84 years at same location

Martin Luther King's birthday wasn't the only birthday celebrated in Haskell County Monday.

Clarence Stegemoeller of Sagerton blew out 84 candles on his cake, at the same place where he was born in 1910.

In fact, the retired Sagerton farmer has lived his entire life on the same farm. The farm, two miles southwest of Sagerton, was bought by his father, F. W. Stegemoeller, from William Sager, founder of the town, in 1908, just two years after the Haskell County community was founded with the coming of the railroad.

The elder Stegemoeller moved to Sagerton with his wife and five children from Washington on the Brazos. Clarence Stegemoeller, born two years later, is the only one of the family still left.

He bought the family farm in 1948. It is now operated by his son, Leon Stegemoeller, and Leon's son, Clayton.

He also has another son, Marvin Stegemoeller of Rochester, along with nine grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Big night

Mart Guess lets loose one of his patented 3-pointers against Hamlin Friday night. The Indian sharpshooter scored 33 points as the Indians blasted the Pied Pipers, 102-61.

Stamford derails Indian title bid

Haskell's bid for the first-half championship of district 7-2A suffered a severe setback Tuesday night when the Indians lost to the Stamford Bulldogs, 67-60.

The Indians entered the game with a perfect 5-0 district record and Stamford was 4-1, leaving each team with a 5-1 mark with one game to go in the first round of district play.

Haskell led 27-23 at halftime, but the red-hot Bulldogs outscored the Indians 25-11 in the third period to build a 10-point cushion. The Indians reduced the margin to 7 points in the final quarter.

Brian Brzozowski scored 28 points for the Indians and Mart Guess added 13.

Haskell will close out the first half of district play here Friday when they host the Anson Tigers.

The Haskell Maidens also went down to defeat at Stamford, 49-42, to finish the first half of their district season with a 4-3 mark.

The game was tied 24-24 at halftime. Stamford led 35-33 going into the final period, and then outscored the Maidens 14-9 in the final frame.

Leading scorers for the Maidens were Veronica Gonzales with 13 points, Betsy McDermott with 12 and Teresa Diaz with 9.

The Maidens will host Anson Friday as they begin the second half of 7-2A play.

Indians rack up two district wins

The Haskell Indians went on a rampage Friday night as they handed the Hamlin Pied Pipers a 102-61 spanking for their fifth consecutive district 7-2A triumph.

Mart Guess scored 33 points, including 24 from 3-point range, to lead the Indians to the one-sided victory.

Guess was only one of five Indian performers who scored in double figures. Brian Brzozowski and Cody Cooley each had 19 points, Jonathan Tatum scored 12 and Robert Huff pitched in 10.

The Indians took an 18-6 first-period lead and then scored 31 points in the second quarter to take a 49-24 halftime cushion. They outscored the Pipers 23-18 in the third quarter and 28-19 in the final period.

The Indians won their fourth

Maidens split pair in district

Haskell's Maidens defeated Hamlin 45-26 here Friday night to boost their district 7-2A record to 4-2.

The Maidens outscored the Lady Pied Pipers in every quarter.

Veronica Gonzales led the scoring with 10 points. Charissa Huff scored 9 and Heather Hobgood and Teresa Diaz had 8 each.

At Jim Ned last Tuesday, the Maidens lost, 61-41 to the unbeaten and state-ranked Jim Ned girls who chalked up their 20th victory in a row.

Diaz scored 18 points to lead all scorers.

Guess sets record for 3-pointers

Mart Guess carved his name in the Haskell Indian record book Friday night when he connected on eight 3-pointers to bring his season total to an even 100.

His 100 3-pointers eclipsed the record held by Harper Stewart.

Guess has fired 242 times from 3-point range in the Indians' first 21 games, giving him a connection rate of just over 41 percent. He has connected on 50 percent in district games.

City tax rebate drops sharply from year ago

The City of Haskell's sales tax rebate this month was down sharply from the rebate received in January of last year.

The City's check last week was in the amount of $13,441.95, or 11.89 percent below last January's check for $15,241.95.

This month's rebate included the city's share of sales taxes collected on November sales and reported to the State Comptroller in December.

