church it may be that this festival within a festival does not get all the credit it deserves.

The facts of the matter, though, are that when mass following is on trial the local youngsters can be taught nothing by the Pied Piper. During the week hundreds of them have trooped into the parish and Wesley Halls to be captivated and indeed educated in the making and performing of puppets.

The O'Briens brought their tutors from far and wide. It is to my sorrow that I only visited one show and that was the penultimate where Bill Overton of Texas had everyone rocking in their seats including our mayor and mayoress. A giant of a man with a personality to match he led his audience where e'er he wished and slavishly they followed with broad grins upon their faces. It is a cert that his expertise was raising his young assistants way above themselves.

Sponsors for this full and excellent week were Hussain's Restaurant, Central Television, the county council, and West Midlands Arts for the carnival puppets.

The venues are about right, but if Bill Overton's show was anything to go by they deserve an evening performance, when a few more adults can dip into the delights so greedily consumed by the children.

Richardson Band prepares equipment for season

A. C. Richardson of Richardson Truck and Tractor of Haskell attended a regional meeting recently of Case IH dealers in Memphis, Tenn.

The Southern region dealers previewed two new Case International products: the 7150 Magnum tractor and 2055 Cotton Express picker. Both will be available to farmers early next year.

"No other two-wheel drive tractor currently on the market can match the 215 PTO horsepower of the 7150," Richardson said. "It offers the popular features of the Magnum line--such as an 18-speed powershift transmission and mechanical front drive--along with several product enhancements, all in a larger package. Treat settings, lift capacity and higher horsepower make the 7150 an ideal tractor for row-crop as well as many other applications."

During the meeting, Richardson reviewed other products in the Case International line and attended various dealer business sessions.

Richardson Truck and Tractor has served Haskell and surrounding counties for the past 28 years. "I'm very impressed with the direction Case-IH is taking," he said.

A. C. and Gil Richardson recently had breakfast in Dallas with Bob Carlson, new president of J.I. Case Co.

The first day of school means many different things to people. For parents, it is a relief, for students, a return to the days of homework and responsibility.

But for some teenagers, school actually started weeks ago. The Haskell Indian band was practicing five days a week while most students slept till noon and dreaded the upcoming school year.

Even now, the work does not end. Every Monday and Tuesday night, the band can be found on the practice field behind the band hall, striving to perfect the halftime show and achieve the much longed-for rating of I at UIL marching contest.

This year, the band consists of students who have all marched before, giving it more maturity of sound and style.

"With everyone having marching experience, it has been easier teaching the halftime drill," said band director Joe Waldrop.

Notes From The Rolling Plains

(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

I recently visited with biologist from South Carolina who told me of a wildlife commissioners meeting where a person was present who wanted to have the dove listed as a song bird. do you know what this means? Forget the future of dove hunting if people like this are allowed to get a foothold in the door. But do you know that we are closer than you might think to this very thing happening, especially with other game species that we have taken for granted over the years. And do you know who is responsible for this mentality perpetuating itself in our state? The answer is simple. Too many men, women, and children are allowed in the field who have no concept of the word sportsmanship. I am sure that we all know at least one person who is guilty of killing three limits of birds on the opening day of the season. I could make a list right now of the many so called "hunters" who annually take many times their legal limit of game. We as sportsmen and women must realize that our manners afield are being closely scrutinized by those who would like to see this age old privilege taken away. The hunting seasons of 1991 will soon be under way in the rolling plains. I urge you all to remember that hunting etiquette is critical to the survival of this annual ritual that we seem to now take for granted. Stop shooting when you've taken your limit of birds or deer. Please respect the landowners requests when exercising your privilege to hunt. Do not leave empty shell casings afield. Empty soft drink containers lying about only alienates the people who placed trust in you. Alcohol and firearms do not miss. Enjoy the outdoors in a natural state of mind. Leave the liquor for after hours. What we practice today could very well be our savior tomorrow...or our downfall.

DEDICATED TO EXCELLENCE

We specialize in cataract surgery with intraocular lens implant and routinely use the small incision phacoemulsification technique. We have 2 modern, fully equipped operating rooms each with its own Zeiss operating microscope and Phacoemulsifier. We also have an observation room so that family and friends may view the surgery while it is happening. Our ambulatory surgery center is State licensed and Medicare approved. We have performed over 3,000 cataract implant operations since 1987. Our doctors accept Medicare Assignment and we think you will find our fees very competitive with most hospitals. Our friendly, dedicated staff is available to answer any of your questions. If you need transportation, we can help.

NOTICE OF EFFECTIVE TAX RATE

1991 Property Tax Rates in City of Haskell
This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for City of Haskell. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

LAST YEAR'S TAX RATE:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 143,734.68
Last year's debt taxes	0.00
Last year's total taxes	143,734.68
Last year's tax base	50,204,218
Last year's total tax rate	00.2863 per $100

THIS YEAR'S EFFECTIVE TAX RATE:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property) / This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting taxes on new property)	$143,734.68
= This year's effective tax rate	00.2918 per $100
- Sales tax adjustment rate	00.1466 per $100
= Effective tax rate	00.1452 per $100
X 1.03 = maximum rate unit unless publishes notices and holds hearing	00.1495 per $100

THIS YEAR'S ROLLBACK TAX RATE:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property) / This year's adjusted tax base	$143,734.68
= This year's effective operating rate	49,261,255
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	00.2918 per $100
+ This year's debt rate	00.3151 per $100
= This year's rollback rate	00.0000 per $100
- Sales tax adjustment rate	00.3151 per $100
= Rollback tax rate	00.1466 per $100
	00.1685 per $100

SCHEDULE A: UNENCUMBERED FUND BALANCES
The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the current fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
General Fund	$100,000

SCHEDULE B: 1991 DEBT SERVICE (NONE)
SCHEDULE C: EXPECTED REVENUE FROM ADDITIONAL SALES TAX

In calculation of its effective and rollback tax rates, the unit estimates that it will receive $15,211,000 in additional sales and use tax revenues. This notice contains a summary of actual effective and roll back tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at Haskell County Appraisal District.

by Vicky Anderson
All in all, the month of August has been quite unusual, has it not? Usually, it has been terribly hot, thereby causing a very high electric bill; however, at the Anderson house our WTU bill was about half as much as expected. Thanks, West Texas Utilities Co., or should I instead thank our Father above for sending the cooling rains this month? At any rate, hope that all of you, too, receive smaller electricity bills for August.

