Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is asking the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for approval to offer a new optional service called Remote Access to Call Forwarding (RACF) on a permanent basis beginning September 7, 1992.

RACF is an optional service that is intended for use by residence and business customers. RACF permits a customer who subscribes to the optional service Call Forwarding to activate, deactivate or change the Call Forwarding destination from a location other than the customer's premises. In order for RACF to function, it must be accessed from a push-button telephone.

The proposed monthly rate for RACF for residence customers is $1.00, and the proposed monthly rate for business customers is $2.75. These rates are in addition to the rates for basic local exchange service and regular Call Forwarding. (The monthly rates for Call Forwarding are $2.10 for residence customers and $2.85 for business customers.)

RACF is expected to generate first-year revenues of approximately $643,000.

Persons who wish to comment on this application, which has been assigned Tariff Control Number 11316, should notify the PUC by August 28, 1992. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

make a valid comparison of tax levels with other schools.

The tax on a house that would sell for $80,000 in Haskell CISD would have been $895. If the homeowner were eligible for homestead exemptions, the tax would have been $705. That compares with statewide average tax bills of $998 and $793 respectively for an $80,000 house.

Last year, Haskell CISD's revenue from the property tax remained the same as the year before, while school districts statewide averaged an increase of 12 percent.

Local property taxes plus state aid totaled $4,764 per student in Haskell CISD as compared to $3,969 statewide.

The state and county education districts will fund the total cost of the foundation program, which averaged $2,784 per student last year and was $3,726 in Haskell CISD. Local school districts can levy property taxes to enrich the foundation program. Enrichment last year averaged $831 per pupil to which the state added an average of $354 per student to guarantee the tax yield in property-poor districts. Enrichment by the Haskell CISD was $361; the state guarantee added $677.

A Service of Transamerican Diagnostic Services
(Providing Mammography Services for over 5 years)

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

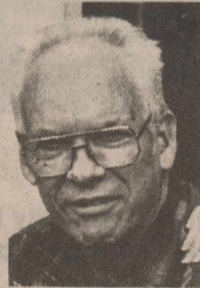

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $70.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

Pain Relief in Diabetes: People with diabetes often suffer pain, especially in their feet, known as peripheral neuropathy. A very small, preliminary study of topical capsaicin, and alkaloid that produces desensitization to thermal, chemical, and mechanical stimuli, showed that it can be an effective pain reliever in patients with chronic severe painful diabetic neuropathy. However, burning, stinging, and warm sensations after applying the cream caused several patients to drop out of the study.

Mortgage guide helpful to buyers

Potential home buyers faced with an array of mortgage loan choices have help with the Residential Mortgage Guide published by the Real Estate Center at Texas A&M University.

"Despite current low mortgage interest rates and affordable home prices, many borrowers still cannot qualify for the standard fixed-payment, 30-year mortgage loan," said research economist Jack C. Harris, author of the report. "But loan alternatives devised for specific borrower situations can help many people qualify for financing."

Insured and guaranteed loans from the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration, for example, are popular with first-time home buyers with little cash for a down payment. Buyers with money for a substantial down payment can apply for a permanent buy-down mortgage that reduces the interest rate for the entire loan term.

"The adjustable rate mortgage, or ARM, is the most widely available mortgage loan alternative today," said Harris. "An ARM's lower initial rate may allow a borrower to qualify for a loan that would be unaffordable under a fixed-rate regime."

Other alternatives include seller financing, equity sharing, lease-purchase, balloon mortgages and 15-year loans.

The 12-page Residential Mortgage Guide describes the pros and cons of these and other loan types and includes a glossary of mortgage loan terms. The report can be ordered for $1 in Texas ($2 out of state) from the Real Estate Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX 77843-2115. Add $1 handling charge per order.

Texas economy projection given

"Led by the construction and service sectors, Texas' overall employment outlook over the next 35 years is bright, but many of these new jobs--especially in trade and services--will be in the lower paying occupations," State Comptroller John Sharp said this week.

"Following a trend begun in 1978, real wage growth, after adjusting for inflation, is expected to increase by only about .5 percent annually through 2026. The lack of significant real wage growth will pressure more family members to enter the work force," Sharp said.

