Indians close season at Stamford Friday

Get big victory over Hamlin

Touchdown

Robert Huff crosses the goal line for the first touchdown Friday night after hauling in a pass from Mart Guess. The Indians defeated Hamlin by a score of 14-12, handing the Pled Pipers their first loss of the season.

Riding high on the heels of last week's 14-12 upset of Hamlin, the Haskell Indians travel to Stamford Friday night to close out their 1993 football season.

Neither team remains in the running for the playoffs, but there's plenty of incentive on each side in this long-standing rivalry.

The Indians need a victory to assure themselves of a winning season. After nine games, they stand 4-3-2.

Stamford, which won its first five games before dropping three in a row, stands 6-3, following last week's 54-0 rampage against Hawley. And the Bulldogs still remember Haskell's 34-27 win over them last year.

Leading the Bulldogs is Chris Gardner, one of the top backs in the area. As a junior last year, Gardner rushed for 1,271 yards and scored 15 touchdowns on his way to all-district honors.

In nine games, the Bulldogs have scored 257 points, while the Indians have racked up 148. But on defense, the Indians have a big edge, yielding just 97 points, compared to Stamford's 131.

Haskell 14, Hamlin 12

Haskell isn't going to forget this game for a long time.

It'll probably be even longer before Hamlin forgets it.

When the final gun sounded at frigid Indian Stadium Friday night, the Indians had wrapped up a 14-12 verdict over the previously unbeaten Pled Pipers and had derailed, at least temporarily, Hamlin's rush to the district 7-2A championship.

The victory boosted the Indians' record to 4-3-2 (2-3-1 in district) and paved the way for Haskell to post a winning season if it can get by Stamford in the season finale this Friday.

Credit this smashing upset to a fired-up defense which kept the Pipers bottled up in their own end of the field during most of the contest, which was played in freezing weather and a stiff north wind.

Although Hamlin held a wide statistical edge, the statistics don't reflect the efforts of the Indian defense which didn't allow the Pled Pipers to cross their own 34-yard line until the Indians already held a 14-0 lead. Most of Hamlin's offense was gained during two long touchdown drives later in the game.

And it was the defense which scored one of the Indian touchdowns and the defense which set up the other.

Jonathan Tatum's two intercepted passes led to both Indian touchdowns within a 27-second span in the second quarter.

The first came when he stole a Hamlin pass at the Piper 25. Shortly thereafter, Mart Guess fired a 7-yard scoring pass to Robert Huff for the game's first score. A

Steers best Hornets; play Guthrie next

The Rochester Steers won their eighth consecutive game Friday night with a hard-earned 20-13 victory over the Aspermont Hornets.

The win clinched a playoff spot for the unbeaten Steers and set up a showdown this week with unbeaten Guthrie in Rochester for the district championship. The winner of that game will win the district, while the loser will make the playoffs as the district's second-place team.

Aspermont scored in the first minute of play when Rusty Newsom ran 54 yards for a touchdown. Midway through the first period, Mark Brown ran 40 yards for a Rochester touchdown to tie the score at 6-all. But Aspermont re-took the lead, 13-6, on Newsom's 37-yard scoring run and a pass for the extra point.

Brown gave Rochester its first lead, 14-13, at the 4:55 mark of the second period when he scooted 44 yards for a touchdown and then booted the two bonus points. The Steers then stopped Aspermont near the goal as the half ended.

Rochester completed the night's scoring in the third period on Brown's 8-yard TD run. But twice the Steers had to stop the Hornets inside their 20. On Aspermont's final drive, Shannon King intercepted a pass, after which the Steers were able to run out the clock.

Brown had 201 rushing yards to show for his 24 carries. Kyle Hollingsworth added 67 yards on 10 carries.

Defensive end Arnold Delacruz was a thorn in the side of the Hornets all night as he recorded eight tackles and recovered a fumble. Brown and King were the leading tacklers with 10 each.

16-yard pass from Guess to Casey Larned had put the ball in scoring position. Larned's extra point kick made it 7-0 with 8:10 to go in the second period.

Seconds later, Tatum picked off another Hamlin pass at midfield. This time he returned it for a touchdown and Larned again converted as Haskell went out front, 14-0.

Hamlin then launched a 22-play, 61-yard drive that ended with a touchdown when Woodard scored from the 1 with just 13 seconds left before halftime. The extra point attempt failed, leaving the score at 14-6.

