Library accredited by Texas system

The Haskell County Library has recently received accreditation as a member of the Texas Library System for fiscal year 1991, according to William D. Gooch, director and librarian of the Texas State Library.

"We are pleased to award a certificate of system membership in recognition of the efforts this community has made in providing public library services," said Gooch. It is a symbol of having achieved a level of excellence."

The Haskell County Library is a new fully accredited member of the Big Country Library System and serves citizens in Haskell and surrounding towns. Librarian Joan Strickland said the library had to meet strict criteria, such as materials and local per capita support, to become an accredited member. Public libraries must apply and qualify for system membership annually. Haskell has been a provisional member for a number of years, the librarian said.

Services provided by the Big Country system to the local library include:

-Fifty extension books per month (most in large print for those who need this type). These books may be kept by the library for one year, or until the library feels the circulation is slow.

-Inter-library loan in which the library contacts Abilene which fills a book order or finds a book that has been requested. Magazine articles also may be ordered. The library receives $1,300 in book value to buy non-fiction books each year it is approved for membership.

-The system provides the library with an Apple computer for use by the public.

"I encourage you to come by and visit your local library," said the librarian. "We have a new library policy posted, and also forms available if you wish to register a complaint about a book you dislike or feel should be pulled from our shelves."

Authorized by the Library Systems Act of 1969, the Texas Library System was developed to improve library service in the state through cooperative efforts. Comprised of 10 regions, the statewide system provides an opportunity for local libraries to make the best possible use of both their own resources and those available elsewhere in the system.

The cooperative efforts are made possible through state and federal funds appropriated to the Library Development Program of the Texas State Library. This year the Texas State Library will distribute about $8 million to the 10 library systems.

Paint Creek accepts bids for extension

The Paint Creek Water Supply Corp. opened bids and selected contractors Nov. 6 for the proposed extension. The extension was bid in two parts and bids received for each from several contractors.