On a visit to Hobbs, N.M. earlier this month, the younger brother of your writer: Ed Crow of Austin, also joined the older brother, Howard Crow, his wife, Pat, daughter, Linda Peterson and son, Tim of El Paso along with Mrs. Mullins and Mrs. Anderson for a mini-family reunion of the Crow double-cousins. Not able to be there were Marjory Crow Johnson of Mt. Pleasant, Milton Crow of Hamlin and Wilson Crow of North Little Rock, Arkansas. Deceased cousins of the original nine were Dorothy Crow Massey and Maurice Crow. Mrs. Massey lived in Stamford all of her married life, and Maurice lived in E. Gadsden, Alabama. One morning while in Hobbs, the group toured the building of the Confederate Air Force Branch at the local airport. There, Ed saw a plane just like the first one he flew while a cadet stationed at Blackland AFB during World War I. He later piloted B-24's while based in Liberal, Kansas and Pocatello, Idaho. Howard was a flight engineer on B-17's when he served in the Air Force during the War, being at Java and other points thereabouts. On Wed. night while in Hobbs, the ladies attended services at the Taylor Street Church of Christ where they were privileged to hear former Hamlinite, Eli Borden, now of Midland, deliver a message about prayer. His father, the late Eli Borden, Sr. was minister of the Hamlin Church of Christ in the 50s and 60s.

Sympathy is extended to the families of Walter Rinehart of Rule; and Dan Rinn of Stamford. Also of "Shooter" Dabney of Haskell.

Our best wishes are sent to the father of Ann Lindsey of Stamford and Charlene Murray of Rule, Leon Hargrove of Hamlin, who at last hearing was still at the Baylor University Medical Center; JO 624, 3550 Gaston Avenue, Dallas, TX 75426. Having been hospitalized myself quite a few weeks this year, I speak from experience: when I say those cards and letters certainly do help to pass the time away. Each day you begin looking forward to the mail's arrival.

Get well wishes also are sent to

G. W. "Dub" Christian, and a big "hello" to his wife: "Bun" in an Anson Nursing Home while he recuperates from his surgery.

We watched a scrimmage at Stamford on Friday night between Wylie and the Stamford Bulldogs. Some of it was recorded on K-TAB we learned later. It was good to see many old friends there. First, we had the Fowlers, Woncile and Allen with us. Later, their son, Jeff, came by. Talked with Mildred Smith of Stamford and Trica Mueller of Hamlin, whose son and grandson, Scott Mueller was on the Stamford team.

Jeff Fowler had just returned from taking his daughter, Morgan, age 4, back home to Houston after a visit in Stamford with her father and grandparents.

Mosquitos surely have been plentiful since the rain as have the careless weeds and tall grass. Know this is not necessary to mention as anyone can see what our yards look like-right?

Congratulations to proud parents Aylis and Ginger Cook upon the arrival of a baby son, Rory Aylis Cook, born on Aug. 12 at 3 p.m. in Hendrick Medical Center. He weighed 7 pounds, 6 oz. and was 20 inches long. Five year old sister, Sarah Nicole, has decided that a baby brother is just as wonderful as a new baby sister would have been! The maternal grandparents are Tommy and Pat Gray of Stamford, paternal grandmother is Thelma Johnson of Stamford; Louise Massey of Stamford is the baby's great-grandmother.

A special get well wish is sent to former Stamfordite, Jack Douglas Massey, who is hospitalized at Brazosport Hospital in Lake Jackson, Texas, following eye surgery and other extensive surgery. May God be with you, Jack, during this ordeal.

We sincerely hope that Dr. Selmon continues to improve from his hip fracture, which was sustained while vacationing in California.

We are happy to report that Ethel Greeson is doing fine following her eye surgery in Abilene on Aug. 20.

A belated happy birthday to Paige Jeffery, Jeri Kittley, Malcolm Herthenberger, Melvin Lee Kreger, Owen and Elda Aikin, John Duncan, Terry Weaver and Pauline Horton. Then, belated anniversary greetings are sent to David and Claire Halliburton and Sam and Joyce Turner. A happy birthday is wished for Dorothy Alsbrook, Jackie Wilcox and Lawrence Camp. Finally, on Aug. 31st, a happy anniversary is wished for John and Orheana Greeson.

It was nice seeing a former neighbor, Delores Malone Vahrenkamp and husband, Boots, of Grand Prairie; also, Mildred Smith and Betty Mickler of Stamford.

Congratulations to all those Bill Wilson employees in Haskell, who have accumulated so many years with the company.

It was nice to see Ethel Greeson out on Sunday.

Welcome home to Leon and June Biffle, who have returned from a summer in Alaska.

Good luck and a good year is wished for college freshmen: Tori Jenkins and Jason Halliburton at ACU; and John and Paul Leonard at Angelo State College.

Rayberne Oliver is home after undergoing surgery recently to have a pin removed from his ankle; also, skin grating was done on his leg.

Belated sympathy is extended to the family of D. C. Hager of Cisco, and Lynn Young of Stamford.
