Grand grows cotton in town and country

By Wendell Faught
Russell Grand has been farming in Haskell County for 63 years.

But the 80-year-old Haskell man tried something new this year. He planted his back yard and part of his front yard at 705 North 3rd in cotton.

The results are outstanding. The cotton stalks stand almost chest-high, and are loaded with bolls. "I should be able to pick a few hundred pounds," he says of the acreage. (Actually, he estimates it as "something less than a quarter acre.")

But he's quick to point out that his uptown cotton crop is not an agricultural venture. He said he planted the cotton to keep down the dust around his home. Mrs. Grand

Seniors may pay property taxes in installments

Taxpayers over 65 may pay current taxes on their residence homesteads in installments as a result of a change in the Property Tax Code.

The taxpayer must pay at least one-fourth of the tax before the delinquency date. He may then pay the remainder in installments due before April 1, June 1 and Aug. 1, without penalty or interest. However, if the taxpayer misses an installment, the full 12-percent penalty and interest is imposed and interest begins to accrue on the unpaid installment.

For more information, contact the Haskell County Appraisal District at 604 N. 1st St. in Haskell, phone 864-3805.

Electra next foe for Haskell Indians

The Electra Tigers come down from the north country Friday night to do battle with the Haskell Indians. It will be the Indians' final non-district contest before opening 7-2A play next week at Winters.

Haskell Coach Walter Hargrove said the Tigers are a lot like the Indians, in that they are young and inexperienced. But he said they play hard, are well disciplined and very quick.

Electra's offense is led by fullback Brandon Lynn, who was a starter last year as a sophomore. Quarterback Tyrone Robinson started last year as a receiver. Still another returning starter is halfback Clark Jones. Another halfback, Tyrone Weaver, has seen plenty of action the the Tigers' first two games.

Electra has a 1-1 record. The Tigers lost their opener to 3A Bowie by a 42-13 score, but rebounded last week to defeat Pacucah, 21-6.

by Vicky Anderson

By the time this issue of the paper comes out, the Haskell County Fair will be half over; but, hopefully, most of us will have been to Haskell for the event.

As the old saying goes: "Third time is charm" or something to that effect, I believe. At any rate, his fall will be the third time I have started Dora Torres' Spanish Class, but have become too busy or had an illness that prevented the completion of the course (could I be learning to conjugate verbs, is he culprit, perhaps?)

Friend have heard from Cole and Dorothy Alsbrook of Rochester, who are vacationing in Colorado. Too, Bob and Dela Faye McLain have been to California recently to visit her mother Lois Rabe of Corcoran.

If you missed attending the recent gospel meeting at the Rule Church of Christ; then, it was your loss in not hearing the wonderful sermons delivered by Donald Ray Jones of Sonora and the great singing led by the local minister, John Greeson. It was a pleasure also to meet Claudene Jones, the wife of Donald Ray. Visitors attended from Hamlin, Haskell, Knox City, Rochester and San Angelo and Weinert to name a few. Lunch was served each day of the meeting with Monday the local church being host to the area preachers. Those attending were Stan Harvey, Cliff Cobb and Dorman Holub of Stamford; Jerry Jackson and wife, Linda from Hamlin; Dale Huff from Haskell, Larry Fitzgerald of Munday, Jim Pratt of Benjamin, and Marvin and Myrtle Phemister of Weinert along with their granddaughter and her husband, who are missionaries. Donald Ray and Claudene are natives of Rochester and Weinert so we were honored to have many visitors from the cities and others.

Evelyn Boyd, who runs an orphanage in Haiti is home in Knox City for a three month, badly needed "R&R". It was good to see her at the church services this past week.

We were saddened to learn of the death of C. O. Davis of Rule this past Friday, the 13th in Haskell. He was 100 years of age, and was greatly loved and admired by area residents. Our sincere sympathy is sent to his widow, Margaret; his daughter, Joyce Jones, son Dick Davis and other family members. Services were held on Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Rule.

It was good to see Lawrence Camp feeling better and able to be out.

Anita Weaver of Rule and her mother, Mary Sikes of Knox City left on the 13th to attend a State Hairdressers Convention in San Antonio, which is being conducted at the Hyatt Regency Hotel on the San Antonio River. What a wonderful place for a convention! I know from whence I speak as three nurses and "yours truly" attended a THA Convention and stayed at the same hotel about ten years or so ago. When four people share a room, it certainly makes the charges minimal.

Belated congratulations to Shannon Taylor, whose four touchdowns helped the Rule Bobcats win over the Trent Gorillas, 53-6 on Friday, 7th, the 6th in their opening game for the 1991 football season. Other Rule touchdowns were two by Cato Macias one on a 70 yard pass from Shane LeFevre and by Greg Teichelman on a 67 yard kickoff return to start the second half. Joe Zepeda scored on a 50 yard run.

What a rainy year (make that summer and early fall) we have had here in this part of West Texas! We sincerely hope that next Friday night will be the exception for we have sat in the rain watching football the past two Friday nights. At least the second time, we were much better prepared to stay dry. On Sat., our rain gauge showed a little more than half an inch in it.

At the FMA clinic in Stamford recently, it was good to see two of my favorite nurses from the old Stamford Sanitarium, Inez Newquist and Jonnie Jones.

Long-time friends Ethel Barbee of Stamford called your correspondent on Sat. with the information that a former Rule resident is presently undergoing chemotherapy in Austin, and when she visited her, the lady was feeling "down". Ethel thought it would cheer her up to hear from old friends. Her name and address is Bernice Price, %Charlene Hill, 1735 Rutland Drive, Austin, TX 78735.

Our sympathy is sent to the family of Herman Letz, who died recently in a nursing home. He had lived in Old Glory since 1904. Also, our sympathy is extended to the family of Emma Griffith of Paint Creek.

A happy married life is wished for Sandra LeFevre and Danny Sedberry of Rule, who plan to be married on Sept. 28 at the First United Methodist Church in Rule. Mrs. LeFevre is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Lees. She works at Campbell Insurance Agency.

Visiting Nona Norwood this past week was her daughter, Ives June Powell of Denton.

Tommy and Shelia Holmes of Abilene were guests of his mother, Jeanne Burleson, at church on Sunday. They went on to the Haskell Care Center to be with Tommy's parents: Bob and Denise Morrison. Bob is not doing too well. Later in the afternoon the Holmes returned for a visit with Jeanne in Rule.

Retith Keahey has been to Abilene where she underwent more tests.

Sam Turner has been feeling badly this past week, and is very weak.

Ethel Greeson got to return home from the Haskell Hospital on Sunday, Sept. 15 and is staying with Orheana for now.

John Greeson is conducting a gospel meeting in Wellington from Sept. 15-19.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Shayla Renae Nichols, who died suddenly from a heart attack at age 20. Her parents, Phyllis and Buster Nichols live in Hamlin. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Teichelman of Stamford were her maternal grandparents, and her maternal great-grandfather was Herman Klose of Stamford.

Happy anniversary is wished for Jerry and Molly Cannon on the 22nd. Happy birthday is sent to Melvin Sharp on the 23rd and to Shannon Kitley on the 25th of September.

Delanie Camp is spending a few days with her daughter, Odessa Hatfield in Abilene.

Ed and Charlene Murray took her father, Leon Hargrove, back to Dallas this past week. Since then, he has undergone emergency surgery.

Owen Aikin of Rochester conducted services at the Rule Church of Christ on Sunday morning, and Travis Boyd on Sunday night in the absence of John Greeson.

June Biffle was taken to Hendrick Medical Center on Sunday morning the 15th and will undergo tests on Monday to determine if surgery will be needed. Leon told your writer that she is in room 5714, but if her test turn out to be normal, she may get to return home on Monday the 16th.

Congratulations are again in order for the Rule Bobcats and Rochester Steers on their wins over Highland and Moran this past Friday. Also, to the Stamford Bulldogs for their 19-13 win over Merkel. The Haskell Seymour game was a thriller with a 13-13 tie. The Rule-Highland game was called with 1:30 remaining in the first half when the stadium lights blew a fuse with Rule leading 49-6. Rule piled up 34 points in the first period and was leading by the 43-point margin when the game was called. Shannon Taylor and Joe Zepeda each ran for two TDs, one of Zepeda on a 44 yard punt return. Other Rule TDs were by Greg Teichelman, Carlos and Noel Macias. Rochester defeated Moran by a score of 26 to 25.

Think about it: "One thing nice about egotists, they don't talk about other people." (From "And That's Wright" in the Sept. 5th issue of "The Apache News" Caddo County, Oklahoma).

Maid of Cotton search underway

The search has begun for the 1992 Maid of Cotton.