In the third period, Hamlin drove 90 yards in 12 plays with Bruce Cooper getting the touchdown from a yard out at the 2:14 mark. Pearce ran the option in a try for a 2-point conversion, but Bucky Harvey knocked him out of bounds short of the goal line.

The Pied Pipers had one more shot late in the game, taking over at midfield after a high snap foiled a Haskell punting attempt.

With time running out, Pearce passed 14 yards to Coleman to the 36. On the next play, Jason Pearce found Roy Coleman in the end zone but the Piper receiver dropped the pass. After two more incompletions by Hamlin, the Indians were penalized 15 yards for pass interference, giving the Pipers a first down at the 20 with 22 seconds left. Pearce's pass from that point was tipped away by Larned with 16 seconds left. On second down, Derek Moore attempted a 37-yard field goal which was wide of its mark so the Indians took over and ran out the clock.

Hamlin got in a deep hole early in the game. After winning the toss, the Indians chose to take the wind and kicked off to the Pipers, who gained but 5 yards in their first possession before punting into the wind to the Haskell 48.

Haskell couldn't move on its first possession either, but Cody Cypert's 49-yard punt into the end zone gave the Pipers the ball at their 20. On second down, Bolden fumbled and Deon Walker recovered for the Indians at the 15. Two rushes gained exactly nothing for the Indians and then they were penalized 15 yards to the 30 from where a Guess pass fell incomplete. Larned then attempted a 47-yard field goal which was partially blocked.

Late in the first quarter, Cypert's 34-yard punt pinned Hamlin back to its 15. On first down from that point, Bolden fumbled and Martin Limones recovered. The Indians drove to the Hamlin 2, but when Justin Lisle tried to carry it over from there, the ball popped loose and flew into the end zone for a touchback.

Shortly after that, Tatum intercepted his first pass and the Indians were on their way.

Larned was the leading tackler for the Indians, being in on 15 tackles from his safety position, many of them at the line of scrimmage. Harvey and Brian Brzozowski had 13 tackles each and Ryan Olson was just one behind. Walker and Huff also were in double figures with 10 each, while Tatum had 9, and Limones and Keiland Riley had 8 each.

In addition to Tatum's two interceptions, Huff had a third Indian interception. Walker and Limones recovered Hamlin fumbles, caused by Harvey and Olson.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

IS IT TIME TO HAVE AN ESTATE PLANNING TALK WITH YOUR CHILDREN?

Personal finances is a topic many people feel more comfortable discussing with paid professionals than with their own family. However, some level of information should be shared with family members if you want to create a successful estate plan.

If you're a typical parent with grown children, you probably own your home and have some other investments. You may also have pension benefits, social security and medicare coverage. Barring prolonged medical expenses, your assets and income will probably outlast you. Perhaps you want to give your children some current financial assistance while ensuring your retirement needs.

One way to accomplish this is to discuss your estate plan with your children ahead of time. As a starting point, prepare a schedule of your assets, debts, insurance and typical annual income and expenses. Consider the possibilities for your future—both good and bad: a move to retirement housing, travel plans, catastrophic medical costs, and so on. You have needs and your children should know them.

Discuss your will from your children's perspective. Explain that a larger share for one child reflects that child's greater need for financial assistance. Perhaps he or she has not yet finished school. If you appoint one child to be the personal representative of your estate, point out the reason for your choice: that child's prior experience, geographic location, etc.

If you have a particularly large estate, your legal, financial and accounting advisors can assist you in explaining the rationale behind the various parts of your estate plan. Don't let them do all the explaining, though. It's still your plan—and your children.

Discussing personal finances is not easy for some people, but your discussion could reduce bitterness and misunderstanding later on, and it may well lead to some helpful ideas.

Finnell party

Kay Finnell, Attorney General Dan Morales, State Rep. Charles Finnell and House Speaker Pete Laney are shown at the Finnell Fish Fry in Holliday last week.

Hundreds attend Finnell fish fry

More than 350 supporters of State Rep. Charles Finnell crowded into the school cafeteria in Holliday last Thursday for the Finnell Fish Fry in support of his 1994 re-election bid.

The "standing room only" group of enthusiastic citizens heard Speaker of the Texas House Pete Laney commend Finnell's "hard work to represent his district and to make sure the voice of rural Texas is heard in the Legislature." He pointed out that while no representative has more standing committee assignments than Finnell, "Charles is one of only two representatives who maintained a 100-percent voting record again throughout the entire 140-day session."