Only other Haskell County city receiving a check this month was Rule, which experienced even a greater drop, percentage-wise. Rule's rebate was in the amount of $1,115.87, compared to $1,548.14 last year, a decrease of 27.91 percent.

Rochester, which got $885.89 in January of last year, did not get a check this month. Also drawing blanks were Rochester, O'Brien and Weinert, none of which received rebates last January either.

Haskell's rebate is based on the city's 1.5-percent sales tax rate. The other Haskell County cities have a 1-percent rate.

Stamford experienced a nearly 50-percent gain in its rebate over last year. The city there received a rebate check for $35,036.45, compared to $23,609.23 in January 1993. Stamford has a 2-percent city tax rate.

Hamlin's rebate this month was almost identical to last January's, $7,755.52 this year compared to $7,889.92 last year, a decrease of 1.7 percent. Anson's suffered a more profound decrease, getting $6,281.61 this year, 14.63 percent less than last year when it got $7,358.50. Hamlin and Anson have 1.5-percent city tax rates.

Knox City experienced an 18.03-percent increase this January, getting $7,106.31, compared to $6,020.37 last January. Knox City's rebate took an 8.88-percent dip, going from $4,780.44 last year to $4,355.74 this year. Knox City has a 1-percent city tax rate, while Munday's rate is 1.5 percent.

All-State Will Duniven of Paint Creek and his coach, Jeff Williamson

Paint Creek gridder named to all-state

Paint Creek's Will Duniven was chosen as a defensive end on the all-state 6-man football team announced last week.

It was just the latest honor for the 6-1, 180-pound Paint Creek senior. He also won all-district honors and was named to the Abilene Reporter-News' All-Big Country 6-man team.

Duniven was the defensive leader on the Pirate team which posted a 7-4 record and captured its first district championship since 1967.

He was credited with 119 tackles, nine sacks and four fumble recoveries in eight games. He missed three games and part of another due to injuries. His value to the team was underscored by the fact that those were the four games Paint Creek lost.

Duniven played two years for the Pirates, after transferring from Haskell where he was on the Indian varsity two years.

An all-around athlete, Duniven also was a running back offense. He is a member of the Paint Creek basketball and track teams.

Duniven hopes to play college football. He is undecided where he will attend college, but is leaning toward Midwestern and Sul Ross State. "I think he has a future in college football," said his high school coach, Jeff Williamson.

He is the son of Roger and Maureen Duniven.

Money grabber

Maggie Brzozowski grabbed $27 in the Student Council "Money Grab" fund-raiser during halftime of the Haskell-Hamlin game Friday. She was allowed 35 seconds to grab as much of the $100 scattered on the gym floor as she could.

Paint Creek gets computer program

Students at Paint Creek High School will learn how to make money-related decisions, thanks to a new financial education computer program donated by Bank of America Texas.

The multimedia program, "Choices & Decisions: Taking Charge of Your Life," uses computer software and laser disc technology in an interactive video to each young people financial planning, budgeting and decision-making.

"Today more than ever before, it is imperative that students learn to make the best financial decisions possible," said David J. Berry, president of Bank of America Texas. "The 'Choices and Decisions' program provides students with an innovative way to learn the responsible use of credit and practical money skills."

Included in each of the video presentations are 12 lesson plans covering subjects such as raking financial decisions, making money, creating a budget, living independently, banking services, credit cards, loans and what to do when in financial trouble.

Students act as financial advisors to help on-screen characters achieve personal and financial goals. Throughout the course, students practice important math skills by keeping track of the money they spend on budget worksheets.

The program exposes students to financial tools such as credit and debit cards, and explains how interest on credit purchases is calculated. At the end of the exercise, the compute projects students' decisions into the future to determine if their advice proved effective.

Bank of America has committed a $100,000 bank grant to purchase the "Choices & Decisions" programs, which will be donated during the 1993-94 school year to schools throughout the 10 Western states where BofA has retail operations. The kit donated to Paint Creek High School is one of 170 that will be donated to high schools in Texas.

"Choices & Decisions" was developed by Visa, USA, in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs and the National Consumers League and produced by Lucas Arts Entertainment Company.

