City, school election ballots are finalized

Two candidates for mayor and seven candidates for three City Council seats will be on the ballot for the May 2 city election in Haskell.

Mayor Jill Druessedow is being opposed by Pat Henry. Mrs. Druessedow, a former member of the City Council, was appointed mayor in January, to succeed Greg Melton, who resigned.

Haskell voters will elect two council members to two-year terms and another to a one-year tenure.

Seeking two-year terms are Ronny Tanner and Ruby Turner, incumbents, along with Kim Nemir, D. L. Layland and Terry M. Diggs. Tanner is seeking a second term, while Mrs. Turner is seeking an elective term after being appointed to succeed Mrs. Druessedow after the latter became mayor.

Candidates for the one-year term include the incumbent, C. T. Jackson, and Mrs. Iva Lee Gipson. Jackson is now serving by appointment, as successor to Dickie Greenwood, who resigned from the council. His appointment was to serve until the next city election. The May 2 winner will serve the remaining year of Greenwood's unexpired term.

Only the two incumbents filed as candidates for three-year terms on the Haskell School Board. Running unopposed for re-election are Mike Guess and Bob Aycock.

City and school elections also are scheduled for Rule and Rochester, while a school election will take place in Paint Creek.

At Rule, A. B. Arnett, a former councilman, is running unopposed for mayor, but there are six candidates for two seats on the Rule City Council.

Council candidates at Rule include Sue Smith, incumbent, and Tex Little, James Marquis, Naomi Watson, June White and Ronnie Landis.

There also are six candidates for three Rule School Board seats, John Pike, incumbent, and Jackie Wilson, Steve Lehmann, Bobby Don Smith, Shannon Kitley and Marsha Simpson.

At Rochester, only one candidate filed for the City Council, where three seats are available. Bobby O'Neal was the only person to file.

Running unopposed for re-election to the Rochester School Board are Larry Short and William "Bill" Penman.

Three candidates are running unopposed for the Paint Creek School Board. Incumbent Wallar

Overton, Darlene Walton and Danny Griffith are unopposed for the three-year terms to be decided and Billy Lamb is unopposed for a one-year term.

PHARMACY NEWS

By Elbert Johnson, Registered Pharmacist

Use Blood Glucose Meters Carefully: Although home meters have made it much easier for diabetics to monitor their blood glucose levels, studies have suggested that as many as half of the readings may be significantly wrong. To increase the accuracy of the test: clean the meter periodically, wash hands thoroughly before testing, be sure to provide a large enough blood sample, don't smear or rub the blood when first applying it to the test strip, store the strips in a dry place, and re-test if the reading is abnormally high or low.

OSBORNES

--Library Notes--

By Joan Strickland

A few new books have arrived and more are on their way.

The new extension books are also a welcome addition after being without them for so long. We have certainly realized how important our association with the Big Country Library System is after having to be without their services while the Abilene Library was setting up their new computer system.

The newest books purchased are Landmark Books written and illustrated by children. These books are loved by the children and give adults a unique look at how children view situations.

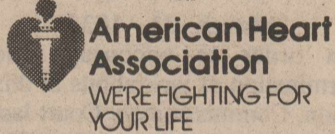

Also new are the survival books for mature young adults. These books deal with teenage pregnancy, AIDS, drug and alcohol addiction, binging, child abuse, dealing with mental illness or cancer in the family, etc.

We have started getting audio cassettes from the Big Country Library System. These audio cassettes range in subject matter from self help tapes to the newest in best sellers and some children tapes, also. The tapes may be checked out just as the books and kept for two weeks, then a fine of 5 cents per day will be charged.

If you have never thought you had time to sit and read, come by and check out a cassette tape, put it in your tape deck at home and listen to Stephen King, Danielle Steele or Ken Follett read you their latest novel while you cook, sew, or just sit and relax.

It won't be long before the summer reading program will get underway. Again I am asking the merchants for their help in making our program successful for the children. If you have any item you would like to donate as a prize for the children as an incentive for them to try their best in our program, please call the library, 864-2747.

Book shelves full of withdrawn books are set up in the foyers. If you will make a donation, any book is yours for the taking. We are still taking donations for book shelves. Thank you to the people who have felt this was a cause worth supporting. Your library wants to grow and help serves the county. We can only do this with your help.

Happy Birthday

Pearl Pace was honored with a covered dish luncheon March 8 at the Overton First United Methodist Church in celebration of her 95th birthday. She received a cake and a plaque. (Overton Press)

Overton church honors Mrs. Pace

(From The Overton Press) Pearl Pace celebrated birthday number 95 March 7, and on March 8, the First United Methodist Church of Overton held "Pearl Pace Day."

During the morning worship service, the chancel choir sang, "How Great Thou Art," in her honor which is one of her favorites.

Ralph Ward Jr., administrative board president, presented a plaque in her honor. During the presentation, Ward said, "The church thanks Pearl for sharing her birthday with us. In the things she has done for us and her community, she has been an inspiration for us all and her dedication to her church has set an example for all of us."

The plaque read: "Presented to Mrs. Pearl Pace in recognition of many years of dedicated and loving service to your church and community. You are an inspiration to all of us! We love you and honor you on your 95th birthday. First United Methodist Church, March 7, 1992."