Attorney General Dan Morales spoke next, emphasizing that "because of Finnell's help I can attack the problem of keeping dangerous criminals behind bars." Both Morales and Finnell have received the Texans' War on Drugs award for outstanding leadership.

Finnell was presented with plaques from the Horse Foundation for his efforts to deter livestock theft, the Texas Telephone Association for passing the fiberoptic technology bill for rural schools, and combined safety associations for his rail-crossing safety act.

Finnell said he would continue his fight to eliminate unfunded state mandates to local governments, adding that "the 1995 session will be vital to rural Texas. The opportunity for meaningful public service is greater today than ever before."

Veterans Day

Editor: Throughout the nation on Nov. 11, there will be parades, patriotic ceremonies and memorial services honoring all America's veterans, both living and dead. These are tributes to the brave men and women who served our nation with honor when the "call to arms" was sounded on behalf of freedom's cause.

I hope your readers will pause on Veterans Day to salute the gallantry of those who for more than 200 years have left their jobs, their schools and their families to risk disability and death in defense of America's freedoms.

I ask you to join me in thanking a veteran: whether it's your Dad or Mother, a grandparent or a brother or sister, thank them for serving America with distinction, and thank them for the freedom we all enjoy today.

Haskell voters registered an almost 2-1 vote to keep this city dry in the election held last Friday on the question of legalizing the sale of 3.2 beer. The vote was 181 against and 91 for.

Two automobiles, one belonging to Viars Felker and the other to a Munday man, were stolen Sunday night while parked in front of a local church.

The county agent's office has received $7,900 in checks for distribution to the 150 committeemen who served during the cotton plow-up campaign.

Action was started Monday by the Haskell County Relief Administration at the request of the national government, to place every unemployed man in the county to work as quickly as possible. The men will be paid $2.40 per day and will work four days a week.

--Letters to the Editor--

Editor: On Monday, Oct. 25, I was rudely startled by the piercing sound of our smoke detector. When I opened the bedroom door, the hall and the rest of my house was filled with thick smoke. My immediate reaction was absolute panic, but the Lord activated my quivering brain and I dialed 911.

The miracle of the day started in earnest then. The firemen, who were all going about their daily business, managed to put their lives on hold, don the fire apparel we are all familiar with and get to my house in less than three minutes.

I stood on my porch with my bag of pictures I had taken off the wall as I came down the hall. I watched in amazement as these guys took care of the fire, the smoke and me. They got out the fire hose and with the efficiency of professionals the fire was out very quickly.

When I walked back inside to see the damage there were precious firemen everywhere. They were checking to make sure the fire was completely out, they were opening windows, they had deodorizer stuff to neutralize the smoke and they were mopping the floor and cleaning the bathroom where the fire had started.

I don't know what to say to these men or how to repay such concern and help that went beyond what was necessary. Our firemen are special. We are all so very fortunate to live in a community with dedicated, loyal, concerned people.

Firemen, thank you. You were all our miracle of that day.

Stenholm unveils plan for additional budget cuts

Congressman Charles Stenholm has joined with over 30 members of the U.S. House of Representatives in unveiling the details of a bipartisan plan to cut $100 billion in federal spending over the next five years.

Democratic and Republican members revealed the details of a bipartisan proposal which will be offered as a floor amendment to the President's budget rescission package which is expected to be considered by the full House in about two weeks.

Stenholm, as an agriculture subcommittee chairman and co-chairman of the Rural Health Care Coalition served as chair of the Agriculture/Health Care Task Force that developed 40 percent of the proposal's budget savings.

"The plan we presented includes $24 billion in discretionary savings, $50 billion in mandatory savings, and $27 billion in personnel savings," said Stenholm. "Most importantly, it guarantees that all of the cuts go to deficit reduction, rather than being spent elsewhere."

Among the more than 80 proposals for cutting federal spending are the following:

- cutting the federal workforce by 252,000,
- reducing congressional "franking" or mailing privileges by 20 percent,
- cutting White House funding,
- streamlining USDA and HUD field offices,

- reducing foreign aid,
- reducing funding for the NEA and Humanities, and
- eliminating unnecessary boards and commissions.

"The savings we propose are reasonable and necessary if we are to escape the ever-rising debt escalator which continues to carry our children farther and farther away from economic stability and prosperity," said Stenholm.