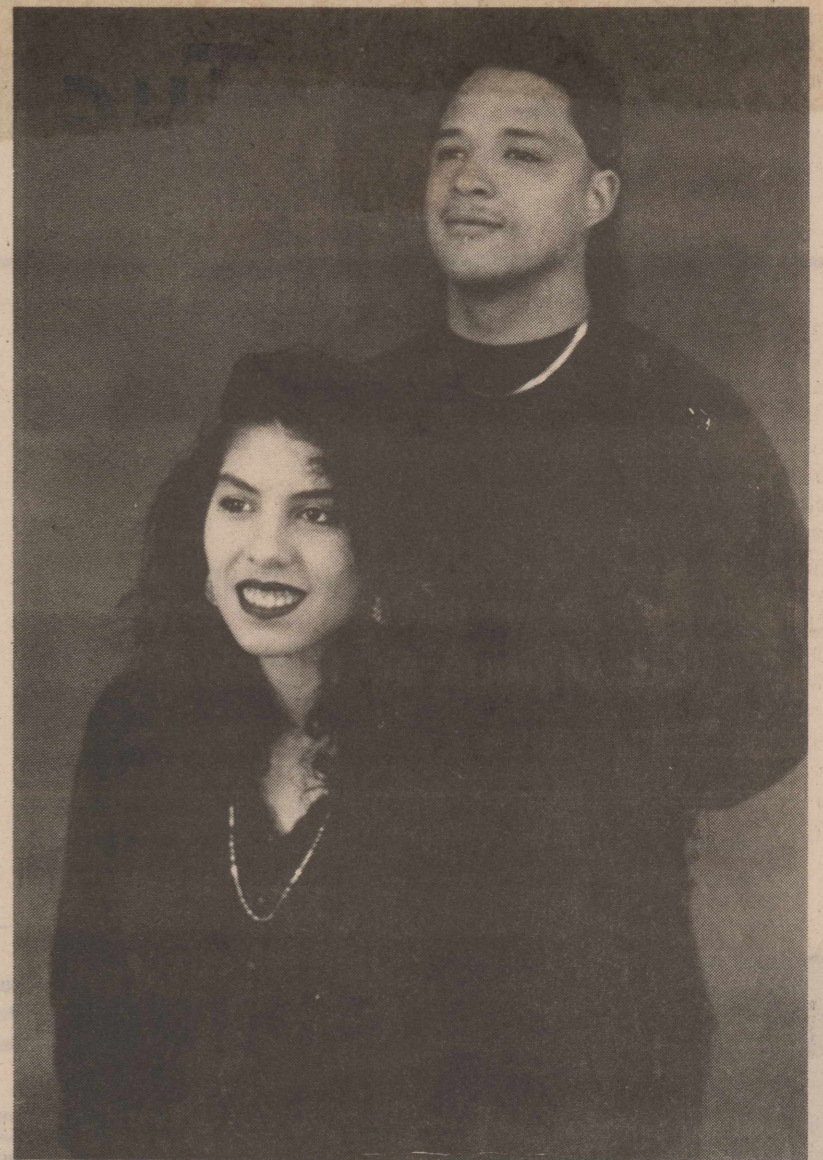

Billy Jacobs of Jacobs and Martin conducted the bid opening which was attended by representatives of the FmHA, board members and employees of the Paint Creek Water Supply, and interested parties.

First bid selected was for the lines which will primarily connect the current system to the east shores of Lake Stamford in the Stamford park and marina area. There were 12 bids opened for this portion of the expansion and the contract was awarded to Starks Construction Co. of Abilene at a price of $379,295.48.

The second bid mainly concerns itself with the construction of the pump station to be built near the Haskell Airport and use North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority as another source of water. There were six bids opened and the contract was awarded to H&S Utilities Inc. of Everman for $109,295.

Wallar Overton, president of the board, stated that both bids are subject to FmHA approval and construction should begin some time in the middle of December and hopefully be completed in June of next year.

McDonald's requires the milk production of more than 115,000 cows to satisfy the demand for the 160 million pounds of cheese it uses every year for sandwiches, burgers and breakfast items.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Diaz Sr. announce the engagement of their daughter, Amanda, to Louie Torres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Torres Jr. The couple will be married at 2 p.m. on Dec. 21 at the Haskell Civic Center.

TAKING A MEDICAL DEDUCTION FOR HOME IMPROVEMENTS

Home improvements are not tax deductible. However, if you make improvements that are necessary for medical reasons, you may be able to deduct some of your costs as a medical expense.

To get a medical deduction, the modification or improvement to your home must be primarily for medical reasons, and the cost must be reasonable. Home improvements made for medical reasons are deductible only to the extent the cost exceeds any increase in value of the residence brought about by improvement. An improvement that doesn't increase the value of the residence (or that actually decreases its value) is fully deductible as a medical expense. The expense of operating and maintaining the improvement or modification made for medical purposes is also considered a medical expense. All medical expenses are subject to a limit; that is, they are deductible only to the extent they exceed 7 1/2% of your adjusted gross income.

Examples of home improvements the IRS has allowed as medical deductions include the cost of a swimming pool to treat a spinal disorder, an elevator for a heart patient, central air conditioning to treat breathing problems, and home modifications to accommodate a handicapped individual. You cannot deduct any portion of the expense that is incurred for personal reasons and not medical necessity (such as making the modification architecturally compatible with your residence).

You should have support for your deduction, such as a doctor's written recommendation, receipts for the expenditures, and appraisals of your home if applicable. Contact our office for additional information if you're not sure whether an expenditure qualifies for the medical deduction.

Rochester advances with Woodson win

Unbeaten Rochester made quick work of the Woodson Cowboys here Friday night, handing the Throckmorton County school a 52-6 whipping in a six-man bi-district contest.

The game was called under the 45-point rule at the 4:23 mark of the third period to give Coach Chet Forehand's Steers their 10th consecutive victory.

The Steers wasted little time in getting things started. Robbie Strickland ran 43 yards for a touchdown in the opening minutes, and Mark Brown followed with TD runs of 7 and 10 yards. Steven Lopez' three extra points gave the Steers a 24-0 lead at the end of the first period.

Woodson's lone touchdown came in the second period on a 17-yard run by Tommy Miller. Rochester countered with second-quarter touchdowns on 8- and 22-yard runs by Brown as the Steers stretched their lead to 38-6 by halftime.