The National Cotton Council, sponsor of the program for 54 years, is now accepting applications from young women interested in the opportunity to serve as the U.S. cotton industry's goodwill ambassador.

Selection is open to young women between 19 and 23 who have never been married and are residents of cotton-producing states.

Paint Creek club meets Sept. 9

Paint Creek Homemakers met Sept. 9 in the home of Mabel Overton in the Paint Creek community.

After the meeting was called to order by the president, Dolores Medford, the hostess read a poem, "I'm Fine." Then all repeated the TEHA prayer.

All members present answered roll call with "a foolish item I've purchased." Minutes were read and the treasurer's report was given by Dorthay Wells. Dolores Medford had the Council report.

Plans were made for the Haskell County Fair that will be Sept. 17-21. Paint Creek Club's theme for a booth at the fair will be "Patriotism."

Refreshments were served to Ann Sinclair, Dolores Medford, Frances Fischer, Dorthay Wells and the hostess, Mabel Overton.

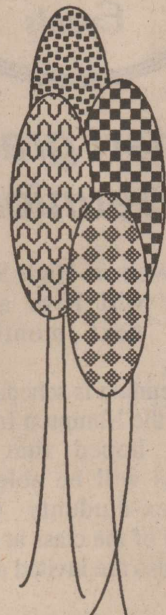

Happy 85th Birthday

Marine returns from Desert Storm

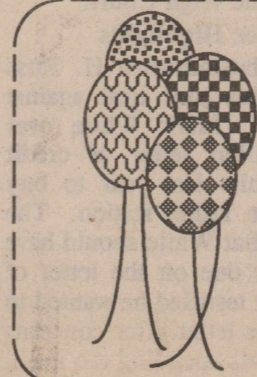

After nine months of anxious waiting, wondering and hoping, families and loved ones were finally reunited with more than 1,400 Marines and sailors with the 11th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) Aug. 27 at Camp Pendleton and the Del Mar boat basin.

Among them were Christy Bryant of Plainview and Kendall Wade Bryant of Orange, Calif., and his friend Jeff Carlson of Missouri. Kenny is the grandson of J. B. and Amelia Ozuna of Haskell. A welcome home reception was held Saturday in the home of Bryant's aunt, Betty Yanez of Haskell.

The 11th MEU was unique since it embedded fully into the 5th Marine Expeditionary Brigade which participated in the largest amphibious exercise since World War II.

"You just don't know how great it is to be back home after being out there in the desert so long," said Kenny. "I thank God, and everyone who was praying for us at all times and I want to thank all my family for such a wonderful reception. I also want to thank Mrs. Ann Butler of Haskell for donating the welcome home sign."

Public Notice

On June 28, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) to add a new optional service offering for business Private Branch Exchange (PBX) Trunk customers called Digital Loop Service. The application has been assigned Docket No. 10461.

Digital Loop Service provides digital transmission of circuit switched voice and data communications between the customer's premises and the central office. This service allows the customer to use a 1.544 Mbps facility capable of delivering up to 24 line terminations. Southwestern Bell will provide Digital Loop Service within the customer's serving central office where facilities are available.

If approved by the Commission, the rates for the Digital Loop Service facilities will be $445 per month for each digital transmission loop arrangement which provides a capacity of up to 24 line terminations, plus $5 per month for each line termination and $9 per month for each channel termination. The proposed rate for the unlimited use of the central office varies from $12.25 up to $18.90 per month for each line termination depending on the rate group classification, determined by the customer's location. Southwestern Bell estimates revenue of $2.1 million from this offering during the first year.

As proposed by Southwestern Bell, customers who currently receive digital loop compatibility through facilities installed under a special construction agreement will have the option to receive their current digital loop arrangements pursuant to the Digital Loop Service Tariff or continue to pay their current charges until they make a change of location or account. Any increase in the number of line terminations to a customer's current digital transmission loop arrangement will be provided pursuant to the proposed Digital Loop Service Tariff; however, the customer will continue to have the option of paying current charges for the existing digital transmission loop capacity. Southwestern Bell's proposal to "grandfather" existing digital loop facility arrangements is subject to review and approval by the Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but not later than October 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. TAX PLANNING

"MARRYING" A BUSINESS PARTNER

Forming a business partnership is much like getting married. And as high as the divorce rate is, the frequency of partnership breakup is even greater. A written partnership agreement can contribute immeasurably to the longevity of a partnership.

Generally, there is no legal requirement that a partnership agreement be in writing. New business owners may be reluctant to incur the expense of drafting a good agreement. However, it is much more expensive to litigate disagreements which will undoubtedly occur when it's one person's word against the other's.

In drafting an agreement, it is wise to take a long-term view of your business. You will want to address such topics as the sharing of profits and losses; contributions to the partnership of property, cash, or services; and draws and salaries. You should also consider future changes; i.e., the admission of new partners, the retirement or death of partners, and the eventual dissolution of the partnership.

You should also discuss the financial interdependency between the partners and the business. Can the partners each manage financially until the partnership profits can support them? What if a partner gets divorced or is sued?

Although it may seem indelicate to address these issues at the start of a business relationship, there will never be a better time. You can't run a business if you're arguing over details that should have been settled first, such as who does the hiring and firing, who keeps the books, what the overall direction of the business will be, and what role each partner will play in the day-to-day operation of the business.

One more thing: Each partner should have his or her own legal and accounting advisor going into the "marriage."

Notes From The Rolling Plains

(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

Some say Larry was crazy for taking on a wild boar with his bare hands. Under the circumstances he may have miscalculated the situation and took on more than what was realistically manageable. But my hat goes off to any man who is willing to take the trail less traveled. In this case the trail hasn't had a track in it for many centuries. Too many times in today's hunting fraternities, men and women take their spotlights, rifles, pistols, and caged traps into the brush and try their best to place the hunted creature at every disadvantage. With roaring pickups and blasting semi-automatic weapons, hogs and other creatures are sent sprawling to the ground, or worse yet, scurrying into the brush with serious wounds to die or linger for days before death mercifully steals them away. I recall the old story about the Comanche chiefs who were incarcerated in a Florida prison in the mid 1800's. When asked by the prison warden to put on an exhibit for some visiting foreigners by killing a wild bull without the aid of rifles, the old Indian chiefs simply said they would try. As the bull bore down on these wild men from the Texas plains, one of the gallant red men ran alongside of the beast and plunged a knife into the bull, incapacitating him completely. Leaping from their horses the two Comanches ripped out the bulls liver and ravenously devoured the raw delicacies, much to the dismay of the visitors. This is a show down in its rawest form. Man against beast, horn against knife. Although I don't plan on engaging in this form of competition in the near future, I applaud those two old Indians for their savage spunk. In turn, even if Larry did take on more than he could handle on that particular day he gets my vote for resurrecting an age old method of hunting. Man against beast, hands against teeth. This wild man from Oklahoma will get my vote for Top Sportsman of the Year.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - East Texas state Rep. Billy Clemons announced he is a candidate to unseat indicted, five-term Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis when the new legislature convenes in 1993.

Clemons, a Democrat from Pollok, sharply criticized Lewis for stalling or killing bills without debate.

"There is no democracy in the House," Clemons said, and he referred to Lewis' secretive calendars committee as "a secret killing machine." Clemons sits on that committee.

Lewis, who has yet to declare he will run for a sixth term as speaker, declined to comment on Clemons' bid.

Lewis was indicted by a grand jury in December on ethics charges and faces a pretrial hearing this month or early October.

He has denied the charges, but obviously his political future depends on the outcome of the indictment.

Clemons, Maybe Others

Clemons did not reveal the names of lawmakers who support him against Lewis, perhaps to spare them retaliation.

Most Capitol observers believe Clemons' support is thin, but the symbolism of a member challenging Lewis fuels speculation that the underground anti-Lewis movement is alive, maybe growing.

State Rep. Dan Kubiak, who has challenged Lewis to change House rules, said "unless Lewis makes significant changes, he will face one or more opponents before it is all over."

Kubiak, D-Rockdale, said Lewis over his 10 years as speaker has forced rule changes which now allow a small clique to dominate their colleagues.

"Just as the Soviet dictatorship was dismantled, Lewis' small clique will be forced by Texas House members to install rules for fair play," Kubiak predicted.

Richards, Bullock Hot

Gov. Ann Richards and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock blasted federal proposals to cut Medicaid money to Texas.

The federal Office of Budget and Management wants to end special hospital tax programs used to increase the state's share of Medicaid matching funds.

"They are changing the rules in the middle of the game," Bullock charged. "We adopted the budget in good faith and now they want to jerk the rug out from under us."