The information is contained in the current issue of Fiscal Notes and is based upon preliminary findings of the Forces of Change Project, a year-long study by the comptroller's office of issues shaping the state during the next 35 years. Fiscal Notes is a monthly publication of the Comptroller's Research Division. The report finds that while Texas will continue to grow in "power and worth" in the 35 years ahead, it will do so at more modest rates than in the recent past.

"The long-term economic news for Texas is mixed. On the positive side, the economy should continue to expand at a moderate rate, slightly out-pacing the rest of the United States," Sharp said. "On the other hand, state growth will be below that of the boom periods Texas enjoyed during the 1960s and 1970s."

"From 1971 to 1991, the state economy grew faster, by about a half percent annually, than the country as a whole, with an average growth rate of 3 percent per year. Almost all this growth was due to an expanding labor force, which increased about 3 percent each year, or 1 percent faster than the national average.

"The picture in the future is much different. The state's economy should continue to out-pace the national average by about a half percent each year, but an expanding workforce will account for only half the gap. About half the state's projected 2.7 percent annual growth rate will result from increased worker output as the labor force matures, becomes more experienced and productive," Sharp said. The report also concludes that economic diversification should continue to restructure the makeup of the state's economy. Energy-related industries are expected to fall from 13 percent of today's economic output to 8 percent by 2026 as oil and gas production continues its long-term decline.

Over the same period, almost 80 percent of the 6.3 million new jobs created in the state will be in service-producing industries. The number of jobs in various service sectors will soar, the report says, from 1.7 million in 1991 to 4.1 million by 2026. Currently, almost a quarter of all Texas jobs are in services, but by 2026, the figure will rise to more than 30 percent.

"Business, health and other miscellaneous services, such as hotels and professional and legal services, will contribute to the growth of services in the Texas economy. Wholesale and retail trade also will produce a large share of new jobs in the state.

"Surprisingly to some, construction will be the fastest-growing industry in the Texas economy over the next 35 years," Sharp said. "Total construction employment is expected to grow 2.6 percent per year, from 342,000 jobs in 1991 to 843,000 in 2026. Much of this will be recovery from the industry slump in the economic bust of the late 1980s.

"The attraction of Texas as a place to invest and produce should continue to promote manufacturing's role in the economy. Total manufacturing employment is expected to rise by 1.8 percent annually, from 977,000 jobs in 1991 to 1.8 million in 2026. Almost half the new manufacturing jobs will be in industries related to high technology, including computers, industrial machinery and electronics," Sharp said.

The report says Texas will not attract the large numbers of new residents the state received in past years. Nevertheless, the report says, Texas' population should continue to expand during the next 35 years, mainly from births rather than from immigration.