Brown scored his fifth touchdown early in the third period, this one coming on a 43-yard run. A few minutes later, Chris Carver scooted 10 yards for another touchdown to put an end to the slaughter.

Brown gained 210 yards in 15 carries, and Strickland had 150 yards in 12 attempts. Kurt Sloan recorded 10 tackles to lead in that category and Kenny Forehand had six. Carver had an interception and Phillip Clark recovered a fumble for the Steers.

Sam Beakey member of Austin team

The men's basketball team at Austin College could prove a challenge to its opponents this year, thanks to the determination and team spirit of players like Sam Beakey of Haskell.

Beakey, a guard for the Kangaroos, is a junior at Austin College.

Though the team lost its season opener against Texas Wesleyan on Nov. 13 in Sherman, it handed the Rams some anxious moments in their race for the win.

Austin is a member of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Now in its 142nd year, Austin College is a private liberal arts college in Sherman.

Albany, Hamlin advance in playoffs

Albany and Hamlin of district 7-2A both won bi-district games last week to advance to the second round of the playoffs.

Unbeaten Albany won, 35-18, over eighth-ranked DeLeon in Abilene while Hamlin edged seventh-ranked San Saba, 10-9, in Brownwood.

This Friday, Albany (11-0) will meet Van Horn (9-1) in Midland and Hamlin (9-2) will meet Iraan (10-1) in Odessa.

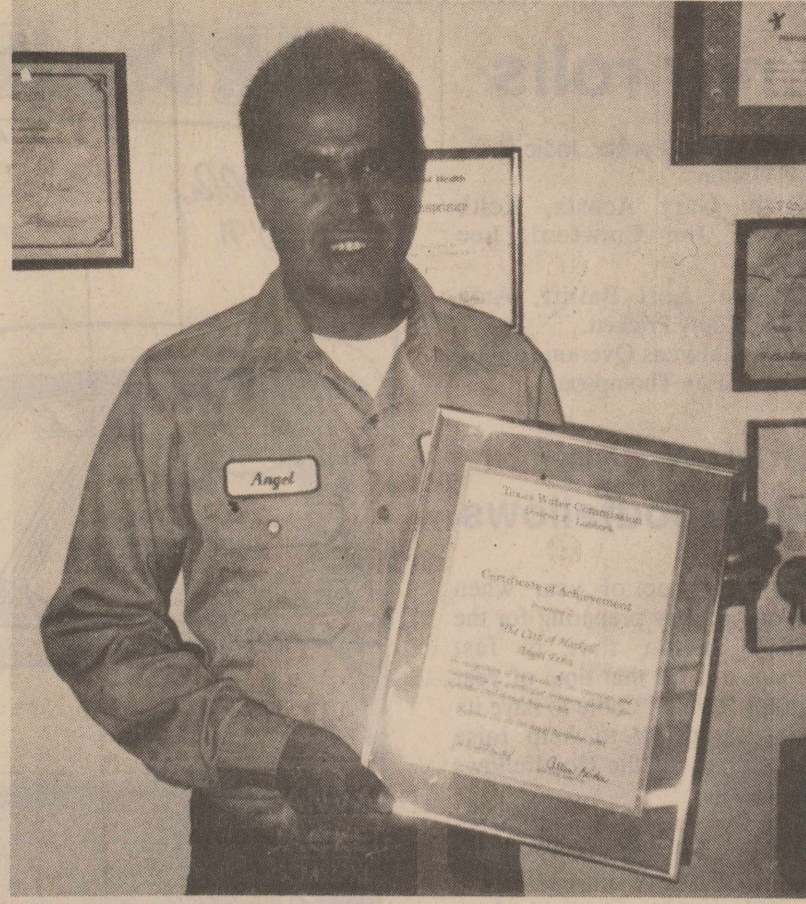

Campaign seeks stuffed animals

Haskell area residents are invited to participate in a "Hug-a-Bear" campaign being sponsored by KTXS-TV. The campaign began Monday and will continue through Nov. 29.

The project's goal is to collect stuffed animals to be distributed to area hospitals, fire departments, emergency medical units, etc. "Hug-a-Bears" will be given by emergency personnel to young victims of tragedy.