Morales: Cap and Suit

Attorney General Dan Morales said he will take further action to remove the 95 percent occupancy cap for Texas prisons if U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice and San Francisco lawyer William Bennett Turner, who represents Texas prisoners, don't agree to lift it.

Morales also sued Psychiatric Institutes of America to return millions in alleged illegal claims payments from the state Crime Victims' Compensation program.

The AG's office said PIA contracts with Recovery Line Inc. to find crime victims for counseling who are eligible for crime victims benefits.

But PIA pays $155,000 a month in overhead costs for Recovery Lines. Morales contends the two "are essentially one entity."

A state district judge restrained PIA affiliates from "bounty hunting" for crime victims through illegal finders fees and referrals.

Private Prisons Clash

The chairman of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Selden Hale III, said private prisons built with funds raised by State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison's husband are illegal.

Hutchison urges use of private prisons. Her husband, former lawmaker and state GOP chairman Ray Hutchison, was bond counsel for a private $12.3 million prison construction project.

Hale, appointed this year by Gov. Ann Richards, said those prisons are substandard according to the Ruiz federal lawsuit criteria.

The treasurer responded that Hale is a "prison system bureaucrat. Anyone with common sense knows it's better to put criminals in a prison than release them to city streets."

Cornyn: Two-Job Judge

Texas Supreme Court Justice John Cornyn drew fire for earning two state paychecks; he makes $91,035 a year as justice and $18,000 as judge of the 4th Administration Judicial Region.

Cornyn, a Republican, said he enjoys the administrative judge job; revised law allows him to hold both jobs, but Democrat lawmakers want him to give up the lesser job.

Suzy Woodford of Common Cause, a citizens watchdog group, said he risks a conflict of interest because he can appoint judges to hear cases he might hear later himself on the High Court.

Other Highlights

■ Dallas businessman H. Ross Perot won his jury trial against former Gov. Mark White over a $2.5 million letter of credit he gave White last year to buy a Beaumont radio station. The jury found that White should have paid $7,800 due on the letter of credit. Perot testified he wanted to withdraw the letter after concerns the station was spending too much money.

■ The Russian Republic asked University of Houston law center officials to help draft petroleum legislation for that country.

■ Bingo hall operator Chuck Bertani said Houston area bingo hall operators will not pay new state taxes on their operations, and castigated lawmakers for lowering taxes on horse and dog racing, but not bingo.

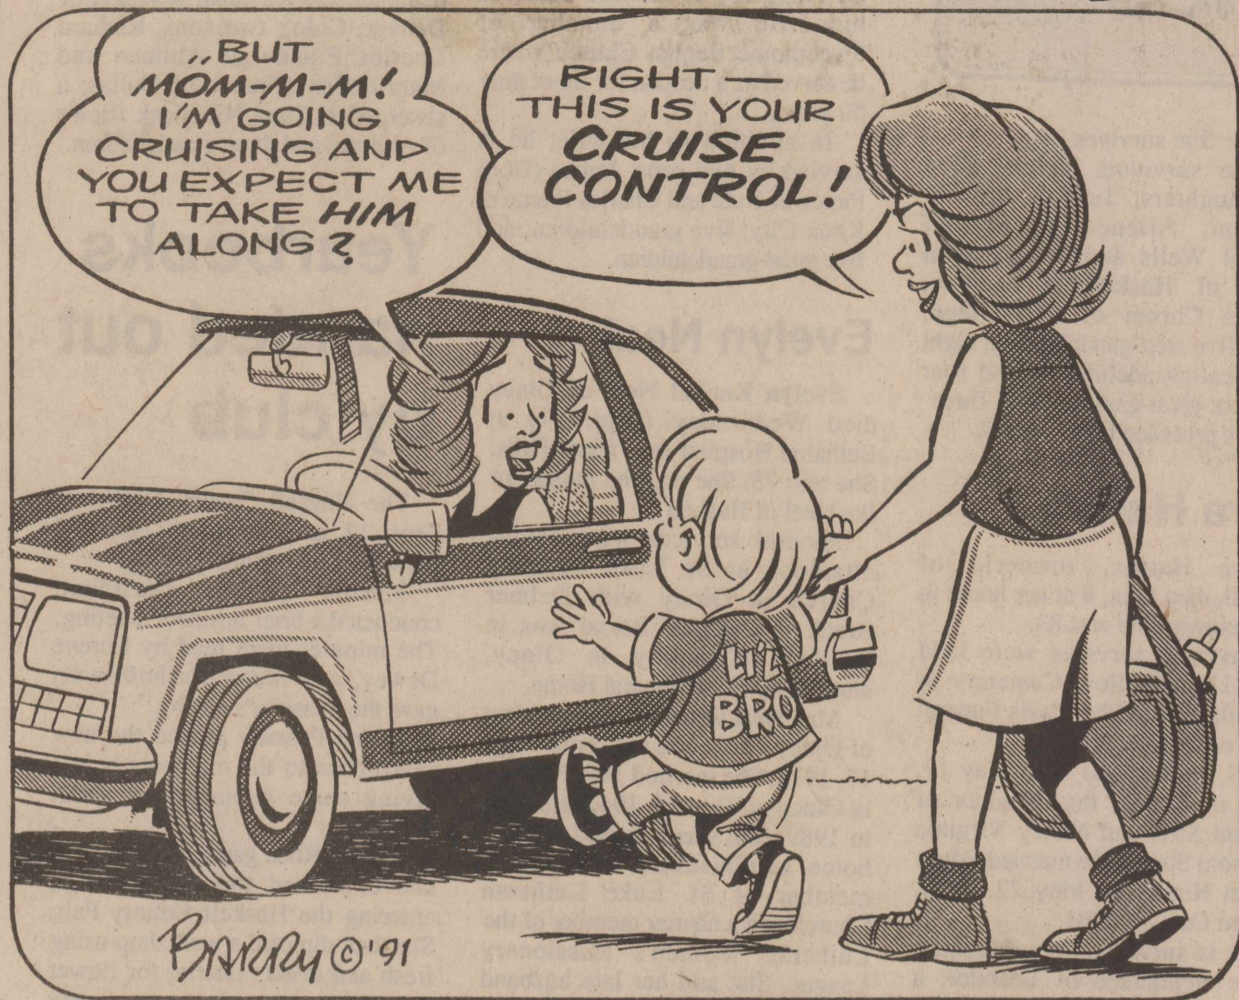

Year may be one of wettest

At its current pace, 1991 will be one of the five wettest years in four decades for most of Texas.

While rainfall across the state varies widely from year to year, 1991 appears to rank with 1958, 1975, 1981 and 1987 as the wettest since 1951.

Many Texas weather stations had rainfall of 125 to 175 percent of normal year-to-date amounts through Aug. 28. In fact, of 31 Texas stations studied, only six had below-average percentages for the year.

Job openings to be posted

Texas job seekers now have an opportunity to apply for state government jobs without having to travel to Austin.

A new law requires all state agencies within the executive and judicial branches of government to list with the Texas Employment Commissions (TEC) all job openings which are open to outside applicants. Not affected by the new law are agencies that serve as arms of the legislature such as special committees or advisory boards.

In the past, most state agency jobs were posted at the Governor's Job Bank in Austin and few individuals had the opportunity to apply for them.

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

You've probably seen the following, or variations thereof, many times, but these "cause-of-accident" explanations supposedly taken from insurance claim forms still might bring a chuckle or two:

I pulled away from the side of the road, glanced at my mother-in-law, and headed over the embankment.

Coming home, I drove into the wrong house and collided with a tree I didn't have.

A truck backed through my windshield and into my wife's face. In an attempt to kill a fly, I drove into a telephone pole.

I had been shopping for plants all day and was on my way home. As I reached an intersection, a hedge sprang up, obscuring my vision and I did not see the other car.

The gentleman behind me struck my backside. He then went to rest in a bush with just his rear end showing.

I had been driving for 40 years when I fell asleep at the wheel and had an accident.

An invisible car came out of nowhere, struck my car and vanished.

The indirect cause of the accident was a little guy in a small car with a big mouth.

The telephone pole was approaching. I attempted to swerve out of its way when I struck my front end.

I collided with a stationary truck coming the other way.

I had been learning to drive with power steering. I turned the wheel to what I thought was enough and found myself in a different direction going the opposite way.

A pedestrian hit me and went under my car.

The guy was all over the road. I had to swerve a number of times before I hit him.

I was backing my car out of the driveway in the usual manner when it was struck by the other car in the same place it had been struck several times before.

To avoid hitting the bumper of the car in front, I struck the pedestrian.

I was sure the old fellow would never make it to the other side of the road when I struck him.

I saw a sad faced, slow moving old gentleman, as he bounced off the hood of my car.