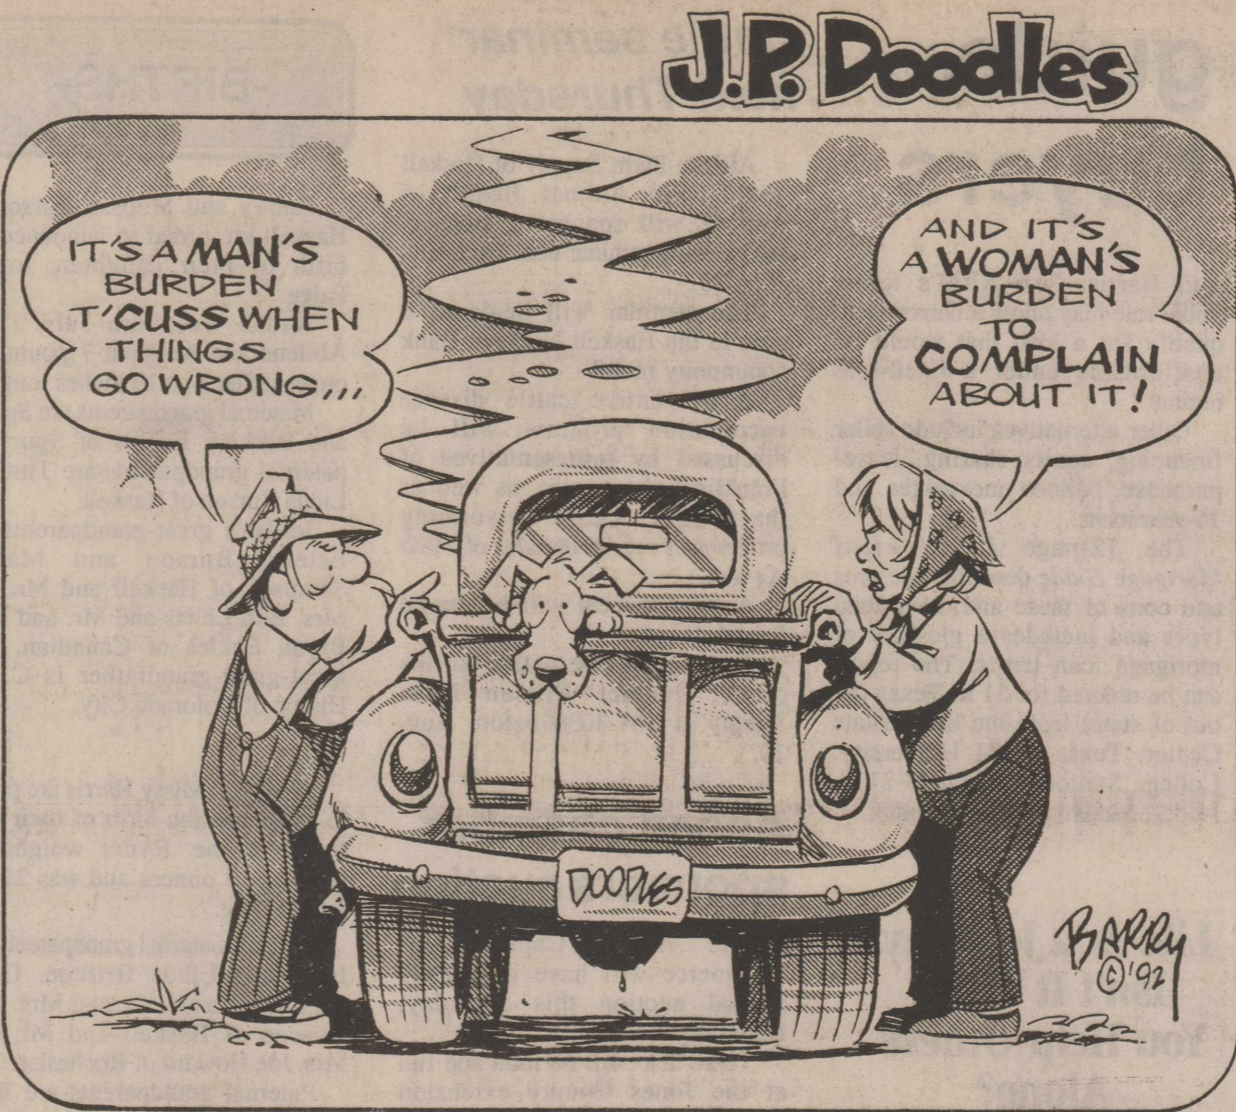

The baby boom generation, now entering middle age, will approach retirement as the year 2026 approaches. The fastest-growing age group will be Texans over the age of 65. One reason, the report says, is that Texans will be living longer due to improved health care. Along with increased economic clout, the Texas baby boomers can expect to see their political influence grow, with a push for more elderly programs, such as health care, income assistance and financial planning.

The report also notes that the fastest-growing ethnic group in Texas will be Hispanics, whose numbers are expected to jump from 26 percent of the population in 1990 to 38 percent in 2026. At the same time the Anglo population will decline from 61 percent to 47 percent. By the year 2026, Texas will have no majority ethnic group.

Radiation used for brain tumors

A technique that destroys inoperable tumors or malformations in the brain is being used by physicians at the Ochsner Medical Institutions in New Orleans.

The technique--stereotactic radiosurgery--involves using small directed beams of radiation to treat areas that may be inaccessible by conventional surgery for patients who may be unable to withstand surgery.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen

Watching Washington

Like the pearls on a precious necklace, the natural treasures of the Big Thicket National Preserve need to be linked together.

