FmHA taking applications

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by extreme fire hazards are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office in Haskell.

County FmHA supervisor Larry McDaniel said Haskell County is one of 149 counties in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the extreme fire hazards.

McDaniel said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business, or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30-percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan," McDaniel said. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance programs will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until May 10, 1994, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," McDaniel said.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FmHA office in Haskell is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Indians travel to Jim Ned

It doesn't get any easier for the Haskell Indians.

They will be in Tuscola Friday night to meet the Jim Ned Indians in the first of three consecutive games against the district's top-rated teams.

Both teams will be trying to get back on the victory trail after disappointments last week. While Haskell was losing, 20-8, to Rotan, Jim Ned was suffering its first district loss, a 28-8 defeat at the hands of Hamlin. Its only other loss was to fourth-ranked Wall.

Jim Ned played unbeaten Hamlin on pretty even terms. Hamlin scored on a trick play on its first

Homecoming queen

Haskell gains industry; Another re-locating

A three-pronged deal finalized Friday cleared the way for a new industry in Haskell, the re-location of another industry and left the Haskell Industrial Foundation out of the real estate business.

The Haskell Industrial Foundation sold its building on US

380 to the Haskell Bean Co., bought the Pat Walker building on North 1st Street from Tom and Lois Richardson and then sold the Walker building to United Sewing Agency which will move its operation to that location from the foundation's former building.

Haskell Bean Co., owned by a group from Vernon, has been in operation here since August, sharing the industrial building with United.

The new company already is processing, cleaning and bagging mung beans for wholesale shipment.

While the plant's payroll will be modest, it is expected to be a big boost to the local agricultural industry. The company has contracted with a number of county farmers to produce mung beans, a product used for bean sprouts and Chinese food. It is expected to expand its business greatly, enabling other county farmers to produce the mung beans.

Ken Lane of the Haskell Industrial Foundation said the new industry was very attractive to Haskell as it enables local farmers to produce another crop.

On the other hand, United Sewing Agency expects to benefit from its new location. The company was using only about half of the industrial building so it anticipates considerable savings in utilities and other expenses. It will move to the Walker building in two or three weeks when remodeling is complete.

United also bought the sewing machines that were owned by the Industrial Foundation.

Noted genealogist to lead workshop

R. S. Sanders of Weinert, noted genealogical researcher and author, will lead a roundtable discussion centered around genealogy research, during a public education program Monday.

Sponsored by the Haskell County Home Economics Committee, the workshop will begin at 7 p.m. in the First National Bank's meeting room in Haskell.

All Haskell County residents, as well as residents from surrounding counties who are conducting genealogy research, are invited to participate in the discussion. There is no charge.

A packet of printed materials will be distributed to all those attending. In order to help the committee know the number of packets to prepare, it is requested that those planning to attend contact the county extension office (864-2546) before 5 p.m. Friday. Only those in attendance will receive packets.

The possibility of organizing a Haskell County Genealogical Society will be discussed by the group.

City sales tax rebate drops by 1 percent

Haskell's sales tax rebate this month was in the amount of $14,597.05, boosting the total rebates for the first 10 months of the year to $188,710.90.

While this month's rebate is about 1 percent less than the $14,743.70 received for the same period last year, the 10-month total is 4.69 percent more than last year's $180,256.36.

This month's rebate represents the city's 1.5-cent share of the 7.75-cent sales tax collected on August sales and reported to the state comptroller in September by businesses filing monthly tax returns.

Also receiving rebates this month were Rule, $1,033.68, and Rochester, $552.11, representing their 1-cent share of the 7.75-cent sales tax.

For the year, Rule has received $17,119.76 and Rochester $6,313.57.

Although Weinert did not receive a check this month, that city's 1993 rebates have totaled $3,707.83, compared to $1,989.61 for the same period last year. O'Brien did not receive a rebate this month, but has received $1,490.95 so far during the year.

Rule, Rochester, Weinert and O'Brien all have 1-cent sales tax rates.

Together, the five cities of Haskell County have received $217,343.01 during the first 10 months of 1993, compared to $206,175.07 for the same period last year, an increase of 5.41 percent.

Neighboring Stamford, with a 2-cent rate, saw a 5.18-percent drop in its October rebate, receiving $24,596.85, compared to $25,940.84 in October 1992. But for the year, Stamford's 10-month total stands at $300,223.41.

All activities will be at the Christian Church in Haskell. The public is invited to come by any time between 2 and 5 p.m. to see the various food entries.

compared to $276,369.20 for the same period last year, an 8.63-percent gain.

Indian spirit encouraged

KEAN radio in Abilene has chosen this Friday's Haskell-Jim Ned football game as its "Spirit Game of the Week."