When I saw I could not avoid a collision, I stepped on the gas and crashed into the other car.

The accident happened when the right front door of a car came around the corner without giving a signal.

I told the police that I was not injured, but on removing my hat, I later found that I had a fractured skull.

My car was legally parked as it backed into the other vehicle.

The other car collided with mine without giving warning of its intentions.

No one was to blame for the accident, but it would never have happened if the other driver had been alert.

I was unable to stop in time and my car crashed into the other vehicle. The driver and passengers then left immediately for a vacation with injuries.

The pedestrian ran for the curb, but I got him.

As I approached the intersection, a sign suddenly appeared in a place where no stop sign had ever appeared before. I was unable to stop in time to avoid the accident.

I saw her look twice. She appeared to be making slow progress when we met on impact.

The accident occurred when I was attempting to bring my car out of a skid by steering it into the other vehicle.

I was on my way to the doctor with rear end trouble when my universal joint gave way causing me to have an accident.

I thought I could squeeze between two trucks when my car became smashed.

I backed into my neighbor's parked car. It wasn't my fault. He was supposed to be at work.

City Council

Editor: A state constitutional amendment passed in 1972 specifically addresses the question if school district employees can be members of a City Council. The only provision is that they can receive no salary from serving on that governing body.

Since the Haskell City Council members serve without pay, there is no conflict of interest.

The specific law is reprinted below:

* State employees or other individuals who receive all or part of their compensation either directly or indirectly from funds of the State of Texas and who are not State officers, shall not be barred from serving as members of the governing bodies of school districts, cities, towns, or other local government districts; provided, however, that such State employees or other individuals shall receive no salary for serving as members of such governing bodies.*

To conduct poll

Editor: The entire population of the City of Haskell is well aware now that the City Council, Mayor and City Administrator opted not to allow the people the privilege and inalienable right to vote for or against building a $400,000-plus interest City Hall.

This right has been disallowed to the detriment of us all. In spite of the fact that the recent election on whether to allow the purchase of certificates of obligation was overwhelmingly defeated, the Mayor stated, and was quoted, Friday, Sept. 13, 1991, in the Abilene Reporter-News, "No, I have not seen evidence of the fact that most people are opposed," unquote.

The Concerned Citizens Committee will be conducting a poll in the very near future to give everyone in the City an opportunity to express their desires concerning the erection of this building. We will try to contact every citizen, but that is an almost impossible task, so please help out, if you have not been contacted in the next few days, by going to one of the following places to make your wishes known: Kids' Duds, Bassing Jewelry, Mike Harrell's office (606 N. 1st) and Cecil's Market (507 N.E. 1st).

This is very important, as we need to prove, once again, that the majority of the people are solidly against this flagrant over-ruling of our best interests.

It has been brought to our attention on numerous occasions that the Mayor and at least two Council members are just recent additions to this city's population. They do not have their roots here, and were not here as a family to see the struggles and triumphs of this growing and progressive city. They did not initiate, or help with, the many, many ups and downs, and truly dedicated people in this city's past who gave it the foundation they are trying to undermine with unwarranted spending. They have maligned the staunch supporters and hard workers who served past and present. More than likely these new citizens will move on to "greener pastures" when the opportunity arises.

Please exercise your right as a citizen (even though it has been deprived by City Hall) to state your opinion on this issue. Make sure, if you have not been contacted, that you will be part of this poll by going to one of the polling sites.

Utility rates

Editor: In reference to the "Who Pays?" letter to the editor in the Haskell Free Press dated Sept. 12, 1991:

Under Public Notice (Free Press dated July 4th from City Hall signed by Ann Young, city secretary, dated July 4, 1991): "... such certification of obligation to be payable from ad valorem taxes and limited pledge of net revenues of city's combined water works and sewer system,"

This Public Notice from the city records is in direct conflict to the letter stating that the recent raise in city service rates was due to the "No" vote for the "Certificate of Obligation" election. This plan was "already" in place "long" before the election was held.

We feel that the citizens and taxpayers of this community need to be aware of the facts in this case and make their own decision.

Wants friends

Editor: I am a 41-year-old single male incarcerated at the Indiana State Prison. My eyes are green, my hair is brown and at 6'-2" I weigh a solid 190 pounds.

I have been in prison for some time now and family and friends have long ago abandoned me. I have harmed no one, yet I am alone and in need of some true friendship.

I have worked studiously and diligently to overcome my shortcomings to prepare myself for re-entry into society as a productive citizen. Oftimes I feel I have wasted my time and energy improving as there is no one to share the new and improved me with. Surely, there is someone beyond these cold, gray walls who has the time and compassion to communicate with me during the remainder of this time.

I pray that I have sparked an interest in you and that you will print my plea for friendship. God knows I am desirous of some mature, intelligent and friendly interactions. Will answer all.

Statewide, 180,000 Masons will join the open houses which will stress how Freemasonry builds character, assists members in their daily lives, in practicing their faith in God and in their patriotism.

Masons provide more than $950 million each year for charitable causes. While they do not solicit members, men of good character may ask to become members.

We want to express our sincere love and appreciation to each one of our friends and family that have so lovingly held us up in prayer and for the many acts of kindness extended to all of us.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS
OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
SPECIAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 5, 1991

PROPOSITION NO. 1
ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 114 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize home rule cities having a population of 5,000 or fewer inhabitants to amend their city charters by a majority vote of a city's qualified voters at an election held for that purpose. The amendment makes clear that home rule cities that have declined in population below the population required to initially adopt a charter may nevertheless continue to amend their charters.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment allowing home-rule cities with a population of 5,000 or less to amend their charters by popular vote."

PROPOSITION NO. 2
ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize the Texas Department of Transportation to expend money, from any source available, for the costs of the turnpikes, toll roads, or toll bridges of the Texas Turnpike Authority, provided that any monies expended from the state highway fund shall be repaid to the fund from tolls or other turnpike revenue.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment mandating the repayment to the Department of Transportation of monies expended to assist the Texas Turnpike Authority in the construction, maintenance, and operation of turnpikes, toll roads and toll bridges."

PROPOSITION NO. 3
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 26 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Veterans' Land Board to invest, as authorized by law, moneys of the Veterans' Land Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on bonds issued by the Veterans' Land Board, the purchase of lands, or the payment of expenses. Investment of such moneys would no longer be restricted to investments in bonds or obligations of the United States. The proposed amendment would also authorize the Veterans' Land Board to invest, as authorized by law, moneys of the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on general obligation bonds issued by the Veterans' Land Board for the benefit of the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund, the making of home mortgage loans, or the payment of expenses. Investment of such moneys would no longer be restricted to investments in bonds or obligations of the United States. The proposed amendment gives the legislature power to implement the amendment and to delegate such duties and authority to the Veterans' Land Board as it deems necessary.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to further implement and enhance the administration of the veterans' housing assistance and land programs and to expand the investment authority of the Veterans' Land Board."

PROPOSITION NO. 4
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize the issuance of a maximum of $1.1 billion in general obligation bonds. The proceeds of the bonds are to be used to acquire, construct, or equip new prisons and substance abuse felony punishment facilities, mental health and mental retardation institutions, and youth corrections institutions, to repair and renovate existing facilities of those institutions and to acquire, repair, or renovate other facilities for use as state prisons or substance abuse felony punishment facilities. The $1.1 billion is in addition to the $900 million currently authorized by the constitution to be expended on bond issues for facilities of correctional and mental health and mental retardation institutions. The bonds would constitute a general obligation of the state. The bonds and interest on the bonds would be paid from the first money coming into the state treasury that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in a sinking fund at the end of the preceding fiscal year that is pledged to payment of the bonds or interest.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of up to $1.1 billion in general obligation bonds for acquiring, constructing, or equipping new prisons or other punishment facilities to confine criminals, mental health and mental retardation institutions, and youth corrections institutions, for major repair or renovation of existing facilities of those institutions, and for the acquisition of, major repair to, or renovation of other facilities for use as state prisons or other punishment facilities."

PROPOSITION NO. 5
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 39 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow a county, junior college district, or municipality to exempt tangible personal property from ad valorem taxation if: (1) the property is acquired or brought into the state in an enterprise zone to be forwarded outside the state, (2) the property is assembled, stored, repaired, maintained, manufactured, processed, or fabricated in the enterprise zone, (3) the property is transported outside the state not later than 175 days after being acquired or brought into an enterprise zone, and (4) the person who acquired or brought the property into an enterprise zone is a qualified business. A county, junior college district, or municipality may exempt such property by entering into a written agreement with a qualified business that states the duration of the exemption and the terms on which the exemption is granted. Any action to exempt property must be taken before April 1 of the first year in which the property would otherwise be taxed. The term "enterprise zone" means an area that (1) has been designated as such by a state agency responsible for economic development, and (2) has pervasive poverty, unemployment, and economic distress. The term "qualified business" means a business that meets the qualification established by general law, and requires that the qualified business is actively engaged in a new business in the enterprise zone or is expanding a business that is already active in the enterprise zone. An enterprise zone is created to foster economic development in an area of pervasive poverty and unemployment.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the exemption for ad valorem taxes of certain property in an enterprise zone."