Used stuffed animals may be deposited in a collection box at the Haskell County Library. After the stuffed animals have been cleaned and sorted, they will be returned to the community from which they were collected.

For every dollar a consumer spends purchasing milk, the dairy farmer gets fewer than 40 cents.

Recognized

Angel Pena, operator of the Haskell wastewater plant, displays a certificate awarded to the City of Haskell by the Texas Water Commission. The award was "in recognition of excellence in the operation and maintenance of wastewater treatment facilities" for the period of September 1990 to August 1991. It was the second year in a row that the Haskell plant has earned a certificate of excellence from the state commission.

USDA announces requirements

The Haskell County ASCS office has been notified that a preliminary 10-percent Acreage Reduction Program requirement for the 1992 upland cotton program has been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The 1990 Farm Bill requires that the upland cotton ARP be announced by Nov. 1. It also requires that the ARP target a ratio of total stocks to total disappearance of 30 percent. Total disappearance means the total use of upland cotton, including all domestic, export and residual stocks.

Based on USDA's October supply and use estimates, the 10-percent ARP level is consistent with this ratio. A final ARP requirement, which may be different from today's preliminary announcement, must be announced by Jan. 1 if supply and demand conditions warrant.

Other 1992 crop upland cotton program provisions announced include:

-The established target price will be the statutory minimum of 72.9 cents per pound.

-A 52.35 cents per pound loan level is established for strick low middling 1-1/16 inch, micronaire 3.5-3.6 and 4.3-4.9, strength 24-25 grams per tex.

No paid land diversion will be offered.

Dairy products usually account for about 10 percent of the typical family's food purchases.

Taylor paces Rule victory over Gordon

Shannon Taylor scored six touchdowns and gained 274 yards rushing Friday night as the Rule Bobcats defeated the Gordon Longhorns, 67-44, in a six-man bi-district playoff game in Tuscola. The victory boosted Rule's record to 10-1.

Taylor scored on runs of 25, 35, 26, 5, 8 and 61 yards. Other Bobcat touchdowns were scored by Carlos Muniz on a 48-yard pass from Shane LeFevre, Cato Macias on a 14-yard run and Joe Zepeda on a 1-yard run.

The Bobcats broke open the game with a 22-point outburst in the second period to stretch a 16-14 first-quarter lead into a 38-14 halftime margin.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to its customers. By following a few simple rules, you can help make sure you and your family stay safe and sound with natural gas.

- Always have qualified service people install, regularly check and maintain all gas heaters and appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation, ventilation, and operation.
- Always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.
- Always keep flammable materials and substances away from gas heaters and appliances. Remember, a pilot light is constantly burning.
- If you smell gas in your home, or know you have a gas leak, follow these rules:
 - Everyone should leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation.
 - Do not switch anything electrical on or off.
 - Do not use your telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity).

Do not strike a match or do anything else that might cause a spark.

Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.

Since gas lines run underground, you should take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to:

- Put in a new fence.
- Install an underground sprinkler system.
- Perform any major landscape renovation.

Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas Office, and we'll help you avoid any potential problems.

If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

At Lone Star Gas Company the safety of our customers is important. Please follow these simple guidelines and enjoy the benefits of natural gas.

Harmon Cable aids Goodfellows

It's that time of year when everyone is busy preparing for the holiday season that is fast approaching. It's that time of year again for Harmon Cable to have its annual campaign to help raise contributions for the Goodfellows organization.

"This year's campaign will begin today (Nov. 21) with a free four-day preview of The Disney Channel, one of the services available from Harmon Cable Communications, mand continue through Dec. 13.

During the campaign, Harmon Cable will offer a discounted installation of $10 for cable services ordered and will contribute the installation money raised to the organization.

Gus Cagle, manager of Harmon Cable, said, "We really feel this campaign is a great way to help raise money for the Goodfellows. This campaign has been very successful over the previous years and it's a nice way to give back to the community."

Playoff games

Editor: It takes more than two teams showing up on the field to have a successful playoff game.

That's exactly what we had Friday night when two fine schools, players and coaches participated in a successful bi-district game at Indian Field.