Amanda Hadaway, cheerleader sponsor, said that from 9 to 10 on Thursday night, fans, students, players, cheerleaders, coaches and teachers are encouraged to call KEAN and show their spirit for the Indians.

Ms. Hadaway said that some schools have faxed in signs and letters, and shown up at the KEAN parking lot for a pep rally. Members of one team even shaved their heads and mailed the hair to the station.

The radio station will choose a spirit winner Friday, based on the show of support. KEAN personnel will visit that school's pep rally.

Ms. Hadaway said she had contacted cheerleaders, football team members, twirlers, Booster Club, Student Council and band members about showing their support for the Indians Thursday night.

"This is Jim Ned's homecoming and they are fired up," Ms. Hadaway said. "I want to encourage all groups to show their support in any way possible--small or large. Our guys--players and coaches--need to know that we support them all the way."

The 800 number of the Abilene radio station is 1-800-KEAN. The fax number is 915-676-3851.

Rotan spoils homecoming

The incentive was there: The Indians needed this victory to stay in the thick of the 7-2A title race.

The support was there: Hundreds of visiting alumni joined the local faithful to cheer the team.

The tradition was there: The Indians had not lost a home game since 1991.

The revenge factor was there: Rotan had come from behind in the fourth quarter last year to defeat the Indians and ruin their playoff chances.

But the Rotan Yellowhammers refused to cooperate as they took a 20-8 victory over the Haskell in Friday night's homecoming feature, all but eliminating the Indians from any chance of making the playoffs.

The Yellowhammers set the tone of things to follow on their second possession when they drove 67 yards in 12 plays for the game's first score. Steve Warren capped the drive when he bolted over from 2 yards out with 4:46 to go in the first quarter.

The Indians answered that drive with a 76-yard drive of their own, climaxed on the first play of the second quarter when Justin Lisle scored on an 8-yard run. The extra point attempt was blocked, leaving the score at 6-6. The drive had been keyed by runs of 10, 9, 13 and 13 yards by Lisle, an 11-yard pass from Mart Guess to Casey Larned and a 26-yard pass from Guess to Jason Torres. An 11-yard loss on a quarterback sack and a 5-yard penalty against the Indians had lengthened the drive.

Rotan took the lead for good when Temple Daniel engineered a 64-yard scoring drive. The Rotan quarterback completed passes of 13, 18 and 10 yards before going over from the 1. Warren kicked the extra point as the Hammers went out front, 13-6.

Matt Perry gave the Indians a good opportunity in the third quarter when he recovered a Rotan fumble on the Yellowhammers' 41. But four plays later the Indians surrendered the ball on downs at the 38.

Five running plays by Rotan moved the ball to the Haskell 43, from where Daniel peeled off his second scoring run. Warren's extra point kick completed the night's scoring.

The Indians' only serious scoring threat after their lone touchdown came in the fourth period when they moved from their own 27 to the Rotan 11 where they lost the ball on a fumble. Lisle had runs of 19 and 11 yards in the drive and Guess twice hit Robert Huff with 13-yard completions.

That drive did directly contribute to a safety for the Indians. After Rotan couldn't pick up a first down, Warren ran into and then out of the end zone for an intentional safety.