PROPOSITION NO. 6
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would establish a Texas Ethics Commission with the powers and duties provided by law. The commission would consist of eight appointed members selected as follows: two members of different political parties appointed by the governor from a list of at least ten names submitted by the members of the house of representatives from each major political party; two members of different political parties appointed by the governor from a list of at least ten names submitted by the members of the senate from each major political party; two members of different political parties appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives from a list of at least ten names submitted by the members of the house from each major political party; and two members of different political parties appointed by the lieutenant governor from a list of at least ten names submitted by the members of the senate from each major political party. A major political party is a political party required by law to hold a primary. With the exception of the initial appointees, commission members would serve for four-year terms. A member who has served for one term and any part of a second term would not be eligible for reappointment. The commission would be authorized to recommend the salary of the members of the legislature and may recommend that the salary of the speaker of the house of representatives and the lieutenant governor be set at an amount higher than that of other members. If the commission recommends a change in salary, the voters would be authorized to accept or reject the salary change at the next general election for state and county officers. If the voters approve the recommended salary, that salary would take effect January 1 of the next odd-numbered year; if the voters reject the recommended salary, no change in salary would occur. The commission would set the per diem of the members of the legislature and of the lieutenant governor. The per diem could be raised or lowered biennially as necessary to pay members' costs, but could not exceed the amount allowed as of January 1 that year as a federal income tax deduction for living expenses incurred in a legislative day in connection with a member's business as a legislator, disregarding any federal income tax exception for legislators residing near the Capitol. The commission would have other powers and duties provided by the commission's enabling act (Senate Bill 1, 72nd Legislature, Regular Session). The amendment would also provide that an increase in the emoluments of the office of Lieutenant Governor would not make a legislator ineligible to serve in the office of Lieutenant Governor.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment creating the Texas Ethics Commission and authorizing the commission to recommend the salary for members of the legislature and the lieutenant governor, subject to voter approval, and to set the per diem for those officials, subject to a limit."

PROPOSITION NO. 7
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the board of trustees of each statewide public retirement system to invest the funds of the system in such manner as the board considers prudent. The board would no longer be limited to investing the funds of the system in securities.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the board of trustees of a statewide public retirement system to invest the funds of the system in a manner that the board considers prudent."

PROPOSITION NO. 8
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to create debt by or on behalf of the state if the legislature submitted the debt question to the voters of the state in the form of a proposition and a majority of those voting approved the proposition. The legislature may call the election, by joint resolution approved by at least two-thirds of the members of each house, during any regular session or during any special session if the subject of the proposition is included in the Governor's proclamation for that special session. A proposition must clearly describe the amount and purpose for which debt is to be created and must describe the source of payment of the debt. The amount of debt stated in the proposition may not be exceeded and may not be renewed unless the right to exceed or renew is stated in the proposition. The legislature may enact laws necessary to implement the authority granted by a proposition. A law enacted in anticipation of the election on a proposition is valid if, by its terms, it is enacted subject to approval of the related proposition. State debt that is created following voter approval of a proposition and that is approved by the Attorney General is incontestable for any reason.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the voters of this state to consider state debt questions in the form of ballot propositions that must clearly describe the amounts, purposes, and sources of payment of the debt only after approval of the propositions by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature."

PROPOSITION NO. 9
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 11 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioner of the General Land Office to issue patents for certain public free school fund land for which there is not a valid transfer of title from either the State or the Republic of Texas to a private party. A patent is a document of title issued by the state. On application to the School Land Board, a person is entitled to receive a patent if: (1) the land is surveyed public free school fund land, (2) the land was not patentable under the law before the adoption of this proposed amendment, (3) the person acquired the land without knowledge of the title defect out of the State of Texas or the Republic of Texas and held the land under color of title, the chain of which dates from at least January 1, 1941, (4) the person has a recorded deed on file in the county courthouse and, in conjunction with his predecessor in interest, has claimed the land for at least fifty years as of January 1, 1991, and (5) the person, in conjunction with his predecessor in interest, for at least 50 years has paid taxes on the land together with all interest and penalties associated with any delinquency. If the applicant is denied a patent, the applicant may file suit against the School Land Board in a district court in the county where the land is located within 60 days from the date of denial. The proposed amendment does not apply to beach land, submerged land, or islands, and may not be used to resolve a boundary dispute. The proposed amendment also does not apply to land found by a court to be state-owned or to land on which the state has given a mineral lease that is in effect when a patent is sought. A patent under this proposed amendment for land within five miles of mineral production shall reserve minerals to the state in the manner provided by law for reservations of minerals in sales to claimants of unsurveyed school land within five miles of production. An application for a patent under this proposed amendment must be filed with the School Land Board before January 1, 1993.

This proposed constitutional amendment is similar to the version of article VII, section 4A, that was in effect between 1981 and 1990. The main difference is that under the earlier version the applicant for a patent to land had to have a chain of title that dated back to at least as early as January 1, 1932.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the commissioner of the General Land Office to issue patents for certain public free school fund land held in good faith under color of title for at least 50 years."

PROPOSITION NO. 10
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass general laws to exempt property owned by a nonprofit corporation organized to supply water or provide wastewater service from ad valorem taxation. A nonprofit corporation would be eligible for the exemption if its bylaws provide that on dissolution, the assets remaining after the discharge of the corporation's indebtedness will be transferred to an entity providing water supply or wastewater service, or both, which is exempt from ad valorem taxation. The transferred assets must be property that is reasonably necessary for and used for water supply and wastewater services.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxes certain property of a nonprofit corporation that supplies water or provides wastewater service."

PROPOSITION NO. 11
ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass laws to authorize the State of Texas to operate lotteries and to enter into a contract with one or more legal entities that will operate lotteries on behalf of the State of Texas.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing a state lottery."

PROPOSITION NO. 12
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 34 proposes a constitutional amendment that would increase the total amount of bonds that may be issued by the Texas Water Development Board to provide wholesale and retail water and wastewater facilities to economically distressed areas of the state. The proposed amendment increases the maximum principal amount of the bonds from 20 percent to 50 percent of the $500 million amount authorized by article III, section 49-d-7, of the Texas Constitution. The proposed amendment would increase the maximum aggregate dollar amount of bonds that the Texas Water Development Board could issue from $100 million to $250 million.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to increase from 20 percent to 50 percent the percentage of Texas water development bonds previously authorized by Texas voters that may be issued for economically distressed areas."

PROPOSITION NO. 13
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 2 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass general laws authorizing Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board or its successor to issue and sell up to $300 million of general obligation bonds to finance education loans to students. The maximum net effective interest rate to be borne by the bonds would be set by law. The amendment would also authorize the legislature to provide for the investment of bond proceeds and to establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds and provide for the investment of such fund. Bonds authorized under this amendment would be paid from the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in an interest and sinking fund established at the end of the preceding year that is pledged to the payment of the bonds or interests.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds not to exceed $300,000,000 to continue existing programs to provide educational loans to students, with repayments of student loans applied toward retirement of the bonds."

Harris, Sorrell families have get-togethers in Rule

By Sheri Sorrells

Well, I know I'm late. I think Vicky's about ready to kick my behind side. But I do have a legitimate excuse. Kinda anyway.

You see, I was supposed to write up the details of our Labor Day family reunions. That's right. Reunions, plural. But my sister arrived the day after from California. I had to drive to Paradise, Texas, to pick up her and my three-year-old nephew. So, that week was spent yakking with her and spoiling Adam.

Maybe now I can finally get all of this together. You remember I said reunions. On the same weekend, we were having my Grandmother's (Harris) at the Philadelphia house, and my father-in-law's (Sorrells) at the Lions Club house at the park.

You wouldn't believe all the huggings and kissing you can get running back and forth between two of those get-togethers. And the food... try as you may, you cannot eat some of everything. Dieting is a non-no at these things. You won't be forgiven if you don't at least take a bite of the older members' specialties. Even that bowl of yucky green stuff.

Trying to remember everybody's name is bad enough. But trying to remember just how everyone is tied into the family is mind boggling. You finally find someone older that you can trust not to make you feel like an idiot, and ask her/him just who everyone is and how they came to be a part of the clan. Naturally, you'll forget it all by next year and have to start all over again.