The first legislation I introduced when I came to the Senate was a bill to establish 100,000 acres of wilderness in East Texas as the Big Thicket National Preserve. We established the preserve in 1974 but we fell short of the 100,000 acre goal and six of the twelve units of the preserve were not connected.

Like loose pearls, the chains of life that these isolated regions sustain are in danger of being lost unless they are connected by the adjoining lands and feeder streams.

I'm optimistic that this year those pearls will be connected into a continuous necklace. Congress is nearing final approval of legislation I have introduced with Congressman Charlie Wilson to expand the preserve from the current 86,000 acres to 101,000 acres.

The measure calls for the addition of four contiguous units to link the final sections of the preserve together. These 15,000 acres will maintain the vital chain of life and further enrich the diversity and beauty of the preserve.

Although the Big Thicket today is much smaller than its original three and a half million acres, it still supports an incredible array of plants and animal life. Within the preserve there are regions that resemble the deserts of Arizona, the forests of South Carolina, the plains of the Panhandle, the mountains of Pennsylvania and the swamps of Louisiana.

This diversity has earned the Big Thicket the nickname, "America's ark". A visitor exploring the thicket might encounter animals as diverse as otters, foxes, roadrunners, alligators only yards away from each other. The preserve is also a home to ospreys and a stopping point for peregrine falcons and bald eagles.

My legislation would add 15,000 acres to the preserve including the Sabine River Blue Elbow Unit, the largest undisturbed acreage of Cypress-Tupelo blackwater swamp in southeast Texas. It would also incorporate the Canyonlands unit which contains beautiful scenic areas of steep walls, spring-fed creeks, and rare plants.

The addition of the Village Creek Corridor and the Big Sandy Corridor will protect vital pathways to ensure the migration and continuation of animal and plant species.

I'm pleased that the target of a 100,000 acre, continuous preserve will finally be achieved. Thousands of Texans have been working toward this goal for decades. In fact, a Texas Congressman named George Bush once introduced a bill to establish 150,000 acres as the Big Thicket National Preserve that included the areas in my legislation.

Final approval of my bill will link the region and ensure that the pearls of East Texas will be tied together.

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Someone asked the other day how many square feet there are in an acre.

Here's the way I learned. Just remember the numbers 3,4,5,6. Then reverse the first two numbers and add a zero on the end: 43,560 square feet.

To visualize the area of an acre, consider that a 300x300-foot city block is 90,000 square feet--just over 2 acres.

-o-

I wish these people in restaurants--and other places--who call out numbers would speak more clearly. And it might also be a good idea if they would give some kind of a clue when they are about to give a message.

When you're sitting in a booth waiting for your hamburger order number to be called, you don't normally keep your mind clear of everything else. When the loudspeaker barks out "fifty-two", you don't realize what's going on until the message is already given, and then often you didn't comprehend the number.

It's the same way in other businesses. Once I had waited in a long line at an American Airlines ticket counter in Dallas, wondering if I was going to get my ticket before my flight departed. After getting to about the No. 3 position in line, a message came over the loudspeaker. I thought it said, "Wendell Faught. You have an emergency call at the Continental counter."

I wasn't sure of the last name, so I waited a while for the message to be repeated. When it wasn't, I gave up my place in line and raced to the Continental desk. It turned out the call had been for "Wendell Clark." Anyone who has ever heard those garbled messages over loudspeakers can understand how Wendell Faught can sound a lot like Wendell Clark, especially if your first name is Wendell.

Red Chedester, the entomologist for this area headquartered in Roby, puts out a weekly newsletter during the "bug season."

Most of the stuff is Greek to a non-farmer such as I, but he adds a little humor.

Like:
An illustration showing how to destroy a boll weevil, with these instructions: "Catch boll weevil, drop in hole, insert peg, strike sharp blow with mallet."

He usually offers a helpful hint: "If lightning is seen to the northwest or southwest, the thunderstorm will come near the observer or pass overhead. If lightning appears to the north, east or south, the thunderstorm is not likely to reach the observer."