We could not have had this without the cooperation and work by a number of people. Many thanks to Haskell CISD for the facilities, Coach Hargrove and his staff for getting the field ready to play, the City of Haskell, Cub Scouts and the Band Boosters, and all the members of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce Board and Lions Club who worked at the game.

It's great when you have people working together to get things done.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

It's not expected to cause any problem, but revenue to the City of Haskell is coming in a bit slower during the fiscal year which began Oct. 1.

As a result of the half-cent sales tax approved by voters last spring, the city reduced property taxes by 42 percent. Tax payments received by the city in October and November have reflected this decrease.

But it will be December before the city receives its first rebate check from the state comptroller reflecting the increased sales tax.

Did you ever wonder who determines the "serving size" listed on the food products you buy?

Probably not. But anyway, manufacturers create the portions to suit their needs. Thus, the label on a 12-ounce soft drink can says there are two servings therein.

Thanks to a recent decision announced by the FDA, labels now are going to have to be more realistic. A 12-ounce Coke will be one serving.

Reminds me of an old Steve Allen show when a fellow walked into a store and asked for a small tube of tooth paste.

"We don't have a small size," answered the clerk. "Large is the smallest size it comes in."

Finnell expresses concern

State Rep. Charles Finnell expressed concern last week that the federal government could force rural health care facilities in Texas into a dangerous crisis.

Finnell said a clarification issued by the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) would severely reduce the amount of Medicaid funds that the state could recover. He added that many of the facilities in the 13-county rural district he represents depend on Medicaid funds to make ends meet.

"Considering the situation that many of the rural hospitals and nursing homes in Texas are already in," Finnell said, "there could be a domino effect once those facilities are forced to shut down and people have to go elsewhere for care."

Round-up

Editor: On behalf of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, I want to say a special "thank you" to the people of Haskell and the surrounding area for their support of the 1991 Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children sale.

The hard work and contributions by local chairman Gary Tate, other volunteers, donors and buyers are sincerely appreciated.

The end result of these efforts is that the Round-Up has generated more than $320,000 to date which will help provide rehabilitation services for hundreds of children and adults. It is reassuring to know that the Rehab Center is surrounded by such generous, caring communities.

--Paint Creek--

by Mabel Overton

The young people of the Paint Creek Baptist Church enjoyed a Progressive Dinner party Saturday night. They had appetizers at the home of Stanley and Patti Morton, salad course at the home of Faye and Glen Walton, the main spaghetti supper at the home of Dale and Ruby Mae Middlebrook, and the dessert course was banana splits at the home of the James Sinclairs. Then they played games. Jo Fischer, Brenda Reel and Pauline DeShago and Darlene Walton helped entertain 16 boys and girls.

The Glenn Waltons were in Ft. Worth to visit their daughter Terre and family. Terre's husband was ordained a deacon in the Baptist Church. Glenn was invited to sit on the council.

Last Monday and Tuesday Ann and James Sinclair were in Waco to attend the Annual Texas Baptist Convention. They had to find a hotel room in Temple. They saw Tommie May from Rule, Dr. Frank and Billie Cadenhead, Mary Martin and Brother and Mrs. Turner from Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davis spent the weekend in Littlefield visiting his parents.

Diana Darling from Tucson, Arizona visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walton. Mrs. Walton and her guest have been friends since childhood.

Wallar Overton went to Allen Friday where he met his brother Mike his wife Linda and daughters Paige and Brooke and they went to College Station where Wallar attended his class of 1961's 30 year reunion, and Mike attended his class of 1966's 25 year reunion. Both men had a wonderful weekend. Both classes had a large group present, and A&M won their game.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Watson spent Sunday at Seymour at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Sue and John Lee Holcomb. Their grandson Monte Wayne was home from A&M for the weekend, so they all had a nice day together.

Daisy Frier from Magna, Utah is spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Lena Petrich. They enjoyed the West Texas Utility Christmas party Saturday.

Mrs. Faye Walton took Ann Sinclair's place at Grandmother's Lap reading session last Tuesday morning while Ann was attending the Baptist convention. Other readers were Jenny Collins, Peggy Burnett and Violet Earles.