"The $4 trillion debt which we have accumulated to this point places a $16,000 burden on the back of every child, woman and man in America, and it's time for Congress to start relieving that burden rather than continuing to add yet more to it," added Stenholm.

Catches pass

Chris Silvas prepares to catch a pass against Hamlin Friday night in the Indians' 14-12 upset victory.

Sidelines

Although Hamlin outgained the Indians, 259 yards to 104, the stats are somewhat misleading. The Pied Pipers got 151 of those yards on two long scoring drives.

Haskell came a lot closer to scoring another touchdown than Hamlin did. The Indians lost a fumble in the Hamlin end zone in the first period.

If Hamlin beats Anson Friday, as is likely, and Winters beats Jim Ned, not so likely, the Indians can lay claim to an unusual distinction.

They will have beaten the district 7-2A champion and tied the runnerup.

Coach Walter Hargrove predicted way back yonder that no team would get through district play undefeated.

But it's doubtful he foresaw the scenario which developed.

If you think Mark Brown's seven touchdowns against Jayton last week was the week's top effort by a 6-man player, you'd better think again.

The AP reported that Toby Northcutt of McLean scored 10 touchdowns and ran for 468 yards as his team beat Follett, 102-69. Even at that, he was only the game's second leading scorer. Follett's Mark Howard rushed for 280 yards, but scored 11 touchdowns, two on kickoff returns.

If Paint Creek gets another crack at Rochester in the first playoff round, the Steers will have to lose to Guthrie this Friday.

In that event, Rochester would be the runnerup in district 9 and would meet the Pirates, champion of district 10. Should Rochester win, Paint Creek's first-round foe will be Guthrie.

The Indians can wind up with a winning record if they beat Stamford this Friday. A victory would give them a 5-3-2 record. If a tie is counted as a half win and a half loss, that would translate into 6 wins and 4 losses, the same record they posted last year.

Stickers to reduce thefts

Introducing the latest in anti-theft devices from Texas:

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) is issuing a new vehicle registration sticker---for placement inside windshields instead of outside on license plates. The program begins with registrations expiring in January.

The sticker is larger and of a different design. Its main purpose is to deter theft---bringing up another important feature.

If the sticker is peeled off the windshield, the word "VOID" appears on it, making it a useless scrap of paper. It's not even worth stealing.

Last year, 568,885 replacement plates and stickers were issued. TxDOT estimates that 60 percent of replacement stickers issued were due to theft. At $5.30 per replacement, replacing the stickers cost the public $1.8 million and a lot of time and aggravation.

"When word gets out that these stickers are useless when peeled off the glass, incidence of stolen stickers will drop quickly, as will the cost of replacing stolen stickers," said Jerry Dike, director of TxDOT's Division of Motor Vehicle Titles and Registration. "But the savings won't stop there. If all stolen stickers were used on vehicles that would otherwise be legally registered, state and county revenue losses could exceed $17 million. Recouping these losses could mean savings passed on for use on other projects."

The 72nd Texas Legislature passed a law in 1991 mandating the sticker change to lower vehicle registration theft.

Boston Latin School, the first public school in what is now the United States, was founded in Massachusetts in 1635.

Society meets in Knox City

The Beta Chi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met Oct. 3 at the First Baptist Church in Knox City.

President June Biffle called the meeting to order and Dorothy Myers gave the invocation.

Leslie Kupatt introduced the speaker, Larry Barnes, loan officer at Abilene Teachers Federal Credit Union, who spoke on financial planning.

He said people need to plan as though they are going to live forever, and he gave tips on methods of investing money.

Diversification in investments should be a rule of thumb, he said, and time should be allowed for the investment to grow.

He discussed CDs, mutual funds, stocks, bonds, annuity income and life insurance as avenues to invest and save, and advised to invest only with money one can afford to lose. He pointed out that liquidation, safety and return are things that balance out an investment.

Mr. Barnes ended by advising the investor to think ahead five years and plan for that time, and get a financial advisor to help with this kind of planning.

Leslie Kupatt presented Mr. Barnes with a token of appreciation.