And he always closes with a "Hint from the Wife." His latest offering: "When sending a card to someone in the hospital, put their address instead of yours on the return. If they go home early, they'll still get the card."

-o-

Hamburgers are getting more popular than ever. The re-opening of the Sonic Drive-In and the coming of the Hatahoke in the near future, attest to the fact that Haskell is a part of the upswing.

In Abilene, a new Burger King opened last week and a new Short Stop a few weeks ago. Only a couple of months earlier, Burgers and Fries opened in Abilene, and not long before that, Potbellies and Heavenly Burgers made their debuts.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the application and return it to the school. Additional copies are available at the Principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials.

For school officials to determine eligibility, households receiving food stamps or AFDC must list the child's name, their food stamp or AFDC case number and the signature and name of an adult household member. Households not receiving food stamps or AFDC must list: names of all household members; Social Security numbers of all adult household members or a statement that the household member does not possess one; total household income and the amount and source of the income received by each household member; and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

Under the provisions of the free and reduced price policy Haskell CISD will review applications and determine eligibility. Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on the informal basis. Parents wishing to make a formal appeal may make a request either orally or in writing to Haskell CISD, P. O. Box 937, Haskell, Texas, 79521 or telephone at 817-864-2602 for a hearing on the decision.

Households that list a food stamp or AFDC case number must report when the household no longer receives these benefits. Other households approved for benefits are required to report increases in household income of over $50.00 per month or $600.00 per year and decreases in household size. Also, if a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size increases the household should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the household eligible for benefits if the household's income falls at or below levels shown above.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for school meal benefits. If a household wishes to apply for benefits for foster children living with them, the household should contact the school for more information.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data.

In the operation of child feeding program administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex, national origin, age or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

1992 Property Tax Rates in Haskell County

This notice concerns 1992 property tax rates for Haskell County. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

TEACHING YOUR KIDS ABOUT MONEY

Studies reveal that most children know much less about money than they should. To improve your children's financial savvy, teach them as they grow.

Start with the meaning of money. Take younger children to the grocery store and give them fifty cents to spend on whatever they like. Give them the experience of trading money for a product. At the baseball game, give them the money to pay the vendor for the hot dogs.

Allowances for doing chores teach children that money comes from work. Allowances should be increased slightly every year; many parents start with about $1 per week for three- to four-year-olds and finish with about $20 per week for high school seniors. Don't link the allowance to specific chores and don't withhold the allowance as punishment for bad behavior. If you do either, the child may learn that bad behavior is negotiable.

Teach saving. Savings accounts can be started by very young children, but easily by the time they're ten years old. Some banks can be unfriendly to children, so shop around.

Teach budgeting. Instead of controlling the purse strings on shopping trips, allow your child a budgeted amount for this year's school clothes and let the child control how to spend it. Try not to supplement it if the child runs out early or spends the money unwisely. Better to learn money control now than later.

Finally, encourage older children to get a part-time job. Age fourteen is early enough. Checking accounts should be okay by this time, too. Include older children in family financial discussions.

Together with serious discussions about how college will be funded, these lessons should ease your child's financial transition into college and beyond.

Many of you will remember the episode on "Unsolved Mysteries" concerning Barney and Angeline Dewey. They were picked up in Haskell as children by Rev. Nicholas, separated and adopted out. M. Cabal, the actress who played their mother in the episode, says that her mother's adoption papers were signed by the same Rev. Nicholas. Her mother's name was Denton and the family is searching for her birth parents and a sister. No records can be found in Abilene. The Deweys have been reunited.

Visiting with Allie Belle Smith last week were her grandson and his wife, Clay and Lea Smith, and their children, Shawn, Allie, Lauren and Sarah, from Marietta, Ga.

Mary Holden has had as visitors her daughter, Millie Ehsani, and grandchildren Nathan and Evan from Bryan. Mrs. Ehsani teaches sixth grade in the Bryan school and her husband Mark supervises doctoral candidates for Electronic Power Engineering at A&M.

Spending the week with Judge and Mrs. B. O. Boberson were Chantal Bertaux and her niece, Claire Giffiot from Epinal, France, George and Peggy Sismilick, Austin, and Edwin Roberson from Grand Prairie.