James Bryant Nelson, son of Glenda and James Nelson, who is in college at the Denver College of Denver, Colorado recently visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walton. His sister, Stephanie Paige also visited the Waltons. She had just graduated from art school. Their parents live in Hammond, Louisiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Walton from Lubbock were her last week visiting Faye and Glen Walton. Bud and Glen went hunting while they were here.

Ruby and Bud Kinsey from

Palm Desert, California spent several days this week with Peggy Burnett. Peggy and Ruby taught together in California for years. Peggy took them to see the church in Rhineland and to see the damage the tornado did to the Old Glory Cemetery. They also enjoyed seeing the ducks, and having a meal at the senior citizens dining room. I thought those were interesting places to take out-of-staters. When we have out of state company, we take them out to the ranch and show them the cattle, and then go show them the lake, and whatever crop is growing, let them drive a tractor, and eat things we raised in the garden, and if there are children we fish and swim in the stock tank. Next company is going to see the Rhineland church.

Mrs. O'Neal hostess to Josselet

The Josselet Extension Homemakers Club met Nov. 12 in the county kitchen with Gladys O'Neal as hostess.

President Edna Anderson called the meeting to order and welcomed the guests. Gladys O'Neal read two poems, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are" and "Stop Supposing Worst Things." The TEHA prayer was read by all.

Reatha Mullins and Edna Anderson had charge of the program, "Heritage of Cultural Arts." Joyce Hester showed some jackets she had made with sweat shirts and denim.

Laverne Barnett showed how she makes rugs by braiding and crocheting. Iva Lee Gipson showed several quilt tops she and her mother had pieced years ago. Also, she had three beautiful dolls from her collection she showed.

Oleta Cornelius showed a photo album she had covered and decorated. Martha Toliver had a beautiful table runner she had made; also a decorated sweat shirt. Everyone enjoyed seeing all of the beautiful things others had made.

The hostess served refreshments to six guests, Joyce Hester, Laverne Barnett, Iva Lee Gipson, Oleta Cornelius, Mary McCollum and Jeffie Stapp, and members, Mary Abbott, Edna Anderson, Phylecia Bailey, Joyce Davis, Sarah Hodge, Flo Holder, Margaret Jones, Reatha Mullins, Augusta Owens, Mildred Robertson, Martha Toliver, Dorothy Trussell and Margaret Wall.

Roll call was answered with a family tradition. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report was given. Margaret Jones gave the council report.

Ideas were discussed as to ways for the club to make money for expenditures for next year. Definite plans will be discussed at the January meeting.

Club dues for next year were given to the treasurer who will send them to the council next week.

Club hears Albany speaker

The Progressive Study Club met in regular session in the Community Room Nov. 14. President Donna Cole called the meeting to order. Twenty-five members and one guest, Mona Gibson, were present.

The theme was "Texas Heritage." A chosen quote, "But Westward, look, the land is bright," was a good one to introduce the program on the Fort Griffin Fandangle by Margie Bray of Albany.

She was introduced by Mary Lynn Kaigler. Mrs. Bray, a director, told how the idea for the community production of original songs and historical scenes came from the fertile mind of Robert Nail as a high school senior class project. Mr. Nail, a recent graduate of Princeton, had gone to New York to write and produce on Broadway. He was advised to return to his "roots" and write about what he knew.

In 1938, he wanted teenagers, the cast in the early productions, to learn about the rich history of Fort Griffin, Fort Davis, Indian tribes, the Butterfield Trail and Camp Cooper where Robert E. Lee was stationed (he hated the barren, treeless mesquite-infested area), all within Shackelford County. Soon, the whole community became involved and the football stadium was the setting. Tickets cost one dollar.

Now the hillside stage, seating many people, the last two weekends in June, still tells about real people, like Bat Masterson, and real events, Indian raids, people returning from the gold fields of California, the coming of the railroad, the Beehive Saloon--all a view of history not found in history books, though some are in Mrs. Matthews' book. All characters must be people from Albany. Only a small staff is salaried. The expenses are great. All money from tickets and memberships are put back into the production. A number of props were invented by Mr. Nail and are stored at the Watt Matthews ranch headquarters. The production begins in February each year.