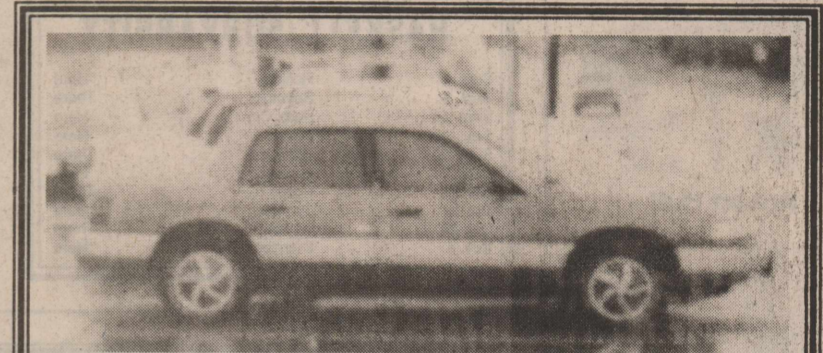

A business meeting followed the program. Elizabeth Acree presented the Red Rose Salute to Leslie Kupatt for her service. Members sang the "Delta Kappa Gamma" song, accompanied by Ellen Rieger, and the meeting was adjourned by June Biffle.

Refreshments were served by hostesses from Knox City, Truscott and Benjamin.

The official grazing and haying period opened Nov. 1 for acreage conservation reserve (ACR), or land designated as conserving use (CU) for payment under the 1993 acreage reduction programs.

"Farm program participants will be authorized to hay or graze their ACR and CU acreage," said Glenn R. Brzozowski of the Haskell County ASCS office.

Farmers are not permitted to graze ACR or CU for payment land during the five-month non-grazing period set by the State ASC committee. The non-grazing period in Haskell County runs from June 1 to Oct. 31.

The 1993 farm program enrollment report showed that almost 100,000 acres of Haskell County cropland was diverted from production to ACR or CU for payment. "This acreage has since been planted to cover crops such as grasses, legumes, small grains or put into approved conservation practices," Brzozowski said.

Now that the prohibited grazing and haying period will be passing, Brzozowski cautions farmers against overgrazing the acreage so as to maintain sufficient cover to prevent wind and water erosion.

The ASCS official said producers must comply with grazing and conservation regulations as stipulated in the program contract to maintain farm program benefits. Those who fail to do so will be out of compliance and could lose payments and other program benefits.

Experience — We consider it money in the bank.

A face lined by dry, hot summer days, harsh winter, and seven-day work weeks. But there is sparkle, too, remembering warm spring sun or gentle rains and acres of cotton.

Back when he started farming, a man's labor represented the majority of his investment in the farm. Over the years, when he's had to invest in land and equipment, he's turned to his Land Bank Association for competitive, long-term financing. At the Land Bank we not only place value on a man's farm, but his experience, too.

Owens couple celebrates 50th

A reception, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Owens on their 50th wedding anniversary, was held Oct. 24 at Haskell National Bank's community room.

Hosting the affair were the couple's son, Bassett Owens of Dallas, and their daughter and son-in-law, Beverly and Frankie SoRelle, and granddaughters, Emily and Sarah SoRelle of Lubbock.

Greeting guests in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Owens, daughter, Beverly SoRelle, and son, Bassett Owens.

Sarah SoRelle registered guests in the anniversary book on a round table covered with a white satin floor length cloth. The table held a solid brass vase of yellow roses, baby's breath and greenery, a gold framed anniversary announcement and a solid brass tray holding "thank you" notes.

Mrs. Owens' table was covered with an ivory cloth and centered with bronze mums and yellow roses in a brass urn. The three-tiered strawberry wedding cake was decorated with varied sizes of fresh flowers. Fruit punch was served from a solid brass punch bowl. Napkins with gold wedding bells had "Jimmy & Helen--1943-1993" engraved in the corner. Serving at Mrs. Owens' table were Doris Reeves Jordan, Betty Little, Mrs. Owens' sister, and Emily SoRelle, granddaughters.

Mr. Owens' table was covered in brown with a burlap overlay and held a large chocolate cake. The centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow spider lilies and open cotton boles. Coffee was served from a brass samovar. Brass and silver appointments held nuts, cream and sugar. Serving were Sara Hodgkin and Bonnie Jircik.

Memorabilia of the couple's life together was displayed on a white lace covered table. An easel held family pictures.

Ladies of the house party wore corsages of yellow roses, the men wore yellow boutonnières.

The couple met in Denison and were married Oct. 23, 1943, in Durant, Okla. Dorothy Matthews and Ernest Barnett (now Mr. and Mrs. Barnett) were their attendants. They were from Pampa to help celebrate.

Some 175 guests registered during the afternoon.