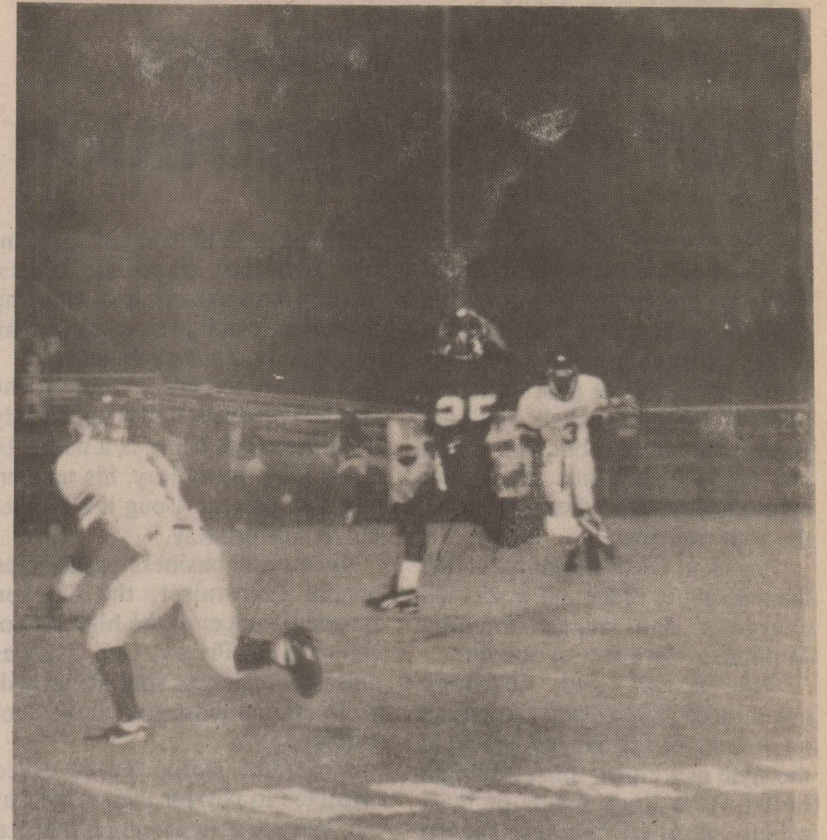

Lisle, with 192 yards in 31 carries, led the Indian offense. Guess completed six passes for 81 yards, but was sacked four times for 58 yards in losses, which greatly reduced the Indians' net yardage. Only other Indian ball carrier was Chris Silvas who picked up 2 yards on a single carry in the second period. Huff caught three passes for 33 yards, Torres two for 37 yards, and Larned one for 11.

Daniel led the Yellowhammer offense, gaining 75 yards on 13 carries and completing 7 of 11 passes for 82 yards. Trey Brown gained 60 yards in 11 carries.

Martin Limones, with 16 tackles, and Ryan Olson with 15, led the Indian tacklers. Bucky Harvey had 9 and Perry, Silvas, Cody Cypert and Brian Brzozowski each had 8.

Perry and Torres each recovered a fumble, while Brzozowski and Limones were credited with forcing fumbles.

Indian receiver

Jason Torres caught two passes for 36 yards Friday night in the Indians' losing effort against Rotan.

Steers maul Rule

Rochester's Mark Brown ran for four touchdowns and passed for two more as the unbeaten Steers defeated Rule, 60-26, before a Rochester homecoming crowd Saturday afternoon.

Brown had touchdown runs of 39 and 49 yards as the Steers shot to a 12-0 first-period lead. They stretched the margin to 40-0 by halftime on a 70-yard touchdown pass from Brown to Matt Cisneros, a 60-yard punt return by Shannon King, a 20-yard run by Brown and a 21-yard run by Brandon Kelly.

Rule scored its first touchdown in the third period on a 1-yard run by Brian Manke, but Rochester answered with a 17-yard touchdown run by Brown.

The Steers added two touchdowns in the fourth period, a 57-yard run by Kyle Hollingsworth and a 56-yard pass from Brown to Cisneros. Rule scored three times in the final period, on 5-yard and 20-yard touchdown passes from Nathan Macias to Chad Teichelman and a 35-yard pass from Macias to Jim Campbell.

The win boosted the Steers' record to 6-0. Rochester, ranked fifth in the state last week, will play at Jayton this Friday. After Jayton, the Steers will meet unbeaten Aspermont and unbeaten Guthrie on successive Fridays.

Study club enjoys chef's demonstration

The invitations received by members of the Progressive Study Club for the first meeting of the 1993-94 club year asked them to bring prospective members as guests and attend a gala buffet on Sept. 9 in the Haskell National Bank community room, and it was just that---a very gala affair with approximately 60 ladies present for the 54th club year.

President Oleta Cornelius called the meeting to order and welcomed everyone and asked Rheatha Mullins to voice the invocation.

The social and yearbook committees planned and carried out an evening of fun and enjoyment in the style of a cruise ship's midnight buffet. Two large bowls of meat salads, assorted cheeses, shaved ham, raw vegetables, odd-shaped sandwiches, assorted fruits, rosebud mints, petit fours, mint tea and coffee were attractively arranged.

The ceiling above the serving table had an arrangement of balloons and tinsel streamers. The tables were arranged for six persons. Each was covered with an ecru-colored cloth and had flower arrangements.

The social committee, Franciene Johnson, Kay Croft, Jo Nored Lane, Sue Medford, Kim Meredith and Frances Lane and yearbook committee, Nancy Toliver, Jill Druessedow, Erna Liles, Thula Perry, Nancy Plunkett and Judy Ray were hostesses.

President Cornelius asked members to introduce their guests. Special guests were the 1993 winners of the eighth-grade Certificates of Promise, Dacia Pheister and Sarah Cothron. Mrs. Lisa Pheister accompanied her daughter.

She also introduced Janoma Stephens, president of Mesquite District, and Winifred White, both of Knox City.