This year, for the first time, we had auctions at both reunions. The Sorrells were trying to raise enough money to pay for Grandpa and Grandma Sorrells' headstone. (Derrell's grandparents.) At Grandmother's (Pauline Bush), it was for money to pay for the fee for the place and help with food expenses.

Both were great successes and lots of fun. Seeing the wonderful things that were donated for the sale, a lot handmade. Which seemed priceless to family members. The friendly competition got heated and hilarious. I asked Aunt Josephine how she was going to be able to make enough purses to fill the demand next year.

On Grandmother's side, we got to see two of her sisters, kids, grandkids, and even a great-grandchild. With another on the way. Aunt Meda got to show us pictures and tell us about her new house. After living in the previous one for 40 years. Aunt Lois got to show off her latest in sewing. She's a whiz with a sewing machine. LaVerne told us about her new boyfriend. This one sounds serious. Betty brought some of her ceramic handiwork, and Elizabeth had her leather and bead. All the guys stayed out back playing football. They just don't know how to socialize. The older men just kinda put up with us until they could sneak off in a corner and talk about "old men" things. The little ones got tended to, and the middle aged kids got yelled at a lot. But, everyone loved it.

Pa's side had a lot I could remember seeing, and some I wasn't sure who they belonged to. Hey, I even remembered some of their names. Armita was here from New Mexico. That lady's heart and sense of humor can fill a room. She's one of my favorites. She can mouth as much as I do, so we keep something going constantly. If the others get tired of us, they never say anything. Of course, it may be because they can't a word in edgewise.

Sonja always smells wonderful. Cynthia always seems to get stuck in the kitchen washing dishes and cleaning up. Gerald is as quiet as he ever was. Brenda and Justin are having a contest to see who can get the most cut-downs on each other. Dorothy always gets talked into playing the piano and singing. There's usually a domino game going between someone. Cynthia can sometimes get away from the kitchen and get in on a few. Pa gets in on a lot of these. Ma stays close to me so she can tell me who's who, which ones are whose kids and who married who in the family. Aunt Marie loves to tell stories about the past, and certain members of the family. Although Ambers sometimes thinks she's not getting it quite right or taking too long to tell it so he jumps and finishes it.

That's my favorite part of all these get-togethers. Listening to all the stories from time past. Everyone gets that look in their eyes. A look of nostalgia, as they let themselves slip back to another time. Some of the stories are heart tugging, but most are hilarious. In the end, you see many wiping tears from their eyes. Mostly, from laughing so hard.

This is what keeps families together. This is what keeps them coming back year after year, to see everyone again, and listen to the same stories again. The young ones who never even met the elders will feel a closeness to them simply from being so familiar with the stories about them, or passed along by them. I hope everyone is paying attention or writing them down or taping them. So in years to come, when the great-great-grandchildren are old enough to appreciate them, there will be a way to pass them along.

Band Boosters discuss issues

Band Boosters held their second meeting Sept. 3 when members discussed uniforms, the concession stand and sponsors for riding buses to out-of-town games.

The organization is selling discount tickets for $10 each. Many local businesses are participating in this money-making project.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 1, at 7 p.m. in the Indian Band Hall.

All parents of band students in grades 5-12 are encouraged to attend, and other band supporters are invited.

All nursing grads pass license exam

All 17 graduates of the AISN, a consortium of Abilene Christian, Hardin-Simmons and McMurry universities, passed the examination certifying they are registered nurses.

Cub Scout pack etc first meeting

The Septemeber pack meeting Pack 136 will be Tuesday night, Sept. 24, at 7 p.m. in the Haskell National Bank community building.

Although this will be the first pack meeting of the year, there could be a lot of scouts receiving awards. One award of interest is the scout award which is the first step toward the second-grader on his Wolf Pack award. Most of these scouts are members of the special ceremony used this award.

All dens have hit the ground running. The following notes are out what the dens are doing:

Den 1: (Webelos I's, fourth grade): Leaders Dusty Garison, Kenneth Patton and Randy Shaw are working on their Arrow of Light award and communicator pins. As part of their work on the Arrow of Light award, the den will be going on a field trip in the coming weeks to KTAB-TV in Abilene.

Den 3: (Bears, third grade): Leaders Fran Cass, Mary Adamson and Jimmy Fleetwood have their den working on their Arrow of Light award for the coming pack meeting. They have made a cardboard spaceship which will be displayed at the pack meeting.

Den 6: (Wolf, second grade): Leader Phoi McGuire is getting the den all squared away with uniforms, books and procedures for the den meeting. This den is a brand new den of second-graders who are really looking forward to a fun year of scouting.

Den 7: (Webelos II's, fifth grade): All scouts are special, but this den is in a very special mode right now because in five months, they will graduate into the Boy Scouts at the annual Blue and Gold banquet in February. Leader Paul Brown has the boys working to finish their Arrow of Light award, which is the highest award in Cub Scouting. The Webelos II's are also working on their camping skills for the upcoming district Camporee in November. They won a blue ribbon last year and want to do it again.

The pack has a lot going on and it's not too late to join. The pack has ten leaders and the room for more boys. Boys should not let the cost of scouting keep them from joining, as something can be worked out. Those with questions may contact Bob Cass at 864-8918 or 864-3677, or Lisa Shaw at 864-2686 or 864-2023.

Texas housing most affordable

Texas housing not only continues to be more affordable than the nation as a whole, but the gap is widening.

Although Texas houses were slightly less affordable in the second quarter than in the first three months, overall affordability continues high.

Latest statistics for the second quarter of 1991 put the Texas affordability index at 1.2, compare with the U.S. index of 1.0. This is down slightly from the first quarter index of 1.3, while the U.S. index remained unchanged.

Farm advocacy group opens Lubbock office

The Southwest Farm Advocacy Group of Phoenix, Arizona, has opened a regional office in Lubbock.

"Keeping farmers on the farm is the No. 1 priority for the 1990s," stated the firm's director, Pete Morrow.

The farm advocacy firm provides assistance to farmers and ranchers in restructuring debts to the Farmers Home Administration and other lenders. It also assists farmers with the full range of FmHA problems and provides representation in the FmHA appeal procedure.

"Thousands of Texas farmers are having financial problems, most of them for reasons beyond their control," said Morrow. "We have worked with over 500 farmers nationwide with Texas being the No. 1 problem state by far. Expansion into Lubbock to better serve the Panhandle and South Plains areas is a logical extension of our service."

"Congress has given farmers powerful tools in exercising their rights with FmHA, but the agency exists in a maze of paperwork and regulations, and accessing those rights can sometimes be difficult," Morrow added.

The group's office is located at 4200 Boston in Lubbock.

Rochester ekes out victory at Moran

Rochester won a big one Friday night, taking a 26-25 victory over highly regarded Moran in a muddy game at Moran. It brought the Steer's record to 2-0.

Moran scored twice in the first quarter on touchdown runs by Ricky Edgar to take a 13-0 lead. But Rochester countered with two second-period touchdowns and a 2-point conversion to go ahead 14-13 at halftime.

Moran regained the lead in the third period, 19-14, but Rochester came back to take a 20-19 lead. But Moran struck again to go ahead 25-20 with 2:52 to go. Rochester then launched a 65-yard drive to score the winning touchdown with just 12 seconds left.

Mark Brown scored three of Rochester's touchdowns and Robbie Strickland got the other. Stephen Lopez kicked the extra point which turned out to be the margin of victory.

For Moran, Edgar scored all four touchdowns, on runs of 52, 50, 35 and 52 yards.

This Friday, Rochester will be at home to take on Woodson.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

Students receive books

Students in the fourth grade at Haskell Elementary School have received the gift book entitled "Feeling Good About Me." It is a bound book of stories about learning traditional values and self-esteem.

"Feeling Good About Me" contains eight stories about realistic problems young people might encounter and how, using traditional values, they are resolved.

Each story has a full-color illustration and teaches such lessons as right and wrong, appreciation of family, what it means to be a good citizen, living up to one's full potential, and why and how to stay away from drugs.

In the first story, "A Day With Granddaddy," young Wendy is mad. The most popular girl in school has invited her to a slumber party but she has to go to her grandparents' house on the lake, a visit she usually enjoys. During a conversation that takes place as Wendy fishes with Granddad, she learns the relative importance of the party and the visit (her values are put into perspective) and she feels good about herself and visiting her grandparents.

Other stories involve the meaning of friendship, family relationships, respect for others, loyalty and the importance of being your own unique self, lessons not always covered in school curriculums. They reflect positive influences that build a child's self-esteem.

Each story is accompanied by a teacher's guide, which covers discussion starters, lesson objectives and follow-up applications. The purpose of the lessons is to teach young people good values and encourage discussion of values between children, their parents and other family members in a home setting.

