Friday night

Jonathan Tatum was on the receiving end of a 46-yard pass from Mart Guess Friday for the Indians' biggest gain against Knox City. The two teams battled to a 7-7 tie.

Indians open 7-2A season Friday night

Wounded, but still unbeaten, the Haskell Indians travel to Anson Friday night to open the district 7-2A season.

And after last week's 7-7 tie at Knox City, the Indians won't be going into the game with a lack of respect for their opponent.

Anson's 1-1-1 record cannot be taken lightly. The Tigers opened the season with a 40-6 victory over Olney. The next week they lost, 40-16, to Coleman, in a game they dominated statistically. Eight turnovers spelled their doom. And last week, Anson and Seymour battled to a 20-20 tie.

Although Haskell handled Seymour easily the previous week, the Indians aren't overlooking the fact that Seymour defeated the same Knox City team that tied them last week.

Anson features a number of standout players, led by tailback Cody Hestand, a 155-pound senior who was all-district last year. Joining him in the backfield are quarterback Chris Cromeens and wingback Jimmy Garcia, who was the starting quarterback last year.

The offensive line is led by guards Joe and Sonny Lozano, 220 and 210 pounds, respectively. They also play on the defense.

Haskell closed its non-district schedule with a 2-0-1 record. The Indians defeated Munday, in addition to Seymour, before last week's tie at Knox City.

Coach Walter Hargrove said there were some positive things that came out of the Knox City game. He was particularly pleased that the Indians were able to stop two Greyhound drives deep in Indian territory.

Fans encouraged to support Indians

With the beginning of district competition, each Friday has again been designated "Spirit Day" by the Haskell Indian Booster Club.

Everyone is asked to wear black and gold during the day Friday and then wear the school colors to the game.

Fans are asked to participate in a victory line for the players as they enter the field before the game and after halftime. "This is a boost to both the athletes and coaches," said Sammy Larned, Booster Club president.

On third down, fans are encouraged to join the cheerleaders with "rattle, click and chant." Thirddown conversions are critical. Boosters point out. By shaking spirit rattles, clicking clickers and chanting "Go, Indians, Go", the fans can show their support to the players.

Rhonda Lisle said she believes the Friday spirit boosters will show community support for the team. Jim Lisle suggested that talking to the players, whether they are junior high, junior varsity or varsity players, would encourage them, also.

Rattle, click and chant!
Keep the unbeaten streak going.

Haskell sales tax rebate takes a dive

The City of Haskell's sales tax rebate this month was in the amount of $14,313.90.

The figure represents nearly an 18-percent decrease from the $17,387.01 rebate received last year for the same period.

This month's payment included taxes collected on July sales and reported to the state comptroller in August.

Despite the decrease, Haskell's rebates for the first nine months of 1993 are still greater than for the same period last year. Nine-month totals come to $174,113.85, compared to $165,512.66 for the first nine months of 1992.

Rule was the only other county city to receive a sales tax rebate this month. Its check was in the amount of $1,220.89.

The county's five cities, Haskell, O'Brien, Rochester, Rule and Weinert, together have received $201,160.17 in sales tax rebates so far this year. This is an increase of 6.09 percent over the $189,603.15 received in the January-to-September period last year.

Haskell's sales tax rate is 1.5 cents, while the other cities have 1 cent rates.

Roewe named coach at Hardin-Simmons

Julie Roewe of Haskell has been named the women's basketball coach at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

She succeeds Mark Adams, who resigned to become the assistant women's basketball coach at Baylor.

Roewe, a former All-Area basketball standout at Haskell High School, has served as an assistant women's coach at the University of Texas-Arlington and Lubbock Christian University. She has recently completed a Master of Education degree in sports administration at Texas Tech where she was a graduate assistant in the physical education department.

Julie, who was valedictorian of her graduating class at Haskell High School, twice received the outstanding scholar/athlete award at Western Texas College. She also won the Miss Hustle award, was named Miss Congeniality both years she attended the junior college and was honored as the Outstanding Female Student of the Year and Miss WTC her sophomore year.

She was a two-year starter on the basketball team at UT-Arlington and was named to the all-Southland Conference team and chosen as the Scholar Athlete of the Year. She became the 13th leading scorer in the school's history.

"I've spoken to more than a dozen people in reference to Julie's abilities as a potential head coach," HSU athletic director Dr. Merlin Morrow said. "I have spoken to coaches, academicians and character references.

"Rarely do you find such consensus from that many people who continually used terms as 'outstanding,' and 'phenomenal.' Not only did they describe her with regard to her professional ability, but all spoke of her outstanding character. We are pleased to have her at Hardin-Simmons."