Guests, family and church members gathered in Swanzy Hall at noon for a covered dish luncheon in her honor. At this time, a large birthday card was signed by all present and a lovely flower arrangement was presented to her from her dear friends, Leotis Thresto and Jeanette Achlen. "This is one of the nicest things that has ever happened to me," Pearl said.

As the group sang "Happy Birthday" to her, a beautiful birthday cake decorated in pink roses and many candles was brought forth.

Special guests present for the occasion were Kerry Simpson, a great niece; Sharon Eatherly, a niece, and her husband, Carl Eatherly; Lois Gowdy; Alma Kennamer; Louise Piercy; and Jeanette Acklen, along with the church family.

FLBA group attends meeting

Representatives of the Federal Land Bank Association (FLBA) of Haskell were among more than 500 attendees at the Farm Credit Bank of Texas 1992 annual meeting for FLBS, according to Dale E. Bullinger, association president.

The annual stockholders' event, held in Austin, commemorated FLBA's 75th anniversary of making long-term agricultural land and rural housing loans.

Local FLBA directors and staff attending were Lavon Beakley of Rule, Ernest Beck of Vera, Wayland Hardin of Seymour, Louis Baty of Gilliland, Dale Middlebrook of Paint Creek, Lynn White of Stamford, Macky Spurgin of Anson, Craig McCormick of Haskell and Bullinger.

Highlights of the year included interest rate reductions to variable rate stockholders, bringing the rate from 9.75 percent at the beginning of the year to 8.95 percent currently; development of a lending division geared specifically to the needs of agribusiness; and introduction of an adjustable rate loan program, with rates tied to a treasury index.

In addition, the district bank returned $14 million in patronage refunds to district FLBAs last year to help them build financial strength.

The FLBA of Haskell has $36 million in long-term agricultural loans to farmers in Haskell, Jones, Baylor and Knox counties. Offices are located at 509 S. 1st Street in Haskell.

Church to serve

Barbecue brisket, ribs, sausage and chicken dinners will be served Saturday at the Greater Independent Baptist Church, North 3rd and Avenue C.

Cost will be $4.50 per plate. Serving begins at 11 a.m. and continues until 2 p.m.

Labels may remain on glass and cans

Glass containers and bimetal (food) cans no longer have to have their labels removed before being recycled.

"We found a recycling center that doesn't require the labels to be removed," Mayor Jill Druessedow said. "This will make recycling easier for our citizens."

Of course, the cans and bottles must still be rinsed before being put in the recycling dumpsters located on the northwest side of Smitty's, she explained.

Newspapers, office and computer paper, cardboard and brown paper bags can be taken to the old Ford tractor building across from Allison Farm Supply from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

"We haven't had any citizens request a weekday opening of the paper recycling so we haven't implemented that yet," said Ruby Turner.

CART Environmental Council members will contact organizations, businesses and schools this week and ask for assistance in recycling.

Bob Baker and David Davis will work with business and industry; Amanda Hadaway with schools; Jerrie Sue Hise with Scouts; Teresa New with churches and youth groups; Clayton Fowler with community organizations; and Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Druessedow with senior citizens.

Words are inadequate to express the feelings that I have for your vote of confidence in re-electing me as your Commissioner of Precinct 3. To those of you whom I have served in the past I especially want to say "Thank You" for believing in me and supporting me through the past and in this election. I believe in you and will serve you in the future as I have served you in the past. The people of Paint Creek gave me an overwhelming vote of confidence and I will indeed endeavor to live up to their expectations. To those in the new area of Precinct 3 I do not intend to make light of your support. I will become your commissioner and your friend if you will but let me. The next four years will give us all time to become better acquainted. If you have a problem feel free to contact me about it. Working together we can overcome most anything. It is a privilege to be able to serve the people of Precinct 3 in Haskell County. I offer my thanks for your support, your vote and your congratulations.

Message from the President...

By Conrad Roewe

At a Chamber of Commerce annual meeting, we look both backward and forward---to past achievements and to future goals.

The Board of Directors of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce is grateful to the hundreds of Chamber members and other citizens who help to draw attention to Haskell, to attract visitors and to encourage residency.

We congratulate the Haskell Business Association of the Haskell

Chamber of Commerce for outstanding promotions through Christmas drawings and the ongoing Super 2nd Saturday effort.

Joint efforts with the City of Haskell in tourism programs, the night Christmas Parade, the annual Fly-In Breakfast and the traditional Sunday in the Park have produced successful events that brought thousands to our community.

Although we have lost some businesses, we have also seen the opening of several new ones.

Visitors comment on the progressiveness of Haskell and on the community effort of togetherness.

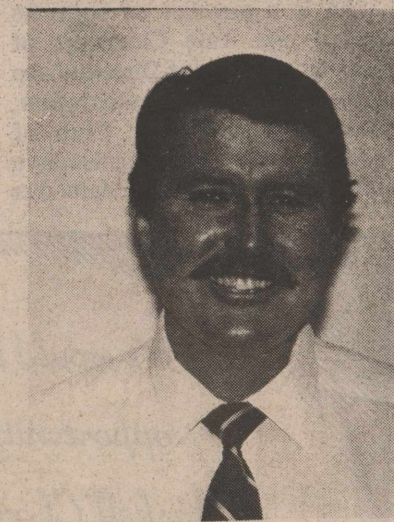

We all need to continue to seek new businesses and new industries, and to encourage former citizens to move back here to retire.

A positive approach is the key to any success. No one responds to negative thinking. We have to face the facts realistically, then proceed with positive action.