In "Real Heroes," a war game among a dozen boys and girls results in several broken windows at school. At the principal's office, the youngsters learn from an Army veteran that being an American hero isn't something that must happen on a battlefield, but also occurs by being a good citizen, doing whatever they can for their country.

The books were purchased by Haskell National Bank, State Farm Insurance/Brian Burgess, Lane-Felker, Haskell Butane Co. and Kay's Cleaners.

ASCS requires weed control

Glenn R. Brzozowski, county executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, reminds Haskell County farmers to control weeds on cropland removed from production by the 1991 acreage reduction programs.

The programs diverted approximately 20,348 acres of Haskell County cropland from production to the Acreage Conservation Reserve (ACR) and other conserving uses (CU).

"Once adequate conservation protection has been established on the land to prevent wind and water erosion, maintenance measures must begin," said Brzozowski. "Farmers cannot neglect the acreage and allow it to grow into weeds or to become a harboring place for insects and rodents.

The ACR and CU for payment acres must be cared for in accordance with the program contract, Brzozowski said.

Under the contract, producers are required to control weeds, insects and rodents on cropland idled by acreage reduction programs. If the measures used are found inadequate, additional measures may be required by the county ASC Committee. Brzozowski said it would be unfortunate at this point for a program participant to be found out of compliance for failure to maintain ACR and CU for payment acres.

"Keeping the land free from weeds is essential and farmers who fail to do so could lose payments and other program benefits," he said.

The ASCS official said that most producers want to do what is best for their land and many of them have made conservation an integral part of their farming operations.

HASKELL COUNTY FAIR ASSOCIATION

Progressive club begins 54th year

The Progressive Study Club began its 54th year as a federated club on Sept. 12, in the community room.

As each member entered, she received the yearbook which has the theme, "Dare to Be," chosen by President Donna Cole. Oleta Cornelius, first vice president and chairperson of the yearbook committee, prepared the display of yearbooks.

Mrs. Cole called the meeting to order and welcomed guests and members. Mrs. Cornelius introduced Mary Lou Gilbreath, special education teacher from Stamford. Mrs. Gilbreath brought greetings from the Pierian Study Club and then gave her opinion about children's books. She thinks that it is good today that such subjects as divorce, death and the handicapped are portrayed since they are a part of "Today's Living," the subject of the program, but that books should also show the beauty of nature and contain fanciful and romantic events.

She then reviewed "Anne of Green Gables" by Lucy Maud Montgomery, which gives a delightful and humorous view of the life and time of Anne Shirley from the age of about 10 until she graduated from high school. Anne, an orphan from an asylum, had bright red hair, which she imagined to be raven-wing black but turned green when she bought some dye from a traveling salesman, disliked anyone who did not spell her name with an "e." She was adopted by a spinster and an elderly brother, who had sent to the asylum for a boy to help with the farm work. The request has been passed on by several people which caused Anne to arrive by train. The setting was Canada's beautiful Prince Edward Island during horse-drawn carriage days when children walked to school. Events in Anne's life paralleled Mrs. Montgomery's life as she had a very imaginative mind, was talkative, and was a spinster as marriage was late in life.

Mrs. Gilbreath was thanked for her delightful presentation and was given a copy of "The Pride of Texas," a collection of recipes from TFWC Clubs.

A business session followed. Judy Ray, recording secretary, read the minutes of the May meeting, and Lois Richardson, treasurer, gave the financial report. Sammie Turner, corresponding secretary, read the resignation of Angie Combs and thank-you notes from the two scholarship recipients, Cole Callaway, who has enrolled in Tarleton State, and Becky Cline at San Angelo State.

Nancy Plunkett, second vice president, checked to see if each one received work assignments for the annual fund-raiser, the chicken spaghetti supper, and added details about ticket sales. The president announced that the fall board meeting of Mesquite District will meet in Moran on Saturday, Sept. 21. Jimmie Weinert, Home Life and Economics divisions, and Erma Liles, International Affairs and Cultural Exchange departments, will represent the club.

The yearbook committee of Oleta Cornelius, Mary Martin, Donna Cole, Nelda Lane and Mary Lynn Kaigler, served a variety of cookies, roasted peanuts and fruit punch from a table decorated with several old books, a plumed pen and a candle holder and candle.

Mrs. S. Hassen, an honorary member, and Mona Gibson were guests.

Josselet club meets with Mrs. Mullins

The Josselet Extension Homemakers met Sept. 11 in the home of Mrs. Pete Mullins. Edna Anderson, club president, presided.

For the devotional, Mrs. Mullins read, "Living Letters", after which the group repeated the TEHA prayer.

Twelve members answered roll call by telling "A foolish item I have purchased." Various and funny things were told by each member.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and Mary Abbott gave the financial report. The council report was given by Edna Anderson.

Mildred Robertson, Estalynn Liles and Alice Yates attended the state convention Sept. 8-10 in Austin. They will give a report at Information Day in November. A parenting fair will be held in November with county agent Lou Gilly in charge.

Refreshments of sandwiches, dips, chips, pickles, cake, spiced tea and coffee were served to Mary Abbott, Edna Anderson, Phylecia Bailey, Ermal Bevel, Joyce Davis, Flo Holder, Margaret Jones, Gladys O'Neal, Augusta Owens, Hazel Thomas and Margaret Wall, by the hostess, Reatha Mullins.

On Sept. 11, the Tiger Cub group visited and toured The Free Press. The boys are members of the Tiger Cubs of Haskell, which consists of first-grade boys.

They learned about putting the newspaper together and were also able to go to the printing plant and see the paper being printed.

In the group were C. J. Villegas, Justin Trussell, Johnny Stout, Sam Brueggeman, Ross Bullinger, Leon Goudeau and Eddie Loyd.

After touring the newspaper, the boys went to the park and enjoyed refreshments as parents had a short discussion to set up the next meeting for October.

PHARMACY TOPICS

Cerebral palsy seems to be caused by problems early in pregnancy, not by oxygen deprivation at birth, according to new research at the California Birth Defects Monitoring Program in Emeryville and the School of Public Health at University of California/Berkeley.

Dentists are now using computers to show patients how they will look after tooth-straightening, whitening and other cosmetic procedures. Computer-aided design and manufacturing technology allows ceramic inlays and crowns to be made without impressions.

Older people may have heart attacks without the usual pain symptoms, the journal Emergency Medicine reports. They may only complain of feeling tired and weak, or have symptoms of flu or indigestion.

Study in the Southern Medical Journal confirms the value of psyllium to lower blood cholesterol levels. Researchers found the vegetable fiber as effective as drugs such as cholestyramine or niacin at lower cost. It may also offer some protection against colon cancer.

--Paint Creek--

by Mabel Overton
If you missed the football game at Paint Creek last Friday night, you missed a good-un. The boys played the Harrold Hornets, and both teams played well. But the score was P.C. 28-Harrold 20, so we must have been the better team. Our boys showed that they were well coached, and Gene and I thought they sometimes even used the old Paint Creek Spread. It was a good game even though the fans had to sit in their cars, or sit under an umbrella in the stands. We have a new, larger press box, too. Our old one was moved over to the east side for the visitors, and they built a larger one on the west side.

Some little Paint Creek girls made our community proud last week at the Abilene Fair. Halee Walton won a blue ribbon on the rag jacket made of blue denim, and then it was judged Best of Show. I hope you saw it in the special winner's case. Lee Ann Reel won 2nd place with her dress. Halee also won 2nd with her decorated shirt.

Mrs. Darlene Walton is in charge of the Queen's contest at the Haskell County Fair, and there are four Paint Creek girls entered. They are Stephanie Cox, Virginia, our exchange student, Laura Barbour and Brenda Martin.

Bro. and Mrs. Sinclair were in Ruidosa, N.M. recently to visit their daughter, Lyn Childress, who was employed as a singer at the Inn of the Mountain God this summer. Mrs. Sinclair said that part of New Mexico was especially beautiful this summer because of the good rains they had had. While there they visited the Church on the Mescolers Reservation where Lyn sang for an Apache wedding. Lyn is the mother of Tanner Childress who graduated last May from Paint Creek.

Our Agriculture teacher, Steve Green and his wife had his mother, grandmother, brother and family spend last weekend with them.

Recent visitors at the Paint Creek Baptist Church were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis of Ft. Worth, who were visiting his parents, Tommy and Marie Lewis of Lake Shore Sites. Other visitors were Bro. and Mrs. Howell who have recently bought a home at Veda's Camp.

The Sinclair's son Joel and his family from Muleshoe stopped by Thursday night on their way to see a couple of Texas Ranger's games.