She began her new duties immediately after being named last week. The Cowgirls, who return 13 players from last year's Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship team that posted a school record 21-6 record, began practice on Monday of this week.

Julie is the daughter of Conrad and Betty Roewe of Haskell.

Grandson writes to President

The recent murder of a Dallas girl prompted the 13-year-old grandson of a Haskell woman to write letters to President Clinton and U.S. Sen. Phil Graham.

Casey Herren, grandson of Mrs. Eula Mae Herren of Haskell and son of Dr. and Mrs. Bob Herren of Dallas, was deeply moved by the girl's death. His father, a dentist, provided the dental records which helped identify the victim.

The boy wrote:

"I am a 13 years old and a resident of Highland Park, Dallas, Texas. I was coming home from dove hunting when I heard on the radio that a 7-year-old girl by the name of Ashley Estell was found strangled to death two blocks from where she was trying to watch her older brother play a game of soccer.

"As an eighth-grader, I think that's really sad that a young girl of that age isn't able to go and watch her brother play soccer without having to worry about being killed by some stranger.

"Is there anything you can do to help this from happening in the future? Could you change some laws? You may not be able to do anything, but just take some time and think about what this could do to a family and you might come up with something."

Old Glory musical Saturday

The concession stand will open at 5:30 and music begins 30 minutes later.

There is no admission charge and everyone is welcome.

Flu shots recommended

Dr. Bill McSmith suggested that The Free Press publish this article by Dr. Robert N. Butler, editor-in-chief of Geriatrics magazine.

The Beijing strain of the ever-changing influenza A virus is anticipated to strike hard in the United States this winter. Fortunately, a decision was made early this year to include the mutated Beijing strain in the new vaccine for the coming influenza season.

Although there can be surprises, researchers usually determine correctly what strain is likely to predominate in a given year, and vaccine is produced using a killed virus obtained at the end of the previous year.

Earlier this year, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention found that the influenza A virus had mutated and was genetically different from the virus in last season's influenza vaccine. As a result, even some vaccinated people had become ill.

Most Americans will have only limited immunity against the Beijing virus. That is why primary care physicians must take the initiative and seek appointments with their older and other at-risk patients to give flu and other vaccines. In addition, immunization programs for older persons are needed in such public and private settings as worksites, hospitals, day care centers and nursing homes.

There are two main classes of influenza virus, labeled A and B based on their surface protein. Influenza A is the more changeable. Perhaps this is because the A strains can reside in animals and pick up new genes from animal viruses, whereas the B strains live only in humans and are not associated with pandemics.

Pandemics seem to arise in Asia and involve viruses derived by recombination of animal and human viruses. Pigs and ducks, which are common on Chinese farms, can harbor influenza A viruses, as can horses, wild birds and marine mammals. Some believe that the

Knox City battles Indians to 7-7 tie

About the only good news out of Knox City Friday night was that the Indians didn't lose.

The bad news was that they didn't win either.

After 48 minutes of hard-nosed football, the final scoreboard reading showed a 7-7 tie, a score which was indicative of the closeness of the game.

The fired-up Greyhounds battled the Indians on even terms throughout the night, and then "just said no" to a last-minute drive which reached their own 8-yard line from where an attempted field goal by the Indians sailed wide of the mark.

Only 51 seconds remained in the contest when the Indians took over on their own 31. Mart Guess, hitting his first pass of the night, threw 46 yards to Jonathan Tatum to the Knox City 23, a play that consumed only 9 seconds. Then Guess fired one to Casey Larned to the 8 with 35 seconds remaining. Guess' next three passes fell incomplete, bringing up fourth down and goal. Larned's field goal effort from the 15 followed.

Knox City, perfectly content to settle for the standoff, sandwiched two running plays between a Haskell penalty to preserve the tie.

There was little to indicate in the early going that the Indians were in for such a stiff test. On their first possession, they moved 44 yards in six running plays for a touchdown.

Justin Lisle carried six all times, gaining 11, 5, 3, 16 and 2 yards, and then 7 yards for the score.

Larned's extra point kick staked the Indians to a 7-0 lead with 6:24 to go in the opening period.

On their next possession, the Indians took over on the Greyhound 41. Keiland Riley ran 19 yards, Guess picked up 2. Lisle ran for 1, then 10 to the 9, and then for no gain before fumbling at the 12.

Highlighted by runs of 13 and 42 yards by Joseph Johnson, Knox City moved all the way to the Indian 25. On first down from that point, Bucky Harvey recovered a Greyhound fumble at the 27.

Neither team threatened again in the first half.

A partially blocked punt in the third period which gave Knox City possession on the Haskell 28 led to the Greyhounds' lone touchdown. Taking over on the Indian 28, the Greyhounds drove in for a score in five plays. Lance Dever got the score from the 7, after Johnson had put the ball there on a twisting 13-yard run.