Brown grandson named to High School All-America

Ross Brown of Canyon del Oro High School in Tucson, Arizona, has been named to the 1994 pre-season High School All-America team by Collegiate Baseball magazine.

The team is selected by high school coaches nationwide and is sponsored by Mizuno USA, a major baseball equipment manufacturer.

Ross was the only player from Arizona to be named to the first team.

During his junior year, Brown became highly visible in Arizona baseball. He was named All-City 4A-5A first team, All-Southern Division 5A first team and All-State 5A first team. His teammates voted him Most Valuable Player of their baseball team that advanced to the state semifinals.

During his junior year, Ross batted .430 and set school records by stealing 32 bases in 33 attempts and scored 55 runs, besting the previous school record by 18 runs.

Last summer, Brown attended the Team One Camp in Cincinnati, Ohio, where the top 64 high school prospects are annually invited to show their ware before collegiate scouts and pro cross-checkers. Ross stood out with his quickness (4.5 40-yard dash) and his ability to hit from the left side.

As a result of his high school and Team One performances, Brown became one of the most sought after high school prospects in the nation. He visited Clemson, Kansas and Baylor on recruiting missions while Texas A&M and Notre Dame also expressed interest in his talents. He opted to stay close to home by signing a national letter of intent on Nov. 10 with the University of Arizona.

"He may be the best player I've ever coached," said Phil Wright, head baseball coach at CDO High School. "If there is a better leadoff hitter in the country, I'd like to see him."

Ross said his decision to sign with Arizona "was very difficult." "I had always wanted to return to Texas and play baseball for Baylor where my dad graduated," he said. "Arizona, however, offered a program and facilities that are top notch. Their coach, Jerry Kindall, was also a factor. He is a legend in Arizona baseball."

Ross Brown

Ross' older brother, Jeff, who worked with him through the years on hitting and fielding, was happy with Ross' decision. Jeff is a senior at the University of Arizona and is on the baseball coaching staff at Salpointe High School in Tucson this year.

Ross has not limited his athletic interests to baseball during his high school years. As a junior, he was named to the 5A All-Southern Conference football second team and just days ago named to the 5A All-Southern Conference football first team as a defensive back for Tucson's Canyon del Oro High School Dorados.

Ross and Jeff Brown are the sons of James and Wanda (Nixon) Brown of Tucson, and the grandsons of Fred D. and Dorothy Brown of Haskell.

OSTEOPOROSIS - Loss of bone mass due to osteoporosis produces characteristic changes in the curvature of the spine.

Bone Appetit!

Osteoporosis, literally means porous bone hurts. Familiar symptoms are the "dowager's hump" and other spinal deformities, back pain, easily fractured bones and the shrinking grandmother syndrome (loss of height).

This deterioration of bone tissue begins in the early adult years and women - especially post-menopausal women - are more susceptible than men.

Female bones are less dense to begin with. Everyone's bones weaken during the aging process, but when middle-aged and older women stop producing the hormone estrogen, their bodies' ability to use calcium efficiently declines.

Lack of calcium and protein in the blood supply prompts the borrowing of calcium from bones. Patients with advanced osteoporosis experience extreme pain they attempt weight bearing and are in constant danger of new fractures. Diagnosis is delayed since 50 percent of the calcium must be lost before the loss is revealed by X-rays.

OUTREACH HEALTH SERVICES

"We Know You Have A Choice..."

Treatment for osteoporosis stresses mechanical stimulation by keeping the patient active. Exercises to improve the musculature are prescribed.

To reduce the risk of osteoporosis, include calcium rich foods in every meal. Learn the list. It includes milk, yogurt, oysters, spinach and broccoli. Try to take in 800-1400 milligrams per day of calcium. Start now!

A very effective treatment for osteoporosis and its pain management is daily subcutaneous calcium injections. If someone you know suffers from osteoporosis with fracture, you will be happy to know you may be eligible for this treatment in your home.

OUTREACH Health Services will be happy to answer any questions you may have in this regard.

---Social Security---

By M. Glyn Hammons
District Manager

Social Security beneficiaries will receive statements in the mail in January showing the benefits they received in 1993. This statement should be used to determine if any benefits are subject to federal income tax.