Tim and Donnice Jennings are the proud grandparents of a baby boy named Mitchell Cameron Brack. His parents are Burke and Leslie Brack. Grandmother Jennings went down to help out with the new baby.

The Paint Creek T.E.H.A. Club met at the Gene Overton home last Monday and planned their booth for the County Fair. Ladies present were Frances Fischer, Ann Sinclair, Dolores Medford, Dorothy Thane, Peggy Burnett and the hostess.

Mrs. Geneva (Franklin) Alvis has been hired as the Counselor for Lueders-Avoca schools Geneva graduated from Paint Creek in the class of 1957. She has a Master of Education from Abilene Christian College and a Counseling Certificate from Tarleton University. In addition to her counseling duties, she will serve as Annual sponsor and teach computer mathematics at the Avoca campus. Geneva is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Franklin of Haskell.

Attending the funeral of Charlie Davis at Rule Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bland, Mrs. Wanda Morrison, Mrs. Lyla Mary Isbell, Mr. and Mrs. Wallar Overton and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton. Mr. Charlie was the grandfather of Mrs. Judy New. He recently celebrated his 100th birthday.

Steffi Overton had the exchange student from Germany who is living with the Leland Nauerts of Stamford, to spend the day with her Saturday. She called Lee Barnett to come out and they had a wonderful day. Andrea Hoppe is from Halle, Germany. Halle is in the part of Germany that was under Russian rule until recently. She has been here for three months, and she can drive a tractor and combine and has farmed for Mr. Nauert all summer. She has been able to visit Colorado, New Mexico, San Antonio and several other Texas cities. She loves Texas but doesn't want to live here. She has been wanting to cook a German meal for the Nauerts, but couldn't find the spices she needed. Steffi gave her some of hers, and she was so pleased. She speaks fluent English.

When we came back home from Mr. Charlie's funeral Sunday afternoon, Steffi had a call from her aunt in Gelsenkirchen, Germany that her Uncle Werner Hensel had died. He has been ill with cancer for several weeks.

The Gifted and Talented Students of Paint Creek were in Abilene last Wednesday to do research on Aerodynamics. They are learning to use the Micro film in their research. Mrs. Morgan, their counselor said. The people at the library were very impressed with our students and the questions they asked. They are going again this Wednesday.

Rachelle Morgan has gone to be a nanny for the Chris Christian family in Dallas.

Wallar asked me to tell the community that the water system finally heard from the FmHA about our new extension. The FmHA has looked over our plans, keeping them all summer, and have found a few things that need changing before the system can get their loan.

Wallar says that this is normal, and when the system was built, we had to change our plans 5 or 6 times. The FmHA has stalled our construction over to the east side of the lake to where it will probably be early next year before we get it built.

As the song says: "Hi! Ho! Come to the Fair."

Fund assists Anson editor

The First United Methodist Church of Anson has established a fund at the First National Bank of Anson to help the Don D. Jones family with continued medical expenses.

Jones, editor of the Western Observer, was diagnosed as having a bone infection of the spine. Irreversible damage has been done to the vertebra and he has been restricted to complete bed rest indefinitely.

Indians tie Seymour

The Haskell Indians scored two third-period touchdowns to salvage a 13-13 tie with the Seymour Panthers here Friday night. The two scores enabled the Indians to overcome a 13-0 Seymour lead and bring their 1991 record to 0-1-1.

Seymour had gone ahead, 7-0, with 36 seconds left in the first half when Greg Adkins bolted over from the 3 to cap a 31-yard drive set up by a 28-yard punt return by Ryan Moorhouse. Monty Glass kicked the extra point.

The Panthers made it 13-0 when Glass took the second-half kickoff on his 20 and returned it 80 yards for a touchdown.

But this time the Indians struck back. Jonathan Tatum returned the Seymour kickoff to the Panther 47. Isaac Swann carried four straight times, for 13, 5, 7 and 4 yards. Then Mart Guess hit Tommie Isbell with an 18-yard pass to put the ball on the 1, from where Swann took it in. Jason Torres booted the extra point and the Indians had narrowed the margin to 13-7 with the second half less than two and a half minutes old.

With four minutes to go in the third quarter, the Indians took over again on their own 28 following a Seymour punt. Swann then ran 72 yards for a touchdown. Torres' extra-point attempt was blocked so the score remained tied at 13-13.

That was all the scoring, although Seymour did threaten to pull the game out by marching to the Haskell 12 in the fourth quarter, but the Haskell defense held.

Seymour missed two scoring opportunities in the first half, but the Indian defense saved the day. Following a short punt, the Panthers drove to the shadows of the goal. But on third-and-goal from the 1, Isbell stopped the Panthers' Michael Wright for a 2-yard loss. On fourth down, Kevin Conner and Brant Breeden stopped Wright at the 1.

Midway through the second period, Seymour marched to the Haskell 31. But on the fourth down from that point, Torres dropped Adkins for a 3-yard loss.

The Indians, badly outplayed in the first half, made a number of halftime adjustments which enabled them to hold the upper hand in the second half. "We played much better in the second half," said Indian Coach Walter Hargrove. "We got in a hole early in the first half and had our backs to the wall much of the time."

Swann had an excellent game offensively. He carried 13 times for 136 yards. Torres gained 50 yards in 10 carries and Cody Josselet gained 33 yards in 9 attempts. For Seymour, Adkins gained 104 yards and Glass had 69.

City chooses site for new city hall

As an alternative site in case the first choice is not acceptable, the council chose the lot on the northeast corner of the same intersection. That property, just south of the Dairy Queen, is owned by John Larned.

The council's action came during a Thursday morning meeting which also served as a public hearing on the city budget. Several citizens asked questions about the budget.

Another public hearing is set for 7 a.m. tomorrow (Friday).

Following the hearing, the city will vote on the budget and then set the tax rate.

A site at the southwest corner of South 1st and Avenue C has been chosen by the City Council as the site for the proposed new city hall.

The City Council made that determination at a meeting last Thursday. The selection is contingent on soil tests to determine that the location is environmentally acceptable.

The property, a 140x140-foot lot, is owned by Haskell National Bank and has been offered to the city for $8,000. The property is now vacant, having been cleared two years ago of a building formerly used by a feed store.

Darlene Walton and Delight Jones, who were in charge of the queen contest, expressed their appreciation to all those who helped. "We want to thank Dickie Greenwood for working the sound system, Ann Sinclair for the stage music, Abe and Ruby Turner for opening their home for the tea, Kathy Garison and Ginny Kloog for music and Dusty Garison for serving as master of ceremonies," they said.

Angelina County, the only one of Texas' 254 counties named for a woman, derives its name from the Angelina River, which in turn was named for an Indian woman who was educated in a Spanish mission.

-LETTERS-

Editor: The aged, America's fastest growing segment of the population, is beginning to develop one of America's ugliest characteristics, that of abuse--abuse of elder family members.

Abuse to the elderly during the last century was virtually unheard of. Life expectancy was much shorter and that, coupled with the custom of veneration of the elderly, caused the status of the very old to be highly valued. Their vast experience and great wisdom were a source of pride to other family members. Many of the parents were lovingly cared for by their children and remained within the confines of their own home, with all its familiar surroundings, until the very end of their lives.

The fast-paced changes of today's world have overtaken and surpassed the aged's level of wisdom and experience and these characteristics are now viewed as having little or no value. In today's world, veneration has turned to disrespect. Additionally, extremes in health care costs have robbed some heirs of their inheritance and have caused many of the aged to be viewed by their remaining children as a tremendous burden. With the breakdown of customs, we then have a breakdown of values, leaving the aged open to abuse by their caretakers.

Abuse of the elderly runs the gamut of other kinds of abuse, such as spousal or child abuse, with one significant difference. A parent or grandparent has less stamina and fewer defenses than some children or adults that are being abused. Abuse to the elderly can be much more subtle due to the vulnerability and the weakened condition in which many older people find themselves. Deteriorating health conditions such as partial or total blindness or deafness are but a few examples of this vulnerability.

Neglect and abandonment can lead to devastating circumstances for the aged. The horrifying case of the Texas grandmother who was found lying in her own feces, wearing clothing that was so soiled that it disintegrated in the hands of the authorities who came to her rescue, is a shocking indictment of the family who let this happen.

But in many cases, the parent or grandparent is simply deprived of peace of mind, as in cases where children take possession of cherished pictures or family heirlooms, reasoning that they are "latching onto" the item before other family members "beat me to it." Or, the cases where the child or grandchild continually hurl accusations at the parent that they are liars and that they always favored other children over themselves.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of five women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed early have a large enough chance to survive. The five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $60⁰⁰. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.