The president reminded club members that each member is to bring her favorite holiday goodie to share at the Tasting Bee on Dec. 12, the recipe of the goodie, and a toy and canned or non-perishable items for County Child Welfare Christmas boxes. Committees for the district convention on March 14 will be appointed at that meeting.

Two people, Mona Gibson and Robbie McLeland, were elected to active membership.

The hostesses, Mildred Berry, Mattie English, Sandy Forehand, Frances Lane and Sammie Turner, served pumpkin pie, toasted pecans and coffee from a beautifully decorated Thanksgiving table.

Indian program

Chief's descendant presents program

A descendant of Comanche chief Quanah Parker presented a program Nov. 5 to elementary students at Paint Creek. He had been invited by the fifth-grade class.

Wayne Parker of Ralls brought many artifacts, arrow points and old family photographs to show to the students. Of particular interest were replicas of skulls from actual grave sites.

Parker had two students dress in Indian costumes and while he beat the tom tom, the students did the "good price for cotton" dance.

After speaking to the students, Parker went on a hunt for arrow points with David Frierson.

Notes From The Rolling Plains

(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

Last weekend a friend and I flew to the Devils River region for photographs of the area. We were in a helicopter and were able to hover in those places that interested us. The flight was slow going as we were bucking a 30 mph headwind so our chances of seeing details of the land was definitely enhanced. It was obvious that the deer season was in full swing as we viewed literally hundreds of elevated hunting stands scattered throughout the country. Hunting camps were full and the restaurants teemed with deer hunters speaking of big bucks and missed shots. As we passed over one wheatfield somewhere near Sweetwater, we both noticed the form of a deer, lying on its side only a short distance from a hunting stand. It was obvious that the deer was dead and no attempt had been made to retrieve it, or at least not enough attempt had been made to find it. Worse yet was the possibility that it had been shot by someone who thought it was a bigger buck but when found, the hunter may have left it in search of another. I wrote in an earlier column that the sportsmen and women of America are under tight scrutiny by the antihunting activist as well as those who really have no opinion about the sport. It is imperative that those who enjoy the hunt be honorable in your endeavors afield. Hunting is a wonderful autumn and winter sport and should be available to all who enjoys it. But it will take only a few irresponsible people with a rifle to spoil this outdoor activity for all of us. Do not be afraid to call the toll free hot line to Texas Parks and Wildlife if you see someone being less than a sportsman in the line of hunting. We owe it to all the law abiding hunters throughout the country.

A message from the ABILENE EYE INSTITUTE & CATARACT SURGERY CENTER DEDICATED TO EXCELLENCE

We specialize in cataract surgery with intraocular lens implant and routinely use the small incision phacoemulsification technique. We have 2 modern, fully equipped operating rooms each with its own Zeiss operating microscope and Phacoemulsifier. We also have an observation room so that family and friends may view the surgery while it is happening. Our ambulatory surgery center is State licensed and Medicare approved. We have performed over 3,000 cataract implant operations since 1987. Our doctors accept Medicare Assignment and we think you will find our fees very competitive with most hospitals. Our friendly, dedicated staff is available to answer any of your questions. If you need transportation, we can help.

Noah Project aids 13 in October

The Noah Project North advisory committee met Nov. 8 at East Side Baptist Church. Paul Cheatham, chairman, directed the business meeting.

Outreach coordinator Donna Sue Anders reported that Noah had sheltered 13 clients in October. It was reported that the ladies of the Missionary Society in Haskell were given a presentation on Noah at the First Christian Church.

Children's coloring books will be made by a group of girls from Munday. Noah has asked that washable crayons be donated to the project; also donations of toothbrushes, toothpaste, combs and brushes or anything for a grooming packet.

The Christmas parade float will be "Hark the Herald Angels." David Rodriguez, chairman, and members are making the float.

Jim Evans began Nov. 15 as trainer for Noah Project Inc. to train staff and volunteers.

Football selections

Holly Hobgood was named sweetheart and Mike Layland as beau of the Indian football team. Announcement of their selections was made at the Nov. 8 pep rally.

Beta Chi Chapter meets in Aspermont

A regular meeting of the Beta Chi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International was held Nov. 2 at the First United Methodist Church in Aspermont. Maribeth Williams opened the meeting and Marie Ward gave the invocation.