To ensure you receive the statement, make sure Social Security has your correct address. This is especially important for individuals who receive their benefits by direct deposit.

Most of those who receive the statement--Form SSA 1099--will not have to pay taxes on their Social Security benefits because their total income is less than the taxable ceiling. If you receive Social Security benefits as your only source of income, you are unlikely to owe federal taxes on the benefits.

An Internal Revenue Service (IRS) worksheet--IRS Notice 703--comes with the benefit statement. The worksheet shows you how to determine if your Social Security benefits are subject to tax. If, after completing the worksheet, you have questions about your tax liability, you should call the IRS toll-free number, 1-800-829-1040 and ask for Publication 915, which contains tax information about Social Security benefits.

Beneficiaries who file an individual tax return may owe taxes on some of their benefits if their combined income exceeds $25,000. Married couples who file joint tax returns may have to pay taxes on some of their benefits if their combined income exceeds $32,000. Married couples who live together but file separate tax returns probably will pay taxes on part of their benefits.

For income tax purposes, combined income is defined as the sum of an individual's (or couple's) adjusted gross income, plus one-half of nontaxable interest plus one-half of all Social Security benefits received for the year.

---Green Thumb---

By Gladys O'Neal
Haskell Garden Club
Friends, I want to wish you, my readers, a happy new year.
In Ode on a Grecian Urn, John Keats wrote: "Heard melodies are sweet, but those unheard are sweetest."

That to me is the essence of a January garden. Hidden beneath the crusty earth, wiry roots of spring blooming plants are growing strongly under a blanket of brown leaves.

I have learned there is a season to everything. It will soon be time to plant in a new year.

You can grow more cucumbers per foot when you train vines vertically. Four-foot high cages supported by three or four stakes, with one side open, work beautifully. Up to six cucumber plants can be grown in an 18-inch diameter cage. Grown in standard rows the plants would sprawl over 15 square feet.

I read this and wanted to pass it on to you. Also, if you'll plant them on the 100th day of the year, I'm told they will bear better.

For growing peppers, mulch well but don't over-fertilize. Water around but not directly on the plants. Always cut the stems instead of pulling fruits.

For this month, spread sheep or barnyard manure over any bed not already spaded. Add a sprinkling of superphosphate. Fork the bed deeply and leave to settle and absorb moisture. Also, put in the first planting of gladiolus corms.

If you're going to plant roses, dig the holes 18 to 20 inches deep; put your seeds of annuals and vegetable in flats this month. Apply dormant spray.

Houseplants too close to windows can be damaged by cold. You may need to move them back a foot or two.

On a warm weekend, till the garden to uncover insects overwintering in the soil. The cold will eliminate them.

Fertilize bulbs and spring-blooming annual flowers with a high-phosphorus fertilizer. Avoid using high-nitrogen fertilizers on plants now.

Potash, phosphorus and nitrogen are the three important elements of fertilizers. Potash helps develop seeds and flowers. Phosphorus is needed for healthy roots and nitrogen is required for developing stems and leaves. African violets require special fertilizers for best growth. Ask your florist or seed man about these.

For your seeds for flowers and vegetables, now is the time to order. Choice of the popular selections will be sold out. Be sure they are adapted to our area. If in doubt, check with the county extension agent.

If you are going to plant daffodils, start with early blooming selections, February or March. To plant, turn the soil to a depth of 10 inches, mixing in 3 to 4 inches of organic matter. Plant bulbs 7 inches deep from ground level to the base of the bulb and space them 6 inches apart. Cover and water well. Keep the new growth mulched until all danger of frost is over.

To kill insects that are on your winter plants, spray evergreen and deciduous shrubs and trees with a dormant oil spray. These oils suffocate the insects which breathe through their skins. It will kill aphids, lace bugs, mealybugs, mites, scales and whiteflies. Allison's Feed Store has a dormant oil spray at different prices. The brand name is "How to Open."

To brighten your house these cold bleak days, take your favorite stoneware bowl and fill it with green and red apples (real or fake). Simmer some cinnamon sticks on the stove for a nice fragrance in your house.