Duane Toliver's attempted extra-point kick was no good, but Haskell was flagged for a penalty. With the ball on the 1, the Greyhounds went for 2 and Dever bolted into the end zone. This time, however, Knox City was whistled down for holding and the ball moved to the 11. This time, Toliver's kick was good, tying the score.

From their own 30 following the Knox City kickoff, the Indians moved to their own 49 where a fourth down effort fell a couple of feet short. The Greyhounds then moved the Indian 16 where the Indians held them on downs late in the third period.

On their next possession, the Greyhounds moved to a first down at the Haskell 15 and appeared headed for a go-ahead touchdown, but the Haskell defense rose to the occasion. After a penalty moved the ball to the 20, Johnson was dropped for a 1-yard loss, Riley knocked down a pass by David Dudensing and then Matt Perry smeared Dudensing for a 10-yard loss to the 31. Dudensing's fourth-down pass was no good.

It was at this point and at this time the Indians made their final bid when Guess passed to Tatum and then to Larned to set up the field goal effort.

Lisle was the Indians' leading ground gainer, picking up 132 yards in 28 carries. Game honors, however, went to Knox City's Johnson who rushed for 150 yards.

Leading tackler for the Indians was Martin Limones, who was in on 14 tackles, including two unassisted. Perry had 12 tackles, including three unassisted. Robert Huff had four unassisted and four assisted for a total of 8, the same number as Harvey. Getting 7 tackles was Cody Cooley. Larned, Ryan Olson and Jason Torres were in on six tackles each and Riley had 5. Four tackles each were recorded by Cody Cypert, Deon Walker and Brian Brzozowski.

Who Gets Fatter?: According to the National Center for Health Statistics, men tend to get fatter after marriage than women. While excess weight is associated with illness and early death, this does not necessarily apply to married men, and it is thought that this may be because married men get more sleep and take fewer risks than single men.

Flu shots...

growth of Asian fish farms, when fresh fertilizers from pigs and poultry are often used, may further increase the likelihood of genetically mixed influenza A viruses.

Pandemics occur every 10 to 40 years when a newly emerged subtype of influenza A virus strikes a vulnerable population that has not had recent experience with the virus and, therefore, has no immunity. The CDC is not predicting that this year's flu season will be of pandemic proportions, because the Beijing strain does not represent a new sub-type or an antigenic shift. Even so, an estimated 10,000 to 40,000 people die of influenza each year during flu epidemics, and there is no reason to believe this season will be less deadly than usual.

Our ability to protect patients from the flu is limited. In one study, for example, only 40 percent of healthy older persons responded to influenza vaccination, compared with 100 percent of younger adults.

In addition, perhaps 20 percent of older persons do not receive the flu vaccine because of allergy to eggs, and only about 50 percent receive annual influenza vaccines. Moreover, human immunity provided by the vaccines is short-lived.

With all these limitations, why bother with flu shots? Because prevention is still our most effective therapy. We really do not have successful treatment of influenza beyond amantadine--which has a limited effect against influenza A---bed rest, and protection against other infections. Therefore, it is very important that older persons in general be vaccinated, along with people of all ages who are at high risk because of chronic pulmonary disease or heart disease.

Steers keep rolling

Unbeaten Rochester brought its record to 3-0 Friday night with a 55-35 victory over the 10th-ranked Woodson Cowboys.

Mark Brown scored seven touchdowns while rushing or 338 yards in 32 carries. Kyle Hollingsworth added 120 yards on 16 carries as the Steers enjoyed their biggest offensive night.

The Steers struck first on Brown's 12-yard run and an extra point kick by Felix Flores to take an early 8-0 lead. After Woodson's Pete Miller scored from 3 yards out to tie the score, Brown came back with a 5-yard run as the Steers.

In the second quarter, Brown ran 28 yards for Rochester's third touchdown. Jimmy Miles of Woodson ran 3 yards for a score to narrow the margin to 20-14 before Brown broke loose on a 60-yard scoring run. The extra point attempt was blocked and Woodson ran it back for 1 point to make the score 26-15, where it stood at halftime.

Shannon King passed 12 yards to Brandon Kelly for Rochester's first second-half touchdown. Brown ran over the extra point and the Steers moved out front, 33-15. Jason Overcash of Woodson then ran 12 yards for a Cowboy score before Brown got another touchdown and Flores kicked the extra points to make the score 41-21 at the three-quarter mark.

Orders may be placed through any Booster Club member, at the Trading Post on Thursday night, or at the Booster Club meeting on Monday night. The flags will arrive two weeks after the Sept. 27 order.

Coach Ken Peel introduced the girls' and boys' cross country teams.