A delicious brunch was served by the Aspermont members. After eating, Ms. Williams called the business meeting to order. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by secretary Cathy Bartley and were approved as read. Margaret Chafin announced that if dues were not paid by Nov. 10, names would be dropped from membership.

Nancy Abernathy read a note from Donnie Fincher thanking the Aspermont members for a memorial upon the death of her father. Ms. Williams read a letter of resignation from President Phyllis Letz. She resigned due to illness but wishes to retain her membership. She expressed a desire for members to remember her in their prayers. Ms. Williams stated that she happily takes the office of president, but will need everyone's help.

Gerre Larned announced the Red Rose Salute would be presented to Ms. Letz for her hard work up until the time of her illness.

Ms. Bartley introduced Lee Barnett, who spoke about the use of technology in the schools. She told about the PEIMS, public education information management system. She told members that the funds from the state come from material in the report. She explained about the teacher responsibility part of the report and how all things are coded. She told about some of the codes.

Lillian Hicks introduced an exchange student from Germany, Jenny Haupt, and her friend, Miranda McDaniel, both students at Aspermont High.

Haskell Soil & Water Conservation District

If you are one of the 19 producers who haven't planted a cover crop yet, please take note.

Several area farmers have chosen this alternative to meet the needs of their Food Security Act (FSA) plan. To remain in compliance, they need to plant a cover crop immediately after harvest, or even before harvest if desired.

Normally these crops need to be planted before Nov. 15. Even though the harvest is late this year, producers will still be expected to carry out their compliance plan and plant the required cover crop to remain in compliance. To not do so could jeopardize their farm crop payments.

Field checks will be started after the first of the year to check for compliance of plans with cover crops planned.

Many crops can be managed as a cover crop. Close-growing cover crops such as small grain are most effective. These normally short-term crops are used to protect the soil against wind erosion, said Larry Pfau, soil conservationist.

Johnsons attend NARD convention

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Johnson of Johnson Pharmacy in Haskell recently joined more than 5,000 attendees at the 93rd annual convention and trade exposition of NARD, the national association representing independent retail pharmacy. This year's NARD convention was Oct. 27-31 in Baltimore, Md.

NARD's annual convention keeps independent retail pharmacists up to date on the latest developments in pharmacy care, marketing and management, and home health care and long-term care pharmacy services, as well as pressing political issues facing the profession.

The conference featured dozens of educational workshops on pharmacy management and practice, and four symposia on current pharmacy issues. The annual meeting includes opportunities for pharmacists to share ideas with their peers, including roundtable sessions. The convention concluded with association policy making at the NARD House of Delegates meeting.

Much of the focus of this year's convention addressed the challenges pharmacists face in caring for their patients and keeping their businesses successful in a fiercely competitive marketplace, and the impact of third-party drug benefits and other "managed care" programs on the profession.

Among the convention highlights was an address by Charles Kuralt, anchorman of the popular CBS Sunday Morning news program.

Noah volunteers to meet today

The Noah Project-North crisis line volunteers will meet today (Thursday) in the jury room of the Haskell County courthouse.

Rick Montez, emergency services director of the Aspermont, Small Business Development Center, will be guest speaker. He had been scheduled to speak at last month's meeting which was cancelled because of weather.

The crisis hot line number is 1-800-444-3551.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

Why are farmers and ranchers hurrying to join our health insurance program?

It works

The AIA Universal Plan for Health is the first health plan in the United States that builds Cash Value* (*Subject to a surrender charge). This plan is made available through The Texas Wheat Producers Association. An AIA agent representing TWPA will be in Haskell County calling on farmers and ranchers from Dec. 1 through Dec. 30. To take advantage of special rates during the TWPA enrollment period, speak to an agent and ask to view our brief video presentation.

BREAST CANCER DETECTION UNIT AVAILABLE TO AREA WOMEN

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 4th
HASKELL MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
1 North Avenue N HASKELL, TEXAS

A Service of Transamerican Diagnostic Services (Providing Mammography Services for over 5 years)

Call 864-2621 for appointment

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $60.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.