My wisteria vine is nine years old and never bloomed. I have this hint to pass to myself and to you, readers. Dig a shallow trench, 2 or 3 feet away from the trunk, and all the way around it. With a shovel or spade, stab deeply into the trench at 1-foot intervals to sever some of the plant's roots.

Then mix a cupful of superphosphate to every bucket of soil you removed from the trench. Replace the soil in the trench, spreading it evenly around the wisteria. It will probably bloom the following year.
Good luck!

Thanks firemen

Editor: Please allow me to use your paper to publicly thank the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department for being on the scene so promptly, and expertly, to extinguish the grass fires on my property northeast of Haskell on Saturday night.

I would also like to thank David and Janette Frierson for so quickly and alertly assessing the dangerous situation, and notifying the fire department. The response was immediate, and soon the potentially disastrous fire was under control.

It is very assuring to know that our city has such dedicated and skillful firefighters, and that they do make house calls, as well as rural calls.

I would hope that careless hunters, and ordinary country road travelers, could become more concerned about the danger, and potential for great destruction, to grass land, buildings and livestock, before thoughtlessly throwing lighted cigarettes and burning matches into very flammable bar ditches and dry weed and grass infested areas.

Thanks again to the Haskell firemen. I appreciate your efforts very much, and know that without you being there, the loss would have been much greater, and the fires would have spread over a much wider area.
Pauline Couch

From firemen

Editor: The members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department would like to thank everyone who came by and supported the "Firemen's Night" at the Hatahoe Drive-In Monday. This was the second year for the event and it was a big success.

Also a big thank you goes to Doug Browning for allowing the fire department to take over his business for the purpose of raising money for a good cause.

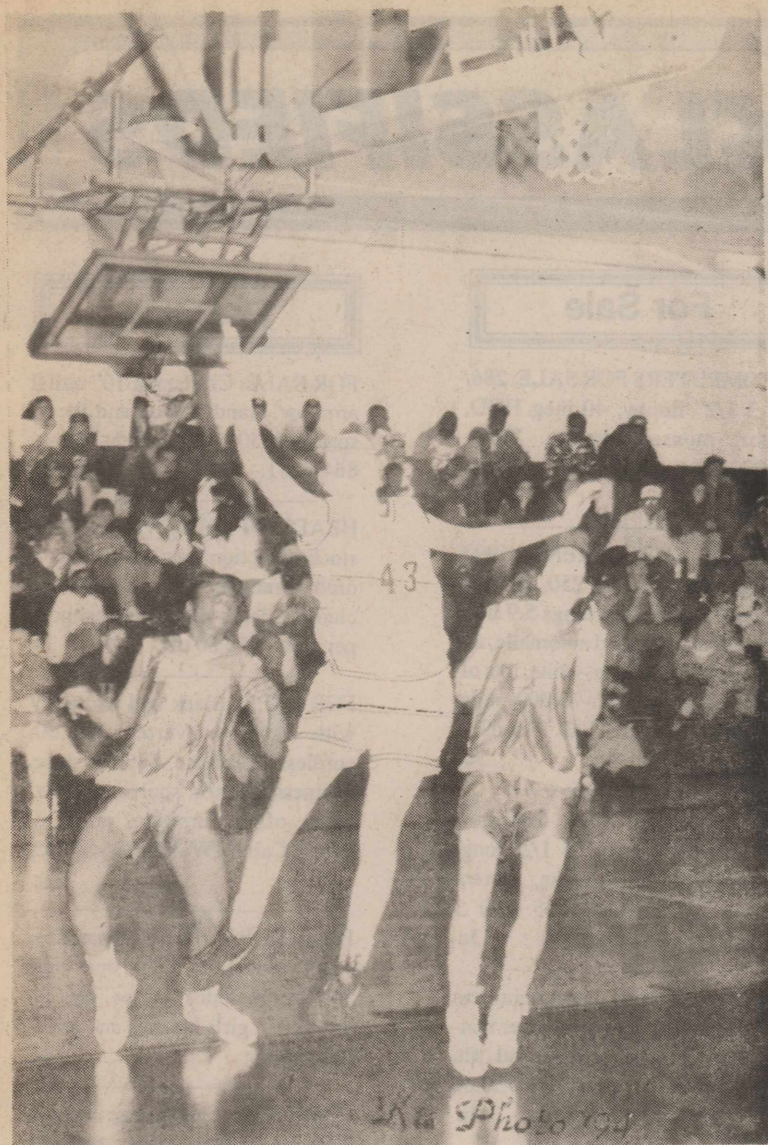

Just a reminder: Be very careful with outdoor fires. The grass is very dry and with the strong winds we have had, fire spreads very quickly.