First vice-president Toliver presented the yearbooks. The blue cover has a cutout that shows on the title page the president's theme and course of study, "Commitment from the Past---Concerns of today---Courage for tomorrow." The theme for the program was "Today a new club year begins with great expectations for the future. Past experiences enable us to succeed. Tomorrow in the advancement of self-culture, civic and social services, and the study of literature, drama, music and art."

Vice president Toliver introduced Douglas Ray, head pastry chef for six Harvey Hotels in Dallas, who in 1992 went to Frankfurt, Germany, to compete in the Culinary Olympics. As a member of a 12-person team for international competition sponsored by the American Culinary Federation, Doug helped the team win the silver medal, and he won three individual medals, two gold and one silver. He got stuck in an elevator and had only five minutes to spare to present his chocolate---everything is chocolate for him---creations.

One was a three-foot tall chocolate cowboy, holding a coffee cup in one hand and holding his hat on with the other as he braces his body against a West Texas wind. Doug showed a picture of this winner.

He passed out recipes for chocolate bricks and lemon buttermilk sponge cake and actually prepared, with the help of sister-in-law Judi Ray, chocolate bricks, melting the chocolate and whipping the cream and giving advice on what and how to do and not do.

Club members sampled the finished products which had already been prepared. Doug is a native of Knox City. Susie Ray, his mother, was also present. Doug is a brother of Dr. Clifford Ray.

In a brief business session the annual fund-raiser, the chicken spaghetti supper at the high school cafeteria on Friday, Oct. 29, was discussed. Tickets sold ahead will be $4.50, but those sold at the door will be $5.

Treasurer Doris Jordan asked members to pay for their tickets as they receive assignments at the Oct. 14 meeting, which will be at the Haskell Elementary School. The constitution was set aside and Kathleen Parsley, presented by Mary Kaigler, and Eva Dunnam, presented by Ruby Holt, were elected to active membership.

Frances Lane and Anita Herren are two original members of the club.

Phelps couple celebrate 50th

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Phelps on their 50th wedding anniversary was hosted Oct. 9 at Haskell National Bank's community room.

In the receiving line greeting guests with Mr. and Mrs. Phelps were their daughter and her husband, Elaine and Kenneth Campbell; their granddaughter and her husband, Karen Kay and Doyle Mitchell; and their great-grandchildren, Kendall Doyle and Allison Paige Mitchell, all of Haskell.

Deborah MacKay of Daingerfield, Mrs. Phelps' niece, sang "The Glory of Love" and "Wing Beneath My Wings."

anniversary book with a gold pen on a round table covered with a white satin floor-length cloth which featured a picture of the couple when they were married, a vase of yellow roses with greenery and baby's breath. A solid brass tray held "Thank You" notes, white scrolls printed in gold and tied with gold ribbons, and a card on an easel saying 1943 was a good year.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace overlay with a full floor-length pleated white lace skirt. Dividers of crystal separated the three tiered white bride's cake, made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Flo Pace, with varied sizes of fresh flowers, white roses, white carnations and gold daisy chrysanthemums cascading down the front of the cake adorned at the top with a base of silk white flowers with pearl centers.

Centered between four white posts was a large gold "50." The posts were laced with white beads and on top of the posts sitting on white lacy flowers were four gold wedding bells with white beads edging each bell with a "50th" emblem in each bell.

Two white doves above the bells held white ribbon in their beaks that laced through gold wedding rings at the top of the posts. The cake top was a gift from Ms. Phelps' sister, Sue Cox. Fruit punch was served from a solid brass punch bowl set. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white gladiola and daisies with gold centers. Brass and crystal appointments held white hearts and wedding bell mints. Napkins had gold wedding bells and engraved "Lona Mae and Dudley, October 6, 1943," in the corner. Serving at the bride's table was Netha Carrouth of Cross Plains and Lesa Lambright of Houston, nieces of Mrs. Phelps.

The groom's table was covered with a white lace top with a full floor-length pleated lace skirt and held a large chocolate cake topped with a gold and white "cinderella" coach and horses. A man and woman figurine stood next to the coach. The centerpiece was a large basket of fresh spring flowers of every kind and color, an anniversary gift from Mrs. Phelps' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jacky Sanders of Putnam. A brass Samovar on a brass tray held coffee. Brass and crystal appointments on the table held cream, sugar cubes and nuts. Tina Lacey of Clarendon served at the groom's table.

A gold easel held a bulletin board filled with family pictures of the couple through the years.

Gifts were displayed on two tables covered with gold floor-length underlay with white lace cut work cloths over them.

Some 150 guests registered during the afternoon to congratulate Mr. and Ms. Phelps and wish them continued happiness.