Mae Lou Yeldell visited in Rhineland with Mrs. Theresa Claus, Georgeen Meadors and Julia.

O. T. and Rosa Johnson spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Johnson Sr. They left Monday for Arlington to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ronny Williams.

Linda, Mary Jane and Ross Short of Rochester and Elmer and Bernice Hilliard spent the weekend in Lawton, Okla., with the Hilliards' son and family, Kenneth and Claudia Hilliard, Nichole and Chessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yeldell, L. C. Johnson Sr., Verda Ree Calloway and Retha Hammon attended the Mission annual service at the New Covenant Baptist Church in Stamford.

Dinner was served Sunday in the Robert Yeldell home to family and friends. Present were Birdie Benford, Susie Mae Jackson, Birdie Goudeau and children, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Johnson, Rev. Clarence Walker and children, and from Stamford, Pat and Angela Jordan.

Daughter and son-in-law, Jeanie and Hyrum Richards of Star Valley, Wyo., are in Cardston and Calgary, Alberta, Canada, enjoying a reunion with Hyrum's family. They will be in Texas this fall looking for a winter home.

"DECISIONS MADE EARLY"

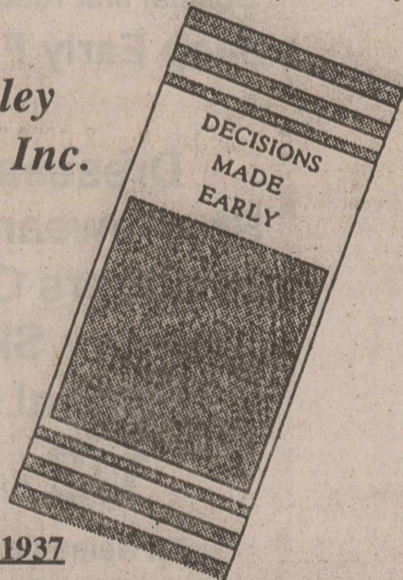

Many people plan for what might happen—fire, burglary, injury, and accidents. Now more and more people are planning for what will inevitably happen. It simply makes good sense to prepare for that which we can not avoid.

Pre-need funeral arranging allows one to control the type of service they would prefer, select a means of financing it, freeze the prices at today's price, and save loved ones the anguish of deciding these matters at a later date. Really it is the loving thing to do for your family.

Simply come by or call and we will come by to see you.

WIX TWO-STAGE AIR FILTERS

GET HEAVY-DUTY PROTECTION FOR LIGHT-DUTY VEHICLES.

Most pick-up trucks and utility vehicles, are no strangers to heavy-duty dirt. If you drive off-road or on gravel roads, you need more protection than you can get with a standard filter alone.

WIX TWO-STAGE AIR FILTER GIVES YOU HEAVY-DUTY PROTECTION.

WIX is the only filter manufacturer to recognize that all driving environments aren't created equal and that some vehicles need more filtering capacity. To meet that need, we designed a foam rubber wrap that slips easily over your WIX Air Filter to provide extra dirt-holding capacity.

- Removes 50% of the dirt. WIX foam rubber filter wrap traps 50% of the particles before they reach your filter. That saves you money by extending the life of your filter and giving your engine greater protection.
- Traps particles without restricting air flow. The foam rubber wrap is specially designed for efficient air flow.
- Slips on easily. To install your WIX filter wrap, simply slip it over your WIX Air Filter. We have a size for most light-truck applications.

A Change for the better. WIX FILTERS

Public Notices

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST AND STATEMENT OF INTENT
Notice is hereby given that Stamford Electric Cooperative, Inc. (the "Utility") intends to change rates for electric utility service effective October 19, 1992, or as soon thereafter as may be permitted by law. The Utility has not had a general rate increase since September 1988. Based upon a test year ending March 31, 1992, the increase requested over actual test year revenues is $228,425 or 5.00%. The changes are applicable to all areas, all customer classes, and all customers served by the Utility.