Be careful. Be smart. Be safe.
Haskell Volunteer Fire Department

Thanks

Editor: Many thanks to those of you who helped make a more joyous Christmas for the residents at Haskell Nursing Center.

May you enjoy the new year.

view art displays

The Progressive Study Club met Jan. 13 in the community room.

Prior to the call to order by President Oleta Cornelius, Secretary Ruby Turner had passed out a summary of the minutes for the last four meetings. Also, members were very busy displaying various types of art on tables and chairs.

Vice President Nancy Toliver, program chairman, had encouraged everyone to participate which meant that there was an extremely wide range of art, such as quilts, dolls, paintings, Christmas stockings and other decorations, and wall hangings.

As Dr. Louise M. Alton, art department chairman of TFWC wrote, "Everyone should be encouraged to participate. The arts are educational and should be exciting, interesting and fun for all, because each facet demands something of our mind, heart and creative instincts."

The "listeners" and "lookers" were having so much fun that President Cornelius had to ring a bell to begin the program.

Director Doris Reeves Jordan began the program by leading members in the pledge to the American and Texas flags. Donna Cole and Mary Martin led the singing of "Texas, Our Texas." The minutes were approved as presented.

Chairman Sammie Turner presented the slate of officers for 1994-95:

Other members of the nominating committee were Jane Coston, Jerrene Couch, Mary Holden and Ruby Holt. There were no nominations from the floor.

The president appointed Anita Herren, federation counselor, Ruby Holt, parliamentarian, and Mary Kaigler, reporter.

The new nominating committee, Nelda Lane, Margie Huss, Robbie McLelland, Donna Cole and Eva Dunnam, was elected.

Jerrene Couch read the constitution and by-laws. Honorary life membership was bestowed on Robbie Pitman who has been a very faithful member for many years but now is unable to attend. Ruby Holt became a life member, which means that she has been a member continuously for 15 years and has served as an elected officer.

Secretary Ruby Turner read a letter from Bob and Lowell Ann Baker thanking the club for providing a scholarship for Erika Kilgore, who is now enrolled at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Evelyn Cobb began her presentation of tax tips by showing a picture of a nude man standing inside a barrel. She gave tax facts for retirees, good news for lower income and single people, as well as middle class persons. Written statements for contributions will be necessary. There is an aim to reduce paper work.

Judi Ray presented tips on physical fitness. She stressed wellness, positive attitude, the four basic food groups when dieting, exercises suitable for age, and setting realistic goals, plus seven signs to combat cancer.

Nelda Lane gave instructions on preparing club reports to be sent to the district chairman.

Members became "lookers" prior to the refreshment period. Old-fashioned tea cakes, nuts and coffee were served by hostesses Mary Martin, Gladys O'Neal, Robbie Pitman and Helen Fouts.

Members had been reminded of the past, the best of today, and tomorrow as a challenge and a reward.

Stamford

Recycled Scrap Tire Manufacturing Co. (RST) has announced that it will open a plant in Stamford this summer and employ 150 people.

The company estimates it will have a payroll of $3.5 million and will add $200,000 to the local tax base.

The company will begin operations in the old Lawrence Brothers Grocery building at 212 E. McHarg.

Jobs to be filled will pay between $6 and $10 per hour, depending on skills required. The company will begin taking applications at locations in Stamford and Haskell in mid-March.

Job categories will include lab technicians, mold and press workers, line workers, fork lift and loader operators, yard workers and administrative personnel.

RST officials, who announced the selection of Stamford as the site for the plant at a public meeting Jan. 1, did not specify the product which will be manufactured due to what they termed "patent regulations."

The manufactured product will, however, be made from recycled materials from the tire recycling plant in Stamford.