PHARMACY NEWS

By Elbert Johnson, Registered Pharmacist

New Laser Treatment for Port-wine Stains: Although lasers have been used to eradicate port-wine stains, the standard procedure is tedious and time-consuming. A new flashlamp-pumped pulse dye laser was used to treat lesions in 43 children aged 2 weeks to 14 years. Forty percent of the children had complete clearing of the lesion after six treatments, and those who did not have complete clearance had an average 80% improvement. Sedation was used when the lesion was extensive or in young children to help with pain. There was no scarring or changes in skin pigmentation.

Pete Morales

Former resident in movie

A former Haskell man will appear in "Death in Small Doses," an ABC movie which will be aired Sunday, Oct. 24.

Pete Morales, who lived in Haskell from 1961 to 1964, plays the part of a Dallas policeman in the movie which was originally scheduled for a spring showing.

The 75-member crew and cast made of 16 main actors include Matthew Posey (Lonesome Dove), Tess Harper (Tender Mercies) and Richard Thomas (The Waltons).

The story is about a Texas man accused of poisoning his wife. Posey is the defense attorney and Harper is the prosecutor.

Morales, who now lives in Monroe, N.C., has acted in several local productions. He also has acted for the past 12 years in the outdoor production, "Listen and Remember" in Waxhaw.

Morales also will appear in the CBS television movie, "The Hunter," which will be aired this fall, and another CBS movie, "Scattered Dreams," scheduled for early December. He will be featured as a security guard playing opposite Tyne Daly (Cagney and Lacey), with Gerald McRaney (Major Dad), as her husband.

Still another movie which Morales has made this year is "Bandit". It has just been completed and will be aired in the spring or summer of next year.

Morales is the son of Eloisa Morales and the late Macario Morales and a 1961 graduate of Smiley High School. He is the nephew of Romana Sanchez and the late Victor Sanchez. He left Haskell in 1964 when he joined the Army. He was employee of Hassen's in Haskell. He last visited Haskell in 1990.

DIFFERENT TYPES OF BONDS: A PRIMER

Before you invest in bonds, you should know a few basics. A bond is a corporate or government IOU. You lend the company or the government money and receive interest until your bond matures. At maturity, you get your principal back.

Corporate bonds are rated for risk and generally mature in one to 20 years. Because of their higher risk, they offer a higher yield than government bonds. Convertibles are corporate bonds that can be converted into stock.

Municipal bonds are issued by local governments to pay for schools, roads, and other public projects. The interest you receive on municipal bonds is generally exempt from federal income tax (and sometimes state income tax), thus their lower interest rates.

Treasury bonds are issued by the federal government and are considered risk-free. They're highly liquid, exempt from state and local taxes, and offer a lower rate of return than corporate bonds.

Agency bonds are issued by government agencies and include such bonds as Ginnie Maes, Fannie Maes, and Freddie Maes. Their risk and interest rates are marginally higher than the Treasuries.

Zero coupon bonds are sold at a deep discount. The holder pays yearly taxes on the interest, even though the interest isn't payable until the bonds mature.

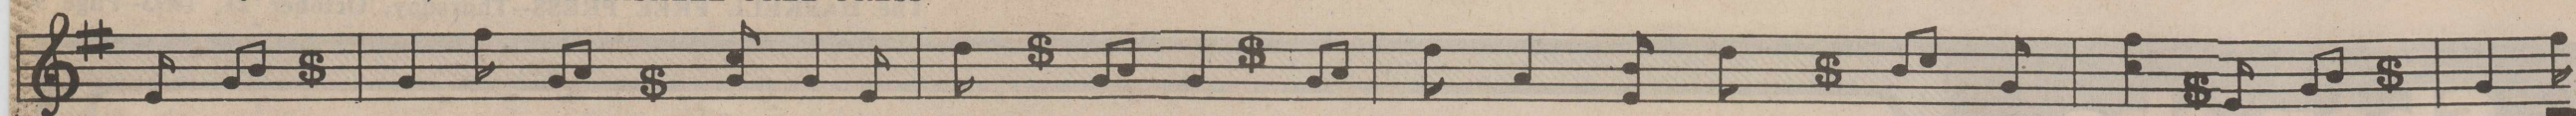

You can purchase most bonds through a broker, and you can also buy newly issued Treasury bonds directly from the Federal Reserve bank.

Another option is to buy bonds through an investment in a mutual fund that invests in bonds. With a bond fund, you get broader diversification and smaller investment minimums. However, your principal isn't guaranteed at maturity as with individual bonds. The funds are constantly buying and selling bonds, and you get the value of the shares you own when you sell.