The Utility proposes to change all rates for farm and home, irrigation, small commercial, large commercial, cotton gin, and security lighting, including demand, energy, minimum, and other charges. The proposed changes are expected to affect the classes as follows: for the 3336 customers in the farm and home class, the proposed increase will be $81,491 or a 4.98% change in revenues; for the 346 customers in the irrigation class, the proposed increase will be $9,281 or a 5.00% change in revenues; for the 2148 customers in the commercial and industrial-small power class, the proposed increase will be $106,601 or a 5.10% change in revenues; for the 55 customers in the commercial and industrial-large power class, the proposed increase will be $23,425 or a 5.00% change in revenues; for the 3 customers in the cotton gin class, the proposed increase will be $3,156 or 5.00%; for the 1079 customers in the security lighting class, the proposed increase will be $4,471 or 4.94%.

The Utility also intends to change its service rules and regulations, by adding a new line extension and line extension charges for industrial customers.

Information concerning the

proposed rate changes, including the proposed rate changes, including the proposed revisions of tariff and schedules is available at the General Office of the Utility, located at 225 West McHarg Street, Stamford, Texas 79553. Inquiries, should be directed to Jerry Terrell, General Manager.

The Utility is required to give notice of the percentage increase in base revenues which is 10.50%. The percentage increase in base revenues is not an indication of how much your bill will increase. Rather, it is a measure of the increase needed by the Utility for its own operations, excluding payment for the cost of power purchased by the Utility from its wholesale power suppliers.

On or about August 10, 1992, the Utility will file with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, a Statement of Intent to Change Rates, specifying in detail each proposed change. Requests to intervene must be filed no later than 45 days after the application filing date. Thus, the Utility anticipates the deadline for intervening and objecting to the rate changes will be September 24, 1992. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. 29-32c

--Social Security--

By M. Glyn Hammons
District Manager

In many families, both the husband and wife now hold full time jobs. Many of these families are hiring household workers to help them care for pre-school children, or to keep up with daily household chores.

What these increasingly typical American families may not know is that when they hire household help, they are probably required to pay Social Security taxes for the person they employ.

Family "employers" may not even realize they are employers. And even those who are aware of that fact may not know that their household workers are sacrificing valuable Social Security protection when Social Security taxes aren't paid and when the employee's wages aren't reported to Social Security. These workers could lose their eligibility for survivors, disability, retirement and Medicare benefits--the entire Social Security coverage package.

How does a family who hires household help know if they are considered an "employer" under the law?

Generally, if an employer pays a household worker $50 or more during a three-month period, that employer must also deduct Social Security taxes and report the wages to both Social Security and the Internal Revenue Service.

Why is the issue of coverage so important for domestic workers?

All Social Security benefits are based on a combination of how long an individual works and the amount of wages reported for him or her by each employer. Even part-time, seasonal, or temporary work can increase the future benefit amount for workers and their families. It also may provide current insurance against loss of income if the family breadwinner is disabled or dies before retiring.

Household workers should make sure that they are getting proper credit for work and that Social Security taxes are paid on their behalf. They can check their wage records regularly by asking the Social Security Administration to provide a free Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement that shows year-by-year figures on the actual wages reported to the agency by employers since 1951.

This statement also projects what an employee's retirement benefits may be and estimates what Social Security benefits may be payable to his or her family in the event of a disabling injury or death.

To receive the earnings and benefit statement, call Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, business days between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Social Security benefits are perhaps even more important to domestic workers than to other workers because they are so much less likely to have a private pension program or other financial resources to draw on.

If you have questions about household work, call the toll free number above or call the Abilene district office at (915) 698-1360.

Thank You

Dear Friends,

Last week we asked for your help in clearing our inventory to make space for all the new merchandise which is arriving much quicker than we anticipated.

The response was more than we expected. We were too busy to help everyone who came in to look around and check prices. We are sorry for this and invite you to come back and look again. All the sale tags will remain on the furniture through Saturday.

We still have many sofas, love seats, chairs, tables, dinettes and bedding to close out. All are tagged without regard to cost or profit and all will be delivered free at your convenience. As always you can buy on easy terms and your satisfaction is guaranteed.

Sincerely,

Ray Kinney