13 attend meet
of art club

Ten members and three guests were present at the Brazos West Art Association meeting Jan. 10.

Iva Lee Gipson, president, called the meeting to order and Peggy Middlebrook read the minutes of the last meeting.

Gladys O'Neal presented an informative and interesting program on painting with egg tempera. She handed out sheets of instructions to everyone.

Bobbie Harrison, who will have the Feb. 14 program, asked each member to bring something glass as a model to paint from. She will be demonstrating how to achieve the look of glass, using pastel or watercolor.

Hostesses Fern Livengood, Peggy Middlebrook and Doris Jordan served cake, cookies and nuts with coffee and hot cider punch.

--Rule--

by Vicky Anderson
While eating out, and later while shopping, we enjoyed seeing Dora and Ralph Torres of Rule as well as Vance Saffel, and then Mr. Callen at a distance. On Friday night we saw A. B. Arnett, who is the former mayor of Rule, James and Marilyn Martin of Old Glory and Doris Teichelman.

If you have not read "Green Thumb" in the Haskell Free Press, then you are missing a most informative column. The author is Gladys O'Neal a member of the Haskell Garden Club. We appreciated her information about planting tulips recently. Also, about the use of wood ash on them.

While in Rule on business recently, it was good to visit with our former landlord Raymond Woodridge, also with Ennis Webb, James Moore, June and Leon Biffle. I believe the Biffles were on their way to the dialysis center. Also, visited with Loudell and Cathy Casey. Later, it was good to see the ladies and gentlemen at the Farmers National Bank.

Belated birthday greetings are sent to Paula Wilcox, Pat Gray, Tommy Massey. On the 13th a happy birthday is wished for Cory Robinson, on the 14th Darwin Rorie and Billie Sweek, on the 15th to Jake Holub, on the 16th to Phyllis Davis, on the 17th to

week of January 6
It was nice to see Marcia Simpson and Mrs. James Moore of Rule recently while shopping in a local store, also, Bob McLain.

Get well wishes are sent to David Epley, Myrtle Fox, John Page, Clara Williams, Yenta Kee, Gladys Summers, Vicky Ekdahl Wilson, Clara Dennis, Leo McKeever, Virginia Moore, Marion Smith, Eddie Merle Proctor, Tom Smith, Jack Weldon. Good luck to Brenda Hansen Highsmith as she undergoes surgery and Johnny Kainer when he has a bone scan done. We were happy to learn that Bertha McQuinn has been released from Abilene Regional Medical Center and Dorothy Halliburton has been dismissed from Hendrick Medical Center.

Happy birthday wishes are sent to Roger Detamore, Pat Gray, Michael Strand, Weldon Hansen, Nona Norwood, Tom Turner and Eddie Leonard. Anniversary greetings to Debbie and Donald Kreger.

Nona Norwood has been in Denton to stay with her daughter, Ives June Powell, who has had surgery and is now recovering satisfactorily. John Greeson also is doing well. Dovie Anderson fell last week and sprained her ankle. Bob and Dela Faye McLain have had the flu, but are now better. Several in Rule are reported to be ill with flu, among them being Ed Murray and Buford Westmoreland. Bob Beakley, brother of Lavon, had a heart attack the week before Christmas. An angioplasty was done, and he was allowed to return home, but have another procedure and possibly even by-pass surgery. Daisy Camp is having problems with her rheumatism. Also, Mrs. John Duncan has been unable to be out. Anita Weaver took her father to see another doctor recently, and his condition remains about the same. Johnny Moore, Denise Turner's grandfather, has been in the Seymour hospital. He has been taken to a cardiologist in Wichita Falls, Ludora Neeley has been dismissed from the Haskell hospital, and transferred to Haskell Nursing Center.

Cole and Dorothy Alsbrook have been in Austin to visit his sister, who is seriously ill. Best wishes and our prayers go out to all of the above.

Cadet Joseph Pace spent the holidays with his family in Rule, Patrick and Brenda and his brothers, Matt and Ben.

On Jan. 3 you writer enjoyed visiting with Fred and Selma Burger as well as Alvin and Alice Bredthauer.

John Greeson reports that he passed the stress test which was given to him last week.

While in Rule on Monday, we were surprised to see the gin running.

While living in Rule for 19 years, it was always a pleasure to attend the New Year's Eve get-together in the Fellowship Room of the Church of Christ. This past New Year's Eve was sort of lonesome--maybe boring is the correct word. Later I learned that there were two parties, but didn't hear of either earlier. At any rate, got a good night's sleep.

Food for thought: "Conceit is a strange disease. It makes everyone sick except the one who has it."

PHARMACY NEWS

By Elbert Johnson, Registered Pharmacist

Diabetic Foot Ulcers Usually Signal Bone Infection: Osteomyelitis, serious infection of the bone, was found in 68% of 41 diabetic foot ulcers in a study from the Mount Sinai Medical Center, New York. However, the diagnosis was made clinically only in 32% of the instances. Researchers recommended that all diabetic patients with foot ulcers receive leukocyte scanning, an excellent noninvasive method of determining whether osteomyelitis is present, except for those in whom bone is exposed, who all have osteomyelitis.

Free soil testing now being offered

The free soil testing program for producers in the Seymour Aquifer Project area will be offered again, Jan. 17 through March 31.

The soil testing program is being broken down into two parts. The first part is for top dressing for wheat and will be followed consecutively by preplant soil testing and cotton and grain sorghum.

Collecting a soil sample takes only a few minutes and can pay off big dividends. Soil sampling should be done each year to determine the amount of nitrogen left in the soil from the last crop. The soil sample should be taken from a uniform area of the field and represent 10 to 40 acres.

Take 10 to 15 samples (small core slices) from the area to a depth of 6 inches. Place the samples in a clean plastic bucket, mix thoroughly and take out about one pint for the composite sample.

The soil test is only as accurate as the samples on which they are made. Tests on poorly taken samples may actually be misleading because they do not represent the soil on the area to be cropped.

After a good composite sample is taken, the final step is to set a realistic crop yield goal. The actual fertilizer recommendation will be based on the crop requirement for the desired yield, minus soil nutrient levels identified by the soil test. Be sure and fill out the soil sample information sheet so the lab will be able to make recommendations for your crop, otherwise your soil sample results can't do much good.

Soil sample information sheets and soil sample bags can be picked up at the SCS and ASCS offices, Seymour Aquifer office or the extension service office in Haskell, Allison Farm Supply in Rule, Rochester Gin or Lone Star Peanut office or O'Brien Co-op Gin.

Clubs, church groups or civic organizations may request programs which will be presented free of charge.

"Talk It Over" presentation topics include energy technology and conservation, safety awareness, environmental issues and timely issues such as the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA).

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

INDEXING TAX BRACKETS

What does it mean to "index" the tax brackets and why is it important to taxpayers?

Tax bracket indexing is a way to help neutralize the effect of inflation on the percentage of your income that you pay in federal income taxes. If your wages are increased this year by exactly the amount of inflation, it is desirable to have the same after-tax buying power as you had last year. The indexing of the tax brackets attempts to do this.

For example, in 1993 the 28% tax bracket for married filers was applied to taxable income of $36,901 through $89,150. For 1994 the 28% bracket will be inflation adjusted (indexed) to cover taxable income of $38,001 through $91,850. This is about a 3% inflation adjustment.

Under the new tax law, as was true under the old, the tax bracket thresholds will be indexed each year for inflation. However, the indexing of the thresholds for the new 36% and 39.6% brackets will not take effect until 1995.

Some taxpayers in these upper two brackets could experience "bracket creep" from 1993 into 1994. For example, a married couple in 1993 with taxable income of $140,000 pays a top rate of 31%. If they received a 1994 inflation adjustment in earnings of $4,000, bringing their taxable income up to $144,000 the $4,000 pay increase would be taxed at 36%. If indexing had applied, the 31% bracket would have been expanded so that this couple would not have ended up in the 36% bracket. The additional tax caused by the bracket creep is $200 ($4,000 x 5%).

Keep in mind that when your additional income goes into a higher tax bracket, all of your income is not subject to that higher percentage. In our example, only the $4,000 increase for this married couple is taxed at the 36% bracket.

If you need assistance with tax planning under the new law, please call us. We would be happy to assist you.
